Commandant at Ladysmith Tells the Story of the Loss of His Column More in Detail—They all Fought to the End of Their Ammunition.

A Broken Cable and the Censor Cause of Little News From the Scene of Action—Hot Criticism in the London Papers—Was Col. Carleton's Column Sacrificed—Some of the Missing Ones Returning to Ladysmith.

News of a more reassuring character was received from Gen. White, in command at Ladysmith, by the War Office yesterday. It now appears that the column captured by the Boers was composed of the Tenth Mountain Battery, four half companies of the Gloucesters and six companies of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, and not the full battalions, as reported. The captured column did not "capitulate," as at first reported, but fired their last round of ammunition before falling into the hands of the enemy. The reserve ammunition of the column was lost owing to a stampede of the mules. The official list of casualties in this column has not yet reached the War Office. General White added a note to his despatch that the security of Ladysmith had been in no way affected by the loss of the column.

The situation in London, after the receipt of this reassuring message, is said to have assumed a brighter aspect. The Boers are still shelling Ladysmith from the hills, but the British are full of confidence that they can hold their own.

Not counting the captured column, which Gen. White lost on Monday, the total British casualties since the outbreak figures thus: Officers—133; being 19 killed, 61 wounded and 93 captured. Men—783; being 137 killed, 492 wounded and 154 captured.

An unconfirmed report has reached London from Cape Town that Gen. Buller has gone to Ladysmith.

The best piece of news came this morning. A Pietermaritzburg despatch says: Stragglers from the Gloucestershire Regiment are arriving at Ladysmith. A number of mules with a portion of the Mountain Battery are also coming in.

SOME OF THEM RETURN.

Men of the Gloucesters and Part of the Mountain Battery Back at Ladysmith. London, Nov. 2.—A special despatch from Pietermaritzburg, dated Tuesday morning, says: "Stragglers from the Gloucestershire regiment are arriving at Ladysmith. A number of mules, with a portion of the Mountain Battery, are also coming in."

WHITE'S OFFICIAL STORY.

Stampeding of Mules Caused the Column to Lose Their Ammunition. London, Nov. 1.—The British War Office today made public a despatch received from General White, describing the operations of Monday. It was as follows: "Ladysmith, Oct. 31.—(7.50 p.m.)—I took out from Ladysmith a brigade of mounted troops, two brigade divisions of the Royal Artillery, the Natal Field Battery and two brigades of infantry to reconnoitre in force the enemy's main position to the north, and, if the opportunity should offer, to capture the hill behind Farquhar's farm, which had, on the previous day, been held in strength by the enemy.

"In connection with this advance a column, consisting of the Tenth Mountain Artillery, four half companies of the Gloucesters and six companies of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, the whole under Lieut-Col. Carleton and Major Adye, Deputy-Adjutant-General, was despatched at 11 p.m. on the 29th to march by night up Bell's Spruit and seize Nicholson's Nek, or some position near Nicholson's Nek, thus turning the enemy's right flank.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

London, Nov. 2.—The morning papers comment with the greatest satisfaction upon General White's suggestion regarding the sending of a second contingent to South Africa.

The infantry brigade and cavalry had been repulsed, the troops were slowly withdrawn to camp, pickets being left on observation.

"Late in the engagement the naval contingent, under Captain Lambton of H.M.S. Powerful, came into action and silenced, with their extremely accurate fire, the enemy's guns of position.

"The circumstances which attended the movement of Lieut-Col. Carleton's column are not yet fully known, but from reports received the column appears to have carried out the night march unimpeded until within two miles of Nicholson's Nek. At this point two boulders rolled from the hill and a few rifleshots stamped the infantry ammunition mules. The stampede spread to the battery mules, which broke loose from their leaders and got away with practically the whole of the gun equipment and the greater portion of the regimental small arms ammunition. The reserve was similarly lost.

"The infantry battalions, however, fixed bayonets and, accompanied by the personnel of the artillery, seized a hill on the left of the roads, two miles from the Nek, with but little opposition. They then remained un molested till dawn, the time being occupied in organizing the defence of the hill and constructing stone sangars and walls as cover from fire.

"At dawn a skirmishing attack on our position was commenced by the enemy, but made no way until 9.30 a.m., when strong reinforcements enabled them to rush to the attack with great energy. Their fire became very searching, and two companies of the Gloucesters, in an advance position, were ordered to fall back. The enemy then pressed to short range, the losses on our side becoming very numerous.

"At 2 p.m. our ammunition was practically exhausted, the position was captured and the survivors of the column fell into the enemy's hands. The enemy treated our wounded with humanity, General Carleton at once despatching a letter to the Boers offering to remove the wounded. A medical officer and parties to render first aid to the wounded were despatched from Ladysmith last night and the ambulance at dawn this morning. "The want of success of the column was due to the misfortune of the mules stampeding and the consequent loss of the guns and small arms ammunition and the reserve. "The official list of casualties and prisoners will be reported shortly. The latter are understood to have been sent by rail to Pretoria.

THE COLUMN WAS SACRIFICED.

The Morning Post comments severely upon the British contempt for the enemy, as shown by the belief that the large Boer force at Acton Homes could be held in check by Carleton's main column. It points out that, even if the British there had been supplied with ammunition, they could only have held out a few hours longer, inasmuch as they were in the most complete sense detached, and because nobody appears to have been sent to the relief of the column.

"The column was sacrificed," says The Morning Post, "because it was sent into action gaged and blindfolded. It had neither scout patrol. Twelve hundred men were thrown into the fray, which would not have been missed from another part of the field."

"No Effort to Rescue Them." The standard, which comments in similar terms upon the fact that Gen. White made no effort to extricate the column from the impossible situation into which he had thrust it," draws a sad picture of the mad hope for relief and then realizing with bitterness of heart that some one had blundered, that they had been forgotten by their general and his staff and that nothing was left but surrender and imprisonment at Pretoria, until the end of the war.

"The Daily Chronicle says: It is evident that somebody blundered, but who? Details are required before the blame can be apportioned."

"Were Cape 'Boys' Traitors?" The Times says: "The dangers of Sir George White's plans are patent even to civilians; but it is not impossible that the Cape 'boys' in charge of the mountain battery, who quite recently were suspected of disaffection, may have been tampered with by the Boers. Otherwise such a large and important stampede is a very extraordinary occurrence from such a slight cause."

"General White's whole movement so far as it can be understood from present information, is open to criticism, especially in the complete absence of communication with the main body."

NO GOOD WITHOUT MONEY.

Society Formed in Paris to Enlist Men to Fight on Behalf of the Boers. Paris, Nov. 1.—A society has been formed to render assistance to the Transvaal Government. Col. Montell is president and M. Francis is secretary. Henri Rochefort and Drumont, proprietors of the Libre Parole, are the honorary presidents. The organization is enrolling volunteers to fight for the Boers, and the promoters claim that more than 300 have volunteered. They have difficulty, however, in finding the necessary funds, and it is doubtful whether Dr. Leyds, the special representative of the Transvaal Government in Europe will be able to supply these. Under these conditions the whole movement, which is in the hands of the most violent section of the Nationalists and antisemites, will probably collapse.

IS IT ALL UNDERSTOOD?

That Britain, With the Consent of Portugal, Will Seize Delagoa Bay? London, Nov. 2.—The Portuguese Government, according to a despatch from Oporto to The Daily Mail, has decided to send no troops to Delagoa Bay before the end of December, unless the frontier of Portuguese East Africa should be threatened.

Britain May Seize Delagoa Bay. Berlin, Nov. 2.—The Vossische Zeitung declares that official information that Great Britain, with the consent of Portugal, is about to seize Delagoa Bay.

SEE THIS THING THROUGH.

Says Rosebery, Even if It Costs More Battalions and Still More Money. Edinburgh, Nov. 1.—Lord Rosebery, toasting "The Army and Navy" at a banquet given this evening by the Lord Provost of Edinburgh to the officers of the Gordon Highlanders and the Scots Greys, referred to the reverse in Natal, saying: "It is much to be regretted that a considerable campaign we must look out for such incidents. It is not in the nature of Britons to take much notice of them. We have had a good many of the same kind, and have generally got out right in the end. But, whatever happens, we must see this thing through, even if it should cost still more battalions and still more millions. "Some day there will be an inquiry

Young Anderson on Trial at Winnipeg. Assizes for Molsons Bank Robbery.

TRUE BILL BY THE GRAND JURY BEATEN WITH HEAVY INSTRUMENT.

Case for the Crown Opened—Prisoner's Aged Mother Was in the Court Room.

Winnipeg, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Interest in the case against John W. Anderson for the theft of $22,000 from the vaults of the Molsons Bank, Winnipeg, in October, 1898, was evidenced by quite a large crowd at the Court House this morning. The bench was occupied by Judge Bain. The members of the bar present were: Mr. H. M. Howell, Q.C., and W. E. Perrine for the Crown, and N. F. Hazel, Q.C., T. F. McCallie and Harold Turnbull for the accused. Attorney-General Cameron was also present but did not appear in court. "Not guilty" was the plea entered by Mr. Howell.

True Bill Presented. The grand jury filed in about 10.30 and presented a true bill against Anderson. Anderson was then brought in, looking much the same as when he was arrested at the Police Court. The strained look about his eyes was more noticeable than when he was first arrested. He wore a light overcoat, which he took off on coming into the dock. He was neatly dressed, and but for the exceptional noted looked calm and composed.

Plea of Not Guilty. In a few minutes after he came in the clerk read the indictment charging him with the theft of $22,000 from the Molsons Bank on or about Oct. 1, 1898. In a clear voice to the question, "What say you, guilty or not guilty?" Anderson replied: "Not guilty." His counsel said they were ready to proceed.

Aged Mother in Court. At this point Anderson's aged mother and two brothers, accompanied by Mrs. Capt. Crowe, came into the court room, and the accused surveyed them with a rapid glance of recognition from the dock.

Crown's Case Opened. The preliminaries over, and the jury having been made acquainted with the details of the indictment by the clerk, H. M. Howell, Q.C., opened the case for the Crown. He spoke of the rare nature of this case, because of the large amount involved, and the fact that it was such a safe depositary as a bank that was robbed. He pointed out that the jury would have to put up with considerable inconvenience, inasmuch as the witnesses were all in the institutions of their country, they must do this. He did not ask them to act in a revengeful spirit, or to convict the prisoner in any case. What the Government asked was simply justice for the evidence.

Mr. Phipps's Evidence. In the afternoon Mr. Phipps, ex-Manager of Molsons Bank here, gave evidence as to the safe combination, the keeping of the money in the vaults, etc., a few days before the robbery. Nothing new was revealed in Mr. Phipps's evidence.

Mr. Nelles, accountant of the bank, gave similar testimony to that of Mr. Phipps regarding the keeping of the money in the vaults, etc. Witness had known Anderson for two years, and he would have given him a good character. The accused was very intelligent.

The jury and judge visited the bank and examined the safe at the conclusion of this witness's evidence.

THREE DEAD, THREE MISSING.

Six-Storey Building Collapsed in Chicago Causing Loss of Life and $200,000 in Property.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Three men are known to have perished and three others are reported missing as the result of the collapse of a six-story building at 139 and 141 West Lake-street this evening. Considerable damage was done to adjoining property, and during the excitement it was reported that as many as forty lives had been lost. About $200,000 damage was done. The dead men are: J. S. Bates, proprietor of the New England Mills, 145 West Lake-street; Joseph B. Doctor and Henry Hilton.

Two of a Kind. Although the autumn foliage has given way to bare branches, yet summer persists in lingering in the lap of fall, with more than accustomed ardor. In like manner that autumnal production, the Dundee scarf, which Quinn is selling at fifty cents, is likely to linger in the affection of the people for many weeks to come.

CANADA'S ACTION STIMULATED BY BRITAIN

The Whole Nation Finds Its Consolation in This Token of Loyalty

AT QUEBEC LAST MONDAY

London Times Printed a Verbatim Report of the Send-off to the Contingent.

BLAKE APPLAUDED FOR COURAGE

In Disassociating Himself from the Irish Nationalists, Who Are To-Day So Disloyal.

London, Nov. 1.—The London Times prints a stirring leading article to-day on the military spectacle which was witnessed at Quebec on Monday, on the occasion of the embarking and sailing of the Canadian contingent for the Transvaal. The Times declares that the whole British nation will find in this a measure of consolation for the reverse at Ladysmith.

Applause for Mr. Blake. The Radical Tory press to-day warmly applauds Hon. Edward Blake. The change for the action he has taken in disassociating himself from the Irish Nationalists and Radicals who openly express their sympathy in favor of the Queen's enemies.

The Westminster Gazette to-night quotes a speech in which Hon. Mr. Blake eulogized the desperate valor and martial vigor of the Irish soldiers at the Cape. He said he had no feeling but disgust for the suggestion that one man amongst them could have been base enough to take any other course in the latter part of the campaign. The Gazette adds that what the speaker has said has been well said, and that they firmly believe that the mass of the gallant Irishmen do not lag behind the Englishmen in their pride for the gallantry of their countrymen in South Africa.

People's Feelings Stirred. The Times' verbatim report of Monday's send-off at Quebec has deepened the feelings of the people here. The Montreal Gazette devotes its chief editorial to the subject, and says: "Quebec has given a crushing answer to those who would accuse themselves of being disloyal to the good by asking, 'What have the colonies to do with South Africa?'"

Out of Waite's Victory. The St. James' Gazette says: "It is a good omen for the future of the Empire that the British victory has grown a united nation, which can now pay a tribute of such striking loyalty to the Empire."

WILL HOLD THE PHILIPPINES

Satisfaction in London Because of the Decision of the U. S. to That Effect.

London, Nov. 2.—The Morning Post, in an editorial commenting upon a despatch from its Washington correspondent, who says that the United States Advisory Committee has reported to President McKinley unanimously in favor of retaining the Philippines, observes: "We rejoice that the committee has taken such a practical view of the matter and trust that the country will endorse it both at the State and Presidential elections."

Why Ladysmith Was Named So. Ladysmith is called after the wife of Sir Harry Smith, formerly commanding general in South Africa. She was a Spanish girl, to whom the general gave protection when he was a subaltern in the Peninsula War, and who subsequently married him. Harri Smith is named after her husband.

Government Has Decided to Take Steps Which Will Be Detrimental to Commerce.

Pekin, Nov. 1.—The Government has decided to farm out the collection of the ikin (transit duty) of the Province Kwang-Lung (Eastern Province) for a year, to the lowest bidder. Foreigners regard the placing of the taxation of the ikin in private hands with considerable misgiving, and are calculated to impose still heavier burdens on foreign trade with the interior. If the experiment is successful, it will be extended to other provinces, to the great detriment of commerce generally.

Captain Gaskill was clinging to a piece of wreckage of his lost vessel, to which he had clung for 22 hours. When rescued by Capt. GERMANY IS WITH BRITAIN

Will Not Play into the Hands of France by Intervening in the Transvaal. Berlin, Nov. 1.—The Neueste Nachrichten, in the course of an article evidently inspired, says: "Germany has no intention of playing into the hands of France. She intends to pursue a course of absolute neutrality." Replying to the anti-Senatorial German note against the expected visit to England, the Neueste Nachrichten remarks: "Although Germany's policy, the interests of the Emperor must be dictated by Germany's interests, which do not include unnecessarily to arouse bad feeling in England. It would be a great mistake to prejudice German interests in South Africa by a one-sided attitude of the policy of the future reorganization of the political status there. Moreover, the great sea power and the great land power have every reason to co-operate in union and harmony."

NEVER DREAMED

That Coffee Caused the Trouble. "How to stop the use of coffee was a question." "The doctor told me I had a coffee liver." "I knew I was wrong, but I never dreamed that coffee was the cause of the trouble, I could not drink milk, and tea was as bad for me." "Hot water was nauseating. I therefore took to Postum Food Coffee, and it made me feel just the way I needed. I had had a coffee liver, and I was very nervous, but I never dreamed that coffee was the cause of the trouble, I could not drink milk, and tea was as bad for me. I had had a coffee liver, and I was very nervous, but I never dreamed that coffee was the cause of the trouble, I could not drink milk, and tea was as bad for me."

A VETERAN PASSES AWAY.

Sergt. Gloyas Died Late Last Night at His Residence, 119 Church Street.

After a brief illness, death ended the sufferings of Mr. George Gloyas at the family residence, 119 Church-street. He was taken ill about six weeks ago, and despite all rapidly grew worse. Up till a few hours before his death he was able to recognize the members of his family. Mr. Gloyas had been a respected citizen of Toronto since 1868. He was born in the town of Tiverton, Devonshire, England, and at an early age enlisted in the 2nd 17th Regiment. From a private he soon rose to be a sergeant of his company, and as such was stationed on the west coast of India and in different parts of Ireland. He did duty for several years in the West Indies and in the 47th, which was his regiment to replace the 47th, which was called home. In the Fenian Raid he saw service in Her Majesty's army. He received his discharge at Kingston in 1870. A few years later he married Miss Margaret Malone, his engagement being the cause of his retirement from the army. For twenty years he was an employe of the press house of the city water works and was also a member of Court Hope of Canada, A.O.F. In politics he was a Conservative. Besides a widow, he leaves five children. They are: Mrs. William Chadwick, Mrs. Hugh Lyon, Miss Mabel Gloyas, George and William Gloyas. He was the father of Miss Mabel Gloyas, Scotch national dancer, who died in Philadelphia while with Dan McCarthy's theatrical company, December, 1883. Mr. Gloyas had not heard of his father for over 20 years. The funeral will be arranged later.

THE OPTIMIST'S ERROR.

The war has many horrors that are published day by day. And make the tender-hearted feel distressed. The Boers are not so easy as the optimistic say. Imagined, and he's sorer than the rest. He fondly thought the Brits were could in a week or so. Put Kruger out of business with a tap. The troubles of the past few days have come to let him know. That Boers are game and not afraid to scrap.

The optimistic orator who said a week or so of fighting would soon tire out the Boer. And boldly told his nearest friends that on the rocks. Until the war in Africa was over. Has realized to some extent that he made a mistake. In figuring the situation out. Has long to give his himself just for his honor's sake. Or let his thirst imagine there's a drought.

The fellow who was betting that the British soldiers would scare off the Dutch defenders by a show as he should. And realize the things he didn't know. There's no doubt of the outcome of the British-Boer war. But optimist's minds were much misled. It's going to take a little time to knock the Boer out. When it's over he'll be very dead.

An Ireland in South Africa.

Let us beware of those statesmen who will settle a single question on terms which unsettle a hundred others in the process. Yet this is no burlesque of the bargain which the war party offers to the Boers and the business of our Anglo-rhetoric threaten very quickly to conclude. The settlement of the Outlanders' difficulties is universally desired. "The Outlanders' grievances, perhaps scarcely less serious than those of Englishmen in Rhodesia, have been everywhere recognized, and deplored. By common consent they were a proper subject for diplomatic negotiation. But to settle these grievances, which Mr. Chamberlain described as providing no cause belli, by provoking or prolonging a racial war, by making enemies of our colonists, and by treating South Africa as less important than the Cape, is the kind of statesmanship which presides over the decline rather than over the growth of empires. As Mr. Chamberlain has reminded us, the problem of South Africa is a problem of reconciling two races—races united by intermarriage, and the ties of a common history, and divided only by slumbering recollections of ancient feuds. The aggravation of that problem which has sometimes been acute until it becomes not much less than desperate is the price which we are asked to pay for the luxury of convincing the Boers that their soldiers are less numerous, their resources less ample and their civilization less perfect than our own. The most that can be done, apart from the city, can hope to gain is but in the balance when weighed against so great a disaster. Mr. Chamberlain's grave warning, that generation ago finds a terrible application in our policy to-day. The future of Ireland is no extraordinary mystery—it is such the product of causes clearly ascertainable as famine or cholera, and the step by step we are treading on the old course, and are creating exactly and literally a second Ireland in South Africa. In other and wiser moods Mr. Chamberlain himself has denounced the infatuation which would invite the blinders of those earlier experiments in the art of risking empires. "A war in South Africa would be one of the most serious wars that could possibly be waged. It would be in

UNCLE SAM'S WAR FORCES

Adjutant-General Corbin Shows a Total Army of Close on 100,000 Men.

REGULARS NUMBER 64,586 MEN, VOLUNTEERS MORE THAN HALF AS MANY—REFERENCE TO ANGLO-AMERICAN GOOD FEELING.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The annual report of the Adjutant-General of the army, Brigadier-General Corbin, to the Secretary of War was made public to-day. Gen. Corbin sums up the military forces now in the service as: Regular army, 64,586; volunteers, 34,574; total, 99,160. The regular establishment consists of ten regiments of cavalry, seven of artillery and 25 of infantry. The volunteer establishment consists of one regiment of cavalry, 24 of infantry and a Porto Rico battalion.

The distribution of these troops up to October last was as follows: In the United States, 34,222; Porto Rico, 2693; Cuba, 11,387; Philippines, 32,315; en route to the Philippines, 17,638; Alaska, 409; Hawaiian Islands, 409. Gen. Corbin adds the following to this summary: "It is expected that by December 1 next all the infantry regiments, United States volunteers shown above in the United States, will have sailed for the Philippine Islands. These, with the troops now there, will give a total strength of 2117 officers and 63,968 enlisted men."

The report dwells on the courtesies shown our troops by the British Government officials while stopping at Gibraltar and elsewhere, en route to the Philippines, and says this international courtesy will long live in the memories of both parties to the spontaneous exchange.

CANADIAN PACIFIC STAYS OUT.

Declined to Send a Representative to the Western Passenger Association Meeting.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—The committee of the Western Passenger Association which manages the immigrant traffic pool, met yesterday, with the idea of ending the competition of the Canadian Pacific. That road did not send a representative to the meeting, and consequently no action was taken. "We have been invited repeatedly to walk into the parlor, but I guess we'll stay where we are," said a representative of the Canadian Pacific this evening. "To be sure, we are not satisfied that the purpose of the Western Immigrant Bureau is in accord with the purpose of the inebriate commerce and anti-trust laws of the United States. In the second place, we are not willing to accept so small a share of profits of the pool as the western lines propose to give us."

KIND AMERICAN LADIES

Are Outfitting a Hospital Ship for the Care of the Sick and Wounded. London, Nov. 1.—The American Ladies' Hospital Ship Committee met at Walsingham House to-day, Lady Randolph Churchill presiding. Among those present was the Countess of Essex, Mesdames Ronalds, Van Duzer, Field, Arthur Paget, Frewen and others. The subscriptions to-day include Mrs. D. O. Mills, £200; Mrs. Henry White, £25; The Duchess of Marlborough, £100, and Countess Clarke de Selern and Mrs. Harriman, £50. The fund now amounts to between £7000 and £8000, while one American drug firm in London offers an entire medicinal outfit. Lady Churchill is busy corresponding with Miss Clara Barton and others of the American Red Cross Society. She proposes to devote any surplus to sending out a thoroughly equipped land ambulance corps, in addition to the ambulance ship.

London's Female Police. London, unknown to most of its inhabitants, has a police force the like of which does not exist in any other city on earth. In order to see it at work you must get up very early on Friday morning and visit Covent Garden Market. There you will see such a block of traffic and such a crowd of angry and unreasonable drivers that you will not be surprised at the metropolitan police giving up the duty of keeping order as an impossible job. They will find that things come right in the end, and on looking to find out how this is brought about, you will probably be shocked at discovering that Covent Garden has a police force all to itself. They dart in and out among the cars, order the drivers to stop, or back their horses, shake their fists and catch the horses' heads, and, if necessary, shy tarps or potatoes at the drivers. But they always succeed in having their own way. Only for these women, it is believed that it would be necessary to read the hot acts of the law in Covent Garden. As it is, the lady police make a comfortable living out of their profession, and give their daily tips, while the proprietors pay them a fair salary.—Stray Stories.

Mrs. Adams Dropped Dead. Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Edward Adams, wife of the steamboat inspector, dropped dead on a corner-street to-night. Heart failure was the cause. THE METROPOLITAN'S APPLICATION.

An important point to bear in mind in considering the application of the Metropolitan Railway for the privilege of making a connection with the C.P.R. is that the company's franchise to its right of way on Yonge-street, within the city limits, expires in less than six years. If the city consents to a connection being made by the C.P.R. and the Metropolitan, it may, by this act, relinquish its ownership of the franchise granted to the company in 1884. It is evidently a case where the city should proceed cautiously, and grant no rights except after the most careful consideration. Probably the most serious aspect of the case for the residents of Yonge-street is the possible conversion of Yonge-street into an ordinary railway. The Metropolitan claims to have all the rights

SWEEEPING THE BLOOD.

Would any house-keeper ever allow a brood of strange black ugly creatures of devilish aspect to accumulate and choke up by their foul presence the best living rooms in her house? No. Out they would go promptly with a broom and her strong arm behind it. A scrofulous taint in the human system is no less foul and fearful than a brood of devils accumulating in the blood springing up here, there and everywhere, causing a hundred mysterious and apparently incurable symptoms in all parts of the body. A terrible case of chronic scrofula is described by an Iowa lady, Mrs. James Murphy, of Fond du Lac, Wis., in a noteworthy letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of No. 66 1/2 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I will forever thank you for the Canada you gave me," she says. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured me of chronic scrofula twenty years' standing. I had doctored for the trouble until I was completely discouraged. I also had chronic diarrhoea for twelve years. I was in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Discovery." "I had last night a dream that I had sent you my name to publish."

A life-time of practical experience has qualified Dr. Pierce to deal with obstinate chronic diseases more successfully than probably any other physician of his time. Do not be discouraged however severe your case may be, but write to him. Your letter will be treated in strictest confidence, and he will send, in a plain sealed envelope, without charge, the best professional advice to be obtained in this country.

OUR PRESENT DUTY.

We have a Militia Department in Canada and a considerable sum is appropriated yearly for the training of our citizen-soldiers. It is evident that a change in the policy of the department is called for. While the volunteer system is all right as far as it goes it does not meet the exigencies of the times. Canada needs a Department of War rather than a Department of Militia. We must fall in line with other nations and place our soldiers, whatever it is, on a fighting basis. It is time that Canada maintained a standing army commensurate with its population and resources. While it was recently decided to send a Canadian contingent to South Africa it was necessary to organize the regiment and then equip it. It took ten days to get the men to Quebec. This is the best record we could make under the existing system. What is required is the equipment of so many battalions of regular soldiers, on a war footing. We ought to have a small standing army that would be available for active service on the shortest notice. All other countries, no matter how small, have regular standing armies. Canada has been relying too much on the good-will of the Mother Country. We must assume a greater degree of responsibility ourselves. It is not necessary to send a second contingent to South Africa, but that is no reason why steps should not be immediately taken to equip a regiment and have it ready for any emergency. While we think the situation is serious enough to warrant our raising another regiment and offering its services to the Mother Country, yet we do not think a crisis has arisen calling for the summoning of the Canadian Parliament. Such an act would be superfluous, and it might make us somewhat ridiculous in the eyes of other nations. Canada is not declaring war nor is she asking for a large credit. The funds required for raising the second contingent will be comparatively trifling, and even if we have to send another regiment to South Africa it will not be necessary to raise a loan or levy war taxes. There is no justification for calling Parliament, from a financial point of view. Nor does any good reason exist for the summoning of Parliament to debate the principle and the advisability of our sending troops to South Africa. This subject can be fully discussed at the next regular session of Parliament. To call an extra session would be giving the matter undue importance. The prosecution of the war in South Africa does not demand the summoning of the Canadian Parliament. There is no mistaking the unanimity of public opinion in Canada on the question of assisting Great Britain in its war with the Boers. It is not necessary to summon Parliament to ascertain the sentiment of the people. That sentiment is practically the same throughout the whole Dominion. Why, then, should Parliament be summoned? The broader question of the part that Canada shall play in future in the wars of the Empire is not urgent. It can safely be left over till the usual session. All that is required at the present moment is the equipment of another regiment to be held in readiness on an order from the War Office. The services of such a corps may or may not be required by the British authorities, but it should be organized, equipped and prepared to sail on the shortest notice.

AN INTERNATIONAL QUESTION.

The opening of the Chicago Drainage Canal is to take place next month, unless the plans of the engineers miscarry. As soon as it is opened the waters of Lake Michigan will find their way to the sea by two widely divergent routes, one by the natural outlet through the St. Lawrence and the other through an artificial channel connecting the lake by way of the Illinois River with the Mississippi and the waters of the Gulf. The canal is 22 feet in depth, and varies from 162 to 232 feet in width. It is 35 miles in length. Such a canal will require an immense volume of water to feed it, and its opening will undoubtedly cause an appreciable diminution of the waters of the great lake system. While it will not affect Lake Ontario, it is generally believed that the diversion of so large a volume of water will lower the level of Lakes Erie and Ontario, and thereby interfere with shipping. The matter is of no little importance to this country. We trust that the Government will look after the interests of Canada in the matter. Canada is jointly interested with the United States in the great lake system. We take it that the latter has no legal or international right to interfere with the system in any way that will work to the detriment of this country.

FUNERAL OF E. ROBINSON

Was Largely Attended—A Feeling of Service in His Volunteering for the Cause. The funeral yesterday afternoon of the late Thomas Edward Robinson, who was killed in an accident on Jarvis-street, was attended by a large number of friends and representatives from various associations. At his late residence, 50 Ann-street, an impressive service was conducted by Rev. E. S. Roe and Rev. J. T. Morris, intimate friends of the deceased. Rev. Mr. Roe feelingly referred to the action of Mr. Robinson in volunteering to go to the Transvaal, a member of the Hotel Grenadiers. He pointed out that if he had been accepted he would have probably laid down his life for his country in far-off South Africa, but Providence ruled otherwise. The action of Mr. Robinson showed that he was loyal to the flag and willing to die for it. The funeral procession consisted of several hundred carriages, containing members of the Hotel Grenadiers and Bartenders' Associations, Cumberland Lodge, No. 621, L.O.L., and other organizations. The drivers of the McLaughlin Soda Water Works attended in a body. The floral offerings occupied an entire carriage. There was a large plume from his brothers, a wreath from his Orange lodge, a wreath from the Grosvener House and St. Charles Hotel and a wreath from Mr. McLaughlin. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Korman, Steele, Johnson, Kirkland, Harvey and Foster, drivers of the McLaughlin wagons. The widow and the mother have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement. Capt. Bengough Buried. The remains of the late Captain Bengough were interred yesterday afternoon in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Rev. E. S. Roe, assisted by Rev. S. S. Craig, conducted the services at the family residence, 354 Church-street. The funeral was followed by a large contingent of the York Pioneers and Single Tax Associations. The chief mourners were the deceased's sons, George, Thomas and James Bengough. Among the flowers were an anchor of chrysanthemums and roses from Mr. Hugh Scott and a wreath with the word "Father," from the children.

Tucker Under Arrest.

Small sums of money at various times have been missed recently from the cash register of the Oxford Produce Co.'s store, West Queen-street. The police were notified, and last night Detective Peter Butler placed James Tucker of 204 Spadina-avenue under arrest. Tucker was employed in the store, and it is said he stole the money in the absence of his employers.

MISS SNIVELEY SNUBBED.

How the House Staff at the General Hospital Showed Their Esteem for Miss Watson.

As an expression of their regret and a token of their esteem, the house staff of the Toronto General Hospital presented a beautiful pearl pin, to Miss Watson, a message bouquet of roses, to Miss Watson, who has for a long time most efficiently filled the arduous and important position of head nurse of the "Pavilion." Miss Watson at first did not resign, but was dissuaded by the lady superintendent, Miss Slatery, by the lady superintendent, Dr. O'Reilly, without consulting her. This was considered unfair, and caused such indignation from all inside and outside the hospital, that a board meeting was called, at which Miss Watson was completely acquitted. She was urged to stay, but thought it was more becoming to leave. And she did.
