Up to this point the dispute was of a somewhat miscellaneous charactor, but is assumed a different aspect the moment it became plain to the government that a stand of some kind had to be taken on the question. Mr. Mowat made a conciliation and the question will be a skilfully prevaled and double-barelled resolution, extending suitable recognition not merely to the volunteers but also to the patriots to whose efforts are largely due the system of responsible government enjoyed by the province. To this an addition was made, on the motion of the minister of education, asserting that the volunteers of 1866 are equally entitled to recognition. BY COL. WILLIAMS, M.P.

Colonel Augustus Chopleigh, late of her majesty's Indian army, lived in stately retirement upon his sing little estate in one of the pleasantest of the home counties. From an outsider's point of view the colonel seemed to possess most things which are generally considered to constitute mundame happiness. His liver had survived pawness, curries and a tropical sun intact; his income was ample; he belonged to two or three good clubs; he had an excellent cellar of wine; he was respected by his neighbors and worshiped by his tenants, and he rode to cover on the best of cattle; yet with all this, the colonel had two eternally grinning skeletons in his cupboard.

The first was the possession of a ne'erdo-well son, and the second was the nonpossession of a wife.

Augustus Chopleigh, jr., although a me'er-do-well in the eyes of a parent who was rigid and precise, was, after all, but an ordinary, "every-day young man." He betted a little, it is true, he belonged to a must believe."

'Of course I will. Of course I do!" roared the eld colonel. "Who is she?"

"Well, I don't want to give you her name just now, for many reasons, but you can take my word for it that he is nobody to be ashmand of," said Gus.

"All right, all right; I won't ask any more questions. So long as you are going to set amilitone round my more questions. So long as you are going to estady down with a good lady-like wife I don't eare. By Gad, Gus, Ithought you were going to be a militone round my more questions. Australian Cricketers in Disgraceting fin England-St. Gatien and St. Simon-Archer on American Weights. The shooting match at Woodbine yesterday between James Douglas of the Aquatic, and George Rogers of St. Catharines, for the Briggs challenge cup, at 25 birds each, 21 yards rise, resulted in Rogers winning by 22 to 18. Douglas had the nisfortune, from want of practice, to miss five out of ten of his first birds, a thing he had never done before in his life. After that, however, he braced up, and with ve-markable steadiness killed thirteen out of fitteen. Rogers on the other hand killed niteen. Rogers on the other hand killed twenty-four, but unfortunately two fell dead out of bounds. Captain Rogers is probably the best wing shot in the domin-fon, and it is understood is willing to meet any man at any rise preferred at live birds. He also won the sweepstakes shot following the match between him and Doug-las. A great deal of interest was taken in er contest, in the first place from the premier contess, in the premier competithe well-known popularity of the competitions, and in the second because they were bound to be a contest to the c sportsmen who it was known were bount to do their best to win.

After the shooting there was consider able discussion, the result of which was that George Briggs and J. P. Moore were matched to shoot to day at Woodbine for $25 a side at ten birds and Wm. Smith and Tom Winfield at 25 birds each for $100 a side, each match 21 yards rise. Billy Johnson and Jack Thompson also

The election of officers resulted in the choice of George Moore for president and Henry Parker vice-president. Both gentlemen returned thanks. Mr. Moore took the chair. George Graham was re-elected Petitions were submitted from Oxford Petitions were submitted from Oxidar asking that the next fat stock show be held in that county. The new city of Stratford is also after the show.

Secretary Wade read his annual report. The live stock registrations were as follows: Cattle, male 1110; female 1171. Swine, male 109; female 143. Horses, male 85; female 39. Grand total 2657, for which $1688 in fees was received, against 2839 in 1883 and $1848 fees. The ninth volume of the shorthorn herdbook is on the verge of publication, and in connection with it will be issued a complete alphabetical index of all the cows in the nine volumes to enable breeders to find their animals without the trouble of searching every volume. The receipts in 1884 for herd book were $890. The total receipts for registration fees and sale of herd book was $2587; the expenditure including share of king that the next fat stock show be segistration fees and sale of herd book was $2587; the expenditure including share of salaries $1635, leaving an apparent deficit of $48, which is very much more than covered by stock of herd books added to our shelves, which does away with the cry of our rivels that the herd book is aided by the government. The scartage was a sided by the government. The secretary suggested that the price of the herd book be again lowered commencing with the fourth volume, which could be sold for the $1.25 or $2.50 for the two parts, the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th volumes under the new standard could be sold for $2. The report contained a feeling reference to the lamented veteran agriculturalist, Prof. Buckland. It was referred to the finance committee.

The standing committees were appointed as follows: Executive and building, President Moore, Parker, Shipley, White, Snell. Finance and printing, Drury, Carnegie, McKinnon, Rykert. Gates and turnstiles, Parker, Reid, Aylesworth, Legge, Snell, Morgan. Prize forms, McKinnon, Legge, Morgan. Herd-book, Carnegie, Shipley, Snell, Drury, Wade. WAR AND RUMORS OF WAR

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES.

Russian Troops Said to be Advancing on Afghanistan-India Ready and Willing LONDON, March 11.-Financial circles were excited over the reports received this afternoon that the Russian troops had advanced further into Afghanistan. The year

Russian government admits that such a movement has taken place, but asserts that it was only intended for the purpose of seeking a more suitable position in case of war with Afghanistan. It is generally believed here that both the Afghans and Russians are hurrying forward, and that a collision is imminent. British consols have fallen 11-16, a Russian securities 2 per cent. A semi-panic prevailed on hange. The London Times, which has constantly been fanning the present alarm, says it is probable that some of Major-general Sir Peter Lumsden's officers have already com-Protect Lumsden's officers have already commenced work on the defence of the Afghan frontier. The government has practically ordered Gen. Lumsden to organize an Afghan defence. The Times understands that the main body of the general's troops has occupied the Robert pass. It is hoped that any measures taken will prevent the capture of the key of India by a coup de main. The Times further says: "If Russia forces England to hostilities she cannot expect that the war will be confined to central Asia. The railroads of India are well equipped for moving large bodies of troops and supplies, and horses are being collected at Bombay, Calcutta and other points. All that India asks of England in the event of war is a reinforcement of 15,000 skilled and inured soldiers."

LONDON, March Il. -The panie on the stock exchange to-day abated somewhat stock exchange to day abated somewhat after the denial of the reported advance of the Russians, but dealings continued long after the close, numerous continental orders to sell being received. Officials at the Russian embassy deny that any preparations for war are being made by Russia on the Afghan frontier. The signing of the Egyptian convention has been delayed by the Russian ambassador, who declares he is waiting orders. The other powers are ready to sign. The Russian delay is attributed to a design to hamper England.

LONDON, March 11.-The News discuss ing the Afghan frontier question says if ang the Afghan frontier question says if war with Russia is unavoidable England will undertake the war as one of national self-defence. The government, it says, will make every effort to preserve peace, which will fail only if Russia is resolved on war. The News believes there is no foundation for the rumor that Mr. Gladwone will immediately ask for a large redit to carry on war with Russia, Movements of Russian Troop says it is reported Russia has ordered two regiments from Elizabethpol to Askabad Russia is making active preparations to complete the Kizilarvat and Askabad railway. It is reported 4000 Russians left Tiflis a fortnight ago, going toward Askabad. Measures are being taken in India to increase the native army of reserves. The Indian government will probably recommend the permanent addition of 15,000 English and 30,000 native soldiers to the Indian garrison.

A Timely Move. Lonson, March 11.—The Standard affirms that Gen Lumsden has occupied the Robat pass and expresses belief that it is a timely movement to prevent the Russians from occupying it. A large quantity of provisions are being stored at Herat. Persia and the Afghan Frontier. LONDON, March 11.—The Persian minister had a lengthy interview with Earl relations to the Afghan frontier question.

Granville to-day in connection with Persia's

Sir Peter Lumsden's escort includes 200

Punjab infantry and a number of royal engineers. The engineers are instructing the Afghans how to fortify Penjdeh and A Fall in Prices. LONDON, March 11 .- The prices on all continental bourses have fallen in sympathy with the feeling on the London stock exchange. The principal declines are among Russian and Egyptian securi

No Foundation for the Report. LONDON, March 11 .- In the house of commons this evening Mr. Childers said he believed there was no foundation for the reported Russian advance in Afghanistan.

Hong Kong, March 11 .- The French, after five days' fighting, have carried the Chinese positions around Kelung. Forty Frenchmen werekilled and 200 wounded

The Fortress of Pendich. The Afghan fortress of Pendjeh, which has been brought into such unexpected prominence by the Anglo-Russian complications in central Asia, remarks the New York Times, is situated on a broad plateau about eleven miles south of the northern frontier of Afghanistan, of which Col. Alikhanoff's recent appearance before the town was an indisputable violation. The place forms a kind of outwork to the local market town of Mavrutchak or Marvrood, market town of Mavrutchak or Mervrood, which lies about eighteen miles south of it, higher up the Murghab. This river, flowing northwestward from the Ghoor mountains to the oasis of Merv (180 miles north of Herat), is the most direct approach to the latter place from the side of Russian Turkestan, and hence the importance of Pendjeh, which completely commands this approach from its position on the left bank of the stream. Like most central Asian fortresses, both the stronghold itself and the guns which arm it show manifest tokens of neglect, but it is still capable, if well garrisoned, of opposing a stout resistance to any assailant unprovided with siege artillery.
