GASOLINE AND OIL

Automobile Club of Canada
Enlists Interest of Engineering Experts.

While much yet remains to be done in the work which the Automobile Club of Canada has undertaken regarding gasoline quality and prices, something has already been accomplished indirectly, for with the spread of the knowledge that the subject is being inquired into certain dealers suspected of sharp practices are showing a disposition to be more careful in the observance of business ethics.

One of the difficulties encountered by the club directorate in the effort to stabilize the gasoline situation by ensuring reasonable prices and good quality is the fact that Canada has no standard specification with which to compare the quality of gasoline as it is vended by retailers or dealers. Such a standard has only been in existence in the United States for about four years, having been adopted there as a war measure in connection with the government's heavy purchases of gasoline for airplanes and other war uses. Mr. H. H. Vaughan, vice-president of the club, suggested that the matter be taken up with the Canadian Engineering Standards Association, of which body Mr. Vaughan is acting chairman, and which was formed in 1919 with the object of carrying out in Canada, for the benefit of Canadian industry, work similar to that done in England by the British Engineering Standards Association, which has proved of such great industrial value. The Canadian Engineering Standards Association is not a government institution, although it is recognized by the Canadian government. The members of the association, who serve on its committee gratuitously, are qualified by their technical and industrial standing to represent the interests of manufacturers, engineers and users, and members of the main committee are nominated by such bodies as the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Canadian Mining Institute, the Engineering Institute of Canada, the engineering schools of the universities, the railway services, important industrial firms, and the great purchasing departments of the Canadian government. The secretary of the club thereupon communicated with the association, whose secretary, Mr. R. C. Durley, replied to the effect that the standardization of gasoline and oil had already been informally considered by the association, but that the task would not be an easy one. A request from an influential body like the Automobile Club of Canada would, however, greatly strengthen the hands of a committee of the association which is being formed to take the matter in hand and press for action by the dominion government. This committee will be composed of representatives of both producers and consumers, thus ensuring general acceptance for the committee's findings. The following companies and organizations are being asked to nominate representatives who will act on this special committee with the scientific experts of the association: Imperial Oil Company, Toronto; Canadian Oil Company, Montreal; British-American Oil Company, Toronto; Shell Company of Canada, Montreal; The Air Board, Ottawa; Ontario Motor League, Toronto.

$440,000 Monthly Pay Roll

Oshawa, February 22, 1922.

At this time when business is just emerging from its serious troubles, and employment is none too plentiful, it is gratifying to be able to inform our many friends that General Motors of Canada Limited, and its constituent Companies, are doing their full share toward hastening the return to prosperity.

Thanks to the hearty assistance given us by our unequalled Dealer organizations in the domestic markets, together with the success of our efforts in securing a large volume of Export business, our plants are now running to capacity, the number of our employees is larger than ever before, while our total pay-roll has reached the high-water mark of $440,000.00 a month.

When due consideration is given to the stimulating effect of this activity upon the business of our Canadian suppliers including tire manufacturers, tanners, metal workers, aluminum, malleable and brass foundries, fabric manufacturers, the lumber industry, etc., it will be acknowledged that it is no small contribution to the country's prosperity.

$40 in 1920. While that is an increase for that year, the number of such cases for the last ten years has fallen off to the most marked degree. In this respect New York is conspicuously in advance of all the other world capitals. Pickpockets increased 8 per cent. during the year, but there was a decrease 4 per cent. in the number of first offenders. Instead of there being thousands of active pickpockets as in former years, there are now only a few hundred. The detectives who make a specialty of watching pickpockets are commended in their report for their work in reducing activities.

TIME RIPE FOR TRUNK SEWER

Commissioner Jones Discusses Matter of Drainage of Shamrock Grounds Area—Newman Bridge Soon to Go.

Within a few weeks it is expected that the filling of the area under the Newman brook bridge will have been advanced sufficiently to permit the removal of the structure and the street graded up to the proposed level. The fill is being made over a concrete arch placed under the bridge following the deepening of the brook. The filling is being done by the public works department, under the orders of the water and sewerage department.

The work already done, said Commissioner Jones this morning, was the initial part of a comprehensive scheme for the sewerage disposal of the vast territory now draining into Newman brook. At the present time, he said, Lansdowne and Dufferin avenue sewers empty into this brook through septic tanks. These were permitted to be installed by the board of health as a temporary expedient until such time as developments would render this form of disposal undesirable. That time, he said, has now arrived—thirty-four families are now served by the Lansdowne and Dufferin avenue sewers. This is practically the full load the septic tanks will handle with safety.

The installation of this trunk sewer, he said, would also permit sewer to be laid in Metcalf street extension emptying into the upper end of Lansdowne avenue pipe, and thus remedy a condition that for years has been a serious problem in that neighborhood. Several houses on Eliza street which have no sewer connection at present, being too low to connect on that street, could likewise be connected with the Dufferin avenue sewer.

DISTRIBUTION OF HYDRO POWER

(Contributed by The Hardware Clerks' Association)

It would seem as if the recent distributors of light and power had at last become aware of the hard writing on the wall, and realize that in the opinion of many of the citizens they have been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

If the rumor is correct that they are willing to reduce the rate of the domestic consumer to 10 per k. w. h. less the usual 10 per cent. cash discount, then it would seem as if they have become alive to the danger of trying to enact their own will on the consumer.

It is a rather significant fact that they now appear to be willing to reduce rates after having stated that if they got the electricity for nothing it would make no appreciable difference to a light customer.

The present company practically acknowledges by the offer of reduced rates, that it is and therefore must have been possible to appreciably reduce the cost to the consumer, and it is also made very clear that no such reduction would have been suggested if it had been possible to avoid it.

In view of such an attitude by any company holding a monopoly it is a wonder that the citizens are determined to end forever a system that makes each thing possible.

Users of light and power do not wish to have to fight for every reduction when by municipal ownership this can be avoided.

It is estimated on figures given in the Kenist report that the loss of the recent distribution system is 32 per cent. This means that in nearly every payment for light and power made by a consumer a considerable amount is for current wasted by an inefficient system. Thus its inefficiency capitalised and made a charge on the consumer, and citizen generally are not willing for such a system to continue.

It would seem as if the only course open for the city is to build its own system, at a cost which would not be more than $750,000 and perhaps as low as $600,000. The money can be borrowed and a sinking fund provided for less rate than is allowed to the present company, and in a short time capital charges would be eliminated and a maintenance charge only necessary.

Rotarian H. J. Litcher Stark, of Orange, Texas, the third vice-president of international Rotary, will be the representative of the international organization at this district conference. The full arrangements for the speaking programme are not yet completed, but addresses on juvenile delinquency by His Honor Judge Wallace and subjects such as national unity, and inter-dependence of farm, finance and factory are among those spoken of. Then, of course, the presidents of the various local clubs will be present and all will contribute, in a material way, to an enjoyable programme.

Made for United Artists Corp. in which are Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, George Arliss and other notables.

He forgot that it was a play—that he was an actor playing a part—No longer was he Othello—nor was the woman before him Desdemona—She was his wife—Simonetta—and all the agony of heart that his jealousy had brought him during the days that had gone before welled up within him as she lay on the stage, helpless, at his mercy.

Suddenly the audience realized that the play had ended—that a real tragedy was about to be enacted before their very eyes.

You must see this remarkable photodrama. A story of today, close to the hearts of all of us, filmed in Venice on the glorious old Italian Canal.

SLEEP WALKER KILLED.
 Plunges Four Stories and Skull is Fractured.

While walking in his sleep, the police were told, Angelo Buccolo, 31 years old, of 24 Cherry street, fell from a fourth-story window of the home of James Du Luco at 103 Roosevelt street last night and received a fractured skull. He died before Dr. Rathfelder could arrive from Volunteer Hospital.

Buccolo was a guest at a holiday party given last night in the Du Luco home. Just before midnight Buccolo awoke to drowsy he could not keep his eyes open, other guests said, and he was out to bed in the Du Luco apartment.

A passer-by in the street saw a man fall from a window of the fourth floor and called a patrolman. Buccolo was found unconscious on the sidewalk and carried to a nearby drug store where he was pronounced dead.

Detectives Thomas Rowan and Michael Gmevan of the Oak street Station made an investigation. No arrest followed.

 Boston Agency Bans Bobbed Hair, Rouge and Short Skirts.

Boston, Feb. 25 — "Giddily attired" teachers, with hair and skirts cut short and with evidence of rouge and lipstick, are not wanted by school superintendents, according to representatives of the Eastern Teachers' Agency.

The school employment manager said: "We do not encourage the bobbed-hair applicant for a teacher's position, nor the one who uses make-up and dresses conspicuously when she tries to register with us. School superintendents will not employ them."

"Above all, women teachers must have the good sense to dress themselves in accordance with modesty and good taste. They must be an example in this as in everything else, to the girls and boys whom they are to teach and discipline."
