THURSDAY JANUARY 2, 1873.

A Bangor Scheme for Securing the and her most clear sighted public men have constantly agitated the building of an Aroostook Railway. It was this feeling in favor of tapping the Aroostook that turned the E. & N. A. Railway so far north as it is. Those whose first choice was a road to Presque Isle accepted the northern deflection of the E. & N. A. as a compromise, intending to make use of it for furthering their pet cheme. In the meantime the importance of the Aroostook trade has become greater, and efforts have been put forth for securing its flow to St. John and St.

Stephen. The Houlton Branch was expected to do much, but without the contemplated extension it will accomplish little. The Riviere du Loup, it has been hoped, will lead to the building of a feeder from the heart of the coveted region, and this has seemed the most probable of the projected measures until the of Bangor and it is to be vigorously pressed by a powerful combination, of which the people and Government of New Brunswick are important but powerless members. The scheme, as prepared by the Directors of the E. & N.

A. Consolidated Railway, provides that a railway shall start from some point on the E. & N. A. R. in the town of Mattawamkeag and run thence up the Penobscot River to Salmon Stream, or Nickanear Van Buren, by the way of Presque Isle. This will render eastern extension from Presque Isle much more probable than western extension from lature provides that the City of Bangor shall loan its credit to the road at the rate of fifteen thousand dollars a mile, the city to hold a first mortgage on the rity, The road will be built, and it and of value in a minister's library.

easily be ignored.
