Foot-Prints.
"For men may come and men may go, but I'll go on forever." The deep, melodious voice came floating up to where a picturesque group of young girls sat under a large tree. They evidently had been reading; but now conversation was written on every face.

"What's he hunting for?" "My hat's a daisy," and various other expressions were indulged in, as the object of their criticism passed out of sight.

"Run down and see what he is looking for, Nell. We all have lost shoes on the way."

"I took little time to run down to the beach below the hill, for the girls had not continued the conversation before Nell came running back, and hardly waiting to catch her breath, called out: 'O, girls, he's on Jack's track!'

"Well, I think he will have to go on forever, if he ever finds Jack," says one.

"What time is it, Edith?" asked Nell.

"Let me see; why, it is nearly five o'clock! It takes me at least an hour to curl my hair. I never will be ready for dinner."

"Huronian Beach, usually so gay, is this summer very quiet, and is chiefly devoted to women and children. A man quite a luxury. No wonder then at this outcry."

"I wonder when I will ever come to the end of these foot-prints, murmured the man."

"He is a very handsome, tall, broad shouldered, with blonde hair, deep blue eyes, a decidedly firm mouth, with a drooping mustache. He walks with quite a military air, and seems quite out of place in this wild, picturesque retreat."

"Ah, this is the first word that has passed his lips for some time. His eye suddenly rests on some writing in the wet sand. He spells it out slowly. 'J-A-C-K.' Well, I wonder if I have been fool enough to be following some boy's foot-prints! But no, a boy would hardly stop and write his name in the sand, and besides, that little foot never belonged to anyone but a pretty girl. It is evidently his own foot-prints, but as long as he is not with her I will keep on."

"He starts forward again, with a much more brisk walk than before. He does not have far to go, for just a short distance ahead of him he catches sight of a dainty little foot peeping out from behind a huge boulder."

"Fred McDermott thinks he never saw such a pretty picture in all his wandering, as he leans against the rock and looks at the sweet sleeper beneath. A mass of dark hair is thrown back from the white brow, and long lashes lay lightly on the flushed cheeks; the features are classical and her dress of a becoming shade of blue, fits well the perfect figure."

"At a short distance from the girl is a neatly covered basket. He lifts it carefully and takes off the cover. Much to his surprise he finds a tempting lunch to be its contents. Surely she will never miss it if he takes a little of her lunch. So, forgetful of the eighth commandment, he seats himself on the sand with his back to the sleeper, and commences at a rapid rate, to devour the contents of the basket."

"Meanwhile the sleeper has become restless, and suddenly opens a pair of large gray eyes, she looks at the stranger bent over her basket. She tips her way to him, then suddenly throws her arms around his neck and says: 'Dear, old Tom, you really did come at last.' She is just going to kiss him, when he rises quickly to his feet."

"In an instant she sees her mistake; with a wild shriek she turned and fled."

Annual session of the legislature shall be held. Any year, whether of the United Kingdom or Great Britain, Ireland, Scotland or Ireland, shall be qualified to be a member of either house, but the same person shall not be a member of both houses.

PAID UP EXAMINATION.—We are pleased to learn that Mr. W. J. Blackley was presented, on Saturday last, the 19th inst., with a very handsome diploma out of the value of fifty dollars. The presentation was made by members of his congregation in Newcastle and Northack and Southack, and other friends.—Advocate.

PROF. C. G. D. Roberts, of King's College, Windsor, has been selected as one of the Literary examiners at the Chicago World's Fair. Prof. Roberts is the only one selected from Canada and there are only twelve in all, the honor is much coveted. Four were selected in England including Hon. Mr. Gladstone and Alfred Tennyson.

THE POPE'S PUBLICS.—AN HISTORIC SCENE.—ROME, Feb. 19.—The Pope celebrated his grand jubilee in state this morning at St. Peter's.

When all were in place the church was crowded with people as early as 5 o'clock in the morning. The English and Scottish pilgrims were in the church at 6 o'clock, when the Austrian and Hungarian pilgrims were also present. A number of Italian pilgrims, estimated at about 100,000, made their entry in procession somewhat later.

When all were in place the church was crowded to its fullest extent and it is estimated that there were present, English and Scots pilgrims, amounted to 800,000 people. The numerous banners of the different nationalities made a magnificent and imposing show.

As a quarter past ten precisely, His Holiness the Pope entered the Sistine chapel through the private door which communicates with his private apartments in the Vatican.

As the whitened figure of the Holy Father appeared in full pontifical robes on his elevated throne, thousands of applause echoed throughout the vast edifice, and handkerchiefs and flags were waved enthusiastically in his direction. His most transparent complexion turned a shade paler, but he remained unmoved, blessing the people with the well-known pontifical gesture of the two fingers and thumb.

As the process passed the great dome resounded with shouts of "Eviva il papa," "Eviva il papa," "Eviva il papa," and the air was filled with a tremendous burst of music from the choir and the psalmist trumpets.

The Pope celebrated mass at the high altar, accompanied by exquisite strains of music, and the most magnificent and prolonged an effect never to be forgotten by those who heard it.

His Holiness was agitated by the enthusiasm manifested that as the jubilee people he waved to in his own and before as if overcome by his emotion. As His Holiness left the church, the great basilica resounded with deafening cheers.

This demonstration made a great impression in Rome. The day was beautiful, warm and full of sunshine and the English and Irish pilgrims were wild with enthusiasm over the result.

Pope Leo was born in 1810. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1831. He was prelate of the household under Pope Gregory XVI. At the age of 33 he was made Archbishop of Bologna and in 1846 was made cardinal. In 1878 he was elected Pope and his reign has been the most remarkable and the most powerful in the influence of good among the turbulent spirit of Rome, Germany and other European countries since Pius's time.

It has been said that the present pontifical administration is aiming successfully at the unification of the opposing principles and tendencies which undeniably exist in the great church, and while upholding in full force the official demands of the Roman See, to seek application of the ancient principle of Christianity in a spirit not unfriendly to the governing forces of modern Christendom.

A writer on the Roman Herald recently said of Leo XIII. in connection with this event: "But not taking into account the great regard which must be conceded on political grounds, the fact is that as time goes on Leo XIII. receives more and more sympathy, is more esteemed and respected by the general public of whatever religion or none at all. The feelings are not natural to all on account of the Pope's advanced age, for his office and for the nobility of his character.

It is easy to understand why many, even among the free thinkers, sincerely wish for the life of the actual Pontiff. As it is necessary that there should be a Pope, and as it seems that the politics of the Vatican are destined to follow the same course with regard to all relations with Italy, it is better to have upon the Papal throne this superior old man, of whom we know at least what he wants, and who possesses a clear and powerful mind most highly organized. We sincerely wish him, then, long life and health.

his books and papers during the late fire and give notice that his office is re-established in the Goggin building, Water St., up stairs.

Mr. F. Money, Carleton, N. B.—Unreceived and unreturned.—It should be stated that the Nonan letter was not posted in the Chatham office, and that after the first Monday letter went away, the second was sent directly to the printer and not through the office, as a matter of fact. It was not sent just as a first was, showing that the third was probably a St. John clerk.

Mr. Salter's Woodmen-logged Burglar.—"Speaking of burglars," said Mr. Miller, the other morning, "there was one in my house last night. I was awakened by Mrs. Salter and informed that he was in the kitchen and after listening I said, 'If that's a burglar, he has a wooden leg and I'm not afraid of any cripple. So I got up, lighted a lamp and went to the kitchen and there was the cat with her head in a pitcher, which she was moving around with and bumping it on the floor, against the table leg, the stove and everything else in the place. The pitcher had been left on the table and the burglar, and the cat having put her head in to get the milk, couldn't get it out without assistance, which I promptly rendered. I thought I might have been burgled, as I was very glad to see one get back after going on boldly in the kitchen to face him.'"

Chatham Again Ahead.—WATERBURY, Feb. 17.—The skating rink last week had the finest attendance that night brought out a large number of the sports loving public, who had the pleasure of seeing some good sport. The rink was well filled with spectators. The entries in all races were numerous. The honor of the evening went to E. B. Wynn of Chatham, N. B., who won two events.

IN THE MILE RACE, E. B. Wynn, A. Erb and J. Lewis were entered. The latter two were in a lap and a half ahead of Erb in the good time of 3:14.

E. B. Wynn, A. Erb, J. Stock, J. Scott, C. Rutledge, and Edward started in the three mile event. Wynn led from the first, with Rutledge and Erb close behind for the one mile, when Wynn drew quickly away and finished first in 10:23.

SEVEN MILE TO THE MILE IN THIS RACE. The prize consisted of gold and silver medals respectively for first and second places, with the exception of the obstacle race, for which cigars were given to the second. Winner. REX.

A DIGNIFIED SPECTACLE.—It is to be hoped that there will never be another scene such as that presented in the city of the Hickey fire on Thursday last. While the details that had fallen into the cellar was still smoking and no adequate steps had been taken by the owners to care for their property, a dozen or more of the worst young toughs of the town, and a few of the older ones, took possession of the cellar and there they held a grand and magnificent drinking and smoking party.

GENERAL.—The marriage of Mr. J. A. Babin and Miss Annie E. Walsh, which was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Pokenochee, on Sunday afternoon, and quite a number of excited interest among a large number of Pokenochee's fair denizens. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Fitzgerald. The bride was attended by Miss S. Babin, sister of the groom, and Mr. R. Walsh supported the bride.—World 18th.

ARRIVED.—The new steam fire engine arrived on Monday last and was hauled to the station during the night. Yesterday afternoon it was tested and did very excellent work, forcing the stream of water through two lines of hose, one up the hill to the other to the Waterbury mill. The new engine is a substantial looking piece of machinery and will no doubt give good satisfaction. It was made by the Royal-Sun Fire Engine Co., of Brantford, Ont.—Advocate.

A BIG SCENE.—Hon. John J. Adams and Mr. W. J. Adams, who are real brothers, and who have successfully conducted a number of public and other suits involving millions, were engaged in a ball of the city in an effort to raise money for the relief of the New York's terms and when the latter notified them he accepted them again. He was now telegraphed that he will skate under any conditions, any place, for expenses to be paid before or after the race.

THE HOTEL DIEN, HOSPITAL CHATHAM.—The Hotel Dien Hospital, Chatham, which is conducted by the Sisters Hospital of St. Joseph, a French order, has been the Hotel Dien of Montreal, did more in adding, nursing and caring for the sick year than ever before. It has now been in operation for twenty years, during which time it has received 3,411 patients, or a yearly average of 149. From the statistics of the last three years we have the following:—

Table with 2 columns: Year and Number of Patients. Shows statistics for 1891, 1890, and 1889.

Those from Northumberland came from the following parishes:—Northumberland, 100; St. John's, 100; St. Joseph's, 100; St. Michael's, 100; St. Peter's, 100; St. Paul's, 100; St. Vincent's, 100; St. James's, 100; St. George's, 100; St. Andrew's, 100; St. Nicholas, 100; St. Basil's, 100; St. Constantine, 100; St. Helena, 100; St. Agatha, 100; St. Barbara, 100; St. Elizabeth, 100; St. Anne, 100; St. Catherine, 100; St. Margaret, 100; St. Mary, 100; St. Ursula, 100; St. Lucia, 100; St. Thecla, 100; St. Apollonia, 100; St. Agatha, 100; St. Barbara, 100; St. Elizabeth, 100; St. Anne, 100; St. Catherine, 100; St. Margaret, 100; St. Mary, 100; St. Ursula, 100; St. Lucia, 100; St. Thecla, 100; St. Apollonia, 100.

PERSONAL.—Mr. F. E. Neale, who was in the Southern States since December returned to Chatham on Monday night.

Mr. J. Hayes, R. A. M. D., of Nelson, has just passed, successfully, the final examination for membership in the Royal College of Surgeons, England, and has received the degree of R. C. S. Dr. Hayes stood third in the class that went up for examination.

MONEY LOST.—The following losses of money letters mailed at Chatham, were reported last year:—$15.00—J. Noonan, Chatham, Manchester, Rowe & Allen, St. John, N. B. trace. $20—W. B. Howard, Chatham, to Dr. H. Howard, St. John—Unreceived and unreturned.

$5—W. Copping, Chatham, to M. Smith, Chatham—Unreceived and unreturned. $5—H. Dixon, Chatham, to Miss G. A. Dixon, Fredericton—No trace, etc. $10—M. F. Money, Carleton, N. B.—Unreceived and unreturned. $20—M. F. Money, Chatham, to Mrs. J. Money, Carleton, N. B.—Unreceived and unreturned.

and don't imagine any has taken place. I see by the Sun that the case is settled and the letters burned. I know the latter part of the statement is incorrect as the letters are in my possession."

The Truth Hurts Them.—An elaborate notice in the Councilor Murray's management of Inspector Menzie, in the councillor's capacity as Council in Scott Act cases, appears in the World of yesterday. The writer endeavors to conceal his identity behind the name of 'J. P.' and the article is a masterpiece of misrepresentation.

The Telegraph says: No action has yet been taken by the vestrymen of St. Luke's church with regard to the appointment of a rector, rendered necessary by the resignation of Rev. G. Stevens. It is extremely probable that a meeting of the vestrymen will be called in a few days to decide what a medium for their blackguard, who would lead the discussion of the public issues involved and turn aside to personalities. Mr. Murray ought to, and does know that he can gain nothing by thus endeavoring to evade the publicity in which his own name have placed him. We deal with him only in his public capacity, and have not thought of referring to him in a personal way. Does he think that we should be so easily deceived by his having anything to gain if we should have so little to do as to take him up in that way? It would be a very coarse job, and we were that if possible we would not do it. Of one thing we are quite sure, viz., that the cry of danger to the Scott Act unless he is continued in his former relationship to the Inspector, will not have the desired effect. The Inspector is a man of high character, and everybody knows it. As Councilor Russell said "he killed the goose that laid the golden egg," so he will have to be replaced by a large extent, and he might as well do so with his good grace and as much refinement as he can command—of which there is reason to suppose "A Citizen's Letter" is full of examples. Some of the statements in the letter referred to may have further attention from our next week, as we do not propose to be blackguarded out of the duty of properly criticizing the public acts of Messrs Murray-McCully & Co.

A Wealthy Nova Scotian.—The estate of the late Mark Curry, of Windsor, N. S., is valued at $100,000. He will provide for the maintenance of his widow, and also for the widow of his brother James. His nice and adopted daughter, Mrs. Watson (wife of Rev. Sidney Watson), receives $10,000; $20,000 is for the support of the "Mark Curry" chair, Acadia university; $10,000 is given to the trustees of the Baptist church in Windsor; $10,000 is given to the trustees of the Baptist mission board; $10,000 to the Baptist foreign missions; $10,000 additional to the same under certain conditions; $10,000 to the trustees of the Acadia school, and the balance of the estate, if any, to the charitable objects. Besides gifts to the value of thousands of dollars to the various churches, and other institutions, and for the maintenance of which he made provision before his death.

It is to be hoped that there will never be another scene such as that presented in the city of the Hickey fire on Thursday last. While the details that had fallen into the cellar was still smoking and no adequate steps had been taken by the owners to care for their property, a dozen or more of the worst young toughs of the town, and a few of the older ones, took possession of the cellar and there they held a grand and magnificent drinking and smoking party.

As Councilor Russell said "he killed the goose that laid the golden egg," so he will have to be replaced by a large extent, and he might as well do so with his good grace and as much refinement as he can command—of which there is reason to suppose "A Citizen's Letter" is full of examples. Some of the statements in the letter referred to may have further attention from our next week, as we do not propose to be blackguarded out of the duty of properly criticizing the public acts of Messrs Murray-McCully & Co.

The Truth Hurts Them.—An elaborate notice in the Councilor Murray's management of Inspector Menzie, in the councillor's capacity as Council in Scott Act cases, appears in the World of yesterday. The writer endeavors to conceal his identity behind the name of 'J. P.' and the article is a masterpiece of misrepresentation.

The Telegraph says: No action has yet been taken by the vestrymen of St. Luke's church with regard to the appointment of a rector, rendered necessary by the resignation of Rev. G. Stevens. It is extremely probable that a meeting of the vestrymen will be called in a few days to decide what a medium for their blackguard, who would lead the discussion of the public issues involved and turn aside to personalities. Mr. Murray ought to, and does know that he can gain nothing by thus endeavoring to evade the publicity in which his own name have placed him. We deal with him only in his public capacity, and have not thought of referring to him in a personal way. Does he think that we should be so easily deceived by his having anything to gain if we should have so little to do as to take him up in that way? It would be a very coarse job, and we were that if possible we would not do it. Of one thing we are quite sure, viz., that the cry of danger to the Scott Act unless he is continued in his former relationship to the Inspector, will not have the desired effect. The Inspector is a man of high character, and everybody knows it. As Councilor Russell said "he killed the goose that laid the golden egg," so he will have to be replaced by a large extent, and he might as well do so with his good grace and as much refinement as he can command—of which there is reason to suppose "A Citizen's Letter" is full of examples. A Wealthy Nova Scotian.—The estate of the late Mark Curry, of Windsor, N. S., is valued at $100,000. He will provide for the maintenance of his widow, and also for the widow of his brother James. His nice and adopted daughter, Mrs. Watson (wife of Rev. Sidney Watson), receives $10,000; $20,000 is for the support of the "Mark Curry" chair, Acadia university; $10,000 is given to the trustees of the Baptist church in Windsor; $10,000 is given to the trustees of the Baptist mission board; $10,000 to the Baptist foreign missions; $10,000 additional to the same under certain conditions; $10,000 to the trustees of the Acadia school, and the balance of the estate, if any, to the charitable objects. Besides gifts to the value of thousands of dollars to the various churches, and other institutions, and for the maintenance of which he made provision before his death.

It is to be hoped that there will never be another scene such as that presented in the city of the Hickey fire on Thursday last. While the details that had fallen into the cellar was still smoking and no adequate steps had been taken by the owners to care for their property, a dozen or more of the worst young toughs of the town, and a few of the older ones, took possession of the cellar and there they held a grand and magnificent drinking and smoking party.

GENERAL.—The marriage of Mr. J. A. Babin and Miss Annie E. Walsh, which was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Pokenochee, on Sunday afternoon, and quite a number of excited interest among a large number of Pokenochee's fair denizens. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Fitzgerald. The bride was attended by Miss S. Babin, sister of the groom, and Mr. R. Walsh supported the bride.—World 18th.

ARRIVED.—The new steam fire engine arrived on Monday last and was hauled to the station during the night. Yesterday afternoon it was tested and did very excellent work, forcing the stream of water through two lines of hose, one up the hill to the other to the Waterbury mill. The new engine is a substantial looking piece of machinery and will no doubt give good satisfaction. It was made by the Royal-Sun Fire Engine Co., of Brantford, Ont.—Advocate.

A BIG SCENE.—Hon. John J. Adams and Mr. W. J. Adams, who are real brothers, and who have successfully conducted a number of public and other suits involving millions, were engaged in a ball of the city in an effort to raise money for the relief of the New York's terms and when the latter notified them he accepted them again. He was now telegraphed that he will skate under any conditions, any place, for expenses to be paid before or after the race.

THE HOTEL DIEN, HOSPITAL CHATHAM.—The Hotel Dien Hospital, Chatham, which is conducted by the Sisters Hospital of St. Joseph, a French order, has been the Hotel Dien of Montreal, did more in adding, nursing and caring for the sick year than ever before. It has now been in operation for twenty years, during which time it has received 3,411 patients, or a yearly average of 149. From the statistics of the last three years we have the following:—

PERSONAL.—Mr. F. E. Neale, who was in the Southern States since December returned to Chatham on Monday night.

Mr. J. Hayes, R. A. M. D., of Nelson, has just passed, successfully, the final examination for membership in the Royal College of Surgeons, England, and has received the degree of R. C. S. Dr. Hayes stood third in the class that went up for examination.

MONEY LOST.—The following losses of money letters mailed at Chatham, were reported last year:—$15.00—J. Noonan, Chatham, Manchester, Rowe & Allen, St. John, N. B. trace. $20—W. B. Howard, Chatham, to Dr. H. Howard, St. John—Unreceived and unreturned.

Ray's Experiment

Oh, Gert! to stop bothering you, you are enough to set a fellow crazy. One night as well try to read near a lunatic when he had a wild spell on, and the speaker gave himself an impatient twitch in his chair.

The little girl addressed, who was fidgeting at the window, made no reply, for a moment, but kept up the annoying rat-a-tat, which she had been making on the glass with her fingers.

At last, finding it impossible to go on with his reading, the boy was noisily leaving the room when the girl, thinking she had inflicted torture enough for one, called out: 'Come back, Ray, I will stop. You haven't got a bit of patience, have you?'

'Patience! I ejaculated her brother. You would try the patience of Job.' 'Oh, children,' said Mrs. Merrill, who came in the room at that moment, 'do stop talking so loudly. My head aches badly, and your noise spoiled my nap.'

'Oh, mamma, I am sorry,' said Gerty, who, if really a very provoking child, was naturally kind-hearted. 'but Ray does get cross over some little things.'

'I don't; so now?' was that young gentleman's assertion. The dispute was bidding fair to be a noisy one, but Mrs. Merrill left the room, taking Gerty with her, and so it ended.

The Merrill children were called by the neighbors 'a noisy pair.' Old Miss Stairs, who lived a couple of houses off, said they were 'tiresome.' And certainly it was very annoying for her to go to the door a couple of times in an evening to find nobody there, or only a boy asking some foolish question, and then Ray did give her pet dog a hard time—no wonder that poor Miss Stairs' patience was about at an end.

They were both quick, bright children, but their mother died when they were very small, and they had been allowed to have a great deal of their own way—which had naturally a very injurious effect upon their dispositions.

Mrs. Merrill, their step-mother, tried to do the best she could for them, but children are quick to understand, and they soon found that they need not fear much interference from her. She worried over their selfishness and terrible behavior generally, but, poor woman, she was not used to children, and seemed perfectly helpless when she should have been most helpful.

to tell her all about it. Mamma smiled some, and looked as though she would cry too; in her heart she resolved to be more faithful to the trust reposed in her, and make more prayerful efforts to train the children aright.

Of course it was harder—a great deal sometimes—but she remained firm, and the result was soon seen, not only in the children, but also in her own life, strengthening her character and making her somewhat more noble.

As for Ray and Gerty, of course it was not all smooth sailing, but they tried faithfully to overcome their faults, and in the end they succeeded—as all those do, who try in the right way. They are both 'grown up' now, but neither of them has forgotten their queer bargain, or been sorry that they tried Ray's experiment.

Miramichi Advance. Beginning with the issue of November 6th, 1892, when the ADVANCE entered upon its Nineteenth Year of Publication!

The publisher continued the change in the terms on which the paper is furnished to Subscribers. These include: 1st. Strict adherence to the system of cash in advance for all subscriptions.

2nd. The reduction of the price of the paper to One Dollar a Year! It is to be particularly understood that all outstanding subscription accounts due after November 10th, 1892, are to be settled on the old terms, viz, $2 per year, the advertised credit rate.

I have made the foregoing changes in the business of the ADVANCE for two reasons. The first is because many patrons who have been given credit, have abused the privilege to such an extent as to make the business of publishing the paper a non-paying one, and it is necessary, in my own interest and that of those who do pay, that I should no longer continue to furnish the ADVANCE to those non-paying subscribers.

The second reason is, that I wish to meet the competition of the city weeklies, which are made up from the type of the dailies and, therefore, cost little for production in comparison with a local paper like the ADVANCE, the type of which must be set up especially for it.

Having now published the ADVANCE for nearly 19 years, and endeavored to make it a creditable representative of Miramichi and North Shore enterprise—a paper which may be taken in any household without fear that it has catered to sensationalism at the sacrifice of that cleanliness of matter, which is too often neglected by the press of the day—I have reason to hope the foregoing announcement will meet with general approval and be the means of largely increasing the circulation and influence of the paper.
