What Has Not Reen Told.

Never was Toronto so electrified as at the sent moment over the revelations made The World in regard to ling" as practised in this city. Three-

All these will have to be investigated.

administer the Crooks law and the way shey administer that law. Oh what sight is there, my countrymen! Will the poor little Deacon be able to purge his paper and refuse any longer to defend the doings of his President? What does Mr. Edgar (Mr. Jaffray's co-director) think of it? Let The Globe recall what it said about John Shields and his whisky brigade and then preview the conduct of its President. then review the conduct of its President.

then review the conduct of its President.

Decent Reformers Bisgusted.

The great body of Reformers are disgusted.

The great body of Reformers are disgusted with the men implicated and who have disgraced themselves and their party. They are repudiating the whole thing and they are looking to Mr. Mowat for a cleaning process. This is the most hopeful thing in the whole business; and if acted on the Conservatives who are anxious to make capital of it will in a measure be forestalled.

on the country at large. The grogster in-chief, the cigar-broker in chief, and the Tutti Fruiti cum improves the appetite.

brewer in chief saw their way to putting all Outario under tribute. This was to be effected by influencing from Toronto the appointment of at least one commissioner in ABOUTENGLAND'S RELATIONS WITH each county, and then by local management, the spending of money, the working of the party fund, and wire-pulling the hotel men Prof. Goldwin Smith on the Iriah in all over were to be given to understand that it would pay them to bay their beer, cigars, and grog in Toronto. Already has the best part of York been made tributary.

The Fortunes That are Being Made.

A dealer only wants the beer trade, the cigar trade, or the grog trade of Toronto likes have more to do with the present for one year to make a fortune. Some of troubles, such as they are, than any real these men are now immensely rich. A conflict of interests. The Morier incident, these men are now immensely rich.

ANOTHER LOT OF COMMISSIONERS. The Toronto Board Still in Abeyance—Br. A. E. Wheeler Said to be One.

Another batch of license commissioners fo 1889 is announced. The commission for Toronto has not yet been given out. In view of The World's expose of the past week, it is said the Government have delayed the appointments. It is said that Mr. A. E. Wheeler (Wheeler & Bain) is to be one of the new com (Wheeler & Bain) is to be one of the new con-missioners. Mr. Wheeler was prominently spoken of as a member of last vear's board, but he retired in favor of Mr. Armstrong with the understanding that he would represent the East End on the board of 1889. The latest implication of Robert Jaffray in this matter,

And yet for years has he been engaged in it till now his firm sells more grog to hotel men than any one else in the trade. What has given this firm such a "pull" It is because Mr. Jaffray is near the government, is president of The Globe, is a director of the Reform Club? Tell us, pray! Why did men like Taylor, the decapitated hotelkeeper of St. John's Ward, pay Jaffray & Ryan over $1000 a month for grog at 50 cents a gallon more than others charged if not for a purpose?

Oh tell us why such a lame defence was given forth by The Globe on Saturday! It reads as if some poor devil had written it while the President stood over him with a suffed club.

The "complaints" in The World were not that the Crooks Act was a failure, or that it had not reduced the number of Beensed places. And yet these are the "complaints" that The Globe dealt with on Saturday. The charges that The Globe ought to answer concern its President Mr. Jaffray, some leading men the understauding that he would represent the Discount and Stocks in London London, Jan. 13.—The rates of discount luring the week were 23 to 13 until Monday, and 21 for a week. In spite of the Stock Exchange settlement impending, when an increased amount of securities will when an increased amount of securities will be handled, the low rates revived speculation. But with large issues, which the public receive favorably, it is difficult to see how the present ease can be maintained. On the Stock Exchange during the week there was a good demand for investment and speculative stocks. The first account for 1889 promises to be in favor of operators. American securities do not respond to the effect anticipated from the conclave of New York bankers and railroad presidents. While gratification is expressed at the voicing of American public opinion to the evils of the present system of administration and the results of unrestricted competition, the measures proposed are considered no more effective than those hitherto tried. It is believed that the efforts which the administrative board propose to secure a harmonious working will be thwarted by subordinates who have hitherto prospered in exercising rate-making to prospered in exercising rate-making powers. The step taken is considered in powers. The step taken is considered in the right direction, but it has not sufficed to revive the public interest in American railroad securities, which are momentarily out of favor. There has been a good demand for Erie seconds, the supply being London, Jan. 13.—The revolution in Uganda is here thought to have little direct bearing on the question of Mr. Sanley's safety. It is more important as a successful blow to the slave raiding interests, and perhaps, to some extent, in increasing Mahometan influence in Africa. The two are closely connected. The spread of Christianity means to the Arabs suppression of their traffic in blacks. What is becoming clear to the English is that naval cooperation between Germany and England on the East Coast of Africa has thus far been of doubtful benefit to the cause of humanity.

Unincreased groggery as was done on the octation in the night of Friday, January the fourth! I have just found in one of the rooms what purports to be a wine card in use at that dinner and to bears the names of no less than sixteen kinds of wine! And rurther I want to say that every man who bought wine at that dinner has made himself equally liable to prosecution with the man who sold it!" Mr. Spence went on to say that it is a disgrace that the license law is so lax and argued that as there was not a single drunk on election day because the hars were closed, they should also be closed on nomination day and on all holidays. The day of prohibition is not far away and he trusted that a bylaw of the prosecution between Germany and England on the East Coast of Africa has thus far been of doubtful benefit to the cause of humanity.

"The resolutions recently presented by Mr. Edmunds to the United States Senate with reference to European intervention in American canal matters are not regarded with favor either in this country or other Spanish-American republics. The newspapers just coming in teem with comments in criticism of the resolutions. The general neticism of the resolutions. The general tendency of opinion, as thus reflected, is that as these republics effected their own freedom from European dominion and are absolutely free and sovereign states, any such action in the part of the United States as that suggested in the resolution would amount to an infring-ment of their national rights. In this country more particularly, as is natural under the circumstances, public opinion runs high on the subject.

"In the contract between this Government and the Canal Company there is a clause that particularly sets forth that no transfer whatever of rights and privileges can take place and certainly that no Governmental intervention could possibly be tolerated on the part of France, In the event, therefore, of any such occurrence as that anticipated by Mr. Edmunds resolutions, it is argued that the Colombiam Government would alone have the right of protesting in the first instance, and that only in response to a direct appeal from her could any other country assume the right of interposition."

THE CITY AND STREET RAILWAY, he Lawyers Have a Short Field Day Belore The city and Street Railway Co. arbitra tion occupied the attention of Mr. Justice Rose at the Court House Saturday afternoon. In 1886 the city sued to recover $4800 expended in repairing those portions of the pavement occupied by the tracks of the street car company. In the defence the latter asserted that they were not liable for these repairs because the pavement had been improperly selected and constructed. Mr. Justice Rose gave judgment then that the city could not recover from the company for construction or repairing if the former had been negligent in either the construction or selection. After this decision the company ceased to make payments on the construction account and a motion was made in February, 1888, to restrain the city from collecting the assessments by distress. On the return of the motion the counsel for the city undertook not to distrain pending the section. In 1886 the city sued to recover $4800 ex evident that to their appreciation "Jerusalem," its "wails" and "palaces," and the "house of God our Lord" meant the plain restangular room locally known as Carlton atreet Preshyterian Church. For the peace of their Zion had been rathlessly destroyed, at least for a while, by internecine strife; and this for the august triumph as to who should lead the singing of "The Psalms of David in metrs."

Peace reigned yesterday; hence the loud volume of vocal praise. Brother Bradford, the dispossessed precentor, silently and gloomily looked on, but interposed no note of either actord or discord. His triumphant successor, Brother Tait, magnified his office and made it glorious—in the eyes of his supporters. He made the wails resonnd with his Bonnerges tones, and what was lasking in melody was more than supplied in force. Both services bassed off anidat nutual felicitations on the part of the efect, but devoid of excitemable for those whose currosity had led them to enter the little-known sacred edifice. An announcement to which great interest sessned to attain, was: "A class will be formed to improve the practise of singing."

Student Alexander Wilson of Knox College did his best to both convert and edify. His weily was a 'prentice hand, but a church and congregation thankful for "supplies" must not for "bence and prosperity" will, it is hoped, be abundantly realized.
