BOERS IN BERMUDA.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Rev. Dr. German, pastor of the Elm Street Methodist Church, who has just returned from an enjoyable trip to Bermuda, says that what interested him on the voyage to the island was the sight of the 3,000 Boer prisoners there. The spectacle of the prisoners lounging around their Town by the British for immediate tents under the guardianship of British officers, while rather sad, had something uncommonly interesting about it. No one was allowed within speaking distance of them. They were provided with the rations of the British soldier, and were in every way well provided for. They had a chaplain who conducted service frequently for them. Just before he left the island,

Joseph Duff, 19 years old, brother of Mrs. Joyce, believes he was the unintentional cause of the tragedy. Mr. and Mrs. Joyce, who lived in Man-hattan, had spent the evening at the home of the Duffs, and were asked to remain over night. They were given the sleeping room usually occupied by Joseph Duff, who was away from home during the evening. When the young man went to his room and lit the gas Joyce spoke to him and ex-plained the situation, whereupon Duff turned out the gas and went to another apartment to sleep. He thinks that in his excitement at finding his room occupied he may have turned on the gas after the light had been extinguished. There is absolutely ground for suspicion of suicide.

IMPORTANT RULING

As to a Bank Manager's Personal Liability for Loans He Has Engineered.

Toronto, Oct. 16.-The court of appeal this morning gave judgment in a case of great interest to bankers, involving, as it does, the question of a bank manager's personal liability for loans engineered by him.

Mr. W. J. McGill, now deceased, was manager of the Western Bank branch at Port Perry in 1888, and on the instructions of General Manager McMillan, gave Paxton, Tate & Co., a line of assist the United States Government credit that finally totaled $20,000.

Full Text of His Communication Anent Buller's Appointment.

London, Oct. 15 .- The following letter from Mr. Rudyard Kipling appeared in The Spectator of Oct. 5: Spectator of Oct. 5:

"To the Editor of The Spectator: "Sir,-In your protest against the appointment of Generals Buller and Wood to command the First and Second Army Corps, it seems to me you have missed one aspect of the caseits likeness to the aged anecdote of the man with the ferret-bag, of whom a fellow traveler inquired the contents. 'Mongooses,' was the answer, brother sees snakes, and I am taking the mongooses up to kill them.' 'But your brother doesn't see real snakes. 'No, but these aren't real mongooses.' Three or four years ago we would have accepted both imaginary army corps and imaginary generals as serious additions to our defenses, but in the past twenty-four months we have been manufacturing a real army, etc. in South Africa. Thanks to 'God and the Mauser,' we have there now large bodies of men habituated to the use of arms, as well as leaders who possess certain experience of the conditions of actual warfare. Not a few of the latter have by this date acquired sympathy, insight and comprehension as regards matters that touch their professional work and the needs of the nation. In like manner, each according to his lights, but all more has abandoned forever. It seems to indicate that, in spite of the pledges of government, the whole army machine is to be hauled back as soon as may be to the old ruts of impotence, pretense and collapse. Men see that the chosen commanders are not quite in touch with the real army which, with a little tact and a little seriousness, might so easily survive. It is not the triviality or ineptitude played in this matter that appals, but the cynical levity. I am, sir, etc., "RUDYARD KIPLING."

Fortune Harbor, Nfld., Oct. 7 .- Special.—However the island and the Dominion stand on political questions, there is one theme in which they are unanimous, and that is in their opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills. In Newfoundland Dodd's Kidney Pills have duplicated their Canadian reputation. On all sides they are spoken of as a really wonderful medicine by those who have tried them, whose number increases

Richard Quirk, of this place, writes about Dodd's Kidney Pills in the universal terms of high praise: "No tongue can tell," he says, "the pleasure I feel in being able to say that I am indeed permanently cured of my backache by Dodd's Kidney Pills. ### LEGISLATOR MADE PRISONER

Charged by the British With High Treason.

Shocking Treatment of Loyalists by Commandant Fouchee Related by Two of the Bothas-Kitchener's "Bag."

THE WEEK'S "BAG." London, Oct. 15 .- Lord Kitchener, in his weekly report to the war office today, says that since the last statement 26 Boers have been killed, 8 wounded, 194 prisoners have been taken, there have been 42 surrenders, and 102 rifles and 2,200 horses have been captured.

PENAL SERVITUDE FOR LIFE. Cape Town, Oct. 15 .- The sentence of death passed upon two rebels belonging to the late Commandant Lotter's commando has been commuted to penal servitude for life by Gen. Kitchener.

ATTACK ON A CATTLE CAMP. Pretoria, Oct. 15 .- A commando of 350 Boers has attacked the cattle camp at Piet Potgieter's Rust, which is in charge of the cattle rangers. The latter made a gallant resistance, but were unable to prevent the Boers from taking a few head from a herd affected with rinderpest.

ARMORED TRAINS IN ACTION. Pretoria, Oct. 15.-Beyers is moving estlessly about the northern districts, his only object, however, apparently being to dodge the British columns. He was engaged by armored trains between Naboomspruit and Potgieter's Rust on Monday night, while attempting to cross the line to the eastward. The Boers were shelled until his men were scattered.

BRITISH DOING WELL. Durban, Oct. 15.—A telegram from Harrismith states that the British columns are continuing to do good work in the northeastern districts of Orange Colony. The Reitz district is receiving a great deal of attention, as being the disturbing center of the Boers, and still the headquarters of ex-President Steyn. The British force last week paid another surprise visit to the town where Steyn had such a narrow escape from capture a few months ago. Another good "bag" was secured. Among 22 Boers who were captured was one Pierre de Villiers, whose capture is of particular interest to loyalists. De Villiers was always the greatest enemy of the British residents of Reitz, and had attempted to force many of them to take up arms on behalf of the Boers. On one occasion he arraigned more than 50 of them refusing to do so. De Villier's arrest has occasioned the greatest and widespread satisfaction.

SHOCKING TREATMENT.

Cape Town, Oct. 15 .- J. Botha, member of the Legislative Assembly has arrived here from Aliwal North. He and his brother were made prisoners on J. Botha's farm at Klipfontein by Fouchee's commando on June They were both maltreated, and Mr. Botha's brother was sjamboked after being compelled to walk a long They were court-martialed at Boesjeslaagte, on the charge of high treason, and were found guilty.

J. Botha was fined £150, and his brother George was fined £50. They were liberated upon security for payment of the fines being given by Marais. of the fines being given by Marais. Commandant Fouchee promised to return and collect the fines. He revisited Clipfontein on Oct. 5, and sent armed men to Mr. Marais to demand £200. The latter failed to pay, and he was taken before Commandant Fouchee, who gave him five hours to settle the amount, failing which he has reappeared in his old character of a social reformer. Last night he devoted himself in his address to the Birmingham Temperance Society, to showing that it is not by coercive leg-islation that drunkenness can be put down, but by the gradual improve-ment of the physical and moral condiabstainers in Great Britain at this moment, which is proof positive that the leaven of moral suasion is working ra-of public houses, and suggested that the sale of intoxicants by grocers and clubs should be subject to the approval of the licensing authorities. No scheme of reform which assumed the possibili-ty of confiscating the interests of publicans would, he asserted, with the emphasis of conviction, ever be tolerated by public opinion. The speech is well received by this morning's papers.

THE FAMOUS BOSTONIANS Seats are selling briskly for the engagement of that popular light opera company, "The Bostonians," who re-appear here tonight at the New Grand, presenting their great success, "The Serenade," by Victor Herbert and Harry B. Smith. This opera has enjoyed a long run in New York, and will be presented here with all the gorgeous scenic accessories that marked its metropolitan production.

The opera is said to be in Herbert's best vein, and will no doubt please all classes of music lovers, as it is replete with the same graceful melody that is noted in other successes written for this company. In addition to all the old favorites, Barnabee, MacDonald, Frothingham, Bartlett and others, a sensation is promised in the appearance of a distirguished basso, Allan C.

Hinckley, a singer of wonderful magnetism and vocal ability. Mr. Hinckley is heard to admirable advantage in this opera, and is ably abetted by the beautiful young contralto, Adele ter, who is cleverly fitted in this new composition. Over sixty people will be employed in the production, and a special orchestra of twelve musicians under the direction of S. L. Studley, will be a marked feature. "THE SPAN OF LIFE." That highly realistic and successful fall into the hands of the slave-dealers, when three of her friends appear on the opposite side of the chasm. The smallest gets on the shoulders of the second, and he upon the shoulders of the third, and then this human tower, some fifteen or sixteen feet high, fling their interlocked bodies across the ravine, thus forming a living bridge, over which the heroine passes to safety. It is a marvelous feat, and no doubt the 'Span of Life" owes its longevity and success to this and its great lighthouse

"THELMA" TONIGHT. The seats are selling rapidly for the production of "Thelma" at the London Opera House tonight. This is the first opportunity given to local theater-goers of seeing this familiar novel dramatized and staged in first-class manner. The company carry a carload of scenery, made for this production alone, and it will be seen to advantage tonight. Mr. Aiden Benedict has surrounded Miss Olive West (who por-

THE AMERICAN GIRL. Nearly every theatrical season seems destined to bring playgoers something new from the pen of that versatile au-thor and newspaper man, H. Grattan Donnelly. He has given the public farce-comedy, melodrama, and comic opera, all of which have been well received. His last success, "The American Girl," which will be seen here next Saturday, matinee and night, is entirely different from his other pieces. It is a pretty story, with enough plot, comedy and sentment to furnish a pleasant evening's entertainment. Mr. nelly has introduced as important features of the play two clever children, who are known as Prince Roy and The Little Lady. They make themselves great favorites with the audience by their sweet and winsome ways. The production is one that pleases all, from the gallery to the orchestra chairs, and should prove a strong drawing card at he would highly value, and then he marked: "The Dominion has boldly hed forward a system of liberal and comprehensive education. Considering the enormous area comprised within its limits, it was a wise and far seeing policy to establish many centers of learning, and so to place within easy reach of all the means of acquiring that higher education and culture, which universities alone can furnish. I am glad to learn that our university is carrying on most successfully its share in this beneficent work." He said he would always follow with interest the future of Queen's and the career of its students. He planted an elm tree in front of the arts building and carried off a handsome silver trowel. At the college the little daughter of Dr. Garratt presented her royal highness with a large bouquet of red roses. At the Royal Military College the duke was delighted with the gymnastic displays, declared they were good, and when the human pyramid was formed he clapped, and exclaimed:

"Fine; that's fine!" He and the duchess inspected the dormatories and col-

GOOD-BYE TO KINGSTON.

When the steamer Kingston left port his royal highness stood on the bridge of the steamer with Mr. Gilders and Capt. Esford. It was a quarter to two o'clock when the ropes of the Kingston were hauled in. The whistle blew a shrill blast, and as the big steamer swung slowly out from the wharf, the cannon from Point Frederick boomed out a royal salute, the multitudes of people on the wharves cheered lustily, and the whistles of every steamer along the harbor front sounded a farewell blast. The steamer proceeded slowly down the harbor, giving their royal highnesses time to get a good view of the the harbor, giving their royal high-nesses time to get a good view of the city, the Martello towers, the fort and the surrounding places of interest. At two o'clock the steamer disappeared from view around Point Frederick.

A MEMORABLE MOMENT. It was a memorable moment for Principal Grant when the heir to the throne of Britain and the English princess entered the general hospital where he lay ill, propped up in bed to give him their greeting and to express their hope that he would soon recover his health and strength. Their royal highnesses conversed a few moments with the principal, and the duke were about to take their departure, Principal Grant, with a broad smile, informed their royal highnesses that, as they had been graciously pleased to pay him a visit, he would return it at some future period, and both the duke and the duchess had a hearty laugh, and hoped to see the principal in the home land some day. There are clerks and deputies, sheriff and deputy sheriff, caretakers, a matron, court criers, everything in fact that would be looked for in an up-to-date city. Truly a remarkable showing for only four years. Whether the Klondike will ever become a place of permanent residence remains yet to be seen. No doubt, so long as gold forms an attraction, those northern regions will be frequented by a floating population. The less adventurous spirit will find a more congenial atmosphere further south in our Canadian Northwest.

Railway Rates Here and in Great Britain.

While there has been a good deal of criticism of railway companies' charges for carrying freight on this side of the Atlantic, it is interesting to note that in Great Britain they are explaining the growing competition of manufacturers in America with those of that country on the score of the difference in freight rates. This fact was strikingly exemplified by Mr. Lawrence, M.P., in a speech before the Newport Chamber of Commerce recently, when he presented some information that had come to him while on a visit to this continent. Mr. Schwab, the president of the Steel Trust, he averred, told him that his company could deliver steel billets in England at $16 50 a ton, while the lowest price at which English steel makers could deliver was $17. The $16 50 included $5 for ocean freight, but Mr. Schwab said that when they had perfeoted their transport arrangements

tinent, Mr. Lawrence said, greatly contributed to the growing manufacturing supremacy of North America. Iron ore, it was found, was carried 156 miles for 53 cents per gross ton, or nearly onethird of a cent per ton per mile, and are this rate is represented as very profitable to the railways. The cost of carriage from Pittsburg to New York, 450 miles, is less than from Liverpool to Birmingham, one-fourth of the distance. Indeed, we are told by dealers at Liverpool that it is more profitable | brown. to send goods intended for the British metropolis to a port on this side of the Atlantic, and have it shipped back to country than elsewhere in the world." Among the most prominent political movements of the continent at present mayoralty elections, to a large extent, along party lines. The great Democratic party has become synonymous with Tammany Hall, the leading spirit of which is Richard Croker, an opportunist of a most pronounced type. The Democratic party is virtually Richard Croker. He nominates the candidate himself, with an eye solely to his own interests. He makes no secret of his attitude towards municipal politics. He is a politician for what he can get out

Four years ago the Republicans, Democrats and Citizens' Union, each had a candidate in the field. The Democratic candidate was elected by a majority of 82,000 over Seth Low, the Citizens' Union candidate, who stood next on the list. The combined vote polled for the Republican and Citizens' Union candidates was 20,000 more than that polled for the Democratic candidate. This year the Republican and resigned his position as president of Columbia University. Mr. Low is, per se, a very strong man, and with such a combined following ought to stand a combined following ought to stand Reeve. The subject of the president's a good chance at the polls. In their address was "Some New Testament attempts to counteract this, the Crok- Principles of Life and Service." erites have chosen Edward M. Shepard, of Brooklyn, for mayor. Mr. Shepard has the reputation of being a ference would be very beneficial, particularly strong man, pledged to political ideals of no mean order. In the last election he supported Mr. Low. He said at the time: "I shall support Seth Low for mayor. I shall support him with thorough enthusiasm. Every Democrat who thinks that the mayor of New York ought to reference to mission work in India, be elected for New York and nothing else, should have no hesitation in sup-

In the coming election, Mr. Shepard is Mr. Low's opponent. He still adheres to his political ideals, and puts $36,149 93; deficit $5,481 99. #### Autumn Leaves.

The gorgeous coloring of the autumn foliage is a subject worthy of study and investigation. The mystery concerned in the formation of brilliantlytinted leaves has been confronted with a solution by Albert Woods, a physi-Regarding the coloring of the leaves Mr. Woods writes as follows:

"The color of a leaf is furnished by minute grains of pigment within its cells. What we see in the fresh leaf is not simple green, but a combination of many pigments, which when mixed appear as solid green. "Red is one of the color elements of fresh leaves. Reddish coloring matter is usually in liquid form, within the sap contained in the leaf cells. Yellow, another normal color element, when combined with green, is the natural shade

Brown is the normal color of the walls of the cell. "If an autumn leaf turns entirely red this tinting is due to the fact that only its red pigment is left. If it is yellow, all of the other coloring has been de stroyed, except the minute grains. If the leaf turns brown it can be safely diagnosed as dead. All living tints have disappeared, leaving only the brown walls of the cells. The brown leaf is a dingy ruin, within which every spark of life has been extinguishof the grains of pigment within each

Some botanists have attributed the cause of leaf coloration to frosts. Whether frosts constitute the whole cause is not so clear. It is certain, however, that light frosts greatly facilitate the | 158 to 173. tinting of the leaves. The colors are caused by oxidization of the color compounds in the leaf. Continuing Mr.

"Autumn leaves containing sugar, such as the maples, sumacs, gums, etc., easily oxidize, and thus form the rich reds, purples, and violets so beautiful

But if the frost should come early and the weather should be uneven in the fall we need not expect the true autumnal splendors. A heavy, sudden and early frost would kill all leaves alike and turn them to a monotonous

The secretary, Rev. J. G. The session adjourned with a review of the work in India and its present needs by Rev. J. R. Stillwell.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.

Toronto, Oct. 14.-The foreign mission committee of the Presbyterian Church met today in Knox Church and discussed important matters in connection with mission work. Among those present were: Dr. Mc-Laren, of Ottawa; Principal McVicar, of Montreal; Dr. Johnston, London; Prof. Baird, Winnipeg; Dr. Smith, Brantford; Dr. Glassford, Guelph, and Mr. Curry, Perth.

Considerable time was taken up with discussion of the situation in Honan and the recent Boxer trouble. A was read from Dr. Mccablegram Clure, of Honan, China, stating that the building, furniture and books were fairly well preserved at Chang Te. Dr. McClure states that the horizon is not yet clear, and there is a probability of further trouble before matters are finally settled. Dr. McClure, it was stated, had been to Pekin, presenting claims for losses. Although the subject has not yet been finally disposed of, encouragement has been received that the government intends dealing fairly with the missions. Rev. Jonathan Goforth, a returned missionary from the Chinese field, was called to give information to the committee as to the state of affairs. There is some doubt as to the advisability of sending out missionaries, and some thought that no good could be done

REMARRIAGE OF DIVORCED. San Francisco, Oct. 15 .- The House of Deputies of the Episcopal Church of America, sitting as a committee of the whole, adopted the proposed canon prohibiting the re-marriage of divorced persons for causes not arising previous to their former marriage. The canon was adopted as it came from the House of Bishops.

The amendment of Dr. Huntingdon, of New York, making an exception in the case of the innocent party of a divorce granted on the ground adultery, was rejected by a vote of The Dairy Contest Increasing in Interest.

Jerseys in the Lead-French-Cana dians Make the Most Marked Gains.

At the end of the 21st week, ending Sept. 25, the relative standing of the four leading dairy breeds is practically unchanged, as far as the total profit however, is becoming more interesting as the end draws near, and the past week has developed some unexpected features. The Guernseys as a herd are showing signs of weakening, and stand fourth for the week on profit for estimated butter. The Jerseys are again in the lead with a profit of 7.41; Ayrshires second with 7.36; Holsteins third, 7:28; Guernseys fourth, 7.26; Short-horns fifth, 6.51; and French-Canadians

The Guernsey cow, Medora Fern, is falling off badly in her milk, and seems to be going out of business, which is the principal cause of the setback of the Guernseys. It is doubtful if they can be overtaken by any other herd, even if Medora Fern dropped out of the race altogether, and if she drops down below the profit line before the contest is over, she will be fed very cheaply. This particular cow was purchased in New Jersey at a high price especially for this test, and she replaced another cow of less promise but which would probably have prov en much more profitable in the end. Nearly all the cows are doing well, and the increase of fat in the milk has been very marked during the past week in several of the breeds, and some of them have made more estimated butter than at any time during the past six weeks or two months. The Holsteins stand first for quantity of butter with 55.59 pounds to their credit, an increase over last week of 1.63 pounds; Jerseys second with 51.74 pounds, an increase over last week of 1.5 pounds; Shorthorns third with 30.84 pounds, an increase of 2.88 pounds; Ayrshires change; Brown Swiss seventh, 44.01 pounds, small increase; French-Can-Owing to the lateness of the train which carried the president, Dr. Bates, of Toronto, Rev. Taking the total production and the cost of feed since May 1, it will be found that the Guernseys have been the most economical producers, and below will be found the cost of producing a pound of butter and the value of butter produced from $1 invested in feed, the butter being valued at 25 cents per pound:

butter, May 1 $1 invested in feed. Guernsey ...... French-Canadian ...... Red Polled.....

It will be seen from the above table that the French-Canadians have produced their butter at practically the same cost all through the term, and it now looks as if they are persistent producers, and four of them are doing better now than they have done since the beginning of August. The fifth cow, La Bouchette, is far gone in calf, and gives less than 15 pounds of milk per day. It has again been demonstrated that a temperature of from 65 to 70 degrees is the most conducive to a good flow of milk. A temperature at 70 degrees seems about right to enthe cows to maintain a comfortable bodily temperature, and the flies are less active and troublesome than they are at a higher temperature. A cool atmosphere also gives the cows greater digestive vigor, and they seem to assimilate their food to better ad-The question of variation in a cow's milk from milking to milking is an interesting one. The fact has been very prominently brought out by these tests, that the higher the nervous system of a cow is developed, the greater will be the variation of the fat con-tents of the milk. Tests have been made to prove or disprove the correctness of the composite sample test where a sample of each milking is added to the composite sample bottle, and a test made from the accumulated milk at the end of a stated period. The total milk for the period is multiplied by the test, and the product represents the amount of fat contained in the milk for that period. The results show that a cow's milk is never constant in the amount of fat it contains, and it may be up one week and down the next, without any apparent cause, but which many factory patrons refuse to believe

The following is the amount of total solids produced by each herd up to Oct. 1: Holsteins, 4,030.67; Ayrshires, 3,591.23; Shorthorns, 3,530.07; Brown Swiss, 3,-

SURGICAL HISTORY OF McKINLEY'S CASE.

Report Presented at Semi-Annual Meeting of New York Medical Society.

New York, Oct. 15.-Physicians and surgeons from all parts of the state and some medical experts from other parts of the country gathered today for the semi-annual meeting of the Medical Society of the State of New York.

The physicians and surgeons who attended President McKinley through the closing days of his life, presented a lengthy report covering the medical and surgical history of the case of the martyred statesman. It was signed by Mr. Matthew D. Mann, Herman Mynter, Eugene Wasdin, Charles G. Stockton, P. M. Pixley, Roswell Park and Charles McBurney, and was read by Dr. Mann.

Dr. Mann did not mention the operation, omitting that altogether. He described the president's symptoms and treatment from day to day, going into the fullest details. In speaking of the bulletins issued, Dr. Mann said that every one of them was absolutely true. He told of the progress of the patient until the unfavorable turn of the seventh day. Dr. Mann said that there was absolutely no bacteriological infection. Continuing, he said: "If you ask me what caused the president's death I could not tell you. I doubt if that will ever be discovered. Amongst contributing causes, however, were the president's age, his lack of exercise, and his naturally weak heart, which made his pulse high." Dr. Mann was asked by one of the listening medical men why the X-ray was not applied, so that the missing bullet might be located. Dr. Mann replied that there was nothing in the condition of the patient to show that the bullet was doing any harm, and he said that if the X-ray had been used it would only have been to satisfy the curiosity of the physicians, and the excitement attending the operation would have been harmful to the pa-tient, so the doctors refrained from using the X-ray apparatus. Dr. Mann went on to say that at no time whatever had there been the slightest disagreement among the physicians. He said he had never known such complete harmony among physicians in attendance on a single patient.

Dr. Mann did not say anything of the autopsy, but he described the technical treatment of the president daily. A vote of thanks was accorded Dr. Mann by the society. Dr. Herman Mynter, a colleague of Dr. Mann, corroborated all Dr. Mann said. He spoke on the fine traits of the president and of the remarkable exhibition of patience Mr. McKinley Dr. Mynter spoke very feelingly of had displayed. the Christian charity of President Mc that the president's manner of bearing his trials was so impressive that there was not one of the nurses who would not have gladly taken his place. AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.-Speculation started CHICAGO. Oct. 15.—Speculation started out today with bullish tendencies, but the markets turned dull, and December wheat closed ½c lower, December corn a shade higher, and December oats a shade higher; provisions closed 2½c to 5c to 7½c lower. Local receipts of wheat were 243 cars, none of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 801 cars; making a total for the three points of 1,044 cars, against 930 a year ago. Primary receipts were the same as a year ago, 1,051,090 bu. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 448,000 bu. The seaboard reported 29 loads taken for export. Bradstreet's reported the world's visible increase at 1,157,000 bu. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 145 cars; corn, 170 cars; oats, 136 cars; hogs, 32,000 head.

The leading futures closed: Wheat—No.

$7. only one lot being taken at the latter price, which was considered too high; the bulk of export grade sold at $650. Hay—Receipts were quite light and prices gained at least 50c per ton; all good loads were selling at $850 at the close.

Dressed Hogs—Made a decline of fully 75c during the week, the close being $8 to $825 for light and choice, and $750 for heavy young fats; $5 to $650 for sows; the supply is increasing and with the heavier consumption of poultry and colder weather packers' immediate sales are not so heavy; consequently prices are lower. Live hogs also are easier.

England the Gainer.

"England is the only country in Europe which is looking on the European tariff war unconcernedly," says Robert P. Porter in the New York Com-mercial Advertiser. "She is on a bedrock of economic security, and while she has lost some industries she is building up others. She had actually reached a period where her persistently consistent policy has taken a turn for the better. Free trade fits her in the same way as protection fits us. The result is, as I have pointed out, that many new industries are springing up on her soil for the simple reason that as a free trade country she has benefits to offer which other countries lack, and is thus the natural distributing center of Europe. "Twenty years ago when I was sent over to England to investigate conditions there I found that English factories were establishing branches in America. Now the proposition is reversed. Now we are building factories in England. To be sure, this shows that instead of being economic infants we are ahead of the game, but it also shows that England is profiting by her policy in a way never dreamed

Comfortable divorce canons FINALLY SHELVED

By Episcopalian House of Deputies—Had Been Approved in Committee of the Whole-For Three Years Dropped.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—The troublesome question of marriage and divorce was set at rest for another three years was set at rest for another three years yesterday by the action of the house of deputies of the triennial Episcopal convention in rejecting both of the proposed canons on the subject which were passed by the house of bishops.

The greatest fight of the convention has been over section 4, of canon 36, virtually forbidding the re-marriage of a divorced person by a priest of the church. This had passed the house of bishops and been adopted by a yea and nay vote in committee of the whole by the house of deputies.

When the committee rose and ported its work to the house, a decisive vote was taken, not only on the entire canon, which was rejected as a whole. Canon 37, which provides for the disciplining of persons marrying again after being divorced, met with a similar fate.

The house of deputies passed an amendment to article 10 of the constitution, permitting the modified forms of worship which, in spirit, is similar to the famous Huntington amendment, recently defeated. The amendment, though credited to Dr. McKim. of Washington, was in reality presented to the convention three years ago by Dr. Huntington. The bishops have yet to act before the amendment can become part of the constitution.

Both houses appointed members of a standing committee on capital and labor, which is to investigate the subject with a view to the peaceful settle-ment of disputes between employers and workingmen and report to each general convention.

VAULX'S VOYAGE!

The Enterprising Aeronaut Remained 41 Hours in the Air-Problem of Maintaining Stability Solved.

Paris, Oct. 16.-Count de La Vaulx in an interview published today says that while he failed to cross the Mediterranean he succeeded in breaking all ballooning records, as he tremained in the air more than forty-one hours, during which time he succeeded in keeping the balloon from two to four metres above the level of the sea, thus solving the problem of maintaining stability.

He says he could have remained up for forty-eight hours, but would have been driven ashore. He threw out ballast only once a day, and this was at sunset, to compensate for the loss of gas. With the deviator he was able to deviate thirty degrees from the course of the wind, and occasionally the deviation was as much as fortyfive degrees. He attributes his failure to the weather, the violence of the wind and the bad quality of the gas

No striking incident seems to have taken place during the trip. The count succeeded in getting his balloon

LATE SPORTING.

BANQUETED SIR THOMAS. Chicago, Oct. 16.-At the Chicago Athletic Club last evening a banquet was given in honor of Sir Thomas Lipton, and he was also made the recipient of a massive silver loving cup presented by his friends in Chicago. For an hour prior to the commencement of the banquet Sir Thomas held a reception in the parlors of the club house and exchanged greetings with hundreds of men prominent in business and professional circles who called to pay their respects to the owner of the Shamrock. The rooms were hung with flags of the international signal code, and many American and British emblems intertwined. Over the head of the guest of the evening, as he stood exchanging good wishes with the long line of men who called to meet him, was hung an enormous yellow flag, in the center of thich was a huge green shamrock. The reception was over at 7 o'clock and the banquet commenced a few minutes after that hour. The decorations of the banquet hall were of a strictly nautical description, entwined vith smilax, laurel and evergreens. A model of the Shamrock II. complete, with all sails set, was presented in front of Sir Thomas. When the time for making addresses had arrived the president, J. K. Armsby, made a brief speech of welcome, and then in the name of the club presented the loving-cup to Sir Thomas. The presentation was made the occasion of a great demonstration by the guests, they rising to their feet and cheering Sir Thomas again and again. Sir Thomas replied in a brief speech of thanks for the honors that had been shown him in Chicago, and alluded feelingly to the many kind messages he had received from all parts of the country since he arrived for the yacht

The other addresses of the evening were: "Athletics and the Nation," Herbert S.Duncombe; "The Modern Knight in Sport," Alexander H. Revell; "The Shamrock," William J. Hynes; "The Real Alliance," George R. Peck. Sir Thomas will remain in the city for the balance of the week, and many races.

FOR MANSLAUGHTER!

Butler County (Ohio) Faith Curist in Seriaus Trouble.

Hamilton; Ohio, Oct. 16.-The Butler county grand jury reported indict-ments for manslaughter against Sylva Bishop and his wife, Leota, faith curists. Last July their 3-year-old child Esther, was terribly burned by a gasoline explosion and the Bishops refused to call a doctor. They sur-rounded the child's bedside, offering prayers for recovery. Coroner Sharkey, in his verdict, said that medical attention would have saved the girl's life.

A second indictment for criminal neglect was returned against the father. The report of D. C. Breidenbach, who made an examination of the stomach soon after death. Dr. Briedenbach reported the presence of copperas, but Prof. Howard did not substantiate this feature.

NEWFOUNDLAND

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Objections to Bond-Blaine Convention.

London, Oct. 16.—According to dispatches published today by the Daily Mail, a crisis is imminent in Newfoundland unless the British Government pays more attention to the demands of the colony than has hitherto been the case. A long special from St. John's says: "Since Mr. Bond, the premier left England last April, he has not received a single word from the imperial government regarding a settlement of the French shore question, nor has Mr. Chamberlain answered the dispatch rom the Newfoundland Government sent five months ago, urging the imperial authorities to persuade Sir Wilfrid Laurier to agree to a ratification of the Bond-Blaine convention."

The dispatch gives the details of the recent Bond-Laurier conference, sserts that the Dominion premier based his refusal to agree to ratification on the ground that the joint high commission had discussed the matter, and that, all being well, the commission would discuss it again.

ELEVATORS DROPPED!

A Number of Passengers Got a Shaking Up at Toronto,

Toronto, Oct. 16.—James Smith, of 543 HIGHLY CREDITABLE ronto Lithographing Company, was on the elevator of that company's establishment yesterday morning, when it dropped four storeys. He was seriously shaken up, but no bones were broken. He was removed to the Emergency Hospital where he is at present resting easily.

The western elevator in the Temple Building went wrong last night a little after 10 o'clock, and dropped when about fifteen feet from the bottom of the shaft. A number of gentlemen, who had been attending the Grey County Old Boys' meeting, among whom were Dr. Wilmott, Wm. Robson, Jackson L. Little, Dr. Frawley, and Findlay Chisholm, were descending in the car at the time. Conductor John Morgan was in charge of the car. The automatic grips on the sides of the car prevented it from falling very rapidly, and nobody was worse off than a shaking up. Two of the large steel cables which supported the car broke and came down on top of the cage after it had reached the bottom.

MILITIAMEN KICK. Ottawa, Oct. 16.—There is a big kick among militiamen regarding their treatment by Toronto caterers. Some of the soldiers say that their meals were dumped on unwashed plates, which others had used. The officers say they were scarcely less shabbily treated than were the men. They paid 50 cents a meal for half-cooked fare and the slowest possible service. ANNEXATION OF NEWFOUND-LAND.

Halifax, Oct. 16.—"Confederation with Canada is not a live question in Newfoundland at present," declared Hon. W. H. Harwood, attorney-general of the ancient colony, to a correspondent at Sydney today. Mr. Harwood further declared that a number of the supporters of the Bond Government were confederates, while others were non-confederates. Consequently there was little chance of an election with confederation as an issue. Apart from a little newspaper talk the question was rarely discussed.

Sparrows Saved Their Baby A dog in Binghamton, N. Y., tried to eat a young sparrow one day last week, but discovered at the last minute that there were several reasons why he should not do so. The main reason was that the bird's father and mother would not let him. Nibs-that is the dog's name—is a fighter of re-nown, but he met his equal in the Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 16.—The showing sparrows He was walking down the of Canadian live stock at the Pan- street looking for a dog to fight, when he spied the sparrow, and, having nothing better to do, started after it.

bird was just learning to fly, The department of agriculture has and, of course, was no match for the Just as Nibs was about to land his forepaws on the bird the father and mother sparrows, who had vatching their baby from a neighboring corner, appeared. They were not a bit afraid of the dog, because their baby's life was in the balance. Flying at his head, they beat his eyes with their wings and called the danger signal with all their might. Surprised at the suddenness of this > at the parents. It was not a moment however, before he again began his attack on the baby. At that moment down from the trees at the side of the street flew a great flock of sparrows which had gathered straight for the dog's head and screamed and pecked at him until he was overcome with fear. He fought bravely for a time, but finally gave up, and, curling his tail between his

Last night at the police station the inquest on the death of the late Wm. Birkett was concluded. The witnesses examined were George F. Logan, fireman with Ross; John McLarty, engineer; Edward Dibb, brakeman, and Wm. Hoare, fireman on the Stratford train; John C. Elliot, a passenger, and Frank Sharman, the mail clerk. The evidence largely corroborated that given at the Monday night's session. The additional fact was brought out that when backing down, there was a red light on the tender of Ross' en-gine, while the regulations called for the use of a white light. The evidence was concluded at midnight, and the jury took two hours to reach a verdict. It was to the ef-fect that Conductor Birkett violated a rule of the Grand Trunk by stepping from a moving train at the East London station the night he met his death. The jury also reached conclusion that George Ross, driver of the engine which struck Birkett, broke one of the rules by having a red, instead of a white, light on the rear end of the tender when backing down the yard; and the jury further declared that Ross was to blame for failing to stop his engine when he saw the passenger train so near to UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY. Toronto, Ont., Oct. 16.-At an adjourned meeting of the Upper Canada Bible Society board of directors last evening, Rev. Dr. Potts in the chair, Mr. N. W. Hoyles, K.C., was unanimously elected president of the society in place of the late esteemed Hon. G. W. Allan, who held that position for 42 successive years. Four colporteurs reported the circulation of 625 copies of the Scriptures in Muskoka, Algoma, Manitoba and the Northwest Territories during the month of September. Two bequests were reported in aid of the work of the society. Grants of Bibles in different languages were made for use in prisons, the Boys' Home and a Jewish mission for a district in British Columbia where 500 men of different nationalities are temporarily located.

LENGTH OF LIFE INCREASING!

Finding of the Coroner's Jury in the Case The Advance in the Average Lifetime Limit Due to Improved Sanitary Surroundings.

> [Cyrus Edson, M.D., The government bulletin showing that the length of life in the United States is materially increasing will be taken as a matter of course by all observing persons. It would be tonishing if it were otherwise. The great gain is in the lower death rate among infants, among children under five. The death rate among this class is very much lower than it was before, and by before I mean twentyfive years ago. The improvement within that period has been nothing short of marvelous. Children under the age of five are peculiarly susceptible to bad sanitary conditions, and it is along the lines of sanitation that we have made the greatest improvement in the period I speak of.

Adults live longer now that they used to because the conditions all about are constantly improving. The surroundings in every dwelling-place are better than they were, and, what is quite as important, the opportunities for getting good food are very much better. There is more money in circulation, people are more prosperous, and they are putting into their stomachs a higher grade of food than was the case twenty-five years ago. The question of diet has received very close attention, and on all sides new and neurishing foods have been put on the market at a very low price. The increase of knowledge, general knowledge, among the masses has to do directly with the greater longevity.

People in the ordinary walks of life who formerly knew nothing and cared less about hygiene, are well informed now through the great spread of practical knowledge by means of newspapers and periodicals. The reresult in that our people realize and recognize at once dangers to health and well-being that formerly had no existence for them. They see the pit-falls almost as readily as the most expert, and avoid them. Twenty years ago one of the most prolific sources of sickness was polluted water, the use of which was almost general. On the farms you would find almost invariably that the well and the cesspool were so close together that the water was of necessity deleteriously affected. Most people could not believe that so long as water was clean orator, and frequently applauded him. and sparkling it could carry contagtimes the most dangerous water is the best looking. The result of this is that typhoid, which was so common fifteen the state of the s fifteen years ago, has been very largely put under control. We have learned many other lessons in the past few years that help us to prolong life by avoiding fatal diseases. We know that contagion is carried by insects. We have learned the danger of promiscuous spitting and everywhere the health boards are having laws passed against it. We have learned the value of cleanliness. Among the masses, ten people bathe regularly now where one did a dozen who is 70 years old, but spry, jumped on the box and struck the orator a value of cleanliness in our food. We blow between the eyes which knocked realize the danger of keeping our suphim off the box. He followed this with plies in dirty ice-boxes, where food is several more blows, which reached readily decomposed. We have learned

A feature that has materially decreased the death rate is the more rational system of amusement has come in within the last fifteen or twenty years. People have learned the danger of over-working and under playing; they go more to the theater and other places where they can relax their minds. They take vacations during some part of the hot months; they live out of doors as much as possible. Golfing, bicycling and other out-of-door sports have come in, to the great advantage both of our minds and bodies.

Cities, large and small, have learned to keep their streets clean, and clean streets have a direct bearing John Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. John Far- on the death rate. disposal. In my opinion the future will show even a greater improvement, relatively, in the death rate than the past. have learned rapidly, but are only at the beginning. We have not yet begun to reap the full benefit of the knowledge we have already absorbed. There is reason to believe that within a comparatively short time the great body of our people will live to be 100.

Literature.

The Atlantic Monthly, always first and foremost to come to the front in any great national emergency, stopped its presses, and postponed its publication to pay a brief but well-deserved tribute to the latest-and it is to be hoped, the last-presidential martyr, Wm.McKinley. The glowing words and sympathetic tribute of The Atlantic will sink deep into the heart of every true American man and woman.

The New Internal Bath, an Improved method of Flushing the Colon, and Giving Enemas for Acute and Chronic Diseases, my Laura W. Wright, M.D., illustrated, 56 pages, 25 cents., New York. The Health Culture Company, publishers, 483 Fifth avenue. It is claimed that "cleanliness is next to Godliness," but it has been considered that this applied only to external conditions. The writer of this emphasizes the importance of internal cleanliness of the body, and shows quite conclusively that there may be an accumulation of waste matter in the system, proving very poisonous and much more injurious than any that could possibly be found on the outer surface, and a new method of place of purgatives and pills, so often resorted to and so likely to leave bad after effects. In this new health manual it is shown that by this system of irrigation, the poisonous matter may be drawn off from the system, sickness averted and health restored, in many cases that might become or have become chronic. The plan of carrying the cleansing fluid well up into the colon, instead of its discharge at the rectum, is one that appeals to the reader as being sensible, and likely to result in all that is claimed for it. All who have used syringes of any kind for flushing the colon will be interested in this new method. THE HAMLET OF EDWIN BOOTH.

Through his Hamlet, Edwin Booth made, upon the whole, his deepest and surest impression, says Henry A. Clapp, in the October Atlantic. In his performance of the part, there was retained to the last, consciously and deliberately, more of the old-fashioned formality and precision of style than he permitted himself in other imper-sonations, and the effect was sometimes that of artifice. But Mr. Booth elected to represent Hamlet in a style far less familiar and far more remote from ordinary life than he used for any other character in his large repertory. It was not that his Hamlet was all in one key; that its moods were not many and diverse; that the actor did not finely discriminate tween the son the prince, the courtier. the friend, the lover, the artist, and The contrary was true the wit. was as full of delicate and just differences as one could wish. But, through its prevailing quality, made constantly prominent by the tragedian's methods certain definite and necessary results were reached. Hamlet differs from Shakespeare's other tragic heroes both in his supernatural experience and in his unique spiritual constitution. . . . To Hamlet, by the conditions of his life and his soul, is given the largest Edwin Booth and Hamlet the Dane, which is to abide as long as the man and his art and his life are remembered. In his largeness and sweetness, his rare delicacy and sensibility, he was nobly human to the core, after the pattern of the most human of all the creations of the poet. Like the melancholy prince, he was required to drink the bitter water of affliction, and to hold his peace when his heart was almost breaking; and, in its extraordinary depth and reserve, his soul. even as Hamlet's and as Milton's, 'Was like a star and dwelt apart."

Tolstoi asked me. we did not allow creeds to be taught in public schools. He asked me to excleansing is introduced to take the plain the public schools of America, which I did. "Oh, that is grand," he cried, "knowledge, true science for every child." Still, he said he under the impression that we taught Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist, as well as the Catholic; they must teach the church beliefs somewhere." I said that in the parochial Catholic schools I understood there was a certain amount of the creed taught. your home, your mothers, your teachers, somebody, somewhere, teaches a great deal of church belief." I replied that some parts of the Bible, like the Sermon on the Mount and the Lord's Prayer, were read in our

When said that some parents are so afraid to wrong the child's intellectual free dom that they do not teach the child any religion at all, just hoping it will grow up and be converted. He said: 'Ah, that is fatal; religion, God, mortality, the divine, sublime. It wrongs the child for a parent to withhold strong definite teachings there. It was altogether an eventful ball that charity ball at the County Family Hotel—eventful, that is, in its results. Lord Hammond said very little indeed to the beautiful Miss Westerfield. He found that, once fairly launched in conversation, she had opinions of her own. She seemed to prefer Italy to England; she had spent most of her life there, she said; but now she was to return to the family seat in Yorkshire, with her mother said; but now she was to return to the lamily seat in Yorkshire, with her mother and her uncle, for two years. It was necessary, she said, that the estate should be looked after—landowners had enormous responsibilities.

Lord Hammond had never troubled himself about his responsibilities at all. The young lady did not say what the name of the family estate was, nor if it belonged to her uncle, nor if she were the heiress to it. Lord Hammond could not have pur a question to her for the

for the guests. Lord Hammond saw his new divinity bow and retire within the precincts of the hotel with her mother and her uncle; then he had to go and look after his mother. He was thoroughly humbled by his new love-dream; he felt upid a clown, so to speak—a foxhumbar, titled clown, unworthy of the

One of the Miss Littlewoods offered to do this. Pauline, as we have said, had contrived to make herself agreeable to all the lady visitors, and these young ladies liked her, pitied her, were not jealous of her.

So Amelia Littlewood passed the night in the hotel, the landlady supplying her with all necessaries. Early in the morn-ing a maid was to be sent from Charteris in a carriage to the hotel, bringing m ing toilettes and all other things that the ing tollettes and different ladies required. Pauline had not slept till the morning, then she dropped off into the most uneasy slumber, troubled with grotesque dreams. She did not awake till long after noon. Amelia Littlewood, strong, young, and active, had slept well. Awakened before nine, she had rung to ask if the maid and the changes of apparel had arrived, and then, finding that they had, she had arisen, dressed, and breakfasted with all dispatch. Afterwards she had with all dispatch. Afterwards she had gone into the luxurious little warm drawing-room where there was a piano, and she had played a noisy fantasia, and rattled through some loud fast galops. After that she had rung and inquired of the maid if Miss Bracegirdle were awake. Finding that she was, and was breakfasting in her room, Miss Amelia Little-wood found her way there, and was welcomed by Pauline, who sat up in bed wrapped in a rose-colored dressinggown, but its bright tint gave no color to her face; she was ghastly pale, and seemed unable to eat the dainty breakfast provided for her.

In reality Pauline was in horrible fear dispatch. Afterwards she had

It had been while weeping in this dreary fashion that the unhapppy lady had borrowed from Elsie the hundred and odd francs that remained to her of the loan of the good countess. As it was, Mrs, Bracegirdle looked at Elsie and threw out her hands.

"Clara tells me," she sobbed, "that the rent of this department is overdue: 12 tomorrow is the latest time the landlord will give. A NEW SECRETARY-TREASURER. Toronto, Oct. 16.-At a meeting of Ontario Curling Association yester-day afternoon, Jas. A. MacFadden was elected secretary-treasurer in succession to J. S. Russell, who held the position for a quarter of a century.

GOLF.

ON THE MONTREAL LINKS. Montreal, Oct. 16.—When play was finished for the day on the golf links last evening the championship had narrowed down to four players who will finish tomorrow. The following were yesterday's results: Miss Marwere yesterday's results: Miss Marter, Montreal, defeated Mrs. Dick, Toronto, by 1 hole; Miss Young, Montreal, defeated Mrs. Macpherson 6 up and 5 to play; Miss Green, Montreal, defeated Miss Linton, Montreal, by 1 hole; Miss Thomson, St. John, N. B., defeated Mrs. Phepoe, Hamilton, 7 up and 6 to play. The players who made and 6 to play. The players who made the second best eight scores in the qualifying round were pitted against each other for the handicap prizes.
The result of this series was a follows:
Miss Hope, Sewell, Quebec, defeated
Miss Maud Sewell, Quebec, 5 up and 3 to play; Miss Gormally, Ottawa, defeated Mrs. Fayette Brown, Montreal, 5 up and 4 to play; Miss Butler, To-ronto, defeated Miss Davidson, Montreal, by 1 hole.

Mrs. Dick, Toronto, defeated, Mrs.

Bolton, Toronto, by 6 up and 5 to play. In view of the large number of entries an extra consolation series was arranged for the players who made the third best eight scores.

TURF.

A MATCHED RACE. Brockville, Ont., Oct. 16.—Paquette's (Montreal) Jewell and Wendeling's (Brockville) Deveras trotted a matched race for $250 a side on the Brock-ville Driving Park course yesterday. The weather was fine, but the track was heavy. Jewell began to labor hard in the third heat. Deveras won the first heat. The second was a dead heat. Deveras had his own way in the next two heats. Time, 2:2114, 2:25, 2:29 and 2:211/4.

THE $10,000 LOUISVILLE PRIZE. Lexington, Ky., Oct. 16.—Peter Stirling won the $10.000 Louisville prize yesterday without a touch of the whip, and holding his gait like a piece of superb machinery. The winner of last Tuesday's $16,000 Futurity passed under the wire first in each heat with length to spare. The Baron More colt was favorite in the first and $50 to the field $9 in the second heat, Onward Silver, winner of the Transylvania, and Dolly Dillon had their second bitter struggle of the meeting in the $4,000 McDowell stakes. Charles Marvin, the veteran of the trotting turf, captured the Walnut Hall farm cup, $3,000, with Captor. The record time for the fix-ture, 2:11½, was twice lowered, 2:10¾ being the time in the first heat and 2:09¾ in the third. The track was

Who Sounded the Charge at Paardeberg Relates His Experience With "FOOT ELM."

The name of Bugler Williams will go down to history as the bugler boy who sounded the charge at the famous battle of Paardeberg, when Cronje and his men were rounded up and forced to surrender. The Cana-

No. 10, Stewart St., Messrs. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont. Dear Sirs,-I accompanied the first Canadian contingent to South Africa in the capacity of bugler, and had the honor of sounding the charge at Paardeberg.

Although I had none of the severe fighting to do, still I had to march with my regiment, and I can assure you that tramping over the burning sands of the South African veldt soon uses up one's feet.

I was fortunate, however, in having with me a box of "Foot Elm" which I used freely in my shoes, and it prevented the blistering, chafing, swelling and soreness of the feet, which was so common among the boys who were no so fortunate as to have that excellent foot remedy.

I can assure you that "Foot Elm" was highly prized, not only by myself, but by every one who used it. and I have heard many members of the contingent express their high appreciation of the invaluable aid it was to them in preserving their feet on their long marches. Yours truly,

D. F. Williams.
Always ask for "Foot Elm" and refuse substitutes and imitations, chased by G. Fober, for 21,000 guineas, the record price for a 2-year-old. Hamilton will have an ice meeting the coming winter with purses much larger than usual. ### JOTTINGS FROM NEAR-BY PLACES

Lucan, Oct. 15 .- The annual paroch-Trinity Church, Lucan, were held on Sunday last. The day was of double thanksgiving, it was the first occasion on which the rector, Rev. H. A. Thomas, was able to take duty since his recent proctracted illness. Willing and skillful hands had adorned the edifice with grains and fruits and flowers in a beautiful and chaste style, highly appropriate to the event. The choir, reinforced by the kind friends from the choirs of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches, led the service of praise. Especially worthy of commendation was the number in the evening, sung by a quartet, consisting of Mesdames Webb, and Shipley and Messrs. Doup and Stewart. The Rev. John Berry, M.A., B.D., T.C.D., rector of Parkhill, preached very forceful and suitable sermons, that of the morning being based upon Revelation xiv., 14-16—"The Son of Man Reaping the Harvest of the Earth." The evening sermon was from Psalms exlv., 10-'All Thy Works Shall Praise Thee. O Lord; and Thy Saints Shall Bless Thee." Both sermons were listened to with great profit by congregations which crowded the church. The freewill offerings amounted to a considerable sum, which will be further increased by those of members unavoid-come was read to the royal visitors by the mayor. The Indian chiefs of the Muncey nation also presented an address. After the presentation of the addresses the duke presented colors to the Seventh Fusiliers. The duchess was presented with a magnificent bouquet of roses by two little girls, who were most graciously received by her royal highness. The whole pro-ceedings lasted a little over an hour, but London's welcome will go down as one of the most picturesque in the whole Canadian tour. The pavilion for the reception of the royal guests was in the center of the park, with the maple trees clothed in their glorious autumnal tint. But through this greenery peered thousands of eager eyes, only intend on getting a glimpse of the future king. The royal pavi-lion was arranged as a drawing-room. It had handsome furniture and beau-tiful floral decorations. The broad red, white and blue streamers from the top of the canopy gave a quaint curtain-like effect as they waved gently to and fro in the breeze. It was a Canadian autumn scene, and as the duke and duchess left the richly carpeted steps of the pavilion on their return to the train a great cheer went up from the crowd."

PROMOTED OFFICIAL IS BANQUETED

Pleasing Function at City Hotel Last Night.

C. P. R. Employes Honor Former Supt. Thomas Williams.

Officials and Trainmen Gather From All Points on Toronto-Windsor

Over threescore guests gathered in the spacious dining-room of the City Lieut.-Col. A. M. Smith, command- Hotel last night to do honor to Mr. Thomas Williams, formerly superintened the following letter, which is a flat- dent of the Toronto-Windsor division of the C. P. R., but promoted five months ago to the more important position of general superintendent of the Lake Superior division, with headquarters at North Bay. The banquet was given by the C. P. R. employes of the division, as a taken of the regret with which they had viewed his depar-ture, while congratulating him heartly upon his promotion. Officials and employes of the company from London, Toronto and Windsor and other points on the division were present, with other representative citizens. The banquet was in every sense a success, and one which must prove most gratifying to Mr. Williams as evidencing the esteem in which he is held among all branches of the service.

Those seated at the table of honor were: Peter McDonald, chairman; Thomas Williams, the guest of the evening; A. H. Notman, district passenger agent, Toronto; F. P. Brady, superintendent, Toronto; A. After the generous supply of viands provided had disappeared, Mr. P. Mc-Donald opened the toast list by pro-posing the health of "The King," which was received with the customary hon-With the toast of "Canada Our Home," were coupled the names of Messrs. John Stevely, Ernest Rechnitzer and D. H. Bowen. Mr. Stevely, in a pithy speech, spoke of the marvelous resources of the great Dominion, and referred feelingly to the way Canadians had fought and died for the empire on the South African veldt. Mr. Rechnitzer, in his response, said he thought that he himself was qualified to speak of "Canada Our Home," as he had chosen it because he thought it a country in which any man could be happy.

Though he had come from a country where happiness reigned, he would not go back, because he thought Canada the best country on earth. Mr. Bowen, in a short speech brimful of humor enunciated the great thought that Canada was the finest country in the world, that it was made so by the C. P. R., and that the C. P. R. was made what it is by such bright, brainy, brilliant men as the guest of the evening,

Mr. Williams. In introducing the toast of "Our Guest," Chairman McDonald and Messrs. D. R. Bell, S. Buchanan, and J. J. McAuliffe each paid their tribute to Mr. Williams as an official who was careful and efficient in the discharge of his duties, and considerate in his treatment of his subordinates.

In replying, Mr. Williams said he had only tried to fulfill his duty in first protecting the interests of the company and after that the interests of the men under him. He had had the hearty co-operation of every man are the division and his work had been on the division, and his work had been easy and pleasant. As a previous speaker, Mr. Bell, had aptly said, few railway men were orators, and if they were orators they were not good railway men, so he would not inflict much of a speech on the company, or they might think him not much of a railway man. Mr. Williams said he would therefore call upon one of his most faithful assistants, Mr. Peter Stewart, of St. Thomas, to reply for him. After thanking the company heartily for the honor done him. Mr. Williams resumed

Mr. Stewart, and Messrs. George Spencer and J. Spragge, of Toronto, added their expressions of regret at Mr. Williams' departure and their conviction that he was destined to rise still higher in the service of the company. Mayor Rumball, replying to the toast of the "Corporation of the City of Lonexpressed regret that the city, which he thought the best city in all Canada, had lost such a good citizen as Mr. Williams. His worship expressed surprise at seeing so many young men present in such a represen tative gathering of railway employes, and said it illustrated well the opportunities which Canada offered her

The railway interests brought responses from Messrs. F. P. Brady, superintendent, Toronto; A. Price, superintendent, Toronto; E. Murphy, roadmaster, Woodstock; W. Rose, roadmaster, London; J. Scott, traveling engineer, Toronto, and A. C. Harshaw, conductor, London. Mr. Brady said that all knew what the C. P. R. was. It started at one end of the Do minion and ran clear to the other. He drew attention to the feat accom-plished by the C. P. R. within the past three weeks, in taking the royal party across the continent and back and de-livering them to the G. T. R. at North Bay, on the very minute agreed on eight months ago, all without the slightest slip or mishap. In this, Mr. Williams, as superintendent of the Lake Superior division, had had an important part. The promotion of Mr. Williams was one meeting with the heartiest approval of every man on the division. Mr. Price spoke of Mr. Williams' associations with his sub-ordinates, and testified to the value to them of his example and his advice.

HEART DISEASE

Some Facts Regarding the Rapid In

crease of Heart Trouble. Heart troubles, at least among the Americans, are certainly increasing, and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor di-

Real organic disease is incurable, but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic. The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric. In another way, also, the heart is affected by the form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half-digested food. There is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action, hence arises palpitation and Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food. This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores, and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant convenient form. It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal times will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. Full sized package of these tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents. Little book on stomach troubles mailed free-

NETS SEIZED.

Toronto, Oct. 16.-The government patrol boat Gilphie continues to make her rounds of Georgian Bay. Capt. McCauley reports that he seized two trap nets recently at Wyckwemikong, Scores of these Manitoulin Island. nets have been captured this season by the Gilphie and they have been worth thousands of dollars. All have been destroyed at the order of the fisheries department.

Fortify the system against disease by purifying and enriching the blood—in other words, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. b The man who waits for something to turn up is apt to discover that it is his toes.
