FRENCH CARRY FORTIFIED WORK IN NIGHT BATTLE ON MEUSE; PRISONERS 7,639, 24 CANNON

Further Resistance of Germans Reduced by Storming of Defence Last Night — Petain's Poilus Again Outfighting the Enemy.

Paris, Aug. 23. — The number of prisoners taken by the French in their offensive operation on the Verdun front has been increased to 7,639, the war office reports. The French last night captured a fortified German position north of Mortmont farm. The announcement follows:

"The German artillery was very active north of the Aisne, especially in the sector between Braye-en-Laonnois and Hurtebise. Several enemy attacks in the regions of Laffaux Mill, Allies and Cerny were repulsed.

"On the left bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) our artillery, which had the upper hand, was very active during the night. On the right bank of the river a detail operation enabled us to reduce a small point of resistance of the enemy north of Mortmont farm. We took seventeen prisoners.

"The number of prisoners taken since August 20 reached 7,639, including 169 officers and 600 wounded. The captured material listed includes 24 cannon of all calibres and more than 200 machine guns, in addition to nine cannon which were destroyed.

"There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

Paris, Aug. 23.—The French objectives north of Verdun appeared to have been attained. If the offensive were continued French artillery preparation would be necessary.

The German counter-attacks yesterday against dominant positions, such as Dead Man Hill and Hill 344, proved to be costly failures, leaving the French masters of the points they held before the beginning of the great battle of Verdun last year, with the exception of Hill 304, which as yet is in the enemy's hands.

Rain Theory Disproved.

Those who believed the theory that cannon fire brings on rain, always refer to the offensives of the Allies in support of their contention, as they have frequently been hampered by downpours after a day or two of fighting. In the present instance, however, the argument has failed. Although the firing of the Verdun front has never been equalled, there has been no rain since Friday.

A projectile fired by a French battery, which was silencing enemy batteries struck a depot of asphyxiating gas. It burst, silencing three batteries. German prisoners say: "No troops could have got through your barrages."

EMBARGO PLACED ON SULPHUR TO CANADA BY U. S.

Wood Pulp Mills of Dominion Will Be Seriously Affected.

Washington, Aug. 23.—An embargo has been placed on exports of sulphur to Canada, in order that the supply for war needs of the United States may not be unduly depleted. Canadian woodpulp mills furnishing supplies for about three-fourths of the newsprint paper used in the United States will be seriously affected.

SENSATION AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Announcement of the United States embargo on sulphur exports to Canada caused a sensation in newsprint circles here today. Officials of the big Booth and C. Eddy plants predicted that every paper mill in Canada would be forced to close within a few months, probably by the end of the year. It is stated that the only other sources of sulphur supply are Japan and Sicily, both out of the question owing to shipping conditions.

DUAL MONARCHY MAY ANSWER POPE TODAY; POPE EXPLAINS CLAUSE

Czernin Ready With Reply — Pontiff Elucidates "Freedom of Seas."

Copenhagen, Aug. 23.—The Nieue Freie Presse learns in well-informed quarters that Count Czernin, Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, will answer the pope's peace note in the next few days, perhaps today. The paper declares the note has created a favorable impression in leading circles in Austria-Hungary.

POPE EXPLAINS PHRASE.

Rome, Wednesday, Aug. 22.—The British and Belgian ministers accredited to the Vatican were received separately by Pope Benedict today and inquired as to the meaning of the reference to the freedom of the seas in the pope's peace proposal. The pontiff replied he intended to give to this condition the same meaning as that of President Wilson in his message, while leaving ample liberty to the belligerents to agree in future discussion as to details.

Germany today acknowledged receipt of the peace note, promising to examine it with benevolent interest and care and to give an answer after reaching an agreement with her allies.

HAS TIME ARRIVED FOR JAPAN'S ACTIVE ENTRANCE INTO WAR

Paris Figaro Believes Tokio Should Send Army To Europe.

Paris, Aug. 23.—The Figaro takes up the subject of Japanese participation in the war, asking if the moment has not arrived for Japan to take further steps. The writer describes Japan as hitherto having argued that as an essentially Asiatic power it was her duty to reserve all her force for her future mission in Asia. He says, however, that this situation has now changed by China entering into the war, and that Japan therefore should send soldiers and artillery to Russia's aid all the more so now that new Russia has foreswon all idea of expansion or conquest.

ARCHITECT WHO WAS SUSPENDED NOW ASKS $6,000

Nutter Claims Much Larger Sum Than Agreed in Contract.

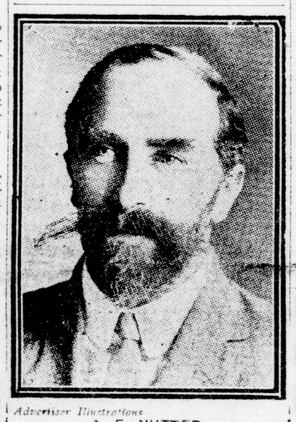

MAY GO TO THE COURTS

Former Official Files Claim, Including Charge for Some Old Plans.

A. E. Nutter, formerly associate architect for the technical school, who was suspended following charges of irregularity, has sent a bill to the board of education, asking approximately $6,000 for his services in connection with this school. As the total fees agreed upon amount to $4,800, and Mr. Nutter's full share $2,400, it is probable that some exception will be taken to it. The account will be presented to the advisory committee of the board for its consideration.

Was To Receive Half.

When the plans were accepted, the architects engaged on the job were Watt & Blackwell, and A. E. Nutter. The fees were to be 4 per cent of the contract price, which was $120,000. Of this, Mr. Nutter was to receive half, or two per cent. The payments were to be one per cent when the plans were accepted, one per cent when the foundations were put in, one per cent when the roof was on, and one per cent when the job was taken over from the contractors.

Two payments were made to Mr. Nutter, and he got $1,200. He was relieved from his services shortly before the roof was on, but if he were allowed that amount, he would be given $600 additional making his fees $1,800. It is a question whether or not he could collect the fees for the completion of the building. This in any event would only bring his fees to $2,400.

Asks Pay for Old Plans.

Mr. Nutter's bill, as mentioned above, is about $6,000. The exact figures are not available, but that is near enough. He has charges for various kinds of work, some extras, it is alleged, being included. It does include fees for some preliminary work done by him. When the new school was mooted two or three years ago, he drew tentative plans for an addition to the Alexandra School. He drew sketches for other work. He also submitted plans and sketches of a building proposed on the present site. He charges the regular architect's fee for this work.

No Complaint of Treatment.

Mr. Nutter makes no complaints about his treatment, merely presenting the bill for his work, or work he contends was done for the board of education.

That the matter will go to the courts is likely. It is claimed that Mr. Nutter did this preliminary work, not under contract, but on the speculation that he would get the position of architect for the big job. He did get half the work.

The board, so far as can be learned, is not in the mood to pay the bill. It is claimed at the city hall that it is exorbitant, but the courts will probably have to decide what is due, and what is not due to Mr. Nutter.

CONFLICT EXPECTED BETWEEN FACTIONS AT RUSS MEETING ON NATIONAL CRISIS

Open Clash May Follow If the Contending Elements Fail To Agree.

Petrograd, Aug. 23.—As the day approaches for the opening of the extraordinary national council at Moscow, the newspapers are full of speculation concerning expected dramatic announcements of events. Judging from present indications, the congress is likely to take the form of a struggle of the cabinet backed by the Socialist Left against the Bourgeoisie, consisting of Constitutional-Democrats, discontented Moscow businessmen and their president, M. Riabushinsky, and dismissed generals, who all agree in severely criticizing the present course and policy, demanding radical changes.

This view is taken by the Petrograd and Moscow press, which declare that if no agreement is reached between the contending groups open conflict must follow. First steps already have been taken toward vigorous and aggressive action by the malcontents.

MINISTER OF JUSTICE UNABLE TO RELEASE MISS THOMPSON

Hon. J. C. Doherty Announces He Has No Jurisdiction and Decision Rests With Trial Judge—Says She Will Die Before Answering.

After carefully considering the petitions and representations on behalf of Miss Margaret Thompson, who has been in jail now over two months because of her refusal to obey a court order, the minister of justice, Hon. J. C. Doherty, has given judgment to the effect that he does not consider it within his jurisdiction to deal with the case. With this announcement, for the present at least, all hope of Miss Thompson's release vanishes.

Those who have interested themselves in her behalf since she was sent to jail have now under consideration the question of resorting to a civil action in order to secure Miss Thompson her freedom, but no such action will be undertaken until the best legal authority, after viewing the case in every phase advises that such a course be adopted.

Every Phase Considered.

Every possible representation, in addition to the petition containing over 4,000 signatures, was made and considered by the minister of justice for some time before he gave his opinion that the case was out of his jurisdiction.

As Miss Thompson was committed to jail because of contempt of court, arising out of a civil action, the minister submitted that the trial judge and Mr. Justice Masten, who issued the commitment order, alone could deal with it. This opinion was given by a number of lawyers at the time the petitions were in circulation.

Had Miss Thompson been sent to jail on a criminal charge, then matters would have been different, as the minister of justice would then have had jurisdiction to handle the case, and if necessary, order her release.

Will Not Change Attitude.

Miss Thompson remains as determined as ever not to furnish the information that would lead to the disclosure of the whereabouts of her niece, Jean Link, for whose possession she was sued by the father. The case was tried and appealed, and in all was heard by three justices of the supreme court. The evidence in connection with the trials was reviewed by the minister of justice, but whether he agreed with the judgment or not is not disclosed in the communication, which merely defines his reason for not acting as the lack of jurisdiction to order the release of prisoner sentenced because of a civil offence.

Miss Thompson, when informed by friends at the county jail of the latest turn in events, showed no emotion, merely reiterating her vow to die if necessary in jail rather than obey the court order.

It is expected that the jail physician's representations with respect to her health will be one of the important matters to be submitted in the event of further action.

EXTRA VOTE OFFER COMMENCING TODAY LASTS UNTIL CLOSE

In Nine Days $16,000 Contest Will Be Finished — Opportunity Afforded Candidates to Roll Up Big Totals in Race for Valuable Prizes.

The final note is being sounded in The Advertiser contest. The time is growing short. It is now only a matter of nine days and the big race will be finished. Do not put off till tomorrow the gathering in of your promised subscriptions as something may happen and you may miss just the votes that would record you as winner when the judges make their final decision. The race is yours, and in order to win you must hustle every minute.

Mrs. Drennan, District No. 2.

Mrs. Agar, District No. 2.

Mrs. Scott, District No. 3.

Starting today, the 50,000 extra vote offer goes into effect, and will be continued until the close of the contest. This means that for each and every $5 worth of new subscriptions, whether they be for three months, six months or a year, a bonus of 50,000 extra votes will be given. In connection with this offer the contest department will allow a bonus of 15,000 extra votes for each $5 subscription, and a bonus of 10,000 extra votes for each $3 subscription, so that where a candidate turns in an odd number of new subscriptions he will receive a bonus for each subscription whether he makes up the required number ($15 worth) or not.

The 25,000 extra vote offer for each and every $15 worth of old subscriptions will also be continued until the close of the contest.

The rules of the contest permit the taking of five-year subscriptions, and candidates will receive the credit of 50,000 extra votes for one five-year subscription just the same as five one-year subscriptions.

A London auditing firm has been selected to audit the books of the contest department after the contest closes. It is expected that the record of the votes cast in the automobile special prize week will appear next Saturday.

The three candidates whose photos are reproduced today are making a strong bid for first place in their respective districts. They were runners-up in the last special prize offer.

POPE'S PEACE OFFER CANNOT BE ACCEPTED, IS OPINION OF FRENCH

As It Stands Would Play Into Hands of Germans.

MUST BE INDEMNITIES

Huns Should Pay for Wreckage Done to Industries of France.

Paris, Aug. 23.—France probably will not answer the pope's peace note individually, since it has no representative at the Vatican, but Great Britain doubtless will tender a collective reply in the name of the Entente. The four governments' views on the note therefore are unobtainable, officially.

The Balkan Problem.

An important figure in the political life of France whose specialty is foreign politics, said to the Associated Press today that while the pope's humanitarian character of the pope's step was incontestable, he had, in ignoring the Balkan question, passed over the most formidable problem with which the peace negotiations will have to deal. This question, it was stated, involved a mass of contradictory interests and irreconciliable reports of all nations that history had spread about the Balkan peninsula.

Regarding the Belgian question, it was stated, it was impossible to reconcile the independence of which the pope spoke with the regime of servitude prescribed by the Germans.

Must Be Indemnities.

"In addition," said this man, "were one to accept the pontifical theory about the absence of indemnity one would be doing nothing less than sanctioning a retrogression of several centuries which Germany by its new war methods is imposing upon mankind.

"If, obedient to the suggestions of the papacy, the German Government should be quits for its depredations in Belgium and Northern France, if individuals are not to be indemnified for losses inflicted by German troops, German industry, which has not suffered from invasion, and German commerce could safely go on from the point at which they stopped at the outbreak of the war, while French industry and French commerce would need at least 25 years to rise from their ruins.

"The pope certainly could not have seen that his proposal, generous in appearance, would have singularly inquitous consequences."

British Swoop On Military Works of Germans in Belgium.

London, Aug. 23.—The important submarine base of Zeebrugge and other military objectives in Belgium were attacked yesterday by British airmen, the admiralty announces.

"A bombing raid was made by naval aircraft Wednesday morning on the Zeebrugge Mole, shipping and batteries," the statement says. "Some hits were obtained. The Ghistelles aerdrome also was bombed. There were explosions near the western sheds and a fire was started. All the machines returned."

London, Aug. 23.—The British have advanced their lines southwest of Lens, the war office announces. An attack east of Langemarck was repulsed. British posts in the neighborhood of Lombaertzyde, Belgium, were raided by the Germans.

DEFINITE SUCCESSES.

British Front in France and Belgium, Aug. 23—(By the Associated Press).—Definite successes can be recorded this morning for the latest British operations east and northeast of Ypres, on the Belgian front, which yesterday were surrounded by much uncertainty owing to the fierceness of the resistance offered by the Germans.

FATHER LAURENDEAU HARSHLY TREATED AT HIS NEW PARISH

Clothing Pitched Out of Presbytery and Guard Bars His Entrance.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 23.—Rev. Father Laurendeau, formerly of St. Theresa, Que., was barred from the presbytery and refused possession of the church as successor to Rev. Father Beaudoin, whose funeral took place in Assumption, Que. The parishioners claim he is not acceptable to them, as they claim he sided with Bishop Fallon in the suspension of several French priests a few years ago, and is opposed to teaching French in the schools here. His suitcase and clothing were pitched out of the presbytery when he returned from the mass for Father Beaudoin.

A guard has been placed on duty for the night to see that he does not enter and the parishioners say the guard will remain indefinitely until Bishop Fallon yields and appoints a pastor to suit them.

Asked about the foregoing dispatch, His Lordship Bishop Fallon replied: "I have not a word to say, not a word."

"Any truth in the rumor, your lordship, that you are going down with a club to Windsor?" persisted the reporter.

"It's a fine day," answered his lordship.

"But what about the club?"

"This rain will do the corn and the country a great deal of good," replied the bishop.

"But what about Father Laurendeau and the report you are going down to Windsor with a club," still persisted the reporter.

"Not a word," said the bishop, with just an edge of threat in his voice, continuing: "I don't in the least mind giving you my opinion on the weather."

Father Laurendeau was at one time in charge of the South London parish and was popular with his parishioners.

RUSSIANS RETIRE ON NORTH LINE UNDER HEAVIEST PRESSURE

Intense Fire of the Germans Causes Withdrawal of Muscovite Forces.

Petrograd, Aug. 23.—The Russian forces on the norther end of the Russian front, where the Germans have begun an offensive, yesterday retired under pressure from the region of Raggedzen and Kemmern, to the Lake Shloyirn and Frankendorf region. The official statement issued today by the Russian war department, announcing this withdrawal, says that the German artillery conducted an intense fire in this sector.

Four vessels under 1,600 tons were sunk. No fishing ships were destroyed. Three attacks by submarines failed.

KAISER AND REICHSTAG MAY COLLABORATE WHEN FOREIGN MATTERS ARISE

Berlin, via London, Aug. 23.—The Liberal press points out as a significant feature of Tuesday's session of the main committee of the Reichstag Chancellor Michaelis' statement that the Government would not take final action on the papal peace note without consulting and advising with the committee.

This is being received as a pledge that the Government henceforth intends to collaborate with the Reichstag factions in dealing with the chief problems of the nation's foreign policy, and that it would continue to work in harmony with the committee in the direction of achieving peace of reconciliation and mutual understanding.

TUMULT IN FINLAND

Disorders Caused by Unemployed Workmen Supported by Soldiers.

Petrograd, Aug. 23.—The situation in Finland is serious as the result of the difficulty of forming a cabinet and of the persistence of the Socialists in their plan to renew sessions of the dissolved Landtag on August 29. According to the evening newspapers, Premier Kerensky instructed Governor Stakhovitch to prevent at all costs a reopening of the Landtag, if necessary to surround the building and compel the members to disperse. Governor Stakhovitch has conferred with the commander of the Baltic fleet.

The Socialists have finally refused the help of the Finnish professor, Ingman, to form a Government. In Spalmo, near Helsingfors, serious disorders have been caused by unemployed workmen supported by soldiers.

CADORNA'S TROOPS GAINING ON BOTH WINGS, CASUALTIES OF ENEMY PLACED AT 30,000

Italians Continue To Have Better of Furious Fighting On the Isonzo Front, Making Gains On the Northern and Southern Wings, Taking Vast Number of Prisoners.

Rome, Aug. 23.—Furious fighting continues on the Isonzo front. The war office announces further gains for the Italians on both the northern and southern wings. Prisoners taken now number more than 16,000.

AUSTRIAN LOSSES 30,000.

Udine, Italy, Aug. 23.—Enemy losses during the first two days in the new Italian advance are calculated at 30,000 in killed, wounded and prisoners.

COUNTER-ATTACKS REPULSED.

Rome, Aug. 23.—Austrian counter-attacks of redoubled intensity are being beaten back by the Italians. Following is the official announcement:

"On the fourth day of the battle on the Julien front we again made considerable progress on the northern wing of the line, and obtained new successes on the southern wing. The enemy is reacting strongly against our pressure and redoubling his counter offensives.

"Our troops are repulsing his counter-attacks from the positions captured, and are gallantly proceeding toward realization of their objectives."

AUSTRIANS REPORTED PREPARING FOR THE EVACUATION OF TRIESTE

New York, Aug. 23.—The New York World has the following special cable dispatch from London:

"Telegraphing from Milan a correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says information has been received there that the Austrians for weeks have been preparing to evacuate Trieste. All the state archives and the most valuable objects of art in museums, libraries and churches have been removed and sent mostly to Vienna.

ALLIES CAPTURE OF GERMANS SINCE AUGUST FIRST, 32,5000

London, Aug. 23.—"In the past three days the Entente Allies on the western front have taken 25,000 prisoners, and since July 31 they have taken 32,500 prisoners," said Major General Frederick B. Maurice, chief director of the war intelligence office in his weekly talk today with the Associated Press.

"I am confident," he added, "that before the end of August we will have topped the figure of 40,000, which the Germans claim to have taken in a month on the Russian front, although their total undoubtedly is composed by at least half of mere straggiers from the mutineers and disorganized Russian units."

POLICY OF MIGHT ALONE WILL FAIL, SAYS KAISER'S NEW FOREIGN SECRETARY

Declares More Consideration Should Be Given Neutrals and Enemy.

Amsterdam, Aug. 23.—"A policy based on might alone and not on right is doomed to failure from the beginning," was the interesting admission made by Dr. Richard von Kuehlmann, German imperial foreign secretary, in his maiden speech to the main committee of the Reichstag yesterday. The new secretary, according to a telegram from Berlin, dwelt on the tremendous responsibility in assuming office "when the country is beset by the mightiest of enemies without and grave difficulties within."

Dr. von Kuehlmann laid down the following program: First, the maintenance of cordial relations with the allies, and second, with the neutrals, "whose rights and necessary conditions of existence we shall be most careful to respect as far as is compatible with enemy trickery and our own military needs.

"To arrest further defection of important neutrals in an extremely serious and important task confronting us," said Dr. Kuehlmann. "We can only solve it successfully by observing the principle that in politics might counts but also right and that only if we base our confidence on both can we hope to achieve lasting results. Furthermore, we still have relations with the belligerents, although, of course, official relations are ruptured, yet currents of public opinion waft across the border line of the trenches."

Dr. Kuehlmann eloquently emphasized the necessity of studying enemy psychology, so that "no soft words should be wasted when the other side has rigidly held aloof. On the other hand, no hard words should be uttered when there are indications that the ice was breaking on the other side and more conciliatory feelings became manifest." Dr. von Kuehlmann concluded with an appeal for trust in the army and navy.

GERMANS BOMBED TWO HOSPITALS BEHIND VERDUN

Killed 10 Wounded Men, 20 Nurses and Injured Scores of Others.

THE RED CROSS IGNORED

Enemy Fliers Give Characteristic Exhibition of Hun Beastliness.

On the French front, Aug. 23—(By the Associated Press).—The incendiary bombs which were dropped by two German aviators on two hospitals behind Verdun on Sunday evening killed wounded men, one woman nurse and 4 trained male nurses. They wounded 47 male nurses and inflicted further injuries on patients suffering from wounds received in battle, many of whom rushed naked into nearby fields in an attempt to find shelter from the bombs which were being rained down.

Fired at Orderlies.

Meanwhile the German aviators circled about in the air for half an hour, firing their machine guns at hospital orderlies, who were endeavoring to extinguish the flames. The nurses had just finished bandaging 180 wounded Germans who have been brought direct from the battlefield, and had gone to bed when the bombs were dropped from a height of but 300 yards. The Red Cross signs were painted prominently on the roofs, and the Germans knew of the hospital, which had been in existence for more than a year.

Prisoners Contented.

The correspondent, after inspecting the hospital, visited a camp at which German prisoners are assembled. It contained considerably more than 6,000 officers and men. The correspondent was permitted to interrogate a large number of the prisoners, many of them eighteen or nineteen years of age. They all declared themselves most contented at being out of the war. On the way other smaller camps, containing hundreds of prisoners, were passed.

60,000 ARE HOMELESS BY SALONIKI BLAZE

London, Aug. 23.—The first detailed account of the disastrous fire at Saloniki last Sunday is contained in a Reuter dispatch from that city, which says that 60,000 persons are homeless and that property loss is enormous. Insurance companies are interested to the extent of $2,000,000 to $3,000,000.

POLISH LEGIONARES QUIT.

Copenhagen, Aug. 23.—The officers and men of the 1st Regiment of the Polish Legion have resigned in a body. The commander has published an order accepting the resignations and sending the regiment to Galicia to be disbanded. Austrian subjects in the regiment will be placed at the disposition of the Austrian military authorities.

UNION GOVT. MAY BE ANNOUNCED WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Political indications today point more strongly toward successes of the union negotiations. The western delegation which met the premier here a few days ago will confer in Winnipeg with the Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan political leaders and a decision by the end of the week is foreshadowed. It is understood that Sir Robert Borden's leadership is agreeable to the western delegation, and that the economic issues have also been settled. The only remaining difficulty is one of personnel.

An Alberta Conservative delegation, headed by Opposition Leader Michener is in Ottawa today, strongly supporting union.

VICIOUS BULLDOG THAT ATTACKED BOY MUST BE DESTROYED

A vicious bulldog, belonging to Findlay Barrett, was ordered by the magistrate to be destroyed within the next week for having attacked and bitten a colored boy, Willis Hackett, as the latter was riding on his bicycle Saturday evening.

The imposition of any other penalty was deferred for a week. Should Barrett neglect to destroy the dog by next Thursday he will be summoned to court again, and fined, and the dog then destroyed by the police.

Barrett promised to obey the magistrate's order, although he said he deeply regretted having to destroy the animal.

Hackett testified that he had been attacked by the dog several times, but was so badly bitten on Saturday night that he went to Victoria Hospital, where the wound was treated.

Barrett claimed the dog had not attacked anyone else, but the magistrate did not regard that as an excuse for him keeping the dog.

"I regret to have to order any dog to be killed, but certainly the public must be protected," said the magistrate.

CHINESE GRATEFUL FOR EXPRESSION OF SYMPATHY

The Chinese community of London wishes to express its sincere gratitude for the kindness and sympathy shown by friends in the death of Charlie For and family. Rev. Ma Wah, secretary of the Chinese Christian Association, Toronto, says: "In all the fifteen years I have been in Canada, I have never seen such respect shown to a fellow-countryman, and it has touched and gratified me beyond measure."

A memorial service will be held in the Chinese classroom of St. Andrew's Sunday school on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, to be confined to the Chinese and other personal friends of the For family. This will be conducted in Chinese by Rev. Ma Wah.

NEW COURT BECOMES NECESSARY FOR WORK

Practically a new court of revision will probably be organized to complete the work of the year.

Sheriff Cameron has been ill, and as a result has been unable to attend the meetings. Ex-Ald. George H. Haney is in the West, and has not attended the meetings for some months.

As there is a great deal of work to be done this fall it is expected that the re-organization will take place at once.

Mr. Haney has been communicated with, and if he cannot do the work another man will be named in his place. It is expected that a representative of the trades and labor council will be named for this vacancy.

If Sheriff Cameron's health is such that he cannot attend, H. R. Dignan, city registrar, will take his place. The law provides that the registrar shall act when the sheriff is unable to attend.

SECURED 200 NAMES ON FURLOUGH PETITIONS

A member of the staff of one of the large wholesale firms of the city called at the home of Mrs. H. A. Boomer the other evening to return a couple of copies of the petition which will be presented to the Government for furlough for men of the 1st Battalion.

He was justly proud that he had secured 200 signatures among the other employees of the firm and his personal friends. This was only one of the many indications which are being given of the deep and sympathetic interest taken by the public in the movement to obtain the opportunity for rest and recuperation deserved by the heroes who remain of the men of whatever nationality who responded to the first appeal of King and country.

Mrs. Boomer is leaving the city on Friday for a ten days' or a fortnight of rest, and requests that the petitions which are still out be held until her return.

'PORKLESS' DAYS ARE A REAL NEED AS PRICE GOES UP

Live Hog Price Certain To Be $20 Within a Short Time.

PORK FAMINE IS IN SIGHT

Unless Restrictions Are Imposed, As In Case of Beef and Bacon.

Hogs alive and dressed have advanced at an alarming rate during the last months, and practically every day marks a new increase in the price of hogs, surpassing values of all preceding times.

Beef and bacon are also advancing, but not to the extent of porkers, and this fact has been responsible for much critical comment on the new restrictions regulating the use of beef and bacon.

Just as Beneficial.

Many local hog buyers state that restrictions regulating the use of pork would be as much or more beneficial to the general welfare of Canada in so much that pork is advancing at an alarming rate and the eating of pork is more detrimental to the health than the consistent eating of beef.

"Porkless" days would contribute to the conservation of meat throughout the Dominion virtually to the same extent as "beefless" and "baconless" days, they declare.

Because beef and bacon are not served in public lunchrooms on certain specified days, the movement toward the conservation of meat is not necessarily assisted. It is true that less beef and bacon are consumed, but pork and veal are substituted for these commodities, and the conservation of meat generally, is not augmented.

$17.50 the High Price.

American hog markets quote as high as $20 as the official value of a hundredweight of pork. Toronto quotes practically similar prices and the London pork market demands $17.50 for its pork, with the probability of asking an advanced price of $19 before the end of the month. The $20 figure is almost certain to be reached.

That a pork famine will take place during the winter and that the value of live and dressed hogs will assume untoward proportions is the opinion of some less optimistic hog men, who are emphatic in their conviction that "porkless" days should be inaugurated.

CITY IN THE DARK AS TO PLANS FOR KHAKI HOSPITAL

No Word Received as to Intention of Commission.

OTHER CITIES AFTER IT

Believed, in View of the Announcement, Strong Play Being Made at Ottawa.

There is no official word at the city hall relative to the site for the proposed military hospital, which it was announced by the commission yesterday had not been chosen.

Some weeks ago, Sir Adam Beck appeared before the board of control, and explained that the Provincial Government and the Dominion Hospitals Commission had agreed on the Odell property on the London and Port Stanley Railway as the site for the hospital. All he asked was the assurance that the city would purchase the site. Maps and plans of the property were delivered to the Government and the commission.

City Has Options.

The board of control, and the council later decided that the city would purchase the property on a valuation of approximately $350 an acre. It was stated that 51 acres would be required. Controller John M. Moore secured options on the land, and the city retains them.

Since that time nothing has been heard from the commission, nor has the Provincial Government sent word about the matter.

A definite answer was expected prior to this, but nothing has come. It is rumored that there is friction between the Provincial Government and the hospitals commission as to the character of the building. It is also stated that other cities are making a strong play for the hospital.

City in the Dark.

"We have received no word about the site," said City Clerk Baker. "All that we know is what has been in the papers. We have officially notified the parties that we would purchase the land, and assist in getting water and power to the hospital. Further than that we have no information."

HIGHWAY ACROSS DOMINION AS MEMORIAL TO SOLDIERS

Convention of Canadian Municipalities Likely To Recommend That Work Be Done by Returned Men—A Win-the-War Gathering.

The convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, which will take place next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in this city, promises to be a big success, as indicated by the large number of delegates who have already expressed their wish to attend. One of the reasons why there is a keener interest in the convention this year is that all the subjects to be discussed deal with the war, and the responsibility of the local councils in helping to bring it to a successful termination.

Seek Aid of Cities.

One of the subjects to be discussed is on the advisability of the Federal Government seeking the co-operation of the municipalities to put into practice all war measures. It is because has been so successful in its many war of such co-operation that Great Britain measures, and a large number of leading municipal men of this country believe that the time has come for Canada to do likewise.

Another subject that will be dealt with is on the high cost of living, with the object of suggestion some remedy to the Government, based on the experience of the different municipalities. The re-adjustment period is also to be taken up. This is a very important question to the municipalities, for the particular reason that new economic conditions will arise as a consequence of the war, and they must be met.

Several Other Problems.

Problems of the returned soldiers, and the munitons workers will be discussed, and as remedies, federal labor bureaus and educational bureaus will be taken up, as well as the importance of teaching citizenship in the schools.

Part of one of the sessions will be given to a discussion of a national highway across Canada to serve as a monument of the fiftieth year of Confederation, and as a memorial to fallen soldiers, the work itself to be done by returned soldiers.

Aside from the main war subjects purely municipal questions will be taken up, such as hydro-electric power as a factor in building up a community, telephone franchises, and hydro-electric railways.

PROVING THAT THE BEST WAY TO STOP THE CATS HOWLING IS TO LET THE NEIGHBORS DO IT

The cat orchestra in the north end of Colborne street has been entertaining the folks greatly during the past few weeks, and last evening the felines nearly caused a tragedy.

The songsters camped in front of the bedroom window of a well-known resident, and proceeded to give the works of Beethoven, Bach, and all the rest of the long-haired gents. The man in question waited patiently, and stood the noise until well past midnight, when he thought that he would put a stop to it. With blood-red murder in his eye, he grabbed a big club and pursued the cats across his lawn unto another man's property. The cats shinned up a tree, and the irate citizen was doing his best to maltreat the singers.

Neighbor Gets His Gun.

The neighbor had been exasperated also, and, grabbing his trusty 22-calibre rifle, he loaded it.

Seeing the cats up the tree, he took a pot-shot at them. The bullet went whizzing into the lawn, passing a few inches above the head of the citizen with the club.

"Hey, you," he shouted. "What's the matter? Want to kill a fellow?"

The other chap took another shot with his rifle, and the first gentleman, gathering his bathrobe in one hand, marathoned it home at a speed that would make a racing motor play dead. It dawned on the marksman that he did come close to the other fellow, and he went back to bed.

Considered It An Encore.

The cats then came down out of the tree, and, sitting on the lawn, gave a program of music that was quite the weirdest thing ever heard on sea or land. They kept it up until the grey streaks of dawn showed in the east. Then the householders proceeded to sleep, the first forty nods of a long night.

This morning they are sad and chastened men. They want to sleep, and are too tired to have an idea what to do next. Some of the folks are planning an assassination society, organized for the purpose of doing violence to all the cats in London and immediate vicinity.

They insist that their slumber must no longer be broken by the wailings of stray felines.

However, a passerby asked them what they were going to do about it, and another tragedy was narrowly averted. Sweet and pleasing things are cats, human and otherwise.

"THE MAN WHO WAS AFRAID." THRILL-FILM ON WAR THEME IS WASHBURN'S NEW OFFERING.

"Man Who Was Afraid," Mary Brecht Pulver's Stirring Story Picturized By Noted Star.

A story with a powerful patriotic appeal is picturized in Bryant Washburn's current Essanay feature, "The Man Who Was Afraid." Written by Mary Brecht Pulver, the noted authoress, it is based on President Wilson's call to arms, and portrays the wretchedness of a man who is afraid to answer the call. The picture is replete with soul-stirring situations, which will bring any spectator with a spark of patriotism out of his seat cheering a dozen times. It should prove a big aid to Uncle Sam in recruiting his fighting men.

Bryant Washburn has done a remarkable piece of acting in this production. He has stepped out of his comedy-drama characterization, for which he is so justly famous, and executed a straight dramatic role which is pleasing in its newness and notable for its realism. It is not so often that we find an actor on the screen who can render two such widely varying impersonations with the same degree of perfection. At the Patricia Today, Friday and Saturday.

GENERAL JOFFRE'S DOUBLE SEEN IN TRIANGLE PLAY AT THE MAJESTIC TODAY

Thomas Guise, With Louise Glaum in "Sweetheart of the Doomed," Bears Striking Resemblance to Commander.

Thomas S. Guise, the Ince-Triangle character actor, did not know until his white hair was cropped short recently that he bears a striking resemblance to General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the Allied forces.

The discovery came about in this way: Guise was cast to play the part of General Gabriel in "Sweetheart of the Doomed" (at Majestic today), the new Triangle-Kay Bee play by Jerome N. Wilson and Monte M. Katterjohn, in which Thomas H. Ince presents Louise Glaum as star. Immediately he considered the problem of making up to resemble a French military officer.

He waxed his natural moustache and combed his imperial to a glossy finish. But still he was not satisfied with his appearance. Then Ince, apparently with General Joffre in mind, suggested to Guise that he allow the barber to clip his hair short. Guise adopted the suggestion, and the moment he stepped upon the stage in uniform his associates remarked that he was the double of the French commander.

"Now it seems a shame," said Guise, after agreeing with the verdict, "that I am not playing the part of General Joffre in the picture."

WANTED MONEY FOR TOBACCO, NEEDED FOR BABY'S MILK

Wife Says Laziness Has Wrecked Happy Home.

DEVELOPS "HOOK WORM"

Husband Is Skillful Mechanic, But He Declines To Work.

Laziness has been responsible for the wrecking of one happy home in the city, at least that is what the distressed, golden-haired little wife calls it. She is a fair, baby-blue-eyed young woman, but both suffering and determination are written on her face.

One man was inclined to call it something else when the wife said: "He is so lazy he won't work as long as there is a cent. I wanted the last ten cents we had a few weeks ago to get milk for the baby. He wanted it for tobacco. I wouldn't let him have it, and so we quarreled."

She isn't so much worried about herself as the winsome, small son, who is just 20 months old. The husband in the case declares, she says, that though he doesn't want the bright little lad himself, he will neither let her have him outright nor allow him to be taken over by anyone else.

According to the wife's story, her husband was kind to her, and made provision for her up until the time of the birth of the little fellow a year ago last December.

Developed Hook Worm.

It was about this time the husband began to develop "hook worm" of an aggravated type.

"I tried to be as economical as I possibly could, and there is one thing I can do, and that is housework. I have bough everything the baby has worn since he was born excepting the little pair of boots he has on today, and those were given to him by the kind lady who took us to her home when I came to appeal to Mr. Sanders last week."

At one time the wife worked at McCormick's a few weeks, paying another woman a dollar a week to take care of the baby in the daytime. Then the little fellow fell ill, and she was obliged to give it up. She pawned her jewelry, and at last she got a place doing housework, where she was allowed to take the child. It was too heavy for her. She expects to go to the hospital herself again in the course of a few weeks.

Inspector Joseph Sanders is bringing the case, on her request, to the attention of the magistrate.

A Skilful Mechanic.

It is stated by those who know that the husband is an exceptionally skilful mechanic. An automobile and bicycle repair man for whom he worked for a time says that he can earn at any time from $18 to $25 a week, and that he can easily get all the work he wants. The opinion of others apparently tallies with that of the wife, that the malady from which he suffers is laziness.

The "no breakfast" plan may agree with some, but most people feel better and work better on at least a light breakfast.

A great many have found that a liberal dish of Grape-Nuts, served with cream, milk, or fruit juice, furnishes ample morning nourishment, is easily digested, and promotes buoyancy and clearness of mind.

McPherson, provincial secretary, and members of the Ontario License Board are deeply disappointed at the action of the Dominion Senate in eliminating the provision to make liquor advertising in prohibition provinces against the law. OTTAWA SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD MAY BE FORCED INTO RECEIVER'S HANDS

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—The Ottawa separate school board faces a receivership according to a statement by Chairman Genest today. The Bank of Ottawa, which holds $39,000 of the board's sinking funds, has refused to honor a check for $3,459 drawn in favor of the Union St. Joseph's Society in payment of a maturing debenture.

The bank's refusal to hand over the money is based on provincial legislation empowering it to retain the sinking funds to liquidate debts incurred when the Government commission was in control of the schools. There are a number of debentures coming due, and the sinking fund with which they were to have been met will not be available. Suits instituted by debenture holders for recovery of their moneys may force the board into liquidation, Mr. Genest stated.

The Russians have retired two or three versts northward between the marshes and the river. The Germans drove back advanced posts of Russian cavalry to the town of Kemmern, in the direction of Tukkum.

A heavy artillery bombardment has been begun by the Germans in the regions of Dvinsk, on the Dvina River, near the northern end of the front, and of Brody, in Northern Galicia, near the border.

COMING HOME TO ENLIST WHEN HE IS FATALLY HURT

Lloyd Post Aiding in Western Harvest When Injured Under Wagon.

A PATRIOTIC CITIZEN

Resolved Some Time Ago To Join Forces When He Was 19 Years of Age.

Injured in a runaway on the day he had written to his parents here announcing his intention of returning to enlist, Lloyd Sanford Post, 19-year-old son of Edgar Post, Cliftonvale avenue, died in the hospital at Regina on Monday, according to word which reached here yesterday. Post was employed by a farmer at Rouleau, Saskatchewan, having gone to the West in March. He was driving a heavy working team at the time of the accident, and fell from the wagon when they suddenly bolted. The vehicle, which was a large one, passed over his body, causing internal injuries, which later proved fatal.

Intended to Enlist.

Before leaving his home here he had announced his intention of becoming a soldier as soon as he passed his 19th birthday. A younger brother, Ray, enlisted with the 33rd Battalion and reached England. He was not allowed to go to the trenches, as he was under age. Because of this, Lloyd decided not to enter the army until he was eligible for all phases of the service. He was 19 years old in July, but as the harvest season was at its height his employer persuaded him to remain for a few weeks.

Surviving Family.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two brothers, George and Raymond of this city, and one sister, Lillian of Windsor.

The funeral will be held on Saturday from the funeral parlors of N. J. Griffith to Woodland Cemetery. The remains are expected to arrive in the city on Friday night.

ARRANGE PARK SPACE FOR AUTOS AT FAIR

Remembering the big congestion of automobiles at the Western Fair a year ago and the difficulty in arranging accommodation for these, directors are taking every precaution to prevent the repetition of such a state of affairs this year.

Two large judging rings, each 150x80 feet, one for heavy horses and one for cattle, have been built to the southeast of the cattle barns. According to the advance program, judging will be completed by Tuesday, the fences inclosing the rings removed, and the space allowed for an automobile park. This will be in charge of an expert, who will see that the cars are arranged in rows, easy of access when the owners turn in their checks for them. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are usually the big days, and it is believed by the management that there will be no trouble this year about automobile accommodation.

As a further measure, the board will confer with the city council next week in regard to parking privileges on streets adjacent to the exhibition grounds.

MAJOR OSBORNE AND MEN TO GIVE A MUSICAL RIDE AT THE LABOR DAY PICNIC

With the consent of Col. L. W. Shannon and staff, Major Baron Osborne and his assistants will give the musical ride at the Labor Day picnic at Queen's Park a week from next Monday.

For some days negotiations have been under way, and it has been announced that the ride will be given. The same troop that performed so well at Galt will give the exhibition here.

This will make it certain that the labor men will have the biggest and best outing in their history.

There will be many other most interesting features.

GAS TRENCH FILLED IN, DANGER TO THE PUBLIC

The trench on Chester street, opened to receive the pipes for natural gas, has been filled in. This is one indication that London is not to get a supply.

The utilities commission was notified some time ago by the Southern Ontario Gas Company that a supply could not be furnished London, and an offer was made to reimburse the city for any expenditures undertaken.

However, the McClary Company has brought pressure to bear on the company, and there is some hope that a supply may be secured. It is probable that some definite information may be secured before the end of the week, but nothing has come as yet.

The commission had to fill the trench up, it was explained, as it was necessary to keep a watchman to protect the public. As it appeared certain that gas would not come for some time, it was decided to fill it in, as it would be cheaper.

It was also asserted that gas pipes were being delivered on the street this week, in spite of the fact that the trench was filled up. This is denied by the utilities commission, who claim that no pipes have been delivered to the work. The pipes are in the city, but are not being delivered on the work.

WEDDING BELLS

MOORHOUSE—WILSON.

Memorial Methodist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, August 22, when Edna P. Wilson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, London, became the bride of Rev. Clayton Moorhouse, a popular and successful minister of the London Conference, now stationed at Thedford. Rev. A. Moorhouse, Forest, brother of the groom, officiated assisted by the pastor of the church, Rev. B. H. Robinson.

The church was prettily decorated with ferns and flowers in yellow and white. Mrs. D. Wilson, a friend of the bride, rendered the wedding march. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in crepe chiffon taffeta.

Following the ceremony, a dainty dejeuner was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Moorhouse left in the afternoon for a trip up the lakes on the steamer Hamonio.

A big spurt in the growth and general quality of corn is expected now, and fruit, vegetables and grain will be much benefited.

FISH SUPPLY COMING. — Mayor Stevenson has received a communication from Hon. W. J. Hanna, food controller, notifying him that the city could get a supply of fish from wholesale houses in Montreal, who deal in salt water fish. He points out that the food controller does not buy or sell fish, but merely assists in arranging for transportation, etc. Any information concerning this sort of business can be obtained.

A GENEROUS DONATION. — The London branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission has received a check from the Denfield Red Cross Society amounting to $85, the same to be applied to the relief work of the commission. This is the first donation sent in for relief work so far this season. In anticipation of help that may have to be extended to returned men or their families this winter, the commission will appreciate donations for that purpose.

TIRE THIEVES BUSY.—Complaints have been registered with the county authorities that a number of tires carried on the backs of cars driven to garden parties of late have been stolen during the time the machines were parked and the occupants some distance away at the entertainment. At a garden party at Mount Carmel, Caradoc Township, last evening the tires were removed from some of the cars. The authorities believe it to be the operations of an organized band, and are now at work on a clue. Thefts of a similar character were reported from Ekfrid last week.

EXHIBIT AT TORONTO.—Space has been secured in the Industrial Exhibition in Toronto by the National Council of Women of Canada for an exhibit of literature, etc., giving an idea of the work being done by the National Council and its affiliated societies. An invitation has come through Mrs. Boomer, president of the Local Council, for the London Council and its twenty-five or thirty affiliated societies to participate. Any organizations which have literature telling of their work, programs, etc., will be welcome to send samples of these to Mrs. McIvor, care of Woman's Century, Toronto, who is in charge of collecting literature for the exhibit.

ENTRIES FROM THE WEST.—The distance which the fame of the Western Fair has traveled is evidenced by the fact that entries for dairy products have come in all the way from Calgary and Red Deer, Alta., and inquiries have been received in regard to space for these from Edmonton. Secretary A. M. Hunt stated today that except in the case of the machinery building, application has already been made for every inch of space. This establishes a record for the length of time that a "full house" of entries has been made before the Western Fair. One new feature, which it is epected will arouse special attention, will be the baby welfare exhibit in the ladies' building, under the direction of the Isabel Hampton Chapter, I. O. D. E.

KERCHOO! KERCHOO! KERCHOO! SONG OF HAY FEVER ARMY IS HEARD FROM BUSY BUGLES

Man With Sneezing Disease Looks Like a Chief Mourner, But Would Prefer To Be a Corpse—Some Rare Remedies Tried by Local Sufferers.

BY A VICTIM.

Have you—excuse me—Kerchoo!—ever suffered from nasal catarrh accompanied by fever and with paroxysms of dyspepsia? In other words have you ever felt as if you had a cold in your head, when you knew you hadn't; the same heavy feeling, the sneezing and the running of the eyes? If not you have escaped the horrors of hay fever. Prrr-oo-o-o-f!

These are the hay fever days. Some unfortunates have it earlier, others get it later in the season, but the great majority of those who have, are now enduring all its agony and waiting for the cold weather, when their sorrows will be over. Hay fever is incurable. At least no cure for it has ever been found. It is caused by pollen from flowers and weeds lodging in the mucous membrane of the nose, producing an itching sensation, which makes one sneeze.

Looks Like a Mourner.

A hay fever victim can readily be detected on the street. He usually has a weary-air and is carrying a handkerchief ready in his hand in case of emergency. He looks as if he had just come from a funeral, where he was the chief mourner, but where he would have preferred to be the corpse. His eyes are red as if from weeping and his nose looks as if he spent a week-end at Port Stanley. When you see a person of the above description on the street, sorrow for him, for he has an incurable disease.

Many are the schemes hay fever sufferers have thought out in an effort to dodge the horrible disease. One friend of ours who has suffered from the disease for years, now wears fine wire strainers in his nostrils; a sort of screen door effect, as it were, which he claims prevents the pollen from reaching the membranes of his nose. As these screens are worth $5 per nostril we have not indulged in them. Then they might not do us any good anyway, and our money would be wasted. We believe in the conservation of dollars!

Vacation in a Cold Storage.

Another chap was told that if he spent three hours daily in a cold storage he would be cured in less than a week. This victim put on his last year's overcoat, reached for a hot water bottle, and walked hopefully to the cold storage, where he sat among the chickens—poultry, y'know—and eggs, for three hours. He did this for three days and on the fourth day as he came out of the cold storage he encountered a load of hay, fresh from the farm. The effusium drifted his way and he almost sneezed his head off—to be quite truthful he actually did sneeze his collar off, but that is nothing: all hay fever people do that several times a week as a rule. This killed, for him, the cold storage cure.

Sneezed His Boat Home.

A story is told of a yachtsman who had hay fever. One day his yacht was becalmed in the middle of the lake. The sailor waited for several hours for a breeze, and at last in desperation nobly sacrificed his comfort to bring his ship to shore. He seized a bouquet which his wife was wearing and breathed deeply of it. Instantly he was seized with a paroxysm of sneezing and, seated in the stern where his efforts would do the most good, he had no trouble in reaching port without the aid of a breeze.

Proprietors of summer resorts always dislike to have hay fever patients as guests. Their appetites are too ravenous. A hay fever victim sneezes, as a rule, from seven to eighteen times before breakfast. He can't help this. The most indolent victim of all has to do it just as energetically as the most active. This assures a good appetite for breakfast.

Just Like Sawing Wood.

Also the patients sneeze anywhere from twenty to one hundred times during the day, according to whether they have a mild attack or a bad attack of hay fever. This certainly gives them good appetites. Sawing wood is an aid to make one hungry; the motions gone through in sneezing are almost the same. One is continually bending over. Of course it must be kept in mind that a hay fever sneeze is not the delicate little whiff of an ordinary sneeze. It's a regular rip-roaring cyclone. Summer resort owners have been known to fail after a season of hay fever victim boarding.

A rather wonderful form of treatment is being undergone at present by a local victim. He discovered this treatment in a most unusual manner. One day while in the midst of a series of sneezes he was passing a barroom. He got in the draught from the door and instantly his sneezing stopped. At once he was relieved! Marvelous was it not, that the beer-laden air should have effected him thusly? He is now in search of a bartender's job, and believes that at last he has found a cure.

PLENTY OF COAL, BUT NO DROP IN PRICES EXPECTED

Dealers Not Looking For a Change in Hard Coal.

CONSERVE THE SUPPLY

Citizens Are Stocking Up This Season Earlier Than Usual.

That there will be no drop in the prices of hard coal here is the opinion of coal dealers. They are also confident that there will be plenty for all consumers in the city. The dealers see no reason for any panic. The drop in price in Chicago from 50 cents to $1.50 a ton refers largely to bituminous coal, it is reported here.

Plenty of Fuel in Sight.

There is plenty of that fuel in sight now, and if there are no transportation difficulties during the winter there will be enough for the manufacturers.

The request of Sir William Hearst that the fuel supply be conserved as much as possible is no reason for any panic here, the dealers claim.

"There will be plenty of coal for all, although I do not see any decline in prices at the present time," said R. J. Webster of the Webster Fuel Company. "The premier asks the people to conserve the supply, which is a reasonable request. This is no time to waste anything. The people here have been getting their supply in hand earlier than usual, much earlier.

Better Distribution.

"As a result there will not be the same difficulty in the fall. Formerly 80 per cent of the coal was ordered in the autumn. Now there will not be more than half that amount ordered for the fall, so we will be able to handle it. The distribution will be better, and better results will be secured. The people will get all the coal they need."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

NOISY MILKMEN.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

There are various conditions of city life that tend to break down the health of city people, especially in the way of nervous disorders. One of these conditions is noise, especially during the night or early morning, which prevents people from getting their due amount of sleep and rest. Some of these sleep-breaking noises are unavoidable. Others are quite avoidable. Among the avoidable and totally unnecessary noises are those made by some milkmen in the early morning. Sometimes it is a matter of careless rattling of milk cans and bottles, sometimes it is loud shouting at the horses to stop or go on. If the proprietors of these milk routes were as wise as they should be they would see that such conduct on the part of their drivers would neither bring new customers nor hold the customers they already have. Further, if such conduct is persisted in, the city authorities should refuse a license to these dealers on the ground of maintaining a public nuisance.

Yours, A SUFFERER.

DELAY FOOD APPEAL UNTIL NEXT MONTH

Dr. A. H. Abbott, secretary of the organization of resources committee, telephoned to the board of trade on Wednesday to ask that the local women's food conservation and thrift committee consider the advisability of holding back the house-to-house canvass of the city until the week beginning September 17th. It was thought that by this means efforts might be concentrated and wide publicity given through the newspapers to the objects of the campaign.

The local committee would also have time to thoroughly master the methods by which foodstuffs required by the Allies may be conserved, and the food substitutes and methods by which these may be used to the best advantage, given careful thought.

While the local committee, all of whom were thoroughly impressed with the necessity of this movement at the women's convention in Toronto, are anxious to do their part in the best possible way, it is understood that they will fall in with Dr. Abbott's suggestion to unite with the rest of the country in a food conservation "drive" during one week in the middle of next month.

INJURED ON SCAFFOLD.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 22.—Through the collapse of a scaffolding on which they were working at a poultry house, on the premises of William English, three men had a narrow escape from serious injury. They were Roy Mayberry, William Byerlay and Thomas Dundass. All were badly shaken up and Mr. Dundass had his hand badly cut.

DR. HILL'S WARNING

"Too much care cannot be exercised in the thorough cleansing of all green vegetables, tomatoes, celery, lettuce, and so on, that are to be eaten either raw or cooked," was the statement made today by Dr. W. H. Hill, M. O. H., with reference to the article which appeared in The Advertiser yesterday concerning poisoning by cabbages sprayed with arsenate of lead.

Dr. Hill added: "The quantity of poison which is usually used for spraying would not probably cause fatal results, still, too much care cannot be expended in making sure every possible particle is removed. In this connection, I would emphasize the importance of thorough scrubbing for potatoes grown in ground on which natural fertilizer has been used. Disease can be spread in this way. To be sure, disease germs would be made harmless by cooking, still, say in the case of potatoes cooked in their jackets, it is at least pleasanter to know every particle of foreign matter has been removed.

In the case of vegetables that have been sprayed with poison to kill insects, etc., it is doubly important to thoroughly cleanse owing to the fact that the poison is not neutralized by the cooking.

NO MORE OFFICERS WILL GO OVERSEAS UNLESS TO REVERT

Must Be Willing To Throw Up Their Commands.

No more officers are to be allowed to go overseas. This is the substance of an order issued from militia headquarters today, which states that in the future officers who take over drafts will be considered conducting officers, and that they must either revert to the ranks or return immediately to Canada.

The practice of sending over a large number of officers for whom there is no employment in England or France, is evidently about to be discontinued, and in the future officers who are bent on getting to the front will be required to become privates in order to accomplish their desire to see active service.

Means All Officers.

The order refers in particular to officers taking over men from the depot battalions, which is the name under which the men from each district are at present begin trained, but as there are practically no other drafts going overseas at present, it may be taken to mean all officers. Recruiting for artillery has been discontinued for some time, the Engineers are only taking a few men of special qualifications, and the Army Service Corps are also only taking a few men, so that there are scarcely any other than infantrymen going over at present. Army Medical Corps officers apparently are to be excepted, as they are practically all qualified medical practicioners before they are given commissions.

Previously Applied to N.C. O.'s.

For some time a similar regulation has been in force with regard to non-commissioned officers, and they are given their chevrons in Canada on the distinct understanding that they will be reduced to the ranks on their arrival in England. Officers are now to be placed in the same position, and every man going overseas will have to stand on his own feet, as far as promotion is concerned.

The order reads as follows: "It is published for the information of all concerned that in future officers who take over drafts from depot battalions in Canada will be only conducting officers. There is at present a great surplus of officers overseas, therefore, any officers proceeding overseas will be required upon arrival in England to revert to the ranks or immediately return to Canada."

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FUNERAL OF MRS. ROBSON.

The funeral of Florence R. Robson, wife of William Robson, who died on Monday, was held Wednesday afternoon from the family residence, 92 Inkerman street. The funeral services were conducted by J. Parker of Hamilton, and interment took place at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Walter Howard, James Howard, George Pyne, Arthur Robson, Herbert Sanford and Joseph Beasley.

FUNERAL OF MISS FITZGERALD.

Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, daughter of the late William and Sarah Fitzgerald, who died on Tuesday, was buried today at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The funeral services were conducted at her late residence, 511 Maitland street, by Rev. D. Rogers, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The pallbearers were W. E. Fitzgerald, W. C. Fitzgerald, Fred Fitzgerald, W. E. Talbot, Richard Guest and L. Guest.

SISTER SUBMITS TO SKIN GRAFT TO SAVE OFFICER

Miss Edith Aiken Undergoes Ordeal For Her Hero Brother.

ANOTHER OFFERED SELF

But "Not While He Has Sister" Was How She Expressed Will.

A well-known London girl, a member of the city teaching staff, is the principal in a story of heroism equal to any that has come from the firing line. She is the sister of soldiers, and within the past few days has given a striking demonstration of the quality of her own bravery.

On the 20th of September last, Lieut. Lyon Aiken, son of Mrs. J. H. Aiken of this city, who was at the front with a regiment of kilties was severely wounded. He was invalided home during the winter, and has been unable to return overseas. Among other injuries was a deep wound in the leg from which a great piece of flesh had been gouged by a bit of shell. This persistently refused to heal, and some time ago the medical authorities decided to try the experiment of grafting skin. The young officer was placed under an anaesthetic and skin taken from another part of his body for the wound. This did not prove successful.

Sister Offers Self.

The only chance for entire recovery seemed to be to get healthy skin from someone else to be grafted. The only sister, Miss Edith Aiken, offered and insisted upon undergoing the ordeal of having strips of skin taken from her arm for the sake of her brother.

Moreover, she learned that an anaesthetic or the injection of cocaine might reduce the chances for success of the grafting. She insisted upon having the operation performed at the Military Hospital at Carling Heights, a few days ago, without any such aid for herself. Five strips of skin were taken from the arm of the brave girl and grafted on her brother's wound. After that, she refused to give way even to the extent of taking a taxi home. She rode on the street car as usual.

Made Known By Chance.

Just like the other heroes who have done a big bit for their country, she neither made any fuss about it herself, nor wanted anybody else to do so. Her family is accustomed to heroism, and shared her reticence over the shining deed. It was only by chance that the act became known outside of the immediate circle of relatives and a few intimate friends.

One story told is to the effect that a soldier comrade of Lieut. Lyon Aiken, who is now in Winnipeg, wrote and offered to come down and give the skin for the sake of his friend. When Miss Aiken heard this, it is stated that she said: "Not while he has a sister to give it."

Another member of the family, Lieut. Douglas Aiken, made the supreme sacrifice early last winter.

GOOD PROGRESS IS BEING MADE WITH PAVING PROGRAM

INGERSOLL, Aug. 22.—The completion of the paving of King street west is anxiously awaited not only by the residents of that street, but by all who have occasion to use it. The work has been under way for some time. In the early part of the season the frequent rains and the scarcity of labor were conditions which had to be contended with, but for the past couple of weeks very satisfactory progress has been made.

The concrete stretch will be from Oxford street to the westerly limits of the town and will give tourists who come that way a better impression of the town.

BOOSTING FOR BAND.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 22.—That Ingersoll musicians should discuss the possibilities of organizing a band is an opinion that is frequently expressed. It often occurs that the advantage of having a home band would be appreciated. It would seem that it would not be difficult to form a band as there are a number of members of former Ingersoll bands here as well as many newcomers of ability as musicians. For all public events where band music is desired it is found necessary to bring in a band or do without the music. The suggestion has been made by a number of citizens that someone should take the initiative towards organizing a band.

WILL RENEW GARDEN PLOTS.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 22.—So great has been the interest in gardening this season, and so promising the prospects, it is altogether probable that early action will be taken this fall by many to make sure of retaining certain plots of ground that were placed at their disposal this year through the efforts of those connected with the greater campaign. Two acres or more of land is under cultivation at the park, beans, potatoes, corn, etc., being grown. The indications are very encouraging, and it is believed that nearly all the holders of plots this year would like production privilege renewed for 1918.

EXPECT BIG CROWD.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 22.—A big crowd is expected at the band concert to be given tomorrow night on the central school grounds by the First Hussars Band of London. The band is coming to Ingersoll under the auspices of the Soldiers' League. The object of the league is to raise funds with which to continue their patriotic work.

COST HIM $100

Goderich Grocer Mulcted for Breaking Temperance Act.

GODERICH, Aug. 22.—Inspector Torrance was in town in connection with charges against William J. Powell, a local grocer, for violation of the Canada temperance act.

It is said that Powell has been in the habit of treating his friends to something stronger than lemonade at his home, while Special Officer Pellow was investigating the case he found sufficient evidence to lay two charges, and as a result Powell pleaded guilty, and paid $100 and costs into the county treasury.

HARVESTING ONION CROP.

HENSALL, Aug. 22.—Harvesting is going on briskly in this district. The weather has been most favorable and the crops have been very heavy. Flax pulling is also going on, with large forces in the fields, but the ground is so dry and hard that it makes difficult work of flax pulling.

The local onion growers—and they are very many—are now busily engaged in pulling the crops. Both yield and quality are reported good.

William Johnston of Zurich delivered here 32 hogs, weighing 6,880 pounds. They sold at $17 per hundredweight, and Mr. Johnston received $1,159.60.

BANK CLEARINGS.

Halifax, Aug. 23.—Halifax bank clearings this week, $2,978,335.81; 1916, $1,968,809.76; 1915, $1,919,385.31.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Bank clearings for the week ended August 23 were: 1917, $81,605,865; 1916, $65,012,557; 1915, $53,384,207.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Toronto bank clearings for the past week amounted to $55,081,600, compared with $42,552,746 for the corresponding week of last year, and $30,599,078 in 1915.

A CONTRAST.

ANY ONE WILL AGREE, whatever may be his political leanings, that the words of Mr. Pitblado, the Winnipeg Liberal, at the great meeting held in that city, stand in glaring contrast to the swaggering terms of Mr. Rogers' letter to Sir Robert Borden. Mr. Pitblado said that he had been called a traitor to the Liberal party, but he would rather suffer under that innuendo than be a traitor to his true self and to his Liberal principles. Mr. Rogers wrote:

"We should waste no time tarrying and disputing with opponents whose apparent purpose today is to prolong parliament until the end of its term in the hope that if they succeed in this they will be able to add a new chapter to their slanderous campaign by attempting to make it appear to the country that we are hopelessly helpless. . . . Canada's hope for the fulfilment of her full share in this struggle largely rests with the party that you represent. . . . Loyal Canadians know and understand the sordid means being employed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the leader of our domestic and foreign enemies to defeat our honest efforts."

Mr. Rogers' words, as might be expected, are rotten with low partyism. That is all there is to the man. He would stake our national destinies in a throw at the gambling table of party politics. We shall see him busy in the election, no doubt, in his own way. In an interview at Montreal he assures his friends:

"I shall do the decent thing. I will stand by my party, whether any one else wants to submerge it or not."

We are not through with him yet, it seems, though it is said that Winnipeg is through with him. Quite evidently, from both Mr. Rogers' letters, his reason for leaving the Government was not the delay over conscription, but the continued attempts of Sir Robert Borden, when certain of defeat politically, to form a coalition government. This was treason to party, Mr. Rogers' idol. He is out with a ludicrous slogan against Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who, whatever his faults, cannot be called by a sincere person "the leader of our domestic and foreign enemies." It is news that Sir Wilfrid leads the Bourassas, Lavergnes, Blondins and Sevignys, the men whom Mr. Rogers lined up with Sir Robert Borden; certainly they must laugh at the absurd insincerity of Mr. Rogers' phrase. The ex-minister should produce his evidence that Sir Wilfrid is leader of the Teutons and Turks. So blind with partyism is Mr. Rogers that his insincerity goes to laughable extremes. But perhaps outside party politics and election knavery he is ignorant.

Two of the most suspicious words that a man can use of himself are "humble" and "honest." In his second letter to the premier, Mr. Rogers describes his own judgment as "humble." In the first letter, as quoted above, he refers to "our honest efforts" as opposed by the malevolent traitor, Laurier. It was slimy Uriah Heep who told how 'umble he was, and Iago was always "honest Iago." These two words are the rattles of a political or social snake.

What sort of man will Canada delight to honor, the man who, like Mr. Pitblado, is ready to put patriotism before mere party and support a truly national government, or humble, honest Mr. Rogers, who expects to "stand by" his party (Tory or Nationalist?) in the coming election as before, and no doubt get a reward in case of success? It should not be hard to decide. Sir Robert Borden still shows himself warmly kind to his late colleague. He does not mind being coupled with him in "our honest efforts." The country can decide on both of them at once.

"HIS NOT TO REASON WHY."

IS IT TRUE that hundreds of returned soldiers who wish to secure their discharges in order to return to civilian occupations and to re-establish themselves as wage-earners are needlessly denied their discharges? Several returned men have informed The Advertiser that this is the fact, and the matter should be aired.

Another "returned soldier" problem is that presented by the sending of men who have given long service back to the front, while others with shorter service are not called upon to return.

The returned soldier cannot discuss his grievances publicly, and the fault seldom lies with his superior officers. He should have a speaking part in this great drama as well as a "his-not-to-reason-why" part. Justice is the first thing the people of Canada wish the returned man to have.

LOOK AHEAD; GET READY.

WHEN the war ends it is generally believed there will be a period of readjustment. The first installment appears to be in sight. The Financial Post estimates that 100,000 men will soon be thrown out of employment and must find other occupations. Shell orders are not coming out. The amount of wages cut off would be $3,000,000 a week.

It is perhaps as well that the readjustment should be met in installments. A great part of Canada's prosperity has been war prosperity, the end of which everyone would gladly see by the restoration of peace. But if the manufacture of munitions for any reason ceases before peace is restored that part of the readjustment of labor might be accomplished before peace comes. Men are wanted in many occupations. How many could be provided for in this way would soon be ascertained. The high wages paid munition workers would not be continued, but building operations which have been retarded by war prices might again commence. Factories of various kinds, that have been unable to pay the war rates for wages, would again, at the rates that enable them to carry on business at a living profit, resume. In this way a large part, if not all, of those thrown out of work would be again employed, and to that extent normal life in the country in peace times be resumed.

Then when actual peace comes, and stock is taken of the country's actual needs, there will be a fresh start. Many considerations impossible to foresee will enter here. The return of the troops, probable immigration from old lands, changes all along the line in prices, building operations proceeding with more speed, and the necessities of every business adapting itself to the restored times. Whatever is lacking will be supplied, and in all probability Canada will soon reach as high prosperity as it enjoyed before the war, and commence an era of prosperity never before known in Canada. Its history has commenced in earnest by the war. Its destiny is to be a great land of freedom, becoming greater from year to year, holding dear the principles of democracy for which its boys took a glorious part in their first real war.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Note the artificiality of Sir Robert's letter to Mr. Rogers. It is a manifesto to the electorate.

Party factions are as numerous as the well-known sands of the sea and just about as stable.

Wonder what our friend Mary Jane thinks of the people who made a frolic out of a local funeral?

Save the milch cows, Mr. Farmer, and we'll do our best to help with the consumption of the supply.

Less food has been ordered, but the price of bacon has not dropped noticeably since the O'Connor report was published.

How much of that $120,000,000 for the Canadian Northern will percolate into the Conservative campaign chest in the coming election? Is it another Pacific scandal?

Canada's man of destiny has not yet been paged by fate, although a lot of expectant ones have been sitting forward in their chairs and watching the bellboy.

When you happen to get in the way of some motor speeders, just apologize, Mr. Pedestrian, and nothing serious will happen—nothing more serious than a broken rib or two.

Sir Robert tells Mr. Rogers and the rest of us that the railway legislation "would alone under ordinary circumstances have been regarded as sufficient to engage the attention of a government during an entire session." It did seem that the Canadian Northern deal was pushed through with some more than ordinary speed.

FORGOTTEN.

By Garrington Phillips.

Hal Shepard glanced at his monogramed watch.

"There's only a half hour before the stage comes," he announced, "and you haven't answered my question."

The girl beside him drew a deep breath.

"I'll answer it now," she replied. "I can't come."

Hal's face clouded.

"Won't you please be sensible, Madeline?" he pleaded. "You know I want you to come, don't you?"

"Yes, I think you do—now."

"Then why won't you?"

"Because I think that two weeks from now you'll be sorry you asked me."

"That's nonsense. You know it is."

Madeline Gilman shook her head.

"It isn't nonsense. Let's look at this thing fairly, Hal. A month ago you came up here in the mountains to rest from too many dances. You didn't expect to find anybody but a lot of farmers, and when you discovered me here, the simple fact that I'm not altogether a farmer was such a surprise that you haven't quite gotten over it. Compared to the ordinary run of farm girls, perhaps I am something of a rebel, but as soon as you get back home and see the girls you're accustomed to you'll forget all about me."

"But I won't, and I'm proving it to you by asking you to Ridgefield. It's perfectly all right; your mother can come as chaperone, and you both can stay at my sister's."

"But I don't dance."

"That doesn't make any difference; we can sit out."

Madeline smiled wisely.

"It will make all the difference in the world," she answered. "After the second or third dance, you'd curse the folly which urged you to ask me."

"Then you won't come?"

"I guess not, Hal. I'm all right up here, where an assembly ball is a thing unknown; but down in Ridgefield, with its country club and afternoon teas, I'd be out of place. You'll like me better if I don't go to the assembly."

For a moment, Hal Shepard was silent. It occurred to him that possibly the girl beside him was right. Coming to the little mountain village a month ago, he had been pleasantly surprised to find her. They had been together almost continually, and the freshness of her viewpoint, her lack of affectation, had appealed to him no less than the blue of her eyes and the rose tint of her cheeks. The Gilmans had lived in Mountville for three generations; comfortably fixed, they had reaped the harvest season after season, and had pursued the even tenor of their ways. Children had been born, had grown up and married; but always to people of their own kind. Thoroughbreds they were, to be sure, but not the kind of thoroughbreds Hal had known.

Hal had grown to think a good deal of Madeline, more so than he was willing to admit. But before committing himself he had wanted to see her in another environment, beside the girls he had grown up with. And it occurred to him suddenly that perhaps she wouldn't quite measure up to the standard in Ridgefield. Rather ashamed at the thought, he arose to his feet.

"I'm sorry you won't come," he said. "I was hoping that you'd change your mind the last minute."

"No," she answered. "I've thought it all out."

"Do you mind singing just once before I leave for home?"

"Of course not."

They made their way together to the cosy house on the top of the hill. After she had seated herself at the piano Madeline looked up inquiringly.

What shall I sing?" she asked.

"Forgotten."

Hal thrilled just a bit as the words of what they had designated their song broke softly from the girl's lips.

"If counting each moment of longing
Till the time when I see you again,
If this be forgetting, you're right, dear,
And I have forgotten you then."

When the last notes died away, Hal looked directly at the girl beside him. "I'll never forget you," he said rather huskily.

For the next two weeks it seemed as if he couldn't forget her for a single minute. Ridgefield appeared to have lost its charm. The Friday night dance at the Country Club were soulless affairs. Even the presence of a country-famed orchestra failed to arouse his enthusiasm. The girls whom he had once considered "good sports" failed to amuse him. Fully intending to ask one of them to accompany him to the assembly ball, he could not decide which of the many to invite. There was only one thing which interested him, and that was the letter which came twice a week from Mountville.

He formed the habit of dropping over to his married sister's of an evening and playing the victrola. On his very first visit, he discovered the record "Forgotten." It brought back to him with startling vividness the last few minutes he had spent with Madeline, the rich fullness of her noice, the stray wisp of her chestnut hair, the light in her eyes when she said good-bye. He realized suddenly that Madeline meant more to him than all the other girls in the world put together.

The night before the assembly he took supper with his sister, who broached the subject of the dance.

"Do you know that Cynthia Thompson hasn't been invited?" she asked.

"How is that?"

"I couldn't say; it just happened that way. Maybe she'd go with you if you should ask her."

"Maybe she would." Hal manifested but little enthusiasm, but his sister, anxious to do a good turn to Cynthia, ventured a suggestion.

"Why don't you call her up?" she asked.

For a moment Hal hesitated. He realized that he was doing nobody any good by moping around—that it would probably be a wise thing to invite Cynthia. He arose from the table doubtfully.

"Maybe I will," he said. "Cynthia's a good sport, and she'll understand why I'm so late."

He went to the telephone and called the Thompson home. But the line was busy. And then, while he waited before trying again, his brother-in-law opened the victrola and played the record "Forgotten."

When the last notes had died away, Hal turned to the 'phone again. But the number he called was "Mountville 429 R." When Madeline, who had answered the call, recovered from her surprise, he informed her gently but firmly that he had decided that he didn't want to go to the assembly ball without her, and so he wasn't going at all.

"I'm coming up to Mountville instead," he continued. "I can get the three o'clock train Friday and reach there at eight-thirty. And then I want to ask you a question."

But he didn't tell her what the question was until he had climbed down from the rickety stage and had seen the light of welcome in her eyes.

And then, after she had answered in the affirmative, he made his way hesitatingly into the dining-room and stated his case before father. And Mr. Gilman, honest farmer that he was, looked fairly into Hal's eyes, and was satisfied.

"I never thought that Madeline would marry anyone but a farmer," he said, with a twinkle in his eye. "But I guess that you'll do."

So Hal went back to the parlor to tell Madeline the verdict; and a few minutes later, the strains of "Forgotten" floated out to the dining-room.

BAPTIE REPORT AND SIR GEORGE PERLEY MUCH ASKED AFTER

Is Perley Coming Home, and, if So, Why?—Government Doesn't Know.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—Almost daily there is manifestation of Parliamentary interest in Sir George Perley and Dr. Bruce.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux asked the Perley question today. He said there was a report that Sir George was returning to Canada and he wanted to know when and why.

Sir George Foster, who was leading the House, said he hoped to see Sir George Perley in Canada again sometime, but had no news indicating that Sir George expected to visit Canada in the near future.

General Sir Sam Hughes asked his daily question as to the whereabouts of the Bruce reply to the Baptie report, which it was stated had been sent to Sir George Perley for his information.

Sir George Foster stated that he would be pleased to bring the matter to the attention of the prime minister.

Sir Sam promised that the question would be repeated on the morrow.

MEDICAL EVIDENCE IN HAMILTON CASE MAY BE STARTLING

Blood Spots Have Been Examined by Experts.

HAMILTON, Aug. 22.—That the medical evidence to be offered at the inquest tomorrow night would prove sensational was the rather significant remark made this afternoon by Detective Sayers, who is investigating the mysterious death of Dr. D. G. MacRobbie, found dead on the Crescent Oil Company's premises on Sunday night.

Subpoenaes have been issued for many witnesses, including the woman who claims she heard cries for help on the night in question.

C. W. Bell will look after the interests of Harry Smith, manager of the oil company, and Walter Scott, architect, held as material witnesses, while McAuliffe, the real estate man, who was the third party found asleep in the room when MacRobbie's body was discovered, has engaged M. J. O'Reilly.

Experts are busy examining the blood spots found spattered around the room, and architects and photographers today were sketching and photographing the interior of the building.

The mystery attaching to the case increased today when Asseltine, the night watchman, who originally claimed that he was alone when he found the body, told the police that on the night of the tragedy two men called to see Smith. He says he took these men upstairs, and it was then that the dying doctor was discovered. This, the police point out, indicates that Asseltine had a good knowledge of where Smith was earlier in the evening.

Mrs. Smith said yesterday that Bell, the office manager, was called from her house, where he boards, at 20 minutes to 12.

SIMCOE, Aug. 22.—Six persons were injured, none seriously, in a wreck just east of Nixon station, six miles west of Simcoe, shortly after 3:30 this afternoon. A Grand Trunk engine, in charge of Engineer Arnold of St. Thomas, broke away on the coal chute incline and sideswiped the middle of Wabash Express No. 2. A dining car and two sleepers were knocked from their trucks and partially demolished. The track for 100 yards was torn up, and it will be midnight tonight before traffic can again be routed over the old "air line."

DISCLOSURES AT FOOD PROBE MAY STARTLE PUBLIC

Sensations Promised Over Reports Into Cold Storage Conditions.

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—That Hon. W. J. Hanna the new food controller, named the Henderson commission, which is to inquire into the report on cold storage conditions in Canada made by W. F. O'Connor, K.C., the cost of living commissioner, is the information given authoritatively to The Advertiser. Mr. Hanna was asked by the Government to name a commission, and he suggested George F. Henderson, K.C., of Ottawa, who had already appeared for corporations interests which the city of Ottawa instituted an investigation into the cost of food under the cost of living regulations; Geoffrey Clarkson of Toronto, whose firm was shown later to have done work for the Flavelle interests; and A. B. Brodie of Montreal. It now transpires that Mr. Brodie, who is an accountant, has been doing work for the Matthews-Blackwell Company, and is said to be doing the work of that concern regularly still.

Mr. Hanna named this commission, and the Government accepted his nomination, although informed that the two accountants, Messrs. Clarkson and Brodie, had been connected directly in one case and indirectly in the other with the cold storage interests.

Additional interest has been attached to the investigation which is to take place at Toronto, that Gordon Walderon, K.C., will appear before the commission on behalf of the public. The Advertiser is informed that he has been retained by certain public interests which will lay bare the whole business from start to finish. Startling disclosures are promised.

WOUNDED CANADIANS LEFT IN BAD SHAPE BY GERMAN CAPTORS

BY STEWART LYON.
(Special Correspondent of Canadian Press.)

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 22.—The rescue of two privates of this battalion from a cellar near that from which the Quebec officer and privates were removed yesterday, discloses the shocking neglect of the enemy in treating our wounded. Both suffered bad shell wounds in the legs during the attack on the fifteenth and were captured and placed in a dressing station located in a cellar, together with thirty wounded Germans. The latter were removed next day, when the cellar was evacuated. The wounded Canadians were left in the cellar, without food or surgical dressings and remained there for almost a week, until found today. Their wounds had maggots in them, but the men were still conscious, and it is believed they will survive their terrible experience.

INCREASE IN SURTAX ADDS FORTY MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—After a protracted debate in which many senators urged heavier levies on incomes and war profits in the war tax bill, the Senate today tentatively adopted Senator Gerry's amendment, which would add $40,375,000 by greatly increasing surtaxes on incomes exceeding $500,000.

MRS. ANNIE KAY SAYS HER ARMS SWELLED TO TWICE THEIR SIZE

Says She Tried Many Treatments, But Grew Worse Continually.

GAINS SEVERAL POUNDS

Declares Her Troubles Are All Gone and She Feels Like a New Person.

Mrs. Annie Kay, who resides at 445 Mary street, Hamilton, is among the many grateful people in Hamilton and vicinity who are praising Tanlac. While Parke & Parke, Limited, for her third bottle of the medicine a few days ago, Mrs. Kay said.

"Tanlac has done more for me than anything, and everything else, and I'm always glad to speak a good word for it. For nearly a year my stomach had been in bad condition and I suffered from rheumatism. My arms were swollen to twice their normal size and hurt me dreadfully to use them. They were also covered with some kind of breaking out, like eczema, which annoyed me constantly. I had no appetite, and what little I did eat seemed to stop right in my chest and cause me great pain. Gas would form on my stomach, then I would bloat up and my nerves would become all upset. I was just simply lifeless, had no energy and felt tired and worn-out all the time. I was under treatment for a long time and took medicines of different kinds, but I kept getting worse.

"I feel very grateful to the good people who told me about Tanlac in the papers, for I am now feeling like a new person. My stomach feels almost like a new one and, oh, it's such a pleasure to be able to eat what I want without suffering afterwards. All the bloating and pain is gone from my stomach and chest and my nerves are perfectly calm. All the swelling is gone out of my arms and hands and that dreadful breaking out has almost disappeared entirely. I have gained several pounds in weight and just feel stronger and better in every way than I have since my troubles began. That isn't all. I'm still improving, and I firmly believe there are lots of others who could get relief if they would only give Tanlac a chance."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid — the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

Summer Camp

IF THERE is one place more than another where Dr. Chase's Ointment is appreciated it is in the summer camp. Hunters, fishermen and miners, as well as military men, have found this out, and rarely go to camp without a supply of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Among the scores of uses to which it is put we will only mention the following :—

Insect stings and bites, ivy and oak poisoning, sunburn and irritated skin, chafing and scalding, sore feet and toes, eczema and salt-rheum; itching, bleeding and protruding piles.

Piles usually result from exposure to dampness and sitting or sleeping on the cold ground. If for no other reason than to relieve and cure piles, Dr. Chase's Ointment should be in every camp. It is a positive cure for this annoying ailment.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

MILLINERY FORECASTS.

There are a number of curious style features in the new imported millinery. One is the use of ostrich feathers as bands about the edge of wide and narrow hat brims. The upper part of the band will have the two ends of the feather fronds caught under and hidden, while on the lower half of the band the fronds fall in a deep fringe sometimes curled, sometimes straight, sometimes crimped, which last is novel.

Another novelty is the wonderful fiery pinks, reds and the strange brownish rust colors. These colors are called "incendie" hues and are perhaps the effect of the fire and flames of battle on the minds of textile fabricants, for there is the rust of steel as well as the lurid tones of warfare. Whole hats are covered with rust colored velvet, and brims of black velvet hats are of the curious pink or deep red duvetyn.

There are several hints of the Third Empire modes in hats. There is medium-sized mushroom shape with rather high crown; a flat tam shape, and others with narrow brim and conical crown. There are many conical shapes in the new importations.

Narrow ribbons are a millinery feature. One with a fringed edge is a favorite. Figured Ottoman ribbons, very old-timey looking, show quaint rose garlands. Others show posies, as well as interwoven gold stripes. These are to encircle black velvet hat crowns, tied in snappy bows for there is a striking tendency to lighten the dark velvet hats in this fashion. Two encircling strips, entirely independent, often are used on one hat.

Some of the new turbans have odd fan-shaped wings. One long, low and suave shape has an edge of round, bulletlike beads.

Transparent brims of silver gauze or Georgette crepe are combined with a velvet crown in the more dressy models.

Knitted caps, both bowl shaped and cylindrical, and in gay mixtures of colors, have also been imported from France, with marching sweaters.

The vogue of the Tam-o'-Shanter shapes in summer hats is very pronounced in French hats. So we may expect to see a continuation of this shape in autumn modes. It does not seem as if there could be many more variations. The brim diverges sometimes into a jockey shape, and sometimes even attempts to roll up, like a regular hat brim, on one side. But it is in the inflated crowns that the novelty seems to lie. They seem to have been inspired by the way the wind blew the day each one was created.

A Page of Interest to Women

HOUSEWIVES MUST USE LESS WHEAT, BEEF AND BACON

Conserve Food and Help Allies Win the War.

CRITICAL STAGE IS NOW

Economy Is Vital if Famine at Home Is To Be Averted.

Mrs. David Williams, "Bishopstowe," who was appointed chairman of the London committee of the Women's Auxiliary of the Organization of Resources Committee, at the organization meeting held some days ago, makes the following appeal to the housewives of London in connection with the food conservation movement:

The Housewife and the War.

We are now in the most critical stage of the war, and the most vital question at this critical stage is how to feed our allies in Europe and our soldiers at the front. The great needs are wheat, beef and bacon. To secure enough of these, the housewives of Canada must use one-sixth less wheat and nearly one-third less beef and bacon than they have been using. The Government has enforced this by law in hotels and restaurants, where neither beef nor bacon may be served on Tuesdays and Fridays, and other than white bread must be served at every meal.

In the Homes, Too.

Now we appeal to the housewives of this district to carry out the same regulations in their homes. Success in conserving food will depend much more upon us, the thousands of housewives, than upon the comparatively few hotels and restaurants.

Remember, the danger is not alone that our soldiers and allies will suffer, but that we at home will face scarcity, if not famine, conditions. For the fact is that next year there will not be enough of these three great commodities to go around unless we economize and use substitutes this year. It is unthinkable that our soldiers, who are fighting our battles and risking their lives for us, should have their food cut down. Any shortage will, therefore, fall upon us; and, therefore, to save ourselves from scarcity or famine conditions next year, we must now conserve our food, especially wheat, beef and bacon.

Must Eat Less.

How is this to be done? We answer:

1. We must all use one-sixth less wheat (whether in the form of flour or in any other form), and in making bread use oatmeal, cornmeal, buckwheat or rye flour mixed with white flour, to the extent of at least one-sixth.

2. We must all use two-sevenths less of beef and bacon, and use fish, eggs, beans, rice, potatoes, etc., instead on two days out of seven.

3. We must all avoid waste. It has been figured that the people of Canada throw away over $50,000,000 worth of food every year. In view of the prospect before us, such waste is criminal.

Will you pledge yourself to help to win the war by "doing your bit" in this way?

The premier of Ontario solemnly stated that the housewife who failed to co-operate in this effort to save our food is just as much a slacker as the man who refused to fight for his country.

Let us show that there are no slackers among the women.

Asks for Addresses.

"Hamiltonian"—Your letter requesting addresses at the summer resort could not appear in our column for advertising reasons. Shall, however, be pleased to send you what information I can.

Your "Get-Away Power" in Summer is a matter of fuel-food for the human engine. Food that is hard to digest and low in nutritive value does not supply energy for the day's work. It uses up needed power by overtaxing the digestive organs. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is all food It is 100 per cent. whole wheat and is prepared in a digestible form. Changing from meat and potatoes to Shredded Wheat brings a mental buoyancy and physical alertness that makes one eager for the day's task. Eat it for any meal with sliced bananas, berries, or other fruits.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Stay at the "Y."

"Elizabeth Ann,"—It would be absolutely correct for you to stay at the "Y." If you are not very familiar with the city, to send a line to the secretary, Park avenue, would insure some one meeting you, if you wished. Otherwise, simply call, and they will be glad to make arrangements for you.

Principal of Normal.

"Hopeful,"—Mr. S. J. Radcliffe is the principal, and all information will be obtained from him. Best to give him your name as soon as possible.

Could Not Locate It.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you kindly publish this week, if possible, if you can secure it, the poem of which the first stanza runs as follows:

Better than grandeur, better than gold,
Than rank or titles a hundred fold,
Is a healthful body, a mind at ease,
And simple pleasures that always please.

I am very anxious to have it this week, as I want to use it in an address. Thanking you in advance. Sincerely yours, ROB ROY.

Ans.—Have searched through several collections of poetry, but could find no trace of the verses. I am sorry, as they would no doubt be good sentiment to print. And now there will be no time for readers to send a copy in, if anyone did chance to have the poem. Regrettable.

Where Is J. O. G.

Dear Cynthia,—Well, it is a long time since I visited your cheery and most helpful Mail-Box, but, feeling very lonesome, I thought I would call again. What has happened to "Just One Girl"? We have not heard from her for some time. I wonder if she has met one whom she would allow to caress her? "J. O. G.," I would like to hear from you again. Where are the "Forest City Boys"? Evidently my letters last winter shamed them away from the Mail-Box.

I have tried "Help on a Bit's" way of washing, and, believe me, I will always wash that way. The coal oil does the work. I have a little son who is just starting to walk, and I do try to keep him in white, so I have very large washings, and find "Help on a Bit's" way the easiest and cleanest I have ever tried.

I have two dear brothers overseas, and my husband is in the trenches. I send him a box every week or two. Here are some of the things I generally send: Small can salmon, canned sardines, chocolatta, prepared coffee, Oxo, gum, salted peanuts, khaki handkerchiefs, tan shoe laces, safety pins (all sizes), a few pieces of soft white cloth, and sometimes a small box of salve, bachelor buttons, coarse thread, towel and Lifebuoy soap. I always send fruit cake and socks, and fill up box with some of the other things mentioned. Hope this hint will be of some help to those sending boxes overseas. I would ask to adopt one of your dear lonelies, but you see I have three dear boys to send boxes to, and they keep me quite busy.

I am going to ask a few questions if I may.

What day did August 27, 1896, fall on? What day did August 20, 1890, fall on?

What will take mildew out of fine white clothes?

What do you think of my scribble?

I wonder if a certain little woman near Ingersoll will recognize me if I sign myself,

LONELY WIFE OF A 161ST SOLDIER

P. S.—Inclosed is 25 cents for the prisoners' fund. I always put tobacco in the boys' boxes. I forgot to mention it in my list.

Ans.—It would be nice to hear from "Just One Girl" again, so I hope she sees our joint invitation, and visits the Mail-Box once more. How lovely to do that "H. O. A. B.'s" way of washing proved satisfactory. She will be pleased to hear it. Your assortment for an overseas box seems so good it will be worth saving the clipping for future reference.

1. August 27, 1896, came on a Thursday; August 20, 1890, on a Wednesday.

2. Wet the marks, soap well, cover with powdered chalk, and leave for two or three hours in the sun; keep moist; repeat if necessary; then wash and rinse well.

3. It is rather irregular, but neat and easy to read. Your quarter is gratefully credited.

Agrees With "White Ribbon."

Dear Miss Grey,—I do enjoy reading your Page very much. I was especially interested in "White Ribbon's" letter in yesterday's paper. I think she is right. The Government is certainly not doing as it should. It needs some women in power, for I believe there are women here in Canada who, under the same circumstances could do better than some of our present statesmen. One party is no better than the other.

Re the first contingent boys coming home for a rest, it ought to be granted. There are enough men here to go and fill the gap, besides leaving the farmers. The majority of city men could go, as women could carry on the work in the city, whereas the work in the country is too heavy for women. I have just been reading a letter from a soldier at the front in our local paper. It makes me feel like saying: "By all means, let conscription come."

I certainly agree with "White Ribbon" regarding beer and the white bread. I say: "Let us have bread as long as beer is made." Suppose you think I am a cranky, old maid, but from it.

Miss Grey, some time ago, someone was wanting reading matter for her mother, who, I believe, was an invalid. I think her penname was "Irene." She said she would pay postage. If so, will you send me her name and address? I inclose stamped and addressed envelope. Inclosed is 25c for the prisoners' fund. Hoping I may be of further use,

TEDDY'S FRIEND.

Ans.—Your views on "White Ribbon's" letter are noted with interest, and I should like to also hear from other readers, on the same subject.

"Irene's" address is mailed you, and I am sure her mother will be pleased with any bright reading matter you may send.

Pessimist's Puzzler.

"Pessimist" writes considerable foolishness, imploring to know when this war will end, anyhow. From the writing, you are evidently of the stern sex, and it puzzles me to know why any man should thus be wasting valuable time, when he should be busy fighting—either the Hun or the H. C. of L. And also why inquire of a mere unlearned woman? But for your edification here's a quotation from Tit-Bits. Take it for what it is worth:

"Still the war prophet survives, and with just as much assurance as ever. This time it is Zodiac, who, after long consultation with the stars, has no possible doubt whatever that the coming month of October will hear the last shot fired in the present war, and the dove of peace with healing in his wings will be hatched six months later. The kaiser will not wait to be deposed; he will pack up his valuables and sneak away in a submarine to South America. As for 'Little Willie,' he will survive (where, our prophet does not say), cherishing his dreams of world-empire in his disordered brain, until the year 1931, when he will be assassinated 'in circumstances of most unroyal disgrace.'"

DYSENTERY —IS— DANGEROUS

Dysentery is one of the worst forms of bowel complaint. It comes on so suddenly, the pains in the bowels become intense, the discharges occur with great rapidity, and are very often accompanied by blood, and the action on the system so weakening that its termination often proves fatal.

When the bowels get loosened up in this way, and you wish to check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation, there is only one remedy to use, and that is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

This remedy is not an experiment, as it has been used in thousands of Canadian homes during the past 72 years.

Mrs. Albert Fearon, Bryant's Corner, N. B., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for the past ten years, and I would not be without it in the house.

"Last fall my little boy, three years old, took very badly with dysentery. After taking three or four doses of 'Dr. Fowler's' he began to improve, and before he had used all the bottle he was entirely cured. I sincerely recommend it to all."

There are many cheap imitations of this sterling remedy on the market. Ask for Dr. Fowler's and see that you get the genuine when you ask for it. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"The Captivity of Judah." II. Kings, xxv. 1-21.

Golden Text—As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked. Ezekiel, xxxiii. 11.

1. What did the equipment for fighting, to a king, when he and his army are captured by the enemy?

10. Verses 8-10—Would you say, or not, and why, that the burning of Solomon's Temple, of the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, was according to the will of the Lord?

11. When good things, no matter how valuable, as works of art, are used to lead to vice, why does the Lord want them destroyed?

12. Put on one side of the scales, art, music, education, precious treasure and riches, and a human soul on the other, and say which is the heavier, and what is the difference?

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author Says

EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER EVERY DAUGHTER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES.

To put strength into her nerves and color into her cheeks.

There can be no beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women without iron. The trouble in the past has been that when women needed iron they generally took ordinary metallic iron which often corroded the stomach and did far more harm than good. Today doctors prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard looking women 100 per cent in two weeks' time in many instances. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.—Ferdinand King, M. D.

NOTE: NUXATED IRON recommended by Dr. Ferdinand King can be obtained from any good druggist who will guarantee success or return your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

THE SPORT-LIGHT

By Grantland Rice.

The professional boxing game passes in New York State on August 27. It is reported that some of the promoters will attempt to continue under the club system, but from what Governor Whitman has said these attempts will be blocked. Some of the more prominent promoters have announced that they will not try to continue. They will take their boxers through "the sticks" and give exhibitions until the interest dies.

When it is driven out of New York professional boxing will have been ousted from its last stronghold. There is no place in the United States now where bouts may be fought to a decision. Jimmie Coffroth, who promoted a number of championship fights, when the game was brisk in California, is trying to start interest in a few bouts in Tia Juana across the Mexican line. His big card will be Jess Willard and the winner of the Fulton-Morris fight.

There was a time when such a bout between a pair of giants might have drawn thousands from all parts of the world. Sportsmen would have come from London, Paris and even from Petrograd to see it. But that was before the war. A Morris-Willard fight to a finish at Tia Juana would hardly lure any patronage from Europe.

The arrival of the first American casualty list from France will be the quietus on any lingering interest in prize-fighting. The Willard-Morris fight, if it should be staged, would be the limit of incongruity.

NEW YORK'S TWO CHAMPIONS.

The passing of the fight game will see New York in possession of two championships. Benny Leonard will retain the lightweight championship and Al McCoy of Brooklyn, will pass into ring history as the middleweight champion. Leonard won his championship fairly and is admittedly the best of the lightweights of today, if not the equal of any of those who have held the title in the past. Al McCoy is far from a Ketchel or a Jack Dempsey, but his claim to the middleweight title is technically correct.

A BOXER AND THE FIGHTERS.

The tip-off on the boxing game was given by a crowd of small boys on a cross street at Fifth avenue the other day. A croud of youngsters were following Benny Leonard, and the group looked like Gibson's picture of "The Champion."

Suddenly there came the blare of a brass band. A detail from the Seventh New York Regiment on the way to join the "Fighting Sixty-ninth" was passing up the avenue. "Gee, soldiers!" cried one of the boys. In an instant Benny Leonard's admirers had forsaken him and were scampering toward the avenue to see the men in khaki swing by.

Even John L. Sullivan in these days could not hold his followers if General Pershing happened to be passing on the other side of the street. Which would indicate the growth of a clearer sense of values.

The prize-fighters who are left jobless by the passing of the game in New York State will have a tough time collecting sympathy. They can hardly claim that there is a dearth of opportunity to fight.

Snappy Bouts Staged By the Soldier Scrappers

Three Bouts at Heights Last Night in Preliminaries for Big Tourney.

Some snappy bouts were witnessed last evening at the camp during the preliminaries for the boxing tourney, which the men in training hope to put on every week. Three bouts were staged last night. Each was of three rounds. The first was between Corp. Gallman of the 25th Overseas Company and Pte. O'Toole of the 21st. Gallman was called the winner after some smart work was done by both fighters. The second bout was between Pte. Hall of the 21st and Corp. Hamilton of the 25th. Hall won this after some strenuous work had been done by both boys. The last bout of the three was the liveliest. Pte. Wiley of the 7th met Pte. Bareham of the 25th, and for three rounds these two men mixed it lively, much to the delight of the spectators. Wiley showed good form, perhaps the best that the evening brought forth, and won his bout.

These bouts are merely try-outs as far as the men are concerned, so that the umpires and the committee can decide who shall fight on one night each week. It is likely that a big bout will be staged next week.

TOMMY GIBBONS WINS.

St. Paul, Aug. 23.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul boxer, won by a wide margin from George Chip of Newcastle, Pa., here last night in a ten-round boxing match in the opinion of the majority of newspapermen at the ringside.

In the third round Gibbons took the lead, landing a hard left hook, which shook Chip. In the fifth, sixth and seventh rounds he outboxed his opponent by a wide margin, Chip's vicious swings slipping off Gibbons' head or shoulders.

In the last round the men stood toe to toe, Gibbons landing the most telling blows.

BOSTON WINS FROM WHITE SOX IN LOOSE GAME

Leaders Break Even in Series at Windy City.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Boston cut Chicago's lead down to two games today, when they won the final game of the series 5 to 1 in a loosely-played game, thereby getting an even break in the series.

Claude Williams was unsteady throughout the game, and finally gave way to Danforth, after the bases were filled in the seventh inning. The visitors then proceeded to bunch hits, and with the aid of some erratic playing clinched the game. Leonard pitched a steady game and was given fine support.

As a result of today's game, the standing of the leaders is:

Raymond Sheldon, the officer detailed by the war department to inspect the American League teams, and decide the winner of the $500 prize offered by the league for the best drilled team. President Johnson of the American League accompanied Lieut.-Col. Sheldon.

BATTLE OF WITS IN THE CHECKER TOURNEY NOW ON

Plays 52 Games Simultaneously, Winning 42 and Drawing 10, at Hyman Hall.

A battle of wits is one way to describe the exhibition of checker-playing offered by Alfred Jordan, the famous checker champion, when he is in action at Hyman Hall, where he engages simultaneously from ten to twenty local players. Mr. Jordan played 52 games on Wednesday, winning 42 and drawing 10.

Picture the big room at Hyman Hall with a double row of small tables running across it. Over each table bends a player, his whole soul bent on the play; the champion walks up and down between the tables, stopping before each player, in turn, to make a move; and over all hangs a silence, not a heavy silence, but rather a silence which denotes the intense concentration of the mental faculties.

Mr. Jordan is said to be a remarkable player by those who are critics of the game. His moves are made quickly, with the decision that comes only of long experience with the game. He rarely has to think out a play. Occasionally one of his opponents will make a move that causes the champion to stop and study the layout of the men on the board, but this is an exception to the rule. Some of London's best checker players, and there are some keen students of the game in this city, are in the play at Hyman Hall.

Surrounding each player are a group of his friends or other checker enthusiasts, who do believe that they are sufficiently good players to meet the champion. Each of these offers advice and the benefit of his experience to the man who is in charge of the board, so Mr. Jordan really plays several players at each board, instead of one man.

To many it is a marvel how Mr. Jordan is able to decide instantly on his move the moment he glances at the board of his opponent. This art can be acquired only by long practice. Years and years of constant study of the game are necessary before one can hope to do this. Mr. Jordan has been playing checkers for upwards of twenty years. He commenced to play when he was six years of age and since that time has been assiduously studying the game. He has won several championships and was never defeated as champion of England, which he held from 1892 to 1898, when he came out to America.

Mr. Jordan was brought to London by several local enthusiasts, and while in this city is the guest of G. A. Andrus.

Mr. Jordan played 52 games yesterday, winning 42 of them and drawing 10. The scores for Wednesday's play:

AUTOMOBILE TOURIST SERVICE

Citizens of London, are you aware of the fact that you have a touring service in the city operating touring cars that are not surpassed by any service in New York, Boston, Chicago or San Francisco?

These cars are the best money could buy, costing $2,300 each. We do not operate cheap cars. Our motto also is, Safety First. These cars are inspected daily before going on the daily run, and the public can be assured that cars are not operated till they have passed the daily inspection. They also carry liability insurance, and chauffeurs are all experts, thus bringing delays on the road to a minimum. When you want a motor tour or drive around the city, call 'phone 658.

HORNER—In loving memory of my dear son, Pte. Harrison Horner, of the 114th Battalion, who gave up his life at the front in France, July 28, 1917, aged 19 years and 5 months.

So ready, dear son, to answer the call of the brave,
Although you now rest in a far distant grave;
What more or what better could any man give
Than his life for his country, that others might live?
We often talk of the days gone by,
When we were all together,
But shadows o'er our lives have passed,
And our loved one's gone forever.

BRITISH DRIVE HUNS ON BELGIAN FRONT TO NORTH OF YPRES

Battle Waged All Day To Reduce Many Redoubts.

DEFENCE IS STUBBORN

Enemy Clinging Tenaciously To Position Attacked by Haig.

London, Aug. 22.—The British troops, attacking fiercely again today, have captured important strategic positions for a mile along the Ypres-Menin road, to a depth of nearly a third of a mile, and further to the north carried forward their front about a half mile over an extent of two and a half miles.

The fighting, according to the official report from British headquarters tonight, was of the most desperate nature, the prisoners taken bearing small ratio to the losses inflicted on the Germans.

The text of the statement reads:

"Successful operations were undertaken by our troops this morning to the east and northeast of Ypres for the capture of a series of strong points and fortified farms lying a few hundred yards in front of our positions astride the Ypres-Menin road, and between the Ypres-Roulers railway and Langemarck.

"Bitter fighting has taken place at all points. The enemy again launched repeated counter-attacks, which suffered heavy losses from our artillery and machine gun fire.

Wrest Ridge From Foe.

"The struggle was particularly fierce in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Menin road, where the enemy fought desperately to retain command of the high ground. Here our line has been advanced to a depth of about 500 yards on a front of about a mile.

"A position giving important observation to the eastward was captured by us, and our troops established themselves in the western portion of Inverness copse. Further north our line has been carried forward on a front of two and a half miles to a greater depth of over half a mile.

"The garrisons of the captured farms and strong points resisted with the greatest stubbornness. In many cases isolated positions were only reduced after fighting lasting throughout the greater part of the day.

Canadian Take 21 Mortars.

"In these operations we captured over 250 prisoners, but by reason of the obstinate nature of the fighting the prisoners taken bear more than a usually small proportion to the total losses inflicted on the enemy. The number of prisoners taken by us in the course of yesterday's fighting in the neighborhood of Lens is 194, bringing the total in this neighborhood since the morning of August 15 to 1,378. In the same period we also captured in this area 34 machine guns and 21 trench mortars so far counted.

"Yesterday there was again great activity in the air on both sides. Severe fighting took place. Twelve German airplanes were brought down by our machines. Five others were brought down out of control. Twelve of our airplanes are missing, including two which collided behind the enemy's lines during a bombing raid."

SOME COMPROMISES MAY BE REACHED IN SOLDIER VOTE BILL

At Midnight Disposition Is To Get Together.

CLOSURE NOT REQUIRED

Bill Is Warmly Criticized by F. B. Carvell and Others.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—There was a hot attack on the soldiers' vote bill today in the Commons, and a warm defence of the measure. The two sides got into bad humor and out of it again. The bill was struggled with until midnight, when the two sides indicated a disposition to get together and improve disputed points. When the House rose at 12 o'clock it looked as if the bill might be amended in such a way that it would be passed from the committee stage tomorrow.

There has been some talk of putting it through by closure, but it seems that force will not have to be applied.

George P. Graham asked that there be just one day set apart for the Canadian soldiers in Canada and in England, and on that day there should be no distinction of rank, but every man should be as good as the officers.

They would be citizens of Canada for the day, instead of officers and privates. They should be free to go to the polls at the hour they liked and vote when they liked. There should be no parade or military discipline for the day.

Judge Doherty could not see the harm in the men being marched out together to the voting place, provided they were allowed to vote one at a time.

F. P. Carvell said that the things in the bill to which he objected were, first the clause allowing men who were not residents of Canada before enlistment to vote where they please or where it was suggested to them. These votes should not be distributed to the close constituents, but the votes of these men should be recorded in the constituencies where they had enlisted; he objected to overseas officers being allowed to poll the votes of their men without representatives of the political parties being present; he objected to officers being allowed to carry around bags of votes that might be examined at any time during the period of voting.

W. H. M. German could see no reason for more than two days being allowed for Canadian soldiers in England or the West Indies voting.

Can't Be Done, Says Borden.

Premier Borden replied that it would be impossible to take the votes of the Canadian wounded in England in so short a time, as they were scattered all over England. Canadian forestry drafts were scattered all over England and France, some being away down among the Vosges. Railway construction units were scattered throughout France.

"Imagine trying to take the votes of all these men in one day. If anyone imagines it is going to be an easy task to take the votes of all the Canadian soldiers in France, it indicates that he has absolute lack of appreciation of what the conditions are in France. It is going to be a tremendous task."

A. K. MacLean suggested that Parliament be furnished with a fuller statement of the location of the Canadian units in France and elsewhere.

The Premier said there would be no objection as far as England was concerned, but this would not be judicious for France.

The minister of justice suggested some amendments, but the Liberals objected that they did not go far enough to satisfy their objections. However, the minister showed a disposition to meet objections, and uncontested clauses of the bill were passed.

The committee arose with the understanding that there should be an effort tomorrow to get together and settle differences.

Post Up Candidates' Names.

In committee on the soldier vote bill, E. M. MacDonald said there should be a provision in the measure that the names of candidates in the ridings should be posted on the notice boards at the front, so that the soldiers would be the better able to make up their minds for whom they should vote.

The minister of justice said he could see no objection to the suggestion, and had the amendment incorporated in the bill.

F. B. Carvell declared that as the bill now stood a returning officer could carry around a polling box without any check on him. Such a thing was not permitted in Canada, and it was not right to allow it to be done elsewhere, as it gave chances to the men who desired to be unfair. That there was no machinery to protect the voting was violation of decency and honesty.

Judge Doherty said that in France the votes would have to be taken in the front line trenches. There was possibility of fraud by either unscrupulous voter or returning officer. He would be glad to hear of a plan to meet the situation.

Unfair and Unreasonable.

Mr. Carvell said that there should be no voting by the troops in France unless in the presence of scrutineers representing the two parties, and the expense of the scrutineers would not be heavy. The Government was spending more on ornamental staff officers than would be required to pay for the scrutineers. The ballots should be signed and sealed by the scrutineers, so that they could not be tampered with. The soldier was entitled to this protection for his vote. If the minister of justice wanted the votes of the soldiers honestly taken he should be able to throw legislative safeguards around the ballotting and counting. If the bill went through in its present form it would be a powerful weapon to hold up against the Government, because it contained provisions that were most unfair and unreasonable.

Scrutineers From Army.

The minister said that each party was represented in the army, and each could get scrutineers from the force. Thus the scrutineers would be on soldier pay and soldier keep; they would be soldiers and should protect the soldier vote.

Mr. German did not see how it would be possible to take a soldier from his duties for the 28 days that the voting of the soldiers was to continue.

Mr Carvell said that the candidates of the Government would have access to the lists of the soldiers, while Opposition candidates would be at the disadvantage of not having the lists or addresses of their soldier constituents. From his riding there were 1,500 men at the front, and he did not have the addresses of 100 of them. Government candidates would be able to get the addresses and send campaign literature.

A Cordial Interchange.

"Why cast suspicion on your opponents?" asked Major Burnham.

"Well, I would trust you, but there are some people that I would not trust," replied Mr. Carvell.

"I would trust you," replied Mr. Burnham.

This cordial interchange was followed by another of different character.

Mr. Carvell declared that the Canadian soldier was a man, and desired only to be treated as a man, in legislation and otherwise "The soldier is a human being," he said.

"Drunk or sober?" interrupted Dr. Edwards.

"What do you mean?" asked Mr. Carvell.

"You once said that the soldiers were all drunkards," said Dr. Edwards.

"Mr. Chairman, there is one man in this House who is beneath contempt," said Mr. Carvell. "I have had no parley with him for two years, and I am not going to start now. I will have nothing to do with the member for Frontenac.

The chairman interfered and prevented further developments.

Could Vote in Rest Camps.

Mr. Carvell said that the bill should provide that after the polling, the ballots, affidavits and all election papers should be sealed up and signed by the deputy returning officer, the poll clerk and the two scrutineers. There was no reason why all of the voting should not be done in the rest camps in the rear of the trenches, and in the presence of the proper officers and scrutineers.

Premier Borden said that the Government desired to have the simplest possible arrangements for the taking of the soldier vote. He could not imagine carrying on voting in the midst of what had been going on in the outskirts of Lens during the past four or five days.

Mr. Carvell said he agreed, but did not believe that efforts would be made to take the votes of soldiers under such circumstances. There were 28 days allowed for the voting, and soldiers were not kept in battle for that length of time.

WHO IS IT KNOCKS AND DOES NOT BOOST IT?

Sure it is the man who has not used it, for Wm. Lovelock, the well-known painter in St. Thomas, 14 Station street, for over twelve years, says: "I was all in with inflammatory rheumatism. I went to bed in September, 1911, and the first work I was able to do was on the 17th March, 1913.

"I was swollen from head to foot, in fact my limbs were twice the ordinary size and I was in intense pain for three weeks. I was unable to feed myself and was suffering more each day. My physician told me plainly to prepare for the worst, as about ten days was my limit." A friend of mine who was trying to cheer me up a bit after the physician had left, remarked. "Why not try Parker's Oil?" I sent to Small's Drug Store and purchased a bottle, and after the first application received relief, and in three days the pain was gone, swelling reduced greatly. I used seven bottles and here I am today, willing to testify and give praise to Parker's Celebrated Oil, the sure cure for rheumatism as I found it.

CANADA MAY BE PUT ON COAL RATIONS, IS WORD OF MINISTER

Million More Tons Required This Year Than Last.

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—Canada may be on coal rations this winter. The information has been conveyed to Parliament by the minister of trade and commerce. The North American continent is short on coal production and coal transportation, and long on demand of coal, according to a comprehensive statement made by Sir Geo. Foster. Last year Canada produced 3,800,000 tons of bituminous coal, the Maritime Provinces raising 6,000,000 tons, British Columbia 2,800,000 and Alberta 4,600,000. Canada exported 1,800,000 tons and imported from the United States 13,000,000 tons.

For anthracite Canada depended entirely upon the United States and last year took 4,500,000 tons, its distribution being 250,000 Maritime Provinces; 1,000,000 to Quebec; 2,000,000 to Ontario and a small amount to Manitoba and the near west.

18,000,000 Tons Required.

Thus in hard and soft coal Canada last year brought in 17,500,000 tons. As Canadian anthracite stocks had been lowered last year there should have to be a million tons extra imported this year to make up the deficiency, so Canada could count upon requiring 18,000,000 tons at least from the United States.

There is no prospect for increased coal production in Canada. The Maritime Provinces will not be able to raise more than enough required for themselves, so that what Quebec formerly got from the Maritime Provinces will have to be imported.

The situation in the United States has affected Canada. The normal output there is 68,000,000 of anthracite and 509,000,000 tons of bituminous. Supplies, which were small at the beginning of the year, had been increased since April and more is being produced than last year.

GOVERNMENT SPARS FOR TIME ON BILL FOR CONSCRIPTION

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—There was a morning report that royal assent was to be given this afternoon to the conscription bill. The representatives of the King did not come, and Emanuel Devlin, Liberal member for Wright, started to locate the bill. He did not find out the immediate intention of the Government concerning it.

On the orders of the day being called Mr. Devlin asked what progress was being made in the allocation of appeal tribunals by C. P. Plaxton, the official of the justice department, who has been given an office in the Parliament building to enable him to consult with members on the exemption tribunal question.

Some Progress Made.

Judge Doherty stated that Mr. Plaxton was making some progress; he could not say exactly how much.

In view of the assurance by the minister of justice that Mr. Plaxton was making progress, Mr. Devlin asked if "the Government had obtained the assurance, necessary under the constitution, of the governor-general's assent to the bill."

The speaker interposed that such a question, under the rules, had to be formally placed on the order paper.

Mr. Devlin said that the question was one of vital interest and should be answered.

So Vital, It Is Delayed.

"That is one reason why it should be placed on the order paper," said the speaker.

"The question is one that can be very simply answered," said Sir Wilfrid.

The speaker replied that as Parliament was moving in unusual times, so unusual procedure was occasionally permitted. He had sought to err on the side of leniency and had permitted many questions to be put that should properly have been placed on the orders of the day. The question now under consideration was of that character, and he must so rule.

The question went to the order paper and the Government got the time it desired.

GENERAL MAUDE'S MEN HAVE OCCUPIED TOWN TO NORTH OF BAGDAD

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A British official communication concerning the operations on the Mesopotamian front says the British have occupied the town of Sheraban lying northeast of Bagdad, near the Persian frontier. The communication, which is dated Sunday, says:

"Our colums attacked the Turks near Sheraban, on the left bank of the Diala. The enemy made little resistance and retreated hastily to the Hamrin Hills. We remained in possession of Sheraban."

COMPANY SLASHES PRICE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The Consumers' Company, Chicago, said to be one of the largest retail coal dealers in the world, today announced a slash of from $1 to $1.80 on soft coal, effective immediately. This is in line with the price fixed by President Wilson. Other dealers will make similar cuts it was said, at once. It was estimated the reductions will cut Chicago's coal bill by $30,000,000.

HIGH FINANCING OF C.N.R. MAGNATES IS DIFFICULT TO UNVEIL

Mr. Oliver Asks What Bank Allowed for Their Stock.

IRRELEVANT, SAYS WHITE

Westerner Wants to Get at Value of Stock, and Will Persist.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 22.—There appears to be an unappeasable desire in Parliament for information connected with the past and present financing of the Canadian Northern and of MacKenzie & Mann.

E. M. MacDonald stated to the Government that there were some considerable obligations of the Canadian Northern that fell due for payment last June. It was reported that the payments had been taken care of by a Canadian bank, and he wanted the name of the bank.

Sir Thos. White said that he would take the question into his consideration.

Hon. Frank Oliver said the House had been informed that some Canadian Northern stock had been pledged with the Bank of Commerce. He wanted to know the par value of the stock, and the amount that the bank had advanced against it.

The minister of finance said that the advances had not been to the Canadian Northern Company, but to the owners of the stock, Messrs. MacKenzie & Mann, therefore he did not consider that Mr. Oliver's question was relevant to the consideration of the Canadian Northern acquisition bill.

Mr. Oliver said his purpose was to get some idea of the value of the stock that the Government was going to buy.

Sir Thomas said that this was a case of a specific loan against a specific security.

E. M. MacDonald and E. W. Nesbitt intimated that there was a lot of information that they wanted, and would ask for when the bill was taken in committee again.

NORTHERN LAKES TO BE USED TO SUPPLY PROVINCE WITH FISH

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Hon. F. G. McDiarmid, provincial minister of public works, in co-operation with the food controller, has announced the intention of the Ontario Government to develop large areas of the reserved waters of Ontario as a permanent source of fish food supply for the people of the province.

Lakes Nipissing and Nepigon immediately will be developed. The resources of these waters have been ascertained, and while it is not at present possible with exactness the quantities of fish obtainable for public use, it is known that the added food supply which will be secured for the people of Ontario, will in the aggregate amount annually to several million pounds.

It is proposed to establish a hatchery, or hatcheries at points to be selected, in order that the waters may not become depleted. Warehouse and storage facilities will also be provided. The price of the fish will be controlled from the water to the consumer.

DRAMATIST DISAPPEARS

Hubert Henry Davies Is Believed To Have Fallen Over Cliff.

London, Aug. 23.—Hubert Henry Davies, dramatist, who had been recuperating on the Yorkshire coast, after a long illness, following a hard period of hospital work in France, has disappeared. Mr. Davies' overcoat and cane have been found on top of a cliff, and the belief is that he fell over the cliff into the water and was drowned.

H. H. Davies was born in Cheshire. He went to San Francisco in 1893, where he worked for newspapers and produced several vaudeville sketches. Later he returned to England, where a number of his plays, including "Cousin Kate" and "A Single Man" were staged.

EXTORTION CHARGES

Western Man Under Arrest Accused of Sending Threatening Letters.

Prince Albert, Aug. 23.—The provincial police have apprehended A. J. Inkster, farmer, of the Clouston District on the charge that he wrote threatening letters to a neighbor named Read, in an effort to extort money. Both families are wealthy, but have been on bad terms since Read's 16-year-old daughter died as the result of taking a drug which was alleged to have been secured for her by Frank Inkster, son of the man who is now under arrest. Young Inkster was given a penitentiary term, and died a few weeks ago, following his release from prison. It is claimed that Inkster Sen. wrote the Reads, demanding money to keep his silence regarding exposures he claimed he could make. His preliminary hearing takes place today.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

A good assortment of produce was on the market this morning, but rain kept a great many purchasers from attending.

The big feature of the market was the continued advance in the price of live and dressed hogs. At the Toronto and Detroit markets live porkers are confidently expected to reach the $20 mark before the end of the month, and at the rate of the advance of hogs locally it is possible that prices in the vicinity will go as high as those in the larger cities.

Every porker sold yesterday brought $17.50 per cwt. or over, which is an advance of 25c over Tuesday's values and an increase of $1.50 over the values of a week ago.

As was expected following the large jump in live hogs, dressed hogs sold at the highest price ever reached in the history of the market when they brought $22 per cwt. this morning. This is an advance of $1 over Tuesday's prices.

Potatoes again showed a slight increase in value when the majority of spud purveyors asked from $1.75 to $2 for their bushels. Many growers predicted that tubers would decline to a minimum value of 50c per bushel. They stated that the enormous yield taken from the backyards of local amateur growers would bring down the price to the lowest in years. However, the demand for potatoes has exceeded the supply of late, and indications point to a further advance before the autumn.

The increased offering of celery reduced the price of the vegetable to 30c to 40c per dozen bunches. The demand for corn in the cob is very good, out because of the large offering corn came down to 17c and 20c per dozen.

Large advances in seasonable fruits were shown, plums selling at the increased rate of from $1 to $1.10, and red currants going at $2 per 11-quart basket.

A few boxes of red and black raspberries sold readily this morning, marking the conclusion of a first-rate raspberry season.

The demand for hay has suddenly grown out of all proportion to the supply, which was surplus some days ago. Little hay was offered today, and 30 loads can easily be disposed of tomorrow if they come in.

Small pigs and fat sows advanced with the general jump of all meats, the former selling at $12 to $16 and the latter bringing $14 straight per cwt.

Dairy produce remained unchanged, but the offering was larger today than it has been for some time, which presages a general decline of both butter and eggs.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Wheat trading was negligible today. The first trade was at $2 06 for September, the closing point yesterday. Later that option was bought at $2 05, the trading being confined to evening up transactions preparatory to cessation of all deals in the September option.

WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 23—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Prices tended downward again at the opening of today's stock market. Recessions were more moderate, but the selling assumed wider proportions later. Shares of companies likely to come within the scope of the Government's price regulation policy were most affected. Steels, coppers and various equipments were again under especial pressure, losing 1½ points. Rails reacted quite generally, Reading losing 2 points and Canadian Pacific a point.

Noon.—Losses became more severe on the enlarged dealings of the morning, sales of the first hour approximating 350,000 shares. Many active issues registered lower prices of recent months and some approached minimum quotations of the early weeks of the year. United States Steel's decline to 118½ represented the low record for two months. Numerous accounts were closed out, pressure being augmented by offerings of commission houses, indicating liquidation from interior centres. On the curb, Standard Oil issues fell 3 to 30 points.

CASH WHEAT DEMAND SHOWS FALLING OFF

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—There was a further falling off in the demand for cash wheat today, and Tuesday's buyers were eagerly looking for sellers. For straight grades there was a very indifferent inquiry, while for the off-grades there was practically none. Cash oats were in fair demand and No. 2 C.W. was traded in at the October price.

Future trading was largely confined to the oats market, most of the business in this cereal being done at around Tuesday's prices, but a little higher prevailed at the close. October and November flax was lower than the previous closing quotations, and transactions were few. October wheat opened 3c higher, but sagged during the session. Trading was slow. Cash prices closed unchanged. October wheat closed 2c down. October oats ⅞c up, December ⅞c up, and May ¾c higher. October flax 1c lower, November 1½c lower, and December ½c lower.

Barley was unchanged.

Cash prices closed:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.40; No. 3 northern, $2.40; No. 4, $2.36; No. 5, $2.18; No. 6, $1.93; feed, $1.72.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., 63⅛c; No. 3 C.W., 61⅛c; extra No. 1 feed, 61⅛c; No. 1 feed, 59⅛c; No. 2 feed, 58⅛c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $3.34; No. 2 C.W., $3.29; No. 3 C.W., $3.19.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, new crop, $2.15@2.20, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.40; No. 3 northern, $2.40.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 70¼c, nominal.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—The domestic trade in grain today was quieter, the demand being only for odd cars of oats, owing to the fact that the large buyers have filled their wants pretty well for the time being. There was some inquiry for new crop malting barley, which will more than likely lead to some business in the near future.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $2.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 74@75c; Canadian western, No. 3, 73@74c; extra No. 1 feed, 73@74c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1.26.

FOR THIN FOLKS WHO WOULD BE FAT

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

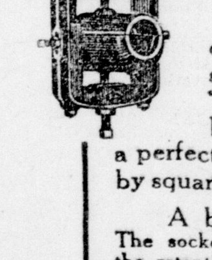

"I would certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of malnutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of the food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Saltogyn tablet with every meal. Saltogyn is a scientific combination of the best strength-giving, fat-producing food elements known to the science of nutrition. This highly-concentrated food nourishment taken in combination with regular meals mixes with the food and rapidly turns the sugars, starches, fats and proteins of the meal into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood. The effect is remarkable. Gains of from 10 to 25 pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet the action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Saltogyn is sold by the best druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

CAUTION:—While because of its direct nutritive action on the nerve cells, Saltogyn has been widely prescribed for nervous indigestion, it should not be used for such purpose over five days at a time unless the user is also willing to increase at least ten pounds in weight. Standard Drug Company can supply you.

PARISHIONERS OBJECT TO APPOINTMENT OF FATHER LAURENDEAU

Meeting Held at Ford to Protest Against Bishop's Choice.

WINDSOR, Aug. 22.—When unofficial announcement was made today that Rev. Father Laurendeau of London, had been appointed parish priest to succeed Rev. Lucien Beaudoin, who died at Montreal, Sunday, a number of parishioners of Our Lady of the Lake Church at Ford held a protest meeting.

The meeting was held behind closed doors, but on a street corner several who took part voiced their objections to Bishop Fallon's selection. Their chief grievance seemed to be that Bishop Fallon had not selected a priest from Quebec.

The meeting followed memorial services in the church for Rev. Father Beaudoin. Rev. Father Dennis O'Connor, vicar-general of London Diocese, represented Bishop Fallon, while Rev. Father Chas. Laliberte preached the sermon.

DIED OF WOUNDS

WARM WELCOME AT PARKHILL FOR MEN BACK FROM TRENCHES

Outing for Returned Soldiers Yesterday Was Greatly Enjoyed.

Practically every citizen in Parkhill assisted in welcoming to their town nearly 150 men from the Central Military Convalescent Hospital on Wednesday afternoon. Every residence and store in the central portion of the town was attractively decorated in honor of the visit. Huge evergreen arches bearing greetings to the party were erected, and through these passed the automobiles, after they had been met some distance from the town by a delegation.

Headed by the Parkhill band they made their way through the streets, thronged with people, to the extensive grounds of the high school. Col. Racey and Mayor J. C. Knapton were at the head of the party, followed by Reeve Harrison and Councillors McGregor, Jackson, Tudor, Sibley and McPhee. Parkhill's own returned men, Capt. Graham, Lieut. George B. Lawton, Pte. Danny Morrison, Pte. Ed Schomaker and Pte. Johnston, marched in the procession.

A Fine Program.

The program opened without delay. Baseball teams were picked from the ranks of the returned men and the citizens. Although they were only scrub teams, they were found to contain some excellent material and the game was keenly contested and ended in a tie. A program of races was dispensed with, owing to the lateness of the hour, but an interesting feature of the day was an impromptu exhibition of bomb-throwing. Many of the men were experts and could toss the deadly little missiles within a small inclosed space the width of an average trench and only six feet long.

The long automobile ride gave everybody an appetite and full justice was done to the excellent supper provided by the ladies of Parkhill. Three large tables set in the open were necessary to accommodate the men.

A brief entertainment was held after the refreshments had been served, Capt. Graham acting as chairman. The toast to the King was responded to by the singing of the National Anthem, followed by lusty cheering.

The toast to the returned soldiers was proposed by Rev. Dr. Dougall of London. He praised the cheery demeanor of the returned men, which they preserved in spite of their many trials. His statement that he ventured to say every returned man present was an ardent conscriptionist met with rounds of applause, which also greeted his further assertion that what the returned men wanted most was not something for their own comfort or advancement of their own ends, but conscription, that help might speedily be sent to their comrades in the trenches. They wanted also, he said, a national government, bent only on winning the war, and not a country given over to "partyism."

Duty of Quebec.

Lieut. Williams, who responded to the toast, also met with storms of applause as he demanded that Quebec should send its full quota of men to the front and not be exempted because of the disturbances there.

"I don't know where Canadians would be if they had depended on those people," he said. "In the hearing of all you soldiers, who know conditions and understand the need, I say that we want conscription and we want it right away for every man that is able to bear arms.

"Politics has ruined military life in Canada today. We want a war party with but one aim, The successful conclusion of the war."

Other speakers were Capt. Morris, W. H. Bartram and E. R. Wilson. Lieut. George B. Lawton and Pte. Danny Morrison were presented with gold watches, as a mark of esteem in which they are held by the citizens. The address to Lieut. Lawton was read by Rev. Mr. Farney, and that to Danny Morrison by Reeve Harrison.

Musical Numbers.

A musical program, to which the returned men contributed generously, was a feature of the entertainment. Two especially pleasing numbers were solos by Miss Elliot and Miss Egleton. J. V. Wachter was the pianist and returned men who contributed numbers were Paddy Carreghan, Pte. White, Pte. E. Smith and Corp. Phillips.

Cars for the occasion were loaned by R. J. Webster, Alex Summers, J. E. McGuffin, Dr. Craig, L. A. Keenleyside, T. F. McCracken, J. C. Beemer, Isabel Hampton, I.O.D.E.; Fred Hunter, Frank Harley, William Curtis, J. W. Eddy, Arthur Nobbs, Mr. JaJrmain, E. H. Johnston, Dr. S. M. Kennedy, John G. Orchard, Mr. Travers, J. M. CORP. ERNEST FULLER IN HOSPITAL WITH TWO GUNSHOT WOUNDS

Percy St. Clair Aldridge of Chelsea Green has just heard from his daughter, Mrs. Ernest Fuller, now attached to No. 10 Western University Stationary Hospital at Eastbourne, England, particulars of the wounding of his son-in-law, Corp. Ernest Fuller. The corporal enlisted with the 29th Battery, and went overseas early last year. He was, writes his wife, wounded on June 23 with two gunshots in the thigh. He was taken to the military hospital at Bournemouth, and later transferred to the Western "U" Hospital, where his wife is in charge of the officers' and patients' cooks.

Mrs. Fuller is the fourth member of Mr. Aldridge's family serving overseas. Her husband is the fifth. Mrs. Fuller went to England last year with the imperial service, and was transferred to No. 10 Hospital this spring.

The Aldridge family came to London eight years ago from Eastbourne. Since the war there have been four reunions in the old home town. The first was when Percy Aldridge, who went overseas with the 33rd Battalion, got his first leave from France, and met his sister there. Corp. Charles Aldridge was wounded at Vimy Ridge, and sent to Lincoln, England. Later he, too, was transferred to Eastbourne. Corp. Fuller, who was employed in London with W. Heaman & Sons, comes from Eastbourne, too.

A letter from Corp Frank Aldridge, third brother to enlist, announces that he has been placed in charge of the bombing section of the 14th Montreal Battalion. He crossed to England with the 142nd Battalion.

SKIPPER WATT MAY TURN HIS FINE YAWL OVER TO GOVERNMENT

Veteran Londoner Is Home After Exciting Cruise on Lakes.

"Commodore" P. J. Watt is in town today with his pockets as full of gold as was the well-known pirate's hold in the story book poem, if a story which appeared in Tuesday evening's Toronto Star is true. Eddie Pugh, of Hamilton, who was one of the crew of Mr. Watt's yawl, Barbara, during a recent cruise around Lake Ontario, says that while they had a stormy time off Grimsby and Newcastle, it was nothing compared to the stormy times that they had below decks every evening. The Star says: The big yawl Barbara of the R. C. Y. C. fleet is in Hamilton after a two-weeks' cruise around the lake, and her owner, "Skipper" Watt, of London, may turn her over to the Government for a patrol boat. The Barbara's crew on the cruise around Lake Ontario consisted of the owner, Mr. Watt, Gus Ellis, Eddie Pugh and Lou Martin, of the Queen City Yacht Club, Toronto, and Messrs. English, Robinson and Connell, of Hamilton. They had a large time. The fun included a couple of lively hours in squalls, one off Grimsby and the other off Newcastle. The Grimsby episode was decidedly strenuous. It hailed and blew so hard that the crew had to douse practically everything, and Eddie Pugh had a narrow escape from a trip overboard when the mezzen gybed. Pugh says that the battles they had on deck with the elements were only a patch to the battles they had between decks with the skipper each night. He says that the London man had all the crew's "wages" at the end of the trip, and took the "deck" home as a souvenir.

WARNING ISSUED TO CONSERVE FUEL AND PREVENT A FAMINE

Premier Hearst Urges Consumers to Practice Utmost Thrift.

A circular just issued by Premier Hearst states that war conditions have so affected the fuel situation in Ontario that it is imperative that every consumer practice the utmost thrift. The circular says:

Energetic measures are being adopted to prevent fuel shortage. This can only be attained by the fullest co-operation and assistance of every coal consumer.

Co-operation may be effected by the adoption of the following precautions, viz:

1. Refrain from using fuel of any kind, including gas, until it becomes absolutely necessary.
2. Practice rigid economy in the use of fuel.
3. Wherever possible use substitutes for coal to the fullest possible extent.
4. Guard constantly against waste of fuel when making or cleaning fires, and when using gas.
5. Thoroughly sift all coal ash, and burn the residue. The result will be surprising. One-tenth of the fuel originally fed to the fire has been recovered and utilized in this way.

The faithful observation of the foregoing by all consumers will have a marked effect in conserving the coal supply, and may avert a serious crisis.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

RED CROSS OUTPUT DOUBLES IN YEAR

Reports for the past year from officers conveners and committees and presidents of auxiliaries, which were received yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive of the London Red Cross Society, revealed the fact that the output of work for the city and the many circles in Western Ontario which ship through Hyman Hall headquarters had practically doubled. These reports will be put in shape for presentation at the annual meeting, to be held in the city on September 13. This date has been chosen to enable delegates representing out-of-town circles to take advantage of the Western Fair rates.

The city alone has eight auxiliaries, which are rendering outstanding service—the north, south, east and west, the Catholic Women's Red Cross, London Junction, Smallman & Ingram's, and the Salvation Army Home League.

Names were brought up at the meeting of speakers who will be asked to deliver addresses along lines which will prove helpful and interesting to Red Cross and Canadian War Contingent workers.

LEGAL QUERIES

Question: In your issue of Friday, 17th inst., in regard to trouble with tiles draining into my property, you advised me to make inquiries of former owners as to how the drain was made. That I am unable to do, as former owners and builder is dead, but on my deed is written "Shall have quiet possession of such lands, free from all incumbrance," which I take to mean that no one has any privilege, and I can dig up or close in, as suits my convenience. Am I right?

Answer: I think it would be advisable for you to search in the registry office and see if there is nothing in the deeds prior to yours governing this matter. You might also see Mr. Weld, one of your neighbors, whose late father owned all the land over there, of which your lot forms a part.
