Poetry. CONVALESCENCE.

The sun has kissed me on the brow, The gentle morning breeze is happy, I feel like Lazarus of old, Whom Jesus raised from death.

Dear world, restore to me thy breast, The mother-brood, four which I yearned, Thy child that strayed away with death, Thy prodigal returned.

Select Literature. The Guilty Man.

She had perished herself to meet her father. She glanced at the mirror and saw how pale she was, her father would be pale too, but she would not let her father see her in that state.

What grief had not her father wrought! The day he went to prison for the defalcation in the bank where he had been cashier and her mother's father manager, had not her mother's father fallen dead? The world had said the old banker could not stand the strain.

She pressed her hands fiercely to her eyes. Suddenly she started. There was a step on the stairs, and her father, bringing her father up to her. How long she had not seen him! But her father had forced Jack from the house.

"I have no love for you," he said, "I have no love for you, I have no love for you." "I have no love for you," he said, "I have no love for you, I have no love for you."

Tilly's Strike.

Tilly Slater often said she was washing her fingers to the bone, and nobody seemed to care. Tilly's sister Alice was the 'fashionable' dressmaker in Roseberry row.

It was a downright shame," she cried out, bitterly. When Alice brought the little fellow home with her from the funeral and announced her intention of keeping him, "I declare I won't put him up with that!"

"I don't know," said Tilly, stiffly. "I suppose you had better see your own or an institute. That is where they should go when their fathers and mothers die. There's no better than the rest of them. There's one thing I should like to see, and that is your father's grave."

"Yes, I know," returned Alice. "I thought you could take him out for an airing sometimes and look after him a little. He's a nice little fellow, and I will manage to get him to school."

"I don't know," said Alice, as she began to see the table. "Don't act that way. Poor little thing, he has been so disappointed yesterday and today without his mother. Clara always spoiled him, and I don't know how to get on with him."

AN OLD LADY'S STORY.

To the Editor of the Monitor:—Sir, I was troubled with rheumatism for about eight years, and tried a great many different kinds of medicines without getting relief.

We have yet to know of a single case where these wonderful pills have not been almost entirely successful in afflicting a cure. Canada Chemical Co., Peterborough, Ont.

Dr. Clark's Little Red Pills cured me of my headache. I suffered for years and only took two boxes. That is a year since. I have not had a symptom since.—James R. Jackson, South St., Harris, Ont.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY SUNDAY.

At a legislative hearing on a question of legal restriction of Sunday trade, a gentleman favored wide liberty because we are at the opening of a new century, implying that Sunday laws are a relic of the dark ages.

The old man took him home. He soon learned, through the newspaper, a trip to Roseberry row and told the little girl's brother and sister a few things, and they decided it would be well to bring the little girl to her room.

There was no name signed to the letter. Tilly looked all around for the old man, who, she thought, must be near, but he had disappeared mysteriously as he had come the day she lost the baby.

RELEASE OF MISS STONE.

Selousia, Roumania, Feb. 25.—Miss Stone says that she was brought to her captives to inform her of the location of the places where they were confined, and to bring her to the location of the places where they were confined, and to bring her to the location of the places where they were confined.

CONSUMPTION IS INFECTIOUS.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent the spread of the "White Plague." Persons coming in contact with consumptives should inhale Carbazone several times each day as it is a powerful destroyer of disease germs, and renders them innocuous.

THE FOOL WHO DOES NOT THINK.

The fool who does not think at all more people than the miserant whose thoughts are evil. The idiot who robs the house, or leaves a loaded rifle in the house, or leaves a revolver which is not supposed to be loaded in the face of a friend, is more to be dreaded than the murderer.

THE CANADIANS' INGRATITUDE

Commenting on the progress of the Canadian iron and steel industries, the Brooklyn 'Eagle' says it is instructive as an object lesson to experience when they go into alien lands and invest their money for the benefit of the natives. The alleged facts which the 'Eagle' found are that the Canadian stockholders in the Dominion Iron & Steel Co., of Sydney, province of Nova Scotia, have been gradually acquiring a controlling interest in the company.

WEEKLY MONITOR.

Practical Talks and Plain Precepts for Farmers.

Edited for the Farmer readers of the MONITOR by an Annapolis Valley Agriculturist.

In view of the fact that for some years at least the breeding of horses—good horses—will be a lucrative branch of general farming, and because through ignorance or characteristic indifference the horses of our province, especially the Annapolis valley, are of a nondescript character, we intend giving two issues to this subject.

DESIRED QUALITIES, as conformation, constitution, disposition, etc., transmitted from the parent to the offspring, but also undesirable qualities, and also diseases, or at least, a tendency or hereditary predisposition to diseases, such as ophthalmia, sprain, rhabdomyositis and other diseases, transmitted from the parent to the offspring.

THE MATTER is taken from a short treatise by one of the best authorities on the continent and comes to us through the courtesy of the Department of Agriculture of Ontario.

A careful perusal leads us to believe that for plain wording, conciseness and comprehensiveness it could hardly be improved upon. It would repay our readers to save the two issues for reference.

Prof. J. H. Reed, V. S., Guelph. Since the year 1850 until the present time the general cry among horse raisers has been "no money in horses," and consequently breeding operations were almost abandoned.

It is not of much account, but she will lay to her. If the dam be inferior it is quite unreasonable to expect the progeny to be a high class animal. The sire, though the sire be superior, cannot impart to the progeny any qualities which she does not possess herself.

WASTE TURNED TO VALUE.

Look after the pennies and the dollars will look after themselves, is a proverb which corporations and individuals do to private individuals.

CULTIVATE WILL POWER.

We are coming to see more clearly every day what will power is worth, and in these times of wills of ours—and also how closely our minds and bodies are related.
