Ordination Service

There was a crowded church at St. Paul's on Sunday at the eleven o'clock service when four deacons were ordained to the priesthood and nine lay readers were ordained to the deaconate by the Bishop, assisted by the Archdeacon, the Dean and other clergy. The Rev. C. R. Little preached an able sermon which dealt with the duties of deacons and priests, as well as the duty of the people to the ministry. It was listened to with keen attention and appreciation by the large congregation.

The following were ordained priests: Rev. A. Wells, Rev. H. B. Hadlow, Rev. A. McMorine and Rev. W. De Ballinhard. Those ordained deacons were J. K. Irvine, W. Sandilands, C. D. Payne, J. T. Smith, F. Watson, P. Jerrold, C. Simmonds, A. Rowland and H. Peacock.

ERIN'S SONS BANQUET

Irishmen of Regina Celebrate the Memory of Ireland's Patron Saint—The Best Banquet Ever.

The banquet held by the Irishmen's Association of Regina in the dining room of the King's Hotel last evening was a distinct success from every point of view.

About one hundred and thirty sat down to a hot dinner of many courses about nine o'clock. Irish flags and the orange and green colors of the Irishmen's Association of Regina were displayed throughout the banquet hall.

JAMES BOLE
Hon. President, Irishmen's Association of Regina.

His Worship Mayor Smith, P. McARA, Jr., Chief of the Sons of Scotland of Regina, A. Chivers, president of the local branch of the Sons of England, and members of the city press.

John McCarthy, president of the Irishmen's Association of Regina, presided and filled his task admirably.

The toast to "The King" was drunk in the usual manner.

"The Pious Memory of St. Patrick" was drunk by the Irishmen present in silence.

"Ireland," more dear to her sons in her gloom and her showers than the rest of the world in its sunniest hours, was introduced and after the orchestra had played, "The Harp that once Through Tara's Hall," it was responded to by G. S. Houston in a very able and eloquent address, which space prevents us from giving here.

The speaker outlined the life of St. Patrick showing the good work he had accomplished for Ireland. Reference was also made to the following noted Irishmen, T. D'Arcey Magee, Hon. Edward Blake, Nicholas Flood Davin, Lord Roberts and Col. Sam. Hughes.

Mr. Jas. Bole also responded in a happy vein to this toast. He was born in Ireland, but came to Canada in 1831, when about two and a half years old. Mr. Bole was listened to with distinct pleasure by all present.

"The Clergy," was ably responded to by Rev. Father Sufia, Rev. C.W. Brown and Rev. E. A. Henry.

"Canned and Our Province," was proposed by R. J. Westgate, second vice-president of the association, and brought forth an able response from Hon. F. W. G. Haultain, after the company had sung "The Maple Leaf."

"Our City" proposed by the president was responded to by His Worship Mayor Smith.

"Our Sister Societies," was responded to by P. McARA, Jr., for the Sons of Scotland, and A. E. Chivers for the Sons of England.

The toast to "The fair daughters of Erin and Canada," was introduced by W. Adams and responded to by Dr. W. D. Cowan and Mr. Casey.

as one gentleman put it, Regina so far has never had anything to surpass it in the banquet line. The program came to an end about two o'clock with the singing of the national anthem.

DUBLIN ENTHUSIASTIC

Dublin, March 17.—St. Patrick's day was made the occasion for the usual enthusiastic demonstrations throughout Ireland today. Scores of dignitaries of church and state reviewed the great parade at Dublin Castle, participated in by large proportions of the able bodied men of Dublin and witnessed by many thousands of visitors. Business in Dublin and all other cities of Ireland is suspended and all public buildings and nearly all the shops are closed.

AURORA SOCIAL

People of Aurora District spend a Pleasant Social Evening.

On Friday evening, last March 13, a very pleasant gathering of the young people of Aurora and surrounding district took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Evoy. About eight o'clock the people began to gather, some coming from Regina and other points, and the young ladies bringing with them lunch baskets and boxes nicely done up, which were afterwards to be the cause of much amusement.

The evening was opened by a short entertainment and Rev. Fords Power taking the chair, the first item on the program being a chorus by the Aurora Drama Club. Song by Misses Rowson and Evoy. Club swinging by two little girls. Selection on piano by Miss Rowson, then the Drama Club gave a very interesting play entitled, "The Irish Linnen Peddler." The play was given in a very creditable manner by the following: Miss Conway, the Misses Moulton, B. Laubach, Glem Gamble and Mr. Stubbings, each taking their parts in a very deserving manner, and showed them to be very clever actors.

The entertainment was closed by a short speech from the chairman, who dwelt on the beauty of the fair sex and the existing harmony which dwelt among the people of Aurora, and which he had noted during his short stay of six months, and further regretted that he was about to leave and hoping this might always be the case, if he ever had the pleasure of being with them again.

The last and best being the auctioning off of the ladies' lunch baskets and boxes which were very artistically done up by Mr. Hank Anticnap. The bidding in some cases being very spirited among the young men, in all about $40 was realized in this way. After all of them being disposed of everybody sat down to enjoy and satisfy the inner man from the nice things which only the young ladies of Aurora know how to prepare.

The pleasant gathering broke up about 12 o'clock by the singing of the national anthem, and a general vote of thanks being tendered by all present to Mr. and Mrs. William Evoy for their genial hospitality.

(From another Correspondent.)

The box social given at the residence of Mr. J. W. Evoy on the 13th inst, was a confirmed success, both socially and financially, and was well attended in spite of the stormy weather. Everyone was prepared to have a good time, and it is safe to say that they were not disappointed, for the entertainment was solely under the control of Mrs. Monikon to whom the word "failure" is unknown. Mr. Hank Anticnap, as usual, proved a capital auctioneer, provoking laughter, and showing the boxes to the best advantage, thereby realizing about $40.

Our friend and pastor Mr. W. Power, acted most ably as chairman, interspersing his speech with true Irish wit and humor. Mr. Power's sojourn amongst us will soon be at an end, and although he has been here but a few months, we all feel as if we were about to part with a very dear friend. It is very evident that before very long he will make a mark in the world, for as his name implies he has "WHIT-POWER," and his pleasant personality is sure to be felt wherever he is.

A vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. Evoy for their kindness in giving their home for the occasion, which for suitability could not be surpassed, and also to the ladies of the district who worked so well together for the success of the whole affair.

The travelling men of the J. I. Case Co., are meeting at the offices of the company here this week.

STANDARD OF EMPIRE TO BE ESTABLISHED

J. A. Dawson of London Standard to Publish Paper Devoted to Interests of Canada in Great Britain.

A. J. Dawson, of the London Standard, who is visiting Canada in connection with the launching of an Overseas edition of that journal, gave the following interview to the Winnipeg Telegram recently:

"When I left Canada last year, after making a tour through the Dominion as one of Sir Thos. Shaughnessy's guests, it was with the fixed determination, more than once or twice expressed in public here, that I would find some means of giving a more tangible and permanent shape to the deep impressions which Canada had made upon me, than would be found in the seventeen articles which I afterwards published in the Standard. My feeling was strongly that, not alone in the interests of the Dominion, or the interests of the entire Empire, it was urgently necessary that a better understanding should exist among our people at home regarding the conditions and development of this great country. As a writer, my thoughts turned first to literary and journalistic forms of influence. But I discovered before long that a journal published in the old country, to deal exclusively with overseas interests, would always be regarded as a specialist journal, and accordingly would only be purchased and read by those people who have already a stake and an interest of some kind in some portion of that greater Britain which lies overseas from England. It was quite apparent to me that my end could not be attained by merely reaching such people as those who, in any case, could be relied upon from motives of self-interest, to keep themselves posted regarding Canadian affairs. I wanted to reach the huge majority of our people who are conscious of little or no stake or interest in Great Britain."

Standard of Empire

"From this desire came the scheme for the publication of a sixteen page weekly journal to be called 'The Standard of Empire,' which would reach every single reader of the daily Standard as an integral part of his or her morning paper, to be received without its being ordered or paid for or even asked for. In short, that the interests of Canada and the various overseas states which should be so finely heads and tails, pumped into our people at home without invitation from them, and whether they like it or not, that they should be made to like it; that they should be made conscious of their national stake in Canada, and actively desirous to obtain a personal and individual stake in the development of the greatest Dominion with a the empire, of the centre and base of the empire and, as I firmly believe, of the present state of the British Empire's governance and control."

Business End

"In this matter I was sure of the warmest sympathy and support of the editor of the Daily Standard, whose entire connection with newspaper work is based upon the desire for the extended representation of Greater Britain in Great Britain. But the scheme had to be submitted to the touchstone of the modern alchemist, whose business training enables him to pronounce a proposition practicable or otherwise. Keen business eyes were brought to bear upon its details, and the natural objection was raised that the proposal involved the giving away for nothing of a sixteen page weekly journal, and the endorsement of it with the entire circulation and prestige of one of the oldest and greatest of English daily papers. On the face of it the situation was difficult. But you are to remember that I left this country last year primed to the uttermost with vivid impressions of this country's immense resources and possibilities, but also with the reasoned assurances of the leaders among those Canadians who are mainly responsible for your magnificent twentieth century development. I had also to remember my promise made in Canada with regard to the permanent and tangible shape which should be given to these impressions, and the services to Canada, to the Old Country and to the Empire, for if I am certain of one thing more than another, it is that the movement which benefits one of these three cannot possibly fail to benefit the other two. It was on the very strength of this, because of these things, that I succeeded in convincing my principals that the shrewd, far-seeing men who are building up Canada—the twentieth century great nation—would see far enough into the scope and possibilities of this proposition; and the aims and policy behind it, to give to it the amount of support in advertising and other ways which, while not perhaps making it a profitable venture, would none the less protect its promoters against serious losses.

Present Mission

"If you ask me to explain my present mission to Canada (the only trouble about which is that I have not had sufficient time to do it justice) I would say that my mission is to make good here upon the pledges I gave in England, upon which the Standard of Empire is being brought into existence. In the same way I left your shores last year to make good in England in the matter of promises based upon all that you showed and told me here in this country, in this magnificent young elder son of the Empire."

"I went direct to the seat of your government immediately upon landing in Canada, and there was assured of the warm sympathy and understanding support of his excellency the governor general and of the Canadian government. On proceeding to Montreal I saw Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who saw into the heart of the proposition of mine with a swiftness which astonished me and which could not have been greater if the scheme had been evolved in his own mind. I was assured of the support of the great corporation which Sir Thomas Shaughnessy controls, the corporation which has played so notable a part in the development of Canada, the corporation the responsibility of whose present visit to Canada last year in my own person with other Old Country newspaper men, and for all that has followed that tour.

Ready Understanding

"Those who control the Grand Trunk Pacific railway and the Canadian Northern railway, the great financial institutions of Canada and other leading forces in this country's progress have shown the same ready understanding of the aims behind the Standard of Empire, and a similar willingness to contribute that measure of practical support which is absolutely essential for the establishment of this moustache in Greater Britain, of Britain overseas, which is to give you a voice at least a hundred times more far-reaching than of any specialist publication in the old country devoted to overseas interests. I am convinced that the provincial governments and those responsible for the development of the west, will not be behind in enabling me to make good through the columns of the Standard of Empire; to obtain direct cable and mail communication from every capital in Canada and to make your organ the far-reaching power for good, both for Canada and for the Empire, which all those behind it mean it to be. I say 'your organ' because that is what the Standard of Empire will be. It is absolutely your own, brought into existence to serve your interests, to be devoted exclusively to the work of ventilating in the Old Country your views and interests. I have made good in England upon the assurances you gave me in Canada. You in Canada will, I am convinced, enable the Standard of Empire to make good in your interests and in those of the Empire. The agent-general with Lord Strathcona at their head, are pledged to the support of the Standard of Empire. It is only with vivid impressions of this country's immense resources and possibilities, but also with the reasoned assurances of the leaders among those Canadians who are mainly responsible for your magnificent twentieth century development. I had also to remember my promise made in Canada with regard to the permanent and tangible shape which should be given to these impressions, and the services to Canada, to the Old Country and to the Empire, for if I am certain of one thing more than another, it is that the movement which benefits one of these

IS FLAXSEED HARD ON SOIL

Professor Saunders and Other Scientists Say it is no more Exhausting than Wheat.

The question is often asked, 'Is flax a specially exhausting crop?' Leading agricultural authorities say that chemical analyses which have repeatedly been made of this crop, showing the principle elements of fertility taken from the soil during the period of its growth indicate that it is no more exhausting than wheat or oats. Prof. Saunders of the Dominion Experimental Farm, some years ago made a careful study of this question. In a pamphlet published on the subject, referring to the results of the chemical analysis he said: "The greater part of the straw of wheat, oats and flax grown in the North-West is usually burnt, when the mineral ingredients taken from the land are returned to it in the form of ashes. In the east where the straw is utilised chiefly for bedding animals, the mineral constituents taken up are returned to the soil with manure and the need only need be considered. The grain in the case of the wheat crop, takes up a little more nitrogen and some what less of phosphoric acid and potash than is taken by the flaxseed; while the oat crop takes for the grain a larger proportion of nitrogen, nearly one-third less of phosphoric acid and about one-eighth less potash. The difference, however, is an exhaustive effect of these several crops on rich soil would scarcely be perceptible and would not justify the opinion that flax is a very exhausting crop. In some experiments tried at the Experimental Farm at Brandon, Man. in sowing wheat, oats and barley after flax, the results obtained point to the same conclusion."

However, it is not wise to grow flax on the same soil year after year. A farmer having 100 acres of land can have portions of it in flax wheat oats and other crops every year and so rotate the crops that flax will not grow on the same land for two years in succession. It is better to allow from three to five years to elapse between the sowing of two crops of flaxseed on the same soil. Flax is a particularly suitable crop when land is first broken and also on common sod land broken up, but Prof. Thos. Shaw, of the University of Minnesota, agricultural department, says: "No crop north of the corn belt proper can follow wheat so well as flax."

Another Discussion in the Senate Regarding the Route to Hudson's Bay.

In the senate last week, Senator Davis offered a resolution declaring that in the opinion of the senate the government should, on account of the rapid development of western Canada and the continued inadequacy of the existing transportation facilities, take early action towards the construction of a railway to Churchill on the Hudson Bay. Senator Davis said the subject had been discussed before, but now information coming to light from time to time furnishes reason for an annual discussion of this great proposal. The Hudson Bay route would have to be developed to serve the country. It would not, like the Georgian Bay canal cost a hundred million dollars. The saving of freight on grain and cattle in one season would pay for the line. That saving would be for the whole of Canada. It would remain in the pockets of western people.

Dealing with the argument that the route could not be developed commercially because it was only open for four months of the year, Senator Davis said grain could be stored at Fort William and other points, where it is now stored. The rolling stock could be taken from the line and used elsewhere when the ice closed navigation.

Senator Davis gave figures of the distance to show that from the most western points Churchill was much nearer than Montreal. The ocean voyage to Liverpool was about the same length, but the rail route was much less. The freight rate from Fort William to Montreal would be saved.

Capt. Bernier, who had just come back from the north declared there was four months of safe navigation to the end of October. This would mean that the west could send the great bulk of its grain and every head of its cattle by this route. The road would not cost much; a new portion of the country would be opened up; a new avenue would be established for commerce between Canada and Europe; a great saving would be effected; freight congestion would be relieved, and a step forward would be made in the development of Canada. "The west was in favor of it. They regarded it as a national, not a provincial undertaking. The east should favor it as a project for national progress."

Senator Ferguson said Earl Grey had taken an interest in this commercial route, and had sent reports and communications regarding it to Sir John Millburn, head of one of the largest British firms that sent ships to the Baltic and other frozen waters. On recommendations of Earl Grey, Senator Ferguson said he had written the same gentleman as to the feasibility of navigation to the Hudson Bay. Sir John Millburn replied that in the old days of thick winter ice in the Baltic as a regular practice with the modern thin plate steel steamer this could not be done. However, steamers could be prepared at a low cost to meet any condition they may find in Hudson Bay or Strait. From the reports that he had seen Sir John Millburn was of the opinion that the chief difficulty would be found in the fears of the underwriters of logs and rocks and their consequent insurance rates on cargoes. However, this might be overcome, and Sir John said he was in favor of the route.

Senator Ferguson said that a few weeks after writing the letter, Sir John Millburn had died, which was a very regrettable thing, as Senator Ferguson believed he would have been willing to give the route a practical commercial test. Senator Power adjourned the debate.

LONGLAKETON OLD-TIMERS Association of Old-Timers Formed—Many Social Functions on the Tap.

A meeting of the Old Timers was held at the residence of Mr. A. Dale recently for the purpose of forming an association. The following officers were chosen: Mr. Alex. Dale, president; Mr. Robt. Renwick, vice president; Mr. Angus McDougall, secretary-treasurer; and a committee consisting of Messrs. Wm. Tingey, J. Clatworth and B. J. Anderson. The association is to be known as the Long Lake Old Timers' Association, and commences with an enrollment of 22 members. It is expected that several more will have joined before next meeting, which is to be held after seeding.

FOREST PRESERVE

Hon. Sydney Fisher Announces That Eastern Slope of the Rockies is to be a Forest Preserve.

Montreal, March 12.—The important announcement was made by Hon. Sydney Fisher at the Dominion forestry convention held today, that the Dominion government had decided to set aside the whole eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains forever as a forest reserve, extending from the boundary to the extreme north and limits of the country. This vast region, he stated, would be kept free from settlers, and held for forest growth, which would be cut from time to time under strict regulations as would preserve it for all time as a forest reserve for the west. The announcement was received with hearty cheers by the delegates.

The convention, which is held here for the first time in many years, had most auspicious opening, the marked feature being the introduction of the bilingual system in an effort to interest the people of Quebec in forest conservation, and the lively interest displayed by the Catholic clergy of the province. When Lieut.-Governor Sir Louis Jetté formally opened the convention he was accompanied by Hon. Mr. Fisher, Archbishop Bruchesi, Bishop Racicot, Mgr. Lammé and Canon Dauth of Laval all of whom took a very active part in the convention. Archbishop Bruchesi spoke at length on the work done by the forest in Quebec province to ward the habitants from recklessly wasting their forest wealth, and promised his own co-operation and that of his clergy in the work of the convention.

Despite the speech of the Hon. Mr. Fisher, the government came in for some condemnation later on during a discussion of the neglect of the country's forests. Robert Meighon, who is interested very largely in New Brunswick timber limits, declared that the forests were neglected, and that neither the Dominion or provincial governments were doing their duty in the matter; as opinion which was apparently shared by the convention without consideration of party affiliation.

A proposition was brought up to try and induce the governments, in issuing land grants, to insert a clause providing that certain sections of each grant should be preserved for all time as timber lands. This, however, was considered by Ontario representatives as impossible, and pro-vocating of political wire-pulling, and will be further debated.

Tickling or dry coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountain shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Regina Pharmacy Stores.

Dances and parties and concerts are the order of the day. A couple of dances are booked to come off before the end of this month and two concerts are to be held next week. So people are kept pretty lively.

Our school re-opens on April 1st with Miss Benjafield as teacher, at which we are all much pleased. This will be the third summer for the children of this district to be under her kind and efficient care.

The trustees contemplate purchasing a new stove and painting the floor of the school house.

A nice assortment of good library books have been purchased for use in the school.

Pain can be quickly stopped. A 25 cent box of Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets will kill any pain, everywhere in 20 minutes! Besides they are perfectly safe. Painful periods with women, neuralgia, etc., quickly cease after one tablet. Regina Pharmacy Stores.

"A Kingly Gift"

EARL GREY'S APPEAL

On behalf of Needy Consumptives—Strong words of Canada's Governor-General

At the official opening of the King Edward Sanatorium for Consumptives, near Toronto, His Excellency delivered an address that must have an important bearing on the future of the sanatorium movement in Canada. We quote:—

"The proceedings this afternoon commenced with a beautiful and reverent prayer from your old friend, Dr. Fetta. He prayed that the light of the Lord might shine upon us. That prayer is abundantly answered. He also prayed that the White Plague might be removed. Well, whether that prayer will be answered or not depends upon yourselves."

"Is it not a standing shame and reproach to the governments and individuals that there is not more care taken by the people of Canada, to protect themselves against the curse of consumption?"

On his way out to the King Edward Sanatorium, so named by permission of His Majesty King Edward VII—the Governor-General's car was stopped in its progress outside the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. by a large crowd of its employees. A contribution of one hundred dollars was handed the Governor-General, a donation to the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives.

"'Twas a kingly gift" said His Excellency in making acknowledgment. "I will tell the King."

Addressing the large audience that attended these opening exercises, referring to this event, Earl Grey said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, when the workmen of Canada are setting an example of this character, I hope you will not be slow to follow, and I trust that the example of the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. may be followed, as I am sure it will, in every factory and manufacturing industry throughout the land."

We carry these words to the people of Canada in our appeal to-day on behalf of the

Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives

An institution that has never refused a single applicant admission, because of his or her inability to pay.

Seventy-five patients can be cared for to-day. Accommodation could be provided for three hundred if the required money were forthcoming.

To make this possible, our appeal is for $50,000, to be used in extension of buildings and maintenance of patients.

Where will your money do more good? Every community and every individual is interested.

His Excellency Earl Grey has shown his interest and sympathy in the work at Muskoka for needy consumptives, by accepting the position of Honorary President of the National Sanatorium Association.

Contributions may be sent to Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., Chief Justice, Osprey Hall, Toronto; W. J. Gage, Esq., 84 Spadina Ave., or J. E. Robertson, Sec'y-Treas., National Sanatorium Association, 847 King Street West, Toronto, Canada.

March Rod and Gun.

Hunting takes the pride of place in the March number of "Rod and Gun" and "Sport in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont. From the fascinating spirit of carbon hunting in Newfoundland we are taken to deer stalking in the Gatineau valley, hunting on a Quebec reserve, a successful hunt in Muskoka, while an unsuccessful one in New Brunswick, proves that hunters are sometimes prepared to tell of their failures as well as boast of their successes. The C.P.R. wolf hunt is told about, while a bear hunt is also described. These papers are varied by an excellent one on the Bloodhound and the thoughtful and poetical address before the Canadian Club at Toronto entitled "The Protection of the Wild" by C. W. Warman is given in full. Some rough backwoods experiences show the reality as compared with the glitter of the life on the frontiers of civilization, though the latter must retain its attractions for many men. Good illustrations are a feature of this number and the departments are all abreast of the other contents of the magazine, making it creditable alike to the publisher and the Dominion, the attractions of which from a sporting point of view it presents to the world.

THE WEST

Published every Wednesday by The West Company, Limited, at their office, Rose Street, West New City Hall.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 1908

Farmers Not Satisfied

The farmers of the province are not satisfied with certain features of the seed grain purchase regulations.

Grain men on the Soo and Estevan Lines have informed The West that there was enough wheat on those lines to supply the southern part of the province and farmers in the districts tributary could have made their purchases in the towns along the line.

Is It Revolt?

Is the New Brunswick shock responsible for the sharp contention shown by the local government organs in its editorial comment on Rev. Mr. MacKay's address to the Canadian Club, or is the Leader trying to imitate the Toronto Globe?

"What," says the Leader, "are we to expect of our public men, when cities, towns and even provinces openly offer themselves for sale to the party that will give them a bridge, a public building, or a certain office."

Why did not the paper using the above language make this appeal during the local election campaign? Why did they, instead of taking this stand display from day to day, a vote for Bole is a vote for the C.N.R. extension into Regina," and such like bribery offers?

Editorial Notes

Before the Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons recently, R. E. Young, superintendent of the railway and swamp land branch, Department of the Interior, said if the wheat crop of the Canadian west in 1908 totalled 100,000,000 bushels on a settled area of 8,400,000 acres, it was no stretch of imagination to look into the future for a wheat production of 1,300,000,000 bushels, practically three times the total foreign trade of Canada at the present time.

It is probable that J. G. Turf, who has been nominated by the Liberals to contest Assiniboia East may withdraw. He fears that since he may not use the cry "poor but honest," that he might be defeated.

Press Comments

When times are good, work plentiful and money easy to obtain it is the fashion to abuse rich men. But when financial troubles come, he is a good man to have around. At the moment when all indications pointed to a collapse during the recent financial panic in New York, J. P. Morgan was the man who brought order out of chaos and saved the situation.

What strikes the man on the street in such cases as these, is the fact that, no matter how much the mob may be inclined to roast the big man on ordinary occasions, in times of stress it is willing to admit that it's mighty handy to have him around with his millions of available cash.

When Liberals are taunted with the statement that the public lands, and resources incident thereto, are withheld by the federal government, frequently they reply that these will, in due time, be granted to the province. Every honest Liberal believes that that happy time will come and at no distant date. But as one reads accounts of the manner in which the public resources are being granted to friends of the government, the conviction is born in upon them that by the time the federal government is ready to give the province its own, there will be but little value to give. It would seem that no privilege worth the shaming has escaped the vigilant eyes of the "grifters."

London, March 15.—King Edward is beginning to feel the weight of his years. And with this feeling is a growing timidity. He has been scared from London by the influenza. That's the real reason of his Majesty taking his sudden trip to Brighton—a place he has never before visited as a health resort, although of course, his ancestor, George IV., who discovered Brighton, had a pavilion there and spent a good deal of his time in "London-by-the-Sea."

Those whose memory reaches back to the early part of the last century can attest a great social improvement in almost every line. But in one line the change has been backward. The extraordinary worship of muscle going with the passion for athletics has taken of the ban from prize-fighting. We see prize fighting photos in the newspapers. On one occasion at least in the States a prize fight was attended by women. The prize fight is but a degree, if at all, less brutal than a bull fight. In the early part of the last century no true English gentleman, it is safe to assert, would have liked to own that he had been at a prize fight, nor would any decent newspaper have reported one, or given engravings of the champions. Two low papers that did report prize fights were strictly excluded from all places of education. Surely the press may afford to keep itself clear of such a stain. Should not the practice be restrained by law? Why do people not rise against it as they do against drink? Surely the prize fight is as bad as the tavern.

An American periodical, one that ought to know better—Collier's Weekly, dishes up an editorial for the edification of the readers of its Canadian Edition on the method of the government in distributing seed grain to those who need it. Its criticism of the methods are not worth criticizing, but when it starts talking about the "suffering farmers of western Canada," we hardly know whether to laugh or cry. Suffering farmers, indeed! SUFFERING FARMERS! Next week we may expect, "downtrodden peasants." But then Collier's always was noted for spoiling otherwise well written articles on Canadian affairs by having the facts and conditions all topsy turvy. Now we suppose we have got to go to all the trouble, merely to offset wrong impressions that may be created by the wide circulation of Collier's twaddle, of denying that western Canadian farmers are suffering. What a nuisance some of these American papers are.

General News

It is curious to note that the architect of the new Singer Building in New York, the highest in the world, appeared before the State Building Commission the other day and advised that the maximum height of new buildings should be 100 feet. The Singer building is 622 ft.

Montreal, March 12.—The finance committee of the city council this afternoon decided to at once call for tenders for its new loan of five million which will be spent on civic improvements. The loan has excited considerable interest in money centres in New York, Paris and London, and numerous enquiries have been received. The big city financial institutions have advised the city that the present was a good time to float the loan, and the authorities decided to act upon this advice at once, the tenders are to be publicly opened on March 27. The loan is for 40 years at 4 per cent.

Macleod, Alta., March 11.—The C.P.R. company was today fined $200 and costs for working Operator Mullen on Sunday, Dec. 15, without 24 hours' rest during the succeeding six days. Mullen is the operator upon whom the blame for the train accident at Brackett some time ago now rests. The case was heard before Magistrates Stearns and George.

Manila, March 13.—Manila's financial stringency due to the scarcity of pesos, will soon be relieved, according to advice received here from Washington. It is reported that the transport Thomas, now on the way here from San Francisco will bring $5,000,000 new "shining" coins, fresh from the mint. This will be the largest shipment of pesos ever brought to the Philippines.

Kenora, March 13.—The plebiscite for the exemption of the Maple Leaf flour mill from taxes was taken recently. Nothing but parliamentary elections has lived the town up so much as the voting. Every rig was requisitioned and it was not until the result was known that the excitement abated. There were about 750 eligible voters on this question, but over 200 of these are summer residents from Winnipeg who could not be present to record their votes. Fifty-one per cent of the votes must be polled and the majority must be two-thirds of the votes polled before the council can consider the matter. The result was 464 in favor and 59 against it. This is a local majority of 345 in favor of the exemption, and there is therefore no question about the Maple Leaf company building at once.

New York, March 14.—Out of a total of $14,750,000 paid out in dividends by the Standard Oil company today at the rate of $15 a share, J. D. Rockefeller, who owns 25 per cent of all the stock, received $3,750,000 bringing up the total of his returns from Standard Oil stock for the last six months to $6,250,000.

The total paid out in dividends by the company during the last six months is approximately twenty-five millions. Fifteen men own 90 per cent of the stock, and in the last ten years have received in cash dividends $389,000,000. The profits of the company since 1888 amount to approximately $900,000,000 of which $270,000,000 have been paid in dividends. The net earnings of the company for the last six years are estimated at over $455,000,000.

Brandon, March 15.—Some forty guests at the empire hotel last night were taken suddenly ill, and it is believed it has been the result of eating poisonous canned goods. Two doctors were called in and prescribed for the sick. Most of the guests were those attending the winter fair, and they did not feel sick until after registering at the hotel when doctors who were in attendance had to attend to them. A number of those attacked are still confined to their beds.

Minneapolis, March 14.—Apparently fearing Minneapolis will become a hot bed of anarchism, Secretary Oscar S. Straus, of the United States immigration department, has ordered W. D. Morse, inspector of immigration, Minneapolis, to confer with the police in an attempt to rid the Twin Cities of all anarchists and other undesirable aliens. This action is timely because of late developments. Minneapolis is known to shelter friends of the would be assassin shot down by Chief Shippy in Chicago. On top of this comes the announcement that Emma Goldman, the notorious woman anarchist, is scheduled to lecture on March 25, if the police will permit her to do so, and these facts together with a suspicion that the Twin Cities are being made a dumping ground for undesirable elements of Chicago during the last forty-eight hours, twenty-one point-less aliens have been landed in Minneapolis from the Windy City.

W. P. A. MEETS

Western Daily Paper Editors Discuss Their News Gathering Agency—More Directors Added.

There was a gathering of western editors in Regina last Thursday to deal with Western Associated Press business. Among those who attended were: E. M. Nichols, Winnipeg Telegram; J. W. Dace and E. H. Macklin, Winnipeg Free Press; J. F. B. Livesay, manager W.A.P., Winnipeg; W. F. Kerr, Regina Leader; G. M. Thompson, Saskatoon Capital; E. J. McMillan, Moose Jaw News; Thos. Miller, Moose Jaw Times; J. H. Woods, Calgary Herald; F. J. Dean, Nelson News; Duncan Marshall Edmonton Bulletin; J. K. McInnis, of Regina and J. A. Aikin of Saskatoon also attended. President Nichols called the meeting to order at eight o'clock. He opened the proceedings with a brief address, in which he outlined the growth of the organization since it was first incorporated last August. The Western Associated Press now numbers among its subscribers twenty of which fourteen are in the prairie provinces, one in British Columbia, three in Toronto, one in Ottawa and one in Montreal. Mr. Nichols went on to point out the various steps taken since its inception to make the news gathering and news-distributing functions of the organization as efficient as possible, and closely related to the special requirements of western publishers and the western public. He concluded by outlining the purpose for which the meeting had been convened, which was to strengthen the association by getting the active co-operation of its subscribers. The charter was being so amended as to permit the western publishers becoming shareholders, and thus obtaining direct representatives. Although it will be some weeks before legal requirements will be completed the subscribers present at the meeting made application for shares. Nominations for directors to represent the western provinces on the board were then made, and will go into effect as soon as the charter is amended, being as follows:—Saskatchewan—W. F. Kerr, Regina and G. M. Thompson, Saskatoon. Alberta—J. M. Woods, Calgary and Duncan Marshall, Edmonton. British Columbia—F. J. Dean. A general discussion followed and before the meeting closed it was unanimously decided that the next convention be held at Saskatoon.

PARALLEL TO HIAWATHA

Iowa Editor Claims Longfellow's Poem Resembles Closely a Finnish Production.

The editor of the Yeoman Shield, published in Des Moines, Iowa thinks that he has found out that Longfellow stole his poem "Hiawatha" from a Finnish poem called "The Kalevala." According to the story of the editor of the Yeoman Shield, he discovered the epic poem of Finland which is older than Homer's writing and some authors claim it dates back to the time of David. From it he charges he has discovered that Longfellow borrowed or copied his Hiawatha. The measures and the metre are exactly the same. The songs are the same in that both poems deal with Indians, with magic with the northland.

Here is a specimen of The Kalevala:—Wanamoinen, old and skilful, The eternal worker, Builds his vessel by enchantment; Builds his boats by art and magic, From the timber of the oak tree, From its posts, and planks, and floorings, Sings a song and joins the framework, Sings a second, sets the siding, Sings a third time, sets the rowlocks, Fashions oars, and ribs and rudder, Joins the sides and ribs together, Thus the ancient Wanamoinen, Built the boat with magic only, And with magic launched his vessel; Using not the hand to touch it, Using not the knee to turn it, Using nothing to propel it, Tell of Reindeers That id exactly the swing and marks of Hiawatha. Both poems tell of Reindeer and both introduce singers who relate their tales. This too, is from The Kalevala:—"Why should I sing other legends, Chant them in the Glen and forest, Sing them on the hill and heather, Only will the forest listen, Sacred birches, sighing pine trees, Junipers endowed with wisdom, Alder trees that love to hear me, With the aspens and the willows, Like the cuckoo of the forests, Like the thrush upon the heather, Like the lark I learned to twitter, As a lark I learned to wander, Wander as a lonely songbird, Through the forest and the fenlands, Quietly o'er hill and heather, Walked in pain about the 'Arashes, Learned the songs of wind and water, Learned the music of the ocean, And the echoes of the woodland, And nature was mine only teacher, Woods and water my instructor." From Hiawatha The following is from Hiawatha:—"Should you ask where Nawadaha Found these songs so wild and wayward; Found these legends and traditions, In the birds' nests of the forest, In the lodges of the beaver, In the hoof prints of the bison, All the wild flowers sang them to him. In the moorlands and the fenlands, In the melancholy marshes, In the green and silent valley, By the pleasant water courses, Dwelt the singer Nawadaha, Round about the Indian village, Spread the meadows and the corn fields, And beyond them stood the forest, Stood the grove of sighing pine trees,

The Deadly Parallel Wanamoinen was a good teacher among his people; so was Hiawatha. Wanamoinen did not die a natural death, but left his people in a boat, so did Hiawatha. Wanamoinen's departure—Left his tribe in Kalevala, Sailing o'er the rolling billows, Sailing through the azure vapors, Sailing through the dusk of evening, Sailing to the fiery sunset, To the lower verge of heaven. Hiawatha's departure—Westward, westward, Hiawatha, Sailed into the fiery sunset, Sailed into the dusk of evening, To the land of the hereafter.

NO LIGHTS FOR DOUKS

Strange Obedience to Orders of Doukhobor Leaders—Presents Burned. Langham, Sask., March 18.—Peter Veregin's arrival in this district is eagerly awaited by his followers, and a detachment of faithful Doukhobors are watching incoming trains. Repressive measures are producing a great dissatisfaction among the community Doukhobors, making it necessary for their leader to start on his hantaguing trip in a hurry. His last visit to this district was eminently successful. Immediately following his departure the Doukhobors from several villages started to concentrate and moved into two villages, undertaking a tremendous amount of useless labor. Through the whole winter these misguided people have been hauling hay and moving their paraphernalia from village to village, in many cases a distance of from thirty to forty miles, killing their horses, suffering themselves, lamenting their fate, but still faithful to their leaders. Letters received from Yorkton district and the reports brought by those of the Doukhobors who were visiting their brethren in that part of the country make everybody here regard as a bitter joke Veregin's reported withdrawal of a harsh dictum in regard to the community bill of fare. The encouragement of the use of eggs and milk has been ordered now that all the chickens are sold by the leader's order, and only a few cows left in each village. It is feared that the managers of the community continue the promulgation of their usual policy with as much zeal as ever. Those who have knowledge of the Doukhobor affairs believe firm-ly that Veregin's recent declaration regarding the community bill of fare was made with the view of pulling the wool over the eyes of the general public. It is well known that last year, when the Doukhobors were given an ultimatum with regard to the necessity of becoming British subjects in order to hold their homesteads, the community leaders resorted to similar tactics. The leaders while openly declaring their sincerest desires that the colonists should become nationalized citizens, secretly sent their assistants through the villages with a message of a different sort. The communists were told by these haranguers that the government in view of expected war, wanted to entrap the Doukhobors in order to make soldiers of them. It transpires that a manifesto was issued forbidding the communists the use of light lamps (etc.) since the fifteenth of last month. The communists in this district obey such orders only partially, owing to the distance from headquarters, but in Yorkton explicit obedience is demanded of the Doukhobors. A pathetic story is being narrated in this connection of an old man whose sick child required some attendance during the night. He dared not light the lamp, according to the order. When the child became very ill the man lit the lamp, but was immediately compelled to put it out by his wife, whose faith in the traditions of Doukhoborism was stronger than her affections for her own sick child. A community leader, it is said, recently threw into the stove a fancy handkerchief brought to him as a present from a Doukhobor girl. Immediately the whole fraternity followed suit, and in all the villages the communists started to burn their handkerchiefs and shawls. But the strangest order is the one forbidding the use of towels, and which the communists are trying to keep secret. "After washing themselves dare not dry their faces or hands with towels—they are to trust to the drying qualities of the atmosphere!" The Doukhobors who left the community are getting on well, and are considered to be good settlers. There is a Doukhobor in this district who last year raised 6,000 bushels of grain—more than a whole village of the communists are able to raise—and he came here practically penniless seven years ago. Indeed there are not many places in the world that offer an industrious man as good opportunity as this district of Langham.

WHAT KIPLING HEARS IN CANADA

A series of articles by Rudyard Kipling that will interest Canadians begins in the current issue of Collier's Weekly. In these letters Mr. Kipling will give the results of his recent visit to Canada. He will tell us what he thinks, and what the people who talked to him said they think about a great many Canadian questions. It goes without saying that the imperial poet, even when he gets down to newspaper work, will keep his imperial point of view. Canada as Canada we may expect to see rarely discussed; but of Canada as the Eldest Sister of the Family, as Kipling calls her, we shall read a great deal, and perhaps learn a great deal for we must remember that while Kipling's opinion may not be our opinion, a great many millions of our fellow British subjects are willing to take almost any little jingle that the poet makes and adopt it as a sort of creed.

LONG TRIP THRU WILDS

All the Way from Fort Churchill to Winnipeg with Dog Train—No Ice on Nelson River on Dec. 17.

Mrs. Beech, the first white woman to traverse the country between Fort Churchill and Norway House via York Factory, William Beech and Carl Beech, the first white men to bring dogs from Fort Churchill to Winnipeg over the same route, over 1,100 miles through a wilderness, arrived in Winnipeg last Saturday after a most unique trip which was fraught with no little trouble and hardship. For twenty-three days the party remained at the mouth of the Nelson river and during that time the dogs were without food and the rations of the party were reduced to a minimum.

less and they did not sight a caribou, deer, or even a rabbit. Nine days were taken up with the hunting trip, but relief was not obtained until York factory was reached after the river was frozen over on Jan. 11th. At York Factory Mr. Beech says he could not obtain a candle, a can of condensed milk for the benefit of his wife, or a piece of butter or lard. He complains of the manner in which he was used along the way. "We had good weather all the way but found many waters open. The Steel and Hill rivers and part of the Kneelake were open and forced tedious detours. We went almost into God's lake, where we met Rev. Mr. Stevens, the Methodist missionary, who with his family are enjoying good health. Mr. Low, the missionary at Oxford House, is also in good health and reports good work since his arrival. One of the finest missionaries on the road Mr. Ferris, at York Factory, who was of invaluable assistance to myself and Mrs. Beech, and had not been for him we never would have got out of the country in safety. Mr. Ferris leaves York today for Winnipeg. There are no furs in the north owing to the exceptional depth of snow. The Indians are having a poor winter of it, but there is no suffering except on Lake Winnipeg where there was no game and the fish in the lake have been so depleted that they cannot get sufficient to eat.

Oxford lake was like a sheet of glass but we made the distance from Oxford House to Norway House in four days. The summer has been very dry and the Churchill river did not open till June 22, which is closed on Nov. 17. The coldest weather was experienced on our trip from Jan. 21 to 27, while we were crossing the Chimerawa river. The mercury went below 60, and my thermometer froze. In trying to thaw it out over a candle it broke, and I could not register the temperature further, but this was far the coldest days we struck. Game and dog feed were scarce on the road, and we had no easy time of it, but Mrs. Beech and my son stood it well and bore up bravely. The biggest bag of the season was reported from a post 175 miles the other side of Oxford House, where 700 moose were killed. There were no caribou this winter at Churchill, and we had to go into the interior for them, where we spent two weeks. Usually they can be obtained on our own homestead. The polar bears were very thick coming down on the drift ice, and in November I shot a bear from the ship at 12.15 midnight. We took snap shots of it, and Mrs. Beech went out and sat on the monster as soon as it was obtained. It measured eight feet from tip to tip, and the skin brought $30 at Churchill. I brought the head with me.

Mr. Beech will return as soon as the waterways are open and will canoe in via the Churchill river. On Feb. 21, while at Norway House, Albert Sinclair, chief of the Norway House Indians, died after an illness of about two weeks. His funeral was attended by some 2,500 Indians and residents of the post. The services were conducted by James Wilkinson, the Church of England missionary, and in accordance with the request of the chief he was buried on his own property. Polar bears are very fat and the heart is a delicacy that was much appreciated. The steaks were also luscious, but most of the carcass was given to the Indians, who, according to their habit, gorged themselves in a disgusting manner with all parts of the brute.

MAKE IT YOURSELF Tells Our Readers How to Mix Best Rheumatism Cure.

A well known authority on rheumatism gives the readers of a 1907 New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless, prescription, which anyone can easily prepare at home: "Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take. This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time. Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers, if asked to.

TENDERS FOR TIMBER LAND

Some Strange Co-Incidences—Several Cheques Put in to Cover One Tender.

Ottawa, March 12.—Conservatives in the public accounts committee continue the quest into dark operations respecting the timber limits. Original papers, obtained with great difficulty through light on three transactions brought before the committee on Thursday by Mr. Ames. As more than half the morning was occupied by Macdonald, McLean and other government supporters trying to head off inquiry the investigation was hampered, though it went far enough to disclose remarkable coincidences. The three limits all very valuable were captured by the Imperial Pulp Co. the mysterious corporation which eludes all attempts to find out who, what and where it is. In two competitions the company bid in its own name and in the third obtained the limit in the name of A. W. Fraser, by whom it was assigned to the company. Note These Coincidences In all three cases the successful tenderer did not use the form which the department furnished and did not mention the amount offered, but enclosed cheques which the department held to represent the amount. In all three cases the amount so enclosed was in two separate cheques in all three cases the amount of the two cheques was only a little higher than the second highest tender. In all three cases one of the cheques was a fraction higher than the third highest tender. The chances are not one in a thousand that such a complete set of coincidences would occur by accident. But if the representative of the Imperial Pulp company had knowledge of other tenders, if on learning of the third highest offer he prepared and had marked a cheque a little higher, if afterwards, on learning that a later tender, higher than his had gone through, he added another cheque, making the offer again a little the highest, there would be no mystery. Here are the details of the three cases: Berth No. 1431 Imperial Pulp Company $31,575 and R. McDonald 31,161 James Ross 17,010 With three lower tenders. The Imperial Pulp Co. mentioned no price but sent two cheques, one for $17,575 and another for $14,000. If the Macdonalds had not tendered at the last moment, the largest cheque would have secured the limit by a small margin. After the Macdonald tender was in the two cheques were just enough to do the trick. A. W. Fraser (Imp. Pulp Co.) $11,000 K. A. MacLeod 10,000 J. H. Lamont 4,000 There were two cheques, one for $6,000 and one of $5,000 making the successful bid. The $5,000 was sufficient until MacLeod's tender was in, and then the two together were required. Berth No. 1058 Imperial Pulp Co. $500 Crafts and Lee 350 R. B. Ferguson 310 The successful tender was represented by two cheques, one of $350, which would cover the Ferguson bid, and another for $150 which captured the timber.

Dr. Meylan thinks that not a great deal is really known about the effect of tobacco on the human system. A great many general statements about it have crept into the text books and were accepted because proof wasn't demanded. It was thought a good thing to hit old Nicotine a blow just whenever the opportunity offered. The investigator doesn't deny, however, that tobacco may effect the heart and nervous system injuriously. The announced results of his experiments differ from those announced by Dr. J. W. Seaver, the Yale physical director, who said that tobacco tended not only to stunt the smoker, but also to retard his mental development. Dr. Meylan examined 678 students most of them freshmen, with regard to the use of alcohol and tobacco. Of that number 28 per cent. used alcohol. Two hundred and five out of the 678 said they smoked. Great care was taken in the examination and tests of the men. Two things he now definitely denies—that tobacco effects the height of the smoker, or that it reduces his lung capacity. The average height of the smoker was found to be 5 feet 7 1/2 inches, against 5 feet 7 inches for the non-smokers. The average weight of the smokers was 134.8 and that of the non-smokers 131.4 pounds. The muscular strength of the smokers was also found to be a bit more than that of the non-smokers. The fact that the smokers had an average age a little more than the non-smokers was not enough to disturb Dr. Meylan's conclusions, as set forth above. "As a matter of fact we know very little about the human body," he said yesterday. "I am one of those who are inclined to class tobacco among those peculiar substances which are poisonous to certain individuals. Some persons for instance, cannot eat strawberries without being poisoned, though the majority of us are not so effected. It is an old saying that one man's food is another man's poison. "It has always been a surprise to me how often statements that tobacco reduces the lung capacity crept into the textbooks. Even the best of them say so. On what authority I'm sure I don't know; but there it is and a good many people have swallowed it whole. It is only one of many un-founded assertions that are constantly made about tobacco."

Successful Sessions of Epworth League and Sunday School Convention Held at Qu'Appelle.

South Qu'Appelle, March 13.—The annual Epworth League and Sunday school convention of the Methodist churches of the Regina district, was held here on Tuesday and Wednesday, and was most successful in every way there being large crowds present, the country districts being well represented as well as many delegates being in attendance from the different churches throughout the district. Five sessions were held in the Methodist church, the evening sessions being especially interesting and instructive and the papers read were full of helpful hints and showed careful thought and preparation. Tuesday afternoon session was interesting as the following papers were delivered: "New Paths to Sunday School Work" by A. M. Fraser of Indian Head, assisted by W. Hudson of Regina. "Primary Methods," by the president, and the "Adult Bible Class Movement," by E. P. Brookman of Indian Head. During the evening session, western secretary delivered a stirring address on "Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues" and Rev. H. S. McGee, the field secretary, gave the address of the convention on temperance and moral reform. W. H. Hindson led the song service, and solos were sung by Miss Forrester, Miss Butler, and Mrs. Hamilton. At Wednesday morning's session Rev. J. Laycock of Qu'Appelle delivered an address on "Loyalty to the Church and League," after which the C. E. Department was opened by Rev. J. Lewis of Sintaluta and ably discussed. Ernest Brooks of Indian Head then dealt with the different phases of the Missionary Forward Movement and he threw out some valuable suggestions. At the last session on Wednesday afternoon, the Library Department was presided over by E. M. Wootton, of Indian Head, who showed how to develop taste for good reading. Mr. Sedolt of Regina, presided over the social department and pointed out the dangers and possibilities of the same. E. Brooks of Indian Head was chosen president for the ensuing year and Miss Hastings of Sintaluta was re-elected sec-treasurer. The summer school of instruction will be held near Lumsden in the Qu'Appelle valley.

TOBACCO AS A DEVELOPER

Dr. Meylan Denies that it Effects Height of Smoker or Reduces Lung Capacity. Dr. George L. Meylan, physical director of Columbia university, having conducted a series of experiments upon 678 students, has come to the conclusion that the deleterious effect of tobacco is very much exaggerated and that the ordinary healthy young man may smoke in moderation without suffering any appreciable injury. As a matter of fact, his tests and figures make the smokers show up

THE FRIENDLY CHINOOK

Many are the discussions and arguments which have arisen as to the source of that ever welcome friend of the rancher in the winter, the Chinook.

Its name, says the Spokeman-Review, is derived from the Chinook nation of Indians, a one time numerous and powerful people inhabiting the north bank of the Columbia from the Dalles to the ocean.

The Chinook is not a moist wind like that which blows in from the Pacific, but derives its snow melting powers from its exceeding dryness.

Vapor laden winds from the Pacific, rising to great heights in the Cascade mountains, are drained of their moisture by that mountain wall and become cold, dry and rarefied in those elevations.

In falling from the mountain heights to the plains of the inland empire they are warmed by compression. It has been scientifically determined that, the chinook wind in falling from mountain to plain is warmed at the rate of about one degree for each 100 feet of descent.

A fall of 5,500 feet from the summit of the Cascade mountains to the wide plateau of the interior will raise the temperature of the wind by about 30 degrees.

Here then are the peculiar properties of the chinook wind—warmth and dryness, melting the snow by its low temperature and sucking them up by its thirsty properties.

This phenomenon is repeated in the Rocky mountains and over the broad plains of Montana. When the chinook wind has reached the Rocky mountains it is again moisture laden and this moisture is precipitated by that high range and its deviating spurs.

It is rendered dry at the summit of the Rockies and is again warmed by its rapid descent to the Montana plains, and this benign influence is often extended to the Dakotas.

To the people inhabiting the vast interior this Chinook has ever been a joy and mystery. When snows lay deep and the lakes were ice bound, the Indian herds were famishing, the aborigines, from the Mandans of Dakota to the Yakimas and the Walla Wallas, sought to propitiate and to welcome this great spirit by incantations and long continued dances.

In after years the white herdsmen despondent as he saw his horses and cattle dying on the frozen snows, found cheer and returning fortune, in its warm and melting breath.

Exciting experience. C. N. R. Brakesman Has Six Mile Ride Near Car Wheels.

A local railroad story of more than passing interest has got round, says the Saskatchewan Phoenix. It has to do with an adventure which "Frenchie" or "Joe" a C.N.R. brakeman on this line experienced a few days ago.

The northbound was pulling out of Oiler late in the evening. The brakeman attempted to catch the moving train by catching the railing and springing to the step. He missed his footing and was dragged under the coach, his arm catching on one of the rods that pass from front to back beneath the car floor.

He managed to prop one foot against something very close to the wheels, and rested the other against it. It was a situation of acute discomfort. To extricate himself meant that the wheels would pass over his body.

The temperature was ten below zero and Frenchie felt a numbness creeping over him, both because of the cold and the cramped posture. He had been married at Christmas time, and thoughts of his wife filled his brain, as he wondered how long it would be before he became unconscious before his limbs would relax their hold.

For six miles he clung to the bar. His lighted lantern hung on his arm, but he could not free it, and who would see his signals if he could make them?

Before reaching Oiler Frenchie had been chatting with Mr. Porter Warfield, one of the passengers. Six miles west of Mr. Warfield again wanted companionship and asked the conductor what had become of the brakie.

The conductor said he could not find him on the train and supposed he must have remained at the last station. While speaking of him Mr. Warfield noticed an unusual redness of the snow outside his window and he casually asked the conductor what it was.

It did not take long to have the train stopped. Frenchie dropped to the ground and only revived after repeated efforts to restore him. He was not injured, however. The heel of his boot and other parts of his clothing were worn away, but no lasting harm came to him from the ride.

No Father, No Mother, No Home—Worse Than a Prisoner. GABRIEL BLACKY, BERLIN, ONT.: Enclosed please find doctor's certificate and examination papers. Hope you will secure me a place in your Sanatorium. You will notice that my circumstances is a hard one; no father, no mother, no home—worse than a prisoner. Nobody wants me on account of my disease. Hoping you will have the charity and consider my position, and give me a position at once in your Sanatorium, I ever pray.

An Orphan, without Home or Means. DR. A. E. HANNA, PERTH: I have a patient here, a young fellow in whom I am greatly interested. He has tuberculosis. He is a poor young fellow, an orphan, out of home, without any means. If I suggest him up would you take him in and do the best you can for him? I know how difficult it is to accommodate all who require treatment, but this is a special case.

"DO IT NOW" Is a business motto of this strenuous age that applies with tremendous force when it is a good act you should do.

"A child's kiss set on thy sighing lips shall make thee glad." "A sick man helped by thee shall make thee strong." "Thou shalt be served thyself in every sense of service which thou renderest."

"DO IT NOW" "I WAS SPECIALLY PLEASSED WITH THE ATTENTION PAID TO CONDUCT THE INSTITUTION CAREFULLY AND ECONOMICALLY."—Dr. R. W. Bruce-Smith, Government Inspector Hospitals and Charities.

The Regina Board of Trade held a meeting in the civic police court rooms on Thursday evening last, President Whitmore, presiding. The railway tariff was the chief subject of discussion. The council did not present the report of the delegates to Ottawa to the full board at first but this was done on motion of Mr. Laird. The motion to adopt this report brought out the discussion. The wholesale grocers of the city opposed the adoption of the report as they believed the temporary settlement not satisfactory and further, they stated that if the settlement were accepted the city's freight rates case before the railway commission would be prejudiced.

The explanation of the delegates' action at Ottawa was outlined by Mr. Laird and Mr. McDonald.

Mr. Laird stated that when they were in Ottawa the railway came to them to arrange a temporary settlement. The November tariff was killing Regina wholesale houses. The delegates discussed the matter with the C.P.R. and the result was a temporary arrangement whereby the railway was to reduce the rates on 6th class matter by 10 cents on the hundred, and on 5th class goods by 3 cents on the hundred. This made it satisfactory for the implement dealers and also for the wholesale grocers who would ship out goods in less than car load lots. The wholesale grocery people, however, want to do a car lot business, but claim that they cannot do so. They want the case to go on before the railway commission at once. However the report of the delegates was adopted with the condition that it will not preclude the question coming up again at any reasonable time.
