Fighting Now Is Almost Upon Belgian Border

Battle on Allies' Left Still Continues With Great Violence

Complete Check, With Heavy Loss, For German Offensive on the Nemiën—Report of One German Cruiser and Several Smaller War Vessels Being Sunk

Paris, Oct. 7.—(3:08 p.m.)—The following official communication as given out in Paris this afternoon:

On our left wing the battle still continues with great violence. The opposite fronts extend into the region between Lenz (nine miles northeast of Arras), and La Bassée (13 miles southeast of Lille), and are lengthened by masses of cavalry which are in grips as far as the vicinity of Armentières (nine miles northwest of Lille) and virtually to the Belgian frontier.

On the front extending from the Somme to the Meuse, there is nothing to report.

In the Woëvre district the enemy made a new effort to stop progress, but his attacks again failed.

In Russia the German army defeated in the battle of Augustow, which lasted from Sept. 25 to Oct. 3, endeavored to arrest the Russian pursuit at prepared positions along the line of the Wirbalna frontier.

At Lyck the Russian troops continue their advance, and several places they have penetrated into East Prussia. To sum up, a German offensive on the Nemiën has been brought to an end by complete check accompanied by very considerable losses.

GERMAN DESTROYER SUNK

London, Oct. 7.—(3:13 p.m.)—The Central News has announced that a British submarine has sunk a German torpedo boat destroyer in the Ems estuary.

A despatch received here from Amsterdam says that a German torpedo boat destroyer is reported to have been sunk by a mine off a river, Ems, between the Netherlands and east Friesland, in the North Sea.

GERMAN CRUISER AND GUNBOATS REPORTED SUNK

Tokio, Oct. 7.—The belief was expressed today at the War Office at the German cruiser Cormoran and two other German gunboats had been sunk in Kiao Choo Bay.

The Japanese army has occupied the Shan-Tung railroad as far as Chi-Nan.

CHINIANS BEATEN, SAYS ENEMY

London, Oct. 7.—It is officially announced from Huzar, Hungary, that Austro forces have been heavily engaged with Russians since Monday, at a point at Tecos. Thus telegraphs the Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter. The title came to an end near Kosrossava with complete victory for the Austrians.

ATE REPORT FROM BERLIN

Berlin, Oct. 7. (By wireless to Sydney, N. S. W.)—The British announcement concerning the laying of mines in the southern part of the North Sea is published in Berlin this morning. Commenting on this measure it was pointed out that it virtually closes the channel to neutral shipping and that this belt of mines, stretching between Ostend and Oostend, constitutes an effective, although unofficial blockade of the ports of Holland.

The German Admiralty has reiterated its declaration that German mines were laid only along the coast of Great Britain.

News received here today from Antwerp sets forth that the German big guns have advanced to new positions for the bombardment of the inner line of forts. The military critic of the Lokal Anzeiger expresses the opinion that a heavy bombardment will be necessary before a breach in the closely linked fortifications can be made. He says desperate sorties may be expected.

MRS. A.E. WHITWORTH GETS NEWS FROM HUSBAND IN FIGHTING LINE IN FRANCE

Brussels Street Man is With The Worcestershire Regiment, One Which Suffered Severely—Card Brings Word That He is All Right

Right here from the great battlefield of Europe, carrying with each a terse though welcome message and bearing marks of the censor's seal, two post-cards have been received in the city by the wife of one of the men who, hearing the call of the motherland, hesitated not to go gallantly to her defence.

Mrs. Albert E. Whitworth, of 201 Brussels street, in a manner the happiest woman in the city today in receipt of the cards. Her husband left here about the first of last month, soon after the declaration of war, and joined his own unit in England, the Worcestershire regiment.

For a month his wife, who he left with her two small children, waited for some word and not a line came until the day on which her husband sailed for France. Then came another long silence, alternately lightened by hopes and darkened by awful fears for his safety, and then the terrible news that the regiment to which he had belonged had been almost entirely wiped out and that Monday, when the card telling of his safety was received, the interval was one of awful suspense.

The cards received were posted, one on Sept. 9 and the other on Sept. 21, but where they were sent from is not shown. The censor's marks cover the greater portion of one on which the sender evidently endeavored to let his wife know his whereabouts. The post-mark reads "Army Post Office 28, Sept. 21" and under it the portion of the message, unobscured by the censor reads, "Arrived at (censored) France. All right. Love to you and the children."

The other card bears the same post-mark with the date Sept. 21, and the soldier evidently learned of the censor's methods and wrote the simple sentence, "Just a line to say that I am all right, Bert." There was, however, pencilled in one corner in a different handwriting "Worcester Regiment, British Expeditionary Forces," followed by a strange hieroglyphic, which resembled three or four initials.

Although Mrs. Whitworth is still anxious about her husband's safety, she is glad to hear that he is all right. She has been almost entirely wiped out and that Monday, when the card telling of his safety was received, the interval was one of awful suspense.

The cards received were posted, one on Sept. 9 and the other on Sept. 21, but where they were sent from is not shown.

SIGNALLERS FROM HERE HONORED

Two of Them in Honor Posts on Transport—A Letter From Local Man

In a letter to a friend in St. John, written on board the steamship Franconia, before the Canadian contingent sailed for the front, Signaller Irving D. Appleby tells of an honor conferred upon four members of the old St. John Signal Section.

"It was decided some time ago that there should be four signalers for official signal duty on each transport, to communicate with the ships on the voyage. Naturally there were hundreds of flag-wavers and helio-artists who wanted to have this honor. The authorities selected four here and four there, picking up men from various parts of Canada; but when it came to the big Franconia, the official headquarters boat, and flagstaff of the fleet for this voyage, they came to Major Tom Powers of the old St. John Signal Section and asked for four of us to do the work. I was one of the lucky four, the names of the others being C. H. MacDonald, H. R. Large and H. H. Whitlock. Large and Whitlock are from Charlottetown, P. E. I., but transferred to the St. John section when the war broke out. We are admirably quartered here, having staterooms beneath the bridge where our work will be, and we dine with the officers.

"No. 2 Section, ever since winning the honors at the first review and the championship at despatch riding, has borne the nickname of 'Power's Post.' The Franconia bears a distinguished company. Besides the higher officers and staff, there are two Red Cross nurses aboard. They are a splendid lot of girls, and make a great appearance in their white uniforms. They are equipped with a high explosive in an attempt to destroy the railway station. So far, this place has not been damaged, but reports suggest that fourteen persons were killed by one of the bombs."

Signaller Appleby writes that the appearance of the sea is quite different from the ordinary military outfit.

Sir Wm. H. P. Carington Was Keeper of King's Privy Purse

London, Oct. 7.—Lieut.-Col. Sir William Henry P. Carington, keeper of His Majesty's privy purse since 1910, was found dead in bed this morning. He was born in 1846.

CHEAP PORKERS
The pork market took a sharp and decisive downward turn yesterday when Captain Auder Haveling of the steamer Ocean, purchased two piglets for twenty cents. That is something which cannot ordinarily be done, and especially not in the days of the war cost of living.

WHEAT HIGHER
Chicago, Oct. 7.—Higher prices at Liverpool led to an advance in the wheat market here today. The European visible supply showed a substantial decrease, and there were unfavorable reports as to seeding in France, Belgium and other countries.

ASIATIC CHOLERA RAGES IN GALICIAN TOWN OF TARNOW
London, Oct. 7.—A despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:—A message from Vienna announces the sudden outbreak of Asiatic cholera in a most violent form at Tarnow, in Galicia. Forty cases, the message says, were reported on Tuesday.

Tarnow, on the Dunajec River, is a town of about 25,000 inhabitants. It is 135 miles west of Lemberg and on the line which the Austrians and Russians are taking on their way to Cracow. Fighting between the Austrians and the Russians near Tarnow has been reported several times recently.

Colonel Hughes Goes To Front To See What Next Canadian Force Should Be Recruiting Here At Once

Local Plans In Connection With Canada's Further Aid To Motherland

Recruiting is to be resumed immediately in St. John and other points in New Brunswick for the second expeditionary force to be sent from Canada to the aid of the Motherland. As announced in the Times some days ago, St. John will figure as a centre of mobilization and there will be no general muster at Valour in the understanding being that the various provinces, of which Halifax and St. John will be the two for the three Atlantic districts.

Fully 1,000 or more men can be comfortably accommodated at Partridge Island even in the severest winter weather. The sheds and other buildings there can be easily arranged to house the men. The army will also be a centre for the housing of the men of the second contingent here.

At Halifax the military quarters can accommodate a large force of men, while if the necessity demands it those joining the colors in New Brunswick can be well taken care of in St. John with a little extra endeavor on the part of the authorities. These two ports would undoubtedly be the centres of embarkation for the whole of Canada if recruiting is continued until well into the winter, unless it be the intention to have a very lengthy course of training in Canada before the second force is transported.

Col. H. H. McLean, M. P., is now on his way to England so that his plans for the equipment of a New Brunswick cavalry regiment to be taken to the other side may either fall to someone else or be left in abeyance until his return.

Orders to Recruit
When Colonel B. R. Armstrong, O. C. 8th regiment C. A. was in Ottawa this week he received authority from the militia department to begin recruiting in St. John. This branch of local details, under the command of Mr. Robinson, who has joined the regiment, with an appointment as provisional lieutenant and who is now making arrangements for the opening of recruiting stations in the army, at West St. John and other centres in the city.

Col. Armstrong said today that the authorities did not expect to have any difficulty in raising a large force of men in New Brunswick, and St. John would contribute many to the ranks. From the battery now established on Partridge Island, it was expected that quite a number would enlist for the foreign duties.

A Fine Start
When in the course of the daily training a few weeks ago the men of the permanent company from the 62nd regiment St. John Fusiliers, were asked as to how many of them would be willing to go in foreign service, fifty-six of the fifty-nine on duty stepped forward. This is in reality a nucleus for a second infantry detachment from St. John, and had his plans been successful they would have been included in the infantry regiment to be sent to the front.

Now, the understanding is that cavalry will be a most acceptable detachment in the second contingent, and the offer of more than 800 mounted men from New Brunswick will very likely be taken into serious consideration. The only condition of their volunteering is that they be taken as a unit, so that they would not lose their individuality in the general mobilization.

Some time ago the two New Brunswick cavalry regiments, the 8th Princess Louise Hussars and the 29th N. B. Dragoons offered their services as distinct units for action overseas, but, owing to the limited portion of mounted troops in the first expeditionary force, the horse soldiers from these parts were not taken. Now, the understanding is that cavalry will be a most acceptable detachment in the second contingent, and the offer of more than 800 mounted men from New Brunswick will very likely be taken into serious consideration.

Hon. J. D. Hazen In Meantime War Minister

MAKE-UP OF 2ND CONTINGENT

Likely More Cavalry Than Was Sent in the First Expeditionary Force—Likely to Leave For Europe in December

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 7.—Colonel Sam Hughes is going straight to the firing line in Europe. He wants to see what the character of the fighting is, that he may fit the second Canadian contingent to meet it. While he is away Hon. J. D. Hazen will act as minister of militia.

He will therefore have the administration of the whole machinery of defense on land and sea.

Colonel Hughes expects to be back in time for the second contingent. In fact, though the offer has been made, it has not yet been accepted. There is no doubt, however, that it will be.

The character of the second expeditionary force will be discussed by Lord Kitchener and Colonel Sam Hughes. The Canadian minister of war will see exactly what the conditions are in England and at the front in France. He will be able to organize the second contingent with more certainty that it will be able to meet every need. There will be more cavalry and less artillery than in the first expeditionary force, which took few mounted troops but all the guns. The second expeditionary force will probably sail for Europe about the end of December.

Colonel Hughes expects to be back in time for the second contingent. In fact, though the offer has been made, it has not yet been accepted.

There is no doubt, however, that it will be. The character of the second expeditionary force will be discussed by Lord Kitchener and Colonel Sam Hughes.

DOES ZEPPELIN PLAN A RAID BY AIR ON BRITAIN?

London, Oct. 7.—In a despatch from the Hague the correspondent of the Daily Express says that German newspapers reaching there indicate that Count Zeppelin is now at Wilhelmshaven, on the North Sea, with his staff. Wilhelmshaven is the point from which the great air raid on the British Isles is to start.

One of these papers publishes an interview with the count in which he is quoted as saying he had not forgotten England and would prove it very soon.

It is also reported, the correspondent of the Express continues, that Count Zeppelin was summoned recently by Emperor Wilhelm to Mainz. The Emperor said to the count that he relied on him for a great work and offered to make him commander-in-chief of the German air fleet.

The count smilingly refused, but said he would accept the title after he returned from England.

The Zeppelin staff are working day and night at Wilhelmshaven and another station is being established at Emden for other types of airship.

THE WAR NEWS

Day after day passes without either side along the extended battle line in France being able to inflict a serious defeat upon the other. The German armies are very strongly entrenched, and any attempt to drive them from their trenches would be accompanied by such great loss of life that we are told the allies are contenting themselves with repelling the attacks made by the enemy. While this is the condition of affairs along the greater portion of the battle line the allies are still endeavoring to turn the German right, and find themselves steadily opposed by forces hurriedly brought up by the Germans. So far as one can gather from a careful reading of the official and other cables it may take a much longer time than was anticipated to force the Germans out of France and Belgium. The allies have of course the advantage of being able to bring up fresh troops, and the strain upon them is therefore not so great as upon the enemy. Nevertheless time passes and the winter season approaches. It would be a great relief to learn that the allies had been able to outflank or break through the German lines, thus forcing them to retreat to another position and suffer heavy loss in the movement. We begin to see now that those in authority in England who declared that this would be a long war were well informed as to the magnitude of the task confronting the allied armies.

AFTER THE WAR.

In his very thoughtful address before the Canadian Club yesterday Mr. Beckles Wilson very properly referred to the spirit in which Canada should wage the present war. He very properly contended that the people should not be thinking merely of victory but of what will follow victory in the shaping of national life and character. It is in no vengeful spirit the British Empire has entered this great conflict. To resent the policy of Germany is merely to uphold the principles of national good faith, and it is only human to desire ample retribution for the barbarities committed by German soldiers; but the result of this war most greatly to be desired is that the spirit which has made the war possible be crushed out not only in Germany but in ourselves.

ANOTHER CONTINGENT

Canada is to send another contingent of 20,000 men as fast as it can be mobilized at various base depots and equipped and given some necessary preliminary training. In pointing out yesterday that it is Canada's duty to send a second contingent as quickly as possible this journal expressed the hope that the proposed visit of Col. Hughes to England would not interfere in any way with the work of mobilization.

posed visit of Col. Hughes to England would not interfere in any way with the work of mobilization. An Ottawa despatch last night said that while Col. Hughes will visit England the work of organizing a second contingent will be carried on by Sir Robert Borden himself as acting minister of militia. It is announced that the contingent will be mobilized in sections at such bases as Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto and western centres. This appears to be necessary, as it would be practically impossible to maintain a mobilization camp on a large scale at Valcartier during the winter season. The people of Canada will heartily endorse the action of the government in sending a second contingent, and it will be the duty of this country to continue sending contingents as rapidly as they may be mobilized until probably 100,000 men have gone to the front. The German armies are still in France and Belgium. The Russian armies are only beginning to penetrate German territory, and must fight and win great battles before they can open the road to Berlin. Winter is approaching. The rigors of the campaign will grow greater from week to week. The obstinate resistance which the Germans are offering along the battle line in France has convinced military observers that the war will be long as well as costly in life and treasure. Evidently the French, British and Belgian forces now in the field do not outnumber those of Germany, and they must be reinforced from Canada and other portions of the British Empire. Canadians therefore must provide not merely two contingents, but three or four, and keep on sending men until the crisis in the great struggle has been safely passed.

The Kaiser, in a telegram to the King of Saxony last week, said: "The Almighty will stand by us." In the meantime the Kaiser's soldiers continue to cut the hands of little children and perpetrate other barbarities such as would disgrace a nation of degenerates. The people of Berlin were recently informed that the British fleet had destroyed Paris occupied and Dover blockaded; and that the German fleet and armies were everywhere victorious. Since that news was given out, however, it has been necessary to explain that it was somewhat premature.

A British officer declares that he saw a British soldier who had his eyes gouged out and his hands cut off by the Germans, and French prisoners whose wrists had been bayoneted so that they could not fight again. It is also declared that British prisoners of war are subjected to very harsh treatment. When the day of reckoning comes these atrocities will not be forgotten.

The city of Berlin, Ontario, has a population of 18,000, of whom 12,000 are German or of German descent. The city proposes to raise $15,000 or more for the Patriotic Fund. St. John, it may be added, has a population of 80,000 or more, a very large proportion of whom are not German but of British-Loyalist descent. What will be St. John's contribution to the Patriotic Fund?

Last spring the municipal council granted $100 to the Children's Aid Society of St. John, on condition that the warden and the county secretary could discover a fund from which the amount could be taken. At its midsummer meeting the council was reminded that the $100 had not yet been provided. Yesterday the council met again and still the money is not available. Let us hope the matter will not be overlooked when next year's assessment is made up.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's medicinal fat, so skillfully prepared that it is totally free from harmful drugs.

ROYAL YEAST IS BEST YEAST IN THE WORLD

THE PLOW OF GOD

(By Ella Wheeler Wilcox.) If you listen you will hear, from east to west, Growing sounds of discontent and deep unrest. It is just the progress-driven Plow of God, Tearing up the well-worn, custom-sounded sod, Shaping out each old tradition-trodden track Into furrows-fertile furrows, rich and black. Oh, what harvests they will yield When they widen to a field!

They will widen, they will broaden, day by day. As the progress-driven plow keeps on its way It will riddle all the ancient roads that lead into palaces of selfishness and greed. It will tear away the alms-house and the slum. That the little homes and garden plots may come. Yes, the gardens green and sweet shall replace the stony street.

Let the wise men hear the menace that is bent In this ever-growing sound of discontent. Let him hear the rising clamor of the race That the few shall yield the many a larger space; For the crucial hour is coming when the soil Must be given to, or taken back by, Toil.

Oh, that mighty Plow of God— Hear it breaking ther' through the sod!

FOUND A FRIEND IN DR. CHASE His Medicines Proven Effective, and Always Kept at Hand in This Home. Mrs. Chas. Lovell, Agassiz, B. C., writes: "I feel it my duty to tell you what a great friend Dr. Chase's medicines have been to myself and family. I cannot praise his medicines too highly, and Dr. Chase's name is a household word in our home. Well, quite a number of years ago I sent you for a sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment for protruding piles, and, having used the sample and found relief, I sent to a neighboring town for four boxes, and I am completely cured."

FOUND A FRIEND IN DR. CHASE (Rev. D. J. MacPherson in Maritime Baptist.) Permit me a personal word of appreciation of the late J. W. Keirstead. About eighteen years ago, when as pastor of my home church at Ugg, P. E. I., he was the means in the Spirit's hands of leading me to my Saviour. He was a rare personal worker. There were several heart to heart talks before the decision was reached. He was not one of those who think their obligation fulfilled by once presenting the claims of Christ. His was a gentle persistence until the sinner was brought to his knees and the soul was yielded to God. I further owe him, in a large measure, the giving of my life to the Gospel ministry. He had the faculty of making a person believe in himself and what could be accomplished when linked with God. He quietly dropped the seed in the soil and returned repeatedly to water the growing plant. During a summer vacation I helped him in the work at Campbellton, N. B., our relationship was all that could be desired. He made me feel that I was not his assistant but his associate. Although at that time he was so broken down in health that repeated visits in the pulpit he forgot the message he had in mind to present, he was always the cheerful optimist showing no signs of discouragement. I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, and this treatment completely cured him."

MODISH GIRDLES. Right side up. This is important. The girdle section and stay cut in one section. Whenever tab ends are not desired, small "oo" perforations indicate where they may be cut off. On girdle "A" the center-front is indicated by double "oo" perforations at upper and lower edges. First both ends, placing "T" on corresponding small "oo" perforations. Adjust boning the length of stay patterns underneath girdle; tack, bringing corresponding perforations in girdle and stay together. Gather sash on crosslines of small "oo" perforations; loop as illustrated, bringing gathers together; draw in and stitch. Gather upper edge between double "oo" perforations; draw in and stitch. Form a knot and tack gathered edge underneath. Adjust sash to position at narrow pleated end of girdle. Natural waist-line is 2 inches below upper edge of girdle. Close as illustrated, bringing pleated end under sash to triple small "oo" perforations in girdle.

CUTTING GUIDE 5880. The manipulation of the modest girdle is a matter of great interest in this season. Two smart designs are shown here, as they are the ones most worn with the yoked-skirt and basque tunic. Although indicated by the first letter of the alphabet, the girdles shown here are the last word in fashionable details. They are especially adapted to the swathed and shirred effects that are used almost universally in the effort to destroy the straight silhouette. The materials required to make these girdles are 1 1/2 yards of 44-inch satin, with 1/4 yard of boning. An extra 1/4 of a yard will be needed if the belt is made larger than medium size. The pieces of the pattern are laid open on the material, which is placed

THE SUBMARINE

What She Does In Battle and How

So much has been written concerning the submarine, by a flight of imagination, may achieve, writes the naval correspondent of the London Morning Post, that most people are somewhat uncertain as to what the submarine actually is and does. To begin with, she is shaped like a cigar, and she carries a tower on her back inside the tubular steel hull, valves and pipes line the walls, aft, in a space so low that the engineers can hardly stand upright, are the internal combustion engines and the electric motors which drive the vessel when she is under water. Below the floor, or deck, of the inside of the hull are petrol stores. Forward are the torpedo tubes. Amidships there projects downwards from the ceiling a thick brass column ending in a brass cross-piece. This is the base of the periscope.

When the boat is submerged and the officer desires to see what is going on above, he sets a watch on each side of the cross-piece which is level with his face, and rotates the column, while he looks into the mirror. In this way he beholds an image, little and bright of a section of the sea and horizon, and by swinging it round he can scan the whole circle, reflected in the periscope above, which is the eye of the steel fish.

Alongside the periscope is the upright steel ladder leading through two hatches to the deck of the conning tower, which is raised five or six feet above the top of the hull. It is about four feet in diameter, and is protected by a breast-high rail lined with canvas. Here is the wheel, and here, when the vessel is running awash, stand the captain and the quartermaster. In fine weather those of the crew who are not required below are grouped on the little half deck below the conning tower, just above the steel hull itself. Officers and men are dressed in sea-boots, sweaters and rough clothing.

What She Does. The submarine running awash forges sullenly onwards with a heavy grinding noise, the water lifting and dripping from the gills which project on either side of her snout. Below, the hull is filled with the crashing of the furious engines cramped into the narrow tube of steel. The engineers squat placidly among the racing rods and pistons, in the thick atmosphere. Should the sea-water enter the hull and mix with the petrol gas, the fatal chlorine gas is formed, and the crew are suffocated.

The method of the submarine is to cruise at economical speed, ten knots or less, on the surface, until she sights a hostile vessel. As she is so small she can see another vessel before the other vessel can see her. Then she sinks. The captain and the crew go below; the hatches are closed; and the captain, swinging his weight upon the cross-piece from the periscope, his eye upon the mirror, gives his orders. The crew are lying along the sides, ready to turn valves on or off. The internal combustion engines are stopped and the propeller shaft is connected to the electric motors. There is a sudden silence. The Captain's Business. The process of submerging is a process in the brain of the commanding officer, and how much weight is driven upon the vessel itself. He must first dip her bows slightly, then her stern, and then all is done. The process is so quick that the crew are scarcely aware of a mistake made by the captain. In ordinary vessels, if an officer faints or makes a mistake, there are a dozen people at hand who can put it right, because they know what ought to be done. In the submarine the only person besides the captain who knows what is going on is his lieutenant, but the consequence of a mistake would follow so quickly that the lieutenant could not rectify it. Nor would he know in all probability the mistake had been made until the consequences began. The men lying beside the valves know nothing except how to do what they are told. Nor is there any sensation of motion as the boat sinks. It seems to be as still as a drawing room on shore.

The Attack. The periscope, which is about the size of a saucer, remains about eighteen inches above the surface, and viewed from the deck of a ship, all that is seen is a fitting pennant of white spray, as it cuts the waves, like a sea-bird's wings. In any top it would be almost imperceptible at two or three hundred yards. Upon approaching to attack the submarine sinks lower and submerges her periscope, so that her captain, looking in the mirror sees his little and bright picture washed out in green—the green of the water. And from above nothing is visible at all. The submarine is now blind. She cannot see through water. But she can steer a course. Her captain has made his calculations before he submerged his periscope. And the range of a German torpedo is about 8,000 yards at twenty-five to thirty knots. The submarine can fire her torpedoes, go about, presently rising until her periscope is above water, fold herself continue beneath the surface until it is safe to rise, and like a whale, breathe again.

GERMANS' DESPERATE STAND AT CRAWOW IS VITAL TO THEIR CAUSE

Experts Declare That Unless They Withstand Russians Last Hope is Gone—The Road to Berlin

(By Ed. L. Klen, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 4.—The battle now being fought at the Battle of Cragow, will find the acid test applied to the Russian army.

It is a new and untried Russian army that is in the field. Her forces far outnumber all others. But whether the troops are to have the energetic direction of competent officers or are to be handled by blunderers as was the case in the Russo-Japanese war, this battle now commencing, must decide.

To England, therefore, the battle of Cragow will be considered of far greater importance than the long drawn out conflict now in progress in France. The Russian can overwhelm the combined Austro-German army, the way will be open for an overwhelming advance on Berlin.

Germany is making a final desperate stand. She has massed the flower of her southern armies here. Every man could be spared has been sent to the east. The great central forces have been replaced by the older classes of the Landsturm. The flower of the Landwehr has also been called to make an impregnable battle line from the standpoint of Germany.

Every bit of information received here shows that Germany has staked everything on this battle. She hopes decisively to defeat Russia, and to show that Russia is no more a factor in this war than she was in Manchuria.

There is no disguising therefore the interest with which the British military experts are following the present battle. The battle line will be by far the longest ever held by opposing armies in any war in history. While of course it is not held all along its entire length, as natural barriers, such as marshes, wide lakes and impassable forests make such action impossible, figuring on the map in its wavering outlines it extends fully 800 miles from north of the Niemen River to the Carpathian Mountains.

Three Millions in Line. In the far north the fighting will be chiefly skirmishing in force. Most of northern Russia, Poland at present is a quagmire, and the fighting there consists of independent actions at various points. Yet it is admitted the Russians have been compelled to bring into action a force of 1,200,000 men to hold their lines there and to operate against the forces in East Prussia. The Russian central army, which is operating in southern Russian Poland, and which is protecting the Galician army from a flanking movement, numbers probably 600,000 men of all branches. And in the fighting line along the Nida and Donajec rivers where the preliminary conflicts of the battle of Cragow are in progress and holding the passes of the Carpathians, are an additional million men.

That probably represents the active

Famous Recipe for Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you know of someone who is troubled with head noises, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will perhaps have been the means of saving some poor sufferers from total deafness. Investigation has proven conclusively that catarrhal deafness, head noises, etc., were usually directly caused by constitutional disease, and that snuffs, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint, and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure. This being so, much time and money has been spent of late in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that would quickly dissipate all traces of catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated and which has aroused the belief that catarrhal deafness will soon be extinct, is given below in understandable form, so that anyone can treat themselves in their own home at little expense.

Secure from any good druggist in St. John I. o.s. Parment (Double Strength), about 7c worth. Take this home, and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dripping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh, therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial.

Calgary Saves Money. Calgary, Alta., Oct. 7.—By the introduction of labor saving machinery and more up-to-date methods and without decreasing the general efficiency, the sanitary department of Calgary has saved $100,000 this year. Electric tractors and trailers handle refuse to the incinerators where the equivalent of twenty-eight horse loads is discharged in ten minutes.

Between Liverpool and New York the screw of an Atlantic liner revolves about 600,000 times.

Saskatoon Assessment. Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 7.—With reference to a request of the city assessors that the council decide as to whether any change is to be made in the percentage of value of improvements to be assessed for 1915, the financial committee recommended to the council that the same basis of assessment as was used for the year 1914, viz.: 25 per cent of value, be adopted for next year.

DEMAND FOR BIG SUM
FOLLOWS THE SAVING
OF A FEW DOLLARS

Calgary, Alta., Oct. 7.—Because two Calgary firms undertook to save a few dollars sending correspondence to wholesale lots to outside cities and then taking advantage of the one cent drop letter rate for distribution through the respective post offices, the post office was forced to demand $207,860 from the Dominion Express company.
 Action is being taken to obtain that sum through the courts under the Dominion law which prohibits percent paid in the service of the postmaster general from carrying letters.

ABOUT YOUR OWN VIGOR
Sent Free to Men

MR. READER:
 Here is something I have to offer you absolutely for nothing—a little private book of special information about the legitimate use and unusual abuses of many vigor, all put in perfectly plain, easy-to-read language, with many hints that you can surely apply to your own self, no matter how strong you may be, or how nervous or run-down you may be—if you want to know the facts about this particular subject, given to you without a single cent, then fill in the coupon below, send to me and receive my book, sealed, by return mail in one part of this little publication I describe a mechanical invention of my own, which I call the SANDEN Vitalizer, something you wear at night as an aid to the restoration of lost or waning strength; but you are not expected to get one of these appliances unless you decide for yourself that you want one. The book is complete, and there is absolutely nothing you are required to buy or pay, either now or in the future. Therefore, please send your name and address today.

SANDEN, Author.

MANHOOD! The quality which rules the world today. My friend, there never was a time in the history of the human race when real, sturdy manhood, manly vigor and manly courage equaled for as much as they do now, little very minute. No matter what your years, whether you are 30 or 60, you must be either entirely in the race or entirely out of it. It is invariably the fellow who proves up strongest in this human strength that forges the steel, while weaklings stand aside; it is he also who is in most demand and most sought after by women and men of his community, simply because he radiates that marvelous magnetic influence which only an abundant vigor and rugged manly health can radiate. I believe any man can hope to completely develop or restore this same vigor or manly strength, no matter what his past failures may have been, provided he is willing to REALLY MAKE THE EFFORT! and provided, of course, he is not weighed down by extreme old age or is not incurably diseased. To my mind, the road of the one who wants more vigor is perfectly plain, but it is a road that any man MUST travel if he attains the highest ideal in respect to his own manhood. See information in my free book.

As to the SANDEN Vitalizer, previously mentioned, will say it is a little mechanical appliance, weighing but a few ounces, which you wear at night. This Vitalizer generates and sends forth a certain soft, penetrating force which I call Vitality. It drives this Vitality into your nerves, blood, muscles and organs as you sleep. It is quieting to the nervous system—at least, so users say. Men write that it takes pain out of the back often at once and restores vitality in 30 days. Remember, the general information of the free book is independent of this Vitalizer, and you are not expected to get one of these little appliances unless you want to. You can write me later as to that if you so desire. With special attachments, my Vitalizer is used by women as well as men for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc. If you live in or near this city I should be most pleased to have you call in person at my office, where you may see and test the Vitalizer free of charge. Hours—9 to 6, or if inconvenient to call, do not fail to write for the free booklet.

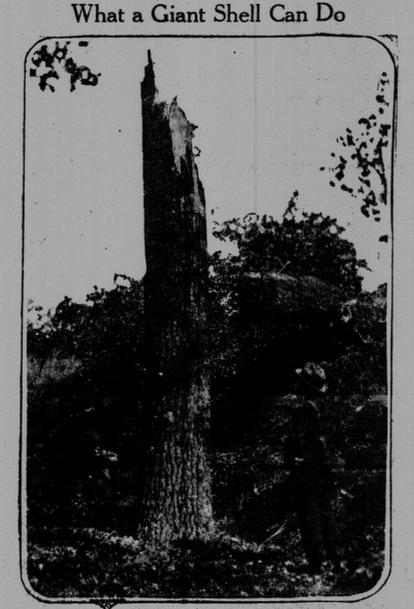

To Get Free Book Please Use Coupon

If you live too far to call, or if you cannot call, please fill in the coupon below and send it to me. You will receive free, sealed, by return mail, my 72-page illustrated book, containing 8,000 words, a complete compendium of useful information for men, young or elderly, single or married, who want the truth about the subject of vital strength, its preservation, its possible self-restoration and its legitimate use and waning abuses. You get it all free.

DR. E. F. SANDEN CO., 140 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.
 Dear Sirs—Please forward me your book, as advertised, free, sealed.

WHERE 20,000 GERMANS FELL
 Trapped on Bridges Crossing The Niemen
MURDEROUS FIRE
 Hidden Russian Artillery Opened on Masses of German Troops—A Retreat of Eight Miles With Cossacks in Pursuit

London, Oct. 7.—A graphic account of the frustration of an attempt by the Germans to cross the Niemen River is given by the Daily Telegraph's Petrograd correspondent.
 "The Germans appear to have fallen into a Russian trap," the correspondent says. "On September 28, the rear guard of the Russian General Rennenkampf's army was transferred to the right bank of the river and the following evening the Germans approached the stream. The next day, seeing no signs of opposition, they proceeded to construct pontoon bridges, and completed this work without molestation.
 "It was only when the troops were pouring across the right bank, in fanatical security that a sound like the roll of thunder was heard and dozens of Russian guns, cleverly posted and screened, opened their concentrated fire on the crowded bridges.
 "Before the blast of shrapnel and machine gun projectiles the Germans were swept into the river by hundreds, speedily, however, the challenge of the Russian artillery, and for a long time the duel continued.
 "At last the Germans, thinking they had got the measure of the Russian gunners, made another attempt to throw their troops across the Niemen. But this time also they had no better luck and not one of the soldiers who stepped upon the bridges either reached the opposite shore or returned.
 "The bodies of the slain floated in hundreds down the yellow flood of the Niemen. Still the Germans vigorously maintained their bombardment and about six o'clock in the evening made a last and desperate effort to utilize the bridges on which they had spent such pains.
 "Columns in close formation were sent forward to the crossings, but once again every man was mown down by the murderous fire of the Russian machine guns.
 "With the fall of evening the German batteries were silenced once after the other by the steady and well directed fire of the Russian artillerists. The enemy then fell back eight miles, pursued and harassed by Cossacks who had crossed the river on the German bridges.
 "According to one account, no fewer than 20,000 German corpses were carried down the Niemen after this awful carnage.
 "In the fight at Sredniki on the Niemen, on September 15, the German casualties also are said to have been large. An eyewitness of the battle says that on the river and on one of its banks no fewer than 8,000 Germans perished. On the opposite shore from the city the bodies of 1,500 Germans were lying unburied for some days afterwards."

THE ENGLISHMAN.
 The Englishman is a much misunderstood individual, and his character is a good deal of a riddle to the foreigner. He is so anxious to keep an open mind, to weigh things impartially and to postpone the necessity of reaching a conviction that he has often been looked upon as impossible to rouse to action. The zeal which he shows not to do a thing until it is absolutely necessary has been apt to deceive people into the belief that he could not do the thing if he tried. It has been rashly concluded that because he tolerated and accepted matters that were distasteful and injurious to him rather than deal with them energetically and promptly he was decadent and ready to submit to anything rather than to involve himself in avoidable trouble and expense. He has contributed to this impression by his readiness to grumble at and to criticize everything pertaining to the empire.
 But let there come a time when the honor and the safety of the nation are at stake and he is quick to action, as quick and as patriotic today as those of his forebears of old to whom England is indebted for the grandest pages of her two thousand years of history. That is one of the lessons, one of the most inspiring lessons of the war now waged in the Old World.—New York Sun.

One of the Chicago municipal court judges has established a library for foreign boys in the Boys' Court. Arrangements have been made by the German public library to furnish books written in the native tongues of the nationalities most frequently represented in the court.
 Mrs. Amy Winship, aged 90, of Madison, Wisconsin's oldest student in point of years, has again registered, electing biological science and advanced work in the domain of electricity and magnetism.

May Close the Bars.
 Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 7.—Attorney General Targoon has introduced a bill at the present emergency sitting of the provincial government which will enable the closing of any bar or wholesale liquor establishment in Saskatchewan, at the discretion of the government.
 The bill also provides for the protection of the interests of those who have gone to the front, and in addition, contemplates the suspension of executions and debts in relation to real property and chattels. It is understood that such powers will be applied only in exceptional cases. At the same time, the government felt it judicious to be in a position to deal with any exigency which conditions might later induce.

THE COAL TRADE
 (Coal Age, Oct. 8).
 The anthracite market is steadily improving as the season advances, the recent coal weather having had a particularly beneficial effect. Domestic consumers who deferred buying during the discount period in the summer have been forced into the market by the lower temperatures, and this has created a general activity. The Lake business is also somewhat larger at the moment, but it has now reached the maximum for the season. The situation is not so favorable in the steam sites, which are feeling the same general heaviness that characterizes the bituminous trade. Substantial discounts on the regular circular are noted on the small sites, but the domestic grades are holding firm at the full circular. Operations in the mining districts are at practically full capacity. The export bituminous trade continues in fair volume, but there is a growing uneasiness over the curtailed steam consumption. The one encouraging feature in the situation is the fact that the market is showing indications of an excellent undertone, and will no doubt respond quickly to any improvement in general conditions. The better grades of coal are still rather closely held. Prices are well maintained so far, and there is an absence of the customary large longages of demurrage coal, which usually characterizes a weak market. It is none the less a fact that shipments are confined almost entirely to contracts, questions on which are reduced to a minimum, and there must be some favorable developments shortly to avoid a slump.
 The Pittsburgh market is still losing ground in all directions, the steel mills are only operating at half capacity, the indications of a still further reduction shortly, and the manufacturing demand is again tapering off. The market has been thoroughly combed for orders, but consumption is at the minimum, and will continue so until there is a general resumption in industrial lines. Canadian manufacturing is heavily curtailed, so that fuel requirements are restricted and

 These Debentures bear 5 per cent. interest, payable half yearly, and will run for periods of:

 $32,000 for Ten Years.
 $81,000 for Twenty Years.
 and are TAX EXEMPT.
 All offers will be treated in confidence. No offer will be received at less than par and the City reserves the right to reject any or all subscriptions.
JAMES H. FRINK,
 Mayor

American operators are inclined to be suspicious of this business in any event. The market is very irregular, circular prices being purely nominal and obtained only on the very best grades. The Ohio situation is unsatisfactory, the domestic grades having now suffered a relapse in sympathy with the steam coal. Lake shipping has reached the maximum, though it will probably continue until the close of navigation. Operators in the southern markets are showing a more persistent interest in the export business than is generally the case through the east and the opinion is freely expressed that there will be a considerable tonnage shipped to South America during the next six months. Business locally is stagnant, the railroads suffering more or less severely from the depressed conditions prevailing in both the cotton and steel industries.
 The middle western trade is still continuing with a completely demoralized steam market and a heavily overbid domestic trade. Production of the latter sites is far below market require-

He has a mark of 794 and a margin over Doak of St. Louis, runner-up of 33 points. It took James a long time to catch his rival.

Mackmen Pitchers Strong. If season's records count for anything with Connie Mack in a world's series, says the Boston Globe, the coming big two Philadelphia pitchers in the box who are new to such a series, for both Bressler and Pennock have certainly done grand work for the Athletics this year.

ANNUAL MEETING OF MAIN STREET CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Main Street Baptist church, held last night, was attended by a large number of the congregation. The accounts showed that since December of last year up to the present date the number in the congregation has fallen from 740 to 647 members. Forty-five new members came to the church, but a revision of the roll brought a loss of 124. Eleven resigned and there were three deaths.

ENGLAND LONGS TO WELCOME CANADIANS. London, Oct. 7.—An enthusiastic welcome awaits the Canadian troops here. As the Times says, "England longs to see the Canadian troops when they reach these shores, and since their enlistment is known to all, we trust the opportunity will not be denied her at the proper time. The Canadian forces must march through the streets in London, and will receive such a greeting as will echo throughout the dominion."

WANTED KIPLING TO RECITE. New York, Oct. 7.—A reply from Rudyard Kipling to a cable message sent to him from Frank McCull, a Dublin giant, in one of his letters, says that he would be glad to recite his poem, "The Grave of the Hundred Dead," if made public. Mr. Kipling had assured Kipling that in view of reciting that he was to lecture to win recruits in support of Russia against Germany, that audience would attend his readings. He said that all money received above expenses would be paid to the Red Cross.

RECENT WEDDINGS. In the Cathedral at five o'clock this morning a pretty wedding took place when James T. O'Leary of this city was married to Miss E. Finnigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Finnigan, Charles street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Miles P. Howard. Miss Nellie Finnigan, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and the groom was supported by the bride's brother, R. J. Finnigan. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents and Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary left for New York on a honeymoon trip.

GUNMAN FOUND DEAD. Ching Gow Under a Murder Charge in Seattle. Seattle, Oct. 7.—Ching Gow, a Chinese who, United States officers say, was the gunman who killed Lum Kong, a witness in a Chinese smuggling case against Es-Immigration Interpreter Frank Tape, was found dead in a room in a hotel in the Oriental quarter. His death occurred a few hours after it became known that Hartig Norman, a former deputy sheriff, was arrested on a charge of attempting to bribe a deputy United States marshal to give Norman a list of the government's witnesses in the Tape case. Government detectives said Norman's arrest frightened the Chinese into putting Ching Gow out of the way, fearing he would implicate them. The identification of Ching Gow as the man who killed Lum Kong was by Immigration Inspector Thomas M. Fisher. Before Lum Kong died he told Mr. Fisher that Ching Gow was his assassin.

Mr. Baxter Presents Cup. The Baxter cup, emblematic of the championship of the Fairville Baseball League, was presented last evening by J. B. M. Baxter to the Royals, the victorious team during the season just closed. In presenting the trophy Mr. Baxter offered another cup for next year. He, as well as Commissioner Wigmore and W. J. Linton, who were also present, advocated the permanent grant of the Fairville League to the young men of Lancaster. Mr. Baxter referred to the fact that three members of the Fairville League were now on their way to the front—John O'Keefe, Dennis Hanlon and Harold Humphrey. A programme of music and readings was carried out. The committee in charge were: George O'Reilly, J. J. O'Toole, John Driscoll, James Hanlon and H. M. Stout.

WIRELESS EXTRAORDINARY. Priest's Invention Abolishes Poles or Batteries. London, Oct. 7.—A despatch to the London Times from Rome says that it is reported from Aquila that a priest, Rev. Dominico Argentieri, has invented a system of receiving wireless messages whereby communications may be received even in closed rooms. No poles or batteries are needed. The apparatus is of the simplest description and can be carried in one's vest pocket. It also is cheap.

NO ONE WOULD VOLUNTEER. Commander Had to Order Men to Leave Fort. London, Oct. 7.—An Antwerp despatch to the Post says that Fort Wachem, in front of Antwerp, has met the chief brunt of the German attack. When several of the cupolas were damaged the commandant urged that the men who were most fatigued with the long fight should withdraw from the fort, as only a small garrison was now necessary. Not a single man would retire voluntarily, and it was necessary for the commandant to give direct orders that part of the garrison should leave. The commandant, though wounded, declared that he himself would not leave so long as it was possible to have another shot at the enemy.

AUSTRALIAN TO STUDY CANADIAN RAILWAYS

Victoria Government Railway Engineers to Investigate Methods in Dominion. London, Oct. 7.—The Chief Engineer for Railway Construction of the Government of Victoria, Australia, will pay a visit to Canada soon to make an extended survey into Canadian methods on behalf of his government. This is in sequel to the visit of Professor Taylor, of Adelaide University, who reported that the efficiency of the privately-owned Canadian railway was very marked over the state-owned Australian railways. Victoria owes much to Canadian brains in connection with her railways. It was Sir Thomas Tait who placed them on a business basis, and of whom the premier of Victoria said: "In railway matters he is a man of outstanding ability." When he took the office of chairman of the Victoria Railway Commissioners, the railways of that state were at their last ebb. For many years the government had faced a heavy deficit, and the experts said that success was impossible. In four years he turned a deficit of $2,000,000 into a surplus of $1,000,000, besides paying off liabilities of $3,000,000, and reducing freight rates. When he resigned, the thanks of parliament were conveyed to him by the premier. Merle Hyer, a Levison, Utah, High School student, aged seventeen, grew 882 bushels of potatoes on half an acre. He is considered the champion potato grower of the United States.

DOCTOR CALLED BEFORE TRACES OF WOUNDS ON BURNS' CHEEK LEAVE

Dr. D. C. Malcolm Gives Evidence in Douglas Avenue Case—Today's Police Court

Dr. D. C. Malcolm today appeared as an expert witness in the preliminary examination of Michael Burns on the charge of assaulting Lillian Earle in Douglas avenue on last Sunday night.

The magistrate said he wished to have the opinion of Doctor Malcolm with regard to the scratches on the prisoner's face, as they might be healed by the time Burns would be brought before the grand jury if he were committed for trial.

Doctor Malcolm examined the prisoner closely and found four wounds on his left cheek, one below the eye and another on the ear which, he said, must have been caused by some sharp instrument and, in his opinion, could have been inflicted with a hat pin.

Need Newspapers—They Admit

"Our Company can advertise their products nationally until it is blue in the face, but it cannot produce results for the local dealer unless he advises prospective customers where the machines can be bought in his particular territory."

This is an extract from a letter being sent out by a large manufacturer, who believes he is a national advertiser.

He is spending thousands of dollars for advertising and yet he admits that if the dealers do not in turn use their home newspapers it is lost money.

The lesson is obvious. THE DAILY NEWSPAPER IS THE DIRECT ROUTE FROM PRODUCTION TO SALE.

No advertising campaign—national or local, can succeed without the newspapers.
