JURY VIEWED THE REMAINS

Inquest Into the Death of Mrs. Jenkins, of St. Johns, on Tuesday Night.

CHILDREN FORM PITIABLE SIGHT

Little Ones Play About Unable To Comprehend Awful Calamity Which Has Befallen Them—Mrs. Jenkins Speaks of Death of Wife.

The jury empanelled to inquire into the death of Mrs. Martha Jenkins, of St. Johns, met Saturday and viewed the body, adjourning until Tuesday night, when the investigation will be proceeded with at St. Johns.

The jury is composed of the following:

E. Nixon, John McLeary, David Leckie, W. G. Taylor, Patrick Flood, John Mair, William H. Reeve, E. McNab, George Fraleigh, John Mortimore, Freeman Talbot, William Anderson, James Carmichael.

The Post-Mortem. A post-mortem was conducted Sunday morning on the body by Drs. Waugh and McNeill.

They will read their report at the inquest on Tuesday night.

The Jenkins house is situated on the eighth concession of London Township, about a mile west of the Post Line road, a mile and a half northwest of St. Johns, and about ten miles north of London.

It is one of the best houses in the vicinity, being built of brick, two stories high and is large and roomy. The house stands back about 150 feet from the road in an orchard. Just south of it and about 300 feet from the road is the barn in which Mrs. Jenkins was found.

The house faces toward the road, but the barn doors are on the south side of the building and are not visible from the house.

Last Saw Their Mother. At the northern end of the barn and a little over a hundred feet from the side door of the house is a milk stand, and when the Jenkins children last saw their mother she was at the stand washing milk pans.

Only one of the children, Annie, was in the house. The others were playing in an old driveway in the orchard about a hundred yards away from the house.

In order to reach the stall in which she was found, Mrs. Jenkins would have to go south around the eastern end of the barn, and then turn west to the stable door, which is situated about ten feet west of the corner of the barn.

A Neat House. The Jenkins house is as neat as a pin. All around the front windows are neat flower boxes, filled with flowering geraniums and other plants. All around the verandah vines are trailed, and the short lawn is well kept.

When an Advertiser reporter arrived, two of the smaller children, aged 2 and 3 years, were having a merry time, just in front of the house, with a big burdock leaf.

They were all unconscious of the terrible death of their mother, and were too young to understand.

The older of the two, on being requested to fetch his father, got his older step-sister, Miss Mabel Jenkins, to come out.

She stated that Mr. Jenkins was having his dinner, but would be out in a moment.

The Husband Talks. He came out almost immediately. He is a man of about 55 years of age, about six feet in height, very thin and much tanned. His hair is getting grey, but he moves quickly.

When asked if his wife had been killed, he said she had, and stated that (Continued on Page Eight.)

CITY IS OUT AFTER WATER CUSTOMERS

Will Now Seek to Supply the C. T. R. and the C. P. R.

The question of selling water to the C. P. R. and the Grand Trunk Railway Companies will be taken up by the water commissioners immediately. It will be remembered that these railways were asked by the city to obtain a supply of their own, as the city could not supply them.

Both have been using river water for locomotives.

With the increase in the supply of water the city will now try to obtain their old customers again.

The C. P. R. intended putting in main extensions to their roundhouses in the east end, but the city can supply them with plenty of water.

As the quality is much softer than the Springbank water, it will be much better for their boilers and machinery.

REMAINS WERE LAID TO REST

Funeral of Mrs. J. C. Jenkins, of St. Johns, Held Sunday Afternoon.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERMON

Was Preached by Rev. Mr. Mahon—Grief of the Parents of Dead Woman Was Pitiable to Behold.

The funeral of Mrs. Martha Jenkins was held on Sunday afternoon from the family residence, lot 19, con. 5, London Township, to St. Johns Cemetery, and was very largely attended.

The floral offerings were very beautiful and included wreaths from many of the neighbors.

Among the mourners was Mr. James C. Jenkins, and all the children. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMillan, of Dorchester, father and mother of the dead woman, were present, and their grief was terrible to witness, particularly that of the mother.

The Sermon. In the course of his funeral sermon, which was based on the text, "Prepare to meet thy God," Rev. Mr. Mahon pointed out that although all are satisfied that some day they will be called by death, none know the day, and it behooves all to be ready to die.

"A Jewish rabbi," said, "when preaching to a class of his students, once advised them to return to God some day before they died, and the boys replied that they did not know what day they were going to die. The rabbi said, 'Turn today, then, for you may die tomorrow.' Death comes in many forms. Often when we are away from home, away from friends, if we were called upon to meet death in a lonely mountain, as Moses was, we would be thankful to have some preparation. A young man was recently tried before a judge in Cobalt for seduction and murder, and after the jury had returned a verdict of guilty the judge asked the young man if he had anything to say. The man replied that he had nothing and would throw himself on the mercy of the court. The judge replied: 'I am not here for mercy. Upon such a day of the month you will be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul.'"

No Appeal. "There is no appeal from God's judgment," said Mr. Mahon, "and we should all be prepared. Death, under any circumstances, is sad, but under such circumstances as Mrs. Jenkins' is unusually sad."

Among those who attended the funeral were: Messrs. William and Daniel McMillan, of Dorchester, brothers of deceased; Mrs. Richard Johnston, of 761 King street; Mrs. Keays, of Thamesford; Mrs. Wm. Stephenson, of Nilesford; Mrs. Rogers, of Dorchester; sisters, and Miss Mabel Jenkins, a step-daughter.

The Pall-bearers. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. A. Needham, Freeman Talbot, E. McNab, Joseph Mortimer, E. Nixon and E. Flynn.

The first five named are members of the coroner's jury which will commence its investigations on Mrs. Jenkins' death on Tuesday night next.

WOMAN KILLS RIVAL WITH BUTCHER KNIFE

A Canton, Ohio, Elopement Culminates in a Double Murder.

Canton, Ohio, Aug. 1.—An elopement terminated in the murder of Tony Panelli and Mrs. Clara Pizzani by Mrs. Panelli, wife of the slain man, here today. After shooting her husband, Mrs. Panelli attacked Mrs. Pizzani with a butcher knife.

A terrible struggle followed, during which Mrs. Pizzani was stabbed thirty times. During the struggle Mrs. Pizzani succeeded in reaching a telephone and holding her antagonist at bay while she called the police station. Mrs. Panelli overpowered her, however, before the telephone connection was made, and Mrs. Pizzani was dead ere the police learned of the trouble.

CIGAR SMUGGLING

Hamilton, Aug. 1.—An arrest of more than ordinary importance was made last night, when Pizlaneo Camille, an Italian, was locked up on a charge of smuggling some cigars into Canada.

The local customs officers are behind the arrest, and an endeavor was made to keep it a secret, Camille being committed to the jail.

The customs officials refuse to discuss the case, stating that they did not want the arrest made public until they had made two or three more arrests.

It is understood that an organized gang of smugglers have been at work evading the city customs in the importation of cigars, and the authorities are hot on their trail. Other arrests are expected shortly.

THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS

Conflagration Leaves Many on Verge of Starvation.

FIRE RAGED 25 HOURS

Twenty-Thousand Buildings Were Destroyed and Less Will Be in Millions.

Osaka, Japan, Aug. 1.—Confusion still prevails here as a result of Saturday's disastrous fire. Thousands of persons are homeless and hunger is staring many of them in the face.

A system of relief has been organized by the municipal authorities, but it is inadequate. Outside cities and towns are assisting. The number of casualties has not yet been determined, but hundreds of injured persons are crowding the hospitals.

The latest estimates are that 20,000 buildings were destroyed including banks, the museum, Government edifices and factories. Losses are given as reaching at several million yen. It is feared that consequently some of the insurance companies will fail. The conflagration lasted more than twenty-five hours. The streets are very narrow and the houses mostly of wood construction. Under a strong breeze, therefore, the buildings were easy prey to the flames.

All Saturday the police assisted the firemen and troops in quenching the conflagration. An arena of over four miles square, containing some of the city's handsomest structures including the Buddhist Temple, was burned before the fire was controlled. The stock exchange, one of the most important of this country, was entirely destroyed. This loss, it is believed, will tend to dislocate the business of Osaka which, with its manufacturing concerns is one of the chief commercial cities of Japan.

The Emperor is deeply concerned over this disaster.

THE JENKINS BARN AT ST. JOHNS.

This cut shows the Jenkins barn at St. Johns. The door on the left is about five feet south of the stall in front of which Mrs. Jenkins was found dying. The building on the left is the stock shed where Mr. Jenkins says he was watering stock when he saw the stallion in the yard.

CHURCH HAD A CLOSE CALL

Fire Threatened the Baptist Edifice, on Talbot Street, on Saturday Afternoon.

BARN SHEDS BURNED

Loss Estimated at About $4,000—Partially Covered by Insurance—Origin a Mystery.

A very dangerous fire broke out yesterday afternoon about 4:30 in the sheds at the rear of the Talbot Street Baptist Church. Before the flames could be subdued the sheds belonging to Mr. John Riggs, a shed belonging to Miss Jeffrey, and some smaller buildings were practically destroyed.

The loss will be approximately $4,000, partially covered by insurance. Close Call for Church.

At one time it was thought the church was doomed. The flames were extremely fierce from the burning pine, and only very hard work on the part of the firemen prevented the structure from being destroyed. The window casings were burned at the rear and sides and many panes of glass were broken by the heat.

Some of the houses in the neighborhood were also scorched.

Firemen on Scene. The fire was first noticed by Dr. A. O. Jeffrey. There was considerable smoke when he started to turn in the alarm, and when he came back the buildings were in a mass of flames.

There was no chance of saving the burning structures when the firemen arrived, and they directed their attention to the other buildings to prevent a further spread of the fire.

A Dangerous Fire. After half an hour's effort the flames were subdued, and in another quarter of an hour the fire was out.

"It was a dangerous fire," said Chief Aiken. "We had no chance to save the buildings, and it was only with difficulty that we kept it from going further."

Origin a Mystery. The origin of the fire is a mystery. It is supposed to have been caused by boys playing with matches in the yard of the buildings.

WHO IS THIS GEORGE MILLAR?

Frank Erne and Man Named Gonia Tell of Having Been Doped by Him.

MOST PECULIAR STORY

Which May Have Bearing Upon the Case of Young Man Robbed on the C. P. R.

The story of a young American chauffeur named Ernest Gonia, who is at present in a most critical condition in St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto, seems to have a most peculiar significance in connection with the story told by Frank Erne, the young Toledo pugilist, who until recently was in Victoria Hospital.

Erne, it will be remembered, was found lying beside the C. P. R. tracks late at night about three weeks ago, with his pockets turned inside out.

Says He Was Doped. He was unconscious for many hours, but when he came to he said he had been travelling to Montreal with a man named George Millar, whom he met in Detroit. Millar, he said, gave him some queer-tasting stuff from a bottle, and he remembered nothing more.

Erne has suffered intensely as a result of the stuff given him, and at one time was driven so violently insane that he tried to strangle himself in bed at Victoria Hospital.

Back in Hospital. Later he was removed to the jail, and, being taken very ill again, was taken back to the hospital. On Saturday he was again taken to the jail, and it is believed that the George Millar mentioned may be the same man who attacked Erne.

The Toronto Story. Toronto, July 31.—"My head hurts, pray for me, sister. I'm going to die." These were the words that Ernest Gonia wrote on a piece of paper in the emergency ward of St. Michael's Hospital this morning about 8 o'clock.

Gonia, who is 25 years of age, and a chauffeur by occupation, comes from the United States. He has a severe injury to the back of his head, but to the surprise of doctors has not been able to die.

Is Unable to Speak. He appears to have been paralyzed by the injury, as he cannot speak and has only been able to write down a piece of paper a little of what happened to him.

Finding he could not talk, a pad and pencil were given him by the sisters of the hospital, and on the pad he wrote his name and his home as 1427 N. Holsted street, Chicago.

Said He Was Robbed. He claimed at one time that he had been robbed of $80 by some men on the train coming from Hamilton.

Again he wrote down that he got knocked on the head during a fight in Hamilton. Later he said there was a pugilist on the train who drugged him and then robbed him.

Was Taken to Hospital. He was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance, and his condition is very serious.

Was With Prize Fighter. "When the man came in first I didn't know what was wrong with him," said Dr. Lawson to a reporter this morning. "I thought he had an epileptic seizure until I touched the back of his head. Then he gave a yell and became conscious."

He couldn't speak, but when I handed him a pad and pencil he wrote down: 'I was coming from Chicago with George Millar, a prize fighter, who was going to fight in Montreal. Just before we got to Hamilton he wanted to borrow some money. I wouldn't lend it to him. Then he had a fight at Hamilton with gloves on, and I was knocked down during my head. When I got on the train I became unconscious and I was robbed of $80.'

"This was what he told us and I believe a policeman was notified that the conductor couldn't waken the man, and he was brought here in the ambulance."

JOLTED OUT OF AUTO

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 1.—A peculiar auto accident took place near Appleton on Saturday night about 7 o'clock.

Mr. Patriarche, a well-known broker, of Toronto, accompanied by Mrs. Sheridan and two other ladies, was riding to Hamilton when the auto, which was travelling at a fair rate of speed, was given a bad jolt in passing over the hollows in the road.

The rear seat, on which Mrs. Sheridan and one of the ladies were seated, went into the air and the two ladies were thrown to the ground. Both were badly cut on the face, and the services of a doctor were necessary. Mr. Patriarche and the lady sitting on the front seat were uninjured. The $15 C. P. R. train was flagged for them at Burlington, and the entire party returned on it to Toronto.

SPANISH REVOLT IS STILL RAMPANT

Desperate Combats Continue in the Streets of Barcelona.

FOREIGNERS IN PERIL

Dispatches From Morocco Say Spanish Troops Suffered Another Reverse.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Paris, Aug. 1.—Although official Spain minimizes the Catalan insurrection and insists that the revolt has been crushed, a far different story emanates from the frontier. Refugees and travellers declare that the revolt is still rampant and that desperate combats continue at Barcelona, where 50 revolutionaries are reported to have been wounded in a conflict which occurred as late as Saturday night.

Information concerning the actual situation in Barcelona and the rest of the provinces is rarer tonight than ever before. Although some of the news from the frontier is from revolutionary sources and therefore open to suspicion, more reliable intelligence leads to the belief that although Barcelona is calmer, the insurrectionists have taken to the suburbs and the outlying country where they are sowing the seeds of revolt and inflaming the populace to maintain the struggle to the bitter end. Barcelona Province is in the hands of warring bands of workmen, heavily armed, who occupy the highways to prevent communication, and who refuse entrance to newcomers. Cassan de Lasevia is in the hands of revolutionaries, and at Palamou where the monastery was fired upon and the monks tortured, but the situation is described as alarming and the lives of foreigners endangered.

The opinion in semi-official circles here concerning Spain's internal situation is pessimistic, and the belief is expressed that the trouble is not yet over. Official Madrid announces that Barcelona is tranquil but the situation is especially so in the centre of the city.

Another Disaster. From Melilla comes the news of another Spanish convoy being ambushed and several of its officers being wounded before the troops succeeded in extricating themselves from the attack of the tribesmen.

THE DEBATE NOT LIKELY TO BE AS EXTENDED AS THREATENED.

Senator Bailey to Voice the Opposition of Democrats to Measure.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Washington, Aug. 1.—Unless something happens to provoke the discussion of a political character the new tariff bill should be enacted into law by the extraordinary session of congress adjourned before the end of the present week.

Inquiry among senators opposed to the adoption of the conference report on the Payne-Aldrich bill indicates that the debate will not be as extended as it threatened to be before the conference reported. The senate will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Senators Daniel and Bailey, members of the conference report shall not be carried over into next week. He said that he would not speak longer than an hour or two, and that other members of the committee would occupy comparatively little time. It is probably that senators who were opposed to the placing of bills on the free list will have something to say on that subject and that all of the representatives who voted against the bill when it was on its passage in the Senate will take opportunity to explain their action. Some of these senators will vote for the adoption of the tariff report and some are expected to vote in the negative.

Senators Daniel and Bailey, members of the committee on finance, will speak at length against adoption and lead in voicing democratic opposition to the new tariff bill.

So every one listened—at first with curiosity, afterwards with something like amazement. The bishop abandoned his expression of gentle tolerance for one of manifest uneasiness. It seemed scarcely credible that he heard aught for the Marquis of Arrammore's forefinger was stretched out towards him—a gesture at once reluctant and scornful, and the words to which he was forced to listen were not pleasant ones to hear.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE COMMERCIAL AND ALL SECTIONS

deliberately-chosen words fell with a chill sarcasm from the lips of the Bishop of Beeton, he said, "has also thought fit, on the authority, I presume, of Mr. Lavette and his friends, to make an ill-considered reference to the accounts of the society in question. As one of the largest subscribers to that society, may I be allowed to state that the accounts are correct. Before many days the accounts from its very earliest days, which have all the time been in the hands of an experienced firm of accountants, will be placed before the general public. In the meantime let me tell you this. I am willing to sign every page of them. I pledge my word that their absolute correctness. The author of this movement has from the first, according to my certain knowledge, devoted a considerable part of his own income to the work. If others who are in the enjoyment of a princely stipend for their religious labors—he looked hard at the bishop—were to imitate this course of action, I imagine that there are a good many charitable institutions which would not now be begging for donations to keep them alive."

He sat down without perspiration, and almost immediately afterwards left the House. The first reading of the bishop's bill was lost by a large majority.

Arrammore sat by himself in his study, and his face was white and drawn. A cigarette which he had lit on entering, the room had long ago been between his fingers. This sudden upheaval of the past, coming upon him with a certain spasmodic unexpectedness, had shown him very clearly that he did not believe himself capable of anything of the sort. The unusual excitement was upon him still. All sorts of memories of the past were being recalled, and he was struggling with the thought of the future.

She did not speak at once, but all sorts of things were in her eyes. He ground his teeth together, and made some effort to remain his old self. "You have come to offer—your sympathy. How delightful of you. The bishop goes on my nerves, you know, and I really am not answerable for what I said, Catharine."

"You shrewd her arms around his neck. 'You dear!' she exclaimed. 'I am not afraid of you any more. Kiss me, Philip, and don't talk nonsense, because I shan't listen to you.' Brooks drove up in hot haste. The butler stopped him respectfully. 'His lordship is particularly engaged, sir.' 'He will see me,' Brooks answered. 'Please announce me—Lord Kingston of Ross.' 'I beg your pardon, sir,' the man stammered. 'Lord Kingston of Ross,' Brooks repeated. 'I beg your pardon, sir, but I am not acquainted with the name as though it were a disused glove. 'Announce me at once.' It was the Arrammore trick of impetuosity. Brooks, however, was not to be taken in. He threw open the study door with trembling fingers, but he was careful to knock first. 'I am not at home, sir,' he heard the voice of the bishop.

THE END.
ABRAY—LAMONT

Marriage of a Popular Young Couple of Canada.

On Wednesday, July 23, at high noon at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Lamont, Hillcrest Farm, Carleton Place, Ontario, a pretty wedding was celebrated when their eldest daughter, Alma, was united in marriage to Mr. W. A. Abrey, G. T. agent, Komoka, by Rev. Mr. Marshall. The bride was dressed in white, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley, and took her place beneath an artistically arranged arch of white flowers and white bells, with banks of ferns. Her dress was champagne silk, and her shoes were of white satin. The young couple were unmarried.

The groom's present to the bride was a pearl necklace and pin. After congratulations were offered, the guests, numbering about 30, adjourned to the dining-room where they partook of a dainty luncheon served in several courses, the decorations being in white and pink. The young couple were the recipients of many useful and costly presents, testifying to the high esteem in which they are held. Mr. and Mrs. Abrey left on the 4 o'clock train for the Atlantic coast, by way of the St. Lawrence and the Thousand Islands. The bride's going-away gown was of brown broadcloth with hat to match. Their many friends extend to them heartfelt congratulations.

SUICIDE AT BERLIN.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—William Schlemmer, aged 46, proprietor of the Co-Operative Cigar Company, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself in the head. He was in apparent good health, but it is thought he was despondent over business reasons. Besides his wife he leaves one brother.

A QUEER LAW.

Halifax, July 31.—In the police court Walter C. Womham, of the wholesale firm of Womham & Sons, Montreal, was fined $20 and costs for selling liquor in violation of the Liquor Act. Mr. Womham was in the city two weeks ago, and his resident agent being absent he made some sales personally. This was an infraction of the law. The maximum penalty is $100. It is the first case of the kind ever prosecuted here.

The Commercial and All Sections

Montreal reports to business is fairly steady. The mid-summer lull is rather noticeable than it was a week ago. Freight movement is heavy. Goods are being rushed for export. There is still a fair bulk of the goods out to the West for the crop movement is under way. Shipments of nearly all lines of goods to Western Canada are particularly heavy this year. Those to Ontario and the Maritime Provinces are also inclined to be large. There is still a fair sorting trade in drygoods and it is understood that retailers are likely to come to the end of the season with fairly empty shelves. Trade in ready-made, warm weather clothing, both men's and women's, has been excellent. All lines of cottons continue very firm and a second advance in undyed is reported. Advances in woollens are expected before the fall retail trade sets in. Seasonable lines of hardware are moving well. Paints, oils and building materials continue in demand. The demand for metals is fairly good and prices are generally steady. Staple groceries are moving well. Canned corn is scarce and firm and the demand for sugar is active. Dealers in the holidays report a splendid business in the new and second-hand goods. Country business is moderate. Produce comes forward well and prices hold steady.

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say general business continues active. Wholesale lines are doing freely both for fall and for sorting lines of summer goods. During the cool weather recently the latter fell off slightly but it has picked up again with the return of hot days. Business men generally continue optimistic regarding future conditions. Reports regarding Western crops are rosier and there has been further improvement in conditions in both Ontario and the East. A good trade is moving in drygoods and in clothing. Values are firm and in cottons and linens there are expected to go higher. Heavy winter goods are being ordered in good lots. General hardware and builders' supplies are moving well. There is also a good demand reported for structural steel and heavy goods generally. Conditions are steady. The demand for sugar is unusually heavy owing to good crops of small fruits. Country trade is of fair volume. Prices for general produce are fairly steady and deliveries are inclined to be liberal. Collections are generally good. Money is easy here and in all Ontario centres.

Winnipeg reports say there continues a brisk wholesale trade moving in all lines and prospects for a big fall trade continue to improve. The past week has furthered the crop and the heavy wheat crop will this season be the largest on record. Large shipments of goods are coming into this part of the country. Retail trade is a little quiet here as farmers are beginning to get ready for harvest. Reports of barley cutting in different parts of Manitoba are already to hand and it would look as though the harvest would be well under way early in August.

Vancouver and Victoria reports say trade all along the coast is generally steady. The retail business is of good volume and merchants are looking forward to ending the summer season with well cleared shelves. Provincial industries are busily engaged and it is expected that the run of salmon will be large. Collections are good. Quebec—Wholesalers report little change during the week from the preceding one, and do not anticipate an improvement until the season is more advanced. Collections are generally good. The retail trade is of fair volume and prospects for a big fall trade continue to improve. The past week has furthered the crop and the heavy wheat crop will this season be the largest on record. REPLY TO WHITNEY

Toronto Brokers Say Power Legislation Would Hurt Canada's Credit. Toronto, Aug. 1.—With reference to the printed statement of Sir James Whitney, appearing in all the Toronto papers, the undersigned Toronto stock brokers say as follows: 1. We are aware of the facts, and do not know of any falsehoods in the petition referred to. The grounds taken in the petition against the Act are as follows: (a) It shakes the confidence of the public in the courts of the land by declaring to be valid and binding contracts which the courts have pronounced illegal and void. (b) It enacts that a contract which has never been executed by a Municipal Council shall be deemed to be duly executed. (c) Because it imposes upon the ratepayers of the municipalities a burden which they never authorized by their vote to incur. (d) It denies to aggrieved persons audience to the courts of justice. (e) Its effect must be to injure the credit of the Dominion of Canada as a whole.

CANADA'S PREMIER PROVINCE.

Exclusive of the portion of Keewatin, which it is proposed to annex to this Province, the present land area of Ontario, according to a statement contained in the annual report of the Toronto Board of Trade, is 220,000 square miles, or 140,000,000 acres. The extreme length of the province from the confluence of the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Rivers, to the Manitoba boundary, is 1,000 miles, while its width from Lake Erie to Hudson Bay is 750 miles. Ontario covers a larger area than the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio combined, and is one-third larger than nine North Atlantic States.

Of the total area of the Province, 4,500,000 acres are settled, and of this 14,000,000 acres are cleared, 6,500,000 acres are woodland, 2,000,000 acres are marshland, and 3,000,000 acres swamp, arable or waste land. Of the total settled area, all but 1,500,000 acres lie in Old Ontario, having been settled between the years 1783 and 1860. The remaining million and a half acres consist of scattered tracts of land in New Ontario, settled within the last few years. In addition to this there is the vast clay belt, 15,000,000 acres in extent, which is being opened up by the National Transcontinental Railway and which is all good agricultural land.

The report, which was prepared by Mr. C. C. James, gives some interesting statistics, showing the great advance of agriculture in the Province. The figures as to the production of beef, bacon, cheese and live stock in 1896 and 1906 give evidence of great gain, as seen by the following summary:

	1896.	1906.
Beef .....	$12,000,000	$27,200,000
Bacon and pork .....	10,000,000	22,500,000
Cheese .....	9,000,000	15,000,000
Live stock .....	29,750,000	61,500,000

There was an increase in the number of horses on Ontario farms from 611,241 in 1898 to 726,421 in 1908; milch cows, from 956,000 in 1898 to 1,113,374 in 1908; and swine, from 1,640,787 to 1,816,763. The total value of live stock on the farms in 1898 was $104,000,000; in 1907 the number had increased to $189,500,000, while in the same period the total value of farm lands, buildings and implements increased from $923,000,000 to $1,222,000,000.

THE ABSORPTION OF MOROCCO.

The old state of Morocco, replete with historical interest, with a record going back through the days of war between the Crescent and the Cross to Old Testament times, has been in a decadent condition, and is steadily growing worse. Unruly and uncertain in its methods, clinging to the customs of barbarism, its proximity to Europe has not civilized it, but only brought it into conflict with its more civilized neighbors. And that can have but one result. France has for some time had an interest in this country, which has occasionally given rise to European complications. But these have been amicably settled, and France has been allowed to draw closer her semi-circle of influence, south, east and west. And now Spain is operating on the north.

The Spanish settlements in Morocco are principally that of Ceuta, near Gibraltar, and Melilla eastward among the Rif tribes. These are a daring and unscrupulous people, lineal descendants of the old Barbary pirates. During the time Spain has had a lodging in these sections, nothing has been done for the furtherance of trade and commerce. Ceuta is only a convict station, while Melilla is the centre of traffic in contraband arms. Beyond gunshot Spain has no authority. The only benefit she has had from the Arabian possessions is the prestige of maintaining a foothold, though it is said, that the officers of the military detachments at Melilla made money out of the contraband trade.

A short time ago some mining concessions were obtained by Spain in the Rif country; trouble occurred in trying to work them, and four Spaniards were killed. This has been followed by war on a small scale; troops are being sent to the seat of disturbance, and several serious engagements have taken place—not altogether to the advantage of the Spaniards.

It is stated that a Moorish war is not popular in Spain, and the revolutionary outbreaks in Barcelona and Catalonia might seem to justify the statement. But we doubt it very much. These two provinces have always been disaffected, and this outbreak would probably have occurred independent of the Morocco affair. A Moorish war could be made popular.

European nations are all more or less anxious to gain and hold colonial possessions. Spain has lost in America and in the Pacific. Once her dominions were world-wide; now her jurisdiction is confined almost exclusively to the motherland. To enlarge the sphere of her influence in Africa should gratify her pride; especially if it could be shown that the new territory was of any value. And it might be thought that the traditions of the old-time relationship of Spain to Africa, and the story of the battles between Christians and Mohammedans, waged on Spanish soil, could be utilized to advantage by a skillful politician.

So far as Morocco is concerned, it is fair to assume that its destiny is absorption by France and Spain. The ruler of the country is weak and pessimistic. He cannot keep his people in order, and there will be some excuse for his more civilized neighbors if they become either protectors or rulers of the misgoverned country. Its conditions could not be worse under such a change—they might easily be better.

THE NATIVE QUESTION IN SOUTH AFRICA.

What are described as the disabilities imposed upon non-Europeans in South Africa by the draftact of union are to be brought before the imperial authorities by Mr. W. P. Schreiner, who, with Sir Gordon Sprigg, also a former premier of Cape Colony, formed the sole opposition to the draft act in the Cape Assembly. By the Cape constitution, which is to be superseded by the act of Union, as passed by the Imperial Parliament, the colored voters of Cape Colony cannot be disfranchised even by a majority in the Cape Parliament. Moreover, a native possessing the necessary qualifications has the right to sit in the Cape Parliament.

Under the union constitution, as submitted to the Imperial Parliament, persons of other than European descent will not be allowed to sit in the Central Parliament, and the colored franchise in Cape Colony will no longer be an inalienable right, but terminable at the will of two-thirds of the members of both houses. This latter provision is generally regarded at the Cape—where opinion is unanimous in favor of guaranteeing the rights of the natives—as a sufficient safeguard. Mr. Schreiner, however, proposed an amendment that the two-thirds majority should include two-thirds of the Cape representation; but this was defeated, and he is now in London endeavoring to prevail upon the Imperial Parliament to still further safeguard native rights. But the imperial authorities will likely hesitate to tamper with a system of compromises so delicate as the draft constitution.

Writing to the Manchester Guardian on this native question a resident of Johannesburg says: "We are not dealing with the remains of a decadent native tribe but with the beginnings of a great and fecund people. In fifty years a moderate estimate will place their numbers at twenty-five million souls. In civilization they are 2,000 years behind the European races; their idea of government is patriarchal, their notions of property tribal and communal, their religion cruel and superstitious, and their marriage customs polygamous. Our mode of government appears to them as farcical as theirs to us appears barbaric. Of the seven millions (census 1904) under our rule a few thousands have learned to read and write after a fashion, and quite a small number have achieved education of a sort. This education is with the best of them at present but an outer garment; it will take ages of effort and heredity before that integration of character is gained which makes of the meanest European an eligible citizen."

In the opinion of the writer the interests of the native races will be best served by instituting a form of government for them which will provide opportunities for the advanced members of the race to help their brethren along the path of progress. The proper aim of the educated native, he says, should be the advancement of his own people. There are still some in South Africa who think the extinction of the black race the final solution; there are others who merely regard the native races as a valuable reserve of labor; but this writer sees in them "a great black nation, in the making which in the future may be to South Africa what India has been to the United Kingdom—a source of wealth, prosperity and honor, and a training ground for statesmen and administrators."

NOTABLE GATHERING.

(Montreal Gazette.)

Of the nine overseas representatives in the imperial defence conference, now sitting in London, two, Messrs. Botha and Fischer, are of Dutch, and one, Mr. Brodeur, of French descent. When one-third of a council met to consider matters of importance to the British Empire, it may be admitted that their absorbing powers are among the notable features of British institutions.

[St. Thomas Journal.]

The keep-off-the-grass orders don't apply to the rain.

TALKING.

[Milwaukee Journal.]

Words are easily spoken. There are some who are speaking them all day long. They talk, talk, talk, and when done, neither they nor anyone else could tell a single thing they said worth remembering. The gift of speech is to be highly valued, but it should be used with care. When one talks very much, little attention is given to what he says, for no one can talk all the time and give due thought to his conversation. When talk comes in a constant stream there will be little sense in it. A silence now and then makes what one says more impressive. Everyone likes a sociable man, one who has something pleasant to say, who has intuition as to the mood of his listener, and the kind of talk most appropriate to the time. There are times when the silent companion is the one for whom you are most grateful. It is a great thing to know when to be silent.

GENUINE "MANLY ART."

[Stratford Herald.]

Earl, the son of Mr. Chris Dawson, of Strange street, was rescued on Wednesday from the waters of the Speed River at Guelph, by a little companion, Harold Cass, the four-year-old son of Mrs. Cass, of George street, just as he was about to sink for the third time. The rescue was a most daring one, and reflected great credit on the young hero, Harold Cass. He is a plucky, little swimmer, and was very prompt in jumping into the water to save his friend.

THE ROCK OF MOSES.

[London Globe.]

The "Rock of Moses" lies in the wild valley, at the base of Jebel Musa, the Mount of the Law, in the Peninsula of Sinai. The rock is eighteen or twenty feet high, slightly inclined, a rough indentation running over each side, which is intended to represent the rock on which Moses stood when he gave the law. The rock is covered with carvings of the twelve tribes of Israel, and is a place of great interest to pilgrims. The rock is said to be the only one of its kind in the world.

THE REPORTER.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

Newspaper work is very largely an impersonal vocation. The reporter's "stories" are read in hundreds of thousands of homes daily, but his name is unknown one save among the limited circle of friends and acquaintances with which his daily routine brings him into touch. His identity is merged in the larger identity of the newspaper of which he is a component part. But this does not mean that he is to be treated as a door-mat whereon to wipe their frequently iniquitous and hypocritical feet. The reporter who is falsely accused of being a "punch" sustains an attack upon his individual integrity. If he is a meek, mild-mannered individual, he will allow the stigma to rest upon him, and play the martyr, but if he has the backbone of the lowest right, he will rise in his individual capacity and compel his accuser to make good his charge.

CANADA'S DEFENDERS.

Canada may not have a navy, but she has men who can shoot straight, as well as being shrewd and intelligent. The South African war showed the importance of good marksmanship, and our Canadian riflemen may well figure as a valuable asset in the empire ever need their services.

THE HARM OF IT.

[Hamilton Times.]

The London (England) Financial News estimates that the "Ontario bogey," in other words the lack of confidence in Canadian investments, created by England by the war, has cost the Dominion probably $2,000,000 in connection with the recent loan flotations. It has done this by causing a steady decline in the value of Canadian credit in Britain.

Another Case in Which Dr. Hamilton's Pills Saved a Life That Physicians Despaired Of.

[St. John's Telegram.]

What a pitiful sight it is to see a handsome, able man being gradually robbed of good looks, health and ability to work. Such cases are frequent. One here described being that of E. P. Lascelles, a well known printer's supply man, residing in Hamilton. "About six months ago I began to notice a worn, tired feeling coming over me. I was unable to shake it off. It was not the fatigue that follows hard work—it was sort of an unaccountable laziness that assailed me. I was anxious to work but didn't have the energy. Something was dragging me down, robbing me of my health and spirits. I got tired of taking prescriptions that did me no good and used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Their action soon proved to me that I was suffering from a terribly congested liver and acute indigestion. Dr. Hamilton's Pills brought back my appetite, cured the heavy pain on my side and back, gave me a new grip on life. I gained in weight and now I am stronger, look better, work better than ever before I was taken sick."

If you want to get back the vigor and spirit of youth, if you want the sparkle and robust health on your cheeks—use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They cleanse, purify, tone, strengthen—make the sick well, give the grand medicine a faithful trial, 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, of The Catarrhose Company, Kingston, Ont.

A GLANCE FORWARD

Chicago Hopes to Have Five Millions by 1940.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Chicago will have a population of 5,000,000 in the year 1940, according to an estimate by Francis A. Eastman, city statistician, in his city manual for the current year, just issued. The estimate is based on the gradual increases of population for the last few decades. Of the 2,572,835 residents of the city the report sets forth that 693,554 are Americans or persons whose parents are not foreign-born. The Germans rank second, with a population of 361,708, the Irish third, with a population of 240,569. Next come the Poles, with 173,409; the Swedes, with 143,307; the Russians, with 123,238 and Bohemians, with 116,549. Thirty other foreign countries are all below the 100,000 mark. The Chinese population is 1,801, the Japanese 257. The Albanians are the lowest, with a population of 39.

HAIL WRECKS TOWN

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—A hailstorm of extraordinary violence, followed almost immediately by a cloud-burst, has caused enormous damage near Nicolaieff, Russia.

Three persons, a woman and two children, were drowned in a cellar dwelling before they could be rescued, and the low-lying part of the town was flooded to a depth of three feet.

A number of young men, especially school children, were seriously hurt by the hailstones, which were fully as large as pigeon eggs, and here and there of still greater dimensions and weight.

All the orchards and fruit-gardens, as well as a great mass of all kinds of trees, which line every street were destroyed or smashed within half an hour. The long and descending road to the port was for a considerable time a swiftly-running stream carrying an immense mass of all kinds of debris into the harbor basin.

Tramway traffic is stopped, as in many places the metals are underwashed to a depth of five and six feet. The wholesale destruction of window-pane glass gives the houses in many streets the appearance of having been riddled with rifle-fire. There is scarcely a square foot of glass left in the extensive conservatories at the Admiral-Governor's palace.

Did $400 Damage to Ties on Sunday Afternoon—Round-house Fence Ablaze.

The firemen had a run to the Grand Trunk in the East End Sunday afternoon. The first was to the lumber yard near Eglinton street. Some ties had become ignited in some manner and before the flames could be put out a couple of cars of ties were destroyed. The loss was $400. The fire is supposed to have been started by boys or tramps.

A short time after the fence at the round-house caught fire from a spark. The flames were extinguished by the chemical with little loss.

If the reporter would come to the barn he would show him how the accident happened.

Where the Accident Occurred.
The stable is rather a peculiar one. Just inside the door and on the east side of the barn are four stalls. Asked if he had any objection to a stall in a large box-stall, in which the stallion is kept.

Boy Left Door Open.
Mr. Jenkins said he thought that in the morning when the boy had watered and fed the stallion he must have left the catch of the door unfastened. He supposed his wife had been in the stable looking about for eggs, and the stallion had rushed out and trampled her.

Furnished Photos.
Mr. Jenkins was asked if he could furnish a photo of his wife, and said there was one at the house.

Woman Terribly Injured.
Mr. J. C. Elliott, who has charge of the funeral arrangements, was at the house, and stated that Mr. Jenkins came down to see him on Friday afternoon, a little after 1.

Where the Body Lay.
Mr. Jenkins was seen again, and asked regarding the picture of his wife, and at once got his daughter to get it. Upon request he also furnished one of himself.

Will Not Resign Because Real Estate Have "Resolved" That They Should.

THEY WILL CONTINUE
Chairman Jones and Commissioner Darch Do Not Appear To Be At All Worried Over the Matter.

Too Much Expense.
In the second place they consider it would be putting the city to unnecessary expense to hold an election at this time of the year. There are only a few months more and then the citizens will have an opportunity of electing two members, possibly three of the board of water.

Mr. Darch Speaks.
"I have no intention of resigning," said Commissioner Darch. "When the people say they have enough of me, I will be content to drop out. I am the servant of the whole people, not of a section, and I do not think I am called upon to resign because the association they should be."

Chairman Jones, Too.
Chairman Jones will also continue in office until the end of his term, but it is not likely that he will again seek re-election.

Mr. Jenkins was there and I saw the horse in the yard. He said it must have got out and trampled her.

Mr. McNaughton came a little after and we lifted Mrs. Jenkins up to carry her into the house. We thought it would be better to keep her out on the side verandah, however, and did not take her in.
