Physicians Are Practically Sure McKinley Will Recover.

Trying to Find the Accomplices of Czolgosz—Was There a Previous Plot-Fake Confessions.

MILBURN HOUSE, BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The following bulletin was issued at 9 A. M. "The president's condition is very satisfactory to his physicians. If no complications arise, a rapid convalescence may be expected. Pulse 102; temperature 99.8; respiration 24.

(Special to the Star.)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The President will get well unless unforeseen complications set in. This is the first definite prediction of recovery made by the staff of surgeons at the Milburn house. It was given to the public this morning.

The physicians at the President's bedside express themselves individually much more confident of recovery than in the official bulletins. Roosevelt leaves today, convinced of the President's convalescence. The attempts of Buffalo police to locate Emma Goldman are so far fruitless. Czolgosz is in solitary confinement and the police refuse information as to what he has said.

MILBURN HOUSE, Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The weather conditions of today were anything but cheerful during the early hours, and the dull skies and drizzling rain gave an outward appearance of gloom and depression. The forecast was for showers and an east wind, but the realization was slower than the prophecy. For the first time since the shooting the sun was hidden by heavy clouds. The bracing air that has lent such comfort to the patient

CZOLGOSZ WOULD BE ASSASSIN OF PRESIDENT MCKINLEY.

(The full name of the would-be assassin is Leon Frans Czolgosz, pronounced "Cholgoosh." He is nearly 28 years old, was born in Detroit and has a father, mother, seven brothers and two sisters.)

thus far, gave way to the chill and muggy wind from the east. For a time the rain pelled the military guards and trickled down their guns. But these more inclement conditions passed away by 8 o'clock. The rain stopped, but the dark skies and soggy grounds remained. As the doctors arrived for the formal morning consultation, it was noted that they wore overcoats and were well bundled up. Dr. Park came from the consultation at 9 o'clock and summarized the results of the bulletin soon to be issued by the expression: "Lovely." He said all the conditions were most favorable. The patient had enjoyed a most satisfactory night.
Later, as the other doctors came from the house their faces clearly indicated he added, "That the president is not being deprived of the benefits of private citizenship. He is being treated exactly as any other citizen would be and in getting the benefit of it. We view the case just as of any other man who might be similarly afflicted."

Dr. Park's letter statement will explain the fact that the official bulletins are based on rigid scientific principles, applicable alike to all cases of surgery.
Dr. Hermann Mynter was the next of the consulting physicians to come from the house. He was followed by Dr. Eugene Washin, and they walked down the street together. To the queries of the newspaper men Dr. Mynter gave voice to the most optimistic expression that has yet been made for public attention by any of the attending physicians. He said—
"The president is doing splendidly and he is out of the woods, if I may express it that way."
"He is," chimed in Dr. Washin, "and he has plenty of daylight behind him," speaking seriously. Dr. Mynter said: "I have never been really optimistic because I do not like to prejudice serious cases, but now I can say to you that everything in the president's condition warrants the statement that he will be the road to recovery."

Dr. Washin said: "I have believed throughout that the president has a fair chance of recovery. Now I desire to say that the chance against that recovery is very slight. His temperature is splendid and his pulse getting to normal."
Dr. McBurney, the famous surgeon, said to the Associated Press reporter, "We believe the president is practically out of danger." So confident was he that he left for Niagara Falls today. While admitting that blood poisoning might develop he said the chances were remote, and the danger from peritonitis had passed. If the bullet still in the president's back caused any trouble it could easily be located and removed. If it gave no trouble it would be left there, as it would do no harm.

Senator Mark Hanna says he is so well satisfied with the president's condition that he will leave here this evening for Cleveland.
CAN EXPEL ANARCHISTS.
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Justice David McAdam, of the supreme court of New York gives the opinion that Emma Goldman and other anarchists who are naturalized can be expelled from the country on the ground that they have sworn falsely in that they obtained certificate of citizenship by fraud in testifying that they were attached to the principles of government and would support its constitution and laws.

DROVE HIM TO SUICIDE.

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 10.—Grief over the shooting of President McKinley and subsequent worry over his condition and prospects of recovery were the cause of the death of Orlando D. Yancamp, one of Erie county's most prominent men, to kill himself last night. He blew off his head with a shot gun. He was interested in Chicago opera house.

WERE THEIR ACCOMPLICES.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Charles H. McMurray, employed by a wholesale grocery house, in this city, has notified the police that on the night of July 12 or 13 he is not sure which, while waiting for his suburban train at the Illinois Central station, he overheard three men discussing plans to kill President McKinley, and two well-known New York capitalists. After talking a few minutes, the three shook hands and went toward the Michigan Central train for Buffalo. McMurray says he told the policeman at the station and in a few days had practically forgotten the occurrence. The description of one of the men given by McMurray is not unlike the appearance of Czolgosz, and it is known that on July 12 he was in Chicago going up to Buffalo that night.

ALLEGED PREVIOUS PLOT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Details of a previous plot against the life of President McKinley are given out, it is said, on good authority by Senator T. E. Ellsworth, according to a special to the Tribune, from Lockport, N. Y. He is credited with the statement that the plot was hatched in Patterson, N. J., about the first of May, and Emma Goldman and other prominent anarchists are said to have been concerned in it. A young tailor, Michael Anutzi, it is said, was the one to whose lot it fell to do the deed. At that time the president was on his tour of the west and Anutzi left for San Francisco, where he expected McKinley would be by the time he reached there. But he arrived several days ahead and attended several anarchists' meetings, where he met a young man to whom he told his purpose. The young man was no other than a secret service detective and Anutzi was promptly arrested, but upon lack of evidence and certain advices from Washington only the charge of vagrancy was entered against him. The condition of Mrs. McKinley is said to have had some bearing upon the matter, which was hushed up, the prisoner being sentenced for eight months in the San Francisco workhouse.

A BOY'S AWFUL DEATH.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 10.—The 13-year-old son of O. A. Gunner, a village farmer, living near Moscow, was instantly killed by a powder explosion. The boy was notified to have a powder horn in his hand and called to his sister: "I'm going to take a smoke." A moment afterward there was a report and the young lady turned in time to see the boy fall on the floor dead. Examination showed that the boy had put the horn in his mouth, lighted a match and applied it to the powder.

ST. JOHN STAR.
ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 10, 1901.
HEARTY, THANK YOU.

This is the Star's birthday. Those sceptical persons who called it a campaign sheet and predicted its speedy demise are respectfully requested to note the fact that it is one year old today, and is a lusty member of the journalistic family. A year from today it will be two years old, and justly than ever. That is what it is here for—to grow and keep its sleepy contemporaries awake. The citizens owe a lot to the Star, apart from the pleasure its pages have afforded them, for it has made the other papers bestir themselves to stay in the running. This latter favor is of course gratuitous on the part of the Star. Still, if any good-looking and clever man or woman wants to mark a just appreciation of our great merits on this, our first birthday anniversary, by becoming a subscriber, the kindness will be fully appreciated. The Star prints more news of real interest to St. John people than any other evening paper, and does not hide it away amid a mass of verbal rubbish.

WATCH THE STAR.
The Star last evening again showed its superiority as a newspaper by publishing exclusively the latest official bulletin of President McKinley's physicians, received direct from its own correspondent in Buffalo, and also a special despatch giving Dr. Park's emphatic opinion that the president would recover. Those who did not read the Star last evening did not learn the latest important news from the bedside of President McKinley. In purely local news the Star as usual surpassed its contemporaries. It is the Star's excellence as a newspaper that explains its growing circulation. The public is not anxious to invest in waste paper. It wants the news in which it is especially interested.

SOCIAL UNREST.
A despatch to the Star yesterday from Chicago stated that two thousand socialists on Sunday voted down a resolution expressing regret at the attempt upon the life of the president. The opponents of the resolution took the ground that McKinley represented the capitalist class, and that his life or death was a matter of no concern. In New York an attempt was made to vote down a similar resolution moved in a meeting of the Federated Union, and was supported by nearly a third of those present. In neither of these cases were the assembled people avowed anarchists. Their action shows that so-called Socialism, however harmless it may appear on the surface, and however sincere some of its advocates may be, is yet in some of its aspects, as actually revealed, not far removed from anarchy.
But, deeper than all, and more significant and terrible to the thoughtful mind, is the revelation of the strong undercurrent of social unrest beneath the surface of our civilization. A critical time like the present makes it more clearly apparent, and reveals to the social reformer the magnitude of the task he must accomplish.

The Star welcomes the Globe as a convert to the gospel of clean streets and green squares, which this ambitious young journal has fervently preached from month to month. If all the papers take up the subject and keep it continually before the minds of the citizens and the city fathers, there should be some results.
The valued Telegraph yesterday indulged in a prolonged eulogy over its alleged superiority as a newspaper. And spread over the first page of the same issue, the most prominent feature of the paper, was a fake confession of Czoigoz, taking up space that should have been devoted to legitimate news. The poor old Telegraph.

The Liverpool correspondent of the Timber Trades Journal, says that business is improving and spruce lumber in good demand, with stocks generally being reduced. In New York spruce prices have an upward tendency, and in Boston the advance over old prices is well maintained.
A large number of Jersey City's fair delegates are left disconsolate because the young men of that city have excluded them by forming a bachelor club. And this is not the worst. In fact, it is added to injury by the excuse given by these men, who say the girls are too frivolous.

If the Star staff had time and the inclination they could invent several very appropriate confessions for the Anarchist Confession. Being rather busy they will deny themselves that pleasure for the present. This is not a fake journal, anyhow.

Comments on the Attempt on McKinley's Life.
Universal Sympathy and Denunciation of the Crime of the Anarchist.

The entire press of London joins in paying a tribute to President McKinley's dignified character and friendly personality.
The Morning Post says: "Another of those inexplicable events which disgrace humanity has to be recorded. This morning, the day after the amiable and broad-minded utterance of the president's speech at Buffalo, with his heart full not merely of zealous regard for the interests of his own countrymen, but also consideration and friendliness for his neighbors and commercial rivals, President McKinley has been the victim of a murderous attack. A blow struck at a monarch or president is a blow aimed at the majesty and power of a nation. Isolated, insane outrages are beyond reproach or even safeguards, but there are certain measures of precaution which all nations can take in concert, which they are now justified in enforcing. The common enemy ought to be exterminated, as he can be, by joint international action of the great nations."
The Telegraph says: "When the British empire was plunged into grief by the close of the great and glorious reign of Queen Victoria the genuine sorrow manifested by all classes in the United States proved to them they felt our loss as their own. Sympathy and condolence, and with sympathy there is nothing in the international condition of the United States, upon whose exuberant prosperity we dwell only two days ago with justifiable pride, or in their external relations which would account for the existence of the passions that bred assassins. Assassination and incitement to assassination are not political but anti-social offences. Those guilty do not strike against a particular form of government, but they strike against the force of law and order. In a vast majority of cases the man who presses the trigger is morally less a villain than the cowards whose denunciation he translates into action."
The Daily Mail says: "President McKinley has been a wise and far-seeing ruler. He was the first to recognize the necessity for the expansion of the United States. His period of office will always be famous as the epoch in which the foundation of the American empire began. He is not, perhaps, a great statesman, but in a man of plain, sterling sense."
The Mail thinks that it is propriety and publicity which in most cases leads a criminal to perpetrate such atrocities and says that if the criminal could be dealt with on the spot one great inducement to crime would be removed.
The Graphic says: "I say, should not be accompanied by one or two armed men, who in such cases would have orders to shoot and shoot at once."
The Daily News, writing under the name of a plain, sterling sense, says: "The death of McKinley is the first of the kind in the history of the American Republic. It is a typical American. In this country he might have been attorney general or a director of a big business. In America he was twice president, and his imperturbable self-reliance and belief in the destiny of his country made him the most representative of the president. His last speech, sounded the note of a commercial empire with which his name will be associated. It was the first president to expound the imperial idea, which has played havoc with old party lines in America as it has done here."
The Standard says: "All the fustian about vindictive rights of the people, and avenging the wrong done by governments is but the vicious gloss that disguises the brutal instincts of vice."
The death of Lincoln and Garfield, done for the present crime. President McKinley is the first who has been marked for doom in pursuance of a conspiracy which at one time was supposed to be directed exclusively against the inheritors of monarchical tradition."
The Chronicle says that the closest possible alliance between the police of all nations and the greatest vigilance within each country are the only effective weapons society has against the common enemy. It adds: "On political grounds as well as on the ground of human feeling, it would be a grievous calamity if Mr. McKinley does not recover. The president stands for a policy and an epoch. His work is not concluded. To the president, who is leaving the world with so much quiet converse, to the devoted wife, and the whole American nation, the sympathy of the British people goes out with unstinted sincerity in this hour of grievous anxiety."
The Times says: "The world will hear with horror and deep regret of the murderous attempt. It will be a relief to the feelings of the people of the United States that the criminal is not one of themselves. If he is an anarchist, the people of the United States will realize more fully than ever that there are enemies of society who are as active, and as implacable under the widest development of democracy as under what are considered the effects of despotism of the old world."
MR. FIELDING'S MISSION.
Hon. Mr. Fielding, minister of finance, will not be in Ottawa at the time of the Duke of York's visit this month, says an Ottawa despatch. He is said in the lower provinces, it is said, to lend a hand in the Nova Scotia local elections, which take place in the last days of October. Mr. Fielding has not been at all well lately, but is better again.

Bridget—"An sure this is all the nuts I'm going to crack. I've broken five of me teeth and me jaw feels as if it had been kicked 'til a mill."

MORNING'S NEWS SUMMARY.
So confident are his friends of the president's recovery, that several members of the cabinet and several of his relatives and friends left Buffalo yesterday. All the reports from the physicians confirmed the general belief that the worst was over. Confidence arose chiefly from the fact that there had been nothing but improvement

We consider that if a C. Riley and Brophy, were examined in order to prove the presence of the prisoners in the fight. The case was postponed until tomorrow morning in order to give James McLaughlin, who is ill, a chance to testify.

FUNERALS TODAY. The remains of the late Charlotte S. Hatheway arrived from Halifax this morning and were taken to the Stone church, where the funeral took place at 2:30 this afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. John Desjardis. There were no pallbearers. Interment was at Fernhill. There was a large attendance of friends of the family.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jane Lambert, who was accidentally killed at Coldbrook, took place this forenoon from her late home on the Golden Grove road. The usual services were held at the house at ten o'clock and the body interred in Fernhill cemetery.

VERY FOOLISH. Despite the fact that there is a sign at each end of the open street, cars warning passengers to be careful in getting on and off, these cautions are often neglected, to the detriment of the unwary one's clothes and person.

FOR THE SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL. The entertainment given in Alexandra school a few weeks ago, and which was so successful, is to be repeated in Union Hall, N. E., in aid of the memorial fountain fund on Friday, Sept. 20.

The managing committee of the W. C. T. U. is to be congratulated in the grand hit they have made in securing such a programme gratis. A number of novelties quite new in St. John are in its make-up—they are specialties obtained from Boston firms, and great care was made in their selection to procure numbers which were pure, clean, and yet entertaining.

In its late production the exhibition hall of Alexandra school was packed to its utmost, and the manner in which the operators were put on reflected the credit on the different characters, and proved that the North End can do itself, when necessary, produce talent quite equal to much which is imported.

It is also gratifying that it is now being turned to so good an account and the entertainment should receive the hearty support of all loyal, patriotic citizens.

TO ADVERTISERS.

THE HARBOR ILLUMINATION.

Sept. 10th, 1901. To the Editor of the Star, Sir—Seeing that there is a proposition to illuminate the harbor and otherwise make it attract attention during the forthcoming annual regatta, would it not be an act of courtesy to invite the pilots of St. John to assist in any way they can, either on committee or as a separate body to concentrate attention on what is their main spring of financial success? They surely will be only too pleased to use their best efforts to do so, as I do not know of any celebration that they have taken any active part in as a body, and this part of the programme will be in their province.

Yours, etc. R. W.

AT THE CHALET.

Work on the new Chalet Episcopal church has been commenced by Mr. Henderson of Rothesay, who has secured the contract. The church, which is chiefly intended for summer use, is to cost about one thousand dollars exclusive of furnishings, and is being built by subscription. The land on which it is being erected was donated by Mrs. Christina Hase. The church is to be ready for occupation in the early spring.

E. R. Chapman of this week commenced the erection of a summer cottage at the Chalet.

A number of residents at the various summer resorts are now moving to the city. This morning six or eight families came in by train from Brookville, and others are making ready to follow. The Chalet however has not as yet lost anyone.

THE GREAT MUSIC FESTIVAL.

Season subscription tickets for the music festival at the Opera house, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, cost only four corners and two morning rehearsals, can be had all this week at A. O. Skinner's store, King street. Next week the public sale of single seats will be opened. Season ticket purchasers will save a good many dollars as compared with buying single concert tickets. Four grand opera stars and Chapman's festival orchestra will be the chief features.

POLICE COURT.

The only business before the court this morning was an assault case between Mrs. Catherine Harrigan and Mrs. Catherine McVay of Brussels street. Mrs. Harrigan complained that Mrs. McVay had slapped her on the mouth without any provocation being given. Mrs. McVay admitted that she had slapped Mrs. Harrigan, but stated that the latter was continually annoying her by asking her to come in and pay for her coal. Mrs. McVay was fined five dollars or twenty days.

The Lord's Day Alliance have been notified to meet Hon. Mr. Tweedie at the government offices in this city at 3 p. m. on Thursday, to proceed with the inquiry in the charge that the Sunday law is violated by beer shops and other shops in this city.

At the Methodist preachers' meeting yesterday, a vote of thanks was passed to the C. P. R. telegraph company and to the Star for bulletins from Buffalo announcing the condition of Pres. McKinley.

DANGEROUS FIRES.

Raging in Various Sections Around the City—Houses in Danger.

The forest fires in the vicinity of the city are rapidly becoming a source of great danger to the farmers and are even causing some excitement about town. Near Silver Falls there are two fires which are perhaps the most threatening of any. One of them is burning from Silver Falls to the road running from Little River. At present beyond the loss of valuable timber no very great danger is expected unless the wind should happen to change, in which event the flames will probably burn north and east in the direction of Creighton's and the Bishop's properties along the south side of the Hickey road. In case this should occur a large number of houses and an immense tract of woodland will be brought directly in the path of the flames. The other fire is on the Loch Long road, and is now burning on properties belonging to the John Jordan estate, Owen's, McDonald's and Brady's. The occupants of these properties are at present fighting the flames and endeavoring to save their houses. The fire passed over the rear of the J. R. Hamilton farm, and is moving both west and against the wind. A short distance farther in the latter direction will bring a heavy timber on the Graham, McManus, McNamara and Daly properties within reach of the flames, and consequently the fire will directly towards the city.

It was where Brady and the others are at present fighting there is a stretch of thick woodland right to Loch Long, and if it should once get a start the fire will without doubt run right to the lake.

Back of the Frog Pond road there is another fire burning almost in a line with the Catholic cemetery, but it is not of such an extent as the others, nor liable to do so much damage.

The prevailing high winds are carrying burning embers quite long distances, and on account of this the work of saving property is rendered much more difficult. Everything is as dry as tinder, and water is scarce. The flames jumped the stream leading from Long's lake to the reservoir yesterday, and caught in the woods on the McDonald property. As yet no houses have been reported destroyed, but many are in danger and the occupants are afraid to leave their homes. Owen's has lost two calves, but considers this nothing of an especial importance has occurred.

Last night the fire which have been burning in the Spruce Lake district assumed such a dangerous aspect that fears were entertained for the safety of the club houses at the lake. In the evening as many members of the clubs as could be hurriedly collected went out for the purpose of fighting the flames and their work, assisted by the heavy dew, was successful in gaining at least a short period of security for the buildings. It is, however, feared that today they are in a worse position than ever, for the fire has again brightened up.

In Indianton today a common expression is: "Are you going to the pork roast up river?" Boar's Head was burned last night.

It was feared this morning that fires around Rockwood park would reach the houses there, and G. S. Fisher and others went out, secured logsheads of water and made all preparations for a fight to save them. About 11 o'clock, however, it was seen that there was no further danger at present.

BLOOD ALLEY SOCIAL EVENT.

William Burns and Miss Annie King were presumably married last night. At any rate all Blood Alley turned out to celebrate the happy event, and as usual managed to have a good time.

A reporter, accompanied by a policeman, visited the scene of action, but they were not welcomed with open arms. Since the stumping operations conducted on Duke "avenue" some time ago visitors are regarded with suspicion. The happy couple and their friends refused to give any information concerning the ceremony and made most unkind remarks about white folks who come spying for news.

After the ceremony the bridal party and friends assembled at Bushman's house, where the groom acted as floor manager and Loy Lee chairman of the refreshment committee. The dancing was greatly enjoyed, music from a concertina being especially pleasing, but it is to be regretted that some of those present persisted in making uncanny noises and in disturbing the solemnity of the proceedings. The Star wishes Mr. and Mrs. Burns all kinds of happiness, and expresses the hope that Billy will never be compelled to chastise his wife with a dried codfish, as has been done by other heads of families in that vicinity.

CIRCUIT COURT.

This morning in Morrison v. St. John Railway Co., Dr. W. L. Ellis was the first witness called. His testimony was purely technical as to the nature and cause of certain diseases of the bone.

W. C. Dunham and Douglas M. Ring were called by the plaintiff's attorneys and testified that they had seen Dr. Morrison the day before the election in Feb., 1899, and that he was then active and showed no signs of lameness.

E. Duval Whelpley, who drove Dr. Morrison from Brown's Flats to Westfield on Feb. 17th, 1899, testified that Dr. Morrison was thrown out, and saw him rubbing his left leg afterward. At Westfield Dr. Morrison walked in without assistance.

Dr. John F. Macaulay testified that on the morning of the accident he saw Dr. Morrison walk up stairs in the hospital as usual.

Geo. Shorten gave evidence that he was Dr. Morrison on the train the day before the election. The doctor did not appear to be suffering at all.

Dr. Morrison, recalled and cross-examined by Dr. Pugsley, testified that his living expenses were from $4,000 to $5,000 a year. He paid $600 life insurance and $100 accident. In all he had $20,000 accident insurance. He claimed $60 a week from his company, $120 from another and $25 from another. He acted with one company for $3,000 cash.

Court then adjourned until 2:15.
