The disappointing results of the census of the mining law passed by this house last the census returns had been most disappointing. They showed that we had progress. It was deeply to be regreated PROGRESS. that there had been so little increase in the population of New Brunswick. It was a matter that should be considered deficit was caused by the government's was a matter that should be considered in no party spirit—we should fise above party in the consideration of this question. It was said to see our population drifting away, going in most cases to a foreign country. He was free to admit that the consideration of the best means to keep our population home was a difficult one to solve. It was just possible that in the past, too many of our people had been giving too much attention to the lumber business. This government the lumber business. This government by its interest in the agricultur-d industry, by its importation of cattle and sheep, and last year by its Mining act, had done much to benefit the province. If the mining industry proves a success, it must give an impetus to achier industries and perhaps in the future we will be able to keep more of our population at home. He trusted that this important question of how to best hold and increase. question of how to best hold and incresse our population would receive the best consideration of every member in this lent, but that was before he has cost aside horse, as well as the attention of thinking people all over the province.

Coming to the eighth paragraph Mr.

Burchill said that it was our duty to alleviate the sufferings of the blind and had been able to accomplish during the deaf and dumb and make their lives as pleasant as possible. After a brief repleasant as possible. After a brief reor could be of the elightest importance pleasant as possible. After a oriel reference to the other sections Mr.
Burchill closed with the statement that no matter how much the members differed with each other in their views he believed all were actuated with but one desire to act for the best interest of the province.

Mr. Happington said all would unite or could be of the slightest imp atlance to the centry. The government had not, according to Mr. Haungson, been able to meet the wishes of any single section of the people in any solitary respect or way. The only glimmering ray of hope for the people evidently was the prospect of that hon, gentleman himself attaining the power. When this occurred, doubtless the government had

Mr. Hannington said all woul! unite interests would be promoted with superint the semiments expressed legarding the natural wisdom. Sheep would be imported of flawless pedigree and standard bred stock would be fullless. It was interesting to know that a man existed address had said in reference to that sad event. That resolution had been carried unanimously, and its object was that members should have some means of knowing something about how the affairs of the province stood before the opening of the legislature. Notwithstanding the unanimous passage of the resolution it has been ignored by this government, and not only have we no reports, but an effort is made to rush through the address in the absence of needed information. Had the deficiency needed information. Had the deficiency informing people of Sussex that there in the revenue as announced by Mr would be a deficit—ani in the text of Blair at Sussex and Chatham anything to do with the keeping back of important reports this year and the rushing through of the address? It looked much like it. The leader of the government, in pretending to take the people into his confidence regarding the deficit, sought to introduce the subject in a way that it would fall less painfully than if not mentioned till after the meeting of the legislature. Mr. Blair had admitted a deficit last year of between sixty and deficit last year of between sixty and seventy thousand dollars. He believed that if the actual condition of the finances can be got at that the deficit will be found to be at least double that sum. To meet that deficit it is now proposed, if the reports of the speeches of Mr. of the leader of the government on the Blair be correct, to tax banks, telephone, telegraph, railway and insurance companies. These were the predictions of could not congratulate the government.
