Morning Cotton Letter

New York, Jan. 23.—The census report published yesterday morning made it practically certain that the commercial crop of this season will not exceed 10,000,000 bales. When the cotton trade of the world as revealed by the average estimates of the Liverpool and New York cotton-exchange last November was looking for a cotton crop of about 11,500,000 bales, New York contracts were selling around 15 cents. Following the government estimate of 10,000,000 bales, which was considered as pointing to a commercial crop of about the figure indicated by yesterday's census bureau, the market had a further advance of practically 1/4 cent per pound.

BANKERS TELL GRAFT SECRETS
 Offers Made to Have Their Institutions Made Depositories by Pittsburg
 Sum of $17,500 Demanded From One Banker as Price of Selection But He Refused to Pay—Millionaire Held for Grand Jury

Pittsburg, Jan. 24.—Two bankers have turned state's evidence in the graft case and testified to the part they took in spending $25,000 of a bank's money to influence members of council. At the close of the hearing in Commercial Court, held by Frank F. Nicola, Max G. Leslie and Charles Stewart for court, each giving a bond of $10,000, except Leslie, who was held under $15,000 bail.

Frank A. Griffin, former vice-president of the Columbia National Bank, testified that early in 1908, he met Frank F. Nicola, a millionaire real estate dealer, in the Duquesne Club. He suggested that if the Columbia Bank wished to continue as a city depository the bank would have to pay $17,500 to be selected. Griffin replied that he would have to speak to President Jennings about it.

Jennings, Griffin and Nicola met Councilman Charles Stewart at Nicola's office the following day. Griffin was introduced to Councilman Stewart, who told him that he was expected to pay $17,500 if he wanted his bank named as a city depository. Griffin said his bank would not pay the price and negotiations were ended.

Griffin also testified that after his recent arrest Nicola had called him on the telephone and asked him if he had "given him away" to the district attorney.

E. C. Jennings, president of the Columbia National Bank, corroborated the testimony of Griffin, and said that he had advised Nicola, at the meeting in the Duquesne Club, that he would not pay anything to get the city's depository. Jennings continued:

"I told Nicola what he had to do with the business of councils in selecting the city's depositories. Nicola laughed and said: 'That's all right.'"

On this testimony Stewart and Nicola were held on the charge of soliciting a bribe.

The charge of perjury against Max G. Leslie was sustained by the evidence of Luther Mendenthal, assistant to the district attorney, who testified that on March 19, 1909, Leslie appeared before the grand jury and testified that he had never received the sum of $22,500 and $2,500 from the Columbia Bank, which he had given him for that amount.

Thomas M. Jones, assistant cashier of the Columbia Bank, testified that on June 2, 1909, Leslie appeared at the bank and offered his check for $22,500, which was paid him by order of Vice-President Griffin and John L. Leslie.

The prizes donated for the policemen's sports are to be displayed in C. & E. Roberts's window this evening. There are about 100 in all.

Counterfeit United States dimes are being circulated. The spurious coins are bright and rather roughly finished, and fail to "ring" when dropped.

The appraisers of the damage in the Dock street fire on Sunday afternoon have not yet made their report. It is stated, however, that the loss on the building will exceed the insurance by about $1,000. The insurance on the building was $4,000.

Bear in mind the illustrated lecture by the Rev. David Hutchinson on his trip through the British Isles, which will be delivered in the "Temple Building" at 8 o'clock this evening. This is one of the best offerings for an evening entertainment. The Victoria Street orchestra will be in attendance. 123-1.

James A. Kelly, residing in Protection street, west side, was severely injured this morning while working on the steamer Hoopman at Sand Point. He and a couple of gangs of men were shifting the passenger gang plank, when it slipped and fell striking him on the back, injuring him internally.

About fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCurdy, called at their home, 274 Brussels street, last night and surprised them pleasantly by presenting Mr. McCurdy with a handsome gold signet ring in honor of his birthday. The presentation was made by Dr. Knodden and Mr. McCurdy made a suitable reply. A pleasant evening was spent.

In the immigration building, West side, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, two natives of Sweden were united in marriage by a local pastor. Their names are Christian and Anna Larsson, and their ages thirty-eight and thirty. They arrived in this city yesterday on the S. S. Hesperian. After the wedding they will journey to the west to make their home.

In the police court this morning, Michael Donovan was remanded on a charge of drunkenness. Policeman McCollum said that he was called to the home of the prisoner's mother last night and that he found that the defendant had been creating a disturbance there, so he arrested him. On Saturday night also the man had been causing a disturbance in the house. His Honor remanded Donovan, saying he would consider whether to impose a penalty of six months without a fine or not.

TAKE EXPERT KNOWLEDGE TO FARMERS
 Minnesota State Agricultural Instruction Direct to The Farms
 Establishment of a Number of Demonstration Farms of Eighty Acres Each—The Plan Detailed in its Practical Working Out

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 25.—Arrangements have been closed by which for the first time the expert instruction of the Minnesota state agricultural college will be carried out in the form of a series of demonstration farms, through the establishment, under the supervision of the Minnesota State Agricultural College, of twelve demonstration farms serving twelve general districts. Plans are being completed for the establishment of six additional farms, making a total of twenty on which during the entire coming season the farmers will be instructed in the latest and most modern methods of cropping the tract as a whole.

Each 80 Acres
 Each of the demonstration farms will be eighty acres in extent, and the entire farming operations of the year will be handled by the farmer in the district, demonstrating proper methods by plowing, cultivating, caring for the crop and harvesting, introducing a complete system of farm accounting, and the use of the tractor to a great extent which has not been done before. Each farm will show in the fall to a cent what profits have been made.

The crops to be put on the various farms will be such as will best serve the needs of the localities where the farms are located. Where corn culture is neglected or insufficiently understood, corn will be planted. Where grain farming is not up to the standard of the tracts will be planted to wheat. The general plan of giving the farmers instruction along the lines where they are weakest will be followed, and the demonstration farms will be used in a general campaign to raise the standards of farm methods and production both.

Each farm will be under the supervision of a Minnesota commercial club, which contracts in advance to provide necessary implements and tools, and to supply labor and equipment, and to gather together each time the expert visits the district, all the various varieties of Minnesota crops which are raised. As the work is done, question the experts and gain from what they see of the actual work of the farmer. Following each visit of the experts, farmers will be employed and the reasons why. Following each visit of the experts, farmers will be employed and the reasons why.

Prof. Boss will carry on the active work of the demonstration farms. He will be assisted by the various varieties of Minnesota crops which are raised. As the work is done, question the experts and gain from what they see of the actual work of the farmer.

RAILROAD YARD TWO MILES UNDER GROUND
 Blasted Out of Solid Rock, is Fully Equipped and Cars are Run by Electricity

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 25.—Blasted out of the solid rock, two miles underground, in the heart of a mountain near Mullan, Idaho, is a fully equipped railroad yard with electrically propelled cars handling the rich lead-silver ore produced by the Morning mine owned by the Federal Mining & Smelting Co. The work, just completed under the direction of Charles K. Cartwright, required more than a year and involved the expenditure of several hundreds of thousands of dollars and the labor of many men.

The yard, which is the only one of its kind in the northwest and the largest in America, is 200 feet in length and 30 feet in width, the height ranging from 20 to 100 feet. The electrical apparatus, hoisting machinery and boilers are in a chamber, 20 by 78 feet and 20 feet high, while the rear of the four-compartment shaft, now under construction, is an ore bin, 20 by 28 feet and 50 feet high, with a capacity of 500 tons. The shaft will be sunk to a depth of 2,500 feet.

The foremost mining experts in Spokane and in the west, who are now at the Federal agency, which is controlled by the Guggenheim interests, is expending a fortune in deep mining work in proof of faith in the permanence and richness of the ore deposits at great depth in the Coeur d'Alene district.

The work has received interest in the district, which produced about 40 per cent of the total lead output of the United States in 1898, and indications are that many properties which have been idle for years will be put in place for active operation during the coming year. There is also renewed interest in placer mining in that and other parts of northern Idaho.

"The remaining $250,000 is to be paid to Virginia P. Bacon. If she does not pay my son, then this sum is to go to St. Thomas's church for the East Side Mission Fund."

BOOMING ST. JOHN

The Canadian Club, during the period of its existence, has done much to broaden the outlook of the citizens of St. John. Its members have been enabled to hear great questions of national and imperial interest discussed by men of national and imperial renown.

A PANSY BLOSSOM

Strange things come to the desk of the editor. Here, on the 25th day of January, comes from a Douglas Avenue garden a tall blown pansy, with the following note: Editor of the Times: Sir—This is a sample of what I found in the garden this morning. Can send you a bouquet if you wish.

SIR WILFRID'S POSITION

The Times commends to thoughtful Canadians this extract from an address by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Ottawa yesterday: "In the province of Quebec," he said, "I am being attacked by the Conservative party in alliance with the Nationalists for going too far on the naval question. I am denounced in my own province as a traitor to my race. In the province of Ontario I am being denounced as a traitor to the British crown. There is as much truth in one charge as in the other."

THE INTERCOLONIAL

The attempt to bring about the lease of the Intercolonial Railway to a company has been revived. The gentlemen who desire to bring about this change, who would be desirous to the best interests of the maritime provinces, have secured several spokesmen from Nova Scotia, where the project was launched. The statements made by Dr. Black, M. P., are amazing in their inaccuracy, and people are led to wonder what the real purpose of the agitators may be.

BRITISH ELECTIONS

Mr. Balfour, in an address which is reported in today's special cable to the Times from London, virtually throws up the sponge so far as the present election contest in Britain is concerned, but repeats that the issues are not decided. He declares that tariff reform must eventually be resorted to, and that the old free trade order is changing and must give way to a new system of raising revenue and cementing the bonds of empire.

INCOME TAX LAW IN SWEDEN. Consul General E. D. Winslow, of Stockholm, summarizes the working of the Swedish income tax law. The progressive income tax now in force, and apparently working satisfactorily, took effect in 1903. The value of incomes taxed that year amounted to about $100,000,000, while the incomes taxed in 1907 rose to $200,000,000. A total of 234,000 corporations, financial institutions, banks and individuals paid the tax, which, being a graded one and divided into eight groups, yielded to the state about $4,500,000. Private individuals whose incomes are below $270 are exempt, but over that amount to $540 the tax begins in the first group. Of this first group there were 223,991 persons who paid. In the last group, covering the incomes over $27,000, only 296 persons were subject to it, but they paid over $500,000.

THE WELCOME

Come in the evening or come in the morning. Come when you're looked for, or come without my warning. Kisses and welcome you'll find here before you. And the oftener you come here the more I'll adore you. Light is my heart since the day we were plighted. Red is my cheek that they told me was blighted. The green of the trees looks far greener than ever. And the linnets are singing, "True lovers don't sever!"

I'll pull you sweet flowers to wear if you choose them. Or, after you've kissed them, they'll lie on my bosom. I'll fetch from the mountain its breeze to inspire you. I'll fetch from my fancy a tale that won't tire you. Of your step's like the rain to the summer-wedded farmer. Or about and shield to a knight without armor. I'll sing you sweet songs till the stars rise above me. Then, wandering, I'll wish you, in silence, to love me.

We'll look through the trees at the cliff and the eye. We'll tread round the path on the track of the fairy. We'll look on the stars, and we'll list to the river. Till you ask of your darling what gift you can give her. O, she'll whisper you, "Love is unchanged ably beaming. And trust, when in secret, most tenderly steaming. Till the sunlight above us shall quiver and quiver. As our souls flow as one down eternity's river."

So come in the evening or come in the morning. Come when you're looked for, or come without my warning. Kisses and welcome you'll find here before you. And the oftener you come here the more I'll adore you. Light is my heart since the day we were plighted. Red is my cheek that they told me was blighted. The green of the trees looks far greener than ever. And the linnets are singing, "True lovers don't sever!" —Thomas Davis.

WOMAN POLICE

OFFICER TO ACT IN JUVENILE CASES Spokane, Wash., Jan. 25—John T. Sullivan, chief of police department of Spokane, has accepted the recommendation of Mrs. B. H. Mason, assistant state labor commissioner in Washington, and will appoint a woman as a police officer to take care of juvenile cases, visiting parks, theatres and dance halls. The new officer will have a star, and power to make arrests, but she will not be obliged to wear a regulation uniform or carry a night-stick. Knowledge of conditions, tact and alertness, it is announced, will count for more than size and strength, but it is expected that the candidates for the job will have to pass the civil service examination. Twenty years' service entitles the officer to pension at half pay for the remainder of her life. This pension is also paid to male officers for similar service. Chief Sullivan says if the experiment to get on the police force in Spokane is anything like it was at Seattle and Tacoma, which have women on their staffs, the cash will be greater than any bargain-counter combat ever pulled off in any city in the commonwealth.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

There are few people who have never experienced a headache from one cause or another. It effects all ages and both sexes alike, but the female sex is naturally the more effected through the higher nervous development, and more delicate organization of the system. Those also of a nervous temperament and studious or sedentary occupation are subject to it. The presence of headache nearly always tells us that there is another disease which, although we may not be aware of it, is still exerting its baneful influence, and perhaps awaiting an opportunity to assert itself plainly.

Burdock Blood Bitters has, for years, been curing all kinds of headaches, and if you will only give it a trial we are sure it will do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

Dr. Black's Resolution Brings Subject Before Parliament—New Brunswick M. P.'s Contrast Excellent Service and Low Rates With Other Railways

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—The house of commons was asked today to say that the Intercolonial should be disposed of. The proposal came from Dr. Black, of Nova Scotia. It was stoutly resisted by several of the members from New Brunswick. The hour for adjournment was reached before the house could be asked to divide upon the resolution but assurance was given by the government that there would be opportunity given to bring the matter up again.

DR. D. H. McALISTER, M. P.

Hon. Mr. Graham stated that a representation having been made to him on the subject he had instructed his superintendent of maintenance of way to go over the Intercolonial from Sydney to Montreal and that official had reported within the past few days that every foot of the road, so far as he could find, was in good condition.

Dr. Black's Resolution Dr. Black, of Hants (N. S.), offered a resolution declaring: "That in the opinion of the house it would be in the best interest of the maritime provinces and for the general good of Canada that the Intercolonial be operated and controlled by one of the companies operating the Canadian transcontinental lines, or by such other company as may afford the best facilities for the development of the country."

Dr. Black said his motive in moving the resolution was his interest in the development of the maritime provinces. He believed certain members would speak against the resolution who were at heart in favor of it. Like the question of Newfoundland, that of leasing the Intercolonial was a very delicate one for politicians to discuss.

F. B. CARVELL, M. P.

He regretted that some of the maritime newspapers had gone off half-cock on the subject. One newspaper had said that to lease the railway would be a confession that the Liberal government had failed to administer the Intercolonial successfully. He thought the sooner the confession was made the better. There had been no government since confederation that had administered the I. C. R. satisfactorily and they never would be a government that would manage the road in the interests of the country. It was impossible under the circumstances by which they were bound to adopt modern business lines. A Montreal newspaper had shouted "Hands off the people's railway." He assured the Maritime people that if the Intercolonial were leased the I. C. R. city would become more prosperous than it was now.

entertaining and he received much applause from both sides of the house. Mr. Pickup, of Annapolis, favored the transfer of the Intercolonial and the branch lines to one of the great transcontinental lines. Mr. MacKenzie, of Cape Breton, said there was room for only one main line of railway in Nova Scotia, as the province was narrow. In his constituency the complaint was not that they had too much intercolonial, but too little. If the line was extended the people would have no complaint against it, and if it was the policy of the government that the Intercolonial should not be extended then he would take it from the management of the government and turn it over to a corporation which would extend it.

The section of the line in Cape Breton was one of the most profitable in Canada. Mr. MacKenzie, of Cape Breton, said that the Intercolonial was a valuable asset to the province and that it should not be given up. He would take it from the management of the government and turn it over to a corporation which would extend it.

Mr. Carvell, of Carleton, commencing at 5.30, said there were but three corporations which could take over the Intercolonial. They were the C. P. E., the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern. Before members from the maritime provinces highly advocated handing over the Intercolonial to any of these lines they should stop and consider the consequences. When they were advocating that, they were advocating cutting down the accommodation to the people by a third or a half.

There were no people better served by a railroad, in proportion to their number, than those along the line of the Intercolonial. From Halifax to Truro there were seven trains a day each way; from Truro to Moncton six trains a day each way; through Quebec and northern New Brunswick there were from four to five trains a day each way. Corporation railroads did not give such accommodation. The best part of New Brunswick was from St. John to Woodstock and there the Canadian Pacific had only two trains a day. The best part of Nova Scotia was from Digby to Halifax, through the Annapolis Valley, and there the Dominion Atlantic gave only two trains a day. The Canadian Pacific ran fewer trains on the North Shore of the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Quebec than were run by the Intercolonial from Montreal to Lewis.

MR. BAXTER MAKES BROTTEST IN COURT

Not Notified in Time, He Says—Evidence in the Copper Stealing Case. Hearing was continued this morning in the police court in the case of Robert Mc-Grath, charged with stealing a quantity of copper from the warehouse of J. S. Gregory, Portland.

FAVORABLE NAMED

Rev. S. W. Anthony and Rev. J. Charles B. Apps, who have been carrying on the canvass for the guaranteed fund in connection with the evangelistic campaign—the former in the south end and the latter in the north end—are much gratified with the cordial reception and generous response that has been accorded them.

FATHER MATHEW ASSOCIATION

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Father Mathew Association last night. A committee was appointed to arrange for the opening of a series of debates, probably in a couple of weeks. The smoker next Monday has been postponed until the following Monday.

$25.00 For The Best Suggestion To Boost St. John

The contest will close on January 31. Try to suggest something practical. The award will be made by independent judges. Address 'Suggestion,' Box 14, The Times, St. John.

LUMBERMEN

SEE NO CAUSE FOR A PANIC

Would Like More Snow, Though—Southern Part of Province A One Affected

The recent rains and mild weather have interfered somewhat with lumbering operations in the province. In the lower sections the snow has practically disappeared. In the northern sections of the province work is still going on, though the thaw has made it more difficult. Several of the local lumbermen this morning agreed that, while conditions were unsatisfactory, the outlook was not serious.

RUPERT TO RUN TO CONNECT WITH AMERICAN BOAT?

Special Service With Yarmouth Also on Bay Route Rumored—New Boston Quarters for Eastern Steamship Co.

The latest steamship rumor is that instead of the Eastern S.S. Co. running their boats direct between Boston and Digby next summer that the D.A.R. will run the S.S. Rupert during the tourist season to connect with the Eastern boats in St. John, forwarding their passengers to Digby at once, and that another boat, probably the S.S. Yarmouth, will also cross the bay every day with the passengers, mail, freight, etc., which usually travels by rail.
