HAIG'S HEROES PRESENT SOLID FRONT

British Headquarters in France, March 23, 11 a.m.—(By the Associated Press)—The British, gallantly fighting, are still presenting a solid front to the fiercely attacking Germans, although the defensive troops have withdrawn their line in certain places for strategic reasons.

All day yesterday and much of last night the conflict continued to rage with increasing violence as fresh German divisions were hurled into the fray in an attempt to smash through British defences.

BRITISH RECAPTURE MORY, DRIVING OUT GERMANS AND TRAP BIG PARTY OF HUNS

Dashing Attack Wins Back Point Lost To Boches—Fifty German Divisions Being Used In Present Struggle.

London, March 23.—The Germans forced their way into Mory, but a dashing counter-attack drove them out, Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters telegraphs. A large party was surrounded and probably was captured.

There is reason to believe fifty German divisions are flowing into the struggle, the correspondent states, and probably half as many more are in close reserve. Under the tremendous onslaught the British troops are falling back very slowly and in excellent order. At many places they are withdrawing voluntarily so as to maintain an unbroken front.

The scenes of activity behind the battlefield description, but everywhere there is the same well ordered organization and quiet confidence. The weather is wonderfully fine, although the visibility is handicapped by local mists. The Mory is on the northern front, 15 miles below Arras. It is about four miles back of the line held by the British before the Germans began their offensive.

FRENCH NOW IN GREAT BATTLE

London, March 23.—It is reported unofficially that the French are now engaged in the great battle.

FRENCH DISPERSE FOE IN WOEVERE DISTRICT

Paris, March 23.—The Germans launched an attack on the French lines in the Woevere district last night, which was dispersed by the French fire. The Germans suffered appreciable losses and left some prisoners in the hands of the French.

COLLINGWOOD SCHREIBER, NOTED ENGINEER, DEAD

Ottawa, March 23.—Sir Collingwood Schreiber, general consulting engineer for the Dominion Government, died this morning at the age of 87 years. Lady Schreiber and his two daughters, Mrs. Travers Lewis and Mrs. Lawrence Lamb, survive. He had a tremendous share in planning transportation systems both east and west, and in the latter part of his career as deputy minister of railways and canals he helped to wisely administer lines directly under the Government, and subsequently supervised the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

He was made manager of the Intercolonial in 1873, and seven years later became chief engineer of the C. P. R., holding both positions until 1892.

U. S. GETS ALL SHIPS ON RUSSIAN COAST

Deal Adds 350,000 Tons to the Entente Marine.

London, March 23.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Tokyo, dated Tuesday, says: "The newspaper Kokumin Shimbun announces that Admiral Austin M. Knight, commander of the United States fleet, has purchased all the shipping on the Russian coast. This totals 350,000 tons. Admiral Knight is now at Vladivostok."

MASTER OF MONT BLANC WANTED FOR INQUIRY OUT OF COURT'S POWER

Halifax, March 23.—Captain Alme Lemedes, master of the Mont Blanc, with which the Imo collided in Halifax Harbor December 6 last, causing the explosion which wrecked a portion of the city, has left the province. So the supreme court of Nova Scotia was informed this morning. L. A. Lovett, who appeared on behalf of Captain Lemedes, stated that following his discharge under the writ of habeas corpus and not having been notified of any possible review of the case, he had left the city and the jurisdiction of the court.

ON ITALIAN FRONT.

Rome, March 23.—Numerous patrol encounters have occurred along the Italian front, the war office announced today, and there has been some increase in the artillery fire on the mountain line.

It is better to talk plainly, and I am speaking with a great deal of feeling because I have just heard of this overwhelming attack brought about by the failure of the Russian democracy to have its orders obeyed.

"If the attack succeeds, the Germans might be at Calais, and the only answer we can give is a vote of the Miners' Federation saying they are not prepared to fight! You cannot give that answer."

The executive of the federation later passed a resolution advising the men not to resist the coming out of fifty thousand men from the mines.

FOE CLAIMS 25,000 MEN AND 400 GUNS AS CAPTURED

Berlin Reports British Second Position Penetrated at Two Points.

Berlin, March 23.—Between Fontaine-les-Croisilles and Mouevres, German forces penetrated into the second enemy position and captured two villages, army headquarters announced today. British counter-attacks failed.

So far, the statement announces 25,000 prisoners, 400 guns and 300 machine guns have been taken.

Berlin, March 23.—Between Gonnelieu and the Oignon stream, the statement says, the first two enemy positions were penetrated and the heights west of Gouzeaucourt, Heudicourt, and Villers-Pauvres were captured.

The two villages taken on the Fontaine-les-Croisilles front were Vaulx-Vraucourt and Morchies. (The former village is about 3 1/2 miles and the latter about 2 1/2 miles behind the former British front).

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS MORE MEN NEEDED TO AVOID DEFEAT

Tells Labor It Will Suffer Most If War Is Lost.

London, March 23.—Premier Lloyd George, in an address to the Miners' Federation yesterday concerning the result of the miners' ballot on the coming out of men for military service, declared that to avoid defeat in the field it is absolutely essential to have more men.

"I am utterly at a loss," he said, "to know where the men are to be found. If, first, the engineers, and then the miners, say we will not find the men. Other trades will quickly take the same course. This would mean anarchy not government."

The German Attack. "I have just had news that the Germans have attacked us on a front of nearly 60 miles with overwhelming forces. I am amazed that it should be considered debatable whether the miners and engineers are going to make their contribution to the defence of the country."

Premier Lloyd George declared it would be far better that the Government should go out of office than to have its decision disobeyed, adding: "If the government of the country is going to decide whether a law should be obeyed, then, believe me, you will have a condition of things where the people who will suffer most will not be the people at the top, who are generally able to take care of themselves, but the poor devils at the bottom. It has always been so in the history of the world."

plain Talk Best.

"It is better to talk plainly, and I am speaking with a great deal of feeling because I have just heard of this overwhelming attack brought about by the failure of the Russian democracy to have its orders obeyed."

"If the attack succeeds, the Germans might be at Calais, and the only answer we can give is a vote of the Miners' Federation saying they are not prepared to fight! You cannot give that answer."

The executive of the federation later passed a resolution advising the men not to resist the coming out of fifty thousand men from the mines.

ENEMY GUNS SHELL PARIS

Paris, March 23.—The Germans have been firing on Paris with long range guns. Since 8 o'clock this morning shells of 240-millimetres have been reaching the capital, and suburbs at intervals of a quarter of an hour, killing about ten persons and wounding about fifteen. The shortest distance from Paris to the front is over 100 kilometres (62 miles).

The announcement that Paris was being bombarded was made officially this afternoon. Measures for counter-attacking the enemy's cannon are under execution.

APPALLING LOSSES TO ENEMY

London, March 23.—The most intense fighting appears to have been around Reisel and Trincourt. The slaughter in the enemy ranks was appalling. Twelve times every available gun in the area was concentrated on solid mounds of enemy troops.

ONE BRITISH DIVISION FOUGHT OFF NINETY THOUSAND HUNS

Haig's Men Fighting Magnificently Against Stupendous Masses of the Enemy.

British Headquarters in France, March 23.—A correspondent, describing the terrific fighting on the western front, says: "I found everyone I saw pretty confident. At first they did have a hard job to make the Germans back, but they fought magnificently. For example, south of St. Quentin, one of our divisions had to bear up against the repeated assaults of no fewer than six German divisions, possibly 90,000 men, and only when the assaults ceased with darkness did our troops withdraw to strong positions behind the canal system between St. Quentin and the Oise."

It is estimated that altogether nearly 90,000 Germans participated in the offensive. The enemy fought well, and his guns did good work. The quickness with which the guns were brought forward into No Man's Land after the infantry had advanced, he said, was a statement that the retirement was in positions, and he was at all points largely superior in numbers."

WANT DUTCH TO BREAK WITH U. S.

Powerful Rotterdam Interests Urging Warlike Action Over Ships Seizure.

London, March 23.—A report that influential interests at Rotterdam have commenced agitation to have the Dutch Government requested to break off relations with the United States, because of the requisitioning of Dutch merchantmen, is contained in an Exchange Telegraph Company dispatch which, received from Copenhagen, quotes the Politiken's Rotterdam correspondent.

ANOTHER FOE TRANSPORT SUNK IN EAST BALTIC

Amsterdam, March 23.—Another German transport has been blown up by a mine near the Aaland Islands, at the same point where the transport Hindenburg was sunk, the Dagblad reports. Shortly afterward the transport Frankland came up and rescued the men on the transport, but was damaged severely by another explosion.

HAIG WITHDRAWS HIS LINE ACROSS DEVASTATED GROUND TO NEW POWERFUL POSITIONS; LINE BENDS NEAR ST. QUENTIN

HINDY'S TROOPS UNIFORMED FOR PARIS PARADE

British Headquarters in France, March 23.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—It has been noted that all the attacking troops are clad in new uniforms, and it will be remembered in this connection that von Hindenburg boasted he would be in Paris by April 1. Anyways, he is certainly assaying to break through in record time, and as the divisions melt away under the torrent of shells and bullets fresh ones are flung in.

THE WAR SITUATION

After two days' terrific battling in their great offensive on the western front the Germans have finally succeeded in bringing the action at one point on the front somewhat more into the open.

Field Marshal Haig reports that the British defensive system west of St. Quentin, near the southern edge of the 50-mile front under attack, was broken through by the great weight of the enemy infantry and artillery. The British here are falling back in good order.

Across Devastated Area. That the yielding of the line at this point had been by no means unexpected, and possibly had been foreseen as ultimately inevitable, is indicated by a statement that the retirement was to prepared positions further west, across the devastated district.

There is nothing in the report to indicate that this retrograde movement will affect the strong defensive lines to the north in any way seriously, as it is explicitly stated that these positions continue to be held by the British. Just what the effect will be upon the entire line to the south is not yet apparent. The British hold the front line in some fifteen miles south of St. Quentin to the River Oise at about the town of La Fere, where the French line will be found taking part in the struggle.

May Use "Manoeuvre Army." There is another factor to be considered, also, should the German thrust develop more seriously. There was a statement by the supreme war council at Versailles an Entente army of manoeuvres indicated to be made up of troops of all Allies, which was designed to be available for action at any point on the wide front from the North Sea to the Adriatic where it should be needed.

It has doubtless not been the Entente intention to throw this army into action hastily. But it unquestionably stands ready for use in any emergency, and might easily prove the vital factor in any general engagement which the western front fighting should develop.

Mighty Struggle Continues. The battle is still in progress along the British front, with the Germans continuing to throw fresh forces into the struggle. It is estimated that fifty German divisions are already involved with the British, and that the British divisions in close reserve. Advances from correspondents indicate that wherever the British are falling back they are doing so in excellent order and with deliberation, withdrawing voluntarily at some points in order to maintain an unbroken line.

FRENCH AIRMEN TURN BACK RAID ON PARIS

Paris, March 23.—At 9 o'clock tonight a group of enemy airplanes crossed the lines, and a certain number of bombs were dropped on Compiegne and different towns in that region. Several machines advanced further to the south, but were forced to turn back by the fire of our artillery. The alarm was immediately given in Paris, and a half hour later the "all clear" signal was sounded.

Apparently the Germans had intended a raid upon Paris itself, but French airmen rose to meet the oncomers, and not one enemy machine succeeded in reaching the capital.

War Office Announces That Powerful Enemy Attacks Have Succeeded At One Point On Long Front, But Elsewhere Positions Are All Held.

BRITISH RETIREMENT IS MADE VOLUNTARILY AND WITHOUT PANIC

Terrific Struggle Continues Unabated, Hindenburg Continuing To Send Wave After Wave of Massed Fresh Troops Into the Battle.

London, March 23.—The Germans this morning were pressing hard on the British forces defending Hermites (about 2 1/2 miles back of the old line, in the region southwest of Cambrai).

London, March 23.—Powerful enemy attacks delivered with great weight of infantry and artillery has broken through the British defensive system west of St. Quentin, the war office announces.

The British troops on the northern portion of the battlefield are holding their positions. The British west of St. Quentin are falling back in good order to positions further west. Very heavy fighting with fresh enemy forces is in progress.

The war office states that there are prepared positions behind the British to which they are falling back.

For the first time in the war on the western front, since the opposing armies established themselves in their trench systems, the defensive zone has been broken through. In other great attacks the British, French and Germans have been able to bend back the line, but not to strike through the zone of defence. Many military critics had reached the opinion that on account of the strength of the lines it would be impossible to break them until one side or the other had been worn down to such a point that the Germans are able to restore the situation by a counter-attack, a withdrawal on a wide front may be necessary, with open field warfare.

The point at which the British line has been broken is near the southern end of the German attacking front, which extends from Arras to La Fere, fifteen miles below St. Quentin.

ONLY FIRST LINE PIERCED.

The statement of the British war office that the troops west of St. Quentin are falling back to prepared positions, indicates that the Germans, although they have broken through the British defensive system, have not pierced the entire British defence. The allusion in the British statement to the defensive system may be only to the main battle front system, behind which other lines have been prepared. It is that is the case in Battle of the Somme, when they pierced the Hindenburg line and captured long stretches of it, forcing the Germans to retreat to prepared positions in the rear.

MAKES IT HARDER FOR FOE.

The experiences of the attacking forces in other campaigns show that the Germans, as they progress, are likely to find their job more difficult and the resistance of the British more effective. The more deeply they strike into the British lines the further they must move from their bases, entailing increasing difficulties in providing supplies for their troops. They must move forward over a devastated area, while the British will have the great advantage of good roads and railroads. Perhaps the greatest problem of the Germans will be to bring up their heavy artillery. In every previous campaign of this nature it has been necessary for the advancing forces to halt frequently while bringing up the heavy pieces.

DEFENCES ARE STRONG.

The extent of the British defence has been a subject of much speculation, but it is known they have been vastly improved during the last winter. Earlier in the war, when the offensive rested with the French and British, less attention was paid to positions of the rear. The British in particular were said to scorn elaborate defensive zones, such as the Germans constructed. After the defection of Russia and consequent increase of German strength in the west, however, it became necessary for the Allies to consider defensive measures, which were carried out during the winter.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT.

The statement follows: "The fighting continued until late hours last night on the whole battlefield. During the afternoon powerful hostile attacks, delivered with great weight of infantry and artillery, broke through our defensive system west of St. Quentin."

"Our troops on this part of the battlefield are falling back in good order across the devastated area to prepared positions further west. "Our troops on the northern portion of the battlefield are holding their positions."

"Very heavy fighting with fresh hostile forces is in progress."

STRANGE ADVENTURE FOR JIMMY COON.

Little Fred Jones took Jimmy Coon one day to town to visit his father. They both sat on the dock, with their legs dangling over the edge of the wharf, watching the ships come and go. And suddenly a small boat bobbed out of the water, and came up on top of the bay, close to the dock.

And Jimmy Coon gave a start; and his little eyes popped out. He was sitting beside him. Jimmy said to himself, "My, how strange! Why that little boat of Sammy Muskrat! Why, Sammy swims and dives under water just like that little boat. And Sammy Muskrat also bobs up and swims on the surface, when he wants a breath of fresh air, just like that little boat. Why, I thought that was Sammy Muskrat himself!"

Now Jimmy Coon had hit the nail right on the head. The little boat was just like Sammy Muskrat. For it was a submarine, and no one could have described it better than that smart Jimmy Coon!

And after the little boat had come out on the dock, and walked up to the top of the wharf, some sailors came out on deck, and walked up to the dock, and Jimmy Coon bowed politely to Uncle Tom, the Captain; and then he turned to the Captain and said, "Why, Uncle Tom, is that you, or is that nice little submarine? I never

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

The first annual report of the Isabel Hampton Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, the Graduate Nurses Chapter is a most gratifying one. Organized in 1917, in the Nurses' Home Victoria Hospital, for the purpose of rendering service to and providing comforts for returned soldiers, with the following officers: Hon. Regent, Miss Patricia Murray; regent, Mrs. Alex. C. Joseph; first vice-regent, Mrs. G. Maxwell; second vice-regent, Mrs. C. Cunningham; secretary, Mrs. G. Wilson; assistant secretary, Mrs. J. Nolan; standard-bearer, Mrs. Fox. Mrs. A. A. Campbell, organizing secretary of the Municipal Chapter, was present, and arranged details of organization.

The first meeting was held at the Nurses' Home, St. Joseph's Hospital, and the home of members of the chapter, where a silver collection formed the nucleus to the soldiers' comfort fund. Later the use of rooms were granted the chapter in St. Peter's Hall, where weekly meetings are held, and the chapter for the year ending in 1918 amounted to $2,495.83; disbursements, $2,454.64; balance, $41.19.

The chapter has a membership of 62, including nurses on duty in military hospitals in Canada and overseas. By means of a playlet, "Behind the Lines," given under direction of Mrs. Joseph, by returned soldiers and soldiers in training and others, a goodly sum was realized, and a military march, kindly given at the home of Mrs. Fineman, was the occasion for the presentation of the chapter of a beautiful flag by Mrs. T. H. Smallman, at the "Oriental White," put on by the chapter, the chapter arranged a model hospital ward with life-like figures of nurses and wounded soldiers and sailors. First aid kits were also on sale.

Money was raised by the chapter by means of a Sunday afternoon concert, a concert by Mrs. A. Henderson and pupils; a band concert in Victoria Park; tag day, May 23, netted $758.26; tag day, December 22, netted $222.63. Through the kindness of the Western Fair board, the chapter had a well-attended Japanese tea room during last week. Cash donations received: Mrs. D. S. Ferrin, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. Allan McLean, Mrs. Morrison, Miss P. Murray and others. Donations of surgical supplies, dressings and materials for making same.

The Campbell Becher Chapter is planning to have a bottle, rubber and umbrella show in April to raise funds for work supplies. It is hoped that the friends of the chapter will not forget to save this kind of articles when they are going on their spring holiday.

CULTIVATING, FERTILIZING AND SPRAYING GRAPE-VINES.

Grapes grow best on warm soil, where they are not subject to too great extremes of heat and cold. They do well in Western Ontario without any protection during the winter. Cultivation is most important, and should be begun as soon as possible in spring, the earth being loosened by the first of May. Do not disturb the roots with a spade, but use a fork. This cultivation should be repeated every two weeks during the summer, and always stir up the soil after a very heavy rain. In the autumn, however, all cultivation should cease.

The grape-vine does not need to be fertilized very often. Manure applied every three or four years is sufficient. Commercial fertilizers are not usually needed in Ontario. In some districts a cover crop is thought necessary, but usually the grape vine is left clean. Some growers mulch the young vines with straw or manure in the autumn, and this is very useful in protecting the young plants.

Grape-vines have various kinds of diseases, and it is necessary to spray the vines, and in this they have made a great mistake. Grapes are very apt to be attacked by mildew and rot, which is caused by the growth of the vine. The first spray should be applied when the third leaf is appearing. Spray again just before the blossoms open, and a third time just after the fruit is set. For all of these sprays a mixture of one part of sulphur to four parts of water is used. The spray mixture, if possible, not after. The spray mixture, if possible, not after. The spray mixture, if possible, not after.

THE WOMEN'S GARDENING ASSOCIATION.

It would indeed be amiss not to give credit to the Women's Gardening Association for the work they have done in the past year. The association began a year and a half ago under the presidency of Miss Carling. The association has been very successful in its work, and has been very successful in its work, and has been very successful in its work.

Last year the association afforded the public an opportunity of hearing several lectures on the best ways to grow vegetables, and these lectures are really very instructive and should be attended by all of its youth. ping space is very scarce, and if we could help the French people in the land to produce food for France, then every ton of food which they produce will release just that amount of shipping room to be used for our munitions. Swift Relief Army Necessary.

The amount of valuable French territory in the hands of the Germans is very great. They hold 88 per cent of the coal deposits, 87.7 per cent of the iron fields, 80 per cent of the textile territory, and 43 per cent of the total industry of France. So France is in a position to help herself and the other nations must come to her aid. Another reason for helping the French is to sustain the morale of the civilian population. If a country has not a stiff morale behind the army, the army is not much good. The soldier who comes home and finds his wife and children in want, because they receive such a punishment from the French Government, will not be able to go back and fight well.

The Red Cross saved my life on the battlefield. That is the testimony of "Private" Peter, whose book has had such a wonderful sale in Canada and the United States.

MUTT AND JEFF—What Are You Gonna Have?

DISTRICT HORSELOOK GOOD FOR COMING TRACK SEASON

Walter Cox Gets Two Likely Birds to Try Out on the Grand Circuit—Stephen in Shape Again.

Canada has been sending pacers to the big line for years, always grabbing quite a flock of coin, and producing horses that have been characterized as history-makers on the American turf.

Conditions are changing somewhat as a close student would observe, and the trotters, after all the money-getters, are more in demand. Canada this year will send a bunch of the straight gait that should get much of the money.

Tri Pierce will have Stephen, the trotter that burned up the Shortstart circuit last season. This bird went wrong when he had to go home sick, but has returned to the track, and is now in the hands of the money-getters. He is a sure 2:05 or better trotter, and will make some history in 1918.

Then Roy Brooks has decided to send Nannie Astell to Walter Cox, the Yankee trainer. This baby has been nursed along carefully, and is a fast, clever mare. She was turned around at the Western Fair last September, and in a gruelling race took second around 2:15, and is a smooth-gaited, strong-going mare. The Hoosier trainer should get a lot out of her, and when she turns around some speed will be shown. She is one of the best racing prospects in sight, and with care should be a big money-winner. Well bred, finely haired, with racing manners, she should do.

Grosch Bros. Have Couple.

Grosch Bros., Silverton, have a pair in sight that will bear watching. The main reliance of the stable, in charge of By Shiveley, is Widower Peter, a son of Peter the Great, which was ready for almost any kind of company. This bird has shown 2:05 over the once-around, but was thrown out of training because of leg trouble. He was turned around this winter on the ice, performed most creditably, winning his races, and worked all his old-time speed. If he stands up it will be a regular nag that will head him at the wire.

His daughter, Miss Peter Gilbert, also owned by Grosch Bros., turned off some fast stuff last summer as a baby trotting around 2:10, full of race, and being groomed, and while she may not have to be taken to the big stage this year, will be on the job when she is asked for her. She is being carried along, and will do what the owners want her to do. Widower Peter is showing stock, and when his property is called to the wire in the future will start something. Information is not at hand as to what the Groschs will ask the Gilbert mare to do, but she will be ready at any time.

Another With Cox.

Walter Cox has another London horse in his string, the Redcliffe colt that Henry Horn raised. He was sold last fall to the late Senator McNeill of Philadelphia, through Chris Fitzgerald. He is a handy bird, but no line can be obtained at present.

Nat Ray has Chilcoat, a San Francisco colt, ready. This bird was slated for big things last year, but came up on a rake and was put out of commission.

Crack Trundlers Roll Tonight at Local Alley.

A fast exhibition match will be staged at the National alley tonight, when the Saunders' bowling team of Toronto, defenders of the McCallum Trophy, emblematic of the Canadian ten-pin championship, meets the National team. Fans have been awaiting this game with keen interest, as this will be their first opportunity to see the National team connect with a real class collection of trundlers.

The locals are hoping to win tonight. Down at Toronto earlier in the week they were defeated by the Saunders' team for the McCallum Trophy by 230 points. They figure that on their home alleys they should be able to pile up a bigger total than the Toronto team. With the game tonight will have no bearing on the McCallum Trophy, but will be a friendly affair only.

The Nationals are in good shape for the match. Ten Canadian experts to hit the maples with plenty of pep and Karrys can be depended upon to knock them down. M. Sansone should also do good work.

A week from tonight Hamilton bowlers will play the Londoners here. The teams will line-up tonight:

Nationals: D. Catalano, H. Hartman, M. Sansone, P. Masconi, T. Crawford, G. Karrys, J. Gillis.

Saunders: H. Hartman, M. Sansone, P. Masconi, T. Crawford, G. Karrys, J. Gillis.

The game will commence at 8 o'clock.

KITCHENER CHAMPIONS TOO CONFIDENT; LOSE TO CLEVELAND TEAM

Canucks Defeated 5 to 3 by Sixth City Puckchasers.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CLEVELAND, March 22.—Playing the best hockey of his career the Cleveland team last night broke into the Kitchener seven, champions of Canada and holders of the Allan Cup, in the first of a two-game series.

Overconfidence was rather costly to the Canadians tonight, when they started, took the ice, feeling sure that Cleveland would be easy picking, but the Canadians found that they were against a real team, and that nothing but a real team could win.

For Kitchener, Kargies and Hiller were the offensive stars, and they tried to keep the puck in front of the net. But Hiller did not stand out before the lustre expected, for Mike Kitchener, the Cleveland center, played the Kitchener star to a standstill from start to finish. The game started with a rush, and in not quite five minutes Hiller scored the opening marker, expressing the puck on a pass from Leroux.

Champs Too Confident.

Cleveland met the Canadians at their own game, Jamieson wiggling away right up to the net, shot hard, and the score was even. A moment later, Cree scored on a pass from Trumble, and just before the first half ended, Irving scored a lucky shot, a drive over the net, but was knocked down and into the case by Hainesworth.

Three minutes after the second half started, Trumble caught Don Debernardi shot on the rebound and failed, and then Debernardi tried a long shot from the side of the ice and hit the bull's eye for Cleveland's final count.

Then, with defeat almost certain, Kitchener came to life and played a wonderful offensive game with Parkes and Leroux featuring, but although Parkes and Leroux each scored a goal, the time was too short, and the final bell rang, with Cleveland two goals to the good.

The summary:

Cleveland, Kitchener, Hainesworth, Kargies, Trumble, Cree, Debernardi, R. W. W. Trumble, Hiller, Cree, 17:58; Irving, 18:50; Trumble, 2:25; Debernardi, 5:00; Parkes, 14:50; Leroux, 15:00.

Stars: Turner, Cleveland, 8:15; Hainesworth, Kitchener, 13:65; Cree, Trumble 2.

Referee: Schweitzer.

Team averages ..... 329 361 644

NEW YORK, March 22.—Six of the eight clubs composing the American League are represented on the all-league team consisting of players who made the best showing in their respective positions, according to the official averages of the junior major circuit. The Chicago White Sox, winners of the world's championship and the league pennant, lead with three, Cleveland is second with two, and Boston, Detroit, St. Louis and Philadelphia secure one place each.

The all-American League combination is formed of players whose season batting and fielding averages, when combined and reaveraged, place them in the fore ranks in their regular playing positions. The rule requires that a player must have played in at least fifty games.

The one exception is that of the pitcher, who is not expected to figure in more than one-third of the scheduled play of the season in relation to effective work at bat and in the field. The pitcher must have demonstrated his ability to pitch to a low margin of runs and hits per game.

Ruth Gets Honor as Pitcher.

Ruth of Boston comes more closely than the other leading twirlers of the league. On the basis of opponent's earned runs per game he is ninth on the list, with an average of 2.23. He played in 41 games and pitched a total of 326 innings. Felsch of Chicago has the best average of the American League boxmen, with 1.53 runs per game, but his batting and fielding records fall far below those of the other players.

Ruth's .325, and fielding .858 to his rival's .584. Both pitchers figured in about the same number of contests. Other boxmen, including Mike, Felsch, Coveleski, Scott, Pabst and E. Russell, had an average of 2.33, but failed to show the all-around playing strength of Ruth.

The records show that the American League possesses several catchers who are evenly matched in all-around playing skill. Spaulding of Philadelphia Athletics is first, with a grand average of .700.

TEAMS WILL CLASH IN SECOND GAME FOR STANLEY CUP TONIGHT

Crawford May Be Allowed To Play, Says Dispatch.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 22.—A capacity house will witness the second game of the Stanley Cup series tomorrow night at the arena. This contest will be played under western rules, which call for seven-man hockey. The ice is divided off into three sections, with kicking the puck and no offside rule being allowed in the middle section. This somewhat similar to lacrosse, as a player standing near the edge of the section next his opponent's goal can secure a pass from the edge of the section next his own goal, and then rush in on the opposing defence. It is a case where the player has to keep marking his check throughout the game.

Crawford May Play.

Art Ross of Montreal and George Irving of the Cubs will be the officials, while it is just possible that "Rusty" Crawford may be allowed to play and take the place of Reg Noble, who has the ligaments of his left shoulder torn in Wednesday night's game. President Patrick of the Pacific coast has agreed to allow either Crawford or Adams to play in the event of any of the Toronto players being injured, as they only have eight players without Crawford and Adams.

OWNERS ANXIOUSLY AWAIT RESULT OF BIG MINOR'S MEETING

International League To Convene in New York Monday.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Minor league magnates are awaiting with unusual interest the outcome of the meeting of the International League, scheduled to be held in this city on Monday, March 25.

The conference will be the second since the annual meeting of the league was adjourned late in December. It is expected that at the coming session the club owners will decide whether to continue the league during the season of 1918 or abandon play for the duration of the war. Such evidence as is available in advance would appear to indicate that the league will operate this summer.

Several of the club owners have clearly indicated that they are opposed to a continuation of play under the present unsettled conditions, incidental to the war. Others stand ready to back a continuation of play, at least, for which side will hold the majority vote cannot be stated before the meeting. If it is decided to discontinue the schedule there is a bare possibility that one or more of the clubs will form a new league by joining hands with other city combinations, which have in past seasons been a part of lower classification circuits.

Would Be Severe Blow.

A decision on the part of the International League to drop out would be a severe blow to organized baseball for the association is one of the plenary among the minor leagues, and its development of the game and of players for major league circuits. The league was organized in 1922, and continued without a break until the close of the 1917 season. During the initial year a two-season schedule was played, but since 1923 the pennant race has been along the lines of the major leagues. The league has six championships to its credit, leads all the cities, which have at various times held membership in the organization. Rochester is the only city to have won the championship, and has won it five times, and Buffalo and Toronto are tied with four each, while Binghamton, Erie, Syracuse, Springfield, Montreal, Jersey City, Baltimore and Newark have each captured one titular flag.

The outcome of the conference is likely to have a distinct bearing upon the decision of other minor leagues in relation to their plans for the coming season. Several of these organizations are in rather an uncertain frame of mind regarding the financial outlook for baseball on the smaller circuits during 1918, and are likely to be swayed to some extent by the example set by the International League club owners. Up to the present time less than half of the leagues which began the 1917 season have prepared and promulgated their schedules for 1918.

Even under the most favorable conditions it is not expected that there will be the same number of organizations operating as was the case twelve months ago. The record shows that some 23 leagues opened the season a year ago, and that about 75 per cent of the club owners had members played through the season. The major portion of the same, in 1916 24 leagues were in operation, and the year previous there were five more, while 1914 lists show more than 40 leagues in the various classifications throughout the country.

LAMBETH BOWLING CLUB PREPARES FOR SEASON

The Lambeth Bowling Club will hold their annual meeting in a few weeks and get into shape for the coming season, so as to be ready for play as soon as the weather sets in. Members of the club report that the greens have wintered well and are in fairly good shape. As soon as the ground has dried out rollers will be run on them. The club will soon start a campaign for new members.

DILLON IN DRAWN FIGHT

Muncie, Ind., March 24.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis and Steamboat Bill Scott of Toledo fought 10 rounds to a draw here last night before a large crowd. Dillon forced the fighting, but Scott put up a fine defensive. Dillon was knocked to the floor in the tenth round.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Six of the eight clubs composing the American League are represented on the all-league team consisting of players who made the best showing in their respective positions, according to the official averages of the junior major circuit. The Chicago White Sox, winners of the world's championship and the league pennant, lead with three, Cleveland is second with two, and Boston, Detroit, St. Louis and Philadelphia secure one place each.

The all-American League combination is formed of players whose season batting and fielding averages, when combined and reaveraged, place them in the fore ranks in their regular playing positions. The rule requires that a player must have played in at least fifty games.

The one exception is that of the pitcher, who is not expected to figure in more than one-third of the scheduled play of the season in relation to effective work at bat and in the field. The pitcher must have demonstrated his ability to pitch to a low margin of runs and hits per game.

Ruth Gets Honor as Pitcher.

Ruth of Boston comes more closely than the other leading twirlers of the league. On the basis of opponent's earned runs per game he is ninth on the list, with an average of 2.23. He played in 41 games and pitched a total of 326 innings. Felsch of Chicago has the best average of the American League boxmen, with 1.53 runs per game, but his batting and fielding records fall far below those of the other players.

Ruth's .325, and fielding .858 to his rival's .584. Both pitchers figured in about the same number of contests. Other boxmen, including Mike, Felsch, Coveleski, Scott, Pabst and E. Russell, had an average of 2.33, but failed to show the all-around playing strength of Ruth.

The records show that the American League possesses several catchers who are evenly matched in all-around playing skill. Spaulding of Philadelphia Athletics is first, with a grand average of .700.

OWNERS ANXIOUSLY AWAIT RESULT OF BIG MINOR'S MEETING

International League To Convene in New York Monday.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Minor league magnates are awaiting with unusual interest the outcome of the meeting of the International League, scheduled to be held in this city on Monday, March 25.

The conference will be the second since the annual meeting of the league was adjourned late in December. It is expected that at the coming session the club owners will decide whether to continue the league during the season of 1918 or abandon play for the duration of the war. Such evidence as is available in advance would appear to indicate that the league will operate this summer.

Several of the club owners have clearly indicated that they are opposed to a continuation of play under the present unsettled conditions, incidental to the war. Others stand ready to back a continuation of play, at least, for which side will hold the majority vote cannot be stated before the meeting. If it is decided to discontinue the schedule there is a bare possibility that one or more of the clubs will form a new league by joining hands with other city combinations, which have in past seasons been a part of lower classification circuits.

Would Be Severe Blow.

A decision on the part of the International League to drop out would be a severe blow to organized baseball for the association is one of the plenary among the minor leagues, and its development of the game and of players for major league circuits. The league was organized in 1922, and continued without a break until the close of the 1917 season. During the initial year a two-season schedule was played, but since 1923 the pennant race has been along the lines of the major leagues. The league has six championships to its credit, leads all the cities, which have at various times held membership in the organization. Rochester is the only city to have won the championship, and has won it five times, and Buffalo and Toronto are tied with four each, while Binghamton, Erie, Syracuse, Springfield, Montreal, Jersey City, Baltimore and Newark have each captured one titular flag.

The outcome of the conference is likely to have a distinct bearing upon the decision of other minor leagues in relation to their plans for the coming season. Several of these organizations are in rather an uncertain frame of mind regarding the financial outlook for baseball on the smaller circuits during 1918, and are likely to be swayed to some extent by the example set by the International League club owners. Up to the present time less than half of the leagues which began the 1917 season have prepared and promulgated their schedules for 1918.

Even under the most favorable conditions it is not expected that there will be the same number of organizations operating as was the case twelve months ago. The record shows that some 23 leagues opened the season a year ago, and that about 75 per cent of the club owners had members played through the season. The major portion of the same, in 1916 24 leagues were in operation, and the year previous there were five more, while 1914 lists show more than 40 leagues in the various classifications throughout the country.

RUSSIAN POPULATION

OF CITY DIMINISHES;

MISSIONARY LEAVES

Special Baptist Minister Goes to Hamilton.

Rev. D. Shimilo, who has been in charge of mission work among the Russian community in London under the auspices of the Baptist churches of the city during the past four years, is leaving to take up larger work in Hamilton along similar lines among the Russian residents of that city.

During the past four years he has been engaged in the work here one hundred and fifty missions, and has been successful in converting many of the Russian residents of that city. He is leaving for Hamilton on Thursday for a meeting of the Russian Board of the Baptist churches of Ontario and Quebec.

It is stated that in the last few years there has been a large exodus of the Russian community from London, reducing the numbers here from some 600 to about 200. It was stated Friday by Rev. H. Bingham, who was in charge of the work here one hundred and fifty missions, and has been successful in converting many of the Russian residents of that city.

GOT WET FEET, TOOK AWFUL COLD, COULD NOT SLEEP FOR COUGH.

A bad cold accompanied by a distressing cough that keeps you awake at night is most aggravating, and unless it is attended to at once may develop into something very serious. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you should take. It heats the mucous surface, relieves oppression and tightness of the chest, removes the accumulation of phlegm, quiets the most obstinate and distressing coughs, and secures rest and sleep at night, not only to the sufferer, but to others whose rest would be otherwise broken.

Mrs. Ezekiel Acker, Lake Pleasant, N. B., writes: "I got wet feet and took an awful cold; could not sleep at night, and would do nothing but cough. My husband got me a bottle of medicine, but it was not worth bringing home. I was going to call the doctor in when a friend asked me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told her I had little faith in it, but she urged me to get a bottle. I did, and I must say that of all the medicines I ever took it is the best, and relieved me the quickest of anything I ever saw."

"Dr. Wood's" is put up in a yellow wrapper, three sizes, the trade mark; price 25c and 50c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easy and cheaply made.

The prompt and positive action of this simple, inexpensive home-made remedy in quickly healing the inflamed or swollen membrane of the throat, chest or bronchial tubes and breaking up tight coughs, has caused it to be used in many homes than any other cough remedy. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION FROM 16 TO 20.

Constipation is one of the commonest ills of mankind, and one too often allowed to go unlooked after until some serious complication sets in.

If the bowels are properly looked after there will be no constipation, jaundice, sick or bilious headaches, heartburn, coated tongue, sour stomach, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will keep your bowels so regulated that in no time the constipation will disappear entirely.

Miss Emma E. Melanson, Halifax, N.S., writes: "I am now 20 years of age, and since I was 16 I have been greatly troubled with constipation, so much so that at times I would be in bed three or four days a month. I tried all the old-fashioned remedies, temporary relief until my sister-in-law gave me some of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. From the first they seemed beneficial, and I gave them a fair trial. This was two years ago, and with an occasional dose I have kept entirely free from constipation for the period mentioned."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headaches, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate. It is to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus, cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation.

New and Interesting Facts from Science and Life

The Various Interesting Stages in the Manufacture of High Heels Which Are Made of Beech and Birch Wood and Covered with Cloth.

Are HIGH HEELS a REAL MENACE to HEALTH?

Drawn from an X-Ray Photograph Showing How High-Heeled Shoes Throw the Bones of the Foot Into an Oblique Position.

Radiograph of a Bare Foot Stepping Naturally.

WOMAN'S physical foundation—her feet and legs—is becoming unsound, according to the latest conclusion of anatomists after searching investigations. And it is all the result of wearing high-heeled shoes, these investigators declare. One authority, P. A. Valle, who has made a study of feet, says that the human stride will degenerate into a penguin waddle, if the present monstrosities in footgear are not discarded. Women have abused and neglected their feet so long in this way, these authorities say, that serious deformations have resulted and in thousands of cases have produced a most ungraceful stride, with the general effect that "there is no longer in a woman's leg the beauty of the classic line."

Of course, a discussion of high heels is not a new subject by any means, for doctors are accustomed, every now and then, to speak a few words upon the subject. But in view of some of the very latest scientific wrinkles which French physicians have applied in their investigations of the effects of the high French heel, a new interest is given to this matter. The high heel in action has been subjected to the all-revealing eye of the motion-picture camera, with the result of some interesting discoveries which Jacques Bayer describes in an illustrated account in the Scientific American.

"Unfortunately," says Mr. Bayer, "the fashion which calls for these heels is as unhygienic as it is unesthetic. Several years ago Dr. Degron enumerated the troubles which these wooden stilts inflict upon their wearers. Initial pain develops into slight lameness, which increases until the shortest walk is quite impossible. As a very brief examination will show, this is due to the bad position imposed upon the foot by the unnatural shape of the shoe.

"Now comes Drs. Quenu and Kuss, pointing out that the artificial elevation of the heel deranges what they have very happily designated the pedal equilibrium. The muscular action, the orientation and the mutual relationships among the elaborately articulated members of the human foot are thrown out of gear; in particular the arrangement of those joints of the foot which support the weight of the body is profoundly changed. The tibia is forced backward; there is a tendency to bend the knee; and in order to maintain the centre of gravity within the area of support it is necessary to throw the upper part of the trunk backward, exaggerating the curve of the spine and causing the abdomen to protrude unduly.

"Such are the rearrangements of the organs and members which the high heel necessitates in merely standing still; when it comes to actually walking the case is even more serious. By means of the motion-picture camera Dr. Quenu has been able to analyze the constrained gait which results from a heel three inches or more in height."

After making a comparison of the films representing a young woman walking first barefoot and then in high-heeled shoes, Mr. Bayer goes on to say:

"In the first film we see the various parts of the sole of the foot in harmonious action. The heel first touches the ground, then the sole is down in its entirety; then the heel is lifted, the foot swings forward and is applied again to the ground, to leave it again in the same way. We have, in a word, a natural stride, in which the foot rocks on the ground from heel to toe, ankle and foot flexing properly to make this possible.

"In the second film, however, the subject passes before us in short, jerky steps, moving her foot through the air and putting it on and off the ground quite rigidly, without change of relative position of heel and toe, without any flexure whatever—giving the effect of a stiff and awkward glide rather than a step. It is the jerky progress of an automatic puppet which we have here, not the supple gait worthy of a brisk human being.

"And what is even more fatal, the same parts of the foot support, at all times and wholly without aid, the weight of the body. The resultant excessive fatigue has been demonstrated radiographically by Dr. Menard. His prints show the respective positions of the bones of the foot, both when the latter is in its normal position and when it is confined by high-heeled shoes. When at rest all the bones are aligned side by side; but the shape of the high-heeled shoe throws them into an oblique position, high behind and low in front. In this position the bones of the foot proper press upon those of the toes, which, striking in turn against the bottom of their prison, in time become deformed. On the other hand, the bones of the heel take an altogether vicious position, and the whole effect is precisely that of clubfoot."

"Long before this stage is reached the foot has registered failure in its normal functions of balance and support, and these duties have been thrown upon the leg muscles, especially that of the calf, which must be in a constant state of tension in order that an upright posture may be attained."

High-heeled shoes date only from the 15th century. Up to that time all footwear, from the earliest times, had had a simple flat sole. Since then, with few reactions, the trend has been toward high and ever higher heels, until the present extremes of three and even three and one-half inches have been reached. These extremes have produced practically a new and picturesque industry, making it necessary to adapt modern machinery and modern methods to the manufacture of high heels, a business that has to a very large extent taken place in specialized establishments, quite outside the shoe factory proper. The making of a high heel is an interesting process which Mr. Bayer describes as follows:

"The wood comes to these establishments in logs, bark and all. It is first cut up into boards, then into blocks, and these are piled up in the yards and left to season for two years. After this the process of drying is completed by a sojourn of a month in a bath of warm air. These precautions are for the purpose of avoiding subsequent splitting or warping of the heel.

"Beech and birch are the woods employed. Once completely dried, the blocks are planed and cut into pieces—trapezoidal prisms, which already outline roughly the form of a high heel, showing the proper height and length and the tapering width, although all their faces are still plane. They are then cut to give the taper from top to bottom, and gouged out behind in the desired curve.

"The tapered block thus prepared goes next to one of several turning machines, according to the particular style of heel into which it is to be transformed and soon begins to look really like a heel.

"The shaft of the lathe carries a metal form for the finished heel, and the block of wood which is being worked is fixed rigidly to this. A carriage moving both laterally and longitudinally supports a roller which rests in contact with the metal form, and follows around the whole contour of the latter. The roller communicates its movements to the battery of knives and bits, which cut the wood accordingly.

"There remains nothing further except to hollow out the upper surface where the heel will join the shoe, and to polish the turned surfaces so as to make them absolutely smooth and clean. Then the camouflage is in order; this consists in covering the wood with silk, satin, velvet, linen or other cloth, or perhaps with black or white celluloid or kid.

"After this final step in their toilette, the heels are packed in dozens of pairs according to style and size; and the next incident in their careers is shipment to the shoe factory."

How to MAKE a TOY SUBMARINE

BUILDING a toy submarine may sound like a formidable pastime, but nevertheless it will provide any boy ever so slightly inclined to things mechanical many opportunities for entertaining as well as instructive experiments. The toy submarine described herewith by Percival Marshall, editor of the Model Engineer, can be made by any boy whose only tools need to be a pocket knife and a screw driver.

In the two accompanying sketches is shown a very simple type of toy submarine which can be propelled in the family bathtub or in a neighboring pond or stream. "If carefully made," says Mr. Marshall in London Tidbits, "this model will give excellent working results. It will either travel along the surface of the water, or dive, as the owner desires, and will run in either direction.

"The hull of the boat is made from a piece of wood about 12 inches long, by 1½ inches—or a little more—in diameter. This should be fashioned into the familiar cigar-shaped body shown in the illustration, having a flat portion cut away on the upper side to form the deck. The conning tower and manhole may be cut from pieces of cork and nailed on, while a wooden penholder, or piece of a wooden knitting needle will serve for the periscope. These upper works should be kept small and light, so as not to make the vessel topheavy, or impede its progress.

"A piece of thin brass or sheet tin, to form the keel, should next be cut out and bent to the shape shown. This should be about three inches long and about two inches deep, when bent to shape. The sides should be at least half an inch apart, to allow clearance for the twisted rubber band which drives the propeller. The keel should be made rather larger than the above sizes in the first instance, so that it may be cut away if necessary to the exact size required to balance the boat when placed in the water. With all fittings on, the hull should be sufficiently weighted to submerge it nearly down to the deck line, when floating at rest. The keel also serves to keep the boat from tending to turn over by the twisting action of the propeller.

"Two diving fins will be required, one at each side of the boat, placed on the centre line about one-third way along from the front. These fins are attached to the hull by a single screw, so that they can be easily set at any angle. By slightly tilting the fins down at the front end the boat is caused to dive.

"The propeller is cut from a piece of thin brass or sheet tin 1½ inches long by half an inch wide. A small hole is drilled or punched at the centre to receive the propeller shaft. The propeller blades must then be twisted to shape. To do this, hold the propeller with one blade between the finger and thumb of each hand. Give one blade a slight twist toward you, and the other a similar twist from you.

"A short length of stout wire to form the propeller shaft is then inserted through the hole in the centre of the propeller; the end of the wire is bent over for about a quarter of an inch and soldered to the back of the propeller blade. If no soldering outfit is available, the wire may be tightly twisted round the centre of the propeller by means of a pair of pliers, taking care that the propeller is kept central on the wire shaft. The propeller is supported in a double bracket, as shown in the sketch. This is bent up from a piece of sheet tin and screwed to the stern of the boat. The shaft is passed through holes made in the bracket, and the inner end of the shaft is bent up into the form of a hook. Before this is done a short length of thin tube or a glass bead must be threaded on the shaft between the propeller and the rear leg of the bracket. This is to keep the propeller blades from fouling the bracket when revolving.

"A stout wire hook must then be fixed at the front of the boat, exactly in line with the propeller shaft. This holds one end of the rubber driving band, the other end being looped over the hook on the propeller shaft. For the driving band, a loop of strip rubber is required, which should be about a quarter of an inch wide, and just long enough to loop over the hooks at each end without sagging. The band is wound up by turning the propeller round with the finger, and when released the propeller should run at a good speed. A little soft soap applied to the rubber before winding it up will improve its efficiency very much. The boat will run ahead or astern, according to which direction the propeller is wound. A trial will soon show which is the direction of winding for running ahead.

The Completed U-Boat.

The Various Parts of the Toy Submarine.

"Before the boat is placed in the water it should receive a coat of paint or enamel, to prevent it becoming water logged owing to the porous nature of the wood.

"The young submarine builder must not be disappointed if the boat is not a perfect success at the first trial. It will probably require some small adjustments or alterations, and considerable interest and instruction will be derived in the course of these experiments. A boat built on these lines can be made to give excellent results, and is well worth the making. The addition of a simple rudder at the stern will materially increase the evolutions which can be performed."

NEW EXPLANATION of the MARTIAN CANALS

A NEW explanation of the Martian canals, based on meteorological considerations, is put forward by Prof. W. H. Pickering in his 19th report on Mars. He calls it the "theory of aerial deposition," and it differs radically from the irrigation-ditch hypothesis, now most familiar to the public.

The new hypothesis, explains the Scientific American, begins by applying to Mars the "atmospheric hypothesis" of Green concerning the shape of a cooling planet. Given the shape required by this hypothesis, there would be three depressed areas on the border of the north polar cap, in areas on the border of the north polar cap, in which water would collect when the latter melts. The moist air supplied by evaporation over these reservoirs would drain away to the south along certain definite routes, according to well known laws of air movement over the surface of a rotating planet. Nocturnal cooling would produce clouds and rainstorms along these routes, and give rise to elongated marshes, constituting the border and more conspicuous so-called canals.

Instead of being artificial channels, intended to carry water from the melting polar cap to the southern hemisphere, they are, according to Prof. Pickering, natural features of the planet, and serve the purpose of preventing the water from being carried too rapidly, through the natural atmospheric circulation, to the south polar regions, where, wrapped at this season in the long winter night and subjected to the cold of space, it would be quickly withdrawn from further use to vegetable and possible animal life. Thus the marshes constitute reservoirs, furnishing water by evaporation during the Martian summer.

From the shape and radius of curvature of the marshes Pickering calculates the force of the Martian winds, ranging up to 230 miles an hour.

Hand SIGNALLING LIGHT for AUTOMOBILES

WHILE the ordinary battery flashlight has proven its efficacy in many instances, an inventor, August Sundh, has devised and patented the flashlight signalling and illumination outfit that can be strapped to the hands. In his patent he states that the apparatus is intended and especially adapted for the use of persons working around machinery or in places where portable lights are used. Also it is pointed out that it will prove useful for automobiles and trainmen, such as for signalling purposes, and its use in this direction is illustrated in the accompanying view, where the autoist is shown giving a night signal that he is about to turn a corner.

The device, as described in the Electrical Experimenter, is quite simple and merely comprises a leather or other form resembling a glove, which straps on the hand and at the wrist. This glove contains a flap pocket to carry a small flashlight battery. Several miniature battery lamps are disposed in various positions at the back of the leather mitt, as the illustration discloses, and the circuit between the battery and lamps is closed whenever desired by pressing on a small push-button switch secured on the inside of the mitt.

GOLD TEETH and "MOVIES"

IF you have gold teeth and want to play in moving pictures you must either give up your ambition or be prepared to meet a dentist's bill. Actors with beautiful features and marvellous pantomimic ability are no longer to play for moving pictures if they possess teeth of gold.

Moving picture cameras sometimes work freakish tricks. A gown of gorgeous orange shade will photograph a dead black and shiny white material will produce an effect known as "halation," creating a ghostly double which seems to follow the wearer about the room. The camera photographs gold like dead black, and if an actor smiles his gold teeth make his jaw appear quite toothless.
