FAMILY RECEIPT

BOOK

1867.

PERRY DAVIS & SON,

MONTREAL, C. E.

Spare moments are the gold dust of time.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In presenting you with our first issue of the Pain-Killer Almanac and Receipt Book, which we hope to continue for many years, we ask, for whatever excellences it may possess, your favor; and for its faults, your kind indulgence: and while we have attempted, by the correctness of the calendars, astronomical calculations, and useful tables, to win your confidence, we have endeavored by the introduction of many receipts, and other valuable and interesting information, to make it so acceptable to you that it shall find a place in every well-regulated household, and be preserved there for its intrinsic worth.

In selecting letters, certificates, &c., of our long and well-known popular medicine, the PAIN KILLER, from the mass of matter we have on file, we have endeavored to use only such as would, in a simple and concise manner, exhibit its peculiar properties, and show its adaptedness to the wants of the people. Most of these documents are from intelligent, well-educated, and Christian men and women. Among them many clergymen and missionaries, who, from a sense of duty or a desire to benefit, have given their experience in the use of the Pain Killer. To many of them it has been a "family medicine" for more than twenty years; and it is noteworthy, that they who have known it longest express the strongest confidence in its virtues.

We have many certificates of its excellence which we are not permitted to publish, and some from physicians which we have not used; knowing that so jealously are their interests guarded, that a member of any of the numerous medical associations who should be known to use or to recommend the use of any medicine whose formula was withheld from the association would thereby incur the liability of expulsion. There are nevertheless some noble men, who, with more love for mankind than dread of medical societies, have dared to prescribe, and after long use to recommend, the PAIN KILLER to the public as a valuable and reliable family medicine. The Pain Killer is not confined in its range of use to any climate or country, but is universal in its adaptation to the wants of man; being as effectual in curing disease in India, China, or South America as in the United States and Europe. As, in curing Cholera it shows itself master of all the minor forms of that disease, — such as Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Summer Complaint, Diarrhoea, &c., — so in controlling Yellow Fever, Diphtheria, and other malignant diseases, — which it has repeatedly cured, — it asserts its power over all the milder and more common forms of these complaints.

We have long used it in our families and recommended it to our friends, and it has never deceived us, nor failed to meet our most sanguine expectations. Hence in commending it again to the public favor, we do so without fear, confident that the results of a fair trial will fully sustain all we have said in its favor.

Respectfully,

PERRY DAVIS & SON.

THE ZODIAC.

The Zodiac [from ζῳδιον, diminutive of ζῳον, an animal] is an imaginary belt in the heavens, 16° or 18° broad, in the middle of which is the ecliptic, or sun's path. It contains the twelve constellations, which once constituted the "twelve signs of the zodiac," and from which they are named. The zodiacal circle is supposed to be of very ancient origin, though it is first mentioned by Aristotle. About a century later, Autolous speaks of it. Aratus, in his astronomical forms, names the zodiacal circle, and enumerates its twelve signs, and states, moreover, that six of them rise and six set every night.

It was anciently believed that the heavenly bodies exerted a powerful influence over the feelings and actions of all the animal creation, and especially over the destinies of mankind; that the relative position of these at the hour of the birth of the child, gave cast to his character, and through life influenced his fortunes, brought him health and success, or misfortune, disease, and even death. The influence of the position of the sun and moon in the signs of the zodiac was believed to be especially powerful over the success or failure of enterprises commenced or carried on at such times, as well as over the health of the particular parts of the body, which each particular sign was supposed to represent, which is shown in

THE WEATHER.

There are few subjects on which so much is said, and about which so little is known, as the weather; and yet, to any attentive observer, the appearance of the sky at particular times affords wonderfully accurate signs of changes. The clouds are full of meaning, and each season of the year has its peculiar character, differing from all other seasons. The character and degree of moisture in the atmosphere, together with the altitude of the sun, is the principal cause of the ever-varying colors of the sky, which may by the careful observer be read as in an open book.

One of the signs of foul weather upon which reliance may be placed is the gradual change of a blue sky to a dull gray, becoming more dense. If the condensation is sufficient to take shape at nightfall, and show a bank in the west, it is an indication of a storm. This has no reference to thunder-clouds. All condensations and indications derived from it must be looked for in the west. From that quarter come all storms. Cloud-banks in the south-west in the Fall and Winter indicate snow. Banks in the north-west indicate rain at all seasons. It may, indeed, snow, but, if so, in large flakes turning to rain. A red sun, with smoky air, indicates continued dry weather. A red appearance of the sky, when no clouds exist, indicates a fair day following. If there is no condensation to the east of us in the morning, to reflect the sun, the sky is gray; if there be such condensation, the sky is red, and indicative of foul weather; it is the eastern edge of an approaching storm.

The Pain-Killer is invaluable for Coughs and Colds. Please Observe.

Whether clear or cloudy, a rosy sky at sunset presages fine weather; a red sky in the morning, bad weather, or much wind; a gray sky in the morning, fine weather; a high dawn, wind; a low dawn, fair weather. Soft-looking or delicate clouds foretell fine weather, with moderate or light breezes; hard-edged, sly-looking clouds, wind. A dark, gloomy sky is windy; a light, bright blue sky indicates fair weather. Generally, the softer clouds look the less wind, but perhaps more rain may be expected; and the harder, more greasy, rolled, luted, or ragged, they appear, the stronger the coming wind will prove. A bright-yellow sky at sunset presages wind; a pale-yellow, wet; and thus, by the prevalence of red, yellow, or gray tints, the coming weather may be foretold very nearly. Small, inky-looking clouds foretell rain; light and driving across heavy masses show wind and rain, but, if alone, may indicate wind only. High upper clouds, crossing in a direction different from the wind felt below, foretell a change of wind. After fine weather, the first signs in the sky of a coming change are usually light streaks, curled or mottled patches of white distant cloud, which increase, and are followed by an overcasting of misty vapour that grows into cloudiness. This appearance, more or less oily or watery as wind or rain will prevail, is an infallible sign. Misty clouds, forming or hanging on heights, if they remain or increase, show wind and rain coming. If they rise or disperse, the weather will improve.

Dew and fog are indications of fine weather; for neither form under a cloudy or overcast sky, or when there is much wind. Remarkable clearness of the atmosphere near the horizon, or a good hearing day, indicates rain, if not wind.

If you have Chillsains, use the Pain-Killer, it will cure them.

The "DAY," in civil life, commences and ends at midnight, though the time that elapses between the rising and setting of the sun is usually reckoned as the "day." The Astronomical DAY commences and ends at 12 o'clock noon. Insurance, Life and Fire, as well as Marine, is calculated on this basis. Apparent Time is the time indicated by the sundial. True Time is the time indicated by a well regulated clock. Equation of Time is the difference between true and apparent time. Mean Time is the average of apparent time, and is the time on which the calculations of this Almanac are based.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

A Savoury Lamb Pie. — Cut the meat into pieces, and season it with finely-beaten pepper, salt, mace, cloves, and nutmeg. Make a good puff-paste, and put the meat into it, adding some lambs' sweetbreads seasoned in the same manner. Put in some oysters and forcemeat balls, some yolk of egg, and tops of asparagus boiled green. Put butter all over the pie, and put on the covering paste, and let it bake for an hour and a half in a quick oven. Mix a pint of gravy, the oyster liquor, a gill of red wine and a little nutmeg, with the yolks of two or three eggs well beaten, and stir in the same direction all the time. When it boils, take the the cover off the pie, pour the mixture into it, cover it again, and serve it up.

It is an important fact, that if a meat-pie is made without a hole in the crust, to let out certain emanations from the meat, colic, vomiting, and other symptoms of slight poisoning will occur.

LA PORT, IND., Dec. 8, 1849.

DEAR SIRS, — It is now several months since I have been acting as your agent in this county for the sale of Perry Davis' Pain Killer; and, in justice to this valuable medicine, I must say, that I never sold an article which gives such universal satisfaction to all who have used it. I have never had a medicine which has met with any thing like so rapid a sale as your Pain Killer, and its virtues are the chief topic of conversation in many places in this vicinity. I have recommended it for the cure of fever and ague, and warranted it; and it has cured cases in twenty-four hours. In conclusion let me say, that, whenever it has been introduced into a family, it is regarded as an indispensable medicine.

Yours truly,

W. W. ROBERTS.

WONDERFUL CURE OF HEMORRHAGE OF THE LUNGS.

PERRYSBURG, O., Nov. 15, 1848.

SIRS, — It is with pleasure and freedom that I state the benefits I have received from the use of Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer.

I was much afflicted for some months with an affection of the lungs, accompanied with spitting of blood, night-sweats, and other symptoms indicative of the worst stages of consumption. I applied to the best medical skill that could be found, but obtained no relief.

After much strong persuasion, I was induced to try the Pain Killer, and to it I chiefly attribute my restoration to good general health.

Yours, &c.,

N. D. BLINN,

Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

On the 29th of December, 1846, I received of Perry Davis, for the first time, a small lot of his Pain Killer, as I then supposed more as a matter of experiment than of profit; but, before twelve months had rolled round, I found that my bills for the above medicine amounted to over fourteen hundred and fifty dollars, which I can substantiate by my documents. If it were not for that, I should hardly dare to make public so large a statement relative to what is now termed a quack medicine. And, from the fact of its giving such entire satisfaction where it has been used according to directions, I can, without any hesitation, recommend it to the public.

JANUARY (= Aquarius). — In his regulation of the Roman year, Numa Pompilius, the second king of Rome, called the first month Januarius, after Janus, the highest divinity, this month was sacred. Hence on New Year's Day, which was the principal festival of that god, people took care that all they thought, said, and did, was pure and favorable, since everything was ominous of the occurrences of the whole year. They wore festive garments, abstained from cursing and quarrelling, saluted every one they met with words of a favorable import, gave presents to one another, and endeavored during the day to perform some part of what they intended to do in the course of the year. Janus was represented with two faces, looking in opposite directions. His temple at Rome was never closed, except in time of universal peace.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

MILWAUKIE, Wis., Dec. 15, 1848.

Dear Sir, — I am at some loss in my own mind what to say to you, in relation to Davis' Pain Killer. It really seems to be possessed of the power of magic, beyond the comprehension of the human mind. After a thorough trial, I am able to say that it relieves almost every pain that the human flesh is heir to, and in many cases effects an instant cure.

I became your agent without feeling any interest in the medicine, but on trial I soon became very much interested; upon seeing the happy effect it had upon many persons. The increased sales in this State are truly astonishing. I might have collected any number of certificates of its great power in relieving pain if I had attended to it at the time the cures came under my observation. The least I can say for the Pain Killer is that it fully answers the purpose for which it is recommended.

A. W. HATCH, Druggist.

CINCINNATI, O. July 4, 1857.

GENTLEMEN — Having used, and witnessed the beneficial effects of, Perry Davis' Pain Killer, I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public as the best family medicine with which I am acquainted. In this establishment are employed nearly one hundred persons, and your Pain Killer has been used with the most astonishing results. For FOUR YEARS not a single severe case of colic, summer complaint, or dysentery has occurred that has not yielded to the magic-like curative powers of the "Killer;" and for cuts, bruises, &c., it is in almost daily use, and with like good results.

JOHN TANNER,

Foreman Wrayhton & Co's Printing Establishment.

FRANKFORT, N.Y. Jan. 1, 1848.

GENTLEMEN, — Last fall I had the misfortune to be thrown from my boat into the canal, and took a violent cold, which settled in my head, producing excruciating pain. After having tried various remedies, I obtained a pamphlet from Foster & Dickinson advertising your Pain Killer, and was induced to try it. On applying it once the pain was entirely removed; and I have had no return of it since. I would cheerfully recommend it as truly a Pain Killer, believing it will remove pain wherever it exists.

Very respectfully yours,

JAMES E. AUSTIN.

Johnny Cake. — One quart of sour buttermilk, a little salt, a piece of butter half the size of an egg, corn meal enough for a stiff batter, one teaspoonful of soda, — if a rich cake is desired add two well-beaten eggs, — bake three-quarters of an hour.

Corn Meal Cakes. — One quart of meal, one pint of boiling milk, a teaspoonful of soda, a large spoonful of soda; set it to rise in a warm place; when risen, add as much flour and corn meal as will make a stiff batter, then let it stand half an hour, then pour into the tins. Bake two hours. This requires boiling until very hard.

Dr. Ross used to say the reason why Germans never die of consumption is they are always singing.

FEBRUARY (24 Dies) (Lat. Februarius), the second month of our year, derives its name from februo, which originally, in the Sabine language, signified to cleanse, to purify. It was popularly called the month of expiation, because on the fifteenth day of this month the great feast of expiation was held. During this month occurred the festival in honor of Vesperus, or the Ipecun Fan, the god of fertility, when the priest sooths divinity, with blind faces, and only a girlie about their loins, ran about the city, striking the women whom they met, who were exposed, in consequence, to be rendered fruitful. Our Saxon ancestors called it Sol Month, because in it the sun's meridian altitude visibly increases. February was not in the calendar of Romans, but was added to the year by Numa, who gave it the twelfth place in the calendar, and assigned it twenty-eight days, in order that the sum of the days of the year might be an even number, according to a Pagan occult fancy. But in the bissextile or leap year (any year divisible by 4, one day is added to this month, which is an excess that amounts in a century to about three fourths of a day, and is corrected by omitting one bissextile in each century divisible by 4. February was transferred by the Decemviri to the place in the calendar it now occupies.

Fortune knocks once at every man's door.

This latter course counts must both, hostlers and chubbians; no family should be without it.

The main of our being is to live wisely, soberly, and richly.

Potatoes, How to boil. — The correct way to cook a potato in any country, provided boiling is the determination, is to clean firstly; let it lie in clean, cold water two hours, ten is all the better; place it in cold water in the pot, without paring, — potatoes should never be pared before boiling, — boil moderately until the test-fork goes smoothly through the potato without encountering a mite of core. Then drain off the water, set the pot over the fire, uncovered, for five minutes, after which whip off Mr. Potato's jacket in a hurry, and send him to the table in a close cover, piping hot; or, if you are not over-fashionable and fastidious, it is preferable to serve "murphy" in his coat. For at least two-thirds of all the starch the potato contains is deposited so near the surface, that, however carefully the tuber may be pared in the raw state, the greater portion of the starch is sure to be thrown away.

Any thoroughly potato-bred Irishwoman would as soon think of committing regicide, as boiling her potatoes undressed. And there are no better potatoes, or potato cooks, anywhere in this world than there are in Ireland.

Read the following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. W. B. Jacobs: —

NEWARK, N. J., June 6, 1850.

Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON — Gentlemen, — Allow me unsolicited to send you a word of commendation for your Pain Killer. I have used it in my family these several years, and found it all it claims to be. For Rheumatism, Coughs, Colds, Burns, Cholera tendencies and difficulties, as well as diseases generally that prevail in families, I regard the Pain Killer as beyond all price, and as efficacious beyond any medicine within my knowledge. We keep it as our chief family medicine, and find its use in ordinary cases worth more than any doctor. The testimony of others among my acquaintances and friends is equally favorable. Many clergymen have spoken of it in the highest terms as a family medicine. Missionaries in repeated instances have said to me in person and in their letters, that the Pain Killer was by far the best medicine used in heathen lands; and they use it for themselves and families, and administer it to others around them. Thus much I am inclined to say as an act of justice to yourselves, and as a benefit to others. You are at liberty to use this testimonial, if of any service.

Yours, &c.,

REV. W. B. JACOBS.

CRAMP IN THE STOMACH is one of the results of imperfect digestion, and may be always immediately relieved by the Pain Killer. Often a single dose will be sufficient. Its action is almost magic-like, for the reason that it reaches at once the source of the trouble. It may be relied on in cases of sea-sickness, or diseases incident to change of diet or water. No traveller should be without it.

Rev. J. S. Beecher, writing from Bassin, Burmah, July 26, 1853, says, "your valuable Pain Killer has gained a high reputation among all classes in this province, and there is a great demand for it here."

Rev. J. Phillips, formerly of the Orissa Mission, India, writes, "My wife is using your celebrated Pain Killer for a rheumatic affection, from which she has suffered for years, and with better effect than any other of the various remedies she has tried; I am using it for dyspepsia and kidney complaints with good success."

Your shillains may be easily cured by the Pain Killer.

IMPORTANT TO SHIPMASTERS AND SEAMEN.

Read the following testimony of an old shipmaster:—

Dear Sir,—Some twenty years since, I was very seriously injured in one of my hips, by coming in contact with the anchor of the ship of which I was second mate. The bruise was so bad that my hip has given me great trouble most of the time since, until a year ago last April, when I heard of Davis' Pain-Killer, and immediately procured a bottle, and, by using it according to the directions, was entirely cured in about ten days, and have not experienced the least trouble from my hip since.

Says Matthews, "I never yet found relief in a noble manure, nor humility in an uncorrectly mislead."

Feeling the importance of having this valuable medicine constantly by me, before starting for Europe in March last, in the ship Louvre, from New York, I purchased some to take with me. While at Antwerp, one of my crew was attacked with a very severe dysentery; I gave him the Pain-Killer, and it effected him in an once.

On my passage home, with one hundred and sixty-four passengers, I administered this medicine to all who were sick; and none took it without getting immediate relief. One lady passenger, in particular, was afflicted with a severe headache, for which she said there was no cure, having been troubled with it most of the time for years. I told her I had a sure remedy, and gave her the Pain-Killer, which, to her surprise, did effect the cure she had long sought for in vain. I had as good a medicine chest as ever was put on board a ship, but did not bring it, there being no necessity for it; the Pain-Killer answering all purposes. And I do most sincerely recommend to every shipmaster to always take a good supply of this valuable medicine with him on going to sea. It is safe, convenient, and reliable.—a real PAIN-KILLER.

CHRISTOPHER ALLYN,
Late Master of the Ship Louvre.

New London, Feb. 17, 1848.

LA PORT, Ind., Nov. 13, 1848.

Dear Sir,—A few weeks since, I had a distressing cough; my throat was very sore and inflamed. I procured a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, using it according to the directions; and it has entirely cured me. I have also seen it used in cases of toothache and ague in the face with the most beneficial effects. I believe it to be an indispensable medicine, and recommend it to all my acquaintances.

Yours, &c.,
CHARLES W. BANKS.

PERRYSBURG, Ohio, Nov. 13, 1848.

This may certify that my wife was for some time very much afflicted with a violent cough, which reduced her so much that she was unable to enjoy a moment's rest, day or night, and by the use of one bottle of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, she was entirely relieved, and now enjoys good health. I consider it one of the best family medicines in use.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

Jenny Lind Cake for Breakfast. — Take one egg, half cup of sugar, two cups sweet milk, four cups flour, two teaspoonfuls cream-tartar, one teaspoonful soda, and half teaspoonful salt. Rub the cream-tartar, sugar, and salt into the flour; break the egg on it, and stir in the milk gradually till it is a smooth batter; then add the soda dissolved in hot water, and bake in a quick oven.

Corn-Meal Muffins. — Three cups of corn meal, one half cup of sifted wheat flour, three eggs well beaten, two large spoonfuls of butter, and one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one pint of buttermilk, and a little salt. Beat these well together, pour into rings, and bake a nice brown in the oven.

Rye Cake. — Three cups of rye-meal, three of corn-meal, a little salt, one small teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a cup of milk, a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg and ground cinnamon, mixed; then add as much milk as will make a thin batter; bake on the griddle. Serve hot.

WORTH KNOWING. — Transplanting Trees. — If the commissioner of the Central Park would give strict orders to mark the north side of trees with red chalk before they are taken up, and when set out to have the tree put in the ground with its north side to the north in its natural position, a large proportion would live. Ignoring this law of nature is the cause of so many transplanted trees dying. If the north side is exposed to the south, the heat of the sun is too great for that side of the tree to bear, and therefore it dries up and decays.

UTICA, June 1, 1840.

Gentlemen, — This is to certify, that my wife had a violent cough of some weeks' standing, when I bought a bottle of your Pain Killer of Foster & Dickinson, and she commenced using it according to directions. After taking the first dose, her cough was evidently better; and after taking it three or four times, her cough and soreness in the throat were entirely removed, and she has had no return of the cough or soreness of the lungs since. And from using it in my family, I have no doubt that your Pain Killer is the best family medicine in use, adapted to a larger class of diseases than any other medicine in the world.

I am respectfully yours, &c.,

WILLIAM LENT.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Nov. 14, 1853.

This may certify that I have been afflicted for two years and a half with a severe pain in the stomach and chest, and found no relief until I tried Davis' Pain Killer, which has entirely relieved me. I further certify that I have been selling this medicine to a considerable extent, and it proves to be the most successful medicine for curing ague and chill fever, and miasmatic diseases, that has ever been sold in this section of country.

I consider it the most valuable medicine of the age, and can fully recommend it for the above diseases.

MAY (♊ Gemini), the fifth month of our present year, was the second in the old Alban calendar, the third in that of Romulus, and the fifth in the calendar of Numa Pompilius. The name is supposed to be derived from Maia, a Roman divinity, also called Majesta. She was the daughter of Atlas, and the mother of Mercury by Jupiter. (Maia, in the Greek, signifies mother.) By some she was regarded as the wife of Vulcan, because it was the custom for a priest of Vulcan to offer a sacrifice to her on the 1st of May. Smith thinks it more probable that Maia was the ancient name of Ops, the Roman female divinity of plenty and fertility, who was regarded as the wife of Saturnus, and accordingly as the protectress of everything connected with agriculture. Our modern May-day celebrations, with may-pole and flower-decked queen, are all suggestive of the ancient worship of this goddess.

Nervalgia in the face or head, and toothache, are easily cured by the use of Pain Killer.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

CHOLERA. — How to cure it. — At the commencement of the diarrhoea, which always precedes an attack of the cholera, take a teaspoonful of the Pain Killer in sugar and water (warm if convenient), and then bathe freely the stomach and bowels with the Pain Killer clear. Should the diarrhoea or cramps continue, repeat the dose every ten or fifteen minutes till the patient is relieved. In extreme cases, two or more teaspoonfuls may be given at a dose.

The following letter, from the well-known Capt. Broadwell, of the steamer "Atlantic," endorsed by Mr. Boffinger, clerk of same steamer, speaks for itself.

The most exalted worth is stripped of its glory whenever it glories in itself.

Dear Sir, — I feel it a duty I owe to the public to make known the value of Davis' Pain Killer, and my experience in using it for some of the complaints for which it is recommended. In April last, on your recommendation, I purchased a one-dollar bottle for pains with which I have long been afflicted, and used it on my trip down to New Orleans with the most gratifying and beneficial effects. On my return trip to this city, the cholera made its appearance among my passengers. I made use of the Pain Killer, having no other remedy on board, and, to my surprise and gratification, found it gave immediate relief. On my arrival in St. Louis I got four large bottles, having entire confidence in it as a cholera remedy, and feeling that I needed no other medicine on my boat. I used the four bottles on my trip to New Orleans and back, for cholera and other complaints, and met with the most astonishing success. Since then I have made two more trips to New Orleans and back; and on the one previous to my last up had more than seventy cases of cholera on board, using the Pain Killer only with the most astonishing results. In all cases where it was used in time, it gave almost immediate relief; and I can with confidence say to you and the public, that in all the early stages of cholera, it is in my opinion an infallible remedy, and no consideration whatever would induce me to leave port without a good supply of it on board, believing it to be a medicine that no officer of a boat, or any family, should be without a single day.

J. M. BROADWELL, Capt. Steamer "Atlantic."

I most cordially unite with Capt. Broadwell in recommending Perry Davis' Pain Killer to the public, having myself been severely attacked with the cholera, and relieved in a few hours by using it; and having myself administered it to more than fifty persons attacked with the cholera, and in every case, when used in season, effecting a cure in a few hours. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public as an invaluable medicine, and one that no individual should be without a single hour.

J. N. BOFFINGER, Clerk Steamer "Atlantic."

DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. — The above certificates from the captain and clerk of the steamer "Atlantic," respecting the Pain Killer as an infallible remedy for cholera, we know to be genuine. The facts were stated verbally by them sometime since in our office. — St. Louis Union.

The Pain Killer has real merit. — Newport News.

We have used the Davis' Pain Killer, and would recommend it to you (public). — Chickens, Conn.

JUNE (♋ Cancer) (Lat. Junius), the sixth month of our year, was the fourth month of the old Latin or Alban calendar. It derives its name from, and according to Ovid, was given in honor of, the goddess Juno, sister and wife of Jupiter, styled also the Queen of Heaven, the main feature of whose character is, that she bore the same relation to the female sex that Jupiter did to the male. She was, consequently, regarded as the protectress of every thing connected with marriage. Hence June, which was held sacred to her, was considered the most favorable month for marrying. But the general festival, which was celebrated by all women in honor of Juno, and was called Matronalia, always took place in the first day of March. In this month occurs the summer solstice, when the sun enters the sign Cancer.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

Indian Bread. — One quart sour milk, one cup molasses, one teaspoonful soda, three cups Indian meal, two cups flour, — baked in loaf not less than two hours, four if desirable, — slow oven.

Corn Cakes. — Two pounds of sifted meal; pour on this one pint of sour milk or cream; cut up one spoonful of good butter; beat three eggs, and stir in a little salt, with one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a little milk. This must be very lightly beaten; then pour into tins, and bake quickly.

Buttermilk Muffins. — Stir into one quart of buttermilk one teaspoonful of soda, and into one quart of flour one teaspoonful of cream of tartar; add them, and beat them well together, and pour into the muffin rings, and bake on a griddle. Serve hot.

Corn Muffins. — One quart of Indian meal, sifted, heaping spoonful of butter, one quart of milk, salt-spoon of salt, two tablespoonfuls of distillery yeast, one of molasses. Let it rise four or five hours. Bake in muffin-rings, or shallow pans.

Indian Meal Fried Cakes. — One pint of sour milk, a small teaspoonful of saleratus, a little salt, two and a half coffee cups of fine Indian meal. Mix all together, then drop from a spoon into hot lard, and then let them boil until a nice brown.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June, 1865.

Dear Sir, — I feel that it is a duty I owe to suffering humanity to give a relation of the great benefits I have derived from the use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. Last summer I had the misfortune to lose two of my children by that dreadful scourge, the cholera; and, in all human probability, should have fallen a victim to the pestilence myself, if a kind Providence had not provided me help in the hour of need. I first became acquainted with the Pain Killer while travelling on the river with my husband. A gentleman passenger had some with him, which he recommended in the highest terms as a remedy for cholera. I thought no more of it at the time, but the same night was attacked by the cholera in its worst form. I resorted to the various remedies used to arrest its progress, but all in vain. I was soon seized with violent cramps, and my discharges began to assume the same character as did my dear children's previous to their death. I was looked upon as lost, but all at once thought of the Pain Killer. My husband obtained the bottle from the passenger, and gave me a dose. I experienced almost immediately a cessation of pain. The dose was repeated at intervals of fifteen minutes, four or five times, and the result was my complete recovery. I feel confident that I owe my life to the Pain Killer, and only regret that I had not earlier known of its extraordinary virtues; I then might have saved the lives of my dear children. Since that time, I have used the Pain Killer in my family constantly; and the more I use it the better I like it. As a family medicine it has no equal.

SARAH SANDERBERRY.

I wish to corroborate the above statement of my wife in every particular, and would further say, that, after a long experience on the Western waters, I have never met with a medicine so well adapted for steamboat men and steamboat passengers as the Pain Killer, and can confidently recommend it to all as a compound of inestimable value.

T. G. SANDERBERRY.

For Summer Complaint or Diarrhoea, use the Pain Killer.

He will please most, who aims rather to give pleasure than to please.

Even Cholera yields to the magic influence of the Pain Killer. — Honorable Treasurer of the State of Missouri.

JULY (♌ Leo), the seventh month in our calendar, was, in the Roman year, the fifth, and, from its numerical station, bore the name Quintilis, even after Numa had prefixed January and February. Mark Antony altered the name to Julius, the gentle name of Caius Caesar, the Dictator, who was born in it. This change took place forty-four years before Christ. Our Anglo-Saxon ancestors called it Mæd Month—"Mead month"—from the meadows being then in their bloom; and Litha-æftera—"the latter mild month"—in contradistinction to June, which they considered and named as "the former mild month." On the 25th of this month, dog days are supposed to begin. In the old Latin calendar Quintilis had a complement of thirty-six days. Romulus reduced the number to thirty-one; Numa to thirty; but Julius Caesar restored the day of which Numa had deprived it, which it has ever since retained.

Debt is the worst kind of poverty. Pay as you go.

Read the following from Mr. Woodward, of St. Louis, to J. N. Harris, Esq., New London, Conn. Mr. Woodward is a resident of St. Louis, a gentleman of high respectability, and, during the prevalence of the cholera in that city, watched the result of the use of the Pain-Killer for this disease; and his testimony can be relied upon with the utmost confidence.

St. Louis, May 31, 1849.

Dear Sir, — You recollect, when I saw you in New London last January, I expressed to you my most sanguine expectations that Dr. King's Pain-Killer would have a very large sale in the West this season; and my anticipations have been more than realized; and the testimony of thousands who have used it has been that they would not be willing to go to bed at night without it in the house.

On the appearance of the cholera in this city, such was the confidence in the Pain-Killer as a remedy, that many who purchased it testified to me that they "had no fears or dread of the cholera as long as they had the Pain-Killer by them;" and many took it daily as a preventive: for no persons can long have a derangement of the bowels, or diarrhoea, if they use this medicine. It has the entire confidence of hundreds who use it themselves and administer it to their friends. And in every case where it has been taken in the first stages of the disease, it has proved successful.

I consider it an infallible remedy, and have not heard of an individual in my family who used the Pain-Killer when attacked, that did not speedily recover.

The clerk of the steamer "Atlantic" told me that he had administered it to persons when cold and in the cramps, and it gave immediate relief. He said it should be given early, for when the "ice-water" discharges have begun, the hope of recovery is very small. Should this disease visit your city, as in all probability it will, be not alarmed; you have the remedy, and I am confident, if the Pain-Killer is used, not a death by cholera need occur in your city.

Respectfully yours,

A. T. WOODWARD.

Tomatoes Stewed. — Pour boiling water on as many tomatoes as are required to be cooked; skin them and put them, sliced, into a tinnaid or porcelain saucepan, containing about a pint of cold water to a half peck of tomatoes, and cook slowly about twenty minutes. Thicken with bread crumbs, cracker-guards, or flour. Season to the taste with salt and pepper. Boil five minutes, and dish up with a piece of butter the size of a walnut. Most people like them sweetened a little.

Another Method. — Scald and skin as above; then take out the seeds, put the pulp and juice into a tinnaid or porcelain saucepan, with a little salt, and set them in a hot place to cook slowly for three hours; when nearly done, stir in butter, and a very little grated cracker or bread crumbs (some persons like them better without either). When very acid, a little sugar is an improvement, but nothing else, as it is important to retain the tomato flavor.

Tomatoes Liked. — Prepare as for the stew, and slice them in a yellow stone nappy. Season well with salt, pepper, and sugar if liked, adding a small piece of butter. Cover the whole with grated cracker or bread crumbs, and bake through quarters of an hour.

The Pain-Killer was introduced into India by missionaries.

"A handsome woman pleases the eye, but a good woman pleases the heart; the one is a jewel, the other a treasure." — Napoleon.

If taken in season, the Pain-Killer will effectively cure cholera.

There is no humbug about Pain-Killer but his counterfeits. It is a sure cure for cholera.

Knowledge of our duties is the most useful part of philosophy.

There is no humbug about Pain Killer but he counteracts it. It is a sure cure for Cholera.

AUGUST (the Virgo) was originally called Sextilis, it being the sixth month in the Alban or Latin calendar. Numa's reform gave it its present position; and Augustus Caesar, who gave it its present name, extended the number of days to thirty-one. It was originally intended that September, in which month Augustus was born, should bear his name; but he preferred Sextilis, as it stood next to July, which had recently been named after his predecessor, Julius, as well as for the reasons which influenced the decree of the Senate in confirming the name. — that, since it was the month, in which the Emperor had entered upon his first consulship, — had celebrated three triumphs in the city, — had subdued Egypt, and put an end to civil war; it appeared that it was and had been propitious to the empire. The word August has been adopted by the Germans, Dutch, French, and Spanish, to signify harvest, or harvesting.

Judicious and care are the first of the mind.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

Tomato Soup. — Take two or three pounds of good lean beef, and put in sufficient cold water to cook, and add a dozen tomatoes skinned, and boil together three hours. Then add ten ears green corn, cut from the cob, and four good sized potatoes cut in slices, two onions, and boil two hours, putting in as much more hot water as is necessary, and season with salt and pepper to taste; serve with split water crackers, in the tureen. The onions may be omitted.

Roast Lamb. — This requires much attention in the roasting. All young meats should be well cooked. For a sauce, wash clean a handful of fresh green mint, remove the leaves from the stems, mince it very fine, and put it into a sauce-boat, and stir in one teaspoonful of brown sugar and four tablespoonfuls of good wine vinegar. Green peas are the vegetables eaten with lamb.

Roast Veal. — Veal requires particular care to roast a nice brown. Let the fire be the same as for beef. Put it some distance from the fire at first, to let it roast thoroughly, as it must be well done, but not dried; then draw it near to finish it brown, basting well. For sauce, remove the juices of the meat from the bottom of the roaster, and skim all the fat off; mix in a little flour, salt, and pepper; then simmer, and serve hot.

TO EXCURSIONISTS. — It is important that those who go on excursions for pleasure or health should make some provision against diseases of the bowels, to which change of diet and water render them especially liable, and which are not only very inconvenient at such times, but are often fatal. Persons "doing" the St. Lawrence — especially in Montreal and Quebec — are liable to be attacked with a kind of diarrhoea called in that section, "Montreal cholera," for which we have found Perry Davis' Pain Killer a sure cure. A bottle of Pain Killer is the best physician a traveller can have. We speak from our own experience. — Hamilton Spectator.

FROM THE OLD GRANITE STATE. — A friend who is spending the summer in the State that proudly boasts of having given to the world some of the noblest and best men of the age, writes, "No man here allows his neighbor to think for him, neither in religion, law, nor medicine. With his old family Bible, the consolidated statutes, and Davis' Pain Killer, he has no use for D.D.'s, LL.D.'s, nor M.D.'s, except as missionaries to some benighted land, without the borders of his State. — Boston Traveller."

The "Montreal Pilot" says, "We are glad to notice the increasing demand for Perry Davis' Pain Killer in our city; for we look upon it as one of the most valuable medicines of its class. We speak from experience when we say it is a good medicine; and it is not a little in its favor that by its cheapness it is placed within the reach of the poorest who may need it. No family should be without it."

The "Christian Advocate" says, "It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of Perry Davis' Pain Killer, known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other wounds. It is valuable not only for colds in winter, but for fevers and the various summer complaints; and it should always be kept near at hand, for accidents that most require it always occur without notice."

Pain Killer is a preventive, as well as cure, for all bowel diseases.

It is wisdom to say little of the injuries you receive.

"Davis' memory," says John Estlin, "is nothing but a row of hooks to hang up grudges on."

A good word is as easily spoken as a bad one.

SEPTEMBER (♏ Libra), the ninth month in our calendar, was, in the Roman, the seventh, from which it derives its name. The English names of the months, which are all Latin terms, appear to have been given them by the lawyers, whose writings were formerly in Latin, based on the supposition that the year commenced in March. Most other nations of Europe use the same or a similar name for this month. The commencement of the legal year in England was changed from March to January in 1752, when the style was changed. September bore various names at different periods, given it by the Roman emperors. The Saxons called it Gerast Monath, "barley month," it being the month in which gerst, or barley, the principal grain cultivated by them, was harvested. In Switzerland it is called Herbstmonat, "harvest month."

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

Gentlemen, — I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than any other medicine. I also used it here for cholera in 1855 with the same good results. Truly yours, A. HUNTING, M.D.

SWATOW, China, Sept. 22, 1864.

Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON, PROVIDENCE, R.I.

Gentlemen, — I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the "Pain Killer," using as directed for cholera. A list of the cases was kept, and our native assistants assure us that eight out of every ten to whom it was administered recovered. In other diseases, also, it has been very useful and has proved an inestimable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their circuits without a supply of the "Pain Killer," for it gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities where they would otherwise be very indifferently received. Believe me, faithfully yours, &c., J. M. JOHNSON.

Mr. PERRY DAVIS, Sir, — Although personally a stranger to you, yet the benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable medicine, the Pain Killer, induce me to pen a word of praise for it. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, severe Chills, Weariness, common Colds, Hoarseness, Cholera, Cholera Mortus, Diarrhea, and Dysentery, there is nothing better than the Pain Killer. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonfuls, taken at thirty minutes' interval, in a wine-glass full of hot water.

I am confident, through the blessing of God, it saved me from the Cholera during the summer of 1840. Travelling amid heat, dust, change of diet, and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with severe pain, for which I found the Pain Killer a sovereign remedy; — one teaspoonful curing the worst attack in an hour, or at most half a day. Gratitude, and a desire for its more general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor.

D. T. TAYLOR, Jr., Minister of the Gospel.

Buckwheat Cakes. — Take two quarts of good buckwheat flour, and in the same amount of sweet milk dissolve two teaspoonfuls and a half of soda, and mix equally mixed. Then add to the flour one pint of good yeast, and mix all the ingredients together, and beat the batter about ten minutes to make it rise well. Let it stand ten or eleven hours, and bake in moderately hot buttered griddles, and as quickly as possible. Send to the table smoking hot, and serve with honey or golden syrup.

A stitch in time saves nine.

Difficulties dissolve before a cheerful spirit, like snow-drifts before the sun.

Those who have known the Pain Killer cannot have the most confidence in it.

OCTOBER (in Scythians) was, in the calendar of Romans, the eighth month, whence its name. Domitian, who was born in this month, gave it the name Domitianus, which is retained only during his lifetime. Antoninus Pius caused it to be called October, in honor of his wife, Faustina; and the emperors of Constantinople assigned to it one of their name. Our Anglo-Saxon ancestors gave it the time Winter-month; the winter full moon; or "winter-beginning," as they reckoned time by winters, instead of years. Among the Romans, this month was sacred to Mars; and a horse called the October Equus, was annually sacrificed to this deity. Previous to the sacrifice, a race was run with chariots, and the bestest horse was made the victim.

Of earthly goods, the best is a good wife. — Simoetes.

Buckwheat Griddle Cakes.— Take a clean crock, and put into it a quart of clean tepid water in which a tablespoonful of salt has been dissolved. Then stir in the meal, gradually sifting it through the fingers as in making Indian hasty pudding. Having acquired a stiff batter, stir in as much fresh yeast as you would use for a loaf of bread; cover the crock close; lay some woollen cloth over it, and set it behind the stove to keep warm. If the crock is prepared thus half full, at nine o'clock in the evening, it will probably be risen full by the time you are ready to begin cooking cakes in the morning. If so, dissolve in a half pint of warm water, a teaspoonful of saleratus; stir down the batter vigorously, have the griddle hissing hot, keep it well greased, drop on only a large spoonful in a cake, fry to a bright brown on both sides, and serve immediately. Buckwheats should never be buttered till they come into the hands of the consumer.

Leave always in the crock, say half a pint of the batter as the foundation for the ensuing batch, to be stirred up and set by every night in the same manner. After the first batch no yeast is required, but don't forget the saleratus every morning. Once in about five days, empty, scald out, and thoroughly cleanse your crock; put back the reserve batter, and go on as usual.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., 1848.

FRIEND DAVIS.— By a fall of several feet from a pair of stairs, I received an injury in my shoulder, so that I could not take off my coat without help for eight or ten months; tried every remedy without any benefit; had a bottle of thy Pain Killer sent to me, but did not try it until it had stood several days; but growing worse, was induced to try it, and, by using it two or three times, could put on my coat and take it off without help, and in two or three weeks was entirely well, and have remained so since, about two years. I have also sold five or six bottles, which have given entire satisfaction; in cases of broken breasts, it has astonished every one who has used it or seen it used. I shall now keep it for sale, and recommend it to every one who may wish to try it with confidence. For burns and scalds, it is superior to anything I ever used. A friend of mine, W. Thomas, had his hand badly scalded, and expected it would be useless for some time; but, by immediately applying the Pain Killer, it scarcely blistered.

Thy friend, ALLEN KELLY.

PITE OF A RATTLESNAKE CURED IN FIVE MINUTES.

MESSES. PERRY DAVIS & SON, Gentlemen.— A merchant of Linnoens, in this State, informs me that recently one of his sons was severely bitten on the leg by a rattlesnake, from the effects of which he suffered most dreadfully. The family chancing to have some of Perry Davis' Pain Killer in the house, immediately commenced bathing the bitten place without knowing whether it would or not afford the least relief; but, surprising as it may seem, the poison was soon observed to exude from the wound, and in five or ten minutes the young man fell asleep, entirely free from pain, or any effect from the bite except the flesh wound, which healed very soon.

Yours respectfully, H. BLAKSLEY.

Pain Killer is a most excellent travelling companion.

Pain Killer cures rheumatic and neuralgic pains in the joints and limbs.

NOVEMBER (♄ Sagittarius), the eleventh month of the Julian, was the ninth in the year of Romulus, whence it received its name. Our Saxon ancestors called it Blot Month, "a blood month, the month of sacrifice;" because at this season the heathen Saxons made a provision for winter, and offered in sacrifice many of the animals then killed. Some notion of the vast extent to which the opulent provided for themselves and their retainers at this season may be formed from the contents of the ladder of the elder Spenser, in 1327, which, in the month of May, contained "the carcases of eighty salted leeces, five hundred beacons, and six hundred muttons," the reliques of his winter's provisions. Martine was a provision, formerly well, and, in some places, still known. The Spanish proverb, "His Martinmas is coming, when we shall be all hogs alike," alludes to the slaughter of swine at this period.

To be honest is the first step to greatness.

Pride costs more than hunger, thirst, and cold.

Tomatoes, how to Can. — Take any quantity of full, ripe tomatoes; wash them, and pour boiling water on them in order to remove the skins; then place them over the fire in a preserving kettle, and cook them slightly; have your cans ready, and fill them and seal or solder, as directed for peaches.

Lemon Pudding. — Stir to a cream one pound of butter and one pound of sugar; grate in the oily rind of three fresh lemons, and squeeze in the juice; mix this in with the butter and sugar; beat very lightly the yolks of eleven eggs; add to the butter and sugar one wine-glass of wine and brandy mixed, with one wine-glass of rose-water; beat these in well; lastly, stir in the eggs. Line the dishes with puff paste, and bake half an hour. It is most economical to make lemon and cocoanut puddings on the same day, as the yolks can be used for the lemon pudding, and they will keep for several days if kept in a cool, dry place.

Almond Pudding. — Blanch by pouring hot water on half a pound of beat almonds; rub them in a mortar with rose-water to prevent their oiling; they must be rubbed to a smooth paste; cream half a pound of good butter and half a pound of white sugar; when quite smooth and light, stir in the almond; then add one wine-glass of wine and brandy mixed, and one wine-glass of rose-water; then beat separately the whites from the yolks of seven eggs; first stir in the yolks, and then the whites, beat all well together, line the dishes with puff paste, and bake as long as a custard only.

The following extract explains itself. The Rev. Charles Harding is a well-known missionary in India:—

I regret to say that the cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the PAIN KILLER sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

REV. CHARLES HARDING, Sholapore, India.

Dubuque, Iowa, May 5, 1855.

Gentlemen, — I feel under obligations to you for the benefit I have received from your invaluable Pain Killer.

We have had some cholera here on the Mississippi thus early in the season. A few days since, I assisted in laying out and burying one of our citizens who was supposed to have died with the disease. The next morning I was taken with severe vomiting, accompanied with coldness of the extremities. Warm covering and hot applications failed to restore warmth. My wife's family, who had used the Pain Killer with success during the cholera season in Buffalo in 1849, advised me to take it. I took two doses at intervals of fifteen minutes; a fine perspiration ensued, and the next day, barring a little weakness, I was well, and have been ever since.

I find that several of our citizens have used the Pain Killer as a remedy for cholera, and pronounce it good. I take pleasure in recommending it to a still more extensive notice.

Yours truly,

W. M. CROZIER, Attorney at Law.

DECEMBER (♄ Capricornus) still retains the name which its position in the ancient Roman calendar gave it. Commodus gave it the name Amazonius, in honor of his mistress, whom he delighted to see clothed in the Amazonian habit. This month was anciently consecrated to Saturn, one of the principal divinities of the ancient Italians, the protector of agriculture, and of all civilization arising from it. He was said to have established a settlement on the Capitoline Hill, which, from this circumstance, was called the Saturnian Hill, and the settlement itself Saturnia. His rule was so just and mild that the age in which he reigned was afterwards called the Golden Age of Italy. His wife, Ops, was, in after times, worshipped as the goddess of plenty.

A beautiful ring—the home circle.

Old English Plum Pudding.—To make what is termed a pound pudding, take of raisins well stoned, currants thoroughly washed, one pound each; chop a pound of suet very finely, and mix with them; add a quarter of a pound of flour, or bread very finely crumbled, three ounces of sugar, one ounce and a half of grated lemon-peel, a blade of mace, half a small nutmeg, half a dozen eggs well beaten; work it well together, put it into a cloth, tie it firmly, — allowing room to swell, — and boil not less than five hours. It should not be suffered to stop boiling.

American Pudding.—Put on a pint of new milk to scald; while this is heating, stir three large spoonfuls of rice flour into a cup of milk; when quite smooth, stir it into the boiling milk; add a little salt and a large spoonful of butter; grate in the oily part of the rind of a lemon, and add also some nutmeg, and one wine-glassful of brandy; beat these all together, add three large spoonfuls of good brown sugar, beat five eggs very light, and stir in; butter a dish, and pour it in; bake as long as custard.

FEVER AND AGUE CURED BY THE PAIN KILLER.—To all who suffer from fever and ague.—It is with great pleasure that I am enabled to bear testimony to this invaluable medicine—Davis' Vegetable Killer—for the cure of fever and ague. I had this disease in its worst form, and have been cured by this medicine. Indeed, so immediate was the relief that the disease left me, as it were, by magic. I had but one chill after beginning with this medicine, and that a few moments after taking the first dose. I contracted the disease last fall in Columbia, Loren County, O., and this spring, being very much debilitated, returned [to this my native town. I have paid out lots of money to physicians, and for various kinds of medicine, from all of which I got no relief until I tried the Pain Killer. That did the work in a hurry. In three days from the time I took the first dose, my system was entirely free from all appearance of the disease, with the exception of my skeleton-like body. My appetite returned, and in two weeks I had gained ten pounds of flesh. For the sake of suffering humanity, I would in all kindness recommend the Pain Killer to those who have suffered as I have.

NEW LONDON, June 10, 1848.

GEO. JEFFREY, JUN.

GALENA, ILL., June 10, 1850.

I have used the medicine known as Perry Davis' Pain Killer in my family for the last twelve months, and have great pleasure in testifying in favor of its very valuable properties. I would not on any account be without it. During the existence of cholera last year, I used no medicine of any sort but the Pain Killer, although myself and several members of my family were attacked by it severely; and I am happy to say that the Pain Killer was equal to every emergency, — it was both a preventive and a certain cure. I consider I should not be doing my duty to the community did I not say this much. If I were attacked by the cholera to-day, the Pain Killer should be the only remedy I would use. I have thoroughly tested it, and I know it can be relied on.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

Evil Company. — The following beautiful allegory is from the German. Sophronius, a wise teacher, would not suffer his grown-up sons and daughters to associate with those whose conduct was not pure and upright. "Dear father," said the gentle Eulalia to him one day, when he had forbidden her visiting in company with her brother the indiscreet Lucinda, "you must think us very childish, if you imagine that we should be exposed to danger by it." The father took in silence a dead coal from the hearth, and reached it to his daughter. "Take it, my child: it will not burn you." Eulalia did so, and, behold! her beautiful white hand was soiled and blackened. And, as it charred her white dress also, "We cannot be too careful in handling coals," said Eulalia in vexation. "Yes, truly," said the father. "You see, my child, that coals, even if they do not burn, blacken: so it is with the company of the vicious.

DIRGE.

Softly!
She is dying
Of a broken heart.

Whisper!
She is going

Whisper!

Dim within her breast.

Gently!
She is sleeping;
She has breathed her last.
Gently!
While you're weeping,

THE EYE OF THE NEEDLE.—The Scriptural simile, that it is harder for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven than for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, which has puzzled many a learned and unlearned head, is clearly explained by a modern traveller.

In the East, all walled cities have a small gate along side of the great gate, which is called, in the figurative language of that region, "the eye of the needle." When it is understood that the large gates are closed at night, and that a traveller arrived afterwards, must enter through the "eye of the needle," through which he can take his camel, if he desires to do so, only by divesting him of his burden, and causing him to kneel down, the metaphor is clear, simple, and beautiful.

DIPHTHERIA.—For the cure of that dreaded disease, Davis' Pain Killer is a specific, if resorted to in time.

It should be used, mixed with water, as a gargle, and the throat bathed with Pain Killer freely. Read what Dr. Walton writes us, from Coshocton, O. :—

"I am happy to inform you that the Pain Killer cures this new disease, Diphtheria, or Sore Throat, that is prevailing to so alarming an extent in this section of the country. On Walnut Creek, Holmes County, they use scarcely any other remedy; and it has never been known to fail in a single instance when used in time. This fact you can make known to the world."

WOOSTER, O., May 20, 1863.

Sirs, — Having had occasion to use Perry Davis' Pain Killer in my family for the last five years, I am pleased to acknowledge its beneficial effects in every instance. Feeling confident that it was this medicine that saved my child's life, when attacked with cramp colic, it is a pleasure to me to recommend it as a good family medicine, and one which every family ought to have in their house.

In cases of emergency, there can be nothing better; at least, I have always found it so: and I find it to be generally known and esteemed.

Yours respectfully,

H. P. McKEENAN.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

From Columbus, Ohio.

Notwithstanding our repugnance to the use of quack medicines, we are induced to say a word in favor of Perry Davis' Pain Killer, not so much that we think the medicine needs it, as that our readers need to know more of the medicine. We heard to-day of its having cured several cases of neuralgia. Dr. Robert A. Ware, one of our oldest physicians and druggists, used it in a severe case of neuralgia in the back, after having tried unsuccessfully all the ordinary modes of treating that disease, and found that it gave entire relief in a few hours. He has since used and prescribed it in several similar cases, and in every case with the same result. Now any medicine that will cure neuralgia is a benediction to any community. — Columbus Journal.

Testimonials from Foreign Countries.

Thomas S. Ranney, writing from Rangoon, Burmah, Dec. 19, 1856, says: "It is becoming more popular; and in several instances I am assured that the cholera has been arrested and life preserved by its use. The late prevalence of cholera here has swept off about all the Pain Killer I had; and purchasers looking to me for it will be disappointed. Please send me a supply by the first opportunity."

CAPE TOWN, AFRICA, Jan. 28, 1856.

Messrs. P. Davis & Sox. Dear Sirs, — The Pain Killer, we are happy to say is getting in good repute here; and its good qualities are being appreciated. Lately, we have a great demand for the article, and confidently anticipate a large trade in it.

BORRODAILE, THOMPSON, HALL, & CO.

Rev. T. Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, Jan. 5, 1857, says, "Within the past four years I have used and disposed of above five hundred bottles, but am now out. Please send a fresh supply (through the Mission Rooms) as soon as you can, say two hundred bottles. I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasions to use it, both on myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Zayate, I was awoken by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On my examination, I found I had been bitten by a centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than one hour I was again asleep."

Rev. Mr. Hibbard, writing from Burmah to his father, says, "I have used Perry Davis' Pain Killer for coughs, colds, summer complaints, burns, and for the sting of scorpions, with uniform success." We always keep it where we can put our hand on it in the dark, if need be."

Good Loaf Bread. — Take three cups of water blood warm, one teaspoonful salt, one-third cup yeast, one tablespoonful shortening; stir in flour till stiff enough to knead. Then knead thoroughly, and set in a warm place to rise; when well risen take it out on a bread board and knead again, using as little flour as possible; divide in two loaves, and place in buttered baking pans, and let it stand till thoroughly light, and bake in an even oven an hour.

When Dr. FRANKLIN was agent in England, in 1774, one of the ministry inquired of him what would satisfy the Colonies. He answered that it might be comprised in a few Res (the Latin for things, Ed.), and sat down, and wrote as follows:—Re-call your troops, re-store Castle William, re-pair the damage done to Boston, re-peal your unconstitutional acts, re-voke your pretensions to taxation; and re-fund the duties you have extorted. Afterwards, re-quire and re-ceive, pay for, re-destroyed; and then re-joice in a happy re-conciliation.

Messrs. PERRY, DAVIS & SONS, Gentlemen,—Allow me, as an eye-witness of the great good which your excellent medicine, the Pain-Killer, has done amongst us in the cities of Madeira, to state, for the good of others, that it is now, and has been for five years, the great family medicine. We have found it excellent in fever and ague, in coughs, colds, dyspepsia, chronic and inflammatory rheumatism, cramps, worms, piles, nervous headache, gravel, &c. &c. The introduction of the Pain-Killer has been a great blessing to the whole colony.

This certifies that I have for several years used Davis' Vegetable Pain-Killer in my family, in several of those cases for which it is recommended, and find it a very useful family medicine.

REV. A. BRONSON, Fall River.

The Rev. D. Whitaker, writing from Tongoo, Burmah, says, "My duties as a missionary prevent my noticing particular cases; but your Pain-Killer has been used with peculiar success in diseases of the stomach, bowel complaints, and in severe cases of burns. One of the Christian villages near us was burnt down, and several persons were represented as near a dying condition from the severity of their injuries. I sent them the Pain-Killer at once, with directions for its use. All but one were saved."

See that your supply of Pain-Killer is not out.

PAIN-KILLER ALMANAC.

Minced Fowl.— Take the remains of a cold, roast fowl, and cut off all the white meat, which mince finely, without any skin or bone; but put the bone, skin, and ceteras into a stew-pan, with an onion, a blade of mace, and a handful of sweet herbs tied up; add nearly a pint of water; let it stew for an hour, and then strain, and pour off the gravy, putting in a teaspoonful of Lea and Perrin's Worcestershire sauce. Take two hard-boiled eggs, and chop them small; mix them with the fowl; add salt, pepper, and mace, according to taste; put in the gravy; also half a tablespoonful of very finely minced lemon-peel, and one tablespoonful of lemon-juice, two teaspoonfuls of flour, made into a smooth paste with a little cold water, and let the whole just boil. Serve with sippets of toasted bread. Some persons prefer cayenne to common white pepper.

Old Fowls.— Fowls of doubtful age may safely be converted into a pudding. The fowls should be trussed as for boiling, and enveloped in a crust roly-poly fashion,—that is, the pudding cloth tied at both ends; boil for six hours, by which time an old fowl acquires a degree of tenderness which it would never attain by ever so careful boiling or roasting. The flavor of the dish is considerably increased by stuffing the fowl with real stuffing or forcemeat of any kind. Sausage meat is good.

Messrs. J. N. HARRIS & Co., CINCINNATI, O.

Gentlemen,— I have used Allen's Lung Balsam, and found it does all it promises to do. I know it has done me a great deal of good. I want more of it, and wish that you could send me some without delay. I can conscientiously recommend it to my friends, and such as are afflicted as I have been.

Respectfully yours,

EMILY QUAINANCE.

We sent some of Allen's Lung Balsam to Buckeys, as called for by the above letter, and, in September, Mrs. Quainance, accompanied by her husband, called at our office in Cincinnati, and gave us the following letter:

BUCKEYS, O., Sept. 17, 1864.

Messrs. J. N. HARRIS & Co.,

Gentlemen,— I take pleasure in informing you of the great benefit I have received in the use of Allen's Lung Balsam. About three years since, I was attacked with a cold, or hacking cough, which finally affected my lungs. I followed the advice of several physicians, and used all kinds of cough and lung remedies, but kept getting worse, and was confined to my bed for nearly one year, during which time I suffered intolerably with bleeding of the lungs, and pains in my back and side. My husband, finding one of your Almanacs, where the Balsam is so highly recommended, I was induced to give it a trial, although I had been given up to die by four physicians. After using the first bottle, I was able to get up and go about the house; and, after using two and a half bottles, I was entirely cured, and am now enjoying the best of health; and all this I owe to the merits of Allen's Lung Balsam; and I most cheerfully recommend and urge all who may be similarly afflicted to use it without delay.

Very respectfully, your friend,

EMILY QUAINANCE.

For Scalds and Burns, use the Pain-Killer. It will give immediate relief.

It is easier to do much mischief than accomplish a little good.

Do not despair, because other remedies fail, but try the Lung Balsam.

Testimony from Druggists.

Daniel Zimmerman, Druggist, of Lynneville, Ind., has the past year sold many dozens of Allen's Lung Balsam. He says he has "many remedies good for an ordinary cold; but for all obstinate cases of cough or lung fever, Allen's Lung Balsam is the remedy, and the sure one."

Joseph Brotherson, Druggist, writes from Sharon, Henry County, Ill., and says, "Allen's Lung Balsam takes well; and in no case have I known it to fail of the cure that it is recommended for."

Mr. W. A. Peterson, Ovid, Clinton County, Mich., informs us, May 3, 1866, that he had been attended by physicians, without much relief. They pronounced his case consumption. Getting no permanent relief, he commenced using Allen's Lung Balsam, and in two weeks was entirely relieved. This is only one of the many cases of consumption which baffled the skill of the doctors, but yielded to the intrinsic merits of Allen's Lung Balsam.

WORTHINGTON, FRANKLIN Co., O., May 25, 1866.

MESSRS. J. N. HARRIS & Co., CINCINNATI, O.

Gents,—Inclosed I hand you Mr. Taylor's letter,—his willing testimony to the great merits of Allen's Lung Balsam. It has proved beneficial in every case where I have sold it. It has a reputation in this vicinity beyond all other cough medicines, and large increasing demand for it.

Respectfully, WM. T. SNOW, Druggist.

WORTHINGTON, OHIO, May 22, 1866.

Mr. Wm. T. Snow.

Dear Sir,—I bear willing testimony to the sterling merits of Allen's Lung Balsam for all Pulmonary troubles. I have had a very distressing cough, and it gave me immediate relief and permanent benefit. I have had a severe attack of Pleurisy, and by its aid was relieved and cured. I am satisfied that all that is necessary to convince any one of its merits, would only be to make a trial of it; and I cheerfully recommend it to all whose condition demands any thing of this nature, asking for it an impartial trial, and believing they will, and hoping they may be benefited as much as I was myself.

Delicious Bread—One tumblerful of good rice flour, one teacupful of wheat flour, one teaspoonful and a half of cream of tartar stirred in, one large spoonful of butter cut up very finely, a little salt, one egg well beaten, and one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a large teacup of new milk; mix these well together, and bake in a pan like pound cake. Serve hot for tea or breakfast.

Receipt for Corn Bread.—One quart of coarse corn meal, one quart sweet milk, one even teaspoon soda, two even teaspoons cream of tartar, four eggs well beaten (two will do), a piece of butter the size of a walnut, and a little salt; bake with a quick heat, and it will be as light as sponge cake. But remember you cannot make good light corn bread with fine meal; it must be ground coarse.

The best remedy for foot-blisters or chilblains is the Pain-Exiler.

Read this letter from Mr. John F. Blais, who was supposed to be incurable, other medicines doing him but little good; but by the first bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam, he receives great benefit and encouragement.

YELLOW SPRINGS, GREENA Co., O., Dec. 27, 1864.

Messrs. J. N. HARRIS & Co.

Dear Sirs,—I take this opportunity to say that I am taking the Lung Balsam, and am receiving great benefit from it. My disease is very obstinate, and the weather has been very unfavorable; but still I think the medicine will cure me. I have Lung Balsam enough to last me a week. My Cough is now quite loose, and does not trouble me half as much as it did. What I raise is a thick yellow matter. I thank you a thousand times for the medicine you sent me. May God's blessings rest with you is my prayer, and the prayer of my family. I subscribe myself ever your obedient servant, JOHN F. BLAIS.

EXTRACTS FROM DRUGGISTS' LETTERS.

LExINGTON, Miss., May 23, 1866.

Messrs. J. N. HARRIS & Co.

Dear Sirs,—I have made Allen's Lung Balsam pretty well known in our city and county, and have sold about all the four dozen bottles sent me in March last; and I find that persons who, try the Balsam once come back again for more, as it gives them satisfaction; and I recommend it in preference to any other medicine for Coughs or Colds. Please send me six dozen bottles as soon as possible. I am, yours, &c., THOMAS J. FLETCHER, Druggist.

L. B. Bowie, Druggist, Uniontown, Fayette County, Penn., writes, April 4, 1866, "Allen's Lung Balsam has performed some remarkable cures about here. I recommend it with confidence in all diseases of the Throat and Lungs."

Starling Bros., Druggists, writes, from Carrollton, Carroll County, Ohio, January 28, 1866: "Send us six dozen Allen's Lung Balsam. We are entirely out of it. It gives more general satisfaction than any other medicine we sell."

To preserve Potatoes till Spring.—Put a quantity of powdered charcoal in the bottom of the potato bin; it will preserve their flavor, and prevent the sprouts from shooting out so early as they otherwise would.

Watery Potatoes.—Put into the pot a piece of lard as large as a hen's egg; and, however watery the potatoes may be when the water is poured off, they will be perfectly dry and ready.

Potato Muffins.—Boil three good-sized potatoes, skin and wash them, heat in a teaspoonful of salt, and a piece of good butter the size of an egg; make this perfectly smooth, and about the consistency of dough, by adding a little warm water; beat in six eggs. Dissolve ten teaspoonfuls of soda in a little water, with a teaspoonful of salt, and three tins of cold flour; mix these well together, and mix the rest of the dough, when you are ready to use it, and put it in the oven.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

This long-tested and unrivalled Family Medicine has been favorably known for nearly thirty years, during which time we have received thousands of testimonials, proving it to be an almost never-failing remedy for diseases caused by or attendant upon Colds, Coughs, Fever and Ague, Headache, Bilious Fever, Pains in the Side, Back, Loins, Joints, Limbs; Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pains, Toothaches, Pains in the Head and Face, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Kidney complaints, Sick Headache, General Debility of the System, Piles, Asthma or Phthisis, Cramp and Pain in Stomach, Painters' Colic, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Summer Complaint, CHOLERA, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Scalds, Burns, Sprains, Bruises, Ringworms, Bolls, Felons, Whitlows, Swelled Joints, Old Sores, Frost Bites, Chilblains, also the Bites or Stings of Insects, Scorpions, Centipedes, and Venomous Reptiles.

It has been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation known to Americans. It is the almost constant companion and inestimable friend of the Missionary, and no traveller should be without it.

COUNTERFEITS.

The Pain Killer, like every other good thing, has been extensively counterfeited; which, while it is an acknowledgment on the part of the counterfeiters of its real worth, is a serious hindrance to its usefulness, the deceived purchaser estimating the value of the Pain Killer by the base compound he has purchased for the genuine article. We have spared no pains nor expense to protect the public against these imitations, having changed the style of our bottles, from a plain octagon to a finely moulded panel bottle, with the words "DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER," blown in three of the panels, the other being left plain to receive our finely engraved note, signed by "Perry Davis & Son," to counterfeit which is a high crime in every civilized country. Under the word "DAVIS," is an excellent likeness of Perry Davis, the inventor of the Pain Killer, finely engraved on steel. These plates were obtained at a cost of several thousand dollars, and this is but a small part of the expense of protecting the public and ourselves against unprincipled counterfeiters and contemptible imitators. Be careful in purchasing to see that you get the Pain Killer, and by a careful examination of the bottle and label, especially the note, that you do not buy a counterfeit.
