JOHN CHRISTIE, MARINE ENGINEER, DEAD IN FREDERICTON

Once in Sea Disaster in Which 23 Lives Were Lost—Kenneth Chestnut Gets Appointment

Fredericton, N. B., May 11.—(Special)—John Christie, who claimed to be the oldest marine engineer in eastern Canada, died at his home here this morning after a few days' illness from paralysis. He was a native of Lowell, Mass., but since boyhood had made his home in this province. For many years he resided in St. John, was employed on steamers in the coasting trade. He was engineer of the steamer Fairy Queen, which went down in the Gulf of St. Lawrence more than forty years ago, with the loss of twenty-three lives.

HIS 109TH BIRTHDAY

Congratulations From Woman Who is Aged 117 Years

New York, May 11.—Mendel Diamond, one of the inmates of the Home of the Daughters of Jacob, had a great day this week. He celebrated his one hundred and ninth birthday. He was congratulated by the one hundred and eighty-five inmates. The committee on congratulations was headed by Esther Davis, one hundred and seventeen years old. With her was Malke Burnstein, one hundred and six years old. The master of ceremonies was Isaac Goldsmith, who is called the baby of the institution because he is only eighty years old.

BALLOON FAILS WITH TWO MEN

Aeronaut and Astronomer Were Seeking To Make a Distance Record

Glasgow, Ky., May 11.—Bearing numerous cuts and bruises and possibly internal injuries and with only occasional periods of consciousness, A. Holland Forbes, of New York, holder of the Lahn trophy, and J. C. Yates, a New York astronomer, who accompanied him in a flight against the balloon record distance, are lying in a farm house six miles north of Center, which is about twenty miles from the city. The balloon Viking, with which they ascended at Quincy, Ill., is a mass of tangled silk and cord, torn beyond repair. During the interval when the aeronauts were partially conscious, neither of them could explain the accident, but it is believed that escaping gas from the big bag caused them to lose control of the Viking and that the gas escaped until a drop followed.

BIG FIGHTERS ANXIOUS OVER PAPKE-THOMAS BOUT TROUBLE

Outcome of Efforts to Stop It Are Important As Affecting the Championship Battle—Today's News From the Camps

San Francisco, May 11.—The interest of local enthusiasts in Johnson's training operations is partly eclipsed by the approaching fight between Billy Papke, the "Illinois Thunderbolt," and Joe Thomas, the California midweight champion. Johnson is showing much interest in that contest and particularly in Thomas, who is training in the same gymnasium that the negro champion is using. Johnson, his manager, and the promoters are anxiously watching a movement that has originated in San Mateo county to stop the Thomas-Papke go. It is reported that the district attorney is preparing to prevent the fight as a result of pressure exerted by the anti-fight crusaders and that it may be transferred from Goffville Colma arena to this city and reduced from twenty-five rounds to twenty. In view of the campaign to stop the fight itself, the recent fatal termination of McCarthy's training contest and other hostile influences at work, all who are interested in the Jeffries-Johnson battle are displaying much interest in the outcome of the Papke-Thomas difficulty. Johnson finished his long road run peripatetic freely but in better trim than at his Monday jaunt. His road work and light gymnasium exercise will be continued throughout the week and is expected to put him in shape for his first boxing bout next Sunday.

MONCTON K. P.'S PLAN TRIP TO MILWAUKEE

Forty to Go in August—Stolen Articles Found in Barn, Arrest is Made

Moncton, May 11.—(Special)—Forty members of Moncton lodge, Knights of Pythias, intend making a trip to Milwaukee in August next to attend the world's convention of Knights of Pythias. It is probable that special car will be taken by the Moncton contingent. A society baseball league is the latest move among baseball enthusiasts. An effort is being put forward to form a league. The Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and Beausport Club are said to have teams organized and the K. of P. have issued a challenge for the first game on Victoria Day. The St. John Knights of Pythias are reported trying to get a game with the Moncton knights. There is every indication of a lively campaign over the plebiscite on the agreement for leasing the city lighting plant to the street railway company. The Transcript is opposing the proposition and calls upon the electors to defeat it. The finding of a variety of articles, including a quilt which had been stolen from the residence of Mrs. Henry Jones, in a barn owned by Beverly Stevens in Sablebury Road, has led to the arrest of Charles Best, aged twenty-eight, charged with theft and housebreaking. Best, who had been working for Mr. Stevens, is in the city lock-up, having been remanded until Friday. The quilt was recognized by Mrs. Jones as having been stolen from her house two years ago when the family was absent.

EIGHT RULERS AT KING'S FUNERAL

London, May 11.—Parliament met this afternoon to pay a national tribute to the memory of King Edward, and to welcome his successor, King George. A message from the new monarch in which he announced the death of his father and his own accession was read in both houses, which subsequently adopted addresses of condolence with and congratulation to the new king.

Parasols Gives Finishing Touch
Parasols give the finishing touch to a costume. Handbags fill a certain place, of course, but there is nothing that can take the place of the parasol. An embroidered parasol is not at all a foolish investment, even for the woman of limited means. It is especially true when it is a very pretty parasol, but it requires time and patience before the article is finally completed. Long white lilies are being much used for the summer parasols.

ST. JOHN'S OPPORTUNITY The advertising committee of the St. John Board of Trade, in connection with its publicity campaign, is endeavoring to attract the attention of English investors to the advantages of St. John as a location for industries.

Quebec province will follow the example of Ontario in reorganizing its provincial police force. A motion presented by Premier Gouin to the legislature sets out that where there are no experienced police officers in the rural districts of the province, and as a result serious crimes have been committed and the guilty parties allowed to escape, and whereas the increase of population and the growth of business necessitates the establishment of a more effective police system, it is proposed that a committee of members of the house be appointed to study the best means to be taken for the purpose of organizing, maintaining and paying a force of police to assure the maintenance of public order, the safety of persons, and the protection of property, as well as the punishment of crime throughout the province.

One of the ways of directing the attention of the people of Great Britain to the eastern gateway of Canada is to get stories about this section published in English periodicals and newspapers, and if the board of trade committee can do this successfully they will confer a great benefit upon these provinces. Great Britain has loaned Canada more than $600,000,000 in the last five years. Sir Edward Clouston says $200,000,000 more is coming into Canada this year. What this means to the industrial life of Canada it is not easy to estimate. The whole country will derive benefit. But there should also be direct benefit to communities through local investments, and St. John should seek a liberal share.

PLANTING FLOWERS The suggestion that the planting of flowers in back yards and in window boxes should become general in St. John might not be regarded. It should be possible to overcome the difficulty that lies in the absence of facilities for such work. It is true that the ordinary back yard offers no fruitful soil, and tenants who do not enjoy even the luxury of a back yard have no way at present of getting good earth for window boxes. But it would be possible to have both boxes and earth provided at a very slight advance on the actual cost of procuring them. A central depot could be provided, from which all who desired could get both earth and material for boxes; and once the people began to be interested there would be a universal demand. Thus at very small cost the appearance of the city would be made infinitely more attractive and the people, especially the children, given a new source of interest and pleasure. It might be interesting to interest the Horticultural Association in this matter, and any florist or lover of flowers would be glad to tell through the press what kind of seeds or plants would give the quickest and best results and the greatest satisfaction in this climate. To be successful a movement of this kind should be general. Many people can be induced to carry out a plan of their own without special reference to expense, and their example would be of great value in awakening a general desire to beautify the home and its surroundings in the simple and effective manner.

THE VICTORIA COLONIST, Conservative, is a thorn in the flesh of the stalwarts of the party. It refuses to scent a scandal every time the name of Liberal is mentioned. Referring to a matter that had caused much loss of sleep to some contemporaries the Colonist says—"It was a very graceful act on the part of the friends of Mr. W. S. Fielding, to present him with $100.00. He had been a long time in public life and has not been much of a money-maker for himself. Sir John Macdonald was in the same class, and it will be recalled that a number of his friends made Lady Macdonald a similar present."

THE BRITISH CABINET HAS DECIDED TO change the coronation oath, eliminating some of the phraseology to which Roman Catholics object. The latter would prefer a greater change, and the extreme Protestants no change at all. The cabinet proposal is a compromise.

THE MONTEAL WITNESS says—"We doubt if the British nation will forgive the general effort of the reactionary party to make political gain out of King Edward's death. There seems to be throughout their press and their ranks a general clutching at this calamity as a way of escape from the reform which they so much dread. Their hopes rest in the alliance of a branch of the legislature that will pass all their own measures, however little sanctioned by popular vote, and will reject all the salient measures of their adversaries. This is a condition on no account to be abrogated. How the nation could come to its own while the lords remained stubbornly in this attitude was, of course, a problem which affected the king very closely, and which it seemed that only he could deal with. The Liberals were no more responsible for this state of things than was the Czar of Russia. If any one was responsible for it it was the Unionist party, which, instead of accepting the verdict of the people, had entrenched itself behind the ramparts of an irresponsible ally, or it was the lords themselves who showed such a determined front against the people's majority."

THEY CAN MEASURE THE SPEED OF A STAR Professors Pickering and Wood Make a Discovery of Interest Boston, Mass., May 11—Science says that the earth will meet its doom some time in the future when it collides with a star. Prof. Pickering, of Harvard, and Prof. Wood, of Johns Hopkins, have discovered how to measure the velocity of a star approaching the earth, which means that they will be able to tell how long it will take before it reaches us. The discovery is a little-known by-product of the study of the spectrum of stars. The agency through which this feat is accomplished is a little-known by-product of the study of the spectrum of stars. It is known as neodymium. A solution of this substance is utilized in a glass box, which is affixed to the telescope, so that the rays of light from the stars are obliged to pass through it. They are filtered by it, just as light is filtered by passing through colored glass. It is a well-known fact that only the red waves of light from a lamp will pass through red glass, the yellow waves through yellow glass, and so on. By separating the long and short rays from the star, the neodymium furnishes the astronomer with a basis for calculation, which enables them to figure the velocity of an approaching star.

THE POET LAUREATE'S TRIBUTE

(Montreal Star.) London, May 9.—Alfred Austin, the Poet Laureate has written the following poem on the occasion of the King's death, entitled "The True of God," with the subtitle "A King's Bequest." "What darkness deep thy wintry gloom, O'er shadows joyous spring In vain the vernal blossoms bloom, Vainly the woodlands sing: Round Royal shroud, A mournful crowd Is all now left of one but yesterday a King.

Thrones have there been of hateful fame Heared upon wanton war; Deeds we have low will linked his name With peace at home, afar: For peace he wrought; His constant thought on thy how Being how to shield his realm against strife's baleful star.

So let us all now seek to rest From fateful feuds released, And mindful of his wise bequest, From factious clamors cease. Trading the path he trod, The sacred truths of God, The path that points and leads to peace.

MOTHER MINE By Floyd D. Raze for The Boston Journal. Piled cheeks that once were fair, Razes locks grown whiter now— Sixty years of wrinkled care Trace their furrows on thy brow Step infra that once was light, Laugh once gay, a smile divine, Eyes grown dim that once were bright, Thus I see thee, mother mine, Oh, the memories love can hold, Longing fancies of thy best days, Lovely as thou wast of old More I love thee as thou art, Thine has been the checkered round, Sun and shade of changeable day, Blooming roses thou hast found, Thou hast seen them fade away, Thine has been the crimson dawn, Thine the brighter blaze of noon, Years have come and years have gone, Mingling winter's snow with June, Falls the light of day's decline, I shall never love thee less, Dear, old, white-haired mother mine.

HIS PERSONAL LOSS. Two census takers met. "Did you get the ordinary avenue yesterday?" "quired one." "No," replied the other. "Why?" "I only saw two men were murdered there last night." "Confound it," cried the other man, with much bitterness; "that's just my luck! I'm out a nickel."—Cleveland Daily Dealer.

KEEPING A COW. Always there is war somewhere, always 'n' blow and counterblow, now enbattered farmers dare to make threats to stop the flow Of the milk to dealers' cans; say they do not care a darn, They can quickly change their plans, run the product through the churn, Make it into cottage cheese, sell it retail as of course, Dealers may do as they please; every farmer's good and sore. Here are potent words which now strike one with redoubled force: "Every man should keep a cow," Why, of course he should, of course. Flats must be remodelled so every cow can swing her tail; With the saw and hammer go build a place for stool and pail, Cox her up the outside stairs, push and fit her in her den, Feed her chocolate eclairs; you have but to milk her there. The pink ribbons on each horn, tie a pink bow on her tail, Feed her on six cans of corn, give her coffee from a pail, Polish her until her hide shines as glossy as silk. Then with bucket at her side ask her for five quarts of milk. Use your stool and milking things gladly 'n' be the simple life, Sell the cow for what she brings, feed the milkmen and their strife, —Detroit Free Press.

THE DEACON'S PHILOSOPHY. I remember when a boy How I used to just enjoy Riding with old Deacon Hill. When he used to drive to mill, Sittish nigg the deacon driv. For he had a kind of love For a good, freestackin' colt; And he'd keep an easy hold On the reins, and when she'd shy He'd just draw, no kind of dry. "There, there, colt! Now, now, no tearin'!" Years ago that boyhood day; Colt and deacon's passed away. By a good deal, no stirrer, Colfiah then, I must allow, Well broke into harness now, 'Cept when things go wrong, then I Want to rip and tear and shy; Then inside me, kind of still, I used to hear old Deacon Hill: "There, there, boy! Now, now, no tearin'!" No use cuttin' up and rarin', No use bein' cool and pegg away; Do the best, you can each day; Just keep patient and forbearin'; There, there, colt! Now, now, no tearin'!" —Robert, Seaver in Youth's Companion.

Interesting Facts About Arsenic. Arsenic is mined in Japan, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Germany, England and in certain portions of the United States. It has many uses, and as a poison it has been known since the early years. The peasant women of Austria consume great quantities of it, having much faith in its virtues as a beautifier. The men of the same region are addicted to its use in the mine to believe that it increases their bodily strength and endurance. It is useful as a mineral. It is used in the manufacture of glass, white metal, Paris green and a great quantity of paints, in printing calico, in making toilet soaps, cosmetics and complexion powders. For these and similar purposes between 3,000 and 6,000 tons are imported into the United States every year. The average value is about $85 per ton. Arsenic ore was discovered in Virginia only a few years ago, when the mountain top around the present mining town of Britton was a wilderness. A farmer was clearing some new fields when several of his cows that had been allowed to roam the pasture were taken ill and died within a very short time. At first it was thought that the trouble lay in a spring where the cattle often drank. Upon examination it was found that the water of the spring contained enough arsenic to render it dangerous to either man or beast. Upon the death of the cattle hinged an establishment of the prosperous mining town of Britton, which speedily became a busy centre of industry. The mine is located at the top of a mountain, 2,000 feet above sea level. The ore body averages 23 to 26 per cent. pure white arsenic. It is found in fissure veins, cropping out to the surface and extending into the earth for an unknown distance. Twenty distinct veins have been uncovered, cropping for a distance of seven miles, so that the deposits are extensive enough to supply the needs of the United States when once the industry shall have been put upon an extensive basis. From the time the ore enters the crushers until it is finished in granules by human hands.

The King and Smoking. An amusing story, illustrative of the prejudice against smoking which existed among the upper classes some twenty years ago, is told in connection with his Majesty, then Prince of Wales, says M. A. P. "Once when staying at a country house of a famous peer, the Prince, after dinner, suggested a smoke. The host replied that he much regretted not having a smoking room; and proposed that the guests should adjourn to the stables to smoke, if they chose. This they accordingly did, the first gentleman in the realm accompanying them. His Majesty once laughingly confessed that the most exciting and tense moment of his life was when the pleasure of some of his friends depended upon his successful lighting of a match. It was during his visit to Canada in 1859, that finding himself and his party stranded upon a prairie, miles from any habitation, the Prince proposed a smoke. Cigars were thereupon produced, but, to the mortification of the party, only one match was forthcoming. Lots were drawn to decide upon whom the responsible task of lighting this one match should fall, and as fate would have it, the lot fell to the Prince. One can comprehend the delicacy of the ordeal, but the Prince came through it with honors.

HOME SONG. Stay, stay at home, my dear, and rest; Home keeping hearts are happiest, For those that wander they know not where. Are full of trouble and full of care: To stay at home is best. Neary and homelike and distressed, Neary and baffled and beaten and blown about, By the winds of the wilderness of doubt, To stay at home is best. Then stay at home, my heart, and rest; The bird is safest in its nest: O'er all that flutter their wings and fly, A hawk is hovering in the sky— To stay at home is best. —Longfellow.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"AND the strangest part of it all," said the mother whose daughter had wandered very, very near to the great precipice of ruin as diagnosed "was that Alice was such a quiet, studious girl, and a girl that I always thought didn't care anything about men."

"Boys really seem to bore Ethel. She is such a serious-minded girl," or "Jane really doesn't have any use for men. I don't believe she'd care if she never saw one."

And I always feel terribly tempted to ask, "Dear lady, would you mind telling me what state you are from?"

I don't believe there is a girl in this city who does not care anything about the opposite sex.

There are—thank goodness—a good many girls, and I think a good many more girls than there used to be, who have common sense on the subject.

There are girls who can talk about something other than what HE said at the dance, and what a nice time they had at the theatre with HIM, and how cute HE looks with his hair parted in the middle, and how unbecoming a red tie is to HIM.

There are girls who can have a perfectly good time without masculine assistance, who can heartily enjoy a lark with members of their own sex.

There are girls who decidedly prefer superior feminine to inferior masculine society, and who have the common sense to realize that a life of cheerful, useful spinsterhood is infinitely better than to be Mrs. with any but the right man.

And there are also girls who adopt a pose of complete indifference and absence of interest in the masculine sex to cover a lack of success with the same.

But girls who don't care anything about any men—well, I guess you'll have to go where the white crow nests and the sun rises in the West to find them.

So don't be deceived, mothers, if your Ethel or Jane or Alice does not as if she cared more for her Latin lexicon or her music lesson than the best looking variety man that ever carried the pikepin over the goal line.

Don't be fooled if your Emma Jane does appear to prefer a quiet evening with her books to the society of the handsomest young eligible in town.

Don't be put off your guard that way, and think as that mother, who was almost too late, thought, that your expectation and guidance isn't at all needed in that direction.

Underneath that indifferent exterior you may be sure, though it may even be as unknown to her as to you, sleeps the human, ordinary, little girl who does "care for men."

And it may be, too, that what you take for indifference is really repulsion, and the personality that you think so weakly sexed is really just as much oversexed.

It may be that your quiet little girl which doesn't appear to care for men really needs your guidance and attention very much more than that other daughter who has talked and flirted with maturity ever since you began to let her frocks down below her knees.

MAN KILLED IN THE WEST

John C. M. Hannay Meets Death By Electricity in Stockton, Cal.—Companion Rendered Unconscious—Other News of Rexton

Rexton, N. B., May 10.—John C. M. Hannay, a former resident of St. John, Kent county, died on April 15 in Stockton, Cal., under sad circumstances. He and a man named England were being a well, and a pipe which they were handling came in contact with an electric power line which carried 25,000 volts of electricity. Mr. Hannay had his hands on the well-end of the pipe and was immediately killed, while his companion was rendered unconscious.

Mr. Hannay was 60 years of age and survived by his wife, two sons and three daughters. The sons are R. Hannay of Stockton, and J. H. Hannay of Seattle, Wash. The daughters are Mrs. J. R. Coy of Stockton, Mrs. Mervy Breitenbucker of Lathrop, and Miss Serena of Stockton.

Mr. McKay was born in Scotland almost four years ago and came to this country in his youth. He married Miss Gordon of Main River, who died many years ago, by close union by three sons and three daughters. The sons are John and Hugh of Main River, with whom he made his home, and Capt. Frank of Vancouver, B. C. The daughters are Mrs. Robert Robertson of Main River, Mrs. Frank Weston of Jardineville, and Mrs. Janet Carter of Buctouche. Richard Shirley, father of deceased, who was also working in Mansel, brought the body home, and was also accompanied by a young man named McIntosh, who had been rescued from drowning when his companion met his death.

Building Act in Victoria

(Victoria Colonist.)

The total of building permits issued in Victoria for the first four months of the current year exceeds that for the months January-April of 1909 by close upon $100,000. The figures are: January-April, 1910, $171,045, and January-April, 1909, $67,800. For the month of April of this year the total was $192,440 as compared with $138,000 in April last year. Seventy-six permits were issued during the month just closed.

The present month is likely to produce a new record in Victoria building figures. Within the next few days permits will be issued for the new Y. M. C. A. building costing $70,000, for the Empress hotel addition costing about $80,000, and the new building for the Dominion Trust company costing in the neighborhood of $150,000. These three permits alone will largely exceed the total of the entire number of permits issued during the month of April.

EASTERN CANADA'S FOREMOST NEWSPAPERS.

The Daily Telegraph

The Evening Times

FROM every point of view the Daily Telegraph and Evening Times are superior newspapers.

With the Telegraph in the morning—the Times in the evening—you may have the complete daily history of the world.

Advertisers who use these papers get greater returns for their appropriation than they possibly could from any other medium, because they have the largest circulation of any Dailies in Eastern Canada.

As we have recently absorbed the Sun Printing Company, Ltd., we can offer advertisers a circulation of 15,000 copies daily for The Telegraph, 14,500 for The Evening Times and a Weekly circulation of 8,000 for the Semi-Weekly.

Peculiar Facts

A new machine gun which the United States army is testing, fires three hundred shots a minute, weighs but thirty pounds, and can be operated by two men, one loading as the other aims and fires it.

Eighty-five per cent. of the population of New York are moved every day by the railroads in this city.

For the inflation of automobile tires a Frenchman has invented tubes containing aluminum with a small proportion of mercury chloride. The admission of water forms hydrogen gas under pressure, which may easily be turned into the tire.

A pigeon has been known to fly a thousand miles in two days, six hours and seventeen minutes.

KING GEORGE TO MAKE HOME BULWARK OF THE NATION

Atmosphere of Victorian Era in New Monarch's Court—The Position of France—Sir Thos. Lipton Speaks of King Edward as Keen Admirer of Sport

(By Kable Howard, English author and playwright.)
London, May 8.—Today England is groping her way through the valley of the shadow of death. The head of the house has been taken from us at a moment when our private affairs are in sad, almost criminal disorder. Yet the Englishman, happily, is at his best in the hour of crisis.

The present generation is made of the same stuff that carried its forbears to victory. It proved as much again and again during the dark days of the Boer War, and throughout the illness of Queen Victoria, and once more Friday last while our sincerely beloved King lay fighting for life. Already then we are lifting up our eyes to behold the light at the end of the valley. What is the outlook? What can George V. do for England? We are in the same confidence in him as we assuredly gave to Queen Victoria and to King Edward VII.

It has been said of the new King that nobody knows his intimate friends. This means the social life of the monarch is more reserved than his father, King Edward, was essentially a man of the world, a clubman, "a jolly good sort." The qualities stood him in good stead. Both if nobody knows George V's intimate friends, everybody knows those who are more to a man than troops of friends. I mean, of course, his wife and children. One new king will bring back to the court the atmosphere of the Victorian era. Domestic virtues will no longer be undervalued. Just as he and the queen have taken the closest personal interest in the bringing up of their children, so we may expect to find the home life of the English once again the front of the nation's progress.

As regards politics, it is an open secret that the new king is a firm believer in the constitution as the bulwark of our empire. Both he and his wife—true to the latter—are the staunchest of Tories. Let each man in accord with his views decide for himself whether we've lost or gained by the tremendous change that has overtaken us.

Paris, May 8.—The death of King Edward will be felt as a great loss in France and the civilized world. The experience, tact and fitness of the English monarch enabled him to exercise a profound and always excellent, restraining and beneficent influence on the destinies of his country. I say again that the death of this great king is an enormous loss for France and for all Europe.

I don't, however, believe that this sad news will prevent the international agreement between the great powers depend less upon the will of men than upon geographic, historic, economic and military relations. Besides, I have full confidence that his young successor, brought up in so fine a school, will not deviate from the path which is pointed out by the interests of his country.

(By Sir Thomas Lipton.)
London, May 8.—I am deeply grieved at the death of King Edward. It is one of the things of my life which I am proudest of, that for a long period of years I had the privilege of a friendship with the late King. Apart from his splendid qualities as a man and a statesman, I think of him perhaps most of all as a keen admirer of sport in all its forms.

Latest feature—burnished surface

The Pandora might truly be said to range with a piano finish," for the smoothness, lustre and brilliancy of the new burnished surface rivals the finish of a high-class piano. This new burnished surface polishes quickly and requires about one-third the black lead necessary for the rather rough surface of ordinary ranges.

Ordinary ranges need polishing once a day to look bright, whilst the marvelously smooth burnished surface only needs polishing once a week. The burnished surface is a McCarty invention—found on no other make of stoves—so if you desire to save time, polishing, and black lead, be sure you choose Pandora.

SEEKING TO UPLIFT CHINA

Rev. Lord William Cecil Emphasizes Her Need of Higher Ideals and Christian Ethics—Thousands Accepting Christianity, He Says

(Montreal Gazette.)
The adoption by the Chinese of Western civilization and the necessity of directing the awakening of the East so that it would not turn to evil, was the subject of an address by the Rev. Lord William Cecil at Strathcona Hall, McGill University, yesterday. The speaker, a highly respected member of the British Empire League, was making a tour of the United States and Canada, advocating, in brief, the need of higher ideals and Christian ethics for the people of the East. He spoke of the same subject before meetings at Oxford and Cambridge, and, as a result, committees were formed to forward the project.

The Chinese to believe in such a faith. Buddhism is dying out; the old temples are now being used for schools; the Chinese in thousands are embracing the religion of the West. They have driven out the sacred Dhulai Lhamas. These two great movements must be considered by the western nations. The Chinese are a most efficient race, and there is really a yellow peril. It consists not in the fact that the east is likely to make war on the west; but on the danger of the balance of the world being upset through economic causes, inevitably following the entrance of four hundred millions into new fields of activity. It is our duty to keep the crush of civilization from turning to evil.

The Rev. Lord William Cecil and great applause. Dean Adams spoke of the influence of Canada on China through the young university men now working in the latter country, and through the relations between the two countries. The Rev. Lord William Cecil said for England on the Corcoran tonight. His three weeks' tour has left him in good health, and he hopes to return to Canada again, this time studying the China, and has great expectations for his scheme. He asked that a local committee should be formed to further the scheme for a university in China.

PARIS TO BUY HEAVILY IN CANADIAN STOCKS

O. B. D'Aoust, who has been instrumental in placing large blocks of Canadian stocks on the Paris market through R. Forgue's firm, has just returned to Montreal from France. Mr. D'Aoust is authority for the statement that Paris has taken big blocks of the Woods, Quebec Railway, Montreal Power and Dominion Steel, and believes that hereafter France can be counted upon to be a steady buyer of Canadian securities.

In spite of the reports to the contrary which have been circulated by several brokers, Mr. D'Aoust asserts that Quebec Street Railway will be listed in Paris in the course of a few weeks, the preliminary steps having been already taken. Mr. D'Aoust calculated the future French demand for securities away up in the millions.

WOMEN SUFFER NEEDLESS PAIN

Many Mysterious Aches May be Cured by Curing the Kidneys

Every woman has so much pain, work and worry in her life that any needless suffering from backache, dizziness, headache or other kidney ills is unfortunate, indeed. Booth's Kidney Pills have brought new life, health and strength to thousands of women afflicted in this way, by curing the kidneys. If you don't just understand your condition, don't forget that it may be the kidneys.

WOMEN easily fall victim to kidney ills. The condition work a woman does, the tight, heavy clothing she wears, the constant bending, reaching and lifting of household, the care of bringing up children, are all trying. Any fever, cold, or strain may weaken the kidneys, and set up congestive, backache and dizziness. Too many women have come to think that backache, pain through the hips, head, "blues," dizzy spells, sick headache, nervousness and swelling of the ankles, wrists or limbs, are natural accessories to the sex. Don't make that mistake. Suspect your kidneys first. Men have similar aches when the kidneys are sick. It is a woman's duty to herself and to her family to detect the first signs of kidney weakness, and to give the kidneys prompt help. A special remedy for kidney ills is Booth's Kidney Pills.

Miss Ada Lockett Bride of Walter A. Gompertz, Business Man of Berkeley — She is Daughter of Capt. Albert Lockett

The following from a California paper relates to the marriage of Miss Ada Lockett, a well known young lady who was born in Montreal, to Walter A. Gompertz, son of Capt. Albert Lockett, and niece of G. H. Clarke, of the city police force, and Mrs. Robert Gompertz, of Berkeley, California. The wedding took place in Berkeley, California, April 11. The account reads:—
The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bridegroom, 1200 Le Conte, in Hillsdale court, last evening. The bride, Miss Ada Lockett, was accompanied by her father, Capt. Albert Lockett, former pastor of the Grand Baptist church, officiating. A company of relatives and intimate friends had been invited, but the bride's father, Captain Albert Lockett, who commands a Pacific liner to the Orient, was unable to be present, since he is now away on a voyage.

The Le Conte home was handsomely decorated in a color scheme of white and green. French roses and ferns being employed, and the couple plighted their troth before an improvised altar of flowers. In the dining room, where the wedding supper was served, the decorations were of pink bridesmaid roses and enchantress carnations. The bridal party was led by Miss Helen Le Conte and Miss Ruth Gompertz, nieces of the bridegroom. They wore pink frocks and carried bouquets of pink sweethearts. Miss Leslie Gompertz, who attended as bridesmaid, followed the little girls, and was gowned in white chiffon over pink satin. She carried a shower of enchantress carnations. Miss Mabel Lockett, sister of the bride, walked alone, preceding the flower boys, Master Jack Gompertz, who carried a basket of roses. Miss Lockett wore a gown of white silk, elaborately embroidered, and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride wore a cream breasted all gown, made with court train and elaborately trimmed with real lace. The bridegroom was clothed in a suit of orange, blue and red, and wore a large bow tie of the same color. Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Gompertz departed for their home, intending to tour portions of California and then sail from a southern port for the Orient. On their return they will establish their home in this city.

Northern Pacific Has Plans Working For Dining Cars and New Starts Truck Garden—Buys 300 Cows and Starts Bakery

St. Paul, Minn., May 10.—The results of a year of experience has been so satisfactory that the Northern Pacific Railway has gone into specialized farming on a large scale and will add to the 1100 hens which are working for its dining car department, a herd of 300 milk cows and a garden truck farm. At the same time it will build a second bakery to supplement the supplies furnished by the company's bakery in Seattle, so that its cars may have fresh supplies both at St. Paul and in the west end.

The poultry farm at Kent, Wash., has been a success. Fifty-two acres of land are devoted to this purpose. Wintered, horn hens were selected as the best breed for the company's purposes. The farm supplies 120 dozen of eggs a day and guarantees a fresh supply for the cars. The new garden farm will cover 400 acres at Paradise, Mont., which has been purchased and improved, while at the same time an additional 270 acres of rich bottom land will be devoted to dairy purposes, supplying fresh milk and cream. Excellent results have followed the experiment of providing supplies from company-owned farms and the railway's poultry venture has demonstrated that better service can be had from the maintenance of its own chicken yards than by depending as formerly upon the uncertain and uncertain and frequently unsatisfactory local supply at various points.

A MISTAKEN MAN.

"Ah, but this is what we have been waiting for!" he exclaimed, as he looked at the car and at down beside a fat man.
"Sir, do you have reference to the weather?"
"Certainly I do. We have all been longing for spring, and here she is at last. By George, but it seems good!"
"Sir," said the fat man again, after a look at the other, "you have made an assertion—a direct assertion. You say that spring is here. I shall call upon you to prove what you say."
"With my dear man, I have seen a robin."
"Yes."
"And the sun crosses the line on the 21st."
"Yes."
"And I think I saw a crocus in the park yesterday."
"Yes."
"And—and why, of course, it's spring."
"Sir, you have entered this car to say that spring is here. You claim to have seen a robin. Can you tell a robin from a quail?"
"Why—why, I dunno."
"You say the sun crosses the line on the 21st. What line, sir? Is it a chalk line, a clothesline or what?"
"I can't say."
"You say you think you saw a crocus yesterday. Do you know a crocus from a sunflower?"
"—I can't say."
"—No, sir, you can't say, and yet you come in here and say that spring is at hand. It is not at hand, sir. This is November, and we have the winter before us. Look out of the window!"
The spring man and all the other passengers looked out and it was snowing to beat the band.

Sinking Spells Every Few Days

"At the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I was having sinking spells every few days. My hands and feet would get cold; I could scarcely breathe, and could feel myself gradually sinking away until I would be unconscious. Those about me could not tell there was life in me. After these spells I would be very weak and nervous, sleepless and without appetite; had neuralgia in my head and heart. After taking the remedy a short time all this disappeared and in a few weeks all the heart trouble was gone."

TO TAKE UP CASE OF REV. MR. DEINSTADT

Hearing of Important Matter in Methodist Church to Be Held in Toronto—Dr. Inch and Rev. S. Howard Take Part

(The Daily Telegraph)

Dr. James R. Inch, ex-superintendent of education for New Brunswick, passed through the city last evening en route to Toronto, where he will participate, as a member of the appeals committee of the Methodist church of Canada, in the settlement of one of the most highly controversial matters which have arisen in some years with regard to church government in the maritime provinces.

Speaking to The Telegraph of the affair, Dr. Inch said last evening that he thought Rev. Mr. Deinstadt would have a legal right to the amount of one year's salary as paid by Zion church, and also a case for damages against the congregation of the church or against the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island conference.

After Rev. Mr. Deinstadt had been finally assigned to Zion church, the conference board made strenuous representations to the stationing committee and said they would not abide by the ruling of the conference body.

So deeply did he feel the action of the stationing committee that he resigned and he retired from active work under the supervision of the conference and has not been in charge of any circuit during the past year, although he has engaged in special work, organizing a congregation at McAdam and, since the death of Rev. W. W. Lodge, sharing the pastoral duties of Knox street church with Rev. H. Brewer.

The Springfield circuit has been for a large portion of the year without a pastor, as Rev. L. N. Parker, who had been in charge, was unable to continue it throughout the winter.

Rev. Mr. Deinstadt has done everything in his power since conference time to obtain a reversal of the committee's decision. He appealed to Rev. Dr. Carman, general superintendent, but the latter would not interfere with the action of the conference committee, and the aggrieved party appealed to the annual conference of appeal.

The controversy has assumed such importance, both as a matter of ecclesiastical law and as a personal affair that the contending parties will be personally represented at the sitting of the annual conference of appeal, which will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock on behalf of Rev. Mr. Deinstadt and the stationing committee will also be represented.

It is understood that Rev. Mr. Deinstadt is a member of the conference of appeal, and that the stationing committee will also be represented.

Reduce The Cost of Living

Let us look into this problem of high cost of living. Let us see if we can whittle it down a bit and extract some of its fangs. We all agree that the cost of living has gone up. Eggs have gone up, butter has gone up, meat and poultry and vegetables have gone up. Everything we put on our tables has advanced in price from 30 to 50%. Except one item—Flour. Most of us have known this in a way sometime but have ever for a moment realized that 1 cent spent in good Bread buys more real value than fifteen times that amount spent in Eggs, Beef or Mutton. Just glance at the tables above showing the comparison made by the U.S. Government bulletin. From a food point of view—bread is the most important in our whole bill of fare. Test after test by various Governments has proved that first class bread is in itself almost a complete food and provides most nourishment to the body. It is a fact that the best bread made from Ogilvie's ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is richer in real food value than anything you may eat. It furnishes more all round food in the shape of carbo-hydrates than either beef, veal, lamb, pork, fish or vegetables.

And pastry made from Royal Household Flour. Let us make good, clean, fresh, home-made products from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR—bread and pastry and cookies and muffins and rolls for the youngsters and in that way we will get better food and be healthier and wealthier in the long run.

STATE OFFICERS OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

W. J. Mahoney Chosen Head At Moncton Meeting—General News of Meeting

Moncton, May 10.—At the regular session of Shantebury Lodge, Sons of England, tonight, a resolution of condolence touching the death of King Edward was passed and the lodge also pledged loyalty and fidelity to the new king, George V.

The Maritime Oil Fields Company experienced great difficulty in capping the latest gas well in Albert county owing to great pressure of gas. The gas strike in well No. 8 was made last Friday but not until this afternoon did the company finally succeed in closing the well. Manager Boggs says this well will yield at least 5,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas per day.

At this afternoon's session of the state council, Knights of Columbus, officers were elected as follows: State deputy, W. J. Mahoney, St. John; state secretary, C. G. Daif, Charlottetown; state treasurer, A. D. Chisholm, Antigonish; state advocate, Hon. F. J. Sweeney, Moncton; state warden, Michael O'Brien, Harbor Grace (Nfld.); alternate for state deputy, Francis J. Craig, Halifax; state chaplain, Archbishop McCarthy, Halifax.

Among the resolutions passed was one sympathizing and regretting the lamented death of King Edward, which was adopted by a standing vote.

It was decided to hold the state council next year at Chatham (N. B.), the invitation being extended by Grand Knight W. E. Cassidy, of Chatham.

Arrangements were discussed for the attendance of the state officers, grand knights and members at a meeting of the national council which meets for the first time in Quebec August 1.

The business of the council was concluded this afternoon and the delegates returned home tonight. The Newfoundland delegates went to St. John as guests of W. J. Mahoney, state deputy, and St. John Council, of Chatham.

The treasurer of the St. John Association, J. J. Talbot, has received a letter from the national council thanking the following contributors: Mission Church of St. John; St. John's, collection $1.75; St. Stephen's church, collection, additional $1; Mrs. Jas. Walker (life), $25; Miss Gladys Walker (life), $25; total, $41.

'T WAS GOOD YEAR WITH THE Y.M.C.A.

Annual Meeting Held Last Evening—Reports from the Various Departments Show That Much Has Been Accomplished by Members

The 34th annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of St. John was held last evening, the president of the association, G. E. Barbour, presiding. The report of the board of directors was read by A. H. Wetmore. It covered the work of the various departments during the past year. Mrs. Gronlund reported for the Ladies' Auxiliary that $280.23 had been raised during the year 1909, and that the ladies had expended $12,250.19 for association purposes. The following directors were elected to serve for three years: C. Cross, G. C. Jordan, E. E. Church, S. E. Davis, J. Hunter White. A vote of thanks was tendered to the president, G. E. Barbour, for his splendid work for the association during his year as president. Mr. Barbour briefly responded.

The constitution of the association was amended at several points to bring it up to date and make it more serviceable. Four amendments were adopted. A vote of appreciation of the association of the services rendered by the employed officers during the year.

Votes of thanks were tendered to the Ladies' Auxiliary and Young Ladies' League for their continued support and invaluable assistance, to the press of the city for the many courtesies received during the year, to S. A. Corbett and F. Godfrey Kenney for auditing the books and accounts of the association, to all who have contributed during the year to the success of the association. A telegram was sent to the Toronto association congratulating them on the successful termination of their magnificent building fund campaign.

In their report of the year's work the directors told of what had been done towards making it a successful year for the association. Reference was made to the social department, educational work, the boys' department, the membership, the finances, and the bowling alleys, all of which, the report stated, were in good condition, and boded well for the future of the association.

Regret was expressed at the death of three members, Percy G. Cobbit, H. C. Tilly and James H. McAvity. The total receipts for the year were $9,164.80. The report was signed by G. E. Barbour and D. C. Malcom.

Matthew Nelson, who has been in the city for several days, returned last night to Montreal. He made plans for a street railway cut-off at the foot of Main street, whereby the railway will be able to run its cars from Main street direct without shifting to Mill street. Further plans will be carried out in the near future to improve the service.

There was a fire last night in the roof of the old Main street Baptist church, now used as a gymnasium. The damage was slight.

I CAN MAKE A MAN OF YOU

Why should any man be weak, puny and debilitated, when it is easy to be as big and husky as any man you see on the street? Men with small, flabby muscles, thin-chested, dull-eyed, short of breath, without endurance, courage, ambition, and grit in their make-up, are WEAK MEN. If they were not born weak I can make physical giants of them.

I am not performing miracles, I have only discovered that what makes all this strength, this steam, this FORCE in a man, is his Animal Electricity. That is what makes muscles and heart strong. When I find a man who has lost that power and feels only half a man, I want to get it back to him, and I can do it. I have done it for thousands.

There are men in every town in the country now who thank me for making them feel once more like the creatures of God's creatures—MEN. YOU RUN NO RISK IN USING MY BELT. I MAKE ALL CHANGES. Any man or woman who will give me reasonable security I will send them the Belt with all the necessary attachments suitable for their case, and they can
