"I Suffered Terribly With Sore, Aching Back"

Mrs. Roland Ferguson, 194 Lake St., Peterboro, Ont., writes:

"For over two years I suffered terribly with sore back. I was almost mad with the pain, and had doctored with it until I was discouraged. Then my father, who is a firm believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I followed his advice, and am glad to say I was completely relieved of that torturing pain in my back. It is over a year since I used these pills, and I have had no return of the trouble, but always keep them in the house."

A QUEEN UNCROWNED

THE STORY IN THE LONE INN.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Jacquetta and Disbrowe were dumb with surprise.
"Ask this man—her father—if it is not true; and let him deny it if he dare. Lella, you and Norma Macdonald are sisters!"
"I felt it—I knew it. I was sure we were not strangers!" said Jacquetta, in a low, breathless voice.
"This is most wonderful!" exclaimed Disbrowe. "I know, now, why Mr. Macdonald would never speak of Norma's mother. But to think that she and Jacquetta should be sisters! I wonder what Austrey will say?"
"Where is your little daughter, Lella—where is Orrie?" asked the captain, after a pause.
"Here, in London, but not in the house at present. Would you like to see her?"
"Yes; I always liked the little one, somehow. How came she here?"
"Mr. De Vere brought her."
"Mr. De Vere, of Fontelle? Is he here, too?"
"Yes, he and his daughter."
"Ha! his daughter! By the way, that reminds me, I have something to say about that daughter. Thereby hangs a tale." She has appeared in trouble lately—has she not?"
"Trouble!" exclaimed Jacquetta, "she has been like a galvanized corpse for the last two years—dead in life!"
"Ah! just so! Well, I know the cause."
"You!" exclaimed Disbrowe.
"Yes, me; and I can minister to a blind diseased, too. Do you know the cause, my lord?"
"Yes."
"Then she thinks she has married her brother, does she not?"
Jacquetta uttered an exclamation of horror.
"Yes."
"Well, she may get her mind at rest, then; she has done nothing of the kind."
"What!"
"It is true. I give it from Till—old Till, you know, Grizzle's brother—and he ought to know, if any one does."
"Thank Heaven! Poor, unhappy Augusta! But are you sure, Captain Tempest?"
"Certain! Old Till will confirm the story, if you only threaten him with a little hanging!"
"Where is he to be found?"
"At the 'Sailor's Rest,' St. Giles. You'll have no trouble in finding him. You see, old Grizzle knew about the marriage, and trumped up the whole story to frighten the young lady, and save herself."

"Well, but Augusta's husband himself acknowledged its truth."
"And he thinks it is true. You see, my lord, there were a number of other little urchins taken prisoner with the little De Vere at the same time—some of whom died, some were sent to another tribe, and some were kept. Young De Vere died a short time after being taken captive, but he was always a sickly little codger, Till says."
"Then she really married one of those captives?"
"Yes; but no relation of hers. His real name is Durand—Mark Durand; and he escaped just as Grizzle related. The young lady is all right, so far as marrying her brother is concerned. Find out Till, and he will tell you so, if you only frighten him properly."
"Heaven be praised for this! It will be new life to Augusta. Captain Tempest, what a debt of gratitude he will owe to you!"
"To me? Nonsense! Give me a drink, Lella—I am parched."
She held a drink to his lips, and he drank eagerly. He had spoken so rapidly that he had exhausted himself, and already he was beginning to sink.
"And Augusta was married?" said Jacquetta, in a low voice to Disbrowe.
"Yes; that was her secret. He was poor, and they were married in private. Grizzle told her that morning, you remember, he was her brother, and she believed her."
"Poor Augusta! Where is her—her husband now, I wonder?"
"I do not know. Can you tell us, Captain Tempest, where this Mark Durand is now?"
"I saw him in Paris three weeks ago; most probably you will find him there yet."
"How strangely all these things have come to light! How mysterious are the ways of Providence! Oh, father! if you had only told this long ago, how much misery it might have saved!"
"I did not know it long ago myself; though, if I had," said Captain Nick.
"It would have been all the same, most likely. I knew Grizzle had some power over Miss De Vere; but what it was I didn't know until old Till, who came this voyage with me, habbled in his cups, and let the murder out."

THE IMPRISONED HEIRESS

THE SPECTRE OF EGREMONT

CHAPTER I.

The Egremonts of Egremont traced their genealogy back to the time of William the Conqueror. That monarch brought in his train a Sir Jasslyn d'Egremont, who, for his distinguished services to his royal master, received an earldom, with suitable estates, and was the founder of the present family bearing his name.
The elder branch of the race, at the recent period of which we write, was represented by a daughter, who had inherited the entire landed and personal property, the title and estates being parted. The former, a barren honor, had descended to the representative of the cadet branch, a gentleman whose whole life had been spent in struggling to "keep up appearances" upon a meager income, and whose misery was completed by the inheritance of a lofty title without means adequate to its proper support.
This unenviable position, however, was of brief duration.
The preceding earl had had the misfortune to lose his wife a few weeks after the birth of their only child, and had himself succumbed within the ensuing twelvemonth to a prevalent disease, to which his melancholy rendered him the more readily a prey.
Their child, the heiress to whom we have alluded, had been left to the guardianship of the present earl, her nearest paternal relative, her fortune being placed in other hands. A handsome sum was assigned for her support in suitable style, and this fund it was that enabled the present bearer of the family title to keep up the dignity of his rank.
To insure the youthful heiress the tenderest care at the hands of her relatives, her father had the forethought to devise a will leaving her fortune to the son of an old friend, should she die unmarried before attaining her majority. Thus, the strongest possible inducements were held out to her guardian and his wife to cherish her more than themselves, since, if she were to die, they must inevitably return to their former obscurity and scanty income.
The home appointed for the heiress, until such time as she should be presented at court, was the estate of Egremont, and here, surrounded by a small coterie consisting of her relatives, a sufficient number of instructors, and a numerous retinue of servants, the Lady Aletia passed her infancy, childhood, and early youth.
She was flattered and caressed by every one from her guardian down to the lowest menial that was permitted to enter her presence. She had but to express a wish and the earl hastened to gratify it, even at the expense of considerable personal inconvenience.
But a single wish to the heiress remained ungratified.
She had longings for society which her relatives had sedulously striven to repress, and which they had taken care not to gratify, keeping her secluded under plea of her youth. She had travelled a few months in company with her guardian, but she knew nothing of balls and gay assemblies, save what she had learned from books, and her world was made up of the simple events that occurred at Egremont.
Egremont was situated upon the wildest part of the Scottish coast, and comprised parks, woods, plantations, and fields, besides pleasure-grounds of great beauty and extent.
The mansion was situated upon a bold cliff that rose abruptly from the sea, which chafed and dashed against its base with sullen but vain fury. There was a flight of steps cut in the solid rock, leading from a narrow ledge below, that served as a boat-landing to a private door in the dwelling above.
The sun was sloping toward the west one December day, when the owner of the Egremont estate issued from a private door of the mansion, and took her way along the cliff, dangerously near its edge.
There was no fear in her glance as she looked down upon the boiling flood fretting itself against the base of the rock.

Could Not Sleep Nights
Dublin, Ont.—"I was weak and irregular, with pains and headaches, and could not sleep nights. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by reading the letters in the newspapers and tried it because I wanted to get better. I have got good results from it and I feel a lot stronger and am not troubled with such bad headaches as I used to be and am more regular. I am gaining in weight all the time and I tell my friends what kind of medicine I am taking. You may use my letter as a help to others."—Mrs. JAMES KACHO, Box 12, Dublin, Ontario.

English Nurses

ANXIOUS TO SERVE IN LEPER COLONY.

London. (A.P.)—Application by two young professional women for opportunity to enlist through the Dominican Priory, at Hampstead, as nurses to lepers, draws attention to the fact that English women have never hesitated to make the sacrifice which this particular form of service entails.
The superiors of the London headquarters of the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary states that when the mother-general appealed some years ago for six nuns to nurse lepers, more than 1,000 volunteers, all members of the Order, responded.
"To-day we have 4,000 members engaged in missionary work all over the world," said the mother superior. "If an appeal were made for workers in leper colonies almost all our 4,000 would be eager to go."
"As a matter of experience nearly all the girls who wish to join the Order—and their average age is between 20 and 24—say that they are anxious to give their lives to the service of the lepers. As we have educational and charitable undertakings in all parts of the world and as we teach in many parts of the Empire, we cannot promise them all that they shall nurse lepers."
It is an extraordinary fact, attributed by the devout sisters to the special care of Divine Providence, that not one of their order has ever contracted leprosy.

Death Takes Heavy Toll of Pilgrims to Mecca
BATAVIA, Dutch East Indies, Sept. 48 (A.P.)—Of 50,000 Dutch Indian Mohammedans who made the pilgrimage to Mecca this year, about 5,000 have died on the way back from disease and exhaustion consequent upon the hardships of travel in visiting the holy places of Islam. Moslems believe that by these visits they will gain sanctity here and paradise hereafter.
The death rate of this year's pilgrimage has been higher than usual, and is attributed to so many of the pilgrims being aged and infirm.

Coolidge Will Have the Largest Plurality in History

Mexico Closes Her Consulates in the British Empire --- $200,000 Jewelry Theft in New Orleans---French Villages Deserted Owing to Floods.

LARGEST PLURALITY IN HISTORY. NEW YORK, Nov. 5. The full measure of the Republican victory at the polls could not yet be taken to-night, but the returns tend to show that President Coolidge would have at least a hundred votes to spare in the electoral college and the largest plurality in history.

The showing made by John W. Davis remained unchanged throughout the day, and although Senator LaFollette began to creep up a little in one or two western states, there was no certainty to-night that he would receive the electoral vote of any state group except that of Wisconsin. On the face of the day's Congressional returns the Republicans had certain of a paper majority at least in both Senate and House, but doubt remained whether the margin would be great enough to give the administration the whip hand over the combining opposition of the Democrats and the LaFollette bloc.

COOLIDGE'S SIMPLE THANKS. WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. President Coolidge having received a vote of confidence from the American voters, to-day expressed his simple thanks in a statement which he read to the newspaper men. He said, "I can only express my simple thanks to all those who have contributed to this result, and plainly acknowledge that it has been brought to pass through the work of a Divine providence, of which I am but one instrument. Such powers as I have I dedicate to the service of all my country and of all my countrymen."

MASSACHUSETTS VOTES ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS. BOSTON, Nov. 5. With returns almost completed the citizens of Massachusetts had all amendments as follows: Whether the state shall favor an amendment to the federal constitution prohibiting the employment of children in industry, yes, 186,985; no, 605,228. Whether the present daylight saving law shall be continued in operation, yes, 361,904; no, 322,171. Whether the State shall adopt a state prohibition enforcement law making it a state offense to manufacture or transport intoxicating liquors, yes, 343,518; no, 322,407. Whether there shall be a state tax of two cents a gallon on all gasoline sold, the proceeds to be used for the maintenance of highways, yes, 203,524; no, 406,306.

SWEEPING CHANGE IN RHODE ISLAND. PROVIDENCE, R.I., Nov. 5. Sweeping changes in the political complexion of the state legislature followed yesterday's election in Rhode Island. Aram J. Bodier, named by the G.O.P. to combat the candidacy of Lieut. Governor Toupin, the stormy petrel of Rhode Island politics, who aspired to the gubernatorial chair, defeated his opponent by more than 1,000 votes, and B. W. Smith swamped Robert E. Quinn who sought to carry on as Toupin's successor in the President's chair of the Rhode Island senate. The strong democratic minority in the state is wiped out by yesterday's election and their number in the House is also greatly reduced.

LOOKS LIKE REPUBLICAN WIN. BOSTON, Nov. 5. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, and Democratic candidate for Governor, was trailing his Republican opponent, Alvin T. Fuller, by over 130,000 votes early to-day with 1013 precincts out of 1153 counted. The vote stood, Curley, 300,056; Fuller, 464,325.

REPUBLICAN LEADS IN MASSACHUSETTS. MASSACHUSETTS, Nov. 5. A close race between Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, and Speaker Frederick H. Gillet, of the National House of Representatives, for Senator, was the outstanding feature of the election in Massachusetts. The outcome was still uncertain to-day with Gillet leading by 7371 votes in returns from 1162 precincts out of 1432 in the State. Coolidge carried his Home state by a plurality over Davis which on the returns from the same precincts had reached $10,337. There will be at least two women in the new State House of Representatives, M. Sylvia Donaldson, Republican, being reelected from the tenth Plymouth district, and Harriet Russell Hart, Republican, being elected in the 13th Essex district.

DAVIS EXTENDS CONGRATULATIONS. WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. John W. Davis to-day congratulated President Coolidge on his election to the Presidency.

RHEIMS FLOODED. RHEIMS, France, Nov. 5. Heavy floods of the past few days in the city of Rheims and vicinity have assumed alarming proportions. Eight hundred families have abandoned homes in this city several villages have been evacuated and cut off from outside communications, and a number of leading roads in the district are impassable.

CANADIAN WEST EXPERIENCES COLD SNAP. WINNIPEG, Nov. 5. The entire Canadian West to-day was in the grip of cold, bleak weather. Heavy snow falls, according to reports, had been fairly general throughout the Southern portions of the three prairie provinces during the past 24 hours, while in other districts low temperature prevailed.

UNSETTLED CONDITIONS IN BRAZIL. BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 5. Advice received from Brazil indicated that a revolutionary movement had been planned to begin in Rio Janeiro yesterday, but that aside from the mutiny on board the battleship Sao Paulo no untoward incidents had occurred up to late last night. The cities of Sao Paulo and Santos were reported quiet. The situation in Rio Janeiro however, was declared to be very tense according to these advices. The battleship Minas Geraes started in pursuit of the Sao Paulo but returned to harbor shortly afterwards.

CHINESE GOVT. ABOLISHING SUGGESTIONS. PEKING, Nov. 5. A new agreement imposed to-day by the De Facto military Government of Peking, provides that titles be abolished in the household of the deposed Manchu dynasty, and that the Imperial allowance be reduced from $4,000,000 annually to $500,000, with certain additional sums for the establishment of factories for Manchu retainers to work in.

BETTER CONDITIONS IN THE STRAITS. QUEBEC, Nov. 5. In contrast to the unfortunate conditions which prevailed a year ago among the fishermen at Old Fort Bay, Harrington Bay, Fox River, and other places along the Gaspe and Labrador coasts, when the families there were in danger of starvation through the failure of the fishing season, word has reached the city that the fishermen have lately met with considerable success in handling operations. Only about five or six families have been found in meagre circumstances, and these will be easily looked after by the missionaries. Most favorable conditions prevailed in all other sections.

SWEEPING CHANGE IN RHODE ISLAND. PROVIDENCE, R.I., Nov. 5.

Sweeping changes in the political complexion of the state legislature followed yesterday's election in Rhode Island. Aram J. Bodier, named by the G.O.P. to combat the candidacy of Lieut. Governor Toupin, the stormy petrel of Rhode Island politics, who aspired to the gubernatorial chair, defeated his opponent by more than 1,000 votes, and B. W. Smith swamped Robert E. Quinn who sought to carry on as Toupin's successor in the President's chair of the Rhode Island senate. The strong democratic minority in the state is wiped out by yesterday's election and their number in the House is also greatly reduced.

LOOKS LIKE REPUBLICAN WIN. BOSTON, Nov. 5.

James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, and Democratic candidate for Governor, was trailing his Republican opponent, Alvin T. Fuller, by over 130,000 votes early to-day with 1013 precincts out of 1153 counted. The vote stood, Curley, 300,056; Fuller, 464,325.

REPUBLICAN LEADS IN MASSACHUSETTS. MASSACHUSETTS, Nov. 5.

A close race between Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, and Speaker Frederick H. Gillet, of the National House of Representatives, for Senator, was the outstanding feature of the election in Massachusetts. The outcome was still uncertain to-day with Gillet leading by 7371 votes in returns from 1162 precincts out of 1432 in the State. Coolidge carried his Home state by a plurality over Davis which on the returns from the same precincts had reached $10,337. There will be at least two women in the new State House of Representatives, M. Sylvia Donaldson, Republican, being reelected from the tenth Plymouth district, and Harriet Russell Hart, Republican, being elected in the 13th Essex district.

RHEIMS FLOODED. RHEIMS, France, Nov. 5.

Heavy floods of the past few days in the city of Rheims and vicinity have assumed alarming proportions. Eight hundred families have abandoned homes in this city several villages have been evacuated and cut off from outside communications, and a number of leading roads in the district are impassable.

CANADIAN WEST EXPERIENCES COLD SNAP. WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.

The entire Canadian West to-day was in the grip of cold, bleak weather. Heavy snow falls, according to reports, had been fairly general throughout the Southern portions of the three prairie provinces during the past 24 hours, while in other districts low temperature prevailed.

France Buys American Cars

PARIS, Oct. 6 (A.P.)—Statistics for the first six months of 1924 show that during that time France bought 6,327 automobiles from the United States and sold 144 French cars to Americans. No other country approaches the United States in automobiles imported into France, Italy being second with 611.

RECORD NUMBER OF VOTES POLLED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. With returns from many states still incomplete, President Coolidge appears to have been elected over his two opponents by a rolling tide of halcyon mountains up toward the Harding landslide of 1920, but returns still were insufficient early to-day to show whether he will have a working majority of Republicans in Congress. Little more than half the Senate and House contests had been finally reported with results so far showing a net Republican gain of a dozen representatives and probably three or four Senators. The bugaboo of throwing the presidential election into Congress was chased away by rapidly with which large blocks of electoral votes either fell into the Coolidge column or gave seemingly unmistakable evidence of going there. As returns continued to come in John W. Davis succeeded in capturing the only states generally reckoned irrevocably Democratic. Even at that he lost Kentucky on the face of incomplete returns, although Cox had carried it against Harding in 1920. The same returns indicated he had brought back into the Democratic fold two of the States taken away by Harding—Oklahoma and Tennessee. Senator LaFollette, although still a popular vote of about 400,000, which approximately Roosevelt's total when he led the third Party movement in 1912, was assured the electoral vote of only one state, his own, Wisconsin. Roosevelt captured 83 electoral votes in 1912, fought to defeat his Republican opponent, Taft, and elect his Democratic adversary, Wilson. It was estimated that Coolidge polled 18,000,000 popular votes—two million more than were given to Harding. Davis it was estimated had 8,000,000, for 9,000,000 for Cox. More voters trooped to the polls and dropped their ballots yesterday than ever before in the history of the United States.

S. Curran Cummins, the British Charge.

Canada's Lead
 In the U. S. Market

In the London Times Trade and Engineering Supplement issued recently, it is stated that during the twelve months ended June 30th last the goods imported from Canada by the United States were valued at over $400,000,000. In the same period the importations from Great Britain amounted to about $340,000,000.

Previous to the war, Britain ranked first among the suppliers to the American market and Canada, fifth. The Dominion has thus supplanted the parent state as the chief exporter to the Republic. The major part of Canada's trade consists of newsprint and pulp, but there is in addition a wide range of manufactured goods, a fact which illustrates the great development that has taken place in a country which formerly depended for the most part on the sale of its products in their natural state.

Right here is a lesson in economy which we in Newfoundland might take to heart, particularly with regard to our forests, every stick of which should be kept for local manufacture. The timber is not unlimited and it has been proved conclusively that by such means conservation is best effected. On the other hand the export of raw wood means certain depletion at no distant date, and instead of establishing an industry that would represent millions of dollars, we are disposing of the material without any greater return than the comparatively insignificant amount paid out in wages to the hewers and shippers.

If it were true that the manufacture could not be carried on in Newfoundland profitably, there would be every justification for permitting the export of the raw material, but the very reverse is the case. Grand Falls itself is convincing proof that Newfoundland is as naturally adapted to this particular manufacture as Lancashire is to the manufacture of cotton. We have the raw material, abundance of water power, excellent shipping facilities, and we are admirably situated to supply either the Old World or the New.

To return to the subject of the Canadian export trade, The Times deprecates the falling off of British trade with America, which is to some extent responsible for the unemployment in the United Kingdom, and it attributes the rapid growth of Canadian exports to the fact that American capital permeates the Dominion. The explanation is no doubt perfectly correct, but it is possible that there are other causes which may help to account for it. Canada, having turned her attention to manufacturing, has adopted the aggressive policy of her neighbour in finding markets for her goods. The manufacturers carry out a systematic campaign of live advertising; their salesmen are everywhere looking for new business, and they are not only active, but they are thoroughly capable experts in their particular line. The manufacturers study the requirements of prospective markets, and turn out goods that are particularly suited to the requirements of the different customers. Great Britain, for years the world provider, has been slow to adapt herself to the changed conditions, and while her goods are still regarded as the best of their kind she has not boosted them to the extent that her competitors have.

In Newfoundland as well as elsewhere this has affected her trade. We prefer English goods to any others, but it has too often been found that some particular shipment does not suit the local demand, because the supplier has not made himself familiar with local conditions. Many lines are represented by agents who live in Toronto or some other Canadian city. This tends to inconvenience and unnecessary delay, and gives the local representative of competing firms a great advantage. The numerous labour disturbances in Great Britain during recent years have made shipments uncertain, and the increased cost of manufacture has made prices of certain goods almost prohibitive.

There can be no question as to our desire to obtain British goods which have always borne the hall mark of quality, and we would welcome the adoption of the suggested preferential tariff which would materially help to divert our trade back to the old markets.

Poppy Day

As Remembrance Day, November 11th, will be observed as a general holiday this year, it is understood that all the schools will be closed for the day. In view of this and the fact that a great many school girls who hitherto helped to sell Poppies will be unable to get off this year, it has been decided to sell the Poppies on Saturday, November 8th. However, it is requested that the general public should wear their Poppies on Remembrance Day also.

Fair Increase in Popularity

Yesterday afternoon and last night both the Prince's and Curling Rinks were crowded with interested visitors to view the exhibits. Many of those present had paid their second and third visits, and as the fair goes on it gradually increases in interest. Yesterday afternoon his Grace the Archbishop visited the exhibition, accompanied by Rev. Fr. Flynn, and were received by W. A. MacKay, who accompanied them to the different booths. His Grace expressed his pleasure at the splendid display of goods. Last night the Mount Cashel Band rendered a programme of musical airs in the Prince's Ring, while the Prince's Orchestra supplied all the latest Jazz music and Dance selections in the Curling Rink. This afternoon the Young-Adams Co. Orchestra will be at the Curling Rink from 3 to 5 and will play for dancing. No doubt the many patrons of the Fair will appreciate Mr. Young's generosity in this matter.

Magistrates Court

Two drunks and disorderlies were each fined $2.00 or 7 days.
 A drunk in charge of a horse was discharged.
 A labourer charged with being loose and disorderly was granted his freedom.

A 19-year-old labourer arrested under warrant was charged with the following offences: 1st, removing a motor car from Lawrence Bros. Factory on Gower Street, 2nd, larceny 2 gallons of gasoline valued at $1.00, the property of Ed. Lawrence, 3rd, malicious damage to said car to the extent of $100.00, 4th, driving motor car without a drivers license. To each of the above charges the accused admitted his guilt. On the first three charges he was fined $5 for each, or in default 21 days imprisonment, while a fine of $2.00 was imposed for the 4th or lesser charge.

Steamers Held in Port

As a result of the Longshoremen's strike the steamers Busa and Prospero which were scheduled to sail north to-day are still tied to their piers, and the chances of getting away for the next few days does not look any too bright. The Susu arrived in port Tuesday night with a full load of cargo, and nothing has been removed from the hold as yet. At the Dry Dock wharf a large amount of freight to be shipped north by various shippers still remains in the sheds.

The work of unloading the Susu started this afternoon but no Union men were engaged on the work.

GO TO THE FAIR

BUICK AND CHEVROLET CARS.

The display of Buick and Chevrolet motor cars, by Mr. Bert Hayward, for which he is agent, has been the centre of attraction for many attending the Fair. The Buick model for 1925, six cylinder, is a car of sterling quality, and the Chevrolet has gained its place in the market by its proved worth, and by the enterprise of the firm in catering to the public demand for a car possessing all the qualities which make for comfort, style and durability.

Tickets are now being sold at 10 cents each for the Prize Buick car, the proceeds of which go to the aid of the St. John's Playground and Recreation Association and other local philanthropic organizations.

UNITED CAN MFG. CO.

The United Can Mfg. Company have a booth contracted entirely of selected and locally manufactured cans. Here may be seen the process of making tins by a skilled workman, while on the opposite side is found a lady preparing and cooking meats, fish, and vegetables. The demonstration proved very interesting to the many people who visited the booth. The cooking range, heated by gas, in this booth, is supplied by the St. John's Gas Light Company. The automatic sealing machine by which the tins are covered without the use of solder attracts a great deal of attention.

MOORE & CO.

Messrs. Moore & Co. have on display a complete heating equipment, hot water boiler in the kitchen, and other utensils, while a most up-to-date bath room with all the appliances makes up an excellent exhibit of what is required in an up-to-date home. The management are delighted to explain to visitors the use of the various articles and to furnish advice on plumbing and heating systems.

ARCHIBALD BROS.

The display of Ladies' Shoes in which Messrs. Archibald Bros. of Hr. Grace specialize, is of a very high order and compares favorably with the very best obtainable in the foreign markets. Visitors to the Fair were astonished at such a splendid show of footwear, and it marks another forward step in local enterprise. The booth shows the different classes of leather from which these boots are made and for finish, durability, comfort and style, the goods are hard to beat. Particular attention is paid to supplying the public with the "demerit" or "calf" shoes. Last month the company increased its sales far above the average, and they are now looking forward to even bigger business during the coming months.

FRANKLIN'S AGENCIES.

Messrs. Franklin's Agencies, Ltd., have a booth in which they display very attractively various grades of motor engines and parts, viz: Palmer, Royal, Victor and Fraser. These engines are used all over the island by the fishermen and others and the company have in their possession numerous recommendations, testifying to their reliability and simplicity of handling. This booth should appeal in particular to the outport people, who are assured of obtaining any information desired by those in charge of the booth.

LESTER & ELTON.

Messrs. Lester & Elton, proprietors of The Royal Garage, have on display three different models of the Dodge motor car, and visitors are invited to make a thorough examination of the various features of one of the latest machines in the local market. The proprietors who are the sole agents for these staunchly built and luxuriously equipped roadsters will be only too happy to reveal to visitors why the "Dodge" is one of the best. Several new features have been introduced in the latest product of this enterprising firm, all of which add to simplicity in manipulation and to general convenience. It is a beauty, from balloon tyres up.

G. BROWNING & SONS.

The exhibit of Hard Bread and Crackers, Plain and Fancy Biscuits, and many other varieties locally manufactured by the firm of G. Browning & Son, has to be seen to be appreciated and the various products taste as good as they look. The goods shown in the exhibit are nicely arranged and there is ample space for the interested visitor to move around and judge for themselves its style and quality.

J. J. HENLEY.

J. J. Henley's booth is situated in the southern end of the Curling Rink, where is shown a line of mattresses, manufactured in the factory on Henry Street. The mattresses are so arranged in the form of a house and from its mattress foundation to the V shaped roof, illuminated with electrical effects, it makes up an excellent exhibit and is worthy of the highest commendation. Henley's mattresses are made from the best material obtainable, and for durability and finish they are hard to beat. A thorough inspection is far more convincing than any amount of description.

THE ST. JOHN'S GAS COMPANY.

The Gas Company's exhibit features gas appliances for domestic and industrial use and is of very practical interest. Gas cookers, water heaters, radiant fires for open fireplaces, gas grates, and portable heaters are shown and the booth is very attractively lighted with incandescent Gas Lamps. The Gas Range shown is fitted with a special oven heat regulator, on which is indicated the various temperatures, etc., required to secure perfect baking results. A variety of cakes and bread are also on exhibition, illustrating the perfect results, easily obtained. Exhibits include, an excellent substitute for hard coal, coal tar of superior quality to the imported article, and ammonium sulphate, a valuable mineral fertilizer are also shown. Owners of motor cars will be interested in the scientific garage heater, an absolutely safe heating appliance for use in the garage in cold weather. Over seven thousand of these garage heaters have been sold in Chicago alone, and they are approved by the Fire Underwriters. In addition to the appliances shown in the Gas Company's booth, the plant of the United Can Company, immediately adjoining, is operated by a gas-heated steam boiler, and in the Sterling Restaurant in the Prince's Rink all the cooking is being done with a large gas range.

General Strike Declared To-Day

Business along the waterfront is practically at a standstill as a result of the Longshoremen's strike. The strikers held a short meeting in the C. C. Armoury this morning and it is understood they decided to call out all their men and continue the strike until their demands are granted. The situation apparently has reached a stage where a showdown is inevitable. The employers are determined not to submit to the demands which are deemed outrageous, and with which it is believed a large number of the men do not agree. It is also claimed that a former native who has been prominently identified with labor strikes in Sydney and more recently in the affair at Bell Island has been using his influence to bring about a strike. The trouble it appears originated with the steam boat section of the Union. They demand an eight hour day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. with time and a half overtime to midnight as the ordinary rate was 50 cents per hour this figures out at 75 cents per hour. From midnight to 9 a.m. they ask 90 cents per hour, which is 40 cents per hour more for the morning hours than previously paid. General labor on the wharves is paid at the rate of 30 cents per hour, but for special work such as packing fish and carrying the barrow, 35 cents per hour is paid. Appended is a copy of a communication received from the Secretary of the L.S.P.U. which has been forwarded to the Employers' Association.

 Sec. Employers' Protective Assn.,

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of our dear husband and father, John Street, died Nov. 6th, 1921.
 Gone beyond this vale of sorrow,
 Gone to that bright world so fair,
 Gone from all earthly sorrow.
 The father that we loved so dear.

Only gone a while before us,
 Soon we all shall meet again;
 We must not grieve for our dear father
 For our loss is Heaven's gain.

When a father breathes his last farewell,
 The body is more than tongue can tell;
 Home seems quite another place
 Without the smile of father's face.

FISK RUBBER CO.
 No Floating Debt Nor. 1—Chances Good for Preferred Dividend Resumption.

Boston—For the first time in a good many years Fisk Rubber Co. will be completely free of bank borrowings when the books are closed on its fiscal year the end of this month. Sixty days ago floating debt was a very substantial item, but the process of reduction has been very rapid in recent weeks.

Wiping clear the balance-sheet has been effected in the face of a rapid expansion of output schedules since early June, thus demonstrating how firm a control the company has now-days of its inventory. The natural supposition would be that rising production and a lively crude rubber market would call for additional credit lines.

Advance in Fisk Rubber first preferred last week to a new high price this year of 68, or 30 points above the low of 38 1/2, is a reflection of financial strength, sustained earning power and the strong probability of dividend resumption within 30 days if all goes well. In the first fiscal nine months balance for the 189,615 shares of first preferred was $9.02 a share before taxes. The final quarter bids fair to pull up the average to a balance of around $12 a share after taxes and all charges.

This showing would make a total of nearly $28 a share earned on the first preferred stock in two years and, if the dividend is resumed, an impression upon directors in determining dividend attitude towards a stock that has been without income since August, 1921. If anything is done this year it is likely to be only a 1 1/2% declaration, as no attempt will be made for a while to whittle down the arrears that on Nov. 1 will amount to $24.50 a share.

AMERICAN WOOLEN ADVANCES PRICES.
 Another Increase—Apples to 1925 Spring Season.

N.Y.—Due to increased cost of raw materials American Woolen Co. announced additional advances on next year's wool fabrics for the spring of 1925 season, effective immediately. Advances range from 2 1/2 to 15 cents a yard. Increases in Department 3 range from 2 1/2 to 20 cents a yard. Department 7 the range is 2 1/2 to 10 cents. This list comprises approximately 90% of the woolen fabrics showing for next spring consumption.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

CAPTAIN OF DOROTHY M. SMART SENT TO JAIL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. The Canadian schooner Dorothy M. Smart, which has been detained in the upper Bay since Friday while charges by four seamen that they had been shanghaied were investigated, was seized as a rum runner to-day by coastguard officials. Michael Gillam, Captain of the schooner, was sent to jail in default of $1,000 bail on a charge of illegally transporting liquor within the territorial waters of the U.S. Capt. Gillam surrendered the schooner to the cutter Gresham after it had investigated a distress signal on one of the schooner's masts. Four seamen on board the vessel told the cutter officers they had not eaten nor had any fresh water to drink for eight days. They said they had signed up for a voyage on a schooner carrying bricks, but instead were put aboard the Dorothy M. Smart at sea. When they found the schooner had liquor on board they refused to do any work, they said, and Gillam wouldn't permit them to land.

THE TRAINS.—Thursday's express arrived at Port aux Basques 7.30 p.m. yesterday. The express with the Kyle's mail and passengers reached the city at 1.30 p.m. The local from Carbonear arrived at 12.35 p.m. The express for foreign connections went out at 1 p.m.

Marjie Adams Plays Wonderful Role

IN THE GREAT EMOTIONAL PLAY "EAST LYNNE."

The Young-Adams Company gave one of the most wonderful presentations of "East Lynne" ever offered, and last night's audience at the Casino were indeed enthusiastic in their appreciation. Marjie Adams as Lady Isabel and Madam Vine excelled herself. Her wonderful emotional acting in this bill will not soon be forgotten. In the first part of the performance Miss Adams had ample opportunity of displaying some of her handsome wardrobe. H. Wilnot Young gave a dignified performance as Richard Carey, and he fulfills a preconceived idea of the man, his enunciation and appearance, greatly enhances the role. Sir Francis Layton who is impersonated by Alfred Stretton is a convincing heavy, and he played the part with much emphasis. Marquette Young was all at home in the role of Barbara Hare. Mr. Edward H. Stauffer ably sustained the character John Dill providing some of the humorous situation. Edgar Harris Jason as Lord Severn and Harry W. Young as Richard Hare were particularly good in their respective roles. Little Eleanor O'Keefe of the city appeared as Willie and gave an excellent performance, which reflects great credit to the talents of this local star. Mabelle Leverton as Joyce and Ann McNeil as Cornelia Carlyle did full justice to these roles. The production is a combination that disarms criticism and should be seen by all lovers of stage drama.

The vaudeville in itself was a distinct feature, particularly the comedy act by The Durands who nearly brought down the house. These people become more and more popular at each appearance. The Saturday matinee this week will be "Smantny" for which tickets are now selling at Huttons. You will witness the big sensation and enjoy a wonderful laugh when you take in "Spooks" to-morrow night. On Monday and Tuesday nights of next week "The Road to Ruth" will be presented, a play which is written for men and women only, when those under eighteen years of age will not be admitted. Watch for this beautiful production.

Wedding Bells

MOORE—FROST.
 A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the C. E. Cathedral on Tuesday November 4th, when Miss Dorothy Moore was united in Matrimony to John Frost, of this city. The Bride entered the Church leaning on the arm of her brother Mr. Harold Moore and wore a dress of Crepe de Meteor with black picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Chrysanthemums and asparagus ferns. The bridesmaids were Evelyn Moore, sister of the Bride, and Miss Dorothy Frost, sister of the Groom, and wore dresses of Blue Turquoise with Black hats to match. The Groom was attended by Mr. John Burridge. After the nuptial knot was tied, the party motored to the home of the Bride's parents 16 Waldegrave Street where refreshments were served, after which they left for Topsall to entrain for Heart's Content by Thursday's train where the honeymoon will be spent. The Groom's presents to the Bridesmaids were Earrings and Signet Ring, to the Groom Gold Cuff Links. The Bride was the recipient of many valuable presents, which showed the esteem in which she was held by her friends. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frost wish them every happiness over the sea of Matrimony, and the Telegram joins in extending best wishes.

The funeral of the late, Miss Irene Kennedy took place yesterday afternoon, and was very largely attended. Amongst those present were several priests from the outports and city. Last Night's Lecture on New York

A packed audience again listened to the interesting lecture given by Mr. L. L. Colley, on New York, in Spencer Hall, last night and, if anything, the address improved by repetition. In addition to the lecture, the students of Spencer College added considerably to the pleasure of the audience by dancing exhibitions and pianoforte solos, which were admirably given by the different performers. His Lordship, Bishop White presided, and at the end of the evening a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. R. G. McDonald and seconded by Mr. F. Miller, was carried enthusiastically.

Fortune Tellers at the Exhibition To-Night

To-night there will be many Fortune Tellers at the Exhibition, for Gerald S. Doyle is distributing a new booklet, entitled "The Fortune Teller." It is a very interesting book and tells how to read the cup, read the hand and about telling fortunes by the cards. Every person calling at Mr. Doyle's booth will get a Fortune Teller. This book which is marked to sell for twenty-five cents is being given free to-night with the compliments of the Dr. Chase Medicine Company of Toronto.

Lecture on British Empire

At the Grenfell Hall last night Miss Marquerite Hubbell of Winnipeg unfolded an interesting Empire story to a small but appreciative audience. Those who attended spent a pleasant hour listening to an enthralling story well illustrated by lantern slides. Miss Hubbell was introduced by Hon. J. R. Bennett, Colonial Secretary. At the close a vote of thanks was proposed by the Prime Minister and cordially extended, to which the lecturer made a brief and graceful reply. Miss Hubbell leaves by to-day's express for Canada, where, as elsewhere throughout the Empire, she hopes to continue her mission to promote closer relationship amongst the various sections of the British Empire.

Personal

The many friends of Capt. Kemp will be sorry to learn that he is at present very ill in hospital at Montreal. Capt. Kemp will be remembered by many in the city, having plied between Montreal and this port for about twenty-five years in charge of several of the Black Diamond boats. Mr. James Parker, who has been very ill for some time at his home on Garrison Hill, has shown signs of improvement in the last day or two, and his many friends trust that he is on the road to recovery.

"Britain's Sons Witty and Wise"

The Rev. R. Newton who is coming to the city for the Thanksgiving Services at Cochrane St. Centennial Church, will lecture in the College Hall on Monday evening next, on the above subject. The topic is an admirable one for the effective treatment and the Rev. gentleman has quite a reputation as a lecturer. The life story of the three peoples, English, Scotch and Irish, furnishes incidents of heroism, bold adventure, high statesmanship, tragedy and comedy, that will form a most interesting recital. Mr. Powell will deal with all phases of the subject, and the humorous and pathetic touches will appeal to all. Several songs, illustrative of the three peoples, will be given by Mr. Ruggles.

FIRST AND PARAMOUNT, ABSOLUTE SECURITY TO POLICYHOLDERS

"I have no special need for life assurance," you say.
 Don't you see a need in that wife for whom you promised at the altar to provide? Don't you see a need in those kiddies towards whom you've a duty that doesn't end with your life?
 Doubtless you are planning great things for them—if all goes well. But that's the weak spot. What if things go wrong? Suppose you die before your plans for their welfare are completed! What then?
 The solution is an Imperial Life Policy—payable at your death either in one sum or in guaranteed monthly payments.

Produce and Provisions

(Trade Review).

Codfish—The price of Labrador fish advanced this week to $7.80 per quintal in the local market. Some fish is holding at $9.50, though we have heard of twenty cents more than this being given for superior quality to make up hurried shipments.

Beef—The beef market is slightly easier and boneless this week shows a reduction of 50 cents per barrel in the local market. Family beef is scarce just now and importers who are seeking the quality find it hard to get their orders filled in the quantity they require.

Common Cod Oil—There has been an improvement in the demand, that is more enquiries are being received. Local circles consider that these enquiries must result in business and it is to be hoped they will but so far the advanced prices have greatly restricted the amount of business being done.

Cod Liver Oil—The reports of investigations published by the Bay Bulls scientists in meeting with approval of other American authorities. Enquiries are being received from many sources but the trouble is to get a paying price.

Flour—The wheat markets have been fluctuating up and down twenty cents or more almost every day. This has been caused to a great extent by the demand from Europe where talk of a short crop has created almost a panic.

Pork—The pork market shows further strength this week, but some importers predict that prices will be lower next month.

CUTICURA HEALS PAINFUL PIMPLES

On Face and Shoulders. Itched and Burned.

"My trouble began with a rash of pimples on my face and shoulders. The pimples were hard and red and festered and scalded over. They were very painful and itched and burned so that I could not sleep nights. I was ashamed to go anywhere where my face was so disfigured. The trouble lasted about four and a half years."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Myrtle A. Westover, Bolton Centre, Quebec.

making that give the Ham Butt pork. The prices in the local market are about the same as quoted last week: viz: Fat Back and S.C. Clear $31.75; Bacon Pork and Spare Ribs, $29.00. The S.S. Silva brought in 446 barrels from New York this trip.

Sugar—The Cuban planters and sugar dealers there are holding back for higher prices and hoping to force the hand of American refiners, who are buying merely what they want for the time being, and also using their domestic beet sugar. They have had a great crop at Cuba, and as sugar has slumped in England the U.S. refiners feel that Cuba will have to come down in their demands very soon.

Tea—The tea market continues strong and prices are quite firm in the local market. Any change in the present quotations is likely to be upward. Dealers here are ordering their winter stocks in anticipation of there being more unfavorable conditions in the winter.

Molasses—There is always an increased demand at this season when the fishermen are setting for the winter. There has certainly been some business doing lately. The heavy duty of 8c. on choice and about ten cents per gallon on fancy brings prices high but the extra good quality this year is a great compensation.

Potatoes—There is very little P.E.I. product in the local market yet. There are some shipments of fair volume on the way from Charlottetown by steamers and they have been bought, we understand, at very low prices and will sell in the local market as cheap as a rate as the home grown product, viz: $3 per barrel. The crop was very good at the Island this season and quotations are the lowest for five years.

Apples—There are no Gravesend apples in wholesale quantity now in the local market. The first of the Kings have come in this week. This is a superior apple and is good to keep a hold on the market till Christmas. There is such a demand for this brand in the United Kingdom that it is not easy to get wholesale orders; filled for dealers here in the first weeks of the King season, so that the quantity that comes is limited.

Lobsters—The opinion is growing general amongst all who are interested in this fishery that a close season is essential if the industry is to be saved from extinction. It is now recognized by packers that fish taken the past three years was a great mistake and helped more than anything else to ruin the source of supply the following summers.

Hay—The hay market is strong this week on anticipation of higher freight rates. The local quotation is $32 per ton for No. 2 Timothy. Canadian hay is hard to get this week owing to lack of freight space on steamers plying to this port.

Oats—The oat market, too, is strong this week and there is not the least indication of the easier prices that were anticipated as soon as P. E. I. oats came on the market. The last S.S. Canadian Sapper brought some shipments from Charlottetown but the prices turned out to be 30 cents per bushel in excess of oats that have been coming in all the fall from Western Canada, which prices seemed higher until P.E.I. dealers made their price and announced it to their customers.

A Feature at the Exhibition

"What a lovely odor" many ladies were heard to remark at the exhibition last night. All over the rink the pleasing scent was present. It was the Three Flowers odor emanating from Gerald S. Doyle's booth where each lady who passed received a spray of this delightful perfume on her coat or handkerchief. This afternoon and tonight this feature will be continued.

Jackie Coogan Coming in His Biggest Film

"LONG LIVE THE KING," AT NICKEL MONDAY.

The long heralded Metro production, "Long Live the King," starring Jackie Coogan, will come to the Nickel Theatre next Monday. Particular interest is attached to this latest film of the young star as it is his first production under the $1,000,000 contract which was given him recently in addition to a half million dollar bonus by Metro Pictures Corporation.

As is known to millions of readers, "Long Live the King" was adapted for Jackie from Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel of the same name. The plot is set in themythical Balkan kingdom of Lavonia and hinges around the escapades of the little Crown Prince (played by Jackie), who is baset by a band of terrorists who threaten to seize the government. The book is fascinatingly told, filled with romance and excitement aplenty. The producers of the film version of "Long Live the King" have retained the essentials of a good romance and Jackie is said to have the greatest role of his career as the adventurous Prince.

Mrs. Kathleen Fraser Cliff will recite to-night at 9:15 the immortal poem "In Flanders Fields" in memory of our brave boys who died "over there."

Fire on Bell Street

DOWNEY RESIDENCE GUTTED.

The third fire to occur at No. 19 Bell Street within the past four months, broke out at 7:50 p.m. yesterday and almost gutted the premises as happened on the first occasion. The house which is owned by Mr. J. Downey has a frontage also on Henry Street, occupying the site at the corner of Bell Street and Henry Street is a building formerly owned by Mr. Codner, but purchased by Mr. B. Power sometime after the blaze in the early summer, when it was partly destroyed. Mr. Power has about completed repairs and Mr. Downey rebuilding was not finished when the blaze broke out last night.

SEALING STRIKES.

I have given many records, notably about that of Capt. Supple, on the Brigus Barrons in 1860. It is said that he led three hundred men, and intimidated the whole country. They were insisting on the abolitionment of the berth money. There was one man in this strike who defied Dick Supple and his followers, and that was Captain Bill Whelan of Brigus. He was a noted and successful old seal-killer, and his crew stuck to him. When they were ready to leave he called out to let go the rope from the gump-head. Supple refused to permit a man to touch it, and ordered the men to board the "Hound," which was the name of Whelan's vessel. Captain Whelan was ready for them, and with his gun to his shoulder, he dared the first man to come aboard. They knew the determination of this old skipper, and their lives were worth a snap when he made up his mind. Whelan then ordered his crew to cut the rope, and the "Hound" sailed for the sealfishery. Whelan's famous vessel was built by Curtis—a man of herculean strength. The "Hound" was the only vessel with a full load of seals that year. The other Brigus captains held their vessels up until it was too late, and the strike broke up in confusion.

There was another noted strike that the Hon. A. B. Morin can tell about, but I must get back to the strike of 1832, which in all probability was the first sealers' strike that ever took place.

The following is a copy of the sealing agreement, which appears to be the one then in force, and as the men could not get ready cash for their share of the seals, they demanded that they "have the right" to sell their respective shares to any person they liked.

The letter following this agreement, signed by Gosse, Paek & Fryer of Carbonar, shows that this firm was perfectly willing to allow the men this concession, but the manner in which the men treated the schooner "Perseverance," owned by the great firm of Ridley & Sons, of Harbor Grace, it looks very much as if this firm refused to make any concessions.

SEALERS' AGREEMENT.

I, _____ agree to go to the Ice next spring in the Schr. _____ belonging to Messrs. _____ Master, or whomsoever else may be Master; to come into service on the _____ day of March, and to continue in the duty of it until the _____ May following. I am to pay for my berth the sum of _____ and find One Gun.

I promise to assist to moor the Vessel in safety and to clean her out as well as to dry and unbend her sails at the conclusion of the voyage. In consideration of good services, I am to have my respective share of one half the Seals brought in, which I am to deliver to the said _____ allowing me the Current Price going at _____ on the day of delivery, for whole trips of seals, and according to their quality; the payment to be made by Goods at the Current Price of _____ whenever I may want them, and the remainder Cash in October following. But, however, this agreement is upon this express condition, that if sickness or any accident should befall me, before or after coming into service, so that I am not able or in a fit state to proceed on the Voyage, the Owner or his Agent, is at liberty to ship another man in my place; and I hereby engage (notwithstanding any custom to the contrary) in consideration of my being allowed by the Crew of the Vessel, Two Shillings per day, for the time I shall have labored to fit her out to give up all claim or pretended claim to any portion of the then future Sealing Voyage or Voyages, which the said Vessel may make in which I have been shipped.

(Signed).
Witness _____ Owner of the said Vessel, hereby agree to the conditions of the above agreement.

Carbonar, Feb. 1, 1832.
This agreement can be used by those in our employ, for vessels wholly belonging to the concern—I am satisfied to agree to that part about the delivery of the Seals to all (having signed the agreement) who may ask for it, and to let each man sell his seals where he pleases, but of course he must pay for what outfit he may have had, either in Money or in Seals, at the end of the Voyage.

(Sgd.) for GOSSE, PAEK & FRYER, Robert Paek.
It must be remembered that ready cash was very scarce in those days. There were no Banks like we have today, or Bank Notes, and everything was conducted in trade.

Here is another agreement for the sale of a cargo of seals after its arrival in St. John's, which will explain how business was conducted, even later than the Sealers' Strike.

St. John's, April 18, 1845.
Bought of Captain Asariah Munden of Brigus, Conception Bay, the cargo of seals now on board the brig "Highlander," consisting of about six thousand seals at Twenty-one Shillings per cwt. For young harp seals, and Seventeen Shillings per cwt. for old seals, payable one half cash on delivery—the other half next Fall. Tare 2½ lbs. on young seals, and tare on old seals as may appear.

(Sgd.) LAWRENCE O'BRIEN.
The Captain (Munden) who was the owner of the vessel, received sufficient cash to pay off his crew, but for his own share of the profit, he had to wait until the end of the year.

A Very Reasonable Suggestion

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks on the Milk question. Quite recently a law was made forbidding milk vendors to put milk in bottles on the streets, which I think is right and proper, as otherwise it is impossible to keep dust out of the milk. But I think those in authority ought to go a step further and forbid householders to return bottles in a dirty and unsanitary state. Most people take one bottle of milk, a ½ Pint or Quart. If the bottle was emptied when received and rinsed with clean cold water, it would help the farmer's wife not a little, as she has to wash from one hundred to one hundred and fifty bottles every day (Sunday included) with her other numerous duties, and if the city housewife would return just her one bottle clean, it would only have to be rinsed instead of the vigorous treatment so often necessary. The farmer and his wife would be able to get to their church a little oftener, and perhaps take in a movie once in ten or fifteen years. Thanking you in anticipation, I remain,
A FARMER'S WIFE.

Wedding Bells

MOORES—FENTON.
Livingstone Methodist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday, October 2, at 2 o'clock, when Dorothy Maude Fenton, eldest daughter of Mrs. Margaret Fenton, was united in marriage to Rev. Wesley John Moore, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Moore, of Red Bay, Newfoundland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Simon Edwards, assisted by Rev. Peter Webster. The bride entered the church on the arm of her eldest brother, Harry W. Fenton, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Alberta Fenton, who was gowned in black velvet with hat to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of roses. The bride looked lovely in a gown of pearl trimmings, and wore a bridal veil with coronet of pearls and lily-of-the-valley. She carried a shower bouquet of Columbia roses, lily-of-the-valley and maiden hair fern. Her sister, Miss Almada, was bridesmaid, and looked charming in a powder blue frock, bandeau of silver leaves and rosebuds, and corsage of Ophelia roses. Little Thelma Fenton, niece of the bride, made a dainty flower girl,

St. Joseph's Vegetable Sale

The ladies of St. Joseph's Parish held their annual sale of vegetables in the Parish Hall last night and it proved a great success. The sale was brisk throughout and nothing was left undisposed of. During the evening the ladies served tea. The tables were largely patronized and all concerned seemed quite pleased with the results obtained. Last night the affair was concluded with a dance, the music for which was supplied by the C.C.C. Orchestra.

After the ceremony, the guests, numbering 100, retired to the banquet hall of the church, where the reception was held. The bride's mother looked well in a becoming gown of black crepe with corsage of Ophelia roses. The groom's gift to his bride was a rope of pearls, brought from Rome.
Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Moores left on the evening train for points East, the bride, travelling in a navy blue suit with gray hat and gray squirrel choker. They will be at home to their friends at the Methodist Parsonage, Belgrave, Ontario, after Oct. 10.
Many out-of-town guests were present, and the young couple were the recipients of numerous beautiful gifts, testifying to their popularity.

Banish the Bell

Rows of houses, all alike, are rather monotonous. But why not cheer them up with brand new door-knockers?

Many old towns of England are justly proud of their artistic knockers. In Watchbell Street, Rye, for instance, neighbours vie with one another in the beauty and artistry of their knockers. No two are alike.

York boasts some wonderful old knockers, as do Chichester, Arundel, Gloucester, and Norwich. The Continent teems with them, many fine examples being on view at the Glass Museum, Paris, while some splendid specimens of seventeenth-century knockers can be seen in the Birmingham Museum.

Let us bring these knockers back. They speak of the time when a hale and hearty bang on your door really meant something far more than the gentle ring that the electric bell gives us. There is little romance about an electric bell; but the door-knocker recalls old-time hospitality, old-world charm, and the splendid adventurousness of the old-world journey.

Fads and Fashions.

Muffs are here again. Black and brown are best for ensembles. Pale rose is a general favorite for evening. An interesting novelty is fabric marked like fur. The new high collars are apt to button in the back.

Harbor Grace Notes

The members of the Aero Tennis Club held a public card party and dance at the British Hall on Thursday, when all attending spent a very pleasant evening. Auction forty-fives was played. The ladies' prize, a vanity case, was won by Miss May Chafe, and the gentleman's prize, a shaving set, was won by Mr. K. Thomey. Dancing was indulged in at the close of the game, and kept up till midnight, when the gathering dispersed.

The pupils of Victoria Street School held a Hallow'en party in their school on Friday afternoon, which was well patronized.

To-day, the 4th inst., is the eighteenth anniversary of the elevation of His Lordship Bishop March to the Episcopate, he having been consecrated on November 4th, 1906, by His Grace, the late Archbishop Howley. Our citizens of all classes and creeds will unite in extending congratulations to His Lordship, and in wishing that he may long be spared to exercise his sacred office in this Diocese.

Mr. M. F. Hayse went to St. John's to-day on a short visit.

Miss Gladys M. Russell, of Bay Roberts, spent the week-end here with friends, and returned by Tuesday morning's train.

The death of Mrs. Rachel Benson, widow of the late Mr. Isaac Benson, occurred at St. John's on Tuesday, where she had gone for treatment. She had been in failing health for a long time, but the end to her sufferings has come, at the age of 76 years. She is survived by a son, William, in Vancouver, B.C., and a daughter, Mrs. Hutchings, of St. John's. Another daughter, Winnie, predeceased her a few years ago, and her son, Arthur, went down on the ill-fated Southern Cross. The body was brought here by Thursday afternoon's train, and service was held in St. Paul's Church; interment being made in the C. of E. Cemetery, Rev. W. R. J. Higginott officiating. We tender our sympathy to the bereaved.

Miss Gertie Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons, leaves by Thursday morning's train for St. John's to connect with the S.S. "Roselind" en route to Toronto, where she will remain for some time. Her sister, Miss Susie, is residing there, and holds a good position with some business house, in that city. While we regret to see so many of our young people going away, Gertie's many friends here will wish her much happiness and good fortune in her new home.

Miss Stella LeDrew and Mr. Jack LeDrew went to the city by Tuesday morning's train, on a short visit to friends there.

WHY IS A HOTEL CLERK?

Why is a hotel clerk?

He is a sort of human mechanism stuck behind the hotel desk simply to attend to mechanical details, to say with a pensive face: "Register, please."

What time would you be called? To hand the guests and receive their room keys.

He is a sort of host, representing the hotel in his relation to the guest, trying in every way to make them feel welcome, to handle their business fairly but tactfully, to give them comfort and to fill their minds with a sense of satisfaction and ease to come again?

He is, of course, a hotel clerk, and he is far more often the latter than the former.

He has an Expression. I realize the average hotel clerk is not a mere mechanism with an expressionless face. His face is a mirror of his soul.

Let Me Know What He Says. Why is a hotel clerk?

To make the guest feel comfortable or uncomfortable?

You might ask the next clerk who meet who doesn't seem to have found out.

I can just see the haughty incredulity with which he would receive the inquiry and label you a nut.

But it might give him something to think about at that.

and, be it added, the fury is predicted against him.
You can scarcely imagine a hotel manager inserting an advertisement in the newspaper that only people who could prove that they had plenty of money and were careless spenders would be welcome at his hotel.

Why Insert A Living Ad?
Why then should so many of them insert a living advertisement to that effect behind the desk in the hotel office?

I know a woman who always used to patronize a certain hotel when she went to the city near her home. She goes to another one now. I asked her if she found it a better hotel. "No," she said, "not so far as the cuisine and the general accommodations. About the same as the J. or even a little inferior. The only reason I changed was that I disliked the personality of the new clerk at the J. It may seem like a small thing, but he really is very disagreeable."

You are thinking she is a crank.
Well, she isn't. On the contrary she is very reasonable and unexciting.
She has kept her own servants for years, which certainly is a certificate

Why is a hotel clerk?

To make the guest feel comfortable or uncomfortable?

You might ask the next clerk who meet who doesn't seem to have found out.

I can just see the haughty incredulity with which he would receive the inquiry and label you a nut.
But it might give him something to think about at that.

You perceive that I suggest this as an experiment for you, not me. I know my limitations and I know how utterly I lack the courage, but I as-

Back From the Dead

REMARKABLE RESTORATION OF A CHILD BELIEVED DROWNED.

Inhabitants of the Leicestershire town of Hickley are discussing the remarkable restoration of a child believed to be dead. Mrs. Mann, of Mansion street, temporarily left the room in which she was doing the family washing, in order that one of her arms, which was injured, might be attended to. On her return she was horrified to find that her little boy, Harry, had fallen into a bit of water. Mrs. Mann's screams quickly brought neighbours on the scene, and the little boy was got out black in the face. The neighbours who gathered around could detect no movement, and the child was regarded as dead.
One of the women, however, was so overcome with emotion that she ran into the street and became hysterical.
The attention of Mr. Will Sanders, who is employed by the Leicestershire and Warwickshire Electric Power Co., was attracted, and he proceeded to the house where the boy lay. Sanders had considerable experience on the battlefields in restorative measures, and notwithstanding the belief of everybody present that the child was beyond human aid, he hopefully set to work to apply artificial respiration.
This he kept up without a break for an hour and 20 minutes, and his efforts were rewarded by signs of returning animation. He continued until the child came round completely, to the surprise of the parents and neighbours.

Foresters Find Hidden Glacier

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 23 (A.P.)—A new glacier has been discovered in the Olympic mountains by forest rangers. It was found on Muncaster mountain. Four foresters climbed the mountain, 7,000 feet high, and learned that the peak was split into two parts with a large glacier between them.
The ice field is a mile wide.

The Olympic peninsula, between Puget Sound and the Pacific Ocean, is one of the wildest regions in the country. Parts of it have not yet been penetrated.

Mothers!

Give the children WRIGLEY'S
after every meal

A prominent physician says:
"It is surprising how free from decay the teeth can be kept by using gum after each meal."

You know how hard it is to get the children to clean their teeth. By giving them WRIGLEY'S you not only reward them for cleaning their teeth, but the reward is actually the means of performing this important service!

WRIGLEY'S aids digestion too, and acts as an antiseptic wash for the mouth and throat. Several flavors—all of

Zaghloul's Claims

IMPOSSIBLE DEMANDS ON BE-HALF OF EGYPT.

Light has been promptly shed by Prime Minister MacDonald upon his conversations with Zaghlul Pasha, which came to an end recently. The nature of the demands put forward on behalf of Egypt are stated in a dispatch to Lord Allenby, the High Commissioner for Egypt and the Sudan.
The points on which Zaghlul insisted were:—

- (a) The withdrawal of all British forces from Egyptian territory.
- (b) The withdrawal of the financial and judicial advisers.
- (c) The disappearance of all British control over the Egyptian Government, notably in connection with foreign relations which Zaghlul Pasha claimed were hampered by the notification of his Majesty's Government to foreign Powers on March 15, 1922, that they would regard as an unfriendly act any attempt at interference in the affairs of Egypt by another Power.
- (d) The abandonment by his Majesty's Government of their claim to protect foreigners and minorities in Egypt.
- (e) The abandonment of his Majesty's Government of their claim to share in any way in protecting the Suez Canal.

Mr. MacDonald found it impossible to agree to any of these demands, although he does not rule out the possibility of an agreement, given good will on both sides. Zaghlul is told bluntly that his claim for Egypt's complete rights of ownership over the Sudan, and his characterization of the British as usurpers, have by their effect on the minds of Egyptians employed in the Sudan, and the Sudanese personnel of the Egyptian Army, produced an entire change in Anglo-Egyptian co-operation in the Sudan.
He warned that the propaganda that is being carried on in the Sudan cannot be allowed to continue.

"I promised," writes Mr. MacDonald, "in the course of our first conversation to be perfectly frank with his Excellency. Then and subsequently, I left him under no illusion as to the position which H.M. Government are compelled to take up in regard to Egypt and the Sudan."

In short, Zaghlul's attitude rendered even the basis of an agreement impossible. On the question of the Canal, which Mr. MacDonald says that he raised straight away, the British Prime Minister laid down the fundamental maxim that "It is no less true to-day than in 1922 that the security of the communications of the British Empire in Egypt remains a vital British interest, and that absolute certainty that the Suez Canal will remain open in peace as well as in war for the free passage of British ships is the foundation on which the entire defensive strategy of the British Empire rests." The lesson of 1914 has been learnt, and no British Government, explains the Prime Minister, can divest itself wholly even in favour of an Ally of its interest in guarding such a vital link in British communications. At the same time, Mr.

MacDonald considers that Great Britain and Egypt could have solved the question by effective co-operation in a Treaty of close alliance. The retention of British troops in the Canal zone is in no way incompatible with Egyptian independence under such a Treaty, he argues.—News of the

IMITATION OPTIMISTS.

Cheap optimists are smiling when things are all serene; we see them smiling with high and cheerful mien, the passing crowds be-greeting with maxims smooth and keen. They feel like four-time winners in raw, expensive suits, they've had abundant dinners, they're smoking good cheroots; they say to sighing sinners: "Let sorrow shoot the chutes. This life is fine and fifty, all wool and three feet wide; for every trouble, fifty great blessings are supplied; woe is infirm and shifty, just smile and it will slide." Along the street called Easy the sunshine fak-ers dwell; and proverbs bright and breezy they give away or sell; but when the luck grows cheery they wring their hands and yell. It's easy to be sunny when one is amply fed, and has his jam and honey to spread upon his bread, and forty kinds of money to paint the village red. But now and then a fellow turns up who makes a hit; his luck is always yellow, misfortunes never quit; and still, serene and mellow, he smiles and does his bit. Undaunted and untrifling he goes his humble ways, with tranquil soul, requiring but little all his days, thus by his course inspiring the feebler hearted jays. Of words our store is ample, they flood us day and night; on maxims we may trample by turning left or right; it is the good example that leads men to the height.

LABOR TO FEED BRITISH ROYALISTS.

LONDON.—(A.P.)—The royal kitchens at Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace, which were overhauled during the absence of the King and Queen in the Scottish Highlands and are now spick and span, are very interesting institutions.
It is said there is no royal house in the world where the kitchens are so well arranged as in the griny gray castle at Windsor, the home of Elizabeth sovereigns since the days of William the Conqueror. Built originally centuries ago, they have been modified from time to time to meet the needs of changed conditions, but wherever possible the old has been preserved and not infrequently English beef is served to King George which has been roasted on a spit that did duty in the days of the Plantagenet Kings.
Until the time of King Edward the royal menus were published for the benefit of the public, but King Ed-

Use Carnation in place of cream in coffee, or on cereals and fruit, etc. • Use it diluted in tea, (one part Carnation, three parts water.) For milk of natural consistency for general cooking add a little more than an equal part of water. Order several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans from your grocer. Send for copy of our book of 100 tested recipes.

CHOCOLATE LAYER CAKE: ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¾ cup Carnation Milk, ¼ cup butter or substitute, 4 eggs, ½ cup water, 1½ cups sugar, 5 tablespoons boiling water, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 2 oz. unweetened chocolate.
Dissolve chocolate in the boiling water. Cool. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, creaming constantly. Add the chocolate. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add them to the creamed sugar and butter; then add the liquid and the sifted dry ingredients, alternately. Add vanilla. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and cut carefully and lightly into the mixture. Turn into 2 greased layer cake pans and bake in a moderate oven 30 to 35 minutes.
