

A GREAT DAY AT THE HALL.

WARM DISCUSSION OF THE BAY ICE QUESTION.

The Views of Brewers, Butchers, Packers and Fishermen—The Medical Health Officer Takes a Firm Stand—The Discussion Adjourned for a Week—Hear the Other Side.

Two large and warm delegations of brewers, butchers, packers and fishermen attended the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon to discuss a cool subject.

Medical Health Officer Allen's edict that he intended to prohibit the cutting of ice from the eastern side of the city was what caused the unusual gathering.

Mr. Graham, president, and there were present Ald. Orr, Saunders, Bailey, Burns, Graham, Medical Health Officer Allen.

Mr. Thomas Davies broke the ice. He said he did not think that because of the classes in the past there was sufficient cause for making the brewers pay two or three times more than the usual price for putting in their supply of ice.

Mr. J. W. Flavelle of the Davies Packing Company could not see why his firm should be compelled to bear a tax that was imposed on those outside, as would be the case if they were prohibited from cutting ice in the bay.

Mr. O'Keefe, Yes, the temperance men particularly. [Laughter.] The Mayor went stating that as he had been informed that the brewers had been used for domestic use, he suggested that the cutting of bay ice should be prohibited.

Mr. George A. Chapman said he could not in the Medical Health Officer's report see one title of evidence why ice should be cut from the bay.

Mr. O'Keefe, I would cut it much more to cart it away.

The Butcher's Views. Mr. William Kelly, representing the butchers, held that to prohibit the cutting of ice in Toronto Bay would be doing an injury to the poor.

At Ald. Orr's suggestion further discussion of the matter was deferred for a week. Mr. Thomas Davies said that in the meantime no ice be cut.

Ald. Saunders suggested that the Board of Health be asked to limit the quantity of ice to be cut, and that in the meantime no ice be cut.

Dr. Allen pointed out that Tansley Hollow, in the neighborhood of which there was a good deal of diphtheria, had been long a dumping ground for garbage, and he suggested that a crematory be located there. A sub-committee will consider the matter.

Another Industry for Toronto. The Massey-Harris Company to Manufacture Knives Here.

The Executive Committee met at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Ald. Bell, Macdonald, Lamb, Orr, Leslie and the Mayor.

REHEARSAL CONCERT.

The Great Hungarian Violinist in Better Form Than Ever.

The great violinist appeared at the Auditorium last night in better form than ever. His perfect method, his charm and persuasive sweetness, varied with his crispness and rugged strength, called forth storms of applause.

He performed "Othello" by Bruch, Schumann's "Serenade," a Chopin "Nocturne," Sarasate's "Lapetadeo," "Capriccio" by Giuliani, and a "Paraphrase de Concerto" by himself, and brought out the public notice with that grace and facility all his own.

That gifted and charming actress, Miss Rhea, will present at the Grand Theatre Shakespeare's finest comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing."

Since certain Public Schools were closed 43 Patients in the Hospital.

Since we closed the schools the number of cases of diphtheria have dropped like that, remarked the Medical Health Officer.

Since Nov. 1 not a single case of diphtheria has been reported from over the Don. Nearly all the cases reported are still in the northern and northwestern parts of the city.

Mr. J. W. Flavelle of the Davies Packing Company could not see why his firm should be compelled to bear a tax that was imposed on those outside, as would be the case if they were prohibited from cutting ice in the bay.

Mr. O'Keefe, Yes, the temperance men particularly. [Laughter.] The Mayor went stating that as he had been informed that the brewers had been used for domestic use, he suggested that the cutting of bay ice should be prohibited.

LAST DAY OF THE FAIR TO-DAY

Yesterday was the greatest success this week at the Pavilion.

Ye Olde Englyshe Fayre continues to excite a good deal of interest. The receipts have increased daily and it is probable that to-day will be the biggest of all.

Ye Myrtle Inn and the other places of refreshment did great business yesterday. The damask of Ye Well of St. Keyes, who wear poke bonnets and pretty old-fashioned blue costumes, dispose of a great deal of lemonade.

The question is, What will be done with the house-fronts that have been used in the booths? These are painted with great care and were built at great expense.

It is a pity if this scenery should be destroyed, and here is a splendid chance for managers of fairs or theatres. These thatched cottages might be used to great effect on the stage, and there are a good many of them to choose from.

Business Troubles. Merchants who cannot make financial ends meet.

Thomas McKercher, general store, of Kars, is offering to compromise at 40 cents on the dollar.

Toronto Smelting and Refining Works is offering to compromise.

C. E. Woolough, grocer and fruiter, Toronto, is offering to compromise.

These assignments are reported: Isaac Cookridge, hats and caps, Brockville; James Parkhill, boots and shoes, Guelph; S. C. Walker, tinsmith, of Ingelwood; Joseph Wilson, lumber, Wallaceburg.

Anderson & Horsford, grocers, Toronto, have assigned to Charles Longley.

The boot and shoe stock of Richard Eyre, Yonge-street, is to be sold under chattel mortgage Nov. 9.

At a meeting of the creditors of C. M. Ansell, liquor merchant, of St. Thomas it was agreed to accept 50 cents in the dollar, one-quarter paid down and the balance in two, four and six months secured.

The Canada Line, A. F. Webster, general steamship agent, corner of King and Yonge-streets, furnishes us with the following information regarding the Canada Company's new steamer.

HE'S IN THE FIELD AGAIN.

COL. DENISON TAKES HIS STAND; BRINGS TO HIS POST.

The Board try to Depose Him, But Fail Signally and Have to Listen to the Evidence He Brings Forward—A Day to Be Remembered in the Revision Court.

When the Revision Court convened yesterday morning, Aid. Carlyle opened with a few remarks about the intention of the court to expedite business and asking the appellants not to bring forward evidence which did not bear directly on the case.

The executive chamber was crowded, yet jammed with an eager expectant crowd, looking for fun, and they had their fill of it. The first case of interest was that in which A. Cecil Gibson was the appellant. Col. Denison strode forward to the desk, stating that he was appearing for Mr. Gibson.

Wins the First Skirmish. He was tendered the Bible on which to make oath, but refused to take it until he had made a statement of the case. This incident in itself raised quite a commotion. The doctory Colonel had not taken this stand without being well posted on the law pertaining thereto, and by citing the Act came off victorious in this preliminary skirmish.

He then explained to the court that this was representing about 200 of the appellants of St. Mark's Ward, and if the court was willing a test case could be made of this appeal and a great deal of trouble and time saved thereby.

The board would listen to no such argument and the colonial was requested to confine himself to the appeal under consideration. The colonial fired up at this and ventured a few heated remonstrances, but was shut off by the court as to whether it would stand in his own court. The magistrate did not answer this question, but stated that if a witness was making a statement he would not be rude enough to interrupt him at every point.

Aid. Carlyle: "Just never mind this court, colonel; tend to your own. We can take care of ourselves." He defines His Position. Col. Denison: "Well, I'll tell you now that I'm here to object to this system of assessing a man's property away up because the next man's in the same and he offers no appeal." Aid. Carlyle: "Are you the attorney in this case?" Col. Denison: "Yes." Aid. Carlyle: "Faig!" Col. Denison: "No." Aid. Carlyle: "Is it the will of this board that this assessment be confirmed?" The members assented, and the chairman cried: "Carried."

Col. Denison: "I call all present to bear witness that the court refused to allow evidence to be brought in the Gibson case." Aid. Carlyle: "No, we didn't." Chorus: "Yes, you did!" Did Not Wish This to be Reported. Aid. Hallam wished to know if the court was going to allow notes to be taken of all this, but no objection was raised and the scribes went on reporting.

The chairman said there was a big difference between a complaint and a lecture, and while the former would be received with due consideration, a lecture from the colonial would not be tolerated. The colonial said he was the chairman of the committee of the Ratepayers' Association of St. Mark's Ward.

Aid. Hallam said it didn't make any difference who the colonial was, he didn't propose to be interrupted and bully-raggled by anyone. City Solicitor Bigger was then sent for in haste by the board to see if there was not some way of checking the colonial off, but evidently he could suggest no remedy as long as the colonial confined himself to the point at issue.

He Took His Stand. The chairman was perplexed, for although he had developed quite an aptitude for silencing the general run of kickers, here was one who would not be silenced. He suggested to the colonial that he stand aside and let the court get on with its work; but no, the colonial had taken his stand and would not desert the post unless he was put out.

"Well, we'll do that if we cannot maintain order otherwise," retorted the irate chairman. The din now became "something awful"; the whole board rose in a body and demanded that order be preserved. Amid the turmoil could be heard the voice of Aid. Hallam calling on the police to maintain order.

When peace had once more been restored, the chairman informed Col. Denison that unless he kept quiet he would certainly have him removed. The colonial replied: "All right, throw me out of the window then." "I would be no great loss," supplemented the chairman.

At this little rally there was a burst of laughter, which brought Aid. Hallam out of his chair with a regular roar for order. A voice in the crowd bade the irate alderman not to get excited, and the said irate alderman came very near going into the crowd to look up his man.

Col. Denison wished to know once and for all whether he was going to be heard or not. The Value the Same as Three Years Ago. Aid. Carlyle said yes; a reasonable length of time. Commissioner Maughan was then asked by the colonial, "What is the relative value of land now and three years ago?" Mr. Maughan: "As much now as three years ago."

000 worth of wool on his hands, which had dropped 30 per cent. in value. Mr. Lindsey thought it was funny that if this was the case the alderman was only assessed for $15,000 on this wool. Other evidence was adduced which clearly proved the property in this section to have dropped in value from 25 to 50 per cent.

The Commissioner advised that $3 per foot he struck off the assessment. Aid. Hallam said that $3 per foot he struck off the low land and $3 per foot off the higher portions. About this time the board began to realize that there must be some truth in the statements which so many "good men and true" were making.

Col. Fred's Case. A few cases passed off as nicely as one could wish, and then open war was again declared when Fred C. Denison's assessment came up for consideration. His ground was assessed at $30 per foot and he would take $20 for it. He proved by a number of witnesses that he had offered the land at this price. Even the Commissioner thought the assessment might be reduced, and so counselled.

The chairman would not consent to more than $5 per foot being thrown off, and the Board was plainly divided on the question. Aid. Maloney thought $3 might be thrown off and called for a vote on the question. Aid. Verral voted with him, but Aid. Hallam and Jolliffe voted with the chair and a reduction of only $5 per foot was made.

An Ostrich-Like Policy. The colonial accused the chairman of keeping up the assessment of the city merely for its credit abroad. He compared him to an ostrich which, taking flight, sticks its head in the sand, and not seeing its enemy concludes itself safe. He argued that the board was doing even more than the ostrich, as they had their ears under the sand as well as their eyes and would hear no evidence, at least credit none which disagreed with their preconceived ideas.

Before the colonial quite finished his peroration he was interrupted by the adjournment of the court. In the afternoon the scene was a repetition of the morning session. Further appeals from the same ward will be taken up to-day.

JIM CORBETT'S ULTIMATUM.

HE IS DETERMINED TO FORCE MITCHELL TO FIGHT.

And the Mill Will Take Place Next September—But He Declines to Meet the Colored Champion—And Mitchell is Willing—To-day's Final Football Fight—General Sporting Gossip.

New York, Nov. 4.—Champion Jim Corbett came on in a big hurry from Cleveland yesterday and opened in his play, "Gentleman Jack," at the Loeb-avenue Academy, Brooklyn, last night.

After the first act Jim invited several newspaper men into his dressing room. "I have a statement to make," said he, "and I want you all to hear it. I want to fight Mitchell and I'll meet him next September. And he's the only man I will meet in September. You see, I'm the champion of America and I am ready to defend the title against the champion of England or the champion of Australia."

"Now, then, who is the champion of Australia? Both Goddard and Jackson claim the title. When they settle the question I'll meet the recognized champion. As for Mitchell, why he insulted me once at Miner's Theatre and I want a whisk at him in the worst way."

"Well, the Conroy and Fair will offer a purse of $30,000 for such a contest," put in Judge Newton. "And September will just suit me."

"I'll fight before the club offering the biggest money," said Corbett. "What have you to say about Jackson?" said a reporter. "Why won't you fight him in September?"

"Because my theatrical contracts will not permit," was the reply. "I'll lose $25,000 by cancelling for Mitchell, but I am willing to do so for reasons of my own. I have a big scheme for the World's Fair which will make me a rich man, but I will take a chance of losing money if Mitchell will only come to the front. I have read that my signature has been lent to articles to fool the Englishman. This is not true. I am not bound to any club or any person, and I can get just as much money to fight Mitchell or Jackson a year from now as I can at present, and you see," Corbett laughed here, "neither of them is a growing younger. That is all I shall say about pugilistic affairs at present."

ONTARIO RUGBY UNION.

Complete Results of the Season's Contests—Who'll Remain Top-Night?

Barring the possible result of a drawn game the championship of the Ontario Rugby Union will be decided to-day when Osgoode Hall, last season's champions, and Hamilton meet in the final round.

The Ambitious City fifteen were knocked out by the champions last year in the semi-final round, and it is now to be seen whether the legal kickers can repeat the trick to-day or a reversal will occur.

Eleven clubs started in the Union competition which opened October 8 last. Two remain at present, and to-night there will only be one, and everyone is wondering whom that one will be.

By rounds the clubs were sifted down as follows:
First Round—Toronto 19, Varsity 8, Toronto 12, Varsity 8, Toronto won by 13 points; Hamilton 7, Varsity 8, Toronto won by 71 points; London 8, Toronto 13, London won by 5 points; Osgoode Hall 21, Osgoode Hall 21, Osgoode Hall won by 21 points; Queen's 9, R.M.C. 6, Queen's 9, R.M.C. 6, Queen's won by 21 points; Osgoode Hall 21, Osgoode Hall 21, Osgoode Hall won by 21 points; Osgoode Hall 21, Osgoode Hall 21, Osgoode Hall won by 21 points.

Osgoode Hall vs Hamilton: Osgoode Hall's team was the same that defeated Queen's a week ago with the exception of one man. Smith will be replaced in the scrum by Young. The legal kickers are in prime condition and expect nothing but victory.

About 600 of Hamilton's supporters will accompany their team to Toronto to-day. Capt. Love was undecided yesterday about two places on his team, and the final selection will not be made known until afternoon.

ASTRONOMY DISCUSSED.

The Trades and Labor Council Held an Interesting Meeting.

A strange and interesting meeting of the Trades and Labor Council Hall last night would have been imbued with the idea that the worthy sons of toil had suddenly taken up an astronomical hobby, as their talk seemed to centre around a highly controverted "Star" of some magnitude which had recently appeared in the newspaper firmament.

President T. W. Boston took the chair at 8.30 o'clock, and before the regular business meeting commenced Mr. Robert Tyson presented a multifarious assortment of literature on the object of this association, the council, and offered to address them on the subject on Sunday afternoon if such was their wish.

The Municipal Committee brought forward a motion protesting against the exempting from taxation of the Masonry Council having right of way on the main factory.

New business was now in order, and for a few moments of small importance the following motion was adopted: Moved by Delegate Isaac T. Mills, Second Vice-President, that where the Trades and Labor Council has attempted to impose conditions on their constituents, they should be met by a direct appeal to the Trades and Labor Council, and that the Trades and Labor Council should be empowered to take such steps as may be necessary to secure the enforcement of their conditions.

Resolved, That the Trades and Labor Council should be empowered to take such steps as may be necessary to secure the enforcement of their conditions.

Among those who spoke in favor of the motion and had words of encouragement for the new paper were: George W. Dower, Typographical Union; James Gaultier, President of Typographical Union; D. J. O'Donoghue, George Watson, Secretary Trades and Labor Council; John Taylor, and Delegate Benson of the Builders' Assembly.

The motion was carried unanimously and the meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem.

INHERENT CURD. Wonderful success of the Deer Park Club in the past few days has attracted much attention to-day. The club has been successful in its efforts to attract more members to-day than in any previous day.

Emerson and His Wife. The late Ralph Waldo Emerson had a bit of sentiment in regard to his wife, which is interesting in connection with his life, was in accordance with his wishes, perpetuated by his widow. About a year after the death of his wife, he visited Concord and attended a meeting of the Saturday Evening Club at the Emerson home.

Conservative Organization. The Liberal-Conservative of Ward No. 3 met in a Yonkers-street Market last night. This is the first meeting of all parties in the election of officers of the Liberal-Conservative of Ward No. 3, which consists of St. John's, St. James' and portions of St. Lawrence, St. Andrew's, St. George's and St. Paul's.

The Kensingtons meet the Harons in the last match of the Junior League series to-day on the Cricket grounds. The result of this match will decide which club will occupy third place. As both clubs will have their best teams a good game is assured.

A MORNING WITH TENNYSON.

Some of the Poet's Idiosyncrasies—His Habits and Manners.

On a first trip to England, just twenty years ago, I was firmly determined not to take any letter of introduction to Tennyson, having been a good deal of his shyness, especially towards Americans. But two friends in London (Lady Pollock and Miss Thackeray, afterwards Mrs. Ritchie) both urged me strongly to go to the Isle of Wight and see him, both volunteering not to give letters of introduction, but to write and say that I was coming. Nothing less kind would, I think, have done the trick. I was accordingly invited to write and say that I was coming.

Nothing less kind would, I think, have done the trick. I was accordingly invited to write and say that I was coming. Nothing less kind would, I think, have done the trick. I was accordingly invited to write and say that I was coming.
