WOMEN BLAMED FOR CHECK DISAPPEARANCE WARRANTS ARE ISSUED

Coroner's Jury Return Verdict of Criminal Negligence Against Engineer Bryce, Conductor Marks and Brakeman Liddle, Who Can't Be Found.

IF ORDERS WERE OBEYED WRECK WAS IMPOSSIBLE

At the inquest at the city hall last night into the death of Helen Laroque, killed in the collision on the Grand Trunk near the Dufferin-street, on Saturday afternoon, Crown Attorney Drayton announced that three members of the train crew had apparently left the country. Bryce, engineer of the light engine which ran into the rear of the freight train, and Gideon Marks and Andrew Liddle, conductor and brakeman of the Liddle, conductor and brakeman of the freight train to which the G.L.W. line-freight train to which the G.L.W. line-freight train was attached, Coroner Laroque, coroner of the city, issued warrants for the arrest of the three men. The coroner's jury was of the opinion that the negligence of the three men was the cause of the accident. The coroner said that it was dangerous for engines and trains to be running rear end first at any time.

G. W. Ross, who was right beside the train at the time of the accident, was the first witness. The light engine was approaching at what the judge said was 40 miles an hour. He ran down the track trying to warn the engineer, but had seen no one on the engine.

"I thought at first that the freight was stalled and the engine to its assistance," said the witness. "If it had not been for that I could not have run far enough down the track to waken the engineer."

Working of Protective System. W. H. Farrell, superintendent of terminals, whose jurisdiction extends to the west semaphores at Mimico, explained that there was a block between South Parkdale and Mimico, that in no way could pass the Parkdale station until the preceding train had left Mimico. East of the east semaphores South Parkdale and Mimico were supposed to protect themselves.

The orders addressed to the conductor and engineer of the train were to proceed to Mimico as an extra. A time card on each locomotive would enable the train crew to keep out of the way of the regular train. The train left Parkdale-street at 3:54 p.m., following a regular leaving the station at 3:45. It drew into the siding at Strachan-avenue at 4:05 p.m. to pass. Then it backed off the siding and proceeded to Parkdale, where it was stopped until the other train passed Mimico.

In this position the train had to protect itself, and according to the rules of the railway, the brakeman should have gone back 15 telegraph poles, or 800 yards, with a flag. It was the conductor's duty to see that the brakeman did this. As the train moved on one mile and a quarter along the track toward the east.

The Engineer's Orders. The orders received by Engineer Bryce of the light engine were to proceed to Mimico as an extra. He had pulled out from the siding at 4:19. The point at which the accident happened was a little over a mile and a quarter from Parkdale-street, and the accident happened between 4:20 and 4:21. At that time he would probably have stopped, said Mr. Farrell, at Strachan-avenue.

Reading the rules Mr. Farrell showed that it was the duty of the crew to look out to see that the brakeman had set switches were set for them and to keep a sharp lookout ahead. The rule also was that a train going rear end first should not overtake another train.

"He must have been going 25 or 26 miles an hour," said Mr. Farrell. Mr. Farrell said that the brakeman, Marks, Liddle and Bryce Sunday morning. Bryce had said that he had been unable to see ahead because of the dust. Liddle said that he had gone 130 yards back of the train with a flag.

"Proper Precautions." "What do you say as to the local coal dust?" asked Mr. Drayton. "There may have been some coal dust blowing, but if he had taken the proper precautions the accident would not have happened," said Mr. Farrell. "What do you mean by the proper precautions?"

"If he couldn't see he should have slowed down so he could," said Mr. Farrell. "Bryce seemed to think that he was not responsible," continued Mr. Farrell. "I told him he was. That was on Sunday morning. I told him to come back to the office that afternoon, but I have not seen or heard of him since. I have sent for his house three times, but he could not be found. The other men, Liddle and Marks were also missing, added Mr. Farrell. Here Mr. Drayton announced that the police had been unable to find the men and instructions were given for the warrants to be issued.

"The accident was due," said Mr. Farrell in conclusion, "to carelessness on the part of Bryce in not looking out to see that the brakeman had set the flag far enough back with the flag, but even if Liddle had gone back further I do not think Bryce would have seen him."

Fireman Blames Coal Dust. Robert Holmes, the fireman under Bryce, could give very little information where he had been. He had been on the side of the cab because of the coal dust. He could not see out of the back of the engine because of the dust. He had been unable to look out of the back of the engine because of the dust. He had been unable to look out of the back of the engine because of the dust. He had been unable to look out of the back of the engine because of the dust.

PROPOSED BILL FOR THE SOCIETIES

Fraternal Clauses Are Withdrawn From Proposed Insurance Act.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—It was stated by Mr. Fielding in the house to-day that owing to representations made by the Independent Order of Foresters, the government had decided to withdraw clauses in the insurance bill relating to assessment of fraternal societies, and to deal with this class of insurance in a second bill, if found necessary. Mr. Fielding said the Foresters would doubt the intention of the government to take steps to put the organization on a more permanent basis, and he believed other fraternal societies would be in sympathy with the government along similar lines.

SENATE TALKS OF HOW BEST TO REFORM ITSELF

Hon. G. W. Ross Contributes to the Debate—Plans for Reformation Set Forth.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—Senate reform was discussed in the red chamber to-day, when a valuable contribution to the debate was made by Hon. G. W. Ross. Senator McMillen moved that in view of the agitation regarding the service rendered by the senate as a part of the legislative system, and in view of criticism in parliament and press respecting appointments, it is desirable that a question of methods of appointments and term for which appointments are made should be considered and the system recast. He said that he believed that the intention of the founders of the senate was that the best men of the country, regardless of political affiliation, should be appointed to the senate.

Unfortunately that intention had not been carried out, and appointments to the senate had been made only from the followers of the party in power. Senator McMillen would have the method of choosing senators changed, and would do so by having a committee of members of the senate and the commons from any one province where there was a vacancy meet and vote for a man to fill the vacancy.

Senator Ross seconded the motion, and said that coming recently from the outside he was sure that there was a large body of public opinion in favor of abolishing the senate. He thought this was largely due to misapprehension of the nature of the senate, and the constitutional limits placed upon it. Another charge against the senate was that it was partisan. If that were the case the senate had better be abolished, for there was no more room in parliament than existed already for more partisanship than existed already.

It was claimed that the senate should not have the power of veto, and this should be one of the changes. The power of veto was a great one, but without it the senate would have no purpose, and would be a mere hindrance to the parliamentary system of Canada centered in one chamber.

Senator Ross then came to the question of reform. As to administrative reforms, he said the first point he would make was that the government was not represented in the senate. On that account it was starved for legislation of a character which interested public opinion. The senate contained only two of the fourteen members of the government. In Great Britain about one-third of the cabinet sat in the house of commons. There should be a system of under secretaries to represent in either house great departments which were not represented in the other.

It might be an improvement if a composite system were adopted, by which half of the members of the senate would be elected and the other half nominated as at present. There were men in the country whom it was desirable to have represented in the senate, who would not fight their way to it through elections. Senator Ross would have each province divided into half as many senatorial electoral districts as it was entitled to have senators. For instance, Ontario with twenty-four senators would be divided into twelve constituencies, and each would be represented by two senators, one to be elected and the other to be nominated as at present. The large constituencies would ensure the return of large men. He would have present senators elected and their places until death, and then have them replaced by nomination and election in the manner described. He would have them designated at the present time as the representatives of the districts he proposed. To bring fresh blood into the senate he would have the elected members sit only two parliaments without returning to their constituencies. To place the nominated senators above the influence of government or of any minister he would give them life tenure. The plan, he thought, would give better results than the present, so the senate to-day was a far more effective and useful body than men knew.

A REASONABLE PROFIT IN A TWO-CENT RATE WILL BE INVESTIGATED

New York State Public Service Commission Makes Its First Report and Dwells on Railway Problems.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The public service commission for the third district submitted a summary of its first annual report to the legislature to-night. This commission has jurisdiction in all counties of the state outside of New York City, over all railroads, steam, and electric, sleeping car, express and freight companies and gas and electric light companies. In regard to the work of the commission the summary says: "The belief of the commission in taking office that it could in no way give that reasonable service which the public is entitled to expect and demand. Investigation of steam railroad service has been pushed actively by the commission. The investigation does not disclose very great public interest in what is known as 'reciprocal demurrage.'"

The commission is impressed with the view that interests so important and far-reaching in their nature as the proper maintenance of railroads in this state, the adequate and efficient service which should be rendered by them, and the just and reasonable returns to which they are entitled, should not be subjected to arbitrary action or procedure upon guesswork by any body of five men, but that whatever action may be taken by the commission should be based upon appropriate examination of facts and thorough consideration of underlying principles and that these facts and principles should be presented plainly to the consideration of the public and interested parties.

"Powers conferred upon the commission in the way of supervision are capable of valuable and far-reaching results, and if properly exercised, will enhance the value of railroad service to the public and insure to the benefit of the railroads themselves through rendering their business investments capable of affording fair and satisfactory returns. On the other hand, it is possible not only to do the railroads great hurt, but in doing so impose upon the public incalculable damage."

Attention is called to the large number of complaints that the commission has received. So far 400 have been made against public service corporations. "The corporations have shown commendable co-operation in remedying grievances and satisfying proper demands for improved conditions," the report adds.

In the official summary of its report, the commission says: "Power of the commission is impressed with the view that interests so important and far-reaching in their nature as the proper maintenance of railroads in this state, the adequate and efficient service which should be rendered by them, and the just and reasonable returns to which they are entitled, should not be subjected to arbitrary action or procedure upon guesswork by any body of five men, but that whatever action may be taken by the commission should be based upon appropriate examination of facts and thorough consideration of underlying principles and that these facts and principles should be presented plainly to the consideration of the public and interested parties."

Three Men Wanted for Murder at Portage, Pa. MESSINA, Sicily, Jan. 23.—The holding-up of Portage, Pa., several years ago of Patrick Campbell, paymaster, of a band of Italians, when a driver, Charles Hay, was killed and Campbell was wounded, found an echo here to-night in the arrest of three men, who are declared to have been accomplices in the crime. The men's names are Giuseppe Caralli, Rosario Desazio and Giuseppe Felorino. Search for these men had been going on for many months.

Last night all three gathered together in a house near here. The police then came down on them, and the house was surrounded by carabinieri. After all precautions had been taken, six policemen forced their way into the room where the men were. There was a desperate fight, but the men were outnumbered and were quickly forced to surrender.

$1,000,000 IN GIFTS. Pinkerton Detectives to Guard Vanderbilt Wedding Presents. NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Pinkerton detectives have been engaged to guard the Vanderbilt mansion for the wedding of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt and Count Szchenski, which will take place next Monday. One man in plain clothes was assigned to cover the interior of the house. Two men in uniform will, until the wedding takes place, with relief, patrol the street outside.

The wedding presents will be exhibited to-day, but it is not believed that the value of these gifts will approximate at least $1,000,000. It is considered necessary to employ the Pinkertons.

TWO ARRESTED AS MURDERERS

Local Detectives Corral Pair of Italians Wanted by Philadelphia Police.

Two Italians, wanted in Philadelphia for "Black Hand" murder, were arrested by the city police yesterday. The first was taken on a Yonge-street car at 4 o'clock by Detectives Tipton and Twigg, and later, in company with Detectives Twigg, Newton and Sockett, Tipton picked out the second man from among forty of his fellow-countrymen at 187 York-street.

The World's Philadelphia correspondent writes that the two men, Alfred Volande, whom the Vinales are accused of having fatally stabbed over a game of cards on Jan. 7, died of the ail in the Pennsylvania Hospital here. The fugitives were traced to Toronto by a clue furnished by a man from whom they tried to borrow money after the cutting off, which occurred in Volande's home.

Since Sunday the four detectives, occasionally relieved by Detectives Archibald and Wallace, have hidden in waiting in an unheated outhouse in a northern suburb watching for the men. From information received by the department it was believed that one or other of the men would come to a meeting place near this shed, and from 7 o'clock in the morning until the same hour in the evening the detectives camped in the alcove.

The men are Albertino Vianelli, alias Camillo Francesco, 24 years of age, and Joseph Vianelli, alias Giovanni Martello, alias Biaggio De Marco, aged 26, thought to be a brother of the first man.

The arrest is the second in ten days of Italians taken here who are wanted on the American coast for murder. The police also believe that they have here located a directing centre of the Black Hand order. This belief is strengthened by the confession of the man sent back to Mineola, N. Y., a week ago.

It is understood that no operations are carried on in Canada, but that operations in Pennsylvania, which have of late been extensive, have been directed from here. It is known that during the last few months the man sent back to Mineola, N. Y., a week ago, sent a registered letter to W. Paul, 1009 Kean-street, Philadelphia, and one of the Philadelphia, addressed to Giovanni Martello, when arrested.

The men, who pretend to speak little English, but who are understood to know each other, but the police are informed that they have roomed together for weeks.

Neither made any attempt at resistance when arrested.

The local police have no particulars as to crime for which the men are arrested.

PLOT UNCOVERED. Abortive Attempt to Upset Government of Portugal. LISBON, Jan. 23.—By courier to Madrid, Spain.—An abortive attempt to overthrow the monarchy and proclaim a republic was nipped in the bud last night by the prompt action of the government.

The plot was organized by a small group of advanced Republicans. As near as can be ascertained the plan was to assassinate Premier Franco (the king's minister) and to seize the city of Lisbon, supported by secret Republican and labor organizations, armed with bombs and revolvers.

The conspirators intended to take advantage of various festivities to carry out the coup d'etat.

CANADIAN NORTHERN FIGHT. Mackenzie and Mann Forces Opposing a New Road East from Victoria. MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—A warm battle is expected during the present session between the Mackenzie and Mann forces and the promoters of the Vancouver Island & Eastern Railway. The plan is to build a railway from the City of Victoria to the Narrows, and thence to the Yellow Head Pass to Edmonton.

Promoters of this system are: T. W. Patterson, a railway contractor of Victoria, B.C., and J. H. B. of Toronto, who for the C.P.R. has the same railway project in mind. The plan is to build a railway from the City of Victoria to the Narrows, and thence to the Yellow Head Pass to Edmonton.

HAIR CAUGHT IN MACHINE. Young Girl's Head Drawn Down to Pulley. GUELPH, Jan. 23.—While working at one of the machines in the carpet mills this morning, Miss Beatrice Thompson, a girl of 19 years of age, met with a painful accident, which might easily have been attended by fatal results. She went around to the back of the machine to adjust a part, known as the collar-box, when her hair caught in a set screw on a revolving shaft. The girl's hair wound round the shaft, and in an instant her face was against a fast moving pulley. One of the men working near by saw her in distress and had the machinery promptly stopped, but not before an ugly cut had been sustained and the girl's ear split open.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL AGAINST LICENSE SLASH

Unwise to Make Any Further Reduction Says Resolution to Be Forwarded to Mayor.

A resolution opposing the reduction of licenses in Toronto was yesterday passed unanimously by the council of the board of trade.

Not Too Many Now. "And whereas the present number of licensed holders, viz., 120, was decided upon many years ago, when the city was about one-half of the present population, and the fact that the city has about doubled in number, without increasing the number of issued licenses, is accepted as a most satisfactory policy from a temperance standpoint, and to further reduce the number of licenses at present would tend to create a monopoly in favor of the smaller number holding licenses, and also tend to increase illicit selling."

COURT ROOM CROWDED AT CUMMING WEST

Youthful Prisoner on the Verge of Collapse—Meeting of the Finance Committee.

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—While not wishing to discourage Miss Lewis in her attempt to raise $15,000 for a sick children's hospital, the finance committee this evening decided that she should consent to the appointment of trustees for the fund, and give an undertaking that if she failed to raise enough for the hospital she would turn whatever she did raise over to charitable purposes. The mayor was authorized to interview Miss Lewis on the subject.

The committee decided to enforce general vaccination, but will support the board of health in its efforts to build a $5000 smallpox hospital. The question of a grant to the widow of the late Pherson Green will be taken up at the next meeting, the amount of the grant suggested being $500.

The proposals to make a change in such a grant to the widow of the late Pherson Green will be taken up at the next meeting, the amount of the grant suggested being $500.

The inquest on the death of Joseph Cummings, who died as a result of wounds inflicted upon him in the McPherson Shoe Company's factory by William Kirkpatrick, is being continued to-night before Coroner Nichol. Great interest was manifested in the case, and the police court room was not nearly large enough to accommodate all those who wished to hear the testimony. Forty-eight witnesses have been subpoenaed. The prisoner, William Kirkpatrick, was represented by George S. Kerr, K.C. The youthful prisoner appeared to feel very badly, and it was expected for him to keep from breaking down at times. The doctors were examined first. Dr. Curfey, who was called to attend Cummings, found wounds on his face, which he dressed, not regarding them as serious. He was recalled to Cummings' home about an hour later, and was told that he did not consider very serious either. Drs. Baile and Davey, who conducted the post-mortem, said that it was the wound in the side that proved fatal. Vital parts were injured, and it was likely proved fatal, although a serious operation might have saved the boy's life.

The following employees of the McPherson Company testified: William Harper, James Weeden, Charles Robert, Miss M. Cheney, William Chubb, and William Melcon. Although some of them were working right beside where the row happened, none would admit seeing the wounds inflicted. Their stories were that some of the boys had a pick on Cummings, and were in the habit of throwing leather at him, and none of the witnesses saw him do so on the morning of the trouble. Cummings, however, picked up a piece of leather which he worked, the blade of which had the blow off. None of the witnesses saw Kirkpatrick strike Cummings with the knife, but when the knife was over the table, two ugly cuts on his face. Twenty-five doctors were telephoned to improve the mortality, but none could attend until next Monday.

Thomas Tracey, brother of Dan Tracey, traveler for the Spring Brewery, died this evening. Harry Foley, 88 Garth-street, who fell on an icy walk, had to be taken home on this evening in the ambulance. The funeral of the late Fireman Roy Green, who was killed while fighting the fire in the street car barns at the corner of Heckler and Locke-streets Monday night, was held this afternoon. Interment taking place at the Mount Pleasant cemetery. Capt. Robert Aitchison, Thomas Wadsworth, Alex Henderson, William Seal, A. Stinson and W. Warwick, twenty-two, were sworn in as members of the York and Dundas-streets.

William Martin was committed for trial on the charge of stealing $100 from Orator Cook while he was sleeping in an hotel. Apology Demanded and Refused. Thru Kerr & Thomson, Relief Officer Melenemy had demanded an apology from The Herald for publishing a statement to the effect that the mayor gave the relief officer a lecture for his actions in connection with a report made about the destitute condition of foreigners. The Herald has declined to make an apology.

The Street Railwaymen's Union this afternoon moves its petition to the deputy minister of labor for an investigation into the case of John Theaker, the president of the union, who was dismissed. The men have also complained of an alleged espionage, intimidation and discrimination against union members, claiming that detectives have cramped the men to drink, and that certain non-union men get better wages than the union men.

BECK SEENTS POSSIBLE DANGER IN RADIAL BILL

Right to Sell Power May Be Embodied in Absorption of Western Line.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—Lurking in the Hamilton Radial Bill some one discovered that by the absorption of the Windsor, Chatham and London Railway the power policy of the White and Ontario administrations might be in danger. That is why Hon. Adam Beck was present at the meeting of the railway committee to-day.

The system referred to has under its charter the right to sell surplus power. The suggestion was made that the extension of this selling power over the whole Hamilton Radial, and the whole of Ontario, was the hydro-electric commission. That this would be the result is not absolutely certain, but the Ontario Government will insist on a safeguarding provision.

Agourned Till Tuesday. The Hamilton Radial bill will not engage the attention of the railway committee of the house of commons until next Tuesday.

A large number of members were present and an interesting session was expected. R. G. Coad, K.C., of Ottawa was present and his bearing of the province he represented the attorney-general of Ontario. He stated that his letter of specific instructions had not arrived. Adjournment was taken until Tuesday.

R. A. Pringle called attention to the fact that the Province of Ontario had formulated an Electric Railway Act in 1906, and it was not absolutely certain that the Ontario Government had a right to place the latest deliberation of the railway and municipal board before the committee.

Col. Gibson thought Chairman Leitch's letter spoke Premier Whitney's opinions, but reluctantly consented to the adjournment. The bill will be first Toronto interests safeguarded.

There is likely, however, to be no fight over the Toronto end of the bill, as a preliminary agreement has been agreed upon between the city and the company. This clause is to be incorporated in an amendment to the bill, which authorizes the railway to enter Toronto. The addition will read, "but shall not construct its railway or any portion thereof along any highway or any extension thereof along any highway or public place within the limits of the city of Toronto, without the consent expressed by bylaw of the municipality having jurisdiction over such highway, and especially in any case where terms to be agreed on with such municipality, provided, however, that if the company wishes to construct its railway or any portion thereof along any one of the public places of parks of the City of Toronto, it may construct the same along such portion of the City or City thereof as may be agreed upon between the company and the council of said city, and the council of said city, and kept from time to time to the same elevation as the tracks of the said Grand Trunk Railway Co."

WHERE THE ENEMY IS. OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—(Special to The World.)—The Ontario House of Commons is the authority for the statement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not so much the enemy of provincial rights, as especially the rights of Ontario, as some people are trying to make out, especially in connection with the radial railways and the Cobalt Lake Mining Co.'s case.

The truth is, said the Liberal, that Sir Wilfrid is constantly being besieged by the Gibson crowd of Hamilton and The Globe crowd of Toronto, and both of these are in with the electrical crowd generally in the provinces, to fight the Whitney public power policy and to discredit the Whitney mining legislation and to question the constitutionality thereof. The Liberal member further went on to say that Sir Wilfrid in a very few days will put this Ontario crowd in their proper place on all these points.

According to the estimates made in the budget, ordinary revenue exceeds the last year's estimate by 50,000,000 yen, while the extraordinary revenue is less than that of the last year by the same amount.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

is rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Norway Pine Tree, skillfully combined with Wild Cherry Bark and the soothing and expectorant properties of other natural and medicinal herbs. It is a pleasant, safe and effective medicine for Coughs and Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Pain in the Chest, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Quinsy and all troubles of the Throat and Lungs.

A single dose will convince you that it will stop the cough, soothe the throat, and start you on the road to recovery. Be sure and do not accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, and the price 25 cents. Miss C. M. Woodcock, Kinmount, Ont., writes: "For some time I suffered from a lingering cough. I was afraid it would turn to consumption, and, as I had tried many remedies and found no cure I asked my father to get me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. When I had taken that bottle I was so much better I got three more, and I am now completely cured."

H. P. Dwight, a lifelong friend of the late Edward H. Bates and himself a veteran lover of aquatic and athletic games...

Miss Walker, I see Claude Pearce ran all the way from Hamilton to Toronto yesterday...

While residents of Hespeler, Ont., declare that Noah Brusso named himself Tommy Burns after the well-known local character of that village...

On Wednesday night two teams from the Sellers-Gough paid a visit to the Rockdale alleys and played a match game for a box of cigars...

On Tuesday night the J. C. O'Connell's very enjoyable evening game was played at the rink...

THE ART OF SWIMMING AS SHOWN BY EXPERTS
 Interesting Exhibition in Varsity Gym Under Auspices of Physical Education Society.
 "Some of their grandfathers' was ducks" was the remark which aroused roars of laughter at the swimming and diving exhibition in the university gymnasium last night. The nationality of the speaker was apparent. Instructor Corson was showing English and German strokes when Inspector J. L. Hughes asked for an Irish one.
 "This is an Irish one," retorted the aquatic vegetarian, "because there is no effort or labor in it, and he dived under. Mr. Hughes, added to a school anecdote to illustrate the necessity of city baths. A little boy, Charlie, was not all in the water, he was only partially. The teacher wrote his mother a delicately worded note suggesting a bath to improve his aroma. The reply came back:
 "Charlie is not a rose. Don't smell him. Learn him."
 Mr. Hughes pleaded for baths to obviate such difficulties. Controller Harrison in the chair assured the audience that a swimming and other baths were ready on the other side of the street.
 Arthur L. Cochrane of Upper Canada College, and hon. representative of the Royal Life Saving Society, exhibited a series of views, showing the methods of drill in English schools. By this hand drill the swimming motions are all taught before the pupils enter the water. Photographs of Canadian boys were also shown performing the same drill outdoors.
 A practical illustration of the drill was given by senior and junior teams from the Central Y.M.C.A. classes.
 In the maturation a splendid exhibition of life saving drill was given by Messrs. Hardy, Duffett, Field and Atkinson, and following this Messrs. Mowatt and Vernon demonstrated the same service, while partially dressed. These gentlemen belonged to champion life saving teams in England, and P. C. Mowatt was the means of saving two people in the late York-street fire thru his knowledge of resuscitation methods. Their exhibition was a very clever one.
 Fancy diving was given by members of the Varsity Swimming Club, who had only been instructed since Jan. 1. The dives included Miss Anderson's standing, sitting, standing, diving, the flap-kick, the swim, the back-kick, the front jack-knife, plain back, plain forward, one and a half somersault, hand stand, cannon ball and long plunge. Mr. Hunt gave a perfect sample of the broad stroke, and Mr. Johnson exemplified the difference between the frog kick and the scissor kick. Instructor Corson then gave a clever exhibition of all the leading strokes and styles.
 The gathering, which was largely attended by ladies, was under the auspices of the Toronto Society of Physical Education, of which Dr. Jas. W. Barton is president.

WATER SOLVES PROBLEM OF TRANSPORTATION
 Interesting Discussion at the Engineers' Club—F. L. Somerville's Paper.
 As the problem of grain transportation is admittedly one of the greatest which this country has to deal, remarks bearing on the subject by F. L. Somerville, consulting engineer, at last night's meeting of the Engineers' Club, were of considerable interest. Mr. Somerville, who was formerly resident engineer of the Grand Trunk, speaking as a practical railway man, said:
 "In spite of the immense growth of the railways and the costly improvements made to them, the problem of transportation have not kept up with the demands of the country, and we have the authority of one of the greatest railway men on the continent that the development of the railways has almost reached its limit, and that the necessary improvements to be made are such that the main means of transportation. He recommends the opening up by the Mississippi route of a waterway suitable for deep draught from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.
 "On account of the growth of the grain trade in the States, the amount of grain available for export is liable to decrease and it will fall to the lot of the northwest provinces of Canada more and more to supply the markets of Europe unless the competition of countries in the Southern Mississippi route is met.
 Develop Georgian Bay Ports.
 In the general discussion, Governor Engineer Sing spoke in strong favor of developing the eastern Georgian Bay ports, by means of the erection of large elevators, so that grain brought by boat from Port Arthur and other points, might be transported at such ports as Collingwood, Meaford, Midland, Triffin and Depot Harbor, and railroaded thru to the seaboard. He insisted that from Mr. Pugsley would go extensively into the subject at to-night's board of the Grand Trunk. Even if the Georgian Bay ship canal were gone on with, or the Welland and Lachine Canals deepened, it would be many years before relief could be afforded.
 "We must make provision for having Canadian grain confined to Canada channels, and the development of these ports is the solution I would suggest," said Mr. Sing.
 Others who spoke were J. E. Walsh, Willis Chipman, Denham Mills, A. L. Hertzberg and R. J. Park. There was considerable difference of opinion as to where the best place to place, some of those present favoring the twin cities, others Georgian Bay ports and others the Welland.
 The Toronto branch of the Society of Civil Engineers elected officers last evening as follows: Chairman, C. H. Mitchell, secretary-treasurer, T. C. Irving, Jr. The chairman, secretary-treasurer, with Messrs. M. J. Haney, Norman and Evans, were elected. A large delegation of the members of the Toronto branch will attend the annual meeting of the society to be held in Montreal next week.
BRITAIN AND GERMANY BECOME NAVAL RIVALS
 Fortification of Heligoland Regarded With Suspicion as Reply to British Move.
 LONDON, Jan. 22.—According to the speeches made inside and outside of parliament last session by responsible members of the government, it seemed as if the navy of Great Britain was to be a cheese-paring economy. The British navy, the ministers have evidently learned something during the recess, and Sir Edward Grey, speaking on behalf of the government, has just made the plain statement that the country believes it necessary, on account of the insular position of Great Britain, to have a navy which would be ready to yield to those members of the government who do not regard the navy as a public utility. The navy, by lessening public confidence, has been the fruit of the acute sense which has been the country into an orgy of extravagance on funds which could do nothing to the winning of wars.
 Sir Edward Grey has just said that England cannot afford to close her eyes to the fact that foreign nations are showing a disposition to increase their navies, and that this makes it quite impossible to continue the reductions upon the British navy.
 A deep impression would seem to have been produced in naval circles by the news that the German Reichstag has voted a million half sterling for the fortification of Heligoland and its conversion into a naval base.
 This is understood to be the German reply to Great Britain's new departure at Rosyth, the proposed naval base for the North Sea. It is believed that at least the rivalry between Great Britain and Germany, which has become a fact since the Heligoland vote is an incident which may be interestingly illustrated by the news that Germany surrendered this despatch of rocky islet to Germany in exchange for Zanzibar, public opinion in this country was by no means favorable to the deal, and a most one-sided affair, all the advantage being with Great Britain. He bitterly regretted that the deal was not in return for practically nothing, but his majesty knew his own mind and resolved to take his time. The time came five years later, in 1885, with the inauguration of the Kiel canal, the deal connecting Kiel with the mouth of the Elbe, thus giving great strategic value to the hands of a naval adversary of Germany. Heligoland would now be invaluable, while in the keeping of Germany it offers a decided, almost insuperable, obstacle to a blockade undertaken with the view of preventing a junction between a squadron of British ships and the German fleet. Heligoland is some 12 or 14 miles only from the shore.
HOUSE SITS ON WHIRLE

 pers asked for by Mr. Ames of Montreal, were brought down.
 The premier said that the matter had been disposed of. The papers would be brought down if the house was satisfied that the reasons were sufficient.
 "What does the right hon. gentleman regard as sufficient reasons?" asked Mr. Borden.
 "I will judge when they are given," replied the premier.
 Later on Mr. Borden again took up the position of the government in regard to affording members an opportunity to see and examine original documents. He pointed out that after accepting the Borden amendment the other night, the government still refused to give Mr. Ames access to the original documents regarding timber berths. Last session a member was given access to original files and the government was satisfied that the type-written copies could not disclose that a certain Mr. Brown who was given grazing leases in the Borden territory in a cloak for Mr. McGregor, who in return was a cloak for Mr. Adams.
 The speaker said that the government was such plain matter that he was surprised at the mountain that was being made of it.
 The discussion was continued at the evening session. Hon. John Haggart warned the government that the opposition would not be satisfied with the type-written copies for by Mr. Ames produced, and the prime minister might as well make up his mind to this effect: "The duty of parliament to check expenditure of public money, and in order to see that these expenditures were properly made it was necessary to scrutinize closely the papers in the department."
 Houghton Lennox argued that Mr. Ames' reasons were sufficient, and that the continued refusal of the premier was inconsistent with the position taken by the premier two days ago.
 Mr. Borden (Conservative, Hamilton) also argued that the rights of the house were clear, and that the government could not consistently refuse.
 Mr. Bristol (Centre Toronto) expressed his technicalities when Mr. Ames to-day renewed his request in words the premier desired him to use.
 Mr. Oiler (Conservative, West Toronto) concluded that the only inference that could be drawn was that the government was not prepared to bear the brunt of criticism that would come from refusal rather than accept the odium that would result from acquiescence.
 Mr. Borden held that Mr. Ames had conformed to the suggestion of the premier, and that the government was not to be criticised for not having given reasons at the outset he did at the end, and the premier should then have asked the house to express its opinion.
 Mr. Ames had affirmed that he was standing on his rights.
 He said that he wished to produce these papers, said Mr. Fielding, "because he has approached the question in this way."
 Mr. Lancaster assured Mr. Fielding that if he enumerated any such tyrannical principles in the County of Lincoln he would not get ten Liberals to endorse them.
 "It was not the public interest that would suffer, said Andrew Ross, but the premier received since Tuesday's had been fixed by law. They also fail to disclose how many people have been heretofore carried free of cost.

G. T. R. EXONERATED.
 Jury's Decision Against the Haw Sult for Death of Child.
 The assize jury brought in a verdict exonerating the Grand Trunk Railway from all responsibility for the death of Viola Haws, who was drowned in the cribwork erected by the G.T.R. at the foot of Brock-street on Aug. 12 last. The coroner's jury at the inquest brought in a verdict censuring the railway, and Mr. and Mrs. Haws sued for $5000 damages for the death of their daughter. The assize jury at the trial found that the railway was liable for the death of the child, but that the child was practically a right-of-way trespasser, and that the railway was not liable for the death of the child. BUILDING OPERATIONS IN MONTREAL ACTIVE Amount Expended For Eleven Months Exceeded Eight Million Dollars.
 The value of building operations in Montreal for the eleven months ending Nov. 30, amounts to $8,202,309. This is a decrease of $368,954 from the amount for a corresponding period of 1905, the figures then being $8,571,263. The operations during the first half of the year have shown a marked increase in the erection of many new buildings. Three important bank buildings are under construction. The new building of the Bank of Montreal, on the corner of St. James-street, and one on the site of the old Bank of Montreal, on the corner of St. James-street, will be commenced next spring. The estimated cost is between $400,000 and $750,000. The Canadian Pacific Railway has undertaken to expend $180,000 on rebuilding the cattle market before May 1, 1908.
KING PACIFIED WORKMEN.
 Interesting Meeting in Which Italy's Monarch Scored.
 ROME, Jan. 20.—A recent attempt of stonecutters who were out of work to bring the king on a visit to the Victor Emmanuel monument and lay their grievances before him, had an interesting sequel which shows the sympathy of the king's advisers and had half an hour's talk with them at the Quirinal, where he promised them that they were not without work any longer. He shook hands with them heartily on parting, and said: "You have spoken much better than many of the distinguished persons who you should be out of work. I have recently personally contributed $60,000 for the repairing of the Baths of Diocletian, and really do not know how the money has been employed."
 The king's straightforward speech, which implied considerably more than he in an official announcement that the facade of the Santa Maria della Angeli, close to the Baths of Diocletian, would be repaired within the next three years.

 injury by destroying the efficiency of the service which it is their chief duty to promote.
 "Published statistics as to the average rate per mile are of very little value, since they embrace no computation and excursion rates and also the rates for immigrants, which are fixed by law. They also fail to disclose how many people have been heretofore carried free of cost.
 Fixing Rates Arbitrarily.
 "A large part of the transportation which this state is rendered at two cents per mile thru the sale and use of mileage books. A hearing held in November last indicated that, with the railroads unanimously regarding the mileage book as unsatisfactory, no road was willing to abandon it or had its abandonment under consideration. Upon the hearing another bill was introduced in relation to the inadequacy of fares on the New York Central, it appeared that the method of fixing fares generally is mainly arbitrary, and in the latter hearing the origin of certain passenger fares appeared veiled in mystery and the haze of immemorial usage.
 "The fact that two-cent mileage books are so extensively used and the continuance of such books in use afford a sufficient presumption that the roads can afford to carry all passengers at the same rate to justify exhaustive enquiry into the facts."
 Before any final decision can fairly be arrived at in the matter of rates, the commission says it is not always necessary to enquire into the cost or value of railroad property to determine what a reasonable return should be. The report adds:
 "No such enquiry would be undertaken to determine whether a single freight rate or a single passenger rate is just and reasonable, and in an enquiry as to all passenger rates upon a given road other considerations might prove sufficient for just determination; nor is a fair return upon property always a controlling factor as to the rate which should be charged. The amount invested in railroad property is not a controlling factor in the determination of rates. The general public should not be required to pay a fair return in every instance, but should be protected against unjust, ill-considered or speculative enterprise which promoters may enter upon."
 In concluding the chapter on passenger rates the commission says:
 "The commission has come to the conclusion that the use of the rate of two cents per mile in the sale of mileage books affords reasonable protection to the company, and that transportation at reasonable profit; that there is no such distinction between transportation under the mileage book and transportation under an ordinary ticket as to alone justify a conclusion that transportation by ticket cannot be afforded at the same price as by mileage book; that the commission will proceed as promptly as practicable with an investigation of the subject of passenger fares in this state and ascertain whether it is just and proper to make any change in the maximum amount to be charged per mile."
 The report shows that the commission has supervision of railroad properties representing an investment of $2,000,000,000 and of gas and electric properties with a capital of $500,000,000.

JUNCTION AND TOWNSHIP DISCUSS SCHOOL MATTERS

Proposal to Amalgamate School Districts—Council Resent Certain Statement.

TORONTO JUNCTION, Jan. 23.—Out-looks for business from a manufacturing standpoint are not of the brightest in town just at present and some of the leading firms are said to be working on short time. Yesterday the local plant of A. Bradshaw & Son, overall manufacturers, Toronto, situated at the corner of Hook and Bruce-avenues, closed down indefinitely, leaving 75 employees without a day's pay.

Some of the reasons for the closing down of the plant are the remarks of a local manufacturer as published in a Toronto evening paper to-day, in which he is presented as stating that the councilmen have no ability to suggest a name for the Junction when it becomes incorporated as a city. This remark, it is said, suggested that the matter be left in the hands of the local manufacturers, as he states, they are proper persons to suggest a name that would further the best interests of the town.

The funeral of Mrs. Phoebe Morris of 44 West Dundas-street took place this afternoon to Humbervale Cemetery. Many beautiful floral tributes were received, among which was a wreath from the Manitoba Legislature, of which the late Mrs. Morris' son is a member.

The funeral of Martin Doyle, which took place this morning, was largely attended. High mass was celebrated at St. Cecilia's Church by Rev. Father Gallagher. Interment took place in Mount Hope Cemetery.

A joint committee of members of the school board and township trustees met to-night to discuss the question of amalgamating the latter with the school section 22 with the town. This section is an amalgamation of parts of school sections 13 and 22, which was brought into existence at the last annual meeting. Those present representing the school section were Chairman George Symes and Trustees Vaughn and Wright.

The members of the Junction School Board present were Chairman Dr. Hackett and Trustees Hall, Wright, Kipping and Wadsworth.

After the matter had been discussed, these motions were carried by the committee, and will be brought up at their approval of the school board at their meeting next Tuesday evening.

That this committee favorably considers the matter of a union school section with school section 22 and that the committee obtain the necessary legal information and arrange terms to be presented to the township and the union may take place, and report at the regular meeting of the board Feb. 26.

To fit the school for township pupils from now till midsummer at $15. The members of the school board favored amalgamation, as promising to be beneficial to both town and school section, as it would provide additional funds for the town and a graded school for the rural pupils. Considerable discussion took place as to the rate at which the township pupils should be charged for tuition in the Junction schools. The present rate is $10 per year for each pupil and the school board are unanimous in claiming that the fee is too low, the matter could not be taken up, as the rates have been struck for the present year and no change consequently could be made.

Supervisor Wilson stated that the cost for each pupil in the town schools is $22 per year, and an expense of $100 each room in the different schools and caretakers' salaries.

There are 223 pupils in the whole school section which is to be amalgamated.

At the close of the meeting Chairman Symes thanked the members of the school board for the courteous and considerate way in which they had discussed the matter, and expressed his hope that their mission will not be in vain.

Pneumonia Most Fatal During Winter Months

Statistics of the health department show pneumonia to be one of the most fatal diseases, especially during the winter months. The records show numerous instances where neglect of an apparently insignificant cold has developed pneumonia without warning.

It is the better part of wisdom to check a cold at the outset. Take two capsules of glycerol, a half pint of virgin oil of pine, half ounce of virgin oil of pine, mix thoroughly and use in teaspoonful doses every four hours. This formula is said to break up a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable. It has been found that five ounces of mixture of this compound can be used instead of whiskey, with the same result.

The ingredients are inexpensive and can be purchased without trouble at any good drug store. The substitute of some inferior pine product for the Virgin Oil of Pine, it is better to purchase each separately and mix them at home.

The genuine Virgin Oil of Pine is put up for dispensing, only in half-ounce vials, each vial securely sealed in a round wooden case with an engraved wrapper showing plainly the name—Virgin Oil of Pine, prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario, and is sold in bulk and cheap imitations put out to resemble Virgin Oil of Pine in name and style of container.

These pine needle oils are not intended for internal use, and when taken internally usually cause nausea. Their use is mainly confined to the manufacture of soap and similar purposes.

THE FACTS IN A NUTSHELL Indicate That Florence Mining Co. Have Made an Error.

The bureau of mines takes exception to statements that have appeared in the press, emanating from the Florence Mining Co. "There are considerable misstatements of fact," said an official yesterday.

Last year the Florence Mining Co., with its counsel and a number of parties interested, appeared before the executive council of the province and argued their case at length. George T. Smith, the mining recorder at Halcyon, was present and the council made a number of the assertions made by the company as to what took place in his office. One statement was that no inquiry had been made of the withdrawal of Cobalt Lake. As a matter of fact the order in council withdrawing it was posted on the walls of Mr. Smith's office, and was read and remained for several months.

The order withdrawing the Gilles Limits, Cobalt Lake and Kerr Lake, was dated Aug. 14. It was also published in The Ontario Gazette, November, 1905, and was in fact a matter of common knowledge. On Aug. 28, 1905, the Gilles Limits and Kerr Lake, were taken out of the public domain, and the remaining lands in Coleman, Buckle, Lorrain and Hudson Townships, on Oct. 30, 1906, another order was passed, again opening lands dealt with in the order of Aug. 28, but of course, not affecting the Gilles Limits or Cobalt or Kerr Lakes.

Since the local curators defeated the Gilles Limits, the Gilles Limits was not open for prospecting, and it was not till the following March that the Gilles Limits was opened for prospecting. The company's counsel stated that a map was handed them by the mining recorder, showing Cobalt Lake to be open.

The fact is that the official map kept in the recorder's office for the information of the public showed the bed of the lake marked as being open, and the well-known meaning of which was that the land had been applied for and was then well-known that the lake was in the custody of the department.

W. J. Greene, the applicant who assigned his claim to the Florence Mining Co., was asked to withdraw his application as to the bed of Cobalt Lake, or he would have been told that the lake was open. As thousands of others had been misled by the information, but this did not profess to show the status of any particular parcel of land.

The fact that the official map kept in the recorder's office for the information of the public showed the bed of the lake marked as being open, and the well-known meaning of which was that the land had been applied for and was then well-known that the lake was in the custody of the department.

As a matter of fact the order in council withdrawing it was posted on the walls of Mr. Smith's office, and was read and remained for several months.

The order withdrawing the Gilles Limits, Cobalt Lake and Kerr Lake, was dated Aug. 14. It was also published in The Ontario Gazette, November, 1905, and was in fact a matter of common knowledge. On Aug. 28, 1905, the Gilles Limits and Kerr Lake, were taken out of the public domain, and the remaining lands in Coleman, Buckle, Lorrain and Hudson Townships, on Oct. 30, 1906, another order was passed, again opening lands dealt with in the order of Aug. 28, but of course, not affecting the Gilles Limits or Cobalt or Kerr Lakes.

Since the local curators defeated the Gilles Limits, the Gilles Limits was not open for prospecting, and it was not till the following March that the Gilles Limits was opened for prospecting. The company's counsel stated that a map was handed them by the mining recorder, showing Cobalt Lake to be open.

The fact is that the official map kept in the recorder's office for the information of the public showed the bed of the lake marked as being open, and the well-known meaning of which was that the land had been applied for and was then well-known that the lake was in the custody of the department.

W. J. Greene, the applicant who assigned his claim to the Florence Mining Co., was asked to withdraw his application as to the bed of Cobalt Lake, or he would have been told that the lake was open. As thousands of others had been misled by the information, but this did not profess to show the status of any particular parcel of land.

The fact that the official map kept in the recorder's office for the information of the public showed the bed of the lake marked as being open, and the well-known meaning of which was that the land had been applied for and was then well-known that the lake was in the custody of the department.

WILL NOT APPEAL Statement on Two Cent Fare as to Pennsylvania Railway.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—At a conference between Attorney-General Todd and City Solicitor Gendell it was decided not to appeal to the state supreme court for a readjustment in the case of the two-cent railroad fare law, which was decided against the state last Monday.

With reference to the question whether the decision of the supreme court, applied to all the railroads in the state, Attorney-General made the following statement:

"In the case of the Pennsylvania Railway (Parkhill), the County of Philadelphia, the supreme court ruled that a two-cent per mile rate does an injury to the stockholders of the Pennsylvania inter-state passenger business, a fund applicable to dividends of less than the statutory rate of interest, which is six per cent. This is a question of fact as to other railroads that can only be determined by a trial in court of each case."

The dissatisfaction among a number of "reserve list" civic employees, whose claims for work have been passed over, was indicated in the waiting upon of Dr. Sheard yesterday by eight men who have been thus treated. They claimed that 105 men had been taken on from the registration bureau. Dr. Sheard explained that the sum of $3000 voted was intended to be expended in this way, but promised that the sweeping crossings down town and would not be out of employment more than necessary.

Defence Given Time to Prepare Hypothetical Questions—Preparing a Coup.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—When an adjournment of the Thaw trial was taken to-day, in order to enable the attorneys for the defence to prepare their long hypothetical question covering all the evidence in the case, there seemed no longer any doubt that next week will bring the second hearing to a close. Justice Dowling has decided to limit each side to three expert witnesses, and two of the defence's attorneys are expected to object to the mental and physical examinations they made of Harry Thaw in the Tombs Prison following his arrest for the killing of Stanford White.

No experts for the state have yet appeared in the court room, and Mr. Jerome has not indicated the names of the witnesses for the defence. The testimony of the ballistics in the employ of the defence. All of the doctors who served Mr. Jerome at the first hearing are expected to appear for the defence, not as paid experts, but as possible witnesses in rebuttal of any action the district attorney may take in rebutting the insanity plea that has been built.

As Mr. Jerome turned the tables upon Mr. William Thaw by reading to the jury the affidavits she made a year ago to the lunacy commission which was testing her son's condition of mind, so the defence may show a seeming reversal by having the district attorneys admit upon the stand that they made affidavits a year ago in which they expressed the opinion that Harry Thaw was suffering from paranoia, and had been a victim of that mental malady for many years.

Justice Dowling held a conference with all of the attorneys interested in the case before announcing his decision to limit the amount of expert testimony to be placed before the jury. The defence is expected to have experts to answer the hypothetical question, but these were overwhelmed, numerically at least, by the steady onslaught forward by the district attorney. The effect of Justice Dowling's decision will be materially to shorten the case. The defence will conclude its evidence to-morrow unless Mr. Jerome extends his cross-examinations beyond the limit of his present intention.

Dr. Charles C. Warner of Hamilton, N. Y., and Dr. Britton Evans of Morris Plains, N. J., both superintending the convention, were present. THE CALL TO CITIZENSHIP.

There never was a time in Canada's history when the need of good independent voters was so urgent. The address of Mr. E. C. Drury at Kinsale on Wednesday evening was full of encouragement for those who have been lamenting the death of opportunity in Canadian public life.

Canada, as he said, is in a transition period. The battle between opposing elements in a democratic country is commencing. Capitalistic supremacy on the one hand and anarchic disintegration on the other, threaten-to crush the body politic to nothingness in civic life. To offset this Mr. Drury seemed to place the responsibility in its rightful position, when he laid it to the farmers of the provinces.

No man has a greater heritage of independent freedom. His very statu-tion as producer, consumer, manufacturer and distributor all combined, renders him unique. He can exert a healthy control on the whole politico-social life by his sane, healthful and freedom-loving spirit. But he needs the organization. And to many that organizing machinery lies in the Dominion Grange.

DO NOT GO OUT OF HOGS.
Some time ago the farmers were receiving nearly eight per cent. for their pork, when feed cost them only one cent a pound. They made money and they did not consider it a hardship to anyone that they did receive these prices.

Nevertheless, some one lost on the deal. Now, when they are getting low prices with high feed, considerable discussion about leaving the business is taking place. This ought not to be.
A turn in events will surely come, and then perhaps our European markets
will be lost to us. In such an event, it will be a calamity that we were so shortsighted that we gave up our pork production at the first rude adversity.

It has been hinted in Toronto that the dealers here are bringing in American hams, in bond, and curing them here, to the detriment of our Canadian trade. At that rate our pork will remain low prices until such time as American hams become scarce.

The Farmers' Institutes
Are Doing Good Work

A Most Successful Meeting in Ontario County—E. C.
Drury and Miss Carter Talk—Dairyans Beef Raising—Home Life and Citizenship—Granges Grow in the Wake of These Meetings—Autos
Are Roundly Condemned—Women
Meet at Good Farm Home.

KINSALE, Jan. 23.—(Staff Correspondence).—The farmers of Ontario have developed wonderfully during the last fifteen years, and a great deal of their advance and of their progress in scientific agriculture has been due to the educational work of the Farmers' Institutes. Thus did E. C. Drury of Crown Hill, well-known to many of our farmers as a public speaker,
and as the Grange lecturer, begin his address at Kinsale, Ontario County,
on Wednesday evening.

The Farmers' Institute of South Ontario has been holding meetings regularly for years with various results.
This year Mr. Drury's visit was looked forward to and his hearers were not disappointed for he is a man who thinks for himself, and has the courage to express his convictions.
According to the arrangement by Secretary Lick, the Kinsale meeting was held in the hall at that place on Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week. In the afternoon a small but representative crowd of farmers gathered to hear the discussion on how to Raise Beef Cattle.

successfully. Mr. Drury from practical experience in Simcoe County was well able to handle this question. He raised from 12 to 15 calves each year, thus allowing him to feed about that number along with a like number which he purchases on the market.
There is no objection to this raising for beef alone," said the speaker. "Each farmer must make his cows return him, at least, the price of the cow, which is $50, in milk or cheese."
Upon his Simcoe farm, the speaker has a good milking strain of various horns, which averaged him from $45
to $50 per cow per year for butter, besides raising each a good calf for at least for one month after his own new milk.

Feed First Year Well.
The lecturer contended that the most expensive and and care, the beef animal should be given during its first year. If any year is to be roughed it should be the second winter, when the animal has developed capacity to assimilate rough fodder.
"Why is it," asked C. J. Stevenson,
"that a calf brought up on the cow
does not do well after weaning on pasture?"
"Because the calf has not developed a big stomach, and it does not know how to eat right as a rule."
In answer to a question by Mr.
Nesbitt of Columbus, the speaker said that pigs often looked better than grades because they were generally better fed and of better type.
Several answers and questions were given. Mr. Drury's answers were shown to illustrate the wrong and right kinds of feeding steers.
C. L. Mackay: "Would you raise your own stockers?"
"I certainly think," said Mr. Drury,
"that the farmer can not depend on the general sales of the country to supply us with the right kind of feeding steers. I would raise all I could from well-selected shorthorn cows, good milking qualities. You will have to go to the market for the balance of your stockers be Ontario bred cattle."
Show Ring Has Hurt Us.
The show ring, the speaker contended,
has hurt us in removing the milking qualities from our best shorthorn cows. He had visited stables where the animal has been kept from cow to allow mother to be fitted for show. But the milk has been turned off, and we will return to
"I have eaten beef of old shorthorn cows, that was tender and juicy. It is not with the Holstein cow. We have to get clear of the dairy blood
of our beef production."
Guelph's Spontaneous.
"There is no difference in color, and white ones seem to be good feeders."
In answer to a question the speaker said that a calf should be kept in a barn, and it was not wise to turn them
out on pasture so young.
Mr. Royal Rogers occupied the chair and was quite successful in getting up
a discussion among those present.
Women Also Meet.
The women's Institutes held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Aaron Parkins, president of the local branch. About 25 members were present and a most profitable time was spent. Miss Carter of the Macdonald Institute of Guelph was present and addressed them on "Kitchens, Past and Present." Other contributors, recipes, and suggestions of work that will prove of value to the members. The social side of the meeting was supplied by music and recitations. Mrs. John Seldon is secretary of the branch and the ladies are very anxious that others
come into the good work of the insti-

cultural education and development.
The tariff for the farm, the automobile question, and the giving of iron and steel bounties would be questions of discussing with as much reason d'etre as were similar discussions before the manufacturers.
To this end Mr. E. Lick, Capt. Smith
R. R. Mowbray, James McParlane,
Royal Rogers, Herbert Webster and F.
M. Chapman advocated the formation of a Grange at this point.
They got to work quickly, as Kinsaleers generally do, and over forty signed their willingness to enter at their ordinarily meeting next Monday evening.

The Iron Bounties.
A startling statement to the farmers
was made by Capt. Smith, who claimed that the bounties and bonuses paid to the steel manufacturers in Canada were sufficient to pay the wages of the employees in the business. What would the government say if the farmers asked $1 per head for fattening pork, since they claimed that it did not pay?

CAPITALISTIC FARMING.
Mr. Trethewey's Farm at Weston is Being Brought Into Shape.

Attention is being attracted to Mr.
G. R. Trethewey's farm at Weston, where farming is being conducted from the capitalistic point of view. Upon this splendidly located spot on the banks of the Black River he has erected well-equipped buildings. These constitute the large barn, dairy stables, hog pens, poultry houses, implement sheds and horse stables. They are conveniently located for both railways, which pass
along the southeast corner of the farm,
while electric cars pass the doors.
In this system the return water to the factory principle, and to this end has a large canning factory for tomato preparations, a dairy and extensive greenhouses. With this end in view, he has erected large boilers to supply heat,
power and steam to all the enterprises. The feed is done by few hands to the boilers, which are on the level, is raised automatically to them by a home-made ingenious device which The dairy cows well and the many cows of shorthorn, Holstein and Jersey blood are large, well-cared-for individuals. The feeding is done by few hands because of the convenience of the buildings. No expense was spared to make use of every particle of refuse, and thus the hopes to make farming
even on a large scale with big capital,
pay for the trouble.
The greenhouses already demonstrate the possibilities of vegetable growing under glass. One ripe tomato was picked from his big forced tomato plants on the day of the visit to the Weston farm. Lettuce, shubarb, radishes, onions, etc., are ready for the market
now, under the able direction of the gardener.
A visit to the farm will convince anyone that a most valuable work is being conducted here, the results of which will be of practical benefit to farmers of Ontario.

DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP.
Departing from his usual lectures,
Mr. Drury delivered an eloquent appeal in the evening to people upon the duties of Canadian citizenship. On this subject he said that the country homesick reviewing Canada's great outlook materially, he sought to bring home to those present the great responsibilities of the citizen of today.
The evils of concentrated wealth, forming a privileged aristocracy in this country, threatened democracy, on one hand, while the latent anarchy in the laboring classes loomed up as another danger.
The country is placed in a very momentous period of history," said the speaker. "But these great possibilities
that are opening up on every hand, wherein we see our northern and five of millions of people, with all our unexplored natural resources—these are the great possibilities of our country. Wealth in this country should be evenly distributed, so that it might be said that we had a country where the wealthiest in poor and the poor live in abundance."
He followed with a eulogy of our present government, which, he claimed, was more truly democratic than that of the United States, where they elected a king for four years.

Legislative Party
The danger of partyism was mentioned. Now that the two parties are leaving, the only object of the ins seem-to be to stay in, and the out to get in,
he contended.
As the people thru partyism were not in touch with their representatives,
it remained with the farming classes to remedy the situation. Only he is free and independent.
We are combinations of labor and capital. We seldom go on strike. We never water stock, save live stock. We are laborers and capitalists. Thus we are on neutral grounds—arbiters of the whole situation. How can we arouse ourselves to our glorious heritage of power? I believe we have the means.
Organization for education is the means to the end. We live in an age of organization, and if any class needs it, it is the farmers. Otherwise we have no power, and can give no expression. I believe, moreover, that we can organize and have no more the cheese industry wholly by organizations?
"In my early days I remember seeing the old home-made cheese presses of grandmother. But millions of grandmothers would have done nothing for the industry if organization had not come."
The Grange Will Do It.
Mr. Drury here claimed that this organization was possible thru the Grange, the new Grange, made over
out of the old machinery of the Grange,
with the lively, nerve forces of the late farmers' associations. Thus the needing of the Farmers' Institute turned unexpectedly into a push for the Dominion Grange.
The speaker dealt with the vital importance to them. They would not be a battering organization, but a free and independent body moving to the great end of agri-

This will Keep the Boy on the Farm

It Will Give Him a Real Start in Life

You Needn't Hurry
in Paying For It

QUIT worrying about how you're going to
"give the boy a better chance in life than his father had." Let up wondering how you're going to manage to give him a start.
Fix it so he can make his own start—and have fun doing it. He'll stay on the farm
if you go at it the right way.
This way:
Any normal, healthy boy likes to "fool 'round" with live things—chickens for instance. Make him work at it, and he'll tire of it quick. But give him a little business of his own,—set him to raising chickens on his own hook,— and he won't let up till he makes a success of it.
I can arrange the whole thing for you,—teach your boy how to succeed at poultry-raising for profit,—show him
where to save work and worry doing it,—stand right back of him and coach him along,— and find him a good, quick-cash buyer who will pay the highest prices for all the poultry he raises or the eggs he can sell.

The No. 2
(120-Egg Size)
1008 Peerless
Guaranteed
Incubator
In a word, I will make a BUSINESS poultryman of your boy,—and I don't want a cent for doing it. I want you, for your part, just to help give the boy a start,—like this:
Send for my free book—"When Poultry Pays." That will give you an idea of what there really is in up-to-date poultry raising,—of how much money anybody with hustle and gumption can get out of it.
And the book will tell you what kind of an outfit will get the most money out of poultry, quickest and easiest, and surest,—my Peerless outfit,—the Peerless Guarant-teed Incubator, and the Peerless Brooder.
Then I will tell you just how you can get an outfit for your boy—either the big size (200

eggs in the incubator—200 chicks in the brooder) or the minor size—(120 and 120)— Without paying a cent on the outfit until a year from
now. By the time that first payment is due, the outfit
will have earned far more than it cost, and the boy will know enough about the poultry-raising game to want to stick to it.
I know plenty of young folks who are earning their college money this way,—and learning hard business sense
as well,—learning things that will make them succeed in other lines later in life.
I can show you why that's
so. Write to me and ask me why the Peerless makes a worth-while present that will earn the biggest kind of dividends for you and for the boy,—or for the girl, for that matter. Get the free book.

ENTRANCE OF GRAHAM AND FISHER WELL-TIMED

Applause on Liberal Side Broke Loose Because of By-Election Results.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—(Special.)—There was an echo of the by-elections when Messrs. Graham and Fisher entered the chamber of the minister of marine. Their arrival was well-timed, and the Liberal side broke loose. Mr. Bennett of Simcoe enquired what it cost, but the only answer was, "Ask Ratus."

To offset Conservative charges of extravagance, the minister of marine during his visit to England and France last year, Mr. Finlayson asked for totals and expenditures of Sir Charles Tupper and other ministers of Washington in 1887, and of Sir John Thompson and others at Paris in 1891-2-3.

At the Washington conference, the personal expenses of Sir Charles Tupper amounted to $378, Sir John Thompson spent $169 and Mr. Foster $360. The total for the ministers and their deputies and secretaries was $14,330. At the Paris sittings of the Fisheries Commission, the personal expenses totalled $22,355, of which $7820 was spent by Sir John Thompson and $4425 by Sir Charles Tupper. In addition, some of the expenses were paid by the British government.

Mr. Hughes (King's P.E.I.) learned that specifications and plans for a new ice-breaking steamer for the Strait of Northumberland have been approved by the British admiralty. Plans will be invited immediately, and if the contract is placed at the end of this month, the steamer can be built in a year.

Mr. Graham told Mr. Borden that the report of the Quebec bridge commission would be brought down as early as possible. He was urging its preparation.

Mr. Pugsley told Mr. Huggart that the survey in connection with the Georgian Bay Ship Canal had been completed, and the staff was engaged on plans and estimates. Mr. Huggart said it was important to have the information when the question was taken up next Monday.

Suffered From Heart and Nerve Troubles FOR THE Last Ten Years.

The heart has supplied to it two sets of nerves, one set which quickens, the other which slows its action. The proper action of these nerves, so important to the well-being of the heart, depends upon the general condition of the nervous system. If there be nerve degeneration of any kind it is bound to produce all the various phenomena of heart derangement.

Counsel for the applicant, in arguing for the injunction, declared that the application was made on the ground that the Duffin organization had brought discredit on the Salvation Army of the United States.
