Stirring Scenes in the British Metropolis-War News Sends Up the Price of Wheat.

Today's Developments.

NATAL INVADED.

London, Oct. 12 .- Official confirmation of the announcement that the Orange Free State burghers have entered Natal way of Van Reenen's Pass is at hand. It leaves no further room for doubt that acts of war have already been committed, and that the campaign has begun. News of an invasion on the northern border is also generally accepted as reliable. It seems improbable, therefore, that a clash between the forces of Briton and Boer can long be delayed, if, indeed, it has not occurred already. A special dispatch from Ladysmith, Natal, says that the Boers occupied Laing's Nek the moment the ultimatum expired, and are new pouring into Natal. Ingogo Heights have been occupied.

tablished over messages to and from Natal. Telegrams in code will not be ment I am speaking, war may actually accepted without the production of the have begun, that war is not of our accepted without the production of the code for verification.

FIGHTING

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Ladysmith, dated Wednesday, alone among the specials received, declares that war has begun by the Boers. The dispatch says: "Free State burghers have secured a train at Ladysmith, which was the property of the Government. Last night a mounted patrol was stoned by Boers. The men's orders were not to fire unless they were fired upon.'

It is rumored that Mr. Conyngham Greene, the British diplomatic agent at Pretoria, has been assassinated there. The report receives little credenc.

THE BOERS' PLANS. This morning's dispatches furnish ample details of the situation on the frontier, and enable a clearer exposition of the military status. It now seems that the Boers intend to act in two columns, those from the Transvaal working from the north, and those of the Orange Free State working from the west, with the object of keeping the British forces at Ladysmith and Dundee occupied, while parties of Boers slip past to destroy the bridges along the railway forming the line of communication between the British base at Durban, Natal, the advanced base at Pietermaritzburg, and the front. It is regarded as possible that the Boers will attempt to occupy Est-men of the naval brigade, and the news that the Boers are raiding Zululand in the neighborhood of Eshowe is taken as a confirmation of this possibility. An easy road connects Eshowe and Estcourt through Greytown and Pampoennek; and from Greytown it is also an easy reach to Howick, to the south. If the bridges along the Umgeni River were destroyed, this would enormously increase the difficulty of reinforcing the British. However, it is still suspected that the entire Boer concentra-tion on the frontiers of Natal may be merely an elaborate feint to draw off attention from Mafeking, which many experts regard as the real objective of the Boers. A successful dash there would give the Boers great prestige with the disaffected Afrikanders in Cape Colony. A dispatch from Mafeking under today's date says that Col. Baden-Powell has just sent a strong British force from Mafeking toward the border, with field guns and ambulances, presumably with a view of occupying advantageous defensive high ground.

Statesmen's Views. ROSEBERY SPEAKS.

London, Oct. 12.—Lord Rosebery, the former premier and Liberal leader, in a letter under yesterday's date, says: "I have maintained silence because I am loath to re-enter politics. Today, how-ever, I can speak without touching politics, for a situation has been created which is beyond party polemics. I think there is much in the last three years of our relations with the government of the Transvaal to criticise, if not to condemn; but that is all over for the present. It is needless to discuss how we could best have attained our simple and reasonable object of rescuing our fellow-countrymen in the Transvaal from INTOLERABLE CONDITIONS of subjection and injustice, and of securing equal rights for the white races in South Africa; for an ultimatum has to a more convenient season. There is one more word to be said. Without attempting to judge the policy which concluded a peace after the reverse at Majuba Hill, I am bound to state my profound conviction that there is no conceivable government in this country which could repeat it." A curious is in circulation regarding Lord Rosebery's silence, unbroken until to-day. It is said that the real object of Soap at 25c per bar. his silence was to lead President Kru-ger to believe that Lord Rosebery and his followers might come to the assistance of the Transvaal, thus stif-fening President Kruger's back to re-sist British demands. According to this explanation, Lord Rosebery's fear had been that President Kruger would yield, which, from his lordship's point of view, would have been fatal, as he is fully convinced that the only road to permanent peace is the defeat of the Boers. WILL SEE IT THROUGH. Mr. Asquith, speaking at Dundee, credited the government with a sin-cere and honest desire to avoid war. It seemed incredible, he said, that the other side should strike the first blow in a conflict which could have but one The handling of the problem by the Boers was such as no civilized country could permit, and the issue raised by the Transvaal's ill-starred dispatch was one that Great Britain could not shirk, but was bound to be taken up. A vast majority of the British people, Mr. Assuith declared, contemplated the war with reluctance and with aversion, and saw in it little or no prospect either of advantage or of military glory. It was not with a light heart that they took up the challenge, but now that it was forced upon them, they would see it through.

DIPLOMACY PUT ASIDE. Mr. Balfour, addressing the Union-ists of Haddington, said: "The crisis in South Africa has now reached the stage where diplomacy is put aside, and appeal is made to arms. Peace that good will among men. which it is our first business to culti-vate in all of Great Britain's vast possessions, has been wantonly and gratuitously imperiled by the rash policy of the Boer government. (Cheers.) A great change has taken place in the past three months in the opinion of this country regarding our South African policy. There was not then the clear conviction which now exists, respecting the true merits of the case, which is now to be decided by the arbitrament of force; but the more the vanity. But it will not charge responpublic has known of what the government have done and what they aimed The Natal administration announces at, the more they have come to the that a military censorship has been es- view that the government, if they have erred at all, have erred on the of patience. Though at the moseeking, none of our desire; but is forced upon us by those who are not men fighting for the freedom of their country, but an oligarchy, who fear that the power of their government is at an end. (Cheers.)

EQUALITY FOR ALL.

"Now that the prospects of peace are finally destroyed, now that war, with all its consequences, all its loss of life. all its destruction of property, all its inevitable sufferings, is on us, we can say we never asked anything but justice, never desired anything but freedom. All we longed for is the equal-ity under the Transvaal Republic towards men of our race and speech which we freely give to men of the Dutch race and speech in the neigh-boring colonies. And if they think it worth while to imperil their future in order to refuse rights, at all events the blame rests on them and not on us, and we can feel that whatever we may have to endure before the war is brought to a successful issue, the sacrifices we shall be called upon to make are sacrifices in the interest of the rights of men and of civilization." (Prolonged cheers.)

THE BOER SIDE.

Before leaving for the continent, Montague White, the Boer representative, said to a reporter: "The expected has happened. I only hope the hellishness of this premeditated crushing out of a hardy republic court, where there are only a hundred is now apparent. Let me remind America that the onus of war lies not upon those who fire the first shot, but upon those who compel it to be fired "Technically, we have temporarily put ourselves in the attitude of an aggressor; but who would not have done so when he believed the existence of his country was at stake? I think we must look far ahead to see the consequences of this war. Instead of the pacification of South Africa, which is the alleged aim of England, we shall have perpetual unrest. These very people for whom England is now fighting will turn against her in time to come and protest against her rule as bitterly as they are now protesting against ours.

'For weeks I had seen England's determination to force a hostile issue, or rather, Chamberlain's. I am sure he is the only member of the cabinet whose mind was thoroughly made up through all the negotiations. What his intentions were is evident from the situation today. Had the franchise been the chief grievance, our five-year proposition would certainly have been accepted. I have reason to believe that England enters upon her warlike course by no means a unit. Opposi-tion to Mr. Chamberlain's policy exists to a greater extent than is generally conceded.

'I have received no special instructions or news from the Transvaal during the last 48 hours, and I' expect none, having long ago received directions as to the course for me to take when matters reached this stage. I shall remain on the continent, and if anything further can be done in the interest of my government, I shall, of course, endeavor to do it, though there seems to be nothing left but to fight it out to the bitter, unjust end."

MR. STEAD TALKS.

Wm. T. Stead, editor of the Review of Reviews, in the course of an interview says: "I maintain that this war has been forced upon the Boers by men who have never forgiven Majuba Hill. In my opinion, owing to Great Britain's unpreparedness, hostilities during the next two months will re-semble the international yacht race off been addressed to Great Britain by Sandy Hook. As there cannot be any the South African Republic, which is serious fighting during that period, itself a declaration of war. In the face of this attack upon the nation, races without wind. Referring editorially to the Transvaal's ultimatum, the New York Tribune says: "A hackneyed proverb springs to mind at reading the amazing document sent from Pretoria to London-'Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad.' We would not say that de-struction of the Transvaal is the divine will, but assuredly there could be no greater act of madness than the dispatch of such a defiance and virtual declaration of war. The ultimatum-assuming the cabled reports of it to be correct, comes as all the more unwelcome shock to the peaceful and moral sensibilities of the world, because it has within the last few days been growing more and more evident that an amicable settlement of all matters in dispute between Great Britain and the Transvaal was easily in reach. The utterances of such men as Mr. Morley, on the one side, in Eng-land, and the Duke of Devonshire, on the other, indicates the presence and prevailing force of a spirit of justice and conciliation worthy of triumph. Nor have evidences of good-will in South Africa been lacking.

BRITAIN HAS WROUGHT JUSTICE. "This morning the creaking of the gates of the Temple of Janus may be heard. The world will look upon the catastrophe of war in South Africa with inexpressible regret, and will regard it as a needless and wanton wrong and sibility therefor against the great power which has wrought justice to Boer and Briton alike in its own domain, and has demanded nothing than justice for Briton and Boer elike in the domain of its dependent." BRITAIN'S REPLY Right Hon. St. John Broderick, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, announced in a speech at Guildford that the government had made the only possible reply to the Transvaal, namely, that "we are not prepared to discuss such terms."

PREPARATIONS. The government has chartered five more large steamers for the South African service. Great preparations are being made at Southampton for the departure on Saturday of Gen. Sir Redvers Buller, and a great demonstration is expected. The Duke of York, the Duke of Connaught, Lord Lansdowne, Sir Evelyn Wood and Commander-in-Chief Wolseley are expected to accompany him from London to Southampton. It is expected that the fleet of transports conveying Gen. Sir Redvers Buller's army corps will be escorted by war-ships, while further dispatch boats and gunboats will be sent to South African waters. The government already has expended £5.000,000 in naval and military preparations, and have orders placed with contractors this week alone amounting to £600,000. The authorities, anticipating a serious reduction in the output of the South African colleries, have ordered 5,000,000 tons of English steam coal to be sent to the Cape for the use of the war-

STIRRING SCENES.

There was a great scene on the floor of the stock exchange at 3:10 p.m. yesterday, the time of the expiration of the period fixed in the Boer ultimatum. The brokers gathered and began singing "God Save the Queen" "Rule, Britannia." The main hall was well filled. haps at no other fair has the display of cooking been excelled, the center table of the building being filled with tempting specimens of the culinary art in every conceivable style, and it required the constant attention of a sturdy guard perched upon the table, with a long pole, to keep the people from walking off with the eatables entirely. A poke was more eloquent than words.

The races were watched by a big part of the crowd, and some good sport was furnished. The results were as follows:

THE YACHTS

Are Not Likely to Race Today-Fog Prevails, and the Wind Is Very Light.

New York, Oct. 12.-The weather early today gave promise of another disappointment for the yachting world. A fog enveloped the upper bay and only the slightest of westerly airs was blowing. At 10 o'clock, at Sandy Hook, the fog horn was vocal, flags drooped and the wind crawled along about three miles an hour, with indications, however, that the breeze would freshen later on.

12:06 p.m.—The yacht race has been officially declared off.

BUTTE, MONTANA, TOBOGGANING

Portion of the City Sliding Down Hill The Court House on the Go.

Butte, Montana, Oct. 12 .- The startling fact has become evident that for several weeks a large portion of the City of Butte has been sliding down hill. The evidence of it is seen in a number of large buildings and residences, including the county court house and the residence of U. S. Senator W. A. Clark, which have been cracked and flissured. Geologists express the opinion, that the buildings damaged are located on a seam of rock or earth, along which a clevage is taking place.

A demonstration similar to that which took place on the floor of the stock exchange occurred at the Baitic, one of the principal produce exchanges, where the Union Jack was unfurled from the ceiling, the merchants singing "Rule, Britannia," and "God Save the Queen."

The audacity of the Transvaal's dispatch momentarily stunned the peo-ple, and it was only when under the glare of the music hall lights, and listening to the music han lights, and his-tening to the startling bars of the National Anthem and other patriotic airs that the effect of the momentary rebuff was lost in demonstrations that shook the rafters.

TOMMY ATKINS HAPPY. At the Alhambra, Gen. Sir Redvers Buller was present. The first bars of "Rule Britanuia" brought the entire audience to its feet, and for a quarter of an hour the house resounded with the choruses of national airs and with cheers. The Army and Navy Club, familiarly known as "the rag," has not for many days seen such a gathering of campaigners as was there last night. Nor was the slowly aroused enthusiasm confined to the officers. At Wellington Barracks, where a battalion of ground days which forms a bat ion of grenadiers, which forms a battalion of the First Navy Corps, has just returned from their sixteen months' sojourn at Gibraltar, the enthusiasm knew no bounds. Seldom does Tommy Atkins permit to himself the luxuries of enthusiasm, but the regiment had had a long spell of dreary duty, and hailed the call to active service with schoolbox delight.

NO PICNIC. Underneath all, however, officers, subalterns and citizens recognize the fact that the Transvaal campaign not be a picnic, and the sober reality of this gives a sterner note to London life than anything that has occurred since the days of Gordon and Khartoum.

PRO-BOER.

Continental opinion, so far as it can be ascertained from today's patches, remains largely anti-British. Popular sympathy with the Boers is being shown in various ways in Germany, where, however, officialdom maintains an absolutely correct attitude. French opinion is well known. The boulevard papers are especially virulent in their attacks upon Great Britain, since the ultimatum was announced, and they gleefully anticipate a long and difficult, war.

A dispatch from Pretoria says: While the situation is becoming hourly more critical, numerous Americans, Germans, Frenchmen, Swedes, Belgians, Norwegians, Danes, Italians, Dutch-men, Swiss and Cape Afrikanders have gone to the border to fight for the Transvaal, although they are not burghers, while many British residents have also taken the oath of allegiance. The hope is expressed by many that war may still be averted.

A dispatch from Newcastle, Natal, eays that at a meeting there in the interests of peace, a crowd of patriots raided the hall, stormed the platform and moved and passed a resolution to Support the government in the war. The police were called upon to restore order, and finally cleared the hall.

TURF AT MORRIS PARK.

New York, Oct. 11.-The first race at Morris Park yesterday, a steeplechase, at about two miles, furnished a sorry spectacle. Seven horses started, with Decameron the favorite; he finished alone. The Parrot-Mouthed refused the second jump and unseated his rider, and every other horse fell at some part of the journey. Foolhardy and Nestor were remounted by outside boys, and finished in the time limit, getting the place and third respectively. Ray-mond, who rode Foolhardy, and T.

Donohue, who rode Nestor, were both badly hurt. The former was carried insensible to the hospital with concussion of the brain, and the latter had shoulder dislocated. NEW TRICK TO CATCH BICYCLISTS A new way to bunco bicyclists out of half-dollars is being played. The vic-tim leaves his wheel to enter a store, and returning in a few minutes finds a lock fastened to the sprocket wheel and chain, presumably through the mistake of some careless wheelman.

Upon the advice of a bystander the cyclist takes his wheel to the shop of a mechanic near by, who is unable pick the lock, and so saws it in two, or appears to have done to when he reappears from his back room with a lock like the one on the wheel, in two pieces. The mechanic charges half a dollar, and as the victim does not care for the useless two pieces of the lock, they are kept in the shop for further use, while the lock that was really on the wheel is handed over by the accommodating bystander, to be employed in catching the next rider. - New York

HOMICIDE BY IMPRUDENCE. Paris, Oct. 12.-The government prosecuting officers have been ordered to bring a charge of "homicide by imprudence" against the organizers of last Sunday's bullfight at Enghien-les-Bains. During the exhibition re-ferred to the bull leaped over the barrier and created a panic among the spectators. Many women fainted and were trampled upon.

LILY'S LIPS SEALED. London, Oct. 12.—A sensation was caused by Mrs. Langtry's sudden de-cision to suppress the publication of her reminiscences, which were expected to be issued about Christmas. One publisher had offered her $160. 600 for the book and also $110,000 for the American rights. She had stated that she had the acquaintance of such eminent personages that she believed her reminis-cences would be most interesting. It is stated that her decision to suppress the book was due to the desire of the Prince of Wales.

This should suffice to hold the Boers in check until the arrival of the army corps of 40,000, when the campaign will be carried into the enemy's country. In the meantime it is evident that the Boers hope that if they can gain the advantage at the outset they will make a moral impression on the whole of South Africa, and perhaps incite their Dutch compatriots in Cape Colony to come to their assistance. This possibility of a Dutch uprising is one of the factors in determining the British to make such an overwhelming display

Are the Cutlanders Oppressed? ting one race above the other, and

"Are the Outlanders Really Oppressed?" asks the Dean of Winchester in an able and temperate letter to the London Spectator. The same question recurs to many conscientious readers, who have found it hard to sift the mass of testimony and form a satisfying opinion. The Spectator essays to give the answer. As a journal of great little by little." ability and authority, accustomed to weigh evidence impartially, and discuss everything from a peculiarly detached point of view, its conclusions, and the premises upon which they are based, are worthy of attention. According to the Speciator, what we have got to ask is, Is the treatment of the white immigrants in the Transvaal-Englishmen, Scotchmen, Irishmen, Australians, Canadians and Cape Colonists-of a kind which can fairly be called oppression? The Spectator believes that ing bad company. it is, and that it can be shown to be as bad, or worse, than what we all agree to regard as oppression-the treatment of the Italians by Austria during the fifties, and the treatment accorded by the British to the Dutch in Cape Colony 60 years ago. Our contemporary goes on to ask and answer a few pregnant questions thus: "1. Is it not oppression in a modern white community to keep the majority without their fair share in the government, and to tax them without giving them representation? The Dutch in Cape Colony in the thirties certainly thought it was so, and stated their belief in the strong and vigorous words lately quoted by St. Wm. Harcourt. But the Outlanders are deprived of the right of self-government, and are taxed, and heavily taxed, without representation.

"2. Is there not oppression when people are at the mercy of a police force, whose members are both stupid and brutal, who will kill a man at sight if he appears to be going to re-sist arrest (witness the Edgar case), who issue warrants on affidavits they know to be perjured, who use agents provocateurs (witness the case of Mr. Nicholia), and who try to break up public meetings by threatening to send in men to strip the women naked who were attending the meeting (wit-

Zola, the French author, is very much disturbed. Literary men are so easily disturbed. Oh mothers of France, he cries, give us more children! No use crying in hysterics to the mothers. The mothers are all right. It is the conditions that are all wrong. Get to work, dear boy, and change the social conditions. The average earnings of a man are not more than 80 cents a day. It is vain to talk of families of twelve on 80 cents a day. Vain to shake the empty cradle of France, until the larders are better filled.

PORK AND BEANS

Dished Up at Paris by a Railway Collision.

Paris, Oct. 12 .- An accident occurred on the diamond here yesterday morning, a Buffalo and Coderich train and a G. T. R. main line freight having a broadside collision. The engine of one of the trains struck the other "amidships," upsetting a carload of hogs and a car of beans. The beans were scattered, and a number of the hogs were killed. The bal-ance of their hogships set up a squeal-ing that aroused all Paris. The colliding locomotive was seriously damaged.

No one was badly hurt, fortunately. The lines were blocked for some time, owing to a number of cars being derailed. The engines kept the tracks.

London Boys Ready to Fight the Boers.

Expected That Only 125 Men Will Be Taken From London.

Government's Plans Will Be Made Known Tomorrow-Six Officers and Sixty Men of the First Hussars Have Volunteered.

The one topic among military men and others in London is the possibility of a call to go to the Transvaal. There is every reason, it is said, for believing that a Canadian contingent will be sent. If so, it is practically assured that London will be represented by a unit of 125 men, cavalry and infantry. The government's plans will be definitely known tomorrow.

THE FIRST HUSSARS.

Col. Gartshore, of the First Hussars, stated this morning he had been unofficially assured that the First Hussars would be represented if the militia department is called upon to send a contingent of cavalry to the Transvaal. The officers and men of the First Hussars, of which there are two squadrons in London, are eager to go. Already 6 officers and 60 men have volunteered their services. This number includes an offer which Col. Gartshore received this morning from D Squadron, with headquarters at Kingsville to supply 2 officers and 20 men. It is not thought that more than 1 officer and 10 men will be accepted, though it is possible that twice that number will be included. It is also surmised that only unmarried men will be allowed to join the contingent.

THE SEVENTH FUSILIERS. The members of the Seventh Fusiliers deal, and a number of applications have probable that the question will be put to the men after Monday night's drill. There can be no doubt that the Seventh will be well represented if volunteers are asked for. Many of the men are eager to volunteer, and it is understood that some of the officers have already applied. Among the latter, Capt. Smith and Sergt. S.ppi and Sergt. Macbeth are mentioned.

Col. Smith, of the Seventh Fusiliers, is still confined to his house with typhoid fever, but is improving as rapidly as can be expected.

THE TWENTY-SIXTH BATTALION. An enthusiastic officer of the Twenty sixth was seen. "We would gladly furnish the entire force of 1,000 men," he said, "but, of course, that is not possible, and we are waiting to hear what our share will be." The Twentysixth is the Middlesex battalion under Col. McEwen, of Byron, and the feeiing among the men and officers in favor of a large representation is equally strong.

AT WOLSELEY BARRACKS At Wolseley Barracks, Col. Holmes, D.O.C., stated today that no official notice had yet been received. The impression is that the Royal Canadian Regiment of Infantry, No. 1 company of which is quartered at Wolseley Barracks, will form the nucleus for the proposed Canadian contingent. It is reported that the commanding officer will be Col.
Otter, and that Lieut. - Col. Buchan will be chief of staff. In the event of that, Maj.-Gen. Hutton may get command of the colonial forces at the front. Lieut. Richard Bowden, of the Twenty-first (Essex) Fusiliers, has made apolication to Col. Holmes to be sent to South Africa in the event of war. His application was forwarded to the militia department at Ottawa, and he expects to receive an answer in time for the departure of the troops from Canada on Oct. 31.

BLACKSMITH'S STATEMENT:

Mr. M. B. Connick, of Middleton, P. E. Makes a Strong Assertion.

Middleton, P.E.I., Oct. 9 .- The strongest point in favor of Dodd's Kidney Pills is that they will cure Bright's Disease; and the next strongest is that there is no other medicine that will. Mr. M. B. Connick, a blacksmith on Prince Edward Island for this last quarter of a century, found this out. He had tried every medicine but the right one, and then, learning that Dodd's Kidney Pills were the only cure for Bright's Disease, he tried them. Ten boxes cured him.
"I would not be alive and strong today," he wrote recently, "if it were not for Dodd's Kidney Pills. All the country knows my case, and there have been hundreds to ask me about it. I tell them the whole thing just as it happened, and give the sole cred my cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Hon. David Mills will address meeting of Liberals in Winnipeg on Saturday night. Hon. Messrs. Sifton and Paterson are expected to address series of meetings in Manitoba and the Northwest

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

In Progress at the Dundas Center Methodist Church Practical Address.

The London District Methodist Sunday School Convention opened in the Dundas Center Sunday school at 10 o'clock this morning. Rev. J. B. Saunders, D.D., presided and delivered an address of welcome. Mr. D. A. Mc-Dermid gave a practical talk about "The Business End of a Sunday School." The Dundas Center school, of which Mr. McDermid is superintendent, is one of the most successful in the province, and his words carried weight. There was more vitality in a Sunday school than in any other organization, religious or secular, he said. If some other organizations were run like some Sunday schools are, they would not exist three weeks. children were long-suffering. The chief difficulty was to hold the boys and girls. To do that the school should Failure. be brought up to the dignity of young men and young women. "Plan your work, and work your plan," he said, "and keep eternally at it. Make the services interesting, and cultivate loyalty to the school."

Five-minute papers were read by Mr. Edwin Wilkins on "Where Are the Graduates?" by Rev. W. H. Cooper, of St. Johns, on "Sunday School Music"; by Mr. Ezra Hunt, of Westminster, on "Sunday School Papers," and by Rev. John Mahan, of Dorchester, on "Evangelism in the School." The convengelism in the School." tion will close with this evening's

SAMUEL LEES IN TOWN

Addresses Meeting of the Striking

Street Railway Employes.

Last night another enthusiastic meetinging of the striking street railway employes was held at 11 o'clock in Labor Hall. Owing to stress of business, President Mahon was unable to be present, but he was ably represented by Samuel Lees, of the general executive board, who had arrived in the city during the afternoon. The joint committee of the Trades and Labor Counmost encouraging report on winter busses. Mr. Lees gave a stirring address that aroused the greatest enthusiasm. He stated that although the assessment of 50 cents per member on all members of the International Association had only been issued one week ago, he had come down with financial support. All over America the cial and Local Division No. 97 gave a ancial support. All over America the opinion new prevailed that it was impossible to discourage or defeat the men of London. In a sense the whole continent of labor was watching the struggle, and the men were entitled to more than admiration for the heroic more than admiration for the heroic fight they were waging in behalf of what they believed to be justice. He congratulated Division No. 97 on the action of the Trades and Labor Council in electing a strong committee to act in constant conjunction with the strike committee. The outlook, he strike committee. said, was never brighter or the men more united. This was not now a struggle of the street car men. The Trades Council were now at the head of the fight. London, he said, was largely a union town, and labor would never allow itself to be crushed by a foreign corporation. Joseph T. Marks made a vigorous address. The meeting adjourned at midnight.

BOURKE COCKRAN

Union Jack Draws Cheers-Extraordinary Scene in Carnegie Hall.

New York, Oct. 12.—A meeting was held last night in Carnegie Hall to voice an expression of sympathy for the South African Republic in its controversy with Great Britain. W.Bourke Cockran was the principal speaker. Before the meeting was over its promoters probably got the notion that more popular enterprises can be undertaken in New York just now than that which involves an expression of sympathy with an enemy of Great Britain, As a matter of fact, it was one of the most turbulent meetings ever held in Carnegie Hall.

Mr. Cockran made a savage attack on Chamberlain. Once when he was interrupted, he said:
"Ruffians in finance and ruffians in politics, ruffians with women and cowards with men, you are they who sing 'Rule, Britannia,' for hire, in the hope of drowning the voices of those who are crying for deliverance from a despote. UNION JACK UNFURLED. Then a man up in the west gallery drew from his pocket the Union Jack and waved it triumphantly over his head. The sight of the flag of England prevoked loud cheering, amid which plenty of hissing was heard. Cheers from the floor were answered by cheers from the gallery, and hisses from the boxes answered hisses from the floor. Meanwhile the man with the Union Jack continued to wave it, until a man who sat next to him forced him down into his seat, grabbed the flag, and tore the door. When about half the people had gone out a number of resolutions were read. One, asking "the government of the United States to use its good offices with the government of Great Britain and the government of the South African Republic in the interests of peace," was put and declared carried, although the cries of drowned out the voices of those voting in the affirmative. Other resolutions met the same reception.

THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—a pulmonic, of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial results. A Montreal legal firm has been instructed by the members of the "Sign of the Cross" Theatrical Company to institute proceedings against the owners of the ill-faied steamship Scots-man to recover the value of their luggage and effects lost in the wreck.

News of the Seizure of a Transvaal Train Confirmed-Departure of the British Agent From Pretoria.

London, Oct. 12. - Dispatches from Durban, Natal, confirm the report that the Orange Free State authorities seized the Natal train that was leaving Ladysmith yesterday morning for Harrismith. They also stopped a train due to leave Harrismith in the afternoon. All the rolling stock has been ordered down the country, out of reach of seizure. It is understood that telegraphic communication with the Transvaal ceased punctually at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Transvaal time. Appendant to his dispatch to America President Kruger has cabled the Transvaal European agent as follows, from Pretoria, under date of Oct. 11:

KRUGER TO FRIENDS IN ENG-LAND.

"Please convey the heartfelt thanks of the government of the South African Republic to their friends in England for the courageous way in which they have defended the cause of right. Whatever the ourcome may be, the two republics will always gratefully bear in mind the assistance and support shown them in these critical days."

Banqueted by the Local Bar-Growth and Tendency of the Parliamentary System.

Calgary, Oct. 12.—The Calgary bar entertained the minister of justice, Hon. David Mills, to a banquet here last evening. In response to the toast of his health, the honorable gentleman made an eloquent speech, tracing the growth of our parliamentary system. He showed that the ten-dency of the system was for local This was to be seen not only in the powers granted by the imperial government to the colonial legislatures, not only in respect of the power to make laws, but also in the power to make laws, but also in the matter of framing treaties, instancing vogue in the United States. He also pointed to the steady influence in the formation of parties in the provincial governments. For example, the government in the Territories, where party lines have not yet been drawn, might some time be overturned by an irresponsible leader. This could not be where the opposition leader had the support of his party at his back. The minister concluded with a passing al-lusion to the international boundary dispute. In matters of this kind, he declared, the policy of Canada was not to claim everything in sight, but what was hers to hold. (Applause.)

Something Like A Restaurant.

"This is something like a restaurant," said a well-known business man the other day as he unfolded his napkin and took an approving survey of the spacious, cheerful dining-room, with its handsome, polished oak tables and chairs, and its rich, tasteful furnishings. The snowy linen, immaculately fresh, the shining array of silver and glass, the graceful palms that ornamented the tables, and the quiet, deft movements of the attentive, lowvoiced waiters seemed to fill him with surprise and pleasure. The friend to whom the remark was addressed was too deeply engrossed in the elaborate bill of fare to make reply. But after the soup and fish had rived. Talks About the Transvaal and the Sending of a Canadian Contin-gent to South Africa. [Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, Oct. 12.-The whole talk on Parliament Hill today is centered on the Transvaal and the sending of a Canadian contingent. There is very little doubt but the course pursued by the government will be to open a spe-cial service list to permit of volunteers being enrolled for serving for a specified time in her Majesty's imperial army. In special cases this action has been taken in Canada. For instance, when it was decided to send a military contingent to the Yukon, voluntee: 3 were asked for, notwithstanding that the contingent was not to go outside of the Dominion. However, these are matters which will be discussed today by the cabinet, and official sanction will in all probability be given to the sending of a contingent in one form or another within a very few hours.

The militia department has got the arrangements so advanced that 500 men could be dispatched on about a week's

Mr. Allan, of the Allan Line, was here all day yesterday to see what was being done in the way of arranging for transporting men to the Transvaal. He had also an interview with Sir Richard Cartwright in respect to the British mail contract. The Allans are now in a position to give the necessary boats for carrying the mails, and therefore the contract awarded to them and the Dominion Line some time ago will likely be signed very soon. The steamers Bavarian, Mongolian, Sicilian and Siberian have been chartered by the British Government.

The Strange Metamorphosis.

morning was raw and foggy.

This time, however, he was not alone. Mr. Blinkhorn was sitting at his little table in the corner, correcting exer-cises, with his callly hands cased in worsted mittens. He looked up as Paul came in and nodded kindly.

Paul went straight to the fire, stood staring into it with lack-luster eye, too apathetic even to be hopeless, for the work of enlightening the doctor seemed more terrible and impossible than ever, and he began to see that if the only way of escape lay there, he had better make up his mind with what philosophy he could to adapt himself to his altered circumstances, and stay on for the rest of the term.

But the prospect was so doleful and so blank that he drew a heavy sigh as he thought of it. Mr. Blinkhorn heard it, and rose awkwardly from the rickety little writing table, knocking over a little pile of marble-covered copybooks as he did so.

Then he crossed over to Paul, and laid his hand gently on his shoulder. "Look here," he said, "why don't you confide in me? Do you think I'm blind to what has happened to you? I see the change in you-if others can not. Why not trust me?"

Mr. Bultitude looked up into his face, which had an honest interest and kind-liness in it, and his heart warmed, with a faint hope. If this young man had been shrewd enough to guess at his unhappy secret, might he not be willing to intercede with the doctor for him. He looked good-natured - he would trust him.

"Do you mean to say really," he asked, with more cordiality than he had used for a long time, "that you-seethe-a-the difference.

"I saw it almost directly," said Mr. Blinkhorn, with mild triumph.
"That's the most extraordinary thing," said Paul, "and yet it ought to be evident enough, to be sure. But no, you can't have guessed the real state of things."

"Listen, and stop me if I am wrong. Within the last few days a great change has been at work within you. You are not the idle, thoughtless, mischievous boy who left here for his holidays—"
"No," said Paul, "I'll swear I'm not."

"There is no occasion for such strong expressions. But, at all events, you come back here an altogether different being. Am I right in saying so?" "Perfectly," said Paul, overjoyed at being so thoroughly understood, 'perfectly. You're a very intelligent young man, sir. Shake hands. Why, I shouldn't be surprised, after that, if you knew how it all happened." "That, too," said Mr. Blinkhorn, smiling, "I can guess. It arose, I doubt not, know

I should be the last to encourage a child against a parent, but, to comfort your self-re-proach, I think it right to assure you that, in my judgment, the outburst you refer to was very excusable."
"Oh," said Paul, "you do. You call that comfort? Excusable! Why, what the deure do you mean, sir? You're taking the other side now!"

"Weary? I tell you, I'm sick of it. If I had only known what was in store for me when I had made such a fool of myself!"

'This is horrible!" said Mr. Blinkhorn, "I ought not to listen to you."
"But you must," urged Paul; "I tell you I can't stand it any longer. I'm not fit for it at my age. You must see that yourself, and you must make Dr. Grimstone see it, too.

"Never," said Mr. Blinkhorn, firmly. "Nor do I see how that would help you. I will not let you go back in this deplorable way. You must nerve yourself to go on in the path you have chosen; you must force your schoolfellows to love and respect you in your new character. Come, take courage! After all, in spite of your altered life, there is no reason why you should not be a frank and happy-hearted boy, you

Entomologists Discuss the Pernicious San Jose Scale.

Can Be Checked by Use of Proper Soap Solution, but Not Wholly Exterminated.

Fruit Growers Must [Co-operate With the Government-The Districts Affected-Praise for Hon. Mr. Dryden -The Kissing Bug Only a Fancy.

The 36th annual meeting of the Entomological Society of Ontario was commenced in the sockety's rooms, in the Y. M. C. A. huilding yesterday of its work, and upon its high standing. afternoon. Among those present were: President H. H. Lyman, of Montreal; Vice-President Rev. Dr. Fyles, of Quebec; Secretary W. E. Saunders, city, and Professor Webster, Wooster, Ohio; Dr. Fletcher, Ottawa; Dr. Arthur Gibson, Ottawa; Professor James, deputy minister of agriculture; George E. Fisher, government inspector of the San Jose scale, and Professor William Lochead, of the Guelph Agricultural

After a few words expressing his gratification in having so many distinguished scientists present, the president called upon Rev. Dr. Fyles to take the chair.

Upon being asked to introduce the subject of the San Jose scale, Mr. Dearness, one of the government commissioners, said that this insect was first discovered in the San Jose Valley, from which it derived its name. It is surmised that it came first from Chili. This summer an unsuccessful attempt was made to discover when it was troduced into Canada, although this probably occurred some ten or twelve years ago. It was stated nineteen years since by Professor Comstock, an authority on this study, that it is one of the most pernicious of living insects. This was so for three reasons—their power of multiplication, the comparative activity and plumpness of the young, enabling them to scurry around and exist for a considerable time without food; the lack of fastidiousness in its food; the almost continuous run-ning of the larvae, offering facilities being carried and scattered by the wind. Those interested in the matter had hoped that the climate of Canada would be too severe for the insect to exist, but it had been shown that even prolonged zero weather would check, but would not destroy their propaga-Nor could hope be entertained that natural enemies would prey upon the scale, and on account of the for-mation of the scale's mouth it was almost impossible to kill it with poisons. They were forced, therefore, to depend upon mechanical means by which to surmount the difficulties. Spraying the trees with a solution of coal oil and potash soap had been found to work, and it had been proven that spraying infected trees with a mixture of whale oil and water had "A frank and happy-hearted fiddletick!" cried Paul, rudely the way and the pest was not understood. and those interested, doing what they thought best under the circumstances burned the trees infected. However, experiments had shown that by the

been told of some trees being inoculated with the scale which were not to say, as they had not been inoculated long enough. However, he could say that while the scale cannot penetrate a hard-wood tree, still it will thrive upon the tender follage of that thrive upon the tender follage of that tree, thus proving that weak, ill-nurtured trees would be most liable to attack. The next speaker, Prof. Webster. of Wooster, Ohio, one of the most pro-minent entemologists in the world, said that although he had a great deal of experience in regard to the scale, still there were to him a number of puzzles in connection with its study. He knew of one case where an application of kerosene killed the trees treated, and in another case the trees were not destroyed. In both cases the scale was

In Catawba Island, one of the richest peach growing districts in Ohio, the trees were badly infested. Upon this being brought to his notice he had them divided into three classes, the first being trees utterly worthless, which were burned, the second were trees which were not altogether lost, which were treated with kerosene, and the third, those that might be saved, and to those he applied the solution of whale oil soap and water. As the result of these operations the pest was gotten under control, and by the per-sistent use each year of the solution, which consists of two pounds of whaleoil soap to one gallon of water, he believes that the scale can be exterminated. The best time to apply the mixture is in the spring, just at the swelling of the buds. In reply to Prof. James, the deputy minister, he said that under no conditions would he allow this work to be left to the fruit grower, but he would put it in the charge of one man, who should be responsible for the proper application at the proper time.

Prof. Wm. Lochead, of the Guelph Agricultural College, said that in connection with the work of the scale commission he had seen an orchard showing every sign of having passed through a hard siege, but which was again thrifty as the result of the spraying process.

The conclusions arrived at by the San Jose scale commission were: First—That the scale cannot be exterminated from the Ontario orch-

Second-Any radical method aiming at extermination should be dropped. Third—The scale, from experience, is not quite so destructive in Ontario as it is in the orchards of Maryland. Fourth—The scale can be held in check by the application of proper soap solution, by the correct method and at the right time.

The scale inspector, Mr. Geo. E. Fisher, pointed out that the infection was almost entirely confined to the Niagara district, around St. Catherines and near Blenheim, in Kent county, and he was pleased to say that the prevailing winds carried the scale out to the lake. Notwithstanding the fact that the government inspectors had destroyed it in more than 90 nurseries throughout the province, still it had spread remidiv during the still it had spread rapidly during the Prof. James spoke of the desire entertained by his department, that valuable suggestions should be thrown out by the scientists present, so as to advise them as to the best methods to use in the eradication of the scale. The government has taken the matter up.

and is now determined on going to Dr. Fletcher, of Ottawa, said that it would be a thousand pities if the public did not back up the Ontarlo Government in this work. The time for dilly-dallying has passed, and if the fruit growers will not unifect one of the best industries in the country, then the public should stand by the government. the public should stand by the government in the wise measures which it has enforced. He said that it was desirable that Hon. John Dryden should long hold his position as minister of agriculture, because his every act in connection with this work of saving the fruit industry had been a wise one. He commended him heartly for every step he has taken, and hoped that public opinion would strengthen his hands for the work he has undertaken. The speaker did not know of a single mis-take made by the administration in this

At the evening session limelight talks were given by Dr. Fletcher and Prof. Lochead, and short addresses by Rev. Dr. Fyles, and Dr. Bethune. Prof. Webster read a paper dealing with "One Hundred Years of Entomology in America," and Mr. H. H. Lyman read his presidential address. He congratulated the society upon the continued success He believed that it would be of great benefit to the science if an entomolo gists' union were formed, and if each branch of the society would send to each other the more important papers before them. Referring to Dominion entomological work, he did not think it wise to have a first-class man and assistants, while they were handicapped by the lack of almost every requisite for the efficient prosecution of their work. He spoke of the work of the San Jose scale commission, mentioning the fact that it was only those who owned infested orchards who objected to the actions of the government. Towards the close of his address the president humorously referred to that "fancy of a newspaper man's brain," the kissing bug, and explained that it was simply the result of summer fancies, and not a living reality

The Equitable Mining and Developing Company of Ontario, Limited, was organized for the purposes set forth in its charter, being the powers granted under the Ontario mining companies incorporation act, a synopsis of such powers being as follows: "To open, develop, work, smelt and manage iron and other mines, to acquire by purchase or lease, other legal title, mines, mining lands or mineral properties, to construct, maintain on the property of the company, or property controlled by the company, buildings, stores, etc., and to do all such matters and things as shall be incidental or necessary to the due attainment of the object of the company.'

The company is at present operating its mine of high-grade hematite iron ore, situated in Frontenac County, Township of Storrington, and in the report of an investigation by Professor A. B. Willmott, M.A., B.Sc., of Mc-

Master University, of one deposit only, he speaks as follows: "I examined the iron location on Lots 18, 19 and 20 of the X Concession of

"The ore occurs as a somewhat horizontal bed of hematite in the Potsdam sandstone, which here forms the summit of a low ridge of crystalline limestone. The top of the hill is about 100 feet above the lake, which is part of the Rideau Canal. The ore bed dips slightly to the northeast, about in the direction of the ridge, which is N. 60 degrees E. The ore occurs near the summit of the cliff at the south of the opening, and reaches the water level some 800 feet northeast, on the boundary of the property. The iron deposit is thus in a most favorable position for easy and cheap mining and for "The extent of the deposit is, by its nature, determined by the length and breadth of the hill and the thickness of the bed. Two openings on the face of the cliff show the thickness of the bed to be, respectively, 8 feet and 12 feet. These openings are 135 feet apart, and there is every probability of the ore being continuous between them. The only exposure on the opposite side of the ridge is at the depression on the top, 30 feet southeast of the southern opening. The ore already in sight, with no development, is 135 feet long, 30 feet wide and averages 10 feet thick. 'As the hill averages 200 feet wide, and indications of ore are found 300 feet apart, there is a probability of finding at least 100,000 tons. "An analysis of an average sample from the southern opening, taken right across the bed, shows metallic iron, 50.8 per cent, equal to 72.5 per cent of hematite. A sample of the better looking ore yielded 65 per cent iron. By a little sorting the ore will grade 55 per cent.

"Toronto, Sept. 2, 1899. An analysis of ore from this property, yielding 51.32 per cent metallic iron, made by Mr. J. B. Cochrane, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, is ore warrants the company in entering upon these operations. As there is a sufficient quantity of ore, the mining of which will require many years, and as the demand for this particular ore is increasing, the comy anticipates, from the sale of its ore a large yearly income. By a contract made with the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company, under date of the 16th of August, 1899, the company receives, after deducting all expenses of mining and shipping, a net profit of $2 per ton. There is no industry in Canada today that offers greater returns than the mining of iron ore, when it can be produced at reasonable prices. The bounty given by the Government of $1 per ton on iron made from Ontario ore is to encourage the production of Ontario ore, and enables the smelter to pay for such ore more than can be given for foreign ore, and the report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines shows that in the great Province of Ontario last year only 27,409 tons of ore were mined, yet 48,253 tons of pig iron were produced. The percentage of American ore used was 72%, leaving 27% of Ontario

The bounty of $1 per ton on all iron produced from Ontario ore means that the company has free mining, and its property, situated as it is on the waters of the Rideau Canal, gives a low cost of transportation and enables the company to place its ore at the existing smelters more cheaply than any mine at present in Ontario.

Matrimonial

PRETTY WEDDING IN ST. PAUL'S. One of the most interesting weddings at which we have been present occurred yesterday in London, when Miss Edith McDonough, one of the most popular girls in this city, and daughter of Mr. Wm. McDonough, of Dufferin avenue, was married at 2:30 in the afternoon to Mr. A. B. Patterson, formerly accountant in the Merchants' Bank in this city and now manager in Leamington. The ceremony, which took place in our handsome old cathedral, was performed by Ven. Dean Innes, and was only witnessed by the family and most intimate friends of the bride, who were seated in the chancel, when the bride entered, lookwas called upon to perform a marriage ing extremely well in her dainty white gown, traditional veil and crown of orange blossoms. The pretty bridesto Grand Rapids, Mich., after visiting | maids, Miss Louie and Miss Amy Mc-Donough, sisters of the bride, were in lovely dresses if white silk muslin, lace-trimmed, with shirred yokes, large, black-plumed hats, tied with white; they carried large bouquets of yellow roses. Little Miss Denison, daughter of Major Denison, of Toronto, was the maid of honor, and wore a pure white gown and hat; the little one also carried a bunch of roses. No sweeter than her pretty little self, however. Mr. H. M. Patterson, of Hamilton, brother to the groom, was best man, while Mr. John Kilgour, Mr. Frank Reid and Mr. Jack Gilmour, three irreproachably dressed and handsome men, performed the arduous duties of ushers with great ability. After the impressive ceremony, dur-

MALLOTT-HANNON. At the Park Street Methodist Church. Chatham, yesterday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, the marriage of Rev. Frederick Edwin Mallott, B.A., pastor of the Methodist Church at Gullds, to Miss May Alice Hannon, only daughter of Dr. Hannon, pastor of the Park Street Methodist Church, was celebrated. Rev. Dr. Hannon performed the ceremony, in the presence of 60 invited guests from Toronto, Guelph, Stratford, London, Kincardine, Leamington, Blenheim and other places, and a large number of those who always take a great delight in witnessing the pretty ceremony, completely filling the large church, which was prettily decorated for the occasion.

The bride, who entered the church leaning on the arm of her brother, R. M. Hannon, looked charming in a gown of heavy corded white silk, en train, trimmed with lovers' knots of mousseline de soie and lace, with a long bridal veil of soft tulle, and carried shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns. The only ornament worn by the bride was a pearl crescent, the gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids were Miss Florence Harding, daughter of E. W. Harding, barrister, St. Marys, and Miss Edith Henry, daughter of Samuel Henry, Miss Harding was becomingly gowned in cream silk mohairine, trimmed with cream satin and chiffon, and carried pink roses. Miss Henry looked very pretty in white organdie, trimmed with white satin. Both bridemaids wore large picture hats, and carried pink roses. Mrs. (Dr.) Hannon, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black silk, trimmed with mauve satin and mousseline de soie.

The groom was supported by J. F. Atkinson, of London, and R. M. Hannon, of Victoria University, brother of The groom's presents to the birdes-maids were pretty opal rings.

After the ceremony a pleasant recep-tion was held at the parsonage, on Dufferin avenue, where a vast array of handsome present, including costly silver, cut glass, delicate china and a magnificent plano, the last a present from the bride's father, were viewed with interest by the guests. During the dainty wedding breakfast latory telegrams were received from friends of the popular young couple in many parts of the province.

Make This Note

In your memorandum book: "'Fit-Reform' is not made to order, but is made to fit."

After all it is only a question of fit. "If that suit would only fit me I should be in the biggest kind of luck," says an occasional passer-by, "but it won't," and on he goes. If he would only come in and try on a suit he would find that he was one of five shapes; "Regular," "slim," "short-stout," "tall-stout" or "stout," and that the suit was all of $5 cheaper than the tailor's.

It is costly to pass by some times. Suits-$10, $12, $15, $18, $20. Overcoats-$10, $12, $15, $18, $20, $25, Trousers, $3, $4, $5.

MAJOR-McCALLUM.

A quiet wedding took place at the Presbyterian Church manse a few days since, when Mr. Joseph Major, of the Grand Trunk Railway, and Miss Effle Jane McCallum, daughter of Mr. Neil McCallum, of North Dorchester, were united in matrimonial bonds. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Clark, after which the bridal party were driven to the residence of Mrs Major, 209 Clarence street, mother of the groom, where the wedding breakfast was served. The happy couple were the recipients of many handsome presents from their many friends, testifying to their popularity. The bride has been a resident of this city for several years, and has become a favorite among her many friends and companions, all of whom join in wishing the young couple a prosperous and happy future.
