La MARQUISE de FONTENOY

Sir Richard Sutton, Just of Age, Owns Much of Richest Part of London - Strange Tale of Photograph

How intricately the affairs of the old world are mingled with those of the new is strikingly shown when it is seen that it is impossible to refer to any event on the other side without coming to something American. Take, for instance, the coming of age of Sir Richard Sutton, on Friday last.

It serves as a reminder that he is the son of the late Sir Richard Sutton, who was the owner of the famous racing yacht Genesta, which he sailed against the Puritan for the America's Cup, in 1886. He died suddenly, and somewhat mysteriously, on the Genesta, on February 25, 1891.

His son, Richard, the present baronet, was born two months afterwards. Young Richard's mother was Constance Edith, daughter of Sir Richard Vincent Corbett, and who after four years of widowhood married Rev. Herbert Delaval Astley, by whom she had a son, Philip Astley, who accompanied her on a visit to the United States about four years ago.

Young Sir Richard's grandfather and namesake, the fourth baronet, was assassinated on the turf as his son was in yachting.

The baronetcy is a very rich one, the estate including some of the most valuable real estate in the west end of London. An idea of its magnitude can be gathered by anyone who has ever visited London, when it is mentioned that it includes the north side of Piccadilly and most of the streets running out of it, also Grosvenor street, Hatfield street and, a considerable portion of Curzon street, together with Vigo street, Bolton street and Change street. In short, the whole of the fashionable and clubbed district of Mayfair is divided between young Sutton and the Duke of Westminster, for, with a few comparatively unimportant exceptions, which do not belong to one of them is the property of the other. Nor, from the foregoing list of Sir Richard's property ought it to be understood that the Duke has any of the north side of Regent street.

When it is borne in mind that the rents of all this vast property have been accumulating at compound interest, that it is so situated, that it is estimated to be worth about a million of pounds, and that Sir Richard's expenses of maintenance and education - he went to school at Eton - have been very trifling in comparison, it will readily be understood that he comes within the description of "one of the richest men in England."

So that, if he follows the example of his mother and half-brother who visited the side of the water four years ago, and happens to be captured by some beautiful American girl, she may be sure that it is not her money that is after, for he surely has enough of his own. It was reported, indeed, that he was about to cross the ocean. If he does, it may be confidently asserted that he will, at any rate, be a fortune teller, without any special appliances, or other proclamation of the fact that he is the possessor of enormous wealth, and is of ancient lineage.

The Suttons are one of the oldest county families in England, and have, during their history, which dates from Tudor times, owned various titles, including that of Lord Lexington and of the Earls of Lisle, whose patronage is Sutton. Among these still pertaining to the family is the Viscounty of Canterbury, which is now held by the descendants of Lord George Manners, son of the third Duke of Rutland, who, on inheriting the estates of his maternal grandfather, Robert Sutton, assumed the latter's patronage and hereditary bearing. His son was the famous Archbishop of Canterbury, and his son in turn, for his services as speaker of the House of Commons, was created Viscount Canterbury. This peer's only daughter married Richard Sanderson, Baron of Ludlow, the former chief of the House office, and of Sir Percy Sanderson, who spent so many years in New York, as colonial general of Great Britain.

Strange Story of Photograph - Sir Richard Sutton and his mother have made their principal home at Combermere Abbey in Shropshire, which was inherited by the late Lord Combermere, who was killed in the Crimea, and whose daughter, Lady Richard Sutton, connected with this house, there is one of the most curious stories that I ever heard of. It concerns the death of Lord Combermere, his body was brought back home, to be buried in the churchyard of the village of Ludlow. Lady Sutton's sister, Miss Corbett, was staying with her at the time. Being an enthusiastic amateur photographer, she busied herself taking snapshots of all the points of interest in the neighborhood of the Abbey. On the afternoon of the interment of the owner of the place, Miss Corbett took it into her head to make a photograph of the fine old library and, placing her camera secretly in the dusted position, she looked through it in order that nobody might come in and see the necessary time exposure. Some days afterwards, when she came to develop the negatives, Miss Corbett was astonished to find a figure sitting in the library in the chair that used to be the favorite one of the Lord Combermeres who had just died. The person pictured was certainly not in the room when Miss Corbett made the exposure; and in all other respects the photograph came out exactly as she expected it would. Both she and her sister, Lady Sutton, were puzzled over the strange affair, and carefully preserved the picture as a curiosity, regarding it as one of those "freaks of photography" that they had read about. One day a photograph was a new neighbor as well, while looking through the album containing the photograph, that Miss Corbett had taken, remarked: "I see you have poor old Lord Combermere, sitting in his library. It is a very interesting picture in deed, but so characteristic - no life-like!"

"Lord Combermere," exclaimed Miss Corbett, astounded at the remark: "Do you mean to say you think the figure in the chair is Lord Combermere?" "I know it is," replied the friend, "and it is a splendid likeness of him, too. When it was explained that the photograph had been taken at the very moment when the body of Lord Combermere, whom neither Miss Corbett nor Lady Sutton had ever seen while he was alive - was being interred in the village churchyard, the mystification became deeper still, and past all explanation on a natural basis, especially when the photograph was shown to other people who had been well acquainted with the old lord, and who all confirmed the original declaration that there was no doubt whatever that it was he whose likeness appeared on the photograph.

The mystery has never been explained, so far as I have heard. But it did not interfere with Lady Sutton's love for

WHEN THE LUNGS ARE WEAK

To every person with weak lungs or who has a family history with records of consumption, a cough or cold is a serious matter.

Coughs have a tendency to hang on. They irritate the weakened membranes and prevent healing. There is always the danger that a cold may get a firm foothold and settle on the lungs. It is so easy under these conditions for pneumonia or consumption to develop.

About the surest means of controlling coughs and colds is by the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Iodized and Turpentine. This treatment loosens the cough, allays the irritation and inflammation and thoroughly overcomes the disagreeable symptoms. The success of this medicine has given rise to many imitations. It is only natural to suppose that the original possesses merit of an unusual degree.

Combermere Abbey, for so far from being frightened, she was so impressed by the kindly and benign expression on the face in the photograph, that she felt more than ever attached to the place and disinclined to leave it.

RECORD COAL OUTPUT - Gloucester Daily Gas: The April output from the Gloucester Coal Company's collieries will be approximately 370,000 tons. This will compare with 358,000 tons for the best previous April output, and it is much in excess of any previous month's tonnage during the winter season. The mines are all in good condition now for producing their maximum tonnage, and it will not be surprising if occasionally the daily output will reach 15,000 tons.

Tyrant Makers

By RUTH CAMERON

WHETHER these tyrants thereby help to make a tyrant, and is, therefore, partially responsible for his creation, or if the man who falls to take an intelligent interest in government, and to do what he can to make a good government, passes the way for bad government, and is partially responsible for the evils which result, the parent who is ever ready to give in to the whims and pamper the tastes, and bow to the mood of the son or daughter of the family thereby helps to make the child the self-center, exacting tyrant which he is likely to become, and is partially responsible for the tyranny under which the child suffers, and the wrong perspective from which the child will ultimately suffer.

"I declare, I don't know what to do with Arleen," writes one of my correspondents, in regard to her sixteen-year-old daughter; "She grows more thoughtless and self-centered and exacting every day. It really seems as if the harder I try to please her, the more exacting and domineering she will become and she gets." Undoubtedly, my friend, quite without knowing it, you have put your finger right on the cause of all your trouble. The harder you try to please your little daughter, the more she will expect of you that you should do nothing on earth but try to please her. The more she expects you to please her, the more she will expect you to please her. In short, you are giving her more and more to be exacting when power is thrust into one's hand or not to be exacting when some one is ready and eager to fulfill those exacting demands.

It is told of an overworked farmer's wife, with a family consisting of her husband and five sons, that when she collapsed in the kitchen one hot day, and the village nurse was hastily called in, the latter found six little bean-pots sizzling away in the oven. "For the land's sake!" she inquired. "Oh!" gasped the farmer's wife. "You see, father won't have any molasses in his beans, and John likes 'em full of molasses; Frank won't eat 'em with molasses, but has to have a little onion; Golden wants lots of pork, and Tom likes Alie liked, slammed the door, and retired to the kitchen. There, it is stated, she at once smashed those six bean-pots, substituted a mammal's pot which she had ever attached to their beans that way or not at all. Needless to say they ate them."

Doubtless these six sons were good-hearted folk and very fond of their little wife and mother. But she had so long passed the way of tyranny that they could hardly help being tyrants.

There is an infinite number of such mothers in the world, and few such fathers. They mean so well, but they do so much harm, not only to themselves, but also to those for whom all their sacrifices are made!

BETTER COALING PLANT TO BE GIVEN HALIFAX

(Halifax Chronicle.)
Alexander Dick, general sales agent, and Andrew Mackenzie, superintendent of Terminal of the Dominion Coal Company, arrived in the city yesterday, and made an inspection of the company's wharf, accompanied by W. R. Morrow. A Morning Chronicle reporter saw Mr. Mackenzie last night regarding recent complaints about delay in bunkering steamers at Halifax and learned that the object of the present visit of the officials is in connection with plans for improving the facilities of the Dominion Coal Company at this port.
Plans have already been prepared for the installation of modern up-to-date machinery for quick handling and storage of coal. The coal company is aiming at discharging ships of 7,000 tons capacity in twenty-four hours, and also loading and unloading coal, and placing it in ship's bunkers at the rate of 150 tons an hour.
It is also proposed, in order to meet the rapidly increasing demands at Halifax, to provide a storage room for 20,000 tons of coal. When these improvements are completed this port will be equipped to handle coal as fast as any of the coaling stations of the Atlantic seaboard.

CHILDREN SAVED IN TITANIC DISASTER ARE IN NOVA SCOTIA

(Yarmouth Times)
A brother of two children who were saved in the Titanic disaster came to Yarmouth from Liverpool for the purpose of meeting the little ones, and on his arrival he learned of what had occurred to the great ship.

The children, who are Syrians, were residing in Cherbourg, France, when the disaster occurred, and with perhaps a dozen relatives, boarded the ship on their way to this country. The boy is but nine years old and knows but little of what took place after the ship came to grief, but his sister, who is four years older, was able to tell the Times a fairly well connected story.

Through her uncle, L. J. Shadie, Main street, she gave the Times practically the same story told by other survivors. She was one of the last to leave the ill-fated vessel. Her little brother was thrown into the same boat.

On Thursday morning, with his brother, they left by train for Liverpool, where they will reside.

LATE SPORT NEWS

New York, April 29.—The poor physical condition of many ball players in the major leagues, caused by the cold and damp weather, has resulted in an agitation to curtail the playing season. Though this season is but two weeks old, the intolerable weather conditions have caused several club owners to declare that there should be a radical reform in the making of schedules. Not only have players felt ill effects from the weather, but the fans have stayed away and gates have suffered. Records from the clubs in the big leagues show that attendance figures fall below the mark of other years. The playing form of the big league clubs is also below the standard, except in one or two cases.

Chicago, April 29.—Jack Johnson, heavy weight champion, returned to Chicago last night from Pittsburg, where he was hurt in an automobile accident last week. Johnson is suffering slightly from his injured shoulder, but does not believe it will interfere seriously with his training for the Jim Flynn match at Las Vegas, N. M., on July 4. Johnson said he would begin light work today.

SPECIALS THROUGH
Three special trains passed through the city this morning carrying about 1,500 passengers from Halifax for the west.

TO CLEAN HOUSE WITHOUT DISQUET TO THE FAMILY

It is a mistake to begin housecleaning too early in the season. If it is done while winter is still with us, dust will accumulate again from the furnace, and will be tracked into the house and the bright days of real spring will be met by rooms already grown dingy.

OUTLINES OF HOUSEKEEPING PLAN.

First week—Take down and launder all wash curtains, dresser covers, pillow tops, etc. Clean closets, launder blankets, put away winter clothes and bedding.

Go over the contents of the linen closet and lay aside for repair or bleaching any hand or bed linen which needs it. Order a supply of good canned vegetables, meats and fruits, nuts, crackers, small cookies and doughnuts for cleaning week.

Send any furniture which needs repairing to the repair shop. Send away all rugs or carpets which demand repair, cleaning or dyeing.

Dispose of all useless junk. This may be agreeably accomplished in the following plan:

In an unoccupied room three boxes or barrels. Have on one "For the Salvation Army," or whatever charity can use it; another, "Useless Junk," and the third, "Cleaning Rags." Ask each member of the family to carry to this room any articles of real treasure or decorations which may be discarded.

This system saves a lot of real grief. It is a delicate matter, and one which is worthless even for oneself, then how can one expect to decide wisely for others. Children are frequently deceived by the decision of all-wise big sisters, aunts, grandmothers and mothers. Things which are real treasures to children are mere "trash" to interfering grown-ups.

The things brought to this room can be looked over by the housekeeper and disposed of under the three heads. The junk man will take away the worthless things, the Salvation Army will call for cast-offs, and the worn out clothing can be ripped and prepared for cleaning rags.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN N. B., MONDAY, APRIL 29, 1912

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 29, 1912.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 21 and 23 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

UNDER WHICH FLAG?

Will the Christian church take the lead in the solution of great social problems which press themselves with growing force upon the world's attention, or will the leadership be taken by those Socialists who repudiate Christianity? This question was presented with clearness and force yesterday by Mr. John T. Hawke in an address delivered in this city.

It is perhaps the most important question presented at the present time in any country. A social revolution is unquestionably in progress. Everywhere special problems are being forced to the front, and the most outspoken and determined of the advocates of radical change are not in the Christian church. Mr. Hawke gave one striking illustration when he told of seeing in London churches with comparatively few men in attendance at the services, while outside in the streets crowds of workmen listened to speakers who stood under the flag of Socialism.

There is a church in the city of Winnipeg which has just decided to keep its doors constantly open. The pastor of that church is making an effort to the extent of his ability to make the church a part in solving the social problem. There must be no aloofness if the church is to gain the desired hold upon the confidence and energy of all the people.

Mr. Hawke was quite right in urging that there should be less emphasis upon the joys of heaven and more upon the doing of right because it is good to do right. Perhaps greater emphasis along the line he suggests would strengthen the work of every branch of the Christian church. The social revolution which is in progress must have a profound influence upon the relations between the church and the working man. No one doubts that the principles of Christianity, sincerely and resolutely applied in every department of human life, would overcome all that is unhealthy in social unrest. It is for the church to say whether or not it will meet the crisis in the right spirit; and with the fearless energy which marked the lives of the great leaders of Christianity in ages past.

UNSANITARY HOUSING The people of Ottawa must be shocked by the report of the medical officer to the effect that 807 houses in the city are unfit for habitation. The statement is made in his annual report, which goes further and declares that the infant mortality rate in Ottawa is twice as great as in London. Putting it another way, he says: "If the infant mortality in Ottawa could be lessened by one half, it would still be too high." A sanitary survey of Ottawa was taken, and this report of the medical health officer shows the need of reform in various directions.

Ottawa is not only the capital of Canada but an industrial centre of increasing importance. The city is rapidly growing, and there has been during the last year an increased activity in real estate. The bounds of the city are being extended. There has been much talk about the importance of a proper system of town planning, in order that the newer sections may be laid out free from slum conditions. The fact that the medical health officer finds 807 houses unfit for habitation shows not only that a careful system of town-planning for the new sections of the city should be adopted, but that the civic authorities should insist upon cleaning up some sections of the present city. It is a remarkable fact that in a new country like Canada there should be a duplication of the slum conditions of old world cities. There is no excuse for it, nor should it be any longer tolerated. Ottawa is by no means a solitary example of a Canadian city where some of the people live in houses that are unfit for habitation. We would probably shrink from letting the public know how many such houses an investigating committee would find in the city of St. John.

HOME IN CITIES The citizens of Winnipeg desire a larger measure of home rule than they enjoy at present. At a recent meeting a speaker complained that the city could do nothing without being expressly and specifically empowered by the legislature, and that for almost everything the city wanted it had to fight the Winnipeg Tribune, commenting on this statement, declares it is undoubtedly true that at no time in the year does the city have to dread corporations more than during the sessions of the provincial legislature. The Tribune says that the citizens find it necessary sometimes to assemble, use very emphatic language, and pass the strictest resolutions to prevent legislation that would be against the interests of the people. Incidentally it may be remarked that the Tribune pays a tribute to the splendid stand taken by Winnipeg's representatives at the last session of the legislature, and that one of these is Mr. S. Hart Green, who is a son of Mr. Louis Green of St. John. It may be added that one of the planks of the Liberal party in Manitoba is home rule for Winnipeg, and a greater representation for the city. The citizens of St. John can sympathize to some extent with those of Winnipeg. This city should have a larger measure of home rule. It ought not to be necessary to submit the local affairs of St. John to the members from the counties who do not understand the conditions, and are not concerned in the result. The Times recently pointed out that German cities have a very large measure of home rule, having practical control of all matters directly affecting their local interests. The same principle should be applied to a much larger extent than at present Canadian cities.

THE FLAG-FLAP-PERS The St. John Standard appears to have been mightily disturbed by a short paragraph touching the report that freight originating on the Grand Trunk Pacific will be sent to Portland, Maine. The Tory organ makes a vicious attack upon the Liberals, forgetting that when the Conservatives were in power it was necessary for the people of St. John to force two Conservative members for this constituency, one of them being Mr. Hanson, to threaten that they would resign their seats if justice was not done to this port. During the whole Liberal regime St. John never found it necessary to go on its knees to Ottawa for justice. It is due to Liberal policy that this city will soon be the Atlantic terminus of three trans-continental railways.

Touching the matter of reciprocity, the Standard affects to believe that the proposed trade agreement is dead. As a matter of fact, a provincial election in the province of Saskatchewan is now being fought out with reciprocity as the chief issue, and all over Canada the people are realising more and more fully how justice they were to be swept off their feet by a wave of prejudice and passion at the bidding of so-called Imperialists and the Nationalists. No amount of flag-flapping can hide the hypocrisy of the Conservative leaders. If they were true Imperialists they would have a naval policy. The truth is, those who degrade the flag by dragging it into a political campaign for party purposes, do not deserve to retain, and cannot for a long period retain power in Canada.

The Standard makes much of some correspondence that passed between Taft and Roosevelt concerning reciprocity, in which it was said that reciprocity would make Canada an adjunct of the United States, and that reciprocity was desirable both for economic and political reasons. The flag-dappers think they see in this a menace to the Empire. They really pay a very poor tribute to the patriotism of Canadians when they insinuate that if we bought more goods from the United States and sold them more goods we would forget our allegiance to King George. The Canadian people are quite able to take care of their loyalty under all circumstances. If their loyalty is so weak that they cannot be trusted to trade in their natural market and with their nearest neighbor, they will never amount to very much as a bulwark of the British Empire.

The struggle between Taft and Roosevelt in Massachusetts has stirred the Republican party to its depths, and each has enthusiastic supporters. We shall in very soon who will have the larger number of delegates in the convention.

Premier McBride of British Columbia wants a Canadian navy and does not hesitate to say so. This is somewhat embarrassing for Mr. Borden, who does not know what he wants and who has been laboring earnestly ever since he came into power to dodge the issue.

With regard to recreation grounds at St. John, the extension of the street railway to Rockwood Park would do more than any other course which might be pursued to give the people easy access to one of the finest recreation grounds in the country.

Because of the nature of the earliest reports concerning him there was at first a very general feeling of resentment against Mr. J. Bruce Ismay. Several witnesses in the inquiry at Washington on Saturday, however, testified that Mr. Ismay not only remained on deck until the last boat was launched but that he insisted upon sending the women first. The boat in which Mr. Ismay finally left the ship had only got a very short distance from the Titanic when she went down.

The feeling of resentment in England in the matter of the Titanic inquiry is natural. There could be no objection to a proper inquiry in the United States, because United States interests suffered heavily, and many American citizens lost their lives. The objection is not to the inquiry, but to its method, which is very far from being a judicial one. It should not be necessary for the inquirers to assume that the witnesses are criminals. There is nothing convincing in such a case in more noise. The purpose of an inquiry should be to get at the facts quietly and fairly, treating everybody with the utmost consideration.

SHOOK HIM. A youth, who thought that he had become a favorite with a certain maiden, persistently begged her to accept his hand in marriage. Here is a bit of conversation between them which was snatched by an unintentional listener a few nights ago: "I assure you," he commenced, "that I will not take no for an answer." "You need not take no for an answer," was her reply. "I will answer 'yes' on one condition only." He was impatient to hear what the question was she wanted him to ask, and this was her gentle reply: "Just ask me if I am firmly determined not to marry you in any circumstances."

BRUNSWICK FIRE LOSS NEAR $100,000

More Than Dozen Buildings, Including 70 Churches and Railway Shops

LITTLE MARGARET LOST MOPS WHEN TITANIC WENT DOWN

(New York Sun.) A little girl from overseas whose father kissed her good-bye and put her by her mother in one of the Titanic's lifeboats on that tragic night has almost forgotten now the sights she saw as the life boat went away from her father on the deck, the sounds she heard as the giant liner sank and the anguish of the hours before the Carpathia came, has forgotten so that those things are dim beside her one prevailing grief, the loss of her very best doll that closed its eyes when you rocked it.

She is eight-year-old Margaret Collyer, and she and her mother who boarded the Titanic at Southampton, bound with her father Harvey Collyer, for a fruit farm in Idaho, are being cared for by the family of Dr. J. A. De Tieme at 1475 Glenwood road, Brooklyn.

Margaret has plenty of dolls now, strange, quick talking American girls of her own age have stopped in at the doctor's home to give their English cousin blue eyed china dolls, and dolls with their eyes and noses painted on 'em, and just rag dolls—for the child and her story is so simple and so sad. They looked on all through the neighborhood—but then you know a Flitsham doll can never make up for Mops (that was drowned in the ocean).

IMMIGRATION TO CANADA FROM THE GREEN ISLE

awaiting new settlers in Canada. The small-homesteaders and their employes, according to this journal, are completely in the hands of the machine agents, the timber merchants, and more than all others, of the small tradesmen.

total population was the record for last year.

In spite of this organized opposition it is satisfactory to note the success which has attended the operations of the Canadian government officials in what is admitted to be the most difficult field on this side. Although the majority of the settlers went as usual to America, Canada secured a 7500 number, for instance, more than four-fifths of the movement from Ulster went to the Dominion.

TITANIC'S POSITION GIVEN EIGHT MILES AWAY IN WIRELESS CALL FOR HELP

Captain Moore Completes Evidence in Inquiry in Washington - Says Inmate Acted Bravely

Washington, April 27.—Failure to give her exact position, a great field of floating ice that offered a frigid barrier to ships hurrying to the rescue, and the mistake of her own captain in rushing at top speed through an ice covered sea—all these combined to send the Titanic and her 1,600 victims to their watery graves in the North Atlantic. This was strongly indicated today in testimony before the senate committee investigating the ocean tragedy.

Former Saw Bodies of Titanic Afloat—Empress Message From Captain Smith

Captain Robert McKillop of the Allan liner Sardinian which arrived here late Saturday night, told the Telegraph yesterday that he was alongside of the cable ship, the Empress, which was searching for the Titanic's dead, and supplied her with canvas to cover the 200 or more bodies recovered.

Denounced Socialism

He denounced anti-Christian socialism and declared that the advocates of socialism had done nothing for the common people, but he thought it was only necessary to refer to that which had been brought about by the church. Many people did not seem much impressed with the work of the Salvation Army, but the members were doing a great work among the other religious denominations were recognizing the fact that the methods were good.

At the Every Day Club

The announcement that Mr. Hawke would speak at the Every Day Club last evening attracted an audience that filled the hall, and the hearty applause which greeted his remarks from time to time indicated that the audience were in sympathy with his point of view.

Mr. Hawke sharply criticized the people of St. John for their failure to put an end to the liquor traffic.

He contended that they should take action not only for the good of the city, but for the good of those local officials or social act communities which liquor is shipped from St. John. He appealed to the ministers in the churches to speak out on this question. With regard to local assistance, he said that the great work of the world is being done today by total abstinence, and observed that the captain who ordered the stokers of the steamer to be served with grog before the vessel was set toward the Titanic should take a few preliminary lessons in science, relating to the effect of alcohol upon the human system.

McGovern Priests

A very pretty wedding took place in Boston on Thursday last, when Miss Jennie McGovern, formerly of this city, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McGovern, of Britain street, was united in marriage to Frank G. Priests, of Everett (Mass.). The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. McCoy, at the Cathedral of Holy Cross. The bride was escorted by Miss Nellie Form, a cousin of the groom, while Douglas Sinclair supported the groom. The happy couple will reside in Everett (Mass.).

A Treasured Message

It was 10:30 in the morning of the 12th that the Empress of Britain got in communication with the Titanic and Captain Murray sent the following message:

"(Signed) SMITH." The British had in all 1,600 passengers including 182 sailors, 454 second cabin, and 82 steerage. Of this number fourteen of the saloon, seven of the second cabin and 102 of the steerage were for United States passengers.

Imay's Bravery Told Of

J. Bruce Imay, managing director of the International Mercantile Marine Company, was much cheered by the testimony this afternoon. Throughout the work he has had a troubled look and during the long daily sessions he has sat silent, seldom looking to his associates who accompanied him. Today, however, he listened eagerly to the accounts of his conduct at the life boats, as told by the stewards and seaman who came in contact with him on the night of the disaster.

The Durbar

Pictures of travel in foreign countries are always sure to please. Many American pictures continually show us scenes of life and for that reason the Durbar in Kinsmenor series to be presented at the Opera House tonight and for the balance of the week will afford a wonderful change of scenery. This production during its ten weeks run at the mammoth New York Theatre, New York, crowded the house at almost every performance, and it is as should. Nothing like it has ever been seen in that city before, the reproductions of the scenes in India being really wonderful in their brilliant color.

Montreal, April 28.—At the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association last night it was decided that the time for affiliation with the A. A. U. of C. was not ripe. A Murray Hannah was elected president, and P. O. Sullivan was elected one of the vice-presidents to represent Nova Scotia.

Athletic Rothesay College Boys

The work of the year in the gymnasium attached to the Rothesay Boys' College was tested on Saturday in a big indoor meet which was witnessed by a large number of spectators and gave keen satisfaction to all interested. The events were conducted in a capable manner, entirely pleasing to everyone and many of the boys distinguished themselves in athletic accomplishments. The various feats included foot marching, tumbling, dumbbells, drills, pyramids, horizontal and parallel bars, and other athletic feats in which the ability of the boys was well displayed. Andrew, for the seniors; Payne, for the intermediates, and Richardson, for the juniors, were seen to particularly good advantage. They were the winners of the contest last week.

Track and Field

Melvin Sheppard has been doing his preliminary training on the New York City university track at Ohio Field. He is already showing speed and his admirers say that he will be faster than ever this year. Murphy of Illinois is venturing in great form. In the recent dual meet with Missouri he won with 12 feet, which was as high as the bar could be placed on the uprights. Just to show the Missourians Murphy vaulted a distance above the bar at its highest point.

New England expects to have four Marathon runners of the team selected to represent the United States at Stockholm. They are: Clarence H. De Mar, Andrew Sockolakis and Thomas H. Lilley of the North Dorchester A. A. and Richard F. Figsell of Medford.

It is said that G. Tchilikira, who recently broke the world's record for the standing broad jump, will make his debut in the United States after representing Greece in the Olympic games. He has cleared 4 feet 3 1/4 inches in the running high and nearly twenty-three feet in the running broad.

Baseball Local Notes

P. J. Duggan, who will manage the Fredericton Baseball team this season, arrived at Fredericton on Saturday. The Fredericton management have signed on Joe Neptune who played last year with one of the border teams.

George Winter, of last year's Marathon baseball team, pitched a star game for Toronto on Friday against Providence. Only four hits were made of his delivery. The Providence team won by a score of 1 to 0.

The Ring

San Francisco, April 28.—Doubtless accentuated by the fact that Abe Attell is something like $30,000 winner in card games of late and is therefore feeling independent, there was, a few days ago, a rather tact exchange of telegrams between the ex-champion featherweight and Tom McCarey of Los Angeles.

McCarey, learning that Attell had been matched to box twenty rounds with Jimmy Carroll in Sacramento on Tuesday, wired Attell:

"Don't throw yourself away in these bush fights. Take care of yourself and then get Kilbane's job. I don't think you're a big league fighter. I don't look for any big league baseball until the weather warms up and the players get in condition."

Badly Affect Box-Office Receipts in Dramatic Houses in Germany

Berlin, April 27.—German managers, actors and playwrights have made ready for action against the all-conquering motion-picture man. At a meeting of delegates of national associations representing his-trionic art in Berlin this week, it was decided that heroic measures were necessary to preserve the theatre from ruin at the hands of "kintopp," as motion-picture shows are called here. Reports from Berlin and the provinces revealed that many theatrical establishments are to the brink of disaster in consequence of "kintopp" competition. The cause for film-shows is not only dealing box-offices a deadly blow, but is tempting actors and actresses from the legitimate stage. They cite the case of a Berlin leading-lady who has succumbed to the higher salaries offered by film concerns, and who did not hesitate recently to fling herself into a lake, to portray the principal role in a "kintopp" melodrama.

The consensus of opinion was that motion pictures should be confined by law to science and education, and should be debarrd from invading the sacred realm of drama. It was decided that one of the most potent means of fighting the "kintopp" would be to place a prohibitive import duty on foreign films, and that the imperial government will be petitioned to that end. Meanings "kintopp" continue to sweep all before them. The Kaiser's prosecutors themselves have capitulated to a seductive offer for the rental of the obsolete Royal Opera Theatre, which will now be turned into a "kintopp."

Berlin, April 27.—German managers, actors and playwrights have made ready for action against the all-conquering motion-picture man. At a meeting of delegates of national associations representing his-trionic art in Berlin this week, it was decided that heroic measures were necessary to preserve the theatre from ruin at the hands of "kintopp," as motion-picture shows are called here. Reports from Berlin and the provinces revealed that many theatrical establishments are to the brink of disaster in consequence of "kintopp" competition. The cause for film-shows is not only dealing box-offices a deadly blow, but is tempting actors and actresses from the legitimate stage. They cite the case of a Berlin leading-lady who has succumbed to the higher salaries offered by film concerns, and who did not hesitate recently to fling herself into a lake, to portray the principal role in a "kintopp" melodrama.

The consensus of opinion was that motion pictures should be confined by law to science and education, and should be debarrd from invading the sacred realm of drama. It was decided that one of the most potent means of fighting the "kintopp" would be to place a prohibitive import duty on foreign films, and that the imperial government will be petitioned to that end. Meanings "kintopp" continue to sweep all before them. The Kaiser's prosecutors themselves have capitulated to a seductive offer for the rental of the obsolete Royal Opera Theatre, which will now be turned into a "kintopp."

Hon. T. W. Crothers Resigns Because of Ill-Health.

It was officially announced Thursday that Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, now en route for California, has handed his resignation to Sir Robert Borden, and that it has been accepted. Hon. Gibson Robertson, who has represented labor in the Cabinet for some time past, in addition to acting as Chairman of the Canada Registration Board, has been appointed Minister in succession to Mr. Crothers, and was sworn in at noon Thursday. Mr. Crothers resigned on the grounds of ill-health.

New Minister's Record.

Senator Robertson, the new Minister, has been closely in touch with the work of the Labor Department since entering the Government a year ago. It is generally recognized that he has been largely instrumental in promoting industrial peace throughout the Dominion during the war period.

Some of the more important labor disputes which he was successful in adjusting were those of the Nova Scotia miners last January, and the Canadian Pacific Railway maintenance-of-way men, involving 8,000 employees, last February. His was the arbiter in the T. and N. O. Railway dispute in April last, and his efforts which resulted in the successful settlement of the Winnipeg civic strike will be remembered.

Advocated McAuloo Award.

Senator Robertson was also largely instrumental in settling the strike in the shipbuilding yards on the West Coast, and the settlement reached at that time has proven a most satisfactory one. He was the promoter in Canada of the adoption by Canadian railways of the McAuloo Award and its amendments, which is of such material benefit to railway employees throughout the Dominion.

Senator Robertson will be the second minister with a portfolio holding a seat in the Senate, the other being Sir James Lougheed, who heads the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

RECEIPTS FOR WAR WORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The entire gross receipts of the National Horse Show, which opens November 11 in Madison Square Garden, will be donated to the United War Work campaign which starts on the same date, it was announced here tonight.

Under a previous arrangement the proceeds of the show were to go to the American Red Cross, but officials of that organization withdrew their claim in favor of the war work campaign. The Red Cross realized $48,000 from the 1917 show.

NO KINGSTON SENIOR HOCKEY.

KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 7.—The hockey situation in Kingston is as yet unsettled. "C" Battery R.F.A. has decided to enter a team in the intermediate O.H.A. This battery has Walsh, Kingston, as well as "Dutch"

Lyons and Sardo, of the Montreal Shamrocks, while several other hockeyists with the battalion will try out for places.

The Kingston Juniors will have to reorganize the team this year, with Alex. Connell, the goal keeper and "Red" McKevey, defense man, as a nucleus. Queen's is undecided regarding hockey, but will likely have junior and intermediate teams. It is improbable that Kingston will have any senior hockey this season.

ON THE BATTLE FRONT IN BELGIUM, Tuesday, Nov. 5.—German soldiers at one point during the retreat in Belgium carried off a stock of flour, lard and pork purchased by the Belgian relief committee and destined to feed the Belgian population. Sixteen non-commissioned officers entered a flour mill and ordered the German soldiers to load six box cars with flour valued at $100,000. The relief committee's stores then were robbed of 45,000 pounds of lard and 15,000 pounds of pork.

FINAL PRACTICE FOR PAYS.

A signal practice will be held Friday night at 7 o'clock at St. Paul's football team at St. Patrick's Hall.

His Lordship Bishop J. C. Roper of the Anglican churches in Ottawa is heartily in accord with the idea as shown by his statement to The Journal Daily as follows:

"I shall be glad if in this way religious thanksgiving shall find a place at the first meeting of our public rejoicing and I hope that Anglicans, especially members of Anglican church choirs will be there to join them."

The Director of Chaplain Services in Canada is also fully in accord with the proposition and respectfully requests that such steps be immediately taken as will give to any spontaneous outbursts of religious character. Representatives of the various churches, Protestant and Roman Catholics concur with the Director of Chaplain Services.
