King v. Zachariah Arbo, common assault. King at the instance of the overseers of the poor v. Fulton Gertz.

The Victor Mfg. Co. v. D. Morrison. The grand jury found true bills in both criminal cases. The prisoners pleaded "not guilty" and Mr. T. H. Whalen appeared as counsel for them.

Elijah T. Arbo was tried first and the petit jury brought in a verdict of guilty with a recommendation for mercy. His Honor passed sentence giving the prisoner two years and ten months in Dorchester, taking two months off the maximum sentence on account of the recommendation.

In the case of Zachariah Arbo the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty" and the prisoner was discharged. Mr. R. T. D. Aitken, clerk of the clerk, prosecuting officer.

In the King v. Fulton Gertz, Mr. Aitken counsel for the defendant, made an application for dismissal at the close of the case for the prosecution.

The application was granted and the defendant dismissed. Mr. T. W. Butler, clerk of the peace, prosecuting attorney.

In the Victor Mfg Co v D Morrison, Mr. Williston, plaintiff's attorney, asked leave to withdraw the record as his client had accepted an offer to suffer judgment. Leave granted. Mr. R. T. D. Aitken appeared for the defendant.

MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL

Adjourned Meeting Held Thursday Evening for General Business.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Petitions Again Discussion and Referral to Committee of Whole Council.

The adjourned meeting of the Town Council was held in the council chamber last Thursday evening.

Present: His Worship Mayor Miller and Ald. Russell, Fremley, Russell, Desmond, Wyse, Williston and Lawlor.

A communication from Hon. L. J. Tweedie, explaining the manner in which the Town Council had handled contract for a highway, and accusing the council of unnecessary delay in settling with the contractor was read.

Ald. Lawlor moved that the Council was not responsible for the delay. It was waiting for the report of the engineer on the road and until this was received nothing further could be done. The report was expected shortly as the engineer had gone over the work a few days previous.

On motion the communication was received and referred to the New Highway committee.

Ald. Lawlor asked for an extension of time to submit report and cost of extending lighting system to Bridgetown. Granted.

Ald. Desmond from Public Works committee submitted the following report:

TO THE MAYOR AND ALDERMEN OF THE TOWN OF NEWCASTLE,

GENTLEMEN:—Your committee on Public Works begs leave to report that they have had new sidewalks laid from Digley Corner to residence of George Stothard also along Mary Street, and from the corner to the Gordon Place.

The other sidewalks put in repair, 8 new culverts have been put in the streets repaired, and the macadamized road cleaned, the different sewers flushed.

At the gas house—the gasometer removed and that portion of the building floored, the roof repaired and is now used as a store room.

The road leading from Curtis Corner to Jones Crossing has been cut up to full width and the road repaired, also repair on Jones Hill. Road maker has been put on the road at lower end of town leading from Highway to river. A carload of cement has been ordered and men are at present quarrying stone for pavement.

Regarding petition of residents of McCullum Street for sidewalks your committee would recommend that the surface of sidewalk be covered with crushed stone and gone over with the roller.

Report received and adopted.

Ald. Desmond of Public Works asked to be empowered to have brick portion of old gas house covered with galvanized steel, also for the erection of a shed to store wattering cart, stone crusher, etc. On motion this work was ordered to be done.

Ald. Lawlor read the following communications from Electrician Follansbee:

To the Electric Light and Water Committee.

GENTLEMEN:—For safe and economical working of the machinery in the Power House I require the following material:

1—300 Horse Power Feed Water Heater.

1—Boiler Feed Pump.

1—Steam Separator for the New Engine.

This material will have to be procured sooner or later, the sooner the better, as the main reason for having so much expense on the new engine was the want of the separator and Feed Water Heater. The Boiler Feed Pump is a decided necessity and must be gotten at once.

Trusting you will recommend this to the Council, I am,

Your obedient Servant

J. A. Follansbee.

Ald. Lawlor moved that Mr. Follansbee be heard. Carried.

Mr. Follansbee explained that the machinery asked for was very necessary for the economical and safe running of the plant.

Ald. Williston moved that the Water and Light Committee be authorized to ask for tenders for the machines required.

Carried.

A communication from J. S. Lewis, Manager Bank of Nova Scotia, re assessment, was referred to committee on Petitions.

Ald. Desmond from Finance Committee recommended the following bills for payment.

Recommended by the chairman of the Finance Committee that the following amounts be paid.

Jas. Shultz, Board of Health $10.67

Anslow Bros. Board of Health $6.00

John Clark $2.50

Canada Portland Cement Co. $235.65

Ald. Lawlor from Water and Light Committee moved that the petition asking for water and sewerage extension be referred to committee of whole council at a time to be

BIG INDUSTRY FOR NORDIN.

O. W. Nordin of The Rosebank Lumber Company Talks of New Mill.

$100,000 TO BE SPENT.

In Erecting a Large Planing Mill near Present Saw Mill.

A new and improved planing mill is to be erected soon on the Miramichi at Nordin by Swedish capitalists, at a cost of approximately $100,000, to supply all kinds of planed lumber for the English, Australian and American markets.

O. W. Nordin, of Nordin recently of Sweden, is interested in this new undertaking. A few weeks ago the Rosebank Lumber Company, of which Mr. Nordin is manager, completed the erection of a $50,000 saw mill, fitted with Swedish machinery, at Nordin. When the mill is in full operation, in about two weeks, it will employ about 50 men. No shipments have been made to date.

A fortnight ago Mr. Hedelens, of Stockholm, Sweden, representing Swedish capitalists, completed arrangements with Mr. Nordin for the erection under the latter's management of a big $100,000 planing mill near the existing saw mill and it will give employment to 50 more men. The machinery for the new mill will be brought from Sweden. This, it is claimed, is better suited for the purpose than any that is made in America. The Swedes do an extensive business in planed lumber and the promoters believe a big business can be built up on the Miramichi. The mill will plane and match all kinds of lumber. Negotiations are now going on for a site and it is expected the erection of the mill will be begun some time in November.

ARRESTED FOR MAKING DISTURBANCE

I. C. R. Policeman Noble of Campbellton Made Arrests.

I. C. R. Policeman Noble of Campbellton was here last week. He proceeded to Upper Nelson where he arrested two young men of that place for being drunk and disorderly on the Indian town train and interfering with the conductor in discharge of his duty. One was fined $15 for breaking rear of car, the other $10 with a fine of $50 which was allowed to stand.

There are two other residents of that vicinity against which charges have been laid, but they will not be pressed, unless they again become unruly.

Wednesday morning the house of Daniel Currie of Eel River was completely destroyed by fire. The family were taking breakfast and one of them left the table to go to the kitchen when it was discovered that part of the building was in flames. The fire made such headway that all efforts to save the building was useless. There was no insurance.—Events.

appointed later to reconsider Royal Bank of Canada, The Lounsbury Co. Ltd. and The J. D. Creighton Co. Limited petitions, and other petitions to be disposed of in Bulk—Carried.

Ald. Wyse moved that the resolution in the matter of the petition of Fulton Gertz and also the resolution passed in the matter of the J. D. Creighton and the Lounsbury Co. Ltd. petitions be reconsidered.—Carried.

Ald. Russell moved that the vote on the Petition of the Royal Bank of Canada with reference to Taxes be reconsidered and taken up by a Committee of the whole Council 7th August 8 p. m. Carried.

Ald. Lawlor moved that the petitions of Fulton Gertz, J. D. Creighton and the Lounsbury Co. Ltd. be taken up by the Committee of the whole council to be held on August 7th 8 o'clock—instead of at the next monthly meeting.—Carried.

Ald. Lawlor wished to call the attention of the different committees to the necessity of meeting and making reports for council meetings, instead of allowing business to pile up.

Ald. Williston moved that the Petitions of Henry Ingram and others of W. H. Bell and others be taken up by the Committee of the whole Council on August 7th. Carried.

Council then adjourned.

LUMBERMENS' CLAIMS.

Want Extension of Leases, Reduction of Mileage and Regulation of Lands for Settlement.

W. B. SNOWBALL CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

The New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association held its annual meeting at St. John last week. Nineteen members were present: Arthur Hilyard, Dalhousie; T. M. Burns and Frank Curran, Bathurst; James Beveridge, W. B. Snowball and R. A. Lawlor, Chatham; Fred Sumner, Moncton; J. D. Irving, Buctouche; F. M. Anderson, St. Martins; D. D. McLaren, Fred E. Sayre, C. P. Baker, W. C. Purves, Geo. McKean, W. E. Golding, N. H. Murchie and Henry Hilyard, St. John; G. A. Murchie, St. Stephen.

A committee consisting of W. B. Snowball (convenor), Geo. McKean, Henry Hilyard, T. M. Burns, J. D. Irving and N. H. Murchie, was appointed to wait upon the local government in September and press upon them the claims of the lumbermen of the province for an extension of the existing leases of license holders, a reduction of the mileage, the necessity for a better regulation respecting the selection of licensed lands nominally for agricultural purposes, and other matters.

EXTENSION OF LEASES.

Respecting the extension of the leases, most of which are due to expire in about ten years, the lumbermen say that inasmuch as they have to the present time been judiciously operating on the lumber lands, cutting where the timber is fully grown and not destroying the younger tracts, it would be of advantage not only to the lumbermen themselves, but to the province generally that an extension of existing leases be granted so that it will be unnecessary for them to cut down within the next few years the timber that, because it is not fully grown, ought not to be cut with the life of the leases. This they would naturally do unless they are willing to bid high prices against speculators when the lands next come to be let. If an extension is granted, they say, the young forests of the province will be more economically preserved.

They believe that the government is willing to take into consideration the expense the lumbermen have undergone in the erection of mills, dams and booms and grant an extension of at least a portion of these leases.

Another matter that will be urged upon the government is the exercise of greater care in the granting of lands for settlement. They say there have been cases where men, upon making deposit of $300 took out, nominally for settlement, valuable timber tracts, having in view the acquisition of the lumber only, and not for farming. There is a great deal of land in the province, the lumbermen claim, suitable for settlement, and that it is not necessary to give away valuable timber land in this way. Obviously, they hold, if a man desires a grant for farming purposes, it is not his honest policy as a farmer to first go into the forest and begin operations upon timber land, when there is land for him in New Brunswick that is practically cleared. They hold that a good deal could be done by the government, among other things, in securing for him the abandoned farms and their contention is that, by the process that is complained of, he frequently gets timber lands at homestead rates.

The association will also make another attempt for a reduction of the mileage which, without any consultation with them, they say, in the matter, was recently advanced by the government from $4 to $8 a mile.

OFFICERS AND EXECUTIVE

CHOSEN.

In addition to other routine business the new executive was elected, consisting of the president, W. B. Snowball, Chatham; vice-president, Geo. McKean, St. John; Kilgour Shives, Restigouche; T. M. Burns, Gloucester; Hon. Allen Ritchie, Northumberland; J. D. Irving, Kent; F. W. Sumner, Westmorland; C. T. White, Albert; Henry Hilyard, St. John; J. A. Gregory, Charlotte; S. H. White, Kings; Fred E. Sayre, Sunbury, Mr. Barker, York, M. Welch, Carleton; T. Lynch, Victoria; John E. Moore, Madawaska.

The officers appointed for the ensuing year are W. B. Snowball, president; Geo. McKean, St. John vice-president; R. A. Lawlor, secretary.

Applications from fifteen lumbermen for admission into the association were received and accepted. The new members are R. B. Crombie, Chatham; D. D. McLaren, St. John; Max M. Mowatt, Campbellton; Geo. McSweeney, Moncton; John Culligan, Jacques River; James S. Farley, Boiestown; J. C. Prescott, Albert; G. D. Prescott, Albert; J. F. Atkinson, McLeod's Mills Kent County; Martin Violett, St. Leonard's, Madawaska; J. J. Peck, Hillsboro, Albert; C. E. Lockhart, Notre Dame; W. C. Purves St. John; D. Fraser & Sons Fredericton.

The next meeting will be held in Moncton on the first Tuesday in July.

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that it Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of Canadian women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatments for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and restorer ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

Norwegian Steam Ship Ashore.

Eureka, July 25.—The Norwegian steamer Tricolor went ashore Tuesday last, a quarter of a mile from the Cape Mondoe light. A tug arrived here this evening with the entire crew of twenty-five. Capt. Weld states that he lost his reckoning and believed the ship safe until she suddenly struck on the rocks.

WHY SO WEARY?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But it's Dangerous.

You have to work hard. This uses up lots of nerve force and takes down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. Somehow you must get more vitality. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferruzone, which renews the blood and nerve, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferruzone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, demility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferruzone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from overpowering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight hacking cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferruzone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 55, I consider Ferruzone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferruzone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

Greening—I suppose you are giving your son a liberal education, education.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

J. D. Rockefeller Never Tasted Rum.

HE EMPLORES YOUNG MEN TO EMULATE HIS EXAMPLE AND ABSTAIN FROM DRINK.

Cleveland, July 22—John D. Rockefeller made reference to his past life as one of strict abstinence in which he had never tasted a drop of intoxicating liquor, and he implored young men of the present generation to emulate him at a prayer meeting in the Euclid Avenue Baptist church last night. While others talked of their religious experiences as affecting their own characters, and still others exploited their daily life in the business world as being in strict accord with the Golden Rule's teachings, declaring they never wanted to be rich if they had to make a dollar dishonestly, the richest man in the world sat placidly by and waited his opportunity, which came three minutes before the close of a long meeting. "Since one week ago," said Mr. Rockefeller, "I have carried a weight on my conscience. It has borne me down. I have not enjoyed life."

Some expected it was a prelude to a refutation of Miss Ida Tarbell's recent attacks upon the Oil King's family and his business methods.

"I have been thinking of something I wanted to say at the last prayer meeting," continued the speaker and scores of necks craned to catch a glimpse of him. "I didn't have the courage to say it then. But now that the subject has been touched upon here to night I am not going to let the opportunity go by me."

"Let me impart one very one here to abstain from strong drink. No matter where we go, we see so much of the effects of liquor. Homes and families are ruined by this curse alone. Why will men fall victims to the poison? No man can succeed in business who uses strong drink, and no person has a place in better society who falls to its power."

"Men start out by taking a tippie. These hot days make summer drinks inviting to some, so they take a little. But that little often proves a little too much and men go down to ruination. It is the first little drop that paves the way."

And right here I can say before my Maker that never in my life have I tasted a drop of drink. Even a little has been far too much for me to bear, and I could not take a drop now. A little is too much for any man."

And right here, let me say to the women and girls—dear girls—do you realize what a weight of responsibility you have in this world? Have any of you ever thought you were the cause of the downfall of some man? But I have talked long enough. I'll stop."

In New England, 100 years ago it was by no means uncommon for people to provide their coffins long before their death and keep them in their houses, where they could see them every day.

Lost His Life In Heroic Effort

TO SAVE HIS MOTHER AND SISTER FROM A BURNING BUILDING.

New York, July 25—Nathan Newman, 20 years old, lost his life today in a heroic effort to save his mother and sister who, with a score of others, were for a time in great peril from fire in a Brooklyn tenement house. Half a dozen families, all Hebrews, were sleeping in a double block three story building when the fire started. When the alarm was given the fire had reached practically every floor and the occupants were forced to flee for their lives. Many were too late to go down the stairway before the escape was cut off by the flames. These sought escape by the narrow ladder which leads to the roof. Neman, unable to find his mother and sister, went back into the burning building found the women and escorted them through the opening. When he tried to follow them, however, the ladder was surrounded by flames. He made a rush through the fire, but was overcome just as he reached the top and fell into the flames to his death. All the other occupants of the house escaped. The loss of the building was $10,000.

William Lilly, the noted astrologer, could foretell the fortunes of other people, but not his own. He married a woman whom he himself declared to be of the temper of Mars. She left him, and she and an older relative incited suit against him, and relates with tears, almost $5,000.

Building Work On North Shore.

CONTRACTOR JOHN McDONALD OF CHATHAM, IN TOWN OF CONSID- ERABLE BEING DONE.

John McDonald, of John McDonald & Co., contractors of Chatham, and one of the tenderers for the contract for repairs on the railway from Norton to Chipman, arrived in the city last night.

His firm is busy this summer fulfilling contracts for a half dozen or more buildings in and around Chatham. The largest of these is one for the building of a large brick and stone block for Hoffman & Sons on the south side of water street, opposite the post office. The building is 87x40 feet, and two and one-half stories high, with basement. The front is of cut and rock-faced stone, the sides of brick, and the basement all stone.

The ground floor will be used for a dry goods store. Half of the first floor will be used as a store-room in connection with suites of offices of three rooms each. The building will be heated with hot water and furnished with modern bath and closet conveniences; the roof will be fireproof and ornies of iron and copper furnished by Sliney & Mitchell, of this city.

The contract price in the vicinity of $11,000 and the building will be completed about the last of September. It will have in front two handsome plate-glass windows and will be one of the most attractive stores, Mr. McDonald says, in the lower provinces.

Mr. McDonald has also in course of erection a provision store for John Gray—a two-storeyed $2,000 wooden structure, with ice-house and cold storage, in Hendersen street. This will be completed in about ten days. The upper storey will be used as a hall.

In Newcastle the firm is remodeling the residence of Robert Ritchie at a cost of approximately $3,000.

A residence is being erected by the firm at a cost of $2,500 in Duke street for Jas. Shiels, inspector of government bridges, Chatham.

The firm has just completed a residence for James McDonald, in lower Douglastown.

Mr. McDonald is in the city mainly for the purpose of further consulting with the Central Railway commissioner and Premier Tweedie in the event of his tender for the railway work being accepted when the decision is arrived at today, as is possible.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Brockville Times:—There can be no doubt but that the people of Canada do not approve of the recent salary grab by the House of Commons at Ottawa.

Carleton Standard:—When the matter of 66 2-3 per cent. increase in the indemnity was sprung at the eleventh hour, there was not a single protest from the opposition benches.

Cornwall Standard:—Some of the increases may be justified, but it is exceedingly doubtful if the whole of the change made by the resolutions adopted in the dying hours of the session will meet with the approval of the people.

Pickering News:—"Behold, how good and pleasant a thing it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." This old saying was never better exemplified than it was this week at Ottawa, when the members of the House of Commons, both Grit and Tory, united strongly in one common purpose that of increasing their seasonal indemnity from $1,500 a year to $2,500 a year.

THE CONVENTION AT CARAQUET.

Acadian Convention to be Held
This August 15
and 16.

DR. COMMEAU PRESIDENT.

Dr. F. X. Commeau, president of the organization in charge of the Acadian National congress to be held at Caraquet on August 15 and 16th, has issued an address to the Acadians of the Maritime Provinces and the United States in which he asks a full attendance.

The organization committee, he says in the letter, has not lost sight of the fact that the Acadians need to be united in order to study the best means of promoting and safe guarding the interest of all classes of their nationality. This work will be placed in the hands of different committees. The names of the members composing these committees have already been published. The choice of secretaries to preside over and direct the work of these different committees is of great importance. It gives him much pleasure to announce that Hon. Judge P. Landry has accepted the position of secretary of the committee appointed to look after their national interests; Rev. M. A. E. Mombourquet, cure of Margaree Est., C. B., as secretary of the committee on education; M. J. W. Dumas of Grand Anse, N. B., that of commerce and industry; Hon. Chas. LaBillicois, M. P. P., minister of public works, that of agriculture and colonization; Ferd Robidoux, editor of Le Moniteur Acadian, journalist; Monsieur Placide Gaudet of Ottawa, that of "Our brother Acadians in Canada," and Monsieur J. H. LeBlanc of Waltham, Mass., that of "Our brother Acadians of the United States."

In the course of the reunion, he says they will endeavor to have quite a number of prominent speakers who will take up the questions of most pressing interest. He is unable at present to announce the names of all the speakers. He knows, however, that they would be most gratified to learn that Monsieur M. F. Richard had offered to speak on the subject of Agriculture and Colonization, Rev. Philippe Belliveau on Immigration, and M. P. J. Veniot on the subject of using the French language in the primary schools. A number of other speakers have been invited but have not yet been heard from. The preacher at the opening service will be the cure of L'Ance, N. B., who delivered the sermon at the convention at Church Point in 1890.

A special committee under the direction of M. P. J. Veniot has been commissioned to arrange with the different railway lines to get reduced rates of travel for those who wish to visit Caraquet on the occasion.

WEDDING BELLS

A very quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, July 26th, at the residence of Mrs. W. S. Brown when her youngest daughter Minnie Gertrude was united in marriage to Hollis M. Crocker of Amherst, N. S. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Steeves, only the relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride being present. Miss Crocker sister of the groom acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Worrell of St. John supported the groom. The bride entered the parlour, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, on the arm of her brother, L. S. Brown of New Glasgow, to the strains of a wedding march played by her friend Miss Mae Ryan. The bride looked charming in a beautiful white organdy trimmed with lace, wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms and carried a snowier bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served. Her traveling dress was a grey cloth with hat to match. They left by the Ocean Limited for their future home in Amherst followed by the good wishes of their many friends.

The Game Law.

GUIDES CLAIM THAT NON-RESIDENT SPORTSMEN ARE CANCELLING ENGAGEMENTS.

The leading guides in this section of the province are receiving letters from American sportsmen cancelling hunting engagements made for next fall. They give as reason that they cannot afford to or will not pay the increased license fee. Some of them contend that the fee of $50 charged non-resident sportsmen in New Brunswick is in excess of that charged by any state or province on the continent, including Newfoundland.

The guides contend that the law prohibiting the shooting of cow caribou cannot be enforced, as both male and female caribou carry antlers and at a distance it is impossible to distinguish them.

Local sportsmen who hunt duck and woodcock are wondering how they are going to get around the section of the law which prohibits the carrying of firearms into the woods before Sept. 15, as the season for that class of game opens on Sept. 1st.

Well, old man, it is getting a round camping season again. I thought so.

STORM KING A RINGER.

Horse Owned by Mr. Goodwin, of Bathurst has Been Identified.

HAS RECORD OF 2.06 1-4

At the recent Moncton meeting, the 2.30 trot and pace was won in straight heats by Storm King, from Bathurst, N. B., in the fact time of 2.23, 2.21, 2.23. He was a new comer to the province, and as he seemed able to go even faster the owner was asked by the judges for identification. All he knew was that the horse had come from Manitoba that he had no knowledge of the horse other than as Storm King, and under the circumstances the winnings were withheld until he was identified. From the description of the horse, it became rumored about that he bore a resemblance to the pacer, Ben D., with a record of 2.06, Mr. Wilford Wood, of Brooklyn, New York, came on and identified the horse as Ben D. Mr. Wood owned the horse for three years, and it was during that time that he made the record of 2.06. The matter is now being dealt with by the National Trotting Association, with which the Moncton Association is affiliated. —Moncton Times.

'Storm King' was denounced at the Chatham July races as a fraud, by Mr. Grealey, but there was no proof and Mr. Goodwin, received his fraudulent winnings, first money in the 2.30 class. The judges should have withheld the money and made inquiries, especially as Mr. Goodwin raced a ringer here last year, 'Rowdy', and pocketed a prize to which he had no honest claim. Mr. Goodwin should be made to refund the prize money he secured in Chatham. —World.

The Return of SHERLOCK HOLMES

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

Author of "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," "The Sign of the Four," "A Study in Scarlet," Etc.

ILLUSTRATED BY F. D. STEELE

The Adventure of the Dancing Men

No. 3 of the Series

(Copyright, 1905, by A. Conan Doyle and Collier's Weekly, 1905, by McClure, Phillips & Co.)

HOLMES had been seated for some hours in silence, when his long, thin back curved over a chemical vessel in which he was brewing a practically motionless product. His head was sunk upon his breast, and he looked from my point of view like a strange, lank bird with dull gray plumage and a black topknot.

"So, Watson," said he suddenly, "you do not propose to invest in South African securities?"

I gave a start of astonishment. As accustomed as I was to Holmes' curious faculties, this sudden intrusion into my most intimate thoughts was utterly inexplicable.

"How on earth do you know that?" I asked.

He wheeled round upon his stool with a steaming test tube in his hand and a gleam of amusement in his deep set eyes.

"Now, Watson, confess yourself utterly taken aback," said he.

"I am."

"I ought to make you sign a paper to that effect."

"Why?"

"Because in five minutes you will say that it is all so absurdly simple."

"I am sure that I shall say nothing of the kind."

"You see, my dear Watson," he propped his test tube in the rack and began to lecture with the air of a professor addressing his class—"it is not really difficult to construct a series of inferences, each dependent upon its predecessor and each simple in itself. I am doing so, one simply knocks out all the central inferences and presents one's audience with the starting point and the conclusion, one may produce a startling though possibly a meretricious effect. Now, it was not really difficult by an inspection of the groove between your left forefinger and thumb to feel sure that you did not propose to invest your small capital in the gold fields."

"I see no connection."

"Very likely not, but I can quickly show you a close connection. Here are the missing links of the very simple chain: First, you had chalk between your left finger and thumb when you returned from the club last night; second, you put chalk there when you lud to the past, for it is very painful to me. If you take me, Hilton, you will take a woman who has nothing that she need be personally ashamed of, but you will have to be content with my word for it and to allow me to be silent as to all that passed up to the time when I became yours. If these conditions are too hard, then go back to Norfolk and leave me to the lonely life in which you found me." It was only the day before our wedding that she said those very words to me. I told her that I was content to take her on her own terms, and I have been as good as my word.

"Well, we have been married now for a year, and very happy we have been. But about a month ago, at the end of June, I saw for the first time signs of trouble. One day my wife received a letter from America. I saw the American stamp. She turned deadly white, read the letter and threw it into the fire. She made no allusion to it afterward, and I made none, for a promise is a promise, but she has never known an easy hour from that moment. There is always a look of fear upon her face—a look as if she were waiting and expecting. She would do better to trust me. She would find that I was her best friend. But until she speaks I can say nothing. Mind you, she is a truthful woman, Mr. Holmes, and whatever trouble there may have been in her past life it has been no fault of hers. It is merely a simple Norfolk squire, but there is not a man in England who ranks his family honor more highly than I do. She knows it well, and she knew it well before she married me. She would never bring any stain upon it; of that I am sure.

"Well, now I come to the queer part of my story. About a week ago—it was the Tuesday of last week—I found on one of the window sills a number of absurd little dancing figures like these upon the paper. They were scrawled with chalk. I thought that it was the stable boy who had drawn them, but the lad swore he knew nothing about it. Anyhow, they had come there during the night. I had them washed out, and I only mentioned the matter to my wife afterward. To my surprise she took it very seriously and begged me if I could not come to let her see them. None did come for a week, and then yesterday morning I found this paper lying on the sundial in the garden. I showed it to Elsie, and down she dropped in a dead faint. Since then she has looked like a woman in a dream, half dazed and with terror always lurking in her eyes. It was then that I wrote her at last, 'that you let her see them. It was not a thing that I could take to the police, for they would have laughed at me, but you will tell me what to do. I am not a rich man, but if there is any danger threatening my little woman I would spend my last copper to shield her."

He was a fine creature, this man of the old English soil—simple, straight and gentle, with his great, earnest blue eyes and broad, comely face. His love for his wife and his trust in her shone in his features. Holmes had listened to his story with the utmost attention, and now he sat for some time in silent thought.

"Don't you think, Mr. Cubitt," said he at last, "that your wife would be to make a direct appeal to you, wife and to ask her to share her secret with you?"

Hilton Cubitt shook his massive head.

"A promise is a promise, Mr. Holmes. If Elsie wished to tell me she would. If not, it is not for me to force her confidence. But I am justified in taking my own line—and I will."

"Then I will help you with all my heart. In the first place, have you heard of any strangers being seen in your neighborhood?"

"No."

"I presume that it is a very quiet place. Any fresh face would cause comment?"

"In the immediate neighborhood, yes. But we have several small watering places not very far away. And the farmers take in lodgers."

"These hieroglyphics have evidently a meaning. If it is a purely arbitrary one it may be impossible for us to solve it. If, on the other hand, it is systematic, I have no doubt that we shall get to the bottom of it. But this particular sample is so short that I can do nothing, and the facts which you have brought me are so indefinite that we have no basis for an investigation. I would suggest that you return to Norfolk, that you keep a keen lookout and that you take an exact copy of any fresh dancing men which may appear. It is a thousand pities that we have not a reproduction of those which were done in chalk upon the window sill. Make a discreet inquiry also as to any strangers in the neighborhood. When you have collected some fresh evidence come to me again. That is the best advice which I can give you, Mr. Hilton Cubitt. If there are any pressing fresh developments I shall be always ready to run down and see you in your Norfolk home."

The interview left Sherlock Holmes very thoughtful, and several times in the next few days I saw him take his slip of paper from his notebook and look long and earnestly at the curious figures inscribed upon it. He made no allusion to the affair, however, until one afternoon a fortnight or so later. I was going out when he called me back.

"You had better stay here, Watson."

"Why?"

"Because I had a wire from Hilton Cubitt this morning. You remember Hilton Cubitt of the dancing men? He was to reach Liverpool street at 1:30. He may be here at any moment. I gather from his wire that there have been some new incidents of importance."

We had not long to wait, for our Norfolk squire came straight from the station as fast as a hansom could bring Copyright by Collier's Weekly.

"Well, Mr. Holmes, what do you make of these?"

Holmes examined it for some time, and then, folding it carefully up, he placed it in his pocketbook.

"This promises to be a most interesting and unusual case," said he. "You gave me a few particulars in your letter, Mr. Hilton Cubitt, but I should like very much to go over it all again for the benefit of my friend, Dr. Watson."

"I'm not much of a story teller," said our visitor, nervously clasping and unclasping his great, strong hands. "You will just ask me anything that I don't mind clear. I'll begin at the time of my marriage last year, but I want to say first of all that, though I'm not a rich man, my people have been at Riding Thorpe for a matter of five centuries, and there is no better known family in the county of Norfolk. Last year I came up to London for the Jubilee, and I stopped at a boarding house in Russell square, because Parker, the vicar of our parish, was staying in it. There was an American young lady there—Parker was the name—Elsie Patrick. In some way we became friends, until before my month was up I was as much in love as a man could be. We were quietly married at a registry office, and we returned to Norfolk a wedded couple. You'll think it very mad, Mr. Holmes, that a man of a good old family should marry a wife in this fashion, knowing nothing of her past or of her people, but if you saw her and knew her it would help you to understand."

"She was very straight about it, it was Elsie. I can't say that she did not give me every chance of getting out of it if I wished to do so. I have had some very disagreeable associations in my life," said she, "I wish to forget all about them. I would rather never allude to them."

him. He was looking worried and depressed, with tired eyes and a lined forehead.

"It's getting on my nerves, this business, Mr. Holmes," said he as he sank like a weary man into an armchair. "It's bad enough to feel that you are surrounded by unseen, unknown folk who have some kind of design upon you, but when, in addition to that, you know that it is just killing your wife by inches, then it becomes as much as flesh and blood can endure. She's wearing away under it—just wearing away before my eyes."

"Has she said anything yet?"

"No, Mr. Holmes, she has not. And yet there have been times when the poor girl has wanted to speak and yet could not quite bring herself to take the plunge. I have tried to help her, but I dare say I did it clumsily and scared her from it. She has spoken about my old family and our reputation in the county and our pride in our unsullied honor, and I always felt it was leading off before we got there."

"But you have found out something for yourself?"

"A good deal, Mr. Holmes. I have several fresh dancing men pictures for you to examine, and what is more important, I have seen the fellow."

"What—the man who draws them?"

"Yes; I saw him at work. But I will tell you everything in order. When I got back after my visit to you the very first thing I saw next morning was a fresh crop of dancing men. They had been drawn in chalk upon the black wooden door of the tool house, which stands beside the lawn in full view of the front windows. I took an exact copy, and here it is." He unfolded a paper and laid it upon the table. Here is a copy of the hieroglyphics:

XXXXXXXXXX

"Excellent," said Holmes. "Excellent! Pray continue."

"When I had taken the copy I rubbed out the marks, but two mornings later a fresh inscription had appeared. I have a copy of it here."

XXXXXXXXXX

Holmes rubbed his hands and chuckled with delight.

"Our material is rapidly accumulating," said he.

"Three days later a message was left scrawled upon the paper upon the door of a public house on the sundial. Here it is. The characters are, as you see, exactly the same as the last one. After that I determined to lie in wait, so I got out my revolver, and I sat up in my study, which overlooks the lawn and garden. About 2 in the morning I was seated by the window, all being dark as for the moonlight outside, when I heard steps behind me, and there was my wife in her dressing gown. She inquired in me to come to bed. I told her frankly that I wished to see who it was who played such absurd tricks upon us. She answered that it was some senseless practical joke and that I should not take any notice of it.

"If it really annoys you, Hilton, we might go and travel, you and I, and so avoid this nuisance."

"What, be driven out of our own house by a practical joker?" said I. "Why, we should have the whole county laughing at us."

"Well, come to bed," said she, "and we can discuss it in the morning."

"Steadily, as she spoke, I saw her white face grow whiter yet in the moonlight, and her hand tightened upon my shoulder. Something was moving in the shadow of the toolhouse. I saw a dark, creeping figure which crawled round the corner and squatted in front of the door. Seizing my pistol, I was rushing out when my wife threw her arms round me and held me with

He had left a trace of his presence, however, for there on the door was the very same arrangement of dancing men which had already twice appeared and which I have copied on that paper. There was no other sign of the fellow anywhere, though I ran all over the grounds. And yet the amazing thing is that he must have been there all the time, for when I examined the door again in the morning he had scrawled some more of his pictures under the line which I had already seen."

"Yes, it is very short, but I made a copy of it, and here it is."

Why Tea Quality Varies

YOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to another.

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored, richly flavored—next day it rains, is cloudy,—following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and maintained.

Among the early indications of this, watery blood is a weakness of the heart's action and shortness of breath.

Thousands of young women are in this anemic condition who could be strong and well if they would but use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Mrs. D. HOBBS, 429 Charlotte Street, Peterborough, Ont., states: "My daughter was troubled with a weak, fluttering heart. The least excitement seemed to aggravate her trouble, and at times she had severe racking headaches. She became so bad that it affected her nervous system, and she felt miserable most of the time. Through the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food her condition is entirely changed. Her nerves are steady, the headaches are gone, and the action of her heart is strong and regular. We have every reason to give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for besides curing her of these ailments, it has added new firm flesh and tissues." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portraits and signatures of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, on every box.

EDITOR UNION ADVOCATE,
NEWCASTLE, N. B.,

I have read with great interest the articles in your interesting paper from the pen of John L. Schofield of Metcalf, Arizona. While what Mr. Schofield says regarding the robbing of the people of New Brunswick may be true, I would like to ask him if he has got into an honest country now. I have always had a tender regard for my mother country and for her people, and do not like to have them slandered. The buying of a large tract of government timber for a low figure is considered a business transaction and perfectly legitimate.

Now look at Mr. Schofield's adopted country; from the rock bound coast of Maine to the golden gate of California comes the news of graft; political graft; bribery and corruption. I enclose a clipping from the St. Paul Daily News which shows the situation as it is. The article entitled Big Thieves will no doubt be interesting reading to the patrons of the Union Advocate. And right here let me say a word for that faithful and true witness the Union Advocate. Many a heart is gladdened by its arrival, hearts that turn with longing back to old homes that have been cherished in memory for years. hearts are like Bobby Burns expressed it; eternity cannot efface those records dear of transports past. The harly lumber jack gets it on Friday and carefully lays it aside for Sunday reading; the man of New Brunswick birth who is in business throws aside the big city daily and eagerly scans its pages. His business partner may think it strange that he is so interested in the marriage of Miss Bessie, daughter of Ben and Jane Snook to Tom Brown. But human nature as many involutions: Ben Snook and he may have been boys together; chums in many a youthful adventure, and Jane, than Jane Smith, might have been his first sweetheart.

It may not be of interest to the world at large to know that old aunt Maggie's health continues good, or that Moses Whitney is up at the oxbow, or that the new bridge at Redbank is nearly completed, but is to me, for I still remember my boyish appetite for aunt Maggie's bread and molasses. Moses Whitney and I were chums 23 years ago, and Redbank is to me a hallowed spot, there lie the earthy remains of my parents.

Among the New Brunswick boys I met last week were: Tom Johnson, Ed. Blackmore, Ben Hubbard and Tom Clarke, (now at the exposition in Portland, Oregon). Wilbur Sherrard is at present at Niagara, Robert Bruce, Geo. McNair, Wm. Hubbard conducts a hotel and saloon here in Wabeno. If you consider it worth while to give this article space in your paper, you have my permission to do so.

Yours fraternally,
A. G. RUSSELL

THE FARMER'S REALM.

Practical Suggestions For The Improvement of The Farm.

KIND OF DAIRY

COWS WANTED

It is the herd of special purpose dairy cows we want and not the herd kept to furnish chores for the owner or hired man. Dairy type is not an accident; it is not the something that just happened. There are good reasons for every point of makeup. It is advisable that everyone engaged in dairying should procure a pure blooded sire.—M. L. Thomas in Hoard's Dairyman.

The following is the text of the rules for milking issued by the Danish creameries to the farmers: MILKER, MARK THIS WELL

- 1 The cow is a living machine. (a) Kindly treatment entails less labor and gives more milk.
- 2 Good work improves the living machine. (a) Milk clean. Clean milking develops the udder, and with this increases the quantity of milk, and (b) You receive richer milk. (c) Remember that the milk last drawn is by far the most valuable.
- 3 Cleanly milking. (a) You should wear clean and tidy clothes.

(b) Have the milk pail clean as well as the creamery can. (a) Thoroughly clean the udder by rubbing with a piece of linen. (d) Wash the hands thoroughly before milking. (e) Let the udder be quite dry before you begin to milk.

4 Carry out the work properly. (a) Milk with dry hands. (b) Seize the teats with the whole hand. (c) Keep a gentle pressure on the udder. (d) Milk as fast as you can and never cease working until the milk is wholly drawn. (e) Don't strain the teat beyond its natural length. (f) Remember the value of the last drops.

5 Healthy state of the udder. (a) If there be soreness or lumps in the udder or teats, stoppage in the milk canal, or unnatural colored milk, don't mix the milk with any other, and don't send to the creamery.

6 Milking times. (a) Begin milking always at fixed times. (b) Milk the same cows in the same order.

7 Regard this excellent work as one of honor.
FARMER, MARK THIS WELL

- 1 Clean the cows.
- 2 Have good air in the stalls.
- 3 Light should be freely admitted.

senator and congressmen indicted in the federal courts for complicity in the wholesale stealing of the public lands is to begin shortly in Portland and that prosecution will be vigorous.

Good news! No one presumes to say that Sen. Mitchell and the two Oregon congressmen are guilty of the charge.

But it is well known that the government has been defrauded by an evident conspiracy to steal large areas of the public domain in Oregon and other places in the West. And that Mitchell and the congressmen, together with other prominent citizens are badly mixed up in the matter is also well known.

Let a vigorous prosecution reveal and punish the culprits. About the meanest thief on who, trusted by the people to protect their rights, will steal the people's lands.

The public domain is the inheritance of every American—especially of the landless American. Hitherto Uncle Sam has been rich enough to give us all a farm. He is no longer in a position to do that. But he has been saving the great wooded lands of the far West for the hardy settlers who go into them to carve out farms, start villages and rear communities. When these last sacred holdings of the republic are grabbed by thieves in high places the whole country is robbed.

More power to your elbow, Mr. President, as you go after the big thieves.

We can afford in this country to let some of the little thieves get away—but not the big ones.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS SICK?

Let your morning urine stand for 24 hours in a glass or vessel, and then if it is milky or cloudy, or contains a reddish brick-dust sediment, or if particles or germs float about in it, your kidneys are diseased. If the kidneys are well they filter just so much blood, but if they are sick or weak from any cause, they leave the poison in the blood, and this poison affects the entire system.

It is natural to pass urine three times a day, but many who regard themselves as healthy are obliged to pass water six to ten times daily and are obliged to get up frequently during the night. They have sick kidneys and bladder and don't know it. Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills cure Rheumatism and all Kidney and Bladder diseases, and make new, rich blood.

We will send you a generous sample post paid Free, together with our large book on the above mentioned diseases. Address, W. P. Smith Co., 185 St. James Street, Montreal, Canada.

The salmon men who sell in this market get a good paying price, but those who ship to United States markets are getting very poor returns.
