Armistice Celebration at the Armouries

Belleville G.T.R. Baseball Champions Receive Trophies, Watches and "Y" Membership—Appeals For Victory Loan Support—Community Dancing by Large Gathering.

ELIMINATION DANCE FOR $50.00 VICTORY BOND

The first anniversary of the armistice will long be remembered in Belleville. One year ago this city gave way to the wildest enthusiasm and outburst of patriotic joy, yesterday the day was observed more quietly and with a touch of return to peaceful conditions. Still the shadow of the Great War hangs over all, but the cloud has begun to show its silver lining and some visioned war has commenced to smooth his ruffled front.

Belleville armistice last night held the biggest community gathering which has been contained within the four walls of that structure. It is estimated that four thousand people or more were present at the function, which was of a three-fold nature, to observe the anniversary of the armistice, to bestow the Victory Loan and to make a public presentation to the members of the Belleville G.T.R. team, champions of amateur baseball of the province.

In the absence of Mayor Platt and Acting Mayor Woodley, the duty devolved upon ex-Mayor H. P. Ketcheson to preside. He delivered a short address, referring to the significance of armistice day. The people wished to honor to the boys of the G.T.R. baseball team, who had brought fame to the city by winning the championships of Central Ontario and also of the entire province.

The male quartette, Messrs. E. Mounck, Wrightmeyer, Moorman and Dulmage sang a very pleasing selection. Mr. George O. Walker, Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Amateur Athletic League made the presentation of the provincial trophy. This cup lets the gift of the former Toronto News for the provincial champions. The inscription on the magnificent trophy reads:

"The Toronto Daily News Senior Challenge Cup Ontario Amateur Championship.

"Presented to the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association by the Toronto Daily News, 1918.

On one shield reads, "1918. won by Hillcrest."

Mr. Walker explained that he was acting in the place of the president of the League, Mr. F. Robbins. He expressed his pleasure in presenting the trophy on behalf of the association. Mr. M. P. Duff of the G.T.R. accepted the trophy on behalf of the champions and assured Mr. Walker that the G.T.R. was fully determined to go after the trophy next season.

Mr. Deacon presented to Lieut. Gerald Spafford and Mr. Frank Hinchey, the loan salesmen in Tyendinaga the Prince of Wales' flag and two crests for the township for its great support of the Victory Loan.

A song and dance, "A Bachelor Gay" was put under the direction of Mrs. (Col.) A. P. Allen with the following local artists starring—Mr. Harold Barrett and Misses Helen Today there is no place for practice. On behalf of the team, Mr. Peck returned thanks to the council, particularly Ald. Hanna, Buns, Riggs and Hunter and the citizens generally for their support in the last few games particularly which encouragement led to the landing of the championships.

The great gathering then turned its attention to dancing from 9:45 o'clock until midnight. It was a real community affair. The music was provided by Belleville Local Lodge 271 of the American Federation of Musicians. The dancing was enjoyed greatly by all those who participated in the affair. At 11:30 an elimination dance was begun for a $50 Victory bond, 50 couples contributing one dollar admission each to the dance. Gradually the dancing was eliminated by number and finally the winning pair only were left on the floor.

The joy proceedings went on until 12:35 a.m. and then closed with the rendition of the National Anthem.

HUNTINGDON TOWNSHIP WENT OVER THE TOP AND CAPTURED FLAG

Another Big Day For Victory Loan—Tyendinaga Has Biggest Percentage Total in the County—Victory Loan in the Air.

Huntingdon Township which has been quietly ambling in its totals for the last two weeks featured yesterday's Victory Loan canvass by piling up 32.86 per cent, making them a winner of a Prince of Wales' flag with a total of 105.80 per cent. Messrs. A. Herity and W. J. Jeffrey are the two canvassers to whom the credit is due. This now makes eight canvassing districts out of 18 who have won flags.

Hastings County totals climbed up another notch yesterday on our lead over the percentage of time gone. The county percentage is now 21.43 and time gone 77.77 per cent. With the day's returns of $115,900 our total has climbed to $1,465,400, cumulative of $100,000 since subscriptions.

Tyendinaga, being energetically canvassed by J. F. Hinchey and G. N. Spafford now leads the county district with the highest total. They have 168.85 which gives them a second crest for their flag. Just behind them with 154 per cent is Mr.

V. A. McMurray, Gilmour, canvassing for Tudor, Eimerick and Cashel.

ustrial Workers was hanged by a mob. The reason for the attack had not developed fully today but it was said that evidence had been obtained that it was premeditated. One of the twenty men arrested in the sweeping search for I.W.W. following the attack was said to have confessed that plans were made months ago to get Warren Grimm and C. Arthur McElfresh, two of those killed and William Schales and Capt. David Livingstone. The four had been active in suppressing radical activities in this community.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1919.

A MISREPRESENTATIVE

Since Mr. E. Guss Porter was elected in 1917 to represent the people of West Hastings he has upon two occasions shown activity in the House of Commons.

The first occasion was during the session of 1918 when he introduced a bill designed to destroy business in Belleville and to bring about non-communication between Hastings and Prince Edward counties, as far as such results could be attained by imposing enormously increased tolls for passage over the Bay Bridge.

And now Mr. Porter comes forward with a proposal in the Commons to have two whiskey votes count as much as three temperance votes. That was the purpose of the amendment he proposed to the government's bill amending the Canada Temperance Act.

Mr. Porter apparently wishes to see Ontario flooded again from the whiskey dives of Montreal. And for fear decent people might want such a flood stopped he would bring it about that three votes for a clean Ontario would be fully equalled by two votes for tangle-foot.

Such an assumption is a gross insult to the temperance electors of this province and particularly to those of West Hastings, whom Mr. Porter officially represents.

In support of his amazing proposal Mr. Porter quoted from the "constitutions" and the British North America Act but his clumsy quibbles were speedily shot to pieces by a few sentences from the Minister of Justice, Hon. C. J. Doherty.

As a private citizen, Mr. Porter has a perfect right to hold and to express any opinions that he may desire in reference to the prohibition of the liquor traffic. But as a public representative it is a different matter.

The first duty of a representative is to represent. He has no right to try to force upon the electors measures that he knows to be antagonistic to the majority.

If Mr. Porter has failed to interpret sentiment in his constituency, it is not because of any lack of powerful indications of what that sentiment is.

In January 1916 the voters of Belleville endorsed local option by a majority of 206 in spite of the pronounced personal activity of Mr. Porter, who worked strenuously to prevent a favorable vote. In the recent Referendum vote the electors of Belleville expressed themselves as favorable to a continuance of the Ontario Temperance Act by a vote of 3695 to 1550 or well over 2 to 1.

Trenton gave a majority of 736 for prohibition and Sidney 1262 or more than 4 to 1. We have not yet seen returns from the remainder of greater West Hastings, with the exception of Huntingdon township, where the majority for prohibition was nearly ten to one, but have no doubt that Rawdon and the other municipalities have given majorities equally decisive for a continuation of the favorable conditions brought about by the O. T. A.

In the face of these huge majorities Mr. Porter has sought to break down the restrictions and to make prohibition of no effect by attempting to let in a deluge of Quebec whiskey.

The member for West Hastings evidently assumes that he can flaunt and defy and insult the overwhelming temperance sentiment of the electorate of this constituency. Perhaps he believes that any voter who is favorable to prohibition must necessarily be of such low mental calibre that it takes three, such as he is, to be the equal of two whiskey-soaks.

Let Mr. Porter continue his crusade and go on in defiance of the electors but he will find, if he ever has the hardihood to face an election in West Hastings again, that people who favor temperance and decency have votes and that they can sometimes vote as they talk.

A year ago the world went wild because the war ended. But we are still a long way from world-peace yet.

British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba and Ontario now have farmer premiers. The farmer has at last come into his own.

The sale of Canadian military stores in England is proving very satisfactory. Many of the articles brought more than the original price.

Rigid economy is to be one of the most prominent features in the legislature program of the new Ontario government. That will be a change that the people will appreciate.

If Lady Astor is elected to the British House of Commons, as seems likely, she will be the first woman to sit in that house, but not the first to be elected. Countess Markovitz was elected at the last general election, but, being a Sinn Feiner, she has not yet taken her seat.

Spain is said to be anxious to be included in the Anglo-Franco-American Alliance, and it is presumed King Alfonso's present visit to England and France has some political purpose. It is suggested that the recent visit to London of Count Romanos, Spain's foremost friend of the Entente, was to take soundings. It may be remembered that under the guidance of Count Romanos, Spain was the first and only neutral to accept the Covenant of the League of Nations without quibble. This indicates that Spain is ready and willing to do her part in the work of the League, and it is suggested that she is willing to furnish men to police distant territories in return for certain economic advantages and more favorable consideration in Morocco.

PULLING TURMOTS IN THE RAIN

Oh, I am caked with clay an' loam clear from my neck to heels.

An' I kin tell precisely how a alligator feels. Me shirt is wet, me socks is wet, me pants 'is quite wet, too.

I'm goin' 'n' wet clear to the skin, in fact I'm wet clear thro'.

What am I doin'? What am I at? The questions give me pain, I'm out behind the sugar bush, pullin' turmots in the rain!

Ole Dad says, "Oh, Gosh A'mighty! no time's to be lost.

This rain may end in sleet'n snow an' wind up with a frost.

An' every turmot in the field it would be nailed down tight. You couldn't stake 'em loose at all unless with dynamite."

That's why upon the landscape I'm just a muddy stain, I'm arnin' something for old age, pullin' turmots in the rain.

Oh! every now'n then you'll hear the larned people say

Yuh oughta save some money up jes' fer a rainy day.

But shucks! I wouldn't git a chance me arnin's to enjoy.

On rainy days Ole Dad he finds us all employ, Down suller sortin' taters, er cleanin' up some grain,

An' if we've got a root crop—pullin' turmots in the rain!

I'm goin' to hev lumbager before I git me growth.

Perhaps 'twill be skyattickay—perhaps it will be both,

Me back will hev a hump on it, jes' like a sacred cow.

An' ef I ain't mistaken there's a good sized bump ther' now,

But still I'm feelin' purty good—I don't ondoor no pain.

But 'tain't no job fer angels pullin' turmots in the rain.

This rain won't turn to snow an' sleet, ner tie up with a frost.

We're pullin' these here turmots at a most tremenjus cost.

We're bound fer Injin summer, an' uv June we'll git a breath.

But I am goin' to ketch a cold an' likely git me death.

I'll run away an' be a clurk, er run a railway train.

Durned ef I will kill myself pullin' turmots in the rain!

OTHER EDITORS' OPINIONS

A FRUITLESS CAMPAIGN

Did anyone recognize any fruits of the Citizens' Liberty League campaign in West Durham? It was the most insane propaganda that we have ever seen exploited in this province in our forty-one years of journalistic experience. Several thousands of dollars were spent fruitlessly in billboard and newspaper advertising. But it was liquor advocates' money, so why should we worry?—Howmanville Statesman.

HYDRO POWER RATES

At the last meeting of the Town Council a communication was read from the Kingston Utilities Commission proposing that all Hydro rates should be uniform in different municipalities. Mr. Gaby, chief engineer of the Hydro Commission, who happened to be present, remarked that it was not the net cost of the power that varied, but the difference in the cost of transmission for different distances.

The chief merit of the Hydro plan is that it is equitable—each municipality gets its power at a rate based on the cost of service, and the cost to each community is reduced by the co-operation of all. Owing to the effect of the Hydro-Electric power is about the only thing we know of that has not gone up in price but has actually come down in the past two or three years.

The annual report of the Hydro-Electric Commission for 1918 shows the total expense of transmitting power to the different municipalities and some of the figures are here given:

Table with 2 columns: Location and Expense. Includes Niagara Falls ($9.88), Hamilton ($11.73), Dundas ($11.37), Toronto ($12.39), Brantford ($13.90), London ($14.45), Woodstock ($14.86), Kitchener ($15.11), Galt ($15.88), St. Thomas ($17.24), Chatham ($29.40).

It is distance from the source of power that makes the difference. The above figures show the cost of transmission, not the prices charged against the municipalities, which is somewhat higher per h.p. But this, of course, above cost, is credited to the municipality which pays it, and in time entitles it to a reduction in rates.—Oshawa Reformer.

MR. DRURY ON WHEAT PRICES

Mr. Drury seems to have touched several nerves on the raw in his speech at Barrie, when he suggested that high prices might not last forever. The chief objections come from the gentlemen who could not foresee the result of the recent elections. Mr. Drury is neither a pessimist nor an alarmist. He probably thinks it wise to face facts.

The inability to face facts brought on the war. The inability to face facts landed Premier Hearst and his party "in the soup." When Mr. Drury says the price of wheat may not stay up forever, he speaks as a farmer who wants to keep it up, whose interest it is to keep it up, who will suffer if it goes down; but he also speaks as a responsible statesman, who cannot begin with camouflage, or trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the people.

If the price of wheat is to be kept up, it will be, first of all, through facing the fact that the price of wheat may go down. If the price of wheat goes down, all the King's horses and all the King's men will be unable to maintain high rates in other directions. It is an open question whether this would be good or bad.

The error seems to arise in deducting poor trade or depressed conditions generally from low prices. In modern stores, lower prices mean a bigger turnover and larger aggregate profits. The corporations are obsessed with the idea, and have affected many others, with it, that high prices and a small turnover are to be desired.

Old theories and conceptions of business were swept away in the war, and those who desire to bring them back are on the wrong track. The man who would not consider the possibility of the effect of the competition of the rest of the world on our home conditions would be little likely to be able to remedy difficulties that arose.

Those who think that all things will continue as at present until the end have made little use of their experience. It will not help matters to curtail production or to cancel forward marching orders. Mr. Drury is sufficiently confident of the seaworthiness of the Ontario craft to take command of it, and he is not likely to risk his political life and that of his crew in a vessel that looks like foundering. Storms there may be, but the good seaman knows how to weather a gale.—Toronto World (Con.).

Wedding Bells

VANCE — BATEMAN.

St. John's Church, Stirling, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday morning, Oct. 29th at the hour of 9 o'clock, when the Rev. Rural Dean Byers united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony, Sarah Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Bateman to Charles Henry Vance, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vance, Rawdon, T.P. As both bride and groom were exceedingly popular a large number of friends had assembled to witness this most sacred and solemn ceremony which is the first that has taken place since the re-opening.

The bride looked sweet as she entered the church leaning in the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Marian Halliwell. She was attired in a navy blue travelling suit, and wore a hat to match. The young couple were unattended, and after receiving congratulations, left by motor for Belleville where they took the train for Ottawa. The leader of the train, wishing the happy young couple bon voyage through life.—Stirling Leader.

STOUT — KEENE.

On Wednesday morning the 29th of October at St. John's church, Madoc, a wedding of unusual interest took place when May Myrtle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Keene, was united in Holy wedlock to the Reverend N. Ridley Stout, rector of Frankville, and only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stout, Rawdon. The Reverend Rural Dean Byers, M. A., Stirling, assisted by the Rev. T. H. Hall, rector of Madoc officiated. The bride who was unattended was handsomely gowned in white crepe-de-chene with pearl trimmings, and wore the customary tulle veil with orange blossoms.

After the marriage ceremony had been performed, there was still a further impressive service in the celebration of the Holy Eucharist, which service was fully choral, with Mrs. O'Flynn presiding at the organ in her usual efficient manner. The lovely young bride looked charming as she approached the chancel leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. After the signing of the register the guests who numbered about fifty repaired to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Keene, where a dainty luncheon was partaken of, after which the happy young couple left on their honeymoon for Ottawa and Montreal, amid showers of rice and confetti, the bride travelling in a long, tawny coat with a becoming feather trimmed hat to match.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl and diamond pendant which was the only ornament she wore. The splendid showing of useful gifts and also substantial cheques testified to their widespread popularity. The best wishes of their many friends go with them for a bright and happy future. In this, the Leader delights to join.—Stirling Leader.

A Peculiar Accident

Marmora, Nov. 10.—Two young people had a narrow escape from drowning and Mr. Phillip Sopha lost a valuable horse as a result of an unusual accident on Saturday evening a week ago.

Mr. Lawlor Shannon and Miss Dey all were returning to town after a day's outing with some others, and stopped at the watering place this side of Beaver Creek bridge to water the horse. While drinking, the horse suddenly became frightened at a log and plunged into the river. The water is so low there is only a few feet of shallow water along the shore and then there is a very deep hole at that place. For some unaccountable reason the horse apparently died as soon as it reached deep water and immediately went down and the buggy also began to sink.

Mr. Shannon and Miss Dey just managed to get from under the top of the buggy as it went down. The latter was unable to swim but fortunately she did not get excited or lose her self control. She held on to her companion in such a way as to enable him to swim freely and in spite of

The congregation will unite with Queen Street Church as soon as work on their new edifice has been completed and it is expected to be ready for use by the first of the year.

Queen Street Church will purchase the organ now in use in Brock street Church. Brock Street Church, was built 43 years ago. There are three other Methodist churches, two of which are situated close by Brock St. Church, and it is felt that it is unnecessary to keep up the expense of Brock street church when the needs can be met by the other churches.

Fifty Years of Masonry

Interesting Sketch of the History of Lake Lodge No. 215, A. F. and A. M., Ameliasburg, (Roblin's Mills), written for the Semi-Centennial Celebration by the Secretary, James E. Glenn.

The Ontario is indebted to Mr. James E. Glenn of Roblin's Mills for a copy of the historical sketch he read at the semi-centennial celebration of Lake Lodge No. 215, A. F. and A. M. We publish the sketch because of its general interest to the public and not Masons alone. Then men identified with Masonry in Ameliasburg have been the leaders in the community life. The Masonic lodge has been a social and community center from which have flowed many wholesome influences.

The following is a brief historical sketch of the founding of Lake Lodge, No. 215, A. F. and A. M., Roblin's Mills, Ontario, and its career from its organization to the present time, with the object of paying tribute to those brothers who were responsible for its origin and success, and who accomplished their desire under many difficulties. Written on this the 50th anniversary or jubilee year of its extension which, we trust, may be of interest to the present and future generations of Freemasons.

Lake Lodge 1869-1919. A number of prominent and enthusiastic Freemasons actuated by a sincere desire to advance the interests of the Craft convened a meeting early in the year 1869 A. D. and unanimously resolved to secure a building suitable for a Masonic Lodge Room and to apply to the M. W. the Grand Master for a dispensation for the formation of a Masonic Lodge.

Accordingly the west wing of the large stone building on the north side of Main St. in said village, and owned by the late Owen Roblin, Esq., was considered sufficient to satisfy all the requirements of a Masonic Lodge Room and was therefore leased by the brethren for a term of years. The following petition was then presented to the M. W. the Grand Master, praying for a dispensation to organize a Masonic Lodge in said village of Roblin's Mills to be denominated Lake Lodge No. 215, A. F. and A. M. in the registers of the Grand Lodge of Canada, with the names of the following brethren inscribed as charter members.

Petition. To the M. W. the Grand Master of the Fraternity of A. F. & A. M. of Canada, in the Province of Ontario. We, the undersigned, being regularly registered Masons of the Lodges mentioned against our respective names, having the prosperity of the Craft at heart, are anxious to extend our best endeavors to promote the general principles of the art and for the convenience of our respective dwellings and other good reasons, we are desirous of forming a new lodge to be named "Lake Lodge." In consequence of this desire we pray for a warrant of constitution empowering us to meet as a regular lodge at the village of Roblin's Mills in the County of Prince Edward on the Monday on or before the Full Moon of every month and there to discharge the duties of Masonry in a constitutional manner, according to the forms of the order and the laws of the Grand Lodge.

The petition being granted by the Grand Master, the first meeting of the brethren was held and the Lodge was consecrated and dedicated on the 26th day of May, 1869, A. D. by Rt. Wor. Bro. H. W. Day, physician and surgeon, Trenton, D. D. G. M., Prince Edward District, No. 13, A. F. & A. M., who also installed and invested the following named brethren as first officers of Lake Lodge for the ensuing Masonic year, viz:

- Wor. Bro. Edward Roblin—W. M. Bro. Nicholas A. Peterson—S. W. Bro. S. L. Nash—J. W. Bro. Wm. Delong—Treas. Bro. Jno. N. Sprague—Secy. Bro. Wm. Anderson—S. D. Bro. E. McCullough—Dist. Secy. Bro. W. G. Stafford—I. C. Bro. Elijah Sprague—Tyler.

Charter. The Lodge in the meantime, having complied with the requirements of Grand Lodge, and in conformity with the constitution there of their charter was most graciously granted on the 15th day of July, 1869 by M. W. Grand Master Col. Alexander Allen Stevenson, Montreal. Countersigned by R. W. Bro. T. D. Harris, Grand Secy. Condensed biographical sketches of the lives of our revered charter members are recorded as follows: The lives of those noble brothers who have passed from a life of labor to the refreshment of rest, who considered their term of office a sacred trust, who as men of light and leading identified themselves with the truest traditions and most active development of the Craft. To many of the present members they are but shadowy memories. "Let us make them living entities." Doubtless the name of each brother as it is mentioned will find a sad echo in some heart which loved him well.

W. Bro. Edward Roblin was the first Master of Lake Lodge, 1869; a brother of sturdy stock that pioneer of Prince Edward County. He took a lively interest in public affairs and moral reforms, a strong temperance advocate, a Justice of the Peace, Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Clerk his services by Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria with the Turkish and Crimean Medals for service in the Russian war, and with the Fenian Raid, N. W. Rebellion, and Long Service Medals for his services in Canada.

Practised medicine successfully in Concession, Brighton and Trenton. He stood high in public esteem and was honored by the fraternity for his Masonic ability, integrity and efficiency. Of that band of noble men and Masters, "Charter Members" after life well lived, all have passed "that bourne from which no traveller returns" except Wor. Bro. Nicholas A. Peterson, at present residing in the city of Belleville, who at the age of 84 years, through kindness of our Master in heaven is enjoying good health and the possession of his mental powers undimmed. Brethren, let us pay tribute to his memory the honor to which a life so long and useful has never done justice. None knew him but to love; None named him but to praise.

Wm. Ryerson, Dempsey—represented Prince Edward in the Ontario Legislature, one parliamentary term, under the premiership of Sir Geo. W. Ross, retiring at the end of the term, carrying into private life the general respect and confidence of his constituents as an honest, honorable man and representative. Nelson Parlman—member of the Provincial Legislature of Ontario for the last five years, under the premiership of Sir William Hearst, again candidate for parliamentary honors in the coming election. He has discharged his parliamentary duties in such a manner as to entitle him to the respect of his constituents. As a good citizen none stand to be envied, and those qualities which distinguish the good and true brother, and which have indelibly impressed his name on the tablet of our hearts. Continued success and prosperity is the wish of every true brother Mason.

In the year 1881 an incident unique in the history of private lodges occurred when Lake Lodge was honored with a visit from the M. W. Grand Master J. Ross Robertson, Ontario, on the afternoon of Saturday, Feb. 13th, who delivered a lecture on "A Hundred Years with the Craft in Canada" with incidents and anecdotes of craft life. There was a large attendance of the brethren of Lake, Concession, Star in the East, and other lodges, who had the pleasure of listening to the interesting and instructive address. Our G. Master was searching the archives of the lodges of Ontario for material to assist in editing his great work "Fifty Years of the Craft in Canada." After examining the books and documents in connection with the history of Lake Lodge, he pronounced them the nearest and most exemplary he had examined.

The substantial increase in membership of the brethren, and the lodge having outgrown the present lodge room, a new building containing the ownership of a lodge as a permanent home began to occupy the attention of the brethren, which led to the purchase of a new site in the present building and the erection of a new and more commodious and progressive of the Fraternity. In the year 1910 Masonry was visited with a severe affliction in the person of Col. A. Stevenson, G. P. M. of the Grand Lodge of Canada, His Majesty, and His Most Gracious Majesty King Edward VII. But we find solace in remembering that "He doth all things well." M. W. Bro. Sprague was six years G. M. of the Grand Lodge of Canada, and the year when written will for forty-six years be the history of the G. Lodge of Canada as well in a great measure the history of the civic and military progress of the city of Montreal. His mother was a cousin of Scotland's national bard, our brother the poet Robert Burns of immortal memory. Kindly sympathetic and generous, and always honored by his brethren.

By the death of our late sovereign King Edward VII. we are reminded of our glorious memory of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, of the British Dominions beyond the seas, Emperor of India, Grand Master of the Q. Lodge of Montreal for 27 years, and precursor of our order up to the moment of his death, the craft lost its brightest ornament, the Empire its greatest support, and the world its first citizen. Turning to financial and charitable matters it is pleasing to note our solicitude for our infirm and unfortunate brethren, who have ever received our sympathetic and charitable attention. In the month of April but a few weeks ago we were able to announce that during the past fifty years thousands of dollars have been expended in relieving the necessities of the widow, the orphan, the distressed brother. The widow's tear, the orphan's cry. Are wants our ready hands supply. As far as power is given. The naked clothed, the prisoner freed. These are thy works, sweet charity. Revealed to us from Heaven.

To other charitable and benevolent institutions our donations have been liberal and commendable, especially Sick Children's Hospital, Red Cross War Fund, Belgian Relief Fund. All these calls have been answered, and we are able to state the results that have been obtained thereby we have cause for congratulation on our forethought and magnanimity. Brethren let us learn well the lesson of our Master, who has said that he who shutteth his ear against the cry of the poor and needy shall cry himself and not be heard. During the last five years of our existence as a Masonic lodge our country, our Empire, has been engaged in the great world war, the greatest conflict for freedom and liberty and democracy the world has ever experienced. From the inception of this strife for freedom the Canadians took a significant part, and as a portion of this great Dominion, they have been no laggards among the many brave hearts. Our boys went forth and took their full share of the battle for right and won their full measure of applause from the civilized world. They were not afraid to cast their all in the balance and make their sacrifices on the altar of love for the nation. Among them have been scores of the brethren of our lodges, and for those who will never return we are brought to mourn. But the spirit which prompted their devotion breathes the feelings of pain. The blanks in our ranks are many and they are the result of love. We bow the head reverently before those who have fought, those who have suffered, and those who have laid down their lives. May God in His goodness and wisdom so guide us that the principles we teach and the influence we render will be such that their beauty and potency will be acknowledged by all mankind, that the shadow of war will pass; that out of this bitterness and hatred, death and destruction, there has come a time of peace and love and fraternity.

The first candidates initiated in Lake Lodge were William Ryerson, Dempsey, James Arthur Johnson, and Dean Hutchcraft, the same evening, Oct. 13, 1869, A. D. The oldest living brother, Nicholas A. Peterson, aged 94 years. Present membership, 80. Receipts for 1918, $325.75; Disbursements, $324.60. It is said a custom prevails among the peasantry in parts of Ireland to leave the doors of their cottages open and a light burning on Christmas Eve. This is done, it is said, by some that should the Christ child return to earth, instead of being harbored in a manger, He might have a better and more appropriate abiding place. Others say it shows a welcome to the pasberry and the wayfarer. The door of our lodge is always open, and a light is always burning to welcome those who seek our good works, are willing to join our ranks, and be contributors to the ancient usages, customs and landmarks of the fraternity. We welcome those who come with an ulterior motive than that of doing good to mankind and bettering the human race.

Today we are fifty years removed from our cradle as a Masonic Lodge; fifty times have the great years rolled around, and with ever widening circles have we grown in numbers. Our lodge has increased in membership and we throughout the entire jurisdiction, The God of our fathers, our God, has blessed us with prosperity. Brethren, let us ask ourselves this question: How do we stand in regard to the law of progression? Are we better men and Masons? Are we holier in life and finer in thought? Have we risen to the higher levels of fraternal love? Are our ears quickened to the cry of distress? Are our imaginations quickened to the cry of need? Are we searching for truth? If we can affirmatively reply to these questions we need take but little thought of numerical increase or material gain. We shall have achieved Masonry the cardinal tenet of which are "Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth."

May peace and harmony prevail in Lake Lodge for the next fifty years, and for all time, as it has for the past fifty years, and may the Most High bless every member of our beloved fraternity. Brethren, on this, our fiftieth anniversary day, this the evening of our semi-centennial existence as a lodge, let us renew our Masonic vows. May we all be true and faithful to each other and may we live and die in brotherly love. God save the King.

AS WAR MEMENTO

PUBLIC SQUARE OF ARRAS IS TO BE PRESERVED. Just as War Left It. It Will Serve to Remind the World That Here the Marauding Huns Were Checkmated. In the little place of Arras, where once stood the Hotel de Ville, with its bellry and its peal of bells, led by La Joyeuse it says that this place is to be preserved in its ruin as war has left it.

Other places will be rebuilt again, and will forget, but this little place will remain empty, and one day Arras will be more proud of that emptyness and of those few broken stones than are other towns of the most beautiful things that they possess. For so Arras will remain always as it is to-day one of the rocks visible on which the great waters of invasion broke and surged and broke again, but could flow no farther. There they were held. There in the centre of Arras you come suddenly to-day on the dark line of their highest tide. Elsewhere, across the open country, you come more gradually in the land of war, by roads where troops move by fields where are lines and lines of brown and white trenches, ready but never used; by empty villages, with here and there a house broken; and so at last into the great city of Arras, where you see the ruins that have been obtained thereby we have cause for congratulation on our forethought and magnanimity.

Brethren let us learn well the lesson of our Master, who has said that he who shutteth his ear against the cry of the poor and needy shall cry himself and not be heard. During the last five years of our existence as a Masonic lodge our country, our Empire, has been engaged in the great world war, the greatest conflict for freedom and liberty and democracy the world has ever experienced. For Law And Order

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

The outstanding feature of Tuesday's election in the various states, was the election of Governor Collidge of Massachusetts by a sweeping majority on a ticket that stood prominently for law and order. It meant that the heart of the nation is sound and steadfast for the right. When the nation is endangered from without and within, partisanship is forgotten. The "off year" election was the most significant held in many a year. We are glad it came.

How the politician may look at the matter is of little significance; what the people wanted to know was how matters stood on the vital issue of maintaining an orderly government, and the measure was most emphatic and reassuring. Surely the men in charge of the labor strikes are not so blind but that they can see in the returns from Massachusetts a warning to them to go slow and tread carefully, to escape the wrath of a nation patient and long suffering but terrible in its wrath, as an empire that sought to press the limit of our patience knows to its cost.

Broadly speaking, the Bay state election was fought out on the questions raised by the Boston policemen's strike. The city of culture went close to being a Bolshevik center for a brief period. Law fell by the wayside. Pillage followed on the heels of the police strike. Governor Collidge cut red tape and took control of the Boston situation. He set aside local officials who were trafficking with the strikers, and put in men of his own to restore order and maintain the supremacy of the law. He struck at the root of the evil and would have no dealings with violators of the law, whether they were striking policemen or their backers.

Pussyfooting politicians in the Democratic party, sought to carry water on both shoulders; they raised petty, nagging issues about the state executive's interference in purely local affairs. They sympathized with the men who violated their oaths while they were on paper, for "good government." The party was defeated, and overwhelmed, as it deserved, because it exhibited cowardice in the face of the enemy of the United States.

The Democratic party in that state dodged another issue—the League of Nations question. The Republican state convention overruled Senator Lodge and stood squarely for the covenant without antedating reservation wheras; the Democratic party in its platform trackled to the hypocrisies of Massachusetts.

The New England Conscience asserted itself on Tuesday and sent a thrill of patriotic pride throughout the nation. No doubt this had much influence on the present coal strike, which in all likelihood will be called off by the close of the week. Neither government, representing the people at large, nor the real leaders of labor wish to prolong the matter or to fight to a finish. We have too much "class consciousness" already. There is no reason why the worker, be he manual or brain worker, be placed apart from his fellowmen, and there is no reason in a country like this why he should seek to remain away from the rest. For the time being, inoculated with foreign virus, he seeks a kind of martyrdom, but that will pass away. The clamorous American atmosphere does not permit this unnatural condition to exist long. It would be an ill-day for the nation of the Marxist doctrine should prevail, that there are two classes in eternal antagonism. The people instinctively declared against both the coal and the steel strike and they were and are willing to go the full limit to uphold the hand of the government but at the same time they do not press for the humiliating defeat of labor itself. Nothing is to be gained by insisting on it. The men have doubtless learned their lesson; they know now better than ever before the silliness of public sentiment; they have discovered beyond any questioning that without public support they cannot win a strike of magnitude involving the necessities of daily life. No matter how close may be the organization, how may its membership, how rich its treasury, it has to obey the public will. They will now come to their senses and accept arbitration, and the strike as a weapon may be considered as gone forever in nation wide labor troubles.

NEW DEMAND OF GREAT BRITAIN'S RAILWAY MEN

The question of nationalization appears to be approaching an interesting stage in the Mother Country. Following the demand of the miners for the nationalization of the coal mines, the National Union of Railway Employees have submitted to the Government a scheme for the nationalization of the railways.

have decided to take a ballot of their members on the question of demanding the nationalization of shipping.

The Railway Men have had a committee studying the question of nationalization of railways for some time, and this committee's recommendations were approved by the executive of the N. U. R.

That National Railway Board should be set up, half of its members to be representatives of the Railway employees elected by ballot and the other half to be appointed by the Government or Parliament.

That local Boards for defined areas should be set up on similar lines, half of the members being men's representatives elected by ballot of the workers in the area concerned.

That all negotiations respecting wages and similar matters should be carried on by the National Board and the Unions concerned.

"Back to the mines" should now be the slogan.

On Saturday afternoon a man named John Derrick was taken into custody on a charge of assault preferred by F. C. Race. He appeared later before Magistrate Page and was committed for trial. He was brought before Judge Dowley at noon today and the case was put over to Thursday. Derrick made application for bail and was given a chance to furnish bonds to the extent of $2,000, his own recognizance for $1,000 and two sureties for $500 each. He had not received the securities this afternoon and was still in the county jail.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Could Not Be Located

A telephone message yesterday afternoon received from the chief constable of Gananoque requested the local police to search G.T.R. express No. 6 and apprehend a youth named Mike Noonan, who is wanted in Gananoque for the theft of $12 and other articles. The message stated that Noonan was on the train bound east but a search made by P. C. Foster failed to locate him.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Appointed Matron

Miss Myrtle MacMillan has been appointed matron of Rockwood Hospital, Kingston. Miss MacMillan is a native of Port Hope. Early in the war Miss MacMillan volunteered for service and spent over four years in England and France. At the time of her appointment Miss MacMillan was attached to the staff of St. Catharines Hospital.

Arrested by Inspectors

Yesterday Fred Young, a resident of Elizabethtown, was taken into custody by Inspectors Sykes and Tabor on a warrant issued on Jan 9 last. Young is charged with having, keeping, giving and selling liquor contrary to the regulations of the Ontario Temperance Act. He appeared this morning before Magistrate Page and was remanded until Tuesday, Nov. 19. Consent to a bill of $1,000 was granted and it was expected that sureties for the amount would be secured this afternoon.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Prince Speaks at Ottawa

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—A sympathetic and responsive audience of two thousand odd men comprised of members of parliament, professional and business men, heard the Prince of Wales make his penultimate speech of the present tour in Canada Saturday at the end of the Canadian Club luncheon in the Chateau Laurier. It was a friendly and intimate speech in which gratitude for Canada's welcome and an earnest appeal for loyalty to British ideals was punctuated with good humored raillery.

Lunar Eclipse

A partial eclipse of the moon took place Friday evening. According to astronomers the moon rose in the northeast about 5.58, at which time it just about began to enter the shadow of the earth. At 6.44 the eclipse was at its height and from then on the moon gradually passed from shadow. The moon came out of the horizon a few minutes after the sun set, and for that reason the beginning of the eclipse would have been conspicuous from the outset, but unfortunately a heavy cloud prevented the eclipse from being seen here.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Suing for $10,000 Damages

Truman Potter, executor of the estate of John Potter, killed in the explosion of the boiler at Central cheese factory, near Joyceville, last summer, has issued a writ for $10,000 damages for the death of his brother, through A. B. Cunningham, Kingston.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Sneak Thief Wanted

The police are looking for a man giving the name of Leo Richardson, aged 22, of Hamilton, who is wanted for the alleged theft of a valuable mink cape from the store of F. J. Griffin, King street west. The cape wrapped in paper, was found by Richardson's landlady hidden in a parlor of a Home street house and Richardson refused to tell where he had obtained it. Later he made efforts to sell it to another roomer for $10, and finally left without leaving his address. He is described as being of slight build, wearing a brown suit and peaked cap, and said he

Port Hope Family Had Narrow Escape

Port Hope, Nov. 12.—The home of J. Whetstone, a prominent worker on the Referendum Committee here, was set on fire at an early hour on Saturday morning, and it was only by a narrow margin that the lives of the entire family were not lost. Mr. Whetstone attended a meeting of the Referendum Committee Friday night, and during the meeting some one threw a stone through a window of the place where it was held. He returned to his home about 10.30 and retired, but it was not long past midnight when his little girl was awakened by the noise of glass cracking in the porch. She roused the rest of the family, and it was found that the porch was ablaze, the heat having caused the glass in the door to crack and fall out.

Murdered Man Known in Peterboro

Peterboro Examiner: John G. Roland, who was murdered in Leeds, Ontario, by a woman Tuesday night was a former resident of this city and boarded at the home of Mrs. E. A. Curran, 150 London street in 1913. He worked for a year in the Canadian General Electric Company and was a regular attendant of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. In 1914 he left for Toronto and worked in the C.P.R. trucking department, later going into the taxi business. When the war broke out he went overseas with the second machine gun battalion and was in Cologne and Bonn with the British Army of Occupation.

His niece, Miss Gertrude Downing, whom he was going to marry in the spring, was also well known in the city. She lived at the home of Mr. Harry Stabler, George street, some years ago. She was born in Apaley, but lived in this city up to the time that she moved to Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Downing of Appleton, now deceased, were her parents. An elder sister, Mrs. Leonard Orde, resides in the city at 4 Dunlop avenue.

Young Woman Dies of Burns

Miss McDermott Succumbed to Injuries Received on Oct. 29. Kingston, Nov. 12.—Miss Anne McDermott, who was burned on Wednesday, October 29th last, when her clothes caught fire from a gas stove while employed as a domestic in the home of Mr. Jas. Swift, 132 King street, passed away Sunday morning at the Hotel Dieu as the result of the injuries received. Her condition since the accident had been critical at all times, but became much worse Saturday morning, death ensuing at seven o'clock Sunday morning. She was conscious at all times. The late Mrs. McDermott was 29 years of age. She was born in Ireland, coming to this country several years ago. She had no relatives in this country but is survived by her mother in Ireland. The funeral was held Monday from Mr. T. Ronan's undertaking parlors to St. Mary's Cathedral, where a solemn requiem mass was sung for the happy repose of her soul by Rev. Father Hanley.

Str. Ironie Sunk at Morrisburg

Big Steel Freighter of Canada Steamship Lines Was Laden With Merchandise. Brookville, Nov. 12.—The big steel freighter Ironie, of the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., was sunk in the Morrisburg canal at 2.30 Saturday afternoon. She was laden with a cargo of general merchandise and iron pipe, bound from Montreal to Hamilton. The steamer had just passed through the Morrisburg lock and was getting under full headway when something happened and she went down before anything could be done by her crew to avoid the accident. She is listed at 45 degrees and the water is up to her upper deck. It had not been learned here last night whether the accident was due to the sea cocks becoming open or whether she struck a rock that might have become displaced from the banks of the canal and rolled down into the channel. The steamer is one of the Canada Steamship Lines best freighters and is of full Welland Canal size. The value of the vessel is placed at $250,000 while the value of the cargo she had aboard is estimated at $100,000. The officials of the steamship line went to the scene of the wreck late Saturday afternoon and work will be commenced at once in raising her.

Burial Alive For Ten Long Minutes

Such Was the Experience of John Sullivan Saturday Afternoon. Kingston, Nov. 12.—John Sullivan, 128 James street received some severe bruises on the side and back when he was buried under a pile of earth and quicksand at the Vermont Marble Works, East City, about 2.45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He was working at a sewer leading into the marble works when the embankment, composed largely of quicksand, gave way and completely buried him. The pump was summoned, but not required, as what was needed was the attendance of a physician. Chief Grange sent for Dr. Amy, who quickly arrived on the scene and announced that the man's injuries were not of a dangerous character. Mr. Sullivan is still sore and bruised, but is able to walk about. It is not pleasant to be buried alive for ten minutes, and he is very fortunate to get off with the slight injuries he escaped with.

Grain Spill Was Biggest in Years

Port Hope, Nov. 12.—One hundred and eight men have been working daily on the G.P.R. wreck which took place at Cambray station and it is understood that they will be engaged until the wreckage is cleaned up. It was one of the worst spills in years, the fourteen cars being loaded with grain, all of which was spilled. The grain had to be bagged and transferred to waiting cars. It is understood that twelve of the cars were so badly damaged that they will be burned.

Copeland Homestead Likely to be Burned

Port Hope, Nov. 12.—The last act of the Newtonville tragedy, as far as Herbert Copeland, the murderer of his mother, is concerned, closed last week when he was placed in the Hamilton Asylum for the insane, where it is expected he will spend the rest of his life. The Copeland home where the tragedy was enacted, stands on the roadway, and it rests with the Township Council what disposition shall be made of it. There seems to be a sentiment throughout the village and district that it should never again be occupied, and some feel that it be given to the torch and the ground where it stood plowed in order that the spot be effaced from living memory.

Burglars Still Busy

Port Hope, Nov. 12.—About the first question to greet you these mornings is "who was robbed last night," and unfortunately there is generally a robbery to report. Thieves are as busy as bees and so far have been able to escape the hand of the law. Saturday night a valuable black Orpington rooster was stolen from Mr. W. J. Fielding, Walton street, the very one that Mr. Fielding had selected to make a clean sweep with at the January poultry show. Last night while Mr. and Mrs. D. Bassett, Sherbourne street, were attending church, thieves gained an entrance by the back door and stole a box containing about three dollars.

Blue on White New License Effect

The automobile license plates for Ontario for 1920 will be a combination of blue and white colors, but letters and figures being printed on a field of white. At least this was the plan of the Department of Public Highways before the change of government, and it is quite possible that the new plates were ordered some time ago. The Ontario Motor Vehicles Act requires that the new tags be fixed on January 1. Motorists are advised to do their license shopping early as soon as the merry application blanks are issued.

TONIC TREATMENT FOR THE NERVES

Neuralgia and Other Severe Nervous Disorders Cured Through the Blood. In many severe nervous disorders the best remedy is often a tonic. The most active tonic treatment is recommended by the highest medical authority to arrest the progress of such disease. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic that acts on the nerves through the blood, which carries to the nerves the elements needed to build them up and restore them to a normal condition. Neuralgia, sciatica, nervous headaches and a number of more severe nervous troubles are properly treated by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are often entirely cured in this way. If you are nervous you can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest and sleep, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-of-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon notice the beneficial effect of this tonic in every part of the system. Miss Annie L. Johnston, R.R. No. 1, Listowel, Ont., is one of the numerous sufferers from nervous troubles who has found a cure through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Miss Johnston says: "For a long time I was a sufferer from nervous troubles, with the result that I grew very pale and weak. Medical treatment did not help me, and various medicines had no beneficial effect, until finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began their use and took the pills regularly for several months, with the result that I not only gained in weight, but have recovered my full health and strength. I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly for what they have done for me."

UNION STOCK YARDS

TORONTO, Nov. 11.—With around $700 cattle on sale at the Union Stock Yards market yesterday, and with the quality generally medium to common, what few extra good cattle there were on sale were readily picked up at around 18 to 20c to 40c higher prices than that of last week. There was a better feeling generally in the trading, and a more active market. Canner cows and bologna bulls sold readily at steady prices, and there was a good demand for the better class of milk cows and springers. There was a better enquiry, too, for good feeding steers, weighing around 960 lbs. and upwards. With about 7000 sheep and lambs on the market, it was a little slow and draggy on the common and heavy lambs, the bulk of them selling at from 13c to 14c per lb., with some choice blackface easterns selling at 14c. The calf market, with a run of 400 head, sold at about steady with last week's prices. Choice veal sold at from 17c to 18c per lb., medium, 13c to 15c; grass-fed, common, 5c to 6c; heavy calves, unready real choice, a drug on the market. With about 1800 hogs the market is holding steady. For to-day's trading the packers are quoting 15 1/2c to the farmer, 15 1/2c f.o.b., 16 1/2c f.o.c and 17c weighed out.

Two Little Girls Burn to Death

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 11.—Two girls, aged six and seven years, daughters of Otto A. Strey, farmer, were burned to death in their home in Dorion township when fire destroyed it about midnight Friday. The father escaped from downstairs, taking a three-year-old boy with him. The mother threw a year-old half-boy out of an upstairs window, and followed him herself, while a fourteen-year-old boy escaped unaided. The father, on finding the two girls had not got out, tried to get in to save them, but was severely burned. The family took shelter in a barn while the father walked more than a mile through the fire, with nothing on but his night clothes, and his feet bleeding from the burns and bruises, to get help.

Over-Subscription of Victory Loan Probable in County of Hastings

Total Yesterday Shot Up to $1361,950—Rawdon Township Division Wins Honor Flag—Additional Crests for Bancroft—Three Crests for the Marsh Engineering Works—Belleville Somewhat Behind in Race and Must be Speeded Up to Go Over the Top.

Hastings County totals leaped to $1,361,950 with a splendid day's Victory Loan canvass of $135,000. This brings us up another notch above our percentage of time gone, our lead now being 3.44. With the most productive days of the campaign ahead it is assured that we will have a large over-subscription when the campaign closes next Saturday night. Although nearly every district is doing splendidly there are still a few which are holding our totals back, among these being Belleville which has not started yet to bring in the big returns expected.

Rawdon Township, which has always done so well in previous Victory Loan campaigns, won its Prince of Wales' Flag yesterday, having piled its percentage up to 100.22. Messrs. Thos. Montgomery, T. J. Thompson, and Dr. J. D. Bissanette are all veteran canvassers and each year have made a name for their district.

Another crest for their flag was also won yesterday by Dr. A. T. Embury and Mr. D. H. Morrison, of Bancroft, their percentage now being 139.50. The Marsh Engineering Works have also captured three additional crests for their employees' honor banner. This campaign holds the highest record of any industrial organization in Hastings County.

Armistice Celebration. All is in readiness for the big armistice celebration at the Armouries tonight. A splendid orchestra has been engaged for dancing and comfortable arrangements made for all those who attend. Being purely an evening of entertainment for citizens, no money is to be made from proceeds. Admission is free. The only money which can be spent will be on the splendid home-made refreshments which are to be sold at cost price and in the elimination dance. Numerous enquiries have been made about this event, many people being under the impression that the $50.00 bond prize will go to the best dancing couple. This is not the case. In order to enter this event, couples will be asked to pay an entrance fee of one dollar for which they will receive a ticket with two numbers both corresponding to it. One number will be placed in a box and the other kept. As the dance proceeds the music will stop from time to time and several numbers will be picked at random and called. People holding numbers called will stop dancing and in this way the dancers will gradually be eliminated to one couple who will receive the $50.00 bond prize. The proceeds from this dance will go to pay for the prize and any money left over will go towards the evening's expenses. This event will not be held if less than fifty one dollar entrance fees are not paid.

The United Farmers of Ontario

To the Farmers of Ontario:

The Victory Loan 1919 is of vital interest to the farmers of the Province of Ontario. This will be readily recognized when it is realized that of the total proceeds of the 1918 Loan over $200,000,000 or 34% of the Loan was advanced to Great Britain and her Allies or the purchase of Canadian wheat and other foodstuffs.

If the farmers of the country are to receive good prices, with a ready market for their products, it is all important that there should be an over-subscription. Then in addition there is the fact that the Loan affords a good investment, almost double the rate of interest obtainable at any of the Banks on deposits, with the whole of Canada as security.

I would like to commend the Loan in the strongest possible way to the farmers of Ontario, and hope from the rural districts a large volume of subscriptions will be forthcoming.

Yours for the Victory Loan 1919, and Prosperity.

The Experience of a V. L. Canvasser

One of Toronto's genial canvassers called upon a prospect on Monday, a manufacturer by the name of D. M. Grouch. Mr. Grouch was very curt and suggested to the canvasser that he would give the matter his consideration, and would reply in writing. The letter which duly arrived, read as follows:—

Referring to our conversation of yesterday, relative to the above matter, I beg to advise you that I have been held up, held down, and bagged, walked on, sat on, flattened out and squeezed; first by the Canadian Government for war tax, the Excess Profit tax, Victory Bonds, Thrift Stamps, Capital Stock tax, Merchant License tax, and auto tax, and by every Society and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent to extract what I may, or may not, possess.

From the Society of "John the Baptist," the G. W. V. A. G. A. C., United Veterans League, the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the Purple Cross and Double Cross, the Children's Home, the Dorcas Society, Salvation Army, the Boy Scouts, Jewish Relief, Belgium Relief and every hospital in town.

The Government has so governed my business that I don't know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined and re-examined, informed and commanded, so that I don't know who I am, where I am, or why I am. All I know is that I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race; and because I will not sell all I have, and go-out and beg, borrow, or steal money to give away, I have been cursed, discussed, boycotted, talked ed to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, hung up, robbed and nearly ruined; and the only reason I am clinging to Life is to see what in H--- is coming next.

However, I am a business man, and, as such, I recognize the importance of this Loan, and I can readily see that unless the people of Canada "come across," business in this country will be so rotten that most of us will have to "go across." For that reason I believe we ought to line up, sign up, or shut up.

I am therefore, enclosing my application for $30,000.

Yours truly,
(Signed) D. A. M. Grouch.

A Bad Fire at Lindsay

Lindsay, Nov. 10.—Mr. Duncan Ray, Town Clerk, suffered a heavy loss from fire at an early hour Friday morning, when a wood shed and summer kitchen were almost completely destroyed by fire, while some of the contents in the main part of the house were slightly damaged by water.

The origin of the fire which broke out about 2.30 o'clock, is unknown. In fact the fire was not discovered until it had completely destroyed the woodshed and was licking up the kitchen, which is also a frame structure. The worthy Town Clerk had been attending a function in the Masonic Hall, retiring about 12 o'clock. About 2.30 Mr. and Mrs. Ray were awakened by Mrs. Lownsbury, who informed them that the house was on fire. It was evident that the fire started at the extreme north end of the shed, and worked its way through the brick wall of the main dwelling.

The firemen responded and soon had a stream of water playing on the flames also managing to get the flames under control. Mr. Ray's loss will be considerable. Mr. Smith, a gas and dumb waiter of Kitchener, was struck by a street car, and was seriously injured.

Co-operation of Board of Trade Solicited

Tivani Electric Steel Co., Ltd.,
Belleville, Ont.,
Nov. 10, 1919.

Board of Trade,
Belleville, Ont.
Gentlemen:—

The co-operation of the commercial bodies of Belleville is solicited to assist in the industrial deepwater terminal development, the Tivani Electric Steel Company Limited having secured conditionally the necessary money for such extensions.

I will be pleased to have a conference with your industrial committee and furnish the information relative to the necessary steps that may have to be taken to encourage this investment to be made in Belleville.

The financial and operating experts are subject to call from New York when the active assets are ready for their inspection which this municipality and district has to tender as securities for the money to be advanced for bonds for this class of construction.

Street car services and radial lines are features to be taken into consideration in conjunction with this industrial annex which would reinforce the purchase of more hydro-electric power and enable cheaper rates to be contracted for.

Plans are prepared for fifty bungalow groups of party-walled dwellings, covering a square block area of two thousand square feet with private park and children's bathing pond in the inside centre, automobile parking accommodations, together with one heating plant and laundry facilities to eliminate the high cost of living, the betterment of human efficiency and to maintain the skilled and common labor trades at the least costs.

The allied industries which will surely follow the initial operating plants, producing all high class alloys, crucible and tool steel, will double the amount of the first investment. The iron ores in Hastings County electrically converted into manufactured products will make a telling effect in paying off a portion of Canada's war debt.

Yours very truly,
A. P. GILLIES.

Won Scholarship in Expression

Young Belleville Girl Successful at Margaret Eaton School of Expression, Toronto.

Miss Frances White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. White, 10 Fine street, Belleville, has won honors not only for herself but for her former teacher, Miss Jessie Tuttle. On Friday evening last at the Margaret Eaton School of Expression, Toronto, where she entered in September last upon the full course in expression, Miss White carried off the J. J. Vaughan scholarship and made a fine showing in her chosen field. The young artist has a fine future before her in the work of expression and dramatic art. Her success is considered remarkable, in view of the fact that she has been attending the school for only two months. Her subject at Friday night's recital was, "A Cattle Thief" by Pauline Johnson, the Indian poetess. Col. Nasmith, who was one of the judges in making the announcement of the winner, said that she carried her message to the audience.

Miss White was a pupil of Miss Jessie Tuttle for some time and a great deal of credit is due to her careful tuition and her inspiration.

Going Up in the Air As a Way to Get Well

London, Nov. 10.—The employment of airships as sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis and other diseases is advocated by a doctor who was attached to the British air force during the war. The patients, it is pointed out, would be able to live for several days or even weeks, at a height of about 5,000 feet, enjoying complete rest and breathing air as pure and invigorating as that of any of the famous mountain resorts, which only the rich can afford to visit. The big airships built by Great Britain for war purposes, the doctor says, can be fitted up as sanatoria and except in very bad weather can cruise about for weeks at a time.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CHARACTER EDUCATION IN RELATION TO CITIZENSHIP

Epoch Making Convention at Winnipeg of Educational Leaders From Every Province and From Other Countries.

(Reported for The Ontario by Gordon F. Reeves, of Port Arthur, graduate of Belleville High School.)

In attendance, in speakers, in interest and in achievement, the National Educational Conference looking towards Canadian citizenship may consider itself as epoch-making in its success. Delegates to the number of fifteen hundred gathered from every province in the Dominion. There were represented not one creed, but all the principal religious bodies yet the meeting was in no sense of clerical flavor. Educationalists of note were prominent, but the academic atmosphere did not dominate the gathering. Financed chiefly by business men—the Rotarians—there was no attempt to dictate a commercial policy. Men's organizations, women's organizations, urban and rural teachers, farmers' organizations, all were present yet none predominant and none ought to do so. The conference was a triumph in spirit and personnel where individuality co-operates.

Prominent Speakers and Their Speeches

Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the Washington State University, of Seattle, advocated that the teachers should not form a union because they are public servants and should remain impartial. He claimed more study should be given to civic and national questions.

Dr. J. I. M. Anderson, director of the education amongst new Canadians in Saskatchewan, declared illiteracy among foreigners the menace of Canada. He strongly urged civic training and did not believe later-marriage should be discouraged. The population of Canada is 8,075,000 with 53 different nationalities and 35 different languages and dialects. Only 45 per cent. are Anglo-Saxon.

Premier Martin of Saskatchewan favored religious education in the schools and urged leaders in churches to get together and frame a fundamental system, that all could approve.

Peter Wright, head of the British Seamen's Union pleaded most eloquently for a wider and national understanding within and without the British Empire.

Professor Alexander of Alberta, urged greater freedom for Canada's teachers and higher salaries.

Women played a prominent part in the conference, the new spirit of co-operation between men and women was shown very gratifying. The numbers of men and women delegates were about equal. Hundreds of alert women were present from all over the Dominion.

Dr. Helen McMurphy represented the Ontario Department of Education and gave the only address by a woman, which was marked by vigor and insight into vital matters. She is regarded as an authority throughout the Dominion on education and child welfare work.

Professor Carrie Derick, of McGill University was the first woman to act as chairman of the conference, where her skill in presiding won admiration. She is the only woman in Canada under title of professor.

Mrs. L. C. McKinney, M.L.A., of Claresholm, Alberta was the only woman chosen to lead in a discussion. She is Canada's first woman member of a legislative assembly.

Mrs. R. F. McWilliams, president of the Winnipeg Council of Women, was a valuable member to the resolution committee, so was Mrs. G. A. Corne of Calgary a delegate from the Trades and Labor Council.

The committee elected to represent Ontario is as follows: Hon. Dr. Cody, Prof. H. J. Coleman, Kingston, Thomas Moore, Dr. Helen McMurphy.

"It is a matter of gratification not only because of national pride but because Canada must be dependent upon her own leaders for steady inspiration that the content of the speeches from Canadians was as wise and inspirational as any delivered." Teachers' salaries must be greatly increased or else in this period of reconstruction Canada can not demand her best men and women to develop its youth. This matter of remuneration must be dealt with in a fair, broad-minded way, for no other profession except that of the church requires so big a standard.

As for achievement of the conference there is now a national council with under it a national bureau whose business it will be to keep watch and ward over Canada's educational policies, and the national conference is to be an annual event.

Drunken Driver of Automobile

Did Thrilling Stunts on Port Hope Main Street.

Port Hope, Nov. 10.—A young man very much under the influence of liquor, did some loop the loop stunts with an automobile on our main street Friday evening, and came within a hair's breadth of running a man down near the Royal Bank. He drove up as far as Brown street and then came down at break-neck speed to the Bank of Montreal. He repeated this stunt several times until his friend signalled to him to stop. He then turned down John street and parked the car near the Opera House. His friend hustled across and endeavored to take charge of the auto, but before he could secure control of the wheel the drunk started up the engine and the friend remained on the running board hanging on for dear life. It is understood that the car was a stolen one from Bowmanville. The number has been secured and if the name of the driver is obtained he should certainly be given the full penalty of the law.

Reckless Shooting on Upper Sengog

Lindsay, Nov. 10.—Parties who carry and discharge fire arms along the river in South Ops are paving the way for trouble. The county authorities will be notified and urged to put a stop to this reckless shooting.

$600 Fire in Lindsay

Lindsay, Nov. 10.—At the early hour of 3.45 o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded on Friday morning and Chief Beadle and his brigade made a hurried run out Albert St. south to the old home of Mr. Alkens, which is now owned by Mr. Bogue, contractor, of Peterboro, and occupied by some Italian citizens. The house was enveloped in flames, which it took the firemen three-quarters of an hour to subdue. Chief Beadle estimates the loss at $400 and the contents at $150. The cause is said to be due to mice carrying matches, as the electric wiring was in good order, and the stove fire out.

On Friday, the third day of Oct. there passed away, after an illness of several months borne with true Christian fortitude Mr. Lawrence Hall of this city, at the ripe age of 79. For many years previous to coming to Belleville, Mr. Hall was a prosperous farmer on the Front of Sidney, where his steady industry and sterling Christian character won for him the respect and esteem of all. Above is shown the new, made-in-Canada Overland 4. It is being manufactured at Toronto by Willys-Overland Limited, who announce that production on a quantity basis has now been reached.

The chassis is illustrated along with the finished touring car model because of its radical departure in spring suspension. It will be seen from the drawing that the "springbase" exceeds the wheelbase by 20 inches. This exclusive "three-point" principle is the basis of the manufacturers' claim that the springs of Overland 4 give it a riding comfort hitherto not realized in a light car of the economical short wheelbase.

Willys-Overland Limited claim that this new Spring Suspension has been subjected to the most rigorous, mechanical, laboratory, and road tests that engineers have ever devised, including 250,000 miles of road testing. The hill-climbing scene above was taken in Hell Canyon, near Albuquerque, New Mexico.

AGRICULTURE SHOULD HAVE A FAIR REPRESENTATION

Mr. George B. Jones of This City Contributes Timely Letter to Montreal Gazette.

Mr. George B. Jones of the Judge Grain Company of Montreal writes of some comments in The Gazette on the result of the Ontario Election as coming from Ottawa, to the effect that the result was due to abnormal mentality caused by the war. The Gazette published this under the heading of "An Agricultural View," and Mr. Jones writes as follows: "Now I am at a loss to know what is meant by 'abnormal mentality.' If it means that the farmers who did more than anyone else to break up the old party lines) assisted by labor, the women and other right-thinking people, have at last awakened to their rights, with a determination to have them, then I agree, but it is not insinuating that there was any lack of intelligence on the part of the people who carried on election, I don't agree, because I believe the farmer and all people connected with the election are just as intelligent as the average man who has in times past represented us. "I think people have awakened to the fact that no one class of men can rule a country like Canada. All classes must be represented. While the farmer is the man who feeds us, all I don't think he even should rule

EXPERIENCE

Coming to Griffin's, Belleville, Wednesday, November 19th

"The most wonderful play in America" - as "Experience," Geo. V. Hobart's modern morality comedy-drama of today is called, comes to Griffin's opera house, Belleville next Wednesday, November 19th for one night only. "Experience" is a joyous combination of the new type of sunshine play and melodrama, without a dull moment in it, and the characters are passionate and pulsating with vitality and nature, too virtuous to be mistaken for anything else except the average man and woman you meet in everyday life. There is that about the play which touches the heart strings of all, giving that feeling of life as it really is, and it is a drama that flows from comedy to tragedy with all known elements of, stake appeal contributing. These characters are impersonated by select players, including many old favorites in their original roles.

In ten unusual and spectacular episodes, "Experience" tells the love story of Youth - the average young man of today - and the adventures he meets when he leaves his home in the country and goes to the big city to make a name for himself. The temptations that he meets are represented by beautiful young girls, who are called by the names of the various vices and virtues they portray in the play. Messrs. Comstock & Gest promise a production "bigger and better than ever" for its sixth season of success. Among the scenes is the Primrose Path of Pleasure, in which the gay night life is shown at its best - or possibly worst. In the corridors of Chance act, a modern gambling house is shown in full operation, with every known device actually being played before the audience. In the House of Lost Souls episode, the terrible effects of drugs on human beings is shown.

Agnes Herndon, Albert Andrus, Fraser Coulter, Claudia Carlstedt, Wheeler, William Betts, Betty Frewen and William Hawkins, all originators of the roles, appear in the notable cast, reinforced by such picked young players as D. Sterret Scanlan, Phil Sheridan, R. Van Rensselaer, Viola Carlstedt, Mando Gage Fildes, Frances Richards Doty, Edward, Blanch Crossman, Ada Howell, Liane Stefano, Vera Ruby, Margaret Broadnax and Anna Rowe

O'RAY-McCAULAY. The church of St. Francis, Frankford was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday, Nov. 4th at 3:30 o'clock when Miss Margaret McCaulay, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCaulay, was united in marriage to Mr. Bernard O'Ray, son of the late James O'Ray, by Rev. Father O'Reilly. This toast was coupled with the name of Grand Master Harcourt who received an ovation when he arose to speak. The grand master is a natural humorist but the humor is not introduced to give evidence of smartness but rather to afford a setting for their inspiring messages that he always delivers. "We thought, a year ago" said the grand master "that when the armistice was signed our troubles were ended. They were in reality only begun. We now had foes at home more difficult to fight than those abroad. We now see class arranged against class, each seeking its own selfish interests. It was the purpose of good Masonry to create harmony and remove class hostilities. He deprecated the tendency to bombast. We can't do anything any more, even to the sale of Victory bonds, without fireworks, brass bands and collections. He didn't like to hear a Mason say "Masonry is the only religion I require." Such a declaration was unfair to Masonry. The purpose of Masonry was not to induce a man to neglect his church. It was not a religion. The purpose of Masonry was to serve man. Man was not made to serve Masonry. Following the Grand Master's address Bro. Gray recited with fine dramatic effect "The Face on the Barroom Floor," and was heartily cheered at its conclusion. "Armistice Day" This toast was honored by an address of wonderful power and masterly eloquence by the Deputy Grand Master, Lt. Col. Poston whose eulogy of those whose noble deeds won the war aroused the brethren to patriotic enthusiasm. Bro. Dr. McQuade gave a beautiful rendition to the vocal solo, "Dear Old Pal of Mine" and as an encore "Mother Machree" "Prince Edward District" No more popular or capable exponent of the virtues and excellences of Prince Edward District No. 13 could be desired than the district deputy grand master, Rt. Wor. Bro. Chas. J. Symons. The D.D.G.M. was received with a tremendous volume of enthusiasm that was almost embarrassing in its effusiveness. But here, as on his other visits the district deputy gave eloquent expression to his thoughts and was again warmly applauded when he had finished.

Little Girls Were Burned to Death

Port Arthur, Nov. 12.—Two girls, aged six and seven years, daughters of Otto A. Strey, farmer, were burned to death in their home in Dorion township, when fire destroyed it about midnight Friday night. The father escaped from downstairs, taking a three-year-old boy with him. The mother threw a three-and-a-half year old boy out of the upstairs window and followed him herself, while a fourteen-year-old boy escaped unaided. The father, on finding that the two girls had not escaped, tried to get in to save them, but was severely burned. The family took shelter in a barn, while the father walked over to a mill through the snow, with nothing on but his night clothes, and his feet bleeding from the burns and bruises, to get help. The Real Liver Pill—A torpid liver means a disordered system, mental depression, lassitude and in the end, if care be not taken, a chronic state of debility. The very best medicine to arouse the liver to healthy action is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are compounded of purely vegetable substances of careful selection and no other pills have their fine qualities. They do not gripe or pain and they are agreeable to the most sensitive stomach.

Alleged Blasphemy on the Reservation

Tyendinaga, Bylaw, Has No Jurisdiction Over Federal Wards. Lewis Loft, a well known resident of the Indian Reservation in Tyendinaga, was charged in Deseronto police court, before Magistrate Bedford on Tuesday afternoon by Jacob Hill, his father-in-law, with having on October 26th, at the Indian Reservation in Tyendinaga, used blasphemous language to Jacob Hill, contrary to a bylaw of the township of Tyendinaga. Mr. Wm. Carney appeared for the prosecution and Mr. W. Mikel, K.C., for the defendant. The objection was raised to the Police Magistrate trying the case on the grounds that he had no jurisdiction to deal with the alleged offence committed on the Reserve under a bylaw passed by the council of the Township of Tyendinaga, that the township had no jurisdiction affecting Indians, that they are wards of the Dominion Government and that only the Federal Government had the right to regulate their doings. The magistrate gave effect to the objection. The case was not proceeded with, each party agreeing to pay one half the costs. Peterboro, Nov. 12.—Elias Kerteson, Driscoll terrace, was fatally injured, and William MacDougall, 201 Ridgeway street, seriously hurt Monday evening at 6 o'clock, when the belt one of the elevators of the Quaker Oats Company's plant broke, hurling the occupants down several stories. MELVILLE

Most of the buckwheat has now been garnered, but the dry, brown shocks of corn still stand like wary sentinels over the late autumn fields. Farmers are busy turning the dark brown furrows, weather conditions being most favorable for such work. Owing, however, to the excessive rainfall in the spring, the land is plowing hard. For this reason, much disappointment was felt in the farming community when the tractor demonstration, which had been planned for Tuesday last, on Mr. Geo. Ryckman's farm, 3rd concession Hillier, failed to materialize on account of rainy weather. Farmers are looking forward to the event in the near future. The use of the tractor may help the farmer to solve the problem of the scarcity of sufficient help on the farm. MISS GUEST TELLS OF HER WAR EXPERIENCES

Was Engaged in Hospital Work and in Organizing England Along Agricultural Lines and For Women's Institutes—View of the Revolution.

Experiences in the Great War and observations on the political and social condition of the world today formed the subject of one of the finest addresses ever delivered before a Belleville audience.

Principal P. C. MacLaurin occupied the chair and expressed the pleasure of the school in welcoming back Miss Guest to Belleville.

Miss Guest was warmly received as she rose to speak. Her story of what she saw and her reflections prove her the closest of observers.

After leaving Belleville, she was engaged for a while in institute work in 1916 she went across to England on an American vessel.

While the States were neutral, there was no neutrality in the U.S. navy, but the sailors kept up the cannon.

Miss Guest spent nine months in Northampton War Hospital which had a thousand beds.

The war hospitals were the best I have ever seen. You in Canada, I believe, suffered more than we did in England.

The revolution that is pervading the world is the community spirit. Every person must do some work and also be assured a living.

Canada's national schools gave Canada a lead, but England has passed the most wonderful educational bill. Every little public school is the best fort and every High School is the best citadel of peace.

The people of August, 1914 were narrow minded and insolent and for the next three years. The navy was flaunted, but the people doped themselves into belief that they were not wanting power because Britain faced her problems.

Tribute to Fallen Orange Members

An impressive service in memory of the fallen brethren of the Orange Lodges of Belleville, Nos. 274 and 2619 was held in St. Thomas' Church on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. A. L. Gean, county chaplain.

As the county chaplain read the names of the three fallen Belleville brethren the congregation stood. The Rev. A. L. Gean said that their bodies lie in Flanders or France, the white crosses at their heads.

The woman who doesn't know her own mind hasn't much to worry over. If a mountain refuses to come to some men, they put up a bluff of their own.

Little Boy Run Down by Car

Lindsay, Nov. 8.—About four-thirty Thursday afternoon, Johnny Amos, son of Mr. Amos, York St., was struck by a car, driven by Mr. Robt. Barr. The accident occurred on Kent street, in front of Mr. Bride's store.

The speaker commented on the fact that Belleville had not yet given a public reception to all returned men. They should be brought together and appreciation shown of their great service.

It was natural of Orangemen to rally to the flag when threatened by one of the vilest enemies on earth. Sin entered a clean world. The punishment pronounced upon that sin was death. We look on death as one of the saddest things in this world but St. John, the Divine, says: "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord, even so saith the Spirit for they rest from their labors."

The fallen Orangemen from this city are: Captain W. H. Hudson, L.O.L. 2519; Pte. Fred Coburn, L.O.L. 274 and Pte. Brown, L.O.L. 274.

Clive, Alta., Nov. 10.—(Special)—After two years of suffering from neuralgia, lumbago, and rheumatism Mrs. Jones, a highly respected resident here, is telling her friends that she owes her new lease of health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I cannot recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills too much," Mrs. Jones states in her enthusiasm. "I would not use any other kind."

"My sleep was broken and unrefreshing, I had dark circles around my eyes and I was always tired and nervous. I was low spirited, my memory was failing, my limbs were heavy and my ankles swelled."

All Mrs. Jones' troubles are symptoms of kidney trouble. If you have any two of them, ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills will not help you.

Conductor Hansford Broke His Leg

Lindsay, Nov. 8.—Conductor Chas. Hansford is in the General Hospital at Belleville, suffering from a broken leg. He was assisting in making up his train at Hoard's a small station near Campbellford, three weeks ago when the accident happened.

You'll not find the least difficulty in choosing a becoming style in a fashionable Winter Coat from our attractive November showings.

CRYING BABIES

I do not know much about babies but some young fathers have given me their experiences with persistently crying babies. When Edison, the inventor, became a father, some of his assistants desired to do something to celebrate the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hatcher moved off our line on Monday to go to Belleville. Mrs. Owen Roblin is spending several days this week with her cousin Mrs. A. Hall of Belleville.

Make Your Dreams Come True

Fond parents dream of a bright future for their children.

They dream of the literary and musical education they are going to give their daughter, and of the high position she will take in her sphere of womanhood.

They dream of the education they are going to give their son and vision him some day as a clergyman, a famous lawyer, an eminent physician, a prominent financier, or a captain of industry.

But to make these dreams come true —or even partly true—requires foresight, planning and money.

To provide the money what plan so wise as to buy Victory Bonds for each child?

Thousands of parents bought Victory Bonds for their children in 1917 and 1918

Surely you will be among the thousands of loving parents who will buy Victory Bonds for their children—this year?

Victory Bonds may be bought on instalments at such easy terms that every parent who so wishes may buy

Masons of Tweed Have Joyous Night

Chas. J. Symons, D.D.G.M., Pays Official Visit to Kingsport's Metropolis.

R. Wor. Bro. Chas. J. Symons, district deputy grand master of the Masonic fraternity in this district, paid an official visit to Tweed lodge No. 228 last night. He was accompanied by a number of brethren from this city who are prominent in the craft. The Tweed lodge extended a right royal welcome and made the visitors feel thoroughly at home.

The degree bear of the lodge exemplified the first degree in the presence of the D.D.G.M. and were highly complimented for their skill and proficiency. The following brethren occupied the various chairs:

W.M.—S. McCrea
S.W.—R. T. Graham
J.W.—C. G. Davey
S.D.—J. McNaught
J.D.—Fred Houston
S.S.—H. F. Corbett
J.E.—Will McCaw
I.G.—T. H. Snyder
Tyler—T. S. Rath
Sec.—W. W. Garrett
Treas.—M. E. Mackenzie

The team was much handicapped by the absence of the master of the lodge, Wor. Bro. Farrar, but their work was considered most creditable.

An interesting feature of the lodge program was the presentation by the district deputy, of a past master's jewel to the I.P.M. Wor. Bro. Davey, who made a fitting acknowledgment.

The "Fourth" degree was a scene of animation and joyousness as the brethren surrounded the abundantly laden board in the main hall. Wor. Bro. A. E. Smart presided very ably as toastmaster.

The toast to "The King" was sponsored with loyal enthusiasm by ex-Roeve Dr. Bowdler.

"Canada and the Victorious Canadians" found an eloquent champion in Dr. W. F. Mather.

"The Grand" was the toast assigned to R. Wor. Bro. Symons who in his forcible and impressive way eloquently expounded the inner principles of masonry showing that the great order was established upon the rock of brotherly love, relief and truth. Bro. Symons was highly praised by the brethren for his masterly exposition.

"Visiting Brethren" found expression in happy addresses by R. W. Bro. F. Davey, W. Bro. M. D. Belleville, W. Bro. Morley Day, master of Eureka lodge, Belleville, and Rev. E. O. Seymour, of Bath.

"Tweed Lodge," proposed by R. W. Bro. Symons, was upheld in able responses from Wor. Bro. McCrea, Bro. Rev. A. E. Smart, Bro. Sandy Grant, ex-M.P.P., Bro. J. W. Lawrence and others.

"The Candidate" was wittily replied to by Bro. S. A. Beatty, principal of Thamesburg public school. "The Ladies" had eloquent champions in Wor. Bro. C. G. Davey and Bro. M. E. Mackenzie.

The National Anthem closed one of the red-letter nights in the history of Tweed lodge.

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many are born with them. Sp. is them suffering by using Mother Gray's Worm Expeller, the best remedy of the kind that can be had.

Give the children music. If you feel you cannot afford a Piano, buy an Organ. We have them in all shapes and sizes.—C. W. Lindsay, Limited.

John E. Dunton, of Brantford, Ont., accused of whipping his grown-up daughter, settled the suit by paying her $2,000.

STRENUOUS EARNESTNESS IS A CHARACTERISTIC OF DRURY

Cares Nothing for Forms and Ceremonies—Lives Simple Life and Has Faith in Humanity—His Remarkable Memory.

By W. L. SMITH.

Editor of the Farmer's Sun.

Earnestness—strenuous, virile earnestness—this is the outstanding characteristic in the mental and moral make-up of E. C. Drury. Earnestness runs through all the activities of life in his case. It bubbles over like fizz on those wide-topped glasses of anti-prohibition days when he expatiates on the virtues of dual-purpose shortbreads. It fairly boils over under the merits of sweet clover or under discussion. But even Webster's unabridged fails to furnish a combination of words that would do justice to the blinding earnestness expressed by eye, hand and voice when E. C. turns himself loose on that sum of all the villainies political—the Canadian tariff. The leader of the Legislative Assembly group of the U. F. O. must have first seen the light during the progress of an old-time Methodist "protracted meeting." In no other way could such prodigious earnestness have been born in him.

The chief characteristic that came with nativity has been accentuated by the line of life work followed since a maturity that began early was reached. On Sundays, as local preacher, this young man eloquent may be heard urging sinners, in the usually accepted sense of the word to repentance. On any other day of the week that can be spared from the home work of the farm on which E. C. represents the third Drury generation an equally fiery call to political sinners to see the errors of their ways, may be heard coming from the same source.

Two Characteristics

Two other notable characteristics one possessed by the new leader simplicity in living and an almost child-like faith in mankind in general—save only in that not inconsiderable portion of the human race proven beyond redemption, politically and otherwise. No man cares less for forms and ceremonies than does E. C. Drury. That sort of thing makes no appeal to him whatever. It is what the other fellow carries under his hat rather than the hat itself, it is the heart within, not the clothes without, by which men are judged by the coming Premier of Ontario. The cocked hat and silken hose, the glitter of uniform and the rustle of silks that mark the opening of a Legislature will leave him cold. The well reasoned argument, backed by conviction, come from what source it may, will challenge his whole attention at once.

Has Retentive Memory.

One exceedingly valuable qualification for his new office Mr. Drury possesses—a remarkable retentive memory. Dick Armstrong the Young Conservative of the nineties, will remember "Dick" and the Young Liberals of the same date have not forgotten him, once said that Sam Blake had a memory like a wet blanket—anything thrown at it stuck there. That is the sort of memory Drury has. But he does not depend on memory alone. He is a glutton for reading, for worth while reading. Even the Tall Tamarack of Luther, the late John McMillan, had nothing on him for real love for blue-books. No girl in her teens, poring more earnestly over the latest love story than does Drury over the voluminous report of the Auditor General or the annual Trade and Commerce returns for Canada. But his reading is much wider than this statement would indicate. The Bible and Shakespeare, Macaulay and Dickens, the best literature of the English language, find in him a keen and intelligent appreciation.

Is Strong on Platform.

All these things—wide reading, a memory that holds earnestness based on conviction and a strong and yet clear voice that carries well—will help to explain Mr. Drury's strength on the platform. And on the platform no one who has heard him need be told that he is strong. There are, indeed, few men in public life who can make a better or more convincing speech than can this U.F.O. champion on any subject of which he has made himself master. And this is said, notwithstanding the fact that he has been known, on occasion, to turn a Nelson eye to two and when three, four or five, real good hitting posts before finally tying up for the night. Combined with a high order of platform ability their is a corresponding weakness, although the weakness does not equal the strength. And here another Blake story may be told. It is said of Edward Blake that, after one of his masterly efforts in the House of Commons, in which he had said all there was to be said on a question, he would lay his head on arms outspread on his desk utterly heedless of what followers were saying after him by way of repetition. Drury is not quite so bad as that. He does not go to sleep. He only reads the editorial page of whatever paper lies at hand, unless that paper happens to be the Toronto Telegram.

Speaks His Mind.

Another weakness has in it grave possibilities of danger. Freedom of speech is such a consuming passion with this spokesman of agriculture that he is apt to be a little too free in his interpretation. He carries Wilson's idea of open diplomacy to a rather extreme point at times. That almost child-like simplicity already referred to, and a confiding nature, are apt to lead to the making of statements and the imparting of confidences that world-wise politicians never indulge in save when the door is closed tyed and seldom then. There are times to speak and times to keep silent, silent in several languages. In one particular Drury is a peculiar contradiction in the work of the farm he is industry itself. The injunction "whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do with all thy might" is ever in mind when on home acres.

Mentally there is an extraordinary combination of untiring industry and amazing impudence. When Drury takes up a subject in which he is interested he gets to the bottom of it before he finally quits. But efforts to get him started, or to keep him going at the dull routine of prosaic business, have at times brought his friends almost to despair. There seems in such cases to be an inconquerable disposition to put off until tomorrow the thing that should have been done day before yesterday. It is rather a pity that those fine old beech trees, well laden with pillable rods, that once lined the Pekehang road, had all disappeared before E.C. started to school. Judicious applications of the rod at that time might have led to greater application in another way on the part of the victim later on.

Honest and Sincere.

But the retort, made by a young husband, who complained of the discovery that his wife was not an angel, fits in here. "A nice sort of mate you would make for an angel! No woman is altogether perfect, and all men fall still farther short of perfection. Good qualities must be set off against other qualities, and when this is done in the case of E. C. Drury, the weight drops to a satisfactory level on the right side. There is transparent honesty of purpose, whole hearted sincerity, boundless enthusiasm, a wide outlook based on equally wide knowledge, and a capacity for expressing in impeccable English and in pleasing voice, opinion based on careful and painstaking enquiry. Talking him by and large Ontario's next Premier will measure up to his job, and will not be ashamed by comparison, even with the greatest of his predecessors." W. L. SMITH.

Death of Former Resident of Tweed

Cordelia Jane Houston, widow of the late Wm. H. Houston, died at Victoria, B. C., on Tuesday, October 28th, in the 81st year of her age. Deceased whose maiden name was Cordelia Jane Van Norman was born near Odessa in January, 1839, and was married to her late husband 61 years ago. For many years, they lived in Tweed and left here 17 years ago for Winnipeg, where in 1910, Mr. Houston passed to his reward. In 1914 Mrs. Houston removed to Vancouver where she resided with her daughters until the time of her death.

Her death is attributed to a fall on July 11th of this year when she sustained a broken hip. She was given the best treatment that could be procured at Jubilee Hospital but the shock and injury combined with her advanced age was more than her physical strength could withstand and she passed away. Three sons and four daughters are left to mourn her loss, namely: John W. of Toronto; Florence O. and Geo. A. of Winnipeg; Mrs. Gordon A. Armstrong, of Victoria.

Departs This Life in Prime of Manhood

A sad death occurred at Hotel Dieu, Quebec City on Monday, October 27th, when Chas. Goulet, a former resident of Humberford, passed away in the 33rd year of his age.

About a year ago the deceased was afflicted with the "flu" and after recovering sufficient to move around he came to Tweed and spent several months at his parental home to recuperate. He returned to his position in July but shortly after was advised by his physician to lay aside from work and take hospital treatment. He acted upon this advice but notwithstanding the best medical attention he grew weaker and weaker until death relieved him of his sufferings. The cause of death is attributed to heart trouble resulting from the flu.

Interdenominational Forward Movement

These truly are strenuous days, a time of innovation and change, a time of tearing down and building up to an almost startling degree. Ontario has just passed through an election contest which revealed something like a revolution in the political sentiments and ideals of the people, and a referendum campaign which resulted in the abolition through this province of the legalized sale of alcoholic beverages. Just now we are in the midst of a great Victory Loan campaign which gives promise of going far beyond its objective. At the same time another campaign is being inaugurated which, if successful, will greatly surpass any and all of the others in vital importance and lasting benefit to our country and to the world. This is the interdenominational Forward Movement, which extends throughout the Dominion and includes all of the Protestant churches. The objects of this great movement are manifold and comprehensive. It aims to quicken the spiritual life and zeal of the whole church membership; to enlist as great a number of men and women as possible for personal service and through these to carry on a man to man evangelistic campaign in an endeavour to interest as many as possible in matters pertaining to their own spiritual welfare and to the extension of God's Kingdom throughout the earth; to secure volunteers for life service as missionaries, missionaries, deaconesses etc., sufficient in number to meet all the requirements of the church; to enrol a great band of men and women pledged to regular and earnest intercession for the success of all the objects of the Movement, and to raise money enough to ensure the efficient carrying on of the evangelistic, educational, missionary and every other phase of religious work at home and abroad of the heathen world.

It is a stupendous project, comprehensive in its scope, inspiring in its ideals, a project great enough to arouse the interest and stir the imagination of the whole Canadian people, a project destined beyond any doubt to be far-reaching in its uplifting influence upon the nation and the world, and deep-reaching in its effect upon individual life and character.

The campaign is being splendidly organized, and there is every reason to believe that every objective aimed at will be fully attained. It is an inter-church movement only in the sense that all of the denominations are carrying on similar lines of work at the same time, and are co-operating to as great an extent as possible, but each denomination has its own objectives, plans its own campaign, and uses the money raised for whatever purposes it may decide.

On Monday evening the official board of Bridge St. Methodist church met for consultation and preliminary organization. After careful consideration, chairman were chosen to organize each of the five departments of the movement and to formulate plans for starting at once a vigorous campaign, in which they hope to enlist the zealous cooperation of every member. This church is aiming at a 100 per cent. efficiency record, which implies at least a 50 per cent. increase in the membership of the church. Sunday school and Young People's Society, so essential at least nine young people for life service, and what is regarded as the most important of all, arousing a greater religious zeal and spiritual fervor in the whole congregation.—Contributed.

Even after slates were invented people continued to multiply on the face of the earth. Uncle Sam is pictured as a thin, cadaverous-looking man, but he has a strong constitution, just the same.

Buyer Protected By Advertising

No Reputation to Protect. All this applies to the retail merchant as a class but it does not apply to the small order business. The man or woman who buys goods from a catalogue house is not protected by the manufacturer of the goods for the reason that most manufacturers who sell goods to the small order houses do not place their names upon the goods and therefore have no reputation to protect.

The great majority of articles listed and illustrated in the mail order catalogues are included in what is known among manufacturers as "stepped" stuff. These articles bear the name of the mail order house which sells them instead of the manufacturer who makes them. It can readily be seen that any manufacturing concern which turns out goods that do not bear its name or trade-mark is likely to be a very unreliable institution. It is not built up any reputation on the quality of its goods for its products have nothing to distinguish them from the products of any other concern. With no reputation to sustain and no chance of creating a general demand for its goods the only concern of a manufacturing institution of this kind is to make stuff as cheaply as possible in order to obtain the largest possible profit on its products.

Same Price World Over. These facts are chiefly responsible for the generally prevailing idea that the home merchants do not sell goods as cheaply as the mail order houses sell them, but they cannot sell the standard, guaranteed products of responsible manufacturers at the same price at which the mail order house sells its nameless, unbranded merchandise. Standard goods bearing a registered trade-mark sell for the same price the world over and the manufacturer's guarantee stands back of them when they are sold in the smallest village in the country just the same as when they are sold in the stores of the largest cities.

This is what the national advertising of the manufacturers has done for the consumers of the country. It has enabled them to go into their home stores and buy merchandise which they know from past experience of the manufacturer will give them satisfaction. They are not buying blindly and hopelessly what they buy from the merchant in their home towns. They are buying with the knowledge that they are getting their money's worth. When they buy advertised brands they are getting double protection, that which is afforded by the responsibility of the retail merchant and that which is given by the reputation and guarantee of the manufacturer. When they buy the unknown brands of goods that are offered by the mail order houses they are getting neither kind of protection.

Painted U. F. O. on Horses Hips

OHATHAM, Nov. 4.—A Harwich township farmer laid a curious complaint before High Constable Peters this morning alleging that on Saturday when he went to water three of his horses, he found that the initials U.F.O. had been painted in large letters on the horses' hips.

Children Perish in Burning Home

TRENTON, Nov. 6.—Two small children of Benjamin Hatfield, of Murray township, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the farm-house.

About 6 o'clock Mr. Hatfield and his wife went to the barn to do the milking. Fifteen minutes later they noticed flames bursting from the frame house, where they had left their three children alone and sleeping. Running to the house Hatfield smashed a window and pulled the baby from its cradle. Getting a ladder he made an entrance to the upstairs room where the other two children slept. In the smoke and flame the father groped his way to the bed, but found it empty. He was forced out by the smoke, but made another heroic effort to locate the children. He could not find them, and nearly lost his own life in the effort.

KNOCKED OFF BICYCLE

A serious accident was narrowly averted in Kingston when a cyclist was run into by a motorist. The cyclist was thrown off his wheel, which suffered damage, and he sustained several scratches and a shaking up. Apart from this no serious results ensued, and even the automobile was uninjured.

BOY FOUND AFTER FIVE YEARS' SEARCH

To suddenly disappear from home as if the earth had opened and swallowed him, and to turn up five years later, after his relatives had given him up for dead, is the experience of James Kenneth Duval, of Simcoe, Ont., who left his home December 3, 1914, when his request was refused by his parents.

Duval was a second form student at the Simcoe High School, tipping the scales at 145 pounds, and well over the average size for a youth of his years, when he endeavoured to gain his parents' consent to serve his country overseas. He left without avail. His relatives finally concluded that he had gone to France and made the supreme sacrifice.

Fate, however, was kinder to Kenneth Duval. A few days ago his mother received a letter written by her boy to a chum, from Germany, where he is now with the American army of occupation. The letter stated that the runaway was in the best of health and thoroughly enjoying his job with Uncle Sam.

STOLEN RUG IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Lindsay, Nov. 7.—A daring thief and one with a considerable amount of galle, walked into the Butler House recently and stole a large and expensive rug from the sitting room floor. The robbery was committed in broad daylight, and the wonder is that he did not carry away the other rug on the same floor.

"GOVERNMENT BY INJUNCTION"

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

Action of the Federal Attorney General in going before an Indiana Court and securing a temporary writ of injunction restraining the officers of the United Mine Workers of America from aiding and enforcing the strike just called, raises a new issue in the present industrial conflict, new and yet old—"Government by injunction," as the miners designate it.

This is the first time, however, that the federal government has taken such legal steps to suppress a strike, because of the direful effect on the nation and the people generally such a sweeping and all-comprehensive strike implies. Coal is the base of all industries vital to the nation, and 500,000 miners will not be permitted to paralyze the industries of the 100,000,000 people in this country. But the miners have gone on strike in defiance of the injunction, which, of course, was served only on the leaders and those who ordered the strike. Employers of labor in their private capacities have gone before courts and received their aid in labor difficulties, a union that violated an injunction guilty criminally and civilly. The Danbury haters case is not forgotten, nor are we unmindful how bitterly the labor unions fought the injunction to the last ditch, but were beaten in the end.

The Central Government in the present case sought the blanket injunction, and it was granted by the court "on the broad general powers of the government to enforce its law and to protect the poor people against disaster."

The court's order has behind it the military arm of the United States. If the court's order cannot be enforced, then the government's arm is paralyzed.

It will be recalled that as a year measure the federal government has authority over the fuel supply, and it could, if so minded, take more drastic measures than by appealing to the court for assistance by way of injunction. It will be borne in mind, too, that the issue is between the government and the union. The union heads recognized the government during the war when they requested the fuel administrator to change the wage scale and grant the men higher wages, which was done. Legally the war is still on and hence war measures are effective.

For the moment resort of the federal department to the courts will bring other labor organizations to the striking union. The concern of one of the injunction writ is the concern of all. Already the leaders in the "key unions" are in session planning joint opposition on the ground that injunction may apply to them and lesser unions at any time. The Gomper's organization is on record against injunctions as a strike weapon.

The matter should come to a head all the sooner. The greater issues have been joined. The nation is in two camps. Out of it will come a determination just as firm as was the case with the world war that there shall not be a repetition. If we have witnessed the last great international war we are witnessing the last national industrial war. An American league of industrial arbitration is as necessary as the world league.

So far Canada has not been called upon to meet such a perplexing difficulty as confronts this nation and people, and it is to be hoped she will be free from such a task, but the probability is she will yet have the labor question to solve, especially if the high cost of living continues, as there is every reason to believe it will continue.

The strike in this country so far is remarkably free from violence, but a few weeks of privation, may drive the men concerned into extremes of action which labor itself in sober moments would deplore.

There is now little doubt but that Bolsheviks or I. W. W. leaders are at the bottom of the present conflict. The government is getting after them in earnest, and we may soon hear of many arrests.

Work, Thrift, Education Are the Elements of Canada's Future

Thirteenth Annual Banquet Tendered by Mr. John Elliott to Dairymen of Belleville District, a Most Successful Function

—Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education Delivered Address on After-War Outlook—Mr. Elliott on Prosperity of the Country—Tribute to Host's Efforts to Cement City and Country Together.

"The lucky thirteenth" annual banquet tendered yesterday to the Dairymen of Belleville district by Mr. John Elliott, manager of the Standard Bank in Belleville, proved to be a greater success than any of its predecessors. More guests arrived than could be accommodated at Hotel Quinte and an overflow banquet was held at another hostelry. About two hundred and fifty of the leading agriculturists and dairymen of this section and prominent citizens attended the function.

It is a long time since Mr. Elliott inaugurated a banquet to the dairymen, which proved so successful that it was made a precedent. So yesterday afternoon the thirteenth annual spread was put before the dairymen. All indications point to the continued growth in the future of this unique banquet. What it will ultimately become only time can tell.

The Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education in the Province of Ontario, was the guest of honor. He sat by the side of the host, Mr. Elliott, the toastmaster, Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, being on his left.

It was the first peace banquet since 1913. The coming of peace was reflected in the spirit of the gathering.

Dr. Cody's message was most timely. He dealt with the part of education in meeting the problems incident upon the coming of peace.

Venerable Archdeacon Beamish asked blessing. After the fine spread provided by the cuisine of the Quinte in which roast young chickens played a prominent part, the chairman called the assembly to order.

The toast to "His Majesty the King" was pledged in royal style.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn greeted the assembly with the following remarks: "The thirteenth time and in 1917, $129,000,000, sub. 41,000; in 1918, $395,000,000, sub. 320,000; read letters of regret at inability to attend from 'Messrs. Connes & Bolland of the Robert' Roadford Line, Mr. W. E. Burke and Mr. Dougherty of the Canada Steamships, Jean Wiley and R. B. Faith."

"Our Host"
The chairman proposed the toast "The Health of Mr. Elliott," which was received with musical honors.

Mr. Elliott in reply said that this was the largest and the greatest and largest of his thirteen banquets. He had wondered how he could keep up the high standard of excellence of the public addresses and he had decided to invite the Hon. Dr. H. J. Cody, of St. Paul's Church, Toronto, to deliver the address. Mr. Elliott praised the service of the Hotel Quinte staff for the banquet.

He referred to the death of the late John W. Johnson, M.P.P., who had been a guest at many banquets. Mr. Thomas Watkin, the veteran cheese buyer, had been sadly missed about the board.

Mr. Elliott reviewed the conditions of the cheese industry in Canada and in Belleville district. Cheese started the season at 26 1/2 cents and gradually rose to 32 cents. Then the price was fixed by the government at a low figure. Now it is up and over 30¢ per pound.

Wealth of Canada
The wealth of Canada has been increasing very rapidly. In 1914, the banks of Canada had on deposit $1,000,000,000. Last year the deposits reached $1,200,000,000. Besides $1,200,000,000 invested in war bonds, this means a total saving in five years in deposits and war loans of $2,200,000,000.

The average deposit per capita in 1915 was $225 and in 1914 $125. The national debt in 1919 was $1,735,000,000. In 1914 $325,000,000. Increase in 5 years $1,400,000,000. People's savings represented by deposits for 5 years $900,000,000. Investments in bonds 1,500,000,000 making a total of $2,200,000,000. Increase in national debt in 5 years $1,400,000,000. Surplus savings after paying increase in national debt $800,000,000.

At the present moment there is sufficient money deposited in the banks of Canada to pay off the total net national debt and leave a surplus of $165,000,000.

The deposits in the banks in 1906 were $750,000,000. In 1890 $150,000,000. Increase in 10 years $200,000,000.

Value of Canadian crops in 1919: field crops $1,500,000,000; farm products $700,000,000, making a total of $2,200,000,000.

The government loans in 1915: $100,000,000. subscribers 25,000; 1916, $100,000,000. sub. 35,000;

Assisting you in developing and increasing the wealth and reputation of Hastings and Prince Edward Counties.

"By united action we can do our part as loyal citizens of the Dominion of Canada, a part of the great British Empire and be more worthy of the sacrifices made by Canada's sons on the battlefields of Europe."

Prolonged applause followed the close of Mr. Elliott's address. Mr. John McIntosh sang "The March of the Cameron Men."

Tribute to Dr. Cody
"The Hon. Dr. Cody is too big a man to let partisanship interfere with public service," said Mr. O'Flynn. It is the feeling that there is no better man in the province to preside over the affairs of education. The chairman then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, the Hon. Dr. Cody, who was warmly received by the big assembly.

"I am pleased to number among my friends, Mr. John Elliott," said Dr. Cody. Mr. Elliott had rendered us a unique service to this city, the whole Dominion. This famous cheese dinner represents one of the most successful efforts to bind together the people for the up-building of the province. One advantage of the banquet is that the people of the city and country grow to understand one another better. We know we can only prosper and build up a greater Canada if we learn the secret of comradeship, which has been emphasized by the war. The secret of success is unity and comradeship. Lord Haig had said at Leicester when given the freedom of the city.

Peace for Mr. Elliott
"The name of John Elliott will be perpetuated forever in this country for his indefatigable efforts for the upholding of the country. The gathering was typically Canadian. There is among them a wonderful combination of stability, resourcefulness and adaptability."

Duty Now to Win Peace
This cheese dinner is the first after the great victory. We have won the war, now we have to win peace. The secrets of the Canadian corps are the secrets of our success in the days of peace.

The first was the mutual confidence between leaders and men. We can never make proper headway if there is an element of suspicion between our leaders and ourselves. The co-operation between the various branches made a great inherent organism. We must have country and town, east and west, all classes and all creeds, co-operate and co-ordinate. The third element of success was preeminence of our men in each branch of the service. Our airmen, artillery men, rifle shots were among the best in the world. The last secret was the iron discipline of the Canadian corps to which the men subordinated their groups or individual interests for the welfare of the whole. Unless we carry these out in civil life, we cannot have national success in peace time.

Empire a Real Thing
We have come to believe that our Empire is a very real thing. Canada as a result of the war finds itself in the mid-stream of world life. In the days to come we shall have to endure world competition in agriculture and manufacturing. To compete we must have the best goods. This can only be done by the application of knowledge and skill and that goes back to the education given to the individual.

Make Canada Worth While
All who came back from overseas came back with a deep affection for Canada. In a ward of No. 4 Hospital in France he saw a homesick soldier who was working maple leaves with yarn, with the name of Canada in the centre in gold. We must make Canada as good and true as our boys thought it was when they were overseas. As you go up and down the country in these autumn days you think Canada is a land worth fighting for, worth dying for and worth living for. Can we not make sound, sane ideals of patriotism can be taught. That our education was sound, was shown on the blood-stained fields of France and Flanders. Education has brought Japan in 50 years to be one of the world's great powers. In a Fort William school Dr. Cody saw 23 children in a class of 23 different nationalities. In English they sang, "O Canada." A little Assyrian girl sang, "O Britain, Our Dear Motherland" and an Italian boy sang, "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall." Dr. Cody predicted that in four or five years Ontario shall have as fine a system of technical schools as anywhere in the world.

Glorious Chances
Canada is a land marked by two things, providential surprises and glorious chances. Voltaire wrote of the war between England and France as being over a land of snow. We are learning more and more of what Canada means as a heritage. We have not until recently known what our mineral wealth means. Dr. Cody said, referring to the barren northland which was revealed as only a coating for untold wealth. A new and glorious Ontario is springing up with a spirit of optimism and boundless hopefulness such as that of the west.

Land of the Second Chance
Canada is the land of the second chance. From many lands have people come with the spirit of adventure and determination. The whole country has afforded that second chance for those people who could not be accommodated in their native land.

In the great war we reached our full stature of natural confidence. Our boys and those remaining at home felt there was a Canadian spirit and that we were a part of that great entity—the British Empire. It is an auspicious day for the banquet, the young Prince Charming having passed through Belleville on the same day.

After War Problems
With the inevitable problems following a great war, we are in the midst of a period of readjustment. I am inclined to think that we in Canada shall come through this period more rapidly than any other country. Our people are orderly and are determined that no lawless element shall ever obtain the mastery in this fair land.

Our Agricultural Wealth
The field and farm products of Canada for one year of $2,200,000,000 were more than enough to pay our debt in one year.

In France the savings of 50 years have been destroyed. In Europe there are no happy surprises in the matter of resources. Here we know not our resources. In Europe the only element to be developed is human efficiency, but in Canada there are two elements to be developed—our natural and human resources. Canada has a $200 war debt per capita and Britain $700. But the Motherland is undaunted.

Work, Thrift, Education.
There are three conditions of our future greatness: (1) Work; (2) Thrift; (3) Education. Let us all pledge ourselves, I will work, I will save, I will learn. If we do, we shall discharge our duty to our native land and may rest content. There is talk that work is a curse. This is a fundamental mistake. Work was a divine ordinance just as it was a divine ordinance for us to rest and pray. If it is work for which you are prepared and not carried on beyond fatigue all is well. There comes in the element of a limitation of work hours.

The Blessing of Work
Some say that perfect happiness lies in four or five hours' work per day, but this would leave us utterly miserable. Work will be a joy and blessing if surrounded with satisfaction. Work produces more. We will never have more money to go around unless we have more work. Any doctrine that says, "produce less" is a fundamental mistake as it means less to go around. We have no place for idlers and parasites.

I have rarely heard of anyone dying of overwork. There was some talk of overwork at nights for school children. I am issuing as a sort of swan song, one letter regarding arithmetic homework. I think more children's eyes are injured by motor rides or attending moving picture shows than by overstudy at home.

Don't Economize on Education
As men of prosperity, don't economize on education, or the salaries paid to teachers. That would be the worst kind of waste. We learned through the war, the value of education. The well-springs of German national ideals were poisoned by wrong teaching. The lessons we have learned should be taught in our schools. The school is the best adjunct in which the

At Flavell, twenty miles west of Trenton, the Prince of Wales boarded the locomotive of the C.P.R. train and personally drove the train into Trenton yesterday.

Before doing this he took the opportunity of shaking hands with each individual of the C.P.R. train crew and staff, to whom he made the following brief address: "Sorry not to have met you all before, but you had your work to do and I had mine. I called on you to say good-bye and good luck, and I will send you all an autographed photo to remember me by."

Orangemen of Belleville and Friends Marked the Anniversary.

Guy Fawkes' Day was celebrated by the Loyal Orangemen of Belleville of both lodges No. 274 and 2819 and their lady friends last evening with an entertainment in the lodge rooms, Front street. There was a big turnout of those who desired to celebrate the discovery of the Gunpowder Plot in November, 1605. County Chaplain, the Rev. A. L. Geen occupied the chair and made a few introductory remarks. Among the artists who took part in the musical and literary program were Mrs. (Col.) A. F. Allen, Mr. H. W. Wrightmeyer, Mr. Fred Sprague, Miss J. Bishop, Mr. E. A. Ridley, Mrs. Luscombe and Miss Georgie Rutten. The feature of the evening was the address of Rev. Canon W. F. A DANGEROUS GAME

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

The Lodge reservations, as they now stand, cannot be made a part of the resolution of ratification, and they should not be. Their effect would be to destroy the possibility of a real American participation in the League of Nations, and so, actually, to destroy the league itself.

This American people do not want, for they are in favor of the League of Nations; they will be quick to see through, and to condemn emphatically, the effort of these opponents of the league, who have failed to kill it with amendments to achieve the same end through so-called reservation.

We are inclined to the belief that the group of men who are responsible for this policy cannot be blind to the fact that in the end they must abandon it. The United States will not repudiate the pledges of service the ideals of international order and peace sealed with the blood of its sons on the battlefields of the world's freedom.

It will not make of itself a Pecksniff among nations by proclaiming its distrust of every people but its own. It will not write itself down a weakling by refusing to co-operate with other nations unless it is exempted from obligations they are willing to assume.

But if this be true; if these men are aware that they cannot hoodwink the people and put over their program, the insistence with which they urge it, is the more discreditable because the less sincere.

To be deliberately fraudulent and obstructive at this perilous time in the affairs of the nation and the world is to be guilty of an unforgivable crime. It is to arouse prejudice and passion to appeal to international jealousies.

Youngest Soldier in the War

A PEASANT SCHOOL-BOY OF BRITAIN, Enlisting at Fifteen, Fought Three Years For France.

Throughout France, from Paris to the humblest village, the eyes and hearts of a grateful people are turned at this time towards the tablets whereon are graven the names of heroes fallen on the field of honor. At such a time the splendor of glory lights up the humble house where was born the youngest soldier of the great war.

It stands in the village of Faouet in Brittany, among the gold and purple of heather and briar, not far from the Gulf of Morbihan, where the fishers of the place and their fellows from Senec, Triscoat and Arzdon spread their pink sails to the breeze as they set out for the sardine catch. Travellers are many in the Breton country these days, and they may not fail to visit the humble cottage where was born Jean-Corantin Carro, who volunteered at the age of fifteen and who died for France three years later.

His age made the lad a member of the class of 1920, and he could have awaited the calling up of the conscript to-day. But as soon as the war was declared he asked his parents to let him volunteer. They gave their permission, for his reasons were their reasons, too. They were Breton peasants they had already given two sons to the army, and they had not need of long deliberation before consenting to this new sacrifice.

The Motto Of His Life. The school teacher of Faouet, Monsieur Mahébeze, had one day said, "Life in itself is nothing if it is not richly filled," and this simple maxim wherein all mortality is ashured, struck young Jean-Corantin with the force of a revelation at a time when he was one of the best boys of the village school. He made of it his device, his rule of conduct and his guide toward the teacher who had thus made clear to him the meaning of human existence, was infinite.

theories and who stood for "a short life and a merry one." Coraro said simply and convincingly: "I never realized the world was so beautiful until I reached old age."

Origin of Some Modern Customs

REMOVING HATS AND GLOVES. Most of These Customs Date From the Days of Armor.

In polite society a man may under no circumstances shake the head of a woman unless his own be bare. This custom like many others, dates from the days of armor, when men wore iron gauntlets, which were removed before shaking hands not on account of any conventional idea, but for the best of reasons—that of avoiding do injury to an unarmed hand. And it is on this account that we see men struggling with their hats and gloves in these days, as if they were lived four or five centuries ago and not in a age when the cause for this unnecessary ceremony has been non-existence for generations.

Another law imposed upon man, namely, that of removing his hat, dates from the same period. On arrival at the castle in days gone by you took off your helmet or entering the hall to bow your host and his friends that such confidence had you in his good will, you were not afraid of your head being unarmored and did not anticipate a surreptitious "buffet" from sword or mace. To enter an apartment or to delay barbing your head within a reasonable time, was tantamount to saying that you did not feel sure of receiving a friendly greeting and preferred to run no risk. And from this eminently practical custom our present ideas on the subject have evolved. The military salute constitutes what some soldiers call "going through the motions" and the meaning of it is that you would be ready to unhelm out of politeness if the exigencies of the moment did not forbid you doing so then.

Using Blank Cartridges. A third custom which comes to us from those days is that of firing "artillery salutes." When guns were used in the days before gunpowder was given up it was considered an act of great courtesy to any great personage who happened to arrive at your castle if you loaded all your guns with blank cartridges and fired them off as he approached. Your reason was the same as for removing your helmet—to show how perfectly you trusted your visitor by emptying your guns of powder.

On His Country's Altar. Alas, Jean-Corantin Carro was never again to see his Faouet. He died at the school where he had the best of masters had revealed to him the true meaning of human life. Feats of bravery at which his officers marvelled brought him promotion to sergeant and then to adjutant. But the epic beauty of this bravery he alone seemed not to realize and after two years with the infantry he held that he had not done enough for the more than the common soldier of Britain. He was troubled, more over, by a scruple. This adjutant of seventeen commanded fifty men, some of whom were double his age. He entreated for them he had a profound respect for them, but he had no authority to impose upon them "pollux," though in truth this authority had been established without question by his courage.

"I am leaving the infantry," he writes, "not because of the misery that is our lot in that arm of the service, but that I found the responsibility of the fifty human lives I command a little heavy for my young shoulders. In the aviation I shall try to show what a Breton of the 11th is worth."

Impatient to imitate and to avenge himself on the world, he had a profound admiration, Jean-Corantin Carro was to find in this new career a glorious death, fit image of the sublime end of his chosen hero. On March 15, 1918, Jean-Corantin Carro was flying over the lines before Verdun when he was attacked by three enemy planes. Incapable of flight, he fought with all his customary energy and succeeded only to the crushing superiority of numbers falling mortally wounded in a plane riddled by bullets. He lies where he fell, beside the road between Bar-le-Duc and Metz where he had mounted guard with the good fighters of the infantry.

If you are looking for the womanly woman for a wife, then search for the girl whose fingers are very long and smooth, and the tips of these same fingers inclined to be square. She should at the same time possess a long, rather slender thumb—not too broad at the top. She is the one to whom you may tell your secrets, knowing they are safe. Tell her also all that may annoy or worry you—she will listen attentively, and at the close she will give you her understanding and her sympathy.

You will be much comforted, for her optimism will send you back to the old world with brighter visions and a lighter heart. She is the one true home woman and will gladly labor to keep it attractive. As she is honest, she will never fail to pay your bills, and your hard-earned money will never be spent on those passing fads. Her wide-awake imagination will see through practical problems, and therefore she will be capable of very quickly and quietly solving them. Her initiative inspiration will serve to better advantage than all your mental and logical conclusions. She is the mother of whom her

FROM THE MAN WHO TILLS

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

The Farmer's National Congress has been in existence almost forty years in this country. It is made up of farmers—men who exclusively work on farms, who know the business thoroughly and who make a livelihood from tilling the soil. It has had a wide influence on national legislation. It is chiefly responsible for rural free delivery of mails, for railroad legislation that abolished open freight discriminations, for postal savings banks and farm loan banks and for parcel post. When this body asks for a legislative measure there is sure to be something practical contained in the request.

This organization closed its annual session this week. Its platform should be written in big letters in the halls of Congress, in State legislative halls and wherever men and women meet. It is so different from the resolutions of professional agitators and common politicians. Legislative that was ever dreamed of cannot by itself right this topsy-turvy world of ours. Work is needed, hard consistent work; and this work cannot be done on Bolshevist hours.

"We know that the forty-four-hour week cannot feed the world, and we proclaim that it cannot clothe it," the resolutions declare. If all the others insist on working shorter hours and striking whenever the fancy moves, why not the farmers? And if they would strike, the other strikers would be insignificant, side issues compared to theirs. The farmer's work, like the housewife's work, is never done. There are times when he works "six hours" before dinner and six hours after it," and does not think that he is an object of sympathy.

children are proud—the sweatsuit from whom a man never cares to stray—and the best friend a man can make in this world.

SHE WHO LIVES FOR ROMANCE

Should you discover that your sweetheart has "fingers of medium length tapering gradually toward a narrow tip, with medium thumb, you have found one who lives for romance. The girl seldom cares how much you income is, but only "Do you love her?" If you have imagination, then by all means use it. Tell her all the fairy tales you can invent, and as long as they deal with your real or pretended emotion for her, she will listen with the greatest attention.

When this hand is small as to size, soft with a short thumb, it would then be the hand of one who loves luxuries in every conceivable form. An easy and smooth life wanted, and nothing else. This woman is quite capable of adorning a rich man's home; but a poor man had better stay away. These women generally demand, and others provide.

Sahara Desert is Not Dry

Some It May Not Be a Desert at All. It is one of the widest belts that the Sahara is perfectly dry. As a matter of fact it rains there, animals and plants live there, and it is inhabited by close on half a million people.

Common Sense Variety

The third type is something like the first, but there is quite a difference when it is carefully studied. Should she have square tipped fingers rather long but the knuckles rather prominent, with a good sized thumb that is flattened at the top—be careful how you speak. Common sense is the watchword of this woman, and her word of honor the second.

As this woman loves good taste, she will at all times prefer to hear what you have in mind, in a manner showing your respect for her mentality. Her own mind is evenly balanced, thoroughly developed, and at all times strictly conventional. To interest this woman you will have to tell her your business, your prospects and your hopes for future success.

Sometimes she is called cold, hard hearted, unloving, and unsympathetic. But this is not so. She simply commands her own emotions, making them subject to her will, and even when she lives devotedly, seldom allows the reins to fall from her practical hands. Constant, practical, sensible and homelike, this woman proves her worth in the end. If her hand is exceedingly long and supple, she will work and slave Nothing in the world is as safe as buying Victory Bonds. Schemes are on foot, in fact, to cut a road right across the desert, enlarge these wells and oases, and generally cultivate a region which has really got its bad name because it had been allowed to run wild for centuries. Round the wells grow fig trees, apricots, peaches, grapes and date palms, which, with very little care, would bring a wonderful profit. One of the greatest troubles, however, the French, who have a protective over the Sahara, have to face is the people who live there. Like the country, they are wild and absolutely unscrupulous not hesitating to rob and murder any traveller who attempts to cross the desert.

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

WITH CARDINAL MERCIER AT THE CANADIAN CLUB

Contributed to The Ontario by Chas. Geo. Smith
B. D. Ontremont, Montreal.

Since coming to Montreal I have heard the most remarkable array of notables of the earth at the Canadian Club. Samuel Gompers, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the Governor-General, General Pan, the Archbishop of York and William Stebbins—these are but a few of the aforesaid "notables" who have spoken to us in the great Rose Room banquet hall of the Windsor Hotel. They have talked about everything under the sun—that ought to be talked about—all the way from "the League of Nations" to Esquimaux and reindeer's meat. And now I have to add another name to this Bead-roll of Canadian Greatness—the person of "Desideratus Peliclan Francis Joseph Mercier"—otherwise known, if you please, by the less jaw-breaking more lovable name of "Cardinal Mercier," who was the guest of the Club last Friday noon.

His coming to the Club this season is an event, even in a club where "events" are commoner than good mushrooms are in the vicinity of the Belleville bowling green. It was an "event" of every angle of life—religious, national, patriotic, heroic, academic, literary, military, domestic and personal. The great Rose Room of the Windsor Hotel was ablaze with light and color for the occasion. The great Union Jack was entwined in a blessed and holy trinity with the tricolor of old France and the flag of gallant little Belgium.

When Cardinal Mercier entered the banquet hall he was accorded an upstanding welcome, that was affectionate and spontaneous and wholehearted—indeed, as he himself said, at no place in all America has he been received with more sincere demonstrations of affection, admiration and respect than in the city of Montreal and at the Canadian Club.

The Cardinal has a most stately, ascetic figure, and this is enhanced by his enormous height. The description of the first king of Israel fits him perfectly—"A chestnut man and a goodly; and there was no man among the children of Israel a goodlier person than he; from his shoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people." He was greeted in the flaming scarlet robe and mitre of a cardinal and as he stood in the midst of a thousand Montreal business men, clean-cut, and modern, he looked for all the world like a celestial angel, a crusader of mediæval ages in old Europe. Added to the scarlet robes and the white border lace was the touch of jewelled gold and those lovely gems of purest ray serene, in the necklaces of his neck, and in the hands of his fingers, and in the crown of his head, and in the richly jewelled cross dangling from it. But the Cardinal most appealed to me when, having removed his little scarlet skull cap, in response to our repeated cheering and clapping, he revealed to us one of the sweetest faces that mortals ever gazed upon—careworn it surely was, and criss-crossed with deepest lines of suffering and privation, and yet such a gracious and fatherly smile. And that lovely smile, very hair and that noble forehead! Again two passages of the Bible express better than any other language I can borrow, the Christian hero of Belgium as he stood in our midst that day: "And Moses was not that the skin of his face shone while he talked . . . and all that sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel."

It is possible my conception of the distinguished guest's true worth and eminence was enhanced by the very simple, unaffected style in which he spoke as he recounted in our ears the incidents connected with the declaration of war by Germany, and little Belgium's determination to resist those brutal Hun invaders to the last man. Emerson said truly "nothing is more simple than greatness; indeed, to be sincerely simple is to be great." He said also "the exact medium between too little and too much." And this statement of the sage of Concord exactly fits Mercier.

Speaking first in English, the Cardinal was at times haltingly slow. He seemed to be in a dreamy mood, and the silence could be felt as he uttered each sentence in chaste English, pronouncing each word so distinctly and with dignified emphasis, but in a few minutes began to speak more rapidly and loudly until he made the very chandeliers and rafters ring with his burning eloquence. And then he did something which, to me, is well nigh miraculous (especially so, as I am singularly lacking in the gift of tongues), namely, he made a second address in French, repeating considerable of his English speech, with embellishments, anecdotes, and personal touches, that the vast majority of Canadian Clubbers present seemed to understand and appreciate. Lucky Montrealers! Lucky bi-lingualists! Nevertheless, hurrah for English! And hurrah for Ontario, where it is well taught, and will be forever spoken world without end!

There is only one other grace of Mercier's I have not referred to in this sketch, and yet he possesses it in boundless measure, and he exhibits it so chastely and unconsciously that it becomes an attribute. I refer to his humility. It is not a meek humility, either, nor an ecclesiastical "Triph Hoop" or "Chadband" couch which always thinks is utterly abominable. No. His humility takes on the hue of deep gratitude to God, and sincere acknowledgement of the part played by the common man of all creeds and no creeds in the great war. And it is crowned by the utter absence of boasting, "side" or egotism. Yet again, as I listened that day, the great Bible multitude seemed so appropriate to Mercier—"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth."

He accepted our kindness—dinner, cheers, words, and crowds and all—he declared, not for himself, but as the humble representative of a devoted, broken, brave little Belgium. He paid high tribute to the Canadians in the great war, and said their sincerity, courage and indomitable loyalty were a wonder of all Belgium and of Europe. He referred to the high ideals and personal honor that animated our Canadian men, and their courage at Ypres, when, after other troops had fallen back before the strange and awful German poison gas they had hurled themselves into that poisonous, hellish breach and saved the day. He added that the Canadian army has a unique distinction in the minds and hearts of all Belgians, since it was the one army which never left one man in the hands of the foe. He paid a tender tribute of Christian respect to our men who had made the supreme sacrifice performing such gallant deeds in Belgium, and said it was a source of deep sorrow to his soul, and he wished to convey to all the mourners the sincere sympathy of his king and country, and also the consoling of the great Heavenly Father and the crucified risen Christ.

At the beginning of the speech Cardinal Mercier, the people of Holland urged King Albert and the Belgians to "play safe" with Germany, and to formally march their army to the frontier, make a diplomatic protest to Germany, yet make no show of force, much less to attempt opposition. They then would save both their honor and their country—at least this was the "Dutch" idea of it. But the brave Albert and his brave people, though helplessly outnumbered, and on paper, beaten before the first shot was fired, refused to act such a hypocritical "Dutch" part—in fact they spurned it angrily.

The Cardinal, himself, was approached by the same incident talk about saving their honor and their country. I fear I became very angry once, he said, for I seized this particularly brazen spy by the breast and shook it as scornfully demanding of him, "Sir, do you know what the word 'honour' means?" With fine scorn the Cardinal asked what would have happened had Belgium played such a cowardly role, with a barbarian horde of Hun whose specialty was the savaging and slaughter of women and children and the ruthless destruction of libraries, universities, churches, homes, and priceless works of art gathered through the long, long ages.

The war, he declared, had welded together the two main peoples of Belgium, namely the Flemish and the Walloons, who heretofore had been the deeply divided. A new national spirit of oneness had been born in the awful furnace of war's afflictions, and the Belgian soul was awakened and it is still broad awake and facing the new dawn.

Finally, the speaker touched all our hearts as he solemnly confessed that, in the darkest hours of those long years of horror, his faith in God, and in the ultimate triumph of the Allies, never once faltered. He said, "I have been constantly sustained by God, and the prayers of dear Christian people of all names and in all lands. He told the personal story of a Belgian miner, to illustrate the Belgian trust that God would never leave them nor forsake them. He said, "I have done your duty. We have done ours. Now let God do His duty!" And this faith and hope was answered in God's good time, and in a way that few of us ever dreamed possible when the war was raging, and he is holding this high note our saintly old hero-guest concluded his speech. And that high note will strike the tune for a thousand Canadian Clubbers in more ringing tones than ever before. "Hill the drum thrum no longer, and the battle-flags are furled, in the Parliament of man, the federation of the world."

WINTER COMING.
The winter's approaching, the frost is encroaching, and turning green verdure to gold; the evenings are chilly and calm. Beach looks silly, and are you prepared for the cold? In pomp you go riding, your swift motor gliding, I often behold you go past; you surely seem stately; I envy you, joyfully—but are you prepared for the blast? Is cool in the cellar, oh, joy-riding fellow, and have you some spuds in the bin or are you just burning the coal you are earning, just blowing your salary in? Oh! Winter is mixing its war paint and fixing to give us a job in the kitchen. There is only one other grace of Mercier's I have not referred to in this sketch, and yet he possesses it in boundless measure, and he exhibits it so chastely and unconsciously that it becomes an attribute. I refer to his humility. It is not a meek humility, either, nor an ecclesiastical "Triph Hoop" or "Chadband" couch which always thinks is utterly abominable. No. His humility

Eggs Dearer: Butter Easier

Many Fowls Offered Today—No Change in Meats.

Eggs were again the feature of the market today, when they sold from 70c and upwards per dozen. The offerings were very much limited owing to the slaughter among fowls on account of the high cost of feed and grain. Quite a number of eggs sold at 70c, the top price of 75c being secured by only a few salespeople. Chickens are easier at $1.00 to $2.50 per pair. Many farmers are killing off their stock. Butter eased off to 58c and 60c per pound. Ducks brooded $1.25 to $1.75 each and a large turkey was offered at $3.25 per pound.

Potatoes sold at $2.25 per bag. Young pigs were offered at $4.00 each. It is reported that in some parts of the country, porkers are selling as low as one dollar each. Apples are quoted at 55.00 to $7.50 per barrel. Meats remained unchanged, beef hindquarters bringing $17 per cwt. Hogs are offered at $16.25 live weight. Lamb is worth 20 cents per pound wholesale. Grains are stationary, oats $1.00 and upwards, barley $1.25 to $1.40. Hay is offered at $21.00 and $22. per ton.

Ten Commandments of Driving

- I. Drive on the right side of the road; it's just as good as the left.
- II. Slow down when approaching a crossroad; it is nearly as dangerous as a railway crossing.
- III. Look out for children. You can never tell what they'll do, and you're always in the wrong if you hit one.
- IV. Try to help instead of hinder the traffic officer; he's there for your good, and he's got a tough job.
- V. Be sure that your "dimmers" really dim; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you probably know.
- VI. Read and obey the warning signs; they're not put up as ornaments and they're made available through a really dim; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you probably know.
- VII. If you feel you've got to speed—do it where it won't kill anybody but yourself.
- VIII. When making minor repairs stop where you can be seen from both directions, otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.
- IX. Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped street car. Some day the jury may call it manslaughter.
- X. Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way won't bring anybody back to life—least of all yourself.

County and District

Early Days in Kitley

Some interesting side lights on life in the Township of Kitley in its early history, the forties and fifties, is made available through the perusal of two old day books belonging to the late James Rudd, a merchant in Frankville at that time. The books have been handed to the Recorder and named by G. M. Leverette of Frankville. Whiskey seems to have been the chief article of commerce at that time and at many different places in the book entries are made in favor of prominent member of families of the township for the sale of whiskey which was disposed of at two shillings (fifty cents) per gallon. The day books cover roughly the period from 1840 to 1854. In the earlier years of the period Mr. Rudd evidently conducted a shoe-making establishment. The price of shoes is shown to be on an average $2.50. The shoes were often paid for in hides and produce such as eggs which sold for 10 cents a dozen. The prices of other commodities were as follows:—Raisins, per lb 25c; vinegar, per quart 9c; brandy per quart 75c; oats, per gallon 25c; beans, per bushel 50c; peas, per bushel 75c; pork, per lb 12c.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Hotel Fire Victim is Related in Lindsay

It is feared that Mr Joseph Thompson, who was one of the victims of the Trafalgar Hotel fire at Belmont, is a cousin of Mrs. Henry Jackson of Lindsay. The hotel was totally destroyed at an early hour on the morning of Nov. 2nd, and Joseph Thompson, a retired farmer, aged 85 and unmarried, who was a guest at the hotel, and a young domestic, perished in the flames. A domestic soldier was seriously injured by jumping from a third story window.—Lindsay Post.

Searching for Auto Thief

H. J. Grasse, chief constable of Toronto holds a warrant for the arrest of C. J. Hughes on a charge of stealing a Chevrolet touring car, model 490, from the Queen City, on Nov. 3, according to information received at police headquarters this morning. Hughes' description is as follows: Age 25 years, height five feet and six inches, slim build, fair complexion, clean shaven, wears dark clothes black cap. He is a returned soldier. The stolen car carried an Ontario license plate numbered 17625; the serial number is 34857.—Brookville Recorder & Times.

Had Miraculous Escape

A party from Napanee had a miraculous escape from death while travelling in an automobile a short distance beyond Cataract a few days ago. The car ran into the side of one member of the party, a little boy, was thrown against the windshield and suffered slight cuts. The party was composed of a man and his wife and three children. Two Kingston men rendered first aid and afterwards word was sent to Napanee and the car which was disabled, was towed there.

Brakeman Killed Near Glen Tay

Frank Hartwich, a C.P.R. brakeman died in the Public hospital, Smith's Falls as a result of injuries sustained when he was struck by a freight train at Glen Tay. He was stepping from the forward door of his van when the train moved forward and the jar given, when the slack ran out, threw him under the wheels, mangle his legs and arms terribly. The unfortunate man was taken to Perth where Dr. Melg then boarded the train and accompanied him to Smith's Falls. He died an hour after being admitted to the hospital. His home was in Ardenade Ontario.

Cobourg on the Aerial Route

That aerial routes throughout Canada are in active steps toward reality is evidenced by a letter received by the town council on Monday evening. When the Aero Club of Canada wrote asking if the town was prepared to build an aerodrome to be operated either by the town or leased to a company Cobourg is one of the aerial routes proposed, and has been inspected by airmen looking for the best site for an aerodrome. How the Prince Was Grieved at Trenton

Graphic Description of Memorable Visit by The Ontario's Special Correspondent—Other News from the Border Town.

About ten o'clock on Wednesday, Chief of Police S. Cottrill made known to the merchants of the town that H.R.H. Prince of Wales, would pass through the town, via C.P.R. shortly after twelve-thirty. The news soon spread, and about that hour the road leading to the C.P.R. station was alive with traffic. Everywhere could be seen autos and footmen. As the C.P.R. engine came through the mountain and slowly crawled over the high bridge, the crowd surged westward as our Prince was supposed to be in his private car. Those who were fortunate enough to be left in the rear, had the best view of the Prince, as he was in the cab, driving the engine. When the train came to a standstill, great cheers met our Prince, as he stepped from the train. Little children pushed toward him, raising their hands to shake his hand. Very kindly he took several at a time and treated all to a handshake. He walked from the engine to the rear of his train, the crowd followed. One old countryman called, "Hello, Master David" and was rewarded by the kindly smile and recognition of Master David. (Which is his Welsh name.) Another was "to handed him a flag, another older one threw him an apple which he dutifully caught with his left hand. One woman remarked, "I thought they said the Prince was always smiling." An enthusiastic photographer called out, "Prince." At once that smile came, as though to satisfy the questioner. One of the number with the Prince called for returned men. One of our boys, Douglas Curry, who had been presented with a medal by the Prince, at Kingston, was again recognized by him. As the train bearing the Prince again pulled out of sight a very much satisfied people turned homeward. They had all seen the beloved Prince, and were unanimous in saying he is splendid and every inch a man. Grace Church has been fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Percy Skitch, as organist and Mr. Percy Skitch, as choir leader. They are both efficient. Messrs. Ireland and McColl spent Thursday in Belleville. Mrs. W. J. Preston and Mrs. W. Blair left on Friday to spend a few days with Mrs. Alex Leanie in Toronto. Mr. R. E. Kemp was in Belleville yesterday on business.

October Wedding

A wedding of interest to our readers was solemnized at Camrose, Alta., on Oct. 22nd, when Miss Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. McIlroy, formerly of Flinton, was united in holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. A. J. Zaczekowski. The following announcement is taken from the Camrose "Canadian": A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Roman Catholic church on Wednesday morning, October 22, at 7:20 a.m., when Kathleen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. McIlroy of Camrose, was united in marriage to Alphonse J. Zaczekowski of Heizer, by Rev. Father Schmittler. The bride was given away by her father, and looking very lovely in a suit of navy French serge trimmed with velvet and braid, a hand-painted georgette waist, white velvet picture hat with white fringe and ostrich ornament, and a white fur. She also wore a corsage bouquet of violets. Her attendant, Miss Lucille Zaczekowski, was attired in a navy coat dress trimmed with braid, and a navy hat with sand stitching. Charlie McIlroy, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The wedding march, Grieg's Bridal Chorus, was played by Tom Dugan, and Miss Irene McIlroy sang very charmingly "O Mother Bless." The marriage was performed at the altar, decorations of white and pink carnations and white roses giving a very beautiful effect. After the ceremony, the wedding party repaired to the bride's home where a tasteful wedding breakfast was served. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present, including Miss Marygerite McIlroy of Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Zaczekowski left on the Grand Trunk train for Calgary and western points for a short honeymoon, and upon their return will be in Camrose for a few days. They will then visit at Heizer, later going to their farm at Lloydmaster, recently purchased by Mr. Zaczekowski, who is a veteran of the 78th Artillery.

Every wish for their future happiness will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Zaczekowski. Mrs. Zaczekowski is one of the town's own girls, having gone to school here and taught with splendid success in a number of the district's schools. She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among them a case of Community silver from her parents.—Tweed Advocate.

WELBOURNE—WEESE

A marriage of interest to many people here and elsewhere took place in Belleville on November 5th when the Rev. A. S. Kerr united in marriage, Mrs. Gladys Weese, of Rossmore and Mr. Willard Welbourne of Peterborough. Mrs. M. L. Gerow attended the bride while Mr. L. Gerow ably supported the groom. The bride was well and favorably known here and will be greatly missed as she was a general favorite, both with old and young, while the groom is connected with the Bell Telephone Co., Peterboro' he having held a prominent position with that firm for the last 15 years. They left by motor in the afternoon for their new home in Peterborough, the bride travelling in a navy blue serge suit, grey hat and grey fox furs. They were accompanied by the good wishes of a host of friends that wishes them bon voyage through life.

Died in Hospital From Fall From a Train

William Walt, Saskatchewan Farmer Fractures Skull. William Walt, a Saskatchewan farmer, aged 57 years, died in Cobourg on Tuesday morning, the result of jumping from a Canadian Northern train on Monday. Just this side of Trenton, he had recently returned to Murray township from Saskatchewan, having sold his farm there and was on his way to visit relatives in Concession, Prince Edward Co. He got on the wrong train, and apparently jumped to avoid being carried too far out of his road. He was picked up by train crew and brought to Cobourg hospital, where on Tuesday he was operated on by Dr. Forth to relieve a piece of bone pressing on the brain the result of a compressed fracture of the skull. He never regained consciousness. He is a widower and is survived by his 37-year-old mother, who accompanied him, and also by a daughter in Saskatchewan. An inquest was opened on Wednesday afternoon by Coroner Dr. T. C. Lapp. After viewing the body the inquest was adjourned until the next evening.—Cobourg Sentinel, Star.

BOOZE FLOWS LIKE WATER IN MONTREAL

Law Prohibiting Use of Strong Stuff a Farce—The Boon That Light Beer Advocates Wanted to Confer Upon Ontario.

(By Toronto Telegram Staff Reporter)

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Unlike the wild waves in Tennessee's poem, the folk of Montreal are doing little "meaning at the bar" these days. For with the exception that one is no longer able to place one's foot on the brass rail, lean over the mahogany and order hard stuff from the barkeep, prohibition as they have it in Montreal has imposed no very great hardship upon the bibulous. Of course prohibition in Quebec province abolished the bar, and absolutely cut all really intoxicating liquors. At least that is what one would gather from reading the text of the measure. But no Torontonians who have spent a day in Montreal investigating can come to any other conclusion than that Quebecers are a good bunch of humorists, and that prohibition as applied in that province is still little more than a joke.

PIGEON-HOLED BARS.

Go into the first good hotel you see and seek the barroom. As of old, the commingled aroma of tobacco smoke and the essence of malt and alcohol indicate one's proximity to that place of refreshment. It smells just the same as of yore. Ah, yes, but there is a change. No longer does the light shine on a long polished counter backed by an array of various colored liquors in shining bottles, and barkeepers in white coats. The bar is shut off from the public, generally by a screen rising some three feet above the counter. This screen is pigeon-holed at intervals like the metal work barrier between the public and the offices of the bank. Dett waters are served at these pigeon-holes and carry the drinks to the customers, who sit at little tables grouped about the room. It is the continental style and a big improvement over the crude and uncomfortable old custom of "bellying up" to the bar.

One sniff of the air is enough to tell the educated nose that the stuff those waiters are serving is no flabby "two per cent." Toppers fresh from that capital of the Sahara, Toronto, have been seen to simply sit down and take long breaths, acquiring a semi-jag from the atmosphere. Presently the waiter trots over for your order.

LIGHT DRINKS.

"Beer? Yes, sir," he answers. "We can give you two and a half per cent. or something better." You decide to try the "better" brand of beer and in a few moments are quaffing something which may contain between six and ten per cent of alcohol. People at the next table are drinking a pale amber liquid out of wine glasses. You find it is real sherry wine containing ten per cent alcohol. The dark red port consumed by another group is even stronger. It is a safe bet that nine-tenths of the people drinking beer in the room are imbibing stuff with at least six per cent kick in it. In fact, unless you specially ask for two and a half per cent, you are likely to be served with the other kind.

IT'S QUITE LEGAL.

Even so, no one looks furtively towards the door for the entrance of the police. All is open and above board. The law is not being broken. You will find that same state of affairs in any bar-room in the city, though in some of the smaller hotels the bars are not screened off. The prohibition law in Quebec Province permitted the sale of light beer and light wines, and a subsequent amendment of the law allowed the hotels to sell beer and wine of a higher alcoholic content than that at first laid down. It was submitted that two and one half per cent beer such as the law permits in Ontario, is injurious, and that a greater amount of spirit is necessary.

WHISKEY — IF YOU'RE KNOWN.

To-day the word "light" as applied to some of the beers and wines sold in Quebec Province is a misnomer. If ale with ten per cent spirit and sherry and port full of body are light then champagne alone may be considered a heavy wine. Light wines, properly speaking, are clarets, sautes, etc. Shush! Whiskey? No, they don't parade it around, though the visitor did glimpse a bottle whose shape and the dark amber color of whose contents gave a very realistic imitation of a bottle of Irish whiskey. It was just visible through one of the pigeon-holes where it may have been left by a careless barkeeper or cunningly placed to hint at the possibilities that lurked behind that mysterious screen — If you are in the know, you must be known or be with people who are, before most places will take a chance and serve you hard stuff, though plenty is sold this way. For the sale of whiskey, etc., over the bar is to-day about the only thing which the prohibition law in Quebec province prohibits.

Instances are known where offenders against this decree have actually been fined. Notwithstanding the terrible risk, there are bars in Montreal where the high sign and the whispered order: "Give me a Westmount Limousine" will presently put the applicant into the possession of a John Collins, all for the sum of one dollar. Of course people who want Collinses in the morning must have had the booze in any case the night before.

PRESCRIPTIONS, WHAT?

They serve liquor with meals in Montreal—that is, "light" wines and "light" beer, Scotch, Irish, and rye whiskeys, gins, brandies and other ardent spirits and cordials can all be purchased at from $1.85 to $3. per quart bottle from wet groceries on presentation of doctors' certificates. Even under the prohibition law in Quebec province the sale of hard liquor in shops by the bottle is quite legal, and alluring displays are made in the windows. You can sign your own prescription in many shops and, apparently no one minds. Americans are beginning to find out about Quebec, and were the risk of discovery not so great at the border an enormous trade would be done with the dry Republic to the south. The balance of trade, now so hugely in favor of the United States, might be reversed, and all that sort of thing, don't you know.

Quebec is bearing up bravely under her present disability, however—the inability to get whiskey right in the saloon. For after last May the 1920 prohibition in Quebec automatically ceases, and the province returns to the open bar.

Charged With Ill-Treating-Child

A Cameron street resident was charged by Mr. G. W. Powell of the Children's Aid Society in police court Wednesday with cruelty to his fourteen months old child. Mr. Joseph Wearing, appearing for the Society, showed that the child was considerably undernourished as a result of six months of beating from the father. Neighbors testified as to the excessive crying and some saw black and blue marks on the skin. The baby seemed contented in police court this morning and ate arrow root biscuits from its mother's purse during the proceedings. The Magistrate gave the defendant, who has had fifteen months' service in the army, suspended sentence, and his attitude towards the child will be watched by the Children's Aid Society.—Peterboro Examiner.

Yesterday afternoon Chief Burke received a message from Fred Lefebvre, Ontario Provincial Police, North Bay, saying that he held a warrant for the arrest of Dr. B. J. With the exception of one or two extra track gangs, completing repair work on the Grand Trunk main line, all extra trackmen between Montreal and Belleville were laid off yesterday at the end of the season's work. Between 1,500 and 2,000 men were engaged in this work during the summer with the result that the line was considerably improved, new ties and steel laid together with trailroad after trailroad of ballast. The work was in charge of supervisors of track Frank Giffin and W. Bibby, Brockville.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Best's grocery store while the husband was inside the store making some purchases. The driver of the car was turning the vehicle in front of Brock Theatre when the accident occurred. Mrs. White and child were thrown to the sidewalk by the impact and though considerably bruised they fortunately escaped serious injury. Constable Lennox was near by at the time and to him the driver of the car promised to pay all damages.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Accidentally Shot

Mrs. Howard M. Kamp of Thousand Island Park, was admitted to St. Joachim's Hospital, Watertown, N.Y., yesterday morning suffering from gunshot wounds in the left arm and hand received when her husband's shotgun was accidentally discharged at their home on Saturday night. When Kemp went to hang his gun on the wall of his cottage at Eel Bay Saturday night the gun was discharged and the charge of shot, going through the wall, entered his wife's arm and hand. An investigation by Jerome E. Cooper, district attorney, found the shooting was accidental.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Strike May Affect Kingston

The strike of the coal miners in the United States, while it has not yet affected Kingston, is likely to cause a shortage in Ontario. Most of the coal dealers have considerable coal on hand, and there has been little discomfort over the lack of fuel. However, prospects are that the strike may send the price of coal higher, and many citizens are getting in their full stock now.

Non-residents' licenses for deer and moose are $25, while resident licenses are $3 for deer and $5 for moose. Deer season opens Nov. 5 and closes Nov. 20. This year the Government has decided that the deer hunters will have to go back to the old rule of one hunter, one deer.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

The O.P.A. transgressors killed from different parts of Ontario and had in their possession approximately $5 bottles of liquor and two gallons. Fines of $200 and costs were imposed and the men were committed to the county jail pending payment of the fines.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

RUSS WHISKEY ISLAND

Charles U. Pitman of Alexandria Bay, president of the First National Bank of the Thousand Islands, has purchased Whiskey Island, located below Alexandria Bay, for a game preserve and will erect a hunting lodge. Whiskey Island is said to have been so named because of its prominence as a centre for illicit whiskey smuggling. It was the scene of one of the notorious "Bill" Johnson's exploits in the war of 1812.

The information was laid by Constable R. C. Smith.—Ontario Reformer.

ROWDYISM OF STUDENTS

THEY MADE AN ATTACK ON THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

And Were Met With Clubs In Hands of Police and House Staff—Broke Glass and Threw Eggs.

Kingston, Nov. 5.—Strike rioters have got nothing on the students of Queen's when the spirit moves them. On Friday evening a crowd of Queen's men made an attempt to clean up Kingston, and a battle royal was staged on Princess street. This was their way of celebrating Hallowe'en, and as a result, several of them are now nursing many wounds.

The fun started just after eight o'clock when a crowd of about four hundred, mostly students, appeared on Princess street and let go with their college yells. Their first objective was the Strand Theatre, which they proceeded to attack in a manner worthy of finest shock troops. The manager, thinking discretion the better part of valor, at once threw the doors wide open. The students looped in, made a round of the theatre, and marched out again. The next place visited was the Griffin Theatre, where the manager adopted the same plan, the students leaving his premises with three lusty cheers.

But a different reception awaited them at the Grand Opera House, where Manager D. E. Branigan and Police Constable Mullinger barred the way with clubs. The students, unprepared for resistance, beat a hasty retreat to the other side of the street and held a council of war, amusing themselves meanwhile by pulling the trolleys of the street cars off the wires, and holding up passing automobiles. After the arrival of reinforcements, they once again advanced to the attack.

By this time, Police Constable Naylor had also arrived on the scene, and stood in the doorway ready for the rush. The students were warned that they would be resisted, but they came on with determination. Then a pitched battle began, with Constables Mullinger and Naylor and Deputy Manager Branigan and two of his staff holding the fort against the horde of students. With batons and clubs, the defenders held the ground at bay until the theatre manager was overpowered and borne to the ground after having brought down three students in fine style.

A stubborn battle went on for ten minutes, and gradually the students were forced back with quite a number of casualties and leaving a trail of blood behind them. The glass showcases in the doorway were smashed to splinters in the battle. The students then began a heavy bombardment of the front of the building. Eggs, stones and big chunks of wood were used as ammunition, and considerable damage was done to the entrance. The big electrical globe at the entrance and several panes of glass were broken, and the walls of the entrance hall were bespattered with the contents of the eggs. After expending their ammunition, the students formed up and marched down Princess street, announcing that they would soon be back.

The next call was to the City Hall, where a masquerade ball was being held. The students invaded the hall, and after marching around a few times, departed without doing any damage. Having secured further supplies of eggs, they returned to Princess street and proceeded to the Grand Opera House once more. But the theatre was by this time closed up, so they had to be content with letting it have another salvo of eggs.

The next objective was a fruit store, which the crowd intended to raid. The victim chosen was the Olympia store between Barrie and Division streets, but the proprietor was warned of the crowd's intentions, and closed up his store in quick time. The students surrounded the premises and called upon the proprietor to "open up," but there was no response, so they had to turn down Princess street again without gaining their objective. No other premises were molested until they reached the King street, where the windows of the New England Cafe and the Allies Cafe were liberally showered with eggs. The students then marched off quietly, evidently well pleased with their Hallowe'en celebrations.

Manager Branigan, when seen by a Whig representative after the affair, was very bitter against the students. The entrance hall of the Opera House resembled a miniature battlefield, blood and pieces of wreckage covering the floor, while the paintings on the walls were almost unrecognizable. The damage done will run into a large sum of money and the manager is determined that the students will pay for the loss. He says that until they do so he will refuse to allow them the use of the Grand Opera House for their play on December 5th.

A large crowd of citizens watched the evening's proceedings, and they were unanimous in condemning the students for their lawless conduct. Quite a number of students were injured in the scrimmage at the theatre. One in particular received an ugly wound on the forehead.

Hallowe'en was observed in due form here as per usual. About forty of our young folk, (most of whom will never see sweet sixteen again,) appeared along main street and the upper sixth line, celebrating the time honored fashion in carnival effect, false faces, pumpkin faces, black faces, hooligans, ghosts, witches, seemed to be the most popular costumes. The parade consisting of five "joy wagons" proceeded to call on some farmers and their wives and give them a twenty minute entertainment free of charge.

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men," and by the best only. The parade finally ended at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Todd where they were entertained by the popular teacher of this section Miss S. Welch.
