Paris, April 24.—La Patrie, in an article headed "Dislocation a la Triple Alliance," says: "King Humbert's speech was amiable, and Admiral Fournier's significant. He exalted the talent and clear-sightedness shown by his majesty's ministers in their conduct of public affairs, which meant that they had done well to abandon Germany. The king replied by assuring France of his sentiments of cordial friendship—language praiseworthy in itself, but which proves Germany's ally has gone some way since he sent his son to inspect the fortification of The German press notes this defection, and with it the disintegra-tion of the triple alliance. The play of politics is something very curious. Two years ago the German journalists were chaffing the splendid isolation of which the discomfited Albion, in lack of anything better, was boasting. Now that a conflict brings Germany and England face to face, the former sees with anxiety that her allies of a previous day have deserted her, and that the latter boasts this time of menacing her with the support of the Unit-ed States. Hot Engagement Between U. S. Troops and Filipinos.

Americans Lose 7 Killed and 44 Wounded - The Nebraska Regiments Suffers Severely-A Bluecoat Killed by Sunstroke.

Manila, April 24.—In an encounter with the Filipinos yesterday near Quengua, about six miles northeast of Malolos, 7 Americans were killed and 44 wounded.

Most of the wounded belonged to the First Nebraska Regiment. The Filipinos retreated with small loss.

The engagement developed into a disastrous, though successful fight. The insurgents had a horse-shoe trench about a mile long, encircling a rice field, on the edge of a wood. Capt. Bell, with 40 cavalrymen, encountered a strong outpost. One of his men were killed, and five were wounded by a volley.

THE AMERICANS RETIRED. carrying their wounded under fire, and with great difficulty, being closely pursued, the fog enabling the enemy to creep up to them. Two men, who were carrying a comrade, were shot in the arms, but they continued with their burden. Capt. Bell sent for reinforcements to rescue the bodies of the killed cavalrymen, and at batof the killed cavalrymen, and at bat-talion of the Nebraska Regiment, under Major Mufford, arrived, and advanced until checked by volleys from the enemy's trenches. The Americans lay about 800 yards from the trenches, behind rice furrows.

UNDER FIRE FOR TWO HOURS. Several men were sunstruck, one dying from the effects of the heat as they lay there waiting for the artillery to come up.

Finally, the second battalion arrived, and Col. Stetzenberg came on the field. The men immediately rethe field. The men immediately recognized him, and raised a cheer.
Col. Stetzenberg, deciding to charge as the cheapest way out of the difficulty, led the attack at the head of his regiment. He fell with a bullet in his breast, dying instantly, about 20 yards from the breastwork.

Lieut. Sisson fell with a bullet in his heart, the bullet striking him near the picture of a girl suspended by a "The Russians are busy building docks ribbon from his neck.

FILIPINOS FALL BACK. the meantime the artillery arrived and shelled the trenches. Filipinos stood until the Nebraska troops were right on the trenches, and then they bolted to the second line of entrenchments, a mile back. The Nebraska regiment lost two privates killed, and had many wounded, including two lieutenants. The Iowa regiment has several wounded. The Utah regiment had one officer and three men wounded. Thirteen dead Filipinos were found in the trenches. Their loss was comparatively small on account of their safe shelter. Americans carried the second trench with small loss, and are holding the town. A BRAVE OFFICER LOST. Col. Stetzenberg had won a reputation as one of the bravest fighters in the army. He always led his regiment, and had achieved remarkable popularity with his men since the war began, although during his first colonelcy the volunteers, who were not used to the rigid discipline of the regular troops, thought him a hard

Many New Victims-Terrible Butcher ies Charged to the Japanese Army.

Seattle, April 24.—Daily reports received from the governor-general of Formosa to the home office in Tokio, Japan, announce from 60 to 100 new cases of plague, of which about 40 per cent resulted fatally. The scourge was most felt in the vicinity of Taipeh and Tain, and there seems little chance of checking its ravages at present. Plague victims run outside the city walls and into the mountains rather than give themselves up to the Japanese physicians. Details of the terrible butcheries com mitted by the Japanese army on their recent raid through Southern Formosa are beginning to reach Japan. It is said that more peaceful citizens were killed than bandits, and as many as 300 towns were sacked.

who murdered Alfred Cranford, and assaulted his wife, was burned at the stake two miles from here at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, in the presence of 2,-000 people. Hose took refuge on the farm of the

Jones brothers, where his mother is employed. He was a copper-colored man, and to disguise himself had blackened his face. The Jones brothers discovered the disguise, and turned him over to the authorities at once. When he had been taken as far as Palmetto, Sheriff Brown was importuned to give up the prisoner, and to avoid an assault on the fail and possible bloodshed, turned the wretch over to the waiting crowd. A procession was quickly formed, and the doomed negro was marched at its head through several streets of the town. Soon after the public square was reached. Here former Governor Atkinson, of Georgia, who lives in Newnan, came hurriedly upon the scene, and standing up in a buggy, importuned the crowd to let the law take its course. Judge A. D. Freeman, also of Newnan spoke in a similar strain, but their words had no offect on the mob. who determined to burn him at the stake. With his back against a pine tree and his face to the crowd, which jostled closely about him, he was allowed to talk. He said: "I am Sam Hose. I killed Alfred Cranford, but was paid to do it. Lige Strickland, the negro preacher at Palmetto, gave me $12 to kill him." At this a roar went up from the crowd. The intelligence imparted by the wretch was spread among them. 'Let him go on; tell all you know about it," came from the crowd. The negro, trembling like a leaf, continued his re-

"I did not outrage Mrs. Cranford. Somebody else did that. I can identify them. Give me time for that." CUT TO PIECES.

The mob would hear no more. The clothes were torn from the wretch in an instant. A heavy chain was produced and wound around the body of the terrified negro, clasped by a new lock. Then his ears were cut off, and then his fingers, one by one, were severed from his hands and passed among the members of the crowd, now thoroughly maddened. The shricking negro was quickly deprived of other portions of his anatomy, and the words, "Come on with the oil," brought a huge can of kerosene to the foot of the tree. The fluid was then poured over the negro. who slowly died a most terrible death. The torch was applied about half-past two, and at three o'clock the body of Sam Hose was limp and lifeless. It was cut to pieces. The crowd fought for places about the smouldering tree, and with knives secured pieces of his carcass. The chain was severed by ham. mers, the tree was chopped down, and with such pieces of the firewood as had not burned were carried away as sou-

Palmetto, Ga., April 24.-The "trial" of Elijah Strickland, the negro preach. er accused by Sam Hose, who was burn. ed to death near Newnan yesterday, of paying him $12 to murder Alfred Cranford, took place in an open square in the center of the town. There was no judge or jury, the people acting in these capacities. Many witnesses were heard. One, a negro, who lived on Strickland's place, testified to the good character of the minister, but several neighbors gave anything but favorable reports; many speeches were made. A number of strangers from Atlanta and other towns were on hand trying to force a lynching.

NINE DEAD BODIES IN A BOAT. San Francisco, April 24.—The steamer City of Para, from Central American ports, brings details of an ocean tragedy. died in terrible agony. Not a drop of water and not a particle of food was in the boat. In December last Louis W. Maslen, of the El Triumfo Pier Company, three of the port officials and five boatmen went out to the mail company's steamer, lying in the offing at El Triumfo. They boarded the mail boat and stayed until signs of an approaching storm warned them to return. The gale came up quickly, and overtook the boat soon after it got away from the steamer. It was never seen again until it floated into Corinto harbor.

Louis W. Maslen was the son of E. W. Maslen, deputy naval officer of this port. The names of the other victims are not given.

Everyone Can Save Money Gathering Trading

"A penny saved is penny made."-

There is no fiction in this story. Every day in thousands of homes in London, and other cities and towns throughout the Dominion, this pleasant fact finds practical and appreciative demonstration.

You Ask, What Are Trading Stamps?

To the merchants they are discounts for your cash. The wholesaler gives the retailer a discount for his cash and you are entitled to a discount also, and get it in stores where trading stamps are given.

To the Dominion Trading Stamp Co. they are receipts, proving the amount of your cash purchases-doing a grand work for home economy in encouraging the payment of cash.

To yourself they are savings for your home, and the prosperous homes-the kind of homes that build up a nation-are those where prudent economy prevails.

-SAVINGS-That you formerly lost by neglect.

-Savings-That come to you daily on everything you buy, whether your purchases are

-Savings-That enterprising merchants can afford to give you, as your cash enables the mto get their discounts, prevents errors in charging, lessens the expense of bookkeping and collecting, and avoids losses on bad accounts—which ordinarily the cash-paying customer has

-Savings-That no matter from what store, in what city, or in what part of the Dominion obtained, are transferable, exchangeable and redeemable at all agencies.

The system is plain and simple and common sense. All show rooms are open to the public, where the goods that are given in exchange for the stamps are to be seen and examined. No goods are sold in the stores. They are there for the one purpose only--to redeem the stamps collected by the merchants' customers. Stamp books are free on application.

Rev. Dr. Saunders took as his text the 4th verse of the 16th Psalm: "Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee, that it may be displayed because of truth." The banner, the preacher said, had been a national emblem throughout all ages, under which the people flocked and the soldier marched and died in its defense. It was a standard of patriotism, loyalty, devotion and honor, which could not be dishonored without entailing disgrace to the nation. Every nation had its distinctive banner, the greatest of these being the British, bearing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew. Every nation had a special work and mission, and Britain's banner was raised for the spreading of the Gospel and the advancement of truth. People made a nation, as drops made the sea, but men must never lose themselves in the mass, for although they may transgress as a multitude, man must be judged as an individual. Under this British banner was the greatest navy the world had ever known, and the bravest army that ever moved from a tented field. Why had God conferred this banner upon the British people? Was it not because she had been a God-fearing nation, with the Bible as her guide, and the King of Kings as her sovereign? Men had asked if British power in the world would wane and die, like that of Babylon, Macedonia and the Roman Empire, but with God on her side that could never be. His name must not only be upon the banner, but deeply written on For sale by W. E. Strong & Ca.

our hearts. Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin reproacheth it. Let Britain do right as a nation, and she cannot cease to prosper. She was the first in every good movement for the uplifting of the world. The fear of the Lord dispelled all other fears, and Britain feared none save him. Every other land in Europe had within the last hundred years been degraded by the invader's foot, but Britain had been protected by her God. Under him had the Spanish armada been splintered on the rocks, and the mighty Napoleon subdued. Sin was her greatest enemy. If Britain allowed love to be supplanted by hatred, her national integrity to fall, vice, drunkenness, lewdness and crime and every form of evil to predominate, God's hand would be withheld. Her flag had been for centuries the emblem of justice, and while she always demanded her rights, she was not jealous of the rights of other nations. Under her banner protection popularity of the name of St. George was accorded to every human being. in England dates from the time of Her power was directed to enact liberty and freedom. In the early part of the century $12,000,000 had been paid for the emancipation of slaves within her realm, and every fetter of slavery was broken forever. Her banner was associated with the onward march of civilization, righteousness and Christianity, and under it the Bible had penetrated to the very heart of paganism. Under England's Queen, who for over 60 years has held the scepter with womanly love and queenly dignity, was fast bringing about the consummation of that glorious day when the name of Jesus would ring from pole to pole. GROWLS FROM GUELPH. It's rather early for the hammer, but you can hear it knocking gently in the folowing from the Guelph Herald: The attitude of the larger cities in the Canadian League bodes anything but good for the enduring stability. of that organization. After all the begging and praying to get Guelph and Stratford into the league, those cities were met at the door with the declaration that they would be allowed in on suf-france, so to speak—if there was any lapse in the league, one or other, or both of these cities would be forced out. When this childish proposal was abandoned, the magnates proceeded to make a schedule. It is not completed, but as far as it has gone Hamilton and London have got decidedly the best of it. Naturally the supporters of the Maple Leafs are indignant, and it would not take much more treatment of the kind that has so far been accorded this city to put it out of the league for good. President Davis will, no doubt, even matters up in the remaining portion of the schedule. The towns that lose the holidays are certainly entitled to a lion's share of the Saturdays.

many respected Kingston citizens. That is the experience of Mrs. Presley, 190 King street. For several years she suffered with her kidneys. The pain in her back was almost unbearable. She was afflicted at times with violent headaches, and felt worn out and tired most of the time

The various remedies she tried gave no relief. One day she chanced to see an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills, and decided to try them.

"They gave me great relief from the very first," said she. "Before taking them I hadn't been able to do a day's work for a month. Now I am able to do my housework with ease." "I have no more kidney or bladder trouble, and the backaches and headaches have disappeared." Doan's Kidney Pills are the Results of the Test in Various Forms of Dyspepsia.

Chronic indigestion or dyspepsia, while a very common trouble, has for some time been looked upon by able physicians as a very serious thing, and that no time should be lost in treating it properly at the start, because recent researches have shown that the most serious, fatal and incurable diseases have their origin in dyspepsia or indigestion.

Diabetes is simply one form of indigestion, the sugar and starchy food not being assimilated by the digestive organs. In Bright's disease the albumen is not properly assimilated.

While consumption and dyspepsia are twin diseases, and it is beyond question that dyspepsia makes a fertile soil for the seeds of consumption.

But the trouble has been to find a remedy that could be depended upon to cure dyspepsia, as it is notoriously obstinate and difficult to cure. This has been the question which has puzzled physicians and dyspeptics alike, until the question was solved three years ago by the appearance of the new dyspepsia cure in the medical world known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which it was claimed was a certain reliable cure for every form of stomach trouble.

Physicians, however, would not accept such statements without first giving the new remedy many tests and carefully observing results.

For three years the remedy has been thoroughly tested in every section of the country and with surprising and satisfactory results. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can honestly be claimed to be a specific, a radical lasting cure for indigestion in the various forms of acid dyspepsia or sour stomach, gas or wind on the stomach, too much bile, undue fullness or depressure after eating and similar symptoms resulting from disordered indigestion. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were not placed before the public until this three years' trial left no doubt as to their value, and they have recently been placed in the trade and can be found at all druggists at the nominal

No false claims are made for the remedy. It will not cure rheumatism, pneumonia, typhoid fever nor anything but just what it is claimed to cure, and that is every form of stomach trou-

No dieting is necessary, good wholesome food and plenty of it and you may rest assured that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest it. Druggists claim for it that it is a pleasure to recommend it to dyspeptics, cables the following regarding South African affairs: The government has now a new and a ticklish problem to solve. The petition signed by 21,000 Uitlanders in the Transvaal, praying Queen Victoria, as suzerain, to intervene for redress of their grievances, has been forwarded by the British agent there to the high commissioner at Cape Town, Sir Alfred Milner, and by him it was accepted and sent to the colonial office. It has reached England, and all South African circles and students of imperial politics are keenly awaiting the outcome. Sir Alfred Milner is one of the ablest, most cautious, and vet most courageous servants of the crown, and he would certainly not have accepted this momentous petition without first sympathizing with its motives himself, and, second, considering that the time has come for the Imperial Government to take some action in the Transvaal. If the report should be pigeon-holed at the colonial office, position at the Cape will be almost untenable. If, on the other hand, it is HOSTILITIES IN SOUTH AFRICA may bulk larger in the public eye than peace at The Hague. Meanwhile, Rhodes is very angry at his failure to get not only a guarantee, but even a declaration of policy from the government. He has secured guarantees amounting to $10,000,000 for the next section of his African ranway from Rhodesian mining and other companies; but while he has been cooling his heels outside the colonial office, elections at the Cape upon which he and his party counted so much, have gone strongly against him. He is convinced that if the Imperial Government had frankly said "No" at first to his request for a subsidy for his railway, he could have returned to the Cape and won the elections. As it is, the Afrikander Bund, or Dutch party, by no means too loyal to England, and sympathizing with Kruger's scriptural administration, has swept the board.

SERIOUS SITUATION.

The seriousness of the situation lies in the fact that enormous quantities of the best Transvaal investments are now held in France and Germany, and if the British Government continues to remain inactive, the British, French and Germans will combine in the the general expectation is that all the 2 a.m. Monday. He collected the royal-Transvaal to make their own terms points at variance will now be amicwith Kruger, and the chance of federation in South Africa under the British flag will be gone forever. Hitherto Mr. Chamberlain's policy has not succeeded, and the moment as, therefore, a critical one in his personal career.

CHINA BREAKING UP. I have spoken of the rising tide of Conservative indignation about China. On Tuesday and Friday the Times called upon Lord Salisbury to take strong action; the Pall Mall Gazette and St. James' Gazette have followed suit, while a growl is rising from the Tory provincial press. The Chinese have defaulted in three monthly installments of interest upon a £2,300,000 loan recently raised here, with a knowledge of her Majesty's Government, due Feb. 15, March 15, April 15, and the railway administration has not paid into the bank the railway rates, as it was bound by contract to do. In the matter of strategical territorial concessions beyond Hong Kong, China has similarly betrayed us, Chinese regulars in uniform having to be driven by shell, fire and bayonet from the surrounding hills before possession could be taken. Hong Kong telegrams in the Morning Post from its correspondent, who has just returned from an extensive journey, declare that chaos reigns in all parts of the Chinese Empire. This correspondent adds: "The general results of my observations is to deepen my conviction that China is breaking up at lightning speed." The Morning Post, the most pronounced Tory journal in England, commenting upon this telegram, says: "If the simile of a corpse its mental distress by spasmodic flutfor the rights she now theoretically possesses, or be shorn of those rights and of the field which has hitherto been to some extent open to British enterprise. Manwhile, in view of the government's indignant denial that Lord Charles Beresford had an official mis-

LET THE CAT OUT OF THE BAG on Wednesday, at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, when he said that he "had no doubt that if they would like to hear from a minister of the crown something about the government's policy in China, he might tell them that the government was waiting to hear what should be the result of the mission which had been organized by the Chambers of Commerce to inquire into the Chinese policy, and was impatient for the report from the distinguished officer whom they sent out.

MENACING THE TRANSVAL. Another correspondent says: The increase of the British garrison at the Cape of Good Hope from 3,300 men three years ago to 9,000 men has been leading to the impression that some move was premeditated against the Transvaal Republic, and the Liberal leader in the House of Commons, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, asked the government what it meant. A. J. Balfour, the government leader, fenced the question, and finally declared it was merely due to the necessity of protecting the coaling stations, but he added: "There are conceivable pos-sibilities which might make these troops necessary."

The Liberal papers comment upon the situation, and ask if Great Britain other course, we argue, would be crim-

London, April 24.—Henry Norman is preparing to seize the Transvaal.

They point out that the permanent establishment of the garrisons in South Africa is a complete reversal of the old policy of withdrawing troops from the colonies.

The Star declares that "hemming in the Transvaal with British battallons is a sinister move, portending serious danger to the future."

The people of the Netherlands are annoyed at the fact that the Transvaal Government was not invited to take part in the disarmament conference. The Netherlands Government is being attacked in consequence. Allegations are made that the failure to send an invitation to the Boer Gov-ernment was due to the fear of offending England.

UNREST IN LABOR CIRCLES. The position of the Lancashire cotton trade is becoming extremely serious. The weavers in the northeast are demanding a ten per cent in-crease in their wages, and the capit-alists are organizing their forces for an effective opposition. The employers contend that a ten per cent increase is impossible, but they say they are willing to make a small increase in order to avoid a strike. The question will be discussed at a joint conference to be held at Manchester next Tuesday.

A bug strike of miners has begun in Belgium for an increase of wages. About 40,000 men are now out. A number of factories are closing for lack of coal. The brickmakers and masons are joining in the movement, and dis-turbances are feared, as socialists form an important element among the

A Berlin dispatch says the approach of May 1 again brings up the question of labor day. The Vorwaerts strong-ly favors the celebration of what it calls "the world's labor holiday," but abstains from openly advocating a cessation of work. The other socialist organs insist upon a holiday, and a number of employes have already decided to grant a holiday.

LITTLE EXCITEMENT OVER SA-

MOA. In Berlin the excitement over the Samoan situation has almost died out and from 12 o'clock Saturday night until ably and fairly adjusted by the special commission. Some of the leading papers in their desire for fairness, even print communications from members of the British commission at Samoa controverting some of the statements of Dr. Raffel, the German president of the municipal court at Apia, regarding the relations of Tanu and Chief Justice Chambers with the missionaries. UNCOMPLIMENTARY COMMENT.

The discussion of the Duke of Connaught's succession to the throne of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha continues, and some of the German comments are quite radical. The Cologne Gazette stated bluntly that the people will not view the matter with any sympathy, "as a person belonging to another race and speaking another language, no matter how excellent in his private capacity, ought not to sit on a German throne." A number of other papers speak in the same vein. The National Liberal Correspondence, and the Deutsche Zeitung, replying to statements in the British press. declare it to be a situation which ought to be put to a speedy end, that a man "belonging to a country which recently talked warlike and fiercely against Germany should, as one of the German rulers, be put in possession of all the secrets of the defense of the coun-

Most of the decisions will be binding, and even in the matter of international arbitration if anything is agreed to, it will not be absolutely obligatory.

British newspapers warmly take up the question of Emperor William's choice of Prof. Stengel as a German delegate to the conference. It is pointed out, judging from his writings, he is a declared advocate of war and not of peace. Therefore the papers confess themselves as being non-plussed at his selection, and declare it is hardly possible the German emperor can desire the success of the conference if he maintains his nomination. GEN. LAWTON'S RETIREMENT. London, April 24.—The news from the Philippine Islands of the retirement of Gen. Lawton from the Santa Cruz district, and the capture of the boat's crew of the United States gunboat Yorktown has made a considerable impression here, and the comments of the press all reflect anxiety lest the unfavorable news have a discouraging effect upon America's expansion movements. Prominence is given to dispatches from America apparently indicating a feeling of public opinion regarding the Philippine Islands and the general tenor of the British press deprecates this seeming tendency to gloominess, pointing out that on innumerable occasions British arms have met with a check only to eventuality conquer all obstacles. "We were discouraged after Isandula," remarks one paper, "but we are beyond the Zambesi all the same."

Discussing Gen. Lawton's retirement, the Speaker says: "The movement ap-

to be looked for in America itself. There is little doubt that when the presiden-tial contest recurs the administration will have to reckon with a disorganized and discredited foe. The cost and suffering of the troops will help the Democratic reaction and the repatriated troops are not likely to be missionaries of imperialism. In short, America's setback in the Philippines may very well commence with other factors to strengthen the new Democratic-Populist party, which may make a good fight in 1900, even in the east."

The Spectator praised the United States Government's wise policy in sending regulars to the Philippines, and telling the volunteers they may go as fast as they like. Continuing, the Spectator says: "Checks there (in the Philippines) only mean loss of time, and the Americans, like us, must have their grumble." The Economist expresses itself in a similar strain and poon-poohs the idea that the Americans admit they are in-competent to perform a task which, compared with India, is very small, adding: "The Americans are not the people to yield when they are openly defled. They are too vain as well as too resolute." EXPORTATION OF FRENCH MAID-

In consequence of the complaints of French colonists that it is impossible for them to find French wives unless they return home, the ministry of the colonies intends to install a central emigration office for women in Paris, with branches in the country. Approved maidens who are considered suitable for colonial marriage will be provided with a wedding outfit costing $60, with $20 pocket money, and with a free passage to the colony selected. FLOOR OF THE HOUSE

[Special Correspondence from the Floor of the House.]

Ottawa, April 22.-We won a great victory in Brockville. I found the people very attentive, and after our meetings were over many Conservatives would remain and chat in reference to what the government did, and were doing. They reminded me very much of a Western Ontario campaign, where, without any particular demonstration, they seemed to take in the whole subject as delivered by the various speakers, and digested at their leisure what was best for themselves and the country generally. It is quite evident from recent elections, where both sides were discussed, that the great mass of the people believe the Laurier Government is a business government, and doing what is best for the Canadian people. In the town of Brockville, where Major Walsh resides, the answer to Sir Hibbert Tupper was overwhelming-331 majority in a town that formerly gave a strong Conservative majority. Major Walsh did noble service in the Yukon: in a new country, with thousands of people rushing in, many of them, no doubt, of the worst elements from all countries; yet with 50 police he enforced the laws of Canada. He stopped drinking saloons from selling liquor on advantages he maintained law and order, and upheld the dignity of the Canadian people. History will picture Major Walsh in an altogether different light from that in which the member for Pictou tried to blacken the character of a noble citizen in order to try and bring discredit on the government of the day. I have been unable to find one Conservative member who agrees with Sir Hibbert in his charge against the personal character of Major Walsh.

We are now getting down to business. After spending a whole month of useless talk, and thousands of dollars in expense, the answer to our Conservative friends is 250 majority in Brockville for the Liberal candidate to be the greatest of all medicines for the cure of diseases and disorders of the organs distinctly feminine. It is the only prepara-tion of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women. It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. It contains no whisky, alco-hol, opium or other narcotic, and therefore. does not cause a craving for stimulants. It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. CATHOLIC BISHOPS

HORSE SHOW AT GUELPH. Guelph, Ont., April 22.—The horse show held here yesterday was one of the best in the history of the association. The heavy draught class was well represented, as were also the carriage and hackney classes. In thoroughbred class some fine animals were shown, among which was Termont, winner at the recent Toronto horse show. The only class neglected was the general purpose. This class, the judges say, is gradually working its way out of the list altogether, be cause it fails to bring the price on the market for working horses.

Appeal for Aid in Manitoba and the Northwest.

They Need Help to Hold Their Own Against Incoming Strangers.

Montreal, April 24.-All the Roman Catholic bishops of Manitoba and the Northwest have just addressed a collective letter to their colleagues, of Quebec, the main object of which is to ask their support in behalf of the work of French-Canadian colonization in that vast portion of the Dominion's territory. After mentioning the sympathy ever shown by the church in Quebec for its young daughter in the Northwest, the letter calls attention to the fact that the territory is now being invaded by strangers from all parts of the world, all anxious to predominate, and that the current will cease only when the whole country has been settled. Their lordships then add: "Among the new arrivals there are, mixed with a small number of Catholics, multitudes of heretics or schismatics, and even tribes that cannot be numbered among the mem-bers of the Christian family. Shall we allow these strangers to take hold of the whole land which the government of the country gives up to new settlers on such favorable terms? Later on would be too late. Now is the moment to make a decisive effort. Now is the time to secure for the Catholic faith and the French-speak-the clergy and people of New France, the old Province of Quebec, to pro-tect and make grow their daughter in the Northwest." CAT WAS WORTH $50

Mrs. Moeran said: "Zenda is a Manx. It won the blue ribbon in the Crystal Palace, London. It must have been neglected by the association. I am sure that Zenda was punished. If it had been well treated it would not have tried to escape."

"Zenda was not ill-treated," said the president of the association, Henry V. Crawford. "Zenda was not worth $10," said Thomas Farackham, the expert of the association. If he had said nothing more his testimony might have been sufficient. But he tried to explain it. All misfortunes come of trying to explain. He said, "No cat is "I have a cat that saves $19 worth of grain from the rats every month, said Justice Lynn, making use of a figure of speech that is called hyper-bole, which is Greek for excess." I give judgment for $50 to the plaintiff."

AN 8-HOUR DAY

Mr. Beattie's Notice of Motion in the House-Penalty Provided.

Ottawa, April 24.-Mr. Beattie, M.P. London, gives notice of a bill to establish eight hours as a working day throughout Canada. The bill is entitled "An act to determine the length of a working day for workmen and laborers," and provides: 1. That eight hours shall be the length of the working day for all workmen and laborers employer, either permanently or temporarily, by any person or by any contractor or sub-contractor under him.

2. That every such person, contractor, or sub-contractor, who has under him, or who employs workmen or la-borers, and who willfully violates the provisions of this act, is guilty of an indictable offense, and liable penalty not exceeding $1,000, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to both penalty and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

"To Err Is Human. People like to talk about attractive things in advertising. In a company recently the proverb above quoted and which appeared at the head of one of a well-constructed series of advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was so much discussed, that we doubt if anyone there will ever forget the source whence it came. Messrs. Hood & Co. are using these proverb advertisements on a very broad scale, and they are attracting discussion and favorable comment everywhere.

Discovered by a Woman. Another great discovery has been made, and that, too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on tak-ing the first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. SUDDEN DEATH OF ROBERT MARSHALL

Well-Known Merchant Found Dying in His Room This Morning-

Seemed Well at Breakfast. Mr. Robert Marshall, of the firm of Marshall Bros., tea merchants, 67 Dundas street, died suddenly about 9 o'clock this morning, at the residence of his brother, Mr. George Marshall, 534 Waterloo street. Deceased rose at his usual time this morning, and ate a hearty breakfast. Apparently he was in good health. Following breakfast ne prepared to leave the city on a business trip, and went upstairs to get his satchel. He must have grown suddenly weak on going to his room, for he lay down, and shortly afterwards rolled off the bed. One of Mr. George Marshall's sons, alarmed by the sound, went to the bedrom and found his uncle lying on the floor. The boy called his father. Mr. Marshall, on seeing his brother, thought he had fainted, and raised his head slightly. The prostrate man then When Mr. George began to vomit. Marshall sent his son to call a doctor Robert opened his eyes and said, quietly: "No, no; I'll be all right in a min-ute." Dr. J. B. Campbell was sum-moned by telephone, and a messenger was sent for Dr. Roome, who lives close by. Dr. Roome was first to arrive on the scene, but before he reached the house Mr. Marsnall was dead. The doctor considers the death due to heart failure. Deceased was born on the Earl of Durham's estate, Durham, England, 47 years ago, and came to London with his brother in 1872. For the past 25 years he had been esgaged in the tea business here. He was an ardent Congregationalist, and at the time of his death was treasurer of the First Con-gregational Church. He attended church twice yesterday. Deceased was day. unmarried. He leaves two brothers-George, of this city, and William, of Bothwell; and three sisters, all of whom are living in Newcastle-on-Tyne, Northumberland, England. Mr. Marshall's father, who was manager on the Earl of Durham's estate for 50 years, died last October at the age of 77 years. Deceased was a nephew of the late George Marshall, who died in this city recently.

ROBERT PRING.

The death occurred yesterday of Mr. Robert Pring, plasterer, of 890 Dufferin avenue, East London. De-ceased was 48 years of age. He was stricken with paralysis on Thursday, and the following day became unconscious. Four doctors were in attendance, but their efforts were unavail-Mr. Pring had resided in East London for over a quarter of a century, and his many friends will hear with deep regret of his sudden death. He was an active worker and member of the Centennial Methodist Church. A wife and family of seven children survive.

The remains of Ernest L. C. Hazard, only son of James C. Hazard, were interred Saturday afternoon in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The High School Cadets, of which deceased was a member, marched in a body and furnished a firing squad at the grave.

CENTRAL VERMONT GETS E. H. FITZHUGH

S. J. Ferritor, of This City, May Succeed Him at Toronto.

Mr. E. H. Fitzhugh, superintendent of the middle division of the Grand Trunk Railway system, has been appointed general manager of the newlyorganized Central Vermont Railway. Mr. Fithugh's departure will be generally regretted by his assistants, with whom he was very popular. He will assume his new duties at St. Alban's, Vermont, the headquarters of the Central Vermont, on May 1. Mr. R. H. Lyram, another G. T. R. man, has re-ceived an appointment as treasurer of

The Central Vermont will be operated independently of the G. T. R., but the two roads will be kept closely in touch with each other. No steps have so far been taken to appoint Mr. Fitzhugh's successor. It is expected, however, that the railway will pursue its policy of regular promotion. If this is done the choice will be between Superintendent Ferritor, of London, and Superintendent Tiffin, of Allandale.

Simply Management

From the smallest trader to national governments, and all the way between, both private and public-

Management regulates results. Two grocers on the same street; one earns twice the other's per cent of profit. Difference in business management, that's all.

Two cities in the same province; one collects a very much greater per cent of taxes than the other. Difference in municipal management, that's all. Two life insurance companies insure two men of the same age at the same time; one earns and pays very much greater dividends than the other. Difference in insurance management, that's all. Let us give actual experience

In 1883 the Ontario Mutual Life in-sured a citizen of Montreal for $2,000, fifteen year endowment, issued at age 45, with dividends to reduce the premiums. The original premium was $127 84. The annual dividends so reduced the premiums that the net cost of the $2,000 was $1,657 69, the policy thus yielding the insured a profit of $342 31. The same year another Canadian company insured a citizen of Hamilton for $1,000, fifteen year endowment, age 45, dividends to be declared each five years. His premium was $70 80. His dividends were $168 71, thus reducing the net cost to $893 29, the policy yielding a profit to the insured of $106 71.

Look at the two results: Ontario Mutual, gain for $2,000...$342 31 The other company, gain for $1,000, $106 71. Gain for $2,000 ... 213 42

Difference in favor of Ontario....$128 89 Those desiring full details may obtain them from C. E. German, agent of the Ontario Mutual Life, London.

Estimated at $19,000,000 by a Dawson Man.

But He Overlooked Rich Properties-The Latest News Up to March 23.

Dawson, Yukon, March 23 (Toronto Globe special) .- As the sap stirs in the maple down east, so the thrill of the approaching "wash up" is stirring the Yukon miners with anticipatory hopes

The open weather of the past ten days promises an early beginning of this climatic stage of the miners' year of labor, and Dawson is already show ing the revivatory effects.

Those unpicturesque dumps—stretching like lines of breastworks all up and down the creeks-whose slow, labor-ious growth we have watched through the winter months, are piles of paramount importance now, for in them lies the yellow dust that means competency or millionairedom to the men who own them-men who have toiled with pick and shovel through the winter's cold and storm. The heavy tools will be thrown aside within a few weeks to be replaced by gold pan, sluice box and cradle, and the dump-earth will rock to and fro, to and fro, until the gravel is gone, and only the yellow dust lies gleaming. Pan by pan, or box by box, the process will be repeated, until each big dump is divided into two parts-one, a bank of valueless gravel earth, the other a tiny yellow dust heap. And upon the size of this dust heap will depend the miner's fortune. Oh, but it will be a sight to see, on some of these richest claims! There will be golden places on the creeks, when wash-up time comes.

ROYALTY TIME, TOO. Wash-up time means also royalty time. Already notices have been posted on all the creeks, notifying the miners of the coming collections, and warning them against any attempt to evade the law in this matter, and within a --- That's All few days Inspector Belcher, of the N. W. M. P., will begin a collecting tour of the creeks nearest Dawson. It has been considered advisable that the collections be made throughout by the police, who are generally popular, rather than by the mining inspector or other government officials. The miners are somewhat irritable over the tax, which they consider altogether too heavy, and the gathering in of the royalty not only requires collectors who are responsible and incorruptible, but who are also firm and tactful.

A Dawson citizen recently furnished to a western paper the following estimate of the output for this season of creeks near Dawson: Eldorado, $2,500, 000; Bonanza, $2,500,000; French Hill, $1,600,000; Gold Hill, $1,500,000; Big Skukum, $1,000,000; Little Skukum, $1,000,-000; Dominion, $4,000,000; Hunker and Quartz, $5,000,000; total, $19,000,000.

The estimate may or may not be correct, but the informant has certainly omitted more than one of the rich locations, Sulphur Creek being left out entirely in the list. In addition to these are the outer mining districts, such as the Upper Klondike, and the Stewart River, which may certainly count for something. Albeit, the laiest reports from the latter district are not good. Thistle Creek having proven somewhat disappointing. Scroggie Creek, a tributary of Stewart, is at present bearing the best reputation.

A PULPIT OPINION. At the morning service of the Wel-Hington Street Methodist Church yesterday, the pastor, Rev. Joseph Edge, expressed very decidedly his opinion as favor of the murderer of P. C. Toohey, Marion Brown. When he remembered that an officer of the law had been shot down in his tracks in the protection of the citizens of this city, he would sign no petition for the commutation of the sentence passed by twelve men, unbiased in their opinion, no matter who circulated it. If it could be shown to him that the prisoner had not received a fair trial under the protection of the British flag, then and only then would be give his consent to a new trial. The Word of God has laid down that if a man shed the blood of another man, blood shall likewise be shed, and that should be the law brought on the present case.

Dr. Johnston has from time to time received calls to large cities and much wealthier congregations. A short time ago a deputation from Baltimore, Maryland, waited upon him and urged him to accept a call, offering a large salary. This offer Rev. Dr. Johnston declined but it is difficult to say what will be the answer to the deputation that waited upon him this morning. Four gentlemen from the leading Presbyterian Church of Baltimore, Messrs. Joseph Bowes, E. H. Parkin, W. H. Six and R. D. Fisher, attended St. Andrew's Church three times yesterday. A meeting was arranged for this morning at the Tecumseh House, and for about two hours the deputation interviewed Dr. Johnston. question of salary was not considered to any extent; that is a secondary matter with the congregation at Baltimore. The congregation is the largest in the city, and the choir is noted for its excellence. There is a feeling am-being held out to him. The whitehaired preacher, weeping, and with an appeal to the throne of grace, was tied to a tree while the counsel proceeded. He bears an unsavory reputation and it went against him. Atlanta, Ga., April 24.-The series or crimes which began with the burning of Paimetto by incendiaries, the lynching a month later of four negroes by the whites of that little town, in retaliation, to be followed ten days ago by the murder of Alfred Crawford and the assaulting of his wife in the same locality, for which the negro, Sam Hose, was burned at the stake, have stirred the people of Georgia and the South into a frenzied interest in the

I think the wisest plan for protection will be for the legislature to take up the matter, and provide a sufficient state militia and funds to be expended for a patrol in the country districts."

Former Governor William J. Northen said: "My first suggestion is that all homes should be made miniature arsenals, at least to the extent of one good Winchester and one good pistol; that women be allowed to carry wea-pons upon their persons, concealed, if so desired, and they be taught the use and handling of firearms so that they may become their own protectors in the absence of the husband or master of the house. An occasional negro lying dead in the back yard, shot by a brave woman in defense of her honor, will do more to stop this awful crime than all the lynching that may occur in a year. I would have every county supplied with at least half a dozen well-trained bloodhounds. I would have on organization of at least twenty men in each county, who should have supervision of all law-lessness and disorders in the country."

It was sunset. The golden west flushed here and there with vivid crimson, reddened the heaving bosom of the sea as it broke in tiny wavelets upon the shores of one of the most ruggedly picturesque parts of Corn-

Stern rocks faced the sea, though above was a far stretch of pleasant landscape, dotted over with small estates. No other habitations were visible, for the small hamlet which gave the name to the place nestled out of sight in a dip of the land near the shore. From the heights a nar-row serpentine path led to the beach. which at this particular moment was deserted, save by two figures.

One—a young girl, wrapped in warm furs—sat on a boulder, sketching, with no little skill, this scene Lefore her; while a few feet off, a gentleman, some two or three years her senior, was leaning against the cliff, his hands clasped behind his head, and his billycock hat so tilted that it allowed only the lower portion of a very handsome, manly face to be vis-

Silence reigned. The lady had petite, fair, but rather thin features marked with gravity, was evidently absorbed in catching the brilliant effect before her; while the eyes of her companion were also rivetted upon the sunset; but rather as if it formed a back-ground to his thoughts.

The sudden dip of the luminary below the horizon seemed to rouse him. He consulted his watch, then, as he slipped it back, remarked: I say, Marian, that sunset is proving a puzzler, eh? It takes a long time, and if you are not quick the sun will not wait."

"Which signifies," retorted the lady, with a toss of her head, "that you feel disposed to follow the example of the

"After such compliments," laughed Marian Rylands, glancing over her shoulder, by no means displeased, be compassionate. I think, too, I have caught the effect. Before the colors fade, Rowland, give me your opinion."

Approaching, Rowland Gower contemplated the sketch attentively.

piqued. It wants meaning. It is too subjectless-a fault with many of our British painters."

"You are right, Rowley," cried Marian. "I see it now. What shall I put to give it life?" Either a sea-gull, flashing its white wings over the hull of a wreck; or here, on the shore, a shrimp girl, or something of that kind, harmonizing and picturesque." remarked the artist, thoughtfully, as they both bent over the sketch; but then I require

"You had better get one of the fisher's daughters to stand," laughed her cousin, rising erect. Then he grew silent, his cheek flushed, and he stepped back.

Marian had also raised her eyes, but she uttered a cry of delight.
"See—the very thing!" she exclaimed. "How kind of fortune!" Unnoticed by them during the sketch discussion, a girl in the costume of a fisher's daughter had approached the sea's marge, and stood looking sea-ward, her hand shading her eyes, the ward, her hald shading her eyes, the waves breaking at her feet.

"It is Gwyn Rebna," proceeded Marian Reylands. Oh! if I could only take her thus, before she moves!"

An expression of vexation swept over the young man's countenance. He made a movement forward, as if inclined to check the artist, but he resumed his former bearing as Gwyn dropping her hand, moved away along the shore. "How tiresome," cried Marian, petulantly. "Do run after her, Rowland. Let her know what I want. Tell her to stand there until I've sketched her Again Marian's brows rose; then, with a contemptuous laugh she re-

"Oh! I beg pardon, I am sure. I did not know I was talking to a champion of Miss Gwyn Reona. Pray, do you wear her colors? Brown seaweed, knotted with blue serge. Ha, ha, ha!"

Her cousin's color rose, his countenance darkened, but he evidently controlled his anger, either from policy or shame, at noticing such a trifle.
"As to 'champion,' I think you would But you are aware, Marian, I am a Radical, and think that the humblest should be treated with equal courtesy as the highest. Marian complied. and they proceeded up the path together.

Before they quitted the shore, however, the young man cast another glance after the slim, youthful figure, so full of natural grace, that with a so full of natural grace, that with a step firm, elastic, and easy, was disappearing in the distance.

Though Rowland Gower made one or two attempts to maintain a conversa-tion, he failed, and an unusual silence reigned between the cousins on their way to Steinwood.

Reaching the top of the cliffs, they turned into a now leafless lane. Just then the sun disappeared; heavy dark clouds swept over it, and gray, winter gloom rapidly settled on the

"There will be a storm tonight" remarked Rowland Gower. "The rack seems disposed to have it all its own way, and the wind is rising."

"A storm!" shivered Marian, techily. "For pity sake, Rowland, don't be a screech-owl! The evening is sufficiently depressing already."

Before her surprised cousin could make any comment a merry laugh make any comment a merry laugh broke the stillness. The sound of per-sons advancing followed, and a few seconds after a lady and gentieman of about the cousins' age came in

"Here they are, Jack! Here are the truants! I told you we should find them in this direction!" ejeculated the lady, a pretty, vivacious blonde, with a charmingly imperious mouth and dancing eyes.

The smile she gave him evidently filled him with ecstatic delight. He reddened, and ranged up by her side.

"I am sure we ought to be flattered by being missed, Capt. Darnley," she remarked. "Also, we should give you thanks for finding us; as I fear Rowland and I were getting wearied with each other's society. I have tired him out with my sketching."

"If, next time, Miss Rylands will permit me to be her cavaller," murmured the young officer, in a tone meant only for her ear, "she shall have no cause to complain of my growing weary."

Thanks," laughed Marian, with a gaiety that was forced. "I will put you to the test, Capt. Darnley, tomorrow, if you like. Now, might I ask your arm? I turned my ankle in the cliff path."

The officer eagerly extended it, and his heart beat wildly at the girl's touch. Meanwhile Lil Darnley had taken possession of Rowland Gower, taken possession of Rowland Gower, and she, being already engaged, found herself able to laugh and clatter without constraint, though she was the only one of the quartet who did.

Defeat of the Government, Not Reform, the Aim of Its Opponents.

Mackenzie Bowell-Senator Prowse Wants Prohibition, But Not if His Party Is In Power.

(Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, April 24.—In the senate, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, opposition leader, made an onslaught on the government in asking a number of questions in regard to an alleged detective, who had supplied a number of ill-founded stories about the manner in which the plebiscite on prohibition had been conducted by the returning officers in Quebec. It will be remembered that a week before the ex-premier put his questions, Hon. Sydney Fisher showed, from the official returns, that the ed, from the official returns, that the statements made by this man were wholly unfounded. Nevertheless, Sir Mackenzie seemed to have a purpose to serve in insinuating to the contrary. He was followed by Hon. Mr. Provess, another Conservative, senether the server of t Prowse, another Conservative senator, who not only insisted in greatly overstating the cost of the plebiscite, but alleged that in consenting to its being taken the government had humbugged the people. NO HUMBUG ABOUT IT. Hon. David Mills, government leader in the senate, made a strong and effective reply to these strictures. He The honorable gentleman (Senator Prowse) spoke of humbugging the people of the country in taking the vote and leaving them to believe that the government intended to act on a simple majority, if a majority were recorded in favor of it. I say no mem-ber of the administration ever led the public to suppose, or ever led the temperance people of this country to suppose, that if the majority of the votes recorded were in favor of prohibition that prohibition must be brought forward as a government measure, as a matter of course. Why, suppose there had been only 10,000 votes cast altogether, and that 8,000 had been in favof of prohibition, and 2,000 against it, do honorable gentlemen opposite suppose for a moment that the million of votes that were not recorded at all are not to be considered? This is not a question where a legal result depends upon the vote. It is not like the election of a member of the House of Commons where only ten men might vote, and yet those who voted on the side of the majority would succeed in electing their member. There must be a member, and the House of Commons must be constituted, and they make the necessary provision for its constitution; but the object of this vote was not for the purpose of set-tling the question absolutely by those who voted for it or against it. The object was to ascertain the state of public opinion every man in his senses knows that he must take into consideration those who are indifferent, and those who did not vote at all, as well as those who are acting upon the one side or the other.

Made Much of by Sir HOW DOES THE VOTE STAND? against prohibition and you have 270,-000 voting in favor of prohibition, but you have over 600,000 who do not vote at all, and are they to be left out? Are they not to be considered when the government propose to act one way or the other? When the day of election comes these men will vote and they will be ready to say whether the government shall remain in office or whether they shall go out of office, and the fact that they did not vote at all is a significant fact of which any government, in the possession of its senses, must take note as well as it takes note of those who vote. the honorable gentleman has said that we are insincere and that we intend to deceive. Those were the words the honorable gentleman used. Inject or purpose would the government have in intending to deceive? The government desired to obtain an expression of public opinion. My honorable friend supported the government who preceded us in appointing a ment who preceded us in appointing a commission, and sending that commission over to the United States to as-certain how prohibition worked under their system and also to ascertain what was the state of public feeling there. That commission made a very voluminous report, embraced in four volumes, and if men lived as long as they did in antediluvian times the length of time required to read four volumes of nearly 1,000 pages each might be devoted to the reading of such a report, but, when the days of men are but three score years and ten, it is too much of human life to devote to the investigation of that commission to read four volumes, which would embrace about 4,000 pages which would embrace about 4,000 pages and weigh about 25 pounds avoirdupoise. What did the public gain by that? There was a certain amount of information collected, but as to the state of public opinion we were not informed: we could not be informed.

I thought myself that the state of public opinion in favor of prohibition was not as strong as many of my friends, who are anxious to see a prohibition measure adopted, thought it hibition measure adopted, thought it was. We have, by the vote that was recorded, an exact expression which shows us that out of nearly 1,000,000 electors at the present time in this country, 270,000 are in favor of prohi-bition. That is what the result shows, and I think that result is such as to show that the government would not be justified in acting upon that vote.

THE REVENUE QUESTION. There is this to be borne in mindand the honorable gentleman has not addressed himself to the question-that there are $7,000,000 of revenue or more that would be absolutely wiped out by the adoption of a prohibitory measure. Let me suppose for a moment that the government, instead of asking for a vote on the question, Yes or No, proposed a complete measure, had endeavored to provide for the loss of revenue that would be sustained, and had said to this country: "This is our proposition: we will grant you prohibition, and we ask you to sanction the measure which we propose that will place at the disposal of the government a sufficient amount of revenue to make up the deficiency," does any honorable gentleman suppose we would have got as large a vote in favor of prohibition as we did? If you were to transfer $7,-500,000 of taxation from the liquor traffic and the consumption of liquor to a direct tax on tea or coffee or any other article of commerce from which the revenue could be raised, does any honorable gentleman suppose that the vote would have been as large as it really was? I do not think so. The temperance people did not think so, because when it was suggested that a perfect measure should be suggested and the vote taken on that measure, there was scarcely one among those who favored prohibition who would sanction such a course being taken. And why not? Because they felt that upon an abstract question a much larger vote would be polled than upon any practical measure for the purpose of giving effect to pro-hibition that could be devised by the administration.

WANTS THE GOVERNMENT DE-FEATED.

What the honorable gentleman is annoyed at, and why he expresses himself so strongly against the administration, is that he hoped the government would perish in consequence of this proposed prohibitory legislation. The honorable gentleman says that we ought to act upon the simple vote of a majority. Whether the vote was 10 or 10,000, he holds that it is equally binding upon holds that it is equally binding upon the administration, and the honorable gentleman presses that, not because he is disposed to adopt that view himself, not because he favors that, not because that is so-and he has not said that-Hon. Mr. Prowse-You ought to be consistent and obey the mandate of the people. Hon. Mr. Mills-The honorable gentleman says we ought to obey the popular mandate. Is the honorable gentleman prepared to obey the popular mandate? Is he prepared to say "If my friends come into power, unless they carry that mandate into effect I will not support them"? That mandate is binding upon those who may succeed us as well as upon us. If it is a popular mandate that we should obey, it is a mandate that we should obey, it is a mandate that our successors should obey as well. Is he prepared to say that? Is he prepared to say: "If my friends come into power tomorrow or next day unless they give effect to that popular mandate I will not give them

Hon. Mr. Prowse-I did not promise

Hon. Mr. Scott-It is not a question of promise. If the government are bound to obey a simple majority of those who record their votes, whether that majority be a large or a small per-centage of the entire vote of the population of this country, the honorable gentleman and his friends would be as much bound to obey that mandate as any member of the administration.

over diseases that other remedies and even doctors' treatment seem powerless to cure, render it without doubt the grandest and greatest medicine of the times. The cases being recorded from day to day show how thorough and far reaching are the cures B.B.B. makes and no case illustrates this more satisfactorily than that of Mr. Edward White of Victoria Corners, N.B. We will permit Mr. White himself, together with his friends and neighbors, to amply verify the statement made on behalf of B.B.B., that when it cures you, you're cured to stay cured. This is the letter Mr. White wrote in 1894: "For twelve years previous to the past few months I have been a sufferer from the worst kind of Salt Rheum. I tried twelve different doctors, besides many patent medicines, but received no benefit. Last January I was advised to try B.B.B. by the Postmaster here. I soon perceived a decided change for the better and it only took six bottles to make a complete cure.

EDWARD WHITE. At the same time Mr. E. H. Cox, a neighbor of Mr. White, wrote the follow-"I know Mr. White and am aware that ne has suffered for about twelve years from Erysipelas and Salt Rheum and has tried many dectors but all have failed to "I had the opportunity of examining his arms, shoulders and breast, and found them covered with sores, but after using one bottle of B.B.B. they had healed up so that large scabs and scales fell off. I advised him to keep on using B.B.B. 'His face was fairly baked and so rough and sore that the skin cracked open. The itching and burning were almost unbearable. "He continued the use of B.B.B., until now every symptom of the disease is gone. "I write this in justice to B.B.B. as the facts are true in every respect." Then Mr. White's wife corroborated his story, she wrote: 'I cannot express in a letter how my husband has suffered during the past twelve years. I have seen the skin all

The triumphs of Burdock Blood Bitters | with that awful Salt Rheum. He has doctors' bills but nothing did him any good until he took B.B.B. He has taken six bottles and is now cured. He used to scratch his flesh all night, but now sleeps well and is free from disease." Backing up and endorsing all these state-ments made we have the testimony of three of the best citizens in the community.
We have known Mr. Edward White for the past ten or fifteen years and can certify tothegenuinenessofhis letter and to the facts of his case as stated by himself. J. B. Bowser, Merchant and Postmaster; JAMES W. BOYER, Manufacturer; Thos. W. LETSON, Justice of the Peace.

Now comes the proof of the permanency of this wonderful cure and we have it in the following letter just received:

"It is now about five years since I was cured of a terrible attack of Salt Rheum and Erysipelas which afflicted me for about twelve years.

I had tried almost everything including doctors' medicine, but could get no relief until I took Burdock Blood Bitters.

"Although my case was so bad it only took six bottles of the B.B.B. to make a thorough cure. Indeed, so lasting and permanent has the care been, that during these past five year. since I was cured there has been not the slightest sign of the disease returning. I believe that B.B.B. has driven it so completely out of my system that it will never bother me again. "I always praise B.B.B. as the best remedy for any skin or blood disease, and I firmly believe that if it could cure a case of Salt Rheum as bad, and as of many years standing as mine, that it can cure sores or skin disease of any kind." EDWARD WHITE. And the permanency of the cure is corroborated by well known fellow citizens of

Mr. White. This is to certify that we have known Mr. E. White for a number of years past and believe his statements with reference to his cure to be true in every particular and are aware that he has had no return of the Salt Rheum since he was cured some years ago by Burdock Blood Bitters.

NEAR-BY OIL OIL FIELDS. F. A. Fitzgerald, of this city, president of the Petrolia Oil Company, says the oil fields are growing. At present six and seven carloads are being shipped from some of these wells each week, and the flow is steadily increasing. The wells have been in places sunk to a depth of 475 feet. One reason Mr. Fitzgerald advances for their permanency is the fact that they are situated at a distance of 30 miles or more from the old fields, and therefore represent new territory. However, his beautiful voice was heard with good effect in Faure's "Palms and Charity," and in the great patriotic song, "Land of Lib-Upon the charming prima erty.' donna devolved almost double duty, when she was not singing she acted as accompanist, and performed both parts well. Her "Cradle" song was well-rendered, but not being strictly sacred music a number of people left at its conclusion. Mr. L. Paul, 'cellist, proved himself a thorough artist. He played a romanze by Heller, serenade by Braga, and "Wiegenlied," by Houser. A couple of duets were sung by Mr. Kronberg and Miss Hands, one being "Moments of Bliss." The concerts were an innovation for London.

A special meeting of the city council was held Saturday afternoon for the purpose of taking action in regard to the death of ex-Mayor Cowan. Mayor Wilson presided. The following resolution, moved by Ald. McPhillips, and seconded by Ald. Graham, was carried unanimously:

"Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in his divine wisdom to call to his eternal reward, James Cowan, Esquire, who for some years occupied with honor to himself, and with credit to the city, the high and dignified position as chief magistrate of this

"And whereas it was with surprise, coupled with mingled feelings of the deepest sorrow and regret, that yesterday we learned of his sudden demise, we, in open council assembled, desire to place upon record and to convey to his family our high appreciation of his sterling qualities, not only as an upright, honorable and estimable citizen, who was loved and respected by all classes for his Christian charity, but as one who, during the tenure of his office as mayor of this city, presided over the deliberations of the council with great tact and executive ability.

"And whereas, although his Christian pilgrimage is ended, that the solemn moment of separation is over, we know that God afflicts not willingly, and though every earthly tie be severed and the voice which made the music of his life is stilled forever, still can we rest in his hands, know-ing that 'he doeth all things well';

"Be it therefore resolved by the members of the municipal council of the corporation of the city of London, that we tender our sincerest sympathy and condolence to the family of the deceased in their sad bereave ment; that a copy of this resolution be engrossed and forwarded to them; that this council enter upon its minutes this resolution as a tribute to the worth of the deceased, and that the members of this council attend the funeral of the deceased in a body as a last mark of respect to his

FUNERAL OF EX-MAYOR COWAN

Civic Officials and Municipal Bodies in Line-A Great Demonstration.

The remains of the late ex-Mayor James Cowan were laid at rest in Mount Pleasant Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place from the family residence "Birkhill," 639 Talbot street, and was one of the largest seen in the city for many years. The cortege was over half a mile long. A squad of 30 policemen on foot, in charge of Chief Williams, headed the cortege, and they were followed by a squad of firemen, in charge of Chief Roe. Then came Mayor Wilson and members of the council and city officials, in carriages, the members of Kilwinning Lodge, of the Masonic Order, and the trustees of Mount Pleasant Cemetery. A number of the ex-mayor's many friends, leading business men and employes of the firm. of which deceased was the head attended, as well as citizens in all stations of life, wishing to pay their last tribute to the dead. The pallbearers were ex-Mayor Col. Lewis, George W. Armstrong, J. D. Sharman, Thomas Kent, Robert Reid, sen., ex-Mayor John Campbell, Water Commissioner Jones and John Callard.

Rev. Dr. Johnston, of St. Andrew's Church, conducted the solemn services at the house and the grave.
Many relatives and friends from a distance were present. The deep respect in which Mr. Cowan was held was evidenced by the throng of citiens who lined the streets along which the cortege passed.

FAREWELL SERMON

Archbishop O'Connor's Parting Counsel to St. Mary's Congregation.

Archbishop O'Connor preached a farewell sermon to the congregation of St. Mary's Church yesterday morning, speaking parting words of counsel and encouragement. He told his hearers their duty to the church, themselves, others of the faith, and those who are not of the faith. Speaking of the home life, he said: "Next to the church, the home is the most sacred place on earth." And he urged parents to their duty by their children, and fathers to spend the evenings with their families. Touching the church, he said the tendency was to attract outsiders by fine music or fine speaking. This The only object people was wrong. should have in attending church was

AMUSEMENTS

DANIELS TOMORROW NIGHT. What will undoubtedly be regarded as the distinctly comic opera event of the season will be seen at the Grand tomorrow night, when Frank Daniels will make his bow to the people of this city. The star of the opera is Frank Daniels, whose ability as a comedian is universally acknowledged as second to none, and in the opinion of many, superior to that of any competitor on the operatic stage. Comedy being Daniels' chief characteristic, it is not at all surprising that his manager, Kirk La Shelle, in selecting a vehicle for displaying Daniels' talents, should look for something in which the comedy element may give full swing. In doing this, however, Manager La Shelle has a keen eye for the other requirements which go to make up a successful comic opera, and the result is one of not The sermon was a simple, earnest talk, only the most comic or funniest of operas, but an opera in which some of the best music in vogue today abounds. This care in selection, on the part of the management, has resulted in a most happy combination, a combination not happy only for the star, but also for the audience which greets him at every performance. Frank Daniels has succeeded in having an opera written for him which not only contains abundant material for him to expend his inimitable talent as a comedian upon, but possesses also, plots to chain the interest of his audiences and music to elicit the admiration not only of the classical, but also the warmest applause of those who prefer the fascinating melodies of a highter character. In view of this, it is pleasant to announce the coming of Frank Daniels, for it means a treat to all in search of evenings in which melodies and mirth abound.

COOD HEALTH

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food Restores Weak, Sickly Women to Robust Health.

Any irregularities in the monthly uterine action is sufficient cause for women to be alarmed about their health. Whether painful, suppressed or profuse menstruation, the cause can be traced to some derangement of the nerves.

Nerve Food will completely build up the exhausted nerves and restore the regular monthly action which removes from the body the clogged matter that would otherwise cause pain and serious disease. It is as a restorative for weak wo-men that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food has been singularly successful.
