STRONG REASONS FOR EXPECTING RECOVERY! To Us.

Bulletins From the President's Bedside Continue to Give His Friends Good Grounds for Hope.

One More Day of Improvement and the Dread of Peritonitis Will Have Practically Disappeared --- Dramatic Scenes in Connection With the Arrest of the Assassin---The President's Great Courage and Tenderness---He Saved the Life of His Would-Be Murderer---Chicago Socialists Vote

On Saturday. THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION. Buffalo, Sept. 7 .- President McKinley's condition is extremely grave. The crisis will probably come within 24 hours. While his physicians hold out hope, and the developments of the day have been encouraging in that none of the symptoms of peritonitis or blood-poisoning, which they so experience with similar wounds causes much anxiety and the physiians shake their heads gloomily when they speak of the future. Although their distinguished patient's condition has been favorable throughout the day, they do not desire to buoy the country up with false hopes. Inflammation is what they fear, and at the first sign in that direction the country must steel itself for the blow. For the time being the bullet of the assassin, which is still in the body, is a secondary consideration. While it has not been absolutely located, they all agree that after passing through the abdominal cavity and perforating both walls of the stomach perhaps it lodged in the fleshy muscles of the back, and if necessity required it could be easily located with the Roentgen ray and extracted. They agree that shock of the first operation than that the bullet should be removed Peritonitis is what they dread, and after that septic poisoning and sup-puration of the wound. The crucial puration of the wound. point will come within 48 hours, possibly sooner. Indeed, one of the attending physicians said today that if sider the chance of recovery exceedingly good. Several of his colleagues, however, are not so sanguine.

PRESIDENT DOZED MOST OF THE

DAY. The president has been dozing and drowsily throughout the major porion of the day. Two physicians and two trained nurses are constantly at his bedside. He has not yet fully re-covered from the effects of the ether which was administered to him. He was under the influence of the powerful anesthetic over an hour. The result is that although perfectly rational when conscious, he dozes much of the time. Absolute quiet and freedom from excitement the physicians regard as the great essential now and visitor are righly excluded. Not a cabinet officer, not even Secretary Cortelyou, was allowed in the sick chamber to

With the exception of the physicians and attendants, Mrs. McKinley was the only person who crossed the threshold. The president asked to see her and his physicians did not have the heart to refuse his request. She was there but a few minutes, seated at his bedside, as he in his devotion to her in her illness has so often been at hers. Mrs. McKinley had been warned not to talk, and the president and his wife exchanged only a few words. It was only when he asked her to be brave for both their sakes that she faltered and almost broke down. With choking throat and brimming eyes she promised with a bow of her head. Almost immediately thereafter she was led from the room by Dr. Rixey. Mrs. McKinley throughout this trying ordeal has shown remarkable fortitude. She has been mistress of herself and her sorrow and has been almost as calm and self-possessed as the president himself. And no more than that can be said. Throughout it all the president has been cooler than those about him. He was so yesterday when the pistol was discharged against his breast, and he has been so today, even in his semi-consciousness. When Dr. Rixey told Mrs. McKin-

Down a Resolution of Regret.

HE HAS TAKEN NO NOURISH-MENT. The president has taken no nourishment since he was shot. Water is given to him at intervals, but no food kind as yet. His physicians say that he has plenty of reserve strength to draw upon, and for the present neither nourishment nor artificial stimulants are necessary. medicine except digitalis has been given, and that was administered to quiet his pulse which mounted this morning to 146. Both his respiration and temperature, although they varied considerably during the day, were considered satisfactory.

On Sunday. ALL REPORTS ENCOURAGING. Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(Evening)— Throughout this quiet, peaceful Sab- ed all the time.' bath every word that came from the big vine-clad house in Delaware avenue, in which the stricken chief maglife, was reassuring, and tonight the chances of his recovery are so greatly felt since it entered the president's it is now of more importance that the improved that all of those who have president should recover from the kept patient vigil at his bedside feel improved that all of those who have strongly that his life will be spared. The developments of last night and today were dreaded, but hour after hour passed and the distinguished patient, struggling there beneath the watchful eyes of physicians and trainno signs of inflammation appeared be-fore tomorrow night he would con-symptom. Five times during the day the eminent doctors and surgeons assembled for consultation and each time the verdict was unanimous that change had occurred was for the better. Not the slightest premonitory symptom of peritonius appeared the fresh hope born with the morning, grew stronger and stronger as the day advanced, until toward evening the confidence expressed in the president's recovery seemed almost too sanguine. Dr. Charles McBurnie, the famous New York surgeon, who had been summoned in consultation, after a thorough examination, in which he said he had found not a single unfavorable symptom, joined in the last afternoon bulletin, which declared the president's condition was satisfactory to all the physicians present.

NOT OUT OF DANGER. And yet, despite all this optimism, the president of the republic is by no means out of danger. Not one of his physicians, not one of his advisers, who is admitted to the inner councils, has the temerity to go so far as that. But if the president continues to improve for one more day the danger of peritonitis, which is most dreaded, will have practically disappeared. Yesterday one of the doctors thought 48 hours would be the limit of the danger from that source, but his more conservative colleagues believe at least 24 hours, possibly 36 from this time must elapse before the possibility of peritonitis shall have vanished. That disposed of, still other complications may arise. Blood poisoning might set in or an abcess form where the bullet is imbedded in the muscles of the tack. Thus far the ball of the assassin, which is still in the body, gives the physicians no anxiety, but if the slightest inflammation appears in the region of the lead it will be immediately extracted. HAD NATURAL SLEEP.

All the president's reserve force is needed now to resist the danger of peritonitis and septic poisoning. sides, if inflammation does not set in around the bullet, it will soon become encysted. All the effects of the ether which was administered on the exposition grounds had disappeared this morning and the president's mind was perfectly clear during the time he was he enjoyed natural sleep. While he was still more or less under the influence of anesthetic, his slumber was restless and disturbed and did him little good. Today, between 9 and 4 p.m., he had the solace of natural slumber for about four hours, and the physicians stated unofficially that his sleep had been quiet and reposeful and had helped the sufferer a great deal. so for the first time nourishment was administered. It was in liquid form, and was injected hypodermically avoid the possibility of irritating the walls of the stomach where the sutures are healing. his secretary toward him, he looked toward the prostrate creature in the aisle and almost pleadingly, but yet with authority, said: "Let no one hurt him." There were those who thought they were the president's last words, and They hasteded to obey him. Without in any degree reflecting on the forbearance of the guards and soldiers, the plain truth is that the intervention of the president saved the life that There is none deny that had the seal of death silenced the president's lips death would have come swiftly to the figure on the floor. It was an inspiring commentary on the crime that the man who did the deed fell groveling, while the president stood erect. Even before the ambulance Director of Works Carlton, at the telephone, was summoning surgeons to meet the president when he should have arrived at the hospital. Parker, the big negro, who had helped to seize the assassin, stepping over to where he could see the president, looked at him, and and then, whirling toward Czolgosz, exclaimed: Oh, God, take him away!" Men knew what that meant, and they picked Czolgosz up from the floor as if he were the offal of a pestilence, and half dragged, half carried him out of the presence of the president. In William McKinley never was so truly the president as when in the face of death he looked pittingly after those who bore his assailant out. AN EYE-WITNESS TO THE CRIME. Chicago, Sept. 7 .- The names of the men arrested last night on the charge of being implicated in the plot to assassinate President McKinley are: Abram Isaak, Abraham Isaak, jun., Hippolyte Havel; Henry Treveglio, Clemens Pfeutzner, Alfred Schneider. The examination of the prisoner lasted until early this morning. Capt. Colleran, chief of the detective bureau, said: "The raid was made in consequence of a telegram from secret service officials in Buffalo asking us to investigate and learn the whereabouts of the headquarters of a paper known as the Free Soclety. We traced the owner to the house at 515 Carroll avenue, and there found the persons arrested, apparently in the mids; of an important meeting. All the prisoners admit they are Anarchists, and do not hesitate to say that they have no regard for the laws as now enforced. Some of the men, I learned, have served terms in prisons in their native countries for attempted crimes, inspired by their anarchistic beliefs. PRAYED FOR McKINLEY'S Ministers Ask That Divine Presence Be With the President.

Eulogize Him as a Man of the Highest Character.

The Black Deed at Buffalo Spoken of in All Churches, Where Bulletins Regarding the Patient Were Read.

Bulletins regarding President Mc-Kinley were read in nearly all the city churches yesterday. Every preacher in the city made reference to the lamentable affair at Buffalo, and prayed | tion. that the president's life be spared. Rev. W. J. Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church expressed the general sympathy and sorrow he was assured all people felt who were within hearing of the attempt at assassination of President McKinley. He spoke of the insanity of a man who could fancy to better matters by such an act. It was, however, a lesson in the importance of trying to have all affairs carried on in a just and honorable way, because no matter how much we might condemn the assassin. we should remember that the class of people to whom he belonged were at war with present conditions, and that there was some ground for their feeling, although it was utterly absurd to think of improving matters by such deeds as these. He hoped that God would be pleased to spare President McKinley, who, from all he had read of him, was a man of the highest pos sible character, and had very faithfully discharged the duties of his high Rev. George J. Bishop, pastor of the First Methodist Church, expressed the deep sympathy of the Canadian peo-ple with the president and his invalid wife and the whole nation in the des-his last address, made at the Pan-American, where he breathed an earnest prayer that God would graciously vouchsafe prosperity, happiness and peace to all the neighbors of the republic, and like blessing to all the peoples and powers of the earth. This, said the reverend speaker, indicated the broad, liberal spirit of the president. Rev. Mr. Bishop expressed thanksgiving to God that he had frustrated the purpose of evil-designing men, and said Canadians joined in the universal prayer for his speedy re-

Rev. Dr. Johnston, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, in his morning sermon, said that the people of Canada were thankful that lawlessness had not been permitted to be successful in its de-sires. We were thankful that a good man, as well as a great ruler, been spared. He prayed that God's presence might be with the president, and that the people who in God's providence had been led to such greatness in recent days might be blessed and guided at this time, and that Mrs. McKinley might be supported in her

LOST HER LIFE IN NIAGARA WHIRLPOOL

Carlisle Graham Successfully Swam the Lower Rapids,

But His Partner, Miss Willard, Lost Her Life.

C. P. R. Train Derailed at Rush Lake Station-Fifteen Persons Received Injuries-Other Casualties.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 9.-Carlisle Graham successfully swam the lower rapids, from the whirlpool to Lewiston last evening. His partner, Miss Willard, lost her life. She made the trip through the whirlpool rapids in Graham's barrel, and reached the whirlpool in good shape, but there the barrel remained for a long time, all attempts to catch it failing. She was finally taken from the barrel almost lifeless. A doctor was summoned, but she was dead before he arrived. DROWNED AT SHARBOT LAKE. Kingston, Ont., Sept. 9.—A drowning accident occurred at Sharbot Lake on Friday, when the 10-year-old son of J. Quebec Man Cannot Be Too Grateful for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Elyear, Que., Sept. 9, (Special).—A feature about the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills is the great gratitude they arouse in those whom they restore to health. Health and sickness are as different from each other as happiness and unhappiness, misery and joy. Is any wonder that those who are transported from sickness to happiness and joy by Dodd's Kidney Pills are grateful to that wonderful medicine? And as Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured people all over the world, one may judge of the multitude which bless the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Here is what a Quebec man says:
"I thank Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured me of Kidney disease which forced me to rise every hour at night Today I am perfectly well. I sleep without rising. You can believe me I am glad to have regained my health. Thanks a thousand times to Dodd's

THE TALK OF VISITORS

Magnificent Display of Heintzman & Co. at London's Big Fair Creates Wide-Spread Comment and Admiration.

The great name made by the Heintzman & Co. piano in all parts of Canada has excited the widest kind of interest with visitors to the London Exhibition. People say frankly that they have been impressed for years with the fact that whenever a great artist has come to Canada the Heintzman & Co. piano has been the one choice. It must possess great merit to win this universal commendation and indorse-

Some excellent specimens of these pianos are found in the Heintzman & Co. exhibit. Special among them may be mentioned an upright piano in handsome French burl walnut case. It may be said of this case, perhaps, that it is severely plain, but in this plainness is its beauty. The lines are very artistic, and the French burl walnut of which it is made is one of the finest pieces of wood of the kind ever imported into Canada.

But there is not a piano in the entire exhibit that does not stand out dis-tinctive by itself. The beautiful tonal effects of these planes ever catch the ear of the lover of pure music. The fair is bringing many visitors to examine these pianos, both at the exhibition grounds and at the handsome warerooms of the firm, at 217 Dundas street. Mr. Croden, the London manager, is unwearied in his attention to the wishes of the many who want to learn of this beautiful Canadian piano

HEAVY GALE ON SATURDAY!

Several Vessels Wrecked Near

Some 56 Seamen Rescued at Different Life-Saving Stations on the Lake.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 8 .- After one of the roughest nights ever known on Lake Huron, made worse by a heavy pall of smoke that overhung the water. six vessels were wrecked on the beach, three miles north of here. The crews of four of them were rescued by the lifesaving crew during the night-38 persons all told-and the crews of the other two are still on their vessels, but in no danger. Several other craft were in grave danger during the night, but were extricated this morning

THE WRECKED VESSELS. The wrecked craft are the Wawatam and consort, whaleback 102; Pauley and consort, Amaranth; barge Paige and tug Sarnia. In the smoke and gale their masters lost their bearings. Great clouds of smoke from the forest fires north of here obscured every buoy and light from view. The lake was lashed into giant waves by the wind.

The Wawatam and consort were the first to go ashore, and it is thought that both vessels will be almost total losses, as they are high on the beach. Their crews were saved.

FIFTY-SIX LIVES SAVED. All told, 56 seamen were rescued at different life-saving stations on the lake. A message from Harbor Beach, Mich., reports the stranding of the schooner John Wesley, north-bound from Port Huron to Alpena, with a crew of eight, one and a half miles south of Harbor Beach life-saving station, at 5 p.m. yesterday. All on board were saved by the terday. All on board were saved by the terday. All on board were saved by the life-saving crew.

This dispatch reports the rescue of the crew of five persons from the schooner Vienna, of Beamsville, Ont., which was stranded at 4 o'clock this morning a mile from Harbor Beach life-saving station.

The force at Point Aux Barques, Mich.

reports the stranding of the schooner Andrew Jackson, from Alpena for Port Huron, two and a half miles east of Point Aux Barques, at 8 p.m. The crew of seven were saved by the life-saving station. SWEPT BY A HUGE WAVE. New York, Sept. 7.—The steamboat Grand Republic, on her return trip from Rockaway Beach last night, was struck by a huge wave just after leaving her dock. Her decks were swept, one child was killed, and six or seven persons were injured. The boat continued to this city.

CARADOC.

On Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 28, very happy event was witnessed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seburn, lot 2. con. 2. Caradoc, it being the marriage of their daughter Addie to Wm. Morrow, of Glencoe. The ceremony was performed in a shady bower on the spaous lawn. The bride was richly attired and looked charming. She was tended by her sister, Miss Effle, while groom's best man was his brother obert, of Strathroy. The presents to the bride were not only numerous, but costly, and show to some degree at least the high esteem in which she is held by her many friends. After the ouple were pronounced man and wife by Rev B. Snell, of Melbourne, the company of invited guests, consisting of about 60 in number, sat down to an elaborate tea provided by the hostess. The young couple left to begin life in their new home near Glencoe. We desire to express our very best wishes to them and trust that their whole life may be as full of sunshine as was their wedding day, writes a correspondent.

Public Expectation Rising

The interest in the royal visit is becoming intense. This is shown by the activity of municipal bodies and in the generous rivalry between individ-uals, but perhaps the best indication of a widespread interest is the extra-ordinary demand that has sprung up for the Royal Welcome Number of the Montreal Star, which is to be published as a national souvenir on the arrival of the royal party. The Montreal Star has made a national repu-tation in the production of commemorative numbers, and the coming Royal Welcome Number is sure to be well As a national souvenir the Montreal Star's Welcome Number is likely to be in great demand, even long after it is out of print.

HEIR TO MILLIONS

Yet Henry Bronson Killed Himself Because

of Poverty. La Crosse, Wis., Sept 9.-Attorney O. R. Skaar returned to this city yes-terday after searching for and locating Henry Bronson in Salt Lake City, who, though leading the life of a com-mon day laborer, was the heir to an estate in Norway valued at several millions. At Salt Lake Attorney Skaar was informed Bronson had committed suicide as the result of his extreme poverty a few weeks previous to his visit. Bronson had spent nearly all his life among the western harvest fields, penniless, yet a millionaire.

TRUE BLUES GRAND LODGE. Toronto Junction, Sept. 6 .- The grand lodge of True Blues will meet next year at Orillia. The contest was between Ottawa, Gananoque, Orillia and the Soo. The report of the orphanage board showed that during the year 15 children were cared for. Twelve were sent back to the parents, one was adopted, one died, and for one a home was found. There were still 23 children in the institution.

WALLACEBURG HAS A $1,000 FIRE. Wallaceburg, Ont., Sept. 9 .- Shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening fire broke out in Steinhoff & Gordon's new stave and hoop mill. The flames, fanned by a fresh wind, spread so rapidly that the men in charge could do nothing, and in a very short time the mill was a wreck. This mill has only been running about three months, having been fitted out since their large mill was burned in April last. Loss about $2,000; only some $2,000 insurance.

STORY TOLD BY CZOLGOSZ

The Would-Be Murderer of President McKinley

Declares He Planned the Shooting Several Days in Advance.

Was "Burning To Do Something for Anarchy"-Denies That He Had Any Accomplices—Was Well Known in Cleveland as a Socialist.

Chicago, Sept. 7 .- A special to the Daily News from Buffalo says: The statement of Leon Czolgosz, to the police, signed by the prisoner, is as follows: "I was born in Detroit nearly tweny-nine years ago. My parents were Russian Poles. They came here fortytwo years ago. I got my education in the public schools of Detroit, and then went to Cleveland, where I got work. In Cleveland I read books on socialism, and met a great many socialists. I was in the west. After being in Cleveland for several years I went to Chicago, where I remained several months, after which I went to Newburg, on the outskirts of Cleveland, and went to work in the Newburg wire mills.

Cleveland, Detroit and other western cities, and I suppose I became more or less bitter. Yes, I know I was bitter. I never had much luck at anything, and this preyed upon me; but what started the craze to kill was a lecture I heard some little time ago by Emma Goldman. She was in Cleveland, and I and other anarchists went to hear her. She set me on fire.

"Her doctrine that all rulers should be exterminated was what set me to thinking, so that my head nearly split with the pain. Miss Goldman's words went right through me, and when I left the lecture I had made up my mind that I would have to do something heroic for the cause I loved. HIS ARRIVAL IN BUFFALO.

"Eight days ago, while I was in Chicago, I read in a Chicago newspaper of President McKinley's visit to the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. That day I bought a ticket for Buffalo, and got there with the determination to do something, but I did not know just what. I thought of shooting the president, but I had not formed a plan.

"I went to live at 1,078 Broadway, which is a saloon and hotel. John Nowak, a Pole, a sort of politician, who has led his people here for years, owns it. I told Nowak that I came to see the fair. He knew nothing about what was setting me crazy. I went to the exposition grounds couple of times a day.

"Not until Tuesday morning did the resolution to shoot the president take hold of me. It was in my heart—there was no escape for me. I could not have escaped it if my life was staked. There were thousands of people in town on Tuesday. I heard it was President's Day. All those people seemed bowing to the great ruler. I made up my mind to kill that ruler bought a 32-calibre revolver and loaded it.

"On Tuesday night I went to the fair grounds and was near the railroad gate when the presidential party arrived. I tried to get near him, but the police forced me back. They forced everybody back so that the great ruler could pass. I was close to the president when he got into the grounds, but was afraid to attempt the assassination, because there were so many men in the bodyguard that watched them. I was not afraid of them or that I should get hurt, but afraid I might be seized and that my chance would be gone forever.

WAS LOSING HOPE. "Well, he went away that time, and The President Touched His Wound and I went home. On Wednesday I went to the grounds and stood right near the president, right under him, near the stand from which he spoke. "I thought half a dozen times of shooting while he was speaking, but could not get close enough. I was afraid I might miss and then the great crowd was always jostling, and I was afraid lest my aim fail. I waited until yesterday, and the president got into his carriage again, and a lot of men were about him and formed a cordon that I could not get through. was tossed about by the crowd, and my spirits were getting pretty low. was almost hopeless that night as I went home. "Yesterday morning I went again to the exposition grounds. Emma Goldman's speech was still burning me up. I waited near the central entrance for the president, who was to board his special train from that gate, but the police allowed nobody but the president's party to pass where the train waited. So I stayed at the grounds all day waiting. "During yesterday I first thought of hiding my pistol under my handker-chief. I was afraid if I had to draw it from my pocket I would be seen and seized by the guards. I got to the waited at the spot where the reception

THE SHOOTING.

"Then he came-the president-the uler-and I got in line and trembled until I got right up to him, and then I shot twice through my white hand-kerchief. I would have fired more, but I was stunned by a blow in the face—a frightful blow that knocked me down-and then everybody jumped on me. I thought I would be killed, and was surprised the way they treated Czolgosz ended his story in utter exhaustion. When he had about conclded he was asked: "Did you really mean to kill the president?" "I did." was the cold-blooded reply.

"What was your motive? What good could it do?" he was asked.
"I am an anarchist. I am a disciple of Emma Goldman. Her words set me on fire," he replied, with not the slightest tremor.

"I deny that I have had an accomplice at any time." Czolgosz told District Attorney Penney. "I don't regret my act, because I was doing what I could for the great cause. I am not connected with the Paterson group, or confidents; no one to help me. I was | paled again at the sight of the blood, NO CLUE TO A PLOT.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 7. — Detective Sergeant James Doran, of the Cleveland police department, stated tonight that rigid examination of a couple of that rigid examination of a couple of friends of Czolgosz today failed to re-vetl any indication of a plot to kill the president. Sergeant Doran said that he is still working hard on the case, and has two more men on the list to make a searching investigation.

A RED-HOT SOCIALIST. Several years ago Czolgosz was em-ployed in a Newburg mill. Among his fellow-workmen there he was known as Fred Neiman. He is a member of Forest City Castle Lodge, No. 22, of the Golden Eagle.

His former associates in the mill describe him as a German Pole of about 26 years of age. They says that he was a queer acting man, but was known to have a most violent temper. It is said that the would-be assassin is a strong infidel and a red-hot Socialist.

Has No Remorse.

SO HE TELLS THE POLICE. Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Leon Czolgosz, who shot President McKinley, insists that he alone is responsible for his crime. He says that he talked the matter over in advance in a general way with his friends, but that he was not advised by them, and that there was no plot or conspiracy to take the life of the president in which anyone else had a part. He declined to furnish the names of the men with whom he discussed the crime of Friday.

QUESTIONED FOR SIX HOURS. Czolgosz submitted to six hours of examination and questioning at the hands of the police officials today, and was tired out when they locked him up for the night. The lengthy examination of the prisoner was fruitless in so far as his own individual fate is concerned, for while he told nothing that would implicate anyone else in his crime, he went over the scene at the Temple of Music when he shot the president again and again, completing a confession as ample as the law ever exacted. He even went to "During the last five years I have the extent of illustrating to the offihad as friends anarchists in Chicago, cials the manner in which he shot the president, and told with manifest pride how he deceived the president and his protectors with the bandaged hand that held the revolver. The admission that he had discussed the crime in advance with friends was finally drawn from him, but there he stopped and could not be moved. He was in the hands of a group of shrewd examiners, and they set trap upon trap to snare him, but the effort to break him down failed. The police say that in the end, when he comes to a true appreciation of his position, he will break down and fully confess. In addition to the examination to which the prisoner was subjected, city and federal detectives spent the day in scouring the city for some trace of possible confederates. They did not succeed in connecting the prisoner with any of the socialists who make their home here, and by nightfall had abandoned the theory that he was assisted by anyone here. They also showed an inclination to give up the belief that a confederate preceded the prisoner in the line leading up to the president.

The general theory now held by the detectives is that a circle of Czolgosz's associates plotted the murder of President McKinley and that he was picked by lot or induced by persuasion to carry out the conspiracy. They say that he lacks the shrewdness to have planned and executed the crime as he DOESN'T WANT A LAWYER. Czolgosz's trial has been taken up at Cleveland, and it is expected the inquiry there will let in some valuable light as to his companions and possible fellow-conspirators. The prisoner is kept secluded, and as a result of a suggestion from Secretary Root, the police inquiry will be made as secretly as possible. The prisoner has not retained counsel, and when the sub-said that he did not desire a lawyer to defend him. The police said that when he got over the idea that he was a great hero among his fellow-anarchists he would very likely resort to the usual means to avoid punishment for his crime. It is stated that Czolgosz is a native of Alpena, Mich., in 1881 or 1882.

REPORTER'S STORY OF THE TRAGEDY!

Paled When He Saw Blood on His Fingers.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.-A newspaper reporter, who stood just behind the president when the shooting occurred, gave one of the clearest accounts related so far. He said:

"I stood about ten feet from the president, and saw Czolgosz approach him. The latter had his right hand drawn up close to his breast, and a white linen handkerchief wrapped about it, which bore the appearance of a bandage. He extended his left hand, and I am quite sure the president thought he was injured, for he leaned forward and looked at him in a sympathetic way.

forward and fired. I saw the flash and smoke, followed by the report, and then heard the second shot. Instantly John Parker, the colored man, and Secret Agent Foster were upon Czelgosz, Temple of Music the first one, and and they bore him to the floor. Czolgosz, lying prostrate, still retained a hold on his revolver, and seemed to be trying to get his arm free to fire again.

"The president did not fall. raised his right hand and felt of his breast and seemed to be maintaining his upright position only by wonderful effort. I am sure he did not speak at that moment. He gazed fixedly at his assailant with a look which I cannot describe, but which I shall never forget, and in a moment reeled back into the arms of Secretary Cortelyou. Czolgosz's revolver had by that time been knocked from his hand, and someone had picked up the burning handkerchief which lay at his feet. Czolgosz was picked up, forced back and again knocked down.

PALED AT SIGHT OF BLOOD. "Mr. Cortelyou and Mr. Milburn supported the president and led him to a chair. I heard him ask that the news be kept from his wife, and a moment later when Secretary Cortelyou asked him if he felt much pain he said: 'This wound hurts me very much.' seemed to be fairly easy as he rested in the chair and some of the fading color came back to his face. He reached his right hand inside of his with those anarchists who sent Bresci shirt, and when he withdrew it his to Italy to kill Humbert. I had no fingers were tipped with blood. He and I think he fainted Senor Aspiroz, Mexican minister. broke through the crowd and, rushing up to the president, cried: 'My God, Mr. President, are you shot?" The minister seemed about to throw himself at the feet of the president, but was restrained. The president's answer came very slowly, and in a halting, subdued voice. He said: 'Yes, I believe I am.' THE PRESIDENT'S SUPERB COUR-AGE. "The president was attracted by the scuffle of the officers who were dragging the would-be murderer away, but he did not speak. His head rested on the arm of Mr. Milburn, and he seemed only partly conscious. His courage was superb, and while he was conscious he was the master of the pain which he suffered. When the ambulance came and a stretcher was brought in he started forward and partially regained his feet unassisted. I heard not a word from the assailant of the president. He was struck down the moment he fired the second shot, and if he did speak it probably was in exclamation at the very rough treatment he was receiving."

Pittsburger Foolishly Cheered McKinley's Assailant-Former St. Thomas Man

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 7.—In front of one of the builetin boards last night an unknown man yelled: "Hurrah for the man who shot McKinley!"

In an instant he was knocked down, and with a hundred men trying to get a kick at him he was in a fair way to be killed. Somehow during the excitement he managed to get through the crowd and ran through Diamond alley with a mob at his heels. In desperation he made a dash for a passing trolley car, and, fortunately for him, hung on until the conductor dragged him inside.

Stewart, formerly doctor of the board of health, who came here a year ago from St. Thomas, Ont., the doctor was made the victim of an assault this morning. Police Justice Kelly asked Dr. Stewart if he had said "Hurrah for the man who shot McKinley!" and, supposing he had received an affirmative answer, the police justice hauled off with his fist and landed heavily on the doctor's face. The news of the doctor's remark passed like wildfire over the city, and he was in danger of personal violation. remark passed like wildfire over the city, and he was in danger of personal violence, and has been advised to leave the city on the first train for his own safety. The doctor claims that while he was coming down the elevator from his office he looked over the shoulder of the elevator boy, and read from a newspaper a remark made by the anarchists in Chicago, "Hurrah for the man who shot McKinley!" not expressing it as his own remark made by the anarchists in Chicago, "Hurrah for the man who shot McKinley!" not expressing it as his own sentiment. The elevator boy and another passenger gave currency to the story, and the doctor, instead of explaining his position when asked about it, allowed it to pass as if he had uttered the un-American sentiment. The True Relief.

For Internal and External Use. For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain, we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shuts up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

President McKinley.

The reassuring reports concerning the favorable condition of the wounded President will be read with satisfaction by the civilized world. most recent accounts state that so far, there are no evidences of peritonitis, and that the chances of his recovery are greatly improved. This is the verdict of five of the most eminent physicians in the United States. The work of lecating and probing for the bullet has not yet been begun. An X-ray machine has been ordered, and will be used in case of emergency. The immense vitality of the President will

Mrs. McKinley, though impaired in health, is standing the shock remarkably well. She is the only one, apart from professional attendants, who has entered her husband's room. Vice-President Roosevelt has arrived, but apart from an expression of profound sympathy for his wounded chief, has made no official statements.

AN HISTORIC The would-be assassin, Czolgosz, has made a somewhat lengthy confession, which will be found elsewhere in this issue. His confession goes to confirm what, at the moment of the dastardly deed, was surmised. He is simply an anarchist, possessing all the characteristics which have come to be associated with the name. His desire, he states, was to kill the President, and he declares that his act was prompted by no selfish motives, but by the desire to render a service to mankind! It is significant to notice that Leon Czolgosz was a Russian Pole, who having come to this country to breathe an air of freedom from bureaucratic oppression, evidently had become so intoxicated with nihilism as to blind

The Champion Oarsman.

It is to be regretted that the great poat race for the championship of the world, rowed between Gaudaur, the Canadian, who has held the championship for several years, and George Towns, the Australian oarsman, who has recently been carrying all before him, should have been delayed from day to day by the rough condition of the water that prevailed at Rat Portage. We suppose the trouble could not be avoided, as Gaudaur, who has been living for some years at that town, claimed the right to nominate the waters on which he would defend the championship, and would hear of no other place than Rat Portage. Doubtless he thought that he was the Lincoln Parkway entrance to the thoroughly familiar with that water, Triumphal Causeway; he speke for it was more advantageous to him than another course, less straight, might be. people from a stand overlooking Nevertheless, we think that the very the Esplanade at the northwest best water available in the country, pylon; he reviewed a grand parand situated at some central point, ade of three regiments of troops in ought always to be chosen for contests of this sort. There, because of the fact that there is a beach with good rowing waters on both sides, which are never both rough at the same time, is the ideal course, and it would be well, in future races in Canada, to bear it in mind.

We refer to that other carsman, Tom Sullivan, the genial, good-natured trainer and associate of the new champion oarsman of the world. It is noteworthy that while the champion oarsmanship of the world for the time leaves Canada it does not go outside of the British dominions. Another son of the Empire has wrested it from the Canadian by superior oarsmanship, and it has been fairly won. We all must felicitate the winner, and trust that when he, too, comes to surrender, it may be to another Canadian.

ternational disputes. My fellow-citizens, trade statistics state that this country is in a state of unexampled prosperity. The figures are almost appalling. They show that we are utilizing our fields and forests and mines, and that we are furnishing profitable employment to the millions of workingmen throughout the United States, bringing comforts and happiness to their homes, and making it possible to lay by savings for old age and disability. That all the people are participating in this great prosperity shown in every American community and shown by the enormous and unprecedented deposits in our savings banks. Our duty in the care and security of these deposits and their safe investment demands the highest integrity and the best business capacity of those in charge of these deposi-tories of the people's earnings. NO NARROW, SORDID POLICY. We have a vast and intricate business, built up through years of toil and struggle, in which every part of the country has its stake, which will not permit of either neglect or of undue selfishness. No narrow, sordid policy will subserve it. Our industrial enterprises, which have grown to such great proportions, affect the homes and occupations of the people and the welfare of the country. Our capacity to produce has developed so enormously, and our products have so multiplied, that the problem of more markets requires our urgent and immediate attention. Only a broad and enlightened policy will keep what we have. No other policy will get more.

A WORD OF WARNING. In these times of marvelous business energy and gain we ought to be looking to the future, strengthening the weak places in our industrial and commercial systems, that we may be ready for any storm or strain.

By sensible trade arrangements will not interrupt our home production, we shall extend the outlets for our increasing surplus. A system which provides a mutual exchange of commodities is manifestly essential to the continued and healthful growth of our export trade. We must not repose in fancied security that we can for-ever sell everything and buy little or nothing. If such a thing were possible it would not be best for us or for those with whom we deal. should take from our customers such of their products as we can use without harm to our industries and labor. Reciprocity is the natural outgrowth are brought more and more in touch of our wonderful industrial develop-

THE FOREIGN MARKET. What we produce beyond our domestic consumption must have a vent abroad. The excess must be relieved through a foreign outlet, and we should sell everywhere we can find a market, and buy wherever the buying will enlarge our sales and production, and thereby make a greater demand for home labor.

GOOD WILL AND FRIENDLY TRADE RELATIONS.

The period of exclusiveness is past. The expansion of our trade and commerce is the pressing problem. Commercial wars are unprofitable. A policy of good will and friendly trade relations will prevent reprisals. Reciprocity treaties are in harmony with the spirit of the times; measures of retaliation are not.

If perchance some of our tariffs are nger needed for revenue or to encourage and protect our industries at home, why should they not be employed to extend and promote our markets abroad? Then, too, we have inadequate steamship service. New lines of steamers have already been put in commission between the Pacific coast ports of the United States and those on the western coasts of Mexico and Central and South America. coast of the United States and South American ports. One of the needs of the times is direct commercial lines from our vast fields of production to the fields of consumption that we have but barely touched. Next in advantage to having the thing to sell is to have the conveyance to carry it to the buyer. We must

ENCOURAGE MERCHANT MARINE We must have more ships. They must be built under the American flag, built and manned and owned by Americans. These will not only profitable in a commercial sense; they will be messengers of peace and amity wherever they go. We must build the Isthmian Canal, which will unite the two oceans and give a straight line of water communication with the western coasts of Central and South America and Mexico. And, finally, our interests in the Pacific Ocean will not longer tolerate delay in the construction of a cable which shall connect us with Hawaii and the Philippines.

PART OF THE PAN-AMERICAN. In the furtherance of these objects of national interest and concern you are performing an important part. Gentlemen, let us ever remember that our interest in in concord, not conflict, and that our real eminence rests in the victories of peace, not those of war. We hope that all who are represented here may be moved to higher and nobler effort for their own and the world's good, and that out of this exposition may come not only greater commerce and trade for us all, but, more essential than these, relations of mutual respect, confidence and friendship which will deepen and en-

RESPECTED CITIZEN DIED YESTERDAY.

Mr. Wm. Wanless Passes Away After a Long Iliness.

The death of Mr. William Wanless, sen., which occurred at his home on Dundas street east in this city on Sun-Dundas street east in this city on Sunday morning, removes one of London's most respected citizens. He was born derived bargains in our history: Handsome Table Cloths, bordered four sides, rich in pattern and quality, sizes 8-10, 8-12, 8-16. Start them as low as April 6, 1828, at Longformacus, Berwickshire, Scotland, and when quite young went to live in Edinburgh, where he remained until 1848, when with his brother, John Wanless, the well-known jeweler, of Toronto, he came to Canada. He remained in Toronto till the opening of the Great Western Railway, when he removed to Sarnia, and engaged in business successfully for over 21 years, during 15 of which he was a member of the town council. While there he was a personal friend and supporter of the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie. In 1883 he be-came assistant bursar at the London resign it about seven years ago.

His father, William Wanless, was schoolmaster at Longformacus from 1821 until 1866, and "Glimpses Into the Past in Lammermuir" inform us that after his funeral "that night in manse. after his funeral, "that night, in manse, farmer's parlor, shepherd's cottages scattered over the moor, and in vilhomes, words of affection and gratitude were expressed towards the worthy old man who had served a people well and faithfully for 45 years, and words of sympathy for the family who were no more to inhabit the dear schoolhouse that had been to them al-ways a pleasant home." * * * "A good man who has dwelt in one place for 45 years must from our natures have entwined himself round the hearts of those who were to him children, men and women." Out of a family of seven-teen, four died young and thirteen survived their parents. Andrew Wanless the well-known poet, who recently died in Detroit, was one of these, and of his mother and father wrote:

Asylum, and occupied that position until failing health compelled him to

"My mother! Thou were kind to me, Although the grave did early get thee; The tear still rises in my e'e; My mother! I will ne'er

'And there my other parent lies, Set free from care and carking strife; An honest man, s 'ate and wise,

As ever drew the breath of life.' The subject of this sketch and his brothers, John, Andrew, Robert, Alex-ander and James, and five sisters, all came to Canada. He was a typical Scotchman, while fond of Scotland, as oyal to Canada. He was warm-hearted and kind in all the relationships of life. It might as truthfully be said of him as was written by his brother Andrew. He loved

To wander by the murmuring stream. To pull the roses, fresh and fair, And learn to dream life's idle dream,

And build the castle in the air.' Sentiment had much to do with his ctions, and those who knew him always felt they had in him a genuine friend. He had been an invalid for over seven years, gradually failing day by day, until his death. His life has been a true one, and he leaves behind him his widow and seven sons and one daughters to mourn his loss: William, Alexander, Bruce, Norval and Freder ick are at home; John is at Moline, Ill. and Walter at Seattle. Mrs. Alexander Purdom is the only daughter. The funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon

WESTMINSTER ABBEY CHOIR

The Famous Organization at St. Paul's Cathedral in the Canadian London.

The Finest All-Round Recital of Sacred Music Ever Heard in Canada.

The famous Westminster Abbey Choir on Saturday gave a sacred recital in St. Paul's Cathedral in this city, preceded by a very brief service conducted by the Very Rev. Dean Innes-the "Amens" by the choir falling on the ear softly like some celestral finale to words of prayer. Great as was the success of the secular concert given by the Westminster Abbey Choir in the Auditorium, the sacred recital in St. Paul's was still more effective and complete. And naturally so. Here, the singers were on their native heath, so to speak; the stately and dignified music appropriate to a cathedral is their especial forte, and life-work; and in our fine St.Paul's they had fitting surroundings and back-

In the rendering of anthems and solos by the Abbey Choir, there was no ranting; no bellowing; no over-noisiness; nor any mere affectations of planissimo and forte, without reference to sentiment. The members of the choir showed careful individual tone culture, and also constant training in combined effect; like the All-England Eleven in cricket, each supporting and co-operating with the other. It was beyond all question the finest and most dignified recital of sacred music ever heard in Canada. In the numbers presented there was nothing meretricious; nothing vulgarizing; no sentimental rubbish more fitted for the concert hail than for a sacred edifice. It must have been a revelation to some how far and easily a moderate effort of voice can "carry" when accompanied by well-balanced intonation and purity of syllabic enunciation. There are those who think a message over a telephone can best be conveyed by in choirs and congregations, who apparently take heartiness and noise to be interchanageable terms. In this recital there was felt a something that had grown out of long continuations of national sentiment, musical tradition and religious feeling attached to the great historic fane of the English-speaking race. Then. there is such a thing as singing with the understanding.

The recital consisted as follows, and there was not a weak number: Anthem-"O, Saviour of the World".....Sir John Goss Sacred Song-"There is a Green Hill

Gounod Mr. Edward Branscombe. Solo and Chorus-"Incline Thine Ear" Mr. Robert Hilton and Choir.

Anthem—"Rejoice in the Lord.

Besides the opening voluntary (Wely), and a meditation on the organ (Gottschalk), Mr. G. B. Sippi played the accompaniments in a masterly

In the arrangements, special aid was given by Rev. Canon Dann, and by Churchwardens Messrs. Mattinson and strong, to whom, as to the authorities of St. Paul's in general, the hearty thanks of the public are due. The cathedral was crowded in every part, including the steps of the chancel, and many persons were compelled to stand. memory of the recital in St. Paul's will not be soon effaced.

Should the Westminster Abbey Choir favor our London of the New World with another visit, they will receive a right royal welcome

BIG FAIR IS COMPLETE IN EVERY DETAIL

Thousands of People Are Pouring Into London.

Today's Attendance Indicates a Large Citizens' Day.

Streets About the Grounds Crowded With Farmers' Rigs and Cars Are Jammed With People.

The great annual agricultural and industrial exhibition of Western Cntario is in full swing today, and thousands of people are pouring into London from every point of the compass. All day Saturday every entrance to Queen's Park was blocked with traffic, and long into the night the exhibition grounds were a veritable hive of industry. The many interesting and curious shows which form the Midway were all in position by nightfall, and when the dawn broke this morning the big fair was complete in every detail. Today is Citizens' Day, and if early morning indications count for anything the attendance will be the largest in many years. The directors, from the moment they conceived the idea of making Monday a day of special features, have labored assiduously, and their energy and good judgment is to be rewarded. At an hour when most people are taking a final nap, the turnstiles were already beginning to click out the record of a great day. The streets about the exhibition grounds were crowded with farmers' rigs, and the street cars were jammed with eager people. Every department of the Western Fair this year is more complete, if the shouting; and there are too many, alike term will admit of comparison, than before. The horticultural and dairy departments are particularly excellent, both in the extent and in the quality of the display. The live stock exhibits are the finest, probably, in the history of Western Ontario.

Every precaution has been taken this year by the board of directors to insure the comfort and safety of the crowds. A force of regular police and special constables, in charge of Sergt. Craw-ford, patrols the grounds constantly, and the most perfect order is main-

THE SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS. The programme of attractions given in the ring in the afternoon will be repeated in its entirety in the evening, and in addition will be given the grand fireworks display, prepared under the directon of Prof. Hand, of Hamlton. The fireworks display will embrace the ascension of illuminated balloons, and the discharge of rockets, huge shells, geysers of fire, Spanish tourbillons, jeweled mines, and other pleasing pyrotechnic effects. The principal feature of the display will be "The Fall of China," showing the fortifications of Pekin and their storming by the allied forces. The programme of special attractions embraces such a variety or features that all tastes can find entertainment, and in probably no previous exhibition has there been so excellent a bill presented. Lockhart's troupe of performing elephants give an interesting exhibition of animal gence. Other acts are those of Mazuz and Mazett, acrobatic comedians, in a sketch entitled "The Tramp and the Brakeman;" Lozelle, a sensational novelty gymnast; the three Millettes, in a clever acrobatic turn; O. G. Seymour, eccentric athlete; the Nelson cemiques, in "Frolics at the Zoo"; Ramza and Arno, with their donkey; Monzulla and Russell, in thrilling aerial act; and other noverties new to this city. DEATH CAME TO WOR. BRO. HUNGERFORD

Grand Master of Masonic Grand Lodge Died Today.

Unlooked For.

Will Cause Great Sorrow to the Fraternity—History of a Career Full of Honors.

Free Masons throughout the country will learn with deepest regret of the untimely death of their grand master, Richard Becher Hungerford, which took place at 6 o'clock this morning at Victoria Hospital. M. W. Bro. Hungerford has been ill for about one month, and was taken to the Hospital Saturday, when his condition was thought to be slightly improved. He presided at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Canada, at Hamilton, in July, with more than usual proficiency, displaying remarkable powers of administration. When it is considered that this large body comprises over 600 delegates, representing the most intellectual and influential classes in the Dominion, a slight estimate of the arduous duties connected with the function of grand master, may be made Naturally of a conscientious and sensitive turn of mind, the position, coupled with the oppressive July heat, no doubt overtaxed his system, thus predisposing him to paralysis. M. W. Bro. Hungerford had been a member of the craft for over 29 years, and was known throughout the length and breadth of the jurisdiction as an energetic, popular and zealous craftsman. He was always ready to go out of his way to confer a favor, and as a result of this spirit, he formed many strong friendships. A year ago last July he was elected by a unanimous vote of 1,095 to the position of grand master of the Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario, the most honorable position in the gift of the craft in Canada. But he was one who realized that such position carried with it duties as well as honor, and upon assuming the position, he set for himself a high standard for the discharge of the honorable and important functions connected therewith. In his inaugural address he promised that he would do all in his power to advance the interests of the craft in this province. A year's term of office, entirely satisfactory to the 25,000 Masons over whom his jurisdiction extended, is the best evidence of the faithfulness wit he kept his promise. He was intensely earnest in the discharge of his duies and somewhat inclined to worry. This solicitude, though perhaps not the best for himself physically, gained for him an unbounded expression of favor of the last meeting of the grand lodge in July. He was an Irishman by birth, having been born in the county of Cork in 1846 and was one of "The Island Hungerfords," an old country family wel known in that portion of Ireland. He came to Canada in 1862, and for many years was the inspector in Western Ontario for the North American Life Insurance Company. He became a Mason in the year 1872 in St. John's Lodge, No. 81, at Mount Brydges, and was until the time of his death past master of Tuscan Lodge, No. 195, an honorary member of Kilwinning Lodge, No. 64, and Union Lodge, No. 380. He also served as district deputy grand master of the London district and during his term instituted two or three new lodges, among which were Middlesex Lodge, of Bryanston, and Moffatt Lodge, of Harrietsville.

In Capitular Masonry he was past Z of St. George's Royal Arch Chapter, No. 5, and was a past grand first principal of the Grand Chapter of Canada. He had filled all the subordinate offices in the lodge and chapter of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, was a member of Moore Consistory, 32 degrees of Hamilton, and an honorary inspec-tor-general of the Supreme Council, 33 degrees, of the Dominion of Canada He was also a sir knight of Richard Coeur de Lion Preceptory of Knights Templar, and a member of the Huron Conclave of the Red Cross of Rome and Constantine. He leaves a wife, two sons and one daughter, who will have the sincere sympathy not only of the craft, but also of his many friends not connected with the order. During the dedication meetings recently held in the new Masonic rooms, the feeling of the fraternity in regard to the grand masers' illness was expressed in resoluions of sympathy and regret. The funeral of the late R. B. Hun-gerford will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 to Woodland Ceme-tery. Representative Masons from all over the Dominion will be in attend-

Shape-retaining,

When you step down, your foot sinks into the Resilia Centresole, away from the toe cap.

This makes the shoe a size larger inside, when your foot is widest, so the upper leather is never stretched out of shape over ball.

When you lift your foot, the insole expands from the outsole, thus taking up slack in the leather, preventing wrinkling and over running on sides.

The shoe thus retains shape and wears longer, because it is never over-stretched.

DOHERTY ORGAN COMPANY As in past years, the exhibit of the Doherty Organ Company, in the south-west corner of the Palace of Arts, is attracting, by its extent and beauty, general attention. The strides that this firm have made are remarkable. So great, indeed, has been its progress that it is now the largest exclusive reed organ establishment under the British flag. Its sales at the recent Toronto exhibition exceeded any former year. Mr. W. Doherty, the founder of the business, has just returned from England, where he found his business flourishing. He will visit the Western Fair on Wednesday. For elegance of design, stability of workmanship and purity of tone the Doherty organ is unsurpassed by domestic instruments. It worthily represents the wonderful development of the higher class of manufactures in Canada. The sale of these celebrated instruments in London and district is controlled by the well-known music dealer, W. McPhillips, who carries a full line at his warerooms, 189 Dundas street, London.

"You cannot use terms too strong in expressing our indignation at the outrage and sympathy with the president. It is terrible. If Mr. McKinley dies, which we sincerely hope he will not, the whole world will lose a man of greater integrity and statesmanship than it even at present realizes. This latest attempt may produce an international arrangement by which anarchists may be dealt with according to their deserts and this canker of civilization suppressed. Certainly England would favor such a plan. We and America are blamed on the continent for harboring anarchists. It is some slight satisfaction to know that Vice-President Roosevelt is such an upright, level-headed man. I do not think European statesmen would feel a bit neryous about his direction of affairs. We sincerely trust, however, that such a contingency will not occur."

THE STEEL STRIKE

Matters at McKeesport Become Exciting— Non-Union Men Persuaded Not to

Pittsburg, Sept. 9 .- The strike sitnation in McKeesport reached an acute stage this morning, and serious trouble was feared as a result of the effort of the striking tube workers to prevent men from returning to work as they had done Saturday. The effort was successful, and where last week from 800 to 1,000 men had returned to work not more than a dozen were able this morning to elude the 2,000 pickets and get back into the mill. There was more excitement at McKeesport the morning than at any time yet.

FOR RECIPROCITY

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 9.—Detroit may take the lead in the movement to bring about reciprocity in trade with foreign countries. Mayor Maybury says there are closer business relations with improvements Canada and Detroit and Michigan in the possibility that the tariff laws will be revised so as to promote closer trade relations between the United States and other nations, and yesterday he telegraphed President Search, of the National Association of Manufacturers, who has been instructed by the executive of the association to call a convention of representatives of all commercial bodies to discuss reciprocity, requesting that he call the gath-

Teeth

There is nothing more beautiful than a set of pearly white teeth, and nothing more painful and irritating than a toothache. The decay of the teeth always commences externally and shows itself upon the enamel. In most cases it is caused by chemical action, produced by the decomposition of particles of food that collect in the depressions between the teeth while eating. This can only be prevented by a thorough cleansing of the teeth after each meal, and especially at bed time.

LIQUID DENTOL

Is a thorough antiseptic, is aromatic and pleasant to use, will penetrate the depressions and stop the process of decay, will whiten the teeth and keep the gums in a healthy condition. So that everyone may try Liquid Dentol, we will sell it for this week at 15c a bottle, regular price 25c.

"How nice it is to hear of kindness and goodness—how delightful to meet with courage and with gratitude!" said Lady Chase. "My dear Miss Carew, you are very young, and I am so sorry for you! Will you come and spend your holidays at Charteris with me? We have numbers of young people staying in the house. My own daughter, Lady Marjorie, is about your age. We will try to cheer you up and make you forget the burglar!"

"Very well, very well," said the countess, laughing heartily. "Jump into the carriage, and we will drive home at once—or stay, perhaps you wish to put your possessions together? In this case we will drive to the police station, and you can go in and we will drive up and down while you pack, and if your trunk is not yery large it can be put under the seat."

Elsie said to herself: "This is only a dream—one of those wild dreams that I have been subject to since the burglary; presently I shall wake up, long before I arrive at Charteris, and I shall find myself in my pretty little room at the house of good Mrs. Hobbs!"

But it was not a dream. Elsie found herself soon in the little room where she

Elsie kissed Mrs. Hobbs in a hurry; uttered thanks, few, short, heartfelt; uttered thanks, few, short, heartfelt; shook hands with all the Hobbs' connections; and gave the children half-acrown to spend on crackers—it was all she could afford—then she took her place beside Lady Chase, and the box was pu

CHAPTER V.

Lady Chase was more than beautiful, or handsome, or noble-looking—she was all of these—and she was something else. There was a sublime expression in he gray eyes that Elsie, in her enthusiasm and tendency to hero worship, considered as almost more than human. She had heard of Lady Chase as a generous sym pathetic woman, an encourager of strug-gling talent, a beneficent judge, a philan-thropist of the highest and most unsel-fish character, and she had listened to all alf incredulous, half admiring.

We are all of us egotists more or less.

and thus Elsie, who never expected for an instant that fate would bring her into the presence of the Countess of Chase, had taken scanty interest in the noble lady in question noble lady in question.
"I shall never know her," the young schoolgirl had thought to herself, "and most likely if I did she would not understand or appreciate me—I should not be exalted enough in intellect or character

Elsie had, as we know, but a mediocre estimation of her own abilities, charms, accomplishments: and this fact Lady Chase soon discovered, and was usually with the girl's modesty.

"You must cheer up," the countess said, looking at Elsie with those wonderful looking at Elsie with those wonderful was gray eyes of hers. "We Chase soon discovered, and was delighted

"Yes, your ladyship; but it will never by the power of music that I shall above the commonplace." 'And the commonplace," said the countess, "is as great and as noble as the brilliant and the hereic. It is possible to lead an obscure life unknown, what talent one has unappreciated, and to die mourned only by the few who have loved one, and yet to have won the victor's crown; to have trampled down evil and done good; to have conquered oneself and one's real foes; but I will not moralize. bne s real toes; but I will not moralize, br you will think me a prosy old person; End here we are at the park gates." Elsie had heard of Charteris Court as one of the finest, if not the finest, estate in Surrey. When the great gates clangone or the finest, if not the finest, estate in Surrey. When the great gates clanged behind the carriage, and she found herself driving smoothly up the avenue of pines that were green now amid the barrenness and nakedness of the drear December, she began to wonder what a great nobleman's house would be like inside.

"Almost like heaven, I should think," she said to herself, "or, rather, like a fairy palace that I have read of in my She looked out eagerly at the shrubs, many of them in bloom amid the frost and

At last the house was reached—what a house. It reminded Elsie of some great French chateau, of which she had seen a painting. It was enormously large, with wings and towers and a great courtyard, into which the carriage drove; and then she saw a marble hall that looked wide and lofty enough to be the nave of a cathedral; the walls were painted in frescoes; a great fire burnt in the center; a young lady sat before it in a low, crimson velvet chair, buried apparently in the pages of a book which lay in her lap. The countess laid her hand on her shoulder and the young lady looked up startled

But don't confuse mere personal names with registered

The advantage of a brand, depends entirely upon its record for merit, established by the years certain goods have been publicly tested under that brand.

And, when such a brand has become a passport to people's confidence, there creeps in a species of piracy, which trades upon that confidence, by the selling of unknown goods, at a long profit, under some name which sounds like that of the brand.

This is how heedless Consumers are snared, and sold, and

No purchaser should accept a blind excuse from a Retailer for the absence of the advertised trade mark, and the presence of something which resembles it superficially, but is not it legally.

There are thousands of men named "Rodgers," but there is only one standard brand of "Rodger's Cutlery," as there is only one standard brand of "The Slater Shoe."

If these words-"The Slater Shoe," are not stamped on the sole in a slate frame, it is not a genuine "Slater Shoe," and you buy it at your own risk.

Insomnia.

Do you rest well at night? Some doctors claim that if a person sleeps well he will be well. Certainly in any critical case, the friends always eagerly await the report that the sick has rested well during the night. Rest and sleep are all important. So many people cannot sleep. This lack of rest tires them out constitutionally until they are no longer able to stand, or diseases such as la grippe, fevers, etc., are contracted. You can't keep well with your bowels clogged up, with your food fermenting, with your blood filled with yeast caused by fermentation. These things cause sleeplessness, they cause worry, they cause nervousness. Hutch restores sleep; sleep such as a child has, and from which it awakens with all freshness and joy appropriate to

News of Attempted Assassination Caused Much Excitement in London.

The news of the attempted assassination of President McKinley created a gives and blesses. There are variaprofound impression in London Friday tions of refreshing and humorous sort night. The bulletin announcing the terrible affair had scarcely been posted in day, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, front of The Avertiser office before with a special matinee on Wednesday a crowd began to gather, and during the whole evening the streets were crowded with people anxious to learn the latest news of the wounded president's condition. Everywhere were heard expressions of the deepest sorrow and indignation, expressions that could not have been more sincere had the victim of the cowardly assassin's pistol been one of Canada's public men. Until a late hour at night the telephones in the newspaper and telegraph offices were almost constantly busy answering the anxious questions of people in every part of the city. Not only on the streets, but in thousands of homes in the city, the terrible deed was almost the sole topic of conversation. London went to bed horror-stricken with the awful crime.
