Quebee, Sept. 18—The first body to be recovered in the Quebec bridge disaster was found floating at noon off the pier at Stromuald, a mile from the bridge site. It was that of Cyrille Bernier of Levis, who was last seen jumping from the south shore cantilever arm, when the centre span crashed down into the river. The body was mangled and could be identified only by the trousers. A Levis tailor recognized them as those he made for Bernier some time ago. The coroner's inquest will be opened tomorrow, Tuesday morning, at ten-thirty, in St. Romuald. The inquest will be held in the Quebec court house.

It is the intention of the attorney-general to go into the matter deeply. The bodies of two men were seen floating with the ebb tide yesterday afternoon.

(Special to Times.)

The opposition party has just discovered a plot of government men to de-prive the Carleton county boys in the 140th of votes in this election. A telegram from Valcartier to F. B. Carvell says "Passes and transportation have been granted to government supporters as per list furnished by higher authority. At 6.30 p. m. today we received your message and at once submitted list of opposition supporters to O. C. battalion, and it was turned down as he has no authority to grant pass to any whose names were not on the original list."

Mr. Carvell at once telegraphed the contents of this message to the authorities and demanded that all the electors from Carleton county be treated alike. When Col. Beer, the officer commanding the 140th, was in Woodstock last week he said that his battalion expected to go overseas soon and no more passes would be given. It was intimated to him thehe government would be permitted to c he said, "will be given except over my earnest protest." Wounded Expected

I visited the institution the other day but found that there were very few patients. So far, the soldiers wounded in the terrific fighting now raging on the whole Russian front, have not yet been brought so far inland as Moscow, although the institutions have been kept in readiness. The organization in connection with the Russian camplaign is something hitherto unknown. Every arrangement was made well in advance to care for great numbers of owneded. On the grounds of the Neva Stearine Works, an English tennis club has courts and club rooms. In addition, there is a large-sized athletic field.

At the time of my visit I saw numbers of convalescent soldiers hobbling about and a few of them were trying to play some kind of a ball game. Among them was an urchin of nine years who had been wounded near Grodno, which was the scene of heavy fighting. One hears many stories here of young boys in the war area. One youngster of 14 years frequently visited the Moscow British hospital and talked with the wounded. One day he disappeared. After some weeks there came a note with the words: "Don't ask where I am; I am quite well." He is now reported to have been seriously wounded and a prisoner of war in Austria.

Kingsley and E. Downing of Fredericton, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Macauley, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Macauley and George Waterbury of St. John, N.B. British manufacturing establishments in Moscow are busily employed working on munitions for the Russian government. Most of the plants are guarded by troops, although these men are impatient to get to the front. After all, there is much of the spirit of the volunteer found among the Russian soldies, especially the Cossacks.

A unit of 150 Don Cossacks is now encamped on the grounds of the Neva Stearine Works. They form a solt of Moscow patrol. These men wear uniforms very similar to those of the Russian eavairy, but can be distinguished by a broad red stripe on the side of their riding breeches. Then, too, their lats are worn at a perilous angle over the right ear, which permits a shock of hair to protrude at the other side.

Among the Cossack's horses is one heavy animal, blind in one eye. This is a German horse and a prisoner of war. He nearly gave away the whole regiment on a recent occasion. The Cossacks were in a wood in East Prussia when the animal scented his old regiment and made a dash for the German fire.

Bombs on German Station.

London, Sept. 18.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says that four giant Russian aeroplanes bombarded a German East Angern, in the Gulf of Riga, where seventeen scaplanes of various sizes and models were discerned. The Russians dropped seventy-three bombs, with resultant fire and smoke, which soon concealed the Russian machines, but were soon put to flight with machine guns. During the bombing and air fight not fewer than eight German machines were destroyed or put out of action. The Russian aeroplanes returned safely notwithstanding they were shelled by anti-air-traff guns.

Mr. Sprague admitted that he got the $5,000 and the $2,500 from Carter, but said that he had approached him just the same as he approached other men for contributions. "Just the same as I approached A. M. Nanton, G. F. Galt, E. F. Hutchings, and lots of other men." Mr. Sprague, who appeared in the uniform of a captain of the Canadian army, said he could not remember many of the details of his visits to Carter for campaign contributions. He thought Carter's contributions. He thought Carter's contribution a liberal one, and he had handed over the money to the election committee. Members of the committee were W. J. Boyd, W. J. Bulman, G. V. Hastings, and W. J. Christie.

The $15,000 payments made after Hon. Mr. Rogers moved to Ottawa were contributions to the Provincial Conservatives' Campaign Fund. Dr. R. M. Simpson was the recipient. On July 9, 1913, $5,000 was paid and similar amounts on November 6, 1913, and March 13, 1914. Winnipeg, Sept. 18—W. H. Carter, of the contracting firm of Carter, Halls and Aldinger, gave interesting evidence before the Agricultural College Commission yesterday. His firm had contracts for much of the york on the Agricultural College. The contract for the power house was under investigation. The Carter firm tendered to erect the power house was under investigation. The Carter firm tendered to erect the power house was under investigation. The Carter firm tendered to erect the power house tender. Subsequently while the work was in process of construction Hon. Robert Rogers; then Manitoba's minister of public works, telephoned Carter and asked him if he had not made a mistake in his tender for the power house, as he had done on the administration building upon which his firm had lost approximately $20,000.

Rogers Would Help Him Out.

Mr. Rogers told Carter that he thought the government could help him out. The result was a revision of the contract figures while the power house was in course of construction and an increase of $8,700 in the price being allowed. This would still leave the contract price $2,420 under the hext lowest tender. These seem to be the facts. What makes the increase in the price look suspicious is that Carter during the progress of the work made contributions.

A recent cable from London is to the effect that among the Canadian officers who were recently sent to England after having been wounded is Captain R. H. Willians. He left St. John as a major with the 69th Battalion and, after arriving in England, dropped his major's rank and crossed to France as a trench inspector.

Seven young men, well known in St.
John, left yesterday at noon for England where they will immediately be absorbed in the C. E. F. on their arrival. The officers were as follows: Lieutenants H. O. Evans, L. M. Ritchie, G. A. Hubbard, F. J. P. Travers, Guy Dowling, Whooten and Charles Grannan.

Mrs. J. Walter Holly received a cablegram yesterday from her son, Lieut, James W. Holly, of the 106th Nova Scotia Battalion, to the effect that he was leaving England immediately for France for active service.

A WISE MOTHER'S STORY

Mothers and Daughters Read Carefully and Profit by It

"I am convinced," writes Mrs. A. B. Hopeford from St. John, "that a majorition do so because their mothers neglected their health at the critical time when carefulness insures vigor and sound health. If a girl's health is neglected from her eleventh to sixteenth year her body will be weak and she becomes a ready victim of typhoid, anaemia, and in many cases consumption itself. In her sixteenth year my youngest daughter ahowed signs of failing strength. Some dyspeptic troubles developed, her heart became weak and palpitation frightened her dreadfully. She was irregular in the important bodily functions and rapid loss in a weight and a ruddy complexion pointed to a rapid decline.

"She distilized making her troubles known to our doctor, a feeling if left I should respect, and so by good fortune I was led to use Ferrosone with most gratifying results. My neighbor next door, Mrs. Woods, had found Ferrosone so good in nervousaess that she persuade ad me that it would restore Flossle's health, and from the time the second box was commenced her improvement was constant. She is now a big, strong girl, ruddy and plump, able to study hard and to take her share of household duttes. I am an earnest advocate of Ferrosone. We all use it now as a tonic as it is certainly a woman's best friend."

All dealers sell Ferrosane, 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.0; procure a supply today.

has been given charge of a company of 60 men.

He writes his mother, Mrs. A. F. Goodrich, that he has had several encounters in the air in the last two months, as he has been going many miles over the enemy country, and beyond getting a few holes in his machine he has had his usual good luck.

"The Royal Flying Corps, unlike the French and German Flying Corps, makes it a rule never to publish the number of machines brought down by individual pilots," writes Capt. Goodrich. "And it is quite right, too, we think. It is an unpleasant thing to have to shoot a man down and perhaps see him fall in flames, hardy the thing to gloat over like a horse race. I am sure I have no desire to be held up as a man who has shot down his 'umpteenth enemy machine; though it has been my unpleasant duty to bring down a few more.

"You wanted to know how Immelmann was finally brought down. He tried his old game of diving on one of our machines while it was being engaged by several others. Unfortunately for Immelmann, another of our machines was behind watching for just such a move. Before he could get away he was shot down and killed. We were sorry to learn that he had been killed, for we had hoped to bring him down alive on our side and make him a prisoner, for we all admired his ability us a pilot.

"I had the honor to drop a wreath for him from the members of our squadron We subscribed for it, attached a card inscribed: "To Lieut. Immelmann, a brave and able opponent, from the R. F. C.," and I took it over one afternoon and dropped it by parachute on one of the aerodromes. They shelled me all the way over and back, but did no damage. I was acknowledged later in the German papers. Several other squadrons also dropped wreaths."

LABOR AND WAGES mechanics as well as laborers. I doubt that, and would like to know what wages are offered. If laborers can get $2.50 a day (are they getting it). I presume mechanics would get more. What sort of a job was it, and what were the wages, when fifteen men left it one after another to get better jobs? I believe another to get better jobs? I believe if employers would advertise the kind of work and the wages paid, they could get men, if the wages paid, they could get men, if the wages were right.

THE RIGHT HELP

I kope my letter may be the means of helping some other suffering woman. When was 16 years old I caught cold and had suppression for twe months. I got se weak I could scarce-the stairs. I went to two doctors, then my mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I never had any more trouble and got strong fast. Then I took it again befere my little girl was born and it helped me a good deal and I give the Compound the credit for it. Then this spring I felt very badly again, but I took the Compound and have been well all summer. I cannot be grateful enough for your medicine." — Mrs. HAROLD M. Saturday's games in the National League did not change the positions of the three leading teams, Brooklyn and Boston each winning a single and the Phillies a double header. The Dodgers are leading the Phillies by one game and a half and the Braves by three and a half. They have, however, played one more game than the Phillies and five more than the Braves. aore than the Braves.

Alexander added another win to Alexander added another win to his list by defeating the Cubs in the first game of a double header. He held them runless until the eighth inning.

The Giants continue to win and have tucked away ten games without meeting with a defeat. If it was earlier in the season, McGraw would be attracting more attention with his warriers.

Rudolph pitched a great game for the Braves on Saturday, holding the St. Louis nine to five scattered hits and shutting them out until the ninth inning. shutting them out until the ninth in If big Bill James was only there to take his turn, Boston would have a walk away.

In the American League, Ty Cobb, Hugh Jennings and Company are leading as a result of a double victory over Philadelphia, while the Red Sox were splitting a double header in Chicago.

Johnson Wins 25 Games

Walter Johnson has followed Grover Cleveland Alexander over the quarter century mark in games won, thereby again proving himself the most valuable boxman in the American League.

Johnson has had more defeats charge.

National League, Ty Cobb, Hugh Jennings and Company are leading as a result of a double victory over Philadelphia, while the Red Sox were splitting a double header in Chicago. This is the first time that the Tigers have been in the lead this year, and the great question of the day is, will they be able to keep out in front until the end of the race. It is a safe bet that they will if Ty Cobb's hitting and base running will do it.

RETURNED TO ST. JOHN BY EXTRAORDINARY SPECIAL REQUEST

EDITH STOREY, GEORGE C. STANLEY, WM. D. TAYLOR, GEORGE HOLT AND MYRTLE GONZALES

This is one of the most wonderful productions of its kind ever filmed. It teems with exciting incidents, thrilling situations, sensational riding and unexpected climaxes. One of the most spectacular feats ever shown on the screen is when the hero escapes and rides across an arrow foot bridge some hundred feet from the earth at full speed. It's a story of love, war, intrigue and adventure, and will hold you riveted to your seat from the title to the closing scene.

A BIG WINTER

There are thirteen children in the Home. Some were about to be sent out to foster homes and others were to be brought in. Now the house is practically quarantined and the matron will probably have to deal with thirteen cases of whooping cough, among children nearly all of whom were ill-nourished when they entered the Home. To continue taking in children would be to welcome each new-comer with a probable attack of whooping cough, and make a special nurse a necessity. It is, however, worthy of note that proper care in the Home unquestionably saved the life of one of the children that had whooping cough when taken there.

Of course the most serious result of the present condition of affairs is the interference with the society's work, which as yet has only touched the fringe of the problem of child welfare in St. John; but there is another consideration. If there is no hospital accommodation in St. John
