DEMSEY WINS BY A KNOCKOUT

RIGHT SWING TO GEORGES' CHIN IN FOURTH SENT THE FRENCHMAN TO THE FLOOR

Rout Had Been Started in Third Round by Dempsey's Terrible Blow on Back of Neck, Leaving Challenger Shattered Mentally and Physically He Says After Battle.

CARPENTIER BROKE HIS RIGHT THUMB AND SPRAINED WRIST

Champion Was Never in Danger at Any Time Although Georges Landed the First Blow, a Light Left—Dempsey Was the Aggressor in All the Fighting But Carpentier Was Game Fighter.

New York, July 3.—Jack Dempsey is still heavyweight pugilist champion of the world. A crushing right swing from his fist shattered the aspirations of Georges Carpentier in the fourth round of the so-called battle of the century here yesterday afternoon.

The pile-driver blow landed flush upon the jaw of the Frenchman, flooring Carpentier for the second time in a trifle more than a minute of fighting in the final and decisive round.

Although he had staggered to his feet after the initial knockdown, he was unable to survive the second knockdown and was motionless when Referee Harry Ertle tolled off the fatal ten count.

Although the knockout punch was driven to Carpentier's jaw, the way to Dempsey's victory had been paved by a continual bombardment of blows which landed on every section of the Frenchman's body. Each swing, jab and upper-cut scored to the stomach, ribs and sides, contributed to the slowing-up process of the speedy Carpentier.

Hit on the Neck
In addition, a clubbing right which landed flush on the back of Georges' neck in the third round, played an important part in his defeat. The Frenchman folded over in an attempt to protect his body left the back of his neck exposed and Dempsey, with the fair target in front, drove down a terrific slam to Carpentier's vertebrae. After the knockdown the Frenchman stated in his dressing room that this punch was the cause of his fall. He said that the punch struck his entire physical and mental make-up and he was thereafter unable to carry on any effective attack.

Carpentier Broke Thumb
It developed after Carpentier had returned to his training camp at Manhasset, N. Y., that during his aggressive and effective attack in the second round, the Frenchman had broken his right thumb and sprained his wrist. Carpentier was unable to explain how the injury had occurred, but it is thought that it came as a result of a hard swing which landed high on Dempsey's head.

The effect, if any, of this injury to the European challenger's most effective fighting fist, had on the ultimate outcome of the battle, it is impossible to state. Carpentier was almost entirely on the defensive in the third and fourth rounds, although he did not noticeably avoid using his right hand and arm in blocking or striking out when the opportunity arose.

Praise His Gameness
Regardless of just which blow caused the vanquishing of Carpentier, the Frenchman gave a remarkable exhibition of skill and gameness against a heavier, more punishing opponent. The favorite when he entered the ring, judging from the amount of cheering he received, left the arena with even a greater amount of applause ringing in his ears. A tribute to an exhibition which in every way verified and upheld a record which had preceded him regarding his boxing ability and danger-defying work during the war. Dempsey, as the winner, ran true to his fighting form.

Carpentier Hit First
Although Carpentier struck the first blow of the encounter, a flying left to the head, Dempsey never at any time backed up or showed a disinclination to avoid trading blows with his opponent. The champion bored in at every opportunity and devoted as much of his attention as was possible to close fighting. Rights and lefts were steadily driven home to Carpentier's body, alternated at times by drives, jabs, hooks and cuffs to the Frenchman's face, jaw and head.

For the first round Carpentier did not appear to feel the effects of this punishment. He fought in and out at close quarters, using chiefly a right swing or drive to Dempsey's face and jaw with an occasional shift of the left to the body.

Could Not Save Face
Most of the body blows Dempsey blocked or partly checked with elbows and forearms, but he was not able to protect his face as well. Time and again Georges shot over his right to Dempsey's face, and in the second round when he turned loose the heaviest batteries of his blows it appeared as though the champion might be forced to assume a defensive attitude. The pause in Dempsey's attack, however, was due more to surprise and fluster at the savageness of his opponent's rally.

After a few seconds of indecision, he gathered himself together again and although the round was undoubtedly Carpentier's on aggressiveness and clean blows landed, there was not the slightest evidence that Dempsey was ever in danger at any time. Although Georges landed the first blow, a light left, Dempsey was the aggressor in all the fighting but Carpentier was a game fighter.

Over in Thirteen Minutes
Thirteen minutes later the great international match, heralded throughout the world as over and Carpentier was being half-carried, half-dragged to his corner by the police and his seconds. Helpless and groggy and with blood-smeared face, he did not resemble in the slightest particular the confident challenger of a few minutes before.

Across the ring Jack Dempsey sat in his corner with not a mark on his body. Francois Descamps was ministering to his crushed idol as he sobbed and chattered in French.

Victor Congratulates Fallen
When finally Carpentier could arise he staggered to the centre of the ring and the police and ring officials seeing his condition supported him, while Dempsey sprang from his stool and running to meet his defeated opponent, grasped his hand and congratulated him on his gameness and boxing ability.

A moment later the principals had left the ring and the fight of the century had become ring history. In the short period of the contest it was shown conclusively that Carpentier in no way compared to Dempsey as a fighting machine.

GIVEN LONG SENTENCES
London, July 3.—For various outrages at Tyneside two men have been sentenced at the Newcastle assizes, one to seven years, and the other to five years' penal servitude.

THE CHAMPION AND THE CHALLENGER

These pictures of Jack Dempsey, the champion, and Georges Carpentier, the French challenger, indicate the difference in size between the Jersey City pugilists. Jack weighed in at 188 pounds, while the Frenchman was 16 pounds less. As a result the enormous crowd that gathered saw Carpentier beaten to the count in four rounds; in fact, he was saved from defeat in the third only by the bell.

CARPENTIER IS READY TO FIGHT ANY BUT JACK

"I Showed 'Em I Was Game" Cheerful Word from the French Idol.

DEMSEY GREATEST HEAVYWEIGHT EVER

Such is the View of Georges' Manager After Lessons of the Battle.

Manhasset, N. Y., July 3.—Georges Carpentier will not retire from the ring as a result of his defeat by Dempsey. He will fight any man in the world excepting the champion, whom he admits is his superior. This statement was made today by Francois Descamps, the Frenchman's manager.

"I'll admit too," added Descamps, "that Jack Dempsey is the greatest heavyweight ever lived. But I'll claim that my Georges comes next. Dempsey was too heavy and too powerful for Georges. We will not seek a return match. What we want now is a challenge for the world's light heavyweight title, which Georges holds by virtue of his victory over Levinisky."

"Glorious in Defeat."
The broken bone in Georges' hand was set today and he said it felt much better, although it was still swollen and inflamed. The only other mark of any consequence is a cut under his left eye, about two inches in length. The physicians said it would be healed in several days.

"I felt glorious even in defeat," he smiled, "to think that I did what I wanted to do—show 'em that I was game."

"We would like to get a match with Bill Brennan or Tom Gibbons," Descamps said. "The doctor says that Georges' hand will be alright with careful nursing. We may remain here in Manhasset for a while. Georges will keep in shape and be ready for any challenge."

What Carpentier Says.
Carpentier, through his comrades, told the story of the fight this afternoon while resting on the front porch. He had been instructed by Wilson and Descamps to be wary and let Dempsey force the battle, but just before the opening bell, he said to them: "The American people have been told that I was a game and courageous fighter. I must fight. Watch me."

When he came to his corner after the first round he told them that every one of Dempsey's blows had hurt.

"Then keep away from him, every," they said they told him.

"Never, I must fight with every ounce of power within me," he replied as he rushed to the center of the ring.

Saw End Coming.
During the second round Carpentier

HERE'S A PLACE WITHOUT FIGHT NEWS

New York, July 3.—There is one place in the world where the news of Dempsey's victory had not yet reached today. It was Colombo, Ceylon. The Times of Colombo today called New York asking that the result of the fight be transmitted to it at urgent rates.

GASOLINE TANK IS EXPLODED

Smyrna Panic Stricken When Report Circulates That King Constantine is Attacked.

Smyrna, July 3.—Panic reigned in Smyrna on Friday when the city was shaken by the explosion of a large gasoline storage depot, and an ammunition dump. The cause of the explosion was in the outskirts of the city and people ran from their homes and fled through the streets.

There were rumors an attack had been made on King Constantine of Greece, who is staying at a villa in the suburbs, and fears that the Turkish Nationalists had launched an attack on the Greek forces outside the city helped to increase the terror of the population.

He hit Dempsey with three right hooks and three right uppercuts and that all his power was behind them. "When he didn't go down under those blows, I knew I could not defeat him," the Frenchman said. "I was then a matter of going on and fighting, trusting to luck to escape his hardest punches."

An official report of the affray states that the civilians thereupon murdered the two prisoners. The military forces encircled miles of the country and fought the ambushers, a number of whom were seen to fall in the bog, and it is believed many of them were killed. The soldiers finally abandoned the pursuit.

Ambuscades Numerous
Dublin, July 3.—Ambushes today at Mork, County Tipperary and Tallow, County Waterford, an unsuccessful attempt to blow up a troop train at Calbridge, County Kildare, and other incidents on the eve of the conference of the representatives of Northern Ireland here Monday indicate no arrangements for a truce.

The Southern Unionists will urge and insist at the conference on Maintenance of the British connection. Men here in close touch with the situation say Mr. Lloyd George has decided on the granting of fiscal autonomy to Ireland.

Way Out of Trouble
These men suggest that the Northern Unionists objecting to entrusting such autonomy to the central Irish council might be obviated by giving the Ulster parliament the right of veto on taxation affecting its area.

An official message states that a sergeant and a constable were killed and four constables wounded, two of them seriously, when they were ambushed at Oola, County Limerick, yesterday.

"FAKE" PAPER GAVE CARPENTIER VICTORY

Geneva, July 3.—A "pirate" newspaper which appeared for the first time last night under the title "Les Nouvelles Sportives," published a long and vivid account of how Carpentier defeated Dempsey by a knockout blow within thirty seconds after the fighters entered the ring. The newspaper was eagerly purchased by rejoicing crowds in the cafes and hotels. When reliable newspapers appeared an hour later announcing Dempsey's victory the majority refused to believe the news. Geneva only learned the news definitely and the true facts this morning.

MANY CHARGES AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Declares Autocratic Political Power is Responsible for Its Continuation.

MANY POLICEMEN SLAIN BY IRISH

Two Were Captured by Sinn Feiners and Murdered When Officers Followed.

Dublin, July 3.—Many men are believed to have been killed in fighting following the ambush of a police patrol by civilians on the Ballyna-Sligo highway near Drogheda Friday. Seven constables were ambushed twice in quick succession by civilian parties operating close together. One of the constables was wounded and two captured. The remaining constables secured military reinforcements, who pursued the ambushers towards the mountains.

In not doing so, Mr. King maintained, he found evidence of the nature and characteristics of the new prime minister. His first official act had been to show indifference to the fundamental rights of the people and to usurp power and it was therefore no wonder that his acts thereafter should show this indifference to the rights of the people.

Mr. King also complained that the government had refused to give facts as to expenditure on railways. Last year the railway deficit was $47,000,000, this year it was about $75,000,000, and next year it would likely be $100,000,000. Further the government had promised revision of the tariff in the speech from the throne this year, but nothing had been done, nor had anything been done towards reducing taxation or lowering duties on necessities and the instruments of production.

There is today, said Mr. King, a combination of a few men with autocratic political power and some men who are industrial plutocrats.

His Conclusions.
He summed up his conclusion in four points: first, that authority was usurped; second, that the representatives of the people are being misformed; third, representation of different constituencies is being refused; fourth, objection to the closure.

Discussing Mr. Meighen's position at the Imperial Conference, he said that no one had given the premier authority to lay down any opinion in respect to Canada's participation or non-participation in foreign affairs of the empire. "He has stolen the authority he is exercising and has no right in the name of Canada to lay down any rule or any policy with respect to international and imperial affairs."

SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE AT PERRY TRIAL

Witness Swears Mrs. Perry Asked Him to Put Dynamite Caps to Injure Husband.

THIS TOOK PLACE EIGHT YEARS AGO

Widow Wanted Him to Disarrange Cellar Steps at That Time.

Yarmouth, N. S., July 3.—Repetition by Nathaniel Adams of his statement that some eight years ago, Mrs. Perry had given him wax impressions of keys which would enable him to gain entrance to the cellar of the Perry house, and requested him to disarrange the cellar steps and place dynamite in the cream separator for the purpose of injuring her husband, furnished the most sensational evidence adduced during the fifth day of the trial here of Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Perry, for the murder of her husband, Captain George Henry Perry, found in a dying condition a few feet from the back door of his home on the night of February 26 last.

Under cross-examination on Saturday afternoon by R. W. E. Landry, counsel for Mrs. Perry, Adams said that his wife had professed him to be the author of the wax impressions of keys which were found on the night of the murder.

He did not know where she got them. His house was destroyed by fire on January 26 last, and very little bedding or furniture had been saved.

"Was it not peculiar that with so little bedding and furniture saved that these wax impressions were rescued out of the fire?" queried counsel.

"I do not know," witness replied.

Signatures Similar.
Frank Shute, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Yarmouth giving testimony as a hard-writing expert, compared wax impressions of keys which the wax impressions were wrapped with Mrs. Perry's signature and that in his opinion the writing on one of them was the same as the signatures exhibited, that on the other had probably been done by the same hand.

Chief Detective Horace Kennedy, of Halifax told the court that he had procured the wax impressions from Nathaniel Adams. He had shown them to Mrs. Perry who at first denied that the writing was hers, but later said she did not remember.

Police Officer Gaudet, who was on duty at the Perry home following the fire, was another witness. Harold Milner (colored) accounted for his whereabouts on the night of the tragedy, and Captain Watson R. Butler, demonstrated the working of a cream separator for the court.

When Should Grain Crop Be Cut?

To the uninitiated this is perhaps the most perplexing problem of the farm. Advice that is sometimes given is to cut your grain crop at the same time as your neighbors cut theirs; good advice if your neighbors are experienced farmers or grain growers. The advice, therefore, contained in this short article is to the inexperienced grower of grain. No hard and fast rule can be laid down for all grains or all districts; many factors enter to make this a vexing question. Climatic and soil conditions, weather before harvest, the probable weather after harvest, expectation of winds, rains, and rust must all be taken into consideration. Opinions differ considerably as to whether it is advisable to cut a crop early to avoid a rust epidemic. It does not seem advisable, therefore, to discuss this aspect of the problem here.

Boston Train Nearing Montreal Hits Automobile, Killing Two Girls and One Man

Montreal, July 3.—Two young women and one man were killed and one man was injured this evening when an automobile was struck by the Canadian Pacific Railway Boston train on a crossing near Dolan Jet. The Boston train, No. 211, must have been in full sight of the occupants of the car for it is said the crossing is an open one, there being no curve and nothing to hide it at that point. Going at the rate of thirty miles an hour the train completely demolished the automobile.

Public Landing, N. B., July 3.—The residence of Charles Parker of this place was burned to the ground early this morning. The furniture downstairs was saved, but all on the upper floor was lost. It is understood that the insurance is not nearly the amount of the loss, which is about $4,000.

Hartland, N. King, for the consideration of a new schedule of teachers' salaries and the forming of a trustees' association. The meeting was to be in Town Hall at 2 o'clock, sharp, before that time this room was overflowing and adjournment had to be made to the Star Theatre, which soon became packed to the doors with delegates from every parish in Carleton County.

Mr. W. D. Keith was elected chairman and J. S. King secretary of the meeting. The former briefly stated why it had been thought advisable to call the meeting and the latter read all that had taken place regarding special district meetings, the sending of circulars to 125 school districts, correspondence with some 40 or 50 of the largest districts outside of Carleton County, urging the forming of trustees' associations in every county also a letter from the Chief Superintendent of Education, expressing sympathy with the movement. A new schedule of teachers' salaries in January 1st of this year, and in favor of a trustees' association every county, particularly that a special meeting should be called.

Think Government Should Pay More.
The general tone of the very interesting discussion of the salary question was that the trustees were not trying to cheat teachers, but give them what they deserved. The schedule of salaries last year was going far enough at present, and that any new addition to their salaries should come by way of Government grants, in the security of which the trustees' association might throw very considerable weight.

Mr. Gordon Sharp made a very pleasing address and his motion to organize a trustees' association including secretaries, for Carleton County, passed unanimously, as a motion to the effect that this meeting is decidedly not in favor of a new schedule of teachers' salaries that trustee boards go ahead and let teachers regardless of the same.

Ask Chief Superintendent.
The opinion of the meeting was voiced as to whether the Chief Superintendent should be urged to call a provincial convention on July 1st, and immediately after annual meetings of the 11th. Discussion brot out the fact that very few had heard of or seen the Chief's circular regarding a provincial gathering. A motion passed calling on Chief Superintendent to arrange meeting in Fredericton as soon as possible after the annual meeting.

Several other matters of importance to teachers, ratepayers and district were discussed, such as the difficulty of getting the schools started, keeping up schools at all, the $100 per $100 being as high as $4 to $5 some cases.

Officers Chosen.
Officers elected were: President, W. D. Keith; vice-president, Gordon Sharp; secretary and treasurer, Sterling King; auditor, C. E. R. out; additional members of the executive, one trustee or secretary to each parish.

Chief Superintendent Carter Sends Expression of Sympathy With Movement.

St. John, N. B., July 2.—Hartland had one of the surprises of its life to-day when about 250 delegates crowded in to attend the school trustees' convention called by the Hartland board through its secretary, J. S. King, for the consideration of the new schedule of teachers' salaries and the forming of a trustees' association.

The meeting was to be in the Town Hall at 2 o'clock, sharp, but before that time the room was overflowing and adjournment had to be made to the Star Theatre, which also soon became packed to the doors with delegates from every parish in Carleton County.

Mr. W. E. Keith was elected chairman and J. S. King secretary of the meeting. The former briefly stated why it had been thought advisable to call the meeting and the latter related all that had taken place regarding special district meetings, the sending of circulars to 135 school districts and correspondence with some 40 or more of the largest districts outside of Carleton County, urging the forming of trustees' associations in every county, also a letter from the Chief Superintendent of Education, expressing sympathy with the movement—showing in nearly every case a feeling province wide, that the teachers' association was very ill advised to put forth a new schedule so soon after that of January 1st of this year, and in favor of a trustees' association in every county, particularly that a provincial meeting should be called at once.

Think Government Should Pay

The general tone of the free tree discussion of the salary question was to combat, teachers, but give them to understand that the schedule of January 1st was going far enough at present, and that their salaries should come by way of Government grants, in the securing of which the trustees' association might throw very considerable strength.

Mr. Gordon Sharp made a very pleasing address and his motion that we organize a trustees' association, including secretaries for Carleton County, passed unanimously, as also a motion to the effect that this meeting is decidedly not in favor of the new schedule of teachers' salaries, but that trustee boards go ahead and hire teachers regardless of the same.

Ask Chief Superintendent To Act

The opinion of the meeting was that the trustees were not trying to understand should be urged to call a provincial convention about July 6th or immediately after the annual meetings of the 11th. Discussion brought out the fact that very few had heard of or seen the Chief's circular in regard to a provincial gathering. Finally a motion passed calling on the Chief Superintendent to arrange a meeting in Fredericton as soon as possible after the annual meetings.

Several other matters of importance to teachers, ratepayers and districts were discussed, such as the difficulty of the smaller and poorer districts in keeping up schools at all, the rate per $100 being as high as $4 to $7 in some cases.

Officers Chosen

Officers elected were: President, W. D. Keith; vice president, Gordon Sharp; secretary and treasurer, J. Sterling King; auditor, C. E. Rideout; additional members of the executive, one trustee or secretary from each parish.

The meeting closed with very general expression of opinion that a long stride had been taken towards meeting a great need in educational matters. The meeting together and discussion made for a much better understanding of the problems of teachers, trustees and ratepayers.

A meeting of the executive will be arranged at the call of the president after the annual meeting.

Hopewell Hill School Closing

Jury Finds No Bill in Long-Mattix Case—Two Teachers Will Resign.

Hopewell Hill, July 2.—The closing exercises of the village school took place Thursday afternoon. A large number of ladies and gentlemen were present. The scholars acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner. After the class recitations in the different grades were concluded, a short programme was put on and delighted the spectators. Miss Julia P. Brewster, primary teacher, has resigned after four years of faithful service. This community regrets that she will not take the school for another term.

Miss McNaughton, principal, leaves for her home at Little Peck, Northumberland Co., and will not return. While here she has made many friends. Both Miss Brewster and Miss McNaughton were remembered by the scholars with beautiful gifts.

The case of James Long vs. George Matlix of Elgin, for alleged stealing an animal from Mr. Long, which he was pasturing in New Ireland, came up for trial before Chief Justice McKinnon at Hopewell Cape on Tuesday. There was not sufficient evidence to convict. Lester Smith, clerk of the peace, was for the plaintiff and T. H. Hand, Moncton, for the defence.

Charles LeBe Peck, County Treasurer, has returned to his home at Hopewell Cape, after undergoing treatment in Moncton Hospital for the past six weeks. Mr. Peck speaks very highly of the treatment he received while confined there.

Firecrackers Start $500,000 Outbreak

Marysville, Cal., July 3.—Fire said to have been caused by small boys shooting off crackers destroyed twelve city blocks east of the centre of Marysville yesterday and burned four spans of a Southern Pacific trestle, blocking railroad traffic on the east side of the Sacramento Valley for several days.

A high wind helped spread of the flames. The loss was estimated by the county assessor, Thomas Bovan, at half a million dollars.

HEAR SMUTS VISITS IRELAND

London, July 3.—Rumors reached London today that General J. C. Smuts, the South African Premier, had been in Ireland in connection with the peace movement. Neither the Dublin or the Belfast correspondent of The Associated Press, however, was able to get any corroborative evidence beyond the fact that General Smuts' secretary had been in Dublin.

DRYEST JUNE IN MANY YEARS IS PROVINCE'S FATE

Total Precipitation for First Six Months of Year Only 14.71 Inches.

AVERAGE RAINFALL IS OVER 21 INCHES

Average Temperature for the Month Was Normal at 60 Degrees.

Special to The Standard

Fredericton, N. B., July 3.—On only three occasions since 1874 have there been as light a rainfall during the month of June as shown by the returns given out at the Dominion Meteorological Station, and never in the 48 years that the bureau has been operating has there been such a low precipitation for the first six months of the calendar year as reported today.

The precipitation for the six months of the year ending on June 30, 1921, was 14.71 inches, while the average for the past 48 years was 21.32 inches. The past month's record is the lowest for any month of June on record, the only incomplete June on the official records being in 1894.

Since 1874 there have been only three occasions on which the month of June has furnished less precipitation than in the past month, when the records show 1.88 inches. The mean temperature for the past month was 60 which is the same as last year, and the same as for the past 48 years. The wind mileage for June 1921, was 4,969, while last year it was 5,578.

Do It Now.

So Portland says says the fellow who puts off doing a disagreeable task until tomorrow has just 24 more hours to worry over it.

The council is uncertain as there is a difference of opinion among the members as to what should be done. A lively discussion is expected on the amendment to the bylaw which has been drafted.

Fredericton Will Discuss "Jitneys"

Council Will Have Vexed Problem for Two Meetings There This Week.

Fredericton, N. B., July 3.—Robert Hobson, president of Steel Company of Canada Limited has arrived here by C. N. R. on his return from a trip to Miramichi where he spent a week fishing with James S. Neil of this city and Frank S. Roberts of Plunketville, a well known designer of Steel plants. They had a most enjoyable trip and got plenty of trout, but the warm dry weather is blamed for the low condition of the salmon pools.

Jitney drivers.

The city council will meet in committee Monday night and in regular session Tuesday night. One of the chief matters which will come up for discussion will be the bylaw governing the licensing of drivers of public vehicles. At the June meeting the council took action at the request of the keepers of livery stables and amended the bylaw so as to afford a degree of protection to the keepers of livery stables and garages against other drivers of public vehicles. The passing of the bylaw was followed at once by organized resistance on the part of the "Jitney" drivers who retained counsel and announced that they would fight the new bylaw on the ground that it was ultra vires.

Win First Round.

The opposition of the "Jitney" drivers convinced the civic authorities that they had better not put the increased license fee into effect and the city clerk who is the official complainant of all cases of violation of such bylaws did not instruct the chief of Police to act. The result is a victory for "Jitney" men.

The action to be taken by the city

Moved His House On Lumber Scow

Parraboro Man Transfers Everything Seventy Miles by Sea Route.

Parraboro, N. S., July 3.—When J. Goldstein of Advocate decided to move his home and all his worldly possessions to Joggins Mines, a distance of some seventy miles, he took a lead out of the Arabian Nights and called in the genie in the person of John Canning of Port Goreville. The genie, assisted by a number of Nova Scotians boosted J. Goldstein and his three storey house of no small dimensions onto a lumber scow and towed by Captain G. Mills in the Parraboro "Almanac" away they sailed.

LABOR AND WAGES

Whatever may have been the attitude of the people of St. John towards the New Brunswick Power Company in times gone by, it is clearly evident today that public sentiment is almost univocally in its support of the Company as against the demands of the Union to which many of its employees belong. In fact, if public sentiment is any gauge, the Union is already beaten to a standstill and further refusal of the very fair offer made by the Company can be traced only to stubbornness, to selfishness and to an utter disregard of the rights of the community. Commodity prices have been falling everywhere and labor must in turn be subjected to the process of liquidation. That it is the last item in our economic life to be affected by such a reduction is the good fortune of labor itself. Industrial establishments are marking time, commercial houses are absorbing heavy losses, in agriculture the downward tendency has been most distinct and yet of the many who have been affected adversely by reason of this readjustment, none have complained so bitterly nor offered such unreasonable opposition as has been evident in the ranks of labor at the mere suggestion of wage reduction. Possibly this is because the first dose of bitter medicine is unpleasant. But it must be taken nonetheless and continued protest against a nation-wide movement such as this is just as ill-advised as it is useless. Everywhere throughout Canada labor is facing the same problem and there are only two possible results. If Union organization is to be maintained wage reductions must be accepted, if not cheerfully at least without bitterness; failing this the open shop which is now so rapidly gaining in all lines of industry, will very generally prevail, and this means something which has not been experienced for many years, namely a fair market for labor.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT

The appointment of the Hon. W. H. Taft to the position of Chief Justice of the United States, although it has nothing to do with the people of Canada, will nevertheless be appreciated by them. They are probably more familiar with him than with any other man who has occupied the presidential chair of the neighboring republic. For years he has maintained a summer home in Canada, and while here he has mixed freely with the people to an extent which has caused them to esteem him highly and admire his personal qualities. He is a broad gauge man, who has the faculty of making friends; and he has probably just as many—proportionately speaking—in this country as in his own.

In the United States the supreme court at Washington is recognized, internationally, as a fine body. The late Chief Justice White had with him the position which was second only to that of the United States presidency itself in importance. It has been said of Mr. White that during his long tenure as chief justice the sum total of the influence of his activities in his nation was greater than that of any president who has served during the period of a quarter of a century, the term of Mr. White's judicial service. Those who know Mr. Taft regard him as a worthy successor to Mr. White, and one who will maintain to its fullest extent the prestige of the court over which he has now been called upon to preside.

As ambassadors of the Bryce, Choate, Geddes, Harvey type make sound international understanding the easier, so judges of the courts of even international scope radiate a wide influence. Canadian are pleased at Mr. Taft's elevation to the highest position at the disposal of President Harding.

NO EXTRAVAGANCE

The Farmers' Sun denounces the Meighan Government because Canada's debt in 1914 was $40 per capita, while now it is about $266. The Sun puts it at $260, which is equivalent to piling $260,000,000 on the debt. Canadian Government expenditures are extremely large, considering the pre-war rate, but they are the result of unavoidable liabilities. The war debt charges, pensions, railway deficit, and ordinary civil expenditures, take up most of the Dominion revenue, and what one of them can be reduced materially by the Government. Reckless Motoring at Night. The motor collision at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, in which two men were killed, was a tragedy which may be repeated tonight or any other night, unless motorists take warning from this occurrence. Two many motorists drive at night, or in the early hours of the morning, as if all speed limits were off. The streets seem deserted, and they see no reason why they should not hit up their lights at night, on the lookout, however, that other cars are abroad and other drivers equally foolish are driving through the night from other directions, and at an street intersection two such cars may crash together. Some very narrow escapes have been reported by motorists who drive carefully at night, on the lookout, wild cars that may go rushing across their path. Late at night it does not matter much about the right of way, for these wildly careening cars regard it not, and, as the poet expresses it in the epiphany: "Here lies the body of William Jay, Who died maintaining his right of way. He was right, dead right, as he sped along. But he's just as dead as he'd been wrong."

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL. TO THE MILK CONSUMERS. Editor St. John Standard: On Friday, June 24th there appeared in The Times (newspaper) also in The Telegraph of the 25th the report of an interview by a Times reporter with the author of the article appearing in the "Milk Supply of the City of St. John," in which it was stated that the charges which had appeared in the local press were unfounded and every precaution within human possibility was being taken by the Board from the producer to the consumer to insure a safe supply, thus giving the consumer a certificate of health as to its purity. On the 25th inst., I replied to the article through The Times, stating that I also agreed to substantiate every statement I had made, by actual proof, that milk sold for human consumption in this city was generally unfit for infant or children feeding. I now wish to inform the public that on the very day the certificate of purity of the St. John milk supply was given by the Board of Health report, I purchased a number of pints and quarts of milk from stores, and have continued to do so practically every day since. The milk was purchased in various parts of the city and sediment and other tests applied, the results of which were astonishing as can be seen from the inspection of discs shown in The Standard office window.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL. To the Editor of The Standard. Sir—An editorial appeared in Standard of June 23rd which called an answer from me, both as Principal of the N. B. T. A. and as Principal of the F. H. S. The facts are as follows, and as I challenge any one to deny them his own signature: Toward the close of the school year the male teachers of the F. H. S. to discuss the question of salaries. On comparing their salaries with salaries of those teachers filling positions in schools similarly situated, and doing the same class of work they found that they were receiving salaries varying from $50 to less than were paid in Moncton St. John, and decided to ask for increase. The Principal's salary had been $600, for which he had been performing other services in connection with the city schools, such as supervising grading, etc. When the new salary of trustees was appointed the principal was relieved of his outside duties, he was assured by the N. B. T. A. via: $400 each, his salary would remain at the figure. Thus he was asking no increase. The other teachers argued that would be undervaluing their own services if they asked less than the salaries laid down in the schedule of the N. B. T. A., viz: $400 each, they decided that, if the trustees agreed, they would be reasonably satisfied with $200. Accordingly, application was made to the board, and the reply came back, "No funds;" they had previously made up their estimates, and over-expanded already. The teachers received this reply May 27th. As all persons at all quarters with the school law knowledge is not given by either party before the 30th of May, the contract is automatically renewed another year. Accordingly the teachers sent a copy to the board asking for a conference in order that "an amicable agreement might be reached at an early date."

Guest Room in Restful Violet

Color Scheme Successfully Carried Out by Resourceful Home-maker

Long before she had a house of her own, a certain successful homemaker resolved that when she did have a real house with a real guest room, that particular room was not to be done in pink or blue or yellow, but to be patterned after cool, fresh Spring violets, says The Christian Science Monitor.

Not that she intended to cover the walls with paper strewn with overgrown violets, or to embroider cushions with violets, or use violet patterned chintz.

No, her violet room should be fresh and cool and restful, with dark floor like gray Spring skies, and with masses of clean green and purple that should suggest, not attempt to imitate, violets.

The house achieved, the family room furnished and settled, the problem of evolving an attractively furnished guest room was not to be a small room with a low ceiling and just one window seemed a difficult one especially since the furniture left over from the rest of the house consisted of the narrow brass bed, one bureau in bright red cherry, one straight back chair of curly maple with a broken mahogany lamp standard, a shabby upholstered chair and two oval braced rag rugs badly faded. And just a very small amount could be spent for new things.

The guest room had been painted in very light French gray, the woodwork painted and enameled white, so the background was satisfactory. As the room was low, the paper was put on the full length of the walls and finished with a narrow silver molding where the side walls joined the ceiling.

Floor Painted Black.

The floor had been painted a very dark brown almost black—the color of rich black earth.

Fortunately the brass bed was simple in design, the head and foot as low as that of the rest of the furniture, proper was not unattractive in line, though the fancy brass drawers, handles and the mirror supports were very ornate. They were handily being replaced later with old-fashioned mahogany glass knobs, and the mirror hung on the wall above that had now become a chest drawer.

The varnish and paint were removed from the table, the straight chair, chest of drawers, and the bureau and lamp standard. Then with the bed, all the members of the nondescript collection except the lamp standard were carefully painted a soft lilac green.

To secure the exact shade of green desired, the resourceful home decorator chose a sample of silk of just the right hue, and had the paint dealer mix the paint to match the sample.

Cloudy lines of lilac-purple edged the horizontal lines of the green, and outlined the structural features of the other pieces in true Sheraton fashion.

The faded rug was dyed a very deep violet, as was also a remnant of carpet later was made to order an odd little tufted, pillow-shaped footstool to accompany the shabby upholstered chair.

This chair was silverpainted in hemspun linen of soft creamy white and supplied with two small down pillows, one covered with sheer, lace-trimmed white handkerchief linen over green, one with white over lavender.

For the painted, straight-back chair a seat cushion was made, the edges of the hemspun linen cover being bound with lavender wash ribbon.

Curtains From Remnant.

For the window, straight curtains were made of very fine, sheer, white marquisette. The over curtains which because the window was narrow, were hung at the extreme edges of the glass, curtains, completely covering the woodwork, were made of a two-yard remnant of really beautiful lavender silk. To make these curtains the wide strip of silk was split down the center, the raw edges hemmed with an inch-wide hem, and five-inch hem used to finish the lower edges.

Both marquisette and silk curtains were finished at the top with plain castings through which the flat rods were run. These straight, valanceless curtains made the window appear higher—in fact they succeeded in making the whole room seem lighter and larger.

The lamp standard was painted a soft yellow, and a charming shade made from piece-bag treasures. The foundation was covered with a square of apricot satin lined with thin shirring silk. The satin was veiled with georgette crepe that many tubings had given an ivory tone. Knots of green and crystal beads weighted the four corners, while a narrow wreath of dimly-lit "made" flowers finished the top. These flowers were fashioned from scraps of ribbon, silk, chiffon and embroidery floss.

The room was given a needed note of orange in the form of winning Chinese silk tassels by which the window shade was raised or lowered. A square of Chinese embroidery in which no special color predominated, but that seemed to "belong" on the table, harmonized perfectly with the soft green and the yellow of the table and lamp standard.

Bed and chest of drawers were covered with the daintiest white linen the ménage possessed.

Violet Vase.

The exquisite, almost transparent porcelain vase that had been the corner stone of the violet guest-room—a corner stone laid during the homemaker's hotel dwelling days, was

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS:

By HELEN ROWLAND Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc. Being the Confessions of the Seventh-Hundredth Wife

My daughter, what woman hath not said in her heart: "Alas, why do sweethearts so soon become husbands?"

"Why doth marriage so quickly transform a lover into a censor, and a rose-colored romance into dull gray realism?"

"For, in the way of a man with a maid and the way of a man with a wife—as the way of a Pullman porter, before and after receiving a tip—so different."

Yet, be of good cheer, My Beloved. For, verily, verily a sweetheart becometh an husband by no desire of his own heart, but by the gradual geological formation of his sentiments, and the slow purification of his emotions. Lo, he cannot HELP IT. Go to! The life of a sweetheart is one of turbulence and doubt and self-sacrifice, but the life of an husband is his "day of rest," when he saith in his heart "I am settled!"

Behold, a sweetheart dasheth wildly in front of a speeding motor-car to rescue his Beloved's glove; but, in time it cometh to pass that an husband can sit perfectly still and regard his wife's untied shoe-string without a single impulse to arise and fasten it.

In the day of courtship, a man seeketh excuses for bringing his Beloved roses and burnt offerings; but, after the honeymoon, he finisheth himself seeking excuses for NOT bringing them.

Lo, it is easier to lean back in an arm-chair and be waited upon than to arise and pick up things after a woman.

It is less fatiguing to permit one's self to be kissed, than to infuse verve and ardor into one's caresses.

It is less enervating to remain seated when a woman entereth the room, than to arise and surrender the most comfortable chair.

It is less tiring to loiter upon a divan and give advice than to hasten to the kitchen and give first aid, on the cook's coat.

It is more respectful to give first aid, than to stay awake and be interesting.

It is less exertion to drop in at a matinee, than to doll up and take one's wife to a show.

It is less difficult to offer criticism than to invent new compliments, and require less effort to discover new flaws than to find new charms and virtues in a woman.

It is more comforting to skip a shave than to shave TWICE daily.

It is less exhausting to converse in grunts and monosyllables, than to rave in poetry and flowery phrases.

It is more restful to wear old slippers than new dancing pumps, and less trouble to dine in a dressing-gown than in a dinner-coat.

Lo, verily, to be a sweetheart is a constant struggle for favor; but an husband saith, "Oh, what the use; she is logically BOUND to me."

He taketh it EASY.

Lo, to my daughter, it is not marriage which giveth a man "that tired feeling," it is love. For courtship becometh as a pastime, but wedlock as a task.

And a man marryeth for a Rest Cure!

Body of Missing Man Is Discovered

Found in Halifax Harbor After Being Missing Since Early in May

Halifax, N. S., July 3.—The badly decomposed body of a man found floating in Halifax harbor this afternoon by a fishing party, is said to have been identified by means of papers in the clothes as that of Reuben Hiltz, a resident of Dartmouth, who mysteriously disappeared on May 11 last.

Hiltz disappeared and the discovery by his wife of a note which read "I am no use to anybody. You will find my body at Allison Bay," is said to have been made for him in the woods and ponds near his home and also in the harbor.

Hiltz was well known in Dartmouth where he lived with his wife and four children. He was about 64 years of age.

placed where its loveliness was reflected in the mirror, while the four dollars and some cents remaining after the purchase of paint glass knobs, marquisette and silk, and the payee of the bill for dyeing the rug, bought a small glass bowl-like vase—a piece of modern Venetian glass frosted with gold—a vase that in a season was to hold the fragrant violets that should adorn the cool, dainty guest room and out of reason was to afford a pleasing decorative note in its place beside the lamp upon the table.

Just one picture was allowed to hang in this room, a modern French etching in black and white, with plenty of open space. The mat was covered with Japanese rice paper, while the frame was of silver gray wood inlaid with a narrow line of black.

Prizes Presented To Sculling Crews

The Rowing Athletic and Outing Association held a very enjoyable dance in the club house on Saturday evening which was very largely attended. The Drury Cove Tennis Club were the guests of the Rowing Club for the day and evening which were most successful. A presentation was made to the sculling crews by F. J. Nisbett, the president of the club. To the senior crew, George Wetmore, James Fleming, Pearce Patterson and Donald Armstrong for coming first in the Senior Race at the R. K. Y. C. on Friday, the club presented a straight hanging shirt type, with a cup something similar to the Novice crew, George Price, Robert Henry, Maurice Dalton and Douglas Fowler for winning the Novice race at Millidgeville on Dominion Day. A vote of thanks was extended to George Richardson, who helped and worked very hard to train the boys for the event. Three cheers were given all round for the crew and their trainer on account of the good work that was done to uphold the name of Rowing.

Bear Breaks Up Reception Planned

Couderport, Pa., June 29.—Potter county is all wrought up because Governor Sprout voted the Wall's bear bill. This provided if 200 citizens of any county petitioned the game commission, where bears were committing outrages on sheep and cattle at any time of the year, they might have an open season declared.

The governor vetoed the bill and the game commission has tried to appease Potter county by putting bear traps in the open woods. Bears had gathered at the public square in Couderport to see the bear come in as advertised, but the menagerie was roaming far at the hour set.

Last week Sherman Dodd, who has lost nine sheep through bears, found a yearling in one of the state traps. He notified State Forester Logie. A cage was made for the bear which was coaxed into it, and the outfit hauled to Dodd's house. A dinner was served there, and during the meal the bear got busy, ripping the top off the cage and took to the timber.

The meatmen in Couderport had gathered at the public square in Couderport to see the bear come in as advertised, but the menagerie was roaming far at the hour set.

The reward says $25 for a bear capture dead or alive and no one can figure out how Dodd can claim the money. Likely Dodd is on his way to Harrisburg, to surrender to the game commission in person.

STYLE NEWS

New York fashion observer reports that very smartest outdoor costumes of late have been of all white, and the idea is carried out in sports things as well as in the more dressy variety of frocks, thin white hose being particularly good for suits.

Because this year organades are dyed in more lovely shades than ever before, they are becoming increasingly popular, and when organade is not used for the trimming of any sort of material of the gown itself, Hand-worked organades are, perhaps, the most lovely things that have been turned out this season.

SINN FEINERS SENTENCED

London, July 3.—Lour Silan Feinners convicted at the Kent assizes of cutting railway signals and shooting, were sentenced, one to twelve years imprisonment and three to ten years penal servitude.

London, July 1.—Several witnesses before the cattle embargo commission today stated that small holders favored the removal of the embargo with a view to reduction of the present price of store cattle.

Another witness declared that Scotch beef still beat the world, and imported meat could never be better.

The commission adjourned until Monday, when Viscount Chaplin, a former minister of agriculture, will be the final witness to be heard.

It is anticipated that the commission will conclude its sittings on Tuesday. Twenty-one meetings have been held to date and over eighty witnesses have been heard.

Quite a Different Smash.

Wife—I heard a noise when you were in last night.
Husband—Perhaps it was the night falling.
Wife (coolly)—No, it wasn't, it was the day breaking.
Wife hats with little or no trimming is the smartest hats of the moment, and for more formal wear flussy black lapp vells are added.

BLouses ARE IN GREAT FAVOR

One of the factors which has had to do with the popularity of blouses this season can be directly laid to the favor with which the sleeveless frocks have been received. Appearing earlier in the season fashioned of jersey in demand developed in a wide variety of fabrics. Although the frocks themselves assumed tailored lines, blouses of fluffier type also found favor as complements.

Crepe de chine and canton crepe were two fabrics which fashioned the tailored type of blouse, the sleeves long and finished with turn-back cuffs, in turn edged with narrow pleating of fine order. Collars in both regulation square cut front effect and in dog's ear type finish the necks of those blouses, the pleated edge accented again. Some models affect a straight hanging shirt type, with no adornment, while others are treated with tucks of varying width in solid and cluster formations. Washable satins and pashy willow are other mediums which have been carried to success in waists of this description with broderie also stressed.

Sleeveless Frocks

With the advent of sleeveless frocks of dotted swiss, organade, imported satens, gingham and linen blouses formed of lighter fabrics made their appearance. For wear with dotted swiss frocks, there are dotted swiss blouses and gumpes, some featuring lace and insertion as trimming adjuncts, and others making a point of pleated edges and ruffles. Many of these blouses adopt an elbow length sleeve, although the wrist length is also popular, especially in bishop style, a slim little cut holding the fullness at the wrist. Blouses of this type show a strong predilection for the Peter Pan collar, which is also noted in the silk blouses, although with not as great frequency.

Crisp Organade

Crisp organade is one of the favorite materials employed to fashion blouses which are worn with dresses of this sort, girls being shown marked favor. In many instances contrasting pipings add gay touches of color, and are especially effective when worn with a frock of the same shade. Dimples is also a well liked fabric both because of its summery appeal and its adaptable qualities.

The great liking which has been expressed for the sleeveless frocks because of their comfort and their place in fall lines practically assured. This is also an assurance that the tailored blouse as well as the tuckin blouse of more ornate appeal will be in demand. The fact that these dresses are in production in quantities as well as in demand, is a strong factor in the suggesting the reduction in quality of the frock. It would appear that other embroideries have adopted the tone of this kind of garment for even where silk floss embroideries are introduced in patterns that strongly insinuate braided pattern derivation. In several instances an accent of brightness is attained in the same key, in the use of a antique gold or silver thread, found sometimes as a coaching agent to the silk floss.

A delightful dinner frock of black crepe satin, by Ibene, was embellished in embroidered borders of old gold fine metal thread, in Greek style. Gently falling cascades of black chantilly lace formed a new expression to panels upon the skirt. Panels are still retained, for the most part, of the type that are attached at top and lower points.

AN ODE FOR THE CANADIAN CONFEDERACY

Awake, my country, the hour is great with change!
Under this gloom which yet obscures the land;
From ice-blue strait and stern Laurentian range
To where giant peaks our western bounds command,
A deep voice stirs, vibrating in men's ears
As if your own hearts throbbeth faint
Thunders for us,
A sound wherein who hearkens wisely hears
The voice of the desire of this strong North—
This North whose heart of fire
Yet knows not its desire,
Clearly, but dreams, and murmurs in the dream,
The hour of dreams is done, Lo, on the hills the gleam!

Awake, my country, the hour of dreams is done!
Doubt not, nor dread the greatest of thy fate,
Thou' faint souls fear the keen cool fronting sun,
And fail would bid the morn of splendor wait,
Yet stretch vain hands to stars, thy fame is nigh,
Here in Canada! heart, and home, and name—
The snare which yet shall grow
Till all who know us for a patriot people, heart and hand,
Loyal to our native earth, our own Canadian land!
CHAS. G. D. ROBERTS.

FROM HERE AND THERE.

The news of the day credits Rev. John Roach Straton, a New York Baptist clergyman, with a sprightly philippic verification which runs in this wise: "Mary had a little chick, but every time she got inside, she was more than half-way out."

There are six footmen in attendance at the main entrance of Buckingham Palace throughout the day until seven o'clock, when the number is reduced to four.

The new Duchess of Marlborough particularly asked for feather fans for wedding presents, and she received no less than eighteen.

Five members of the Victoria, B. C. Business Women's Club were guests of honor at the Seattle Business and Professional Women's Club recently.

Not interested.

The Man—Please come out into the garden with me.
The Girl—Oh, no. I mustn't go out without a chaparron.
The Man—But we don't need one.
The Girl—Then I don't want to go.

A Good Reason.
"Mamma," said Elsie, "I wish I had a real baby to wheel in the go-cart."
"Why?" asked the mother. "You have your dolls, haven't you?"
"Yes, but the dolls are always getting broke when it tips over."

RIGHT SWING TO GEORGES' CHIN IN FOURTH SENT THE FRENCHMAN TO THE FLOOR

Rout Had Been Started in Third Round by Dempsey's Terrific Blow on Back of Neck, Leaving Challenger Shattered Mentally and Physically He Says After Battle.

CARPENTIER BROKE HIS RIGHT THUMB AND SPRAINED WRIST

Champion Was Never in Danger at Any Time Although Georges Landed the First Blow, a Light Left-Dempsey Was the Aggressor in All the Fighting But Carpenter Was Game Fighter.

Continued from Page 1. Courageous, speedy of foot, and with a lightning-like rapier blow he proved to be a clever boxer with a moderate size punch. Against the man-killing smashes of Dempsey all his speed and skill faded away like fog before the sun. It was but another demonstration of the faculty of cleverness when he opposed to actual fighting. Summed up in a few words, Carpenter was outclassed when Dempsey persisted in fighting inside the Frenchman's flying arm. Had he elected to try and box with Carpenter the end might have been different. But Dempsey is a fighter and fought the only way he knows how. Against that attack Carpenter, game and skillful as he undoubtedly is, was a beaten man from the start.

After the main bout was over the heavyweights Billy Miske and Jack Remault furnished the remaining spectators with an eight round contest in which honors were even. Will Fight Willard New York, July 3.—Jack Dempsey is ready to fight Jess Willard anytime the fight can be arranged, Jack Kearns, his manager, announced tonight. The champion is going west for a good vacation in a few days, and after that, Kearns said, he will be ready to fight anyone who presents himself with the proper credentials. Dempsey, happy at his victory over Carpenter and showing no marks of the encounter, passed as quiet a day as his friends and fight fans would allow him.

Richard Made $550,000 New York, July 3.—Tex Rickard figured today that his net profit from the Dempsey-Carpenter fight yesterday would be in the neighborhood of $550,000. Expert accountants were busy all day checking and balancing the books used in the promotion of the contest. Rickard said he did not expect another, a considerable portion of $300,000 paid Dempsey, and the $200,000 which was Carpenter's share of the purse. Total government proceeds from the sale of tickets will amount to about $150,000. Revenue officials have pointed out that Carpenter also is likely to face another stringent income tax on a removal to France, shrinking still more the earnings of the defeated boxer.

Army of Reporters In many respects the contest, from a news-reporting standpoint, was the greatest of its kind in the world. According to actual count, there were 228 reporters and telegraphers in the two press sections of the arena. More than 100 wires, including telegraph, cable and telephone were used to carry the news to every point of the world. While accurate figures are unavailable, it is estimated that the number of words filed about the fight either in Jersey City or New York during the sixteen hours between 3 a.m. and midnight of July 2 ran into hundreds of thousands. Betting men estimate that about $500,000 was wagered in and about this city on the contest. The larger bets were being paid off rapidly after the fight, and by today virtually all who wagered had pocketed their winnings or paid out their losses.

FOR THE CANADIAN CONFEDERACY

my country, the hour is great... this gloom which yet obscures the land;... blue strait and stern Laurance... great peaks over western lands command, voice stirs, vibrating in men's ears... their own hearts throbbled that under forth, wherein who hearken wise-words... Of the desire of this young North—North whose heart of fire knows not its desire, but dreams, and murmurs the dream, the dream of dreams is done, Lo, on hills the gleam!

my country, the hour of yearning is done, not, nor dread the greatest thy fate, in souls leers the keen coping sun, faint would bid the morn of splendour wait;... My own thy future, you thy faith, my fame!

See Big Advance
In regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific and Grand Trunk guarantees in connection therewith, counsel pointed out that the value of the stock held by the Grand Trunk, previous to its being taken over by the government, would greatly increase in value within a reasonable time, which he contended it certain that the Grand Trunk Pacific would earn enough to pay interest on its liabilities by way of guaranteed stock to that extent.

THINK EMBARGO TO BE REMOVED

British Visitors Predict Active Trade from West at Early Date.

Winnipeg, July 3—A party of well known British stock breeders and dairymen who have arrived here from the old country declare that there is not a doubt in the world that the British embargo on Canadian cattle will be lifted almost immediately. The party is over here to see the country and get a closer insight into its cattle, and includes J. M. Chrysal, Barry Stedmonds, who milks two hundred cows at his farm, and a member of the firm, Strutt & Parker, which operates the famous Lord Rayleigh dairies that milk two thousand cows daily.

Although the members of the party are unanimous in their belief that the embargo will be lifted without delay, they differ as to the value of the action. The dairymen frankly oppose it and the stock breeders favor it.

GOSSIP AROUND THE MARKETS

If a definite change for the better in trade is still in the future, a firm foundation for prosperity in Canada is now being laid in the improving trend of banking indices.

Greenhalgh & Co., investment bankers, publish in the July number of their monthly review of conditions in Canada, a chart bearing the encouraging caption "Barometer of Credit is Pointing to Fair." In graphic form it shows the trend of the depression in business has deepened since last autumn, allowing for seasonal factors there has been definite improvement in financial conditions. This improvement should continue and will be a necessary prelude to more active trade in the Dominion.

The leading power of a bank on its resources in capital, reserve and deposits, and in the case of our Canadian banks approximately 90 per cent of the resources consists of deposits. The greater the surplus over loans the greater the ease of money. When this surplus is cut down or turned into a deficit money becomes tight.

The strain on credit, which became acute in 1920 was accompanied by, or rather resulted from, deposits in Canada falling below loans and investments, this condition of shortage contrasting with a long period of surplus lending power from 1915 on through the war.

The feature brought out by Greenhalgh & Co's chart is that the liquidation in business which set in during the autumn of 1920 has opened up a "white area"—a surplus of lending power against the "black area," or deficit of lending power, that characterized other periods of tight money in the past. This surplus is indicated by the "barometer of credit" is therefore pointing to fair.

Deducting from financial and commercial conditions, which are summarized, the Review says of the outlook for high grade investments: "Heavy sales of provincial government and municipal bonds, which for the first two months of the year amounted to $92,712,976 against $71,045,161 in the same period of 1920, reflect impressive absorptive power. Temporary market has been over-supplied and a slight recession in prices has followed. As the large requirements of the Province of Ontario has been the principal factor in the condition of over-supply, and within a short time Ontario's further requirements will be satisfied, the pressure of issues of the day class should presently be lifted."

"The effects of the accumulation of liquid capital and a widening competition from new issues abroad, therefore, become more apparent in the next few months. We are probably over the peak of a long rise in interest rates. Before the downward tendency becomes more widely recognized and bond prices advance, that is the opportunity of a generation to accumulate fixed-income securities of the first grade."

Sydney, N. S., July 1—A Royal salute to the French warship Ville D'Ys, answered gun for gun from the British cruiser Valerian, ushered in Canada's 5th birthday anniversary at Sydney. Later in the day both vessels laden large detachments of armed seamen, which, with war veterans, civic officials, labor organizations and the 16th Artillery Brigade, paraded to the exhibition grounds, where Lieut-Governor MacCallum Grand formally opened a two-days affair under the auspices of the Great War Veterans' Association.

JUNE CUSTOMS REVEAL LARGE IMPORT SLASH

Wholesalers Look for No Radical Change Before Autumn Months.

BARELY A THIRD OF ONE YEAR AGO

Steady Fall Revealed by Figures Compiled Monthly Since Spring.

Toronto, July 3—June customs returns for Canada direct attention to a severe decline in imports. A perusal of the duty collections for the past year is a reminder that this branch of the public revenue has dropped almost 50 per cent. As a drop in domestic trade very generally coincides with a drop in imports, dominion's customs returns throw an interesting sidelight on the prevalent business depression. Wholesalers and traders, taking their cue from the state of the import markets today, declare that there is no sign of improvement, and the expressed opinion is no improvement can be held out for any improvement until the fall at the earliest.

June Customs

In the month just closed customs duties totalled $5,588,669. How low imports have fallen is strikingly indicated when this figure is compared with that of June last when collections amounted to $24,536,105 in imports. That the decline has been steady since the trade conditions of 1914 when the total amount of customs duties collected was $110,718,787.

That the decline has been steady as well as severe is seen in the figures for March, 1921, when the collections dropped from $24,536,105 in June preceding, this month to $12,867,172—a loss of over $10,000,000 within nine months. Since June 6th duty has been collected on the exchange paid on all imports from the United States. Exchange has been running around twelve per cent, and even this additional value placed on merchandise from across the line when over sixty per cent of Canadian imports come has not prevented the still further drop recorded this month.

Hankow, China, July 1—Thousands of persons have been killed by mutinous Chinese troops, according to reports here today. The mutineers were said to have turned machine guns on train loads of refugees fleeing from the territory taken over by the troops. In one such attack, 1,500 refugees were reported slaughtered.

The foreign population of Hankow hastened to leave the city today, fearing Japanese soldiers were threatened in several provinces where local officials raised irregular forces for the purpose of looting.

Lack of food and pay, and uncertainty over the actual government head were held responsible for the difficulties.

Dry Weather Is Hurting English Crops

London, July 3—Great Britain is suffering from a serious drought, scorching weather having prevailed for nearly six weeks. During June less than a quarter of an inch of rain fell, the month being the driest for more than a century.

The supply of water is causing much anxiety, while crops are poor and pastures is burnt up.

New York, July 2—Actual conditions of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they held $10,311,760 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $16,156,830 from last week.

Bar Silver

London, July 2—Bar silver 35 1/4d. per ounce; bar gold 110s. 1d. Money 4 1/4 per cent. Discount rates, short bills 5 1/4 per cent; three months bills 5 3/8 per cent.

Sussex, N. B., July 1—A lamentable drowning accident occurred here this morning by which Gordon Gaudet, aged seven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alcide Gaudet, lost his life in Trout Creek. The little lad, with a couple of companions, was fishing near the railway bridge which spans Trout Creek, about 100 yards above the Main street railway crossing. His bait can slipped into the water, and in stooping over to secure it he fell in and was drowned. The boys with him gave notice of the accident and a search was made for the body, which was recovered after having been about half an hour in the water.

A VERY FEW PIECES OF HAND BAGGAGE MAY BE USED TO CONSTRUCT AN EMERGENCY BABY CRIB.

I MUST REMEMBER THAT

MARKET YOU POULTRY AND YEAR RO

Disposing of Surplus When Market is Not

Disturb the sale of market as many of the twelve months possible. Sell when the price and the birds ready. As far as possible get out of the habit of watching everything in the fall of the year for the poorer ones, the birds ready when you can dispose.

The best prices are received in the spring of the year. It is to call out all the birds and keep over for marketing purposes and as soon as the egg yield drops will occur after the breeding season and usually along about July for the poorer ones, the layers a little bit later.

Whether these birds should be sold before selling will depend on the demand. The better price is paid for the birds for the dressed. The price, therefore, will depend upon the market.

When trap-nesting is followed, the matter is simple, for the non-layers can be picked out at any time and that are to be kept for brooding hens from the pullets, and the laying pullets from the later. With these marks the hens are new-producing pullets can be identified. The aim should be to keep the summer months only for those that are paying well for their eggs and that are to be kept for brooding the next spring.

In the case of Leghorns or light breeds, it may pay to keep the birds over the summer, but should be determined by the number of eggs they are laying as soon as their egg production comes to a stop and they are well laid, they should be disposed of.

Broilers are chickens weighing over four to five pounds to be sold in those years the demand for price is better than for the summer. For those who are close to a broiler market it pays to sell the cockerels as broilers rather than them until fall, when the market is good, and then, therefore, get rid of as many cockerels as intend to sell, during the broiler stage, if the price is better, usually it does. The selling of cockers at this time of the year cuts on the feed bill and leaves more for the pullets to mature.

Ducks.
The only time to sell market ducks when they are about ten weeks of age and can be marketed under the name of "green ducks." Under these conditions they sell them for class of ducks they will bring a good price per bird at this stage at any later stage, and the production is usually less.

Roasters.
In spite of the number that can be sold as roasters weighing from 6 to 8 pounds in the fall, in disposal of roasters it pays to crate feed, last pound of flesh is the cheapest part of the whole carcass and hence the value of the entire lot does not dispose of any class of try stock without special feeding for the larger cockerels, especially the crate feeding system is best.

Turkeys and Geese.
Geese are becoming more popular each year and deserve more attention on the average farmer than they received. The grass feeding habit of the geese is an additional reason for their being one of the cheapest of meat. Geese being one of the cheapest poultry meat.

Turkeys continue to be our high priced poultry and no doubt maintain this position for some time for the ravages of the blackhead year seem to make it harder to produce turkeys. In marketing turkeys almost more than any other class of poultry meat. It is essential that well fed. Turkeys cannot be marketed in disposing of them, keep mind that turkeys are used for formal occasions, a great deal of time, Thanksgiving and Christmas, and not leave the marketing of them near the larger cockerels, especially for the eating.

For further details, write the Poultry Division, Central Experiment Farm, Ottawa, Ontario for their bulletin No. 88 "Preparing Poultry Products Market."

Courts Enforcing Forest Protection

Jail sentences and heavy fines pending for those who are now being frequently by Canadian courts. For the first time on record an Ontario settler was sent to prison recently for defying the law regarding the taking of precautions before cleaning land with fire. His carelessness caused a loss of millions of dollars of timber. Five New Brunswick sportsmen were fined $50 each for leaving their campfire burning, causing thereby a serious timber conflagration. Heavy fines and jail sentences are also the rule with Quebec magistrates, who are determined to stamp out the prevalent carelessness of the public in regard to forest destruction.

Not many years ago, an Eastern Canada farmer set fire to his orchard to clear a new patch for potato planting. The fire was a great success, burning down enough white pine to have been the largest Canadian lumber pile supplied for 55 years.

MARKET YOUR POULTRY ALL YEAR ROUND

Disposing of Surplus Stock When Market is Not glutted Brings Better Returns

Distribute the sale of market birds over as many of the twelve months as possible. Sell when the price is good and the birds ready. As far as possible, get out of the habit of marketing everything in the fall of the year. Watch the markets and have your birds ready when you can get the best prices.

When trap-netting is followed the matter is simple, for the non-productive birds can be picked out at any time, their bands are used to distinguish the hens from the pullets, and the early-laying pullets from the later ones. With these marks the hens and the low-producing pullets can be disposed of.

Broilers are chickens weighing not over four to five pounds to the pair. In recent years the demand and the prices have risen for broilers and those who are close to a good broiler market it pays to sell their broilers rather than hold them until fall and sell them as roasters. It is a good plan, therefore to get rid of as many broilers as you intend to sell, during the broiler stage, if the price is a demand for this time makes it worth while, and usually it does. The selling of broilers at this time of the year cuts down on the feed bill and leaves more room for the pullets to mature.

The only time to sell market ducks is when they are about ten weeks of age and can be marketed under the name of "green ducks." Usually there is a demand for this class of ducks that will bring a higher price per bird at this stage than at any later stage, and the cost of production is materially less.

In spite of the number that can sell broilers, the bulk of the cockerels will be sold as roasters weighing from 4 1/2 to 5 pounds in the fall. In disposing of roasters it pays to crate feed. The last pound of flesh is the cheapest part of the whole carcass and enhances the value of the entire bird. Do not dispose of any class of poultry stock without special feeding, and for the larger cockerels, especially, the crate feeding is best.

The incidents are substantiated by Auguste Audoulet, a professor at the Laverge Institute, who has interviewed all the farmers who were present when the bodies of the ancient Gauls were found.

"When the first coffin was opened," he said, "a beautiful young woman with long hair was seen for a few seconds. Then suddenly her features vanished and beneath her serge robe her body likewise disappeared, leaving only bones and dust surrounded by coils and other articles fixing the date when the interment took place."

In another tomb was found a blonde young woman gowned in white and wearing small leather footgear, another woman with a wig covering her own hair, and the body of a small girl and finally that of a bearded old man. The savants say that the gasses from the springs being heavier than air replaced the air in the coffins, thus preserving but not mummifying the remains. Research work will be continued, as it is expected to make other valuable discoveries as to the daily life and habits of the ancient Gauls.

Oh, Girls How Could You? Three of the young girls of this city pulled off some stunt last Friday evening by going auto riding with two of our young men and did not arrive home until 10 o'clock at night, claiming the lateness of their arrival was due to blow outs of tires, there being about 12 holes bursting open in their tires according to their records. The final result of the trip was that two of the young ladies have been sitting down very easily on account of their mother using a board as a warmer for their conduct. She should have taken a good sized club and took a workout of the scamps who led them on the wild night ride.

Can't Please Everybody. Friend Jones, the weatherman, is sore. He tries so hard to satisfy: The farmer wants a real downpour and only gets the deep blue sky. At last Jones looks a trifling squall that yields a little moisture—but just here the city fellows hawl: "We want no rain at all," you mutter. And sure and bright are the latest note in summer-killers.

A Little Wobbly. "What is Brown's reputation for telling the truth?" "Well, I should say it was about on a par with that of a weather fore-caster's."

Bodies of Gauls Crumble Into Dust

French Farmer Makes Interesting Find—Preserved 18 Centuries by Gas.

Paris, July 2.—The undecomposed remains of five Gauls of the first century were discovered when a farmer near Clermont-Ferrand turned over some stones with a pick, but within a few moments after the bodies had been exposed to the air they crumbled away into dust, leaving only ordinary skeletons.

New Breed Has White Plumage

A new breed of poultry has been developed at the Beltsville, Md., experimental farm of the United States Department of Agriculture. Claim to distinction is made for the newly introduced variety in being the first to have a pure white plumage, and only white-plumaged, most producing fowl to produce a white-shelled egg. A red ear lobe is the characteristic which differentiates the new breed from the white Leghorn variety. The fixing of this distinctive mark without sacrificing the whiteness of the egg shell is considered a notable achievement in poultry heredity. Breeds having red ear lobes yield brown-shelled eggs and the invariable stability of this breeding characteristic has led poultry fanciers to believe that a variation therefrom was impossible.

Courts Enforcing Forest Protection

Just sentences and heavy fines for setting forest fires are now being meted more frequently by Canadian courts. For the first time on record, an Ontario settler was sent to prison recently for defying the law regarding the taking of precautions before cleaning land with fire. His carelessness caused a loss of millions of feet of timber. Five New Brunswick sportsmen were fined $50 each for leaving their campfire burning, causing thereby a serious timber conflagration. Heavy fines and jail sentences are also the rule with many Quebec magistrates, who are determined to stamp out the prevalent carelessness of the public in regard to forest destruction.

Power Co. Ready To Resume Car Service
Have Sufficient Competent Men for the Work—Await City's Order in Matter.
There has been nothing happen over the week-end to cause any particular change in the situation existing between the New Brunswick Power Company and its former employees. There has been no interruption of service at the power plant, or gas works since Friday.
The statement published Saturday morning that the "Moultie" would take up the work of guarding the company's property, given out by a member of the city council, was an erroneous one. Local police officers are still doing that work in a most comfortable and satisfactory manner. The force doing night duty at the power plant has been reduced and the officers returned to their beats. There have been no attempts made to cause any disturbance about any of the company's property or anywhere else in the city. The local police on duty have handled the situation in a businesslike way, and have not allowed gatherings near the plants that might possibly start trouble.

Parade Postponed.
It was the intention of the Local Division 663 to have had a parade Saturday night, but in deference to the wishes of Mayor Schofield they abandoned the idea for the present at least. The mayor felt that such a parade at this time might excite some trouble. The Local did, however, have a church parade on Sunday, marching to St. Luke's and St. Peter's churches where they attended services.
There were rumors abroad Saturday evening that a settlement of the differences between the company and men was quite possible through the medium of the mayor. It was stated the men were agreeable to accepting the company's terms. This could not be confirmed or denied last night by the union representatives.
Manager Thomson said he had been sounded on the question of taking all the men back to their jobs provided they accepted his wage scale and working conditions. He said "there was nothing doing on that stuff."

Favorable To Some.
"Somewhat of the men who left our employ," he said, "can have their jobs on application. Many of the men have already applied and been accepted. They are now on our list ready for work when we resume the car service. There are many of the former employees who will not be taken back by the company under any circumstances. The men who have taken up work in the various departments since the break came with the company will be retained. They are efficient and came to us when we were in need. They will stay with us, in so far as we are concerned, to the end."
Up To Council.
Manager Thomson said they were prepared to place street cars in operation today, but there would not be a resumption of the service until such a time as the city council would. He said the company had sufficient competent men to place on the cars at any time when the city gave the word. There will be a meeting of the directors this afternoon. It is thought the city council will probably give the directors at that meeting some idea as to when they would consider it reasonably safe to again move the cars through the streets without provoking any acts of hostility.

Week-End Arrests Totalled Five
Man 42 Years of Age Charged With Indecent Assault on Two Little Girls.
The luxurious suite of cells placed at the disposal of the public, through the benevolence of the city fathers, housed the largest quota of week-end prisoners that has been featured for some time. They totalled five and were kept company by three protectionists.
Ruben Higgins, aged 42, was arrested on suspicion of an indecent assault committed on the person of Frances Vaig, aged seven years, and on Della Vaig, aged five. The assault was alleged to have been committed in the basement of a house at the corner of Brooks and St. Andrew's street, west end.
James Archibald Frith was arrested for being drunk and a charge of breaking the glass in a door at the Asia Hotel was preferred against him by the proprietor, Lee Shaw.
Two drunks were arrested Saturday, and three protectionists were also welcomed. One drunk registered during the Sabbath.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RESCUES MILD HORSE
The fire department was called out to rescue a horse mired in a frog pond on Millidge Avenue yesterday afternoon. The alarm was rung in from box 133 at 1:20 p.m. A stout cable was attached to the equine and used to release it from its embarrassing position.
The animal belongs to William Barr and became mired through being chased by little boys who wanted to see it run.

TWELVE DEATHS
Twelve deaths were reported to the sub-district board of health last week, due to the following causes: Senility, nephritis, malarium, convulsions, typhoid fever, heart disease, hepatic cirrhosis, chronic gastritis, cancer of stomach, carcinoma of intestinal tract, tetanus neonatorum, intussusception of bowels, one each.

C. H. Peters Receives Painful Injuries
Now at Public Hospital Suffering from Neck and Shoulder Strains.
C. H. Peters received painful and quite serious injuries at the Standard about ten o'clock last Friday evening, when he stepped off the veranda of his brother-in-law's Fred Gorso's summer home at the Standard.
Owing to the darkness, Mr. Peters was unable to see where he was going and fell heavily, injuring his neck and shoulders. The ambulance was summoned to bring him into the city Saturday afternoon, and he was conveyed to the General Public Hospital. He was reported to be resting quite comfortably last evening, but it is thought that it will be some time before he will be able to be around again.

"What It Means To Be A Canadian"
Patriotic Address to United Congregations at Stone Church Sunday Morning.
"What it means to be a Canadian," was the subject of an inspiring sermon preached on Sunday morning by Rev. Canon Kurling, at St. John's (Stone) church before the united congregations of St. Paul's and Stone. The address dealt with the richness of Canada's resources, the strength of her geographical position, and the fine character of her people, reminding those present that on Dominion Day such things should be remembered. The lesson drawn was that integrity should mark the inhabitants of a land so blessed by God, and that loyalty and honor should be shown by all Canadians, with thankfulness to the Almighty who has given them so glorious a heritage.
During the offering, a solo was very beautifully rendered by A. Bourdon, of Ottawa, who sang "The Lord is My Light" (Oley Speaks). D. Arnold Fox presiding at the organ.

Little Doing In The Police Court
Only One Arrest Made Over Holiday—Order Prevailing Highly Commendable.
Sitting Magistrate George Henderson occupied the bench in the police court Saturday in the absence of Magistrate Ritchie, who spent the holiday and week-end in St. Stephen. His Honor had but one prisoner before him, the sole arrest made during the holiday, William McEwen, who was charged with wandering about late at night and being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself.
The prisoner was arrested by Detective Saunders, who testified that he had made the arrest after meeting the accused on the street two evenings in succession, both times at a very late hour. The man was remanded at the request of the detective department awaiting investigation.
Magistrate Henderson took occasion to remark that the order evidence in the city in view of prevailing circumstances was highly commendable.

Delegates Return From Nat'l Council
Splendid Meetings and Lavish Hospitality Reported from Women's Convention.
Glowing accounts of splendid meetings and lavish hospitality are brought by Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond, who presided last evening at the meetings of the National Council of Women at Calgary, Alberta. Mrs. William McAvity and Miss Anne Thibault, who were at St. John delegates, returned home on Saturday. They paid a visit to Vancouver. Mrs. J. Willard Smith will return later.
Among some of the most interesting speakers heard at the meetings, Mrs. Raymond told the Standard, were Mrs. Nellie McClung, Judge Murphy, Judge Jameson, Mrs. Gordon Wright and Dr. Stowe-Guesen. Some of the delightful entertainments included a reception given by the city of Calgary at the residence of Lady Louisa; a reception at the home of Mrs. Wendell McLean, and the entertainment by the Women's Canadian Club. At a banquet at the Palmer Hotel Mrs. E. M. Murray, of Halifax, responded to the toast to the press in a brilliant speech. Mrs. Sanford, National President, gave dinner for the provincial vice-presidents which Mrs. Raymond attended, representing New Brunswick. Mrs. Sanford also entertained officers of the council.
Mrs. Raymond's account of the account of the visit paid to the ranch of P. Burns where the delegates to the Council saw cattle branding and other activities typical of ranching in the West.

Church Service Held At Fair Vale
Summer Colony Will Have Sermons by Prominent Preachers This Season.
The Sunday services held last year in the Outing Club's Hall at Fair Vale, which proved so successful, were again resumed yesterday to almost capacity house.
These services will be continued all through the summer. To say they were gaining in popularity was clearly proven yesterday when the number present was in the vicinity of fifty per cent. more than the opening service of last year.
The preacher at yesterday's service was the Rev. Harry B. Clark, of the Portland street Methodist church, who preached an able sermon, talking for his text St. Luke 19 chapter, 2nd verse. The soloist was Miss Ethel Parlee.
The Rev. Archdeacon Raymond, who is visiting at Fair Vale, was present at the meeting and expressed himself as very much impressed with the holding of such services.

RETURN BICYCLE
A bicycle was taken from the rear end of the Pine and Ten Cent Store, South Market street, Saturday morning. If it is returned immediately to Peter McKenzie, of Woolworth's, no questions will be asked.

Crowds Jammed In Prince Wm. Street
Thousands Block Traffic in Front of Standard Office to Get Fight Returns.
Thousands got their story of the big Dempsey-Carpenter fight from The Standard on Saturday afternoon. Prince William street was jammed with a crowd of spectators before the battlers had entered the ring, and the number increased steadily until the announcement of the knockout came. So large was the gathering that police were sent to the scene to endeavor to keep a passage for automobiles, but sometimes they had great difficulty in securing space for the cars to pass.
It was a Dempsey crowd. Every announcement from the ringside giving the champion the better of the battle was greeted with roars of delight, while the few blows hit by the challenger received little welcome. A mighty roar went up when the victory of Dempsey was announced by phone from a Standard window. The battle was being announced in St. John about six or seven minutes after the blows were being struck in Jersey City.

TO TELL ABOUT
is at most times easy, but to endeavor to tell about Cotton, Gingham, Voile and Organdy Dresses as pretty as these to be seen at Dykeman's, is no easy matter—there are simply so many nice things to say that one does not know where to start, they're so different, the cut of the whole affair is out of the ordinary. Collars of eyelet work, vests of the same new design; others have cuffs, the over-jacket effect so new to Gingham fabrics, dainty Swiss laces in other cases have been called in to complete some Voile Dresses. Organdy, though, are all very plain, the shades alone being the new thing at the convenient store.
