Composite School The Only Logical Solution of Campbellton's Problem

PRESENT LACK OF SCHOOL ROOM HERE A PROBLEM THAT MUST BE MET NOW

Erection Of Composite High School A Logical and Economical Solution—Government Will Pay One-Third of Cost of Building And One-Half of Equipment—Grant Will Also Cover Two-Thirds of Teachers Salaries—Board Will Lose Present Grant Unless Matter Is Taken Up This Year.

Taking into consideration every aspect of the situation the erection of a Composite High School promises the only logical and satisfactory solution of Campbellton's present school problem. This is the opinion of the majority of the Board of School Trustees, local leaders in educational work and a great many citizens of the town who are now becoming interested in this important question. A bill authorizing the issue of debentures not to exceed the amount of $50,000 is already before the Provincial House and there is little doubt but what this will go through without difficulty. This, of course does not bind the Board in any way. It is merely a provisional measure.

The Problem
Although it is one which citizens at large may not be thoroughly familiar with, the problem of securing sufficient accommodation for the school children of Campbellton is a serious one which must be disposed of without further delay. In Campbellton at the present time there are over 1800 scholars either attending or wishing to attend school. In addition to this number there are from 100 to 200 children on the streets who should be receiving their preliminary education. But there is no room for them; and with the coming fall term increased numbers will merely continue to make this problem all the more serious.

Academy Overcrowded
Ten rooms have been rented in the Academy Building here but now these are also overcrowded and conditions are rapidly becoming more unsatisfactory and more disturbing. Two additional rooms have been provided in the Assembly Hall of the Grammar School but these are miserably equipped and wholly inadequate to serve their purpose. The same unsatisfactory conditions exist in connection with the present arrangements to accommodate the Vocational Class. One of these is located in the basement.

More Facts
In addition to these plain facts which give some idea of the problem now confronting the town, we cannot indefinitely continue to use the Academy Building. This is specifically only a temporary arrangement and contrary to law. Before the arrangement was made it was necessary to secure the consent of the Chief Superintendent of Education and this was given on the distinct understanding that this arrangement should continue only until other premises could be provided. And moreover, aside from all considerations, this arrangement is no longer adequate to meet the needs. Campbellton must either undertake the erection of a new school building now or next year and if the undertaking is delayed for another twelve months we will be obliged to forfeit our government grant for Vocational Work.

Government Help
If our town was obliged to shoulder the entire cost of the proposed Composite High School there would be reason for opposition to the course which is being advocated. But the proposition which we are enabled to take advantage of is recommended for economical as well as other reasons. If Campbellton builds a Composite High School this year the government pays one-third of the cost of the building, one-half of the expenditure for equipment and pays annually two-thirds of the teachers' salaries on all Vocational Work. Such a proposition of course presents the undertaking in a much more attractive light and opens the way to a solution of this problem which, after all, occasions a very nominal expenditure.

Why This Year
If the proposed Composite High School is not erected this year it will mean that we will be unable to take advantage of the vocational work which has been so generously begun. We have in mind will mean that Campbellton will lose its government grant for this work. On the other hand if the proposed building is gone ahead with, it will be enabled, with the accompaniment of the government, to take of this citizens who realize the advantages of immediate action in this matter also. Without further delay we must make room to accommodate them.

LARGE CROWDS WITNESS SPORTS

Best Program Of Season At C. C. Club Rooms—Basket Ball, Boxing, Wrestling, Etc.

On Monday evening lovers of sport were given a chance to enjoy one of the best sport programmes ever presented in Campbellton for many a day and one to be remembered by the six hundred fans who attended the Campbellton Catholic Club Rooms on that occasion. The basketball game between Campbellton and Chatham, which was one of the first numbers, kept the large crowd at a high pitch of excitement throughout the entire two periods. Cheers from the fans could be heard for blocks around, both teams drawing an equal share of the applause. The first half ended in Chatham favor 8-4. Although Chatham took the lead at the early stage the Locals tied the score with about five minutes to play after which the Chatham team were allowed two foul shots which they made. Chatham scored three baskets in the first half. The second half started with Chatham leading by four points but this did not discourage the Locals as they came to the ball after a few minutes of play score standing at this time of the game 8-6. But the Chatham team played their steady game throughout this period and scored six field goals and two penalty goals bringing their total to twenty-two. The Locals were without doubt handicapped as they were without their star shot and time again at the Chatham basket but only to find the ball roll around the iron ring and drop of Lester Wetmore acted as referee and proved himself capable of his task by the clever way he handled the game. Joseph De-roche who performed the different ac-robatic stunts was pleasing to watch and was applauded by the crowd. The Munroe brothers exhibited skill in the line of wrestling and also gave their usual performance as leather pushers. Durette and Johnson also showed that they could shove the leather bound gloves around. Deiron and Shannon gave an exhibition of two rounds in the squared circle and proved to the large number present that they were still among the first rats. The band was in attendance and rendered several fine selections.

The line-ups of the basketball teams follow:
Chatham Forward Murray (Capt.)
Moore
Whalen (Centre) Murray (Capt.)
Barry (Capt.) Guard Pelletier
Munroe
Total scores: Chatham 22, Campbellton 9. First period score: Chatham 8, Campbellton 4. Second period: Chatham 22, Campbellton 9.

EXPRESS THANKS.
The Sales Committee of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Aid wish to thank the proprietors of the Linacre for the free use of Viet rooms for the S. M. H. Easter Sale.

Mary M. Millican, Convenor.

Other Points
There are several other points which support the Composite School project. If Campbellton continues her progress of the past decade it will not be long until the town will become the educational centre on the North Shore. Our schools will thus draw a large patronage from the outlying districts. In order to educate our own youth, more economically at home, we must make room to accommodate them.

JOHN FLETT DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Was Visiting His Son at Oakland When He Passed Away Suddenly

A telegram received by Mr. Geo. G. McKenzie from Mrs. J. W. Weston, dated at Oakland, California, April 8th, brought the sad intelligence of the passing away of Mr. John Flett, on Wednesday morning, after an attack of acute indigestion.

Mr. Flett was very well known here as for some years he was in partnership with Mr. Geo. G. McKenzie under the firm name of McKenzie & Flett. He was also well known in Moncton, Amherst and New Glasgow.

Last fall Mr. and Mrs. Flett went to California to spend the winter with their son, who is located there.

NEW MILLS SCHOOL BURNED SUNDAY

Contents of Building Also Totally Destroyed—New Quarters Being Sought.

Fire which broke out about nine o'clock Sunday evening completely destroyed the school house at lower New Mills. The contents of the building also burned and the loss will be considerable as only about $700 insurance was carried.

The blaze, which evidently originated in the woodshed is believed to have been started from some sparks in ashes which had been placed there in barrels.

At present the Board of School Trustees is endeavoring to secure temporary quarters until a new school building can be provided.

ALL PAID DELEGATES EXPENSES
There has been considerable unfair comment in reference to the two delegates named by the Campbellton Town Council to go to Ottawa recently charging their expenses to the town. This is hardly fair to the gentlemen concerned. They give a large amount of their time to the town for which they get absolutely no financial returns. In the fact the only remuneration that is handed out to them is just such petty criticism, and sometimes personal abuse and this action no doubt is largely responsible for the difficulty to persuade many of our local business men to take a hand in town affairs. Some of these are more sensitive than others, and though they would make capital councillors they feel that they are better out of politics.

The Graphic learns that every city or town in the Maritime provinces which sent delegates, paid the expenses of their trip to Ottawa. This was certainly the case with St. John, Moncton, Newcastle, Chatham, Bathurst and Dalhousie. Surely Campbellton cannot expect its delegates to be better off than the delegates of the other towns. To pay this expense account out of their own pockets.

Some of those who are loudest in public criticism are those which if a very bright light were cast upon their civic actions, would be disclosed as costing the town very much more than the trifling sum involved in this matter.

Let us rather endeavor to work together for the welfare of our town, and instead of local dissension act in harmony for the growth and prosperity of Campbellton.

CONVENT BAZAAR IN DALHOUSIE

To Take Place Next Thursday—Proceeds For Addition To Convent Bldg.

Dalhousie, N. B., April 8.—On Thursday afternoon April 10th, at 2 o'clock, a bazaar will be held in the Convent Hall. In the evening at 7 o'clock a musical concert will be given by the pupils and former pupils of the Dalhousie Convent in the same hall.

A very nice program will be carried out. As the good Sisters are making preparations to build a large addition to the Convent during the coming summer which will help to make Dalhousie quite a centre of education, no doubt the entertainments to follow, will be well patronized by the people.

C. C. CLUB WILL HAVE BALL TEAM

Campbellton Catholic Club To Organize Baseball Nine For The Coming Season.

As yet no definite plans for the season have been formed by local baseball enthusiasts but it was learned yesterday that the Campbellton Catholic Club will have a team in the field this summer.

As yet nothing definite has been decided but it is expected that the necessary arrangements will be undertaken soon and completed in a few weeks time. The Campbellton Catholic Club was organized last fall and since that time has made splendid progress. The club has a large membership who take keen interest in its activities and they doubtless have a wealth of good material to draw from. A baseball "nine" from the C. C. Club should make a very creditable showing in a local or a North Shore baseball series, if this is arranged for.

LOCAL FARMERS ARE ORGANIZING

Good Number Now Behind Move To Form Company And Establish Butter Factory Here.

Although they have received little encouragement from the government a number of farmers in and around Campbellton have expressed their determination to go ahead with the organization of a Dairyman's Co-operative of some kind and have further made good their intentions by taking preliminary steps in the matter. The objective is to form a farmer's co-operative company, in Restigouche, establish a butter factory here and thus provide a profitable market for the output of farmers of the North Shore.

Already a good number of the larger farmers have joined the movement and it is confidently expected that sufficient financial support will be secured to assure the success of the undertaking. This will be good news to farmers throughout the whole North shore district in as much as a lucrative market will thus be provided for their cream, the profitable disposal of which has always been one of their problems.

DALHOUSIE NEEDS ANOTHER SCHOOL

Inspector MacFarlane Expresses Hope That Something May Be Done Before Long.

When Mr. MacFarlane, School Inspector, was in the Shiretown recently he expressed a strong desire, that steps be taken at an early date by the School Board of Dalhousie, towards the erection of a new Public School Building, and it is probable that when the annual School Meeting is held in July that the ratepayers of the Shiretown will give the matter careful consideration.

EXISTANCE OF NEW COMET CONFIRMED

Danish Professor Declares it is Comparatively Light and Situated in Constellation of Pegasus.

London, April 6.—An agency despatch from Copenhagen says that Professor Stromgren and Hansen of Copenhagen observatory, confirm the existence of a new comet which is reported from Krakow to have been indefinitely discovered by an amateur named Chert.

Prof. Stromgren says the comet is comparatively light and strong, of the eighth dimension and is situated in the constellation of Pegasus.

According to the Royal Observatory at Greenwich the Position of the new comet on Sunday was right ascension 22 hours 27 minutes, north declination 16 degrees 38 minutes. It is daily motion, the observatory states, is one degree north.

The comet, which is said to rise between one and two o'clock in the morning of each day, is much more than a lot of theory.

DECLARES THAT VACANCY SENATE SHOULD FALL TO A RESTIGOUCHE COUNTY MAN

In Interview With Graphic Our Federal Member Commends Move To Win More Recognition For This County—Says That While One County Has Member The Other Should Have The Senate Appointment—Has Approached Prime Minister Four Times On This Matter.

That the electors of this municipality may depend on the energetic support of Mr. Pius Michaud, Federal Member for this County and Madawaska, in an effort to win for Restigouche the recognition she deserves was made clear in an interview which the writer had with our representative yesterday at the Chateau Restigouche here. Mr. Michaud stated that he had noted with interest the articles recently published in the Graphic and that he was anxious to see our County forge ahead and our public projects made successful.

MAY ACQUIRE THE CHANDLER MILLS

Group Headed By Angus McLean of Bathurst Co. Now Negotiating For Pulp Mill.

According to Montreal advices to the Financial Post, negotiations are proceeding looking to the acquisition of the St. Lawrence Pulp and Lumber Corporation by a group to be headed by Angus McLean, president of the Bathurst Company. In the event of the negotiations coming to a successful conclusion it is not known whether the property will be operated as a part of the Bathurst Company or by a separate company to be formed. The St. Lawrence mill in the Gaspé peninsula is not inconvenient to the Bathurst mill, the two being separated by the Baie de Chaleur.

When the present vacancy in the Senate occurred Mr. Michaud lost no time in recommending that a citizen of this county be selected to fill this post. Again at the time of the Northumberland elections Mr. Michaud, in company with local friends interviewed Premier King during his trip to that constituency and strongly urged that this appointment be made. On the opening of the recent session of the Federal House Mr. Michaud again approached the Premier on this matter. At the close of the session, just before Mr. Michaud left Ottawa to visit friends of the government there on his way home he again interviewed the Prime Minister and the Secretary of State at the Capital and took the same matter up for the fourth time. It is evident that the members for Restigouche and Madawaska have made good his claims and those who are anxious to see a local man go to the Senate will learn with interest of his active interest in the matter.

A Strong Supporter
Mr. Michaud is evidently deeply interested in the private affairs of his county and can clearly be counted on as a strong supporter in promoting these rights which we feel necessary to the progress of our county. Keeping closely in touch with the needs and the opportunities of the day Mr. Michaud is ready and able to lend valuable service in winning for Restigouche the attention and the consideration she deserves.

During the interview our Federal representative pointed out that Madawaska, as well as Restigouche had never been honored with a senate appointment but stated that while one county had one of her citizens acting as a federal member for this North Shore constituency it was only fair that the other should be represented by a local man in the Senate.

Encouraging
Judging from Mr. Michaud's remarks we feel safe in advancing the opinion that before long Restigouche will be given her due in connection with this matter. In the meantime, it is most encouraging to know that our federal representative is with us in spirit in the effort to promote our claims. Unless we are much in error the near future will see better treatment accorded the County of Restigouche and more serious consideration given to her requests.

MAY MEET TO DISCUSS MATTER

Weekly Half-Holiday Idea A Popular One—No Opposition Likely.

The idea of having a weekly half-holiday instituted here during the summer months is, to all appearances, becoming steadily more popular as the season advances. From various quarters much favorable comment is being advanced and so far we have heard no one voice any objection to the idea. We believe that a large number of local merchants are favorable to the move and any vigorous opposition is thought unlikely.

It is at present hoped that a meeting for the discussion of this matter may be arranged for this week and some definite steps taken.

THE NEW FRASER PAPER MILL WILL BE READY BY OCTOBER TO BURN COAL FROM MINTO

Construction of the new $2,500,000 paper mill to be established by the Fraser Companies Limited at Madawaska, Me., across the St. John river from Edmundston, will be rushed to such an extent that the plant is to be ready to receive coal shipments by October, it was learned today.

It is understood that coal from the Minto district where Archie Fraser, president of the Fraser Companies, has recently acquired interests in one of the leading mining enterprises, will be used at the new plant at Madawaska and it is said that 70 tons of coal will be burned daily.

The impending establishment of new pulp and paper plants in New Brunswick is expected to provide an enlarged market for coal from the Grand Lake district mines.

DETAILED REPORT ON QUAKE DAMAGE

Prepared by Department of Interior Officials and Shows Considerable Damage.

The data given in this preliminary report were gathered during a trip of investigation covering the north shore of the St. Lawrence between Quebec and Miramichi, the south shore from Lakes to Trois Pistoles, and the Lake St. John region as far east as Ha Ha Bay. The two chief objects were the listing of evidence indicating the epicentre, or centre, and an examination into the nature of the reports of damage sustained. The first object has been attained in a tentative way, and the second fairly definitely for the area concerned.

Without going into details it may be said that at present it is thought that the epicentre is in the mountainous region near the eastern boundary of the Laurentides Park. However, that section of the country is practically inaccessible at this season, and data can be better gathered there later, if promised reports from lumbering companies, together with other information already accumulated or still to come should not serve to settle the question definitely.

The fact must be recognized that considerable serious damage was done at several points; on the other hand, many of the reports were exaggerated and some were pure inventions. The damage was not so much a function of the distance from the epicentre as of the nature of the ground and the character of the buildings. The major damages, described in more detail below, were at Quebec, Shawinigan Falls, Malbaie, St. Urbain, and the district near Riviere Ouelle. They were in no case widespread or general, and applied in most cases to massive stone structures, without steel reinforcement, such as churches. Minor damages, such as falling of chimneys and breaking of windows, were somewhat more common. As the character of the ground was more rocky or the distance from the epicentre was greater the minor damages were limited to those caused by falling pictures, bottles, etc. When the damage was relatively serious the ground was found in every case to be sand or clay, usually on the side of a hill.

In the case of all earthquakes of any considerable intensity, the main shock has been followed by a series of minor ones which are still felt at intervals. Earthquakes have occurred before in this region, the last severe one about half a century ago. Now that the accumulated stresses have, in all probability, been relieved, there is no occasion to anticipate further serious disturbances, during the present generation. As an insurance for posterity however, it would be well to pay some attention to location and methods of construction of new buildings. Where these are massive, and of stone or concrete construction without reinforcement by steel girdes, it is preferable to have the foundation on rock or other solid substratum. Wooden or steel reinforcement buildings are safe.

The major damages noted are as follows: At Malbaie the Charlevoix Palais de Justice was severely shaken and the walls cracked. About two miles farther east an old manorhouse was badly damaged. Both these buildings are of massive stone construction and both stand on sand and on a steep slope. Other buildings in the same region were less seriously damaged. The church at St. Urbain is very old. It was so badly broken that it is now being torn down. It stood on sand but on a plain. The church at Riviere Ouelle is also wrecked. The stones in the adjoining graveyard are nearly all levelled. There are two old stonehouses within about a mile of this church which have been abandoned since the earthquake. The west wall of the C. N. R. station at Riviere Ouelle was wrecked. Some damage has been done to the walls of the station houses at St. Paoime, Ste. Anne de la Pointe, and Ste. Eusebe but

FLOODS SEVERE IN SASKATCHEWAN

Qu'Appelle River Near Regina Has Swollen Nearly To Flood Level—Residents Prepare for Emergency.

Regina, Sask., April 8.—Damage from flooded rivers and creeks was reported from several points in Southern Saskatchewan last night. Water, which has been pouring through Lumsden, a few miles north of Regina, has swollen the Qu'Appelle River to a point one foot from flood level. All the residents in the flood areas have prepared for any emergency. Boats and rafts are in waiting should the water overflow into the flats.

Other places where danger is eminent are Hazelton and Eastend, where ice jams are feared. A number of bridges have been washed away at Vanguard and Woodrow, telephone lines have been put out of commission and people driven from their homes. Friday and Saturday at Vanguard and Hodgeville have returned. Railway traffic has been stopped at Mazonod, and washouts are reported from Kipling, Arcola and Comins.

At Tantallon the main street is six inches under water but a break up of ice from their homes Friday and Saturday at Vanguard and Hodgeville have returned. Railway traffic has been stopped at Mazonod, and washouts are reported from Kipling, Arcola and Comins.

CHAPMAN FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER
To Die by Hanging on the 25th of June.
HARTFORD, Conn., April 6.—Gerald Chapman today was found guilty of murder in the first degree for the slaying of a New Britain policeman last October 12. The jury had been out a few minutes more than 11 hours.

Chapman was sentenced to be hanged on June 25.

These might be listed as minor damages. At Quebec the grain elevator and shed 29 at the harbour were badly damaged. As these structures were very heavy and were necessarily built on soft soil of considerable depth close to the river it is not to be wondered at that the ground settled slightly, that the concrete work was cracked, and the steel columns of the shed displaced. At the Palais station, Quebec, some slight damage was caused by the quake, the top row of bricks in the layers of the north wall of the waiting-room being dislodged and some of the glass in the skylights broken. At Shawinigan Falls, St. Mary's Cathedral transport wall was broken, the solid brick wall falling to the south-east. The walls of several houses on Homlock St. were also broken. One fell completely and others partially. Those houses are on a sandy soil and are built on the slope of a hill. Some damage was also reported at the Aluminium plant, but there was not time to investigate this. No major damage was done in the Chicoutimi region.

If we class as minor damages such things as falling chimneys, broken panes of glass, the throwing down of bottles, packages, pictures, statues etc., we find this sort of thing most common at Riviere Ouelle with close seconds at the adjoining parishes on the south shore down as far as Riviere du Loup, and at Baie St. Paul beyond Tadoussac on the north shore. At Chicoutimi it was difficult to find anyone who had observed anything falling. Only a few cases were reported there and at Port Alfred.

The following reports were found to be untrue. The church at St. Hilairon did not suffer, nor was it damaged. The fires at St. Felicien and Hobeville Stn., were both burning before the earthquake. The $10,000 fire reported to have occurred at Ste. Anne de la Pointe never happened at all. The reports of extensive damage at the church at Baie St. Paul are grossly exaggerated. There was no damage to the churches at Pointe au Pic or Malbaie although a statue in the church-yard at Pic fell at the time of the quake. The reports that one death occurred at each of these points, Ste. Anne de la Parade, Quebec, Chicoutimi, and Tadoussac were probably true but are no indication of the intensity. Death in each case was reported due to shock. So far as can be learned not the slightest harm was done to any person physically by the quake, more than in one case where a child was cut by a falling picture at Quebec. If any other casualties occurred they were not heard of during the trip. The report was that the river level fell on the St. Lawrence at the time of the earthquake is without foundation, the gauge level showing no permanent offset.

It may be remarked that information is still being accumulated from all over eastern Canada. An operation has been arranged for from scientific institutions in the United States. This will take some considerable time to correlate. Seismograph records and reports from at least all Europe and America will have a bearing on the final deductions. It is proposed in due course to issue a complete report as a Publication of the Dominion Observatory.

FALLACY OF BUYING BY MAIL
How would you like to journey to the nearest city for a pound of sugar or a yard of muslin, or a spool of thread or a smoke? And how would you like to make the trip when you need a prescription filled in a hurry with death running you a race? You would make some noise if forced to such an extremity—and then more noise.

You would say and justly so—that a town in which you cannot buy a pound of sugar, or a yard of muslin, or a spool of thread, or a smoke or even get a prescription filled, is a mighty poor excuse for a town and not worth living in.

Yet our merchants can only afford to keep these things for your convenience as long as you buy other things from them.

It is not doing this town any good to buy the little things here and then chase off to a city or send to a catalogue house when you want something on which the merchant has a chance to make a dollar.

Neither is it doing you any good, for the prosperity of each citizen is depending to a large extent upon the prosperity of the community as a whole.

We are not telling you something you do not know.

We are simply refreshing your memory in hope the time may come when our people will conclude that a town that is worth living in is worth trading in.

FORTUNE IN A CLOCK
The achievement of an officer of the British admiralty hydrographic department in re-starting an ancient clock which had been unused for nearly two hundred years sheds light on a long-forgotten romance.

The clock was the invention of John Harrison, the self-taught son of a Yorkshire carpenter, and it gained for him the government prize of £20,000 offered for a ship's chronometer which would accurately indicate longitude.

tussian Terrorists About to Be Handed Over to Soviet Authorities Attacked and Killed.

Warsaw, April 2.—The terrorists Baginski and Wierzokiewicz, whom the Polish government recently agreed to exchange for two poles under sentence of death in Soviet Russia were attacked and killed by Police Sergeant Murasko while on the way to the border for the exchange, according to information received. Murasko is quoted as declaring that he made the attack in revenge for atrocious treatment he underwent when a resident in Russia. The incident has strongly moved public opinion. Baginski and Wierzokiewicz, who formerly held commission in the Polish army, were sentenced to death last year on charges of implication in the Warsaw citadel explosion of Oct. 1923. Their sentences were commuted to life imprisonment.

Tea Production Today

If the Chinese, who first discovered tea, had realized the possibilities of the trade and had studied the nature and requirements of the plant, China might still be the largest tea producing country. Centuries of neglect, however, stunted the growth and caused the quality to deteriorate. In the mountains of Ceylon and India, tea was found to flourish. Scientific methods of cultivation and manufacture were introduced with remarkable results. Now the finest tea grown in the world and by far the largest quantity comes from these countries. "SALADA" is mainly blended from flavoury India and Ceylon teas.

GOLD SEAL CONGOLEUM
GUARANTEE
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK.
PROOF REAL WITH STAMP CLIP

Your dealer will show you these new Congoleum Rug designs

We wish it were possible to show you in the picture all the beauties of these two new Congoleum Art-Rug designs!

In No. 548, there is an exquisite richness in the warm gray background in a moire effect, and a grace and charm in the floral design of pastel blues, russet and canary. You'd love the border, too. Oriental figures worked into the most attractive design imaginable; and in the same hues as used in the center pattern so that there's a perfect harmony of color.

A newspaper illustration can only show the outline of the pattern; it can give no idea of the exceptionally wonderful color artistry of this new Congoleum Rug design.

You should see this rug and its companion pattern, No. 549. Any merchant who sells Congoleum will be glad to show them to you. Be sure to see also the other Congoleum Rug designs suitable for all parts of the house, including the porch.

And remember that when you buy Congoleum Gold-Seal Art-Rugs you get the most wonderful floor-covering value obtainable—sanitary, long-wearing, easy-to-clean rugs that will give years of satisfaction. Because of their low price, it is real economy to have them throughout the home.

COUNCIL MEETING FRIDAY EVENING

Much Business Put Through
New Manager for Water and Sewerage Department.

A meeting of the Town Council was held Friday evening in the Council Chamber. His Worship Mayor McKay presiding.

Couns. Armstrong, Cool, Moores, McDonald, Savage and Caldwell were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The clerk read a communication from the W. C. T. U. asking that the Curfew Law be enforced in Campbellton.

As a delegation from the Local W. C. T. U. was present the regular order of business was suspended to hear the delegation.

Mrs. Bruce spoke of the need of a Curfew Law for Campbellton. Teachers were unanimous for it, as it kept children off the streets and thus permitted them to attend to their home studies.

Mrs. Barclay Gerrard spoke of the success of the law at Newcastle where she was told it had added about 50 per cent to efficiency of children attending school.

Mrs. Yonson spoke of the number of young children on the public streets after 9 o'clock and felt sure they were not receiving any proper education.

His Worship assured the delegation that personally he was in favor of such a law for Campbellton.

Coun. Moores thought the matter should be dealt with promptly and moved that a committee of three be appointed to act with a committee of the W. C. T. U. and other organizations to get all the information possible in reference to the Curfew Law, and report at the next regular meeting.

Couns. Armstrong, Moores and Patterson were appointed such committee.

A letter from the Board of Railway Commissioners notified the Council that Andrew Street would be further protected so as to prevent further accidents at that point.

Dr. Melvin of the Provincial Health Board asked the appointment of a Food Inspector.

Coun. Moores moved that the Secretary of the Sub-District Board of Health be notified that the port stands in the same position as when motion was carried.

Resignation of R. J. S. Sly as Town Engineer was accepted.

Wm. O'Connell wrote asking for permission to erect oil and gasoline tanks on property east of Canadian Oil Co. plant.

On motion application was granted upon approval of Free Underwriters.

P. S. Martin applied for lease of town lots at old N. R. Crossing. Referred to Public Property and Streets Committee.

W. H. Wallace wrote asking for a copy of the Auditor's report—Referred to Finance Committee.

E. E. Clark and J. E. Winton applied for position of permanent assessor, and R. D. Young for position as assessor. All placed on file.

Nat. Pettigrew applied for position on police force. Placed on file.

J. T. Hebert wrote asking for dismissal of Jas. Robinson at Power House.

Coun. McDonald explained that Robinson was not dismissed, but left his job of his own accord. Later he wanted to be taken back.

Coun. Caldwell moved that Mr. Hebert be notified that Robinson left employment of the town of his own free will and that council could not see its way to reappoint—Carried.

B. J. McKenzie wrote asking for position as Supt. of water and Sewerage Dept.

Coun. Armstrong moved that B. T. McKenzie be appointed manager of the Water and Sewerage departments at $100.00 per month—Carried.

J. A. Roy, V. S. submitted an account of $100 for services as Food Inspector for January. Referred to Town Solicitor.

The matter of advertising in The Campbellton Journal was discussed. It seemed to be the general opinion that Campbellton should advance its advantages both as an industrial centre and for tourists.

Coun. Moores moved that the Mayor appoint a Publicity Committee of two to look into this matter and get all particulars. Carried.

His Worship appointed Couns. Armstrong and Moores such Committee.

The usual departmental accounts were passed.

The matter of a camping site for tourists were again taken up, and the committee appointed last year were instructed to report as soon as possible.

The dog nuisance was discussed and on Motion the police were ordered to be notified to carry out the bylaw respecting dogs.

The matter of electric rate for water heaters was discussed, and a resolution that this rate was read a first time.

The council then adjourned.

INDIFFERENCE ONE OF THE GREATEST OBSTACLES IN THE CASE OF RESTIGOUCHE RIGHTS

Thoughtful Question Asked By Reader—One Instance of Narrow-Minded Opposition Recorded—Issue Depends On The Majority Of Serious-Thinking People—More Interest In Matter an Initial Requisite.

"Is there any definite way in which this matter of Restigouche Rights can be brought more forcibly to the attention of the people of our county? A local citizen asked the writer a few days ago. "I have been following with much interest the articles appearing in the Graphic on this matter this winter. They have served to impress me more fully with the importance of the question and I would like to see some real effort put forth. I am aware of the fact that the matter is a difficult one and one that is perhaps hard to promote through any definite program but there ought to be some way in which Restigouche can be brought out of the slough of neglect into which she has evidently sunk. We've got to attract more attention in one way or another."

The First Step
The above question is one that should interest every rate-payer in this county and it is one that only these rate-payers can answer. Just so long as each man pursues the quiet tenor of his way content to put up with whatever this county is handed and without courage enough to voice any protest, Restigouche will be left in the discard. Meanwhile, other municipalities of the province with seemingly more enterprising and more energetic representatives will forge ahead, getting their own full share of the governments gifts and honors and our share as well. When the people of Restigouche as a body awaken to a full realization of how we are almost permanently slighted and recognize our opportunities and our rights—and go about the business of our county with the treatment and the consideration she deserves. This is the first step. When this has been accomplished and means will not be hard to find.

Amazing Indifference.
To all appearances, we have not yet taken the first step. The discussion of Restigouche Rights in this paper has evoked considerable comment; we have received many letters and have been asked to do more. But more interest must be aroused before anything definite can be accomplished. Many people have so far refused to pay any attention to the many facts which have been placed before them. They have greeted the presentations of vital truths with a shrug of indifference, and until more active and more general interest have been around the discussion of this question will bear little fruit.

Lamentable Attitude.
The lamentable attitude of a few in regard to this matter has greatly retarded the public press is bound to evoke criticism. This has always been the case no matter how obviously worthy the project; there are always those who oppose it. Criticism is always welcome when it is logical and of a constructive nature. But the unbridled criticism of the public knocker or the approbrium of the chronic groucher never assists in having any subject properly threshed out or its merits elucidated. Criticism from such sources is merely a dash of cold water. It retards progress and accomplishes no good. Here is an example.

Not long ago a man said: "What is the use of making all this fuss about the Rights of Restigouche. It will never do any good. We have had to limit for Montreal the rights of the people given up till now, and it will always be the same. There is no sense in raising a holler for what we know we can't get."

A wonderful statement to be sure. This ought to be carved in marble and set over the grave of every failure in the land. "What is the use—Small words conceived by a brain equally small. Words that betray a spirit from which success would shrink, regardless of whether applied to public life or to be that of the individual."

We can at least be thankful that such a cheap and stupid statement does not express the attitude of the majority on this question of Restigouche Rights. The bulk of the people are of a much healthier mentality than the author of such an opinion and although perhaps not yet alive to our opportunities, our rights and our needs, can at least be fully trusted to display more courage more initiative and more courage to possess a broader view of the future for our county and to have a much greater faith in its development and growth. It is upon them, the great majority, the serious-thinking people of Restigouche, that progress in this matter depends.

If these people realize that they bring their county into the prominence of our value and importance merit it will not be long until they will enter the recognition she deserves and be awarded the rightful place in every provincial issue. What the majority of our people demand will get. But until this demand is made we can hope for no better treatment than we have been given in the past.

YOUNG OF TODAY WANT THRILLS

Toronto Head of Women's Court
Tells of Life in that City.

TORONTO, Apr. 6.—A young girl leaves her home or boarding house in search of variety and entertainment. She seeks her brightly lighted streets, without definite plan as to how she will satisfy her longing for a thrill, but vaguely hoping that something will happen to drive dullness away. Presently a motor draws up to the curb and a friendly voice invites her to have a ride promading at its end the happiness of a jolly party. She yields.

"This," said Dr. Margaret Patterson, when addressing a large audience in Hyatt Hall last evening, "is the first step in a tragedy that ends often in the women's court."

"There is an abnormal desire for thrills among the young people of today and they must have amusement," she continued. "People have lost the art of reading and wish some one else to entertain them in their leisure hours. This can be secured with safety only by providing attractive and wholesome recreation easily available to young people, especially those who are far away from home."

W. C. T. U.
RESULTS OF PROHIBITION
The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir—In a recent statement concerning the results of five years of prohibition, Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas, author of the Eighteenth Amendment, said: "During the operation of prohibition the decreased arrests for drunkenness have numbered 500,000 annually. There have been 250,000 fewer industrial accidents. A decreased mortality rate has developed, which adds three years to the average human life. Prohibition has closed many orphanages and crowded the colleges and schools. It has doubled the number of investors and made it possible to save $300,000,000 out of the yearly wage of $200,000,000. In a letter published in your columns the other day Prohibitionist were called 'the enemies of the human race.' Enemies of a country work in quite a different direction, making for crime, vice and lawlessness. Prohibitionists are fighting for the sake of the home life, the child life and the youth of the nation. Were it not for the monetary gain of the sale of liquor, no one would engage in the trade."

Some excellent rules for health are given in a recent number of Hygiene health journal. Many of them are ignored by thousands in spite of the fact that obeying them is easy, and in many cases pleasant. Here are some of them:

Breathe every room you occupy. Breathe night air at night time. Open your bedroom windows. Have no fires in bedrooms.

Get back to nature in the matter of food. Remember the original food products are grains, vegetables, and fruits, nuts, milk, eggs and water. Keep the table and guests healthy.

Keep them clean.

The secret of great personal power is work, play, rest and sleep in moderation. Never permit a piece of work or stress or strain of any kind, to run along without frequent interruptions in the nature of relaxations.

Keep serene, no matter what happens. It is possible for most of us to observe all these rules. The last one is difficult and its observance depends to a large extent on temperament. Probably the most important admonition is that which advises moderation in all things.

The less heart one puts into a task the more labor it requires.

Word has been received here of the marriage of Mona Foran, eldest daughter of Mrs. Ida Willett of Montreal, to Mr. Leopold Jean of Verriers, Belgium, which took place in Montreal on Thursday, February 19th.

Mrs. Jean De Jean is well known in Dalhousie, having for a number of years resided in the old Willett Residence on Adelaide Street. Known then as Miss Foran, she was a popular member of the Shiretown's younger set. Mr. and Mrs. Jean De Jean will reside in Canada until autumn and have taken up residence on Lincoln Avenue in Montreal.

PROTEST AT DORCHESTER
At a citizens' meeting at Dorchester, Monday evening, A. W. Chapman, in the chair, a petition was read against having the executions of the Maritime Provinces at the penitentiary. A committee was appointed to get signatures and forward the petition to Hon. A. B. Cope, Ottawa.

SERIOUS CHARGES AT NEWCASTLE

Thomas Legalley and Mrs. Jane
Kennedy Arrested—Wife
Was Driven Out.

Newcastle N. B., March 31.—Police yesterday arrested Thomas Legalley and a woman named Mrs. Jane Kennedy on statutory charges, arresting the pair at Legalley's home, where they are said to have been living as man and wife.

Legalley's wife was also living in the same house and submitted to the indignities until Legalley chased her out yesterday and, she claims, threatened to kill her with a hatchet. She then went to the police station and reported to Chief of Police Hopkins what had occurred. A raid on Legalley's house resulted in the two arrests and an additional charge of assault against Legalley.

Mrs. Kennedy's husband died about a year ago at Nelson, across the Miramichi river from here, under suspicious circumstances. The circumstances of his death were the subject of inquiry, it being believed at the time that he had been murdered, and Legalley was under suspicion at that time. Mrs. Kennedy continued to reside at Nelson until recently when, the police say, she moved over to Legalley's house, despite the fact that Legalley's wife was there too.

The pair are appearing before Magistrate Denvers today and will doubtless be sent up for trial at the Circuit in April.

RURAL LIFE APPEALS TO PRINCE ERIC

Passadena, Cal., Prince Erik, brother of the King of Denmark, is contented and happy as a poultry farmer. After a year on a small chicken ranch at Azandria, a name suggestive of idyllic bliss, the prince has decided that Royal pomp is less to be desired than a bucolic life.

"Work which interests one is the only real happiness," he said yesterday. He was burning brush as he spoke and he paused to dust off a pair of cross-legged gray trousers that had once been part of an English cut-away outfit.

Wants Simplicity
"I desire nothing, but the simplicity of our life here," he confided in cultured English, waving a hand toward the red house that fronts the equipment for his 3,000 Leghorn pen. The pasture was to include his wife, formerly Miss Lois M. Booth, the Canadian girl he married last year before undertaking life in his rural retreat.

"I play a little golf at times, and there are my books and music for recreation. But after all, there isn't much time for that, the care of the farm consumes most of the day."

An Early Riser
Like other residents of Arcadia, many of whom went there with visions of "independence on an acre," as the real estate men put it, the prince rises early.

"The day seems all too short as it is," he smiled pleasantly. "It's a very simple life, but trying to run a business crowds the hours full."

The crackling fire needed attention and he moved quickly with a rake. One could see the play of his muscles beneath his soft white shirt. His black oxfords were spattered with green paint.

The other residents of Arcadia at first were shy of the prince but now they stop to chat with him about butter and eggs, about markets and crops and of the hundred things that go to make up life in rural Arcadia.

Indeed, Prince Erik, young, sandy-haired and blue-eyed, looks as natural as any of them. He has successfully submerged his Royalty.

TOURISTS MOVEMENT IS TO BE NORTH SHORES' GREATEST INDUSTRY

Means Thousands of Dollars to Our Citizens and Summer Work for Guides. Auto Services and Others.

Spring is here and soon, even in the cold North, will come warm weather, sunshine, beautiful clouds floating over a blue sky. Spring pushes everything ahead.

With the sound of the mill whistles, the early and late hours of the farmer endeavoring to do better than the year previous, the sound of the hammer on public buildings and the erection of new homes, preparing for the salmon fishing, and repairing of automobiles, comes the inquiry: "Are we to have many tourists this year?"

Following our great natural resources of farming, lumbering, fishing, mining, comes the recent valuable movement of Tourist travel. During 1925 the value of tourist travel to Canada was $136,000,000. Quebec received $30,000,000 and Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, $10,000,000.

Quoting from Government estimates: "In 1925 over 996,000 automobiles entered Canada. Of these 64,000 entered Quebec and 2,500 entered New Brunswick."

When we consider the fact that New Brunswick is without doubt the most ideally situated province in the Dominion for a tourist resort, and with the wonderful attractions of the whole Bay of Chaleur, it is up to our people to blow our horn loud and tell outsiders how greatly our country has been adorned by nature. In this connection your correspondent, who has interviewed the County of Restigouche's Vice President for the New Brunswick Tourist and Resources Association, who has had considerable correspondence recently with outsiders, who take a deep interest in our welfare, has handed the following letter for publication. The article was written by one born at Carleton, P. Q., resided on the North Shore of New Brunswick for some time and for many years lived in Digby, Nova Scotia, and is at present spending a few months in California. The letter speaks for itself.

Long Beach, California, March 20th, 1925.

Hon. C. H. LaBelle, Dalhousie, N. B.

My Dear Sir:—

What this is the first day of Spring, it really seems more like Summer, here, at least, on the beautiful shore of the Pacific, in Southern California. We are enjoying ourselves in the surf, and the magnificent seaside avenue is dotted with promenades for a distance of several miles. And the loquacious gulls, friendly pelicans in these parts, are flying over our heads, or scampering in groups among the bathers looking for special tidbits.

And the palms and the pepper trees are in full festival dress, poinsettias in a grand variety of colors are beautiful to gaze on as you go by.

This is a country where thousands from all parts of the Union gather during winter months, and from near points, in summer time.

The Soutland has done much for the convenience and welfare of the tourist. Just a glance at some of its concrete walks would astonish you.

And, of course, the beautiful climate, wonderful, my friend. And I did enjoy it during this past winter. It was so new to me. And sometimes I smiled when some invalid would salute me with "Don't you find it a little cool?"

My overcoat is yet to be unpacked. It's where I put it when leaving Nova Scotia, last October.

Sometimes, I can see on the horizon of my mind that magnificent and fertile sheet of water—in Baie des Chaleurs, and its quiet little towns and villages on either side, and its lofty mountains and valleys. . . . and I ask myself a thousand questions.

Some say "If I could only go to Europe? Palaces and porticoes, of course are interesting. Monuments and structural achievements in marble, stone, or steel, broad streets in solid concrete and asphaltum are all things which compel a reverential awe in foreign, large and industrial cities but scenes of splendour are not confined exclusively to the world beyond our seas. Nova Scotia, principally Digby where it has been my pleasure to spend many years is a real mecca for American tourists, beginning after the home festivities of the 4th July, each year, New Brunswick all along the Miramichi, the Upper Saint John, and on the North from Miscou up towards Campbellton, offers cities but scenes of splendour are not confined exclusively to the world beyond our seas.

Your own little town, my friend, is a flower in the green slope of a great country where all bounds either on land, river or sea. Only, you are used to it, and, perhaps, do not see it. But you are only at the beginning of your expansion. Even this wonderful country would not compel as it now does, the admiration of people from all parts of the world if it were not judiciously and truthfully made known by either Chamber of Commerce, Realtor, Newspaper or advertisement.

When on a flying trip around the dear old place I call home, a year ago last October, some friend informed me that twenty seven ships had sailed up the river—no reason why 54 shouldn't come; you have the goods.

Well, I must return to my sheep. Trusting you may have a prosperous summer generally.

I am as ever yours,

J. A. CULLEN.

ARMED BANDITS MAKE BIG HAUL

Ten Robbers Pounce on Watchman on Railway Pier in New York and Escape With Silk Valued at Forty Thousand Dollars.

New York, March 24.—Ten robbers, armed with pistols, held up a watchman today on the La Guardia Pier, 20th street, pier on the Hudson river and escaped with silk valued by railroad officials at $40,000. Leaving the pier, the bandits were seen by a watchman who called out to them. They were then seen by a watchman who called out to them. They were then seen by a watchman who called out to them.

SPANKING IS BENEFICIAL

The Best Cure for Boys who are Willfully Disobedient.

Kansas City, Kas.—An old fashioned spanking, the sort that brings tears to the eyes of even the parent, has been made a part of the penal code of the Wyandotte County Probate Court and taken it from Judge Henry Meade, who has whacked or overseen the paddling of more than a dozen youths in the past few weeks, it is an effective punishment of the misdoings of reckless children.

"Spanking is my own way of dealing with willful disobedience," says Judge Meade.

Words do not mean a great deal to a little chap who has become the neighborhood bully. He gets the idea that he's tough, and he doesn't care. But in reality he isn't, it's all bluff.

"When he refuses to drop this attitude in court we warn him up a bit. Does he cry? Well, he doesn't burst out in laughter, you can bet on that."

"I usually use a copy of the Congressional Record as my paddle. Why not? Well, you see I get a copy of it and it always is so handy and really serves the purpose much better than anything else," Judge Meade continued.

"Most of the boys I've spanked so far, are those who were deserted by their fathers and have become unruly. You can't blame these kids, they need a father's care and I think a good old fashioned spanking, pool-pooled by many parents today is a favor to the child."

"We have a difficult problem where girls are concerned. Of course I have had many letters of late suggesting that the girls be given the same punishment as the boys but that would be going a little bit too far don't you know."

"And you'll be surprised" the spanking Judge continued "these boys are paddled out of them they are likeable boys."

BETTER IN EVERY WAY

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ingomar, N. S.—"I took your medicine for a run-down condition and inward troubles. I had pains in my right side so bad at times that I could not walk any distance. I saw about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and have taken five bottles of it. I am better in every way and you can use my letter to help other women."—Mrs. ALVITA M. PERRY, Ingomar, N. S.

Nervous Breakdown Relieved

Toronto, Ontario.—"It is pretty hard to explain your feelings, nervous troubles. I felt low spirited, had pains in my head and eyes, always crying, and did not want to go anywhere, do anything and fancy work, and I would get irritable after a few minutes of work. I have been in Canada five years and have been this way ever since I came. I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sleep better and it seems to make me eat, and I must say I am feeling more jolly. I have great faith in your medicine because of what it has done for my husband's state and she recommended it to me."—Mrs. A. SMITH, 10 Baring Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

All druggists sell this dependable medicine, and women suffering from these troubles so common to their sex should give it a trial now.

A THOUGHTFUL REMARK

In his report to the Chief Superintendent of Education for the year ended June 30th, last, School Inspector P. G. McFarlane makes a brief but significant remark in reference to one phase of school training. He says: "It used to be a custom, and a good custom it was, to vary the Friday afternoon programme with readings and recitations, for what little practice in public speaking the boys at school receive is all the majority of them will ever receive."

This is a thoughtful remark by a thoughtful student and teacher. For obvious reasons Inspector McFarlane did not go into details on this subject; he had many other matters to deal with in the limited space of his report. But even this brief comment should not pass unnoticed.

With our present educational system up to the fine standard that has been attained there are still one or two subjects which are not accorded the prominence they deserve on the teaching programme. One of these is training—preliminary training in public speaking. As a result the majority of our children finish school with little training in speaking before an audience. Girl pupils suffer least as a result of this. At least two reasons can be found to support this view. In the first place girl students take more readily to memorizing and recitations and even after leaving school many girls can be found in Church, Sunday School and other similar work where speaking publicly is an important part of their duties. In this way they have followed up their preliminary training. The other reason is that most girls marry and in the role of wife and mother ability as a public speaker is not an important requisite.

It is different with boys. If the boy pupil does not get a good grounding in public speaking in school and master in early life his natural bashfulness before an audience and the distinct enunciation of his words in public; the chances are he will never overcome this handicap. And in after years he will have frequent cause to regret it.

In the business world of today the man who cannot rise to the occasion and speak passably well, even if briefly, before at least a small audience is handicapped in both his business and social life. Few such occasions may present themselves in a lifetime, but possibly when they do much may depend upon the way in which these emergencies are met.

Coming nearer home, we might consider our own County of Restigouche and our small crop of public speakers. If this county had more men today who could stand upon the public platform and impress their hearers, through strong and forceful oratory, on any given issue of the day, Restigouche would soon gain her proper prominence as a leading municipality of this province.

There is positively no doubt about the potential value of preliminary training in public speaking in our public schools, and it is to be hoped that before long more attention will be given to this important subject.

FOREIGN LITERATURE

Speaking before the Canadian Club of Hamilton, Ontario, last week, Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton, N. B., made some timely and pithy remarks upon the sinister influence of foreign literature on the mental outlook of Canadians. He pointed out that 85 per cent of the reading of the people of this country consists of books and periodicals emanating from the United States. In commenting on that fact his lordship declared that he had no desire to belittle the American people or their literature, but he considered it impossible to build up a national character on foreign sentiment.

To that view no reasonable exception can be taken. There is not the slightest doubt that this constant flood of American literature does exert a very great influence on the mind and character of Canadian readers, and that much of that influence is entirely bad. The reputable magazines, with their authoritative articles on current affairs and their useful educational features, are welcomed; but even the best of them are more or less tinged with a national bias which is alien to Canadian ideas, while the majority carry advertising of a character deliberately calculated to seduce Canadian patronage from the home markets. When we come to consider the other type of periodicals—the salacious magazines—the so-called "human" stories, which set out in nauseating detail the intimate relationship of private and domestic life—the tendency is altogether deplorable. These are the publications which are seized upon by unthinking youth, and it is to be feared, unthinking maturity in many cases with the utmost avidity. The result is that our home life, the pride and glory of Canada, is being to some extent broken down, and the worst features of American society—which are those specially played worming their way across the border. It is a migration which should be effectually stopped by the utmost vigilance.

The publication with the big circulation leaves its impress upon thousands of readers week by week; this steady diet of alien thought and manners cannot fail to have its effect and that effect cannot fail to be bad.

U. S. AND THE LEAGUE

Lord Cecil rightly sets forth as the next step toward the removal of the menace of war a new international conference for the limitation of armaments supplementary to the one called by President Harding at Washington. Concerning this step there is substantial unanimity of purpose between the United States and the great powers in the League. For if the conference contemplated in the League's protocol should be abandoned because of the failure of four powers to give their acquiescence prior to May 4th, President Coolidge will proceed with his invitation to the powers to the present themselves in a lifetime, but possibly when they do much may depend upon the way in which these emergencies are met.

On the other hand, if the conference contemplated by the League should be held, there is no reason to question the participation of the United States in it, subject to reasonable limitations.

Marching along parallel lines to the same goal—the maintenance of peace between the United States and the League may accomplish much without actually meeting at a common point. But every year of progress and useful achievement by the Geneva organization will tend to break down American prejudice and make co-operative easier and more complete. C. S. Monito

CHAFFED THE BEST MAN—UNTIL THE CEREMONY

When his honor Judge Daniel O'Connell of the County Court of York, decided to take unto himself a wife, it was natural that he should select as best man his intimate and well-loved friend D. J. O. C. Cameron, Protestant and Orangeman though he was. It was equally natural that Mr. Cameron should, during the period intervening between his promise to assist and the marriage day, be the victim of much bantering from intimate friends, both Catholic and Protestant. And the prospective bridegroom was just as much a sinner in this respect as the rest of them. Some of his relatives as an Orangeman "Doc" would have for the time being to swallow if he were to well and truly perform his duties as best man during the marriage service, he was told. But Cameron, as is usual with men of the bar, winked the other eye and kept his own counsel.

On the day of the marriage everything in connection with the ceremony was conducted with due solemnity and strictly in accordance with the practice of the church. At least until the best man was officially asked his name. And then something very much out of the usual happened. "D. O. C. Cameron," came the reply and then, after a very brief pause, he added, "of McKinley L. O. L. No. 275." The officiating priest suppressed a smile.

The Methodist parsonage was scene of a happy event on Tuesday evening when the Senior Camp Hockey team and the Excelsior club gathered there and presented Rev. Mr. Godfrey with a beautiful leather club bag and an appropriate address as a token of their affection of his valuable services as a member of the team during the past year. Mr. A. A. Gillis, president of the team, presented the bag and the address, which was read by Mr. Godfrey. In thus conveying their thanks, Mr. Godfrey the Hockey Club expressed the sentiment of all fans of this sport here. The careful training of the local team year he doubtless contributed more than any other factor towards notable success which attend activities this winter.

HOCKEY CLUB MAKE PRESENTATION TO REV. MR. GODFREY
The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a happy event on Tuesday evening when the Senior Campbellton Hockey team and the Executive of the club gathered there and presented Rev. Mr. Godfrey with a beautiful leather club bag and an appropriate address as a token of their appreciation of his valuable services as coach of the team during the past season. Mr. A. A. Gillis, president of the club, read the address and Mr. Godfrey, evidently much impressed by their kind words, responded in a very fitting way. In thus conveying their thanks to Mr. Godfrey the Hockey Club have expressed the sentiment of all enthusiasts of this sport here. Through his careful training of the local team this year he doubtless contributed more than any other factor towards the notable success which attended their activities this winter.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

"THE HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME"

Many enquiries will be set at rest by the announcement from the Opera House Management that Victor Hugo's masterpiece "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" is booked for a four day show commencing Monday, April 20th.

This unforgettable picture is certainly the last word in screen entertainment—all those things which you love best in a screen drama you will find here—but on a scale of magnitude never before approached or even attempted.

Set amid scenes of lavish splendor this glided romance of another day will strike straight to your heart and beside the charming romance there are settings of unparalleled magnificence and superb portrayals by an all-star cast.

The picture is booked here for a straight run of four days, the longest ever accorded a picture in Campbellton but judging from its record elsewhere the time will be all too short to accommodate all who wish to have an opportunity of seeing it.

TOWN LEGISLATION
The several Bills, which are being promoted by the Town Council will be discussed in committee of the Local Legislative probably next Thursday, April 16th. It is important that these Bills have a favorable hearing before the committee. The Graphic understands that certain citizens are to appear in opposition and suggests that a strong delegation of citizens in favor accompany town solicitor H. A. Carr to Frederickton next week, to give him moral support in favor of this legislation.

FOUND ALL THE PIECES
Some time ago Mr. Fred Aresenal of Belmorah bought some hay from Mr. S. S. Harrison and upon opening up a bundle he discovered the steel part of a hay fork. About a year after he purchased hay from another party, and upon opening up a bundle he found a part of the fork handle, and upon examining the former part found that they fitted exactly. The other bundle was opened, and this was a peculiar circumstance especially as over a year had elapsed between the first and second purchase.

QUEBEC ROADS
Among the road work which will be carried on by the Quebec government this season we notice the following:
Leris-Rimouski—The parish of Berthier has decided to complete its share of the road.
Rimouski-St. Anne des Monts—In the parishes of Rimouski, Father Point and St. Luc the work started last year will be completed and the road carried as far as Matane.
Rimouski-Matapedia—Work will be continued in the parishes of Mont Joli, St. Ange de la Mer, St. Moles, Lac St. Saumon, and from St. Florence to Matapedia.

METHODIST Y. P. S.
About 35 members of the Y. P. S. of the Methodist Church had a pleasant time in the Church Hall on Monday evening. The special feature was an address by Mr. Comely, Representative of the Franklin County Convention of the Y. P. S. of Montreal. His subject was "The Wreck of Wembley." He gave a presentation of Wembley touching on the outstanding features. The address throughout was very interesting. Mr. Comely has a strong sense of humor which made the discourse entertaining as well as instructive. There wasn't a dull moment with the clearest attention. We were glad to be informed the Canadian Exhibit was one of the best. A vote of thanks was tendered, Mr. Comely for his excellent address.
The remainder of the evening was spent in an old-fashioned sing-song with Mrs. W. H. Sharpe presiding at the piano. The men who were hosts at this affair, served refreshments which was a fitting close to an enjoyable time.

OBITUARY

Miss Elizabeth Parker died last Thursday night at her home in Newcastle, after an illness of ten days duration. She is survived by one sister, Ella, also of Newcastle, and a brother, Hedy of the New York Herald.

Berthe Bugold
The death occurred on March 22nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Bugold, Atholville, N. B., of their daughter, Berthe, aged 10 years. The deceased was a bright and lovable child and had many friends who will learn of her death with sincere regret.

"CAPTAIN BLOOD"
A POPULAR NOVEL
"Captain Blood" is the most popular of Rafael Sabatini's novels. Dr. Frank Crane, the noted writer, in reviewing the book said: "I do not hesitate to say that this is the best story I have read since 'The Count of Monte Cristo'." It is a story of historic merit and deals with the romantic life of an Irish medico, who becomes a pirate after being sold as a slave in the Barbadoes.
Sabatini has written some of the day's best sellers, many of which have been made into great photodramas. Among his most recent works are: "Scaramouche," "The Sea Hawk," "Mistress Wilding," and "Bradley's The Magnificent."
"Captain Blood" in picture form is a production well worthy of the reputation of the book. See it at the Opera House next Monday and Tuesday, April 13-14.

FIRE AT NEW CARLISLE
The home of Ben Robinson at New Carlisle Que. was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning when a blaze broke out in an upstairs room about 7:45. Fortunately all members of the family were up and about, otherwise it is thought they might have experienced difficulty in escaping safely, so quickly did the flames spread.
Some of the furniture, including a piano and other furnishings, were salvaged from the burning building but the greater part of their household effects could not be saved. The blaze started in a bed room, otherwise quiet and cozy, and evidently originated from an overheated stove pipe. The loss will be heavy as no insurance was carried on the contents of the building.

Croup at Night No Longer Feared by Canadian Mothers

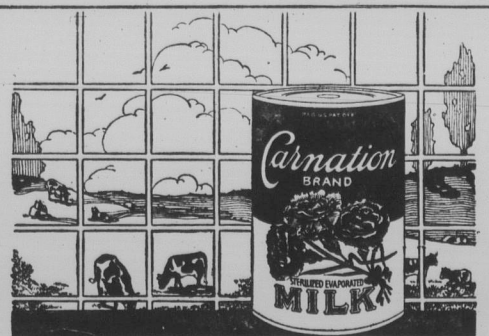

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Relieves Congested Air Passages.

Many Canadian mothers, who in the past have worried over croup and children's colds, are delighted with the "remedy" for croup, Vicks VapoRub. You just rub Vicks over throat and chest for croup, children's colds, bronchitis or deep chest colds. When so applied the body heat releases the ingredients as vapors, which are inhaled directly into the affected air passages, loosening the phlegm and reducing the inflammation.

VICKS VAPORUB
OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

There is no danger in using Vicks. Nothing to upset the delicate stomachs of small children. You just "rub it on."

A Milkman Who Takes Water Out!

One of the favorite themes of the jokesmith is the milkman who waters his milk. Though the joke has little basis in fact, yet you have heard it many times. But have you ever thought of the milkman who does exactly the opposite—the milkman who takes water out? That's what the Carnation milkman does—and here's why he does it: Millions of people, all over the world, use Carnation Milk regularly; it comes to them from some of the finest dairying sections of Canada. It seems foolish to pay transportation on all the natural water in this milk, so most of the water is removed. Such removal serves to concentrate and enhance the food value of the milk, making it richer and smoother. It also explains the satisfaction with which so many people use Carnation Milk in place of costly cream, in coffee or on cereals and fruits.

Order with the groceries—several tall (16 oz.) cans or by the case of 48 cans. Send for copy of Mary Blake's Cook Book. Address: Carnation Milk Products Company, Limited, Agincourt, Ontario.

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD By RAFAEL SABATINI

"Baron, will be best," H. de Rivarol took up a paper. "Before going further, I have to observe that M. de Cussy has exceeded his instructions in admitting you to one-fifth of the prizes taken."

"That is a matter between yourself and M. de Cussy, my general." "Oh, no. It is a matter between myself and you."

"Your pardon, my general. The articles are signed. So far as we are concerned, the matter is closed." "But, non de Dieu! It is your concern, I suppose that we cannot award you more than one-tenth share."

"You are quite certain of that, M. le Baron; that you cannot?" "I am quite certain that I will not."

"In that case," said Blood, "it but remains for me to present my little account for our disbursement, and to fix the sum at which we should be compensated for our loss of time and derangement in coming hither. That settled, we can part friends, M. le Baron. No harm has been done."

"What the devil do you mean?" "Is it possible that I am obscure?"

"My French, perhaps, is not of the purest, but—"

"Oh, your French is fluent enough; too fluent at moments, if I may permit myself the observation. Now, look you here, M. le Filibuster, you have accepted service of the King of France, you and your men. The first obligation of an officer is obedience. You are not to conceive yourselves, as you appear to be doing, my allies in the enterprises I have in view, but my subordinates. In me you behold a commander to lead you, not a companion or an equal."

"Oh, be sure that I understand," Captain Blood laughed. He was recovering his normal self amazingly under the inspiring stimulus of conflict. The only thing that marred his enjoyment was the reflection that he had not shaved. "I forget nothing, I assure you, my general. I do not forget, for instance, as you appear to be doing that the articles we signed are the condition of our service; and the articles provide that we receive one-fifth share. Refuse us that, and you cancel our services with them."

From that moment we cease to have the honor to hold rank in the navies of the King of France."

Blood hunting audience with the admiral while he sat at dinner. The Old Wolf had retorted with his ready fist a mocking Frenchman's remarks and had been flung in jail. M. de Rivarol bade his visitor be admitted. There entered now into his presence a spruce and modish gentleman, dressed with care and somber richness in black and silver, his swarthy, clear-cut face scrupulously shaven, his long black hair in ringlets that fell to collar of fine point. In his right hand the gentleman carried a broad black bat with a scarlet ostrich plume, in his left hand an ebony cane. His stockings were of silk, a bunch of ribbons masked his garters and the black rosettes on his shoes were finely edged with gold.

"Your people have arrested the wrong man, M. de Rivarol," Captain Blood began. "Instead of the French officer, who used the grossest provocation, they have arrested Captain Wolvestone. It is a matter which I beg you to reverse without delay."

"What the devil do you mean?"

"Is it possible that I am obscure?"

"My French, perhaps, is not of the purest, but—" you are just a common pirate! M. le Baron, I have the honor to wish you good-day."

He stalked out, and his three captains, although they thought him mad, rolled after him in loyal silence. Nevertheless, it was to Cartagena that they sailed in the middle of March. Volunteers and negroes had brought to the forces directly under M. de Rivarol twelve hundred men. With these he thought he could keep the buccannier contingent in order and subjugate the town.

They made up an imposing fleet, led by M. de Rivarol's flagship, the Victorious, a mighty vessel of eighty guns. Each of the four other ships was at least as powerful as Blood's Arabella, which was of forty guns. Followed the lesser buccannier vessels, the Elizabeth, Lachesis, and Atropos, and a dozen frigates laden with stores, besides canoes and small craft in tow.

CHAPTER XXIV.
CARTAGENA

Having crossed the Caribbean in the teeth of contrary winds, it was not until the early days of April that the French fleet lay in sight of Cartagena and M. Rivarol summoned a council aboard his flagship to determine the method of assault.

"It is of importance, messieurs," he told them, "that we take the city by surprise, not only before it can put itself into a state of defense, but before it can remove its treasures inland. I propose to land a force sufficient to achieve this to the north of the city to-night after dark."

He was heard respectfully and approvingly by his officers, scornfully by Captain Blood. Blood was the only one amongst them who knew exactly what lay ahead. Two years ago he had himself considered a raid upon the place, and he had actually made a survey of it. The Baron's proposal was one to be expected from a commander whose knowledge of Cartagena was only such as might be derived from maps.

Geographically and strategically considered, it was a curious place. It stood almost four-square, screened east and north by hills, and it may be said to face south upon the inner of two harbors by which it is normally approached. The entrance to the outer harbor is open to the fleet.

"You behold there the scene of our coming action. It is spread before you like a map."

Blood pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbour and offered a plan of attack. He pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbour and offered a plan of attack. He pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbour and offered a plan of attack.

At noon on the morrow, shorn of defences and threatened with bombardment, Cartagena surrendered to the victors of M. de Rivarol. The keeping.

A lucky shot from the buccanniers had found the powder magazine. The harbor, which is in reality a lagoon some three miles across, lies through a neck known as the Boca Chica—or Little Mouth—and defended by a fort. A long strip of beach wooded land to westward acts here as a natural breakwater, and as the inner harbor is approached another strip of land thrusts across it right angles from the first, towards the mainland, on the east. Just short of this it ceases, leaving a deep but very narrow channel, a veritable gateway, into the secure and sheltered inner harbor. Another fort defends this second passage. East and north of Cartagena lies the mainland, which may be left out of account. But to the west and northwest this city so well guarded on every other side, lies directly open to the sea. It stands back beyond a half-mile of beach, and besides this and the stout walls which fortify it, would appear to have no other defenses.

It remained for Captain Blood to explain the difficulties when M. de Rivarol informed him that the honor of opening the assault in the manner which he prescribed was to be accorded to the buccanniers.

Captain Blood smiled sardonically at the honor reserved for his men. It was precisely what he would have expected. For the buccanniers the dangers; for M. de Rivarol the honor, glory and profit of the enterprise.

"It is an honor which I must decline," said he quite coolly. Wolvestone granted approval and Hagthorpe and Yerville nodded. If it will not lead my men into fruitless danger."

He had suddenly read the Baron's mind. M. de Rivarol, intrigued by his mildness, scowled upon him disapprovingly.

"Why do you laugh, monsieur?" "Because I discover here an irony that is supremely droll. You, M. le Baron, General of the King's Armies by Land and Sea in America, propose an enterprise of purely buccannier character; whilst I, the buccannier, am urged one that is more concerned with upholding the honor of France. You perceive how droll it is."

"M. le Filibuster," cried Rivarol in a thick voice, "it seems that I must again remind you that I am your superior officer."

"My superior officer! You! Why, you are just a common pirate!"

He stalked out, and his three captains, although they thought him mad, rolled after him in loyal silence. Nevertheless, it was to Cartagena that they sailed in the middle of March. "Look you, M. le Capitaine, since you are afraid to undertake this thing I will myself undertake it," M. de Rivarol declared. "If I do so, I shall have proved you wrong, and I shall have a word to say to you tomorrow which you may not like. I am being very generous with you, sir. You have leave to go."

It was sheer obstinacy and empty pride that drove him and he received the lesson he deserved. Close upon fifty lives were lost in the adventure, together with half-a-dozen boats stored with ammunition and light guns. The Baron went back to his flagship an infuriated, but by no means a wiser man.

He was awakened at dawn by the rolling thunder of guns. Emerging upon the poop in nightcap and slippers, he beheld a night that increased his unreasonable and unreasoning fury. The four buccannier ships under canvas were half a mile off the Boca Chica and little more than half a mile from the remainder of the fleet, and from their flanks flame and smoke were belching each time they swung broadside to the great round fort that guarded that narrow entrance. The fort, although returning the fire vigorously and viciously, was suffering badly. Yet for all their maneuvering the buccanniers were not escaping punishment. The starboard gunwale of the Atropos had been hammered into splinters, and a shot had caught her stern in the coach. The Elizabeth was badly battered about the fore-castle, and the Arabella's maintop had been shot away, whilst towards the end of that engagement the Lachesis came reeling out of the fight with a shattered rudder, steering herself by sweeps. There was a terrific explosion; half the fort went up in fragments. A lucky shot from the buccanniers had found the powder magazine.

It may have been a couple of hours later when Captain Blood sprang and cool as if he had just come from a levee, stepped upon the quarter-deck of the Victorious, to confront M. de Rivarol, still in bedgown and nightcap.

"I have to report M. le Baron, that we are in possession of the fort on Boca Chica. The standard of France flies from what remains of its tower, and the way into the outer harbor is open to our fleet."

"You behold there the scene of our coming action. It is spread before you like a map."

Blood pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbour and offered a plan of attack. He pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbour and offered a plan of attack. He pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbour and offered a plan of attack.

NEW RAILWAY VENTURE PLANNED

Angus McLean, Bathurst, is Prime Mover in Proposition.

Fredericton, April 1st.—Definite steps which will lead to development of the rich hardwood areas on the Nepisiguit and Tobique rivers on a most extensive scale are being made. In the Provincial Legislature yesterday afternoon Premier Vautour presented a petition in favor of a bill to incorporate the 'Nepisiguit' Railway Company, which will give the incorporators charter rights to build a railway from near Bathurst across the province to Plaster Rock and open up the most extensive hardwood limits in New Brunswick.

The home merchant, who is he? He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money, makes exchanges if you are not satisfied with the goods you have bought.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake and lets you in with a warm welcome.

He is the chap whose clerks live in the home town and spend their money with you and other local people.

He is the chap who helps support our churches and charitable organizations and talks for the home town and boosts it every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tomb, as far as an "fret may travel with the dead."

FIRE WIPES OUT FAMOUS WAX WORK

"Madame Tussaud's" in London Destroyed by Mysterious Outbreak.

Madame Tussaud's wax works of London is a smoking ruin. Fire recently gutted the building containing the world famous wax models and the destruction was completed when the roof caved in on thousands of dollars worth of life-size effigies at which millions of persons have gazed.

Some of the models in the Chamber of Horrors, situated in the basement, may have escaped destruction. Most of them, however, are destroyed, along with the precious costumes which were replicas of forgotten originals.

Many of the destroyed models mirrored men and women long since dead, and whose likenesses in the act of delivering famous speeches, losing their heads or committing the foul crime that made them notorious, never can be replaced in true detail.

Among the ruins are a coach used by Napoleon Bonaparte and several relics of the great Emperor. These were among the few historically valuable relics in the museum.

Raiders, intentionally-known criminals, famous fighters, famous cowards—all were represented in Madame Tussaud's.

The fire was so intense that firemen were unable to enter the building to attack it. Snorting a great plume of black smoke which was illuminated by the flames so that it could be seen for 20 miles around, the historic museum was consumed under the eyes of 10,000 sorrowing Londoners.

The spectators saw disappearing before them an institution whose name and purpose is a by-word throughout the British Empire.

One of the best known figures was an alert looking London policeman who stood just at the top of the main staircase. The thousands of innocent persons who have enquired of that wax "bobby" the way to the Chamber of Horrors, will mourn his passing.

The fire was one of the most spectacular in London's recent history. The crowds could hear the wax models sizzling and sputtering and then observe their old favorites leap 50 or more feet above the roof of the building in the form of reddish gold flame.

During an hour and a half, the fire defied 30 fire engines and auxiliary pieces of apparatus. The origin of the blaze is unknown.

Don't you think you ought to trade with him and be his friend and his helper in time of need?

Don't you know that every dollar you send out of town for merchandise is sent to strangers—to men who never spend a dollar here? You don't save much, usually nothing, when you send your money out of town. And don't you know that the growth and prosperity of this town and community depend very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchant?

Out of town people judge our town by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants cannot afford to let home folks give them loyal support.

KEEP RATS HUNGRY

The number of rats in a place is always in direct proportion to the available food supply. If a farm, a house or a barn is overrun with rats, it is evidenced that some one is generous with rat food.

Well-fed rats multiply rapidly and always increase to the utmost limit of the available food. If the daily rat rations will support only twenty lean rats there will be no more, and no fewer, rats in that place.

When the number exceeds the food supply, their ill-nourished bodies fail to reproduce, and disease takes a heavy toll of them. That is true of all animals, including man. You cannot in any circumstances raise more fish in a pond than the food there will feed.

A farmer noticed that during the summer there were very few rats round the barns, and that even they had hard picking to live. The granary was rat-proof. The chickens got no more than they could eat. In a hurry. A few rats survived by foraging in the fields and garden. But soon after the big mows were stored with unthreshed wheat the rats began to come. It was early winter before a threshing was available, and by that time the barn was alive with rats—hundreds of rats, big rats and little rats, brown ones and grey ones.

You could hear them squealing and scrambling in the straw. They ran boldly round under foot. A few months later a well-fed rat was hard to find. The few that the farm trap had made little difference, but the threshers came and beat out the grain, the straw was sold and hauled away, the wheat was locked in the granary.

Beyond question rats will migrate. That farmer's rats had to move or starve; so one knows where, but most certainly to some place where they could get food.

The moral is that, if you keep rats hungry, you can keep them scarce. A hungry rat is easy to trap. A fat rat takes poisoned bread with gusto; so the best way to get rid of rats is not to have any.

Keep every bit of rat food securely covered.

A Negro woman of mammoth proportions and lanky complexion was in an automobile accident. She was transported to the hospital, where she soon regained consciousness. The doctor, seeking to comfort her a bit, said to her:

"You will undoubtedly be able to obtain a considerable amount of damages, Mrs. Johnson."

"Damages?" said Mrs. Johnson. "What Ah wants now damages—Ah got enough damages now. What Ah want is repairs."

Andrew Loggie returned last week from Montreal.

Miss Philomena McNeil left on Saturday's limited to spend her vacation in Moncton as the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. Harding.

The Rev. R. J. Coleman was in Flatlands for Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. T. Clifford and their daughter Marion spent the week-end in Campbellton.

Mrs. Matilda Jamieson is visiting friends at the Junction prior to opening her house for the season.

Dr. Fleck has rented the MacDonald house on Williams Street, but until necessary repairs are made to that building his office is maintained in the Canon residence on Adelaide Street.

The sudden death on Friday, March 27th, of Mrs. Valmont Martin, the wife of Dr. Martin, who was formerly an abolitionist, in the city of Quebec, and a son of Dr. H. J. Martin, Ex-M. P. P. for Bonaventure Co., P. Q. was a great shock to the family and to many relatives and friends.

Mrs. Martin who was forty-eight years of age was a fine type of womanhood and was deeply interested in all charitable endeavours. Doctor Martin has many relatives in Restigouche and Bonaventure who will sympathize with him and his family in their sorrow.

Every spring brings changes and the Shiretown is no exception. One of the changes in Dalhousie is the P. Q. Lumber Co's office, which for many years was located at the corner of William and Brunswick Sts., is now in the store known as the McDonald block nearly opposite the Postoffice.

The place has been nicely fitted for the increasing office work of this progressive company. Those who are employed in the office apart from Mr. George C. Scott, the Manager, are Mr. J. Brenton McKay, Miss Margaret Meahan, Miss Mattie Cook and Miss Myrtle Thompson.

With the arrival of Mr. J. Shackley, on March 24th, from New Glasgow, N. S., followed by several expert bricklayers from Moncton, and a big crowd of town laborers, the work at the new Court House is making splendid progress.

Mr. Shackley who was born on the border of England and Scotland cast his lot many years ago in the Maritime Provinces. He is a most interesting man and is making many friends as he comes in contact with the people. He knows his work from A to Z. He is a guest at the Queen Hotel.

Word came to Dalhousie on Monday, from Hon. Charles Macell, M. P., that the Department of Trade & Commerce, Ottawa, would at an early date call for tenders for a Steam Ferry Service on the Restigouche River and upper part of the Bay of Chaleur.

Mr. Mac McDonald, accountant in the Sydney Lumber Co's office in Dalhousie, returned home on Monday's limited from a trip to his former home in Ontario.

Mr. Andrew Loggie has returned from a trip to Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Breau are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby girl at their home last week.

Councillor A. C. Murchie, Nashes Creek, was in the Shiretown on Monday a guest at the Queen Hotel.

A NEW DISEASE: FLAPPERALGIA
Boston, Mass., April 6.—The harsh spring winds which frolic about the necks of short-haired persons have caused Dr. Andrew E. Christian, prominent Back Bay physician, to issue a warning concerning a new female ail, which he names "flapperalgia." Wear scarfs of something around your neck if you don't want your head to feel twice as big as a balloon size, he advises. Chilling of the nerve cells on the nape of the neck through lack of protection may cause the ail, a warning concerning a new female ail, which he names "flapperalgia." Wear
