

Miramichi and the North Shore, etc.

SHOW flew about in the Miramichi air yesterday.

FRENCH-ENGLISH dry goods clerk wanted.

REV. MRS. CHAMBERLAIN'S Farewell Sermon will be on the first page.

CHINA, GLASS, AND EASTERNWARE are advertised by Mr. Geo. Stohart.

THE "ANDOVER" is running to Chatham, Newcastle and other points.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Thos. Marquis is home from college for the summer vacation.

DWELLING AND SHOP.—Mr. Lyons advertises a dwelling and shop to let.

THE MILLS.—Among the mills at work are Snowball's, Hutchinson's, Berrell's and Sargent's.

FURNITURE of all kinds will be found in great variety at Mr. Palmer's, Newcastle. See advt.

UNDEVELOPED.—Mr. Wm. McLean is undertaking well with the times in the developing business. Read his advt.

THE "DETROIT" PLANO was sold at auction on Saturday last and purchased for $190 by Mr. Wm. Johnson of the Canada House.

WHAT OFFICE was it that Mr. Turgeon of Gloucester was promised by the Dominion Government? Mr. Turgeon says it was a good one.

THE ICE still remains unbroken in the river below, although we have had clear water since Saturday down to, and below Sheldrake Island.

TICKETS for the dance in Masonic Hall, Newcastle, on Tuesday next, are for sale at Mackenzie's Drug Store, Chatham, at one dollar each.

"ELECTOR," HARDWICK.—Your communication is received, but before publishing it we would like to have an explanation of one or two points in it.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.—We are obliged again to hold over our notes of Chatham school examinations and also those sent by our Hardwick correspondent.

SEEN.—Attention is directed to Mr. Mackenzie's large and varied stock of seeds. He has had them carefully put up and selected stocks and they are without doubt fresh and reliable.

NEW OVERSEAS.—Mr. J. A. Verge, of Quebec, has been appointed Overseas for the Restigouche District, vice Overseer John Mowat, whose resignation was accepted in February last.

PROPERTY SALE.—The sale of the Lobban property advertised this week offers an excellent chance for the securing of nice building lots. Quite a large portion of the property, however, is to be offered in one lot and will make an excellent market farm.

THE "WORLD" says if Mr. Mitchell doesn't run for Northumberland and take Mr. Snowball's place, two or three others are ready and willing to do so. Just so, the whole eight of them would like to run. The "World" will get used to our affairs by and bye and learn to keep cool.

THUNDER.—They actually had thunder showers at St. John on 2nd of May, although the Kennebec, Miramichi, Bathurst Harbor and almost all other inland and semi-inland Provincial waters were frozen up. On the evening of the same day a blinding snow storm prevailed at Chatham.

FOR SUMMER.—Mr. Alex. Robinson has on hand a very fine stock of articles of different kinds, of his own make, also carts, slovens, etc.—a variety from which almost any requirement may be met. He has also a lot of second-hand waggons in good repair for sale cheap, to make room for new stock.

GOOD SHOOTING.—Our Hardwick correspondent writes—"C. S. Ramsay Esq., has been in Hardwick the last few days gunning. On Tuesday the 2nd Mr. Ramsay and Mr. Ramsay shot 10 geese and 5 smaller birds; besides these Mr. Ramsay succeeded in shooting a good many more, brant and ducks. He will take a fine lot of fowl to Newcastle when he goes home."

A CORNER IN TRADE.—Mr. Gibson has, we are told, bought all the deals in the Province. His shipments during the past few weeks have been enormous, amounting fully two million feet a day.—Fredericton Herald.

The St. John River is not quite the whole Province, just yet, and we doubt whether Mr. Gibson has secured all the deals, even there. It will be found that Mr. Gibson has not bought even one half of all the deals in the Province.

FOR THE "TELEGRAPH."—A correspondent sends us the following for an explanation—"The Alexandrovna was bound from Rotterdam, in ballast, to Cardiff, to load for Calcutta, having sailed from Rotterdam about ten days ago, after discharging a cargo of wheat loaded at Calcutta."

The sentence occurred in an item in the Telegraph of 2nd inst., and the contents of that item were understood in Parkin's Telegraph to explain how the vessel came to sail from Rotterdam after discharging a cargo of wheat at Calcutta, and what Rotterdam had to do with Calcutta in the matter?

THE "ADVOCATE" intimates that an extra sent from this office last week was with the compliments of Mr. Snowball, M. P. This is untrue. We believe Mr. Snowball obtained some of the same sheets and had them sent out, with his compliments. The "Advocate" complains that some of our subscribers in Newcastle did not get our extra. Well, our circulation there was larger than our supply of the extra, and we were obliged, reluctantly, to slight some of our best friends. If the "Advocate" has "notes" on any other matter connected with our business and will let us know, we will do what we can to explain. Meantime we hope our esteemed contemporary will preserve its temper.

Melancholy Accident.—Our Hardwick correspondent, writing on 4th inst., says—"A sad accident happened in this Parish, to-day, which resulted in the death of a fine young man about 25 years of age, whose name was Joseph Manuel, Jr. He was out in a flat-bottomed boat, shooting, and fired at a flock of ducks and the boat upset; he got hold of the boat and drifted down the channel, which runs out between Huckleberry Island and McLean's Beach, and which is known as McLean's Gully. There was no other boat in the channel but the one and he could not be reached until the boat drifted down a long distance and caught against a point of ice. He did not let go his hold of the boat, and Joseph Martin went to his aid. He was then insensible. He was conveyed to Daniel McLean's house where all available remedies were applied to restore him, but he died soon after he was got to the house. The deceased leaves a wife and one child."

Curing.—Chatham had the honor of playing the first game of curling of the season now closed and also the last. The ice at the Club's rink was in fair condition on Friday morning, 5th inst., when sides were made up about half past six o'clock and a game played as follows:—

Joe Barnett, Wm. Johnston, Geo. Stohart, R. Murray, John McDonald, Arthur Johnston, Wm. Wilson, A. P. D. Cheam, skip 5. Later curling than this has never been played in Canada.

Bathurst Notes.—May 9th, 1882. Henry C. Baldwin, Esq., Registrar of Deeds and Judge of Probates for this County, died at his residence on Tuesday the 2nd inst., as stated in last week's issue. He was a native of Bathurst and had been in the office of Bathurst for upwards of half a century and during a very large portion of that period held the most important public offices in the County, his death calls for more than a mere passing notice and affords a fitting opportunity for a short sketch of a life that has been so largely devoted to the public service. He was an Irishman by birth and emigrated to St. John when a boy. He came to Bathurst from St. John in the year 1831 and engaged in mercantile pursuits in partnership with Mr. Frank Wheeler. On the 4th April, 1837, he was appointed sheriff of the County, which office he held till the year 1833, when he was succeeded by Sheriff Carman. He was again appointed to the office in 1835 and resigned in 1837, when he was succeeded by Sheriff Wilson. He was a very efficient officer. Dignified and energetic in his manner, and possessing good administrative abilities, he performed the duties of his office in a manner alike creditable to himself, the office and the County. In the year 1840 he was appointed Registrar of Deeds, succeeding the late William End, and in 1842 he was appointed Judge of Probates, both of which offices he held till his death. In his official capacity he was ever courteous and attentive, and he possessed in a marked degree the entire confidence of the public. It will be no reflection on his successor to say that it will be with some regret that his position is successfully filled. He had the records at his finger ends and information received from him upon whatever subject was always to be relied on. He was sworn in to all the above offices by the late William End. In 1855 he was appointed a Notary Public and was granted the freedom of the City of St. John in 1853. Miners' work was his favorite subject, upon which he was thoroughly posted. In his younger days he explored several of the rivers of the County in search of minerals, which resulted in his discovery of what are known as the Baldwin copper mines on the Nepisiguit River and to which the attention of American capitalists has lately been directed. He was always sanguine of successful results from these mines. He died possessed of them. He was something of an antiquary in his way, and kept a diary which was regularly posted and contains much that would be valuable to the future historian of this section of the Province. He was a member of the Church of England, Bathurst Harbor and almost all other inland and semi-inland Provincial waters were frozen up. On the evening of the same day a blinding snow storm prevailed at Chatham.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.—The examinations of the public schools which took place on Friday the 28th ult. were very creditable and satisfactory. In the Grammar School the scholars were examined in reading, spelling, narrative composition, arithmetic, practical mechanics, French (reading, translating and parsing) Latin reading, translating, parsing and scanning. The Latin class were subjected to a severe examination, in Swift's metaphorical Yemassee. Siverwright, Burnham and W. J. O'Brien, acquired themselves very well. K. F. Burns Esq., headed the class in arithmetic, and Messrs. Siverwright and J. M. O'Brien in French. THE IRISH QUESTION.—A Dublin despatch of 3rd inst. says—"Parnell and O'Kelly have been released from Kilmallick jail. After their release they drove in a cab around the outskirts of the city to Harcourt street station, where they took the train for Avonide. They were to remain at Parnell's residence two days and arrive in London on Friday."

In the House of Lords on Tuesday evening, 2nd inst., Earl Granville announced the resignation of Mr. Forster, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and the intention of the Government to release the three imprisoned members of Parliament. Earl Granville stated that the reconsideration of the prisoners' cases would not extend to the case of Michael Davitt.

Mr. Gladstone, in the Commons, made an announcement similar to that of Earl Granville in the House of Lords. Mr. Gladstone stated that a large number of other aspects will be cleared, and that the Government intend of renewing the Coercion Act, would introduce a measure remedying the administration of justice in Ireland. He said instructions had already been sent to Ireland for the release of three imprisoned members of Parliament and that the list of suspects is being carefully considered with a view to release all except those arrested on suspicion of having been personally concerned in outrages. These releases would ensure the Government's sole responsibility. Mr. Gladstone stated that Mr. Forster resigned because he was not willing to share this responsibility, and that Mr. Forster would make a personal explanation to the Government on Thursday. The measure which the Government will introduce remedying the administration of justice in Ireland, deals with the protection of life and property.

Mr. Seton, at the conclusion of Mr. Gladstone's remarks, said that the Government had taken the first step in a policy that would cover its administration with glory, and would produce a new era of mutual interest between Ireland and England.

Brutal Political Murders in Ireland.—One of the most revolting crimes ever committed was the murder of James O'Connell, of the Chief Secretary and Under Secretary for Ireland, in Dublin Park. From among the many press despatches giving details, we select the following:—

DEATH, May 7.—Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Thos. Henry Burke, Under-Secretary for Ireland, were assassinated at 7.10 o'clock on the morning of the 8th inst. They were walking in the Park about half a mile from the city gate and a quarter of a mile from the Chief Secretary's lodge, when a car drove up containing four men, two of whom jumped down from the car and attacked Lord Cavendish and Mr. Burke, stabbing them several times in the throat and breast. The victims struggled hard for life, and in the struggle became separated, their bodies being found some 10 paces apart. The bodies were first discovered by two young gentlemen riding bicycles through the Park. Surgeons soon reached the spot, and their examination showed life to be extinct. It is said that after the act the murderers immediately drove off. A large quantity of notes and gold coin, besides their gold watches, were found in the pockets of the victims, which showed the object of the crime was not robbery.

DEATH, May 8.—Capt. Grexit, of the 8th Hussars, who thought the affair in the Park had been a drunken riot, and that the men passed, "You have roughly handled them." They replied roughly, "You be damned." Grexit says he can identify one of the men concerned in the assassination, and a gap keeper of the Park says he can identify two.

LONDON, May 8.—The Times says it is imperatively necessary that Gladstone should prove to England without an hour's delay that he has the strength and courage to undertake the true nature of the Irish difficulty. No attempt to explain the murders as an accidental outbreak, or as the last hope of organized dissension will avail with those who advocate forcible measures as indispensable for restoring order.

The Standard says Burke being an Irishman and a Roman Catholic, would have thought that those circumstances would have disarmed hostility in his case.

New York, May 8.—Speaking of the assassination, O'Leary writes in a daily said: "The deed was not done by these milk-and-water Land Leaguers who grate to us of freeing Ireland and riding the County of landlowners without striking a blow. This blow has been struck by men—if they happen to be Irishmen—who feel the wrongs of their country and will fight them or avenge them by desperate means. They shall have no word of condemnation from Cavendish or Burke, or any other party on account of being in bad company. Burke was about the simplest toad living. He was Forster's instructor. It was he who used to point out where arrears were to be made and who were to be arrested."

Dublin, May 9.—The jury of inquest returned a verdict of willful murder against some person or persons unknown.

A man named Charles Moore was arrested on suspicion at Maynooth last evening. He had travelled by the four o'clock train from Dublin. He stated that he intended to go to London, but, feeling ill, had taken a ticket for Maynooth. He seemed fainter when arrested. He returned from America last Friday. He answered the description of one of the murderers, and has marks on his face. His pocket was found in the army. Moore had been brought to Dublin for identification.

Two men with a dog on Saturday evening nearly came in contact with a red-backed car, which contained four men, who can be identified.

The police have issued a circular giving a description of the two men who are believed to have committed the murders of Cavendish and Burke, and calling for their apprehension.

Another arrest is reported at Kilmaree. It is reported that a car containing four persons was seen on Saturday night driving up the Knockree road, in the direction of Phoenix Park, in the direction of Leam, and the horse was covered with foam and dust. This report corroborates the evidence given at the inquest to-day, and if the police can follow up this clue there is some hope of the capture of the murderers.

The draymen who were nearly run into by the car supposed to have contained the assassins of the Secretaries were returning from Maynooth when they met them, the occupants of the car appeared to be greatly excited and the draymen hastily to clear the way. One of the party aimed a blow at the driver of the dray. The witnesses feel certain that they could identify two of the strangers.

One of them had an English rather than an Irish accent, another had a black beard, the third wore a buff colored dust coat, the fourth appeared about 22 years old and had a soldier like bearing. The man who attempted to strike the blow held his hand up to prevent his face being seen.

At an inquest yesterday, on the bodies of Cavendish and Burke, medical evidence was given that the victims had apparently been stabbed simultaneously before and behind with long knives. The wounds all appeared to have been inflicted with exactly similar weapons.

ROME, May 9.—When the Pope heard of the assassination he sent instructions to Irish Bishops to request the clergy to kneel before the pulpits extorting the law of the land.

DUBLIN, May 9th.—The man who drove the murderers' car has been arrested.

Bright's Disease. From hundreds of reported cases where patients have increased in weight from four to forty pounds while using Fowell's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, no doubt can be made of its powerful action on the organs of nutrition.

Painless and Safe.—PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR, the great remedy for corns, is absolutely safe and painless, does its work promptly, without in the least interfering with the comfort of patients, and is absolutely alone as a safe, painless remedy for corns. (Continued from last page.) resolution. Now, I quite agree in saying that we desire respectfully to express to Her Majesty that Canada and its inhabitants have prospered exceedingly under the federal system, leaving to each Province of the Dominion considerable powers of self-government. This is the result of a simple fact in which we all agree.

When Mr. Gladstone chose, in that extraordinary speech he made a short time ago, to admit that the question of self-government has become a practical question, but at the same time to demand from the Home Rulers that they should formulate their demands in such a shape as to be acceptable to the people of Great Britain, he certainly demanded that he had no right to ask, by making that demand, he seemed to wish to evade the responsibility which rested upon him as leader of the government. If he believes the time has come when there must be a reconstruction of the parliamentary system of Great Britain, and when there must be a central and local Parliament, it was for him to frame such a system as would be applicable to the present state of things and which is best calculated to maintain intact the power and the interests of the Empire.

And then the extraordinary expression we find here, "the rights and status of the minority protected." What does he mean by status? One has to almost guess that. I am not aware, Sir, that legally the minority holds a different status from the majority, but as a matter of fact they hold a different status indeed, inasmuch as the minority occupy all the lucrative appointments under the Crown. The law prohibits the appointment of a Catholic Lord Lieutenant. There has never been a Catholic Secretary, and at the Castle I have never known more than one or two Catholics in important offices. A few Catholic judges, and several Catholic lawyers have forced their way to the bench, but the great majority of the judges are Catholics. The great majority of judges are Catholics. Is that what he meant by the status of the minority? Are we to ask that they are to be put on an equal footing with the majority?

Mr. Anglin. Does the hon. gentleman mean that for all time to come that that shall continue? Sir John A. Macdonald. He is representative of the Queen. The Constitution provides that the Sovereign may be a Protestant. The hon. gentleman is also aware of that. Sir John A. Macdonald. Very well, it is held by constitutional lawyers that the office of representative of the Sovereign there—the Lord Lieutenant is a Protestant—must be a Protestant also. Mr. Anglin. I am aware of that, but that is a matter that can be changed by due course of law.

Mr. Anglin. Materially it was not a matter of much consequence, but considering as one of sentiment and believing it is a matter of very great consequence that we are by law prohibited from occupying that office. Sir John A. Macdonald. I think so. I would be glad to see it repealed. Mr. Anglin. I am trying to find out what this means, "the status of the minority is to be protected and secured." That is the only case which I shall not propose that they be omitted, in fact under the rule I could not, but I do not want to do anything that would prevent the unanimous passage of these resolutions. I think it of the greatest importance that they should be passed unanimously and the people and Government of England should hear us with one voice, and that Home Rule be granted to Ireland.

There is another point which is, with regard to these resolutions, that the passage says: "We would further express a hope that the time has come when Your Majesty's clemency may, without injury to the interests of the United Kingdom, be extended to those persons who are now imprisoned in Ireland charged with political offences only, and the inalienable blessing of personal liberty restored to them." I hope the hon. leader of the Government understood the remarks made, for if not he treated very unfairly by the hon. member for West Durham (Mr. Blake). He assumed that the hon. member intended to ask that persons charged with the most serious offences should be set free, that the jail doors of Ireland should be thrown open, and that persons guilty of the most enormous offences be allowed to go out. The hon. member stated anything of the kind, and I cannot understand how the leader of the Government could have misunderstood him. What he did say and what I am prepared to repeat is that men who have been arbitrarily arrested and held in prison on charge whatever, but on the extraordinary charge that there are reasons for being suspected of committing some crime, and that in a country supposed to enjoy the glorious privileges of a British constitution, surely, Sir, it is a monstrous state of things that the Government of the country should sweep out of country, and upon information furnished by it, may be by the very members of that legislature, a source affected by that agitation, and have learned to hate the agitators, seize them and put them into prison, without trial or hearing of any kind, merely because it is said they are reasonably suspected of being guilty of some political crime. These men are held in prison on charge of any kind. I said that there are, according to a telegram we received a few days ago, 210 of these men now in prison throughout Ireland, some not charged with political offences at all. There are men imprisoned for being suspected of murder, of arson, of violence against the person, others of provoking others to take crimes.

Mr. Anglin. The original resolutions were defective in that respect, and I should probably have spoken of them in the same way as I am speaking of the present one. Among these prisoners are such men as Mr. Parnell, a member of the British Parliament, a man of high character, of whom no one has ever been able to say that he has committed any crime of any kind, and in the reign of Queen Mary, another member of Parliament, as well as four or five others also members of the House, are also among the suspects arrested or being suspected of the same treasonable practices. Mr. Arthur O'Connor, in Parliament, succeeded in extorting from the Irish Attorney-General an admission that a warrant was awaiting him should he ever set foot in Ireland, and yet he had the right to sit in Parliament the peer of any member there. He challenged the Government to put him on trial, that he was prepared to meet the charge against him openly, waiting all sorts of want of jurisdiction. That challenge was, of course, not accepted. That is a state of affairs that is, in my opinion, utterly unjustifiable and inadmissible. I have always deeply regretted, with my great regard for Mr. Gladstone and my high opinion of his ability and honesty of purpose, that he has allowed himself to be driven to resorting to means which in his history will attach to his name a stigma which I would gladly see removed from it. But we ought to ask for these men clemency; when we ask for clemency, we place them in a position from which clemency only can relieve them. They would not ask clemency for themselves. Sir, they ask for justice and fair play; and only what they would ask for themselves should their friends ask for them. I would be ashamed were I the mover of that resolution, to ask for clemency; I would ask for a trial and fair play.

I know it has been said that it would be useless to put these men on their trial—that it is impossible to obtain the conviction of a political offender in Ireland; but for that there is no foundation whatever. A short time ago prepared to carry on business there. Any man prepared to do that will be promptly arrested. Orders may be left at the store of John Brown, Esq., Chatham, or at the store of W. KERR, Agent.

Canadian Parliament should, by adopting a resolution of this character, throw any doubt upon the liberality of the majority in Ireland. If I believed the results of home rule if obtained by the Irish people would be that the minority would be oppressed, wronged or aggrieved in any degree by the majority, I would never record my vote in its favor. And I believe, Sir, a very great number of Irish Catholics throughout the world are of the same belief.

country, with seizing arms, and committing other illegal acts. The person who gave the information, as I have said, was the person who organized these men. He was himself an old soldier, and when he was arrested, he was found on his person were found a watch and various other articles. That man's evidence was scarcely worth receiving against men charged with any serious offence; but in this case, which was tried in the City Court, which was said to be the very focus of obtaining a conviction of five of these men. That fact is conclusive proof that if these men were put on their trial, there would be no difficulty at all in getting them, in convicting them. I have no hesitation in voting for the passing of these resolutions, but I wish it to be understood that I do not believe in asking for clemency for these men, because I do not wish to ask for clemency for men who have been convicted of an offence. These words were not in the resolutions originally agreed upon, and I am sorry they are used here.

I am glad, on the other hand, to find that the resolutions are going to pass unanimously, and that they are being received in such a kind and sympathetic spirit by hon. gentlemen of various nationalities in the House. The hon. member for Ottawa County (Mr. Wright), I am glad to know, has always manifested a warm sympathy with the Irish people; one of the first speeches I heard from him some years ago was on a similar subject, and he spoke then with the same earnestness and ardor and generous feeling that we all admire in him. I am glad to find that he is still in the same position, and that the resolutions are going to pass unanimously, and that they are being received in such a kind and sympathetic spirit by hon. gentlemen of various nationalities in the House.
