Peary Also Cables That He Has Found the North Pole

SECOND AMERICAN EXPLORER WINS TO THE TOP OF THE WORLD

Lieutenant Peary Duplicates Cook's Feat, Finding the Pole on April the Sixth of This Year.

STUNNED WITH AMAZEMENT

Announces That His Ship Roosevelt Is Safe and That He Will Arrive at Chateau Bay September 7 and Cable a Full Story of His Journey to the North.

South Harpswell, Maine, Sept. 6. - Commander Robert E. Peary announced his success in discovering the North Pole to his wife, who is summering at Eagle Island here, as follows:

"Indian Harbor, via Glace Bay, Sept. 6, 1909.—Mrs. R. E. Peary, South

The announcement of Commander Peary, that he has discovered the North Pole, holds the attention of the entire civilized world. Whatever question of priority is made between the claims of Commander Peary and Dr. Cook, there can be no doubt that to the United States belongs the distinction and unquestionable credit of discovering the North Pole. The remarkable coincidence of the news of two such colossal achievements, coming within five days, after years and years of fruitless effort, is one of the most remarkable coincidences in history. WHO WAS THE FIRST.

The question of priority in reaching the pole is now absorbing America. That Peary will claim to be the first discoverer appears to be definitely assured from the following: First, formal announcement has been telegraphed from Indian Harbor, Labrador, to all principal American and geographical societies of all nations, including Japan and Brazil, specifically announcing that "The North Pole was discovered April 6 by the Peary Arctic Club expedition under command of Commander Peary

PEARY BELIEVED.

Second, a London dispatch received from St. Johns, Nfld., states that Commander Peary claims that he was the first man to reach the North

Aside from the question of priority, Commander Peary's announcement of reaching the pole appears to be universally accepted throughout the United States and the world at large, by scientists as well as the general public, and there is an absence of the doubt and skepticism which greeted Dr. Cook's announcement. There is, however, apparent reserve of judgment on the question of priority between the two explorers.

Aside from the question of priority, Commander Peary's announcement alarming rumors regarding the condition of Edward H. Harriman have to the relapse of Sunday night.

Dr. W. G. Lyle, Mr. Harriman's pare McClary, died at the family residence, McClary avenue, this the question of priority between the two explorers.

Dr. Cook, in an interview at Copenhagen today, says he is the "First to has reached the pole, then it is true, and I congratulate him."

Dr. W. G. Lyle, Mr. Harriman's physician, calls the attack acute indigestion. In his statement last night he said that his patient was better. One result of the news has been a One result of the news has been a Mr. McClary 43 years ago, and besides

Dr. Cook also states that he does not want any controversy.

No further word direct from Peary has been received today, there be any further word from him until he reaches Chateau Bay, Labrador, The capitals and great cities throughout the world continue to stir up excitement and admiration for the achievement by which America has solved the problem of centuries.

Cook is being acclaimed by the crowned heads of Europe and the world at large as discoverer of the North Pole, adds a remarkable chapter to the story of an achievement that has held the civilized world up to the highest pitch of interest when Dr. Cook's claim to have reached the "top of the world," was first telegraphed from do and I was justified in doing it. However, I had no sooner done it than I received a protest from an employing printer who told me that if I papposed to create a printers' paradise I would have to find employment for all the members of the craft in Canada, as they would desert the other offices and flock to the printing bureau. The les-son conveyed by my friend was not without its effect; but, if I erred at all, I did so because of my strong belief in the maxim of a fair day's pay for a fair day's work.

The Dignity of Labor.

"On a day like this and in a country such as ours, it is natural that the importance and dignity of labor should hold a foremost place in our thoughts. If the sentence pronounced upon Father Adam for his sin of disobedience were left to human reason alone to interpret, then would labor have been menial and the worker's lot a dismal one indeed. But Joseph, the Carpenter, and His Divine Son, in their own persons supplied mankind with the true interpretation of Adam's sentence, and set the seal of dignity upon honest labor. That attribute it was the care of the church to preserve down through the centuries; and even in the muchmaligned middle ages labor received honor and tribute, thanks chiefly to the Fratres Pontifices. or bridge-building brotherhoods. These were religious associations founded for the purpose of building bridges, and the products of their skill are to be seen to this day along the roads in England and France. As titular head of these brotherhoods, the pope was styled supreme pontiff, or chief bridge-builder-the word pontiff being derived from the two Latin words, "pons," a bridge, and "facere," to build. It was this union of labor and religion that fostered the spirit of co-operation and rendered

Thus established in the esteem of the world, labor's cause survived the shock of revolution and the upheavals due to social changes. With the spread of education and the enfranchisement of the masses, labor assumed an ever-increasing importance. As long ago as 1824, Daniel Webster declared that 'Labor in this country is independent and proud. It has not o ask the patronage of capital, but capital solicits the aid of labor.' What Webster said of labor in the United States was equally true at that time of labor in Canada. As applied to both countries his words are much truer to day. If I were asked for proof, I d not think that I could furnish any better illustration than the fact that the governments of both countries have acknowledged the independence and dignity of labor by bestowing the title of Labor Day upon the first Monday in September and setting that day apart as a national holiday.

A cute defence was worked by the defence in connection with the charge that Fred Brisco's bulldog had recently bitten a boy. When asked to produce the dog for identification the defence borrowed Fred Somerville's canine, and filed it as exhibit No. 1. Apparently, however, the boys saw through the dodge, or else were sure of their dog, for they did not identify the Somerville dog as the one that did the biting. The case will be decided on Tuesday.

FOUND A WAY. To Be Clear of the Coffee Trouble.

"Husband and myself both had the coffee habit, and finally his stomach and kidneys got in such a bad condition that he was compelled to give up a good position that he had held for years. He was too sick to work. His skin was yellow, and I hardly think there was an organ in his body that was not affected. "I told him I felt sure his sickness was due to coffee and after some discussion he decided to give it up. "It was a struggle, because of the powerful habit. One day we heard about Postum and concluded to try it and then it was easy to leave off coffee "His fearful headaches grew less frequent, his complexion began to clear, kidneys grew better until at last he was a new man altogether, as a result of leaving off coffee and taking up Postum. Then I began to drink it

"Although I was never as bad off as my husband, I was always very nervous and never at any time very strong, only weighing 95 pounds before I began to use Postum. Now I weight 115 pounds and can do as much work as anyone my size, I think "Many do not use Postum because they have not taken the trouble to make it right. I have successfully fooled a great many persons who have drunk it at my table. They would remark: 'You must buy a high grade of coffee.' One young man who clerked in a grocery store was very enthusiastic about my 'coffee." When I told him what it was, he said, 'why I've sold Postum for four years but I had no idea it was like this. Think I'll drink Pestum hereafter." Read "The Road to Wellville" in packages.
