

The Signal

DEVOTED TO COUNTY NEWS AND GENERAL INTELLIGENCE

GODERICH, ONT., FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1882.

THIRTY-FOURTH YEAR.
WHOLE NUMBER 1048.

The People's Column.

CURRIE'S AUCTION MART.

CRAB'S BLOCK.

I am favored with instructions from the Victoria Salt Company to sell by public auction at the auction mart, on Wednesday, the 23rd August, 1882, the property known as the Victoria Salt Works, comprising lots 614, 615, 616, and 617, in the town of Goderich, Colborne Co., Ontario. Terms, cash, or by note, payable at time of sale. J. C. CURRIE, Auctioneer.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.

A Good general servant girl. Apply to Mrs. Turnbull, Presbyterian Manse.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—A BUGGY.

And single harness. For particulars apply at this office.

SHEEP AND BEES FOR SALE.—A

number of ram lambs, got by a Provincial winner. Also some choice hives of bees. For particulars apply to Matthew Levy, 4th con. of Colborne.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE THAT I

will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife or any other person after my written order. ROBERT DOAK, Stanley.

SHEEP ESTRAY.—CAME ESTRAY.

Came on the premises of the subscriber, about the beginning of June, a ewe, the owner is requested to prove property, pay charges and take her away. JOHN B. SMITH, 127-129, Colborne, N. B. P. O.

MISS NETTIE SEEGMILLER.

Having completed her studies in music under Prof. Sippi of London, and having received a certificate, is now prepared to receive a limited number of pupils for Piano instruction. Miss Seegmiller is also prepared to take orders for Crayon painting. Residence, corner Cambria Road and Newgate Street.

MUSIC.—MISS SKIMMING, IN

thanking her patrons for their continued patronage, would intimate her desire to organize an extra class, for instructions in vocal and instrumental music, during the approaching vacation. Terms, $5.00 per quarter, in advance. Goderich, June 23rd, 1882.

TO RENT.—A COMFORTABLE

House on South Street, containing 8 rooms, kitchen and pantry, with hard and soft water. Apply to GEO. McMAHON, 182-1f.

FOR SALE.—THAT BEAUTIFUL

Building site, containing two lots, 286 and 287, in the town of Goderich, being the property owned and occupied by the late Henry Horton Esq. Convenient to the square. Will be sold in one parcel or in lots to suit. Enquire of J. C. CURRIE, Auctioneer.

TO RENT.—A COMFORTABLE

House on St. Patrick's Street, containing seven rooms and washhouse. Hard and soft water on the premises, and the entire place in the best condition. Convenient to the square. Also two brick cottages, near the square. Apply to J. B. SMITH, 127-129, Colborne, Newgate Street, Goderich.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT.—THE

Large premises known as the Tecumseh Salt Well with block, containing one steam pan and set of iron pan and mill, in good condition. Working capacity 100 lbs per day. Present price of salt 80c per bushel. For particulars apply to J. T. GARROW, Barrister, P. O. Box 70, Goderich.

TO DROVERS, CATTLE SHIP-

pers and wholesale butchers. For rent for term of years, the property opposite to the town lands of Goderich, Ont. known as the Big Meadow Island and distillery block, with the buildings thereon, all fenced and watered by the Maitland river and springs, being about two hundred acres more or less of grass land, about one hundred and twenty five acres of which has been sown down to a mixture of the best meadow grass, clover and timothy, and capable of carrying a large amount of stock for fattening or shipping. For particulars apply to J. T. GARROW, Barrister, Goderich, Ont.

50 C. WILL PAY FOR THE SIGNAL.

Postage free for the balance of 1882. Subscribers at once, and get full benefit of this offer.

Legal Notices.

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Chancery Division. HERR vs GRUER.

Pursuant to the judgment delivered in this cause and bearing date the 23rd day of August, A. D. 1882, there will be sold by public auction at the Court of Chancery, in the Supreme Court at Goderich, by John C. Currie, Auctioneer, at Martin's hotel, in the village of Duncannon, on Saturday, the 5th day of August, A. D. 1882, at one o'clock in the afternoon, the following property, to-wit:

The north east quarter of lot number eight, and the north west quarter of lot number nine in the third concession of the township of Wawanosh containing one hundred and twenty five acres of land, more or less.

This property is situated about two miles from the village of Duncannon, and about twelve miles from the town of Goderich. The soil is a clay loam. There are about 30 acres cleared and fit for cultivation, and about 10 acres of slash which is capable of being cleared with but little difficulty. The remainder about 15 acres are dry and well wooded with good beech and maple timber and the balance is principally a swamp, the timber of which (being pine and cedar) is very valuable. The buildings consist of a good frame dwelling house a story and a half high.

Terms of sale: Ten per cent down on the day of sale to the plaintiff's solicitors, the balance without interest, to be paid into court within one month thereafter, when the purchaser shall be entitled to conveyance and to be let into possession. The purchaser at the time of sale is to sign an agreement for the completion of the purchase. The property will be put up subject to a reserved bid. In other respects the conditions of sale shall be the standing conditions of sale of the court. Further particulars may be obtained from E. Campion Esq., Solicitor, Goderich. Or from the Auctioneer or from the Plaintiff's Solicitors.

Dated at Goderich the 7th day of July A. D. 1882.

GARROW & PROUDFOOT, S. MALCOMSON, Plaintiff's Solicitors. Master at Goderich, 1847-3f.

The new 6-cent large sheet music at Sheppard's bookstore is rushing off rapidly. 200 pieces were recently disposed of in two days. And yet there is more to follow.

J. C. Currie's Sale List.

At the Mart, the Victoria salt works lots. Sale commences at one o'clock, on Wednesday, the 2nd of August.

Chancery sale, to take place at Martin's hotel, Duncannon, on Saturday, August 5th.

NEWS ABOUT HOME.

"A child's name is his father's name."

As faith he'll prove it.

TOWN TOPICS.

Having bought out the whole of the stock of John Story, I will sell at prices that will defy competition. O. N. DAVIS, Market Square.

From the pleasure of the picnic season, I have been unable to visit the town. I have been away for many years and will in the time to come be a pleasing moment to the sweetest of my life.

Now is the time to get a good row boat, cheap for cash. It has seats capacity for three, and in first class order, as it was refitted this spring. Call on Geo. B. Robson and talk to him about it. He is to be found at Johnson's photo gallery.

Saunders & Son, at the Variety Store are selling more cook stoves, than ever before. And the reason is not hard to find. They sell at lowest prices in town and guarantee every stove to bake perfectly. Thorough work under the management of Mr. James Saunders. The Cheapest House Under the Sun.

Rev. Mr. Hick is taking a holiday trip.

Mr. Wilmer Smith is about town again.

Mr. L. Wilson is home from his Manitoba trip.

The crops promise an abundant harvest this season.

Miss L. McKewen of Clinton, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Robertson and Miss Seegmiller are visiting at Seaforth.

Knox church teachers' meeting will hold to-night at 8 o'clock.

Miss Sophia Ellard is ill of typhoid fever, but her case is light.

The 33rd Huron Battalion will go out camp at London on Sept. 6th.

Miss Knox, of Clinton was the guest of Mrs. Jessie Wilson last week.

Mr. W. T. Cox left for Chicago last week to pay a visit to his daughter.

Mrs. Willie Logan, of Bay City is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Kirkbride.

Mr. C. Montoney is again driving the Kincardine stage for Mr. A. M. Polley.

Summer visitors are pouring in. Goderich has been delightfully cool this season.

Miss Ross, one of the Stratford staff of teachers, is the guest of Mrs. Ralph, Newgate St.

Mr. H. H. Smith has returned to Winnipeg after a few weeks visit to his Goderich home.

Mr. J. T. Garrow left yesterday for the seaside, where he intends to spend about three weeks.

There is no excuse for borrowing THE SIGNAL when you can get it post free until 1st January next.

Price of THE SIGNAL for the balance of 1882, only 50c. Tell it to your friends who do not now subscribe.

Mr. John Cox, for a number of years in the employ of J. C. Dettler & Co., will leave next week for a situation in Chicago.

Mr. Brown and bride, of Chicago, visited Goderich on their wedding trip and were the guests of Mrs. Geo. Acheson, Nelson St.

The annual excursion of the G. T. R. employes, Brantford, will take place on Saturday, the 29th, to Goderich. So says a London daily.

TRIPLET.—The wife of Mr. Duncan Stewart, hotel keeper of Mitchell, gave birth to three children on the 12th of July. All doing well.

Miss Lizzie Hodge, oldest daughter of Mr. A. Hodge of the St. James Hotel, Toronto, is spending her vacation with her grandfather B. Hodge Esq.

WHERE TO ADVERTISE.—The second column of this page of THE SIGNAL contains a lot of space. 'The People's Column' is closed last every week.

Mr. P. McLaren, and wife, left this week by G. T. R. for Goderich, where they take the boat for Duluth; they return in a short time.—[New Era]

ONLY 50 CENTS.—For this sum we will send THE SIGNAL to any address in Canada or the United States from the present time until 1st January 1883.

On Tuesday morning the tug Black Shelby, Capt. Morrison, and a fish boat and crew, left here to engage in fishing at Golden Valley, Manitoulin Island.

Mr. A. Waddell, late Deputy-Clerk of the Crown of Huron, has been appointed assessor and collector of Brandon, Man., at a salary of $100 per month.

The timber, left from the old Maitland bridge was sold on Saturday in 47 parcels, and realized over $200. Nearly ten tons of iron offered were withdrawn.

Capt. and Mrs. Jackson, of New York were so charmed with Goderich last year as a summer resort that they have returned to spend this season at the Albion.

The Cadets of Temperance had a picnic on Wednesday. The youngsters drove around the Square in high glee, and we understand they had a pleasant time.

A memorial sermon in connection with the death of the late Maggie Aitken will be preached in the North St. Methodist Church on Sunday next by Rev. Mr. Wakefield.

Mr. Isaac Salkeld, Bayfield road, had such good success with his sorghum crop last season, that he has put in another crop, but expects a rather light yield of the juice this season.

The St. Elmo is a popular spot with lovers of good ice-cream. The chief parlour is inviting, and beautiful new piano is at the use of visitors. The veranda is delightfully cool afternoons and evenings.

The brethren of Court Goderich C. O. F. paid a visit to the Lonsdale Court on Friday evening last, and were entertained at luncheon by the brethren of that court. This order is making rapid progress of Canada.

Mrs. McGaw and three children left for Winnipeg on Saturday last, by the steamer Quebec. She goes to join her husband, our former townman, Mr. Alex. McGaw, who is employed as book keeper in the large Ogilvie flouring mill in Winnipeg.

HORSES FOR DAKOTA.—On Saturday Messrs. Rattenbury and J. Mooney, of Clinton, shipped by boat from Goderich, about 45 horses, for Grand Forks, Dakota. They also accompanied the horses, which were in charge of J. Rattenbury sr., F. Rumball jr. and J. Fox.

The decoration of St. Peter's R. C. church is about complete, and presents a fine appearance, speaking well for the artist Mr. H. Lucas. Mr. Aleck Saunders was yesterday putting on the finishing touches in the shape of gilt mouldings around the caps and bases of the pillars.

THE HURON LIVE STOCK ASSOCIATION. A meeting of the officers and Directors of the Huron Live Stock Association, will be held at the Commercial Hotel, Clinton, on Tuesday July 25th, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of considering the property of holding a fall sale of stock.

Mr. Andrews, Bayfield road, has made a great number of improvements on his farm, having built a handsome brick house which boasts of a house bell to call the farm hands to their meals. He has also removed other building to give his farm a model aspect.

The New Era pays the following to a local musician:—"Mr. Bond's concertina playing was something magnificent and plainly showed that he was an adept in the use of this instrument, and the hearty encore given him testified the appreciation of the audience."

At the R. C. Bazar and prize drawing in Guelph, Jas. Campbell, livy man, Incardine, brother of the 1st Deputy Reeve of Goderich, won a $200 worth of cow. As if to counterbalance with his good fortune he had a horse drop dead of apoplexy the day he received the news of his prize winning.

Mr. Geo. E. Casey, M. P., for West Elgin was in town on Saturday last, on his way to the North-West. He was accompanied by Mr. Ervinger of St. Thomas. During the afternoon Mr. Casey visited Mr. M. C. Cameron, and partook of his hospitality. Messrs. Cameron and Casey sit side by side in the House of Commons.

On Wednesday last 19th inst., wheat was out on the farm of Mr. Win. Tichbourne, lot 17, con. 6, which is the earliest we have yet heard of in this section. The wheat was of the Fultz variety, which Mr. Tichbourne got from his brother Mr. Jas. Tichbourne who resides near Chatham. It is a good yielding grain and promises to run from 35 to 40 bushels to the acre.

I. O. F.—Bro. Andrew Kerby, P. G. of Huron Lodge, No. 62, Goderich, is in the city under medical treatment. Bro. Kerby has been a great sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but he has strong hopes of soon resuming his position, that of post-office clerk on the Buffalo and Goderich division of the Grand Trunk Railway, which position he has held for over 20 years past.—[Mail of the 15th.]

HURON MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.—A meeting was held at the Commercial Hotel, Clinton, on Tuesday the following medical men being present:—Drs. Holmes and Graham, Brussels; Taylor and McLean, Goderich; A. Sloan, Blyth; Young, Lonsdale; Bethune, Wingland; Hyndman, Exeter; Williams, Clinton; and Stewart, Brucefield. The following cases were brought before those present:—Two of cardiac disease, one of progressive muscular atrophy, one of stricture of the bowels, and a uterine tumor that has been successfully removed some three weeks ago. Other subjects of considerable interest to the association were discussed, and a profitable meeting held.

THE "GRIP-SACK" IS OCT.—We have received from the publishers a copy of this new Comic Annual, the first thing of the kind ever attempted in Canada. In its appearance it would do credit to any London or New York book, while in its literary and artistic contents it is decidedly superior to most of the humorous publications of the day. It is profusely illustrated in Grip's best vein and contains two full-page pictures printed in color. Amongst the many good things in the table of contents we may specify Mr. Bengough's burlesque narrative of adventures, entitled "Baron Munchausen, Jr., Manitoba" as particularly mirth-provoking. The Grip-Sack may be had at any bookstore for 25 cents.

Mr. Ben. Allan, the well-known Chicago jeweller, brother-in-law of Mr. George Cox, of this office, spent a few days in town last week. He looks youthful and has not been spoiled by his success in the Phoenix City.

Mr. F. J. Gissing formerly of THE SIGNAL, and a resident of Goderich for a number of years, has gone to Toronto, where he will live in the future. Mr. Gissing was a good citizen, and we shall miss his welcome visits to our sanctum.

ARRIVALS AT THE POINT FARM.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robinson, and Master Robinson, London. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Parker, 5 children and nurse; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Macdonald, 2 children and nurse, Toronto. Mrs. J. N. Harding, Miss Hardin, Miss Annie Harding, Miss Rathwell; Mrs. Trowbridge, Miss Trowbridge, Miss Annie Trowbridge; Mr. and Mrs. R. Taylor, Portage La Prairie; Col. John G. James, Galveston, Texas.

THE SLAUGHTER OF RAILWAY MEN.—At a recent meeting of the master car builders' association held in New York, Mr. Ferry stated that from 1200 to 1500 railroad employes are killed, and from 5000 to 10,000 injured every year. Curiously, the railway train is most dangerous before it leaves the yard, the hazards of the road being slight compared with those of the station. Most of the injuries to trainmen while coupling cars were, he believed, the result of carelessness.

KNOX S. S. PICNIC.—The annual picnic of Knox Church Sunday School was held in Bingham's grove on Wednesday. The younger children were conveyed to and from the grounds in the street car, driven by that smiling knight of the whip, Mr. Phil Reeves. The day was a glorious one, the provisions were abundant and excellent, and the youngsters had plenty of sport. Mr. Bingham has the grounds in nice order, and the spot is a pleasant one for picnicking parties. The Goderich band in the evening played a number of airs in good style.

FOUND DEAD.—An unknown man was found on Monday about three o'clock, on the farm of Hy. Peck, Stanley, about 2 miles from Bayfield. He was carried by some boys on Sunday last and was there lying a letter ready for sending away was found in his pocket, signed Thos. Clark, addressed to a coal-merchant, Yorkshire, Eng. On the body were found a good walking cane, a pair of new socks, cotton gloves, pipe clay, tobacco and 74c in money. He appeared to be about 70 years of age. An inquest was held by Coroner Sturby and a verdict of "Found Dead" returned last Monday night.

LAWN SOCIAL.—Although a heavy shower of rain early in the day threatened to put a damper upon the lawn party held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the North Street Methodist Church on the fine grounds of Mr. George Acheson on Tuesday evening, the attendance was very large, and the whole affair was one that reflected credit on all concerned. The lawn was in good condition, the promenading general, and the visiting seemed merry. The grounds were lit up by torches and Chinese lanterns, and the moving throng presented a fine sight to those who chose to look on it. Refreshments were provided to all desiring, and the following programme was general, and the visiting literary section of the guests of the evening:

PART 1st.

- 1—Inst. Duet by Misses Acheson and Price.
- 2—Solo by Miss Frances McLean.
- 3—Song by Misses Acheson, Miss Ferguson, Miss Moore, Miss Bruce.
- 4—Instrumental solo by Master Bruce.

PART 2nd.

- 1—Inst. piece by Misses Trueman, Miss Strang, Miss Bruce.
- 2—Reading by Mrs. Ducham.
- 3—Song by Misses Acheson, Miss Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Acheson were indefatigable in their endeavors to make every body feel at home, and their hospitable mansion was open from basement to ceiling for any guest. The gathering was considered a decided success by those who had the pleasure of attending.

A BIG RAILWAY MAN.—The following, from the Chicago Tribune refers to a brother-in-law of Mrs. D. Fraser, wife of the Deputy Registrar:—

It is rumored that Mr. James Charlton, General Passenger and Ticket Agent of the Alton, is to be offered the position of General Passenger Agent of the Amalgamated Grand Trunk & Great Western Railways. It is quite probable that there is some truth in the rumors. Mr. Charlton was formerly prominently connected with the Great Western of Canada. He has the reputation of being one of the ablest and most energetic passenger-men in America. He has few equals and no superiors. The fine reputation he enjoys all over this country even extends across the ocean, and his merits are well known to the English managers of the Canadian route, and it is therefore not surprising that he should try to secure his valuable services for the responsible position of General Passenger Agent of the amalgamated route. It may be by any means certain, however, that Mr. Charlton will accept the position if it is offered to him, unless the inducements are so great as to make it an object for him to leave the Alton with which he has been identified so long, and the managers of which so fully appreciate the valuable and able work he has done while connected with their road. It would be a hard matter for them to find a man to fill Mr. Charlton's place as acceptably as he has done for so many years, and for this reason they will no doubt make strenuous efforts to keep him if they can.

OUR TOWN FATHERS.

The Minutes of the last Meeting.

July 14th, 1882.

The Council met pursuant to adjournment from meeting of June 29th, 1882.

There were present—the Mayor in the chair, the Reeve, 1st and 2d Deputy Reeve, and councillors Bingham, Butler, Dancy, Edward, Humber, Jordan, Lee, Nicholson and Sloane.

The minutes of the meeting of June 29th, 1882, were read approved and signed.

The Sexton of the Cemetery presented a report to 30th con. showing the number of interments during the month to have been 7, also showing amount of work done for Mr. Cameron. Referred to Finance committee.

A communication was received from P. Adamson, County Clerk, advising that the county rate for 1882 be $1,596.70. Referred to Finance committee.

A communication was received from P. Adamson, Secretary High School Board of Trustees, saying that the amount required for High School for present year was $1,700. Referred to Finance committee.

A communication was received from P. Adamson, Secretary Horticultural Society, requesting usual grant of $100. Referred to Finance committee.

A petition was presented, signed by Robt. R. Symonds and 23 others requesting that the drain on Bennett st. be continued to Bayfield Road. Referred to Public Works committee.

An account was received from John Hillier, $1.50, and referred to Finance committee.

The consideration of the resignation of the Clerk and Treasurer laid over from last meeting, was then taken up.

Moved by Johnston, seconded by Bingham, that Mr. Moore's resignation be accepted, to take effect 1st of August.

Moved in amendment by Dancy, seconded by Humber, that Mr. Moore's resignation be accepted to take effect 1st of September.

There voted for the amendment: Yes—Edward, Dancy, Humber, Sloane—4. Nay—Johnston, Campbell, Hutchison, Bingham, Butler, Jordan, Lee, Nicholson—8. The amendment was declared lost.

A motion on the motion read resulted as follows:—Yes—Johnston, Campbell, Hutchison, Bingham, Butler, Edward, Humber, Jordan, Lee, Nicholson—10. Nay—Dancy, Sloane—2. The motion was declared carried.

Applications for the offices of Town Clerk and Treasurer were then read from W. R. Robertson, Harry E. Johnston and E. Woodcock.

It was moved by Butler, seconded by Bingham, that Harry E. Johnston be appointed Clerk and Treasurer, in the place of Mr. Moore, resigned, said appointment to take effect August 1st, and that the salary be the same as that received by Mr. Moore.

Moved in amendment by Humber, seconded by Edward, that W. R. Robertson be appointed Clerk and Treasurer in the place of Mr. Moore, resigned, said resignation to take effect August 1st.

There voted on the amendment: Yes—Edward, Dancy, Humber, Sloane—4. Nay—Johnston, Campbell, Hutchison, Bingham, Butler, Jordan, Lee, Nicholson—8. The amendment was declared lost.

Moved in amendment by Sloane, seconded by Humber, that the offices of Clerk and Treasurer be separated, and that two officers be appointed instead of one.

This amendment was declared lost on the same division as the previous amendment.

The motion was then put and carried on the division already given.

By-law No. 8, 1882, to appoint a clerk was then read a first and second time.

Moved by Dancy, seconded by Sloane, that the by-law be not now read a third time.—Lost.

By-law No. 9, to appoint a Treasurer, was then read a first and second time, and on motion of Jordan, seconded by Nicholson, rule 34 was suspended, and the by-law read a third time and passed.

By-law No. 10, appointing R. Radcliffe auditor in place of A. Walliell, removed, was duly passed.

The Council then adjourned.

The Allan Steamship Company has entered an action of libel against the Montreal Evening Post for stating that passengers of both sexes are huddled together on steamers coming out from England. Damages are laid at $20,000.

SEEKING FOR HIS SALARY.—Judge Frazer gave judgment on Monday in favor of the defendants in the case of Irwin v. The Board of Education, in which Mr. Irwin, who was head master of the Public School department of the Central School, Clinton, claimed $1,000 as five years' salary as head teacher in the Model School. Mr. Irwin will appeal.

The Park Hill Gazette has had a competitor in its office during the past week who has only one hand and that the left one. He can do an average journeyman's day's work at ease, empties his "stick," and does not seem much disabled by the absence of his right hand. Of all employment, that of a type-setter requires dexterity of the hands and fingers, but this young man, an Englishman, who has been earning 24 shillings per week in England, and whose labor is worth $8 to $10 per week here, shows what may be done by hopeful, persevering, industrious cripples.

NEWS ABOUT HOME.

"A child's name is a treasure, An' faith he'll print it."

TOY STORES.

Some packages of Dominion... Treasury recently without being signed.

The voters lists for 1882, to be revised the next few weeks, are those upon which the Ontario elections will, in all probability, be held next year.

FOR THE GRACE.—The youth of the Kincardine Standard thus gives himself away:—If a young man truly loves you he will always be somewhat embarrassed when with you.

RAILWAY TICKETS.—The act relating to the sale of railway passenger tickets in Canada is now in force throughout the Dominion.

SUCCESS ATTEND HIM.—From the Winnipeg Sun of June 20, we clip the following:—"Constable Sturday, of the Winnipeg police force, has obtained the appointment as Chief of Police for the town of Emerson.

MR. E. N. LEWIS recently purchased the wreck of the schooner Explorer, which was sunk near Tobemorey harbor in 100 feet of water in the fall of 1867.

COUNTY CONSTABLES.—The following have been appointed constables for this county, on the application of the Justices named, at the last General Sessions of the Peace.

A MERITED PUNISHMENT.—The Society for the Suppression of Vice is an organization doing a very effective work in Chicago and other States.

Hall's.

THE VOTERS' LIST.—There are 512 persons in this township qualified to serve as jurors.

INSANE.—We regret to hear that Mr. Hugh McBrien, of the Maitland Block, was last week taken to London Asylum.

AN OLD RESIDENT.—The Winnipeg Star refers to a former resident of Hallett as follows:—Mr. A. Cockerline, one of the progressive farmers of the London settlement, will have 90 acres under crop this season.

8100 Return

Is offered for any case of Catarrh that can't be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Seaford.

OBITUARY.—Another pioneer departed this life. Mr. D. M. Maitland, of Huron, and for many years a resident of Seaford, died on the 17th inst.

Morris.

Dr. Pyne of Morris, sold ten steers recently for $300. The same gentleman bought the same steers in the spring for $22 each, thereby netting a nice little sum by the sale.

MR. ALEX. FORSYTHE, of Morris, near Brussels, returned from the Northwest last week. He had been out in Dakota visiting his son, who has a large farm and is doing well.

Huron Presbytery.

This Presbytery met in Bayfield, on the 11th inst. Mr. Stewart was appointed Moderator for the ensuing six months.

Moderation in a call was granted to the congregations of Rodgerdville and Chiselhurst, the congregations promising to pay an annual stipend of $800, with a promise to enhance his usefulness in the future.

Smith Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN,—I have made a trial of one box of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy, with such good effect that I have no hesitation in recommending it to the public as a prompt and reliable medicine.

The well-known drug firm of N. C. Puleo & Co. of Kingston, writes that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has long been considered the best remedy for summer complaints in the market.

Stephen and Osborne Agricultural Society will hold its fall show on the first Monday and Tuesday in October.

Seaford.

There was even in very early times a divorce against which the French were the first to set their faces. In the Middle Ages, the divorce was a matter of course, and the husband was bound to support the wife and her children.

A Very Modest Orator.

A Boston paper has a new reporter who is enterprising and willing, as young men are when they first begin work in "journalism," but who doesn't yet know as much as he probably will at a later period of his career.

Smith Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN,—I have made a trial of one box of Dr. Smith's Great German Worm Remedy, with such good effect that I have no hesitation in recommending it to the public as a prompt and reliable medicine.

Through the present month of July the Stomach and Bowels are very liable to become deranged. The proper preventative is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters.

It Catarrh has destroyed your sense of smell and hearing, Hall's Catarrh Cure will cure you. 75 cents per bottle.

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Soreness of the Chest, Gout, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Swellings and Sprains, Burns and Scalds, General Bodily Pains, Tooth, Ear and Headache, Frosted Feet and Ears, and all other Pains and Aches.

The Great American Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LOSS OF VOICE, HOARSENESS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS.

GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and its almost specific effect in curing obstinate hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large.

FRESH ARRIVALS. CANNED CORN BEEF, LUNCH TONGUE, ENGLISH BRAWN, POTTED TONGUE, BEEF, HAM, CHICKEN.

FRESH SALMON AND LOBSTER. A FINE ASSORTMENT OF Christie Brown & Co's BISCUITS AND CAKES.

TEAS, SUGARS AND Pure pieces. TRY THEM Chas. A. Nairn.

BEST WHEAT AND GRAZING LANDS ARE FOUND ON THE Northern Pacific R. R. IN MINNESOTA, DAKOTA, AND MONTANA.

Chas. A. Nairn. Goderich, Feb. 10th, 1882.

GET YOUR PRINTING OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, Posters, Circulars, Cards, &c.

PRINTED AT THE OFFICE OF THE HURON SIGNAL, North Street, Goderich.

BOOTS AND SHOES

At the Oldest Established Shoe Store in Town.

In Endless Variety, MY SPRING STOCK

Large & Varied Stock

CUSTOM WORK

Ladies and Misses Boots Heel plated Free of charge.

E. DOWNING

Chilled Plow

W. S. Hart & Co. PROPRIETORS OF THE Goderich Mills

Chilled Plow

AGRICULTURAL WORKS.

HARDWARE

MCKENZIE

Farmers' Hardware

Builders' Hardware

KNIVES FORKS AND SPOONS,

HE IS BOUND TO SELL CHEAP

R. W. MCKENZIE

GREAT BARGAINS!

BOOTS AND SHOES!

GREAT CLEARING SALE FOR 30 DAYS

AT CAMPBELL'S BOOT AND SHOE EMPORIUM

Nothing but First Class Material Used,

A Good Fit Guaranteed

WM CAMPBELL.

GET YOUR PRINTING

POSTERS, CIRCULARS, CARDS, &c.

PRINTED AT THE OFFICE OF THE HURON SIGNAL, North Street, Goderich.

ALEXA heard in the marsh plover's detour to wait for were able town. I fighting owing to

There the fugiti Egyptian ed the it Alexandr not enoug all the str At least t More than b in flim

THE S CONSTA iah Ambe Granville land is co against t sovereign way prej

the Afric American entered th a battery r fear guard of Pol and song saved him soldiers, n the massa that fiteet and two t bombardm

ALEXAN town is from the House h Square its Square quart not ruined House and so far as Rank is al straw w and simila bodies hav

One thin bombardm was survo entered hi had order palace. A alty was b They then British at t not allowe with him. Arabi pres 5.10 p. n marchd

It is at the report is now so to fight up of internal pare for a withing y lowers the a great bat he is recd Great con over the ex of Arabi, a

The New despatch as houses in t then set f was first fi yesterday t it. In the found the been left like so ma

The un hours, foll lent work-up. Man' phe that h London, poses to re reports of f clad, with armaments

ENGLAND I The Th still hold t in the Con pared to t welcome t Governm

The maver, being the fortifi mens of r within the In a case li ing is safe. stroy the p

[FINCH fire is in th men are se completing Arabs are

Seymour force, but that 9,000 tion outsid while Seyn He, theref men, order

WAR IN EGYPT.

SOME SHARP FIGHTING. ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The firing heard in Alexandria yesterday was by the marines and soldiers dispersing the plunderers with Gatling guns.

THE SULTAN'S SOVEREIGN RIGHTS. CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—The Turkish Ambassador to London telegraphed Granville and informed him that England is compelled to proceed vigorously against the Egyptian rebels.

RUINED ALEXANDRIA. ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—4 p. m.—The town is totally ruined. The houses from the Great Square to the Custom House have been plundered.

THE KHEDEVE'S ESCAPE. Dervish Pasha says that but for the opportune appearance on Wednesday of a British man-of-war off Pharos Fort, the Khedive would have been murdered.

A MASSACRE OF CAIRO FEARED. It is stated Arabi spread all over Egypt the report that the British Government is now so circumstanced, that it is able to fight upon the sea only.

THE LIBERATED CONVICTS. The New York Telegram's Alexandria despatch says:—It would appear that the houses in town were first plundered and then set on fire.

THE FIRE OF THE FLEET. Admiral Seymour seemed to be much distressed that he could not afford a sufficient force of men to land, in consequence of information respecting a large force of Egyptians ready to attack.

A FATAL DELAY. The unfortuned delay of twenty hours following the hard but excellent work of Tuesday, can never be made up.

ENGLAND READY TO FINISH THE WORK. The Times says: Should the Porte still hold back Lord Dufferin will state in the Conference that England is prepared to undertake the task.

COMPLETE DESTRUCTION. The majority of the population, however, being convinced of the strength of the fortifications and destitute of the means of removal, must have remained within the walls up to the last moment.

in order to frighten the rioters. Thirty armed Europeans, who escaped the general massacre, were told by the Pasha whom they met on their way through the town that the Egyptians killed over 700.

THE EGYPTIAN GUNS. The marines who spiked the guns found 15 Armstrong guns of the newest pattern, some disabled.

THE KHEDEVE'S COOLNESS. The News' correspondent at Alexandria says the Khedive's coolness and courage never left him during the crisis.

WANT TO BE FRIENDLY. Alexandria, July 14.—Evening.—All the Arabs are carrying white handkerchiefs on sticks, and showing great anxiety to be thought friendly.

FRENCH AND ITALIAN ARTILLERISTS. The populace are being encouraged to return to their homes. The Penelope has sailed for Ismailia.

WOMEN AS INCENDIARIES. London, July 14.—A correspondent on the Condor says women were seen firing houses with petroleum in Alexandria.

ARABI ORDERS THE MURDER OF THE KHEDEVE. Gen. Stone confirms the report that Arabi Pasha ordered the murder of the Khedive, and the sacking of the town.

THE CROPS OF ONTARIO. Interesting Statistics Gathered by the Ontario Government. The July Report of the Bureau of Industries gives a summary of the condition of grain, hay, and fruit crops in Ontario.

The condition of the crops is compiled from the reports of five hundred correspondents, made on the 1st of July, and covering nearly every township in the Province.

It will be noticed in the summary of acreages given below that the area under fall wheat is nearly double the area under fall wheat. This is a great relative change since 1870.

The fall wheat is reported very good throughout the western half of the Province. It has recovered admirably from the effects of spring frosts.

The fall wheat is reported very good throughout the western half of the Province. It has recovered admirably from the effects of spring frosts.

Among the most prevalent fatal and sudden attacks of disease, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, etc.

There would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Dr. Casson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS AND S'WING MACHINES. The subscriber would intimate to the people of Goderich that he has decided to give up business in his line owing to ill health.

J. W. WEATHERALD. 1829-31. The August Report of the Bureau will give statistics of the live stock of the country.

Table with columns: THE PROVINCE, THE COUNTY, CEREALS, Acs. in Estimat. Crop, ed. Pro. Bush, Acs. in Estimat. Crop, ed. Pro. Bush.

Fun and Fancy. "Let us play we are married," said little Edith, "and I will bring my little doll and you will say, don't bother me."

"Ah, dearest," sighed the young man, kneeling at the feet of his ownest ward, "dost thou know what of all outward things is nearest my heart?"

"That man is a phrenologist, Pat." "A phrenologist?" "Phat's that?" "Why, a man that can tell, by feeling of the bumps on your head, what kind of a man you are."

A little girl was promised by her grand-mother her gold watch and chain when she should die.

A Philadelphia paper says that on Chestnut street a lady of uncertain age looks unutterably at a gentleman, who thereupon ventures to offer her his umbrella.

A prominent Lowell bicyclist was riding down Lawrence-street the other afternoon, and came very near running down a portly old woman with a basket on either arm.

Is rather an indefinite term. As commonly understood it consists of a torpid sluggish state of the liver, a deficiency or a superabundance of bile, or an alteration from its proper character.

Among the most prevalent fatal and sudden attacks of disease, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, etc.

James Heale. Maker and seller, Goderich.

There would be little if any sickness during the hot months of July and August, if every one would take Dr. Casson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters, as they prevent and cure all derangements of the Stomach and Bowels.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS AND S'WING MACHINES. The subscriber would intimate to the people of Goderich that he has decided to give up business in his line owing to ill health.

J. W. WEATHERALD. 1829-31. The August Report of the Bureau will give statistics of the live stock of the country.

Table with columns: THE PROVINCE, THE COUNTY, CEREALS, Acs. in Estimat. Crop, ed. Pro. Bush, Acs. in Estimat. Crop, ed. Pro. Bush.

Fun and Fancy. "Let us play we are married," said little Edith, "and I will bring my little doll and you will say, don't bother me."

"Ah, dearest," sighed the young man, kneeling at the feet of his ownest ward, "dost thou know what of all outward things is nearest my heart?"

"That man is a phrenologist, Pat." "A phrenologist?" "Phat's that?" "Why, a man that can tell, by feeling of the bumps on your head, what kind of a man you are."

A little girl was promised by her grand-mother her gold watch and chain when she should die.

A Philadelphia paper says that on Chestnut street a lady of uncertain age looks unutterably at a gentleman, who thereupon ventures to offer her his umbrella.

A prominent Lowell bicyclist was riding down Lawrence-street the other afternoon, and came very near running down a portly old woman with a basket on either arm.

Is rather an indefinite term. As commonly understood it consists of a torpid sluggish state of the liver, a deficiency or a superabundance of bile, or an alteration from its proper character.

Among the most prevalent fatal and sudden attacks of disease, are those incident to the Summer and Fall, such as cholera morbus, bilious colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, etc.

James Heale. Maker and seller, Goderich.

JUST RECEIVED.

D. FERGUSON'S A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF FRESH GROCERIES, SUITABLE FOR THE SEASON.

Special Bagains in Teas at Very Low Prices.

25c. per lb. and upwards. If you want a really fine Tea try my 50c. Young Hyzon it is a splendid article and worth more money. I have also just opened out a complete assortment of Corckery Glassware, Lamps & Lamp Goods in Great Variety AND AT VERY LOW PRICES.

Call and be Convinced MILLINERY. Miss Jessie Wilson Saturday, April the 8th

TRIMMED & UNTRIMMED GOODS FLOWERS AND FEATHERS. LATEST NOVELTIES.

The ladies are cordially invited to inspect goods, and I will deem it a pleasure to show the LATEST AND BEST STYLES. ORDERED WORK A SPECIALTY.

Farmers Attention!

Barbed Fence Wire contracted for in any quantity at very lowest prices. I SELL EITHER 2 OR 4 BARBED FENCE WIRE.

Use Barbed Wire for Fences.

NO SNOW; DIFTS NO WEEDS NO WASTE; LANDS. For sale by G. H. PARSONS, CHEAP DEALER, GODERICH.

The Great Cleansing Fluid, McCOLL BROS & CO. TORONTO.

MRS. WARNOCK MANUFACTURERS LARDINE OIL AND—

DR. LUCYAN'S CLEANSING & RENOVATING FLUID,

For removing grease and soil from anything and everything, from the finest fabric to the coarsest garment worn.

AGENTS Wanted. Big Pay. Light Work. Constant employment.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address RUE & Co. Augusta, Maine.

Sarsaparilla

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruption which contaminate the blood and cause derangement and decay.

It is fully to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, without medicinal virtues, and as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated.

It is fully to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, without medicinal virtues, and as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated.

It is fully to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, without medicinal virtues, and as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated.

It is fully to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, without medicinal virtues, and as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated.

It is fully to experiment with the numerous low-priced mixtures, without medicinal virtues, and as blood-purifiers, while disease becomes more firmly seated.

THE HURON SIGNAL

published every Friday Morning, by McILCOUBRY HURON, at their Office, North St. left of the Square.

And is dispensed to all parts of the surrounding country by the carrier's mails and routes. By general admission it has a larger circulation than any other newspaper in this part of the country.

TERMS.—$1.00 in advance, postage pre-paid by publisher; $1.75, if paid before six months $2.00 if not so paid. This rule will be strictly enforced.

FRIDAY, JULY 21st, 1892.

Tax Nova Scotia provincial elections were brought on at the same time as the Dominion elections, in order to strengthen the Federal Government. The consequence is that the Local Administration was beaten, and resigned on Wednesday.

THE Tory papers of Perth quarrel among themselves about as badly as their Huron brethren do. The Stratford Times has long had an unenviable reputation for its vile treatment of opponents, and the indecency of its utterances. The Stratford Herald, on the same side of politics, last week opened out upon its scurrilous contemporary, the editor of which it alluded to as "a contractor for immoral literature," and after showing up his crookedness, dubs him "a moving dunghill." Verily the Tory birds do not in their little nests agree.

WHILE the Tory organs in town are silent about the recent convalescence in a law office here, to take steps to protest the election of Mr. Cameron in West Huron, the outside organs opposed to the Liberal candidate are making a great noise about the affair. The truth is, the meeting was a great fizzle. Nothing was found that could invalidate the election, and the conspirators determined to wait, Micawber like, for something to turn up. The Clinton New Era, referring to the matter, says: "Our town contemporary stated last week that it was decided to protest the election of Mr. Cameron. We have good authority for saying that no such decision was arrived at, at the Goderich meeting. What was decided was that if sufficient grounds upon which to base a protest were discovered a protest might be entered, but the grounds are yet to be found. They appear to think that because Clinton did so well for Cameron, money must have been used here, but if they get no better foundation for a protest than what they will get here, there is not a ghost of a chance of unseating him. We don't wonder that the Conservatives feel sore over their defeat in this riding, but they might as well accept the situation and admit that they were fairly beaten—for they were, and investigation in the courts will confirm this."

MR. "TUG" WILSON and Mr. John Sullivan had a "soft glove fight" in New York on Monday night. "Tug" Wilson is an English buisner, who, having heard that Sullivan had stated that no man in the world could come to time with him after the 4th round, crossed the Atlantic to take a chance for the challenge money. Sullivan is the big blacksmith who vanquished Paddy Ryan so easily last year. The sporting columns of the daily newspapers give graphic descriptions of the black guardly exhibition, from beginning to the close, when "Tug" came up smiling, the winner of $1,000 after the fourth round. The "soft glove fight" is a way they have of getting over the legal restrictions against prize fighting, but after glancing at the record of the Wilson-Sullivan "mill," we are much of opinion that the same principle is involved in it as in an ordinary prize fight. Wilson won the fight merely by allowing his bulky antagonist to expend his strength by knocking him down, and this demonstrated what many have previously contended that "it is harder to give than to receive." The receipts at the door to witness the pummelling netted some $25,000.

THE TOWN CLERKSHIP. The haste with which the new Clerk-Treasurer was appointed on Friday evening is not at all creditable to the judgment of the Council Board. The position is an important one, and the occupant of it should be carefully selected. The resignation of Mr. Moore had no sooner been accepted, than the new official was appointed. The council made no call for applications, not a day's notice was given, but with that unseemly haste which gave the affair the look of a political job, the appointment was hurried on a straight party vote. We regret that our councillors, Reform or Conservative, should bring political feeling into so important a matter as the appointment of a town Clerk and Treasurer. We regret also that the matter was rushed through with electric speed, instead of applications having been openly invited, and other citizens having had an opportunity of trying for the position. We do not cast any reflection on the ability of the few candidates for the office, but it may have been that as good, or even better, men would have offered for the place had it been publicly declared vacant, and had applications for the situation been asked for.

OF course it will be said that the time was short, and the appointment had to be made. If so why were not applications called for in prospective, after Mr. Moore had first formally requested to be allowed to resign? When the individual members of the Council Board wish to secure employees they do it independent of political feeling, and like to have as many applicants as possible for the position. When the public desire a servant, they want to get a wide choice and the best man for the position independent of party feeling.

MR. WILSON KENNEDY, a farmer of Blanshard township, lost his life by coming in collision with a freight train on Tuesday evening. While on his way home from St. Mary's he attempted to pass over one of the crossings, and drove right in front of the engine of the west-bound train, and was instantly killed. Mr. Kennedy was unable to see the approaching train owing to the character of the crossing. He was thirty-five years of age, and unmarried.

SINCE the people of Canada so strongly pronounced in favor of the Conservative government and good times, things have been booming (in your mind) in Goderich. The commercial pulse of the town has now a healthy beat, our harbor is thronged with shipping, stockeepers cannot get enough clerks to wait upon customers; a number of British capitalists are going to invest capital to the extent of something under $200,000.99 in cotton factories and rolling mills, and hundreds of our expatriated countrymen in Dakota and other points in the United States are writing us that they are going to sell out at any price and return to us—but we can't lie like the average Conservative writer, and give it up.

Over 30 sheep were sold for the big drove on Monday last by farmers living here. The prices received averaged $8 to $9 each. The heaviest live weight was 185, and was raised by Mr. W. Strachan. The public school examination section No. 5 came off on the 6th of this month. When the scholars were examined by their able teacher, Mr. R. E. Brown, assisted by the teacher of the Nile school. The scholars acquitted themselves well, showing marked progress during the past year. After the examination was over, Mr. John Linklater was called to the chair, when very practical speeches were made by Messrs. J. Hetherington, Natel, Bram and our friend from the Nile. A fair sprinkling of ladies gave an interest to the day's proceedings, and we hope in future to see more of them attend.

A KNOWING PIG.—Cats do not monopolize the sense of location among the lower animals. One of our farmers recently purchased a young pig five weeks old and carried it home in a sack at a late hour. The little porker was put in a pen five feet high, and the farmer sought his sleeping chamber. Early in the morning the purchaser went to look at his young pig, and lo! it was gone. He was wondering if the animal had not been stolen, when word was sent him that the active little grunter had turned up at his own home, having evidently helped himself out of his pen. The pig was again brought to its new home, and is now kept in a pen 9 ft. high.

Joderich Township. The aggregate number of persons qualified to serve as jurors in the township is 491. The number on the voters' list as owners is 580, as farmer's sons, 121. There are no less than 16 Candidates on the list, 26 Johnstons, 29 Elliotts, and many others in lesser number of one name.

UNTRUST.—The report that Mr. Ed. Tebbutt, son of M. Walgate Tebbutt, of the Maitland concession, had got lost in the northwest is untrue, as a letter received from him this week states that he is located about twelve miles south of Fort Qu'Appelle, with the Whittingham and Gorrell boys, and likes the country well.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A very serious accident happened to Mr. T. Jewett, of the Bayfield concession, last Wednesday afternoon. While driving a mower one of the horses stepped into a ground-hog hole, which caused the team to run away and the horse galloping around the field with the mower, and before they could get under control Mr. Jewett was thrown from his seat in front of the mower. Just at the end of the guard is a sharp iron post several inches long, and this catching Mr. Jewett in the fleshy part of the hip, lacerated him fearfully, tearing the flesh for several inches. Some one was fortunately in the field at the time, and they came to his assistance. Medical aid was called in and his wounds dressed, and he is doing as well as might be expected under the circumstances. Mr. Jewett is one of the most highly esteemed residents of the township, and has been in poor health for some time past. It is hoped that, notwithstanding the seriousness of his wounds he may quickly recover therefrom.—[New Era.]

HOLMESVILLE, July 11th, 1892. Council met to-day pursuant to adjournment. Members all present.—Minutes of last meeting read and passed. Circular from Provincial Board of Health, Toronto, asking if a local board has been established in this township, and recommending the appointment of one to communicate monthly with the Central Board, and look after the sanitary condition of the township the Council took no action on this matter. Moved by J. Whitley, seconded by J. Cox, that the clerk write to the trustees of Separate School, Goderich, to refund the school taxes paid by one John O'Grady to said school for several years as he lived beyond the three mile limit.—Carried. Several other matters were under consideration, but not sufficiently advanced for publication. The following accounts were paid, viz: A. Chisholm, pathmaster, and others for filling gravel, $7; John Porter, culvert 3 and 4th con., $9; G. Burnett, road for hauling gravel, $4.50; T. Elliott, pathmaster, spreading gravel, $4; Geo. and John Johnston, two culverts and graveling from B. L. money, $28; Jas. Johnston and John Lovett, graveling on base line, B. L. money, $70.50; Ed. Slattery and others for filling gravel and work on saw mill road, $31.50; Sam'l Sturdy, postmaster, and others filling gravel in Huron Road, $7; Wm. Patton, filling gravel, $3; balance cedar lumber per T. Sturdy, $1.30; Wm. Collins, indent, per Mrs. Collins, $18.75; Wm. Lampry, culvert, Huron Road, $4. Council adjourned to meet again on the last Monday in August. Jas. Patton, T. P. Clerk.

MR. WILSON KENNEDY, a farmer of Blanshard township, lost his life by coming in collision with a freight train on Tuesday evening. While on his way home from St. Mary's he attempted to pass over one of the crossings, and drove right in front of the engine of the west-bound train, and was instantly killed. Mr. Kennedy was unable to see the approaching train owing to the character of the crossing. He was thirty-five years of age, and unmarried.

Dunlop. SHEEP.—A large number of sheep were gathered in this township for shipment by drivers recently. One was sold by Mr. E. Carrill weighed 180 lbs., and another sold by Mr. Strachan weighed 155.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The road between the Exchange Hotel and Garbraid has been gravelled, Mr. Joseph Morris being the contractor. Ditching has also been done by G. H. McKee and J. Barker. The bridge at Dunlop should have a new railing. Our township fathers should make a note of this.

Colborne. Mr. Wm. Boer raised a frame barn on his premises Maitland con. on Monday, 3 July, size 30x25 ft. with underground stables, etc.

Quarterly meeting was held in Bethel C. O. on Sunday July 6th. Business meeting Monday 10th.

Mr. J. Clarke, of Claremont, says his hay this year will yield two and a half tons to the acre.

Bright's Resignation. LONDON, July 17.—In the House of Commons, John Bright, referring to his resignation, stated he had nothing to extenuate or defend. The sole reason of his retirement was that he could not concur in the Government's Egyptian policy. He had for forty years held and taught a doctrine that he still believed, and he could not consistently approve of the proceedings at Alexandria. He believed that the moral law applied to nations as well as to individuals, and that the proceedings he disapproved were a violation thereof and of international law. If he had not sooner retired it was because of his high regard for Gladstone and his other colleagues. In a disagreement with Gladstone he would have either had to submit to measures he entirely condemned or have been in constant conflict with his colleagues. Gladstone highly eulogized Bright, saying he agreed with his principles, but not with the application of them.

He Captured the Stakes. The late sporting editor of the Mail paper was made the stakeholder in the Ross-Hanlan race which would have been rowed at Winnipeg the first of this month had it not been for the champion's illness. Ross made a $500 cash deposit with the Mail man a year ago last May. As is now well known, the sporting editor has left the limits and Ross wants to know what he should do with his money. Yesterday a gentleman in the city received a letter from the New Brunswick asking him to go and see after his money. Hanlan's check for $500 was deposited in the same hands, and it has accompanied Ross' deposit.—[World]

Strife the Others P. "Excellent sermon this morning," said Deacon Goodwill to his neighbor, as they lingered in the vestibule to shake hands with the brother.

"Well, purty good; purty good. Ain't I don't want to be rankled up myself, I at them the minister passed along, and Ju' at a dubious shake of the head he cut short his remarks.—[New Haven Register.]

The Late James Simons. In our last issue we made a brief reference to the decease of the late James Simons, who died in Goderich on July 13th, from his native county, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and settled in West Flamboro', where he followed the business of carpenter. He came to Goderich township in 1849, and took up a farm far north from Bayfield. About eight years ago he removed to Goderich, where he resided until his death. About two and a half years ago he experienced an attack of paralysis, which rendered one side of his body useless. Two months before his demise he was visited with a second and lighter stroke, the effects of which soon wore off, and he was feeling much better when a consistent cold, which he again suddenly prostrated by an attack which proved fatal. He lost the entire power of his body, became senseless, and expired in about six hours after being prostrated, at the ripe age of 79. Mr. Simons was of a rather retiring disposition, a consistent and a consistent farmer, took no open part in politics. He had a large circle of friends, by whom he was much esteemed. He left an aged widow and a family of five. They are James, a merchant in Memphis, Tenn.; Charles, a farmer who lives on the old homestead; Mrs. Briegel, of Lunenburg, Ontario; and a daughter, and an unmarried daughter.

Drinking in the Hayfield. Men in health perspire freely when vigorously at work on warm days. Very heavy sweating may sometimes arise from weakness; a dry skin may indicate disorder. Evaporation from the surface carries off heat and keeps the body cool. A large supply of drinking water is required for the warm hay and harvest days, but much less than is commonly supposed. Hay a pint of water sipped slowly will assuage thirst much more effectively than a quart gulped down. As fully explained in the chapter on "Catching Cold," (in the December number), a different temperature in two adjacent portions of the body produces congestion. A pint of cold fluid may be thrown into the stomach, may result in more or less congestion; serious illness and not infrequently deaths, arise from this cause. If ice water is taken at any time, it should always be swallowed so slowly that the stomach can warm each gill before another is received. As to the kind of drink, the positive teachings of medical science and experience indicate that pure water is by far the best fluid for assuaging thirst and supplying the wants of the system. Beers, ales, or any sweetened drinks or any fluid that contains material that

MARRIED. Walker-Fairbairn.—In Kincardine on the 13th of July, at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law Mr. Robert Scott by the Rev. John L. Murray, Robert F. Walker, eldest son of the late John L. Walker of Goderich, to Grace D., fourth daughter of Thomas Fairbairn, Esq. of Teeswater.

DIED. Aitken.—In Goderich, on Monday, July 17th, Maggie, eldest daughter of the late John L. Aitken, aged 28 years, 1 month and 15 days.

Travelling Guide.

Table with columns: Station, Time, etc. for Grand Trunk, Great Western, and other lines.

Banking.

BANK OF MONTREAL. CAPITAL, $10,000,000. SURPLUS, $1,000,000.

Goderich Branch. D. GLASS, Manager. Allows interest on deposits. Drafts, letter of credit and circular notes issued, payable in all parts of the world.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE. Paid up Capital, $6,000,000. Res., $1,400,000.

Goderich Branch. A. M. ROSS, Manager. Interest allowed on deposits. Drafts on all the principal towns and cities in Canada, Great Britain and the United States, bought and sold.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF LANDS. COUNTY OF HURON. By virtue of a Writ of the Hon. Judge of the County Court of the County of Huron, and to me directed against the Lands and Tenements of T. S. Reid at the suit of Alexander Ross. I have seized and taken in Execution all the right, title, interest and equity of redemption of the above named defendant, in and to that parcel of land situated lying and being in the County of Huron and Province of Ontario, comprising the Eastern twenty acres of the North half of lot number eight and part of lot number nine of the Township of Ashfield, Western Division of the County of Huron. Which lands and tenements I shall offer for sale at my office in the Court House at Goderich, on Monday the second day of October at the hour of twelve of the clock, noon.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF LANDS. COUNTY OF HURON. By virtue of a Writ of the Hon. Judge of the County Court of the County of Middlesex and to me directed against the Lands and Tenements of T. S. Reid at the suit of Geo. S. Birrell and William A. Birrell. I have seized and taken in execution all the right, title, interest and equity of redemption of the above named defendant in and to that parcel of land situated in the County of Huron and Province of Ontario, comprising the Eastern twenty acres of the North half of lot number eight and part of lot number nine of the Township of Ashfield, Western Division of the County of Huron. Which lands and tenements I shall offer for sale at my office in the Court House at Goderich, on Friday the twenty-ninth day of September at the hour of twelve of the clock, noon.

FOR SALE. THE SUBSCRIBER, FINDING that his whole attention will be required for this sum in the management of the HIG HOUSE, will dispose of that property known as the "WINTER BRANCH," situated on the Main Gravel Road, consisting of a capital house of ten rooms with veranda, a large driving house, 60x22, stabling for ten horses, wood shed, etc., together with one and a half acres excellent garden well fenced. The premises are all new and in first-class order. No pieces received without offer will be refused. Apply to J. J. WRIGHT, POINT FARM, Goderich, P. O. April 21st, 1892.

ASTONISHING! Cheapest Music in the World. Full size. Large print. Five cent SHEET MUSIC. We are now selling all the latest and most popular pieces of the day, at the Uniform price of 5 CENTS A COPY. This music is the same in every respect as that which has hitherto been sold at from THIRTY to SEVENTY-FIVE cents and a DOLLAR a copy. The paper on which it is printed is of the best quality. It is also full sheet music size. New pieces received weekly. Catalogues sent on application and any pieces selected, sent by mail FREE OF CHARGE in lots of one hundred or more liberal terms to Dealers.

FOR SALE BY GEOS. SHEPPARD. Huron School Book Depot. 1848. S. SLOANE. PRODUCE MERCHANT. HAMILTON STREET. General dealer in Garden and Farm Seeds, Wheat and coarse grains, and Wool, etc., &c.

MONEY TO LEND ON REASONABLE TERMS. TWO HOUSES TO RENT ON NEW GATE STREET.

A ST. The Sec. The Sch. From the In the called Th Chatham, trade with Bay Waddell, the mast, of that Goderich the 17th, departed stock of gater returned full tale His stor schooner and the cargo contrary hold for 4 returned, of wind s led over the hold. H boat loose hardish shore, told the s readers m cargo w doubted t in course amountin has. In the moved vi for two y quent trip boat gene led about At last to the owner's Waddell K-1 con was res stood tion that; In the these voy sized near twenty mi Waddell w that took wash ash quently l The rema and inter Some fi man, whi bor, at Ce unusually schooner i water, wh se the Ex no steps tery. About t Jex of th of the uni barge Vic bor, his ef cess, and to be the The ve canvas a while abo been put; half ang centre box doors of the curiously lo the sailor found in t supposed. It is no the vessel after the year the cargo with the whisky of their int went down The sai ub also tar," and it, as th drink out forced old adage fiction." as the frag the fra bought t companies paid Capt schooner lies, and waters of about 60 t the year classed A ready for It is ev ors help t in some o and his t the purpo Oke, once sail who was sailors of the. TI

Banking. BANK OF MONTREAL. CAPITAL, $10,000,000. SURPLUS, $1,000,000. D. GLASS, Manager. Allows interest on deposits. Drafts, letter of credit and circular notes issued, payable in all parts of the world.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE. Paid up Capital, $6,000,000. Res., $1,400,000. President, HUN. WM. McMASTER. General Manager, W. A. McNICOLL. Goderich Branch. A. M. ROSS, Manager. Interest allowed on deposits. Drafts on all the principal towns and cities in Canada, Great Britain and the United States, bought and sold.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF LANDS. COUNTY OF HURON. By virtue of a Writ of the Hon. Judge of the County Court of the County of Huron, and to me directed against the Lands and Tenements of T. S. Reid at the suit of Alexander Ross. I have seized and taken in Execution all the right, title, interest and equity of redemption of the above named defendant, in and to that parcel of land situated lying and being in the County of Huron and Province of Ontario, comprising the Eastern twenty acres of the North half of lot number eight and part of lot number nine of the Township of Ashfield, Western Division of the County of Huron. Which lands and tenements I shall offer for sale at my office in the Court House at Goderich, on Monday the second day of October at the hour of twelve of the clock, noon.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF LANDS. COUNTY OF HURON. By virtue of a Writ of the Hon. Judge of the County Court of the County of Middlesex and to me directed against the Lands and Tenements of T. S. Reid at the suit of Geo. S. Birrell and William A. Birrell. I have seized and taken in execution all the right, title, interest and equity of redemption of the above named defendant in and to that parcel of land situated in the County of Huron and Province of Ontario, comprising the Eastern twenty acres of the North half of lot number eight and part of lot number nine of the Township of Ashfield, Western Division of the County of Huron. Which lands and tenements I shall offer for sale at my office in the Court House at Goderich, on Friday the twenty-ninth day of September at the hour of twelve of the clock, noon.

FOR SALE. THE SUBSCRIBER, FINDING that his whole attention will be required for this sum in the management of the HIG HOUSE, will dispose of that property known as the "WINTER BRANCH," situated on the Main Gravel Road, consisting of a capital house of ten rooms with veranda, a large driving house, 60x22, stabling for ten horses, wood shed, etc., together with one and a half acres excellent garden well fenced. The premises are all new and in first-class order. No pieces received without offer will be refused. Apply to J. J. WRIGHT, POINT FARM, Goderich, P. O. April 21st, 1892.

ASTONISHING! Cheapest Music in the World. Full size. Large print. Five cent SHEET MUSIC. We are now selling all the latest and most popular pieces of the day, at the Uniform price of 5 CENTS A COPY. This music is the same in every respect as that which has hitherto been sold at from THIRTY to SEVENTY-FIVE cents and a DOLLAR a copy. The paper on which it is printed is of the best quality. It is also full sheet music size. New pieces received weekly. Catalogues sent on application and any pieces selected, sent by mail FREE OF CHARGE in lots of one hundred or more liberal terms to Dealers.

FOR SALE BY GEOS. SHEPPARD. Huron School Book Depot. 1848. S. SLOANE. PRODUCE MERCHANT. HAMILTON STREET. General dealer in Garden and Farm Seeds, Wheat and coarse grains, and Wool, etc., &c.

MONEY TO LEND ON REASONABLE TERMS. TWO HOUSES TO RENT ON NEW GATE STREET.

MARRIED. Walker-Fairbairn.—In Kincardine on the 13th of July, at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law Mr. Robert Scott by the Rev. John L. Murray, Robert F. Walker, eldest son of the late John L. Walker of Goderich, to Grace D., fourth daughter of Thomas Fairbairn, Esq. of Teeswater.

DIED. Aitken.—In Goderich, on Monday, July 17th, Maggie, eldest daughter of the late John L. Aitken, aged 28 years, 1 month and 15 days.

THE COUNT'S DAUGHTER.

"I have come to your country to live," said the Count de Casd, with deliberate emphasis. He leaned elegantly on the mantel. "You have answered my advertisement," the count continued, "for a private instructor in English for my daughter. I desire her to become as well acquainted with the language as I am."

"What is wealth and refinement with out the presence of those we love?" "Now go to your room," said the count abruptly. Then calling to a maid he spoke to her apart for a moment and then said: "This is your mistress, Phoebe—conduct her to her apartments."

This is better than wealth. I have wealth enough for us all. Take her and God bless you both. Here is the clergyman. Marry her. And the two were married on the spot. About Roses. All roses flower more profusely if vigorously pruned. It is best to cut the old wood with an unimpairing hand, for the handsomest blossoms will spring from fresh growth, and young shoots from the roots will bear the largest cluster of buds.

Beware of the Frog Eating in New York. More frogs are eaten in New York than in Paris. The present consumption there is about 300 lbs a day. In the height of the season—July and August—1550 to 2000 pounds of frogs are consumed daily in New York, Brooklyn and Coney Island and other summer hotels. All good livers are fond of frogs. They form the menu of every first-class restaurant in New York city. Frogs are considered a fashionable as well as a toothsome and agreeable dish. They are very palatable, and in taste somewhat resemble a chicken. At this season of the year frogs retail at 60 cents per pound. As the season advances and frogs become more plentiful the price declines to 35 cents a pound. The principal sources of supply for the New market is the province of Ontario, where the largest and best are obtained.

Medicine Chest. Farmers and Mechanics. Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations. Price 20c., 25c., and 50c. per bottle.

St. Catherine's Bouteique. Moore's Early & Brighton. D. W. Beadle. Vick's Illustrated Floral Guide. Percheron Horses. M. W. Dunham. Uncle Tom. Kintail Brick Yard. The Great Burlington Route. Principal Line. Kansas City. Omaha & Denver. Lincoln & California.

Wife. "I cannot let and the man... I cannot let... But I'll make... 'They've n... leave... Who would... mile I... Who would... and... It'd go 'wa... more... 'Ah, well I... folks u... I'll raise the... birds b... For years it's... Without thei... ever... 'You need no... you kno... You know no... it from J... But I love the... or my li... And I'd raise... your pe... 'Your road is... down the... The snow will... see you... Well, be it a... with gr... But we'll meet... the tase... The snow has i... fresh at... The flowers are... is serene;... Well was to... summer;... But she sleeps... tassels on... Wor... 'The bell ne... one hand... dumb... spent... by a... 'Next to... and pearls... with... Did a perso... enemy he wo... gold... Evely is bli... cept how to... of others... It is in gen... reckon up... our attainment... There is one... old—you live... old, too... The silence... most natural... highest applau... There are n... their triumph... for small souls... Live out the... est style of... preaching whic... expects of ev... liver is call... this, and is ann... and sealed w... A Christian life... pulpit. No wo... good man's daily... counteracts the... isters as the wa... part of God's p... a Christian Dev... the skies and n... the unfaithful... the church m... can live on... life, great w... preachers and... achieved... The following... ter of suffici... attention of all... Office of 71... I have much... I lately used... Very severe spr... fact. I had been... not afford to... used the quick... Jacobs Oil, w... wonders in my... an invaluable re... rate to recom... I meet, suffering... remedy. I regar... wonderful prepar... suggest its use... mias for that... seeking anything... the terrible tort... write this note... vink of the Oil... any way to acc... A. D. STEWART... A 25-mile bicy... came off at Leices... between F. Wo... W. James, of Le... of equal weight... 56-inch machin... together all the... James spruced... first bottle whic... length. The tim... 15 seconds, beat... Restored to l... From James M... Manufacturer at... oval years ago... severe lung diffi... alarming. I had... and all the pre... consumption. Af... remedies and the... on benefit. I was... YAK'S BALSAM... first bottle whic... relief, and a conti... restored me to... twenty-five year... to afford ent... cases of cold, or... equal." 50 cents... by dealers general

DOORS,

SASHES, BLINDS, MOULDINGS, and every Description of Interior Finish. STAIRS, HANDRAILS, NEWSELS and BALUSTERS A Specialty. Send for Price List. SHINGLES, LATH & LUMBER. Estimates on application. Address FRANCIS SWEETH, Goderich.

WAR IN EGYPT.

Alexandria, July 17.—Americans did excellent service in checking the fire, arresting it altogether at several points. It is thought the offer of rations Seymour made to the Egyptian soldiers who return to their allegiance to the Khedive will be a considerable inducement to loyalty, and will increase the staff available for pressing sanitary operations.

Calcutta, July 17.—The last mail steamer sailed with fifteen hundred commissariat tents and a large quantity of stores for Suez.

Paris, July 17.—It is reported the Cabinet has resolved to accept the invitation to protect the Suez Canal jointly with England.

Marseilles, July 17.—Six French transports have been ordered to get ready to embark troops.

Constantinople, July 17.—The occupation of Egypt in case of Turkish intervention is limited to six months instead of three months, as previously reported. The objects of occupation will probably be defined as follows:—Termination of anarchy; re-establishment of the status quo; re-organization of the army, and development of popular liberties. It is proposed that the Khedive shall supervise the work of the occupying troops.

Port Said, July 17.—There are an immense number of refugees here. Many more women and children are expected. Europeans are evidently armed with revolvers and sporting guns. They fear they will be attacked by a large force of Bedouins, who, it is stated, are assembling in the desert.

There are also six miles hence, throwing up earthworks.

Three British, four French, two Italian men-of-war and one Spanish war ship are in harbor. The Governor is loyal to the Khedive, but an Egyptian colonel who commands 250 men is suspected of disloyalty.

Alexandria, July 17.—There were several fresh fires last night. Troops from the ship Tamar are disembarking, and will raise the total British force ashore to 6,000. The war steamer Helicon intercepted two ravine boats going to Port Said from Cyprus, and ordered them to Alexandria. Four sailors and two of the Khedive's body guard rode to Kair El Dwar last evening and reconnoitered Arabi's outposts. The party penetrated within three hundred yards of Arabi's lines. They found all quiet. The reports of the proximity of large bodies of Bedouins are untrue.

Alexandria, July 17.—The first reports of the extent of the devastation here were exaggerated, although long lines of streets are still burning and heavy smoke envelopes the city. The universal hope is that Arabi will send a firm to Kair-el-Dowar, so that a decisive battle may occur.

One of the Khedive's body guards, who rode to Kair-el-Dowar yesterday on a reconnaissance, galloped off and joined Arabi Pasha.

Several Arabs were killed last night for incendiarism. Three of the Khedive's grooms were killed by the English guard at Ras el Tin Palace by mistake. An Arab soldier was taken to a tree to-day in the square and shot before Arabs and Europeans. Despite these examples pillaging continues.

LATER.—Arabi Pasha's army is strongly posted. All Bedouins lately hovering around the city have disappeared.

Arabi has written a long letter in reply to the Khedive's demands, which the Khedive declares unsatisfactory. Arabi says he did not intend to make war, but that the Powers are determined to force attack, he considers it better to fight at once. He expresses his willingness to come to Alexandria if the Khedive induces the English fleet and troops to withdraw. If the Khedive cannot do this Arabi recommends him to send a Minister to camp to discuss the situation.

Alexandria, July 17.—It is stated that orders have been received from home, enjoining the British to content themselves with maintaining order.

Refugees from Cairo report that a holy war is being proclaimed, and that Europeans are being massacred in Tan-tah, Mansurah and Zagazig. A consul has been killed at Zagazig.

The ironclads Minotaur, Sultan and Temeraire have arrived off Aboukir, to prevent Arabi Pasha cutting the ships.

A white flag was hoisted directly the ships appeared.

Cairo, July 17.—Seven hundred and fifty Europeans, mostly Italians, with the Italian Consul and escort of forty soldiers, left on Saturday. German residents and the German Consul left on Friday. Both parties arrived safely at Ismailia.

Alexandria, July 17.—Seymour has issued a manifesto announcing that he has undertaken, with the consent of the Egyptian Government, the restoration of order. Nobody is allowed to leave town after sunset.

During the massacre soldiers fired the house of a timber merchant. A maid servant escaped to the garden, where the soldiers laughing at her agony, purposely preventing fatal injury, preferring to see her burn to death. Finally she rushed through the flames, and though wounded by bayonet thrusts, succeeded in securing refuge in the ruins, where she was discovered by marines and handed over to the Americans.

During the alarm on Saturday night, 150 Bedouins at Gabar-el-Ged fled before the attack of a midshipman and twelve sailors.

Alexandria, July 17.—The people of Egypt appear to be preparing for a great war. All sorts of men are leaving their families, and the children and the women are moving towards the borders. The Arabs are flocking in to join the ranks of the fighters. A great number have joined Arabi's forces at Damietta, between Alexandria and Port Said. The forces of Arabi seem to be well disciplined and provided for fighting. Troops regularly marshalled may be seen drilling frequently. Strong earthworks are erected and great preparations being made for a military movement of some kind, believed to be offensive.

ALEXANDRIA'S MAR. England's big ships of war cannot get over the Alexandria Bar. It has been the policy of the Egyptian Government to retain that bar as a protection against foreign fleets. Mr. Easton, the well-known engineer, actually laid before Ismail a scheme for destroying the bar and keeping the passage free for ever. It was to cost only £100,000. The money was a mere fleecy to Ismail; but the old fox was not to be caught in that way. "I don't want great vessels with destroying guns inside my chief harbor," was the comment with which he refused the improvement. Ships of lighter draught were consequently sent to Alexandria.

"A FAMOUS VICTORY." The Chicago Times, speaking of the Alexandria bombardment says:—This is the last of many famous victories. The Zulu king, Cetewayo, now in captivity, is a living evidence of British prowess. The King of Ashantee was dispossessed of his umbrella that it might be sent to her Majesty of England as an evidence that her Majesty's battalions were winning glory in the African bush. In the scientific correction of the frontier of India, as My Lord Beaconsfield, the real Jingo, put it, there was glorious butcheries of Afghans. With what precision England blew Sepoys from the mouth of the cannon in '57, and with what glory she triumphed over Abyssinians.

London, July 18.—The Post says:—The behaviour of the American Admiral and his men at Alexandria is beyond all praise. Amid the diplomatic protests of European cabinets and conferences and naval demonstrations of ineffectuality, it is refreshing to find a commander able and willing on his own account to say what he thinks and do what he says. Sixty marines, physically speaking, could not do much, but there's a way of giving support which quadruples its value.

The conduct of the Americans during the night of the alarm that Arabi were coming contrasts remarkably with that of the French and Italians.

Alexandria, July 18.—El Mehdi, the Prophet, supposed to be at least one thousand miles south of here, is rapidly advancing in accordance with an understanding with Arabi, in the direction of Cairo. El Mehdi continues to swell his ranks by thousands. It is believed the whole population along his course northward will flock to his standard.

It is thought Arabi's object is to delay operations till his ally arrives.

Arabi Pasha is still endeavoring to make appointments in the Khedive's name. Arabi's forces on the canal are estimated at ten thousand, including Bedouins who gave adhesion to Arabi four days ago. Wounded Arabs from Alexandria were sent to Cairo. The sight of plunder which was being sold in bazaars has stimulated the Cairenes to imitate the Alexandrians.

A correspondent opened communication with the camp of Arabi, which the informant says consists of a little over six thousand men, intensely discontented, and surrounded by starving women and children. Recruits of the lowest class are still being enticed by Arabi with the promises of unlimited plunder.

The force is held together by the assertion that the English will kill all those returning to the city. Arabi and Toukha have utterly lost prestige by their cowardice during the bombardment. Artillerymen were kept at the guns on the 11th inst., by infantry posted under cover.

The Khedive states that two hundred and five Europeans have been killed at Kair-el-Dwar.

Alexandria, July 18.—It is reported that Arabi Pasha is preparing to move. Disappointment and indignation are most keen at the great blunder of allowing the favorable moments for ending the revolt at one stroke to slip by while troops are retained in inactivity by orders from home.

The dragoman of Sic A. Colvin, acting British Consul-General, has arrived from Cairo, and reports that soldiers with requisitions were breaking open stables and seizing horses. No other act of violence had been committed up to the time he left the city.

GENERAL GRANT'S VIEWS. Philadelphia, July 18.—The Record will publish General Grant's views on the eastern question to-morrow. He sides with England and says that the people of Egypt are ten times more gross than the negroes of the south. He believes that an English protectorate would lead to develop the resources of the country and improve the condition of the people.

THE REGIMENTS FOR ACTION. The troops to be sent from Malta are:—1st Battalion the Lothian Regiment, 1st Battalion the South Staffords shire Regiment, 1st Battalion the Gordon Highlanders, 2nd Battalion the Manchester Regiment, 3rd Battalion King's Royal Rifle Corps, 17th Company Royal Engineers. The troops to be sent from Gibraltar are:—1st Battalion Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, 1st Battalion Derbyshire Regiment, 1st Battalion the Cameron Highlanders, 1st Battalion Berkshire Regiment, 10th Company Royal Engineers, 21st Company Royal Engineers, 32nd Company Royal Engineers.

The troops to be sent from Cyprus are four companies of the 1st Battalion Royal Regiment. This force, assisted by the naval brigade, which will land with the field guns and Gatlings carried by the ships, is considered sufficient to seize and hold a point to serve as a base for operations, and as a port for landing supplies, &c.

The troops to be sent from India are:—1st Battalion Manchester Regiment, 72nd Highlanders, 1st Regiment Bengal Infantry, 7th Regiment Bengal Infantry, 53rd Regiment Bengal Infantry, 13th Regiment Bengal Infantry, 13th Brigade Royal Artillery, 13th Brigade Royal Artillery, 5th Battery 11th Brigade Royal Artillery, two Companies Bengal Engineers, two Native Regiments from Bombay, two Companies Royal Engineers from Madras, three Regiments Native Infantry from Madras. The number of troops to be sent from India will be seven thousand. At the same time the Mediterranean advance force shall be ordered forward, the main corps, now forming at home, will be immediately embarked. The troops from England, Scotland, and Ireland will consist of the following infantry battalions:—1st Battalion Grenadier Guards, now at Cork; 2nd Battalion Coldstream Guards, now at Dublin; 2nd Battalion York and Lancaster Regiment, now at the Curragh; 1st Battalion Shropshire Light Infantry, now at Dublin; 1st Battalion West Kent Regiment, Aldershot; 1st Battalion Royal Irish Fusiliers, Aldershot; 1st Battalion Highland Light Infantry, Aldershot; 2nd Battalion Royal Irish Regiment, Curragh; 1st Battalion Royal Highlanders, Edinburgh. With the above infantry regiments there will be sent out the following mounted artillery:—2 Battery of Royal Horse Artillery; 2 Batteries field artillery—13-pounder; 2 Batteries field artillery—16-pounder. The ammunition reserve for the infantry and Royal Artillery is in readiness; F Battery First Brigade Royal Artillery being ordered for this duty. There will also be a battery of 7-pounder (200 lb.) guns, and a battery of 7-pounder (400 lb.) guns; the gunners will work them being drawn from the garrison batteries at Woolwich.

The only cavalry regiments which it is decided to employ at present are the 7th Dragoon Guards and the 19th Hussars.

The present sovereign of Egypt, Mohammed Tewfik, is nominally the viceroy of the Sultan of Turkey, of whose dominions Egypt is theoretically a part. By various firman or decrees he enjoys the privileges of an independent monarch, and is styled "the Khedive." As such monarch he and his predecessors have contracted various public debts, a large portion of which are held by British and French subjects, and for better securing their payment Tewfik placed, in 1879 and 1880, the management of the Egyptian finances in the hands of two Comptrollers-Generals, one appointed by Great Britain and one by France, virtually constituting them administrative officers. Against this management Arabi Bey, representing the native political element of the country, rebelled, and the Khedive has been unable to subdue him. The present military proceedings have been taken by Great Britain, therefore, for the purpose of overthrowing Arabi and restoring the power to the Khedive—that is, to the English and French officials to whom he has intrusted it.

Arabi Pasha has certainly shown that he can make Egyptian soldiers, whose performances in the Abyssinian and Afghan wars, had got the world to look upon them as cowards, fight with a valor and coolness that would do honor to the soldiers of any nation. The English fleet for a whole day poured a terrible fire, from the heaviest guns ever used in battle, into the Egyptian forts, some of which were taken and others such a fire for an hour. The biggest and most destructive projectiles that the science of gunnery has been able to produce ploughed up the earthworks, smashed the Egyptian guns, and tumbled the shaly walls down about the ears of Arabi's men. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the fact that every one of the ships was repeatedly hit, and all were more or less disabled by the first day's bombardment. The Egyptians had up-hill work from the start. They had no shells, and their first shots fell short of the British fleet, while the great guns of the latter sent their projectiles plump into the forts at every shot. But despite the latter's efforts, after hour after hour, amid the dust and smoke and ruin, like veterans of twenty wars. How coolly the Egyptian gunners handled their guns is shown by the