We Sell John Crossley & Sons' Tapestry, Brussels, Velvet and Axminster Carpets

We have been selling this line of Carpets for the past twenty-five years. They always give satisfaction.

The difference between cheap Carpets and John Crossley & Son's Carpets is three or four years' wear instead of ten or twelve—dissatisfaction instead of satisfaction. Does it pay? Will you buy our Carpets—good Carpets.

Regular $1.00 English Brussels Carpet Made and Laid on Your Floor at 83c a Yard

We bought this time from a Montreal jobber who wanted to unload, three thousand yards in all. This accounts for the great saving.

Regular 75c English Tapestry Carpet Made and Laid on Your Floor at 58c a Yard

A large range of elegant designs in this line, dark and light shades. They are well worth seeing. And other lines at reduced prices.

It will pay you to examine our Carpet and Curtain stock. Nothing equal to it in this part of Canada.

LATEST ENGLISH and NEW YORK EFFECTS

Once more our customers and others are to be shown the advantage of being in the New Method procession, or of getting in.

It's like this:—
The most popular Overcoat fabric the custom tailor will have this season is a rough faced, thirty ounce gray Overcoating, just announced by London fashion authorities as the latest and most correct thing for the season. It is certain to be much sought after by smart dressers. Custom tailors will ask and get extravagant prices for it.

Buyers in ready-to-wear clothes will wait until next season for it. As a rule, they needn't. We knew about this handsome and stylish line early. We have a supply of them in.

Raglan, Yoke and Box Back Styles

We think we have enough to take care of our customers and, may be, of other folks customers, too. We shall probably be the only merchants in Chatham to have it.

If you want any better let us know very promptly. We don't promise anything to those who wait.

PEOPLE DEALT DEATH-BLOW TO THE TAMMANY TIGER

Seth Low Elected Mayor in the Triumph of the Greater New York Fusion Ticket—Richard Croker, Tammany Boss, Says it is his Last Campaign and Abdicates.

New York, Nov. 5.—Seth Low, former president of Columbia University, and four years ago the Citizens' Union candidate for Mayor of Greater New York, was today elected the second Mayor of New York by a plurality ranging anywhere from 30,000 to 40,000 and defeating Edward M. Shepard, of Brooklyn, the Democratic nominee. The campaign was an exciting one, and the vote, though somewhat less than the Presidential election a year ago, was the largest ever polled in a municipal contest in this country. In addition to the canvass for Mayor public interest largely centred in the nomination by the Fusionists of William Travers Jerome for District Attorney, and Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck, by the Democrats, for Justice of the Supreme Court. Both the candidates for District Attorney and Justice of the Supreme Court were voted for only in the territory contained in New York county. Returns received up to 11 p. m. indicate that Jerome had been elected by a comfortable plurality and that Mayor Van Wyck had been defeated, the latter running behind his ticket from 15,000 to 20,000. Returns also indicate the complete triumph of the Greater New York Fusion ticket—Chas. Vincent Fornes, the nominee of the Citizens' Union, and the Republicans, defeating Geo. M. VanHornen, the Democratic nominee, for president of the board of aldermen. E. M. Grout, for the past four years Democratic president on the Borough of Brooklyn, now the Fusionist nominee for comptroller, has also been defeated by W. W. Ladd, jun., Dem.

WATCHING FOR RETURNS.
It is estimated that between 40,000 and 50,000 were massed in Broadway, between 22nd street and 38th street, to watch for the returns. According to the police and old residents of this city, the crowd was by far the greatest that ever congregated to watch for the returns of a local election. During the evening several hundred Columbia students appeared in the vicinity of 34th street and Broadway. They wore silk hats and carried Chinese lanterns on the ends of canes. They were jubilant that their former president had won and they celebrated the event by the blowing of horns and cheers for Mr. Low. They gave no trouble to the police.

MAYOR-ELECT LOW'S STATEMENT.
About 11 o'clock Mr. Low gave out a formal statement, in which he said:

"The outcome of this election is a splendid vindication of universal suffrage. From all parts of the city have come the votes that have rebuked the Tammany orgie of the last four years. All the patronage of the city and limousines have not availed against the aroused indignation of the people, and it is safe to say that absent government and government for private gain will not be seen again in New York city for many a day. This is no man's triumph, but it is the people's victory. The agencies that have brought it about are many. Those who labored so long and so patiently to bring about the successful fusion so loyally are entitled to the heartiest credit. For myself, I ask for the generous and constant support of the community in the great task to which it has summoned me, and I dedicate power that I have to its loyal service."

CONCEDE THE ELECTION.
Edward M. Shepard, at 10 o'clock tonight, publicly conceded the election of Seth Low, Fusion candidate for Mayor, by pluralities ranging anywhere from 30,000 to 55,000; Brooklyn Daily Eagle, the Evening and Morning World, the Evening Journal, the Tribune, the Times, the Herald and the Press.

Richard Croker, at 8:45 o'clock, conceded the election of Seth Low, Fusion candidate for Mayor, but Mr. Croker was not willing at that time to give up the county ticket. He said he was much disappointed at the Brooklyn vote, as he had expected Mr. Shepard to make a good showing there, it being his home borough. As to the causes for the defeat of the Democratic ticket, Mr. Croker said he was inclined to ascribe it to the large silent vote, and the fact that the people sometimes feel that they want a change.

The grand total on Mayor, 145 districts missing, for Greater New York is:—Low, Fusion, 268,318; Shepard, 239,914. 540 election districts of 887 in the county of New York show for District Attorney:—Jerome, Fusion, 108,881; Unger, Dem., 101,862.

CROKER ABDICATES.
Mr. Croker, Maurice Untermyer and Senator T. D. Sullivan were together at dinner during the night, and it is said on good authority that a little later Mr. Croker said this was his last political fight. Mr. Croker asked Senator Sullivan who he desired as leader. Senator Sullivan answered that John F. Carroll would be pleasing to him; then and there Richard Croker abdicated his leadership of Tammany Hall, and turned it over to John F. Carroll. The party proceeded to Tammany Hall, where John F. Carroll was waiting them. He was apprised of the purpose of Mr. Croker, but said nothing. He accompanied Mr. Croker to the Democratic Club in a cab, and going upstairs remained almost an hour closeted with him. It was after this conference that Mr. Croker announced:—"This is my last campaign."

ENGINEER TO CITY COUNCIL

Monopolizes the Business end of the Speaking Tube for a few Moments.

In Order to Explain Certain Matter Which Were Brought up at Recent Session of Aldermen.

"I'm mad this morning," said City Engineer McNab to The Planet. "If there is anything I hate, it is to be undeservedly called down. If I am wrong, I'll apologize, but if I am right they'll find me at the business end of the trumpet. Now here goes for a few toots—of the trumpet, of course. Now there's nothing to smile at in that!"

"I have nothing in my recollection of the episode in which Mr. Marshall figured as a corrector of my books. That system of bookkeeping which was used before I came here was so entirely out of the line of anything I had ever seen that for the first three or four weeks I did not understand exactly where I was at. If such was even the case, you can say that the Engineer wishes to give to Mr. Marshall, and anyone else from which he received assistance, all kinds of thanks."

"As to the matter which led to the controversy in the council re accounts, I might state that Alderman McCoig, et al, has just made the mistake of going up the ladder from the top. In all civic accounts in the Engineer's Department, where purchases of any kind of road or other material are dealt with, it is customary to put the bill in block, and separate each item on the final winding up of each separate account. So if Alderman McCoig will take the trouble and time to wait until I have put in separate items for each separate batch of local improvements since I came here, he will be able to ascertain the constant of earth and each other item quicker than — well, quick."

"The argument on the sidewalk is not really worth answering. The sidewalks are under the supervision of the contractor until they are in a condition to be used. The Engineer has ordered the contractor to scrape off the top of the sidewalk on Fifth street and put on new cement, which is being done."

"And further, I stated some time ago that my office is open at any time for the public to come in and examine my books. It is still open."

RETALIATION

Buller will Give Unvarnished History of Military Operations in South Africa.

Muschester, Eng., Nov. 5.—The retaliation of Buller against his persecutors which was predicted by the general's friends at the time of his dismissal from the command of Aldershot is, according to the Dispatch, about to take definite form. The paper says: "Buller has decided to give the unvarnished history of the military operations in South Africa from the Jameson raid onward. All the intrigues of the Rhodes set will be exposed and War Office bungling brought to light."

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 6.

YOUNG MEN IN POLITICS.

Chatham should have a Young Men's Conservative Association — so should Ridgeway. The two Kent constituencies should possess two live and energetic organizations of this kind with headquarters at the respective centres, but with a membership extending over the entire ridings.

Literary burlesquers and cartoonists have done much in a thoughtless way to bring the word "politics" into questionable repute, to make it a synonym for slippery statecraft, trickery and insincerity. But this is all wrong. Politics is a grand game, a game that is not all game, and it is played upon the field of true patriotism.

The field offers grand opportunities for young men and the zeal and enthusiasm, the sincerity and strength, the talents and vigor of youth can find no better scope for action nor incentive to development. It engenders a keen personal interest in the government of Province and Dominion and gives early education that must prove of inestimable value in later years. The boys of to-day will be Canada's statesmen to-morrow.

In the coming Provincial elections the Liberal-Conservative party will stand upon a platform of progress and prosperity. Their principles are principles of true patriotism and Provincial betterment. Ontario cannot afford to turn a deaf ear to the appeals for advancement, for reform, for the well of her people and the future of her magnificent territory, which are identified with the Liberal-Conservative cause.

And in Kent we can well stand a liberal seasoning of the impetuosity and enthusiasm of youth in the ranks. This The Planet would like to see brought about by the institution of two energetic associations, patronized and tempered by the influence of the many men of experience and sagacity who have often borne the brunt in the fighting line.

Why not utilize the coming winter in this way? Farmers, mechanics, merchants, and business and professional men, assist — nay, instigate — the organization for your sons. Let there be branches in every centre and let the big associations lend them every encouragement.

A winter spent in this way will be well spent. Results will be manifold and satisfactory when the ballots are counted in the spring.

A SANE VIEW.

Occasionally an American newspaper is found with honesty enough to speak the truth about Great Britain's conduct of the war against the Boers, and sufficient understanding of the situation to know that the conflict was forced upon her and was the culmination of a plot to overthrow her dominion in South Africa and establish in its stead a purely Dutch State, in which the British colonists were to be deprived of all the rights of citizenship.

The San Francisco News Letter, which is one of the most ably conducted critical reviews in the United States, thus hits off the situation: "The press is daily reviling the British for their non-success in capturing the fighting commandos. They are feeding 135,000 non-combatants, have 25,000 prisoners of war to care for, and have long lines of communication to protect, and have 150,000 soldiers doing it. Yet Lord Kitchener has just been compelled to requisition for more well-mounted men, and he will have to get them before he can finish his task. In this state of affairs a section of our press is trying to stir up President Roosevelt's Dutch blood to the point of intervening in behalf of the Boers. What a mess he would be in with the Philippines on his hands and liable to be attacked! Better keep our hands out of that business, seeing that we have a simi-

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

lar job on hand that is proving just as tough a one. England will people and civilize Africa from the Cape to Cairo, and it will be well for us and the world that she should be left alone to do it. What we shall make of the Philippines remains to be seen. No doubt in the end we shall accomplish whatever we undertake, but meanwhile we must stick to our knitting.

This is common-sense talk, and there is no doubt that it voices the opinion of the best class of Americans; for those who are clamoring for the President to intervene are only Americans in name and would not hesitate to sacrifice the best interests of their adopted country to gratify the barren hatreds which they or their fathers have carried with them from the Old World. To win their support many unscrupulous politicians and newspapers join in the cry against England, but it is ridiculous to suppose that their influence is powerful enough to override the better sense of the nation, even if President Roosevelt's Dutch blood inclined him to reach a helping hand to the Boers, which it does not. —Toronto News.

INHUMANITY ON THE BENCH.

There is a magistrate in Hamilton says the Toronto News, who, in an occurrence which took place in his court the other day has been correctly reported, cannot too soon be retired from an office where justice needs so frequently to be tempered with mercy as it does in a police court.

Meynell, The Up-to-date Clothier,
 King Street, 3 Doors West of Market

The incident as related by a local paper, is as follows:—An old man of 70 entered the court as it was closing and asked to be sent to the Central Prison for the winter, as he was unable to find employment anywhere. cause there he would be inside and warm and comfortable during the cold weather.

But apparently the gentleman on the bench did not believe in making pauperism comfortable, even though it appeared in the guise of three, score and ten years, and he suggested that the unfortunate applicant be set to breaking stones and cutting wood at the Barton street jail.

The old man demurred, and clung to his predilection for the comforts of the Central, and the magistrate, disgusted at such a depraved hankering after luxury, exclaimed that he was a lazy old fellow. Think of it, a lazy old fellow because at 70 years of age, he prefers to work sheltered from the severity of winter to breaking stones where there is no protection from the cold. We pity men of that age who do not have to work at all, for the mere infirmities of their years, and were we told or did we read that in any country it was the custom to set the destitute old men at the hardest kind of manual labor, we should consider the people of that country a barbarous race, very much on a level with the Indians who, when changing quarters, leave their sick and helpless ones to die of starvation.

But, though it is not generally known, there are many aged persons in the goals of this Province, breaking stones or doing other work of like kind, whose only crime is their inability to support themselves. There are many magistrates throughout the Province, it is said, whose only concern in dealing with such cases is to dispose of them so that the community may be put to the least expense. Magistrates should have humanity before everything else and men whose sympathies are petrified, instead of quickened, by their constant contact with the baser side of mankind have no business in such offices.

CON. 5, CHATHAM TOWNSHIP.

The weather has been excellent this fall for harvesting the crops.

This section has generally been able to boast of good crops, but owing to the drought this season crops average not so good.

Corn is about 2-3 of a crop. Beans was a large acreage, but a poor crop, only about 6 to 13 bushels per acre. Oats and barley good; wheat fairly good; potatoes a failure; but other root crops good.

General health is good, there being no fevers or other contagious complaints.

Building improvements are not so extensive as in some other parts. Wm. Weaver has built a barn this season and is now laying the foundation of his brick residence.

J. P. Powell has also built a cozy dwelling this season, which is nearing completion and which has received the priming coat. Mrs. C. Brown has also treated her house to a new coat of paint, which adds much to its appearance.

Rev. Morris, of the B. M. E. church, held his harvest home social on Monday of last week, which was a grand success, netting $25. Rev. Lindsey, of the Baptist church, 11th concession, holds his harvest social on the 4th inst.

Choir of the William St. Baptist Church Pays Tribute to Their Retiring Lady Director.

Mrs. Alice James, one of the best vocalists and choir leaders in the city, will leave in a few days for Winnipeg, Man., where she has accepted a position as choir leader in one of the leading Baptist churches.

Mrs. James has now been conductor of the William street Baptist church for about three years, and has succeeded, by perseverance and hard labor in raising the choir to such a degree of efficiency until it now holds a prominent place among the different choirs of the city.

Her loss will be keenly felt in the different musical circles in the city.

The members of the choir assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Oldershaw last evening and presented her with a beautifully worded address, accompanied by a gift mantle clock. John Reeve made the presentation.

The following is the address: To Mrs. Alice James, Chatham, Ontario.

Dear Mrs. James,—The members of the William street Baptist church choir, which you have directed with so much success for over two years, learn with regret of your intended departure from Chatham, and the consequent severance of your relations with us as leader.

We wish to assure you of our hearty appreciation of the faithful service you have rendered to the church and to us, in your beautiful gift of song and skilful training of the choir. We trust and pray that your future may be divinely led and blessed, your life happy, and your work successful. We ask your acceptance of the accompanying token of our esteem as remembrance of days "long since." On behalf of the choir,

Mrs. J. E. Oldershaw,
M. Side,
Jno. Reeve.

A Mother To Mothers.

"I am the mother of five children," writes Mrs. S. E. Rose, of Big Otter, West Va., "and have been as high as eight days in the doctor's hands, and never less than two days with any child until the last. Then I had used two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was only two hours in the hands of the doctor."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a woman's medicine. It cures diseases of the womanly organs. It is a wonderful medicine for mothers, making the baby's advent practically painless and giving abundant strength to nurse and nourish the child.

THE KING'S NEW TITLE.

London, Nov. 4.—King Edward, at a meeting of the Privy Council to-day, signed the proclamation giving him his new title, as follows: "Edward the Seventh, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Sea, King, Defender of the Faith, and Emperor of India."

DROWNED IN THE TUGELA.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—The following cable has been received at the Militia Department:—"Please inform Emily Howell, of 111 Jerome avenue, Westmount, Montreal, that Trooper Chas. Howell, Imperial Light Horse, was accidentally drowned in Tugela river on Oct. 17. (Signed) Casualty Department, Cape Town."

STOCK EXCHANGE SEATS.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Five of the ten newly created seats on the Montreal Stock Exchange were sold at auction this morning, only brokers being allowed to bid. The seats brought $64,330; $12,000 was the minimum price at which bids were received. The first seat sold to Charles Meredith & Co. for $13,100, and the other four were knocked to Rudolph Forget, one at $12,800, one at $12,850 and the other two at $12,750 each.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

London, Nov. 4.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says much as Russian statesmen would like to see friendlier relations with Great Britain, some time must elapse before mutual suspicion shall have sufficiently abated to allow of a frank understanding. Russians complain of the "perverse pleasure" of Great Britain in thwarting their plans, and they resent the manner in which the British Government seems always on the lookout for a continental sword to use against them. The first steps towards better relations, adds the correspondent, would be to restore a belief in the consistency of the British foreign policy and to abandon the traditional dog-in-the-manger policy toward Russia.

MELTING.

Philadelphia Press. "Mr. Gallant, you are something of a student of human nature," began Miss Develus, coyly. "Ah, but now," he interrupted, flashing his bold black eyes upon her, "I am a divinity student."

"THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT."

Yesterday's Toronto Globe says, concerning one of next week's attractions at the Grand:—"The House That Jack Built" was given its initial production in Toronto at the Grand Opera House last night, and proved to be a merry combination of fun and song. It is called a musical farce, and the terms fit it exactly. The author, George H. Broadhurst, also wrote "What Happened to Jones," "Why Smith Left Home," and other light comedy pieces. "The House That Jack Built" has very little architecture in the way of a plot, and the old model, mistaken identity, is responsible for the intricacies which are developed in the story. George H. Summers, who is an old Toronto boy, contributes a good deal of the mirth in his impersonation of Willie Slab, and the large audience gave him most enthusiastic greeting. Miss St. George Halsey, as Mrs. Doolley, a widow, gave a capital interpretation of the peculiar Irishwoman, and shared the honors with Mr. Summers. Hugh Cameron gave plenty of zest to the role of Sir Edward Singleton, and helped along the fun-making. C. F. Lorraine, as Dr. Jack; Lenore Lockwood, as Hester, his daughter; Mildred Keith as Florence Doolley, and May Ethel Courtney, as Lily Linton, a vaudeville artist, were the principal members of the supporting company. Songs by Messrs. Summers and Lorraine and Misses Halsey and Courtney formed the musical features of the performance, and proved very entertaining.

A play appealing to all classes of theatregoers is From Scotland Yard. This is a sensational melodrama built around the incidents in the life of a detective sergeant in the service of His Majesty's Government. The play abounds in sensational thrills and the audience is kept on the qui vive of excitement from the first rise of the curtain.

From Scotland Yard plays Chatham on Monday, Nov. 18th.

LOST HEAVILY

Did the Boers in the Recent Fight With Col. Benson's Column.

London, Nov. 5.—Lord Kitchener telegraphs the War Office that the troops in Col. Benson's command who were wounded in the fight near Bethel have been brought in to the Springs. He says that he has received no further details of the fight.

THE BOERS LOST HEAVILY.

Lord Kitchener, in a report to the war office, under date of November 4, giving further details of the recent engagement near Brakenlaagte, Eastern Transvaal, between Col. Benson's column, and the Boers, says:—

"The Boers were unable to remove the guns they captured until a British ambulance went out, when, under cover of the ambulance, the burghers carried them off. The Boer losses were undoubtedly heavy, but no correct estimate of them is obtainable. Commandant Opperman was killed and Chris. Botha was wounded. The Boers are reported to have behaved badly to the British wounded."

CLEARING OF BOERS.

Lord Kitchener further reports that Cape Colony, to the eastward of the western railway, is cleared of Boers with the exception of the Fouches-Meyburg-Wessels commando, of 400 men, with which General French is dealing.

ERRARE EST HUMANUM.

From the Bolton Enterprise.

Three fakirs arrived in town on Saturday and did good strokes of business. Hiram Scott of Albion also happened to be in town. Hiram wagered his $45 gold watch against the fakir's ten-dollar note that he could open a jackknife owned by one of the gang. Now this knife is a little particular who opens it. His new-found friends vamoosed. The result is that Hiram will have to ask a policeman when he wants to know the time. The other fakir bought some empty bottles, filled them with water and diamond dyes, got out on the street, and sang his little song until the bottles had been disposed of at twenty-five cents each. The fakir has departed, and twenty-five good citizens are taking a thorough course of treatment with beautifully colored pump water. Errare est humanum. You didn't think we were acquainted with Latin? You're right. We copied that from the back of the dictionary.

DOES KIP. CRIB!

PREFERS IT THAT WAY.

Montreal Star. It is sad to hear that the Portuguese frontier in West Africa has been violated by the Germans. But the Portuguese frontier has been violated so frequently of late years by the Boers that perhaps the Germans thought that the average Portuguese rather liked his frontier violated.

It is sometimes instructive to look back and see how Destiny gave us a kick here and Fate a shove there, that sent us in the right direction at the proper time.

WITH STANE AND BESOM

Chatham Curlers Preparing for Very a Busy Winter Season.

Are now in Search of a New Rink—Officers Elected Last Night.

The Maple City Curling Club have reorganized for the coming season and they have every expectation of as victorious a season as characterized last year. The following members were present: W. D. Sheldon, Geo. Taylor, Wm. Gordon, W. E. Merritt, A. C. Woodward, J. M. Pike, J. G. Kerr, John Waddell, J. C. Prichard, and A. L. Shambles. The officers elected for the coming season are all men of energy, which evidences the business principles on which the club is run. The necessity for having good officials is great, since the club have no home and the first question that they will have to deal with is the securing of a rink. Several sites were discussed last evening and all are good ones. The property next to the Montana House was considered, as was the lot next to the Salvation Army barracks, and the vacant lot on the corner of Queen and Richmond streets.

Financial Secretary Merritt reported that $100 had been paid on the note in the bank and all the club now owed was $65. This would cover all debts and pay the dues of the Ontario Curling Association. The club had paid $600 for the improvements to the drill shed and the Government had not re-imbursement the Curling Club.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Patrons—George Stephens, M. P. and T. L. Pardo, M. P. P.

President—W. D. Sheldon.

Vice-President—Wm. Gordon.

Secretary—Fraser—J. M. Pike.

Executive committee—W. E. Merritt, John Waddell, A. L. Shambles, G. G. Taylor and John McColl.

The Executive committee, with Robert Gray, G. P. Schofield, Dr. Bray and Will Hadley, were appointed a special committee to investigate the matter of securing a rink.

JACK'S BIG EARS

They are the Real Thing and Competing Farmers are Taking Second Place.

Ex-Ald. Liddy has yet to find anybody who can win his money by raising bigger corn than the ex-city legislator. A farmer living eight miles out in the country had a ten acre field of corn. He read in The Planet about ex-Ald. Liddy's $5 offer, and selecting the two biggest ears in the field, he brought them to town. Col. Sam Holmes says that the farmer was ashamed to open up the parcel when he saw the size of Ald. Liddy's ears. Of course that is Jack's ears, (ears of the farmer) and Col. Holmes says that the farmer's ears were pretty fair, but just infants alongside of ex-Ald. Liddy's. Ex-Alderman Liddy, it may be said, only brought down some 2 1/2 bushels, and his ears were too heavy for the ex-Ald. to carry.

Mr. Peterkin, of Mitchell's Bay, brought in half a dozen ears of corn which he thought would deal honest John a knock-out blow. They were very good, but didn't touch the mark. It is now the general belief that there is nothing left to do but to get Mr. Milner to bring down his donkeys. It is felt that they alone can furnish ears of sufficient size to do ex-Ald. Liddy.

ERNEST SETON-THOMPSON'S New Animal Book

THIS book is by far the most important work of the famous author-artist since his "Wild Animals I Have Known", fully equaling that most popular book, in character, solidity, illustration and general worth.

Lives of the Hunted

Being a true account of the doings of five Quadrepedes and three birds

By ERNEST SETON-THOMPSON 200 Illustrations

It is more richly illustrated than any previous book with Mr. Seton-Thompson's own inimitable drawings, of which there are more than two hundred. There are many full page drawings, and nearly every type page is ornamented with the delicate sketches characteristic of the author's latest work.

Do You Wear Glasses?

If not, do your eyes ever have any of the following symptoms of eye trouble:

A sense of drowsiness, heaviness of the lids, spasmodic twitching of the lid muscles, and if the eye strain has been of long duration, reflex nervous disturbances of great variety and not limited to the eye and frequently the eyes are not suspected of the trouble. The most common result of eye strain is headache, and it is probably safe to say that defective eyes are the most frequent cause of headache. Treatment will not remove these troubles, as we cannot change the shape of the eye, but we can by proper glasses remove these troubles and also correct any other required by glasses at

LAST CHANCE

Legue, who Neglects to Provide for his Family, is Given Opportunity to Reform on Quest of Ounces.

Jos. Legue appeared at the Police Court this morning to answer to the charge of non-support preferred by his wife. Through the mediation of his counsel, Geo. G. Martin, Mr. Legue was given another chance and was released on his promise to pay the rent of the house and to hand over $3 per week to Chief Young. This sum of the current coin of the realm is to be devoted to providing food for the woman whom at the altar Legue promised to love, cherish and feed.

The evidence showed that the man had been somewhat considerate to himself and had to some extent kept the wolf from the door. He acknowledged to Judge Houston that he had spent $1.20 on whiskey and 20 cents on tobacco each week, and had spent as much as 26 cents on food for the family. He had bought all of 16 cents worth of meat and eggs and 10 cents worth of bread. Judge Houston thought that such generosity was worthy of the Central Prison, but at the earnest solicitation of the counsel for defendant, Legue was given another chance. The neighbors testified that Mrs. Legue had burned the midnight oil sewing that she might obtain money with which to purchase the necessities of life for herself and child. Legue earns $7.50 per week when he works, and as the Judge considered that Legue could better provide for the needs of the family if he were where he could work, he decided to give him one more chance.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

AN EAST-SIDE LANCE

The Grand March a Very Serious Affair—Waltzers Resemble Horizontal Windmills—A Continuous Stag Reception at the Bar.

With the approach of cold weather and the closing of the Coney Island resorts east sidemore resorts to the giving of balls. Then in nearly every east side saloon the walls are decorated with placards announcing that the "Merry Moslems" or some other popular organization "will give their annual ball at So-and-so's hall on the night of —. Tickets admitting guest and lady, $1."

A ball on the east side is a serious affair, especially to the floor committee. It is their annual appearance in full evening dress, and the occasion is a grave, even a trying, one. Besides, they have large and ornate badges of office to wear. At 10 o'clock in the evening the ball-room presents itself a wide, shiny space hedged with gaudy chairs, the balconies which look upon it dressed with green, paper sunbursts and flags, with probably a crayon portrait of the founder or patron of the association beaming its length from a bower of smiles. On a platform at one end is a cluster of music stands and perhaps a fat man or two tentatively extracting tones from a "cello" or French horn. In the rear of the chair rows on one side tables closely arranged extend into dimness, a patch of them in strong light form an alcove which incloses a bar without end. Glasses are being noisily stacked upon it.

Singly, by twos and in groups the guests of the ball arrive. A tall girl in dress too short before appears on the edge of the floor, gazes shyly around and then vanishes. Three youths in black "cutaway coats" and white satin cravats, with flat, wet hair, parade past the chairs. One of them pushes another abruptly against a pillar.

"What's the matter with you?" demands the victim querulously, and then the three set themselves at a table and make fun of a waiter. Girls of all ages in covets drift down the aisle behind the chairs. Their costumes are striking and collectively a discord in color. A stout woman puffs along toward a pair of curly youngsters and followed by dutiful daughters. She reaches one of the tables and there goes into camp, issuing rations of pretzels and a single glass of beer. A steady stream flows through the door and is dammed up at the edge of the floor, which appears to be forbidden ground. Slowly they trickle off in pairs down the sides of the room, and dots and dashes of people close up the chair line. Floor committees appear, all hurrying, with pale, anxious faces. A slow waltz starts, heard faintly at first, then loud and persuasive. A couple begin to twirl in a corner; two hearer spin into the center of the floor; others join them. Soon the room is twirling, and the ball is begun.

The waltz on the east side is unique. It consists mainly in spinning around just a spot, and progress is slow. Sometimes a curious lopsided change of spinning ground, and occasionally there appear a couple who can go all round the room in a succession of whirled. But this is not the orthodox way. The whole movement on the floor is rotary. There is no blending of motion, and the impression is that of a multitude of horizontal windmills all going at the same time.

When the waltz ceases, the dancers move in a solid mass toward the tables. Frothing beer glasses coat the bar, and there is a flying of white coated waiters. Two or three more dance tunes are played, and then begins a significant gathering of the committeemen at the end of the room. They are mingling with a group of women, gowned gorgeously in white and colors, while around them collects a watchful crowd. Gradually the group which is the center of attention forms into a huddled line of couples, and the man in the front rank looks back often. Then, with a crash the band launches into a march, the line steps out sedately, uncoupling from the crowd, and the "grand march" is on. This is a very serious ceremony and is performed with religious care to the conclusion of the last evolution.

When the march is over, there is sometimes a speech by the president of the association heard by a respectful rug, but ignored by the crowd, which is now jostling, running and swarming over the floor and about the tables. Girls gather and giggle by the pillars and are teased by the boys, who push about in noisy companies. Children race and sprawl. Stout mothers banked against the walls alternately laugh and fret over defiance of their authority. Everywhere is the waiter with dripping beer glasses ringed about his fists. In the barroom there is a continuous stag reception. A couple of stout politicians with flushed faces are holding a levee, and young men with political aspirations surround them, buy beer for them and listen respectfully to their utterances. Smoking is permitted everywhere, and by midnight the lights are mere luminous balls in the haze. The hall is still gayly going forward at 3 o'clock, but by 4 only a few couples are appearing on the floor, though many are still seated at the tables. The floor committee, with their badges folded away in their pockets and their shirt fronts soiled and broken, have stolen away at an hour becoming to their dignity. Some of the lights go out, and the waiters bring fresh rounds of beer reluctantly. The band has packed up its instruments and is now lined along the bar resting from its labors. A popular song is started, and the chorus is vigorous. A second song receives less ardent support. An uneasy youth attempts a cakewalk on the floor. Then a large man with a forbidding countenance orders all the lights out, and the ball is over.

Peter's Pence.
Offa, a Saxon prince, to secure the favor of the sovereign pontiff, engaged to pay a yearly tribute to the treasurer of the Vatican. In order to raise the promised sum Offa was forced to impose a tax of 1 penny on each household whose annual income was as much as 30 pence. This imposition being afterward levied on all England was commonly denominated as "Peter's pence." Hence the expression.

In Illinois wages not yet earned cannot be assigned. Courts hold that such assignment would be illegal and void.

THROWING THINGS AWAY.

How the Good Housewife Does Cling to Old Rubbish.

"Always before we move," said Mr. Billings, "we go through everything in the storeroom and call out and throw away the things that we don't want. If we never moved, I don't know but what finally we'd be buried under the accumulation of things which from time to time we save."

"We save tons of newspaper clippings alone, and we always have a pile of magazines containing articles that we want to read over again, but never do. We put away old clothes and don't know what not of things we've got through with that are of no earthly use to us, but that we hate to throw away. And how we do hang on to some of these things! Why, say, we've got boxes and trunks containing things that we've saved in that way that we've been lugging around for years, paying to have them moved, and giving up room for the storing of them, that we never look into at all. We couldn't tell what was in some of them without looking, but they are things we sort of hate to throw away, and so we keep lugging 'em around."

"I don't want to draw in melancholy thoughts these boxes got mixed in with I find myself wondering sometimes now, as I grow older, what will become of all this truck we save up in this way when we die. It will all be just lying there, and those who come after us will look at it and wonder what under the canopy we saved it for, and then they'll throw it away, which I tell Mrs. Billings we might just as well do now ourselves and get rid of it. There's nothing in the whole blessed storeroom that we might not with perfect safety throw right out without ever looking at it. Oh, of course, that is rather a sweeping assertion, but nevertheless it is substantially true that all that miscellaneous array of boxes and bundles there, of odds and ends of one sort and another, we might just as well throw away bodily, and we never'd miss 'em. We had a curious experience in this way last fall."

"Weeding things out, then, in the usual manner, we set out of the storeroom one day three big boxes of stuff to look over. But somehow these boxes got mixed in with the stuff that had been looked over and was ready to throw away, and away they went, never looked at, and we never discovered it till the next day. Then there was a time, Mrs. Billings, that I had to go right away and find out what dump the things collected on our block went to, and see if I couldn't get the boxes back. Our oldest daughter, Lucina, was sure the green box contained all of her very best patterns, and I don't remember now what other things of tremendous value those boxes did contain, but I saved the folks off somehow from day to day, and gradually they felt easier about it and in a week they forgot it."

"That was a year ago, and do you suppose we've missed anything? Why, not a thing. There wasn't anything in those boxes that we really wanted to use. If there had been, we would have kept on using it, but we hated to throw the stuff away."

"I tell Mrs. Billings, as I said before, that it would be perfectly safe to clear out the whole storeroom without looking at the stuff at all; just throw the whole thing right away; that we never store cash there, nor title deeds, nor anything of real value. But she says no; she'd rather look things over, and I suppose that some of these old things, anyhow, may have in old associations a value that will make us cling to them to the end."

The Jatter Bird.

Very weird, says Science Siftings, is the habit, only lately discovered, of a large and beautiful East Indian bird. Feeding mostly on the fruit of trees, it seldom descends to the ground, and its nest is in the hollow of a tree, high up. As soon as the female has laid her eggs, five or six, the male begins to fetch mud and therewith to wall up the opening of the nest, leaving an aperture large enough to admit the very large bill to pass. Most likely this is done to prevent the heavy and awkward doings from falling out of the nest to the ground far below. In several cases when the female was liberated after her long and close confinement she was found pitifully poor and weak, although the male was diligent in providing her and the young ones with food.

Insects That Use Rubber.

When Para rubber trees are tapped, after the gum has run into receptacles and stiffened, a species of large black ant is accustomed to cut out pieces of the rubber and carry them away. Bees also find use for India rubber, and some species in South America actually cut the bark of trees that produce resinous substances in order to cause a flow of the sap. The gum is employed by the bees as a ready made wax for their nests.

His Morning Mission.

"You always get up at 5 o'clock in the morning, do you?" said the inquisitive cousin. "Why do you do with yourself at that unearthly hour?" "Oh, I tinker around the house till breakfast time," replied Mr. Meeker. "What do you tinker at?" "Er—getting breakfast," said Mr. Meeker, with some reluctance.

Cold Settled on the Kidneys.

Deep-seated Kidney Disease Defied the Skill of Physicians—Great Sufferings From Lumbago and Backache.

Few people realize what a vast proportion of serious illnesses arise from cold settling on some delicate organ of the body. The kidneys and liver, as well as the lungs, are very easily affected by sudden changes of temperature, and the results are often suddenly fatal. There is scarcely a man who is subject to exposure to dampness and cold but will be interested in the following letter. It is a common experience with farmers, teamsters, railroad men and laborers to have a cold settle on the kidneys and throw these organs, as well as the whole digestive system, out of order. There is usually backache, pains in the sides and limbs, deposits in the urine, pain and scalding with urination and irregularity of the bowels.

Mr. Thomas A. Embree, general merchant, a highly respected citizen of Springhill, N.S., was completely laid up with kidney disease, lumbago and pains in the back. He was unable to attend to business, and his sufferings were only temporarily relieved by physicians. In the following letter he tells of his remarkable recovery brought about by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Embree writes:—"As the result of a severe cold settling on the kidneys I contracted kidney disease, which lingered for years, causing me much suffering from terrible pains in the back. For some time I was entirely unable to work, and though I tried several physicians I could only obtain slight temporary relief."

"Having heard of the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on many similar cases, I began to use them, and after using seven boxes was completely cured. The cure is due entirely to the use of this grand medicine, which has since cured several persons to whom I recommended them."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

So many thousands of cases of serious kidney disease have been cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills that they have come to be considered an absolute cure for all kidney derangements. They are purely vegetable in composition, prompt and pleasant in action, and thorough and far-reaching in their effects. They are endorsed by doctors, lawyers, ministers and others, and are beyond doubt the most efficacious treatment obtainable for diseases of the kidneys and liver. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Pickles of vinegar will not keep in a jar that has ever had any kind of grease kept in it.

Lamp chimneys may be quickly cleaned by rubbing them with a clean soft cloth and polishing with a piece of newspaper.

Cham shells are more convenient for scraping pots and kettles than a knife, requiring less time to remove the burned surfaces.

Half a lemon dipped in salt and rubbed on your ivory knife handles will restore them to their original whiteness. After doing this wash the knives at once in warm water.

To renew the pristine lightness of old feather pillows let them out in a summer rain until they are thoroughly wet. Then dry them by plumping them to a line and finish by beating them.

To avoid wrinkling bodices and jackets they should be hung on frames such as men use for their coats, winding the frames first with cloth or silk, upon which, if desired, orris or other sachet powder may be sprinkled.

Cut glass, real or imitation, should have the rough pattern brushed with a stiff brush in strong suds. If rubbed with a piece of flannel dipped in alcohol and then in whiting, its brilliancy is much enhanced. Let the whiting dry on the glass, then wash and rinse.

Preferred Apples to a College.

About a century or so ago, when the commissioners who had in charge the selection of Bowdoin college were attending to this duty, they pitched upon New Gloucester, Me., as combining more advantages than any other place they had visited, but the owner of the land refused to part with it if it was to be used as the site of a college, though willing enough to sell it if it was to be put to any other use.

The reason that he gave was that the students would steal the apples in an orchard in which he took great pride. So it seems that this is the reason why New Gloucester is noted for its apples rather than as being the seat of Bowdoin college.

Value Received.

"I suppose," said the man who had just been accosted by Meandering Mike, "that you think yourself perfectly justified in taking money from me without rendering an equivalent?" "Don't say that, mister," was the rejoinder. "Don't say I'd take it without an equivalent. If de hard luck story I've been tellin' you ain't fuller o' imagination an' graceful embellishments dan any of dem books you've paid 50 cents apiece for on de train, I'm ready to give up me chosen profession an' quit panhandling fur life."—Washington Star.

Where the Blame Lay.

"But this hat," said the woman who wanted to exchange it after wearing it home, "does not become me."

"It is a remarkably pretty hat," suggested the milliner.

"Oh, yes," admitted the patron; "taken by itself it is very pretty, but it is not becoming to me."

"In that case," insisted the milliner, "the hat is all right, and you are the one to blame."

His Wealth.

"Humph!" she whispered as he laid her head on his shoulder. "You know you get only $12 a week." But the audience did not hear this.

Mis Critics.

"What it takes to make a Paradise," some one has said, "depends upon the person who is going there."

There was once an artist who painted a picture of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. It was exhibited publicly. One day the painter, entering the hall, saw two men, who appeared to be farmers, standing before the picture.

"Now," said the artist to himself, "I can hear an unprejudiced opinion of my work."

He drew near, and listened to what the farmers were saying.

"Well, John," said one, "what do you think of it?"

"It's pretty good," said the other, "but there's one thing about it that strikes me as a little mite queer."

"What's that?"

"Why, he's got Eve with a Rhode Island green in her hand."

"Well, what of it?"

"Hum! Seeing that the first Rhode Island green was raised in this century, I don't quite see how they could have had them in Paradise!"

"No greenings!" exclaimed the other contemptuously; "how do you suppose they could have got along in the Garden of Eden without the Rhode Island greenings?"

Clearly Understood.

They seldom gave dinner parties, and what they gave were small. But they liked things done decently and in order, and generally had the best.

On the afternoon of one of the little parties the host summoned the boy in buttons and said to him: "Now, John, you must be very careful how you hand round the wine."

"Yes, sir."

"These bottles with the black seals are the best, and these with the red seals the inferior sherry. The best sherry is for after dinner, the inferior for sherry you will hand around with the hock after soup. You understand—hock and inferior sherry after soup?"

"Yes, sir, perfectly," responded the boy in buttons.

The evening came and with it the guests. Everything went on swimmingly till the boy went round the table asking of the guests, "Hock or inferior sherry?"—London Tid-Bits.

A Dentist's Queer Will.

A dentist died in a rural town in England recently, after spending over fifty years pulling the molars of his fellow citizens. He had made it a hobby to keep all the teeth which he had drawn in the course of his professional career, and took great pride in the collection. When his will was opened it was found that he had ordered his collection of teeth to be placed with him in his coffin for burial. His heirs fulfilled his command, and almost thirty thousand teeth were put into the coffin with the dead dentist. If some archaeologist of the future century shall happen to open that grave, he will have "food for thought," and some difficulty, perhaps, in explaining the presence of so many teeth.

Time for Thought.

A man is measured by his solitude. He who dies all moments of isolation is as conscious of guilt as he who avoids all companionship is palpably moribund. "Use sometimes," says George Herbert, "to be alone."

Artificial Asphalt.

One of the chemical papers reports an experiment by which an artificial asphalt was produced, which closely resembles the natural substance. Fresh herring and oily pine wood were distilled in an iron retort and the produce was condensed in a Liebig condenser. The experiment seems to confirm the theory that asphalt and petroleum are the products of a natural distillation, by which the remains of early forms of animal and vegetable life have been transformed in the heated crust of the earth.

scribe the best, and as I know and have proven that there is nothing in Materia Medica which equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female disorders, I unhesitatingly prescribe it, and have never yet been sorry, and I have the healing power, to look-up to for falling of the womb or ulcerations; it absolutely restores the affected parts to their normal condition quicker and better than anything else. I have known it to cure barrenness in women, who to-day are happy mothers of children, and while the medical profession looks down upon 'patents,' I have learned, instead, to look-up to the healing power, by whatever name it is known. If my fellow physicians dared tell the truth, hundreds of them would voice my sentiments."—Dr. W. W. WATKINS, of Lansing, Mich.

THE WATCHWORD OF WOMEN.

Modesty is woman's watchword. Whatever threatens her delicate sense of modesty, frightens her. For this reason many a woman permits diseases of the delicate womanly organs to become aggravated, because she cannot bring herself to submit to the ordeal of unpleasant questioning, offensive examinations, and obnoxious local treatments, which some physicians find necessary. Doubtless thousands of the women who have taken advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer of free consultation by letter, have been led to do so by the escape thus offered from a treatment so repugnant to modesty as any sick woman may write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., in perfect confidence, all letters being treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and all answers being sent in plain envelopes with no advertising or other printing upon them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been long hailed as a God-send to women. It makes weak women strong, and sick women well. Rules for Success in Life.

The following sixteen rules are kept printed on a card by a member of one of the oldest mercantile concerns in New York city, and, with other good literature and much fatherly advice, are handed to young men of his acquaintance from time to time and otherwise distributed where they will do good. It is safe to say that the success of the establishment referred to has been built up along the lines indicated by these rules. We recommend them to the attention of our readers:

1. Keep good company or none. Never be idle.

2. If your hands are not usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind.

3. Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets, if you have any.

4. When you speak to a person, look him in the face.

5. Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue.

6. Good character is above all things else.

7. Ever live (misfortunes excepted) within your income.

8. Make no haste to be rich, if you would prosper.

9. Never play at any game of chance.

10. Earn money before you spend it.

11. Never run into debt unless you see a way to get out again.

12. Never borrow if you can possibly avoid it.

13. Do not marry until you are able to support a wife.

14. Be just before you are generous.

15. Be temperate in all things.

16. Save when you are young to spend when you are old.

The Jeweler Was Well Caught.

"Will you please examine this diamond," said a man who stepped into a jeweler's shop, "and tell me what you think of it? If it is a good stone, I think I will buy it."

The jeweler took the gem, which was uncut, and looked at it critically for a moment. Then, in a confidential tone he said:

"Well to tell you the truth, that isn't a very good stone. It hasn't much fire; it is badly cut, and there is something here very much like a flaw."

"Then he held the diamond under a microscope and examined it carefully, finally observing: "No, it isn't exactly a flaw, but I shouldn't call it a perfect stone. Now if you want something really fine, I have here—"

"Excuse me," the other man interrupted; "I don't think I'll buy a diamond to-day. This is a diamond that one of your assistants let me take on Saturday on approval, and he has been forty dollars on it. Please let me have my money and we will declare the deal off."

His First Patient.

Some years before the Crimean war, in a Derbyshire village, a young girl might have been seen kneeling on the brick floor of a shepherd's cottage. She was bending over a great rough sheep dog, while a gentleman at her side was looking at the animal's paws, which had been badly hurt. The shepherd was going to drown poor Cap, the dog, thinking that he would never be of any more use, but the friend who examined him, said that it was not broken and only needed bathing in hot water.

The girl then lighted a fire, boiled some water, tore some fine flannel into strips and bathed the poor dog's leg. The next day she came and did the same thing again, and before long Cap was as well as ever.

The girl was Miss Florence Nightingale, and when she grew up she went to the Crimea and nursed the sick and wounded soldiers, who had no friend to care for them in that cold and dreary climate.

The Volcano—Vesuvius.

Signor Matteucci, who has been studying Vesuvius for many years, recently made a report on the activity of the volcano. From July, 1895, it kept constantly in action for more than four years, the flow of lava ceasing in September, 1899.

The depth of the crater was the lava rose to within 240 feet of the top, when a series of explosions within the centre began. Some blocks of lava were projected 1,800 feet perpendicularly into the air. One block weighed thirty tons, and Signor Matteucci estimated that it took 610,000 horse power to eject it.

Five hundred thousand cubic yards of lava and ashes were belched forth in April and May. The crater is thirty feet higher than before, so that Vesuvius rises now 4,300 feet above sea level.

Cream of Peanut Soup.

To make a cream of peanut soup put half a pint of peanut butter into a quart of milk; add half a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, a tablespoonful of grated onion, a bay leaf, a saltspoonful of celery seed, or a little chopped celery tops. Cook this in a double boiler for ten minutes. Moisten one tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little cold milk, add it to the hot milk, and stir until smooth and thick. Strain through a fine sieve, and serve with squares of toasted whole wheat bread. Nuts are sufficiently oily without adding butter. Any nut or mixture of nuts may be used in the same manner.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Consentation by Degrees.

It is well to be thankful for small mercies. Such is the opinion of a man from whose pocket was stolen a purse containing $25. Some months later he received this letter: "Dear Sir: I stole your money. Remorse nags my conscience, and I have sent you $5. When remorse nags again I'll send you some more."—Tit-Bits.

LIFE WORTH LIVING.

Why not have the free use of your arms and legs. Drive out the rheumatism and feel that life is worth living. Wm. Lee, gardener, No. 793 Princess street, Kingston, Ont., suffered for years with rheumatism in the shoulders and arms. Three bottles of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure made a new man of him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment, 50 cents, at druggists or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

Sympathy and sincerity are the sister keys to all hearts.

Deafness is Curable!

Sufferers from impaired hearing will be glad to know that their affliction is probably not due to any organic defect in the ear, but results probably from a thickening of the lining of the middle ear caused by catarrhal inflammation. Hundreds of perfect recoveries as a result of the inhalation of Catarrhose are reported, and on the highest authority we recommend this treatment to our readers. Catarrhose quickly restores lost hearing, and its efficiency is placed beyond dispute by the case of Mr. Foxall, of St. Thomas, who recovered perfect hearing by using Catarrhose, after years of deafness. Price $1. At Druggists or by mail, from Pulson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

MANY CITY TEACHERS SECURE INCREASE OF SALARY

Important Meeting of the Public School Board Last Night—Trustee Campbell Thinks Favoritism Has Been Shown.

"I don't like the way that things are railroaded through this board, and I won't support any motion which will raise the salary of one teacher and overlook another who is just as deserving of an increase."

These words were plainly spoken by Trustee Campbell during a heated discussion at a meeting of the Public School board last evening.

Mr. Morley brought in a motion to raise the salaries of all teachers who have been teaching over five years.

The scale was made out as follows: Misses Hillman, Coltart and Abram increase from $400 to $440.

Misses Gordon, Samson and Birch, increase $350 to $385.

Misses McPherson, and Irving, increase from $325 to $357.50.

Misses Longwell, Arnold and King, increase from $300 to $330.

The increase was made at 10 per cent and regulated by the grade in which the teacher is teaching.

The total amount of the increase is $380. Since the estimates for salaries were made out, the staff has dispensed with one teacher at $3.50 a year, and hence the rent of one room, $30, making a total of $380.

"This," said Mr. Morley, "is exactly the amount proposed to distribute among the teachers as a reward of faithful service and good work."

Miss Mounter and Miss Green, who have also been teaching over five years, were not included in the list as Miss Mounter is at present receiving the limit salary paid for teaching in the grade in which she is at present.

Miss Green, who is also receiving $400, and has been teaching over five years, the Board considered was being well paid.

Mr. Wilson seconded the motion.

Mr. Thomson—If you start a principle, carry it out. If you add 10 per cent to one of them add it to all.

Mr. Campbell—If you give to one give to all. Miss Mounter, Miss Green and Mr. Brackin should also be added to that list.

Mr. Morley—It does not include the principals.

Mr. Campbell—You talk about humiliating teachers! You are in a fair way towards humiliating some of them now. If you do not raise these other teachers you will make them feel that their work has not been appreciated.

Mr. Thomson—You ought to increase all along the line.

Mr. Morley—If Miss Mounter was teaching in a higher grade, she also would receive an increase.

Mr. Campbell moved an amendment that all teachers in the city, who have been teaching over five years, receive an increase of 10 per cent, but failed to get a second.

Mr. Thomson moved another amendment that the wages be met as a matter that the board meet as a committee next Tuesday night and talk the matter over.

Moved by Paxton and Robertson, that the matter be left over for a month.

Mr. Morley—It is too bad the matter cannot be settled to-night. There is no necessity for putting it off. I feel sure that if the matter was put first it would carry.

The amendment was then withdrawn, and then Mr. Campbell seconded Mr. Thomson's amendment, and spoke the words quoted at the beginning of this report.

The amendment was lost and Mr. Morley's original motion carried.

Mr. Wilson then brought up a matter of readjusting the teachers in the schools, putting one of the best teachers in the first book. In this way the salaries would have a correct beginning in school work, and the teacher would be able to dismiss her class at 3 o'clock and give the principal an opportunity to visit the different classes in the morning.

Inspector Park expressed his approval of the plan and it was accordingly left with the managers of the schools to arrange.

The chairman of the Board, Dr. R. V. Bray, and Mr. Robertson were appointed a committee for putting in lights of glass in the doors of the different rooms in the Central school, and two large windows in the stairs.

It was decided to engage an assistant for the McKeough school Kindergarten.

Moved by Morley and Campbell, that the present staff of teachers in the Central school be re-engaged for 1902 at the same salary—Carried. This motion included the Queen street school.

Mr. McCorvie made a similar motion for McKeough school, which was carried.

Any teacher who has taught one year after coming from the Normal will receive the usual increase.

SUPPLY COMMITTEE.

One offer from Mr. Drader for 25 or 40 cords of hard wood for the Queen street school at $4.25 a cord, and 200 cords of soft wood for the Central school and from 80 to 100 cords of soft wood for McKeough school at $3.25 a cord, was accepted.

MODEL SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Robertson reported—The committee recommended that the usual fee of $2 per student be set aside for school libraries.

2. That the amount not used of the said sum be granted to the several public schools of the city for scholars' library.

3. That all invoices of books purchased be sent to the secretary of the Board, who will attend to their payment.

The amounts distributed will be as follows: Received from 37 students, $2 each, $74.

Given to McKeough school $16, to the Central school $29, and to the Queen street school, $34.

The report was adopted.

The number of pupils enrolled for September, 1901, for October, 1901, increase, 30. Average for September, 1119, for October 1141, increase, 22.

The percentage of attendance is the same for both months—85. The percentage of attendance from McKeough school—90 per cent—is the highest from any school since I began to report. The principal failing off is in the junior divisions of Queen street school, due to the scarlet fever epidemic. The attendance there is maintained in the senior divisions, but reduced in the junior divisions. The percentage of attendance in the junior divisions of both McKeough and the Central have risen largely; the first from 77 to 86; the second from 81 to 86; while in Queen St. it fell from 73 to 65. It is remarkable that this outbreak did not have even greater effect.

I have the honor to be Gentlemen, Your obedient servant,

ROBERT PARK,

Public School Inspector.

Chatham.

BOYS'

Reefers and Overcoats

Tailoring for boys is an art by itself. It isn't just a pocket edition of men's tailoring.

An artist has to study anatomy before he can draw figure subjects acceptably; a tailor has to know much about boys before he can make clothes adapted to their needs.

No more fashion plate overcoats find a place in this stock for growing fellows. We make them if anything stronger than their fathers' coats. It's really an exceptional father that slides down the balusters or climbs telegraph poles in his overcoat. But the style of grown-up garments is worked in—the same upright boxy effects.

Frieze is a favorite reefer material for dozens of reasons—one being that its close tough texture keeps the wind out so well.

We have a line of black frieze reefers with storm collars, in sizes 22 to 32, at according to size.....$2.50, $2.75 and $3.00

Gray curl cloth reefers with wool lining and storm collar—a coat that looks and is warm, sizes 22 to 28, at according to size $3.50 and.....$4.00

Boys' overcoats of very dark oxford gray cheviot, a fine close weave that will turn wind and rain. Made like the fashionable coat for men, with elegant trimmings all through.... $4 to $5.50

GREAT ON DUCKS

Chatham Electrician who Goes to the Bay and Makes the Boys of the Joy Club Green With Envy.

Sam Moore, who successfully fixes the civic electric lamps with carbons so that nightly they may reflect a dim radiance and light the dark by-paths and outskirts of this great metropolis, recently took a holiday from his labors and visited the shores of Mitchell's Bay, where the wild ducks congregate in thousands, and wary watch for the city folks who relentlessly hunt them with fire-arms.

Mr. Moore considers that he knows more about Mitchell's Bay than any living man. He has hunted there for years, and knows all the haunts of the wild fowl. More acute and skilled in the arts of duck hunting is the Maple City electrician than the Indians of Walpole Island, and few are the ducks that escape his keen eye.

As has been stated the electric light trimmer, having for 12 long months faithfully performed his civic duties, donned his rubber boots and hunting outfit and hid himself to the shores of Mitchell's Bay. There for nearly a week, he lay in wait for the wary water fowl, but they had not the skilled hunter before, and knew their only safety lay in flight. Patience is the password of a true hunter and Mr. Moore camped on the trail of the elusive ducks. At last success crowned his efforts and he succeeded in corraling a flock of capvass backs, on Moon Island, in the vicinity of Col. Sam. Holmes' Joy Club. With the charges in the two barrels of his trusty shot gun, he killed 19 ducks. Thus did he make a record, and sustained a reputation that it had taken years to acquire. This was the beginning, and Mr. Moore followed on the trail of the wild ducks until he had bagged 72. A truly creditable bag for a short week.

There is no hunter who visits the shores of Mitchell's Bay who is more successful than Mr. Moore, and no hunter who is better acquainted with the habits of the wild fowl, and may be continue to give such splendid examples of his prowess.

STILL FOGBOUND.

London, Nov. 5.—Although the streets of London were traversable today without the aid of lamps, the coast was still fog-bound and railroad and other traffic much impeded. The cross-channel steamers had the utmost difficulty in making their ports, in spite of the fact that the fog guns were continually fired. Traffic on the Clyde has been blocked for twenty-four hours, and steamers bound for Ireland have been unable to leave port. A number of foreign steamers bound for Glasgow have taken twenty hours to traverse the 24 miles of river. On the Humber traffic is suspended. There have been railroad collisions at various points and minor wrecks have been reported along the coasts. On the Thames traffic is almost at a standstill. The hospitals of the metropolis say that there were about 100 cases of accidents treated during the night. The mercury hovers about the freezing point. Continental reports show that Calais, Ostend, Lyons and Munich are among the points fog-bound.

STOMACHS THAT WON'T WORK

That Retain the Food and Refuse to Digest It, Makes the Head Heavy and the Nerves Weak. Need Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

There is a cure for dyspepsia. Sufferers who have tried noxious nostrums will probably be sceptical, but skepticism vanishes when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are tried. Whether the trouble is dyspepsia of long standing, or merely a simple case of indigestion relief is prompt and pronounced. The less the trouble the fewer tablets need be taken.

Heaviness after eating, sour stomach, as indicated by belching, fatigue with slight exertion, or with no exertion.

Stomachs that won't work.

tion at all, disturbed sleep, nervousness, constipation, depression, "blues" these can commonly be set down as symptoms of dyspepsia. And dyspepsia is merely indigestion in an aggravated form.

By promoting perfect digestion, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets produces strong nerves, restful, refreshing sleep, pure blood and good sound healthy flesh. They make the skin clear, the eyes bright, the mind cheerful.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a medicine and more than a medicine. They digest the food and make it easy of assimilation, and they relieve the inflamed, diseased condition of the membranes lining and the glands of the stomach and bowels. They help the digestive organs over the hard places, and put them into a healthy, active condition. They effect a quick and permanent cure. You need not have to continue taking them forever, still it is well to have a box handy and take one at the first return of the troubles.

Perfectly well people are made sick by eating too much, or unwholesome food, but not if they take a tablet after eating. Treatment with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets does not necessitate dieting, or any change of habits. They digest the proper food and set upon it the proper kind in such a way as to make it pass off quickly and harmlessly. You may eat and drink what you like, when you like, and as much as you like, if you take a tablet afterwards.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents for full sized packages.
