

A resolution test chart featuring various patterns of vertical and horizontal lines. The patterns are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some patterns being larger and more prominent than others. Numerical values are placed next to the patterns, indicating the resolution level. The values include 1.0, 1.1, 1.25, 1.4, 1.6, 1.8, 2.0, 2.2, 2.5, 2.8, 3.0, 3.2, 3.6, 4.0, and 4.5. The patterns consist of groups of lines, some of which are thicker and more widely spaced than others, creating a variety of visual textures.

The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, end ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol $\longrightarrow$ (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right end top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole $\longrightarrow$ signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

PROSPECTUS
Of a New Weekly Paper
PUBLISHED AT QUEBEC, AND ENTITLED THE MERCANTILE JOURNAL.

TO THE PUBLIC.

BUT little more than two months have elapsed since the MERCANTILE JOURNAL was proposed as a candidate for public patronage. The liberal and extensive encouragement which it has experienced during that short interval, affords the most satisfactory proof of the accuracy of those principles upon which it was offered to the public, and of that solicitude, which, to the credit of this country, is so generally evinced for the welfare of honest industry. Encouraged by the generous patronage which has already been given, the proprietor is induced to issue this prospectus with the view of soliciting subscriptions in those parts of this and the sister province to which this publication might prove of utility or interest, either as a commercial or political Journal. In submitting these proposals to the public, the Editor conceives it proper again to state, that he has no desire whatever to interfere with any similar establishment, either existing or which may be proposed. Actuated by no other motive than that of rendering himself useful in his own department, his only view is to furnish the public with a work, which, from the judicious and impartial manner in which it shall ever be his aim to conduct it, may prove worthy of their countenance. He shall spare neither pains nor expense to provide for them a fund of information on every important and interesting subject,—acceptable to his readers and of advantage to the community at large.

On these grounds alone the Publisher is induced to issue this Prospectus,—Neither allied to party nor influenced by prejudice, he will make it his study to give as correct an account of every occurrence, as his knowledge and opportunities may enable him to produce. In discharging the duties of his office, the Editor is determined that truth, impartiality and candor, shall ever be the leading principles of his conduct, and he hopes that his steady adherence to these principles, will acquire him the kind approbation of his patrons and fellow citizens.—Such are the objects of, and outline of the manner in which it is intended to conduct the MERCANTILE JOURNAL. As it shall advance and the publisher's means increase, his exertions shall not be wanting to add to its usefulness, and render it more deserving of the support and encouragement of the public.

In selecting the matter for this publication, it shall be the Editor's constant endeavour to form such arrangements as may render it extensively and permanently useful. It will embrace whatever is important or interesting in the political occurrences of Europe and America. The proceedings of the Provincial Legislature and our Domestic Intelligence, &c, occasionally, Reports and Papers on the Trade, Commerce and Agriculture of this country and their relation with other colonies ;—a correct statement of the Prices Current of articles of import and export at this market as it may be practicable to obtain ;—extracts from the Prices Current of other places ;—a correct list of the arrival and departure of vessels at Quebec, with a general statement of their cargoes, and the names of the different consignees, or shippers concerned in the same, with every information on that or other heads, which may prove of utility to, or interest the Mercantile Body in this country, and which may render it a complete and general repository for Commercial and Political Intelligence.—The publisher trusts, that his exertions, combined with the assistance which will be afforded, will enable him to realise the principal object of his design, which is to render his paper of public utility and deserving of general encouragement.

CONDITIONS.

The MERCANTILE JOURNAL is published on the WEDNESDAY of each week. At present in the English language only. It is printed on good paper, with new and elegant type. The size, for the present, is Demy, which will be increased to a sheet of Royal, as soon as a number of advertisements sufficient to supply the difference of labour, have been received. The subscription is Four Dollars per annum, exclusive of postage, payable half-yearly, in advance. The first half-yearly subscription to be paid on subscribing:

The Editor now respectfully submits the merits of his proposals to the impartial judgment of a discerning public, and looks with confidence to their decision, in which, he is convinced, they will acknowledge the utility of his undertaking, and afford it their generous approbation and encouragement.

GEORGE J. WRIGHT.

OCTOBER, 1816.
