STRIKE IN ASYLUMS FEARED ONTARIO GOVT. RESPONSIBLE

Attendants Complain to Whitney of "Wretched Payment"—Toronto World Forecasts General Walk-Out Unless Relief Is Forthcoming—The Employees' Case.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Oct. 3.—Under the heading, "Strike Menaces Asylums of Ontario," the Toronto World this morning declares that because of alleged neglect on the part of the Whitney Government to increase the salaries of the attendants in all Ontario asylums, the situation is particularly acute, and a general strike is threatened.

It appears that the attendants have long been complaining about the pay they receive, as well as the long hours that they are required to be on duty, but so far no apparent steps have been taken by the Government to better the existing conditions. The embers of discontent are apparently about to burst into flame.

If the actual condition of the asylum attendants is as bad as indicated, their lot certainly is no envious one, says the World.

$20 Monthly the Highest.

Information was elicited to the effect that nurses only receive $13 per month at the start, and possibly may get as much as $20 per month, after a number of years honorable service. Of course, this in in addition to their living expenses, they being allowed their board and room in the building.

Male attendants, it appears, receive the salary of $20 per month to start with, with a maximum of not much more than $30 per month. Moreover, it is said that the working hours are exceptionally long, many of the attendants being on duty from 6 a.m. till 9 p.m. When it is taken into consideration that these attendants are practically taking their lives in their hands in following their daily vocation among people of unsound mind, some of whom are dangerous and liable to attack the attendants at any time, it is evident that strong men are required, and their remuneration should be proportionate.

Many Have Quit Service.

That there is evident dissatisfaction

MAKING READY FOR CONVENTION

Laymen Will Hold a Grand Gathering in London Nov. 4 to 7.

NOTED SPEAKERS COMING

Secretary A. J. Robinson Has Opened an Office in the Bank of Toronto Chambers.

Mr. A. J. Robinson, of Toronto, has opened an office in the Bank of Toronto Chambers, Room No. 415, and will look after the preliminary arrangements for the Western Ontario district convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement to be held in this city, Nov. 4 to 7.

He will have charge of all the work of organizing necessary to insure the success of the big convention, when it is expected that some 1,500 delegates, laymen and clergy, will be in the city. Mr. Robinson will devote his entire time to the work. He has had a wide experience along this line, and is especially well known as an organizer of whirlwind Y. M. C. A. campaigns. He was executive secretary in the Galt campaigns for new Y. M. C. A.'s. He will visit the nearby towns with a view of securing a representative delegate from every congregation in the district, which embraces the counties of Grey, Bruce, Huron, Perth, Middlesex, Oxford, Lambton, Essex, Kent and Elgin.

Noted Speakers.

London has been fortunate in securing for the local convention Sir Andrew Fraser, Robert E. Speer and Rev. Canon Gould.

Sir Andrew Fraser, a former lieutenant-governor of Bengal, India, was vice-chairman of the Edinburgh conference.

GRAIN SMUGGLED TO U. S. ALONG CANADIAN BORDER

Officers in Search of Famous "Mona Lisa" Picture, Uncover Extensive Plot—Canadian Barley 40 Cents Lower.

[Canadian Press.]

Minot, N. D., Oct. 4.—In the arrest at Norma, near here, of Walter Jackson, wheat buyer for the Atlantic Grain Company, and A. M. Magnic, a farmer, by United States customs agent, George W. Folkes, federal officers this evening believe they have unearthed an extensive scheme of grain smuggling from Canada to the flour mills at Minneapolis. Confessions, it is understood, are in the possession of Mr. Foulkes. It is alleged that the smugglers brought the grain across the border at night, disposing of it to American farmers, who, in turn, would take the grain to elevators near the border. In smuggling barley there is a gain of about 40 cents a bushel to the producer, that being the difference in price between the United States and Canada.

It is alleged that the profits were divided among the producing farmers, the American farmers, and the grain buyer.

The alleged smuggling operations were unearthed, it is said, while federal officers were searching the border for the lost painting "Mona Lisa."

WATER PRESSURE EXCELLENT UNDER MOST SEVERE TESTS

Chief Inspector Howe and Secretary Robertson, of the Underwriters' Association, Were in London Today and Inspecting Fire Fighting Facilities.

Chief Inspector Howe and Secretary Robertson, of the Underwriters' Association, made an official test of the water pressure in the city this morning. While they expressed themselves as pleased with what they had seen, they would not state that, as a result of the test, the city would be given a reduction of 20 per cent on the insurance rate. However, Mayor Beattie and Hon. Adam Beck, who witnessed the affair, were delighted with it, and are confident that when the officials report to the association word will be sent to London that a reduction has been made.

The test was a thorough one in every particular. Every scheme that could be suggested to bring down the pressure was tried, but the wells stood the trial well. Then the gentlemen went to the Horton street plant and to Springbank, where they made a thorough inspection.

Excellent Pressure.

Chief Aitken had all his men at work. Ten streams of inch-and-a-quarter hose were turned on. The pressure with all this water being poured out stood at 40 pounds at the hydrant and 32 pounds at the nozzle.

The cap was taken off one hydrant, and in spite of this the pressure remained at 40 pounds. It was 75 pounds at the hydrant before any hose was attached.

The deluge set was measured also, and it threw a stream much higher than the tallest building in the city. The wind was very heavy, but this did not prevent the firemen making an excellent display.

The Horton street plant was turned off to show the difference, and the pressure dropped at least half, registering less than 20 pounds.

A Great Success.

"I thing the test was a great success," said Mayor Beattie. "The day was not favorable, an extremely strong wind blowing at the time. However, there was plenty of pressure, and I think the underwriters' representatives were much impressed by it. Of course, they do not usually enthuse over anything, and put as bad a construction on everything as they could, but at the same time I cannot see how they can overlook the fact that the pressure was fine. It is twice as good as we had when Springbank alone furnished the water supply. We endeavored to secure a promise from them that the rates would be reduced, but did not succeed. However, when they get back to Toronto, and report, I expect to hear that we have been granted a reduction."

Looking for a Reduction.

"I am looking for a reduction," said Superintendent Glaubitz. "The inspection was as satisfactory as the one we made ourselves, and it could not fail to impress the gentlemen. They went through both the Horton and Springbank plants, and asked a number of questions. The machinery was very closely scrutinized."

Both Mr. Howe and Mr. Robertson were questioned as to what would follow the test, but no information was forthcoming.

"We will make a report to the association," said Mr. Robertson. "Whatever action will be taken is for them to decide."

TRIPOLI UNDER HOT FUSILLADE TURK BATTERIES RETURN FIRE

Italian Admiral Confident of Silencing Guns On Shore—Destruction of Town Carefully Avoided—England Said to Have Sanctioned Conflict.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Oct. 4.—It is officially stated today that Vice-Admiral Faravelli sends a message to the Government stating that the bombardment of the main batteries at Tripoli commenced at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and continued until sunset.

The batteries replied to the Italian fire without effect.

The admiral intimates that the bombardment will be resumed today in order to completely destroy the batteries. The greatest care was taken by the Italian gunners to avoid damaging the buildings of the town.

Only a lighthouse and one of the batteries were destroyed.

The dispatch to the Government was timed at Tripoli at 7:45 o'clock last night.

FARAVELLI'S REPORT.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Oct. 4.—The message to the Government from Vice-Admiral Faravelli was as follows:

"On board the battleship Benedictobrin, Tuesday, 7:45 p.m.—A bombardment was commenced at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon upon the principal batteries of Tripoli, and was continued until sunset. The batteries responded to the Italian fire, but without effect. The bombardment will be continued tomorrow until the destruction of the batteries has been completed.

"Great care was taken during the bombardment not to damage the city. Only a lighthouse was destroyed."

BRITAIN PERMITS CONFLICT.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Oct. 4.—Official circles ridicule the reports which are regarded as being circulated with the obvious intention of misguiding public opinion concerning incidents between Italy and Austria, and of dissensions among the powers regarding their attitude toward Italy.

As a matter of fact, it is stated that what is now transpiring was arranged among the states in the triple alliance with the adhesion of Great Britain and France, who are bound by the agreement of 1901 to support Italy, or at least to be neutral whenever she decides to occupy Tripoli.

It is even hinted that negotiations with Austria and Germany, which preceded the present action of Italy, led to a basis for the renewal of the triple alliance, which will expire in 1914, when to the already existing clauses another will be added regarding the protection of Italy in her position in North Africa.

Italy Shows Master Hand.

The military attaches at the embassies here are following with interest the preparation of the Italian expedition to Tripoli. The general opinion of experts is that the Italian arrangements have been conducted in a masterly manner. Those upon whom the responsibility rests have succeeded in mobilizing at the points of one of the largest expeditions ever made by sea, in the shortest time.

The first contingent of about 20,000 men was ready to start yesterday, but was delayed because of the wish of the officials to be absolutely assured against any surprise at sea.

Italian ships are patrolling between Sicily and Malta, and between Malta and the "heel" of Italy. These vessels signalled the presence of Turkish torpedo boats up to last night, when they were chased out of the patrol area, though they managed to escape under the protection of darkness and aided by stormy weather.

To Land 40,000 Men.

It must be remembered, the officials say, that the Japanese who had for a long time prepared for their campaign, landed only 17,000 men in Korea on their first expedition. Italy proposes to land nearly 40,000 men within a week, and to begin operations immediately.

Abruzzi's Demand.

Corfu, Oct. 3.—Vice-Admiral the Duke of Abruzzi has sent an ultimatum to the Vali of Prevesa threatening a bombardment unless he surrenders the Turkish warships which have taken refuge in the harbor.

ONE MILL MAY BE LOPPED OFF THE TAX RATE FOR NEXT YEAR

There Is Every Probability That Ratepayers Will Not Be Asked to Contribute More Than 22 Mills On the Dollar in 1912.

Twenty-two mills on the dollar will probably be the tax rate next year.

That is a reduction of one mill from the present rate, but if the expenditure of the present year is any criterion, there is no question but that one mill can easily be struck off.

The surplus of 1911 will reach almost one mill. With three months yet to go, there is plenty of money for all purposes, and still leave at least $20,000 as a surplus for the incoming council.

The larger proportion of this amount will come from the board of works. That body has not done much work this year, and as a result a large amount of money will be left over. The street cleaning on paved streets, owing to the introduction of a new system, will run somewhat higher than was estimated, but next year it will be brought down to a scientific basis, and the ratepayers will be assessed the whole cost.

All Have Surpluses.

The other committees will show small surpluses. The finance committee is in particularly good shape, and will have considerable left over. While No. 3's estimates were cut down, they will manage to come through without much difficulty.

Other spending bodies are in good shape at the present time. Neither the hospital trust, the board of education, the library board nor the board of health will have an overdraft.

So it can readily be seen that 22 mills on the dollar would have put the present council through, although it would have been a tight fit.

There is no reason why next year's council could not get through on 22 mills. Some of the economical aldermen are hoping for a rate of 21 mills.

DR. ROSS KNOWS NOTHING OF TROUBLE AT THE ASYLUM

Dr. Robinson Is Out of the City Today, But His Assistant Says the Story From Toronto Is News to Him.

The doctors and officials at the London Asylum For the Insane disavow any knowledge whatever of the existence of a Canadian Union of Asylum Attendants, and claim that they are not aware of any employees leaving the institution on account of the alleged insufficiency of pay.

Dr. Robinson, superintendent, was out of the city, but Dr. Ross, the assistant superintendent, stated to The Advertiser that the story from Toronto, in so far as it referred to the London asylum, was news to him.

It was known that the attendants were not entirely satisfied with the pay they were receiving, claiming that the increased cost of living justified a proportionate increase in the wages paid them. But as to any attendants having left the local institution because their requests for increased pay had not been granted, Dr. Ross knew nothing whatever concerning it.

"I never knew we had a branch of an attendants' union here," he said, in fact I have never heard of the union until reading of it in the Toronto papers. There was no deputation from London that waited on the Premier in Toronto, and I know nothing whatever of the letter purporting to be sent by a London nurse on behalf of the attendants.

THE COST OF LIVING INCREASES FOR BOARDERS AT THE JAIL

Governor Carter of the county jail today prepared his quarterly report of the number of prisoners incarcerated, and of the cost of their maintenance during the past three months, and while the governor has always succeeded in keeping the average down despite the advance in the cost of living, an increase is now recorded.

This is due to the fact that for the first time in many a day the male prisoners were provided with strenuous labor, in the construction of a big sewer from King street to the court house, which is now undergoing alterations. The sewer was several hundred feet long in hard clay, and was cut to a depth of between twenty and twenty-five feet in places.

As a result some unusual items are found in the stock list which follows: Bread, carrots, potatoes, oatmeal, tea, barley, sugar, butter, beans, salt, pepper, onions, meat, pressed meat, molasses, eggs and milk. The total cost of provisions during the quarter was $153 10. This was consumed by 190 prisoners, and served 2,049 days.

The average cost a day was 70 cents, without medical services, and 7.47 cents with medical attention.

LATE GEORGE HOYLES.

Instructor of Firemen for G. T. R., Who Died in England.

FOSTER FOR CABINET.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 3.—Local rumors say that in the Borden cabinet Toronto will have two ministers. Hon. Geo. E. Foster will take charge of the trade and commerce department.

Mr. White's admission to the cabinet, as the representative virtually of the Canadian Bankers' Association, has practically been decided upon. David Henderson, M. P.-elect for Halton, is to go to the Senate, and Mr. White will stand for election in Mr. Henderson's old county.

THE WEATHER.

SIR WILFRID TO RETIRE ON FRIDAY

Borden Government Likely to Assume Reins of Power Next Tuesday.

VAN HORNE FOR CABINET

May Be Given Trade and Commerce Portfolio and Have Seat in the Senate.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—The resignation of the Laurier Government is definitely fixed for Friday next. Mr. Borden and Sir Wilfrid have agreed that this will be the most convenient time for both of them. The Conservative leader is not yet ready with his cabinet slate, and will not be ready before the end of the week at the earliest.

The Laurier Government is likely to offer its resignation on Friday, and the Borden Government will be sworn not later than the following Tuesday.

The latest report brings Dr. Roche in from Manitoba, and Hon. Robert Rogers as the representative of Saskatchewan, with Goodeve from British Columbia, and Senator Lougheed slated for lieutenant-governor of Alberta on the expiration of Governor Bulyea's term in a few months.

There is a growing feeling here that when Mr. Borden announces his cabinet, Sir William Van Horne will be found in it. He may have the trade and commerce portfolio and hold a place in the Senate as Sir Richard Cartwright now does.

There is a vacancy in the Senate occasioned by the death of Senator Baker from the eastern townships, so there would be no difficulty about finding a place for Sir William Van Horne.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy came to Ottawa last night and had an interview with Mr. Borden.

ANOTHER FORECAST.

Ottawa, Oct. 4. — Today's indications are that the resignation of the Laurier cabinet will not take place before Friday, and that Saturday is the earliest date for the announcement of Mr. Borden's cabinet.

The residence of the Conservative leader continues to be the Mecca of cabinet aspirants and their friends. W. T. White, J. S. Willison, and Z. A. Lash, of Toronto; Dr. Roche, of Marquette, and G. W. Fowler, of Kings-Albert, N. B., saw the Premier-elect this morning. The Toronto story regarding W. T. White as finance minister and member for Halton is looked upon here as quite likely to be fulfilled. Richard Blain, of Peel, is also considered in the running for a portfolio, while Sam Hughes, it is believed, may be given an important office in the militia department.

It is announced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will not as reported go to California for a rest after his resignation.

HAREM SKIRT OLD STORY NOW

Lady With "Top O' Th' World" Company Paraded the Streets.

NO RIOT IN LONDON

Police Enjoyed a Cautious Look, While a Number of Small Boys Followed to Study the Innovation.

The harem skirt made its appearance in London today, and while it created a great deal of interest among the "Rubberneck Brotherhood," there was no riot, nor was it necessary to call out the police.

While there have been rumors in the past that the bifurcated garments had been seen in the city, the stories could not be substantiated. However, this one was seen, admired, criticized, laughed at, condemned, and indorsed by many citizens. It merely shows that not all were of one mind on the question.

The daring young person who paraded in the much discussed garment was Miss Lulu Dundore, a charming little body in the "Top o' the World" company, at the Grand.

It is her habit to wear this garment, sometimes at the risk of her life, but the exhibition today only awakened curiosity and caused no trouble.

When she was in the village of Hamilton the other day, there was a regular riot on the street, and Miss Dundore had to hustle as fast as she could to avoid being killed in the rush.

Necks In Danger.

As a result, Miss Dundore went on her and down Dundas street with another lady in the company, and instantly heads flew around with a suddenness that spells business for physicians. If any of them unfortunately do not contain a sufficient amount of caoutchouc, serious results are likely to happen. Caoutchouc, it may be explained, is slang for rubber.

There were scores looking at her. When she reached Dundas and Richmond, a policeman spied her, and instantly signalled another officer near him. They stood in amazement, and hovered twixt duty and admiration. However, they decided that it would be better to risk an eye than run chances of taking the young person to the station.

As a result, Miss Dundore went on her way unmolested. She paraded to her young heart's content. She had an admiring cortege of small boys, whose expansive grins testified to the fact that they were simply having more fun than if they had been at school.

It might be said that the garment is not nearly so bad as painted, and should never cause a riot, even in Hamilton.

CHILD KILLED WITH GUN.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 4.—Willie Gammon, aged 8, died at the hospital here today. His brother was cleaning a gun yesterday, which was accidentally discharged, the contents entering the unfortunate child's abdomen.

KICK FROM HORSE FATAL.

Chatham, N. B., Oct. 4.—Cecil Russell, of Loggieville, aged 14, was kicked by a horse yesterday and died last night.

DEATH MARRED HONEYMOON TRIP

Mr. George Hoyles, of the G. T. R., Died in England After Short Illness.

MARRIED ON AUGUST 20

Word has been received in this city of the death in England of Mr. George Hoyles, instructor of firemen for the Grand Trunk. The circumstances of his death are unusually sad. On Aug. 24 he was married to Miss Maisie Chalcraft, of 470 York street, and left that same day on a honeymoon trip to England. The deceased was not feeling very well on the day he left London, and thought that he needed a rest. He and his young wife arrived in England on Sept. 2, and immediately left for East Bridgeford, Nottingham, Mr. Hoyles' parents' residence. He was feeling sick at the time, and shortly after arriving in Nottingham, he was taken seriously ill, and his condition became gradually worse until his death occurred on the 3rd of October.

The deceased was in his 26th year, and had been in Canada for the past six years. Shortly after coming here he went with the Grand Trunk, and was rapidly promoted to the position he occupied at his death. He was a fine-looking, manly young fellow, well known and well liked all along this division, and the news of his death will come as a great shock to those who were acquainted with him. He and Mrs. Hoyles had intended spending their honeymoon with Mr. Hoyles' parents and relatives in England, where he had not visited since coming to Canada. They were to have sailed for home on Oct. 7.

Mrs. Chalcraft, of 470 York street, this city, the deceased's mother-in-law, will leave on Saturday for East Bridgeford, to bring her daughter home.

It was at first thought that the deceased's young wife, worn out by constant attendance upon him, had fallen seriously ill also, but as yet no particulars to verify this have been received.

RUMOR HAS ELECTION EARLY IN NOVEMBER

No Statement From Premier Whitney Until Borden Cabinet is Known.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 4.—A rumor is in circulation today that the Whitney Government will go to the province this autumn, and that the elections will take place the last week in November. No statement will be made by Sir James Whitney until R. L. Borden has announced his Cabinet.

HOW CASES WERE DISPOSED OF AT MIDDLESEX FALL ASSIZES

Judgment for Big Damages Awarded in One Action—Some Settled Out of Court and Some Laid Over.

The following list shows how the eight cases set down for the fall assizes which closed this morning were disposed of:

Jury List.

No. 1—Mrs. James Cameron McIntyre, widow of a Lobo farmer, vs. the Canadian Pacific Railway. Action settled out of court, widow receiving $600, her children $900, and $125 being provided for costs. J. M. McEvoy for plaintiff.

No. 2—Mrs. Gilbert Jones, widow of railway employee, vs. Canadian Pacific Railway. Verdict for $6,000 for plaintiff for death of husband. Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons, for plaintiff.

No. 3—Joseph Bellett vs. McCormick Manufacturing Company, for $800 damages for personal injuries. Adjourned till January assizes.

No. 4—Widow of Henry Crouch, railway engineer vs. Grand Trunk Railway Company. An action for $6,000 for death of husband. Adjourned till January assizes.

No. 5—George Abel vs. Thomas Smith, jun. Action for $2,000 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been caused through plaintiffs careless handling of team on King and Richmond streets. Verdict for defendant, and action dismissed with costs, Meredith & Fisher for the defendant.

Non-Jury List.

No. 1—John A. McDougald vs. executors of estate of late John McNeill. An action for $1,500 for services alleged to have been rendered in preparation of defence of legal proceedings brought against McNeil by his sisters. Action dismissed with costs, Graydon & Graydon for defendants.

No. 2—Mary Famularo against Ella Davidson. An action for $5,000 for breach of contract. Settled out of court, plaintiff receiving $100, and each to pay her own costs. W. G. R. Bartram for plaintiff; Macpherson & Perrin for defendants.

No. 3—Joseph Pittaway vs. Anthony Barry. An action for declaration of possession of land purchased by defendant, for forfeiture of about $404 paid, and for right to sell, or otherwise dispose of the property. Judgment for the plaintiff. John M. McEvoy and W. C. Fitzgerald for Pittaway.

CHARGED WITH ROBBING FRIEND

John Monteith Lost Roll of $44 While Drinking in a King Street Hotel.

TWO MEN REMANDED

William Howard and Robert Andrews Taken Into Custody by Detective Down.

Charged with stealing the sum of $44 from John Montieth, William Howard and Robert Andrews appeared in the police court this morning. James Fox was also concerned in the affair, but a charge of drunkenness was laid against him.

It is alleged that the four men were in the Windsor Hotel on King street Tuesday afternoon quenching their thirsts with alcoholic refreshment, and had reached a state where mere acquaintanceship had given away to friendly familiarity, when Montieth produced a large wad of bills.

Just what happened after that is not quite clear, but soon after Montieth discovered that the wad had disappeared, and the other gentlemen had also vanished. He telephoned to Detective Down, who arrived on the scene soon after, and the suspected men were located in the Walper House and locked up.

Charges of theft were laid against all three, but later the charge against Fox was withdrawn, and that of drunkenness substituted, as it was shown that he was not actually concerned in the affair, although drinking with the others. Part of the money was recovered by Detective Down.

This morning, Howard and Andrews were not ready to elect trial, and wanted to consult with a lawyer. They were remanded until Friday.

Fox was let go after being bound over to appear on Friday to answer the charge against him, and to appear as a witness in the other case.

FALL ASSIZES ARE CONCLUDED

Grand Jury Brought in Presentment to Justice Clute Today.

EKFRID CASE DISMISSED

Action Brought by John A. McDougall to Recover $75 From McNeil Estate Failed.

Justice Clute concluded the fall assizes at the courthouse this morning, when he gave judgment in favor of the defendant, dismissing with costs the action of John A. McDougald, of Ekfrid, who sought to recover $1,500 from the estate of the late John McNeill, of the same township, who died a few months ago.

The affair was very complicated. It was claimed by the plaintiff that some years ago John McNeill, who was a blind man and his brother, Alexander, engaged as partners in farming in Ekfrid. They were possessed of considerable property, including a farm of 320 acres, at the time of the death of Alexander. As he was unmarried and died intestate, his three sisters commenced action for quarter shares of the estate, claiming that John was entitled to but the same proportion.

Asks for Half.

However, he contended that he, as partner, was really entitled to half, and that owing to his infirmity everything was in his brother's name. McDougald alleged that John McNeill, who was his neighbor and friend, approached him with a proposition when the sisters brought the matter into the courts. It

BONSPIEL FOR LONDON IDEA IS POPULAR

At Least 18 Rinks Can Be Secured Here for the Proposed Event.

A bonspiel, corresponding to the Western Ontario Bowling Association tourney held in London each year during July, will be conducted this coming winter by the London Curling Club.

At the meeting tonight the arrangements will be finally made. It is expected. The idea is very popular throughout the western peninsula, and there is every expectation that it will prove as great a success as the big bowling event.

At least 18 rinks can be obtained in this city, all within a short distance of each other. That will accommodate 36 rinks, and will make it possible to run the bonspiel off in good style.

"I think the bonspiel will be a success," said Mr. Thomas Gillean, one of the moving spirits in the London club. "The boys are enthusiastically in favor of it, and there is no question but that it will be held."

The annual meeting of the club will be held at the Grigg House.

EXPRESS ROBBERY STILL UNSOLVED

Baffled Again Seems To Be the Position of the Hamilton Police.

Hamilton, Oct. 3.—The police last night were still at sea in the mysterious express robbery case, no trace having been discovered of the missing money or the perpetrators of the burglary, and it begins to look as if another unsolved mystery will be added to the list already recorded in Hamilton.

The officials are still retaining complete silence, and refuse to make any statement whatever, the only reply given to inquiries being, "There is nothing new, but there may be startling developments."

Last night detectives interviewed a man, who claims that the robbery must have occurred between three-thirty and four o'clock. The man in question saw Night Clerk Kennaugh sitting at his desk at 3 o'clock, and did not notice anything unusual half an hour afterwards when he returned. He also told of having seen suspicious persons in the vicinity of the express office on a couple of nights previous, and the police will investigate his story.

It was announced this morning that E. A. Brand, manager of the express company's branch in Berlin, has been appointed to the managership of the local office, in place of Manager W. A. Robinson, who recently handed in his resignation. Mr. Brand arrived in Hamilton yesterday evening, and commenced his new duties this morning, although Mr. Robinson will remain until his resignation expires.

A Recital.

Miss Myrtle Tory, who gives a recital in the Auditorium Thursday evening, is an elocutionist of rare ability. Miss Tory's character sketch "Guenn," which she is to present on this occasion, will be well worth hearing, and several musical numbers will add to the evening's enjoyment. Miss Louise MacDonald, contralto, and Mr. Charles S. Martin, baritone, will assist.

STRIKER KILLED.

McComb City, Miss., Oct. 4.—Lee Hill, aged 35, a striker, was shot and killed early today near the Illinois Central shops. He leaves a widow and two children. His slayers are unknown.

WOMAN IS ACCUSED OF STEALING MONEY

Mrs. Agnes Ivey Remanded by P. M. Judd—A Bibulous Individual Sings.

Mrs. Agnes Ivey, who has appeared before Magistrate Judd on various occasions, was up again this morning to answer a charge of drunkenness, and also one of theft. She was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Detectives Egerton and Down at 171 Horton street on a warrant for stealing a sum of $27 from Charles Wright.

When apprehended she had been drinking, and was in an intoxicated condition. As her name appears on the Indian list, she was charged with being drunk, but vehemently denied the accusation, and stated that the officers were not telling the truth. Both detectives swore that the accused was drunk, and the magistrate was convinced of the fact, as she had denied a previous charge with the same excuses. She was fined $10 or 15 days, and not being ready to go on with the theft charge, she was remanded for a week.

Richard Ross appeared for being drunk. It was his second time, and when the magistrate asked him whether he was drunk, Ross replied that he had a touch of rheumatism and had taken "a little drop." The rheumatism had not affected his voice, however, for he kept the rest of the prisoners in the cells awake throughout the night by singing "Annie Laurie" and a few other Scotch selections in a voice that could be heard a block away. He was fined $10 or 15 days.

A first-time drunk was allowed to go.

"BILLIE" BURKE IS ADMIRER OF LONDON

Actress Lives in House in Mount Vernon, N. Y., Owned by George Primrose.

"Billie" Burke, who appeared at the Grand last night, was sizing up London and its people.

"A charming audience," said the star after the performance. "I like to work before such a house. And I know something about London, too. Why, when I am home I live in a house owned by a former Londoner, George Primrose, the minstrel. It is at Mount Vernon, N. Y. And to think that George used to be a bellboy in the Tecumseh House."

COURT FOREST CITY PREPARES FOR WINTER

Many Important Questions Discussed on Tuesday Night.

The members of Court Forest City, No. 5744, A. O. F., held a meeting in their hall at Dundas street last evening.

Chief Ranger W. Lee occupied the chair, and C. Lennell, the sub-chief's chair. W. Richards, secretary. There were present Bro. Past Chief Ranger Ronald R. A. Emery, W. Bartlett, H. Porter, R. Timson, E. Marr, H. Dyson, W. Robinson and a number of others.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic that has been held in Court Forest City Lodge for many years.

Many important questions were discussed for the good and welfare of the order.

Past Chief Ranger R. R. A. Emery, for the third year, offered a gold watch for the juvenile bringing in the greatest number of candidates during the year.

Seeing that so many public men obtained their rudimentary knowledge of public life in fraternal societies, P. C. R. Emery was of the opinion that young men should be encouraged to join, and be permitted to take an active part in the work of the order.

The report of the high court meeting at Peterboro was discussed, and the appointment of Bro. H. McPherson, of West London, as senior beadle of grand lodge proved very popular. The report generally was the most satisfactory that has been received in years, and is very encouraging.

A feature of the evening was the return to London of Bro. Robert Timson, who has been away in Hamilton for some time. All present expressed their pleasure at the return of the old warrior who has been a member for over a quarter of a century. He was unanimously re-appointed senior warden, a position he had occupied for many years previous to his absence.

SIGNS OF HARD WINTER

Squirrels Gather Nuts Early, Taking Even Chestnut Burrs.

New York, Oct. 3.—Farmers in New Jersey are preparing for a hard and long winter, because the red squirrels and chipmunks have become very busy in laying in their winter food store, even going to the extent of collecting green chestnut burrs, breaking them open and hiding away for future use the unripe chestnuts.

The natives declare they never before knew the squirrels to open green chestnut burrs or to begin storing food so early in the fall.

RACING CAR HITS TREE.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 4.—Rounding a dangerous curve in Fairmount Park at terrific speed today in a car which they were tuning up for Saturday's 200 miles automobile road race, Harvey Bigler, a well known local amateur motor racer, and Thomas Bowen, his mechanician, were seriously injured when their car plunged into a tree and turned over.

NO DECISION YET AS TO ELECTIONS

The Whitney Cabinet Held a Long Session Tuesday.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—The Ontario cabinet had a long session at Queen's Park this afternoon, dealing with routine business, and the possibility of a general election in the near future.

"We discussed the question of a general election along with a great many other things," said Sir James Whitney, after the meeting, "but have no definite announcement to make. Nothing has been decided upon yet. As to Mr. Cochrane being called to Ottawa, I will refer you to Mr. Borden. We will meet again tomorrow at noon, and after that there may be some announcement to make."

Mr. Cochrane returned from the North this afternoon, but declined making any statement regarding the probability of his entering the Borden cabinet. Any announcement concerning this will likely come from Ottawa.

VICE-REGAL PARTY FETED AT MONTREAL

Occupy Lord Strathcona's Residence—Dinner in Their Honor.

Montreal, Oct. 4.—Their Excellencies Earl and Countess Grey, with Lady Sybil and Lady Evelyn Grey, arrived in Montreal in the Government car shortly before 7 o'clock last night, and were given a warm welcome. At the station, when told that Lord Strathcona was departing for New York, His Excellency hurried across to the high commissioner's car and spent a few minutes chatting with his lordship.

The vice-regal party are occupying Lord Strathcona's residence during their stay. Last evening Lady Evelyn Grey attended the Pachmann recital, given in Windsor Hall, and later joined the other members of the vice-regal party at the reception given in their honor at the Mount Royal Club. This morning the Governor-General unveiled the statue of the Hon. John Young, in the customs house square. Her Excellency the Countess Grey has accepted an invitation to be present at a luncheon to be given in the Royal Victoria College by the Women's Canadian Club of Montreal, at 1 o'clock, and tonight Their Excellencies will attend a dinner given in their honor by the citizens of Montreal at the Windsor.

About three hundred and fifty will attend tonight's function. Mayor Guerin will preside.

IRISH STRIKE SETTLED

Companies Agree to Reinstate 90 Per Cent of Old Employees.

[Canadian Press.]

Dublin, Oct. 4.—The strike declared on the Irish railroads by the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, Sept. 21, was finally settled today. An earlier agreement was held up when the companies refused to reinstate certain strikers whose places have been filled by other men. The strikers abandoned their original grievance, which was their objection to handling lumber shipped by firms having trouble with their employees.

By the final arrangement the companies agree to reinstate 90 per cent of the strikers at once, and the remainder when vacancies occur. They will not dismiss the new men who were taken on during the strike.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Famularo Vs. Davidson Did Not Go to Trial.

The action brought by Mrs. Mary Famularo, a laundress, against Mrs. Ella Davidson, a building contractor, was settled out of court, the defendant paying to the plaintiff $100, while each will be responsible for her own costs. Mrs. Famularo claimed to have leased a building from Mrs. Davidson for laundry purposes, Mrs. Davidson agreeing to construct the place, and have it ready for occupancy by a certain date. This was not done, and the action for $5,000 damages for breach of contract was commenced.

The evidence in the action of McDougald vs. the executors of the estate of the late John McNeill, of Ekfrid, was heard at a night session last evening, and the argument submitted by counsel to his lordship, Mr. Justice Clute this morning.

Demonstration 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tomorrow, Thursday, of Hall Borchert Adjustable Dress Forms

Every woman who attempts home dressmaking, even on the smallest scale, should have a "HALL BORCHERT" form. It is impossible to obtain satisfactory results if you are your own model and dressmaker at the same time. With a dress form the exact counterpart of your physical self (adjustable at every curve), you can observe the effect and fit of your dress at every stage of the work.

ONE DAY ONLY—Demonstrator will be here one day only to explain and give practical demonstrations regarding the use of these adjustable forms. Dressmakers and others are invited to take advantage of this opportunity of being instructed free in their use.

NO DRESSMAKER can well afford to work without one of these time-savers. In placing the trimming, arranging and planning the style, one of these will more than pay for itself in a season. Adjustable forms can be reduced or enlarged at one point without affecting another.

RISING IN NORTH PORTUGAL QUELLED

4,000 Monarchists With Quick Firers Routed by the Republicans.

Lisbon, Oct. 3.—A rising against the Republican Government in Northern Portugal has been put down, but not until a number of persons had been killed, and many wounded in the clash between the opposing armies. Although the collision occurred last Saturday, the news has only just become known here, the papers not being permitted to print any of the details of what is occurring.

Captain Paiva Conceiro, leader of the rebels, who are said to be supporters of the pretender, Don Miguel, entered Portugal at an early hour last Saturday morning near Santiago de Compostella with 4,000 men and several quick-firing guns. He marched at once against Oporto, but was met there by a strong Republican force. There was severe fighting in the streets, in which the Republicans took many prisoners, the monarchist army retiring to the northern border. Persons arriving here today describe the scenes in Oporto as terrible during the brief time that the fighting lasted. The fighting occurred just before dawn.

It is reported tonight that the people in the Portuguese commune of Santo Tirso have risen in favor of the Monarchists and the Republican inhabitants of the place have fled.

CAUGHT WITH BOMBS

Italian Is Believed To Be Leader of New York Terrorists.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 4.—The third arrest of a bomb-carrier was made last night, when detectives took in custody Angelo Cuchiro, who, when searched, the authorities say, was found to have in his possession two dynamite bombs. Inspector Hughes declared the bombs to be the most dangerous-looking infernal machines he had ever seen.

The police charge Cuchiro with being the leader of one of the three bomb-throwing gangs which are terrorizing the Italians of this city. They considered the two recent arrests in this connection, they said, as of small importance in comparison with the one effected last night.

WILL RE-ESTABLISH PORTUGAL THRONE

Royalists in Northern Section Prepare Revolution for Revolutionists.

London, Oct. 4.—Portuguese Royalists declare that the monarchy will be re-established in the northern part of Portugal tomorrow, the anniversary of the revolution that overthrew King Manuel. A member of the colony which established itself around Manuel at Richmond, stated that cablegrams received this morning announced that in the greater part of north Portugal were bands of Royalists, who occupied the towns of Chaves, Cuimares, Barra and Barranca.

On the other hand, Republican circles say that Chaves and the other parts of the north are quiet. The Richmond colony has been watching with interest the recent attempts on the northern frontier to re-establish the monarchy. Several times success was believed to have been in sight only to be frustrated at the moment, either through the interference of Spanish authorities or by the premature disclosure of their plans.

So sure are the Royalists of the present movement that most of the men left Richmond last week to take an active part in the rising.

Manuel, who has been the guest of the Earl of Lonsdale, at Lowther Castle, left the castle at midnight for Richmond, where he arrived today.

SMUGGLER JAILED

Lichtenstein, New York Importer, Sentenced to Four Months.

New York, Oct. 2.—In the criminal branch of the United States circuit court today, Judge Hough, by imposing a prison sentence on one man convicted of smuggling and by letting off with small fines two other men who pleaded guilty to the same offence, laid down a new rule for dealing with this character of violation of the customs laws. He announced, while imposing a four months' sentence to Blackwell's Island on Abraham Lichtenstein, head of one of the oldest and most fashionable millinery establishments in New York, that merchants who smuggle in merchandise for profit must suffer the full penalties of the law. Lichtenstein already had paid in fines and defrauded duties to the Government, $120,000.

Immediately following the sentence imposed on the fashionable milliner, Judge Hough, who earlier in the day had received pleas of guilty by Nathan Allen, of Kenosha, Wis., founder of the leather trust, and John R. Collins, of Memphis, Tenn., organizer of the Southern Coal Company, in which Allen also is a large stockholder, fined them, respectively, $12,000 and $4,000, but did not couple their punishment with prison terms.

ENJOYABLE BANQUET HELD AT INGERSOLL

Victors in Recent Baseball Contests Were Guests of the Vanquished.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Oct. 4.—The West Side businessmen of Ingersoll, as the victors in the series of baseball games, played for an oyster supper, were entertained last night by the East Side businessmen. The supper took the form of a banquet, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The feeling of good fellowship and closer relations among the merchants which prevailed throughout the games was again manifested last evening, and was commented upon by nearly all the speakers.

It was strongly urged that the start made this year should be continued next, and that the games start earlier in the season and an endeavor made to form other leagues. Although nearly everyone had a short address to make the principal speeches were: "Canada and the Empire," proposed by M. C. Elliot, and responded to by Mr. Jos. Gibson; "The Parliament of Canada," proposed by F. G. Walley, and responded to by Mr. T. R. Mayberry. There were also toasts to the visitors, the vanquished, the pitchers, umpires, press and ladies, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed.

A fine musical programme was furnished by Mr. Reg. Bloor, Mr. D. G. Cuthbertson, Mr. M. Morrison and Mr. J. R. Beaton, and was greatly enjoyed.

STEAMER BURNS AT SEA.

Batavia, Dutch East Indies, Oct. 4.—The Dutch steamer Ixion, bound from this port for Liverpool, has been destroyed by fire near Engano, an island off the west coast of Sumatra. The steamer's crew, numbering 26, took to the boats, but has not yet been reported as having landed on any point of the Sumatra coast.

FIX BLAME IN AUSTIN HORROR

State Officials Claim That No Inspection of Great Dam Was Conducted.

RECOVERING THE DEAD

Foreign Element Causes Concern by Intense Grief Over Bodies of Victims.

[Canadian Press.]

Austin, Pa., Oct. 4.—Governor John Tener, who arrived here last night from Harrisburgh, started today on his tour of inspection of the destroyed district, including the dam of the Bayliss Pulp and Paper Company, the going out of which resulted in the death, distress and privation which has appalled this village. Before starting the governor had nothing to add to what he had said last night, but intimated he might make an official statement upon his return.

Stronger than ever this morning was the general opinion that the governor's visit indicated that the state officials are looking over the situation with a view of ascertaining their authority in conducting an investigation as to the liability and responsibility for the condition of the dam.

State Was Not Informed.

It is positively asserted by General Fleitz, vice-president of the state water supply commission, that at no time was the state made cognizant of the construction, repair or condition of the dam and General Fleitz states that he has looked over all records on file at his office and finds no application for a state inspection. It has been reported that at the time the dam was repaired a year or more ago, a state engineer had inspected it at the request of the company, and his report was that it was unsafe. This report, General Fleitz says, is untrue. "The state has never been consulted in this connection."

Aside from the governor's sojourn, the situation early today assumed the routine of clearing away wreckage, the search for more bodies, and renewed efforts to get men, not only as laborers, but as cooks, whose services are sorely needed. The replenishing of food supplies too is taxing the energy of the commissary as well as the railroads. The seventeen nurses from the state dispensary have been worked almost to the limit of their strength, having been forced to do duty at the morgue as well as cooks and serving maids at the commissary, because the necessary help has been unobtainable.

Simple Funeral Service.

There has been a remarkable absence of ceremony in the burial of the dead. There are no carriages or vehicles beyond one rough undertaker's wagon. In most instances when a body is turned over to relatives, a simple service is read, and the casket is borne to one of the two little cemeteries here, by a half dozen friends. Several of the bodies have been shipped away to other towns or cities to be buried by relatives.

The foreign element in the handling of their dead is causing the health officials much concern. Upon receiving the body of a dead relative passion and grief breaks bonds and they vent themselves in fondling and embracing the corpse. Rules and regulations cannot stop it, and nurses and doctors stand by powerless.

Disaster Without Excuse.

New York, Oct. 4.—Edward Wegmann, engineer of the New York Aqueduct Commission, is on his way to Austin, Pa., today, where he will make an inspection of the broken dam.

The Engineering News, in its issue today comments on the Austin disaster, and urges editorially state supervision of the construction of all dams. It adds:

"Inspection of the Austin dam by a member of the editorial staff of Engineering News who went to the site as soon as news of the disaster was received, shows that nothing whatever was done to strengthen the dam.

"It is our duty to say that the occurrence is without excuse, and that if the dam had been built with proper precautions and proper regard for safety, the disaster would never have occurred. There is no mystery in the art of dam construction, and no problems in their design which competent engineers are not capable of solving with accuracy and reliability."

SHORT WEIGHT BUTTER SOLD AT CHATHAM

Many Complaints Made to Councillors Regarding Dairy Products.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, Oct. 4.—The finance committee of the local council, will deal with charges that have been made to the effect that short-weight butter, and boiled and even decayed eggs are being sold on the market. Ald. Baxter has stated that cases have been reported to him where fourteen ounces of butter had been sold for a pound, and he urges that signs be placed on the market telling customers that they may weigh their purchases. Ald. Baxter has given notice in the council of a motion to make it imperative that all butter sold on the market shall have its weight stamped on it. Ald. Pritchard cites a case where a woman reported to him that she got five incubator eggs out of a dozen she purchased. The mayor has suggested that all persons selling bad eggs and short-weight butter be prosecuted in the police court.

PLAINTIFF LOST CASE AGAINST FARMER

Abel vs. Smith Heard and Jury Refused to Award Damages.

The last jury case on the list at the fall assizes was decided in favor of the defendant yesterday afternoon, when the jurors refused to award damages to Geo. Abel, a London upholsterer, who sued Thomas Smith, jun., a London Township farmer, for $2,000, for injuries which he claimed to have received by being knocked down on March 4 last by a team of horses driven by the defendant across King street at Richmond street.

It was contended by the defence that Abel had not taken proper precautions to protect himself, and in the box he admitted that he entered upon the crossing while proceeding along Richmond street with his head bowed down.

The chief witness for the plaintiff was Roy Singer, of this city, a well-known young man, who was on the scene at the time of the accident, and who stated that Smith was careless in the management of his team. Mr. Jos. Jacobs, who was also called by the plaintiff, gave similar testimony. Mr. T. G. Meredith and Mr. R. G. Fisher acted for the defendant.

REPUDIATES CONFESSION

Chicago Physician Declares Wife He Slew Was the Aggressor.

[Canadian Press.]

Oregon, Ill., Oct. 4.—Dr. Harry Egan Webster, who confessed to killing his wife, after a conference with his lawyers, has decided to repudiate the detailed confession he made Sunday in Chicago.

Webster, it is said, will assert that Bessie Kent Webster frequently had threatened to kill him, and that she was the aggressor in the fight which ended in her death.

CAR AND AUTO CRASH

One Man Killed and Two Fatally Injured By Collision.

[Canadian Press.]

Jamaica, N. Y., Oct. 4.—One man was killed and his two companions fatally injured in a head-on collision here early today between his automobile and a Long Island trolley car. James Colton, the owner of the automobile, was thrown clear over the top of the street car and his neck was broken. His two friends were pinned underneath the wreckage. The automobile, a $6,000 car, which was making forty miles an hour when the collision occurred, was reduced to a mass of junk. The street car also suffered severely, and the passengers were badly shaken up.

Colton's companions said that he was blinded by the searchlight on the trolley car as it rounded a curve, and lost control of his steering wheel.

OLYMPIC IS SOUND AGAIN.

Southampton, Oct. 4.—The White Star liner Olympic, which discharged her cargo and made temporary repairs here after she was rammed by the British cruiser Hawke, off the Isle of Wight, on Sept. 20, sailed today for Belfast, where she will enter the drydock for a permanent mending.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 4.

A ULTIMATUM TO MR. BORDEN.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier, the Conservative member-elect for Quebec County, uses this threatening language toward Mr. Borden:

"We shall have a referendum on the marine question. I am sure that Mr. Borden will carry out this promise that he has made.

"We have been elected on the ground that the Canadian people would have a navy only if the majority were willing to have it, and if the men now in possession of the power neglect to carry this article of our programme we shall take means to have it carried."

Mr. Pelletier declared himself in the same speech a follower of Bourassa and Lavergne. He has been hitherto classified as a straight Conservative, eligible for cabinet honors. A distinguished lawyer, he has been president of the National Conservative Association of his native province, and provincial secretary and attorney-general in Quebec Conservative administrations, sitting continuously in the Legislature from 1888 to 1904. His ultimatum to Mr. Borden is another proof, if more proof were needed to convince Ontario electors, that there was no real dividing line between French-Canadian Conservatives and Nationalists in the general election, and that they fought entirely on the one issue of the navy. They opposed any form of naval expenditure, denounced the Canadian navy project as a burden imposed on Canada by the mother country, and as the thin edge of the wedge of conscription, held up Laurier to obloquy as a tool of British militarism and imperialism, and represented Borden as favoring their own demand for a referendum. For the last statement they had some warrant in Mr. Borden's manifesto and in his speeches in this city and elsewhere. They do not intend to allow him to take refuge in the ambiguity of his language. He angled for their vote with success, and they now demand the price. A referendum would be a cowardly evasion of responsibility, as Mr. Borden's friends in Ontario do not hesitate to remind him. He should never have even toyed with such a proposal. The fact is that Mr. Borden's advisers assured him that the only hope of overthrowing the Laurier regime lay in Quebec, and induced him to trim his sails accordingly. They had no premonition of a landslide in Ontario that would make him almost independent of Quebec. Now he finds himself fettered at a time when a political leader in his position, taking office after a long period of Opposition, ought to have, and usually has, a free hand.

BRITISH RAILWAY FINANCE.

The management of British railways is under keen public scrutiny, as one result of the recent labor troubles. Mr. Chiozza Money, M. P., a noted writer on economic subjects, offers some very trenchant criticism. In 1910 the receipts of the railway companies of the United Kingdom were £123,925,565, and the expenditure £76,569,676, leaving a net profit of £47,355,889. This profit, however, merely sufficed to pay an average dividend of 3.5 per cent. on a capitalization of £1,318,515,417. Of this capital, £197,124,000 was pure water. The Taff Vale Railway, for instance, at one time paying 16 per cent., obtained permission to call each £100 of stock £250. The remainder of the capital, Mr. Money contends, does not represent money actually built into the railways. Much of it was absorbed by the extortions of landlords; the cost of fighting competitive railways in Parliament, amounting in some cases to £8,000 a mile; sham lines, built in order to compel more economic lines to buy them out; unnecessary competitives lines; promoters' profits, and running cost improperly paid out of capital. Prussian railways, having as great a mileage as the British, are capitalized for only £450,000,000, although charging lower fares than the British.

It is very evident that railway finance is a heavy burden for the British people to carry, and it is little wonder that there is a growing movement for railway nationalization. Dividends must be earned on a capitalization about six times greater than that of the Canadian Pacific railway. Wages are so low that the operatives struck for a minimum of five dollars a week for unskilled labor. The employees' demands are now the subject of an inquiry by a royal commission, and the whole question of railway finance will come under review, as the companies plead their low dividends in opposition to the men's claims.

AGAINST THE PREFERENCE.

The Montreal Gazette, the leading English Conservative paper of Quebec, takes a fling at the British preference in this paragraph:

"Mr. Joseph Chamberlain is pleased with the rejection of the United States reciprocity agreement, and thinks it is a victory for the idea of an imperial trade preference. Insofar as the Taft-Fielding agreement was in the way of the establishment of a system of mutual tariff preference within the Empire, Mr. Chamberlain has some justification for his views. To many in Canada, however, the events of the week will constitute an argument against any agreement that mixes up other countries' interests with the Canadian system of customs taxation. It might not make for imperial unity to have a British preferential tariff agreement submitted to such an ordeal of discussion as that which the Taft-Fielding agreement has passed through."

The Gazette has always opposed the British preference. In this it has been thoroughly consistent with its creed of protection-to-the hilt. The claims of many Canadian manufacturers are not to be reconciled with the interests of British competitors, and the bargaining which must precede any scheme of imperal preferential trade would cause mutual friction and a good deal of disillusionment. The Gazette, unlike many of its contemporaries, is candid enough to confess this.

The attitude of the Conservative party toward the preference has been one of "willing to wound and yet afraid to strike." The high protectionists, now supreme in the party councils, will probably demand that the preference be killed or chloroformed. The Montreal Gazette voices their sentiments. It refuses to indulge in cant and humbug about imperialism. Its view of the question is frankly selfish, but it at least has the courage of its convictions.

Mr. Borden played with fire in Quebec, and can reproach only himself if he is badly burnt.

Sir James Whitney now admits that he is considering the question of a premature general election. Will he consent to be the tail of Mr Borden's kite?

It is said that Ontario and Quebec will lose a cabinet position each, in order to increase the representation of the West. There can be no reasonable objection to such a redistribution.

The Farmers' Sun points out that the market prices of cheese, hogs and wheat have gone down since the election, but the stocks of the cement and canning combines have advanced several points.

Toronto Conservatives are making a demand for 12 to 14 Toronto seats in the next House. This alone would involve taking seven, or nine seats from rural Ontario. The rural population is in for a "cold deal" with regard to tariffs and markets, as well as parliamentary representation.

The Laurier Government was magnanimous in the hour of victory. Although the civil service was almost solidly Conservative, no office-holder with a clear conscience had reason to fear dismissal. There was no such guillotine work as followed Whitney's accession to power in Ontario. It is to be hoped the example of Sir Wilfrid will not be lost on Mr. Borden.

"Nor is it probable that in the long run any considerable section of the Quebec people will object to assuming their proper share of the burden of defence.—Toronto News.

Sir Wilfrid acted in this belief, and the majority of the people of Quebec stood by him, while the Conservative party in Quebec, with the approval of the News and its Ontario congeners, assailed him on this ground. Who were the true friends of the mother country?

A DENIAL.

[Punch.]

Irate Gentleman (to his gardener)—What do you mean, sir, by telling people in the village that I am a stingy master

Gardener—No fear o' me a-doin' the likes o' that guv'nor. I allus keeps my thoughts to myself.

NO SUCH LUCK.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Williams—This is a queer world.

Walker—Right you are; a man's shoes will often get untied, but never just as he is ready to take them off.

A GREAT PUBLIC SERVANT.

[Earl Grey.]

For seven years it has been my privilege to discuss matters of state with Sir Wilfrid Laurier. I have never, during that long period, heard as much as one single expression of vindictive annovance or of selfish ambition from the lips of Sir Wilfrid, and he will continue as leader of his Majesty's loyal Opposition to be the same great servant of the state that he has been for fifteen years its prime minister.

"PURELY PICKWICKIAN."

[Detroit Journal.]

The Conservative papers in Canada are now failing all over each other in their endeavors to show how much they love the United States and its people. All the hard things they said about us during the campaign were meant in a purely Pickwickian sense. Like the American politician who gets home in the early morning in a how-come-you-so condition, the Canadian papers explain that "you've got to do that kind of thing at election times." We are quite willing to believe that they love us like brothers, but Uncle Sam might ask, as somebody did before him:

'Twas all very well to dissemble your love,
But why did you kick me downstairs?

LIFE.

[H. Graham du Bois.]

Ah, life is brief,
With shades that bend
Across the way,
And dreams that end
At close of day!

Ah, life is sad!
One fleeting hour
In Love's short reign—
A faded flower
And memory's pain.

Yet life is sweet;
No night so dark
But holds a star;
No storms but mark
Where angels are.

PLEBISCITE WILL NOT DO.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

Anyway, a plebiscite is a coward's way of dealing with a question of public policy. British institutions presuppose responsible government, and responsible government means that the ministers of the day take the responsibility for the policy which they recommend to Parliament.

The taking of a plebiscite upon the navy would be a mistake, not only because it shifts the responsibility from the shoulders on which it should be placed, but also because it involves possibilities affecting both Canada and the empire which are not pleasant to contemplate.

BORDEN'S TROUBLESOME TIME

[Windsor Record.]

Until he is able to announce his cabinet plums, Mr Borden has more reason to seek retirement than Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

THE MAN IN THE BOY.

[Milton.]

The childhood shows the man,
As morning shows the day.

THE CAUSE OF THE FLOP.

[Simcoe Reformer.]

What is the use of talking about Laurier and Fielding and Paterson having made a mistake? They had a proposal offered them. They chose in the light of a year ago. They chose as ninety-nine men out of every hundred would have chosen then. It was reasonable for them to suppose that Canadians had not been acting and talking a lie for nearly fifty years. Speaking of Mr. Fielding, the Ottawa Journal says: "His political acumen was great; his first real mistake in fifteen years was the reciprocity proposition." How could Mr. Fielding, when he had to make a choice, know that the time would ever come when the Ottawa Journal would turn tail on its own record? When, in January, the terms of the agreement were first made public, the Journal said: "Beyond reasonable doubt Mr. Fielding has succeeded in getting a reciprocity agreement with the United States executive very desirable from a Canadian point of view. If Congress accepts it, an excellent thing, we think, will have been accomplished for this country." The Journal saw nothing wrong with Mr. Fielding's political acumen at that time. It considered the agreement a good bargain, a great accomplishment for Canada. A great many others thought so at that time, continued to think so, and will continue so to think. The question for the future is the discovering of the moving and compelling cause of the "flop" made by the Journal and so many tens of thousands of others.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE.

[Montreal Star.]

Dr. Rutherford insists that all our slaughter houses should be inspected. And he is right. Wherever meat is killed for sale the Government or the local authorities should see that nothing is done to endanger the health of the buyers. One of the first functions of all civilized governments should be to make it safe for busy people to purchase food in public markets and shops without worrying about the sanitary conditions which may have surrounded its production.

USEFULNESS OF GLASS.

[Answers.]

Casually we regard glass as a perishable substance. The fragility of it, however, is over-rated. Some of the uses to which glass has been put speak of its strength rather than of weakness.

It is some years ago since a well-known society woman astonished the world by wearing a glass dress. Now dresses made of glass are no novelty. Glass carpets, rooms and buildings are ordinary.

Pavements made of glass are to be found in Lyons. The French are enthusiastic over them. They claim for the glass pavements advantages over those made of asphalt, stone or wood.

In Germany water pipes are made of glass. This is quite an old custom. A more recent use made by the Germans of glass is the making of telegraph poles. It has been an immense success.

JOHN COBDEN BECOMES POLICEMAN IN LONDON

Man With a Most Illustrious Name Joins the Local Force.

The local police force has been strengthened by the addition of three new men. One of them is an Englishman, and bears the illustrious name of John Cobden. He is a former member of the Coldstream Guards.

This morning Chief Williams informed the reporters of the new recruit's name, and jokingly remarked that there were two other vacancies which they expected to fill with Robert Peel and William Ewart Gladstone.

However, it seems that two other gentlemen have put in an appearance to claim the positions, and it was reported that the vacancies had been filled by Christopher and Harry Libsky, a couple of German gentlemen, whom the Owen Sound chief of police sent to London with special recommendations to Chief Williams.

These men will be sworn in at once.

There are still two vacancies on the force to fill, and it is expected that these will be filled in shortly. The vacancies have been caused by the resignation of P. C's. Snyder, Walker and Smith.

EAST LONDON NEWS

DOUBT AS TO LEGALITY OF THE TWO PETITIONS

Documents Presented for Incorporation Are Said To Be Faulty.

Residents of both Ealing and Eastmount, the communities adjoining the city to the east, which are now considering incorporation as separate villages, may have to express their views over again as a result of developments following the investigations of the petitioning committee of Middlesex county council, which has been in session here for a couple of days.

It is claimed that the petitions are both invalid as they should have stipulated the boundaries of the proposed municipalities. Both places present petitions and counter petitions, as well as documents asking that certain names be withdrawn from the originals as the persons interested did not realize what was meant.

It is now said to be doubtful whether sufficient could be mustered to bring about the incorporation of either place.

NO. 2 CO. LONDON WINS $25 PRIZE

Local G. T. R. Men Made Best Time on Road.

The results of the fire brigade competition at the Montreal Grand Trunk car shops was received in this city yesterday at the local car shops, and of the five teams competing, the fastest time was 53 seconds. As this finishes the competition for all over the system, the prize of $25 goes to No. 2 company of the local car shops, as their time of 47 3-5 seconds stands as the fastest made in the competition. This is the third successive year that this company has received the prize, and Mr. J. McWood, who has captained the team each year, deserves no little credit for the victories.

ANGLICAN YOUNG PEOPLE REORGANIZE

Mr. Will Davis Was Elected President of Society.

The Anglican Young People's Association of St. Matthew's Church, East London, reorganized last evening, electing the following officers: Patron, Rev. E. Appleyard; honorary president, Mrs. A. J. Wyckoff; president, Mr. Will Davis; vice-president, Miss Louie Mullett; secretary, Bessie M. Shortt; treasurer, Miss Lillie Henderson; pianist, Mrs. Cooke.

The various committees were also appointed, namely:

Executive committee, Miss Appleyard, Miss Irene Isaac and Miss M. Frankish; programme committee, Miss Irene Isaac, Miss E. Shaddock, Mr. Will Davis and H. B. Metcalf; missionary committee, W. Moulton, H. B. Metcalfe, Miss Stanton and Miss Colling; social committee, Miss Colling, Miss Smith and Miss Burdick; visiting committee, Miss Irene Isaac, Miss B. M. Shortt, and Miss Metcalf.

Successful Entertainment.

A very successful entertainment was held Tuesday evening by the Ladies' Guild in All Saints' Church. Mr. W. Slade, acting as chairman in the absence of Rev. Mr. Clark, introduced the following excellent programme: Vocal solos by Miss Dora Ross, Mr. Parker, Mr. Doughty and others; violin solo, Master Routledge; readings by Mrs. C. W. Barrows, Miss Smith and Miss Weebele; musical selections by Thelma Secord, the Hibbert children, and others. Later the ladies had all kinds of good things for sale, including candy, popcorn, ice cream, cake and coffee.

LONDON MEDICAL COLLEGE IS NOW IN FULL SWING

Fourth Year Class Is a Very Large One—Freshies Few in Number.

The London Medical School has opened in full swing, as with the exception of a few who are kept away by their various summer occupations, all the students are back. The fourth year is the largest that the college has ever seen, and it will make a very creditable showing at the next convocation.

There are 46 in that year, compared with the 23 who graduated last May.

The third-year is about the same as last, but it is expected that it will have a couple of additions this week from Toronto or Queen's.

The freshmen are few in number this year, there only being fifteen, but it is said that as many more were turned away on account of not having their full matriculation.

After the freshies are properly admitted to the profession in the initiation, and the can-cans are over, the whole student body will doubtlessly settle down to a hard year's work.

A BOLD HOLD UP ON THE M. K. AND T.

Bartlesville, Okla., Oct. 4.—Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train No 29, from Kansas City to Oklahoma City, was held up by three masked men early today near Okesa, ten miles south of here.

The robbers ransacked the mail and baggage cars, but got very little of value, it is believed. They did not enter the passenger cars, and escaped as soon as they had finished their work. Two trunks full of valuable jewelry samples, belonging to a salesman for an eastern firm, were put on the train here, but it has not been learned whether or not they were stolen.

BEACHVILLE WANTS HYDRO POWER LINE

Beachville, Oct. 4.—A bylaw will be submitted to the people here on Oct. 20 to provide for the installation of hydro electric power for lighting and general purposes. If the bylaw passes it is the intention to contract for 100 horsepower. Two miles of high voltage lines complete with transformers and other equipment will be required.

WORLD'S CENTRE FOR METHODISM

Delegates to Toronto Represent 30 Million Adherents of Great Church.

OFFICIAL SERMON GIVEN

Yearning of Human Heart for Brotherhood a Lesson From Recent Strife.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 4.—Shortly after ten o'clock this morning the fourth annual conference of Methodists began, Dr. Carman, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, presiding.

Metropolitan Church, where all the meetings will be held, one of the largest and handsomest in America, was crowded to the doors. Delegates representing thirty million adherents, are present from every part of the world, and the conference promises to go down in church history as one of the greatest and most important religious gatherings ever brought together.

There were no formalities at the opening session, these being reserved for the afternoon. The official sermon was preached by the Rev. Henry Haigh, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England.

The World and the Harvest.

The sermon had for its theme the readiness of the world for the harvest.

The speaker was soundly optimistic. He saw in the epidemic of criticism and social unrest, the painful fruit of which they had recently tasted in England, the yearning of the human heart for brotherhood. The signs of the times are the promise of a harvest. When critics have finished their criticism they will hear Him who said, "I af the truth." The heart of co-operation is the gospel of Christ.

In China, Japan, Persia and India the day of stupor is past. Christ was the world's supreme optimist, otherwise he could not be the world's Saviour.

Lord's Supper Administered.

After the sermon the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered by Bishop J. W. Walden, D. D., Bishop A. W. Wilson, D. D., Bishop B. F. Lee, D. D., Rev. Henry Haigh, Rev. Edwin Dalton, and Rev. George Packer.

This concluded the morning's service.

The conference will meet two and three times daily for the next fortnight.

The conference is broadly divided into two sections—the western, including the whole of America, and the eastern, including Europe and the rest of the world—and each section has its own business committee. A convenient feature of the arrangements in the Metropolitan Church is a complete postoffice placed there by the Government, and to which all mail matter of the delegates will be forwarded.

The Reception Programme.

Local organizations have provided hospitable accommodation in the homes of many citizens and at the hotels, for the 500 distinguished visitors, and the public functions to be held in their honor include a reception by the lieutenant-governor, a civic reception, and a long list of dinners, luncheons and drives around the city.

ASSIZES CONCLUDED

is said that he offered McDougald $1,500 if he would agree to spend some time in the preparation of John McNeill's case.

Apparently Settled.

Later the matter was settled in London, McDougald agreeing to pay off each of his sisters with $2,000. He mortgaged his place to raise the money, and succeeded in clearing this in April, 1907. On the same day that he secured the discharge he was accompanied to London by McDougald, so the plaintiff said, and he made his will bequeathing $1,500 to McDougald.

Later, however, he made a new will, in which he did not grant the sum. McDougald then commenced the action, which terminated today. The evidence of several witnesses was taken, including that of James Arnett, secured by a commission in Saskatchewan.

Justice Clute held that no binding contract had been proved, and dismissed the action with costs.

Grand Jury's Presentment.

The grand jurors presented their report, which did not deal with anything other than usual. It follows:

To the Honorable Mr. Justice Clute:

May It Please Your Lordship: Your grand jurors, at the present assizes for the County of Middlesex, have much pleasure in offering our congratulations to your lordship upon the absence of criminal cases to be referred to your grand jurors for their consideration.

We visited the jail, and were met by Governor Carter, who showed us through all its admirably kept departments; in fact, cleanliness beyond criticism is the rule throughout the building. One point that impresses us was that while there appears plenty of work provided for the female prisoners, little can be done towards profitably employing the men.

Visited Sanatorium.

We visited the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, and were most favorably impressed with the work taken up there. Not only is this institution equipped with every modern appliance for healing the dread disease of tuberculosis, but one cannot help seeing its vast advantage as an educational example. The number of patients at present is seventeen, with accommodation for thirty-six. The difficulty attending the conduct of this institution appears that the public are not yet alive to the necessity of taking advantage at early enough a stage of the disease, thereby lessening the chance of curing the patient sent in.

Victoria Hospital.

We visited Victoria Hospital, and were conducted through the buildings by Superintendent Heard and Miss Stanley. Each department was found in exceptionally clean and first-class condition. The number of patients at present in the hospital is 118, of which there are only six contagious diseases, namely, six scarlet fever and one diphtheria. We cannot but recommend the high state of efficiency found in each department, and express our appreciation of the courtesy extended the members of the jury by the heads of the staff.

Hospital For Insane.

Dr. Robinson received us very kindly at the Hospital for Insane, and took special care to conduct us through all the buildings. Cleanliness and care were everywhere noticeable, and we congratulate the district upon having so noble an institution for such a cause. The report to date is:

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Aggregate number of patients	539	573	1,112
Patients in actual residence	509	599	1,008
Patients on probation	13	14	27
Discharges for year, to date	51	38	92
Admissions to date	94	90	184
Deaths to date	29	41	70

The management, and particularly the new branch in canning the home-grown fruit and vegetables for the use of the inmates, are to be commended.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
FRANK R. SHORE,
Foreman.

FIVE BURIED IN AVALANCHE OF COAL

Workman Drawn Into Vortex When Stack Collapses.

Freeland, Pa., Oct. 4.—Five men, all foreigners with families, lost their lives at a Lehigh Valley Coal Company mine, at Drifton, last night in a most unusual accident. Two other men had narrow escapes. The laborers were working on a huge cut, repairing a drag line attached to an apparatus that carries refuse from the mines to the top of the culm heap. Near them was a large wooden stack connected with an air shaft running into the mine. The stack suddenly collapsed and the fine coal refuse started to run into the mine opening like quicksand, drew the men into a vortex and precipitated them 70 feet into the mine.

Other men on the bank noted their absence and rescue gangs from within the mine were immediately set to work digging out the unfortunate workmen, who by this time had been covered by tons of dirt, but when they were reached two hours later five of them were lifeless. The other two are in a serious condition, but will probably recover.

OXFORD POULTRYMEN FORM ASSOCIATION

Amalgamation of Ingersoll and Woodstock Organizations Has Taken Place.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, Oct. 3.—An amalgamation of the Woodstock and Ingersoll Poultry Associations has been effected, and in future the organization will be known as the Oxford County Poultry Association. A big show is planned for Dec. 26 in Woodstock, and 24 silver trophies will be offered. The officers of the new association are: President, R. H. Pond; vice-president, H. W. Partlo; secretary, Jesse Hockin; treasurer, S. A. Gibson; directors, D. Thomson, George Ionson, Elgin Rowell, F. J. Fisher, R. M. Mueller; auditors, W. C. Mills and R. B. Rutt.

Peerless Peninsular

A CAST IRON RANGE WITH MODERN OVEN AND EQUIPMENT

A wealthy mustard manufacturer once said that he made his profit not out of what people ate, but what they left on their plates.

The coal dealer might say about the same thing.

It's not the coal you use that buys his six-cylinder car, but the coal that goes up the chimney.

You might as well save some of that coal.

Building ranges to cook well and to save coal has kept us thinking and working over in Preston for upwards of 50 years. Every year improvements in range construction have been made. The flues have been widened here; a wall made thicker there; weight reduced in one spot and added to another. But every change has made the oven heat with less fuel and the construction of the range strong and durable.

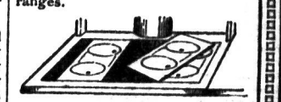

Nickel ornaments, special features or size do not affect the internal construction or honest materials and workmanship that go into the 'Peninsular.' So that when buying one, a housewife may feel free to consult her own tastes as regards finish and appearance. If the range is 'Peninsular' she will know that it will give her good bakings for the least amount of coal.

The PEERLESS is a modern cast-iron range—it has a quick oven—an oven that heats evenly on every side, top and bottom—a square oven big enough to cook four pies at once; and it has a drop-oven door, which is not usual on a cast-iron range.

The PEERLESS Peninsular may be had with a steel warming closet and hot water reservoir and with a low closet under the oven for pots, pans and irons.

The PEERLESS Peninsular is a perfect beauty and has many a convenience not found on other ranges.

Take the top of the Peerless Peninsular.

It is made in three separate sections which slide along or lift out whenever you want to clean the flues.

In most ranges the oven is either "on" or "off." That is, it is getting full heat or none at all. The Peerless Peninsular oven is regulated by means of a sliding damper so as to get just as much heat as you need. This is another way you save fuel.

Get "The Cost"

"THE COST of a Range" tells more about these Peninsular Ranges—not a list of pictures and prices, but a book showing that the after-cost is the big cost and how the "Peninsular" cuts it down.

Yours, for the asking.

After-Supper Talks

PRAYER FOR THE WIFE.

Grant to my husband and his daily tasks the blessing of successful accomplishment. Reward his work with encouraging results. May his efforts bring him credit and business advancement.

If he meets with any failure give him strength to bear it manfully, knowing that it is not always possible for plans to carry as we desire. Give him patience, prudence and foresight.

In the many temptations that come up in business life for gain to be made by sharp dealing or dishonorable methods, keep his mind and his soul clear to discern evil from good. May he not vary a jot from the rule of strict integrity and fairness to his fellow-men, that he may earn their respect and affection.

Give him strength of mind and keenness to detect foes and false doers. May he be fine enough to show charity to his enemies and seek not revenge for injuries in kind. May he injure no man in word or deed.

Let cheerfulness and good hope keep him keyed to earnest work. May he show kindness and consideration for those with whom he is associated and whom he may direct in their tasks. Let his speech be temperate and clean. Give him control of temper and mind in all distressing situations.

Keep him from overdoing that may tire him in mind and body. Let his thoughts occasionally rise from shop or office to the inspirations of life. Guard him from danger and illness, from despondency or the errors of improper association.

Keep him in heart and mind true to his home and family.

May his affections broaden and make happy his moments of leisure and bring him safely to us at the day's end.

TASTY SANDWICHES FOR THE SCHOOL LUNCH BASKET

Sandwiches are always popular with a healthy youthful appetite. The mother of the family, when at her wits' end to fill the school lunch basket should always remember this. Variety is the thing for her to keep in mind if she has to put up a luncheon six days a week for the youngsters who go a distance to school.

Brown bread, graham, whole wheat and white, make many changes, especially when a different filling is added. Cold muffins and gems are good at the noon hour if there is a dainty "surprise" in their middle. Cookies, wafers and crackers make the sweet necessary when the heavy part of the luncheon is over, and they are considered an unusual dessert if a bit of jam or jelly is put between two of them.

A delicious filling for sandwiches is made by mixing equal parts of cream cheese and snappy cheese with French dressing to a smooth paste, then stirring in it chopped red peppers or chopped olives.

This paste should be very creamy and put on thickly, at least a quarter of an inch. It is nice between salted wafers or on thin rounds of brown or rye bread.

Cold veal and hard-boiled eggs chopped fine and seasoned with salt, pepper and catsup between thin slices of white bread and butter.

Chopped hard-boiled eggs with enough mayonnaise dressing to moisten, between slices of white bread and butter.

A little salt and mayonnaise dressing added to chopped pimento makes an excellent filling for sandwiches.

Mayonnaise dressing with chopped hard-boiled eggs and chopped lettuce between slices of white bread and butter.

Chicken salad between slices of white bread and butter.

Thin slices of cream cheese between crackers.

Thin slices of cucumber between slices of white bread and butter.

Thin slices of fruit between slices of brown bread.

Graham bread with crab apple jelly and preserved ginger chopped conserve between graham crackers.

WHITE ROSES

By KATHARINE HOLLAND BROWN.

"Oh, stop them, stop them, somebody! Oh, they'll all be killed," wailed Corinna, above the uproar.

"Sit still," commanded Sir Augustus, fiercely. His hand grabbed the lever, the great car leaped under his hand like a living thing. "Hold tight! Now—"

With a snort and a roar, the automobile plunged forward. Bounding from rut to humnock, it tore in pursuit of the coach at lightning speed. Now it was abreast, now forty yards ahead. With a jar that flung them from their seats, Broughton shut off the power and even as the car staggered to a standstill, he had leaped out, and grown TWENTY three story feet in size, to himself squarely in the road of the galloping team.

"Shut your eyes, Corinna," shrieked Milly, sick with horror. But Corinna looked and saw.

Sir Augustus had caught the leaders' bridles and hung now, his whole weight swinging from the horses' heads. He was dragged and buffeted and thrown. He hung on. His burly white figure was slammed to the ground, seized up, slammed down again, like a stuffed doll. And he hung on. He was dragged again, first headlong, then tossed from side to side. His velvet coat sank with exhaustion, his big shoulders drooped, limp. And he continued to hang on.

Corinna shut her eyes. Then she opened them reluctantly.

Around the coach swarmed the exultant mob, shouting and cheering. Some ten men apiece were holding Pat and his comrade, which discouraged further activities. Mrs. Walsh, quite ashen beneath her violet plumage, admirably serene, stood on the deep grass. Her hands clasped those of Sir Augustus, who now leaned, somewhat wilted, against the tonneau. The coaching party, divided between tears and whoops, whirled tumultuously around them.

"Really, you know, I have not a scratch," lied the Honorable Augustus tranquilly. He mopped his blood-streaked brow with a swollen, shaky hand.

"I am quite too disreputable an object. Really. The moors here are a bit dusty, you know. And I lost my balance once or twice. Ah, Miss Curtis, may we not start for home at once? An opportunity to wash my face is what I most desire."

Corinna gave him a shoulying hand into the driver's seat. Ploughing its way through the cheers and protests of the crowd, the car rolled away down the trail.

"No, I am not injured. Pray do not give me another thought," Sir Augustus cut short Milly's exclamations. He viewed his ruined garments, his torn and blackened hands, with rueful good humor. "I must apologize, Miss Curtis, for sitting beside you in this shocking disarray. Really."

"Do you truly think that you need apologise?" Corinna spoke very low; but there was a note in her voice which brought that swift flush again to Sir Augustus' battered cheek, an eager gleam to his blue eyes. Milly heard and comprehended. And Milly, happily prescient, sat pondering as to whether one's Presentation gown should have a square train or a round one, and whether a diamond comb or a pearl tiara with ospreys.

"We must be hearing Madrilena," ventured Corinna, after half an hour. "Yet it doesn't look familiar, somehow."

"Oh, we are on the right highway. Of course. There is no other road back, you know."

"Provided that we are on the road at all," persisted Corinna.

Sir Augustus sighted at the sun, now dimmed in the afternoon haze. Then he groped through his pockets. After which, he looked annoyed.

"I must have—ah—mislaid my compass. Most careless!"

"You probably dropped it when you were being dragged headfirst over the prairie," suggested Corinna. "Mrs. Leonard will know where we are, Milly!"

Milly turned reluctantly from her rainbow dreams; tea in a velvet-terraced garden dappled fox-hounds and gay red coats, afloat beneath a far fog-shrouded sky.

"Where are we, Andy? This isn't the Mauritena Hall."

Indeed it is not. Milly gazed bewildered at the barren, grass-covered flats, rock-girt here and there, but without a tree in sight. Andy, too, looked from anywhere. We'll have to ask our host.

"Now, will we ask, pray? We haven't met a soul for hours, except since we left the carriage, only look the glasses and scrutinized the horizon. Finally she nodded, succinctly.

"I have it. Can you make out that clump of pepper trees, away to the south? Where a long, queer mysterious adobe wall. The inch can Peaceful Valley, far straight over there. On its east continuity, well strike a trail that takes us directly back to Mauritena. We've gone in a circle, that's all."

"We are quite out of gasoline, remember dear boy, you know," Milly.

"Oh, then we'll ask the hacienda people for some. I don't even remember their names, but I know Tom said they were the best sort ever. They'll give us anything we need, besides. You can rest here in the cushions and I explore the hacienda. Why not?"

Broughton's tired face lit with satisfaction. He headed the car towards the mysterious Peaceful Valley at a flying clip.

"Peaceful Valley is well named," said Corinna, as a flustered old gardener and a motherly housekeeper welcomed them on the broad vine-shaded gallery and scuttled to bring food-stools, and tall frosted goblets, and perfumy grass fans. Sir Augustus had vanished, escorted by two sympathetic servants. Corinna sipped her sherbet luxuriously. "Actually, Milly, there's ice in it. Actually frozen ice! What a queer, comfortable place this is anyway. Look at the hammocks strung about. There must be eight or ten of them. And all these verandah chairs, and tabling tables, and magazines! It's quite like a summer hotel, dropped down bodily in this wilderness. There's such a pretty, pale woman, reading in that farthest hammock. I do wonder—"

"Himself will be sorry that he was not here to welcome ye," said the old major-domo, bustling back with a loaded tea-tray. "He's rode all the way to Fort Davis to fetch out a friend of his what's been sick. Will you be seein' the place? 'Tis some different from the other ranchos about."

Corinna looked out on the long, cool green lawn, then up to the low, vine-wreathed house, with its glint of fair curtains, its indefinable air of quiet exquisite order. Yes, this was different. Quite different.

"I can't well take you through the whole house, for 'tis the hour when his folks mostly take their naps, an' Himself is particular that they shant be disturbed," the old man continued. "Here's your gentleman, lookin' quite freshed up," as Sir Augustus, scrubbed and plastered, appeared. "Here's the big livin'-room. Just see the pianny, would you? Himself he plays sometimes, an' 'tis grand. Then there's the dinin'-room. Yes, 'tis spacious; it needs be. There's seldom less than twenty sits down. Himself, he likes everybody to come down stairs to their meals, even if they don't feel just like it. Then he gets them to laughin' an' talkin' an' cuttin' up, an' before they know it, they'll eat hearty, an' enjye it, too. Himself ain't no doctor, but he's got hard sinse."

The Daily Menu . . .

Dear Miss Grey,—1. I am 14, 5 feet 2 inches tall. Can I wear dresses to my shoe-tops? 2. What style dresses are becoming to a blonde? 3. Am I too young to be called "aunt" by a 2-year-old niece? BONITA.

A.—1. Not quite so long. 2. One-piece dresses of white or blue. 3. No.

Cure for Freckles.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. My face and hands are broken out all the time. What can I do? 2. What will cure freckles? 3. What will make the hair fluffy? R. L.

A.—1. Consult a skin specialist at once. 2. Lemon juice renders them less conspicuous. Nothing will entirely remove them without removing the skin with them, when freckles are natural. 3. Sprinkle corn meal through the hair and brush out thoroughly, at least once a week. Shampoo twice a month during the summer.

Ants in the House.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. What will rid the house of ants? 2. Please print a recipe for cocoanut cakes. A MOTHER.

A.—1. Remedies that are effective in one case fail in others. Use pennyroyal oil freely. Powdered borax is very good. 2. Cream one-third cup butter and one cup granulated sugar. Add one cup milk, two cups flour, one tablespoon corn starch and two teaspoons baking powder, all sifted together twice. Then fold in three egg whites, beaten stiff, and one teaspoon vanilla. Bake in loaf or in gem-pans, and cover with the following: Stiffly-beaten white of one egg, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup grated cocoanut, and as much powdered sugar as will be necessary to make it spread well.

Two Mothers

Two neighbors in a small city, each with a large family of children, used to go on little picnics together, taking all the youngsters with them. It did them some good, but one of them, Mrs. Martin, felt that there was a better plan, and she made the suggestion that she should take care of all the children while Mrs. Blake rested at home, or spent the day with a friend. It seemed as if this was throwing a heavy burden on Mrs. Martin, but she thought eight children were as easy to look after as four. She got through the day very well, while Mrs. Blake had a happy visit with her mother in a neighboring town.

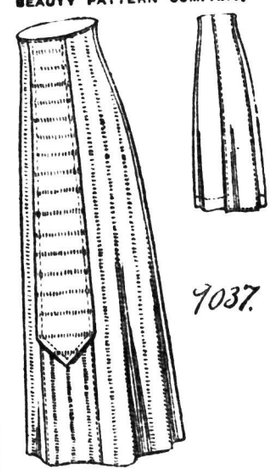

"It was so nice to be taken care of and coddled all day, just as I coddle the children," she commented. "No hungry demand for dinner, no querulous questions about where cap or shoes or hat has gone; just tender questions as to whether I was in a comfortable chair, and what kind of pie I would like. I forgot I had any children. I felt ready for two weeks of noise and torn stockings and bruises when I got home."

Mrs. Martin spent her holiday with two maiden ladies. Her verdict was that the peace and order were delightful; it was such a relief to see furniture with no scratches, without the prints of little moist, dirty hands. It was relief to sit down with no thought of a meal to get and to be refused when she offered to wash the dishes. It was equally a relief to hear no childish shouts or cries. She went home sure that she loved her children more than ever, because she had spent a severe day with people who had no more to do with children than they had with chimpanzees.

Neither of the women ever neglected to take the fortnightly holiday, and they always contrived to take it away from their own houses. They had discovered the important fact that change is an essential element of rest. In the autumn they looked fresher and felt better than they had for years. They had no shrinkings from the autumn dressmaking and tailoring; they had no nervous headaches; no mornings when it seemed impossible to face the wear and tear of the day. Their carefully-planned occasional vacations had brought fresh mental and spiritual health. — Woman's World.

Years of Suffering

A Desperate Case of Catarrh in the Head.

"My father had catarrh in the head for a long time. It was such a desperate case that he didn't know what to do, but one of his friends recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. He got a bottle immediately, and as soon as he commenced taking it he felt relief and after the use of two other bottles he was completely cured. He was so well pleased he has ever since recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla." Delle Aline Begin, Levis, P. Q.

are not a new and untried remedy—our grandfathers used them. Half a century ago, before Confederation, they were on sale in nearly every drug or general store in the Canada of that day, and were the recognized cure in thousands of homes for Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Rheumatism and Kidney and Liver Troubles. Today they are just as effective, just as reliable as ever, and nothing better has yet been devised to

Cure Common Ills

Do You Do This?

When beating upholstered furniture in the house, place a damp cloth over the pieces. The dust adheres to the cloth.

An alarm clock kept in the kitchen may be set to ring at the time the vegetables should be put over the fire or the hot bread or the cake or pudding is due to be done.

Candles will last much longer if they are placed on ice and kept there for 24 hours before using.

Before putting the stew pan on the fire, rub some laundry soap on the bottom several times, and when the pan is washed the black comes off like magic.

The instep of a buttoned shoe makes a handy iron holder. It fits the iron perfectly.

When soiled stockings are taken off pin them together with a small safety pin. In this way no stockings are ever mislaid or lost.

Rubbing rusty knives with a damp cloth dipped in ashes will make them bright and shining.

To keep a fine gloss on your varnished floors, sprinkle with coarse salt; let remain for five minutes, then sweep off with a soft broom.

When buying carpet for stairs get an extra yard, and turn it under at each end. When the carpet begins to wear on the edges of the steps, it can be slipped either up or down and equalize the wear.

The best way to clean wallpaper: Cover a board 4x12 inches with a piece of sheep pelt, tacking it on firmly. Then fasten on a long handle. Brush the walls the ordinary way.

To deodorize saucepans after cooking onions, cabbage or fish, wash and dry the pan, then place a piece of thick brown paper on the stove, set fire to it and turn the saucepan over the blaze. After a few moments remove it, and the odor will not be noticed.

A dish mop for blackening the stove will save the hands from a disagreeable soiling. Keep a mop for this purpose only. When it is new wind a cord several times around the spring, to bind up all the loose ends. In using the mop moisten it before dipping in the blacking, and applying to the stove.

CORNS DISSOLVED AWAY BY PAINLESS REMEDY

No pain, no cutting, no plasters or pads to press the sore spot. Putnam's Corn Extractor makes the corn go without pain. Just apply according to directions and you can then forget you ever had a corn. Just as good for callouses, warts or bunions. It removes the cause and thereby effects a lasting relief. LONDON SCHOOLS ARE OVERCROWDED

Inspector Edwards Brought the Matter Officially to the Attention of Board.

PUPILS ARE INCREASING

Mr. Edwards Denies Pushing Children Ahead, So as to Show Accommodation Is Lacking.

At the meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon, the crowded condition of the public schools was officially drawn to the attention of the members.

Inspector Edwards, in his report, mentioned this fact prominently, and urged that something be done immediately to relieve the congestion. The crowding is particularly heavy in the lower grades.

Dr. Teasdall asked the inspector whether or not it was true that he took pupils from the kindergarten and promoted them in order to crowd the grades.

Mr. Edwards stated that he had consulted with the principals of the kindergartens regarding promotions, and had suggested that the children there six years of age and over should be promoted. If they spent eight years in the public schools, they would be fourteen when ready for the entrance. He merely consulted with the principals, and took no authority whatever in the matter.

Attendance Gains.

In his report the inspector stated that there were 5,249 on the roll in the public schools in September as compared with 5,055 in 1910, a gain of 194. The average attendance was 4,808 as compared with 4,509, a gain of 299.

In the kindergarten there were 770 on the roll, a gain of 14 over last year. The average attendance was 611, showing a growth of 32.

The total enrollment was 6,019 this year, while it was 5,811 last year, a gain of 208. The average attendance was 5,419, as compared with 5,088 in 1910, an increase of 331.

Mr. Edwards says further:

Schools Are Full.

"Since September, 1908, when the total enrollment was 4,596, there has been a steady increase both in enrollment and average attendance. The consequence is that practically all the schools are full, while in the primary rooms the attendance is altogether too high for efficient work.

In grades 1 and 2 the average number of pupils on the roll for each teacher is 43.9 and 44.3 respectively. In grade 1 no teacher should have more than 35 if proper training and individual attention is given, while in grade 2 no more than 42 should be in the room. There is urgent need for immediate relief in Empress avenue school, where there are 65 and 54 in grades 1 and 2 respectively. In Victoria school there are 68 on the roll in grade 1. Pending the fitting up of the house purchased by the board, half the class comes in the morning, and the remainder in the afternoon. In the eastern part of the city both Aberdeen and Chesley avenue schools are crowded. The attendance in these schools bids fair to increase in the near future to an extent that will require increased accommodation."

Will Provide Accommodation.

The report was sent to No. 2 committee, who will make arrangements for the accommodation of the extra pupils.

Principal McCutcheon reported that since the new educational act came in force it was necessary to appoint an advisory committee for the commercial school. This committee will consist of eight members, four from the board, and four citizens. These will be appointed by the board at its next meeting. Principal McCutcheon asked for a half-holiday for the students on Oct. 6, being their annual field day. This was granted.

September Attendance.

The attendance for the month of September, 1911, was as follows:

	On Roll.	Average.
First year general course..240	231
Second year general course 155	143
Middle school 218	201
Upper school 61	54
First year com. course ... 67	65
Second year com. course.. 41	40
	782	734

The attendance for September, 1910, was:

	On Roll.	Average.
First year general course..215	203
Second year general course ... .208	190
Middle school ... .195	180
Upper school 47	43
First year com. course ... 54	51
Second year com. course.. 48	43
	767	710

Truant Officer's Report.

Truant Officer Weir reported that he had visited all the schools, and found the attendance good. Two boys had been summoned for non-attendance, but they had been going to school regularly of late, and the charges were not pressed.

The reports of the committees were read, but there was nothing of importance brought forward.

Trustee Gammage asked about the transfer of Miss Morris, of Simcoe street school. There had been rumors that she had been transferred because of friction.

"That is certainly not the case," said Inspector Edwards. "Miss Morris is one of our best teachers, but she wanted to be sent to Wortley street because it was near her home. That is the reason for the change — no other."

Those present were: Chairman G. N. Weekes, Trustees John M. Gunn, Dr. P. J. Mugan, C. M. R. Graham, W. W. Gammage, Dr. A. J. Wyckoff, Dr. Teasdall, Inspector Edwards, Principal McCutcheon, Truant Officer Weir, and Secretary R. McElheran.

D. D. G. M. WILSON VISITED NILESTOWN

First Degree Exemplified in Excellent Fashion.

The official visit of Rt. Wor. Bro. J. H. Wilson, D. D. G. M., London District No. 3, A. F. and A. M., to Nilestown Lodge, No. 345, was paid last night, and in spite of the bad weather a large number of the brethren were on hand. Among them were several visitors from London, Dorchester, Ingersoll, St. Thomas and other places.

Wor. Bro. C. G. Carlton and his officers exemplified the first degree in excellent fashion. The work was done faultlessly and won the unstinted praise of the district deputy grand master.

On completing the degree work, the brethren adjourned to the banquet hall, where an excellent chicken dinner had been prepared by the ladies.

After this had been properly taken care of, Wor. Bro. Carlton introduced the toast list. The health of the King and the craft was drunk, and Rt. Wor. Bros. J. W. Wallace and J. H. Wilson responded to the toast to the "Grand Lodge of Canada."

"The Ladies," brought a response from Bro. J. H. Fowler, while Rt. Wor. Bro. E. T. Essery and Wor. Bro. Finlay Marshall replied on behalf of the visitors. Rt. Wor. Bro. J. H. Wilson proposed the health of Nilestown Lodge, and Bro. W. A. Langford and Bro. J. Poad responded.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the ladies for their kindness in preparing the lunch.

Stomach Sufferers Squander Millions

In Search of Relief.

The world is full of disordered stomachs and 90 per cent of the money spent upon physicians and drugs goes in an attempt to cure the stomach.

People are made to believe that in order to gain health they must doctor their stomachs and use cathartics. So the doctor gets his fee for the stomach treatment and the druggist for the physic, until the savings of a lifetime are exhausted and yet no cure.

Let's be reasonable.

The sick stomach is in every case the result of over-eating, hurried mastication and improper choice of foods. The mucous lining all the way down the food tract loses its sensitiveness, and when food is forced down the muscles fail to respond. They do not churn the food as they should. The glands no longer give out gastric juice to dissolve the food and render it capable of assimilation. The man has become a dyspeptic.

There is one sure way and only one to bring positive relief. Put into that stomach of yours the very elements that it lacks to get that food into liquid form. It takes pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other ferments to accomplish this. The healthy stomach contains these elements. The dyspeptic stomach lacks part or all of them. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet is made up of just what the dyspeptic stomach lacks—Nature's digestives.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a medicine, not a drug, not a cathartic. They do not cure anybody of anything but Dyspepsia and Indigestion and such ailments as arise from poorly digested food.

While they digest the food the stomach recuperates. The mucous membrane is coming out of its stupor, the gastric juice is coming to the surface, the muscles are regaining their power. Every organ of the body takes on new life, the skin gains color, and the eyes are no longer tinged with yellow. You live.

Why doctor and why drug yourself? Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will take care of your food while Nature cures you.

Try a box at your druggist's, 50 cents. Or, if you prefer a free trial package before buying, send your name and address today. F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

SPLENDID RACES AT LAMBETH FAIR

A Big Crowd at the Exhibition Despite the Inclement Weather.

EXHIBITS WERE GOOD

Winners in the 3peed Events—Some of the Best of the Exhibits.

Despite the inclement weather of yesterday afternoon Lambeth fair was well attended and largely successful. Some 1,200 people were on the grounds and the entries were larger in almost all lines than in previous years.

The programme of special attractions and races was carried out complete, although the races suffered somewhat on account of the incessant rain and the heavy condition of the track.

In the cattle and live stock departments the exhibits were good, as they always are at Lambeth fair. Sheep and swine were well represented, and the poultry exhibit was an extremely creditable feature of the show. Some unusually fine geese, ducks, and pure-bred poultry were exhibited.

In roots and vegetables a very fair showing was made. Apples and fruit were of a high standard of excellence, and the exhibit of ladies' work and art, while not large, was meritorious. Music was furnished by the London City Band.

The Races.

In the speed events, the free-for-all was won by Nellie Mack, owned by J. Boyd, of London. The three-minute class went to Kid Medium, owned by W. Collins, of London. Each race was won in three heats.

The results of the ring attractions were as follows:

Free-for-all—
Nellie Mack, J. Boyd, London 1 1 1
Delmas, A. McNeil, Melbourne 2 2 3
Major Tuckey, Wm. Lock, Belmont 3 3 2
Three-minute class—
Kid Medium, W. Collins, London 1 1 1
Daisy-at-Law, H Reason, London 3 2 2
Black Harry, James Martin, Melbourne 2 3 3
Polly M., James McCartney, London 6 4 4

Lady drivers—
1, Mrs. Archie Blaikie; 2, Mrs. J. M. Young; 3, Miss McAuley.

Pony class—
1, Miss Lila Guest, London Township; 2, Gordon Angus, Lambeth.

Carriage class—
1, Archie Blaikie; 2, T. Harding Shore.

Roadster class—
1, James Milne; 2, Robert Brown; 3, James Brownlee; 4, Thomas Purdom.

Half-mile foot race—1, R. Roberts; 2, C. Hardy; 3, C. Willis; 4, H. Hays.

The judges of the track and speed events were Messrs. George Campbell and E. Douglas.

The Exhibitors.

The leading exhibitors in the various classes were:

You Can't Cure Catarrh By Swallowing Drugs

Cough Syrup, Tablets and Sprays Sicken the Stomach, But Don't Reach the Germs of Catarrh—Hence Their Failure To Help

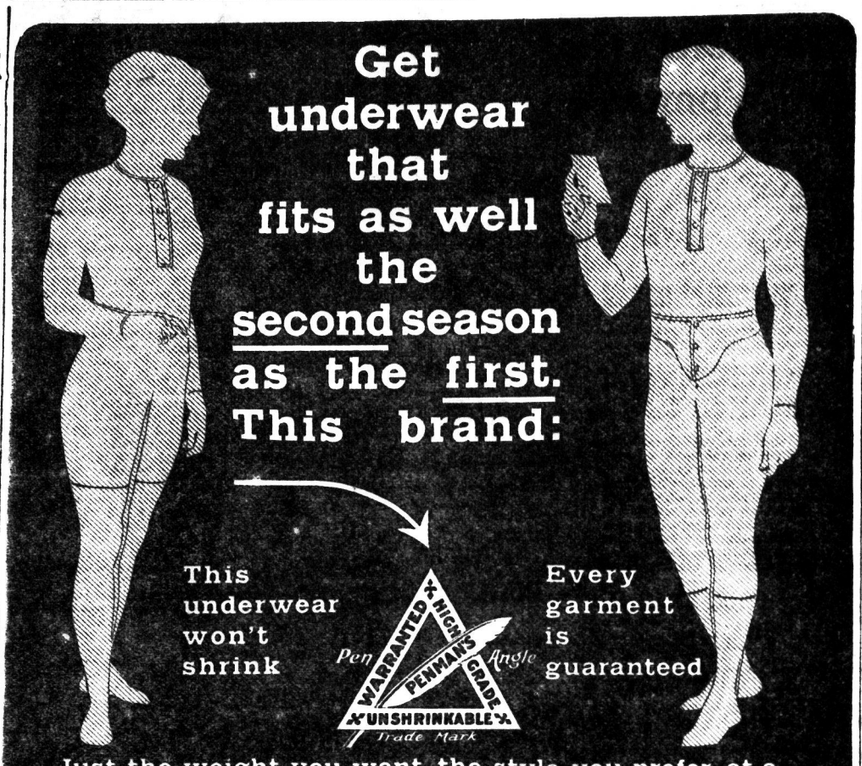

To cure an ailment in the throat or chest, to rout out Catarrh or Asthma, it is essential that the medicine be conveyed direct to the affected parts. This is why no other remedy has achieved such world-wide success as Catarrhozone, which alone can be breathed in one second to every air cell in the breathing organs. The healing vapors of Catarrhozone mix with the breath and descend through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, to the deepest air cells in the lungs—all parts are saturated with the rich piney essences that ease, heal and cure.

Catarrhozone has entirely displaced the old-fashioned remedies, such as cough syrups, sprays, tablets, and sedative powders. It contains none of the opium, chloral and drowsy narcotics so commonly found in liquid cough and catarrhal remedies.

Couldn't Breathe—Catarrhozone Cured.

"No one ever contracted a more obstinate attack of nasal catarrh than I suffered a month ago," writes Mr. G. E. Rott, a well-known resident of Bridgetown, W. I. "My head ached terrifically, I sneezed about every three minutes, but still my nostrils were entirely closed, and I couldn't breathe through them. Ten minutes inhaling Catarrhozone gave me a little relief, so I continued to use Catarrhozone every hour, and before the day was out I had improved. Catarrhozone quickly cured me. I am well ever since."

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substitutor. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. All reliable dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

How to Save Money on Footwear

There are different ways of economizing in footwear.

To buy cheap, badly-made shoes is not economy.

But to buy good shoes—high class shoes—is economy

It's impossible to use high grade materials for cheap shoes and make money.

And it's also impossible to use the best machinery and employ the best workmen.

Because it wouldn't pay to do either.

When you buy cheap shoes you buy cheap material and cheap workmanship.

But, when you buy INVICTUS SHOES, you buy the highest-grade shoes it's possible to make.

You buy the best materials obtainable, labor of the highest skilled workmen, and the very latest and best up-to-date methods for making high-grade shoes.

LONDON WILL OPEN AT SARNIA OCT. 7

O. R. F. U. Schedule With This Group Drawn Up Yesterday.

FIRST MATCH HERE OCT. 21

With Oil Town, While Sarnia Comes Here on Nov. 4—Exhibition Matches.

Petrolea, Oct. 3.—Representatives of the O. R. F. U. junior teams of the western district met here today. The following schedule was arranged:

Oct. 7—London at Sarnia.
Oct. 14—Sarnia at Petrolea.
Oct. 21—Petrolea at London.
Oct. 30—Petrolea at Sarnia.
Nov. 4—Sarnia at London.
Nov. 11—London at Petrolea.

Mr. McCart, of Sarnia, strongly objected to bringing officials from Toronto when they could be appointed by local clubs, thus lessening the expenses of teams in this district.

K. C. Kerr, acting as convenor of the western district in Dr. C. O. Fairbank's absence, was authorized to take this matter up with Secretary Livingstone.

London's Rugby men got together at a meeting of the executive of the club last evening and looked over the schedule printed above, which was brought down form Petrolea by the local representative to the meeting, Manager Harold Little.

While London opens the season on Saturday at Sarnia, the local pigskin chasers will not be back on the gridiron in a championship mix until Oct. 21, when the Oil Town crew will come to this city.

In the meantime an effort will be made to arrange exhibition battles with strong outside teams. Purple and black, the colors of the Western Medical School have been adopted, as the players of that institution have united with the London boys in constructing a strong fourteen.

A team for the new City League has been organized by the Collegiate Institute, and London's seconds will also enter. The Y. M. C. A. is preparing a team, while it is possible that the Meds. will bring together a second crew.

The City League is promoted for the purpose of developing material for the O. R. F. U. and for this reason the greatest interest in its welfare is taken. The games will in all probability be played as additional attractions on the regular championship programme and will be commenced at about 2 o'clock. Twenty-minute halves will be the order.

Coach Hamilton has been busy for a couple of weeks now, but his labors are becoming really strenuous, as the opening of the season draws closer. The players have been turning out more faithfully, but he is especially anxious to have everyone in uniform every night now, as the team is being selected, and all candidates for positions absolutely must be familiar with the signals.

THE KENTUCKY FUTURITY

One of Greatest Battles in Turf History Will Be Settled Today.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3. — The Kentucky Futurity of 1911 will go down into turf history as one of the most superb contests ever waged by 3-year-old trotters, and, while it is the general opinion that Atlantic Express will win, it is not so sure that Mainleaf does not come out in good shape tomorrow and end it with a heat. Today saw the colts struggle through three heats, Mainleaf winning the first one by half a length, the second by a neck, and Atlantic Express the third by a head, just beating Peter Thompson, which colt was the same distance ahead of Mainleaf. The lateness of the hour sent this finish over until Wednesday, and tonight the grand struggle among the youngsters is the talk of the corridors, while men who think they are in wrong embraced the opportunity to hedge in the night pools.

Splitting Them Up.

Only two of the futurity events this year have gone in straight heats. The others have been fought through an extra mile or two, and they have far outshone the all-ages event from the viewpoint of the man who likes horseracing. Starting at Detroit, Miss Stokes won after Justice Brooke had taken a heat. Miss Stokes in turn was beaten in the same manner at Indianapolis by Mainleaf, while at the Michigan State Fair, Peter Thompson came along after Atlantic Express had been first in a mile. Columbus saw three of them heat-with-ners and Atlantic Express won on the next afternoon.

Until today the best time on a good track was 2:08¾, and when Mainleaf duplicated it this afternoon he did it on a track that was so muddy in the morning that few thought racing would be possible, and it was 3:25 o'clock before they did get started. Conditions considered, the time of the three heats this year is much the fastest, as each only was a quarter of a second slower than the one before it.

Another for Hal B.

The 2:06 pace, the Tennessee stake, was rattled off in three heats by the Canadian horse, Hal B. Jun. that won the recent $5,000 stake at the state fair. He had no trouble, for he scored all right today, went his second mile in 2:09¾, and jogged the final quarter in the last one in 30 seconds.

Good weather is expected for tomorrow, when five races and the unfinished event will be tackled so there will be a full afternoon of it. The 2-year-old futurity is on the bill, also the McDowell stake. The summaries:

The Tennessee stake, 2:06 pace, 3 in 5, value $2,625—

TY COBB'S APPEAL DOESN'T STOP FINE

National Commission Decides Levy of $100 Must Stand.

Cincinnati, Oct. 3. — Tyrus Cobb, champion batsman of the world, was fined $100 today in a decision of the national commission for playing with an "all-star" team at Lenox Oval, New York City, Sept. 17. After the case was taken up by the commission Cobb sent a telegram to them saying he was "ignorant of wrong doing. I was to play again tomorrow, but on receipt of your letter called my part of the game off and won't go. Will not play again there. It was not my wish to antagonize organized baseball."

The commission, in passing on the case, announced: "The player's disclaimer of intention to antagonize organized baseball is given consideration by the commission, but cannot be accepted as an excuse to release him of responsibility for a wrongful act. Players will not be permitted to violate baseball rules and a fine of $100 is imposed on Cobb, with a warning to him that a more severe penalty will be inflicted in future."

JENNINGS LIKELY TO BE SUSPENDED

Tiger Leader May Be Punished for Run-In With O'Loughlin.

Cleveland, Oct. 3—After the double-header between the Naps and the Tigers tomorrow, made necessary by the postponement of today's game because of rain, the Jungeleers will be both Jennings-less and Cobb-less. Although Hughie had not planned to accompany the team to St. Louis, it is unlikely now that he would be allowed to appear on the field if he should suddenly decide to go. In all probability he will be suspended for the remainder of the season for his run-in with Umpire O'Loughlin yesterday.

Cobb intended to go with the Bengals, as his ambition was to break Willie Keeler's American League record for hits, made in 1897. Ty thought that the mark was 247, and as he has made 244 hits, meant to go to St. Louis and get four more. Today he found out that the record was 243 hits and as he has already broken it will not leave with his teammates. He will play at Newark with McAleer's stars, Oct. 7.

FORMER CHAMPION IS GIVEN AWFUL BEATING

Oscar Matthew Battling Nelson Mauled by Young Saylor.

Boston, Oct. 3.—Young Saylor, of Indianapolis, gave "Battling" Nelson, the former lightweight champion of the world, one of the worst defeats of his life in twelve rounds of interesting boxing at the Armory Athletic Association tonight. Nelson met a man who was his superior at his own game of infighting.

In the first round the men were in a constant clinch, with both working body punches with good effect. At the third round the men were broken apart at the clinches, and Saylor met every rush of the "Battler" with swift left and right swings. Nelson landed few clean punches. Saylor had every round, and was given the decision.

GIANTS SLAUGHTER GROVER ALEXANDER

CUBS BATTER THE CARDS

New York Victory or Chicago Defeat Today Will End National League Race.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—With Connie Mack and many Athletic players looking on, the Giants, with one big inning, overwhelmed the Phillies today in their final National League game of the seasonin this town, by a score of 12 to 3. Mack and his men were on hand to see what the New Yorkers really possessed in inside baseball, and what they must have discovered during that awful rout of the Quakers, and especially in the sixth inning, certainly could not have been very encouraging from a Philadelphia standpoint.

The Giants knocked Alexander out of the box in the sixth, did not find Stanley, who succeeded, very difficult to hit, and, although they did not make any violent effort to get in touch with Smith, just secured from an amateur league team, he did not make any impression on the Giants. Crandall met with a decidedly warm reception in the first round he faced the Phillies, but after that round Crandall displayed the kind of stuff which can only be displayed by a Mathewson. Score:

CARD TWIRLERS THROW GAME TO CHICAGO CUBS

Chance's Men Profit by Loose Work of St. Louis Outfit.

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—Manager Bresnahan presented a joke pitching staff against the Cubs in the first game of the series, and consequently the Cardinals were badly beaten, 14 to 8. Dale, Zackert, Sandridge, Laudermilk and Camnitz took turns. They were not hit hard, for the youngsters were all too wild. Cole pitched the entire game for the Cubs, and but for the big lead he would have been chased, as he also was very wild. Score:

JOHNSON HOLDS CHAMPS

Allows But One Hit in Second Session of Bargain-Day Bill.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Connie Mack's champions broke even with Washington in today's double-header, winning the first game and losing the second.

Coombs and Bender divided the pitching honors in the early contest, and both were hit hard. It was noticeable that neither twirler extended himself. Cashion, for the home team, was wild, and was batted hard at opportune times. The second game only lasted five and a half innings, when it was called on account of darkness. The Athletics never had a chance against Water Johnson, who gave them but one scratch hit. Scores.

GIANTS WIN TODAY THEN JOG TO FINISH

McGraw Musters Strongest Crew to Cinch the Pennant. Absolutely.

THEN WILL REST UP

Preparation for World's Series With Athletics in Progress.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 4. — A quick finish of the pennant race, and then rest in preparation for the world's series—this was the hope and purpose of the New York National League baseball club, home today from its victorious tour of the west.

If the Giants beat Brooklyn this afternoon the National League pennant will fly at the Polo grounds. If they lose, they will still have nine more chances to capture the flag. One victory will be enough, or one defeat suffered by the Chicago team.

To give his worn veterans the longest opportunity to recuperate from the nerve-racking pennant race, Manager McGraw mustered his heaviest artillery to win today's game and end the strain. Mathewson, who is said to be in top form, probably will pitch, and after that may be called upon for no more work until the world's championship series. It is McGraw's intention to send the big fellow to watch the work of the Athletics.

The home-coming of the Giants last night provoked only a small demonstration, because it was unknown when they would arrive. They close the season with Brooklyn on Oct. 12 at the Polo grounds. Their remaining games will be played on the home grounds or at Brooklyn.

THE BARNDY MANOR.

Nottingham, England, Oct. 3.—The Barndy Manor maiden plate of 106 sovereigns, distance 5 furlongs, was run here today and won by H. P. Whitney's Sun Up. The Wittygirt filly was second and the Thimble colt third. There were fourteen starters.

RESERVING SEATS FOR COMING WORLD'S SERIES

Baseball Men Expect New Attendance Records Will Be Established.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Oct. 4.—"Fans" by the score in the middle west have already besieged attaches of American League offices with requests for tickets for the world's championship games. Secretary Robert R. McRoy yesterday reported a bulky stack of queries, indicating the early interest being manifested in the battles to be waged in New York and Philadelphia. That the games will result in the establishment of new records for gate receipts is the opinion of McRoy.

Last season, when the Cubs and Athletics broke all previous records, the amount received for the players totalled over $79,000. Secretary McRoy expressed the opinion that the players' share this year would be close to $150,000.

$50,000 Will Be Necessary to Send Americans to Olympic Games.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 4.—The work of securing the $50,000 necessary to send an American team to the Olympic games at Stockholm next summer, is well under way. Subscriptions are coming in to the offices of the American Olympic committee at the rate of about $1,000 a day.

With the return to this country of Prof. William L. Sloane, of the international committee, the officials will hold a series of conferences, in which plans will be definitely decided upon for the representation of the United States in the big international event.

ARRANGE FOR CUB-WHITE SOX SERIES

Chicago, Oct. 3. — A post-season series between the Cubs and the White Sox was assured today, when, after a conference with Manager Chance, President Murphy, of the Cubs, issued a statement declaring the West Side team would be pleased to meet the White Sox. President Ban Johnson, in behalf of the American Leaguers, promptly accepted the challenge. Nothing now remains except for the members of the national commission to arrange dates and details.

AYLMER COUNCIL HAD BUSY SESSION

Pavement Question Was Settled by Deciding to Lay Macadam.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Aylmer, Oct. 3.—The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held last night, with all the members present excepting H. Ryckman.

D. H. Price and J. M. Farthings, representing the East Elgin Fair Association, asked the council for the customary grant, although the amount asked for was considerably smaller than in previous years.

The council granted the amount asked for on motion of O. McKenney and H. H. Wright.

A communication was read from G. A. Bingham and George Copeland, requesting the council to leave the paving of Talbot street, west of John street, over for another year, until the pavement on Talbot street, between John and King streets, had been tested. The communication was filed.

A request was made to have two or three gas lights placed on John street south, where there are no electric wires. The cost of maintenance of each light would be about $16 per year.

The matter was laid over, to be dealt with later.

The Pavement Question.

While it had practically been decided to put down a macadam road on John street, from Talbot to Sydenham streets, some of the councillors strongly favored laying the vitrified brick.

A. W. Pierce and Frank H. Trim would have to pay for the greater portion of the road. Mr. Pierce was present and said he would consent to paving it with brick, but he would like to hear from Mr. Trim.

Mr. Trim said that he would oppose the brick, for when in Detroit he had seen brick pavements being taken up that had been down less than two years, although, he said, the brick may have been different from the ones laid on Talbot street, Aylmer.

R. C. McKenney endeavored to explain to Mr. Trim why it had been decided to use brick on Talbot street in preference to other material, and took for example Talbot street, St. Thomas, especially that portion near the M. C. R depot, where heavy traffic has been continually passing over it for some twelve or thirteen years, and it is a perfect street today.

Will Macadamize Road.

Mr. Trim, replying to Mr. McKenney, said that he did not see why he should choose St. Thomas as an example to go by, as in St. Thomas a brick pavement would last forty years.

After considerable discussion the council decided to put down the macadam road south from John street to Sydenham street.

It was decided to purchase two carloads of crushed stone to be used in repairing the roads just north and south of the John street bridge.

C. F. Hayes has leased D. G. Bingham's residence on Pine street east.

Misses Ruth Titus and Jean McIntyre, who have been the guests of Miss Haight, have returned to their homes in St. Thomas.

Dr. Muma and bride have returned to Aylmer and taken up their residence on Pine street, in the house lately vacated by Mrs. W. C. Hoag.

FOUND BLIND PIG IN STRAW STACK

Police Seize Quantity of Whiskey Concealed Near Town of Ruthven.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kingsville, Oct. 4.—The local police have in their possession a stock of whiskey which County Constables Summerfield and Coghill seized in a raid near Ruthven. The wet goods was found in a straw stack, where, it is stated, the officers have secured information that a "blind pig" was being run. The police are now on the trail of the keeper. The whiskey has been turned over to Police Magistrate Smart here, and will be disposed of as the law directs.

CHATHAM JANITOR WAS HURT IN EXPLOSION

Gas Leaking In Cellar Ignited When He Went to Start the Furnace.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, Oct. 3.—John Barks, caretaker of the Victoria Avenue Methodist Church, was badly burned when a quantity of gas that had accumulated from a leak exploded when Mr. Barks went into the basement and started to light the furnace. There was a blinding flash and sheet of flame, and Mr. Barks had his face and one arm terribly scorched.

Charles Trudell had three of his fingers amputated as a result of having them caught in a jointer at the Gray, Campbell factory.

PARKHILL.

Parkhill, Oct. 3.—Miss Belle Ross left on an extended visit to the west. Previous to her departure she was presented with a gold watch and chain.

Mr. J. P. McCormick, who was away on a trip to Michigan to visit friends, returned on Saturday.

Mr. John McIntyre is finishing up George Ross' house in town this week.

Neil McPhee, ex-postmaster of Au Sauble, who is retiring from his farm, is moving to London, where he is to engage in teaming with a wholesale firm.

Owing to the light crop, Mr. Archie Morrison has wound up threshing for the season. He did business for thirty years, and says this was the smallest season of all.

Mr. James Ryder, of Detroit, spent last week with Mr. Ryder's friends in and around Lucan. She will return in a few days.

FISHERMAN DROWNS FIVE NEARLY PERISH

Amherstburg Steamer Rams a Small Launch in Lake Erie On Sunday Night.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Amherstburg, Oct. 3.—It is learned here that the steamer E. A. Shores, of this place, rammed and sunk the launch Merry Widow of this port, off the end of Cedar Point jetty in Lake Erie on Sunday night. August Beamer, jun., owner of the launch, was drowned. Five others who were in the launch were saved.

The party in the launch were fishermen and they had covered themselves with oilskins to protect them from the rain. The survivors say they did not hear the passing signals blown by the Shores.

STRATHROY FUNERAL

Remains of Mrs. Ada M. Heake Were Interred There Yesterday.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Strathroy, Oct. 3.—The funeral of Mrs. Ada M. Heake, wife of William Heake, was held from the family residence, Albert street, this afternoon, and was largely attended. Deceased died in Victoria Hospital, London, on Sunday evening last. She was an adherent of the Methodist Church and until a few months before her death took an active part in the choir and church work.

Besides her husband, she leaves two young sons and one brother. She had resided all her life in Strathroy, and had many warm friends and acquaintonces.

The annual harvest thanksgiving services will be held in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday next. Rev. Mr. Cluff, a former rector of this parish, now of Stratford, will take both services. Special music will be furnished by the choir.

REV. JAS. LIVINGSTONE WILL GO TO WINNIPEG

Former London Pastor Is Just Recovering From Serious Illness.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Oct. 4.—Rev. James Livingstone, of Mitchell, who has been ill here for the past seven weeks, has recovered sufficiently to go to his home in Mitchell. Mr. Livingstone has received and accepted a call to become pastor of Wesley Church, Winnipeg, and will leave Mitchell when his term expires next June. Before going to Mitchell, Rev. Livingstone was pastor of Wellington Street Church, London.

ILDERTON CHURCH NEARING COMPLETION

Brick Work On Fine New Building Is All Finished.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ilderton, Oct. 4.—The brickwork of the new Methodist Church is now finished. The carpenters are expected to return to their work very soon, and the new church will be completed as soon as possible.

Mr. Freeman Charlton is at present ill in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. Henry, of Kincardine, is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Gould.

Mrs. Fred Cook, of Stratford, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Clatworthy, of Ilderton.

Anniversary services in connection with Grace Church, Ilderton, were held on Sunday, Oct. 1. Owing to the weather being so unfavorable, the attendance was small. The church was tastefully decorated with vegetables, fruit and flowers, and special music was rendered by the choir.

Mr. Clifford Hartwick is lying very ill at present at his parents' home, near Ilderton. He is suffering from appendicitis and an attack of pneumonia.

MASKED MEN HELD UP A WINDSOR CITIZEN

Daring Robbery Perpetrated on Percy Reynolds by Two Highwaymen.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Oct. 3.—Unknown men held up Mr. Percy Reynolds on the London street bridge here today, and took $12 from him. Both men wore masks, and while one robber held him around the throat and threatened to choke him should he cry for help, the other went through Reynolds' pockets. His hip pockets and inside coat pockets were first searched in order to see if he was armed. When the job was done the robbers disappeared in the darkness, and Reynolds hurried home.

ST. THOMAS TO HAVE FINE NEW MUSEUM

John F. Langan Has Donated $1,000 Toward the Project, and More Is To Be Raised.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Oct. 4.—The mastodon which was unearthed at Rodney last week will likely be purchased for a new museum, which is to be started here. The Elgin Historical Society and the Women's Historical Society have a fine collection of curios of various sorts, and Mr. John F. Langan, a former resident, has donated $1,000 toward establishing a permanent museum. The project is being taken up enthusiastically, and a campaign for securing funds to buy land and erect a building will be started at once.

STRATFORD WEDDING

Miss Maud Boles Becomes Wife of Mr. H. Gordon Rankin, of That

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, Oct. 3.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boles, when their daughter, Miss Maud Lenore, was married to Mr. Gordon Rankin, Rev. Robert Martin, of Knox Church, officiated. The wedding march was played by Miss Katie Tune, of London, and during the signing of the register Mrs. A. T. Boles, of Leamington, rendered a solo most acceptably. A number of guests from London, Ingersoll and other points were present. Mr. and Mrs. Rankin left in the evening for New York, and on their return will reside in this city.

SERIOUS SITUATION IN CITY OF DUBLIN

Crowds Hungry Through Strike Are Attacking Bread Wagons.

[Canadian Press.]

Dublin, Oct. 3.—Owing to the railway strike the poor in this city are still facing starvation. Hungry crowds fill the back streets, and are beginning to invade the main thoroughfares. Bread wagons were attacked again today, and their cotents stolen by desperate men and women. The situation is of the most serious nature, but the Government, so far as can be seen, is taking no action.

PARENTS LEFT BABY WITHOUT ANY FOOD

Infant Found Dying in a Montreal House.

Montreal, Oct. 4.—Left two days in a room without food, an infant six weeks old, died yesterday morning at St. Justin Hospital from the effects of starvation.

Coroner McMahon is investigating the case. The circumstances involve a man and a woman who were probably the parents of the child. They went to a house on Saguinet street a few days ago and hired a room for a month. The occupant of the house did not notice that they had a baby then. They occupied the room for an hour or so and then went out.

At the end of two days, as they had not returned, the landlord went to the door of the room, to see if it was locked, when he was astounded to hear a faint cry inside. He entered and found the baby, dying from hunger.

It was taken at once to the hospital but its life could not be saved.

SEEK EVIDENCE IN INDIANAPOLIS

Appeal for Articles Needed in McNamara Trial.

LETTERS, CHECK BOOKS

Marion County Court Will Decide On Thursday Whether to Give Up Important "Goods."

Indianapolis, Oct. 3.—A petition asking that Judge Joseph T. Markey, of the criminal court, grant permission to the State of California to transfer to Los Angeles County, Cal., the books, papers, dynamite and clocks confiscated in Indianapolis after the arrest of John J. McNamara, April 22, was filed today in criminal court. The petitioner is Capt. John D. Fredericks, district attorney of Los Angeles County. He was represented by Ferdinand Winter, attorney.

Will Decide Thursday.

Judge Markey will hold a hearing on the petition Thursday morning. Judge Markey ordered that all of the evidences held by Marion County be kept under guard. Prosecutor Frank P. Baker had intended returning part of the books and papers which were taken from the office of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers to the association this afternoon, but he agreed with the court to hold everything until the disposition of the petition. The things Mr. Baker had planned to return to the Ironworkers' Association included nothing relating to the dynamiting cases. The order of the court will also prevent Prosecutor Baker or Superintendent of Police Hyland from taking, before Thursday, any of the evidence to California, where they have been summoned to appear as witnesses in the McNamara trial. The subpoenas ordered Baker and Hyland to bring with them the evidence they possessed.

The petition sets forth that John J. McNamara and James B. McNamara are under indictment for murder in Los Angeles County, and that their trial has been set for Oct. 11. The petitioner avers that the crime which the McNamaras are charged with was accomplished by means of nitro-glycerine, dynamite and other explosives attached to clocks, and that some of this material is in possession of the Marion County officials.

Letters Are Wanted.

It is also pointed out that in this evidence there are important admissions in letters that tend to connect John J. McNamara as a conspirator in the dynamiting outrages. The petitioner specifically names the articles which he says are held as evidence against John J. McNamara. Sticks of dynamite, boxes containing fuses, fourteen time clocks, check books, ledgers and correspondence of John J. McNamara are named in the petition. The dynamite which was found on the farm of D. Jones, was of Indianapolis, is named as part of the evidence wanted.

Mr. Winter said the court was not obliged to grant the petition. He said it would be an act of courtesy on the part of Judge Markey to permit the evidence to be transferred to Los Angeles. He suggested that somebody be appointed to take charge of the desired evidence, and that he be held responsible for its return to Marion if the petition were granted. He said the State of California would bear the expense of transferring the material to Los Angeles. The attorney for the McNamaras was present and said the removal of the evidence to California would be opposed.

FIREMAN KILLED IN FIRE STATION BLAZE

Member of the Quebec Brigade Buried in Debris.

Quebec, Oct. 3. — Buried in the debris, the body of Fireman Labarre, of No. 4 station, was taken out by his comrades tonight at 10:30 from the ruins of No. 5 fire station, which was utterly wrecked by a fire which broke out shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. The blaze was attended with a number of sensational incidents, the fire spreading so rapidly that the occupants in the upper stories were cut off by the blaze. Mrs. Savard, the widow of the late Fireman Savard, had to jump from the third story and sustained injuries which may prove fatal, and Mrs. Lemelin and Messrs. Louis Lanouete and Telesphore Savard, who also jumped, were more or less seriously injured.

While the firemen were at work the floors suddenly collapsed and four men were hurled into the cellar. All managed to escape excepting Labarre, who was pinned under a heavy beam.

Mrs. Savard was caught in the rungs of the ladder, and remained suspended head downward struggling for some time in the midst of the flames which were bursting out of the windows.

GREAT GATHERING OF METHODISTS

Fourth Ecumenical Conference Opens at Toronto.

A WORLD-WIDE POLICY

Hundreds of Delegates From All Parts of Civilized World.

Toronto, Oct. 4.—With the throng of several hundred prominent churchmen who advanced upon Toronto yesterday, coming from every quarter of the United States, Great Britain, the Empire, and Europe, this city has suddenly been brought into the eyes of the whole world as the host of one of the most cosmopolitan assemblages ever gathered together in any one place; and Toronto will continue to hold the attention of all the Protestant nations for the next two weeks or while the fourth decennial Ecumenical Conference of the Methodist Churches is holding its sessions twice and thrice daily in the Metropolitan Church, Queen and Bond streets. Three such conferences have taken place before—in London, 1881; in Washington, 1891; and again in London, in 1901—but in none has the interest been keener or more widespread than in the present, the attendance larger, or the topics to be debated of greater moment to the church. Thus Toronto can feel royally honored that she has been selected on this occasion. And Toronto has risen to her responsibilities for the entertaining of her five hundred distinguished visitors, the local organizations having provided hospitable accommodation in the homes of many citizens, at the hotels, and at a number of lodgings located in the most interesting parts of the city. The public functions to be held in honor of the visitors include a civic reception, a gubernatorial reception, and a long list of dinners, luncheons and meetings, large and small.

Some Notable Visitors.

Some of the notable names in the list of delegates, taken at random, are: Mr. J. A. M. Aitkens, M. P., London, Eng.; Rev. J. A. Bray, president of Miles Memorial College, Alabama; Rev. J. M. Buckley, editor of the Christian Advocate, New York; Bishop William Burt, of Zurich, Switzerland; Bishop W. A. Candler, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Georgia; Rev. James Chapman, principal of Southlands Wesleyan College, London, England; Bishop G. W. Clinton, of the A. M. E. Zion Church, North Carolina; Bishop L. J. Coppin, of the African M. E. Church, Pennsylvania; Bishop Earl Cranston, of the M. E. Church, Washington, D. C.; Rev. Edwin Dalton.

Two Sessions Today.

There will only be two sessions of the conference today. At 10 o'clock in the morning the conference, with a devotional service, Rev. Dr. Carman, general superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, presiding. The conference sermon will be preached by Rev. Henry Haigh, president of the Wesleyan Methodist Conference in England, who is not unfamiliar to Canadian Methodists. Following the sermon the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed, in which the following will take part: Bishop J. M. Walden, D.D., Bishop A. W. Wilson, D.D., Bishop B. F. Lee, D.D., Rev. Henry Haigh, Rev. Edwin Dalton, and Rev. George Packer.

The business of the afternoon session, after the election of officers and nomination of a business committee, will be devoted to a general reception to the delegates. The evening session will be abandoned in order that the delegates who have journeyed from distant points may rest.

Runciman Not Coming.

Right Hon. Walter Runciman, minister of education in the British cabinet, who was expected to be present and take part in the discussion of "International Relations and Responsibilities," will not be able to come. It is learned with regret that he finds himself too much pressed with business to spare the time for the trip.

HICKSON WEDDING.

Hickson, Oct. 3.—Miss H. Fern MacKay, niece of Rev. Dr. R. P. MacKay, moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, was married today at her brother's home here, to Rev. W. R. Taylor, Ph.D., professor in Westminster Hall, the Presbyterian College at Vancouver.

WOOD, PULP AND "FAVORED NATION" CLAUSE

U. S. Customs Brings Up the Question of Free Entry.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The question of admitting wood pulp and paper into the United States from all countries free of duty under the "most-favored-nation" clause of commercial treaties as a result of the only operative section of the Canadian reciprocity agreement was officially raised in the treasury department today.

The surveyor of customs at Atlanta, Ga., asked the department whether Swedish wrapping paper was entitled to free entry in consideration of "most-favored-nation" treatment. It was not clear whether a shipment of such paper had been received. With the importer claiming equal privileges with the citizens of Canada, the surveyor was asked for additional information.

Under section 2 of the act of Congress, embodying the Canadian reciprocity agreement, wood pulp, news print paper and "other paper" come into this country from Canada free in all cases where there is no restriction upon the exportation of these articles. This was the only section of the act not conditional upon tariff legislation by Canada. It went into effect immediately upon the passage of the law.

The point raised is a new one from officials of this Government. The United States has always maintained that third parties could not claim "most-favored-nation" treatment under the reciprocity agreement, as these are in the nature of bargains. Canada's rejection of the agreement, however, eliminates the consideration of reciprocity in the point raised.

THE CAMORRA TRIAL

Witness Says Vitozzi Was One of the Worst Members of Band.

[Canadian Press.]

Viterbo, Italy, Oct. 3.—The priest Votozzi, who is one of the defendants in the Camorra trial, was again attacked today. A priest named Fusco, one of the chaplains of the Naples Cemetery, and in this capacity associated with Vitozzi, testified that the latter was one of the worst characters in the Camorra. The defendant, he said, always insisted upon having the lion's share of the cemetery fees, and in order to obtain it was in the habit of threatening the other priests.

Another witness, Malataro, swore that De Angelis and Amedeo, two of the prisoners, had confessed to having murdered Cennaro Cuccolo and the latter's wife. It is charged by the crown that the real assassins of the Cuccolos conspired to cover their own guilt by making it appear that De Angelis and Amedeo committed the murders.

In reply today those two men called the attention of the jury to the fact that Galaro was the secretary of the company which publishes a newspaper edited by Attorney Lloy of the defence. It was obvious, they said, that Lloy had suggested this testimony against them to the witness.

NEW SCHOOL FOR OWEN SOUND.

Owen Sound, Oct. 3.—A fine new school, to cost $10,000, will be built at the corner of Seventh avenue and Fifteenth street as a result of the council's action at a meeting held tonight. The new school will do a great deal to relieve present congestion.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

PRICES ARE STEADY ON LONDON MARKET

Old Oats Are Very Scarce—Hay Not Quite So Active—The Quotations

Prices are fairly steady on the local market. New oats vary in price from $1 20 to $1 30 per cwt, with $1 25 as the ruling price. Old oats are very scarce, but sell at $1 35 per cwt.

Hay is not quite so brisk. The price ranges all the way from $13 to $15 50 per ton.

Potatoes are selling at 90 cents to $1 per bag. Vegetable prices generally are good.

Slightly greater activity seems to be dominant on the fruit market. Grapes sold today at 30 and 25 cents per basket, or an advance of 5 cents a basket. First-class peaches sold at from 60 to 80 cents for small baskets. Quinces were offered in considerable quantities at 50 cents per basket.

Other market prices remain unchanged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Wall street, noon —The movement of stocks throughout the morning session was without significance, as it demonstrated the lack of demand at the present level of prices. The covering movement having ceased, the market sagged of its own weight. Reports that the foreign political situation was assuming a more serious aspect and suspension of property increased freight rates on eastern roads affected the market adversely. Prices improved in the second hour, and the rally increased in force when it became evident that the supply of stocks pressing on the market was exhausted for the time being. St. Paul recovered 1¼ and Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel a substantial fraction. The Canadian group and the Hill stocks showed conspicuous strength, Canadian Pacific selling 2 points above last night and Northern Pacific 1. Bonds were slightly irregular.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Money was in better supply today. Discount rates were easy, despite large gold exports. The stock market was irregular. Profit-taking caused losses in home rails and Paris specialties declined, but consols and gilt-edged securities held steady on the monetary ease. Turkish bonds gained another point, and Mexican rails closed strong. American securities opened steady and a fraction higher, and during the forenoon prices advanced under the lead of Canadian Pacific. In the afternoon the market developed pronounced weakness on Wall street, and continental selling and values closed at the lowest point of the day.

Boys Doing Well.

Inspector Sanders was in Toronto Tuesday conveying a boy to the Mimico Industrial Home. While there he saw several London boys in the institution, and reports that all are doing well.

Domestic Science.

The domestic science centres at Victoria and other schools in the city have been practically completed, and will be in operation next week. The congestion at Empress Avenue School has been temporarily relieved. The school room of St. George's Church has been leased until other arrangements can be made.

Cost of the Assizes.

County Treasurer McEvoy today paid off the jurors and constables who officiated at the fall assizes, which closed this morning. The grand jurors drew $188 66, the petit jurors $310 49, and the constables $127 40; a total of $626 55.

Old Boys Tonight.

The final meeting of the London Old Boys' Association will be held in the city hall tonight to wind up the business of the reunion. It was erroneously stated that the meeting was to have been held last night. The financial statement will be presented tonight.

Prebble—Hamilton.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday at the residence of Mr. J. R. Hamilton, Orchard street, when his daughter, Miss Nellie May, was united in marriage to Mr. Stephen Reginald Prebble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prebble, of 996 Waterloo street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Nixon, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, West London, the bride being assisted by Miss Pearl Prebble, and the groom by Mr. A. Barnes. Mr. and Mrs. Prebble were the recipients of many excellent gifts.

Teachers' Convention.

The annual convention of the London Teachers' Association will be held in the Normal School on Oct. 13-14. The principal speaker will be Prof. Calkins, of the State Normal School, Bount Pleasant, Mich. He was one of the speakers at the summer school held in connection with Columbia University, New York, and is said to be one of the best educationists in the United States. A number of local teachers will take part in the programme.

Personal Mention

Mr. Ralph Barkwell, of St. Thomas, is coming to London to reside.

Ex-Mayor William Cousins and family, of Medicine Hat, are visiting in the city.

Miss Crockett, of Richmond street north, is visiting friends in Chatham, Coatsworth and Detroit.

Mrs. Tierman and Miss Tierman, of this city, are guests of Mrs. C. Keller, William street, Chatham.

Rev. G. H. Irving, of Orosi, California, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. John Castro, of Dundas street west.

Mr. Audrey Shannon, of the mechanical department of the London Advertiser, left yesterday for Ottawa, where he has accepted a situation with the Evening Journal.

Henri Piccotti, of the local Italian colony, left today for Montreal to take the steamer for Italy. He expresses his eagerness to get into the fray as soon as possible.

CALGARY SECURES WESTERN SHOPS

Prairie Cities Fought Hard to Secure C. P. R. Buildings.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Oct. 4.—At the annual meeting of the C. P. R. board of directors this morning it was decided to place the new western shops at Calgary, Alberta. This marks the end of a long fight by a number of western cities.

It was also decided to place $800,000 to the steamship account, to be used in bettering existing service.

CHESLEY AVE. SCHOOL WON THE PRIZE

Trip of Inspection of School Gardens Today.

Hon. Adam Beck, W. W. Gammage, secretary of the Horticultural Society, and other members, inspected the school gardens throughout the city Tuesday afternoon, and were delighted with the progress made during the past year or two.

At Chesley avenue the individual gardens were much admired. This school won the prize offered by the society, and the children were highly commended for their good work.

The gardens at Simcoe Street, Rectory and others, were also inspected. The hedges planted last year at Rectory, Simcoe, Lorne Avenue and Princess Avenue have been doing well, and add much to the attractiveness of the grounds.

HOLDS CITY LIABLE

Hamilton Merchant Says Corporation Permitted Erection of Tank.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Oct. 4.—Things are shaping up for a big legal battle over the wreck yesterday caused by the collapse of the water tank of the George A. Bristol building. John E. Brown, who suffered the heaviest loss as a result of the big tank, with a hundred gallons of water, tearing a hole through the rear of his place forty feet square from the roof, and through each of the floors as it dropped, declared today that the city in consenting to the erection of the tank became liable.

He told Mayor Lees if the city had large enough mains there would be no need of the tanks. The building inspector notified the Bristol Company last year to replace the wooden supports with steel. This was not done.

Three hundred girls worked in the Coppley, Boyes & Randall building, just separated from the tank by a narrow alley. Fortunately the tank fell in the other direction, or there would have been heavy loss of life.

PREPARING FOR THE DUKE.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Extensive preparations were begun today on the decorations to be used in the welcome to H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught on Oct. 14. A great stand is being constructed on Parliament Hill, where the address of welcome will be presented. The city is spending $5,000 on ornamental arches and other decorations.

RUSSELL FEARED LIFE WAS SOUGHT

Montrealer, Suing Pinkertons, Thought Men On Street Sought to Kill Him.

ASKED FOR REVOLVER

Detective Placed at Service Because of Fear That He Was Followed.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Oct. 4.—Evidence was given today for the defence in the David Russell action against the Pinkerton Detective Agency for $250,000 damages, denying that there had been any conspiracy, either by the agency or their Montreal superintendent, Mr. MacNamara.

Mr. Silas H. Carpenter was the chief witness, and he stated that he had made investigation on behalf of the plaintiff, both at Pittsburg and Montreal, relative to his expressed fear that Patterson had attempted to play the "badger game" upon him.

So far as witness ascertained, the matter had been explained satisfactorily to Mr. Russell, who shook hands with Patterson, and witness believed that had ended the matter. Certainly there had not been any conspiracy, and as to the fears that Mr. Russell's life was in danger, that was all on the plaintiff's side.

Gave Him Revolver.

As he persisted in these fears, however, witness lent him his own revolver and assigned Defective Gorman to watch his office at the Windsor Hotel. He stated he had important papers there concerning a case of his, and he expressed a belief that an attempt would be made to take the papers away.

Mr. J. N. Greenshields was called and questioned about the case. He stated that there was no truth whatever in any assertion that the land case he had with the plaintiff could be settled out of consideration for the discontinuance of any case which Mr. Russell might have against other people.

"I know absolutely nothing about that case," said Mr. Greenshields. "There is no reason why I should cross the road either for or against Mr. Russell in relation to any matter."

Not Worth Fifteen Cents.

As for his land case with Mr. Russell, in which the latter claims $1,250,000, Mr Greenshields said he did not consider it was worth fifteen cents.

Detective Gorman gave evidence of having watched the office of Mr. Russell at the Windsor Hotel against the attempts at robbery which plaintiff seemed certain would be made, but he said no interference was attempted. Mr. Russell complained that he was being shadowed, and so witness kept a sharp look-out for alleged followers, but none ever appeared. Russell, however, maintained his certainty about them, and one Sunday he was so suspicious of a man who was loitering opposite the hotel that he insisted on Gorman going out to him.

The detective therefore kept the young man under observation, only to discover that he was waiting for two young ladies to come from service at St. James' Cathedral. Asked if one of the two was the woman who was suspected by Russell of attempting to play the "badger game" upon him, Gorman replied that he had not then seen the woman in question, but from what he had heard she was hardly likely to be an attendant at church.

DAUGHTER IS DEAD MOTHER IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Bedggood in Ignorance of Fact That Daughter Has Passed Away.

The death of Miss Lily May Bedggood occurred Tuesday evening at Victoria Hospital after a brief illness with typhoid fever. The deceased was in her 19th year, and was the only child of John and Eliza Bedggood, 210 Horton street.

A sad feature in connection with the death of the deceased is the fact that her mother was taken to Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon suffering from the same disease, and has not yet been informed of her daughter's death.

The late Miss Bedggood was a member of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, and took an active interest in church work. She was a particularly sweet singer, and was a member of the choir. At one time she was soloist in the Christian Church, on the corner of Dundas and Elizabeth streets.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from her late residence, 210 Horton street, to the Wellington Street Methodist Church, where services will be conducted by Rev. H. A. Graham at 3 o'clock. Interment will take place in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

CHINA WILL PLAY IMPORTANT PART

Dr. W. T. Clark, a Returning Missionary, Speaks of the Far East.

BUILDING RAILWAYS NOW

The Putting Down of the Opium Traffic—China Is Losing Much Money Thereby.

Dr. W. T. Clark, a medical missionary of the China Inland Mission, who spent ten years at Talifu, in the province of Yunnan, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McDermid, of 583 William street.

Dr. Clark, formerly resided in this city, and returned to America last February on a furlough. He will return to China early in 1912. He is firmly convinced that China is in the future to play a very important part in the world's destinies and affairs.

"People in this country," said Dr. Clark to The Advertiser, "derive an entirely erroneous conception of the Chinese people from those of their compatriots who conduct Chinese laundries in America. From these no idea can be gathered of the student and better classes of the race.

Not Like Indians.

"The province of Yunnan borders upon Burmah, where the nearest neighboring station of the China Inland Mission is located, a distance of 33 days' travel. The Chinese are entirely different from the people of India.

"We do not find in them the slightest trace of the servility which the Indians have developed under British rule. The Chinese are peculiarly sturdy, independent and self-reliant. Practically all the trouble in Sz Chuan has come about through the aversion of the Chinese people to borrowing foreign money to build the railroads which they so much need. They fear that in this way the foreigners will increase their power and influence within the empire. So far there has not been any important outbreak in Yunnan. It is a province of 12,000,000 people. The missionary societies at work here are the United Methodist Mission and the China Inland.

Building Railways.

"A railway recently constructed from Pekin to Hankow has decreased a journey of 40 days to one of 36 hours. A new railway is now being built from Hankow to connect with Canton, and another from Chentu to Shanghai. The two lines will intersect."

Dr. Clark regards as one evidence of China's awakening the heroic attitude and measures she has assumed in the restriction of the opium trade. China knows she has not been treated rightly by the European powers, and her enforced participation in the opium trade is one of her chief grievances. For years the Chinese Government has done all in its power to put an end to the opium traffic, which hal all along found a powerful ally in the British Government.

The Opium Traffic.

The latter, however, has agreed that if the Chinese have by 1917 entirely ceased the cultivation of the poppy throughout the Chinese Empire, that it will stop shipping opium into China from India. The attitude taken by the British Government, according to Dr. Clark, has been one of disbelief in the power of China to put the poppy plant out of cultivation in her own domains. The British took it for granted that there was little likelihood of the Chinese being able to meet the conditions agreed to. But the Chinese have made an almost superhuman effort, and when Dr. Clark left China last December, although the poppy fields should have been well advanced, in two weeks' travel he failed to see a single poppy plant.

In 1901 when he entered the country poppy fields were to be seen on every hand. In putting an end to the opium traffic, the Chinese Government is voluntarily giving up a revenue of over $34,000,000, which is a greater amount than the foreign loans she is borrowing to build her railroads.

In every way China is making rapid progress. In Talifu when Dr. Clark left there were 2,000 foreign drilled soldiers and a barracks costing $80,000 in gold. A few years ago the town was without a garrison.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Robert Bartlett died this morning at the residence of Mrs. Robert Parsons, 825 Dundas street. The deceased was 70 years of age. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Parsons.

The funeral of James McIntyre was held this afternoon from his late residence, 513 King street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Services were conducted at the house at 2 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Ross, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

GREYS AT MONTREAL.

Tomorrow at noon Earl Grey will unveil the monument to the late Hon. John Young, and in the evening attend a banquet given him by the citizens of Montreal.

Earl Grey, Countess Grey and Ladies Sybil and Evelyn Grey will sail for England Oct. 13. Passage was booked for the vice-regal party today on board the Allan liner Victorian, sailing from Montreal to Liverpool on Friday, Oct. 13.

SHIP "PANHANDLES" WHEN FAR AT SEA

Holy Ghosters' Yacht Holds Up the Lapland for Food.

ON WAY FROM AFRICA

They Started for Greenland, but Decided to Try Portland.

New York, Oct. 3.—The schooner-yacht Coronet, which 24 years ago beat Caldwell H. Colt's schooner-yacht Dauntless in a race from Sandy Hook to Queenstown, halted the Red Star liner Lapland when she was 925 miles east of Sandy Hook on Wednesday afternoon with a string of interesting code signals that every skipper with a heart stops for. They read:

"Short of provisions and starving."

There was a heavy but crestless sea on, relic of a southwesterly gale of the day before, and there was some risk in sending a boat to the schooner, which was hove to plunging in the swells. The skipper of the Coronet did not care about venturing to launch a boat of his own, and so a lifeboat of the liner was provisioned—very liberally provisioned—and sent to the starving.

The Lapland steamed about three ship lengths to windward of the Coronet and all the cabin passengers of the Lapland gathered at the rail to see the gallant men of the lifeboat, in command of Junior First Officer W. Haack, make the perilous trip. They drifted with the wind down to the yacht, and then came up on her lee.

One On Wooley.

Cornell Wooley, of this city, when he learned what the signals meant, had given the commander of the lifeboat two boxes of cigars for the hapless ship's company. Later when he learned that they were all members of the Holy Ghost and Us Society, he said he feared the joke was on him.

The Holy Ghosters were reticent even after receiving the gift of the liner, consisting in part of 300 pounds of beef, 60 pounds of sugar, 48 loaves of fresh bread, 24 cans of spinach, 25 pounds of American bacon, 75 cans of corned beef, 20 quarts of fresh cream, 12 pounds of cheese, 4 bags of potatoes, and 72 pounds of smoked mutton. They did say that their skipper's name was Knight, and that they had come from Africa, intending to call at Greenland, but changed their course to Portland, from which port the yacht hails.

It was recalled aboard the Lapland that the Coronet had acquired a habit of holding up steamships and getting fed. She herself had admitted getting provisions some time before from a French steamship. Some of the passengers remarked that the Coronet seemed to be the panhandler of the seas. The Lapland sent a wireless message to the Hamburg-American liner President Grant, astern and bound this way, that the Coronet had been properly provisioned by her, the Lapland, just to let the President Grant know that no more food was needed. There are 32 souls aboard the Coronet, including eight women and two children.

TROOPS CALLED OUT FOR STRIKE BATTLE

Strike-Breakers and the Illinois Central Men Clash On Street.

New Orleans, Oct. 3.—Illinois Central Railroad strikers and strike-breakers, the former reinforced by citizens, fought a pitched battle at McComb City, Miss., this afternoon, as a result of which many persons are known to be wounded, perhaps a dozen fatally, and it is believed several were killed outright.

Advices received here at a late hour tonight give varying accounts of the number of casualties, but the fight is known to have been desperate. The trouble followed clashes between strikebreakers and citizens in several other points in Mississippi.

As a result of the trouble in several portions of Mississippi, troops were ordered out by the governor, and conditions are serious. Martial law has been declared in McComb City.

"WELDY" YOUNG WEDS.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—A marriage of considerable interest took place here last night, the pricipals being W. C. ("Weldy") Young, of Cobalt, and Miss Iva Hilso Holland, daughter of Mr. Andrew Holland, of this city. "Weldy" Young is widely known throughout Canada as an ex-athlete, and now a prosperous mine owner in the silver country. He was at one time a member of the old Ottawa hockey team and was also prominent in football in the early days of the Rough Riders. He went to the Yukon when the gold rush was on there, and brought the Dawson hockey team down as challengers for the Stanley cup.

DECISION RESERVED.

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The case of Boehmer vs Zuber et al., for alleged entering into of premises, was heard before Mr. Justice Riddell today, and he decided to reserve his decision until Oct. 20.

The plaintiff claimed damages to the amount of $10,000 for alleged wrongful removal of furniture, papers, etc., from his office last summer, while absent from town. Frank Hodgins, K. C., appeared for the defendants, and W. M. Reade, K. C., Berlin, for plaintiff.

A Tree Afire.

A tree on fire was the unusual sight witnessed by the residents of Victor street last night. An electric wire passed through its branches, and the rain caused the current to ground, setting fire to the branches. It was extinguished by No. 3 company of the fire department with little damage.

Fogarty—Brock.

At St. Mary's R. C. Church on Monday morning, Miss Helen Mary Brock was united in marriage to William Joseph Fogarty. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Tobin. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. James Henry, the latter a sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Fogarty will reside at 422 Hill street, the residence of the bride's mother.

Music and Drama

Billie Burke.

"Billie" Burke, the famous little actress, who has the reputation now of drawing a salary which weekly reaches into the thousands, appeared at the Grand last night in her new vehicle, "The Runaway." The play is an adaptation from the French work of Paul Veber, Michael Morkin being the adaptor. It is a comedy in four acts, breezily French, light to frothiness for two acts, and settling down to something like problematical drama in the remaining two. There is nothing new about the plot unless it be the darling of the playwright in marrying a child of 18 to an artist of 50 who has seen about everything in Paris that was to be seen in his day. The play is brand-new on this side of the pond, and was simply "fired on the dog" in London and other cities before it goes into New York, which will be at once. Londoners appeared to like it, and if they are judges of theatrical offerings, "The Runaway" will be a success in the American metropolis. Perhaps Miss Burke will make a tremendous success of it, even if the critics of New York do apply the acid test.

The story is laid in France, at Pont Audemer, where Collette (Miss Burke) lives with her two aunts, who are anxious to marry her off. She is a precocious miss, headstrong, but lovable, and with some talent for painting. When she sees the youth her aunts have selected as her husband, she quits the house and runs away to Paris, to Maurice Delonay, an artist whom she has met, and who is chasing 50, but who has weathered the storm of years very well. She insists on putting up at Delonay's studio, and he, regarding her as a child, sees nothing wrong in the procedure. She studies painting, and one day he discovers that she loves him. He isn't able to analyze his real feelings in regard to Colette, until one day he catches a brother artist making love to her, and then he knows where he is at. They are married, and the audience is furnished with a happy conclusion, and a speculation as to how long the dream will last for Colette.

When "Billie" Burke wants the house to laugh, the house laughs. She is irresistible. Such a commonplace and threadbare joke as "Is my nose red?" drew roars of laughter, followed by enthusiastic handclapping. The actress is such a favorite, so winning, vivacious, and sprightly, that it makes no difference what she says or does. It's right, anyway. She has the people going. In her part of Colette she used up 90 per cent of the stage periods, and kept the crowd in the theatre till 11:20, but no one objected. Certainly, in the part of the little French girl, in love with the art master, she left nothing to be desired. If the playwright didn't build up novel and engaging situations, and did not provide her with epigrams which will live, she filled the void in every case, and came out with flying colors.

The support was excellent. Mr. C. Aubrey Smith, as the artist, proved himself a most capable actor. He has much to do and does it well. Mr. Henry Miller, jun., who appeared as Pierre Berton, showed his teeth all the while after the manner of the noted Mr. Carker, in "Dombey and Son." Such a display of incisors and molars will scarcely ever be repeated outside of a dental establishment. Despite this fact, as an actor he has nothing to be ashamed of. Mr. Edwin Nicander, as Alcide Pingo, made the best of the caricature. Mr. George Howell, as the inspector of police, was somewhat unlike Victor Hugo's Javert of "Les Miserables," from the fact that he did not commit suicide to avoid punishing the innocent, but failed to arrest Colette and send her back to her aunts, for fear she would end her life. In fact, there was not a weak spot in the cast, and play and company furnished an excellent evening's amusement.

Bailey and Austin Tonight.

Music that is bright and catchy, dances that appeal, elaborately staged scenes, a score of mystifying tricks and many novel and catchy effects, are said to characterize the big musical extravaganza "The Top O' the World," which, with Bailey and Austin (the original stars), and the original cast and production, comes to the Grand tonight. The book is by Mary Swan, lyrics by James O'Dea, and music by Anne Caldwell and Manuel Klein. A big company of the pretty girls grace the five scenes, and delightful and startling effects are distributed throughout all the situations. The play is in two acts and five scenes.

"The Little French Maid Company."

After all there is nothing in the realm of music so satisfying as the simplicity of the human voice when the art of the singer is perfect.

It takes a musical poet to understand a symphony, an overture or a concerto. But let a great artist—as great artistically as a symphony orchestra—let such an artist sing "Flower Song," from Carmen, "The Little Dustman" (Brahms), or "I Once Loved a Boy," and all the people, from the man in the street to the prince in the palace, will respond to its psychological force like the compass needle to the north pole.

It is said Elsie Lavedau, the prima donna with "The French Maid," can sing as above, but she is nearer to nature, and is liked best when she sings such beautiful songs as "All Alone," "Eden Must of Been in France," "I'm a Little French Maid," etc., in the musical comedy "The French Maid," at the Grand tomorrow.

"Baby Mine."

Seats for the engagement of the much-heralded London and New York success, "Baby Mine," will go on sale at the Grand tomorrow morning. The engagement here is for Saturday, matinee and night. Although "Baby Mine" is now in its second year at the Vaudeville Theatre, London, it is still playing there to capacity houses at every performance. It also has a record of one year in New York. It is impossible not to laugh at "Baby Mine," there is no getting away from it, people simply roar and shout. The play returned to Hamilton last Saturday at special request of the theatre patrons, although it had only shown there the previous week. Seats tomorrow.

Obliged to Quit Business

SO DREADFUL WAS THE SUFFERING FROM ITCHING PILES.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS OF PILE TORTURE RELIEF AND CURE CAME WITH

Dr. Chase's Ointment

You take no risk and you make no experiment when you use Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles. Many doctors still cling to the idea that nothing but an operation will effect a cure. But operations are expensive and dangerous, and often fail in their results. Some have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment after operations had failed.

Dr. Chase's Ointment truly has a wonderful record as a cure for piles and all itching skin diseases. Here is a case which was reported recently:

Mr. John P. Marshall, 14 Barnes road, St. Johns, Nfld., writes: "For upwards of twenty years I was troubled terribly with itching piles; at times so bad that I was obliged to lay up, unable to attend to business.

"I tried many treatments without benefit, until I accidentally read of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and found at last a cure by using this ointment. I only used one box and part of a second one when I was completely cured, and have had no return of the piles. That was eighteen months ago, and, needless to say, I attribute this cure to Dr. Chase's Invaluable Ointment."

Many sufferers from piles have tried so many scores of treatments that they cannot believe that cure is possible. In order to convince the skeptical, we are always willing to send a sample box free to anyone who incloses a two-cent stamp to pay postage.

STRIKE IN ASYLUMS

all around is shown by the fact that since the month of January last, no fewer than 72 attendants left the hospital for the insane on Queen street. In the month of July alone, 17 quit their jobs. Besides there are only about half a dozen nurses still left in the building, who have been there longer than six months, all the others having resigned.

Carpenters and skilled mechanics employed at the asylum do not appear to fare any too well either. Rarely it appears does their remuneration exceed $500 per annum, and many of these men are married and with families to support.

A committee of the Canadian Union of Asylum Attendants has prepared a letter and forwarded it to the Provincial Government, and this is reproduced:

A Striking Comparison.

To Sir James P. Whitney:

The attention of the Prime Minister of Ontario is respectfully directed to the action of the Toronto police commissioners, which shows that Toronto, along with other great cities, is desirous of giving reasonable remuneration to those who are engaged by them to do work which is not always of an agreeable nature.

Police constables, after a few years, may earn $1,000 a year, with attractive promotions to look forward to after that.

The attention of the Prime Minister of Ontario is also respectfully directed to the wretched payment doled out to the attendants in the asylums in Ontario.

They get $20 a month and other perquisites, which would make their pay worth $35 a month or $420 a year, and an attendant with 17 years' experience was only receiving $120 a year more than this!

Notice the Comparison.

A city policeman gets $1,000 a year, works eight hours a day and six days a week, after a few years' service.

An asylum attendant gets $450 a year, works 15 hours a day and seven days a week, after 17 years' service.

A comparison with the men engaged in the jails and prisons in the United States shows that jailers at least get double the remuneration that is paid by a wealthy province to its attendants. In the United States attendants start at $30 a month and run up to $60 or more a month. They then are eligible for higher positions in asylums; but no man living ever heard of an experienced asylum attendant in Ontario being translated into a higher position, although he might be far better qualified than the outsider, who is invariably given the vacant position by virtue of some "pull" or other, and when he is settled, his work is generally done for him by an attendant.

In the investigation recently held over the treatment of patients in the Pontiac State Hospital for asylums, Michigan, the medical superintendent, Dr. Christian, bemoaned the fact that although they paid their attendants salaries ranging from $27 to $60 a month, they could not always procure suitable male nurses. (See Detroit News of Sept. 17.)

Lowers the Standard.

What sort of male nurses do the Ontario superintendents procure for their $20 a month, rising after 17 years to $30 a month?

No wonder the asylums are full to overflowing and lunacy is increasing by leaps and bounds.

The men who have the principal care of your patients are paid wages on the sweating system basis of wages.

They have nothing to look forward to in the future in Canadian asylums, and consequently the best of them cross the boundary line and secure employment in the United States, where merit is rewarded, instead of being snubbed as in Ontario asylums.

Projectiles fired even from the heaviest guns when they penetrate concrete do so without splintering it.

England is the Shakespearean country, but would it be if its hamlets were left out?

"For An Advertising Medium We Consider the Electric Sign Absolutely Indispensable"

The Manager of a well-known hotel feels warranted in making this statement without reservation or qualification. He says further:

"We regard our Electric Sign as one of our very best investments because it places us before the public in a manner that we could not obtain otherwise, and at such a nominal cost that we could not afford to be without it."

This is convincing evidence, but hundreds of expressions like this may be secured from satisfied patrons of Electric Advertising.
