NO STATEMENT BY MICHAELIS ON WAR AIMS

He Contends Such Action Would Confuse Issue and Injure Interests. HOPES ARE ILLUSORY Entente Powers Are Breaking Under the Strain, He Tells Reichstag.

Amsterdam, Sept. 28.—Dr. Michaelis, the German imperial chancellor, in a speech to the main committee of the Reichstag, said that Pope Benedict's peace proposals were inspired by moral seriousness, pure justice and neutrality, which things were lacking in the reply made by President Wilson to the Pope.

Justifying Germany's refusal to state her aims, Dr. Michaelis said such action would only have a confusing effect and would injure German interests. The chancellor said the announced American military exertions were awaited by Germany with calm confidence. Were Germany to state her war aims, the chancellor asserted, it would prejudice the complex questions to be discussed at the time of peace negotiations.

ROWELL DEMANDS INCREASED EFFORT

LACK ORGANIZATION

With Less of Politics, Results Would Have Been Better.

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—N. W. Rowell, leader of the opposition in the Ontario Legislature, this afternoon before the Vancouver Canadian Club talked on the position of Canada in the war. His audience was one of the largest ever assembled by the club.

"We cannot carry on this struggle," said Mr. Rowell, "on the principle of limited liability. Germany will not permit us to do so. Canada has stacked her whole future on the issue and we have gone too far to withdraw from the fight now."

OUTSIDE LIMITATION OF OUR WAR METALS OUTPUT

The Mine Managers of Cobalt Ask Government Cancellation of Oil Flotation Patents.

Cobalt, Sept. 28.—At a largely attended meeting this evening of the Timiskaming Mine Managers' Association, representing all the Cobalt mine managers, the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Whereas the attitude of the Minerals Separation North American Corporation, which claim to control all the basic patents for the treatment of ores by oil flotation, has restricted the output of war metals and retarded the economic development of the mineral resources of this country by its unreasonably high royalties and by threatened lawsuits, it is hereby resolved that the Timiskaming Mine Managers' Association lend their sympathy and hearty co-operation to the Northern Miner of Cobalt in its struggle to have the patents and personnel of the Minerals Separation North American Corporation thoroughly investigated by the Government, with a view of having the patents annulled.

Cobalt, Sept. 28.—The World of yesterday, the 27th inst., there was a full account of the serious situation that has come to our mining country by reason of the efforts of a company connected more or less directly with the great German Metal Trust to interfere with the production of war metals in the mining country of northern Ontario. The exposure of this high-handed corporation appeared in The Northern Miner of this week, this high-handed corporation appeared in The Northern Miner of this week, this high-handed corporation appeared in The Northern Miner of this week.

SCAVENGERS TO GO ON STRIKE AT NOON TODAY

Flag Incident Finally Results in Walk-out of Men.

STATEMENT ISSUED

Employees of Street Commissioner's Department Announce Their Grievances.

At a meeting of between six and seven hundred employees of the street commissioner's department, held last night in Victoria Hall, it was finally decided to declare a strike, to become effective at noon today as a result of the board of control's action in connection with the Wilson flag incident. The meeting is stated to have been unanimous in reaching this decision. Every city newspaper came in for severe criticism for not having given the men's statements a fair showing. The Toronto World was not included in the charges thus laid. The resolution passed by the meeting was as follows: "To the citizens of Toronto: The following statement is issued by the members of the street cleaning department in justification of their action in refusing to grant us any longer under Commissioner Wilson. The board of control, and the city council having refused to grant us what we claim is our inalienable right, namely a fair and impartial measure of British justice, we are extremely sorry that we have found it necessary to take this step. First, because we know the necessary force of our action on that account, for we always found the citizens were ready to accord us kind and considerate treatment, and had we received only in partial measure the same treatment from Commissioner Wilson, we would not have been forced today to take the step that we have done."

ATTACKS ON GERMANS

Aviators of Haig Fire on Infantry and Transports.

London, Sept. 28.—A British official communication, on aerial operations says: "Aviation: On Thursday a heavy ground mist again hindered aerial work, but our aeroplanes continued to co-operate with the artillery. Many hostile positions were reconnoitred and photographed during the day. Bombs were dropped by our aeroplanes on the German positions at St. Denis Westem and Gontrode, on the following objectives, Gontrode aerodrome, with good results; on the enemy's railway stations at Rummelshausen, Fultimere, I. and II. and various hostile billets and an ammunition dump. "In the course of these raids the German troops and transports were successfully attacked by machine gunfire from our aeroplanes flying at a low altitude. In the air fighting several German machines were downed and three others were driven down out of control. One was shot down by our infantry fire. One of our machines is missing."

AWAIT BIG EVENTS

London, Saturday, Sept. 29.—A sensation has been caused by the official announcement that news from the British western front will be suspended today.

No reason for the withholding of the despatches of newspaper correspondents on the British front in France is known. The only occasion previously of interrupting the news of the correspondent was in October, 1915, when it was announced from London that thousands of words of news from Associated Press correspondents in Sofia and from the German line on the western battlefield were being withheld by the British censor. Two days later announcement was made of the entry of Bulgaria into the war on the side of the Teutons, and a day later still word came that Field Marshal John French had made considerable gains in the Loos sector, driving a wedge into the German lines from 500 to 1000 yards in depth.

SOUTHEASTERN COAST OF ENGLAND IS RAIDED

Several Hun Aeroplanes Attempt to Reach London But Fail—Bombs Were Dropped in Suffolk, Essex and Kent

London, Sept. 28.—Hostile airships attacked the southeast coast of England this evening. A few of them attempted to reach London, but failed. No report of damages or casualties has been received as yet. The official statement issued by Field Marshal French, in charge of the aerial defence of Great Britain, follows: "Hostile aeroplanes attacked the southeast coast of England this evening. The raiders were reported from various points along the coast in Suffolk, Essex and Kent. The majority of the raiders did not venture far inland. A few of them headed toward London, but failed to reach the metropolis. Bombs were dropped in Suffolk, Essex and Kent, but no reports regarding casualties or damage have been received as yet. "When the air raid warning was issued in London, everybody took to cover in the usual way. They waited two hours without hearing the sounds of a defensive gun or the bomb of a raider, and it became evident that the German airmen had been headed off from the London area. "Roar of Guns. "From the first telegrams received from the coast the features of the air raid seem to have been the intense volume of the defensive gunfire and the speediness of the repulse of the raiders. One despatch says there was a tremendous roar of guns along the Thames estuary. British aeroplanes also battered at work put up a regular curtain fire. British aeroplanes also went up after the raiders and there was considerable air fighting. Afterward the firing gradually died away and the noise of the enemy's engines grew less and less faint as the ships speeded to sea. "One despatch says several bombs were dropped in the rural areas southeast of Suffolk, a few miles inland, but as far as was known there was neither damage nor casualties."

Nation Wide Conspiracy Is Charged Against I.W.W.

Wholesale Arrests Made in Chicago After Indictments Are Returned Against 166 Leaders.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Formal return of a blanket indictment charging a nation-wide conspiracy to hamper the government during the war was made today in the United States district court here against 166 leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World. I.W.W., who were followed to the court by the jury duty marshals were taken to the local I.W.W. headquarters in automobiles, towed and driven by women, and quickly returned to the federal building bringing prisoners with them. "In the first hour thirty-five men were thus haled into the marshal's office, and later a total of six and three-quarters tons of bombs were dropped among the first to be taken into custody was William D. Haywood, secretary of the national organization of the I.W.W., who was questioned September 5, when the headquarters of the I.W.W. in various cities were raided by the government. "An explanatory note issued by the government attorneys who have directed the investigation of the seditious conspiracy, the crime of which the men named in the indictments are accused, said: "The prosecutions are under sections 8, 19 and 37 of the criminal code and under the espionage act. Only leaders in conspiracies or those personally traitorous in connection with the perpetration of crimes against the United States are included as defendants. "To permit the secure arrest of the indicted men no hint of their names was permitted to escape during the court proceedings, which consisted of a statement from the foreman of the grand jury that its labors had been completed, the handing of a bulky sheaf of indictments to the clerk of the court and a few brief words from Judge Evans thanking the jurors for their sacrifice of time and effort, and assuring them that they had done their duty as citizens, a duty which the court said was "quite as important as any obligation which rests upon a citizen."

HON. HONORE MERCIER DENIES ACCUSATION

Montreal, Sept. 28.—Hon. Honore Mercier, minister of colonization for the Province of Quebec, whose name was connected with the New York revelations concerning the German conspirator Von Tregel, as one at the head of an anti-British society, having power to sway Quebec province against the cause of Great Britain and her allies, issued the following denial from the provincial government office here today: "The mysterious affair with which my name has been mentioned is entirely new to me, and I need hardly affirm that I am absolutely ignorant of the persons concerned in it, as well as of their doings. Furthermore, I emphatically deny being a member of, or being connected with any such society, secret or otherwise."

Paris, Sept. 28.—The evening communication issued by the war office says: "There is nothing to report except that there has been rather considerable artillery activity on the right bank of the Meuse in the region of Beaumont. BRITAIN NEEDS MORE TONNAGE TO WAGE WAR

Shipping Losses Since February Equal Total Previous Sinkings.

U. S. MUST SPEED UP

America Must Do Extensive Construction to Support Armies in Europe.

London, Sept. 28.—British shipping losses since the beginning of the unrestricted submarine campaign last February now approximate the total losses before that period, according to a statement authorized by the controller of shipping today. The statement indicated it was reasonable to expect Germany to destroy by next spring 200 vessels more than could be built in the meantime.

The controller of shipping authorized the Associated Press to make the following statement of the shipping situation and the urgent need for the United States to undertake merchant shipbuilding programs on a broad scale: "It is of the utmost importance that the United States should realize that the shortage of shipping is the most vital fact in the present situation, and the building of merchant ships is of the utmost importance. "The question the United States must face is whether, on the basis of the shipbuilding preparations she is now making, it will be possible for her to send any substantial force to France next spring without such a drain on the world's shipping as will subtract just as much from the fighting strength of the other allies as her own forces will add. "However large and powerful the army which the United States is sending during the winter, it may be rendered absolutely useless as an addition to the fighting forces against Germany if there are no ships to transport it, except at the cost of stopping the flow of vital necessities to the present armies. "The loss of shipping since the beginning of the ruthless U-boat war is now roughly equal to the total losses prior to that time. By next spring Germany may be expected to destroy 200 vessels in excess of what are built in the meantime. "Big Spring Demand. "Next spring this demand will be largely exhausted, and the need of supplying Italy, France and Great Britain will be largely increased. At the same moment the United States will be making a large increase in vessels to transport its army and to maintain it. "What must be the program of the United States? It must be large enough to outbuild submarine destruction. Even if this means the building of six million tons a year, which is three times the best the British have done and five or six times what the United States has previously done, this is not impossible if the United States puts into it an effort comparable with the efforts the allies put into creating their armies. "To build six million tons of shipping would require about 3,500,000 tons of steel, or less than ten per cent of her output. It would take more than a half million men, the majority unskilled. "The task thus outlined is small compared with the effort put forth by the principal belligerents in other directions. Great Britain, for example, increased her army from a quarter of a million to over five million. "Before the war all the shipping in the world was only worth about the same capital as the two big English railway companies. It would be the most incongruous thing in the history of warfare if the war, in which such immensely greater strength has been exerted in other directions, should have the issue decided by failure to solve the problem of building six million tons of shipping a year in a country with such vast resources as the United States. "What is the present situation regarding U-boat losses? It is clear that the submarine war will fall in its main intention. It will not starve England and it will not interfere with the supply of munitions. But British shipping strength still is being constantly reduced, and we have not yet reached the point where building equals the losses. GETTING INTO LINE FOR FALL

A FEW Pointers on conditions relative to the future buying possibilities of Men's and Boys' Clothes may not be amiss at the present moment, but please do not take this as intended to "scare" or coerce you into buying now, just because we think it would be your wisest plan. Briefly, the situation is this, materials are surely advancing and most rapidly in what we will term the cheaper grades. The better cloths have not been so noticeably affected, inasmuch as they have quality to protect them from showing the advances as compared with the cheaper fabrics that have already borne the full price value that is attached to them, and cannot in reason stand any more with any possible chance of giving the purchaser satisfaction. Our Buyer has bought heavier this year than ever before of the better grade materials and already our customers are seeing the advantages secured in paying a little more for the better cloths. We could quite easily mark a lot of new arrivals higher, because, in many cases, we cannot replace them, but that's not our policy. We bought them for you and they are to be yours as well as any other advantages that we can secure for you from our immense purchasing department which never sleeps.

Our Men's Overcoats this year are more beautiful than ever, and will be priced from $15.00 to $60.00. Our Men's Suits will range from $18.00 to $45.00. Our Boys' Suits are marked from $6.50 to $20.00 and the better lines are even now in some lots almost cleared out. Our Overcoats for Boys are the best we have ever shown because we have gone into the better materials extensively and you will surely reap the benefit under present market conditions. Price range in this department will be from $6.50 to $22.00. If there is anything to be added to this little talk it would be only to say what we told you the other day and that is "Get it good" and "Get it early."

Our new Men's Furnishing Department has proven to be a boon to our customers and is daily gaining in popularity. It's handy and the service is good. See the new Gloves, Shirts, Neckwear, Mufflers, Caps and Sweater Coats.

You were Inquiring?

"Belinda."—Is it the small "trench" cap or the longer, knitted helmet which pulls down around the neck, with an opening for the face? The directions for making the latter—it was illustrated, by the way, on this page on Thursday morning—are as follows:

Knitted helmet (requiring 11 5/8 oz of wool):

Cast on each of 3 needles 40 stitches, knit 14 rounds of plain 2, puri 2 for 12 inches. Bind off 24 stitches loosely for opening, then knit in rib of plain 2, puri 2 on the remaining 96 stitches for 2 inches. Then cast on 24 stitches loosely where they were bound off. Knit 14 rounds again of plain 2, puri 2 for 4 inches.

To Shape the Crown of Head: First round—Decrease as follows: Knit two together and then knit 24 stitches. Repeat to the end of round.

Second round—Knit plain.

Repeat first and second rounds alternately, having 1 stitch less between each of the 5 decreasing points every other round until there are 25 stitches left, bind off and draw together firmly, fasten.

Smaller "Trench" cap (about a quarter of a pound of wool):

Cast on 96 stitches, 32 on each needle. Rib 2 and puri 2 for 25 rows. Knit 6 and puri 2 for 22 rows. Narrow second stitch on each end of needle until you have 4 stitches on each needle. Then thread the end of the wool with large darning needle and button-hole around the 8 left, leaving a small opening on top of cap.

For either cap you might use the double beehive yarn—in grey or heather mixture—at $2.50 a pound, or Canadian khaki at $2.35 a pound.

L. R. R. V.—Yes, indeed. You may have a choice of three vests—one in khaki flannel lined with chamamois, with sleeves, priced $5.75. Another in similar style, without sleeves, $3.75, and a third, all chamamois, with sleeves, at $3.50.

The latter is unlined, the edges being bound with tape. Nothing half so interesting as soldiers' comforts, these days, is there?

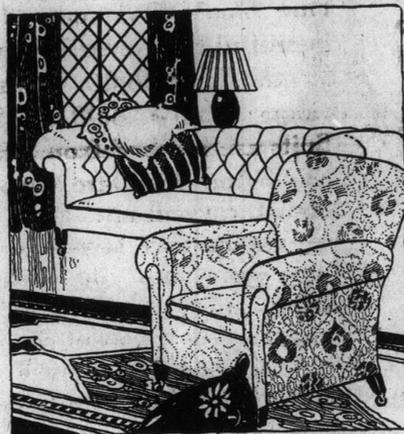

Jane.—So glad you like the glasses with the tortoise shell rims. One knew you would quickly get over the fancy of their being conspicuous. Like Mr. Pepsy and his new wig, you remember? When he wore it to church for the first time he thought that "all the church would have cast their eyes upon him." But it did not prove as strange as he had anticipated—to the secret disappointment of the dear, naive creature, I am sure.

For which service no charge is made.

The Oriental Rug--A Thing of Beauty and a Joy Forever

And For Monday is Announced a Special Selling of Kirmanshahs, Anatolians, Mahals, Muskabads, Shirvans and Mosuls—Carpets in Immense Variety of Colorings, at Prices Very Considerably Less Than the Market Prices To-day.

"MOONLIGHT THROUGH A STAINED GLASS WINDOW"—this is how Richard le Gallienne once described a Persian rug. Can't you picture the silvery beams drifting through the blue and amber of cathedral glass, and patterning the floor beneath? Verily the rug and the lovely shadow would be strangely similar in their witchery of color. An Oriental carpet is lovely enough to make poets rave.

And behold for your choosing on Monday an assemblage of Persian and Anatolian rugs in alluring designs and colorings. Moreover, their pricing, in view of the disturbed state of the rug market, is remarkable for its moderation. To mention a few groups in the offering:

Kirmanshah rugs in the characteristic combination of rose, green and ivory, and usual exquisite delicacy of pattern and silkiness of texture—ideal rugs for drawing-room use. Sizes and prices are:

10' 4" x 7' 7"	Special value.....	$200.00
9' x 6'	Special value.....	150.00

Anatolian rugs of soft, deep pile, in light and dark colorings, some adopting the large medallions of the Kermanshah designs, others showing the river-loop motif of the Sereband—suitable for drawing-rooms, living-rooms and bedrooms.

10' 1" x 7' 3"	Special value.....	$135.00
11' 10" x 10' 9"	Special value.....	225.00

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

THE Germans, thru military necessity, have conceded the British gains of ground in Belgium, and their counter-attacks have diminished to the proportion of patrol encounters. The improvement brought about in the British position is shown from the ability of the British artillery in the battle area to get the range and shell groups of the enemy's positions with telling effect. One strong body of German troops suffered quite severely in an attempt to approach Polygon Wood yesterday morning.

The British authorities yesterday cut off all communication between the press correspondents at the front and the outside world for 24 hours. This news suggests many possibilities, from a cutting of the cables to the beginning of a great combined military offensive. The government, if the cables are intact, certainly requires their use for the direction of large operations, perhaps, even a combined land and sea attack on Belgium. Therefore all the cable facilities possible. The use of wireless would be too much to the enemy. The foregoing, of course, is a guess, based on common expectations among the allied peoples.

The British shipping controller, in a statement, sets forth urgent need for more ships next spring as a result of the losses in the submarine campaign. Great Britain has already lost, since February, as much tonnage as she lost between that month and the beginning of the war. It is estimated that in excess of the new construction, the United States must greatly speed up its building program if it is to send over and maintain large armies in France.

The French report an uneventful day at the front after the night of many German attacks in the regions of the Aisne and the Champagne. The enemy's many small attacks betoken suspicion of a French offensive, but whether the new French Government is ready to embark on an energetic war policy is an enigma. France, at the present time, is actively engaged in the clearing up of the German spy system. Altogether at the beginning of the war many spies were arrested, the mass of naturalized aliens and suspected Frenchmen were allowed to continue their work unmolested. Recent discoveries of payment of German money have opened the eyes of the nation to the peril.

The Italian front has lapsed into its normal conditions, if continuous bombardments and incessant harassing of the enemy by raiders can be called normal. The Italians' airplane service, however, is maintaining a more ambitious policy of attack. Its latest exploit was another effective bombardment of Pola with three tons of high explosive shells. It is significant that, the allied monitors and floating batteries shell Pola at will, the Austrian high seas fleet shows no sign of coming out, although the Austrians appear to be far distant. The explanation seems to be that in their urgent needs of men and guns the Austrians have partly dismantled their fleet of crews and guns for employment with their land forces.

Apart from the capture of a hitherto unknown town in the Caucasus the Russian armies remain almost inactive. The war situation has again developed into a verbal discussion at the democratic conference. Kerensky has addressed the gathering and the extremists have cheered their "German friends." The enemy, it seems, had planned a great offensive against Russia. The enemy, it seems, had planned a great offensive against Russia. The enemy, it seems, had planned a great offensive against Russia.

The allies are continuing to prepare for an offensive against the Bulgarians, Austrians and Germans in Macedonia. The artillery keeps up a never-ending roar and the allied patrols still display great vigilance, alertness and dash. The Italians are road-making in Albania for the next offensive.

Somebody Collecting Waste Without Red Cross Authority Orange Lodge Supports Stand Of Street Cleaning Dept. Men

The Canadian Red Cross Society has sent out the following statement regarding the collection of waste: "We have been informed that some people are collecting waste without authority, under the name of the Red Cross Society. In a number of instances people have telephoned to us, but unfortunately we have not received the information in time to catch the parties who are doing this. Will you be so kind as to inform the public not to give any waste to anyone except the Red Cross waste motors, of which there are five, out all the time. If you could do this we would appreciate it very much."

More Than Four Hundred Prominent Masons Attend Annual Event.

CONQUEST NECESSARY

German Beast Must Be Broken, Says Rev. Dr. Eaton of New York.

The annual "Canadian Night" of Zetland Lodge, A.F. & A.M., No. 325, observed last night in the Temple Building, proved to be an event of unusual importance. A distinguished gathering of more than four hundred prominent Masons, and addresses were delivered by the Rev. Dr. Charles Aubrey Eaton, D.D., pastor of Madison Avenue Baptist Church, New York City.

Dr. Eaton, who introduced the toast, "Canada, Our Country," in his opening remarks referred to remarkable growth of the Dominion and city during the past generation. In walking thru the streets of Toronto, he had seen Canada's wounded men. At this sight he vowed that, in so far as he was able, he would never again be single until he had done something in his power to beat down that monster of iniquity who had laid his brutality upon money.

Ald. Gibbons said that some of the members got so far when a deficit was shown, and contended that the plan had not been considered by the council. He thought the abattoir had been of distinct use to the citizens, as it had prevented the British Empire, and which he believed in time would be called the Great British Commonwealth and Dominion.

Edwin H. Pooler Wounded Contradictory Cable Area Received by His Parents in This City. A cable received in the city yesterday from the Rev. Edwin Herbert Pooler of this city, has been severely wounded in the right arm and in both legs and has been in hospital since the main of the war. A later cable from a friend in England, states that Pte. Pooler has only been severely wounded in the right arm and in both legs and has been in hospital since the main of the war.

been held up by the press as an ideal example of an 'efficient commissioner.' The press has made the public believe that this is a case of persecution of Commissioner Wilson. It is a case of persecution, but not of the commissioner, but by the commissioner of the men under him. The press would make the citizens believe this act of persecution began on Tuesday last in the mayor's office. The commissioner has carried on his persecution for months. The press would make the public believe that the men are demanding that the commissioner resign his removal to another position; they are not asking the commissioner to ask for the commissioner's dismissal as the commissioner has been ordered the dismissal of a large number of the employed for offences far less trivial than the least of those perpetrated by the commissioner against the men of his department.

STRIKE SITUATION STILL UNCHANGED

Telegraphers Want Company Forced to Accept Conciliation Board's Award. There is considerable talk in local telegraph circles at the present time to the effect that if the government does not force the G. N. W. to accept the terms of the board of conciliation, a general strike of the Canadian Pacific Railway, broker and press operators will be called in sympathy and to force the hand of the government on this issue. Several of the strikers have stated to the effect that the matter has been considerable discussion, and that action along these lines would not be long delayed.

Remove the German Hand From Canadian Mining Industry.

The World is not yet thru with the German metal trust in Ontario. Yesterday we gave some facts about the flotation process, and the way in which the owners of that process are trying to hold up and curtail mineral production in this province. A gentleman who claimed to be pretty familiar with the subject suggested that The World article was unfair, but the only concrete criticism was that we had erred in stating that the Minerals Separation North America Corporation was the agent of Boer, Sondheimer & Co. He said it was the other way around, and that Boer, Sondheimer & Co. were the American agents for the Minerals Separation North American Corporation. The also claimed that the first patents of the company were taken out in England, and he doubted if it had secured any patents in Germany.

To this we say that whether the Minerals Separation North American Corporation be the agent or the principal, it is in pretty bad company when it consorts and associates with Boer, Sondheimer & Co. The United States Government has declared that Boer, Sondheimer & Co. is a branch of the Metallgesellschaft, the great German metal trust, with headquarters at Frankfurt-on-the-Main. This trust was founded by the late Wilhelm Merton, who from the outbreak of the war until his death was the Kaiser's most intimate adviser on economic subjects. He sent his sons to England to found a branch, and they became so powerful that they were the buying agents of the British Government at the outbreak of the war. Their company is still occupying that position, altho it has been Anglicized and reorganized to a considerable extent.

Boer, Sondheimer & Co. is the representative of the Metallgesellschaft on this continent; and if it is also the sole agent of the Minerals Separation North American Corporation, then we want to have nothing to do with the Minerals Separation North American Corporation in Canada. A corporation, like a man, is judged by the company it keeps, and the Minerals Separation North American Corporation should know by this time that Boer, Sondheimer & Co. occupy a prominent place on the British blacklist. A gentleman prominent in the mining business of Ontario, and one of the leading lawyers of Canada, said to The World yesterday that the men in control of the Minerals Separation North American Corporation were pro-German, and he believed they ought to be kicked out of this country.

Our contention is that the strangle-hold this company has on the mining industry of Canada should be broken by the Dominion Government. Cancel its patents and it can no longer curtail the mineral output of New Ontario. The less metal we produce and export to the allies the better pleased is the Kaiser, and it certainly looks to a man up a tree as the Minerals Separation North American Corporation was, wittingly or unwittingly, doing the Kaiser's work.

If some inventors, whether German, English or American, have produced a process of great value to the mining world, it is only fair that they should receive reasonable compensation for its use. But the Minerals Separation North American Corporation does not appear to be anxious to earn royalties, but rather to curtail production. If you are a mine operator and go to Boer, Sondheimer & Co. or the Minerals Separation North American Corporation and try to do business with them, what do you find? You will be asked to sign a contract of the most astounding character. They will not let you use their process on reasonable terms, but they will insist on installing their own machinery and operating it by their own men, and upon your signing a contract, which a prominent lawyer told The World yesterday that no man in this country with any sense or self-respect could or would sign.

Moreover, such extravagant royalties will be asked that you cannot use the process for low-grade stuff, altho the primary purpose of the process is to enable the mine owner to refine low-grade ore.

In the United States this company is involved in all sorts of litigation, and the judicial decisions so far announced turn, many of them, on immaterial points and leave the validity of the patents in doubt. But every time the company gets a judgment in its favor it is printed broadcast as canned news for the purpose of intimidating our Canadian miners who are using the process.

No litigation has yet been launched in Canada, but suits may be instituted at any time, and our mining companies will find themselves tied up by writs of injunction and managed by claims for almost fabulous damages. Yet if they do not use the process Canada cannot produce and export the war metals and the precious metals that ought to be produced and exported for the winning of the war. The dog-in-the-manger policy of Boer, Sondheimer & Co. and its allies is such that we are forced to the conclusion that pro-German influences are deliberately exerted to curtail the mineral production of the United States and Canada during the war.

The World does not want to see these pro-German influences successful, and therefore calls upon the Dominion Government to intervene. Cancel these patents that are being used to help Germany! Cancel these patents which are being used to strangle Canadian enterprise and inflict untold damage upon the rich mineral country of New Ontario!

Food Middlemen.

When one cannot argue with an opponent it is always possible to discredit him by misrepresentation. The Hamilton Herald, which recently tied itself up in the "laws of supply and demand," declares that The World desires to reduce the cost of living by "abolishing the shareholders." No explanation, no limitations. Just the bald, false statement. That is the way of modern politics.

The food controller, for whom The Herald evidently cherishes a tender regard, stated quite truly that the middlemen were largely responsible for high prices. It is plain enough that any unnecessary tax on food raises the price. Unnecessary middlemen bring this about; and it does not matter whether the unnecessary middleman is a packer or a drayman, a bookkeeper or a drummer, an assistant manager or a president, or any one of hundreds of holders of watered stock in a food corporation, a cold storage warehouse, or any other food organization; they are all middlemen alike in the food controller's sense and add to the cost of living.

The Herald is unwilling to face this fact, and so to take a crack at The World declares that we want to "abolish the shareholders." We have taken pains to discriminate between the middlemen in food corporations and other middlemen, because the food controller confuses the issue by declaring that we are all middlemen. It is only food middlemen that affect food prices, and it is only the elimination of the food middlemen that will affect food prices. We are not concerned with anything but food, nor is Hon. Mr. Hanna, in this connection. But the same principle applies to coal, which is certainly a necessary of life in Ontario. Most other things are more or less luxuries, and there is enough scope among the shareholders other than food and coal to enable the shareholders to flourish as long as they please. Mr. Hanna has only to do with food, and it is a large enough consumption.

If food is to be controlled, either as to consumption or as to price, it is not going to be accomplished by amiable pleas and moral suasion. Regulations will have to be made and enforced as they are in other countries. Mr. Hanna talks of famine. If famine comes we shall have to have the regulations. There should be no hesitation about forestalling such possibilities. As a ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and Mr. Hanna would be well advised to take these 16-to-one odds.

The Abattoir Sale.

While there may be differences of opinion over the policy of abandoning the attempt to conduct a public abattoir in Toronto, there will be general agreement as to the expediency of the course taken by the city council yesterday evening in adopting the recommendation of the city treasurer and the property commissioner, subject to a proper agreement.

The main point of the city's purpose in establishing the abattoir was to ensure the existence of proper slaughtering conditions for the smaller butchers. A great many of these have abandoned the practice of slaughtering on their own account, and buy their meat from the meat corporations. But the sale agreement provides that the slaughtering privileges will be preserved for all who wish to take advantage of them, at rates to be arranged by the city. The original intention of the city enterprise is thus maintained for the benefit of the public.

The Ottawa Journal of Thursday rejoices to think that public ownership has failed in Toronto in the abattoir undertaking. Nothing could be further from the truth. In the first place the abattoir does not come under the principle that has been laid down for those enterprises upon which the public credit could legitimately be enlisted. That principle is the existence of a monopoly or the possibility of a monopoly by the business concerned. The postoffice is the standard example of public ownership. The railways and telegraphs and telephones, as in Great Britain, naturally fall under the same head. Street railway traffic is another natural monopoly, and electric power and light service still another. Public ownership can be advantageously applied in all these activities.

It would be equally advantageous to apply the principle to the dead meat trade and provide for a national monopoly in abattoir accommodation, but it is obvious that huge difficulties face the municipality which attempts to carry on such an industry in the face of all the competition, local, provincial, inter-provincial and international, that exists in this branch of trade.

If the Dominion would take up the slaughter of cattle, and the establishment of abattoirs and dead meat centres at appropriate points in Canada, an ideal condition of public ownership in this trade could be attained. Toronto aimed at one thing and has attained that aim. The war, unfortunately, broke out just as the abattoir was ready for business. Will The Ottawa Journal proclaim the failure of private ownership because of the thousand and one private enterprises that have gone to the wall on account of the war?

So far from being a failure, the offer which the city has accepted indicates the willingness of a hard-headed business man to take over the abattoir as a going concern, to maintain the conditions the city set out to establish, and practically to recoup the city for its investment without a penny of loss. There is no failure of public ownership in this.

The expediency of the proposed arrangement is entirely dependent on conditions arising out of the war. The financing of the city's undertakings is a matter requiring extreme care and great skill. The extra liabilities imposed upon the city by military and quasi-military expenditures have been very heavy. The city has also undertaken to finance the harbor commission's affairs this winter, and with a new war loan approaching it can be understood that any relief or lightening of the financial burden of the city is welcome. The proposed arrangement adds $89,000 to the city's annual revenue.

The only alternative was to enter upon the dead meat trade as well as carrying on the abattoir, and this would have involved a very considerable further investment, which in view of the city's present commitments, and the complex war situation, could scarcely be prudently undertaken.

If the food controller had been inclined to handle the problems of the Canadian situation in the spirit of Lord Rutherford it would have been a splendid stroke of public ownership to take over the whole meat industry, including the abattoirs, the stock yards and the cold storage plants. Public-spirited and patriotic men of the calibre of Henry Ford, who, when asked by the United States Government for his terms for the use of one of his factories, wired, "Take it; no rent," would have hastened to facilitate the food controller's acquisition of all these linked industries. For-haps our professions of patriotism are greater, than our practice. At any rate the food controller has shown no disposition to scale such dizzy heights of national endeavor. Yet it is to be remembered that it is admitted officially that the nationalization of the cold storage plants lies at the root of any real success in the food control movement.

THE TORONTO WORLD

MAKING CANNED DEATH FROM DISHWATER.

BY TEDDY WICK.

When the army teaches cooking, they save even the dish-water to help the ministry of munitions make glycerine for high-explosive shells.

It is done three times a day at the new "Canadian School of Cookery," conducted by Major E. G. Ross, chief inspector of army catering of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, just opened at a big brick ex-dwelling house in Clapham road, South London.

Here, in course of instruction especially designed for company cooks, quartermasters, officers' mess cooks, quartermasters and quartermaster-sergeants, is born the army rationing system, by which the Canadians are bountifully fed at a cost of 28 cents per day per man.

Here, too, are trained the cooking inspectors who keep an eye peeled at the mess of every Canadian unit in the field, and here are trained the cooking instructors, who answer the complaints that arise from time to time as to cooking in individual companies in the field. When complaints get so numerous from a company mess that one of Major Ross' cooking instructors has to be sent out to put things right, they are pretty sure to be put right so that they will stay right.

Despite the fact that the cost per man per day is kept down to 28 cents, the diet that is furnished the Canadians is abundantly nutritious for men working at the hardest kind of physical labor. The Canadians know it is nutritious enough, because they eat it—and because Major Ross' staff have figured it all out in actual calories.

The diet sheets of the Canadians supply an average of 3100 calories per day, of which 2800 calories actually are consumed at the end of a day's work. It is here, at the Canadian School of Cookery, that these diet sheets are made out.

The day I visited the school, the diet sheets were as follows:

Breakfast—Rolled oats, rice and raisins, bread, butter and cocoa.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, onions, potatoes, and bread.

Supper—Pork and beans, plum turnovers, bread, butter and cocoa.

Each one of these dishes is worked out to its exact amount of caloric energy, and its dietetic value in comparison with its cost.

The rice is made of four ounces of mutton, with an ounce and a half of onion, salt, pepper, mixed herbs and dripping. The rolled oats ration is seven-eighths of an ounce per man. In the plum turnovers, the recipe is carried down to the fineness of one-thirtieth of an ounce of cream, one-thirtieth of an ounce of an ounce of carbonate of soda, and one-twenty-fourth of an ounce of salt per man.

And every day there's a new diet sheet. Fridays are the best days, and the Canadians are that are cooked up at the Canadian School of Cookery and at Canadian messes at the front.

They come over in big tubs, frozen solid, and have to be thawed out in cold water, and then they are cooked. But the freezing keeps the flavor of the fish, and they're as good when eaten as if they were of the morning's catch. "Hailbut is a great favorite."

The day I went there, the front garden learning was a scene of the first principles of cookery from an instructor, who was lecturing to them just as a professor in chemistry lectures in his laboratory. In the back garden, the butcher was lecturing on the way to cut up meat for sausage and riceles. In the cellar a third class was listening to a lecture on bread baking.

An Aldershot army oven in the front garden was waiting to receive the first batch of bread from this class. It was heated by steam pipes, which ran thru a clay-covered, bomb-proof tunnel, built in the form of a Dixie trench, by which one fire supplies enough heat to cook an enormous quantity of bread.

The soldiers who are pupils at the lectures listen to their lectures or engage in experimental cooking under the supervision of their instructors. In the morning before they start the day's culinary drills, each man's course he is taken down to the far-flung green he is to be made up of their plates, what his mess tins, to find his own fuel and water and cook his own meals.

So far as it is humanly possible, every atom of waste is made use of. Most of the fat which can be combined with the grosser fats are sent away to be made into soap. Everything is "left over" what is left over is sent to the English guide-wide now that the Defence of the Realm Act is over perfect houses. Daily on every Britisher—is eaten the next day, and nothing goes into the refuse can that has not been eaten. Nor is anything permitted to spoil.

Major Ross and his staff are really in the position of the management of a great hotel feeding thousands of guests a day, with the added fact that the guests are all soldiers who are spread over a vast territory, and not all his cooks can be kept under the chef's eye.

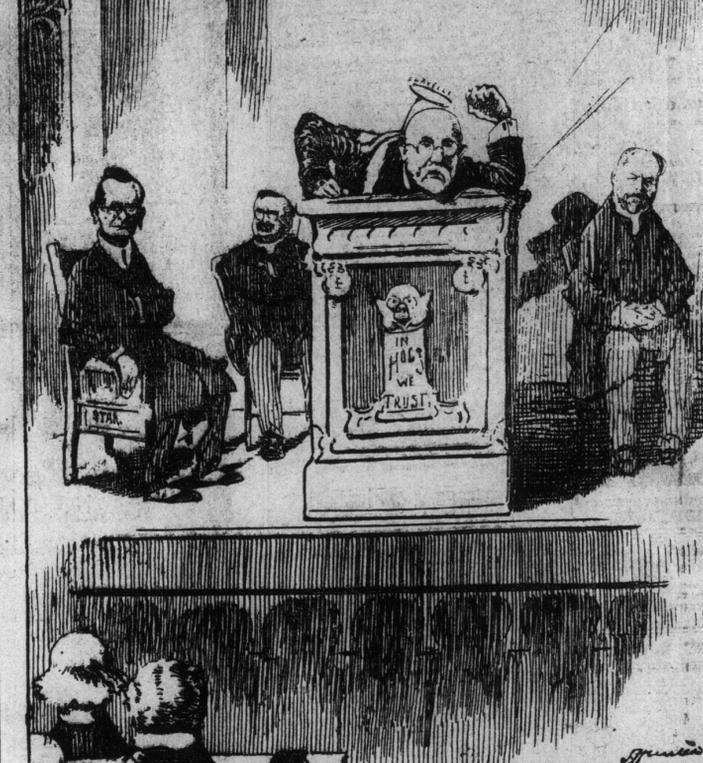

Except that he has nothing to do with the actual issuance of supplies, Major Ross' men handle every detail of the feeding of the entire Canadian force, laying down the diet sheets weekly, and explain to the sections to the sergeant cooks, and with the added hint that any deviation therefrom will entail "disciplinary action."

It is one of the most remarkable administrative details of a war that is crowded with remarkable administrative details.

Think there is a little jealousy of the school's pupils among the housewives of South London, for the day I was there the messes had gathered outside and were asking questions eagerly of one of the Canadians who was leaving. Running over a small family kitchen is quite a problem in these days of war price and food restrictions. And English women here of late have been priding themselves—very justly, too—on the ease and safety with which they have stepped into many jobs that men going to the war have left vacant behind them!

POLITICAL NEWS

A semi-official statement from Ottawa is to the effect that the election could be held in ten weeks. This election could be held in ten weeks, and it is figured out that seven weeks will be sufficient time between the issuing of the writs and the polling in Canada. Generally the government when dissolving parliament fixes the date of the election; but this year that precedent will be departed from.

To carry on the work of the election will require the appointment of many new officials. For example, there must be at once appointed an assistant clerk of the crown in chancery to look after the election process. He will have the ballot boxes prepared, and the United Kingdom into camps or districts for the purpose of the Dominion election. He will appoint a presiding official or returning officer for each camp and arrange for leave of absence for the officers thus designated.

In accordance with the terms of the Military Voters' Act, six scrutineers and some forty special returning officers will be appointed, half nominated in each district by Sir Robert Borden and half by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The scrutineers will be found in Canada and sent overseas. They will be their duty to take from the bags which will serve as ballot boxes, at military polling places, place them in ballot boxes for the constituencies to which they belong and thirty-one days after polling in Canada count them. As these officials will have to have knowledge of various localities to guide them in allocating the ballots to the right ridings, they will be taken from various parts of Canada and it has been suggested that they should be senior officials of post-offices. They will do their work in the office of the Canadian High Commissioner in London, and that of the Commissioner in Paris. To assist them charts of the 232 constituencies in Canada will be prepared and sent to the military voters in Canada and Bermuda will be counted under the supervision of the general returning officer in Ottawa.

In Canada there will have to be appointed a general returning officer whose duty it will be to add the votes cast in Canada (including Bermuda) with those cast by the soldiers in the United Kingdom and at the front, and announce the result.

RED TRIANGLE CLUB PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Nearly Fifteen Thousand Soldiers Provided with Beds Since Opening in April.

That 14,882 soldiers had been provided with beds since the opening of the Red Triangle Club on April 14 last, was the report presented by the Manager David Thompson to the management committee at its meeting yesterday. During the same period about 30,000 soldiers were provided with meals. Advantages of the game rooms and other social privileges has been taken by many thousands of soldiers, and the complete success of the Y.M.C.A.'s policy in opening this famous resort is considered by the management committee to be now permanently established.

The management committee are now making arrangements to make the club a more useful resort than ever for the soldiers who will be located in the city during the coming winter. Free concerts, illustrated lectures, pocket billiard tournaments, checkers and chess tournaments, and many other forms of entertainment will be features of the fall and winter programme.

"We have been able to a great many courtesies services to a great many soldiers," said Manager Thompson. Hundreds of soldiers have made the club their headquarters for receiving mail, and they have made use of the facilities provided for letter writing. A representative of the club meets returned soldiers on their arrival in the city and takes particular care of the men whose homes are outside of Toronto. Such men are taken at once to the Red Triangle Club and are cared for there until they leave for their homes. When going away, they are sent to the station in automobiles provided by business men interested in Y.M.C.A. work.

KING HOT WATER BOILERS AND IMPERIAL RADIATORS

By all the tests to which a Boiler can be subjected, the King Boiler makes a record of almost one hundred per cent. The scientific construction of the water channels; the arrangement of the fire chamber and flues; the quickness with which heat is taken up by the water, lessening the amount of fuel required; the air tight joints, preventing waste of fuel by unobventable drafts; the strength of the materials; the convenience of all parts; the ease of shaking and ash disposal; the dust-tight ash pan, and other points, all explained in our Booklet are reasons why you should insist on having a King Hot Water Boiler.

Imperial Radiators

The latest improvements in our Radiators have doubled their power of quick and sustained heating. For graceful lines and beauty of proportion, Imperial Radiators are unequalled.

Write for Free Illustrated Booklet containing all particulars. Our Engineering Department is at your service and will cheerfully furnish full information as to the best method of heating your house, store, factory, warehouse or building of any size or description.

HOME TOWN GREETINGS MAJOR W. A. BISHOP

Owen Sound Welcomes Return of Renowned Aviator With Rousing Ovation.

Owen Sound, Sept. 28.—Owen Sound has never before witnessed such a spectacular event as when, yesterday afternoon, an outburst of public appreciation marked the home-coming of Major William Avery Bishop, the gallant aviator who has brought undying fame to the Canadian air force, when he arrived here by the C. P. R. train, the railway having placed one of its official cars at the aviator's disposal.

Prolonged cheering greeted the incoming train. Every whistle in the business section of the town shrieked its welcome, while from thousands of motor car horns came an incessant salute.

Addresses were delivered by W. S. Middlebro, K.C., M.P. of North Grey; B. J. Ball, M.P. of South Grey; Hon. Dr. James and Warden Goodfellow. Ex-Mayor John McQuaker then read the civic address to the Canadian aviator, which was expressive of sincere appreciation of the signal honor which his bravery had brought to Owen Sound, to the Dominion, and to the empire.

Following the address, Judge C. T. Sutherland, on behalf of the citizens, presented Major Bishop with a diamond ring, engraved with a suitable inscription.

Major Bishop, who was evidently greatly moved by the ovation, ably replied to the addresses. He stated that many proud moments had come to him in the last few months, including the great honor of a trip to Buckingham Palace to meet the King, which was the greatest honor of his life.

Berno, Sept. 28.—Gustave Ador, member of the federal council elected last June to succeed Dr. Hoffmann, in replying today to a question during a meeting of the state council, said that the federal council highly approved the elevated sentiments expressed in Pope Benedict's note. He added that the note contained certain propositions that the federal council particularly favored, such as disarmament, obligatory arbitration, a union of the peoples and the supremacy of moral forces over material forces.

M. Montanari, member for Fribourg, demanded the strengthening and the better preparation of Swiss diplomacy to respond to the role played by Switzerland in international affairs.

Camp Borden, Sept. 28.—To avoid any misunderstanding as to the conditions under which members of the Canadian expeditionary force may visit the United States, definite instructions have been issued setting these forth at length. N.C.O.s and men may be granted permission to wear uniform, without arms, while on pass or furlough in the United States, in each case to the approval of the A. I wonder what's wrong with my Tea? My! This certainly IS good Tea

The woman on the left bought some "cheap" tea. You can see she's not pleased. She's sorry now she tried to save a few cents by buying the "cheap" tea.

How different with the woman on the right. The fragrance of her tea tells her how good it is. She paid a few cents more for Red Rose Tea than the other woman paid for her "cheap" tea—and besides Red Rose will prove more economical in the end!

Because of the rich flavor and vigorous strength of the Assam teas of which Red Rose chiefly consists, it will make 250 cups to the pound, or about a fifth of a cent a cup. So cheap that the very poorest can afford it, so good that the rich can find nothing better.

BIG PREPARATIONS FOR NEXT ELECTION

Fifteen Thousand Enumerators Will Operate in Subdivisions.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 28.—Fifteen thousand enumerators will have to be appointed before the next general election in Canada. In every polling sub-division throughout the country, a committee of enumerators will be appointed to check up on the voting lists, to add names of female relatives of soldiers entitled to the Military Voters Act, also a committee of enumerators will be appointed to check up on the names of disfranchised aliens. Under the present act, the votes cast in France and Belgium will be counted at the office of the Canadian commissioner in Paris; those cast in England will be counted at the office of the high commissioner in London. Military voters cast in Canada and Bermuda will be counted under the supervision of the general returning officer in Ottawa.

An assistant clerk of the crown in chancery will be appointed early next week. He will proceed overseas with instructions to divide the camps in England and Scotland into districts. A presiding officer for each will be appointed, both in France and Belgium. It is in this respect that the Military Voters Act passed last year is a departure from previous legislation giving votes to soldiers. Under the original scheme, a soldier voted in the home country, and the ballot-papers were returned to Canada. Under the present act, the votes cast in France and Belgium will be counted at the office of the high commissioner in Paris; those cast in England will be counted at the office of the high commissioner in London. Military voters cast in Canada and Bermuda will be counted under the supervision of the general returning officer in Ottawa.
