

ANOTHER WAR IN 20 YEARS, SAYS PETER WRIGHT

Germany Not Content—Only Waiting For Her Opportunity.

ALLEN THEATRE FILLED

Speaker Urges League of Nations and Maintenance of Navy.

"I am fully confident that there will be another war in twenty years," Peter Wright, formerly mayor of Newport, Monmouthshire, England, declared addressing a substantial meeting of interested citizens in the Allen Theatre Sunday evening.

Mr. Wright, who has been in Canada for some time, and has been touring Canada under the auspices of the Navy League of Canada.

"I am not making this statement for the purpose of creating fear," he said, "but I believe that it is only a question of time before we shall have another war."

in the country. Ask him about the men at Ottawa, however, and the only reply will be they are a lot of grafters."

Spreading Lenin's Ideas.

"I do not know of any country in the world where the possibilities are greater for working out our own salvation, as under the British flag," he said, "but we have the right to ask for co-operation. I know the philosophy of Lenin and Trotsky. They have installed their machine in every land and are endeavoring to introduce their communism with the wonderful results of Russia. Lenin can have his philosophy of Karl Marx. It is well suited to the Russian mind. They are at work in England, Ireland, India, the United States and Canada, with the sole object of shattering the Empire into fragments, and they will succeed if we are not careful."

"What are we doing? Very little of anything to thwart them, but going ahead trying to adapt ourselves to pre-war conditions. But I say that we are on the eve of a great upheaval, at the threshold of a new era. We must have closer co-operation. You have the greatest opportunities of any country in the world. Your difficulties are not so intense as compared with other countries. You must, however, take a deeper interest in world affairs, or else it will become a survival of the fittest for all the nations, and the only nation that I can see making headway today is the German."

Sea Power Imperative.

"It is imperative and essential and one of the first requirements for us to realize the necessity of sea power, not for the purpose of militarism. The British navy has never endeavored to create that. It has always been ready to preserve the rights of small nations. The speaker urged closer co-operation with the United States, with a view toward a better understanding. He also lauded the record of the men of the navy, and commented upon their fearful losses."

Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, rector of the church of St. John the Evangelist and chaplain to the local naval brigade, presided. J. M. Watt, chairman of the London branch of the Navy League of Canada, and Capt. G. F. Morris of Toronto, who accompanied the speaker to this city, were both in attendance last evening.

Parnell Morris officiated at the organ and rendered several pleasing numbers, which were highly appreciated. The Boys' Naval Brigade paraded in a body and were interested listeners throughout.

Rev. W. R. McIntosh Points Out Effects of Two Evils.

Pride and contempt are the two commonest and the two most heinous sins of the world, according to a sermon preached by Rev. W. R. McIntosh in the King Street Presbyterian Church Sunday evening. The text was taken from the parable of the "Pharisee and the Publican."

"These two sins," he said, "are not peculiar to any one age, nor to any one race or class. In the list of seven most deadly sins prepared by the Roman Catholic Church in the Middle Ages the sins of the spirit were given precedence over the sins of the flesh, and of the spiritual sins pride and contempt were mentioned first of all." Today, according to Mr. McIntosh, few men in the church or out were innocent of either of the two.

Exalt Themselves. "In their pride people exalt themselves. They trust themselves, abhorring the thought of the falling of the flesh, and of the spiritual sins pride and contempt were mentioned first of all." Today, according to Mr. McIntosh, few men in the church or out were innocent of either of the two.

More people display their pride in their speech than in any other way, said Mr. McIntosh. It was truly amazing to find so many people who claim to be Christians, and who are full of pride, and who are full of contempt for their fellow men. They hold in contempt other men. They hold in contempt their fellow men. They hold in contempt their fellow men. They hold in contempt their fellow men.

GOVERNOR CARTER HAS SENT RESIGNATION TO PRISONS INSPECTOR

Report On Recent Jail Investigation To Be Considered Shortly.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—The resignation of James Carter, governor of Middlesex County Jail at London, has been received by W. W. Dunlop, inspector of prisons for Ontario, and forwarded to the provincial secretary for action.

In the absence of Hon. H. C. Nixon on the eve of a great upheaval, at the threshold of a new era. We must have closer co-operation. You have the greatest opportunities of any country in the world. Your difficulties are not so intense as compared with other countries. You must, however, take a deeper interest in world affairs, or else it will become a survival of the fittest for all the nations, and the only nation that I can see making headway today is the German."

Mr. Dunlop's only comment upon this development was that it was unfortunate that the governor had not resigned two months ago, when he would have left the service with an unqualified good record to look back upon.

Submitting Report.

The report upon conditions at London Jail and the situation surrounding the escape of the Marrell brothers, the two gunmen upon whose heads rewards of $4,000 are now placed, will be submitted to the provincial secretary next week. It will consist chiefly of the 500 pages of typewritten evidence taken at the probe which opened in London last Monday, and appended to this will be a series of recommendations jointly prepared by Mr. Dunlop and Edward Barry, deputy attorney-general. It is understood that sweeping changes will be suggested by the report in the organization of the jail at London.

Has Not Seen It.

Hon. Mr. Nixon said tonight that he had not seen the resignation, knowing nothing about it, and could not say whether a resignation would be accepted until he is informed of the details. From other sources, however, it is learned that there is every probability of its acceptance.

Governor Carter is in his sixteenth year of service at the jail, succeeding Robert Boston, who also left office as the result of an investigation into the escape of a prisoner. A number of men have escaped from the jail during Governor Carter's term, but each escape has been traced directly to the laxity of turnkeys. Courtroom officials do not know who his successor will be, nor do they even pretend to be able to predict who will be a candidate for the office.

Three more cases, all non-jury ones, have been set down for the session of the supreme court this month.

Mary A. Brennan is suing George O'Dell to obtain a perpetual injunction restraining him from blocking the right-of-way at the side of her property on King's avenue, she claims that it has been blocked since July, 1921. She claims that it has always been used by her, and that the blocking of it inconveniences her in the exercise of her not being able to get in coal or other supplies and not being able to have the garbage taken away.

Harold Coates is suing R. M. Brisco for $25,000 for the specific performance of an agreement dated February 15. He claims that they were to buy 50 shares of preferred stock and 20 shares of common stock in the R. M. Brisco Company. It was capital stock valued at $5,000. As part payment he received a conveyance of the right of redemption in a dwelling house at 368 Princess avenue, but says that the defendants refused to proceed further.

H. M. Brisco says that on February 11 there was an agreement whereby he and one James C. Gray and Karrie Brisco were to sell the plaintiff's stock in the R. M. Brisco Company. It was capital stock valued at $5,000. As part payment he received a conveyance of the right of redemption in a dwelling house at 368 Princess avenue, but says that the defendants refused to proceed further.

Frederick P. Betts, as trustee of the last will and testament of Dr. H. A. Betts, is suing John J. Shields, Annie Shields and Jessie Shields for the possession of certain lands in the Township of Moos. The defendants say that Annie and Jessie Shields are the owners of the lands, and that the plaintiff is barred by the limitations act. This case is a re-entry, having been adjourned from the June court.

G. W. V. A. BAND RENDERS PLEASING PROGRAM

LAST DAY'S CROWD A FAIR EXCEEDED ALL EXPECTATIONS

Exhibits Open Until 10 p.m.—Grandstand Crowded For Afternoon Program.

SEVERAL NEW FEATURES

Board Is Satisfied That Total Attendance Is Greatest Ever.

Saturday's attendance at the Western Fair proved to exceed all expectations, the grandstands for the afternoon performance being crowded nearly to capacity. While the attendance for the evening performance was small, the program was carried out without any abbreviations and the fireworks presented by the London branch of the International Fireworks Company, under the personal direction of Henry Botter, were as brilliant as on earlier evenings of the week.

Although the midway shows enjoyed a very good patronage on Saturday afternoon, most of them closed early in the evening in order to leave the city in time to open elsewhere this morning.

None of the exhibits in the main buildings or the horticultural, art, fancy works or machinery buildings were removed before the scheduled closing hour of 10 o'clock and there were late fair visitors on the grounds long after that hour.

New Features.

Several new features presented for the grandstand program included a very beautifully illuminated drill by the members of the Junior V. M. C. A. of London, under the direction of the physical director, D. Allen, and some magnificent goal posings, representing the history of the world by a company from Bradford V. M. A. and the wisdom of W. J. Feldkamp and George Mosley. Another clever number, Princess Rajah, was given by Harry Easterbrook also of Bradford.

The International Nine, a remarkable troupe of tumblers, applied the headline feature of Saturday evening's program, as they were throughout the week.

Popular songs were sung by Harry Thompson, the W. O. R. Band played before the grandstand, and the Hussars Band gave a concert from the Queen's Park bandstand.

Thousands See Races.

It is estimated that fully 8,000 people witnessed the automobile races and the afternoon grandstand program. The attendance in the grandstand at night was small, perhaps not more than 300 or 400, but there were fairly large crowds on the midway until it closed and in most of the exhibition buildings.

Secretary Hunt stated Saturday night that while the actual figures were not available, the fair board was quite convinced that the attendance at this year's fair was larger than for any previous Western Fair ever held. The Saturday attendance fully vindicated the wisdom of the innovation made this year of keeping the fair open for seven full days, exclusive of Sundays.

GREEK FORCES FALLING BACK

General Retreat To Positions Held Before Drive Began.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 18.—Greek forces, engaged in the offensive against the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor, have begun a general retreat toward the positions they held before the drive began. Information received here indicates the Greeks have fallen back along the Sakaria River, the forcing of which caused heavy casualties during a battle which lasted more than ten days. The movement backwards across the river was accomplished without enemy pressure.

Greek official statements, issued last week, admitted the failure of the Greek army in its advance toward Angora, and intimated that Turkish resistance was stiffening. Turkish advisers at about the same time claimed that the Turks had captured considerable booty.

The Turks in this city are rejoicing over the latest turn in affairs and are displaying the Turkish flag. The Greeks on the other hand appear to be disheartened by the reverse and have believed the fall of Angora to be certain.

He only expects to be absent from the capital seven or eight days.

Semi-official confirmation is given tonight to the statement that J. B. M. Baxter, leader of the Conservative Opposition in the New Brunswick Legislature, will be a member of the newly-formed cabinet.

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I always had a cold and felt drowsy and sleepy. I work in a millinery shop and I went to work every day, but felt stupid and would have such cramps. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got me some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my period I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about it and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments." — STELLA LINXWILER, 6 Second St., Evansville, Ind.

Some girls lead lives of luxury, while others toil for their livelihood, but all are subject to the same physical laws and suffer in proportion to their violation. When such symptoms develop as irregularities, headaches, backaches, bearing-down sensations and "the blues," they should profit by Miss Linxwiler's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

RESUMING HARVESTING IN WEST THIS WEEK

Large Amount of Grain Still Remains To Be Cut.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—With a return to fine and moderately warmer weather after more than a week of unsettled conditions, harvesting is expected to be in full swing again early this week in most sections of the three prairie provinces. Heavy rains fell in Manitoba and in Southern Saskatchewan Friday night and Saturday morning, but prospects now are good for drying weather. In Manitoba the Brandon district received the heaviest precipitation, 1.10 inches falling Friday and Saturday. Harvesting operations throughout Manitoba are stated to be as far advanced as usual at this time of the year.

May Start Tomorrow. In Southern Saskatchewan Moose Jaw reports one of the heaviest rains of the year during Friday and Saturday, but here also the weather has improved and harvesting will likely be resumed by Tuesday in earnest. Some concern is felt that should the weather turn very warm much of the grain will be lost before it dries. Between Moose Jaw and Regina considerable grain cut still remains to be stacked.

In Northern Saskatchewan weather conditions are mentioned as being "ideal," the crops having dried out after recent heavy rains, enabling cutting to be resumed, and where the crop has already been cut threshing operations are going ahead.

In Northern Alberta harvesting operations are being continued under favorable conditions, but considerable acreage of wheat and oats remain to be cut. In Southern Alberta, Lethbridge reports threshing more than 35 per cent completed, while in some few districts to the east all threshing has been finished and with a continuance of present weather conditions the greatest activity will obtain next week in all sections, as 90 per cent of the cutting had been done before the weather broke.

There is no marked scarcity of labor in any district throughout the west.

ALLEGED DOBSON HAS CONFESSED MURDER

Former Essex Man Was Placed Under Arrest At Courtland.

WINDSOR, Sept. 17.—Arrested by Constable Frank Brown of Kingsville and Detective Lawson Doran of Camden, N.J., in Courtland, Ont., yesterday, George G. Dobson, wanted for the murder of his wife in Camden County, N.J., is alleged to have confessed to the crime at Detroit police headquarters last night.

Windsor police were first asked to assist in apprehending Dobson and Chief Daniel Thompson assigned Inspector William Reid to the case. Inspector Reid investigated for a considerable time, but as the hunt took him too great a distance out of his territory he turned the case over to Constable Frank Brown. Dobson waived extradition and was lodged in the Detroit police headquarters Friday night. He was taken back to Camden today. He became acquainted with his wife, who was a widow, through a matrimonial agency. They had been married but three weeks when her body was found in the cellar by neighbors.

KIWANIS WILL HELP HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

INGERSOLL, Sept. 18.—With the help of the members of the Kiwanis Club, a material increase in the membership of the Horticultural Society is anticipated. Already there are signs of interest in the beautification of the town. Quite a number of citizens who previously have not been identified with the movement are undertaking work. The Horticultural Society has had a very successful season, and with the co-operation of the Kiwanians, 1922 should be a banner year.

ALLEGED BANDITS CAUGHT AT CACHE

Pair Are Charged With the Theft of $30,000.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18.—Deputy sheriffs early today shot and captured two men believed to be robbers, who stole $30,000 from a ticket truck of the Sells-Floto Circus here Friday night. Practically all the money was recovered from the robbers' cache, which was found by a farmer late yesterday while hunting in nearby woods.

When the farmer stumbled upon the money he notified the deputy sheriffs, who remained at the cache until two men appeared. When ordered to surrender the two started to run and were shot, one in the hip and the other in the body.

The wounded man refused to give their names. Physicians said both would recover. A third man, said to be implicated in the robbery, has not been found.

ROBBERS IDENTIFIED.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 18.—Ray Moore and Bert Orcutt, shot by deputy sheriffs early today, were identified as two of the three men who robbed a Sells-Floto circus truck of more than $30,000 near Vancouver last Friday. The identification was made by members of the circus party held up, and the men's names were furnished by two women, accompanied them to the cache where a farmer had found part of the money.

When an automobile containing two men, two women and two children drove past, the officers, who had maintained an all-night vigil attempted to make arrests, and the men ran and were shot. At the jail both refused to talk. The purpose of the parade was to talk. GUELPH, Sept. 18.—The church parade of the local Knights of Columbus, which took place this morning to the Church of Our Lady, was the largest ever held in Guelph, there being a thousand men of the congregation in line.

The purpose of the parade was to sign a petition which is being presented to all Roman Catholics, through the Province of Ontario, requesting that the Dominion Government and Ontario Legislature enact such a law as to give the Holy Name Society, and following solemn benediction at Loretto grounds by Bishop Dowling, passed a resolution calling upon the Legislature to pass legislation giving the separate schools some machinery to make workable the educational measures now on the books of the province.

PARADE AT HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, Sept. 18.—Between four and five thousand men marched through the streets of Hamilton today in public parade to support the Holy Name Society, and following solemn benediction at Loretto grounds by Bishop Dowling, passed a resolution calling upon the Legislature to pass legislation giving the separate schools some machinery to make workable the educational measures now on the books of the province.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 18.—A resolution calling for a division of taxes from railways and other corporations, whereby the separate schools would receive a share, was passed at a joint gathering of men of the Roman Catholic parishes of Brantford and Paris in St. Basil's Church this afternoon.

MOTHERS DISAPPROVE MILK AT RECESS PLAN

Many Unable To Give Fifteen Cents a Week Toward Project.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 18.—The mothers, generally, of little ones attending Wellington Street School and who are financially fit approve of the action of the Mothers' Club who will provide a recess hour for each of the younger pupils. The mothers specifically are not. The specific mothers declare they cannot afford it where two or three of their children are supposed to contribute 15 cents each a week. They decline to accept, as they say, the charity of the Mothers' Club, and if their young ones are suffering on account of the absence of milk, they will buy milk for their children and the parents who are unable to buy milk for their children are supposed to contribute 15 cents each a week. The specific mother also feels that the companions of her child at school who can pay for the glass of milk and the straw and the pupil who accepts the generosity of the Mothers' Club are liable to discuss the treat at recess in a way that may not be pleasing to the children of the specific mothers.

Nurse Again Arrested.

The practical nurse, who was remanded for sentence a week ago on a charge of the theft of some articles from a resident of Ross street, was again before the magistrate on Saturday afternoon for again stealing from a woman who had in the meantime engaged the accused. The woman appears to be a kindomane, and cannot keep her hands off other people's belongings. She is well connected. The magistrate, who allowed her out for a week, is considering how he may dispose of the case.

FUTURE LIFE CERTAIN SAYS PROF. KEIRSTEAD

"Death couldn't hold Jesus, and it cannot hold you," said Prof. E. M. Keirstead, D.D., LL.D., of McMaster University, preaching last evening in Wortley Road Baptist Church. There is nothing more certain than that we live beyond this life, Christ teaches it in many ways. Life is eternal now, and as your will is submitted to the will of God, you are alive with Him now.

SERIOUS CHARGE IS LAID AGAINST YOUTHS

BRANTFORD, Sept. 18.—Fines of $50 each were imposed by Judge Hardy Saturday on Ellwood Olds, Frank Broderick and Harold Reeves for breaking into a garage. The charges were laid at Paris. The Brantford police have laid other charges, it being alleged that they stole a car and broke into Kushner's fur store here, getting away with a load of furs, most of which were recovered.

IRISH HORSES FOR THE GREEK ARMY.

Thousands of Irish horses have been purchased by Greece to meet the requirements of the Greek army in the war with Turkey. Over 1,100 were shipped from Belfast on the steamship Manhattan, which sailed direct for Athens. The picture shows horses being brought to the ship.

THOUSAND SIGN TAX PETITION

Guelph Knights of Columbus Held Big Parade On Sunday.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH, Sept. 18.—The church parade of the local Knights of Columbus, which took place this morning to the Church of Our Lady, was the largest ever held in Guelph, there being a thousand men of the congregation in line. The purpose of the parade was to sign a petition which is being presented to all Roman Catholics, through the Province of Ontario, requesting that the Dominion Government and Ontario Legislature enact such a law as to give the Holy Name Society, and following solemn benediction at Loretto grounds by Bishop Dowling, passed a resolution calling upon the Legislature to pass legislation giving the separate schools some machinery to make workable the educational measures now on the books of the province.

PARADE AT HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, Sept. 18.—Between four and five thousand men marched through the streets of Hamilton today in public parade to support the Holy Name Society, and following solemn benediction at Loretto grounds by Bishop Dowling, passed a resolution calling upon the Legislature to pass legislation giving the separate schools some machinery to make workable the educational measures now on the books of the province.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 18.—A resolution calling for a division of taxes from railways and other corporations, whereby the separate schools would receive a share, was passed at a joint gathering of men of the Roman Catholic parishes of Brantford and Paris in St. Basil's Church this afternoon.

MOTHERS DISAPPROVE MILK AT RECESS PLAN

Many Unable To Give Fifteen Cents a Week Toward Project.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 18.—The mothers, generally, of little ones attending Wellington Street School and who are financially fit approve of the action of the Mothers' Club who will provide a recess hour for each of the younger pupils. The mothers specifically are not. The specific mothers declare they cannot afford it where two or three of their children are supposed to contribute 15 cents each a week. They decline to accept, as they say, the charity of the Mothers' Club, and if their young ones are suffering on account of the absence of milk, they will buy milk for their children and the parents who are unable to buy milk for their children are supposed to contribute 15 cents each a week. The specific mother also feels that the companions of her child at school who can pay for the glass of milk and the straw and the pupil who accepts the generosity of the Mothers' Club are liable to discuss the treat at recess in a way that may not be pleasing to the children of the specific mothers.

Nurse Again Arrested.

The practical nurse, who was remanded for sentence a week ago on a charge of the theft of some articles from a resident of Ross street, was again before the magistrate on Saturday afternoon for again stealing from a woman who had in the meantime engaged the accused. The woman appears to be a kindomane, and cannot keep her hands off other people's belongings. She is well connected. The magistrate, who allowed her out for a week, is considering how he may dispose of the case.

FUTURE LIFE CERTAIN SAYS PROF. KEIRSTEAD

"Death couldn't hold Jesus, and it cannot hold you," said Prof. E. M. Keirstead, D.D., LL.D., of McMaster University, preaching last evening in Wortley Road Baptist Church. There is nothing more certain than that we live beyond this life, Christ teaches it in many ways. Life is eternal now, and as your will is submitted to the will of God, you are alive with Him now.

WILL RETIRE JAIL GOVERNOR.

NORTH BAY, Sept. 18.—W. J. Bailey, governor of North Bay jail since 1906, will be either retiring or superannuated, according to information coming from Hon. H. C. Nixon. In connection with the local institution the provincial secretary further predicted a general shake-up of the staff. Five escapes have been made since 1902, two of which occurred last spring.

ELGIN FARMERS ARE READY TO SUPPORT A LABOR CANDIDATE

Joint Executives of U. F. O. and I. L. P. Met At Dutton.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 18.—The joint executives of the United Farmers of West Elgin and the Independent Labor Party of St. Thomas convened Saturday night at Dutton behind closed doors. Not even the accredited news representative of the local I. L. P. was allowed nearer to the scene of the deliberations than the outside purview of the keyhole. The members of both executives were there to a man. The gathering was united in the leading factor which brought both organizations together—to select an I. L. P. candidate for the coming federal elections. The farmers again gave their assurance in behalf of their fellows that they would support, aid and co-operate with the I. L. P. in the election of any member of the I. L. P. who would be the choice of a convention of the labor men.

The present nominee, ex-Ald. John Lane, a former president of the I. L. P., was there to press his claims for the nomination, but Mr. Lane was not given that kind of recognition which, as a prominent member of the labor party and the men selected over a year ago to fill the bill, was entitled to. The local organization, M. C. R. Conductor A. E. Hookway, was given the united smiles of the assembly, and if no unseen voice be raised against his selection, it is certain that Mr. Hookway's nomination will be confirmed at the convention to be held in the city on next Saturday night.

Among the speakers was Mrs. Dukes, a prominent member of the U. F. O. of West Elgin. The meeting throughout was without a ripple of confusion. There is no question, at least, of the close union of the executives, whatever the individual farmers may think about the alliance.

LATE MRS. HOARE WAS NATIVE OF HYDE PARK

WINDSOR, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Sarah MacKenzie Hoare, aged 86 years, widow of the late Dr. Walter W. Hoare, and mother of Dr. Charles W. Hoare, of Walkerville, coroner, died last night after a short illness at her home on Kildare road. She had been a resident of the border cities for fifteen years, her husband formerly practiced and lived. She was born in Hyde Park, near London.

Besides Dr. Hoare she is survived by one other son, Edward, and three daughters, Mrs. J. P. Tisdall and Mrs. W. K. Pearce, Toronto, and Miss Georgina Hoare at home.

One of Triplets Dead.

Bert, one of the triplets of Mr. and Mrs. John Milner, West Lorne, aged 1 year and 8 months, died yesterday after a brief illness.

Owing to the moist weather of Saturday afternoon, the Windsor-St. Catharines western final tennis match was postponed. The Windsor members arrived before an adjournment was decided upon.

Appointed Physical Instructor.

The local Y. W. C. A. has appointed Miss Marion Price as physical instructor and girls' work secretary. Miss Price has had charge of girls' work at Hiram Settlement House, Cleveland.

The 40th Anniversary.

The 40th anniversary of the Alma College will be marked by a special service at the First Methodist Church October 9. Dr. George J. Tremaine, associate secretary of the Methodist Church department of education, will be the preacher.

RECOMMEND ERECTION OF INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Board of Education To Invite Dr. Merchant To Visit the City.

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 17.—The internal committee of the board of education recommended to the board last night the erection at the earliest possible moment of an industrial and vocational school, along the lines suggested in Dr. Rutherford's report last spring, and suggested the invitation of Dr. Merchant to visit St. Thomas at his first opportunity to address the board, the city council, the board of trade and others interested, so that the matter may be gone into at once.

The committee directed that the auditorium of the collegiate be divided into four rooms, and the domestic science department be placed in Alma College until the new school is erected. Principal Dobson will be thanked for the use of the college rooms.

RAIN WAS NEEDED IN CAYUGA DISTRICT

CAYUGA, Sept. 18.—The farmers and townspeople of this vicinity are thankful for the recent, much-needed rain. Rev. Nelson of the social service department of the Methodist Church was the chief speaker at the semi-annual meeting of the district financial board of the Cayuga branch. Mr. Wilkinson of Dresden, a missionary worker in Japan, also spoke. Dinner was served to the board by the ladies of the congregation.

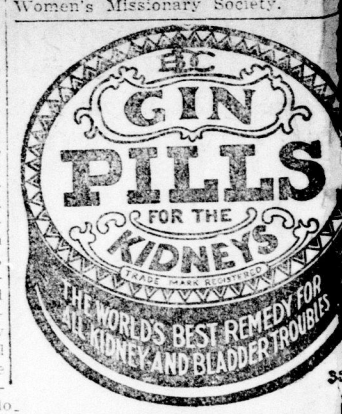

St. John's Church was decorated with autumn flowers, grain and fruit for the harvest festival, when Rev. G. W. Tebbis of Burlington was the preacher. The sermon, very suitable for the season, was from Luke xii, 16-21, "The Rich Fool." The congregation was large and the music, rendered by a full choir, was decidedly first-class. The organist, Mrs. H. Hoshall, sang in her usual fine style a setting of "The Lord is My Shepherd."

FAIR WILL OPEN THURSDAY.

ST. MARYS, Sept. 18.—The South Perth Agricultural Society Fair will be held here next Thursday and Friday. The afternoon of the first day will be taken up in placing the exhibits and judging them. In the evening, which is termed citizens' night, the fair will be open to the general public. The St. Marys Kiltie Band will be in attendance. The second day is Farmers' Day, when all stock will be exhibited and prizes awarded.

SEAFORTH WOMEN HEAR OF MISSIONARY WORK

SEAFORTH, Sept. 18.—Women's Day was fittingly observed in First Presbyterian Church today. The pastor, Rev. F. H. Larkin, D.D., presided. The presidents of the local auxiliary, the McKillop branch and also the Harbora Kirkman Young Women's Auxiliary occupied seats on the platform. In the morning Mrs. McIntyre of Toronto gave an address on her work in a mining camp in Southern Alberta, and later among the Ukrainians in Toronto. In the evening she showed lantern slides illustrating the work being done by the Women's Missionary Society. Suitable music was rendered by a ladies' choir. Members of the auxiliary also acted as ushers and collectors. The board of management do-

Lifting the Embargo.

Lifting the embargo on the importation of Canadian live cattle into Great Britain may not give universal satisfaction, but apparently the Royal Commission which was appointed to inquire into the matter has come to the conclusion that the removal of this obstacle to trade will in a general way be beneficial. The British people, as a whole, will benefit in the way of reduced prices for meats and in better milk supply, and this is sufficient for the commission.

It is now about thirty years ago since the embargo was imposed, and the reason given at the time was that it was to safeguard the British cattle from the foot-and-mouth disease, which was supposed to exist among the Canadian herds, but the real reason was that the Conservative Government which was in power at the time wished to conciliate Irish Nationalist opinion, which wished to have competition to the Irish cattle trade with Britain removed.

Thorough investigation failed to prove that a single case of disease existed among Canadian stock, and subsequent investigation which was made from time to time also gave Canadian cattle a clean bill of health.

The embargo on Canadian "stores" hit some of the Scottish farmers very heavily, and deputations after deputations interviewed the Hon. Walter Long, then president of the Board of Agriculture, with the object of having the restrictions removed, but all in vain. It was also pointed out by the various ports of landing in the United Kingdom that a large amount of capital had been invested in the erection of wharves, cattle sheds and sale arenas, but nothing was done, and it soon became evident that the embargo was really a protective measure meant to benefit the Irish graziers and the English fat cattle raisers.

This did not help the people at large, and in lifting the embargo the Imperial Government will be adopting the Liberal principle that the many must not suffer for the benefit of the few. The present British regime is essentially democratic, and the reign of privilege is rapidly drawing to a close.

It is anticipated that the readmission of Canadian live cattle will promote the restoration of British live stock from the losses of the war, both in quantity and quality, and that the Canadian farmer will now find a profitable outlet for his stock, the trade in which has been hard hit by the United States emergency tariff. It will also have the effect of bringing Canada and the mother country closer together, and will be a means of proving to the old land what vast possibilities lie in the Canadian West.

Round the Globe by Air.

The tragic fate of the giant dirigible at Hull recently has apparently had no effect in deterring the airman from going ahead in the march of aviation. Although dirigibles with their huge bulk and their liability to mishap, owing to the immense quantity of gas to be carried, are not likely to be extensively used for many years to come, the lighter and more easily managed aeroplane will doubtless continue that progress which has marked this class of aircraft since its invention and successful trial.

Already the aeroplane has been since the war successfully employed in the carrying of passengers and mails for comparatively long distances, and the first 'round-the-world' trip by aeroplane is now being contemplated by Sir Ross Smith, the British airman who last summer made the flight from England to Australia.

The route mapped out by this aviator is across Europe and Asia to China and Japan, northward across the Bering Sea to Alaska, and thence across Canada to St. Johns, Newfoundland. The Canadian Air Board is co-operating in the matter, and is making out landing places at various stages in the route.

A trip such as this will be one of the most remarkable demonstrations of the possibilities of the aeroplane that has yet been attempted, and will be a thorough test of long-distance flying in different climates and under varying conditions. It will also serve to prove whether such machines can in the course of one continuous trip such as this successfully emerge from the severe tests of tropical heat and arctic cold. This aerial circumnavigation of the globe, if duly carried out, will entitle Sir Ross Smith to rank with the greatest navigators and discoverers of history, and its successful issue will also determine whether the world's commercial future lies in the air.

A Misnomer.

There is not the slightest doubt that one of London's greatest assets is the Western Fair. Indeed, it is a moot point whether it is not the greatest asset that the city has, and this is why its continued prosperity and development should be the object of all who have at heart the good not only of London itself, but of Western Ontario as a whole.

With exhibitors coming from far and near, some of them from the Prairie Provinces, it has occurred to a number of people that the title Western Fair is somewhat of a misnomer, and that some more appropriate designation might be chosen. The present name was quite all right when this part of the Dominion was known as Canada West, but this pioneer stage has long been passed, and the real Canada West is now washed by the waves of the Pacific Ocean.

It will be observed that Toronto fair has long cast its slough of parochialism, and is known far and wide as the Canadian National Exhibition. No one will venture to say that Toronto has lost anything by the adoption of this name, or that the exhibition has suffered in consequence. Is it not, therefore, time that London was detroning the village pump and asserting its due prestige?

If Toronto fair can be called the National Exhibition, surely London may be designated the Western Ontario Exhibition, or perhaps better still, the Ontario Exhibition. We offer these suggestions at a time when the extension of the exhibition grounds and the erection of more commodious and up-to-date buildings is in contemplation.

Possibilities of Reforestation.

Reforestation is one of the phases of the development of the natural resources of the country which is bound to play an important part in the future. At the present time the only provincial forestry station for the growing of planting stock is that situated in Norfolk County. This station furnishes stock to be used in the various reforestation projects. There is at present in this provincial nursery a total of about 1,390,225 young trees, the largest proportion of this being Scots pine seedlings of from three to twelve inches in height.

During the past season there was distributed to private land-owners throughout the Province of Ontario no fewer than 130,000 trees, and the reforestation done on the areas to which this stock was shipped will eventually show results which will be available for demonstration purposes. Many of these experimental plantations have created local interest in the work, and there are now plantations in all the older counties of the province. During the past season an officer of the forestry branch of the Department of Agriculture has been inspecting the older plantations, and it is expected that a definite system of inspection will be inaugurated in the near future.

Strange as it may seem, there is no mention of tree-planting in the suggestions made for the alleviation of unemployment at the convention which has been sitting at Winnipeg, and it is evident that the vast importance of reforestation as a factor in the prosperity of the country has not occurred to the average individual. Timber is a commodity that has hitherto been come by so readily that the circumstance that a day may come when the denuding of the forest areas may prove very serious for some parts of the country does not seem to have been grasped. European countries woke up to this danger many generations ago, and it is well for them that they did. As a factor in the progress of a country, the economic value of a good timber supply cannot be overestimated.

In casting around for ways and means to tide over the unemployment problem of the coming months, the corporation of London might do worse than consider the advisability of doing a bit of reforestation on their own account. A beginning in this line has already been made by the Public Utilities Department, and there must be numerous areas in and around the city where timber-trees might be planted which in the course of years would become of considerable commercial value. Of course, very little progress in planting could be made during the winter months, but as far as the weather permitted the ground could be cleared and preparations made for putting in the young trees when opportunity offered, but the matter will have to be gone about systematically and seriously. Haphazard methods are not much use in work of this sort, and expert knowledge is necessary in order to secure the best results. Not so very long ago we referred in these columns to the wonderful results which had been attained by experimental planting at the Ontario Hospital, and there is no reason why others should not succeed in the same way.

One of the fundamentals to all reforestation schemes is the growing of adaptable nursery stock, and of even greater importance is the securing of suitable seed. It is generally recognized by botanists as well as foresters that seed collected from plants in one locality is best for sowing in that same locality. This in itself opens up possibilities. The collecting of seed grown locally might be turned to considerable advantage.

PRESS VIEWS ON POLITICS

SAME OLD CALIBRE.
[Halifax Chronicle.]
From the forecasts of Mr. Meighen's reorganization it would appear that in the new cabinet it will be mostly changes of a few names rather than any appreciable change in calibre.

NO UNIONISM THERE.
[Calgary Albertan.]
The misguided person who has an idea that the Government has any of the elements of unionism in it, might be enlightened by reflecting on the fact that only three of the entire cabinet ever professed Liberalism—Mr. C. G. Ballantyne, one time president of the Manufacturers' Association, it is reported, is quitting the Government; another, James Calder, is about to retire to the senate because he would not be elected in any riding in Western Canada; and a third, Hugh Guthrie, left the party before Union Government was created.

LIBERALS ALL TOGETHER.
[North Sydney Herald.]
In a well-considered article, The Halifax Chronicle sends out a timely call for unity in the Liberal party for the party to get together actively in starting the campaign to win the coming general elections. The Chronicle regrets the unfortunate division in the ranks of the party in the 1917 election, but points out that the issues that caused that division have now disappeared, while the principles that previously held the party together as a united body still remain as of old. The Chronicle says that the Liberal members of the Dominion Parliament and other leaders of the province meet without delay to talk matters over and formulate plans for the campaign. The North Sydney Herald thinks that a good suggestion, and would remark that though, as the Chronicle says, Liberals who supported the Borden Government and those who stood by Laurier may now concede good faith to each other, they must be clearly understood that any man who supports the Borden Government cannot be considered a Liberal, no matter what he calls himself.

MEIGHEN AS GUESSER.
[Montreal Star.]
Premier Meighen made the statement in his London speech that the Liberals would not likely have a single candidate in the coming election. Winnipeg says that Meighen never made a more foolish guess. The Liberals are not going to lay down for any party when the day of testing comes. That should be clear to all right now. The Liberals of this district, like those of every other district in the Middle West, desire to defeat the Meighen Government. The old Union administration in another party. To make sure of this, they have done their best to avoid splitting the low tariff vote. If this vote is split hopelessly in this riding or any other riding the fault cannot be laid at their door. They have shown a disposition to "get together," but under no consideration will they stand together with any party. That cannot be made too plain in this political crisis of our nation's history. This being the case, it can be seen that where there is to be no co-operation, no unity from the blindness and prejudice of some would-be leaders the Liberals will be represented in the battle line and represented by men who drive to the front. And they will win more seats in Western Canada than some people think.

SURE!
[Stratford Beacon.]
If Mr. King runs in Prince, a "royal" victory would seem almost inevitable.

WOMEN IN THE SENATE.
[Ottawa Journal.]
Three important British Columbia newspapers, the Victoria Colonist, the Vancouver Province and Vancouver Sun, are urging the appointment to the Canadian Senate of Mrs. Ralph Smith, who is at present a member of the executive committee of the Ontario Women's Government in that province. Mrs. Smith is the widow of the well-known Labor leader who sat in the Ottawa House for a number of years. She is an exceedingly well-informed woman of magnetic personality. The British Columbia papers suggest that the appointment would be a compliment to the women of Canada. The Journal believes it would be quite in line with modern progress for women to sit in the Canadian Senate. In addition, the women of London recently, Premier Meighen stated that new legislation would be necessary to permit of this desirable innovation because it was not authorized under the existing statute. The Premier promised, if he remained at the head of the Government, to introduce such legislation at an early session.

BY OTHER BARDS

GETTING OUT OF THE HOLE.
[Winnipeg Free Press.]
When a man says he would buy a wheelbarrow or a necktie or a new pipe if wheelbarrows or neckties or new pipes were cheaper, he is getting at the roots of the present business depression. If the man who makes pipes cannot sell them, that is his funeral, for it is possible that people can get along without them. If a citizen cannot get his house painted because he does not think he can afford to pay for the paint and the painter, that is the funeral of the paint-maker and the painter. No argument can be advanced to the contrary. The same thing works through the whole business and industrial fabric, with an exception in the case of the necessities of life. And with these it is possible for the consumption to fluctuate as a result of prices. Too high a price means a lower consumption. There can be tearing of hair about the situation, but it will avail nothing. A little plain thinking all around is what is needed. The country is in a hole, and it will have to crawl out. Jerking at the boot-tops will not lift a pound.

FRENCH HOPES IN ONTARIO.

[Le Matin.]
A pamphlet entitled, "Public Schools in the French-Canadian centres of Ontario," is being circulated by the United Farmers' Government of that province. It is part of a campaign which, if it bears fruit, will surely result in the abolition of the sorry clause XVII, and bring about at the same time the Drury Administration to the separate schools, which are now financially embarrassed. The Drury cabinet has done more for the French cause in Ontario than all the governments which preceded it. An English champion and defender of our language—that is a fine gesture! Mr. Drury and his colleagues merit our gratitude.

DEATH HAS NO TERRORS.

[Atlantic Monthly.]
Not only the dead, but death itself, seems not to inspire the Sakalawas (of Africa) with any terror. Their burial rites are of the merriest, and anybody unacquainted with the customs of that nation would be convinced, on first witnessing the approach of a funeral cortege, that the people were not so much devoted with burning, shining pieces of metal, and small mirrors, that it was a nuptial party. Again, suicide by one of the deadly poisons that abound in the island, and in the case of the Sakalawas, is resorted to quite as a matter of course, on the least provocation, even by children when they have been scolded by their parents.

DIRECT ACTION AT POPULAR.

[London Daily News.]
It is to be hoped the Poplar council will not deem it necessary to carry their protest further by going to jail, if a formal apology to the court will save them, for it would be a poor compliment to suggest that they will not be more use outside prison than they will be inside to the people whose civil interests they represent. It is also to be hoped that no further countenance will be given to the proposal for a campaign of general passive resistance against rates, taxes and rent. That is undeniably a form of direct action, which, by confusing the issue, would also defer the end in view.

A DANGEROUS TRAFFIC.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]
The Hamilton Herald tells a story about some people from that city who had dealings with bootleggers in Windsor. One of them who had paid six dollars for what appeared to be a bottle of whiskey was rendered partially paralyzed and temporarily blind by a drink of the stuff. The blindness passed in an hour or so, but the paralysis lasted for weeks. Another man, who discovered that a bottle of "brandy" for which he had paid seven dollars was nothing but water.

People who deal with bootleggers run the greatest risk of serious illness, which is that they may meet with their money for water. Nobody who has any respect for his health will take a chance with any of the vile concoctions that belong to the underground traffic. Some of them may be deadly poison; most of them are likely to be dangerous. The experience of hospitals in both the United States and Canada furnishes evidence that there must be a considerable consumption of liquors that are not fit and were never intended for human use. The Hamilton man was not alone in his blindness, and his paralysis were but temporary.

Poetry and Jest.

THE THRILL OF AUTUMN.

[Clinton Scollard in New York Herald.]
The creeper is crimson, and crimson the brier;
The hawk and the hip are both scarlet;
The south wind of autumn is low like a lyre.

The birch is like amber of tenuous fold;
The bought of the linden waves pennons of gold;
As though topped tipped are the ferns on the wold.

Like fairy spun silver the gossamer gleams;
The valleys are filled with the singing of streams;
The watches of twilight are purple with dreams.

From hilltop to hilltop the sky is an opal of glory, whereon like a bark
The round moon sails up through the aisles of the dark.

And we who are thrall to the bounteous store
Spread widely before us on height and on shore,
Feel unto all of the autumns of yore.

A "BEE" STORY.

[Montreal Herald.]
The latest "bee story" comes from the place where most of the astonishing stories are manufactured. Out in Texas a swarm of bees has, it is said, hived in the gear box of a motor car. The almost constant operation of the car has failed to dislodge them. In fact, the owner, an operator, who drives to the town, taking his apathy with him, believes they like the change of scenery. Occasionally a dilatory one gets left behind, but it is said the swarm has learned to keep half an eye on its car, and when the horn sounds the signal for starting the bees no doubt scramble aboard.

Perhaps in time they will come to distinguish blowouts and punctures, estimate the comparative delay, and whiz with nectar and pollen between wheels. It is the modern ruse; even insects acquire it.

"MUCH OBLIGED."

[Exchange.]
"And are there any grim, terrible legends connected with this ancient pile?" asked the romantic tourist.
"Oh, yes, sir," replied the guide.
"And what are they?"
"It is said that only once in my time, a guide had showed a gentleman over the castle, and the gentleman was going away without giving him any tip, when the guide pitched him from the battlements, and he was killed at the bottom."

Of course, that's only a— Oh, thank you, sir, thank you; much obliged."

THE IVY GREEN.

[Charles Dickens.]
Oh, a dainty plant in the ivy green.
That creepeth o'er the ruin old.
Of choice food for the meads, I mean,
In his cell so lone and cold.
The wall must be crumbled, the stone decayed.
To pleasure his dainty whim:
And the mouldering dust that years have made
Is a merry meal for him.
Creeping where no life is seen.
A rare old plant is the ivy green.

Fast he stealth on, though he wears no wings,
And a staunch old heart has he,
How closely he twines, how tight he clings.
To his friend the huge oak tree:
And slyly he traileth along the ground,
And his leaves he gently waves,
As he joyously hugs and crawleth round.
The rich mould of dead men's graves.
Creeping where grim death has been,
A rare old plant is the ivy green.

Whole ages have fled and their works decayed,
And nations have scattered been;
But the stout old ivy shall never fade
From its hale and hearty green.
The brave old plant, in its lonely days,
Shall flatter up on the past:
For the stateliest building man can raise
Is the ivy's food at last.
Creeping on, where time has been,
A rare old plant is the ivy green.

TAKING THE HINT.

[Spare Moments.]
"George, dear,"
She looked anxiously at the clock,
which pointed to 12:30.
"What is it, love?"
"I don't wish to hurry you away,
George, but you know that papa is not over fond of you, and he is an early riser."
At this hint George commenced to get ready to take his departure.

RESTLESS FEET.

[J. H. MacLeod.]
My feet are restless. The world looks bright,
And I feel that beyond the turn in the road
All kinds of treasures await my sight.
Ah! this city life is a grievous load.
'Midst the city's din our bodies grow weak,
I long to be far, far away,
By the mossy side of some rippling creek.
Where the wild flowers bloom so gay.

The distant hills will always look green
To a wandering chap like me.
I long to be where the snowdrops are seen,
Where the waters flow west to the sea.

Let me stand on the bridge and view at its best the Niagara Falls.
Or see sunrise tinge on the lofty crest
Of Mount Robson's massive walls.

Could I but hear the sullen roar
Of the Bay of Fundy tide,
Or the crackle and ice on the Arctic shore,
Where the Northern Lights abide.

The dusty deserts, so dry and so drear,
Send to me their silent appeal.
The Southern vineyards, I wish they were near;
Other wanderers know how I feel.

Alas! Alas! I am sick at heart,
Perchance I'll cross the narrow river.
But in spite of it all my thoughts still roam,
And my feet are as restless as ever.

The Silver Lining.

[By Fullerton Waldo.]

IN SPITE OF EVERYTHING.

The novelist, Joseph Hergesheimer, who has fought a long, hard battle with success and fame and won it, said to me laughingly the other day: "Whenever I sit down to write, everything seems to happen to annoy me, and if every disease were breaking out at once, my eyes water, and my feet itch, and I feel twinges of rheumatism in my ribs and shoulders, and scintillations and the hives seem to be breaking out all over me."

We all know what he meant. The early surveys of Panama, the explorers of Labrador write of the plague of mosquitoes in a way that leads us to believe the plagues of Egypt couldn't have been worse.

Kipling's "Sons of Martha" describes how the engineers suffer the pains of martyrdom to build a railway, that you and I may travel "pleasantly and a-sleeping and unaware."

Is a woman's day in a household a simple or easy experience? All day long, especially on particular days when the jinx is busiest, things seem to rise up to plague her out of the peace of her soul. But she has to carry on somehow, in spite of the mad's desertion, the baby's crying, the bills to pay, the beds to make, the plumber to send for, the dinner to cook.

And at the office, how easily things are shattered into sixes and sevens, just because somebody was a boob or a nut. We have to get things done—many a time—in spite of everything and everybody.

ITALY SUFFERS BY SOVIET RULE

Severing of Trade Relations With Russia Viciously Affects Country's Industry.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—I have always been decidedly opposed to Bolshevism, even when certain currents of opinion manifested themselves in favor of recognizing the republic of the soviets. It is impossible to recognize a state which is based on violence and which, in its relations with other states, almost invariably has in view the accomplishment of an active revolutionary propaganda. At the very outside, limited commercial agreements might be arrived at, to the exclusion of cordial international relations.

Ancient Italy was, throughout her history, the most hospitable of countries; the cult of her "faciale," or herald priests, was the cult of sound international laws. Rome extended a generous welcome to all religions of all peoples. But even the most tolerant of states cannot recognize those who violate the laws of hospitality by promoting discord in the countries which harbor them. Unfortunately, if the complete absence of relations with Russia is harmful to the economic situation of the whole world, Italy may be said to be the greatest sufferer from this state of things. More than any other country, Italy feels the severing of trade relations with Russia, because practically the whole of her commerce and consequently the price of freights and of merchandise have been based for over half a century on her traffic with the Black Sea.

The ships which left British ports with a full cargo for Italy usually went on to the Black Sea, where they took in a cargo of oil, grain, etc., and returned to England after calling for extra cargo at Italian ports, and for iron ore in Spain. For quite a long period Italy enjoyed very favorable freight and paid for her coal almost at the same rates at which it was quoted in England. Russia's present situation, therefore, is damaging chiefly to Italy. Great Britain has Mediterranean interests; France is a Mediterranean nation; Italy has a special interest in resuming direct relations with Russia, the Italian Government has understood this, and it is a formal recognition of the government of Moscow.

It must be confessed, however, that it is more deplorable than the policy hitherto followed by the countries of the Entente. Men belonging to the ancient regime have for a long time been treated as representatives of a still existing state, while a mass of facts that state had ceased to exist. Some European countries not only have encouraged and helped every military enterprise against the Bolshevik Russia, but have recognized in those reactionary armies the real and legal government of Russia. Finally, which is graver still, some of the countries of the Entente have subordinated their recognition of the Bolshevik government to the fulfilment of obligations, including, above all, the payment of her pre-war debts. It would have been impossible to follow a more mistaken course.

Lead to New Settlement.

But two facts have taken place which are leading us, quite apart from, and indeed in spite of, any political action on our part, towards a new settlement of our relations with Russia.

The first is that all the military enterprises launched against the government of Moscow have ended so disastrously that the entente governments have given up all idea of promoting fresh attempts. If history had ever taught anything, these grave errors might easily have been avoided. The second fact is that the military reverses of the generals of the old regime that Western Europe opened her eyes finally and would have nothing more to do with the Denikins and Wrangels, who were foolishly placed her trust.

The second fact, of first importance, is Russia's steady and progressive abandonment of the communist system. We cannot diagnose Bolshevism correctly with our western mentality; it is not a popular or revolutionary movement, but a religious fanaticism of eastern orthodoxy, grafted on the trunk of czarist despotism. The methods adopted by Lenin in establishing his supremacy do not differ fundamentally from those by which the Russian Empire originally nothing but the Duchy of Muscovy, developed into the most colossal state of the world. Bureaucratic and centralizing Bolshevism followed without the slightest originality, in the footsteps of czarism.

Communism Collapsing.
But the most important phenomenon which we are now witnessing is that of the rapid collapse of political organization. In all probability the outcome of the revolutionary avalanche which has submerged Russia will be, in a few years, a regime of small landed property. Russian peasants nowadays do not go in for farming unless in their own interest, and have even abandoned time-moroned forms of collective ownership in order to proclaim their faith in individual property.

The government of Moscow itself, which up till last year appeared to be uncompromisingly intransigent, has urged the Caucasian republics not only to recognize private property, but also to spare no efforts in restoring trade with foreign countries on capitalist lines. The necessity in which it finds itself of resuming international trade relations has forced the Moscow government to a series of concessions which are the very negation of communism. Every day industry shows a more marked tendency to return to the old order; communist production has proved itself to be such a miserable and incapable affair, so utterly lacking in energy, that the only means of salvation appears to lie in promoting and encouraging individual effort and interest.

The Russian communist experiment may be regarded as a complete failure, inasmuch as instead of proving an attractive example to the working masses, it has revealed itself as a short cut to utter disaster and ruin.

Heaped Up Misery and Ruin.
It does not follow, however, that Russia's present situation may be judged from a different standpoint than in the past. What is contrary to human nature can never be durable, and all that communists do to do to heap up misery and ruin from which a new form of life may emerge, a form of life which we cannot as yet well understand or define. But Bolshevism Russia can rely on two elements which do not usually figure in our reckonings: the apathy and indolence of the people on the one side and a powerful military organization on the other. No people, save the Russian, would have undergone resolutely the immense misery and untold sufferings which many tens of millions of Russians appear to bear without complaint. But on the other hand, it must be admitted, no other people plunged in so deep a morass of misery and suffering could possibly have organized and maintained so powerful and well-disciplined an army as the army of revolutionary Russia.

Therefore all those who hoped for the impending collapse of the Russia of the soviets are destined to disappointment. As their hopes are based on the same ideas and prejudices which hitherto have rendered the policy of the Entente so absurd and contradictory.

Russia still must go through a long period of depression. It is not possible to count on a rapid revival of economic activity, but we easily can foresee the disappearance of all forms of communist production and the formation of landed property held by the peasantry.

Resurrection Must Be Slow.

Russia's economic resurrection can take place but slowly and gradually, after so great a disaster, and necessarily with the help of Germany. The Germans alone will be able to help the immense territories which war and revolution have laid waste; the Germans will reorganize the industries and create new sources of wealth. No other country of Europe could give Russia so numerous and productive an army of reconstruction; all are faced by too many difficulties to overcome and problems to solve in order to maintain the positions created by the war.

The end of the Russian communist regime will not come as a catastrophe, but rather as a slow and continuous decline. Capitalistic production which the revolution violently had suppressed will rise up again as a very necessity of life; it will triumph over all the doubts and all the anarchy of the Russian people. But the decisive work of reconstruction will be slow, and will not be completed until Europe has adapted itself to the conditions of her new equilibrium, and until Germany, who asks for life and space, will apply her patient effort to the task.

Oppose Military Effort.

We must continue in our policy of not recognizing the government of the soviets, but we likewise must abandon all thoughts of military enterprises which only result in attracting widespread sympathies to the Russian revolutionaries, including those of their bitterest enemies.

Humanity has made so disastrous an experiment of communism that only madmen might be tempted to repeat it. And it is to be hoped the fall of the communist regime and the return, however slow, to an individualistic economic system will be brought about by the same men who made the revolution. The laws of life will once more reveal themselves as being infinitely superior to any metaphysical program or to an ideological delusion. It will be the same men of communism who, with new laws and new measures, will prepare the resurrection of capitalist economy, the only one capable of exploiting to the advantage of mankind the immense riches buried in the earth and the priceless treasures of work and energy hidden away under the present veil of apathy which holds the Russian people as underneath a cloud.

There are sleeves borrowed from tunic coats, and sleeves that recall picturesque hussar uniforms to say nothing of those of the angel variety, which nowadays, one refers to as nun's sleeves. Another feature which has considerable merit is that sleeves may be made from two kinds of materials: the woman who is struggling with the make-over problem will be overjoyed to hear this and to know that she may add inches or so of straight band down her arm, or make the upper part of her sleeve one color, and the lower part, another. Steel nailheads and embroidery and Bright, hued sleeves set into armholes, which are almost waist deep are a picturesque fashion which persists, and bright sashes girdling frocks which are otherwise sombre in hue are ways of introducing color. LXXXII. The Voice of Vandaveer.

A perfect morning heralded in the day of Eve's walk with Dick. That lady had been rather anxious as to any possible incalculable "I was there."

A cold, grey fog, such as often occurred at this time of the year, was quite enough to chill romance.

It was splendid, then, that the sun shone, and a dry, frosty air promised an exhilarating tramp.

"Though I don't look forward to the walk itself," quoth Eve to herself, wondering just what clothes she would wear for the occasion.

Like Alexander setting forth on new worlds to conquer, so did Miss Eve inspect her armour and equipment.

"You're wanted on the telephone, miss," one of the maids informed her, as Eve brushed out her hair before the looking-glass. "Call from New York, long distance—shall I tell them to hold the line?"

"You'll be good enough to leave the telephone alone," said Miss Eve, tartly. "You always do mess up my calls so thoroughly."

"She swept past the indignant servant and proceeded towards the hall downstairs, her hair floating over her shoulders and a morning wrap about her figure."

She was not interested in the telephone. It was the means of far too many upsets.

Yesterday, for instance, two important dresses had been called for, and she had been over a week and been impertinent about the wire.

"And a woman to whom Eve was owing a hundred dollars had also dared to telephone upon the subject."

"Hello! Who's there?" Eve's manner was not pleasant. Nor were her tones inviting of a confidence.

She thrust the receiver close against her ear and listened.

Then her whole face changed. The sudden look faded. Eve was seen to smile.

"Oh, Julian, is that you? Bad boy! Where on earth have you been hiding?"

"Oh, business, was it? Then I can be angry," Eve's tones were positively cooing now. "Yes, what's that? Longing to get back here, Julian? Really, dear? That's splendid!"

Silence again. Eve breathed in a little, did you say? Well, not as much as I've been missing you!" This very fervently.

The library door swung open and there stood Eve's guardian, Mr. Carrington. He glared at his young ward, whose whole soul seemed focussed on the instrument.

"Eve!" He spoke very curtly. "Pray don't make a public fool of yourself at this time. Follow me into my study, please. Have you no pride left, you silly woman? Do you want the servants and everyone to hear your silly, sentimental talk?"

"Hush!" Eve swung round, the receiver still against her ear. "Don't interrupt at the other end!" Then her gaze focussed on the instrument once more.

"Hello, there, Julian! No, don't cut me in! Hello, are you listening? Julian! Where are you coming down again?"

Carrington Bellairs was furious.

"Tell him to keep away. We don't want the shady rascal in this house!" His voice was "carrying" in quality.

But Eve—she was a hand across the mouthpiece of the instrument so that this piece of inhumanity did not drift across the wires to the recalcitrant Julian.

"Do go away, guard! And mind your own business!" she hoped so. "I'm only being civil to our guest!"

"Guest, be damned! A here-today-and-gone-tomorrow guest! No use to anyone!" Bellairs scolded at Eve.

But Eve—the presence of her guardian quite forgot her own. She once more cooed into the telephone.

"Coming back tonight? Oh, Julian, that's great. And—listen—I've some progress to report to you. Yes, truly. You'll be interested. Until tonight, then—"

She slammed the receiver back upon its hook, swept past her guardian, and proceeded upstairs for her morning bath.

He followed her.

"You're a precious idiot, young woman," was his comment. "Didn't I tell you that that Vandaveer was no earthly good to you? Didn't I tell you to concentrate on young Caldarin? After last night I had some hopes of you!"

Miss Eve turned round, abashed. Her temper always was uncertain. And Carrington's presumption irritated her beyond all words.

However, she swallowed back her indignation. She remembered the rewards that this game offered.

TOMORROW—EVE'S PLAN.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE STYLE CENTRES

New York and Atlantic City Have Forgotten There Ever Was a Summer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The exhibition of imported models, as well as several original designs by Hickson, that were shown at this establishment within the week, included an and, which will be used a great deal this season. It is tinted and very soft, so that it has much of the quality of satin. Another important effect is the combination of rose and silver brocade. There is an impressive train of silver lace, held in place with a metal buckle. There is a penicillated for the violine shades in shaded purple flowers and grapes, which are used as waist line decorations. One of the most attractive of the imports was a frock of soft green shade, the straight gown of beaded crepe and the beads in a self-color all-over design with a soft tulle of darker green velvet drawn gracefully about the hips, the fullness of the skirt at the left hip with a flower ornament.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 17.—Even though the weather still continues warm, fall styles are now reigning supreme and smartly gowned women have relegated their summer apparel to the clothes closet.

A smart frock developed in black Canton crepe seen on the boardwalk featured the narrow, tight fitting to the elbow and then flowing to extraordinary width at the skirt. Side panels, reaching about four inches below the skirt were adorned with black iridescent beads in a number of substantial girdle gathered in the loose, low waistline. Another black Canton crepe afternoon dress was made out of the ordinary by circles of monkey fur almost entirely covering the skirt. The fur also trimmed the round neck and three-quarter bell sleeves.

LENOX, Mass., Sept. 17.—Sleeves have grown rampantly gay, and some do not seem related to the dress they are being of other material and color. They are long, and some longer, almost covering the hands, and gathered into a wristband of beads, disk discs, crepe ribbon, coral embroidery, etc.

Other sleeves are wide and of two materials, the back of the dress goods and the front of net, lace, bright-colored crepe, and the new trimming materials.

Skirts, with their acquired width and length, begin to display trimmings, too, and insertions, pin tucks, lapping tails, cut-work bands and folds, ruffles, lace and fur are only some of the embellishments.

The annual meeting of the Grace County Club was held recently at the home of the Misses Anna and Agnes McKay. After the usual business meeting the following officers for the coming year were elected: President, Miss Mabel Sutherland; vice-president, Miss Jean Hogg; secretary, Miss Agnes C. McKay; and treasurer, Miss Anna McKay. The rest of the afternoon was spent in games and social intercourse, after which the hostess served a dainty luncheon.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Saturday, Sept. 24, 1921, at the home of the Misses Marjorie and Mabel Matheson. This meeting will mark the beginning of the third year of missionary work by the club.

they follow. From the ignominy of being completely annihilated, they have recovered almost first place in our interest today and have assumed sufficient importance to make us regret our present wardrobe with concern, not to say alarm!

Among the many intricate details that are the proud boast of the sleeves of today, may be mentioned strapings and buttons, buttonholes to satisfy even a Coeter's hunger, and straps enough to bring vague memories of the sleeves of King James, King Charles such devices come in handy for the union of these contrasting fabrics, and all manner of embroidery is employed. The idea of using straps as a connecting link over the fabric is one of the arm is not without charm, as one of the illustrations attest, and on the subject of the illustration it may be said that there are not of separate blouses, but dresses which are not so very different. In any event, they show the employment of contrasting materials and a generous use of the decorative button and the ornamental to some extent, the more exclusive importers pin their faith to the conservative, slender lines with a distinct preference for a lowered waistline and a confidence in a same compromise between the skirts that touch the ground and those that show the knee caps. Those who interest themselves in footwork, feel added concern about this question, but it is hardly likely that after taking such fastidious care in dressing the feet, that women will slump, because their feet are practically hidden.

embroidered, wearing the customary wreath and veil and carry Sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Teresa Curran, sister of the bride, was given in marriage a georgette trimmed with gold sequin lace and large picture hat and carried Opheelia roses.

Little Mary Steele of Detroit acted as flower girl in a charming little dress of pink organdy.

Mr. James Coleman, cousin of the groom, acted as groomsman, while Mr. James Misner and Mr. Vincent Curran were ushers.

The groom's gift to the bride was a substantial check, to the bridesmaid a platinum bangle bracelet set with rhinestones, to the groomsman a pair of gold cufflinks and to the flower girl a gold rosary.

Immediately after the wedding the bride party motored to the bride's home, where they all partook of a wedding dinner. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for eastern points amid showers of confetti. The bride's traveling suit was of brown broadcloth trimmed with opesum and a hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Misner were the recipients of many beautiful presents, including a number of substantial checks, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends and relatives.

CAMPBELL—CHANDLER. The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler, Tillsonburg, was the scene of a pretty wedding Friday, when their only daughter, Violet Marguerite, was united in marriage to Wilfred Norman Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Campbell of London. The ceremony being performed by Rev. T. B. Howard, rector of St. John's Anglican Church.

The drawing-room was tastefully decorated with flowers and foliage. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very charming in a tailored suit of navy blue broadcloth, with a smart hat of pearl grey, with ostrich trimming, and carried a shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses and maiden hair fern. Hazel Violet Chandler, niece of the bride, made a pretty little flower girl. Miss Ada Thompson rendered the wedding music, and during the signing of the register sweetly sang "Untill."

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining-room, and partook of a bounteous wedding dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on a two weeks' honeymoon to Montreal, Ottawa and other eastern points, and will reside at 22 Becher street, London, on their return.

MISNER—CURRAN. St. Ignatius Church, Bothwell, was the scene of a very happy event on Wednesday last, when Angela Frances, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Curran of Bothwell, became the bride of Mr. Isaac Edward Misner, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Misner of Highgate. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McCarthy of Thamesville. Miss Margaret Regan presided at the organ, while Mrs. Wm. Tuite sang very sweetly.

Promptly at 9:30 the bride party entered the church, the bride richly gowned in white georgette handsomely

Utilities Lose Hard Game To Hamilton in First of Plenty Cup Soccer Finals

Visitors Displayed Clever Football To Big Crowd of Fans—Utilities Still Confident of Better Luck Next Saturday At Hamilton.

Public Utilities eleven lost the first of the final matches for the Albert Plenty cup to Hamilton on Saturday afternoon by the score of 5 to 4. A drizzling rain fell during practically the whole of the first period, and play on the muddy field was exceptionally slow. Nevertheless, a good brand of football was displayed by both teams. The play for the biggest part of the time was at Hamilton's end of the field. The London forward line was continually pressing and set the pace throughout the whole game. The four goals London succeeded in getting against the Black and White were the most that have been scored against Hamilton during the Plenty cup series. Hamilton's goalie, Coombe, saved the situation several times. The defence line for Hamilton could not have worked better. Ridley, Moore and Holt for London played a stellar game. On the other hand, Northwick, Jones and Gil-vear worked hard for Hamilton, and were responsible for the majority of Hamilton's goals.

Hams Scored First.
Hamilton drew first blood after five minutes of play. Northwick received a perfect pass from Jones almost in front of London's goal and scored. Rain fell in torrents right after, but in less than five minutes after Hamilton's goal Ridley, the P. U.'s star player, evened the count. The Black and Whites pressed hard and succeeded in drawing Whitworth's card and scored, realizing this, jumped in and saved what looked like a sure goal for Hamilton.

After fifteen minutes of play London scored again. Moore carried the ball to the Hamilton goal almost unopposed, and the Hamilton goalie crouched and caught it. Moore followed his kick, and in the scramble the Hamilton goalie pulled the ball over the crossbar. After this Hamilton went on the defensive. London's combination was splendid, and on a long rush scored the second goal. The period ended with the score 2 to 1 in London's favor.

Two minutes of playing in the final session Northwick got a pass from Gilvear and scored for Hamilton. The London forward line worked hard to break the tie. Eight minutes after Jones, on a lone rush, scored for third time. Ridley, scored London's fourth goal. After the Hamilton goal tender fumbled the ball, Gilvear tallied for Hamilton at 20 minutes. It was one of the best goals of the game. London's last goal was made by Moore at a distance estimated at 25 yards. Both teams played good football after this. With but five more minutes to play Jones shot for London, but Whitworth stopped it. Duncan followed up and kicked the ball in on the rebound.

London Confident of Victory.
The return and final game will be played in Hamilton next Saturday afternoon. Manager Holkinson of the P. U. team stated after the game on Saturday that he was certain his team could overcome the one-goal lead.

RAIN SPOILED SPEED CARD AT CLOSING FAIR PROGRAM

Carey Won Finals—First Two Races Saw Drivers Doing Best, With Little Speed.

Carey in his Bug creation was the only one of the dirt track pilots who could get going on the slippery track on Saturday out at the Western Fair, and he lapped the field of four in the final, negotiating the three miles in 2:46. The speed events attracted a big grandstand crowd for the closing day, but unfortunately the going was so heavy that the speed hounds couldn't get much of a race going under the conditions.

There were six starters in the first event, Meyers holding the lead for six laps. Here, the dirt track champ, was nursing second and plowed into the lead at the three-quarter pole on the seventh lap. The distance was negotiated in 6:32.
The second was much the best driven race of the afternoon. Hoffman, in his case, and Carey made a two-car race of it after the fourth lap. They were on even terms on the sixth lap, Hoffman flashing in ahead by the length of a spark plug.
Rain fell before the final, and the track was impossible. Carey's Bug crawled better than the rest, and had the lead lapped by the fourth round.

The races didn't prove much, except that under ordinary conditions they would bring out a big closing day crowd.

MUTT AND JEFF—Jeff Learned Something to His Disadvantage.

MUTT, I SWEAR ON MY WORD OF HONOR THAT I AIN'T GOT A CENT.

I HIRED A GUY TO LOOK UP MY FAMILY TREE. I WANTED TO TRACE BACK MY ANCESTORS.

WELL, TEN BUCKS IS ALL THIS GUY CHARGED ME.

THEN WHAT DID YOU DO WITH THE REST OF THE FIFTY?

WELL, AFTER HE GOT ME THE DOP—

I GAVE HIM THE OTHER FORTY TO KEEP HIS MOUTH SHUT!

Is Still King of the Feathers

Johnny Kilbane set at rest any suspicions that he might have gone back so far he couldn't retain his title by knocking out Frush on Saturday. The little fellow has been more interested in politics than fighting recently, and that he should be able to retain all his old time speed and power though fighting little stumps him as one of the marvels of the game.

OXFORD FARMERS IN BREAK WITH LABOR ON ELECTION PLEDGE

D. M. Ross of Embro Selected As Candidate At Woodstock Meeting.

WOMEN SPEAKERS SCORE INDIFFERENCE OF MEN

Swap Home Brew Recipes Instead of Minding Business.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
WOODSTOCK, Sept. 18.—The joint convention of the I. L. P. U. F. O. on Saturday resulted in the selection of D. M. Ross of West Zorra, one of the U. F. O. nominees, as the candidate in the coming by-election for the Legislature. The convention was a very large one, the U. F. O. having representatives from every polling sub-division in the riding, while the I. L. P. had not a full quota of delegates from the city.

Renig On Agreement.
The feature of the convention was the refusal of the U. F. O. to stick to the promise of the I. L. P. to execute an carry out the existing agreement between the two parties, which called for the U. F. O. to support an I. L. P. candidate for the Legislature, in return for federal election support from the labor men.

Despite the appeals of leading labor men at the convention for the farmers to carry out their agreement and cast their votes for the Labor representative, they voted solidly for the three U. F. O. men in the running. In fact, the three Labor men who were nominated, failed to secure as many votes as they had delegates at the convention.

A Great Shock.
The result of the convention was a great shock to the labor men, who were likely mean the breaking of all relations politically between the Farmers and I. L. P. Just before the vote was taken Robert Ferguson, one of the I. L. P. nominees, warned the Farmers that a refusal of the U. F. O. to carry out their agreement to nominate a labor man would mean the loss to the U. F. O. of both the provincial and federal seats.

As a result of a meeting of the executive before the convention a statement was read setting forth the position of the executive in the negotiations that had taken place between the U. F. O. and the I. L. P. It had led to the now-famous agreement.

Read Statement.
As a result of a meeting of the executive before the convention a statement was read setting forth the position of the executive in the negotiations that had taken place between the U. F. O. and the I. L. P. It had led to the now-famous agreement.

Many Nominees.
The meeting was then open for nominations when the following were proposed: Mrs. J. S. Amos, East Zorra; D. M. Ross, U. F. O. West Zorra; D. M. Ferguson, I. L. P. Woodstock; Edward L. King, I. L. P. Woodstock; A. E. Starr, I. L. P. Woodstock; J. G. Lindsay, U. F. O. West Zorra; J. D. Wilson, U. F. O. Blandford; R. A. McDonald, U. F. O. East Nissouri; and James G. Calder, U. F. O. East Nissouri.

The two women candidates and Messrs. Wilson and Lindsay withdrew their names, leaving six names to go to vote.

Candidate's Speech.
D. M. Ross in accepting the nomination and answering his name to go by, said the convention stated that he had been a member of the U. F. O. since its inception in Oxford. He had had eleven years' experience in township and county councils and added that as the legislature was only a large county council he thought he was qualified for the work that would come before it.

He supported the Drury Government on the hydro-probe, timber probe, road development and also Manning Doherty's agricultural schemes. Mr. Ross, however, took a fling at the Drury administration for allowing the parliament buildings at Toronto to be turned into a rooming-apartment, and thought the Government should be censured for renting offices in private buildings while some of the members of the Drury Cabinet had use of rooms in the Government Buildings.

Censured the Men.
Mrs. Hogz, in retiring, censured the men for not showing more interest in U. F. O. politics and praised the women for the energy they were displaying in the work of the U. F. O. Mr. Hogz told of having attended a gathering the night before where the women sat in one corner discussing politics, while the men were in another corner swapping recipes for making home brew.

Would Stick to It.
J. G. Lindsay, one of those retiring, explained that he did not know there was an agreement between the two parties until he came to the meeting. If there was such an agreement the U. F. O. should stick to it, he said. However, in retiring he stated that he did go in favor of D. M. Ross, and it was decided to take two ballots on all candidates and following that the lowest candidate was to drop out. This was, however, unnecessary for D. M. Ross secured thirteen more votes than enough to elect on the first ballot, which was as follows: D. M. Ross, 132; E. L. King, 43; R. A. McDonald, 32; A. E. Starr, 21; J. G. Calder, 17, and W. Ferguson, 6.

Bridge Knocked Into River by Train

E DIXBURGH, Indiana, Sept. 17.—Engineer M. S. Bennett of Louisville, Ky., was killed, four persons were severely injured and several others were less seriously injured when the Pennsylvania passenger train No. 327 en route to Indianapolis from Louisville, went through a bridge into the Blue River, one-half mile north of here, last night.

The train left the tracks at the approach to the bridge and struck an abutment, knocking the bridge into the river. The engine and the baggage car plunged into the stream, while a day coach and three Pullman cars remained on the tracks.

Balloons Likely to CROSS THE CHANNEL

Start of Big Race Is Made in Strong Easterly Wind.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 18.—Under intermittent showers and strong easterly winds, the contestants in the balloon race for the James Gordon Trophy started this afternoon.

The big gas bags went away at intervals of ten minutes. The English balloon "Banabee," piloted by the English aeronaut Baldwin, was sent off at 4:20 p.m. with the wind blowing between 30 and 40 miles an hour. The strong wind gave the pilots considerable trouble and Uesli, the Italian entrant, withdrew owing to damages to his balloon.

Ralph Upson, United States, in a balloon loaned him by Lieutenant de Myster, a Belgian aeronaut, was third to set away and promptly disappeared in a southwesterly direction. Owing to the wind the balloon of the French aeronaut, M. Blenaine, was damaged, but nevertheless he was able to start the race.

A thrill was sent the start by a soldier who was assisting in holding on the Belgian entrant, Belgic, becoming entangled in the ropes. He was unable to extricate himself and was carried aloft as the gas bag ascended. The spectators below watched the soldier hanging to the rope, swaying in the wind, as Lieut. de Myster and his companion in the basket slowly hauled him up to safety. The rescue was made just as the balloon disappeared among the clouds.

Owing to the direction of the wind, the aeronauts are likely to be carried over the English Channel or the Atlantic Ocean. Some of the experts think there is a possibility of the entrants landing either on the Cornwell, England, or on the coast of Ireland. Some are of opinion that the gas bag may be driven as far north as Ireland.

Altogether fourteen balloons started in the race. Up to midnight the Belgian Aero Club had no news of any of the balloons.

DENIES RUMOR THAT MARRIAGE WAS BANNED
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—The World this morning categorically denies the report that Bishop Manning of the Episcopal Diocese of New York had "ruled" against the marriage of Dr. Rev. Percy Stickney Grant to Mrs. Lydie, a divorcee, and had forbidden the Episcopal clergy to perform the ceremony.

"The World is in a position to state," says the paper, "that Bishop Manning has done no such thing, and as far as the first statement is concerned, it is not a line in canons or rubrics or ecclesiastical law that would give him power to do so."

"The bishop may give him 'Godly admonition' which, in most cases, would amount to a ruling, and if this would be disregarded could inhibit the offending clergymen for contumacy. But to forbid the banns where marriage in question has already been forbidden by canon would be quite unnecessary."

"It is common knowledge throughout Episcopal Church circles that directly the Grant-Lydie marriage is performed by whomever the rector of the Church of the Ascension will be presented to the bishop for trial."

Neither Bishop Manning nor Dr. Grant would discuss the case tonight.

GIVEN TWO YEARS FOR STEALING SILVERWARE
SARNIA, Sept. 17.—Lari Bok and Salvisto Uchenco, charged with the theft of wearing apparel to the value of $200 from their employers, the Northern Navigation Company, at Point Edward, were released on bail of $16 and $16 and released on bail with personal recognizances of $100, apparently considered liberty cheap at the price, as they were not present to answer to their names when called in the Point Edward police court when the case came up for hearing.

Nine witnesses were present to tell all they knew of the case before Magistrate Jarvis.

Abraham Davis, remanded on Sept. 13, after pleading guilty to a charge of stealing a quantity of silverware valued at over $100 from the Northern Navigation Company, was sentenced to two years imprisonment in Portsmouth penitentiary, by Magistrate J. J. Jarvis.

ASKING EQUITABLE SHARE OF TAXES
KITCHENER, Sept. 18.—A large gathering of separate school supporters met at the Waterloo County hall at 7 p.m. for a resolution was passed asking the Ontario Government for a "just and equitable division of the taxes collected for school purposes."

A parade preceded the meeting, in which delegations from Kitchener, Waterloo, Galt, Hespeler, Preston, St. Agatha, New Hamburg, Macdon, St. Clements and Elmira were represented.

TONE IN A PIANO.
Various elements enter into the manufacture of a high-grade piano, such as that bearing the name of Heintzman & Co., Limited, 242 Dundas street, London. The architectural design carries its influence with any purchaser, but after all it is the tone of the piano that is the great deciding quality with anyone who knows the perfect response of a piano. The world's great artists have spoken in highest commendation of the tone of the Heintzman & Co. Piano. Ian Cherniavsky, who used a Heintzman & Co. Piano in his Canadian tours, has also in other parts of the world, has said of the Heintzman & Co. Piano, "attribute a great deal of my success to the facility with which the emotions are expressed by the perfect response of a Heintzman & Co. Piano." It was a Heintzman & Co. that was used by the Cherniavsky Piano, not only in Toronto, but also South Africa and Australia.

RAILMEN IN FAVOR OF STRIKE AGAINST WAGE REDUCTION

Will Defer Action Pending Promulgation of Working Rules.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Railroad shopmen belonging to the six federated shopcraft unions have voted to strike against the general railroad wage reduction of July 1, 1921, but will defer any action until the promulgation of working rules now pending before the United States Railroad Labor Board, when another vote will be taken on acceptance or rejection of the rules.

The announcement was officially made by B. M. Jewell, head of the shopcraft organizations, at a mass meeting of Chicago shop workers today.

Belief that a stronger fight could be made if a strike is called, with preservation of the shopmen's working rules as one of the goals, led to the decision to withhold a strike call for the present, Mr. Jewell said. He and other union speakers counselled the men to wait until the entire wage and rules question was before them, rather than rush into a strike which, Mr. Jewell declared, the railroad managements desired.

The strike vote, completed August 1, was announced as showing a constitutional majority against the wage reduction which would take effect July 1. This was the first official confirmation of the result, which has been rumored for some time.

PLEADED TO OBEY.
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 18.—Members of six railroad crafts affiliated with the American Federation of Labor at mass meetings here today pleaded to obey the orders of the railroad department of the federation.

Machinists, boiler makers, car repair men, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers and electrical workers attended the meeting.

They agreed not to engage in any sporadic or local strikes, and to follow implicitly the strike program as arranged by the union chiefs.

FOUR-YEAR COURSE IN JOURNALISM PLANNED
TORONTO, Sept. 18.—The creation of a regular four-year course in Journalism, proceeding to the bachelor's degree, is regarded as a practical certainty in Toronto University circles, as a result of the success which has attended the short experimental course of one week, which concluded on Saturday.

The new course would involve the foundation of a chair of Journalism, but apart from the addition of this one professor, it is believed that no considerable staff would be required.

PREMIER UNLIKELY TO ATTEND CONFERENCE
LONDON, Sept. 18.—Mr. Lloyd George is practically certain to be unable to attend the Washington conference on limitation of armaments, according to the News of the Morning.

According to the News of the Morning, Lord Riddell, a close friend of the prime minister, is declared doubtful whether Earl Curzon, the secretary of state for foreign affairs, will be a delegate to the conference. The paper says the British delegation probably will include Arthur Balfour, Sir George Arthur Hewitt, the attorney-general, Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the admiralty, and possibly Andrew Bonar Law.

BODY IDENTIFIED BY DEAD WOMAN'S SISTER
NIAGARA, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Samantha Moore of Montreal today identified the body of the woman taken from the mouth of the Niagara River at Youngs' bridge, as that of her sister, Miss Beatrice Orr of Akron, Ohio. Miss Orr's purse and hat were found on a bench near Prospect Point, after a body had been seen to pass over the bridge on September 9. She is said to have been some despondent because Canadian immigration men refused to allow her to enter Quebec to visit her sister, who was ill in a hospital. She tried to enter the country by other means, but was threatened with arrest. She was without money when she arrived in this city. Miss Orr was colored.

FATALLY INJURED IN ROW OVER REFRESHMENTS
LONDON, Sept. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—During a fraser channel voyage today, the steamer Canadian Trapper at Glasgow docks, it is alleged a colored man slashed with a razor a Canadian named Wilson who was removed to the hospital where he died. Four men were seriously wounded.

The fracas originated among cattle-men who complained of being overlooked.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY FALL UNDER TRAIN
MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—W. Dupras, aged 40, of St. Remi d'Amherst, a village about twenty miles from St. Jovite, fell beneath the wheels of a train between Shawville and Piedmont on Saturday afternoon and was instantly killed. His brother, Arthur Dupras, also fell from the same train and suffered a fracture of the base of the skull. He was taken to the Notre Dame Hospital, where his condition is critical.

The canoe was found floating upside down some time later. Eyewitnesses of the double tragedy say they heard cries for help and saw the two fall in the water. A heavy wind was blowing at the time and the waves were running high and this is believed to have prevented the men from keeping afloat until rescue boats reached the scene.

DOUBLE DROWNING IS FEARED AT WINDSOR
[Special to The Advertiser.]
WINDSOR, Sept. 18.—The harbor-master's crew of Belle Island police department dragged the river channel up successfully today for the bodies of Wm. S. Morris and John Duncan, both of Detroit, who are believed to have been drowned when their canoe turned over in the river opposite the Canadian side of the island late Saturday afternoon.

The canoe was found floating upside down some time later. Eyewitnesses of the double tragedy say they heard cries for help and saw the two fall in the water. A heavy wind was blowing at the time and the waves were running high and this is believed to have prevented the men from keeping afloat until rescue boats reached the scene.

GENERAL MOTORS TO CENTRE AT OSHTAWA

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—In a former statement issued tonight the General Motors Corporation announced that the organization had decided to concentrate the manufacture of all its export models, with the exception of the Cadillac, and General Motors truck at the Canadian plant of the corporation, General Motors, Limited, located at Oshawa, Ont. The statement continues:

"Concentration of such production at this point will place one executive in charge of all export production with a better realization of the necessities of the export trade and resulting, unquestionably, in a line of cars more reliable and more thoroughly tested and better fitted for the export trade. This change in program will be put into effect at the earliest possible moment."

The sales organization of the corporation's export branch will also be located at Oshawa.

PREMIER UNABLE TO RECEIVE LABOR MAYORS

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Eight Labor mayors of the London boroughs started for Garlick tonight with the intention of seeking a personal interview with Mr. Lloyd George on the unemployment question. They had previously written the prime minister expressing the hope that he would soon be well enough to receive them. While regretting his illness, they declared that the terrible outlook of unemployment for the winter, were compelled to obey our deep moral conviction that it is our duty to proceed to Garlick.

The prime minister had already informed the mayors that no useful purpose would be served by receiving them and later they were notified that he could not receive them owing to illness.

FARMER MAY DIE FROM BULLET WOUND

MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—Felix Lanthier, 40, of St. Genevieve, was shot in the lung and is in the Notre Dame Hospital in a critical condition, and Giffa Palmer, 35, of St. Genevieve, was shot at and missed, but sprang to wood where the bullet hit struck him in the face, Saturday night on the Upper Lachine road, near here.

The two men, who are farmers of St. Genevieve, were on their way home when a man ran out into the road and fired at them. Palmer was in the lead and flung himself in the bottom of his wagon, whipped up his horses and escaped.

BEQUEST SERMON WAS PREACHED AT EASTER

MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—Inquiry as to the occasion, at which the sermon was delivered, which the sermon of London, Ont., which resulted in a convert bequeathing him $100,000, reveals the fact that although the bishop attended the Eucharistic Congress here in 1910 he did not preach at that time. It is understood, however, that his lordship was a special preacher here one Easter tide, and that it was in a series of sermons he made the impression that was the motive of the legacy.

NOT RIGHT TIME TO PROCEED WITH UNION

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—A report submitted to the Presbyterian General Assembly, being an address to the Synod of the question of union with the Congregationalists, was carried by a large majority. The report in question recognizes that it is impracticable to proceed with the question of union owing to a revival of certain charges by members of the Congregational Union against the Presbyterian Church.

ANGLO-AMERICAN CO-OPERATION IS VITAL TO WORLD

Odd Fellows Hear Rowell's Views On International Problems.

TORONTO, Sept. 18.—"Our two great nations must stand side by side and lead the world until we can find some method by which the nations of the world can settle their disputes," said Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., at a meeting of the Oddfellows held this afternoon at a religious service a great audience of delegates to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F., which opens here tomorrow morning.

Oddfellows, present from every state in the American Union and from every Canadian province, applauded vigorously the speech of Mr. Rowell, which was mainly a tribute to the high purpose of the Oddfellows' order and an appeal for the continuance of the present friendly relations between the two great English-speaking nations.

Marks an Epoch.
Mr. Rowell told the great gathering in Massey Hall he was glad to notice that an eminent American jurist had been placed on the permanent court of the League of Nations to adjudicate upon international disputes. The formation of the court, said the speaker, referring indirectly to the attitude of the United States to the League of Nations, Mr. Rowell said that the presence of the court in the League of Nations, which was a growing realization in both countries of the peril of the appeal to force of arms, they were not in agreement that the method to be adopted to overcome that peril, and until some practical method was assented to the world's only salvation lay in the friendly co-operation of the United States and Great Britain.

Such a great fraternal order as the Oddfellows he said, was in itself an excellent illustration of this co-operation. Its best form, said Mr. Rowell, is the one that has done much to make possible the last one hundred years of peace between the two countries.

The sermon was preached by Rev. W. M. Auld, who emphasized the need of the extension to the political field of the spirit of fraternal co-operation which the Oddfellows embodied. Basing his remarks on the story of the Good Samaritan, he pointed out that the only true life was the one that incorporated the principles of helpfulness and sympathy, which was the basis of the Oddfellows' order.

SAYS PROSPERITY OF CORN BELT THREATENED
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 18.—The prosperity of the corn belt along Lake Erie is threatened, according to L. J. Taber, Ohio director of agriculture, on the return today of thirty United States entomologists from Canada, who were to study the ravages of the European corn borer.

Taken by Canadian officials where two years ago the borer was unknown, the party saw the stalks were riddled and flint corn where not an ear was fit to harvest, Mr. Taber said. Quarantines and Canada, and should be continued, the scientists believe, and new quarantine areas must be established as soon as scouting reveals infestation.

Spread of the borer into Ohio, despite a strict quarantine in infested regions, "makes extermination impossible," it is said. Future combat of the insect must aim mainly to retard its march westward.

DEMAND IMMEDIATE UNION WITH GERMANY
VIENNA, Sept. 18.—A great demonstration and parade were held today under pan-German auspices in protest against the "ignominious peace and its resultant evils" demanded.

The demonstration was inspired by the Burgenland situation, which has not been relieved, and continues to cause the gravest apprehension of an Entente political crisis.

The public here on the Entente's plan of settlement, but reports from Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia suggest plans of joint military action with Italy, under sanction of the Entente.

In diplomatic circles it is believed that Hungary's motive is to go behind the treaty and bring Burgenland into the realm of diplomatic discussion.

SITUATION IN INDIA MORE SERIOUS THAN AT FIRST BELIEVED

British Troops Experiencing Difficulty in Dealing With Rebels.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(By Canadian Press).—Official investigations show that the situation in India is more serious than was believed. The military is experiencing difficulty in dealing with the rebels, owing to the latter's mobility and to the nature of the country, which is largely forest land where formidable gangs are scattered.

The opinion is held that the recalcitrant Mohals, who fled into the jungle, could be starved out if the main roads were held and certain areas garrisoned. Two thousand rebels are massed on the Pandhar Hills in a favorable position where an action is imminent and the use of artillery unavoidable. A high priest is heading another band which is endeavoring to join the force at Pandhar.

A rebel conference has declared that the
