War Veterans Discuss Important Matters

Decide To Ask All Societies To Close With Singing National Anthem

West Northumberland Branch of the G.W.V.A. which meets in the Police Court room, Newcastle, the second and fourth Thursday evenings of every month, John P. Ryder, secretary held a very successful meeting on the 15th instant. President Flett in the chair, and a good attendance.

A telegram was laid on the table stating that a Labor Bureau would be established in Newcastle.

It will have a Local Advisory Committee of Employers and Employees; an advisory committee of the G.W.V.A.; a representative of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Department; a local superintendent; a local record clerk or stenographer or both, and canvassers for local industries. The positions of superintendent, record clerk, etc. will go to returned men.

The Dominion and local governments will share equally in the cost of the office. Offices are staffed and paid by the Provincial Government. The Dominion Department of Labor furnishes forms, inspects operations and coordinates action generally. The representative of the Soldiers Civil Re-establishment Dept. receives the soldier, looking for employment takes record of his case, advises him, and introduces him to the regular officials of the Bureau.

Many questions of vital importance were discussed from all viewpoints. The railway authorities were criticised as being very difficult to deal with re obtaining new work for returned men or the jobs held before enlistment.

On motion of LeRoy Morrison and Harold Bate, a committee consisting of President Flett, Garfield Troy and J.P. Ryder, was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the Chatham Branch, to meet with W. S. Loggie, M.P., and consult with him re Patronage in this County.

It was held by all who spoke on the matter that while Patronage had been supposedly abolished, it still practically existed, and the returned man, not knowing the ropes, had hitherto been handicapped in the effort to get his share.

Several members referred very feelingly to the practice of some persons in disregard to the proper decorum at public meetings while the National Anthem is being sung. Some people instead of standing at attention, with heads uncovered put on their coats, etc., while the Anthem is being sung.

A strong resolution was passed requesting that all secret societies and public gatherings close their meetings with God Save the King, and seeing that all present observe the respectful attitude necessary on such occasions.

There has been considerable neglect in this matter lately, which culminated at the Newcastle Opera House one night lately by a returned soldier knocking off a civilian's hat. The incident closed without further trouble.

Re returned men getting positions, the general feeling was that no attempt should be made to oust civilians from their positions secured during the war, and that every effort should be made to live amicably and co-operate with the Railway Brotherhood. But it was firmly held that all new jobs available should go by preference to returned men first.

ST. MARY'S CHOIR PRESENT "FACING THE MUSIC"

Local Actors Do Themselves Grand In Annual St. Patrick's Entertainment--Specialties Of High Character

The anniversary of St. Patrick's was fittingly celebrated at the Opera House last evening when the members of St. Mary's choir staged a three act comedy drama, entitled "Facing the Music," to a capacity house.

The play, which centres around a mistaken flat in a London apartment house, was a very amusing one, and one that lent itself well to the displaying of the histrionic talents of the performers, which proved to be of a very high order.

The character of John Smith, a wild young man, married four years, but with no children to act as a brake on his riotous love of drinking and gambling, and who, in the absence of his wife on a visit to Dover, lets himself specially loose, was taken by J. Harold Drummond. The part was remarkably well sustained throughout with a skill worthy of a professional. John Smith, who in his wife's absence, has engaged a new housekeeper, and is visited by Dick Desmond (Charles Morris), a bachelor friend, meets while out late in a London fog, with Miss Fotheringay, an actress (Miss Irene Copp), who bewildered by having lost her way, faints in his arms. Then two thieves relieve them of some valuables. Smith rushes after one and Miss Fotheringay after the other. The latter recovers Mr. Smith's purse. Smith arrives home late next morning minus watch, purse, etc. and looking very dilapidated. He is told by Dick that his wife, Nora (Miss L. McWilliam) not expected for another week, arrived during the night. Smith fearing a scene, delays meeting her as long as possible. But the woman who arrived was Mrs. Rev. John Smith (Miss H. Morris), whose husband had in her absence in Scotland taken apartments in the same building, but in No. 69, not No. 16 where plain Mr. John Smith lives. The clergyman's wife, giving her name as Mrs. John Smith, which she is, is conducted by the cabbie to the wrong Mr. Smith's.

Rev. John Smith (Mr. J. Cullen) visits the house of Mr. Smith that morning to return the latter's letter he has inadvertently opened. He does not see the mistress, but leaves the letter with the housekeeper, Mrs. Ponting (Miss M. Condon), who forgets to deliver it.

The actress calls and presents Mrs. Rev. Smith, the purse she recovered from the burglar, and tells a marvelous tale of her being aided in distress by Mr. Smith. The purse contains £1,000, which the minister's wife considers the legacy her husband spoke of in his last letter.

When she (Mrs. Mabel Smith) meets Desmond, the latter, who understands that Mrs. Smith's name is Nora, is mystified. When she meets John Smith, each repudiates the other, raising a most amusing situation, very well acted by all concerned. John Smith is then visited by his uncle, Col. Duncan Smith (Mr. A. S. Demers) who is very much taken by Mrs. Mabel Smith.

Then the real mistress of the flat suddenly arrives, and Smith is hard put to it to keep his wife from meeting the stranger whom he can't get out of the house. He engages a detective to clear up the mystery, who tells him that the woman, as also the clergyman who has twice called, are members of a gang of thieves. In haste to make his own reputation Sergeant Duffell (Mr. Charles McLaughlin) makes ludicrous mistakes, playing his part well. Along comes the actress to thank Mr. Smith again, and Smith has three women on his hands, whom he tries to keep separate.

But he cannot do so, and his real wife, mystified and shocked beyond endurance, threatens to leave him. As John Smith is threatened with loss of his mind, all the parties, some of them rounded up by the detective, meet each other, the wrongly delivered letter is produced, and all is well. Very fine acting throughout was done by all. The cast of characters was as follows:—

Rev. John Smith E. J. Cullen
Mr. John Smith J. H. Drummond
Dick Desmond C. H. Morris
Col. Duncan Smith A. S. Demers
Sergeant Duffell C. McLaughlin
Mrs. Rev. John Smith Miss H. Morris
Mrs. John Smith Miss L. McWilliam
Miss Fotheringay Miss I. Copp
Mrs. Ponting Miss M. Condon

The synopsis was:—

Act I—Before Breakfast at 10 o'clock.

Act II—After Breakfast at 10.30 o'clock, same morning.

Act III—At 1.30, same morning.

The orchestra rendered excellent music. It consisted of: Piano—Miss A. Morris; Violins—Mrs. E. J. Morris; Mr. LeBlanc; Cornet—Geo. Dunn; Clarinet—Lawrence Mather; Drums and Taps—E. Manderson.

The chorus girls who sang very sweetly were—Miss A. Lawlor, Bernadette and Maud Keating, Clara Bernard, Mamie Condon, M. Dolan, M. McEvoy, B. Creamer, N. Creamer, D. Lawlor, B. Dolan, L. McWilliam, Irene Copp and others.

The specialties which were very fine included:—

Chorus When the Old Ship Comes Home; Ching Chong (in Chinese dress); Somewhere in Ireland; Rule Britannia; and La Marseillaise.

Solo—Ireland—D. A. Jackson.

Recitations—Dead Doll and Grandmother's Angel—Helen Fraser.

The performance showed that Newcastle contains a group of very talented actors and the play will be produced again this evening.

Says Kaiser Was Author Of War

Prince of Monaco Tells of Hohenzollern's Remarks

London, Mar. 16—"There is no doubt that the former German Emperor was the first and responsible author of the war. He absolutely wished for it and conducted it himself in all its ruthlessness and barbarity."

This is a statement attributed to the Prince of Monaco, by the Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail, who interviewed the Prince there. The correspondent reveals that the Prince of Monaco was formerly a personal friend of Emperor William, but that friendship was severed by the Prince in a telegram sent to the former Emperor in September 1914.

"Until a few years before the war," the Prince is quoted as saying, "the German Emperor seemed to sincerely wish peace and a renewal of intercourse with France. I know this because I was entrusted with a mission to try to bring it about. But at the same time a terrible megalomania was growing in him. He was anxious to see Germany over all, and from the day when he felt it impossible to attain this end by peaceful means, war became an obsession with him."

"I shall never forget the fury in his face and the hatred in his voice when in July, 1914, he told me, 'if they oblige me to make war, the world will see what it never dreamed of.' These words were hypocritical, because the Emperor could not pretend the war, into which he declared himself driven was not at that very time being prepared for in every detail."

Halifax, March 12—The Supreme Court of Nova Scotia has decided that the will of Colin Wentzell, Mahone Bay, N.S., bequeathing the bulk of his estate to his fiancée and written on an envelope addressed to her from Barbadoes, and covered by postage stamps, is valid. An action testing the validity of this will was brought by the father of Wentzell who was drowned while on a voyage to Nova Scotia from the West Indies.

The Illness Of Lord Beaverbrook

Victim of a Rare Disease but Will Make Full Recovery It Is Believed

A London correspondent of the Toronto Mail and Empire, writing under date of March 1st, says:—

At the time of writing Lord Beaverbrook (Max Aitken) continues to make satisfactory progress after an operation of a very trying if not of a serious character. His trouble has been in the throat and is, I believe, a somewhat rare disease the cause of which for that reason is not easy to discover. I have authority for saying that there is nothing cancerous in its character, nor is it in any way phthisical. It represents a distemper which as like as not may have been caused long ago by the simplest of acts, namely, by putting a few blades of grass in the mouth while walking in the fields. That is the most reasonable theory that doctors have as to this kind of illness, and though it is very difficult to get rid of, there is considerable confidence that Lord Beaverbrook will make a complete recovery.

JOHN FLETT

The death of John Flett, one of Nelson's most esteemed citizens, occurred very suddenly on Friday afternoon after a short illness. The deceased, who has been in the best of health, complained early Friday afternoon of feeling unwell, but nothing was thought of the matter until his condition began to grow worse and he passed away about six o'clock. The late Mr. Flett, for many years conducted a carding mill at Nelson and made many friends both in business and social life. He is survived by his widow. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.45 o'clock.

Presbytery of Miramichi Meets

The quarterly meeting of Miramichi Presbytery was held in St. James' Hall on Tuesday.

Those present were: Ministers—Hugh Miller, Campbellton, Moderator; W. McN. Matthews, Millerton, clerk; A. J. McNeil, Doaktown; Geo. Grant, Blackville, J. H. MacLean, Dalhousie; L. H. MacLean, Newcastle; D. Davidson, Harcourt; F. L. Jobb, New Mills; F. W. Thompson, Loggieville; G. P. Tattrie, Tabusintac; L. J. King, Escuminac, P.Q.; J. M. Fraser, Black River; J. F. McCurdy, Redbank; Dr. Wylie, St. Andrew's Church, Chatham; J.H.A. Anderson, St. John's, Chatham; E. J. Rattée, New Richmond, P.Q.

Elders—Joseph Henderson, Bathurst; Gordon Harper, Oak Bay, P.Q.; J.O. Shearer, New Carlisle; E. Vye, Derby; John Williamson, E. A. McCurdy, Newcastle; Daniel Baldwin, Nelson.

Rev. R.V. Ross, M.E. of Fort Massey Halifax, was present on behalf of the Forlard Movement and was asked to sit and correspond.

A conference led by Rev. R. W. Ross, was conducted in the afternoon. The Presbytery was divided into five sections and an eight-day special service is to be held in each congregation at the earliest date.

Rev. E.J. Rattée presented the Sunday School report, which showed an increase of two schools, but a slight decrease in attendance.

Rev. F.L. Jobb presented the report on systematic giving and on the budget.

The Budget report showed that of $8,750 allocated to congregations by the Presbytery, $8,226.97 had been raised, an increase of $690.69 over 1917. Eight congregations exceeded the Budget by $1,053 and two mission stations by $16.87. Thirteen congregations failed to contribute full amount by $1,565, and one mission station by $23.50. Of the eight which exceeded the Budget four congregations deserve special mention—Campbellton $578; Dalhousie $218; Douglastown $87; Tabusintac $82. New Mills and New Richmond, while exceeding their budget, did not do so well last year because in 1917 they had the help of Mr. Robinson.

Loggieville overpaid $45; New Mills and New Richmond $15 each; Rexton, $13; Kouchibouguac $8.87 and Miscou and Shippegan $8.00. The others failed to reach their allocation.

The Home Missions report, submitted by Rev. J. F. McCurdy, asked for catechists next summer for Kouchibouguac, Miscou, Caraquet, Millbank and Matapédia.

The General Assembly's remit favoring allowing elders to be eligible for election to the moderatorship was disapproved, three voting contrary.

General Assembly's remit re enlarging powers of Synods, the Assembly to meet every third year, was as a whole, disapproved of.

On motion of Rev. L. H. MacLean and Mr. Williamson, the Presbytery approved of enlarging the powers of the Synods.

Revs. F. W. Thompson and L. H. MacLean advocated reduction of denominational colleges from eight to four, and the meeting of Assembly quadrennially, several others contra.

Rev. F. W. Thompson moved the following overture to General Assembly:

"Whereas the Government of Canada has on several occasions set apart a day of special prayer and called the people to observe such day.

"And whereas said day has invariably been the Lord's Day;

"And whereas, while we believe that special circumstances call on the part of the nation for acknowledgment of God and humble supplication before him, so we gratefully appreciate the action of the Government in calling to national prayer, yet the setting apart of the Lord's Day as a day of special prayer is to largely fall in the purpose sought and is an infringement of the rights and privileges of the church.

"Therefore, we, the Presbytery of Miramichi, respectfully overture the General Assembly to take such steps in co-operation with other religious bodies as will secure that in the case of such calls a day other than Sunday be set apart as a day of special worship.

"And that copies of this resolution be sent to Acting Premier of Canada, the leader of the Opposition, W. S. Loggie, M.P., and the Provincial Premier.

Carried.

Following commissioners were appointed to General Assembly: Rev. Alex. Firth, Nelson—Douglastown; Rev. L.J. King, Escuminac; Rev. Dr. Wylie, Chatham; Rev. A.F. Robb of Coresé.

The lay commissioners will be appointed from the following congregations: Loggieville Harcourt, Dalhousie and Tabusintac.

Fredericton Curlers Defeat Newcastle

In a three-rink competition with Newcastle Wednesday, the Fredericton curlers emerged victorious with a total score of 47 to 32. Fredericton won in two of the rinks, and in the afternoon match Deacon Doherty piled up a big score against his opponents.

The ice while a trifle heavy, was in good condition and the boys from the capital certainly proved themselves artists with the broom and stone. The rinks and scores were as follows:—

TUESDAY, MARCH 18th, 1919

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Irishmen throughout the civilized world yesterday did honor to the memory of their patron saint in the usual way. Religious services were held in Roman Catholic churches in the morning and in many of the large cities of the continent during the day representatives of Irish societies walked in procession.

Those who have the impression that "the little green isle" is a rather insignificant portion of the British Empire, which raises nothing but trouble, must revise their opinion in the light of the real facts. It is true Ireland is a small unit of the Empire, but no land on earth with the same number of acres has exercised a more potent influence on the commercial and political life of the world. Ireland, with a population of 4,390,000 people, occupying a territory only 5,000 square miles larger than that of New Brunswick, leads the whole universe in the matter of intensive agricultural production. In 1915 it produced 3,710,000 tons of potatoes, 5,091,034 tons of turnips, 400,000 tons of cabbages and 5,096,772 long tons of hay. It ranks next to Texas as a cattle producing country and in 1915 its export trade in cattle amounted to $80,000,000. In that year there were five million head of cattle grazing in the pastures of Ireland, in addition to 3,600,000 head of sheep and 1,200,000 pigs. The city of Cork is one of the greatest butter centres in the world, and in one year the quantity of butter exported from Ireland was 750,000 tons. As poultry raises the Irish people easily lead the world. Millions of hens are kept by the people and in one year the export of eggs and poultry products totalled $22,000,000. Egg depots have been established throughout the country, which collect the eggs from the farmers three times a week and ship them to England and elsewhere.

Ireland has a firm grip on the woolen industry and its linen mills are as large and modern as any in the world. The country's flax crop in 1915 amounted to the enormous total of 32,000,000 pounds.

Although the people of Ireland have more than their share of troubles, they are thrifty, light hearted and remarkably hospitable to strangers.

The Irish problem is looming large on the political horizon of the old country at the present time, and is engaging the earnest attention of the leading statesmen of Great Britain. It is to be earnestly hoped that the coming year will see an amicable settlement of the long standing and troublesome home rule question.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter.—Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

According to the statement presented by Rev. H. R. Grant to the legislature, the vending of booze seems to be a popular pastime in Nova Scotia. In Inverness, C.B., the liquor sales by the legal vendor during the past year amounted to $49,000. In Antigonish a large showing was also made, around $20,000 worth and Glace Bay was not far behind. $80,000 worth of liquor for the three towns seems large.

Patient Treated By Wireless

Captain Described Symptoms And Doctor Prescribed

New York, March 11—The wireless telephone and the wireless telegraph were used in mid-ocean by Lieutenant Commander A. E. Younie, senior surgeon on board the transport Sierra, to prescribe for patients on the transport Powhatan and the British steamer Pollac, which were many miles away. The Sierra, which arrived here recently with the Powhatan, received a wireless message in mid-ocean from the captain of the Pollac stating that one of his crew had been taken ill. The message gave symptoms and asked for a diagnosis and treatment. Acting on this information and subsequent messages concerning the sick man's case, the Sierra's doctors prescribed treatment by radio, and at last reports the sick man was considerably improved in health.

While the Sierra and Powhatan were fifteen miles apart at a point about 500 miles north of the Azores, the wireless telephone was used for a consultation of the doctors on board the two ships. Six doctors each put on a telephone suit, and attended the consultation, which was called to determine treatment of certain cases, which had developed on the Powhatan.

Women Receive Cordial Welcome

How Soldiers' Wives are Cared For on Reaching Canada

Second only to the welcome given our returning men is the welcome accorded to their wives and families upon their arrival in Canada.

A special department of the Repatriation Committee has been created for this purpose. As a result through a wonderful co-operation between different Federal and Provincial Governmental Departments municipalities, voluntary organizations, local committees and private citizens. Canada is doing herself proud in the way in which she is receiving the soldiers' families as they arrive from England.

Women who have recently returned repeatedly said that if their own friends had been there to meet them they could not have had a more cordial or more personal welcome than that received from the Women's Committees at Halifax and St. John.

Quite recently considerable extra hospital accommodation has been arranged for any of the passengers who are too ill to proceed on their journey. A number of cases of influenza developed on the last voyage over and through the good offices of Military Headquarters Staff at St. John, a hospital of 50 beds was opened, to be maintained at the Government's expense, and the nursing staff is supplied partly by the Military and partly by the Red Cross.

On account of the shortage of rolling stock, the railways have only been able to supply Colonist cars, but these have been fitted up by the immigration Department with mattresses, blankets and pillows, borrowed from the Department of Militia and Defence. The returned soldiers are particularly pleased with this extra comfort for their wives and children.

On each train there is a Red Cross Nurse and when there are one hundred and fifty women and children on board, an additional nurse is provided. Every assistance and courtesy is given by the conductors and trainmen and the two immigration officials who travel on each special train.

Arrangements have been made with the local caterer at St. John and with C.P.R. restaurants to provide attractive, wholesome lunches at moderate prices. For instance, supplies sufficient for two persons for two days can be purchased for $1.70 either at St. John or Montreal.

In each city or town there is a local Reception Committee composed of representatives of local organizations such as Canadian Patriotic Fund, Red Cross, Y.M.C.A., I.O.D.E. Wives are sent ahead to these committees by special immigration officers. In most cities one day's accommodation is provided free of charge.

To Secure Better Service

Hon. Mr. Veniot's Bill Affecting Branch Lines

Fredericton, March 11—Under legislation, which was introduced in the provincial legislature by the Premier, Hon. P.J. Veniot, is given wide powers to deal with branch lines of railway in the province which have not been taken over by the Dominion government as part of the Canadian National Railways.

Provisions of this bill make it necessary for such railways to submit any changes in tariff rates to the provincial government for approval before becoming operative. In the matter of service, provided the minister of public works is authorized to conduct investigations and if he finds an improvement in rolling stock equipment, or roadbed, bridges, etc. needed he can order what he believes to be required, then if the company does not carry out the suggested improvements within a certain period they at once become liable for penalties ranging from $100 to $200 a day.

There is also a provision in the bill under which the minister of public works is authorized to deal with a company which does not provide a daily train service on the road as he can order a daily train service and if the orders are not complied with at the conclusion of a certain period he can impose penalties of $50 a day. It was explained that this bill was largely for the purpose of enforcing a better service in every respect on the Carleton Place and Gulf Shore Railway in Gloucester County, which is owned by Ontario capitalists, and who have declined to accept the Dominion government's offer to take over the road and are reported to have declared they will spend no more than the net earnings of the railway.

The Progressive Farmer

is the one who while looking to the future learns from the past. He does not figure that because one year is a year or that at one time prices have been very low that they will always be low. The past indicates that occasionally there is a year of low prices on one thing or on many things but the next year usually sees a swing the other way and the low prices of a year ago have become the high prices of the present.

The progressive farmer gets ready for the planting season before it is here. He ploughs in the fall and has his land ready for an early season. He arranges for his seeds, his tools and his fertilizer before the spring is actually upon him.

This year especially is a year for big crops. This spring season will undoubtedly be an early one and a long one and it will give the farmer a chance to do his best.

Whether it is a year of low prices or of high prices the farmer with crops to sell is the farmer who will get the best returns. The farmer who uses a liberal supply of fertilizer will the largest crop to market at the end of the year.

28,000 Saloons To Quit Business

In Four Months Time This Number of Saloons Will Close in Central West States

Chicago, March 11—More than 29,000 licensed saloons and drinking places in the six 'wet' States of the Central West—Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Kentucky and Ohio—are to go out of existence in four months' time if America abolishes liquor trade, for the first time in history under the President's war-time prohibition order.

Millions of dollars worth of property used as distilleries, breweries, saloons, wine rooms and roadhouses already has changed hands and is being converted into new lines of industry according to reports received here.

Many small breweries and a few large ones have arranged to become manufacturers, cold storage plants or artificial ice factories. In Wisconsin, which produces a sixth of all beer brewed in America, one big brewery has disposed of its fixtures and sold its kegs as "Liberty cabbage" containers.

The two hundred Kentucky distilleries of isolated roadhouses, the renegade those of brewers because location and peculiar construction of distilleries will not permit of easy conversion to other industries. Owners of isolated roadhouses, the rendezvous of gay auto parties, say they, too, will suffer heavy financial losses. They say it would be impossible to draw patrons to out of the way places without liquor inducement.

Wisconsin has 9,665 licensed drinking places; Illinois, 8,418; Ohio, 5,600; Missouri, 1,000; Minnesota, 1,800 and Kentucky, 1,600.

Ohio's saloons are expected to close on May 27 under an amendment to the State constitution.

Hundreds of saloons in the six States will be converted into soda shops, cafeterias, cafes, and motion picture houses.

Willing to Be Taught.
"Diarrist" of the Westminister Gazette says he had been hearing much lately of the Americans in France and the impression made by them upon the British there. "Without giving offense to anybody," he remarks, "I hope I may say that British admiration of them has gone far beyond the limits that were considered likely to be reached, and that they have become strong favorites. But there is one point in particular which seems to have impressed every officer who talks to me on the subject. They all quite expected to find the Americans fine men physically, with plenty of intelligence and their full share of courage and dash and endurance; but they agree that they have been surprised to note the eagerness of the new allies to seek advice. 'You have been at this game for years,' is, I am told, the usual formula; 'but we are fresh at it. Tell us what you know.' It is an admirable frame of mind," adds "Diarrist," "and one that promises rapid progress on the part of the willing students."—Christian Science Monitor.

In Defense of Her Flag.
How the union jack was ably defended by an Irishwoman in the streets of Paris on July 4 is amusingly told: "Outside one of the biggest drapery shops of Paris two ladies handled a union jack which lay on a great pile of flags for sale and remarked in French on its cheapness. The salesman, unskilled in accents, was rash enough to explain the low price by saying that 'the union jack wasn't in season.' He received in reply the most eloquent discourse attainable by an indignant Irishwoman of unblemished loyalty; and an Irish brogue speaking French is an engine of war before which the most intrepid must quail. There is one Frenchman who will never again suggest that there is a close season in union jacks."

STARTLING TURN TO ONTARIO MURDER CASE

Kingston, Ont., March 11—Startling testimony was given Thursday morning in police court by Mrs. Frederick Hartwick, of Parham, against her father-in-law, James Harwick, who is charged with the murder of his son in the woods near their home on the 11th of February. She swore that on the night her husband did not return, her father-in-law told her that he had slipped and accidentally shot him dead. He asked her to say nothing about the matter, and that the people would think his son had gone to the States. Mrs. Hartwick testified that there had been illicit relations between her father-in-law and herself, but through force and threats. The prisoner was committed for trial.

An enormous reception was given at the German Legation at the Hague, at which the Dutch prince consort made a welcoming speech, and many columns in the German papers are proof that the Germans are not to be allowed to imagine that the colonies are gone forever. According to German papers, the colonial troops had a tremendous reception in Berlin. The crowds waiting for hours in the street as the train was four hours late.

The Hague, March 6—"The Germans will accept the peace terms in spite of the colonies, but they intend to make every effort to get the colonies back in two years' time through the League," said a prominent Dutch statesman recently.

The former German Imperial Foreign Secretary, von Kuehlmann, who came to the Hague on a private mission in the hope of influencing Allied circles in the matter of the colonies, has not returned, but the Germans have not given up colonial dreams and the welcoming home of the colonial East African troops from the time they reached Rotterdam has borne an official character.

Always Had Headaches

Liver Was Torpid and Bilious Spells Brought Sick Headaches—Lost Much Time, But is Now Completely Cured.

Here is convincing evidence that however much you may suffer from liver trouble and consequent biliousness there is a cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Overeating is the most common cause of sluggish liver action. You lose your appetite, have distressing bilious spells, usually accompanied by headache and vomiting, the bowels become irregular, constipation and looseness alternating, digestion is upset and you get irritable and down-hearted.

No treatment so quickly awakens the action of the liver and bowels as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For this reason this medicine is wonderfully popular and has enormous sales.

Mr. Charles E. Tait, Newtown, N.B., writes: "I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and would often have to stop work for a day or two. I lost many a night's sleep every month with bilious sick headaches, and although I tried doctors' medicines, and also many other patent medicines, it was without success. When I had these headaches I would vomit, and could keep nothing on my stomach."

"I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills from G. M. Fairweather, druggist, of Sussex, N.B., and after taking one box I was so much relieved that I continued to take them until I am now completely cured. My advice to anyone suffering from sick headaches is to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and be completely cured."

Mr. A. S. Mace, J.P., endorses the above statement, and says:—"This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Charles E. Tait, and believe his statement in every way to be true and correct."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanon, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Substitutes will only disappoint. Insist on getting what you ask for.

Discover Cause Of Influenza

London, March 12—A statement made yesterday by one of the leading London bacteriologists, says the medical correspondent of the Daily Mail indicates that the cause of the present influenza epidemic has been discovered. Investigators have had exceptional opportunities of studying the disease in a large general hospital of London, which has set aside a whole ward for influenza cases.

"I have no doubt whatever," said the bacteriologist, "that influenza is due to the Pfeiffer bacillus. With improvement of technique I found this organism in two percent of the cases. My experience is confirmed by others."

Pfeiffer bacillus was discovered by a German of the name of Pfeiffer as far back as 1892.

Millerton, Mar. 7, 1919
To the Editor of The Advocate.

Dear Sir:—
Having read a Returned Soldier's letter in the March 5th issue of The Gazette I wish to help him along in his good work by telling the story of a Spruce Tree, as it has been told to me in my observations traveling in the forest.

STORY OF A TREE

I saw the light among thousands of others ninety years ago on the Upper Miramichi waters. We grew side by side in all our beauty for forty years before man, with his gleaming axe, came among us to cut trees that were forty years older than us, they fell the large ones and took them away. One day in October, 1916, a crew of men appeared among us and started operations, building camps, etc. and then we knew that our days were numbered. After the operations were over there were very few left standing on the ground, neither would there be any game for many years. There were forty-four thousand trees piled along the river bank and when the river was open, and the spring rush of water was on, another crew of men landed on us and rolled up into the rushing waters. For days we went on catching sometimes on a wing jam or centre or sand-bar. On the seventh day we ran by Boilestown, a pretty village, but saw no bustle or stir of manufacture. We found out later the reason was that the ever-green moths had their headquarters there. We went on by Intervales and farms and by thriving Doaktown, which is trying to manufacture its own lumber, and along by the mouth of Cain's River, which stream has been pretty well stripped by the moths, (and that is the kind of land some of the lumbermen would like to give to the small operators and also for returned soldiers to settle on), then on by Blackville, a finely situated place for a manufacturing town, with water power handy.

I had been cut in two lengths before we were hauled to the landings in the winter, but we were parted in the drive and when I was landed on a farmer's intervals at the foot of the White Rapids, my other half was there. It had been there two days watching the millions of feet of lumber going by, and said the farmer had told it that Mr. Follansbee and the late Major Belyea had been there in 1912, and had got permission to build dams, one dam at the Grey Rapids and one further below at the White Rapids, and one on the Reclus opposite. The three dams would give thirty-five thousand horse power to provide cheap light for Newcastle, Chatham and the whole country, also power for industries. The farmer said everything would have gone all right, and they would have a busy thriving river, but for the lumbermen who went to Fredericton and held it up. One lumberman said that he could not get any more small rafts cheap, another thought that the labor of building dams, power houses, etc. at the Rapids would keep all the men away from the South West Boom, in consequence the wages might go up a few cents. The ever-green moths thought that they would have to build a paper mill on the Miramichi, and there would be no excuse for shipping out of the country. Another said it would bring more industries on the river, and wages would go up. Another said "I want things as they are, it takes a man's wages, working all summer to pay for the winter bills. Another one said, "I will have to do whatever the boss says."

The farmer said after looking at the brand that was on me, "you are going down to Chatham now, and a ve you bark stripped off, and you will be sent over to Maine to be made into paper." We stopped there a week or so and were then sent on our way, and after rushing down by Quarryville, we landed on a log jam at Derby, consisting of eighty million feet of our own kind, piled to the bottom of the river (on Tidal waters) from bank to bank, to lay there the most of the summer and stop traffic on the river, even to the fish. The same lumbermen, who did not want dams built on the river with logs, and fish ways complete can dam the Tidal waters with logs to stop everything. Coming on the fall our turn came to go through the boom, and to be ratted into rafts, with four and five thousand of pieces like ourselves, by crews of men who work twelve hours a day at small wages, and small boys bbbbbb rrrrr dddddd llll uuuuuu some of them ought to be in school. On a Monday a tugboat hauled us down by Millerton and stored us in by Barnaby Island to lie there all winter.

We listened to the hum of the Miller Tanning Company's factory grinding bark, that the company had to bring from Quebec and Nova Scotia, some of the lumbermen have the lands in the notorious Flemming deal, that the farmer at the Rapids had also told him about would not let them haul the bark, and they say there is an enormous quantity on the Miramichi River and its tributaries. We also listened to the hum of the Sulphite Paper Company's mill just across the river from where we were. They never stopped day nor night, they also have no lumber lands and have to depend on the Farmer's grants, and pay a big price. They use Fir, and the Spruce they were grinding was rough and knotty, nothing like the vast quantity and quality we were among, and every cord that was manufactured in that company's mill was leaving $10.00 in its place, besides the price paid for it for getting it to the mill. During the summer we were towed down by the towns of Newcastle and Nelson with their busy saw mills, and wondered that there was no pulp or paper mills. At Doaktown we saw one mill and just across the river below we wondered what the enormous quantity of blocks of wood was for, and then we learned what the ever-green moths were doing. We were landed into what was once the Richard's Mill boom, and by next evening the whole raft of us four thousand five hundred pieces, had gone through the Rossers and Cutters and we were a pile of blocks. We thought that we would have been manufactured into pulp or paper in so finely a situated place as Chatham, with a large population and no large manufacturing in the winter months, to keep the people employed. Instead of that we were loaded into cars leaving the Chatham people about $1.25 a cord, compared with $10.00 at Derby mill, and I suppose the Dominion Pulp Mill across from Chatham. They had not even left the bark for the people of Chatham, it is burned, we were told. The Miller Tanning people were going to put in a Spruce Bark grinder to make extract of Spruce bark, but could not get it very well. We were taken in the cars back up along the same river by Nelson, Newcastle, and by the Derby pulp mill, whose managers are struggling along trying to get wood, and on up along the same beautiful river we had come down the year before to Boilestown. We had travelled by water and rail to see the river and country for 120 miles, and were back handy to our old home, cut in shorter lengths and stripped of our bark. We left the river at Boilestown and started on our journey again, and from a high point we can see the Parliament Buildings at Fredericton, but no person is looking our way. Then on until we cross a row of iron posts. We were not asked to stop, our heads had been cut off and we did not have to pay a tax. But I noticed that five ladies and three gentlemen going over the lines were held up for $8.00 apiece head tax. On again until we landed at the International Paper Company's mills, to give employment to thousands and more thousands depending on them. I may have to go back to Chatham made into paper after a large price is paid for me and a tax paid on me coming over the lines, and find myself going through The World Office printing press at Chatham.

A Disgusted Spruce
In trying to tell the story of a tree I have left out a lot on account of space, but will finish it at some future writing. There has been nearly three hundred million feet of lumber shipped from the Miramichi in the raw state that I have kept a pretty good account of, and if it keeps on at the same rate there will soon be nothing left. The Miramichi Lumber Company, with their vast holdings of grants and leased lands, are not satisfied to cut from them. They send men along and get the farmers to clean off their grants down to five inches, whole sections of the country is stripped that way, and now when logs are selling for $22.00 per thousand and feet they have none to sell. The small mill owner that gives a lot of employment will soon be a thing of the past, as the farmer's grants are about cleaned off. In conclusion, I wonder if returned soldiers or any other person on this river would be allowed to go over to Maine and bring back any of their lumber, and get clear with it. Mostly every river in Maine is teeming with industries, driven by water power, etc. On the rivers, a great many of the mills and factories supplied with our best spruce with whole towns built up around them. I have nothing against the American people, they are all right, but it is about time we were done cutting their wood and carrying water for them.

Yours truly,
J. W. VANDERBECK

Wonderful Escape At Niagara Falls

Lad Went Over 200-Foot Cliff and Will Live

Niagara Falls, March 12—Maurice Knight, a twelve-year-old lad, is still alive and likely to recover from a two-hundred foot drop over a precipice of Niagara River. The boy, who lives on the American side, was playing with other lads when, to avoid a companion, he made a jump right over the bank. An alarm was immediately sounded, and firemen arrived with extension ladders and ropes. It was believed the lad had caught on a tree or landed in a crevice on the face of the cliff, because he could not be seen from the top of the bank, but while the searchers were trying to locate him, a motorman on the Gorge Railway, two hundred feet below, discovered him lying on the tracks, just in time to avoid running over him. Doctors declare the boy is not seriously injured.

Prince Albert, Sask, March 10—J. H. Lewis, sentenced to three years in Prince Albert penitentiary for breach of censorship, was released this morning and left on the 9.25 train for Saskatoon. The order was signed by Mr. Justice McDonald.

Miss Lynch Alleges 22-Year Courtship

Says Pumphrey Finally Married Girl of 23

Boston Globe—The $10,000 breach of promise suit of Margaret V. Lynch of Marlboro, against Michael Pumphrey, also of Marlboro, was begun in Superior Court at East Cambridge with Judge White presiding.

The plaintiff is 52 years old and the defendant 21. They kept company about 22 years it is alleged, when he married another woman, Miss Lynch works in a Marlboro shoe factory and Pumphrey is a night watchman at the Payville dam of the Metropolitan water system.

Miss Lynch testified she first met Pumphrey at a dance and they began keeping company. After five years he asked her to marry him, but he was out of work and for a few years his employment was uncertain. After that he got steady employment and they frequently talked of marriage. In August, 1916, he bought a house and stocked it with coal and other supplies. He was always affectionate and considerate, but on Jan. 13, 1918, he married Annie Roach, of Marlboro, who is only 23.

His action, Miss Lynch testified, had a serious effect upon her, and her health became poor. Her suffering affected her eyes and she was obliged to get glasses.

The trial is unfinished.

Do You Want Pink Checks

They Can be Had by Keeping the Blood Rich Red and Pure

Every woman—every girl—wants pink cheeks. They mean not only beauty but good health. When a woman's blood is scanty or anaemic, her color fades, she looks debilitated, is short of breath and her heart palpitates after slight exertion. Sometimes this trouble is accompanied by severe headaches, or pains in the back or sides. This condition is entirely due to weak, watery blood, and can only be cured by making the blood rich, red and pure. For this purpose there is nothing so equal as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which act directly upon the blood, and in this way bring new health and strength to weak, ailing people. Mrs. Anderson, Hearst, Ont., says:—"Before coming to Canada from England I was a sufferer from anaemia or upwards of a year. I had been gradually getting paler and weaker. I did not realize that I was sick, but I felt constantly tired and worn out. I had no ambition for anything, and grew so white that my brothers used to call me 'snowball.' At this stage my mother decided that she would get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are a favorite medicine in England as well as in Canada. On the day I commenced taking them I fainted on getting out of bed and mother urged me to stay in bed for a few days. I really felt so weak that I was glad to take her advice. I looked more like a corpse than a living person. I remained in bed for a week, taking the pills regularly, and then I felt that I was able to get up, though not able to go about. From that on, however, I gained strength daily, and in a little more than a month I was feeling as well as ever I did. The color returned to my cheeks and lips, and my friends were all surprised at my rapid recovery. I took no medicine but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so that they deserve all the credit for my restoration to health."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Hun Executed For Robbery

Caught With Jewels Valued at 800,000 Marks

London, March 13—A Copenhagen despatch says that the nature of the fighting between government troops and Spartacan bands in the Eastern suburbs of Berlin seems to indicate that local Spartacan groups have been formed for "no other purpose than to plunder the city."

An Amsterdam telegram received here says that on Monday a Spartacan adherent was captured, and in his possession were found jewels valued at 800,000 marks. The message adds that the man was executed.

New York, March 12—A man identified by the police as Martin Sellers, of this city, was strangled to death in a deserted hallway in West 62nd St. today. The pockets of his clothing were turned inside out, indicating that robbery was the motive of the murder.

St. Thomas College Destroyed by Fire

Chatham, March 13—This town was thoroughly alarmed by the fire which early this morning when St. Thomas College, comprising all the buildings in connection with the pro-Cathedral, was burned to the ground, and smaller fires set over nearly the entire town by flying cinders. Fortunately these incipient blazes were suppressed, and the fire has been localized about the college buildings, which are, however, a total loss. Nearly 100 boys, boarding at the Institution, escaped in their night clothes, and it is regarded as almost miraculous that none were killed or injured. Nothing was saved in the buildings.

The fire department responded quickly to the alarm at 1.15 a. m., but put up a losing fight against the flames, which had a firm grip of the four-storey wooden structure before their arrival. Situated on a high hill overlooking the town, the burning building presented a danger to the wooden district below, but practically the entire town was aroused and as soon as the flying cinders found lodgment on roofs and walls they were instantly drenched with waiting bucket brigades. Besides the boarding students the college as also attended by about 200 boys from Chatham and vicinity as day boarders. The lads could do nothing to aid in the fighting, but stood around shivering in their pyjamas and watched the struggle.

The college is conducted as an academy and preparatory school by the Basilican Fathers, and has been in operation for a few years only. The students have made a good reputation in scholastic attainments as well as athletics.

All the seventy-five students escaped in perfect safety, due to excellent discipline and cool presence of mind of the instructors and other boys.

Father Passcho, instructor of mathematics, was delayed in the building and became confused by the overwhelming smoke. He managed to reach a window on the third floor and flung no other exit, jumped from there to the ground. He was picked up unconscious and badly injured, and rushed to the Bishop's Palace, where he received medical attention.

Edward O'Donnell, of Barhurst, had his face badly burned and his eyebrows singed, when he bravely rushed down a burning stairway, the only exit he could find.

The fire, which was discovered at one o'clock, is supposed to have originated from defective wiring. When the alarm was given, a thin cloud of smoke was seen issuing from one of the upper windows, but by the time all the boys had been safely removed sheets of flame were bursting through the walls. The students had been rescued in the nick of time.

When it was seen that the building was doomed, Chief William Skidd and his fire brigade directed their efforts to saving the adjoining buildings. A bad blaze on the Whitty property was checked, the college rink was saved.

St. Thomas College was founded eight years ago by the Basilican Fathers, and its present head is Rev. Fr. William Roche, D.D. The building was a large wooden structure, four storeys high, and covered the site of the former pro-Cathedral.

St. John Telegraph—Dorchester has a beer mystery. County Prohibition Inspector Amos Belliveau, of Westmorland, who was in St. John this week, had some beer analyzed and found that it contained nine per cent proof spirits. The beer was a part of a barrel which was seized at the Westmorland shiretown railroad station. It bore the address: "Dr. Powers, Dorchester." Nobody knows who Dr. Powers is but the inspector has learned that the beer is more powerful than he thought. A lot of beer seized in Moncton has been sent to St. John to ascertain if it has such a vigorous "kick" as that seized at Dorchester.

Clifford Lyons of the Naval Service who recently returned from overseas, and is recuperating from the effects of an injury and operation resulting therefrom, has seen more dangerous work performed on the high seas than probably any other New Brunswicker in the Great War. At the time of the armistice he was acting Chief Petty Officer of a mine sweeper and he spent the greater part of his three years service in the naval uniform in this hazardous and death-confronting work. The perils are pretty well known by this time to the general public, but like all members of the British Navy Petty Officer Lyons is very modest and cannot be induced to open up on the subject. However, this much is known, that he has been recommended for honors for a very daring bit of work he performed during the height of a furious gale. By a reckless leap from the sweeper to a dock he effected the saving of the vessel and crew, but had injured himself in the act, and had finally to undergo an operation in a hospital. He is recovering from the effects of this and his many friends are giving him a warm welcome on his return to Chatham.—Gazette.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peter O'Donnell, Ludlow, on Wednesday, Feb. 25th, when their son Darcy was united in marriage to Helen O'Donnell. Only the near relatives were present. The bridal party stood under an arch of evergreens and yewers. Rev. A. J. Patstone performed the ceremony. The bride was beautifully attired in blue silk with white trimmings and was given away by her father, Coun. Arthur O'Donnell, of Carroll's Crossing. In the evening a reception was held, supper being served to about sixty guests. They received many beautiful and useful presents, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

Dear Patrons and Friends:— I wish to deny the rumors that are around that I am going out of business. DON'T BELIEVE IT. I'm here to stick. Some people would like to get rid of me, but no chance. You'll find yours truly there to look after your wants.

BIG SAWLOGS

Lacknow was treated to an old-time saw-logging scene one evening last week when a procession of four teams hauling four monster-size logs passed through town on their way to Treleven's saw-mill. The four logs, each only ten feet long, measured 4,000 lumber feet, and we understand the value of the logs when finally dumped in the mill yard was about $125.00. The logs were all from the one tree—one of the few monarchs of the forest in this part to escape the woodman's axe of former years. Besides the four logs there was a "butt" block five feet long by six in diameter, and a top which will make about ten cords of wood. The tree grew on Mark Gardner's farm and brought by Mr. Jas. Fischer who engaged James Hackett to cut and deliver the logs.—Lacknow Sentinel.

The loss from lice and mites is more than their weight in gold. Half blue ointment and half lard or tallow makes a good louse killer.
