THE IDLER CHANGES HANDS. London, June 23 .- The principal subject of comment in the London literary world during the past week has been the sale of the Idler, which was first under the joint editorship of Jerome K. Jermes and Robert Barr, and then under the sole editorship of Robert Barr. It is now under the sole control of Mr. Jerome. The shape and general character of the paper are to be somewhat changed.

LOTS OF LACE.

London, June 23.-According to the English society papers the Astors own $3,000,000 worth of lace; the Vanderbilts own $400,000 worth, while the Princess of Wales only possesses, according to the estimate of the papers, $250,000 worth. But the Pope seems to be even worse off than the Princess of Wales, for the society papers claim he only has $75,000 worth of lace.

TIRED OF HIM. London, June 23 .- The Afghan prince, who is visiting England, Nasrulla Khan, was present at Ascot on cup day, and he was sulky as usual. He wore a heavy fur coat, in spite of the fact that the mercury was at 80 degrees. The Ameer of Afghanistan has resolved to allow his hopeful son to stay in England until the end of August, and it is an open secret that this sudden re-solution of the Ameer greatly perturbs the royal family. But he will probably be shunted off to the continent.

CARDINAL GIBBONS' POWER. London, June 23.-The Standard's Rome correspondent, discussing the attentions which the Vatican has paid to Cardinal Gibbons, says:

"The secret history of all this is rather curious. Cardinal Gibbons is a power in America, and, with a few exceptions, holds all the Catholic forces there in his hand. The Pope instituted the apostolic delegation at Washington with a view of checking this independence. Cardinal Gibbons came to voice American bishops' disapproval of this step. Meantime the matter has been carefully studied here. The result is that Archbishop Satolli will be made a cardinal. This, together with the special attention shown to Cardinal Gibbons, must needs lead to convince him that the presentation of the bishops' memorial would be useless. These incidents have caused many people to think that the election of a foreign Pope is not impossible, and that the Pope himself favors the idea." THE DUKE'S SUCCESSOR.

London, June 23 .- Despite the profound secrecy attaching to the plans of the Government as to the detail of the formation of a new supreme military ccuncil it has transpired that the intention is to propose the Duke of Connaught as Commander-in-Chief, holding the position of chief adviser of the Secretary of State for War and the proposed council of officers. In this mat-ter the Queen Fas Carried her point in insisting upon the observance of the precedent that a prince of royal blood shall be in chief command of the British

Another royal appointment is pro-ficted which is certain to be received with vehement protests from not only the Radicals, but by a good many Liberals, and possibly some Conservatives. This proposal contemplates the nomination of Prince Henry of Battenburg, the ornamental husband of the Queen's favorite daughter, Beatrice, as viceroy by a tug and brought into the river.

THE KAISER FOR PEACE. Berlin, June 23.-Emperor William's speech at the Hamburg banquet was enthusiastically received here, and the stress laid by him on the peaceful signicance of the canal fetes caused general pleasure. So has the fact that a most amicable entente seemed to exist between the Emperor and all the German sovereigns. His Majesty's pacific utterances have also been very well received in Austria. A dispatch from Vienna states that Herr Dumba, re-porter of the budget committee, speaking to the Austrian delgation today referred to the speeches of the Emperor, assurances of peace by our august ally find a mighty echo in Austria, which is in perfect harmony with these words of peace. The creation of such a work of peace as the Baltic canal is a proof that both states and peoples nowadays are engaged in a widely dif- By the Government-What W:ll Ouimet 1. A "TRUE STORY." . don, June 23.-The true story of the "determination" of the Duke of Cambridge to resign his post of commander-in-chief of the British army announced in the House of Commons by the Secretary of War, Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, throws new light on the same subject. There has long been a strong agitation against the Duke, and the Government, it appears, acting on the principle of expediency, caused it to be known that it would materially assist the Government if the Duke of Cambridge would offer his resignation. Consequently the duke, not suspecting that his offer would be accepted, sent in his papers to the Queen, and the latter handed them to the Government. under the impression that they would accepted the papers as a definite resignation, and Mr. Campbell-Bannerman made the announcement to the House, which was the last thing expected or desired either by the Queen or the Duke of Cambridge.

MINISTER FOSTER AND THE

A. AND L. S. R. London, June 23.-The Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway Company has, it is announced, instructed its issue house to return to those persons who have subscribed for the bonds of the company the amounts they have paid on account of their subscriptions, the company declining to accept money subscribed under a misapprehension repecting the guarantee in regard to which doubt has arisen through the publication of the alleged statements by Canadian Finance Minister Foster. The Times says the attacks made upon the company are not deserved, while the Standard declares that the Dominion Government, not the company, is blameable for the existing condition of

Mr. Foster's explanation is a play upon words, and an attempt to show the difference between tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee, and asks why the Canadian Government suddenly realized the misleading effect of the commutation of its subsidies into a guarantee.

The Financial News and the Statist continue their attack upon the com-

The company's representatives here express absolute confidence that the Dominion Government will fulfill to the letter the engagements entered into with the company. They allege that Finance Minister Foster's statements were incorrectly quoted, and that when they are received in full they will amply justify the company's positions and the statements made in its prospectus.

CANDIDATE FOR CORK. London, June 24.-Mr. Roche, mayor of Cork, has been adopted as the Parnellite candidate in Cork City to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the bankruptcy of Mr. Wm. Mr. James E. X. O'Brien, M. P. for South Mayo, is the anti-Parnellite candidate.

THE IRISH AND THE G. O. M. London, June 24.-The Irish leaders are bringing strong influence to bear on Mr. Gladstone to make one pronouncement on the Irish question, either by a speech or a manifesto, which in their opinion would again make home rule the predominant question at the general election. Mr. Gladstone's assent has not so far been obtained, but the McCarthyites are hopeful that his unabated interest in the success of home rule may induce him to depart from his oft-repeated resolution never to interfere again in current politics.

DISASTER ON LAKE MICHIGAN. Disabled by an Explosion-Many Passengers Injured.

Chicago, June 24.—The whaleback steamer Christopher Columbus met with a serious accident to her machinery on her return trip from Milwaukee last night. She was making fast time until about 7 o'clock, when directly off Waukegan there was a terrible explosion, followed immediately by a flash of flame, and the boat was immediately enveloped in a cloud of steam. Many persons were injured.

Robert McConkey, a coal passer, of South Chicago, was badly scalded about the face and body, and will die. Following is a list of the others injured: James Lorimer, fireman, may die. John Hopp, fireman, may die.

- Steit, coal passer, may die. Miss Boxheimer, planist of the Bowman orchestra, severely burned on fac and hands. H. H. Darow, musician, face badly scalded. Geo. W. Keil, Buffalo, waterman, badly burned about the face and arms. Geo. W. Keough, meat carver, terribly scalded about face and arms.

Arnold Keine, Dubuque, Ia., scalded on hand, not seriously injured. Frank Rosner, Pullman, face, breast and arms badly burned. J. E. Ryan, fireman, terribly burned

N. Seter, waterman, terribly burned about head and face. Miss Jessie L. Stone, scalded on face.

not serious. The Christopher Columbus went into commission for the season yesterday morning. She left on a trip to Milwaukee with 500 passengers on board, and left there on time for the return trip to this city. Everything went all right until off Waukegan, when the accident took place. It is asserted by passengers that the Columbus was racing with the Virginia, of the Goodrich Line

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY. Sunrise Prayer Meetings to Be Held Above the Clouds

Chattanooga Tenn., June 24.-Preparations for the second international conference of the Epworth League to be held here this week are complete. The immense assembly tent has a seating capacity of 10,000 people in the auditorium, while 1,000 singers will occupy gallery seats. Distinguished Methodists from all over the United States and Canada are to be present. The feature of the four days' meeting will be the sunrise prayer meeting to be held every morning on Lookout Mountain above the clouds. Accommodations have been secured for 15,000

NO REMEDIAL LEGISLATION

(Special to the "Advertiser.") Ottawa, Ont., June 24.—An Englishspeaking Catholic member of the Cabinet states that a decision has been reached not to introduce any remedial legislation. This tallies with Mr. Foster's private assurance to the Opposition ten days ago. A member of Parliament told your correspondent today that if Mr. Ouimet insists on remedial legislation his resignation should be accepted and the Government dissolve and make it the issue at the polls.

CAUGHT NAPPING. London, June 23.-It has transpired that at the moment of last night's division there was, according to the Liberal whips, a majority of 16 for the Government. Subsequently the question was asked as to where the missing members were. Some of them had slip ped out of the House unseen. The whips were lounging and smoking on the terrace overlooking the Thames. Others had gone away, thinking everything was all right. As a matter of fact, the party was caught napping. The Liberals who are in favor of distriction gay the same thing will occur solution say the same thing will occur again. The party, they add, cannot be kept eternally on the strain. On the other hand there is no known instance of a Government resigning on the defeat of a supply vote, and the paltry character of the snatch division, whether it was a trick or an accident, jus-tifles the Ministers in holding out. ATTRIBUTED TO CHAMBERLAIN.

ROSEBERY WILL RESIGN. London, June 23 .- It is officially announced that the Rosebery Government will resign. Lord Salisbury will be summoned by the Queen to form a Ministry, and his Cabinet will proceed with the routine business of the House, obain prolisional supplies, and then disselve Parliament. It is expected that he elections will take place about the 10th of July.

The second meeting of the Cabinet yesterday afternon began at 4 o'clock, and lasted until 5:45. The meeting was held to decide whether the Government should resign or dissolve Parliament. It was decided to resign.

After dinner at Windsor Castle last night Lord Rosebery had a long private audience of the Queen and communicat ed to her the decision arrived at by

CAUSE OF THE DELAY. The length of the Cabinet delibera-tions was due to Herbert Asquith, the Home Secretary, and John Morley, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, who strongly opposed any step involving either resignation or dissolution. They argued that in view of the state of the debate on the Welsh Disestablishment and Irish Land Bills the Government ought to pass both into laws.

Wm. O'Brien, who until a few days ago, represented Cork city in the anti-Parnellite interest, butwho was compelled to retire from the House owing to his having been declared a bankrupt, visited Downing street, and urged that it was the imperative duty of the Government to pass the Irish Land Bill. All the Ministers, with the exception of Premier Rosebery, remained in town | Salisbury's vast fund of diplomatic inever Sunday.

T. P. O'CONNOR PLEASED. London, June 23.—T. P. O'Connor, leader in the House of Commons. Mr. M.P., evidently receives the resignation | Chamberlain can claim the very highest with pleasure. Or it might have come through the Parnellites, and then we should have had other Librals protesting against Irish ingratitude. On the other hand, the defeat has come on no question of Ministerial policy, and has been brought about by a very shabby trick and a most unusual and, indeed, unpatriotic departure from cfficial and Parliamentary traditic .s."

GETTING OUT THE LISTS.

Thomas E. Ellis, first Liberal whip; George G. Leverson-Gower and Ronald C. Munro-Ferguson directed business at the Liberal whips' office during the afternoon. They were engaged on the elec-toral lists. The Liberal central offices were also open.

THE PREMIER AT WINDSOR. Prime Minister Rosebery this morning walked unattended to the 8 o'clock service at St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle. After breakfast he strolled through the castle grounds. At 11 o'clock he went to Frogmore, where the Queen, Princess Beatrice and Princess Christian had breakfasted. He attended a private service in the Frogmore royal mausoleum with the royal family, and afterwards had an audience with the Queen. He then had luncheon, after which he was driven to the den. Arrived at the Paddington station, he took a carriage and drove to Chatham district to press the matter.

his official residence in Downing street. Here he found waiting for him Lord Tweedmouth, Lord of the Privy Seal and Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, and Arthur Morley, Postmaster-General. Mr. Asquith arrived soon af-ter Lord Rosebery. The quartet conferred until 6:45 p.m., after which the decision to resign was first officially made

THE NEW GOVERNMENT. Of course nothing is yet definitely known as to who will be selected by Lord Salisbury for Ministerial and other positions. Complete harmony is said to prevail between the Liberal Unionists and the Conservatives. It is generally supposed that Mr. Chamber-lain will have a position in the Salisbury Cabinet, but what his office will be is purely a matter of conjecture as yet.

SALISBURY SENT FOR.

Lieut. Col. Bigge, an assistant private secretary to the Queen, today conveyed her Majesty's summons to Hatfield House, Lord Salisbury's residence in Hertfordshire, Lord Salisbury will obtain the views of the Duke of Devonshire, the Liberal Unionist leader in the House of Lords, before he goes to Windsor tomorrow. Mr. Chamberlain had an interview with the Duke of Devonshire on Saturday, and afterwards Mr. Chamberlain received visits from several of his Liberal Unionist followers. It is not doubted that a joint ministry will be formed of Liberal Unionist and Conservatives, and that it will be called a Unionist Government.

VERY SANGUINE. The Unionist rank and file advise a prompt appeal to the country. They believe that they will be able to obtain a majority of 80 in the next Parliament. They are now very enthusiastic and sanguine.

THE OFFICIAL DOCUMENT. The court circular contains the following; 'The Earl of Rosebery, First Lord of the Treasury and President of the Council, arrived at Windsor Castle Saturday and tendered his resignation to her Majesty, by whom it was accepted.'

ROSEBERY'S CAREER.

Lord Rosebery's retirement again calls to mind the prediction he is said to have made concerning himself when he was a school boy. He then declared that he would marry the richest heiress in England, win the Deby and become Prime Minister. He in 1878 married Hannah (deceased, 1890), only daughter of the late Meyer De Rothschild, who was then the richest heiress in the country; in 1894 he won the Derby with his horse Ladas, and repeated the victory this year with St. Visto, and he has filled the office of Prime Minister for a little over fifteen months. Lord Rosebery is only 48 years old. He has been on the point of rethe longer it remained in power the better chance that the Tories might get tiring from office for some months on active majority of the independent Liberal-Unionist vote, which would have enabled them to adopt a firm attitude insomnia. But has yielded to persuasion and has held on till now.

SUITED THE QUEEN. erals, will say that the Queen accepted Lord Rosebery's resignation as she did that of Mr. Gladstone, without the expression of reluctance with which she favored Lord Salisbury when he retired from office.

When Sir William Vernon Harcourt an nounces the resignation of the Government leaders may decline to take office under in the House of Commons Monday afternoon he will probably move that the House

THE RETIRING CABINET. Following are the members of the retiring Ministry: Lord Rosebery, Prime Minister, First Lord of the Treasury and Lord President of the Council; Lord Herschel, Lord High Chancellor; Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Lord Tweedmouth, Lord Privy Seal and Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster; Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs: Herbert H. Asquith, Secretary of State for Home Affairs; Marquis of Ripon, Secretary of State for the Colonies; H. Campbell - Bannerman, Secretary of State for War; Henry Fowler, Secretary of State for India; Earl Spencer, First Lord of the Admiralty; James Bryce, President of the Board or Trade; A. H. Dyke-Ackland, Vice-President of the Committee of the Council; George Shaw-Lefevre, President of the Local Government Board; John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland; Sir Geo. Trevelyan, Secretary for Ireland; Arnold Morley, Postmaster-General.

This Ministry, with the exception of Lord Rosebery, as Prime Minister, and the Earl of Kimberley, as Foreign Minister, was formed by Mr. Gladstone in 1892, when he became Prime Minister for the fourth time.

THE TIMES' CABINET. The Times says that Lord Salisbury will be Prime Minister, but that he is unlikely to care to reunite with that office the heavy labors of the Foreign Office, which will go to the Duke of Devonshire, if he desires to accept it. The paper does not regard this as an ideal arrangement, as Lord Salisbury has unequaled knowledge of foreign affairs, while the Duke of Devonshire's strength is merely domestic. Yet the latter possesses prudence, firmness, sound common sense and high patriotic feeling, while he will always have Lord formation and political insight to draw on. Mr. Balfour will be the Government office in the gift of the Government next and vital work of reform must be carchequer; Hon. Geo. J. Goschen as First Lord of the Admiralty, and Right Hon. Leonard Henry Courtney as President of the Board of Trade. The Times contends that in a Unionist coalition Government, Mr. Balfour's bimetalist opinions would make him impossible as Chancellor of the Exchequer. SALISBURY SEES THE QUEEN.

> The Freemasons of this city celebrated St. John's Day yesterday by attending divine service at the Askin Street Methodist Church, South London, in the afternoon. Though the weather was decidedly warm and the roads wore a heavy coat of dust, the craft turned out in large numbers, between 500 and 600 being in line. At 3 o'clock the brethren began to assemble in the Temple in quarters allotted their respective lodges, and at 3:30, when the signal was given, the procession was formed, with Right Wor. Bro. Dr. Geo. C. Davis, P.G.J.W., as grand marshal. The Seventh Band was accorded first place, and the lodges were in this order: King Solomon, No. 394, Thamesford, Robt. Scott, W. M. Graham, W. M. Small deputations were also present from Dorchester and Ilderton. The fol-lowing members of the Grand Lodge brought up the rear: Right Wor. Brcs. A. W. Porte, R. B. Hungerford, city, and — McKay, St. Thomas, and Very Wor. Bro. J. D. Clarke, city. They were accompanied by acting D. D. G. M., R. W. Bro. A. E. Cooper, grand junior warden. The procession was a very imposing one, and throughout the march from the Temple to the church, via Richmond, York, Ridout and Askin streets, was viewed by hundreds of citizens. Bro. Wm. Wanless, Wor. Bro.

A. B. Greer, Bros. Armitage, Alex. Findlay and Wm. Gall acted as mar-The body of the church was reserved for the brethren, and it proved none too large, every seat being taken. Rev. Thos. Cullen, pastor, delivered the sermon, taking for his text Ephesians, ii., 19-22. "I might just say before expounding my text that I am glad, my brothers to meet you in my own church brethren, to meet you in my own church today. And I trust that the service will help us to the better knowledge of each other and a better knowledge of our duty to one another and to him whose we are and who hath bought us at such a costly price. I have buried Masons on several occasions. I am not particularly fond of funerals; I never was. I never expect to be. You will remember that Jesus Christ was found at a wedding taking part in the festivities of the occasion, but you never find him attending a funeral. I have never found anyhing that has given m idea of myself, of where I came from and what I am, where I am going to and what will become of me after I am gone as this blessed record; and if there may be here men of different shades of religious belief, we all turn to the same common record, and say that there is no book in this world that can take the place of this Book. And so I am glad to meet you because I have the hope that when we shall have ceased to meet each other in this world we shall have so exercised ourselves to please God that when the last hath crossed the river we will not be separated in that wonderful land where God especially reveals himself." Mr. Cullen then turned his attention to his text, and for half an hour was given the undivided attention of his given the undivided attention of his large audience. The theme was the Church of God, and the preacher divided it into the heads: "What is it?" "The Builder," and "The Process of Building." Each topic was discussed interestingly and in a well thought-out manner. "We may meet in our lodges and have pleasant gatherings," said Mr. and have pleasant gatherings," said Mr. Cullen in his concluding remarks. "I have frequently been there and enjoyed them very much. The true secrets of a master Mason are-shall I telli this audience? They would be amazed if I did. They would marvel. They are: First, to understand his work; second, his materials; third, his men; fourth, his trust, and fifth, his destiny, and how to work it out loyally and obediently. I am satisfied that no matter where you go, you find these principles running right through. They are principles which should be known and practiced as well. Then there is this about it: There is a deeper meaning underlying all grips, passwords and signs. But while we may have our grips, signs and passwords, and our words that are secret and secret, there is no secret so grand and absolute and so all comprehensive as that which will be found on the white stone, handed on that day to every man who is worthy to receive it. Now I am through. I have talked to you just as easily, freely have talked to you just as easily, freely, and informally as if you were accustomed to sit here on Sabbath morning or evening. I bid you godspeed in your work of charity. The world knows very little what is done through this organittle what is done through this organization, and I ask you to keep your hand in the hand that was pierced with the nail and ask him to lead you. And when the eyes become so dim that you cannot see your dearly beloved friends, you will be oble to see in the inner eyes. you will be able to see in the inner eye him who is the brother of all, and he who will take you to the other shore." The musical portion of the service was beautiful, Mr. Frank Callander acquitting himself at the organ in very efficient style, and the choir, aided by Miss Case and Dr. Ziegler, rendering an anthem. Miss Case also sang "The Holy City" during the offertory, which amounted to $60. It will be devoted to the benevolent fund. On the return to the Temple votes of thanks were passed to Rev. Mr. Cullen, the stewards of the Askin Street Church, the choir, and the grand marshal, R. W. Bro. Geo

A Good Story.

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name, but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since, his wife, much to her alarm, found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged, and went into hysterics. Explanations followed, and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended to use the razor upon painful corns. A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use with the following results: Man quire happy, wife ditto, razor sent away happy, wife ditto, razor sent away general blacksmith, 339 Talbot Use Putnam's Corn Extractor. street. THE IMPERIAL BANK

IWENTIETH ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS.

Statement of Profits and Annual Balance Sheet-Unsubscribed Capital Stock to be Disposed Of-A Branch to be Opened in Vancouver-Officers for the Ensuing Year,

The twentieth annual general meeting of the Imperial Bank of Canada was held, in pursuance of the terms of the charter, at the banking house of the institution, 19th of June, 1895.

The following shareholders were present at the meeting :-

H. S. Howland, Thomas R. Merritt, W. M. Ramsay, of Boland; Robt. Jaffray, T. Sutherland Stayner, Hon. John Ferguson, Rev. A. B. Lawler, R. N. Gooch, John Stewart, David Kidd (Hamilton), G. MacLean Rose, R. L. Benson, Anson Jones, N. Merritt, Jos. Whitehead, Geo. Robinson, Richard Denald, Jas. J. Foy, Q.C., Lieut.-Col. Jas. Mason, Wm. Hendrie (Hamilton), E. B. Osler, Robt. Thomson, J. Harry Paterson, L. S. Oille, M.D. (St. Catha-rines), Arthur McFall (Woodbridge), Chas. Forrest (Fergus), J. G. Ramsay, Ald. John Hallam, Clarkson Jones, Chas. O'Reilly, M.D., H. Sintzel. Wm. Gordon, Prof. Andrew Smith, W. B.

Hamilton, J. Kerr Osborne. The chair was taken by the president, Mr. H. S. Howland, and Mr. D. R. Wilkie was requested to act as secretary. The Secretary, at the request of the Chairman, read the Report of the Directors and the Statement of Affairs.

THE REPORT. The Directors have much pleasure in meeting the shareholders, and beg to submit the Twentieth Annual Balance Sheet and Statement of Profits for the year ended 31st of May, 1895.

Out of the net profits of the year, after making full provision for all bad and doubtful debts, maintaining the fund to cover rebate on unmatured dis counted bills, and after laying aside the annual contribution to the Officers' and Employes' Guarantee Fund (authorized under by-law 15):

(A) Two half-yearly dividends at the rate of eight per cent. per annum and a bonus of one per cent, for the second half-year have been paid.

(B) Bank premises account has been credited with $25,000. The profits of the Bank for the past year have suffered somewhat from a long spell of easy money and from a general dulness in trade accompanied by low prices for almost all commercial products, particularly for those of the soil; it is gratifying to know that an improvement has set in both in trade and in prices. The Bank, as is evident from the subjeined statement of its affairs, is in an excellent position to avail itself of any further revival in

Your Directors would recommend that the unsubscribed capital stock of the Bank, amounting to 364 shares, be disposed of at an early date, and in accordance with the provisions of the Bank

Premises have been secured in Vancouver, and a branch of the Bank will be opened in that city in the course of two or three months. All of which is respectfully submitted. H. S. HOWLAND, Statement of Profits for the Year Ending 31st May, 1895.

Dr. Talmage's Touching Discourse on Woman's Love and Power.

Her Spheres of Usefulness-An Angel of Help in Sickness and Sorrow.

Beatrice, Neb., June 24.—In his sermon for yesterday Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is now on his summer western tour, has chosen a subject that must analyze the subject that must awaken the sympathies of all lovers of humanity, viz., "Sisters of Charity." The text selected was: Acts, ix., 36: "This woman was full of good words and almsdeeds which she did."

Starting now where I left off last Sabbath in reciting woman's opportuni-ties, I have to say that woman has the heaven; the Countess of Huntingdon special and superlative right of blessing and comforing the sick. Man cannot chapels—in heaven; while a great many soothe the pain. He cannot quiet the nerves. He knows not where to set the light. His hand is not steady enough to pour out the drops. He is not wakeful enough to be a watcher. You o'clock at night. Plenty of bread at have known men who have despised woman, but the moment disease fell upon them they did not send for their friends at the bank, or their partner midnight for the coming of staggering in business, or their worldly associates; their first cry was, "Take me to my wife." The dissipated young man at college scoffs at the idea of being under home influences; but at the first blast of typhoid fever in his cheek, he says, "Where is mother?" Walter Scott wrote partly in satire and partly in compliment when he said: O woman, in our hour of ease,

Uncertain, coy and nard to please;

When pain and anguish wring the brow A ministering angel, thou. I think the most pathetic passage in all the Bible is the description of the lad who went out to the harvest field of Shunem and got sunstruck-throwing his hands on his temples, and crying out: "O, my head! My head!" and they said: "Carry him to his mother." In our last dreadful war men cast the cannon; men fashioned the musketry, men cried to the nosts, "Forward, march!" Men hurled their battalions on the sharp edges of the enemy, crying, "Charge! Charge!" but woman scraped the lint; woman administered the cordials; woman watched by the dying couch: woman wrote the last message to the home circle; woman wept at the soitary burial attended by herself and four men with a spade. Men knelt down over the wounded and said, "On which side did you fight?" Women knelt down over the wounded and said, 'Where are you hurt? What nice thing can I make for you to eat? What makes you cry?" Tonight, while we men are sound asleep in our beds, there will be a light in yonder loft; there will be groaning in that dark alley; there will be cries of distress in that cellar. Men will sleep and women will watch. Again: Woman has a superlative right to take care of the poor. There are hundreds and thousands of them in all our cities. There is a kind of work that men cannot do for the poor. Here comes a group of little bare-footed children to the door of the Dorcas Society They need to be clothed and provided for. Which of these directors of banks would know how many yards it would take to make that little girl a dress? Which of these masculine hands could fit a hat on that little girl's head? Which of these wise men would know how to tie on that new pair of shoes? Man sometimes gives his charity in a rough way, and it falls like the fruit of a tree in the east, which fruit comes down so heavily that it breaks the skull of the man who is trying to gather it. But woman glides so softly into the house of destitution, and finds out all the sorrows of the place, and puts so quietly the donation on the table, that all the family come out on the front babies are made strong; thin babies steps as she departs, expecting that put on solid flesh; cross babies are made from under her shawl she will thrust out two wings and go straight up toward heaven, from whence she seems to have come. Oh, Christian young woman! If you would make yourself happy and win the blessing of Christ, go out among the destitute. A loaf of bread or a bundle of socks may make a homely load to carry; but the angels of God will come out to watch, and the Lord Almighty will give his messenger hosts a charge, saying, "Look after that woman. Canopy her with your wings and shelter her from all narm." And while you are seated in the nouse of destitution and suffering the little ones around the room will whisper, "Who is she? Ain't she beautiful?" And if you listen right sharply you will hear dripping down the leaky roof, and rolling over the rotten chairs, the angel chant that shook Bethlehem, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men." .

It seems as if the Lord had ordained women for an especial work in the solicitation of charities. There is no need of your wasting your time, and you might as well submit first as last. You had better right away take down your check book, mark the number of the check, fill up the blank, sign your name and hand it to her. Those poor children on the back street have been hungry long enough. That sick man must have some farina. That consumptive must have something else to ease his cough. Again, I have to tell you that it is woman's specific right to comfort under the stress of dire disaster. She is called the weaker vessel; but all profane as well as sacred history attests that when the crisis comes she is better prepared than man to meet the emergency. How often you have seen a woman who seemed to be a disciple of frivolity and indolence, who, under one stroke of calamity, changed to a heroine. There are business men who know what I mean. There comes a crisis in your affairs. You struggle bravely and eng; but after a while there comes a day when you say: "Here I shall have to stop." You leave the store suddenly. You can scarcely make up your mind to pass through the street and over the bridge or on the ferry boat. You feel everybody will be looking at you, and blaming you, and denouncing you. You hasten home. You tell your wife all about the affair. What does she say? Does she talk about the silks, and the ribbons, and the fashions? No. She comes up to the emergency. She quails not under the stroke. You look upon what you thought was a thin, weak woman's arm nolding you up; but while you look at that arm there comes into the feeble muscles of it the strength of the eternal God. No chiding. No fretting. No telling you about ones.

the beautiful home of her father, far from which you brought ther, ten, twenty or thirty years ago. You say: "Well, this is the happiest day of my life. I am glad I have got from under my burden. My wife don't care. I don't care." At the moment you were utterly exhausted. God sent a Deborah to meet the host of the Amalekites and scatter them like chaff over the plain.

There are sometimes women who sit reading sentimental novels and who wish that they had some grand fields in which to display their Christian powers. My sister, you needn't wait for any such time. There will be a Thermopylae in your own household, where God will tell you to stand. There are hundreds of households where as much courage is demanded of women as was exhibited by Grace Darling, or Marie Antoinette, or Joan of Arc. Woman is further endowed to bring us into the kingdom of heaven. It is easier for a woman to be a Christian than for a man. Why? You say she is weaker. No. Her heart is more responsive to the pleadings of divine love. Three-fourths of the members of the churches of all Christendom are women. So God appoints them to be the chief agencies for bringing this world back to God. The greatest sermons are not preached on celebrated platforms; they are preached with an audience of two or three, and in private home life. A patient, loving Christian demeanor in the presence of hardness, in the presence of obduracy and crime, is an argument from the force of which no man can escape.

Lastly, one of the specific rights of woman is, through the grace of Christ, finally to reach heaven. Oh, what a multitude of women in heaven! Mary Christ's mother, in heaven; Elizabeth Fry in heaven; Charlotte Elizabeth in heaven; the mother of Augustine in last. Heaven for aching heads. Heaven steps. No more rough blows across the temples. No more sharp, keen, bitter curses. Some of you will have no rest in this world. It will be toil, and struggle, and suffering all the way up. But God has a crown for you. I want you to realize that he is now making it, and whenever you weep a tear, he sets another gem in that crown, and whenever you have a pang of body or soul, he sets another gem in that crown, un-til, after awhile, in all the tiara there will be no room for another splendor, and God will say to his angel: "The crown is done; let her up that she may wear it." And as the Lord of Righteousness puts the crown upon your brow, angel will cry to angel, "Who is she?" And Christ will say: - "I will tell you who she is. She is the one that came up out of the great tribulation, and had her robe washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb." And then God will spread a banquet, and he will invite all the principalities of heaven to sit at the feast; and the tables will blush with the best clusters from the vineyards of God, and crimson with the twelve manner of fruits from the tree of life, and waters from the fountain of the rock will flash from the golden tankards, and the harpers of heaven will sit here, making music with their harps, and Christ will point you out amid the celebrities of heaven saying: "She suffered with me on earth: now we are going to be glorified together." And the banqueters, no longer able to hold their peace, will break forth with congratulation: "Hail! hail!" And there will be handwritings on the wall-not such as struck the Persian noblemen with horror, but with firetipped fingers, writing in blazing capitals of light and love and victory: "God has wiped away all tears from all

RESULTS CANADIAN HOMES

From every city, town and village in Canada mothers have written, telling how their children have grown, from weak and puny babes to healthy, happy and hearty boys and girls, through being fed daily on Lactated Food. This experience is confirmed by all mothers who have used Lactated, and hundreds of doctors who have recommended this best of all foods vouch for the wonderful results it has accomplish-

When Lactated Food is used, weak bright and contented, care and worry are banished from the ramily circle, and the young babe.

A LIFE SAVED.-Mr. James Bryson Cameron, states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half-bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with re-luctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

BANEFUL EFFECTS OF BONUS-ING PAUPER LABOR TO COME TO CANADA.

A subject which for a long time claimed more attention than has been given to it, is dealt with in a sort of way in the June bulletin of the Bureau of Industries, viz., the importation of farm

Many complaints have been heard from time to time against the system of granting aid to the so-called working classes of the congested districts of the old world to come out to Canada, and for a long time our very paternal Government at Ottawa kept up the practice of giving "assisted passages" to mechanics and others in Great Britain and Ireland, so that its pet friends of the combines might have it in their power to keep wages down and their employes in subjection. But combined labor was at last successful in making its voice heard in the political arena, and the practice was abandoned. A pretence has since been made of encouraging the immigration of laborers of the farm and domestic classes, as well as of people who might desire to settle in the Northwest, but the number who settled in the country in this way was never large, and the character of many was often not of the best.

More successful in its way has been the policy of aiding the immigration of boys and girls of the homeless and orphan types, and philanthropic Britons ve managed to build up quite a successful business in deporting such waifs from their own country and planting them in ours. In this work they are aided from parish and other local sources at home, as well as by our Government-the latter paying to the managers a bonus of $2 per head for all children brought into Canada under such

In so far as Great Britain is concerned, this policy of deporting paupers and orphan or homeless children, dates back 60 years, when power was given to the ratepayers of a parish by act of Parliament to establish a fund "for defraying the expenses of emigration of poor persons having settlements in such parish." In 1849 the authority was extended, so that the Poor Law Guardians might expend "any sum not exceeding £10 for each person in and about settlements in such parish"; and two Years afterwards power was given to provide for the "emigration of poor orphans and deserted children under 16 years of age having no settlement, or the place of whose settlement shall not be known; upon their own consent being given." the latter condition being jority of cases, no doubt. Many other changes have been made in the law since that time, with the object of lightening the burdens of the poor rates in the parishes of our mother land; and in the Local Government Act of 1888, under which county councils have been established in England and Wales, ample provision is made for a systematic service of pauper deportation.

It has been under this organized scheme that the "homes" have grown up, with headquarters in England, Scotland and Ireland, and branches in the Canadian Provinces, the Australian colonies and elsewhere.

How well it has flourished anyone may see who will examine our public accounts and the reports of the Minister of Agriculture, from which it appears that the number of bonused children brought to us during the six fiscal Years, 1888-9 to 1893-4, was about 8,000, the number for the last year being over 2,500. It is impossible to say how those record of them has been kept. But we of pauper parentage, and however adin and Ireland to get rid of its homeless and destitute population, no observant or thoughtful man will affect to believe that such persons can be a desirable acquisition to us.

In 1890 the Minister of Agriculture made an attempt to ascertain what had become of the 1,022 children brought out from the workhouses in Grat Britain in 1889, and this is what we learn of the result: "The inspection was made by agents of this department in whose districts the children had been placed out, and a summary of their respect-Ive reports shows that of 353 children Inspected 300 were reported good, 15 Indifferent, 9 bad, 25 had left locations, and four were not to be found." So 1 In 7 were unfavorably reported of during the second year of their settlement in the country, when they had hardly begun to cast off the restraints put upon them by "home" and "workhouse" treatment. It would be interesting to know how many of the 300 were reported good in the third year; the fourth year and the fifth year; and still more interesting would it be to know what had been the record of the 669 others of whom no account has been given. The Minister of Agriculture was not likely to supply the facts which would condemn the policy of his Government on immigration, and his silence regarding the 669 is at least ominous.

The correspondents of the Bureau of Industries have let some light upon the subject, and while a few of them have a friendly word for the system, a large majority of those whose views are quoted are strongly against it. Here are a few typical extracts:

"Gosfield, Essex: No more illegitimates needed from the Homes (socalled) in the old country. It is better to let the unfortunates remain in the Homes, unless they are far better samples and with far better formed heads than we have seen already." "Wawanosh, East, Huron: Keep the English Home Boys out of the Province, as they are a curse to the country as a rule."

"Ekfrid, Middlesex: Any importa-tion of foreign labor is not desirable at

"Oakland, Brant: This pauper class of English lads is a curse to the country, and the sooner a stop is made of making Canada a dumping ground for the refuse of England the better for us. good, honest, steady German or Scotch farm hands were encouraged to come here they would be a very desirable class of citizens, and they would prove most efficient help. We need more good men, but have no room for the criminal classes or their offspring." "Easthope North, Perth: Let all who come to this country come at their own expense, as our fathers did, and they will value it more highly. If they cannot, by their intelligence, industry and economy, make enough to bring them ere, they cannot be worth, when got what it cost to bring them."

"Mara, Ontario: The good-for-nothing pauper and criminal classes seem to be on the increase in Ontario, and we cannot expect anything else so long as the Government imports this class from the slums of the large cities of Europe. We would be far better without this class of immigrants. They are already ecoming a burden to the country, and have a contaminating influence upon the native born Canadians."

"Plantagenet South, Prescott: We are better without the foregoing supply of immigrants, as many of them turn out bad, murdering and burning. In fact we are afraid to hire them."

When one considers the tens of thousands of our own boys and girls who have been obliged to go to the United States during the last fifteen years in search of the employment denied them to palliate the system of bonusing paupers practiced by the Government to overstock and glut our labor market. to say nothing of moral considerations and the future influence of such a breed of immigrants.

Another serious mistake, calculated to hurt the good name of Canada in Great Britain, has been made by the Dominion Government. The Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway Company, an organization of speculators, the wisdom of whose scheme has been very severely criticised on both sides of the Atlantic, advertised that the Dominion Government would pay interest on its bonds to the extent of £500,000 during their currency. This the company cause Mr. Foster, Finance Minister, had loan, and to pay interest, as asked by speculation, for he promises that the ilar mistake in the future. Themen in warning from the effects of Canadian fficialdom aiding "fakes" in the past. They should have remembered how the country was brought into disrepute through Sir Charles Tupper's participation in the "dead meat" speculation, action of the Government reflects no credit on it, and tends to add strength to the demand that men of business tact should be put in office at Ottawa.

SNOBS AT OTTAWA.

What a certain class of snob liked in the old times was to sit within the sacred pales of Rideau Hall and watch the merchants, the artists, the literary, the scientific, and the respectable people who pay their way, who in some cases were rightly kept outside. They liked, as they surveyed this moving crowd, to say, between the puffs of a cigarette, "Aw, my dear f'ler, who is that going by there? Oh! it's ---, a very nice fellow, don't cher know, and awfully clever, but not in our set you know. think such fellows are very creditable and should be encouraged so long as they kept their place, and in this infernal country it's so difficult to keep them there." Now, "The Aberdeens" have sat so completely down on all that sort of thing that it is no wonder that disconcerted remarks are heard now and then. The average Ottawa snob "dunno w'ere he are," so to speak. He will know less where he is after a while, when a new Thackeray I hear of arises to show in its true colors the hollowness, frivolity, and vanity of much of the life of the capital. The coming literary man does not hail from Ottawa, but I have the information that much of his ammunition has been quietly piled up there, and out of Canada may yet ome a world's novel that by its vraisemblance to human nature will astonish the world.—Toronto Week.

Anything that announces your business is an advertisement and all have their uses, but for character and cheapness the largest and most successful business men have learned that newspaper advertising is the best. This year, as last, the men of No. 1 Company, R. C. R., have pitched the canvas for the militiamen who will go into camp on Tuesday. There was a time when the pitching of tents was considered as much a part of the yearly drill as the firing exercise. Under the present arrangement the volunteers may gradually forget what little they already know about the matter, and if. called out would probably have to sleep in the open air until No. 1 Company pitched their canvas and made their

Dr. Radway & Co., New York:

Dear Sirs—I have been sick nearly two years and have been doctoring with some of the most expert doctors of the United States. I have been bathing and drinking hot water at the Hot Springs, Ark., but it seemed eyerything failed to do me good. After I saw your advertisement I thought I would try your pills, and have nearly used two bexes; been taking two at bedtime and one after breakfast, and they have done me more good than anything else I had used. My trouble has been with the liver. My skin and eyes were all yellow; I had sleepy, drowsy feelings; felt like a drunken man. Pain right above the navel, like as if it was bile on top of the stomach. My bowels were very costive. My mouth and tongue sore most of the time. Appetite fair, but food would not digest, but settle heavy on my stomach and some few mouthfuls of food come up again. I could only eat light food that digests easily. Please send "Book of Advice." Respectfully, Dear Sirs-I have been sick nearly two years

BALMORALS VS. ORIENTS. The Balmorals and Orients played the fourth game of the championship series on the Star Park on Saturday afternoon and a very one sided exhibition of ball it was. Turner of the Balmorals pitched a fine game and got good support. Graham of the Orients did good in the box, but was accorded loose support. Heavy batting was done by Barron and Grey, both scoring home runs in the fourth. A feature was the allround playing of the Balmorals who played good ball from start to finish. The score:

BYRON VS. F. C. B. C. NINE. The F. C. B. C. team went to Springbank on Saturday to play with the Byron nine, and were defeated by a score of 14 to 13. GALT DEFEATS HAMILTON. Hamilton, June 22.—About 500 people witnessed the Canadian championship baseball match between the Galt and Hamilton teams this afternoon. The game was closely contested until the sixth inning, when Galt bunched their hits and assisted by the errors of the home team succeeded in scoring four runs. Moore, for Hamilton, pitched a good game, but received very indifferent support from the field. Lemas, at third base, played a ragged game for Hamilton, and by his poor throwing to first was re-sponsible for two runs scored by Galt. The Hamiltons were unable to hit Lyons safely and their few hits were scattered. Score:

TORONTO VS. WILKESBARRE. Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 22. - Wilkesbarre and Toronto played two games today. In the first game Campfield was effective for five innings. He weakened in the eighth and the visitors scored four runs and tied and the visitors scored four runs and then the score. A timely hit in the ninth inning gave the Torontos the winning run. Crane was hit freely in the first part of the game, but after the fifth inning steadied down and did good work. Attendance 1,500.

The second game was not as interesting as the first. Shaw, who occupied the box for the visitors, was very wild with the exception of the last leads a Machine sixth. ception of the last inning. Meekin pitchel a strong game for the home team. Had he received any kind of support in the field Toronto would have been unable to score more than half a dozen runs. In the last inning, owing to Meekin's letup, together with poor fielding, the Canadians were able to get six men across the home plate. Attendance 1,600.

London, June 24.—The House of Commons was crowded with members and visitors at the opening of today's sitting. Upon the appearance of H. Campbell-Bannerman, Secretary of State for War, the Liberals gave him an ovation, rising to their feet and cheering, waving their hats, etc. The Irish members remained silent. The peers' gallery was filled with members of the Upper House. Sir Wm. Harcourt made a brief statement, saying that as the adverse vote on Friday was in effect only a vote of want of confidence in the Secretary of State for War, with whom the Government had associated themselves, they had therefore placed their resignations in the hands of the Queen, who had acepted them. Mr. Balfour expressed regret that the Government had not dissolved Parliament instead of resigning. Sir Wm. Harcourt, referring to Mr Campbell-Bannerman, said he would take it upon himself to say that no older, more respected, or popular Min-Ister-(cheers from both sides)-had lutely necessary to the service of the country. The Government, he said, would hold office only until their successors had been appointed, and he would therefore move that the House adjourn, but it was indispensable befere this was done that the Bering Sea Bill be passed in order that it might receive the royal assent.

WONDERFUL BRIDAL VEIL. he Duke of Aosta, nepnew of the King of Italy, and the Princess Helene of Orleans, is to take place tomorrow. Four hotels, in addition to the Bristol Hotel, which is occupied by the Countess of Paris and friends, have been engaged for the guests. The wedding breakfast will be given at Orleans House, Twickenham, but there will be several dinners at the Bristol Hotel. Twickenham is looking lovely, and the road from Orleans House to the chapel, about half a mile distant, where the ceremony is to take place, will be lined by many thousands of visitors. Princess Helene's bridal vell is a splendid specimen of Chantilly lace, about fourteen feet long. It has a broad border enriched with a floral pattern which diminishes in elaboration as it reaches the head. AN ECCENTRIC DUKE. London, June 24.—The forthcoming marriage of the Duke of Argyll to Miss McNeill, one of the ladies of the bedchamber to the Queen, is severely commented on here, as it was only the other day that his state of health was so bad that he had a fainting fit while delivering his speech. He was 72 on the 30th of April, and bears the unique rerutation of being the youngest-looking duke in the peerage of the United Kingdom and the worst tailored man in England. He once saw some shepherd plaid cloth in a shop window, took a fancy to it and went into the place and ordered a pair of trousers from it. He then absently said: "You can send the rest of the piece, as I might want another pair or two some day." The piece was 96 1-2 yards long, and as a pair of trousers requires only 2 1-2 yards, the Duke of Argyll, who is typically Scotch and careful, has worn nothing but shepherd's check trousers since 1877, the year of the unfortunate and heedless purchase. His whilom daughter-in-law, Lady Colin Campbell, is responsible for the premature announcement of the wedding. trouble with the congregation in his London Tabernacle that Dr. Talmage encountered in Brooklyn. The coppery color of the contents of his collection boxes worries him. He finds an average of no less than 600 big, clumsy English pennies each Sunday. The modest shillings and sixpenses make a poor show amid the mass of grosser metal, and the gleam of the sovereign is almost unknown. The preacher's prejudice against copper as a monetary metal is so strong that he has expressed it in earnest language to his people. No bimetalist has made a more eloquent plea for silver than that of Dr. Pentecost to his congregation. Even three-penny bits, he declares, are more respectable and honorable than the dispised brown

THE WHEEL CRAZE.

The fashionable craze for bicycle riding has become as universal in London as in New York. The other day the Right Hon. Arthur Balfour, Viscount and Viscountess Castlereagh and other aristocrats rode to town in company from Hertford, to the great scandal of decorous dowagers and old-fashioned politicians, who, however, are rapidly becoming a minority. Duchesses and countesses have not yet taken to riding the machine in Pall Mall, but the time evidently is not far off, and meantime male aristocrats have overcome prejudice and sarcasm, and boldly dash about the West End. It is rumored that Sir John Gorst, who in all probability will soon be a Cabinet Minister, shocked the Carlton Club at the beginning of this week by riding up to its sedate and exclusive portals on a bicycle, and that a row ensued owing to the flat refusal of the scandalized club servants to allow such a democratic machine inside the hall.

CHENIER. Street, says the Herald. It is a solid bronze statue seven feet in height and it will stand on a plain granite pedestal ten feet high. With the foundations the monument will rise twenty-one feet above the sidewalk. The only inscription will be the name Chenier. The statue, which is the work of Mullins and Co., of Salem, Mass., represents the "patriot" physician in the act of pointing out to his followers the approaching foe, while in the other hand he holds his musket ready for action. He is dressed in the regular habitant costume of the period, with the "ceinture flechee" around the waist. Its unveiling will' probably not take place before August or September. The design of the pedestal has not yet been decided upon.

The circumstances connected with the death of Chenier are told in the celebrated poem by Dr. Drummond, of Montreal. 'De Papineau Gun," which has been published in many English and American collections of verse:

"De Papizeau Gun," Bon jour, Monsieur-you want to know About dat gun-w'at good she's for? W'y, Jean Baptiste Bruneau—man pere Fight wit' dat gun on Pap'neau War.

Long time since den you say-'est vra An' me too young for 'member well, But how de patriot fight an' die I hoffen hear de h'ole folk tell.

De H'Engleesh don't h'ack square dat time. Don't geev de habitants no shere

So long come Wolfred Nelson, Wit' Louis Joseph Papineau. An' swear de people have deir right, Wolfred, he's write Victoriaw; But she's no good-so den de war Commence among de habitants Pap'neau an' Nelson, 'fraid notin.

Dey fight an' bleed pour la patrie; I hope le bon Dieu have 'em bote-Salut Woifred! Salut Louis! Mon pere he leev to Grande Brule.

So smarter man you never see, Was h'alway on de grande hooraw. Plaintee-w'at you call dat?-Esprit. So w'en dey form wan compagnie,

All dress wit' tuque an' ceinture sash. My fader tak' hees gun wit' him, An' marche away to Saint Eustache W'ere many patriots was camp Wit' brave Chenier deir capitaine, W'en long come H'Engleesh generale, An' more two t'ousan' sojor man. De patriots dey go on church. An feex her up deir possibill; Dey fight deir bes', but soon fine h'out

'Canon de bois' no good for kill. An den de church she come on fire, An' burn h'almos' down to the groun' So w'at you tink our man can do Wit' all dem H'Engleesh h'armee roun'?

Chenier, he try for broke de rank, Chenier come dead immediatement My fader shoot so long he can, An den he's load hees gun some more Jomp on de river quick like flash,

More brave as dem poor habitants;

'Poleon, hees sojor never fight

An' try for pass a l'autre bord. Sure 'nuff de water's cole an' damp, Mos' halway lak' dat on de fall; My fader's tak' hees gun wit' heem, De powder don't get wet at all. Well, he reach home 'bout next morning An' keep perdu for many day, Till h'everything she come tranquilla An' sojor man h'all gone away.

An' h'affer dat we get our right, Les Canayens don't fight no more; My fader's never shoot dat gun,

But place her up above de door. So, w'en you h'ax questyinne, my frien'. 'Bout dat h'ole gun-w'at good she's hanswer. Jean Baptiste Bruneau Fight wit' dat gun on Pap'neau War.

On 'Change. Special to C. E. Turner, broker, Masonic Temple, from Kennett,

Chicago, Ill., June 22.—The news has been bullish, and the wheat market strong most of the day, but near the close it broke sharply on general realizing by local longs who learned that yesterday exports for the week were more than 1,000,000 in excess of the previous week. Early cables were higher, and Bradstreet's confirmed the reported damage to the California crop, reducing the estimated yield there to 33,000,000. There has been no news of a discouraging character to cause today's decline, and sellers may be as good buyers next week. The Kansas report on corn and oats was bearish enough to set everybody to selling both for long and short account, and it is not surprising the market broke badly for oats, and was quite weak for corn. That report suggests immense crops in Nebraska and Iowa, where the conditions have been even more favorable for corn and oats than in Kansas, and most houses are looking for a further declineat least for cats.

Provisions were inclined to rally, but yielded for oats.

Provisions were inclined to rally, but yielded later to the bearish influence from the grain pits. Trade was light as usual.

In the usual place announcement is made of the death of an old citizen, Mr. John Kemp, of 186 Kent street, who was well known as a carpenter and builder, was 78 years of age, a native of Rochester, Kent county, England. t is more than 30 years since he came first to this city. Mr. Kemp was for many years connected with the Congregational Church, and of late years with First Presbyterian Church. He was thoroughly upright, worthy man, of kindly disposition and much respected.

RISING STEADILY. The water in the reservoir at Springbank is steadily rising, and this morning the gauge showed seven feet—a rise of ten inches since Saturday. The privilege of using lawn services on Saturday was unaccepted by very few, and in the two hours the pond went down ten inches. However, with seven feet in the reservoir, the commissioners feel none too secure, and lawn and street sprinkling are prohibited until further notice. No time is being lost in the way of securing the lower Colville springs, and before 24 hours they will probably be connected with the conduit

ANXIOUS FOR WORK.

A crowd of over 100 city laborers flocked to Springbank early this morning with the expectation of securing work on the line now being constructed by the street railway company. But the company had all they desired and the men returned disappointed. The gang now engaged in the grading of the route numbers about 60, and under the guidance of Engineer McKay, of St. Thomas, are cutting away a hill on the bank of the river and adjoining the farm of the late John Cooper. Rapid progress is being made, and when the rails and other material arrive in a day or two the work will be hurried along. A representative of the Cleveland Construction Company, who have the contract for placing the poles and trolley wires, was in the city Saturday and went over the route.

For Killing His Sparring Partner-May

Get Twenty Years. Syracuse, N. Y., June 24.—The trial of Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, upon an indictment for manslaughter in the first degree, in killing Con Riordan in a sparring match at the Grand Opera House, commenced here today. "Bob" came here prepared to put up a big fight against conviction, for a verdict against him may mean twenty years in prison. Fred House, of New York, and Charles E. Ide, John Mc-Lennan and Louis L. Waters, of this city, are his attorneys. An extra panel of 50 jurors had been called in the sessions to act with the regular panel of 48 jurors, and the questioning was extremely rigid by both sides. By noon recess only five men had been examined and two were allowed to take their seats in the jury box, subject to peremptory challenge. A close fight was made upon the question of whether or not a juror was prejudiced against prize-fighting and prize-fighters. District Attorney Shove held that the question was improper, because every citizen who obeyed the laws must be against prize-fighting.

Judge Wm. M. Ross allowed the question, as it applied to prejudice in this case. "Lanky Bob" does not seem especially worried over the trial.

THE BIGGEST LENS IN THE WORLD. The Great Glass of the Yerkes Telescope Is Now Finished.

The great forty-inch lens-the hugest telescope glass ever made-which Alvan E. Clark has been working on for more than a year at Cambridge, Mass., for the Yerkes telescope, is completed and will soon be shipped to its destination. The lens when the glass came from Paris in the rough, and before a stroke of work had been done upon it to fashion it into its present delicate and beautiful shape, cost $40,000.

Probably the grinding and polishing of the lens, which have been going on for two years. cost as much again, while required to furnish the grounds and building for the new observatory with its numerous instruments and the elaborate morning by wild cries of fire. It transpired that two or three of the club had decided to required to furnish the grounds and numerous instruments and the elaborate and enormous brass tube for the great the most accomplished astronomers in America will be attached to the new ob-The great crown glass now at Cambridge is about three inches thick in the middle and 11/4 inches at the outer edge. Like a great staring eye, it is placed at the end of a long, dark tunnel, where the marvellously precise work of testing the purity of the glass and the perfection of focal range has been carried on. Day after day the glass has been turned so as to bring each section opposite a small light, and an elaborate table of statistics has been kept of the results. This has been varied from time to time by taking out the glass in order to grind off some small portion of its surface, a work which has been done by hand. So precise is this work that abrasion by the human thumb has in many instances been sufficient to rub down the glass, which is almost as hard as flint, thereby bringing it to a uniform thickness. The two pieces that make up the lens weigh together 1,200 pounds. Being fragile, in spite of their great size, they must be handled with the utmost care. For testing the focal range, the color, etc., the lens has from time to time during the past few months been placed in the end of a sixty-foot tube on the grounds of Mr. Clark. This tube turns on an axis, and, the end containing the glass being swung into the heavens, the workmen have viewed through it many of the stars, which have come out with startling brilliance and clearness.

These stars have never appeared so lens is finally set up in its magnificent them. metal cube at the observatory the work which it will accomplish will be much more perfect.

The telescope for which this magnificent product of science and skill is intended was the gift of Charles T. Yerkes to the Chicago University, made at the time when the announcements of the startling observatonns of the Lick telescope on Mars were first exciting the scientific world. But it is now admitted made and its greater size, will completely eclipse the Lick instrument in focal range and power, and the first results of its being turned on Mars when the planet is in opposition will be anxiously awaited.

"My six-year-old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczems for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost avery remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. Finally, a week ago, I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and the first application showed the curative effect of the Remedy. We have used only one-sixth of the box, but the change is very marked; the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently eav my child is cured.

MAY ENLARGE THEIR CHURCH. More seating room is required in Knox Church, South London, and a meeting of the session, managers and societies of the church was held on Friday evening to consider the advisability of enlarging the edifice. Mr. H. Mc-Bride, architect, submitted a draft of the improvements suggested, which include the erection of an annex to the south side of the church proper, in which it is proposed to erect the organ, the choir loft and the pulpit, with rooms for the choir beneath. It is also contemplated to change the style of seating, which will increase the accommodation by at least 200 pews. These will be arranged in a semi-circle facing the south, and the space to be covered will include the present organ and choir loft on the east end and also the vestibule on the west side. The main entrance will be located at the northwest and northeast angles of the build-

Mrs. Foster, of Kent street, has just recovered from a serious attack of La Grippe. This is the second siege she has had of this influenza, the first of which attacked Mrs. Foster about three years ago, and left her with a very troublesome cough, accom-panied with chronic bronchitis, and a complication of other diseases, which made it plication of other diseases, which made it almost impossible for her to attend church without disturbing the congregation by coughing, and, indeed, Mrs. Foster assures us that so bad were the spasms that she often feared she would burst a blood vessel during one of these severe attacks. It was very natural that under such circumstances numerous friends would recommend as many different "cure alls." She tried Cherry Pectoral, Tar, Linseed and other preparations, but was growing generally worse when a friend who had been benefited by Barkwell's Bronchial Balsam advised her to try that, and in a few days she was out of bed, and the best feature is that she is now entirely freed from all simptoms of the Bronchitis, of which she never hoped to be cured. Mr. Millar, a neighbor, also had a bad cough and was completely cured by the same preparation.

ARISTOCRACY ON WHEELS.

The New York World's London special says: A few nights ago Lord Cadogan gave a dinner party, at which the guests included the Duchess of Sutherland and Lady Allington, the Countess of Dudley, Lady Chelsea and several men prominent in the social world. The ladies dined in their cycling costumes, consisting of bloomers—covered in all cases with a light skirt—while the gentlemen were in knickerbockers. At 10:30 the party, numbering eighteen, set off and the tower, where, at that hour, gain Day 12½c per yard. hardly a soul is to be seen. finding many devotees. Mr. Balfour is an expert rider and re turned this week from Aspedst Park, the residence of Earl Brownlow, to London, a distance of 160 miles, on his safety, accompanied by Mr. George Windham, his private secretary. A few days ago the sedate janitors at the Carlton Club, were amazed to see Mr. Balfour, with Sir John Goorst and Mr. Broderick, leaders of the late Tory Government, alight from their bicycles at the club door and take their machines into the hall while they lunched. The origin of the craze in fashionable London Society was the adoption of cycling by the young princesses of Wales.

The Secret Out

It was now Mrs. Gretorex's turn to look dumbfounded. She gazed at the doctor as if to see whether he were in his proper senses, then she stepped up to the detective.
"This is your work," she cried. "You have gone beyond my orders. Did you not receive my telegram?" No, madam.'

"I sent you one as soon as my daughter came back. Her explanations were entirely satisfactory, and there is no reason why any of us should think of the matter again. Yet you have talked in the very quarter where I desired you to be silent, and the consequence is that my daughter's happiness is threatened and her character impeached. It is an irreparable injury which I shall never forgive." And leaving Mr. Gryce to digest these pleasing words, she turned again to Dr. Cam-

"Sir," said she, "I do not know what excuse you can have for asserting that you have seen my daughter within an hour. I only know that the fact is impossible, for Genevieve has not been out of the house since her return at the time I mentioned, as a dozen witnesses at least can prove to you. As to the duplicity of which you complain, it amounts simply to this, that she felt her health giving way under the constant strain of our numerous preparatiens, and in a sudden freak, which she now deplores as sincerely as myself, started off for Montclair without tell-ing anyone of her intention, thinking that the complete rest thus obtained would benefit her, as it has; for never has she looked more blooming or more fitted to become your wife than at this very moment when you hesitate to ac-

For answer, the doctor walked up to the detective. "Could we have been mistaken?" he "Was it indeed another wo-

"I will tell you in two minutes," was the hasty answer; and quitting them with small ceremony, Mr. Gryce passed out of the room.

The doctor made no effort to apologize or answer Mrs. Gretorex till he came back. His whole future destiny was trembling in the balance, and it was as much as he could do to retain his composure. Happily the time of waiting was short. Mr. Gryce rejoined them almost immediately, and bowing low to the lady of the house, said in Dr. Cameron's ear: "Another case of mistaken identity. Mrs. Gretorex is correct in all her assertions. You have made a fool of me and I show my chagrin by simply departing."

The doctor attempted no reply. He was beside himself with joy. What, the whole dreadful business of the last four hours a farce? His marriage assured, his bride untainted, no Molesworth in her past, no possible jealousy in their future? He almost cropped on his knees to Mrs. Gretorex in his contrition; attempted explanations and paused thinking them too inadequate, laugh-Why not you?

When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsapari'la to overcome the weakness and languor which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? When you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to cure rheumatism, dystepsia and all diseases caused by impure blood, why do you continue to suffer? Hood's cures ethers, why not you? d, asked questions about his bride's beauty, and betrayed impatience to see her; in short, acted like any man suddenly transported from unhappiness

The mother, understanding him better than he thought, perhaps, only smiled, and pointing to his black necktie, asked if he had a white one in his pocket. His face grew suddenly long and he flushed with intense mortification.

"I have not come quite prepared for so grand a ceremony," he stammered. the guests will wait a little longer while I send for my coat and tie-"They must," declared Mrs. Gretorex, calling a servant at once and giving him one or two orders. "It will not take more than another half-hour, and the band can keep them patient till then." "Tell them I was detained by an accident on the elevated road. As I was," I e merrirly added. "Keep them in good nature and give me a glimpse of my

"You impatient lover!" was all the relieved mother could say; but her look was a promise, and in a few minutes. a trim and quiet girl came tripping to the door, and smiling coquettishly, showed him a room at the other end of the hall, saying: "Miss Gretorex is all dressed, sir, and will speak to you for a minute if you desire it."

He did not linger an instant. Some-thing—was it love, or only that old pride of his restored to its full life, burned in his breast, and made his short walk down the hall a remembrance of delight to him. Her door, just ajar, was like a beacon of hope, and when he saw it open wider and caught the one short glimpse she allowed him of her tall and elegant figure in its shimmering robes and misty veil, he felt his pulses beat as never before, and scarcely needed the charming smile she gave him to complete a happiness which at that moment was supreme.

"I have kept you waiting," she murmured; and he found no answer, for looking at her eyes, that theus seen through her veil possessed a beauty and a glow that made her absolutely beautiful. "I am all ready now," she cried, "but mamma says that you are not. Naughty man, to go careering downtown to look after some patient or other when you should have been think-

He laughed, feeling himself to be another being, and she another being from man and woman of a week ago. Then he looked at her again, and uttered some tender compliment which made her blush deliciously, and then in answer to a wave of her hand, that seemed to say "Enough!" was about to withdraw, when he saw her eyes sud-

The Gretorex mansion was eminently number of guests reached the full thousand that had been invited there would have been sufficient accommodation for all. So numerous, indeed, were the rooms on the first floor, and so admirably were they disposed, it had not been found necessary to ask the guests to ascend the stairs at all. Thus it was that Dr. Cameron had met friends on the landings but none on the floors above, and thus it was that upon his return to the room which had been allotted to him, he could pace its length for twenty minutes without any inter-ruption. And a friend, or a jovial word, for the moment when amid music and bustle, the flash of lights and the mur-

A PECULIAR FALL.

Woman Plunges Head First Into a Post-

hole Seven Feet Deep. Sioux City, Ia., June 23.-Mrs. Sarah Lewis, of this city, is the victim of a pe-culiar accident, from the effects of which she is not likely ever fully to recover. During the past few days the Home Telephone Company have been digging holes all over the city for telephone poles. Mrs. Lewis stepped outside about 9 o'clock in the evening to call her children who had been playing in front of the house. The children did not prove to be as near as she had expected and pushing through the tall grass along the sidewalk in search of them she suddenly stumbled over some obstruction and plunged head first down one of the holes. The hole was 7 feet deep, 26 inches in diameter at the top and 22 at the bottom, so that Mrs, Lewis, who arms were pinioned at her sides, was unable to relieve the weight resting on her head. She remained in this position for nearly half an hour, when a passer by hap pened to hear her groans and pulled her out. She was then unable to stand and soon lapsed into unconsciousness, in which condition she has remained nearly ever since. Her nervous system is greatly shattered by the accident, and it is feared her brain or spine may also have been injured by the fall,

THE EARTH'S CONQUEST.

Every Foot of Soil Likely To Be Turned to Acceunt by Man. (New York Sun.)

Some of the Belgian newspapers have A band of white caps is said to exist been bitterly opposed to their country's its protection. its protection. Many of their remarks n Petrolea.

Walkerton's population is 237 more are hysterical and inaccurate; but they cordially unite in their position, which is worth noticing, because it belies the genius and destiny of the human race, They say, in substance, that Tropical Africa was never made for civilized men; and, that, though nations should bankrupt themselves in the effort to reclaim it, the region will never yield benefits commensurate with the men and money it will cost.

How do they know that this is true? He is a wise man, indeed, who is able to assign limits to human enterprise. What prophet among us can foreten the changes that human ingenuity and art may yet effect on this globe?

A large portion of our business today is to fit this world more perfectly for human use as a habitation. That is the reason why we dig Suez and Baltic canals, lay cables under the ocean Daniel J. McDougall, Sarnia, has pared irrigate the desert till it blossoms like ed the entrance examination in appled the entrance examination in appled the rose. By long experiment and study we have greatly improved the methods and accelerated the processes of taming wild nature. Two centuries elapsed before Europe began to turn America to much account; but a single century after Australia drew the world's notice saw the full flower of civilization blooming there. The most of Africa is the discovery of the past half-century, and yet we know far more of that great continent in all its aspects today than was known of America three hundred years after Christopher Columbus had discovered it.

Are these critics aware that one of the great problems of the age is how to turn the tropical regions to best account for all mankind, and that enormous progress is making toward its solution? If the mortality statistics of the white race within the tropics prove anything, they show that we are learning to carry on our enterprises there, of every sort, under our own supervision and without undue imperilment of life.

In British India, for instance, the annual death rate among Europeans was 84 to the thousand in the early part of this century, but in 1890 it was reduced to 16 to the thousand. In the Dutch East Indies the European mortality in 1828 was 170 to the thousand; twenty years later it was 60; in 1868 it was 30, and in 1892, 16, much less than the native death rate, which then reached 23 to the thousand. In the Congo basin, which is so much decried by some of our Belgian friends, the death rate among white men in 1893 was 70 to the thousand, but this included many men who were campaigning in the field, deprived of almost every comfort and convenience. At settlements like Boma and Leopoldville, where the ploneers live in houses, under fairly good sanitary and alimentary conditions, the death rate, in the same year, was 32 to the thousand. In Algeria the death rate among the whites dropped from 77 to the thousand in 1848 to 11 in 1893; and in the Antilles, from 91 to 18.

It is a very poor use of time and enenergy to argue that there is a single square mile of the earth's surface which man will not, some day, turn to his own

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recov ery of Mrs. John Dowly. Owen Sound, June 24.-Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received, as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condi-tion of her health during the past six seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint, and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to most of the residents in this locality, as having previously effeeted some very remarkable cures.
