Presentation to Rev. C. S. Young.

He Goes from Windsor to Plaster Rock.

On Nov. 13, a very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Thomas Forrest, when the friends of Rev. C. S. Young met to spend an evening with their pastor before his leaving for Plaster Rock where he will take charge of a new pastorate. Over one hundred people were present and after spending some time in singing luncheon was served. Then followed an address to Mr. Young by Rev. Allen L. Tedford, in which Mr. Tedford, on behalf of the people of Windsor and neighboring communities, expressed his sincere sorrow at having Mr. Young leave his church and community. He hoped that God would richly bless him in all his undertakings and that success would attend him in his new sphere of life. Mr. Young was then presented with a handsome leather suit-case and gauntlets as a token of the peoples' esteem and appreciation of his faithful work among them.

In his reply Mr. Young heartily thanked the people for their kindness and presents to him and expressed his sorrow at leaving his many friends. After Mr. Young's remarks a speech was made by Rev. Judson Corey, who is to be the pastor of the Windsor church during the coming year; and also by E. A. Britton, who is a prominent church worker. The party then joined in singing "Blessed be the Tie that Binds," after which prayer was offered by C. S. Young. The crowd dispersed, agreeing that a very pleasant and profitable evening had been spent by all.

Valley Road Seems Assured.

Will Carry Out Liberals' Plans.

As regards the Valley Railway Mr. Flemming and the Ottawa administration seem to have reached the conclusion that the terms which were arranged by Hon. Mr. Pugsley and the Laurier government were entirely satisfactory. A contract, therefore, will be signed within a few days, providing that the Valley Railway Company shall construct the line; that the province shall guarantee the construction bonds; that the Intercolonial shall operate the line, paying as rental charges forty per cent. of the gross earnings, and that as the necessary bridges will be abnormally lengthy and expensive, the federal government will give substantial assistance toward their construction.

The federal government has agreed to deposit at the proper time an adequate amount with receiver general for a generous share of aid for the construction of bridges necessary to carry the line from the G. T. P. across the St. John, Kennebecasis and other rivers to the city of St. John, and Premier Flemming has undertaken on behalf of the provincial administration to provide similar aid in the form of cash deposit or bond guarantee for bridge work.

If the federal and provincial administrations are sincere and throw no technical obstacles in the way, the construction of the line should begin early next spring.

"It is a pleasure to tell you that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best cough medicine I ever used," writes Mrs. Hugh Campbell, of Lavana, Ga. "I have used it with all my children and the results have been highly satisfactory." For sale by all dealers.

More zest in your tea-cup!
More smack in its delicious enjoyment!
At last, expensive study of flavor-blending has perfected a fullness, a richness, a smoothness of flavor that was once thought impossible.
Why it was thought impossible one sip of a cup of King Cole Tea will tell you. It is so much nicer, so far more satisfying in the grateful fullness of its flavor than any tea you ever tasted. King Cole Tea is flavor-fuiter.

SLEEP.

By DR. T. ERIC MAPPLEBECK.

One of the most beautiful provisions made by Providence for man is that of sleep. Shakespeare calls it "Nature's sweet restorer," and no phrase could describe it more happily; without it, indeed, we would soon die; and unless we have a sufficiency of it the body will become emaciated, the spirits depressed, and the whole being entirely deranged.

The duration of sleep, as a general principle, may be set at eight hours. Invalids and old and young may require more, but for an adult in pretty robust health the above will be found ample rest, the hours, therefore, should be from ten till six.

There are a number of persons who are in the habit of lying awake for hours after they retire to rest, and falling asleep in the morning, when, under the circumstances, they should be about rising. This is a most wretched feeling, and is of itself sufficient to incapacitate any one from undertaking the business of the succeeding day. And yet, in the majority of these cases, no positive disease manifests itself to account for such a strange disinclination for sleep. It exists mostly with persons of a fretful disposition and excitable temperament; the former incessantly grieving over occurrences which have happened and which cannot be arrested, and the latter planning, scheming and building castles in the air which can never be realized. In both cases no good can possibly result, and yet this ridiculous habit is persisted in as obstinately as though good could arise from it. In a word, bed was designed for rest and sleep, and nothing else, all thinking should be got over before retiring for the night, and the mind dispose itself to rest as the body does.

The best kind of sleep, as a matter of course, is that where a person closes his eyes as soon as his head touches the pillows and never opens them again until it is time to rise. The phenomena of dreams induce more or less the benefit derived from sleep. Some dreams are so horrible as to wake persons in a fright from their sleep, and leaving a feeling of depression and terror for hours afterwards. We believe it to be a rule that the more vividly dreams are remembered the worse the state of the body, and the less distinctly they can be called to mind the better the state of the health. Nightmares are produced either through eating hearty suppers or lying on the back, and in either case may be speedily remedied.

There are many notions and ideas promulgated for obtaining a good night's rest. Some persons drink a class of cold water the last thing; others read a few pages of an interesting book, and others pace up and down the room for a specified number of minutes. Certain it is, that as all our temperaments vary, so there may be some mode of procuring rest adapted to each, and when by some happy chance the expedient is hit upon, it should be persisted in and adopted every night.

Optim, as a promoter of rest, should not be had recourse to expect as the last of all resources, the sleep produced by it is at the best unnatural and feverish, and the reaction creates a state of greater wakefulness than existed before it was taken.

Common sense tells us that our sensation at night depend on the actions of the day; the advice, therefore, that can be given to procure sleep is, to neglect no rule either in diet, exercise or the regularity of other proceedings, and the chances are that we shall enjoy a good night's rest. There are boasters who are bold enough to declare they are quite independent of sleep, that they keep awake any number of hours, and set up any number of nights without feeling fatigued; it is needless for me to say that all this is mere idle talk.

Our entertaining gasoline engine held back last week's paper two days. This week, as the forms are being closed a chauffeur is trying to tame it so it will work. If the paper is delayed, blame the engine.

Mrs. J. D. Shaw has returned from Aroostook county where she spent two weeks with her brothers, Geo. W. Richardson, Fort Fairfield, R. W. Richardson, Ashland, and Chas. Taylor, Presque Isle.

The Carleton Co.-L. P. Fisher Memorial Hospital will be formally opened by a reception from 3 to 9 p. m., today, Nov. 23. Tea will be served. Admission, 25 cents. People from Hartland may go down on the 4.50 express and return on the 11 o'clock express.

On Thursday last the death of Mrs. Thomas McFarland occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Boyle of Glassville, after a long and painful illness, mingled with the feebleness of advancing years. The funeral was conducted in the Glassville church on Sunday afternoon by Rev. Hubert Smith, of Hartland.

On Tuesday morning J. T. G. Carr went to St. John to attend the great convention of the Laymen's Mission workers. Many hundreds from all parts of the province attended and the clergy of all denominations were abundantly represented.

W. R. Hatfield, of the Aroostook Valley Railway, spent Saturday to Monday with his brothers at Middle Simonds and Hartland. He says the electric road has been extended 12 miles from Washburn to New Sweden and that at the present time a C.P.R. steam locomotive is used to operate the new section.

Sayre's mill shut down for the season on Saturday night. For nearly two months a day and a night shift had been employed and a great many men are thrown out of employment. Many of them will go into the woods to assist in getting out logs for next season's cut. This year's operation has been successful and the money paid for wages has amounted to a big sum.

Beatrice Kilpatrick.

On Tuesday, Nov. 14, death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kilpatrick of East Florenceville, and took away their eldest daughter, Beatrice Bell, at the age of sixteen years. For two years she had been a sufferer from heart trouble, which disease she bore with great patience.

Besides her sorrowing parents, she leaves behind three brothers, two sisters, her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. York of Victoria, with whom she lived during part of her illness, and a large circle of relatives and friends whose esteem she won by her lovable disposition and Christian virtues.

The funeral ceremonies were conducted on Thursday afternoon by Rev. M. H. Manuel, assisted by Rev. E. C. Turner, Rev. J. A. Cahill and Rev. D. Fiske. After a brief service in the house the remains were taken to the Methodist church at East Florenceville, where a sermon was preached from John 16:33 "In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." The remains were then taken to the Presbyterian cemetery in Greenfield for burial. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the whole community.

It Was Dr. Pugsley's Plan.

To none will the announcement that the St. John Valley Railway is to be constructed in accordance with the plans laid down by the Laurier government give greater satisfaction than to Hon. Dr. Pugsley and Mr. F. B. Carvell. To them belongs the chief credit. The Laurier government seemed to favor an electric railway between two points on the C. P. R., and it was with no little difficulty they were brought to look with favor on a through line from St. John to Grand Falls, connecting with the Grand Trunk Pacific and operated as part of the Intercolonial system. But they finally accepted that proposition and the matter was arranged. The change of government at Ottawa made it necessary for Premier Fleming to say the whole matter before the new cabinet. After many days they have agreed to go on with the work, on the lines arranged by Hon. Dr. Pugsley. May they continue to follow in his footsteps for the further development of St. John and the province.—Times.

Benefits of Charcoal for Poultry.

Hundreds of our largest poultrymen who have the greatest success with fowls, both old and young, keep a constant supply of charcoal before their birds from the time they are first hatched until they are disposed of. Pure charcoal is one of the greatest disinfectants known, and will bring about the correction of troubles caused by irregularities in feeding quicker, perhaps, than almost anything that has ever been known to the poultry fraternity.

We keep it constantly before our birds and we seldom have a sick one. Of course it is not uncommon for all poultrymen to have fowls become suddenly sick and die, without any apparent cause whatever, it always being a profound mystery to the owner. But so far as permitting contagious diseases the use of charcoal will absolutely prevent any catastrophe of this kind. Of course it is expected that fowls are kept comfortable and in clean quarters. There is nothing will take the place of charcoal when it comes to putting the hens in good laying condition. Where it is used bowel trouble is seldom seen. It will prevent "little chick cholera" if fed freely to the breeders during the winter months; and if the powdered charcoal is used in mash for the growing chicks they will develop very rapidly and their growth never be checked by derangements of the digestive organs brought about by improper or irregular feeding. The poultryman that uses charcoal once will always use it, as it will be found a saving on

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

Mrs. Roderic Lee.

On Monday, Nov. 13, there occurred the death of Mrs. Emily S. Lee, wife of Roderic Lee of Kenneth. Deceased was sixty-one years of age, a lady of high esteem, and a faithful member of the Presbyterian church.

Besides a sorrowing husband, three daughters, Mrs. George Elliott of Kenneth, Mrs. Wm. Hemphill (Jr.) of Knowlesville, Miss Effie Lee, at home, and two grandchildren are left to mourn their loss.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. H. Manuel of Florenceville, on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the deceased. The remains were taken to the Presbyterian cemetery at Glassville for burial.
