BRITISH POLITICS

Liberals Capture the London Parliament.

METHODS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Radical Attempt Crowned With Success.

AND MANY SOCIALISTS RETURNED.

The Moderates so Far in the Minority.

Lord Rosebery's Attitude—Socialistic Utterances—Record of the First County Council—Issues of the Fight—A Gladstonian Coup Which Presages Victory For the Liberals at the London General Elections—Parliament Not To Be Dissolved Until the Fall—Gladstone's New Home Rule Bill.

LONDON, March 6.—Saturday London was fought for. Her five millions of people were called upon to say whether they wished to be governed the next three years as they have been governed the last three.

While the result of the County Council election is not absolutely certain, the returns indicate that the progressives have have again gained the day.

Seventy-seven progressive candidates and 17 moderates are already known to have been elected.

The Duke of Norfolk (moderate), Lords Carington and Monkswell (progressive) and the avowed Socialists Messrs. Tims, Bruce, Cooper and Sidney Webb have been returned.

The Chronicle, commenting on the results of the election, says: "The Reactionists are snowed under. They have made their exit as the party came in as a squalid rump. They cannot complain as they did in 1889 that they were caught napping."

The Daily News says: "It is difficult to exaggerate the consequences of the Progressives, victory. It cannot be doubted that a Liberal Ministry and Parliament will confer the increased powers which the progressives ask and will subject landlords' revenues to their proper share of municipal taxation.

Issues and Methods of the Campaign.

The election was conducted on lines totally different from those of 1889. That year saw the beginning of an effort to capture London by a minority. The Radicals, knowing that they could not succeed if they stood on party grounds, folded their hands in the Early Christian manner, composed their faces to a saintly expression and said: let us have no politics; let us have the best men, and a council with a single eye to the interests of the people. The Conservatives, simple souls, were taken in. They allowed Mr. Schnadhorst and his colleagues to work the election. A Radical majority was returned which straightway threw off the mask, and ever since, has run the council on party lines and to party ends. As Radical is not a name pleasing to the ear of London, they invented a new one, and the municipal Radical became a Progressive.

Made the Council Odious.

They made the council odious, and they made it ridiculous. They have been engaged the last two months in an organized effort to retain by party tactics the power which they grasped by professing indifference to party. There has been a siege o London. The great guns of the Gladstonian party have been brought to bear. Sir William Harcourt, Sir George Trevelyan, Mr. Morley, Lord Rosebery and many others have been put in the forefront of the battle. They have been more active and more aggressive than the Moderate party, though neither have the moderates been idle. Property owners, alarmed at the prospect of confiscation, have organized. Conservative leaders have replied to Gladstonian leaders. The respectable classes have shaken off some of their apathy. The result of all this was that the election was contested on one side entirely on party lines, while on the other a party effort was made to rescue London out of the hands of the incompetent, reckless, fanatical majority which has borne sway for three years.

Lord Rosebery.

The most respectable figure among the partisans of the last council was Lord Rosebery. He resigned its chairmanship a year and a half ago, and last month refused to be nominated for his old or any constituency. The party screw was put on and he became a candidate, whether with or without his own consent is not clear, for some district where the Radicals believed themselves in a majority. He spoke this week at a meeting over which Mr. John Morley presided. Mr. Morley has of late been dropping the philosopher for the politician, appearing one day as the champion of Hodge and the next as an apologist for the McDougall. It is an open question whether his knowledge of rural life is inferior to his knowledge of municipal life or vice versa. On neither has he any other authority than that which belongs to a clever man applying his mind to the study of new problems. Never has he been more visionary or less practical than now.

A Modern Machiavelli.

Of a very different type is Lord Rosebery. Lord Randolph Churchill, who spoke on Thursday in Paddington, described him truly as a combination of genius, shrewdness and patience. He added: "There was about 500 years ago an Italian statesman who was probably just such another combination. His name was Machiavelli. But high historical authorities have been of opinion that many of the doctrines of Machiavelli would, if carried into practice, conflict rather seriously with any high standard of truth and honesty, and that many of his doctrines, if carried to extremes, were altogether incompatible with any high standard of political morality." The piquancy of this comparison

Dunlap's New Spring Hats.

The styles of this world-renowned maker are now open for spring. Dineen on the corner of King and Yonge-streets, their agent in Toronto, predicts a great sale on their new hat. The style is very English. Dunlap's hats are the acknowledged fashion in gentlemen's hats throughout the United States and are growing in popular favor all through the larger cities in the Dominion. The confidence the wearers of the Dunlap hat have is shown by the number of orders that have been placed long before their arrival. To-day Dineen is busy shipping out at town orders, so that all may have them by the opening day, which is to-day and to-morrow. His silk hat has the sharp bell crown with a very neat brim, nicely rolled on the sides. The Derby is very sriking and quite English.

Silk hats $8 00
Felts 5 00

PRINTER DUSSAULT'S GALL

The Man Whom J. U. Langelier Used as a Dummy Aspires to a Seat in the Commons.

QUEBEC, March 6.—Arthur Turcotte, grocer, Conservative, and Joseph Dussault, printer, Liberal, were put in nomination for the vacancy in the representation of Montmorency in the Commons, caused by the unseating of Joseph Israel Tarte for bribery and corruption. Voting will take place on the 11th inst. Dussault is the man under whose name Jean Chrysostome Langelier published his famous agricultural treatise in order that his name might not appear in the public accounts when the Government bought the work. His past relations with the clique will not help his candidature.

Monck Nominations.

WELLANDPORT, March 6.—Arthur Boyle, Conservative, and John Brown, Reformer, were nominated Saturday for the Commons.

A Recount in London.

LONDON, Ont., March 6.—Acting on behalf of Mr. Hyman, James Magee, Q.C., appeared before Judge Davis in chambers to-day and asked a recount of the ballots cast in the recent Parliamentary election here. The application was granted. Wednesday afternoon next at 2 o'clock was fixed as the hour for beginning the recount.

No Further Fulminations.

MONTREAL, March 6.—To-day in the Catholic churches an important pronunciamento upon the elections was looked for, and at high mass the services were crowded. The church, however, did not speak. This is looked upon as extremely significant and indicating that the church is leaving the contest severely alone.

Gunning for Farrer.

MONTREAL, March 6.—Dev. Dr. Campbell of St. Gabriel Church is Montreal's political preacher. To-night he preached an election sermon from the text, "Thou shalt not bear false witness." He dwelt trenchantly with the falseness and insincerity of certain newspapers and instanced The Toronto Globe, whose editor, Edward Farrer, he said, was a hireling—by turns a writer on one side, then on the other and believing in neither.

The Law of Libel.

OTTAWA, March 6.—Messrs John King, Q.C., Berlin; Pense, Kingston Whig, and Brierley, St. Thomas Journal, representing the Press Association, interviewed the Minister of Justice yesterday and suggested certain changes in the law respecting criminal libel. Mr. King dwelt at length on the changes which the Press Association considered desirable in their interests. The Minister and Deputy Minister listened attentively and asked the deputation to send them a written communication, which should receive their best consideration.

Mr. Haggart's Popularity.

OTTAWA, March 6.—The greatest feature of this session is the steady increase of Mr. Haggart's popularity. This is, of course, most marked with respect to the Ontario members, but many of the members from the other provinces are found to be his eulogists. The men who went through the fiery ordeal in Central Ontario in the recent bye-elections cannot speak too highly of him. "It is just like this," said a member to The World on Saturday, "Haggart is a man that knows his own mind. If you write to him about a matter you will have an answer at once one way or the other. If he can do it he will do it promptly, and in no half-hearted way. If he can't do it, he will say so, straightforwardly, and there's an end of it. He is a satisfactory man to have dealings with, and you just watch how his influence is growing. There can be no doubt that Mr. Abbott chose a strong, steady, self-sufficient growing man in John Haggart."

ANARCHISTS ARE ACTIVE.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP THE SPANISH LEGATION AT BRUSSELS.

A Dynamite Candle Presented to a Church in Spain—Both Plots Discovered in the Nick of Time—The Bankrupt Marquis of Ailesbury—Another Attempt to Kill the Czar.

BRUSSELS, March 6.—An attempt to work destruction at the Spanish Legation here with an infernal machine containing two pounds of explosive matter was discovered just in time by some workmen, who promptly quenched the burning of a fuse attached to the death-dealing apparatus.

DIABOLISM IN SPAIN.

A 60-Pound Dynamite Candle Presented to a Church.

LONDON, March 6.—A dispatch from San Sebastian, Spain, states that a lady presented to one of the churches there a huge candle weighing 60 pounds, to be burned during Lent. It was explained that the candle was intended to furnish light throughout the Lenten period. The gift was suitably acknowledged in the presence of an immense congregation, and the sacristan proceeded to light the candle, but there seemed to be some fault in the construction, as the wick failed to remain alight. After three futile attempts had been made the officiating priest, becoming suspicious that something was wrong, ordered that the candle be removed and examined. This being done, the startling discovery was made that the interior of the candle was filled with powerful explosives. Had the sacristan succeeded in making it burn a terrible explosion must have resulted with consequences awful to contemplate, in view of the crowded condition of the church.

The lady who gave the candle had disappeared before the deadly character of the gift was discovered. It is conjectured that she was an agent of the Anarchists, their object being to destroy the building.

An Infernal Machine for the Czar.

LONDON, March 7.—The Chronicle's Moscow correspondent says that while the Czarina and the Czarewitch were driving in the Nevsky prospect in St. Petersburg a day or two ago a parcel supposed to have been an infernal machine was thrown at them but missed them and fell harmless in the snow.

The culprit who threw the parcel escaped.

HER BODY IN A CESSPOOL.

The Murder of an English Governess Comes to Light After Many Months.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 6.—The British living in this city are greatly excited over the case of the English governess who was foully murdered here some months ago, and whose body has just been discovered.

The young woman came from England to be governess in the family of Mossolovsky, one of the most respected houses in the Russian capital.

The young woman attended the Anglo-American Church. Last summer she suddenly disappeared. She had gone to church on Sunday, prayerbook in hand, and never returned.

Her absence remained a mystery, and when the prayerbook was found near the cavalry barracks the suspicion deepened that she had met with foul play.

It is now stated that the body of the young woman, or what remains of it, has been found in the cesspool of the barracks near which the prayerbook was discovered.

Suspicion attaches to officers and soldiers connected with the cavalry, but no definite evidence can be found to fix guilt upon them.

Grand Duke of Hesse Critically Ill.

BERLIN, March 6.—The Grand Duke of Hesse had a stroke of paralysis that has affected the whole right side of his body. His condition is critical.

Ludwig IV., the reigning Grand Duke of Hesse, was born on September 12, 1837. He succeeded to the throne on the death of his uncle, Grand Duke Ludwig III., on June 13, 1877. On July 1, 1862, he married Princess Alice, second daughter of Queen Victoria, who died on December 14, 1878. His eldest daughter, Princess Victoria, married Prince Ludwig of Battenberg; his second daughter, Princess Elizabeth, married the Grand Duke Sergius of Russia; while his third daughter, Princess Irene, married Prince Henry of Prussia. There is yet another daughter, Princess Alice, who was born on June 6, 1872.

The heir to the throne is Prince Ernest Ludwig, the Grand Duke's only son, who was born on November 25, 1868.

Ailesbury's Creditors.

LONDON, March 6.—The first meeting of the creditors of the Marquis of Ailesbury was held Saturday. The statement submitted to the meeting showed net liabilities of £321,051 and attributes the bankruptcy to the losses the Marquis has sustained through betting and other forms of gambling. Sam Lewis, the money-lender, appears as a creditor in the sum of £220,000.

After listening to the statement the meeting adjourned until Dec. 20 to allow for the completion of the sale of Savernake Forest.

A strong force of police now occupies the market place and adjacent streets. Many persons were arrested.

DR. WILD IN HIS ELEMENT.

His Two Characteristic Sermons in Bond-Street Church Yesterday.

Yesterday morning the Doctor took for his subject, "People who Should not Belong to Bond-Street Church," and gave as an example those who set up an ideal Christianity which they find it impossible to live up to. He also pointed out that a Christian is not of necessity sinless, as some misdeeds are committed in a guiltless manner—in other words, without forethought.

In the evening there was an extra large attendance to hear the Doctor descant on "The Thousands of Good People Who Will Never See Heaven." He began by bringing forward proofs that the millennial dawn was not far distant, when Christ would reappear to take to Himself in Heaven those who had died "in the Lord;" after which, when the millennium had been completed, there will be thousands of good people still living who would be waiting to share Christ's reign on earth—and these people, said the Doctor, will never see Heaven.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. Mr. Curry will occupy the Bond-street pulpit; in the evening the Doctor's subject will be "Prince Michael of Detroit and Common Sense."

A STRONG MAN'S MANY WOES.

SAMSON AND DELILAH ON EXHIBITION IN A POLICE COURT.

The Strong Man Accused of Stealing Money and Jewels From an Infatuated Married Woman—Samson Says It Is a Blackmailing Scheme—The Prosecutrix Again Faints in Court.

LONDON, March 6.—A stir was caused in the Westminster Police Court Saturday by the news that Mrs. Margaret Bernstein had collapsed under the strain caused by her love letters to "Strong Man Samson," and wished to drop the case in order to avoid the other love letters that the defence had reserved for further use as ammunition.

Samson, it will be remembered, was accused of stealing a quantity of jewelry and £770 in money from Mrs. Bernstein, who had fallen deeply in love with him while he was on exhibition as a strong man in London.

The case has been made interesting by various fainting spells among the principals, beginning with Samson himself, who fainted in court upon seeing his accuser, Mrs. Bernstein, between whom and the strong man the old affection was evidently not dead.

Upon the opening of the case the solicitor for Samson stated that he had received a communication from Mrs. Bernstein, saying that she was unable to face the ordeal of the court, and that she was willing to accept the return of the remaining jewelry in full settlement of the case.

Darling Carl.

The presiding magistrate said that he could not consent to any such disposition of the charge. The solicitor for Samson then read another letter, dated Jan. 17, as follows:

"MY DARLING CARL.—I repeat that I am not legally married to the man who is called my husband, and who is only carrying on this proceeding against you in order to get money. Darling Carl, don't give me up. I do love you."

The letter went on to suggest that Samson should try and become reconciled with the husband, Mr. Bernstein, until he (Samson) should be ready to take her away with him.

The Woman Wept Bitterly.

Under orders of the magistrate Mrs. Bernstein came reluctantly into court. She looked weak and as if ready to faint again. Her face was pale, tears stood in her eyes, and she gazed appealingly at the bench.

Mrs. Bernstein sobbed as she took the witness stand and was for some time unable to speak. When she recovered sufficiently she denied having sent £250 to Samson. She had only heard indirectly of Samson offering to return the jewels. When Mrs. Bernstein completed her testimony she fainted and was carried out of the court room to recover.

Lawyer Wontner, arguing in behalf of Samson, denied that the strong man had received a single sixpence of Mrs. Bernstein's money. She owed him £100, and the whole accusation was a plot on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Bernstein to entrap Turner and Samson. The husband had begun a divorce suit, claiming £500 from Turner for alienating the affections of his wife. Samson had warned Turner of the scheme to victimize him, and then Samson became the object of Bernstein's malice and cupidity. It had been shown that, after Samson had started for America, this couple—Bernstein and wife—the husband suing for a divorce, had occupied the same apartments at Haxell's Hotel, where they probably laid out the plot against Samson that resulted in the present proceedings.

The museum freak Ky Ky and other witnesses testified to the fact that Samson had been in the habit of loaning money to Mrs. Bernstein. It also came out in the testimony that the real wife of the strong man is living in Detroit, Mich.

The case was adjourned until next Friday.

TORONTO TO SUDBURY.

The Greatest Need Just Now Is For Better Rail Communication With the Western Provinces.

One of the most pressing needs for the Province of Ontario is better rail communication with Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. But one system of railway has perfect access to these western provinces, and that is the Canadian Pacific Railway system. The only way in which Western Ontario passengers and freight can reach that system is either to journey eastward to Smith's Falls or use the Grand Trunk Callander extension. In either case there is a great loss of time. The fact is we are cut off from all real connection with the west. What is wanted is most graphically displayed in the accompanying map. We want a new line connecting Toronto with Sudbury as directly as the lay of the land will permit. This line should be built by the C.P.R., and until it is built Toronto and Ontario will be handicapped in the matter of communication with the west by Montreal and Quebec.

The present should be a favorable time for pressing on the C.P.R., the construction of this highly necessary line. The company will, during the present session, it is understood, be reorganizing its financial basis, and before this is done the Toronto and Sudbury branch should be finally determined upon. This is a matter that the Board of Trade and the City Council could very fittingly take up.

It is thought Perry was trying the key when the sheriff opened the door and did not have time to take it out of the lock.

"ALL FIXED," IT IS ALLEGED.

THE HAMILTON STREET RAILWAY AND THE COUNCIL.

There Promises to Be a Great Fight Before the Deal Is Sanctioned by the Council—What the Amended Agreement Consists of—Another Case of Do-It-in-the-Dark.

HAMILTON, March 6.—"All fixed" is the significant headline in one of the local papers to its article, referring to the Hamilton Street Railway deal. A good many people in this city are complimenting the newspaper upon its candor.

The Railway Committee of the City Council met last night and received the report of the sub-committee appointed to deal with the street railway question.

The new agreement provides that the Hamilton Street Railway Company shall pay to the city 6 per cent. instead of 5 per cent on the first $125,000 of the earnings and ½ per cent. additional for every $25,000 additional. The company guarantees that the city will get at least $10,000 income the first year and $12,000 in subsequent years. As a rental the company will pay the city $400 per mile for single track and $800 per mile for double track.

There is also a stipulation that the company will erect iron poles on King-street from Queen to Victoria-avenue and from Stuart to Herkimer in James-street. On the other streets wooden posts will be placed.

The company still holds to the trolley system, but it agrees that if, at the end of five years, there is any great improvement in electricity or motive power the council shall have the right to order the company to make the change at once.

The meeting at which the agreement was perfected was secret.

It is likely there will be a big fight over the report when the council takes the matter up, as there is much dissatisfaction among citizens, the majority of whom would prefer to have the franchise sold to the highest bidder.

BRAINED THE TURNKEY.

One Prisoner Escapes from Brockville Jail and Another Man Attacks the Turnkey With an Iron Bar.

BROCKVILLE, March 5. — Moore, the tramp stranger, recently committed on a charge against a young lad named Shaver, has escaped from jail.

Before leaving his cell Moore tore up the blankets of his bed, converted it into a rope and fastened it to the jail wall which he could reach from his window.

When taken into the jail yard, he caught hold of this rope, climbed rapidly hand over hand to the top of the wall and jumped over. He is still at large.

Saturday morning a young man named Eaton, under sentence of six months for burglary, attacked Turnkey Downey with a piece of the leg of his iron bedstead when the turnkey opened his cell door.

Eaton struck Downey a terrific blow on the head, inflicting a dangerous wound. Downey closed with the prisoner, who kept on striking him on the head with the piece of iron, inflicting eight wounds.

A prisoner named Blair hearing Downey's cries came to his rescue and secured the prisoner.

Downey's wounds were stitched up by Dr. Moore. He is suffering great pain and his condition is considered critical.

After Eaton had been put in a dark cell and handcuffed a search resulted in finding a rope made of bedclothes around his body.

A rope was also found under his pillow in his cell made of bedclothes.

The Public Library.

The Public Library Board is frequently alluded to as one of the uncontrollable boards whose efforts have done so much to add to the groaning citizens' taxes. There is no reason, however, why some measure of indirect control at least should not be exercised over the views of that body in public expenditures. The board is composed of the nominees of other public bodies. For example, the City Council appoints two members, the Public School Board two, the Separate School Board two. Now, in the selection of their representatives these bodies should exercise careful supervision—select such men as are known to be favorable to economy in the administration of the trust. At present men are chosen out of personal compliment. They should be chosen solely because of their views as to how the system should be worked out. Their views should be known. They should be men who have previously exhibited some interest in the library. It has certainly become a serious question whether the board is to go into the show business in the way of establishing a museum, or whether the citizens' taxes should be devoted to the purchase of fictional literature for the callow youth of the city. It cannot be gain-said that there never was an era in the world's history when it was so little necessary for the state or the municipality to provide the populace with literature. The man or woman, boy or girl, who has a real love for literature can procure the greatest production of the human mind for a mere pittance. The great evil, and one which if not engendered is certainly largely encouraged by the public library, is the evil of "bolting" books, with a result similar to that produced by "bolting" food. The great bulk of the people who read are troubled with mental indigestion. The facts read but not masticated lie on their minds a fermenting useless mass that does nothing to strengthen and develop the intellect. He who digests one good book a month is reading fast enough in all conscience. That is twelve books a year. The greatest works of the greatest minds that have illumined the world, works suited for all tastes, can now be procured for 30 or 40 cents apiece. There are but few persons, real lovers of reading, who cannot afford 30 or 40 cents a month for their favorite diversion. It is this class for whom the public library is specially designed, and yet this is the class which it, with its fortnight limitation for perusing a book, does not serve.

The public library is a good institution, but it must be held within bounds. That it enables a studious person of straitened circumstances to pursue a line of study that his means would not allow him to pursue at his own cost is an excellent thing, but when it becomes a mere means of catering to the unhealthy tastes of youthful literary dyspeptics it is time that an era of curtailment was inaugurated.

Send men to the board who hold these views. That is the way to effect a reform.

The Truant Officers.

The appointment of two truant officers by the Police Commissioners is to be commended. Although the schools are free, many hundreds of children of school age never attend. Their education has been by ignorant and careless parents relegated to the streets. In many cases children of tender years have been sent forth to beg or steal, and others to earn coppers with ne'er a thought for their schooling. The Public School Act confers power upon trustees to compel the attendance at school of children between 7 and 13 years of age for a period of at least 100 days each year. It is to be regretted that as a rule these compulsory powers are not exercised. According to the report of the Minister of Education just issued, there were in 1890 in Ontario 83,609 children at home or in the streets who ought to have been at school. The proportions are 20 per cent of the rural school population, 13 per cent. in towns and 7 per cent. in cities. It is a matter for congratulation that this blot on our generally effective educational system is about to be removed from Toronto's schools, and that at very little expense to the ratepayers. In fact it is far cheaper to keep the children in the schools than in reformatories, to which many of these uneducated children gravitate.

In Memoriam James Beaty.

In the death of Mr. James Beaty, sr., a biographical sketch of whom appeared in The Sunday World, Toronto loses one of her oldest and most respected citizens. He had in his long span of life—a score years beyond that allotted by the Psalmist—done good service to Toronto and had his share of vicissitudes. As a politician he alternated from rampant Radicalism to staunch Conservatism; ecclesiastically he also had touched the extremes of Anglicanism and Plymouth Brethrenism; as a newspaper man he had a varied experience; and financially a checkered career. Some of his undertakings bore fruit rich in good for the city he loved so well, the establishing of the Toronto General Hospital and the Western Assurance Company may be taken as examples. His good name survives and his memory is cherished by the older citizens who knew his sterling qualities. Mr. Beaty was an example of how 'tis not in mortals to command success in every venture, but he deserved well of his compeers and he has left the lessons of his life to those who have ears to hear and wisdom to understand.

"Hotel Vendome," New York.

Toronto people visiting New York should make their home at the well-appointed and handsome "Hotel Vendome," corner of Broadway and Forty-first-streets. The "Hotel Vendome" is a short distance from the Grand Central depot, and has also direct car service from the West Shore and Erie Railway ferry docks. The "Vendome" is almost opposite the Metropolitan Opera House, and street cars pass the door from all theatres. Its appointments are perfection. Newly furnished and equipped from the ninth story down; it is the par excellence of comfort. The hotel contains two hundred and fifty rooms, single and en suite, with or without baths, and is conducted on both the European and American plan. In the hotel office will be found Mr. A. B. Craig (late of the Rossin House), who pays special attention to Canadian guests. The cafe is one of the handsomest in New York, and the dining-room, situated in the ninth story, cannot be surpassed in New York. 1

La Grippe and R. D. C.

To prevent contagion from this terrible disease two things are necessary. First—To keep the system in perfect order, and second—To disinfect and destroy the disease germ. For this purpose Royal Dandelion Coffee is highly recommended. It contains a proportion of German dandelion root to purify the blood. It contains high grade coffee, which contains dietetic and disinfecting properties in a high degree. Made only by Ellis & Keighley, Toronto. 1

Sits in Mr. Gladstone's Bosom.

The young Liberal who sits in Mr. Gladstone's bosom is, in Lord Randolph's opinion, the real leader of this municipal movement, which I rather doubt. He seems to me to have been forced into it. He will not cast in his lot with the Progressives. He renounces and denounces their program, as well he may, for few madder programs were ever anywhere drawn up. Yet he has a program of his own which he has defined as the politics of the poor, and again as an effort to redeem London from the reproach of being a quarter of the very rich, surrounded by a vast nation of the very poor. The taint of Socialism is upon both these declarations.

Socialist John Burns.

A good commentary on Lord Rosebery's speech may be found in the deliverances of Mr. John Burns in The March Nineteenth Century, which he chooses to entitle "Towards a Commune." The Commune of Paris is Mr. Burns' model for London. The London County Council, of which he is a member, is marching, he thinks, "towards" that red ideal. Lord Rosebery, while chairman of the council, referred to Mr. Burns as his "honored colleague." I do not know that he has ever withdrawn the epithet, though Mr. Burns is in fact one of the most dangerous demagogs in London; the same man who once ordered a general strike of labor, of every kind of labor; a man with a kind of insane hatred against society as it exists, and an insane desire to overturn it and replace it by a new social fabric, to which Mr. Burns himself is, I suppose, to play the part of creator.

London "a Place Like Hell."

He calls the present London "a place like hell." He describes the future work of the council as finding salvation for human derelicts. He describes the council as "the embodiment of desire for a portentous social change." He scoffs at the notion that the London County Council is to be "cabined, cribbed and confined within the corners of acts of Parliament." This is just one step in advance of Lord Rosebery's announcement that "the House of Commons is England's first Parliament, and the London County Council is England's second Parliament." He is a man of the world and has a cool head, and on many subjects sound judgment, but he like others seems to find other qualities than coolness and judgment most useful when he has to bestow his approval on the council over which he once presided.

Lord Rosebery uses at moments language which Mr. Burns himself might use. He jeers at a moderate policy, and asks how a moderate policy is to deal with "that annual celebration, which, I suspect, we shall watch with increasing interest every year on May 1." May 1 has become a synonym all over Europe for discontent breaking into disorder. It is, or would be but for the forces of order, the carnival of crime. Yet this is the spirit in which it is dealt with by one of the foremost Englishmen of the younger generation, who has been Foreign Minister and will be again, and will very probably some day be Prime Minister of England.

The Explanation.

There is no doubt an explanation of his attitude, or rather a melancholy explanation. The Gladstonian party, of which he is an ornament, have been engaged in an extensive effort to capture London for Parliamentary as well as municipal purposes. They made up their minds that municipal and parliamentary politics must go together. They bound up their fortunes for better or for worse with those of the County Council. The campaign was fought out to the bitter end. Hence it was that such men as Lord Rosebery and Mr. John Morley were to be seen on platforms where they were identified with the McDougalls, the Parkersons and the John Burnses, who have made the council justly odious to the better part of the community.

NO ELECTION TILL NOVEMBER.

Not Likely That the British Parliament Will be Dissolved for Some Time.

LONDON, March 6.—The Sunday Sun says that the fact that the Government is allowing some of its supporters to go abroad for several weeks indicates that it does not intend to dissolve Parliament yet awhile.

"The whole tendency of parliamentary opinion," The Sun continues, "is that the general elections will be postponed until July and perhaps November.

"It is believed that Mr. Gladstone prefers that the elections should be postponed until July, because an election in the middle of the parliamentary session would compel him to produce his bills hurriedly and risk the disaster which resulted from the breakneck pace that he was compelled to pursue in 1886. He will probably take months instead of weeks to prepare his Home Rule bill and to carefully study every detail of the measure. Therefore the Liberals have been enjoined not to press the Government to dissolve Parliament."

To Make Herself Solid.

LONDON, March 6.—In the House of Commons there was a long-continued debate on the proposition to vote £20,000 for a survey for a railway line from Mombasa to Victoria Nyanza, in British East Africa.

Sir William Vernon-Harcourt declared that if the proposed railway was built it would soon be torn up by the natives and that it would require a soldier to be placed every hundred yards along the line to prevent it from being destroyed. He ridiculed the idea that the railroad would extend the influence of the missionaries in Africa, who, he said, would be following a band of filibusters.

Right Hon. George Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, supported the project. He said that the railroad would be an invaluable aid in suppressing the slave trade, which undoubtedly existed in these regions.

Mr. Balfour moved the application of the closure rule, which was adopted.

The credit asked for was then granted by a vote of 206 to 126.

THE AMUSEMENT WORLD.

Marie Wainwright.

Miss Marie Wainwright will not reveal the beauties of her production of "Amy Robsart" at the Grand Opera House until Tuesday evening. The cause of this delay is the extraordinarily elaborate nature of the scenery and mechanical effects, and it has been deemed wiser to take Monday evening for a complete rehearsal, rather than to run the risk of giving a slow and uneven representation. Visitors on Tuesday may therefore be sure of seeing as perfect a performance as any that will be given later in the week. Miss Wainwright has, in view of the loss of Monday evening, promised to play a Wednesday matinee, although it is contrary to her custom, as the part of Amy is a peculiarly trying one.

Our play-goers have undoubtedly heard of the brilliant success which Miss Wainwright made with this play in New York. During September and October last she occupied the stage at Palmer's Theatre, and her engagement was twice extended and extra matinees made necessary by the overcrowding on Saturdays.

Nature has been most lavish to Miss Wainwright in all the gifts of form, face and movement, and her beautifully clear voice, distinct enunciation and incisive utterance cause even her faintest tones to penetrate into the farthest corners of large theatres. She has devoted herself with singular persistency to the presentation of the highest class of plays. Her setting of "Twelfth Night" will be generally remembered, and she has entrusted the production of "Amy Robsart" to the same guilding mind, that of Mr. Edward Hamilton Bell, who is without a superior as a student of medieval manners, customs and costumes. The "Twelfth Night's" setting, beautiful as it was, is said to have been meagre compared with the splendor of sumptuousness of that of "Amy Robsart."

Two of the largest baggage cars are required for the transportation of the scenery alone, and every piece of furniture placed upon the stage was designed and made expressly for this drama. The places illustrated in the action are Kenilworth Castle, Cumnor Place and Greenwich Palace. Even the ruins of the last have passed away, but we have its description in many books, and the great hall in which the court of Elizabeth was held is almost exactly similar to that now remaining as Hampton Court.

Miss Wainwright brings here the same cast that supported her in New York. This includes the favorite leading actor, William Ingersoll, as Leicester. The veteran Barton Hill has also many friends here, and among other prominent members of the cast are Wallace Bruce, E. Y. Backus, Edward Elsner, Sydney Booth, Blanche Walsh and Kate Blancke.

Academy of Music.

Annie Ward Tiffany, the well-known and popular Irish comedy actress who scored such a pronounced hit as Peggy Logan in her successful play, "The Stepdaughter," when here last season, will be the attraction at the Academy of Music this week. The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette of a recent date says: "The unctuous humor of Annie Ward Tiffany, whose Peggy Logan in L. R. Shewell's play, 'The Stepdaughter,' drew a large audience to Heuck's Opera House and was the means of once more satisfying Cincinnati theatre-goers that in her particular line this gifted woman is without a peer. She reached a high plane as a dialect comedienne in Biddy Rouan in 'Shadows of a Great City,' but as Peggy Logan she easily eclipses that effort.

"As the faithful Irish nurse, whose only desire in life is to shield her gentle charge, Ruby Egerton, from the wiles of designing villians and the lures of false friends, she displays an ingenuity and readiness of resources that lead to the most surprising situations.

"The supporting company throughout is good and the scenic effects unusually elaborate and realistic. Peggy's thrilling escape from the tower room is well managed. The play is a success." Gus P. Thomas, son of the well-known Gus Thomas of this city, is one of the company. He has been on the stage now for seven years.

"Dangers of a Great City."

At Jacobs & Sparrow's Opera House this week Dore Davidson and Miss Ramie Austen will present the new successful comedy drama, "Dangers of a Great City," which has made a most pronounced hit, Miss Ramie Austen excelling all her previous efforts, while Dore Davidson sustained his reputation as the foremost character. The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "'Dangers of a Great City' is a melodrama of most intense interest, combining all the elements of a popular success. The climaxes are startling in the extreme; situations all novel and original, holding the audience spellbound and awe-stricken at the many thrilling instances. The narrative introduces a love story—tender, pathetic, affecting deep emotions. A rich comedy vein is interwoven, giving the necessary relief to this sterling play. Of the stars, it would be difficult to offer them too much praise. They are thorough masters of their art. Miss Ramie Austen is a beautiful young lady; she lends to her performance refined grace and beauty. Dore Davidson excels all actors in his particular line."

With the Indian Contingent in India.

To-night the military men of the city will have a treat, for Surgeon-Major Napier Keefer, late of the Bengal army, will lecture on "With the Indian Contingent in Egypt." Mr. Keefer is a Canadian, a native of Galt, who has won distinction abroad, as the record of his service will testify. He was present in the Looshai, Duffla and Sowaki expeditions, winning medals with two clasps and was mentioned in despatches. In the Afghan War of 1878-80 he was present at the capture of Ali Musjid, at the Loughman Valley Expedition, the Zaimusht Expedition and at the capture of Yawa, again winning a medal with clasps and again being mentioned in despatches. The lecture is on the Egyptian campaign of 1882, and the lecturer's qualification for the task is shown by the fact that he was present at the actions of Kassasin Lock and Tel-el-Kebir, once more winning a medal with clasp and the bronze star, fourth class Osmanlich. The subject is most interesting, the Indian force being one of the most picturesque in the world and the war in many respects a most interesting one.

A Great Day at New Richmond.

Missionary Sunday was observed yesterday in the New Richmond Methodist Church, McCaul-street. The services were successful in every respect. Rev. Dr. Sutherland discoursed in the morning, taking as his text John iv, 35, 36. The purport of his remarks, characteristically eloquent and forceful, was that, owing to the time being especially opportune for missionary endeavor, increased efforts should be made in this direction.

A platform meeting was held in the evening. Rev. Mr. Dinnick, formerly a missionary from the Primitive Methodist Church, England, and James L. Hughes, delivered 15 minute addresses on appropriate topics, followed by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Wilson, who spoke on the openings for missionary enterprises. The Chinese class from the Metropolitan Church, under the leadership of J. S. Williams, sang several selections.

The "Smoker" Was a Great Success.

The smoking concert given to G and H companies of the Queen's Own by the bugle corps was a big success. Good music, interspersed with fine exhibitions of gymnastics, made a program of choice variety. Messrs. T. A. Baker, Putland, Booz, Oliver, Stevens and Leo de Borde contributed the vocal part; Messrs. Morgan and Davis, bar performances; Russell and Kent, grotesque tumbling; Mr. James, club swinging; Mr. Robert Cuthbert, recitation; Mr. Macdonald, Scotch dancing, and instrumental music by Bugle-Major Swift, Sergeant Woods and Bugler Thomson. The next concert will wind up the series, when I and K Companies will be invited.

Efforts to Prove Dr. Scudder Insane.

CHICAGO, March 6.—For another week at least the question of Dr. Henry Martyn Scudder's sanity will be undecided. Evidence to the effect that he is a victim of the morphine habit and kindred infirmities is accumulating.

According to the weight of evidence going to prove the guilt of Dr. Scudder in murdering his mother-in-law, Mrs. F. H. Dunton, comes the fact that he had actually so far planned the crime that he could and did make announcement of her death before it came to pass. The autopsy showed the head of the dead woman to have been terribly bruised and the skull fractured in several places.

James Cullen, Pool's Island, N.F., writes: "I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place, and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my 'rheumatic neighbors' (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

DRYGOODS

524 & 526 Queen-st. W.

Our new Swiss Embroideries have arrived direct from manufacturers and embrace the largest variety and varied assortments we have ever shown, and it is fair to say that nothing better was ever presented to Toronto ladies.

A line of handsome embroidery skirtings with a hemstitched edge 4 inches deep; beautiful embroideries with colored leaves in pink, blue, grey and black; they are, we think, the choicest shown this season, and considering the matchless work and beauty are cheap.

We start our Embroidery this season at 1½c per yd.; at 5c we give you as good value as for 10c last season, and we thought we sold goods cheap last year.

Our immense stock of Laces are now open and ready for sale; besides the usual variety of narrow laces for trimmings and neckwear we show this season a large range of narrow flouncings, skirtings in black and colors, and we believe we are going to sell larger quantities, because there is a feeling for laces this season.

HOCKEY GAMES AND GOSSIP.

QUEEN'S DEFEAT OSGOODE HALL BY 3 GOALS TO 2.

Imperial Wins the Bank Championship—A Hockey Rink as a Good Investment—Trips to Rosedale and Woodbine—Was the New Orleans Fight a Fake?—Saturday's Trap Shooting—The Winter Races.

Hockey has not only become a popular but a paying game. It is said that the Granite Club can pay a good year's dividend on their stock from the hockey receipts alone. The Caledonian Rink people also found it a paying investment. The Bankers paid $150 for their right to practice. The rink cleared another $150 on their gates and the Bank League secured a balance of $100. Osgoode Hall had upwards of $200 on the right side after their final match. Now what Toronto wants is a rink devoted solely to this popular winter sport. Wouldn't it be a good investment for a company to erect a suitable building with a covered surface 100x200 feet and suitable upper and lower galleries capable of containing 3000 spectators? The championship matches were played here under difficulty. The Granite and Victoria rinks were too small. The posts and lack of a lower gallery were drawbacks in Mutual-street. This rink is 112 feet wide, and already the Caledonians talk of converting six feet on each side into a promenade or lower gallery. But of course they will require to curl there. A permanent hockey rink will likely be located here before next season comes around.

The bank championship hockey match on Saturday furnished a genuine surprise and one of the few unsuspected results in that popular game that has occurred here this season. Dominion were 3 to 1 favorites. The soft ice spoiled their combination, and Imperial's plucky and determined play won them the great victory.

Toronto will be represented in the Senior Lacrosse League the coming season. With Montreal, Shamrocks, Cornwall and Ottawa a successful five club institution can be operated. St. Catharines want to join the circuit but will be refused. There is also a probability that Ottawa will be dropped. The Capitals of Ottawa are not spoken of. Toronto, Cornwall and the two Montreal clubs would make a compact and self-sustaining four club league.

In a list of the get of Longfellow furnished by The Canadian Sportsman the name of a horse which many people think the best that ever ran in America is omitted. It is that of The Bard.

The three 3-year-olds entered by M. J. Daly in the Woodstock Plate are all cheap cast-offs from the stable of the late D. D. Withers; but in the absence of Cottonade it won't take a very good one to win, and there may be a surprise party again like Addie B.'s of last year. The penalty imposed on winners of this race when they go South to race for American stakes is a regretable but unavoidable incident of it, and, it is to be feared, will always lead to the exclusion of the best 3-year-olds.

Japonica, the only Canadian thoroughbred child of Mikado, and out of the dam of that sensational yearling Ajax, should have a chance for the Queen's guineas. She was only half trained last year; but what was more against her was an inclination to gallop high, and she did not give one the idea of a stayer; but a year's growth often makes a great difference in these respects.

Southern jockeys proved so dishonest at the winter races at New Orleans that spies were placed at convenient intervals around the track. This wouldn't be a bad idea for some of the Eastern tracks.

On Wednesday next Eastern Baseball Association delegates will meet in Rochester to decide upon their circuit. In vain they attempted to lure Toronto into their league, but this city persistently refused. And this quondam crazy baseball town will not be represented at the meeting. Amateur baseball and other sports, of which many flourish here, will suffice for this year.

Sullivan has challenged Mitchell, Slavin or Corbett to fight for a $25,000 purse. The Olympic Club of New Orleans will give that amount for a fight in October. Mitchell was shown the challenge Sunday and said he would either fight Prize Ring or Queensberry rules. Slavin says if he wins his London fight with Jackson he will return to meet Sullivan.

RAH! RAH! IMPERIAL.

Dominion Bankers Beaten for the Championship—The Score Was 3 to 2.

The Bank Hockey League championship has been decided and the crack Dominions are only second best. The final match came off yesterday afternoon in Mutual-street between Imperial and Dominion, the champs of two groups. Imperial won an uphill fight by 3 goals to 2 and there is much gloom at the corner of King and Yonge-streets.

The select assembly of young men and pretty girls in the galleries looked down on a fast and furious, if not a scientific game of hockey. Dominion had the best of the first half, tallying twice to Imperial's unit. Walker and Jones put on the points for Dominion and Langtry's rattling shot near half-time counted for Imperial.

Soon after the restart Patterson was ruled off for rough play, but notwithstanding this disadvantage Imperial came abreast with Creelman's scoop from the right. Brown was severely injured by a fall and Walker stood out from the Dominion forwards to even up. Patterson returned after the tally and the game continued six a-side. Within five minutes of the call of time Creelman again shot through and Imperials were ahead. This was the last successful stroke. And the Imperial lads were carried off the ice victors by 3 goals to 2.

It was a rather poor exhibition of scientific hockey. Neither side showed much combination. But quickness of the game amused the crowd. The players went in for individual work. Creelman, Chadwick, Langtry and Patterson were noticeable in the winning side. Jones was the star of both sides, while the other Dominion good ones were Bethune and Walsh. The teams:

Imperial (3): Goal, Chadwick; point, Merritt; cover, McPhail; forwards, Creelman, Patterson, Langtry, Brown.

Referee—D'arcy Martin, Trinity.

Banner For the Bankers.

The Caledonian Rink officers have written Secretary Scholfield of the Bank Hockey League offering a cup or banner for another match between Dominion and Imperial next Saturday afternoon. It only remains for Imperial to accept. Dominion are anxious for another contest.

Queen's Narrow Victory from Osgoode.

KINGSTON, March 5.—The hockey match here to-day between Queen's and Osgoode Hall proved somewhat of a surprise. The Westerners who were easily beaten by Ottawa the other day by 10 to 4, were looked upon as easy victims to-day. Instead they put up a plucky and scientific game and for the greater part of the match outplayed the Kingston cracks. Queens may congratulate themselves on their narrow and fortunate victory. Queen's got 2 goals early in the game and after that were outplayed. Osgoode consider them much inferior to Ottawa. The teams were:

Osgoode Hall (2): Goal, Mack; point, Swabey; cover, Boys; forwards, Moran, Smellie, Kerr, Senkler.

The Clever Victoria Juniors.

The Victoria Juniors played the Y.M.C.A. Seniors at Victoria Rink Saturday from 7 to 8 o'clock, the game ending in favor of the Victorias by 8 goals to 1.

All the Vics. showed up strongly and each of the forwards scored twice. Franks tallied for the seniors. The teams were as follows:

Victoria Juniors (8); Goal, W. J. Morrison; point, R. Temple; cover, W. Thompson; forwards, W. Morrison, Lorne Cosby, C. Walker and (Capt.) H. LeMaitre.

Referee—Mr. Wily.

Imperial's Clean Record.

The Bank Hockey League championship has been decided and Imperial captures the honor.

The Dominions carried of the trophy last year, which is a handsome silver cup donated by the cashiers and managers of the respective city banks. Saturday's contest causes it to revert to the Imperial team, who are champions of the season of 1891-2. The record:

	W.	L.		W.	L.
Imperial	6	0	Hamilton	2	2
Dominion	5	1	Montreal	1	3
Commerce	3	2	Standard	1	3
Toronto	3	2	Traders	0	3
Ontario	2	2	British	0	4

A visit to the Woodbine race track yesterday showed the track covered with water and ice. The 16 new stables in the rear of the club house only need their coats of paint to be ready for their occupants, who will soon appear. A few more sunny days will bring a dry track and see candidates for May purses exercising around the oval.

AT THE TRAPS.

A Big Day's Shooting At Stark's for the McDowall Prize—Several Sweeps.

The fourth team shoot for prizes given by W. McDowall was shot at Stark's Grounds, Saturday afternoon. At present the Owl No. 1 team is slightly in the lead. Messrs. Charlesworth of the O. G. C. and Sawdon, sr., of the T. G. C., are making a big fight for the average prize. Emond made a clean score of 25 in a match with Charlesworth, but the latter got back at his opponent in a 50 bird race, defeating him by one bird. Only 14 birds were missed out of 156. Five traps were used and a strong wind prevailed during the match. Scores:

Fulford Again Defeated.

CHICAGO, March 5.—The second match shoot between E. D. Fulford and C. W. Budd came to an inglorious end yesterday afternoon. The weather was execrable. A driving rain during the morning made the grounds a quagmire, and when the rain ceased the sky remained overcast, making dark birds a difficult quantity to find. The score was as follows, each man having shot at 53 birds: Budd 49, Fulford 38. Fulford expects Brewer back in a few days, and a match will be made between the Captain and Budd.

THE NEW ROSEDALE.

Building Operations on the Stands, Etc., Being Well Pushed Forward.

The mild weather and bright sun yesterday brought out many pedestrians. And scores journeyed through the Rosedale ravines and inspected the new lacrosse grounds. A little snow and ice still cover the ground. The spacious grand stands are fully half completed. The contract for the bicycle track, which has already been graded, will be let this week. The track will be laid with cinder, brick dust and clay. A five-minute walk from the old grounds takes one to the new field, which is directly north of Sherbourne-street and on the corner of the new Scholfield and Morris-avenues.

Slavin and Mitchel's Show.

The show at the Auditorium Wednesday night will be a big one. There will be wrestling by experts, Slavin and Corporal Page of "C" School with the single sticks; Page v. Williams, late 10th Hussars' instructor, broadsword combat; Lovett v. Durham, boxing; Bittle v. Stemmeyer, boxing; tug-of-war between the rowing club and police teams, and the grand wind up between Slavin and Mitchell. Reserved seats are $1.

Nasmith, The Plucky Rider.

In speaking with Mr. Nasmith regarding his second century run, he states that he never experienced such roads on any previous trip anywhere. In some places he found mud and water six inches deep. Others again he encountered frozen ruts, stones, etc., and the weather very cold. Yet he did the hundred miles in 13 hours and 10 minutes, which shows the remarkable endurance of this plucky rider. He was mounted on a Comet pneumatic tire.

A Real Live Cricket Association.

The East Toronto Cricket Club will hold its annual meeting on Friday evening next for the election of officers, etc. The season promises to be a lively one.

Rumor, which is well founded, is that Mr. J. H. Forrester and Mr. Chandler, the East Toronto veteran, have about completed arrangements to call a convention of the Ontario cricket clubs in Toronto at a very early date to discuss and form a real live association, one that shall truly represent Ontario cricket.

WAS IT A FAKE?

An Expert Gives Reasons Why Maher Quit—Madden Didn't Lose.

The early termination of the Fitzsimmons-Maher fight was the surprise of last week. The Irishman was expected to at least make a game showing:

"Maher is the dirtiest cur that ever stepped into the ring," says Charlie Mitchell. "He ought to be ashamed to own himself an Irishman, and Irishmen generally ought to be ashamed to own him as a representative of their nation. He can't fight and won't fight."

Phil Dwyer, the well-known New York horseman, says that the new man is a disappointment and of little account. Steve Brodie, the bridge-jumper of New York, sent word to Maher that he would give him a position as bar tender in his Bowery saloon if he wanted a job, for all that he was good for was to "slug bums." Steve lost several thousand dollars on the Irishman, and his wife knows it, for she wired him from New York to return before the walking got bad.

A New Orleans special tells an improbable story to the effect that Peter Maher was drugged by his professed friends and backers, and that they, under cover, bet large sums of money on Fitzsimmons.

There is another set who have a belief which just now looks to be the proper one. Maher made himself popular and somewhat famous in Ireland by knocking out good ones in very few rounds. Now he comes to America and makes worse than a bad showing in his first battle in America. Perhaps the real reason for Peter's failure is given by a Pittsburg prize-ring expert:

"Mark what I tell you, as soon as Billy Madden quarrels with the man who was his secret agent in placing bets on Fitzsimmons we will hear some truths about that fight. Madden has been filling the newspapers for days with tales of what a game man Maher was and how well he was trained, while the story was circulated with equal fluency that Fitzsimmons was a quitter under hard punishment. Yet, with no body fighting to speak of and no worse hurt than a pair of sore lips, having been knocked down but once and that in the first round, Maher quits like a cur in 12 rounds, and Madden, his manager, second and supposed backer, seems entirely satisfied to have him do so. Madden is too old and cold a hand to give up his good money for fear an Irishman, who is still strong and well, gets hit on a sore mouth. He knows of too many fights that have been won by men whose whole faces have been mashed out of shape before the 12th round. Incidentally, I see that there was $10,000 placed on Fitzsimmons in two bets alone in a New Orleans pool room, on condition that the names of the betters should not be made public. When the whole truth comes out you'll find that Madden and his particular crowd didn't lose any money on the fight. I don't think Maher knew what was going on, but he didn't need to. He has never done anything to show that he was anything but a strong lubber, and it's better than a lubber that Fitzsimmons can't give 10 pounds to. Ten pounds, mostly in the legs, don't count much in hitting power if the legs of the other man are strong enough to carry his body, and Fitzsimmons is one of the handiest men on his legs that stands in the ring to-day."

Spots of Sport.

Paddy Lyons, the well-known professional second baseman, will play in the Western League this season.

Capt. Lamont of the Granite Colts writes that his club defeated U.C.C. by 4 goals to 2 and not by 4 to 3 as stated Saturday.

Thomas O'Rourke of Pittsburg, manager of Dixon, the pugilist, this afternoon cabled Ted Pritchard, England's middleweight, to come to this country and he would match him against Fitzsimmons.

When the Eastern Association meets at the Powers Hotel, Rochester, next Wednesday clubs desiring admission must come prepared to pay their first dues, $125, in order to secure any recognition whatever.

Chessmen, the world over, purpose giving a testimonial to T. B. Rowland, the well-known Irish player. A strong committee of prominent Irishmen have the matter in hand. A. T. Bassett, 110 Lower Baggott-street, Dublin, is secretary of the committee.

A special despatch to The Police Gazette from New Orleans says Bob Fitzsimmons will fight Ted Pritchard in the Olympic Club for the middleweight championship of the world and a purse of $12,000 offered by the club. The fight will take place in May. President Noel of the Olympic Club agrees to allow Pritchard expenses.

Manitoba has organized a Provincial Rugby Football Union, with the following officers: President, P. Tulloch, Winnipeg; vice-president, T. D. B. Evans, Royal Canadian Mounted Corps; hon. secretary-treasurer, Alexander N. Mowat, 90th Rifles.

A letter from a Woodstock, Ont., man in Mexico states that Boyd of that place and Coyne of Chatham, two of the fastest footracers in America, are running their "mutual consent" foot-races in that country now, and that on a recent job they scooped in a cool $30,000. Heretofore no professional runner has had nerve enough to go down among the greasers, where life is held so cheaply, and work their game. Boyd and Coyne are reaping a harvest from the innocents, but it is a risky occupation.

There was a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, at the Astor House, Friday night, and the attendance was unusually large. William B. Curtis was elected president, in the place of C. F. Matthewson, resigned. J. R. Woodruff of Newark was a candidate for the position, but he withdrew his name as soon as he learned that Mr. Curtis would accept. Dates for boxing tournaments and athletic meetings were assigned to various clubs, and P. Kearney, a pugilist of Paterson, was reinstated as an amateur.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING
EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

BRITISH COLUMBIA HEARD FROM.

Premier Robson Says Her "Rights" Must Be Demanded.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 6.—In the Provincial Legislature yesterday J. H. Turner, Minister of Finance, moved a long resolution regarding the Behring Sea fisheries, urging the Imperial Government to grant compensation to sealers for losses sustained last season, and to refuse to renew the modus vivendi for another year.

Turner said 51 vessels in the province were engaged in sealing, 46 registered in Victoria and five in Vancouver. Besides these there were 16 now on their way from Nova Scotia. The total cost of the 51 now here is $400,000, and the outfit annually required cost $160,000. The number of white men actually engaged is over 800, and 541 Indians are likewise occupied.

John Robson, Premier, said that the time had now come when the British Columbia Government must speak with no uncertain sound and demand her full rights. Information received by the Government proves that the present season was likely to be one of the best for years, and it would be extremely unfortunate to have any interference with sealers.

The Behring Sea Question.

LONDON, March 6.—Inquiry was made at the Foreign Office by a representative of the Associated Press regarding the Behring Sea negotiations. The official seen said that although he did not wish to make a statement at this juncture, yet he could say that no information had been received that the Behring Sea Commissioners had failed to arrive at a satisfactory understanding regarding the methods to be employed in the seal fisheries. He deprecated what he called the animus which permeated the information received here from the United States concerning the matter.

IS HE A SPY?

A Clan-na-Gael Member Said to be a British Government Agent.

MANCHESTER, N.H., March 5.—Considerable excitement has been created in Irish-American circles by the report that John P. Hayes of this city has sailed for England to become an emissary of the British Government. Hayes came to this city from Philadelphia, and it has been charged was concerned in the Dr. Cronin murder at Chicago. At the time alleged he was a prominent and influential member of the Clan-na-Gael and one of the famous trial, and subsequently was charged with being a traitor to the order and in the pay of the British Government. He was also at one time an intimate friend of Parnell. He sold out his saloon business in Manchester in February, and sailed from Boston on a Cunarder one week ago. It is alleged he was called to England by the British Government to assist the Conservatives in the coming Parliamentary elections.

DEATH WAS HIS BRIDE.

Everything Had Been Prepared for the Nuptials When the Summons Came.

KINGSTON, March 5.—Samuel Jackson, brakeman on the Grank Trunk, was killed here last evening at about 9 o'clock. One of the engines being disconnected from the coaches was shunting and Jackson thought it was on a side-track next to him and took no notice of it. The engine struck him from behind, killing him instantly.

Jackson was to have been married shortly to a young lady of Gananoque and had everything ready for the reception of his intended bride.

"What Method?"

Editor World: "Observer" has discovered what he believes to be a faulty sentence of mine, and in his inability to perceive the idea intended to be conveyed, asks "What method?"

I answer: A method of expression that presents grace, ease and perspicuity, involves the least waste of energy to the speaker, and the least difficulty or greatest pleasure to the understanding of those to whom he speaks. Such a method means physical economy, both to speaker and audience, and is therefore scientific and true to nature.

"True ease in speaking comes from art, not chance,
As those move easiest who have learned to dance."

Rythm is a scientific attribute of speaking or pronunciation, as it is of motion. Light, heat and electricity are vibrating entities. Man, himself, is a vibrating machine, and his evolution towards complete life is denoted by the harmonious vibration of all his faculties or powers. Sentences, however carefully and beautifully formed, may, as everyone knows, be vitiated by a harsh, unmusical, unemotional and unscientific pronunciation—a style of articulation that diverts the attention, breaks the chain of thought or interrupts the succession of emotions which lead the mind to important results and the soul to durable impressions." It makes little difference what any dictionary has to say on the subject. If it conflicts with the simple dictum of science and the scrupulous custom of the best readers and speakers, which custom, as Horace justly affirms, is the law of all language—then said dictionary should be ignored.

Mrs. Kendal, whom I heard on Saturday evening for the first time, is quite confirmatory of my contention in this controversy. In cadence, inflection, quantity and cultured tone her articulation is faultless. Such are the distinguishing features of her charming acting. By such a method she attracts large and appreciative audiences. In the adjective "appreciative" I could not imagine her giving a long sound to the "A." And if not in that word, why in any other words of equally qualifying value such as "qualitative" and quantitative? ORTHOS.

There's Magic In It.

What must be the satisfaction and gratification, at so small a cost, of one who writes like this? Mr. W. Mason, editor of The Retford and Gainsborough News, Retford, Eng., says: "I had suffered from a sprained knee for twelve months, without being able to obtain relief from the pain, when I rubbed the knee thoroughly for twenty minutes with St. Jacobs Oil. That night I traveled 200 miles by railway, and the next day I walked 25 miles, and the pain had entirely disappeared. I have never had the slightest return of it since."

Skipped to Her Heavenly Home.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 6.—Nine-year-old Lilian Weeks died yesterday from rope-skipping. She and several schoolmates contested to see who could skip the longest without missing. Lilian outlasted the others and kept on jumping until she fell down in a faint. She died a short time afterwards.

Watching the Hour Glass.

As a miser counts his gold, night and day,
So I count the minutes told in the glass;
My eye is dim, my hair is thin and gray,
And I know I'm growing old as they pass.

When we approach "the sere and yellow leaf" of our days, we are prone to look back regretfully. A clear conscience and sound health will lighten our gloomy reflections. Health is the greatest blessing—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery the greatest medicine. It arrests the progress of lung and scrofulous diseases and cures consumption or lung-scrofula if taken in time. It is the king of liver invigorators and blood purifiers, and a powerful tonic, building up the debilitated patient to perfect health. Contains no alcohol.

Suicide Six Days After Marriage.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Mrs. Kate Brown of 249 Rumsey-street killed herself last night by putting three bullets into her brain. She was 23 years old, and was married to Martin Brown last Saturday by Justice Wilcox. When Mr. Brown returned from work last evening he found her lying on the bed dead, with a revolver clenched in her right hand. Why the woman killed herself is not known, although she had threatened to commit suicide before her marriage.

Mr. John McCarthy, Toronto, writes: "I can unhesitatingly say that Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery is the best medicine in the world. It cured me of Heartburn that troubled me for over thirty years. During that time I tried a great many different medicines, but this wonderful medicine was the only one that took hold and rooted out the disease."

THE LONG-HAIRED FRAUD.

Hypnotism Is Said to Play a Part in His Fascination.

Mr. Cobley of Norway, father of the young man Charles Cobley who was infatuated with the long-haired dervish who has assumed the name of Michael the Prince, tells a good many interesting things that happened to him on his recent journey to recover his son. Mr. Cobley is convinced that hypnotism plays a part in this religious craze. The hypnotic influence, he believes, is exercised by one Durand, who is Michael's chief lieutenant. He says that Michael, whose real name is Mills, is a conscious fraud. In January last he started for England with the avowed purpose of getting the sanction of the sect at its headquarters, Hampstead-road, London, England. He was accompanied on his journey by nine women. Of these more anon. He arrived in England, but the sect there rejected his pretences and would not sanction him in any way. He returned to America, however, and reported that he was fully commissioned and authorized. One of the girls who had accompanied him had become aware what a fraud the fellow was, exposed his falsehoods and fled from him. Mr. Cobley found that in the Prince's Detroit home there are eight women, all of whom are those who accompanied him to England. So far as he could make out they were his wife Lizzie, Alice Court, the wife's sister, Mary Webster, Carrie Bendree, Burniss Bickle, Ella Butler, Ellen Robinson and Nellie Anderson. His authority for this galaxy of female attendants is to be found in Galatians v. 22-24, where the fruits of the Spirit are given as love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance. These qualities are represented by a woman, and the women surrounding the Prince are called by these abstract names.

Among the Prince's followers are John Hamilton, 81 Oak-street, who sold a $2000 house to follow Mike, and W.J. Hunter, who threw up a good situation in the General Hospital to do likewise.

DEATH OF JAMES BEATY.

Mr. James Beaty, sr., one of the oldest and most respected residents of Toronto died at his residence, 17 Fuller-street, on Saturday. Mr. Beaty was born near Killashandra, county Cavan, Ireland, in 1798, and was in his 94th year. He came to Canada in 1818. He had learned shoemaking and for many years carried on a leather business in this city. He took an active part in the rebellion of 1837, and was a strong partisan of William Lyon Mackenzie, his Radical views driving him into rebellion.

He altered his views, however, as time rolled on, and to this generation he was known as an uncompromising Conservative. In 1852 he established The Leader as the Conservative organ, which he conducted for about a quarter of a century. He founded the Toronto General Hospital, was a director of the Grand Trunk and a charter member of the Western Assurance Company. He sat in council for a number of years and represented East Toronto in the first Parliament of Canada. His election fights were always conducted on a personal basis and were bitterly fought. As a newspaper man he entered the field at too advanced an age to really get into the spirit of it, but he was exceedingly proud of his various publications. He was a shrewd, kindly, popular old man, and the great age to which he lived, shows the vitality which accounts for much of the success he achieved in life. He was reckoned to be a very wealthy man at one time, but lack of business methods and the heavy drain which his publications made upon his resources reduced him in circumstances. He at one time owned the whole of the land between Parliament and Ontario-streets and Wilton-avenue and Carleton-street, but it melted out of his hands. In his latter years he considered himself to have realized the condition of that man who hangs on princes favors. His face latterly has never been seen in our streets, although it was a decade or more ago one of the best known about King and Toronto-streets. His funeral takes place on Monday.

He was married shortly after he reached this country, but his wife died in 1829, leaving a son and daughter. The son is dead; the daughter, Mrs. Mullaney, is living in this city. Robert Beaty, King-street east, and James Beaty, ex-Mayor, are nephews.

He has always taken an active part in politics and was a popular and effective public speaker and debater.

In religion he was raised a churchman, but after coming to this country concluded that the simple New Testament Christian was all that was needed. He started and maintained a congregation in this city for nearly 60 years, being one of the principal speakers.

He was one of the first Orangemen in this city, and with his brothers, John Beaty and William Beaty, he walked in a procession of 12 in the year 1820, but was only a nominal member for years before his death.

ARCHBISHOP LAUD.

Professor Rigby Analyses the Great Ecclesiastic's Character.

The third lecture of a series was delivered in Convocation Hall, Trinity College, on Saturday afternoon by Prof. O. Rigby. His subject was "Archbishop Laud."

In commencing his address Mr. Rigby remarked that he would have to exclude from his presentment of the subject the political features of Laud's career. Accordingly he dealt principally with his hero as the great opponent of the dominant Puritan party in England, and as the able enforcer of unity of practice and doctrine.

After tracing Laud's life at Oxford—pointing out incidentally that he was a man of great personal piety, holding the middle position between Rome and Calvinism—the lecturer dwelt on his friendship with and his influence over Buckingham. Laud's steady rise in court favor was then traced, and he was pictured as holding successively the offices of Dean of Gloucester, Bishop of St. David's, Bath and Wells, London, and finally honored and distinguished, Archbishop of Canterbury. In all these offices, Mr. Rigby averred, he had shown himself the resolute opponent of Puritan innovations, both in doctrine and ceremony, enforcing the law by all the means in his power and saving the Church from becoming simply a Calvinist sect.

The punishments inflicted by the courts of the time, continued the lecturer, affecting to vindicate Laud's participancy in them, had not been undeserved, and the brutal character they assumed was only the custom of the period.

Gossip From Chicago.

Estimated hogs Monday 27,000, for next week 120,000.

Estimated cars Monday: Wheat 178, corn 205, oats 127.

Counselman & Day to John J. Dixon & Co: Wheat opened weak under free selling by the crowd on account of lower cables and settled mild weather. After ⅝c decline the market ruled dull until past noon, when light clearances and generally lower closing cables caused a further decline of half a cent, and the market closed without a rally, although New York and Minneapolis reported a good export inquiry and a liberal amount worked on foreign orders. Cash stuff here quiet and about ½c lower all round for sample lots. Corn and oats were also about ⅛c lower to shippers and futures quiet, closing at ⅛ to ¼ decline. Provisions were more active and a moderate business was done on outside orders. Some new buying was noticeable based on decreasing hog receipts. The local crowd continues generally bearish on account of liberal stocks and on absence of speculation which is attributed to the financial depression in the cotton raising states.

Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochran: There has been free liquidation of long wheat on weaker cables. Foreigners take wheat freely on these breaks, which is an encouraging feature, as it is evident that they really want it and are trying to buy as cheaply as possible. Some continental cables state that the damage by frost in France is serious and will have its effect later. The market is in shape to rally on bullish news.

OIL MARKET.

Quotations in Oil City, as received by R. Cochran: Opening 59⅜c, lowest 59⅜c, highest 59¾c, closing 59½c.

Guff from Gotham.

Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochran: The feverish and unhealthy condition that has prevailed during the week culminated to-day in a general and wholesale liquidation. It did not take long after the opening to develop the fact that there were no more buyers in the market after yesterday's excitement, and many of yesterday's buyers had accumulated more than they really wanted, hence a hurried liquidation regardless of prices. As the true meaning of the bank statement was realized, decreasing reserves and cash is notice to all that the climax of the longs has been reached and restriction will now be the order of the day. This takes away the only argument in favor of higher prices in the immediate future, and stops the building of pyramidal accounts, which has been one of the features of the market lately. Lower prices will be made Monday. Total sales 400,001.

John J. Dixon & Co. received the following despatch over their private wire to-day from Henry Allen & Co., New York: The stock market whooped in the early part of the day. St. Paul was lifeless above 81, and a 2½ cent dividend was sure. Lake Shore crossed 149, and a 25 per cent. scrip dividend was in sight. Just before the close when a very bad bank statement had struck the street in the stomach, it was suddenly discovered that St. Paul dividend was lost, and that Lake Shore capital was not going to be increased for anybody's benefit, and that Mr. Jay Gould had dropped dead in his car, and the whole market flopped downward. Everything went off, and went off pretty easily. Most of the bull stories have been worked too hard lately, but bear tales invented to take their place have an equal effect. All the little fellows in the street are long of stocks, stop orders have been caught all day long throughout the whole market, but they are not all wiped out yet by any means.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER

ITS SUCCESS STANDS UNPARALLELED.

For General Information.

The following information is offered in general reply to questions arising in the minds of those entering upon a course of treatment by the great Radam remedy.

FIRST—Microbe Killer is not a drug. It does not cure the poisons of disease by counter-poisons of mineral or plant. It is an element and an energy of purification. It cures disease by direct physical disinfection from the living seed principle and germ of disease. It allays the microbic ferment and heals microbic inflammation, sickness and distress, by killing the microbe.

SECOND—Microbe Killer does not cure chronic illness by sudden and violent change, by any instantaneous process. Its first work is that of radical and absolute blood-cleansing, the clearing away of the cause of the illness. But to put out a fire does not restore the fallen walls or the burnt scaffolding and timber. To stop the losses of vitality and the decay of fibre and tissue that goes on under disease is one thing. That is the preliminary and preparatory work of the healing water. But to repair all those losses, to replace the diseased tissue with healthy and undiseased tissue, to give back to the lungs, the liver, the brain, the kidneys, the life principle and life particles they have been deprived of, and to reclothe the limbs with the flesh that has fallen from them under the ravages of the microbes, is another thing. That is the second function, the closing work of the remedy. And that is a process that requires time, because it is a process of growth. It is growth substituted for putrefaction and decay. And as the sun requires time to repair the injuries and the losses that the lightning or the parasite may have inflicted upon the beautiful tree, so Microbe Killer must continue to keep the body and the organs and the blood of man in a disinfected condition till nature has time to repair all the injuries and restore all the physical and vital losses undergone when the system or the organ was alive with Microbes. Therefore, do not begin Microbe Killer for any deep-seated, chronic ailment unless you have an intelligent appreciation of the priceless value of a final cure and the patience to abide the time and course it requires.
