FEDERAL CABINET CALLED TO MEET ON CIVIC HOLIDAY

Members To Hear Appeal On Equalization of Rail Freight Rates. REOPEN DISCUSSION

Western Provincial Premiers to Confer on the Question of National Resources.

Special to The Advertiser. Ottawa, July 31.—Members of the cabinet who are absent from the city have been notified to be in attendance at council on Monday next, when a series of cabinet meetings will be commenced for the purpose of clearing up a number of important matters. In addition to the general government business, the council will hear the appeal from the railway commission in connection with the equalization of freight rates across the mountains. Various counsel will be present, and the hearing of the appeal promises to occupy a considerable length of time.

Western provincial premiers will arrive during the week to re-open negotiations with the federal government regarding the question of national resources. The last conference on this subject fell short of bringing about an agreement, the result being a virtual deadlock and no common basis as between the three provinces being reached. The question will first be discussed in cabinet council. In the meantime, it is suggested that Alberta be granted her resources, but forfeit the present subsidy in lieu thereof, and that Saskatchewan and Manitoba retain their subsidy, in addition to their remaining resources, but that there be no accounting with respect to those already alienated.

CALL CABINET MEETING. Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 31.—A meeting of the cabinet council has been called for Monday next, although it is Civic Holiday in Ottawa. This will be the opening meeting of what is anticipated will be a busy week in council.

There are also appointments pending to the senate, as auditor-general, successor to the late Dr. G. R. G. Rutherford, on the Dominion railway corporation, and a successor to the late Walter Watson, on the exchequer court. It is anticipated also that the council will name the royal commission, which is to investigate the pulpwood situation in Canada.

BRITISH MINISTERS WILL DECIDE TODAY Action Considered Imperative at Early Date as Cuno Government Expected to Fall. Associated Press Despatch. London, July 31.—An important decision regarding Great Britain's policy toward her French and Belgian allies in the matter of reparations was expected to be the outcome of the cabinet meeting which began this morning.

What the cabinet had to decide was whether Great Britain would accede to France's request for additional information regarding the British proposal, thereby involving further delays, or whether the British government should assume the responsibility of negotiating direct with Germany without the approval of France or Belgium.

It was pointed out in British official circles that the German government was finding itself surrounded by ever-growing difficulties, and that it was possible that before Great Britain, France and Belgium could agree on a uniform policy the Cuno government might fall.

ADVISES PROSECUTORS TO STUDY ACT CLOSELY Bayly Recommends Against Court Action Unless Law Deliberately Violated. Toronto, July 31.—Edward Bayly, K.C., deputy attorney-general of Ontario, has written the following letter to the crown attorney's office of the province regarding the betting information act and prohibitory amendments to it. "Dear Sir—Most newspaper publishers and some other affected have expressed an intention to co-operate with the government in securing respect for these acts, and requests have been made to submit papers to the department for approval. For obvious reasons, the department cannot assume this responsibility.

It is, however, undesirable that unnecessary information should be laid before a prosecution taken place against publishers who are observing the law. I desire, therefore, to impress upon you the necessity of your making a careful distinction between publications that are in conformity with the law and those that are not, and your going over the publications very carefully before advising that prosecution be launched.

"Crown attorneys throughout the province should consider each case on its merits, that the evil which the betting information act aims at may be eradicated without an undue number of prosecutions. It must be remembered that papers may in one issue conform to the law, and in another violate it, so that constant scrutiny will be necessary from time to time with regard to various publications offered for sale.

Where either of these acts are being violated, particularly where there is a flagrant disregard for the provisions of the law, it is desired that not only the prosecution shall be actively pressed, but that the constant violation shall be prosecuted for each offense.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO SEE BOXERS BEING WEIGHED

New York Athletic Commission in Lachine General Hospital Agree To Allow Spectators To See Scales.

WILL BANISH DOUBT Protest Voiced Regarding the Secrecy of Weighing in Benny Leonard.

By FAIR PLAY. Special to The Advertiser. Copyright. New York, July 31.—Chairman Muldoon's suggestion with regard to the weighing in of champions at the headquarters of the New York Athletic Commission, will probably be accepted by the former wrestler's conferees on the board. Newspapermen will be admitted to the weighing—a selected number that is to say, also responsible persons associated with bouts will also watch the scales. Personally the writer would like to be present when Benny Leonard is weighed for his next battle. This is not to say he will not tip the scales within the limit of his class, but the writer would like to see for himself.

If Leonard does weigh at the limit all his scheming about having the critics see him upon the scales will disappear. In recent times there is always that element of mystery about his weighing in that may lead to suspicion. When he came to Boyle's Thirty Acres last year to weigh in for Lew Tender, a number of newspaper men were present, but club officials and boxing solons took him down an aisle, closed it off, and then had the weighing done. "Why? Two years ago the night he fought Rocky Kansas in Harrison, N. J. he refused to weigh in as stipulated at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of that fight. He came to the scales that evening, scales were brought in and he had a private weighing. At Philadelphia when he fought Alex. Hawk it is stated he did not weigh in at all, and upon the day of the Tender bout recently newspapermen were not admitted to the weighing in. So all this time he writes columns in praise of Benny, and then evidently are not good enough to be admitted to the sacred ceremony of weighing in.

Shade had been given recognition as the champion by the commission after the suspension of Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, N.J., who won the title from Jack Britton.

Shortly afterwards, it is alleged, he robbed a fur store at Banff and was arrested at Moose Jaw, Sask., but before police officers reached there to bring him back he broke jail and escaped across the international border.

During the last five years Connell is alleged to have shot and killed three sheriffs in the United States. He has been apprehended a number of times, but has always shot his way to liberty. He will be kept in the United States to stand trial for murder, as he is not wanted here on that charge.

WILL RUSH PAVEMENT ON RICHMOND STREET

Every Effort Will Be Made To Have It Completed Before Winter.

The London Street Railway Company will expend every effort to complete the new Richmond street pavement before the snow flies, General Manager C. B. King assures. Preparations for this undertaking continue, and this morning the manager conferred with City Engineer Near in this connection.

Mr. King explains that he has registered inquiries for steel required on this project, and a definite report is anticipated shortly. He insists, however, that the company is just as anxious as the aldermen or the general public to see this work concluded before the winter.

WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT RICHMOND ST. PAVING

Ald. Edmund Hayden Thinks
Some Council Members Are Trying To Put Something Over.

Ald. Edmund Hayden senses that there are members of the city council who are trying to get away with something for their ward, regardless of the wishes of others, and he proposes to find out at tonight's session of the board of works just what authority is vested with the members of the special transportation commission.

"By what right, does the transportation commission recommend laying of a new pavement on Richmond street before Oxford street?" he asked today, and he adds that he will have an answer to them. "They have no right to pass on that. Absolutely not. Some of those fellows evidently think that the rest of us are asleep at the switch. I don't want to cause any trouble, but I'm not going to let them put it over me that way."

"If they had come to me and shown me why the Richmond street job should be started first I'd be the first one to say 'go ahead.' But when they go at it this way I'm certainly going to look after my end of it. Although I won't disregard the wishes of the majority, it seems as though a few of these fellows are just determined to fight for the street in their ward."

JULY BUILDING RECORD EXCEEDS ALL PREVIOUS

Figures from January $600,000 Greater Than Same Period of 1922.

As anticipated several days ago, London's building record for July exceeds all previous records, and all totals for other years have been smashed beyond recognition. The record to date from Jan. 1 is nearly $600,000 greater than during the corresponding period of 1922.

From Jan. 1, 1923, until July 31, building and alteration permits have been issued at the city hall for work estimated at $2,244,540, as compared with $1,653,850 in 1922.

The July, 1923, record stands at $359,615, as against $287,555 for July, 1922.

As many as 65 private dwellings were commenced in London during the past month.

August 10.

All lovers of pugilism and the time-honored game of boxing will have chance during Old Home Week to witness an excellent program of boxing bouts that are to be staged at the Grand Opera House on Friday, Aug. 10.

Although the sports committee of the Old Boys Association thought the staging of a boxing bout during Old Home Week would be an unsatisfactory enterprise, private individuals have made arrangements to hold a fight between two of the best-known glove wielders of the province. Eber of Hamilton and Mack of Toronto are to be the participants in the Aspic combat.

Preliminaries will be held prior to the main bout between Eber and Mack, and lesser lights of the boxing world will be brought to the city to take part in these events.

BOTTLE OF LIQUOR IS CAUGHT ON THE FLY

Port Alma Man Is Surprised
by Provincial Officer's Dexterity.

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, July 30.—Just why he threw a bottle of liquor out of his house at Port Alma when prohibition enforcement officers paid him a surprise visit on Saturday afternoon last will be a ticklish question for Austin Bowers of that place when he faces trial in the Blenheim police court tomorrow. Bowers is alleged to have sold liquor to Jack Hearn of Cedar Springs, who was recently convicted on driving his car while intoxicated.

Prohibition enforcement officers sometimes have to adopt different methods of visiting houses under suspicion, so when approaching Bower's home at Port Alma they decided to separate. Inspector Side took the front entrance, while Provincial Constable Lowe took the rear. Before he took up his position at the rear Lowe saw Bowers step to a back window of the house and hurl an object outside. Lowe put up both hands and caught the object, which proved to be a bottle of good liquor. Hearn, who has just completed serving his term in the county jail, will have to face a charge tomorrow, that of consuming liquor in a public place.

Fourteen poultry culling demonstrations have been held on various farms in Perth County last week under the supervision of M. C. McPhail, the district representative. Mr. Francis of the O. A. C. Guelph was the demonstrator and the results were very good. A total of 1,360 birds was handled, and of this number 311 were found to be culled. This is about 22 per cent of the total number examined, and the percentage ran from 8 to 45 per cent in the various flocks.

GARDEN PARTY PROCEEDS TO BE APPLIED TO RECTORY

Special to The Advertiser.
Clandeboye, July 30.—In spite of threatening showers on Friday, a good crowd attended the garden party of Christ Church at the home of Wes. Maguire, 2nd concession, McGillivray. Rev. T. F. Whealen of Alisa Craig acted as chairman during the program, which was largely musical. Mrs. Penwarden of Central and Charles Hagar of McGillivray gave a number of vocal selections, and the former acted as accompanist for several other singers, whose numbers were greatly appreciated. Charlotte Lackie of Lucan was the elocutionist of the occasion and gave some splendid selections. The money obtained from the entertainment will be used

PRESIDENT HARDING DEVELOPS PNEUMONIA

Announce Plan To Readjust Assets of Standard Bank

U. S. PRESIDENT'S CONDITIONS NOW REGARDED 'GRAVE'

Harding Develops Symptoms of Broncho-Pneumonia
During Night.

OUTCOME DOUBTFUL

Head of American Government Is Battling For His Life.

Associated Press Despatch.
San Francisco, July 31.—
Definite indications of the improvement in the condition of President Harding were contained in an official bulletin issued today by the attending physicians.
"The president had a fairly comfortable night, with considerably less restful sleep."
His temperature at 9 a.m. is 100, pulse 120, respiration 40 and regular. There has been no expansion of the pneumonia area and the heart action is definitely improved.
"Nourishment and fluids are being taken regularly. Elimination is satisfactory."
"He expresses himself as feeling better and less exhausted."
(Signed) "C. C. Sawyer, M.D."
"Rayman Wilbur, M.D."
"C. M. Cooper, M.D."

Associated Press Despatch.
San Francisco, July 31.—President Harding is fighting the greatest battle of his career—a struggle in which his life is at stake.

Arrived again, him are broncho-pneumonia, symptoms of which were discovered by the attending physicians late last night, and also danger of other complications. Arrived in his favor are his calm determination and the hopes and prayers of a nation.

None of the attending physicians will predict the outcome, although all are optimistic. It was learned that Mr. Harding dropped off to sleep shortly after midnight, and was still asleep more than seven hours later. A bulletin issued late last night contained the first announcement that President Harding had developed in the right lung, although a statement given out several hours previously had spoken of evidence of some congestion in one lung.
It also conveyed the first authoritative information that his condition had turned from "serious" to "grave."

Another favorable statement was that his temperature was coming about constant at 101 degrees, even though his pulse continued at about 125, as compared with his normal of 80, and his respiration was about 44.
None was more faithful at the president's bedside than Mrs. Harding, who, since the executive was brought here Sunday morning, has obtained little sleep or rest. Gen.
Sawyer said that Mrs. Harding was standing the strain well, adding that she was of the type "who is best under fire."

Hundreds of telegrams are being received from every state in the union, and from many foreign countries. Parliaments in England, France and the names signed to the messages included leaders in the Democratic as well as the Republican army.
Gifts of flowers have been about as numerous as written messages.
The president's five physicians gathered in his sick room early today to mark the progress of the battle.

From their morning examination of the president, and subsequent consultation with the attending physicians, would tell a waiting nation whether Mr. Harding, aided by agencies of science, was winning.
A bulletin on the president's condition was promised as early as conditions in the sick room would permit.

President Cheerful.
This bulletin, it was expected, would show whether the broncho-pneumonia was progressing.

ONE OF LONDON'S NEW FIRE TRUCKS.
Two of these fine trucks are now ready for delivery to the London fire department. The one shown above was photographed this morning. The trucks will find homes in Nos. 4 and 5 fire stations, and will be put into service at once.

Fire Department To Soon Be Completely Motorized

Last of City's Horses Drawn Fire Fighting Equipment Will Disappear Before End of Year, Declares Mayor Wenige—
But One Piece of Apparatus Is Horses Drawn.

Before the end of 1923 London will have a complete motorized fire department, Mayor Wenige announced today.

"There is but one more piece of apparatus to be motorized," he explained, "and that is the aerial truck at the central station, and we'll have that motorized before the end of the year. The day of horse-drawn fire equipment has passed."

ADD NEW FIRE TRUCKS TO CITY DEPARTMENT

Two Vehicles Are Installed at Numbers 4 and 5 Halls.

Two new Ruggles motor trucks have been added to the city fire department. The vehicles were completely equipped this morning at Terry's Garage and driven to No. 4 and No. 5 fire halls.

They were taken for a trial drive about the city, and at the completion of the trip were pronounced by Fire Chief John Aiken to be in excellent condition to meet the requirements of the department.

The chassis of the new trucks were manufactured by the Ruggles Truck Company of this city, and fitted out with the equipment of the horse and chemical wagons. The trucks will be placed in No. 4 and No. 5 stations, and will bring the motor strength of the department up to six trucks.
The new trucks are capable of attaining a speed of 25 to 30 miles per hour.

CUSTOMS AND EXCISE REVENUE INCREASING

Ottawa, July 31.—There has been an increase of over seventeen million dollars in the customs and excise revenue of the dominion for the four months of the current fiscal year, which ends today, according to returns available at the department here. For the month of July alone, the increase over last July was over three millions. The largest part of the increase is in the revenue from the sales tax and other excise taxes.

EXPECT TRIAL OF DELORME TO BE HELD IN NOVEMBER

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, July 31.—That the Delorme hearing will not be heard at the September sittings of the court of king's bench is now probable, in view of the heavy docket of cases which were delayed by the famous murder case at the June sessions.
The likelihood is now that the rehearing will not be held before November.

TWENTY-SEVEN ARE KILLED IN GERMAN COLLISION

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, July 31.—Twenty-seven persons are reported killed and 25 injured in a collision today between the Hamburg-Munich express and a stationary train at Kremsen station, near Cassel.

POLL LIGHT VOTE IN BY-ELECTION IN CAPE BRETON

Ideal Weather Conditions Prevail For Contest in Nova Scotia.

RESULT TO BE CLOSE

Majority Predict Government Candidate, Mr. Kelly, Will Be Winner.

Canadian Press Despatch.
North Sydney, N. S., July 31.—
Ideal weather conditions prevailed when the polls opened this morning in the Cape Breton North and Victoria by-election contest. The air was moderately warm, and the sky slightly overcast with light clouds, but became threatening before noon.
The vote polled in the first few hours in the towns was very light, but it was expected that the heavier part of the voting would be in before 3 o'clock in North Sydney, and that the polling at Sydney Mines would not show much fluctuation during the day.
Today all parties are of the opinion that the contest is likely to be a close one, but even at this late hour none is able to make any estimate with regard to how the vote will divide, and the most encouraging sign for the government candidate is that the chance for a large majority vote strongly in favor of Mr. Kelly than either Mr.

TOWNSHIP TO BUILD 20 MILES HYDRO LINE

Work Beginning in Ten Days Estimated To Cost
$40,000.

Work on the most important part of London Township's 1923 hydro extension program, namely, the construction of twenty miles of new lines, will commence in about ten days, township officials announced this morning. It is estimated that the project will cost about $40,000.
The four lines to be constructed are: Dundas street east to the fourth road; the fourth road west to the road to Muller Bros. farm; west to Hyde Park, and northeast to White's farm, concessions four and five.
Preliminary details for the work have been under consideration for a year or more, and the authorities feel now that the time is opportune for actual construction work to be started.

By far the greater majority of farmers living along the roads, on which the lines are to be built are anxiously awaiting the time when they can light their homes and do most of the farm work with hydro, and a considerable number already have their houses wired ready for connections to be made with the power line. All the residents are being notified by the township officers in this city to wire their homes as quickly as possible and so save an unnecessary delay when the hydro men are ready to install the power.

HANG NEGRO AT WACO.

Associated Press Despatch.
Waco, Tex., July 31.—Roy Mitchell, negro, was hanged in the county jail
here today for the murder of Mrs.
Ethel Denecamp and W. E. Holt, her companion, in a Waco park last January.

SENTENCE HAMILTON MAN FOR RESISTING ARREST

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, July 31.—Oscar Fournier now serving terms of one year for stealing an automobile and six months for theft, was sentenced to each of two charges—resisting arrest and assaulting Constable Ghent.
Fournier, on reaching here from Guelph with a stolen automobile on the night of May 20, was stopped by the officer. Fournier showed fight and pressed a revolver against the officer's chest, but was himself shot through the hand in the scramble that followed. The two sentences will run concurrently.

FAIL TO FIND BOMBERS OF SYDNEY WATER MAIN

Canadian Press Despatch.
Sydney, N. S., July 31.—Up to noon today no arrests have been made in connection with the Monday morning bomb outrage, which the water lines of the British Empire Steel Corporation steel plant were cut, and the mill equipment placed in danger for several hours.

TORONTO COURT REMANDS THREE IN FUR ROBBERY

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Ont., July 31.—Sam
Malonsky, Joseph Madget and David Walsh, the three men arrested in connection with the big fur robbery on Yonge street, appeared for a second time in the police court today after hearing the evidence of one witness, they were remanded until Tuesday, August 2.
The crown consented to $2,000 bail for Malonsky. The other two are held in custody.

BANK DIRECTORS TO ADJUST ASSETS FROM RESERVES

Standard Bank Officials Announce Plan To Meet the Financial Situation.

STEP COMMENDED

Will Place Institution in Absolutely Sound Position and Inspire Confidence.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, July 31.—The directors of the Standard Bank of Canada issued the following statement this afternoon:
"The board of directors of the Standard Bank of Canada, in a notice going forward to shareholders, announced a plan for a readjustment of the assets of the bank. The advisability of carrying out the plan has been suggested by the continuation of the business and agricultural depression which has so severely affected the operations and standing of some of the customers of the bank."

Draw on Reserves.
"In order to effectively meet the situation the directors recommend drawing on the large reserves of the bank for an amount of $1,250,000 and suggest further the creation of a contingent fund of $1,000,000. The bank will then have a reserve of $2,750,000, a contingent fund of $1,000,000, and a paid-up capital of $4,000,000.

As regards the dividend policy, the board suggests that future distributions should be on the more conservative basis of 12 per cent in place of the present 14 per cent, and that any additional distribution should take the form of bonuses from time to time.
"In banking circles this action on the part of the bank, which places it in an absolutely sound position, has been very strongly commended and will tend to inspire confidence in our Canadian banking system."

W. Francis, president of the bank, announced the appointment of N. L.
McLeod to the position of general manager of the bank, succeeding C.
E. Eason, chief executive, who had requested permission to retire. Announcement is also made that Norman C. Stephens and G. N. Brown have been appointed assistant general managers.

The new general manager has been in the service of the Standard Bank for many years during which time he has occupied several positions of importance, including that of western superintendent and latterly as an executive officer at the head office.

LONG DISTANCE SWIMMER TO TRY ERIE TRIP TODAY

Associated Press Despatch.
Cleveland, Ohio, July 31.—Carbis
A. Walker, who was forced to postpone his swim across Lake Erie yesterday because of a defect in the steering gear of a powerboat which was to have accompanied him, was ready to make the attempt today, water and weather conditions permitting.
Walker has obtained another boat and plans to strike out from Point
Pelee, Ont., late this afternoon.

FIND 2-MONTHS-OLD BABE IN ABANDONED MOTOR CAR

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, July 31.—Last night police found a two-months-old child in an abandoned automobile on Catharine street. The car bore a New York license number. There were no marks on the child's clothing that would lead to its identification, and it was taken to the Home of the Friendless and Infants' Home.

GERMAN CABINET ADOPTS INCREASE OF TAXATION

Associated Press Despatch.
Berlin, July 31.—The German cabinet today adopted a number of taxation measures. The bills provide for a 100 per cent increase in the income tax to meet the expenditure necessitated by the occupation of the Rhineland and the Ruhr. "The trading companies must pay a heavily increased corporation tax for the same purpose. These taxes will not be levied on occupied territory. The beer tax will be increased."

WITHDRAW ALL TROOPS FROM GLACE BAY AREA

Canadian Press Despatch.
Sydney, N. S., July 31.—All troops have now been withdrawn from Glace Bay and reserve, where they were sent during the coal strike, to Sydney, but since Sunday night no further detachments have left for the mainland.

Arrests on various charges connected with the close picking of the mines and steel plant in the early years of the strike continue to be made in some numbers.

WILL DISSOLVE DAIL.

Associated Press Despatch.
Dublin, July 31.—President Cosgrave announced yesterday that the dissolution of the Dail would probably take place this week.

MARK TWAIN'S HOME BURNS.
Stormfield, the beautiful country home near Redding, Conn., now is but a pile of charred ruins. For fire destroyed the mansion in which Samuel J. Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, spent the declining years of his life, causing a $175,000 loss. Mrs. Margaret E. Givens, New York, and her son and daughter, Eben and Thelma, narrowly escaped death in the blaze.

MAYOR BELIEVES CIVIC SURVEYS WILL BE BENEFIT

Confident Dr. Britain's Findings Will Give Satisfaction to Everyone.

SUGGEST AGE LIMIT

Mayor Wenige is confident today that the "surveys" of the police and fire departments will prove quite satisfactory; even to those members of the city council who have questioned the advisability of these undertakings, and went as far as to charge that their colleagues were merely "getting out from under" a distasteful duty.

Findings Are Accurate.

"Everyone will be quite surprised as to the accuracy of the findings when submitted by Dr. Britain and the members of his staff," the mayor stated today. "In any event, the report will pave the way perhaps for certain changes of administration in both departments that will be, in my opinion, for the general betterment of the community and to the general satisfaction of the ratepayers."

It is generally understood in municipal circles, although the mayor declines to commit himself on this point, that the experts will recommend the inauguration of an age limit for all municipal departments. This has long been urged among the civic legislators, but no definite action has been apparent until this year.

There has been considerable discussion in this connection among the aldermen, prompted more or less by certain superannuations that were deemed expedient since the first of the term, and the opinion was strongly expressed by members of the council that the time has come for the inauguration of a definite scheme of retirement. In this way all civic employees would know for years to come that they would leave the city's service when they reached a certain age, and they could govern themselves accordingly. There would be no sudden superannuations.

Suggest 65-Year Limit.

That 65 years of age should be set as the limit has been already suggested by individual members of the council, and the impression is uppermost that in the event that Dr. Brittain and his associates recommend an age limit, the council will move speedily to act accordingly.

Oldest London Old Boy To Get "Freedom of City"

Mayor Wenige Has Large Wooden Key Prepared, Suitably Inscribed For Presentation to Visitor as Memorial of Happy Event.

Mayor Wenige is engineering one of the many distinctive touches which are counted upon to a great extent to make a huge success of Old Boys' Week.
The mayor has had made a huge wooden key. This, with the freedom of the city, he will present to the oldest of all the old boys who return to the city for the reunion week.
The key is substantial enough, over a foot long. It will be nicely finished and bear a fitting inscription.

OPPOSE ATTEMPT TO AGAIN CONFINED PRIEST IN ASYLUM

Intervention of the Attorney-General Forecast If Tetrault Takes Action.

PROPOSAL IS UNFAIR

Claim Is Made as Delorme Tried For Murder Is Considered Sane.

Special to The Advertiser.
Quebec, July 31.—Intervention of the attorney-general is forecasted in official circles here in the event of an attempt being made by Mr. Tetrault, curator of Abbe Delorme's estate, to re-incarcerate the latter to the asylum as mentally unfit. The attorney-general would in such case bring forth that the abbe has been released from St. Michael's Asylum, Beauport, on a certificate issued by Dr. Brochu, the superintendent of the asylum, to the lieutenant-governor, on whose warrant the abbe was held. This certificate was to the effect that according to observation made, Abbe Delorme could no longer be held in the asylum, and was suffering prejudice. This was the legal means provided for in the statutes so as to allow the accused to stand trial.

Entitled to Trial.

The trial having been conducted without a verdict resulting, the attorney-general will contend that any delay is entitled to get a new trial, and that until then his incarceration would be unfair and contrary to the principles of justice.

As the admission of Abbe Delorme to an asylum would have to be approved by the provincial secretary and by the lieutenant-governor, who on the 3rd of May last ordered his release, it is practically impossible that such course could ever be successful.

On behalf of the accused priest,
Mr. Allyn Taschereau, K.C., will also oppose this move—in fact, not only opposition will be made, but a petition will be presented within a fortnight before the civil court in Montreal to obtain the repeal of the interdiction. The petition will refer to the fact that the criminal court having allowed a man to stand trial for murder, and declared him legally capable of such, he is now entitled also to the right to administer his estate.

Delorme Guaranteed Costs.

It is understood that while the trial was on, Abbe Delorme has taken up on himself to guarantee by mortgage part of the heavy costs of his defence, and that should the interdiction not be repealed, the estate will be called upon to make good for this obligation in view of the special nature of the debt.

SOVIET THREATENS WRANGLER RELIEF SHIP

Notifies H. Noice Vessel Will Be Seized If Demands Not Fulfilled.

Associated Press Despatch.
Nome, Alaska, July 31.—Harold Noice, head of the expedition to Wrangell Island for the relief of Alan Crawford and his party, marooned here since 1920, has been advised of an announcement by the soviet authorities at East Cape, Siberia, that unless his ship, the Donaldson, calls at Petropavlovsk for proper clearance and also at East Cape for a permit to land, the vessel will be confiscated.

NEWARK TROLLEY MEN BALLOT TO GO ON STRIKE

Associated Press Despatch.
Newark, N. J., July 31.—The strike vote of motormen, shopmen and conductors of the Newark lines of the public service railway company, tabulated early today, showed that out of approximately 1,500 voters, 1,429 were for the strike and 31 were against.

IGNORANT OF RETURN OF TROOPS TO LONDON

Headquarters Staff Unaware of When Soldiers Will Return From Sydney.

The militia headquarters' office at Wolsley Barracks has received no information as yet concerning the probable date of the return of the R. C. R. units, which went to Sydney, N. S., at the outbreak of the miners' strike in Cape Breton.
That the men will return shortly is understood, but the officers questioned in General King's absence, say they know nothing as to what arrangements have been made for the return of the troops and the date of their arrival at the barracks is a mystery to the headquarters' staff here.

TRAPPED BY FLOOD WATERS TWO MEN ARE DROWNED

Associated Press Despatch.
Punxsutawney Pa., July 31.—
Trapped by the flood waters of Plum Creek, which left its course and poured down the slope of the Rinn-Sutter coal mine, 17 miles from here, Emil Johnson, Ed. Gustafson and Gus Carlson, miners, were drowned last night.

Mr. Fielding's Unique Record.

There was something wholesome in the remarks of Hon. W. S. Fielding when he was congratulated by the leaders of all political parties on being appointed to the Imperial Privy Council. He said in part:

"I appreciate more deeply than words can express the great kindness which is shown to me today by members of the House. Politics has its troubles, its trials and its strife; but it has its pleasant side, and it is always a pleasure for me to think that amidst the hard fighting of politics—and I have had my share—I have always had the happy fortune of enjoying pleasant relations with the men who have differed from me, as well as with those who have given me loyal support. I think it is quite possible to fight one's battles in an honorable way, to do the right thing for your own side, believing you are doing it for the country, and at the same time win the respect and confidence even of those who differ from you."

Mr. Fielding is a good type of party man. He has his convictions, deep-set and substantial, and he fights for them fearlessly and against all comers. In an election or on the floor of the House he is a hard man to tackle; he hits hard and straight, and when he bends his bow there is no mistake as to the direction taken by the shaft. Yet through it all he has retained the respect, and something almost approaching the affection of his adversaries. He does this because he has never come down to small politics; he argues and fights on issues rather than against persons; he probably realizes that there are good men and good ideas outside the household of his own political faith.

So it is that at the age of 75, and with a record of service extending over 41 years, Mr. Fielding hears the approval of his political friends and enemies. He has helped much toward putting Canadian politics on a high plane.

Abusing the Day of Rest.

Monday morning brings in its record of week-end accidents. Here's a driver with four young women in his car, crashing through closed gates, only to be smashed to pieces by an onrushing train.

From reports already counted there were 29 killed at railway crossings alone in United States on Sunday, to say nothing of the accidents in other parts of the republic.

The country is paying a terrific price for its Sunday and week-end fling.

Sunday was never set aside for this or any similar purpose. It is the rest day of the week, made so because men are so constituted that they need that one day in seven.

The same Creator who fashioned the human frame made the regulations that it was necessary for it to rest one day in seven.

We are moving quickly away from a sane and helpful use of that great institution, the Lord's Day, and what a price we are paying for it!

We've Heard These Things Before.

Reports from Atlanta City tell of meetings of non-union operators, union miners and union operators.

Already "statements" are starting to come from that place. One says that the present plan is to mine only a little coal from the union fields, and operate the non-union sections to the limit.

By tomorrow there will be another statement issued denying this, and claiming that the miners are planning some sort of a scheme to run the industry.

Coal buyers have seen this same performance before. They know the motions fairly well now, and are prepared to hear that a strike has been declared, or that the price of coal has been advanced.

Another report will probably come later saying that there will be a shortage of coal this winter.

It may be that we have too high regard for the power or office of governments, but the question naturally comes to the surface, "Has the government of United States say in this matter?"

The government represents the people; in the last analysis it could be shown that those great coal deposits of United States were put there for the good of the people.

It is certain that a creating Providence never planted or placed them in order that two sets of men should fight over them, or that any one set of men should grow wealthy while all the others grow cold.

Government intervention might raise a cry of state socialism or something awful like that; experts would be on hand to explain that mining and transportation is a delicate and yet a great machine, and that the government touch or intervention would wreck the whole thing.

Allow for all these horrible sayings, and yet the fact remains that government intervention, on behalf of the people, could not possibly bring about a worse condition than the people have to face each and every winter under the present ownership and control. It might even be much better.

The Listowel Editor Knows How.

The editor of the Listowel Banner tells the world that he, with the family and a tent, has gone to Bruce Beach. Tent has been pitched, the editor says the bathing is good and also that there are so many preachers up there that it is referred to as the "Holy City."

An item in his paper announces that it will be published as usual this week, and notifies friends to drop in with pieces of news so that the wheels may be kept turning.

That's a good plan. The editor leaves town to live in a tent at the "Holy City," and calls upon the community to fill up the paper for him.

Br'er Blatchford of the Listowel Banner is one of the few men who have solved the problem of existence.

Scores the Idea of More War.

A meeting was held in Berlin on Wednesday, July 18, for the purpose of urging that Germany should go into the League of Nations.

Strange as it may seem, speeches in favor of such a move were made by several of the generals of the late war, one of whom referred to the folly of war, stating he had learned "that it is better and more reasonable if nations try to agree with each other instead of cracking each other's skulls."

General von Disming, referring to Germany's position now, made a bitter attack on those who are urging war on France, saying:

"It is sheer lunacy to think of fighting with pistols and rifles against heavy artillery, tanks and aeroplanes. A new war would turn Germany into one heap of ruins. Those who are now most daring with their mouths were furthest behind the lines during the great war."

The motive of this general's plea is open to question, but his conclusion is not bad. He would not fight because Germany has only pistols and rifles against French artillery and planes.

It is urged that a nation strong in arms of all branches is safe because none will challenge her; in the case of Germany the point seems to come to the surface that a nation stripped of these things is not apt to fight or to want to fight. Taking away the arms seems to be a more simple operation for a no-war period than arming to the teeth.

Where Real Wealth Comes From.

Canada's wealth is being created by sheaves of wheat coming from the binder.

Germany's wealth is coming in sheaves of paper money from the printing press.

Canada's wheat wealth is recognized in any of the markets of the world.

Germany's wealth is not recognized in any of the markets, not even her own.

The top six inches of the soil is a greater producer of real wealth than the top six feet of a printing press.

A Chance to Win Their Men.

The danger of the breakdown of the strike in Sydney is that it will be heard now for the workers there to get a careful hearing of their case.

They have had bad leadership. They have listened to men who pound the capitalist and point to the day when the workers themselves shall rise and take possession of the means of production.

These leaders are leading in an impossible direction, and comforting as their strong words and drastic ideas may be, they are headed for the discard.

It is not possible to believe that the workers in the coal and steel industries around Sydney have no grievances. Despite the radical groups, whose business and aim it is to be dissatisfied and keep others in the same state, there are thousands there who are reasonable men who could not be twisted around the finger of any leader.

Enough has come to the surface about the hours worked and the money earned to show that there is room and reason for a careful presentation of the case of these men.

Such action should not be prejudiced by the harm done by the insanity of the leadership of the now deposed labor rulers.

Instead, the employers of coal miners and steel mill men should see in the present situation a chance to go in and create such fair conditions that a repetition of the late disaster would be out of the question.

If they act quickly enough and large-heartedly enough they have a chance to slam the door in the face of the agitators.

Note and Comment.

A Brooklyn court has ordered that a parent has the right to spank his child. Otherwise, why did they ever build woodsheds?

There are over a billion trees in British Columbia, and the Vancouver Province says that anyone doubting the statement can count them.

The London Daily Mail says that the come-back of the crinoline skirt would be a sad handicap to the race of women. Yes, it would cease to be a race.

Ex-Premier Drury says he has been offered several seats. But there's apt to be some old politician around who wants to play at that old game of kicking over the chair before he sits down.

When Richmond street gets a new pavement and a new set of street car rails from Fullarton to Oxford, it will not know itself. At present it has the wobbliest rails and the holiest road in the city.

What a streak of luck that the much-wanted car in Toronto should have been marooned with black muggers. Now all who said it was marooned and all who said it was black can add, "I told you so."

The Winnipeg Free Press claims that through the harvesting of the western crop $10,000,000 will be put into circulation in the form of wages to harvesters. The railroads will receive a nice portion of that for taking the harvesters west and east.

Some professor is out with the theory that a dream takes only a couple of minutes. All of which is nonsense. Does he mean that a man can run for a train, miss it, get up on a high building, fall off it, and then get hit with a street car all in two minutes? It can't be done.

Here is an item from the Peoria, Ill., Star: "The fire department soon arrived, but, having left behind some necessary chemicals, they had to go back for them. When they returned the fire had been put out without their assistance."

If that happened here in London we would certainly have an investigation.

THE DELORME TRIAL HERO.

(From the Hamilton Herald)

R. L. Calder, K.C., crown prosecutor, has emerged from the Delorme trial a truly heroic figure. His zeal and skill in conducting the case for the crown wrung unwilling admiration even from his opponents. He performed that service at a cost that may turn out to be his very life. Here is how he described his condition in the course of a five-hour address to the jury:

"May I tell you that I also have been to a large extent troubled with anxieties and have undergone something in the cause of justice. I may have successfully camouflaged it from you, but from the day I appeared before you to examine witnesses and try to keep my temper, I did so with a temperature ranging from 102 to 104. You are going back to your homes after this trial. I am going to the hospital to be operated on. On the 3rd and 4th of July I had 104 degrees of temperature, and they found me delirious in the night. It was necessary we should go through with it, and the strength was given me to go through with it."

"I understand, gentlemen, I understand, my friends, with your profound respect for all that pertains to the Roman Catholic Church, your horror to have before you a priest accused of a vile, hideous crime," said Sir Francis Lemieux, the trial judge, in addressing the jury. With much greater force these words apply to the learned crown prosecutor, who was, as he told the jury Saturday, brought up to the jury. The jurors were performing a duty from which they could not escape. The crown prosecutor could easily have escaped a duty that he must have accepted with sickening repugnance. All he had to do was to furnish his physician's certificate. Instead, although causing what may prove a fatal delay of an operation, he has spent several weeks of most strenuous and exacting work in a most oppressive atmosphere, weakened and consumed by fever, to do what he considered his duty.

"You are going back to your homes after this trial," he wistfully remarked to the jurors, but he is going straight to the hospital to submit himself to the surgeon's knife, and will undergo an operation from which he has made his recovery doubtful by spending his weakened and pain-racked body in performing the duties of his office.

BRavery's TEST.
I have suffered thirst on deserts;
I've been shipwrecked on the sea;
I've been peppered by explosives
From a grim artillery;
I have gone through famine, fever;
But never did I feel
The fear I had out driving
With a woman at the wheel.

I had always been courageous,
Laughed at death when death close lurked;
All my share and more of danger
I will never dodge or shirk;
But once sitting in a motor
More I knew than common fear,
When a woman just beside me,
Took the wheel and tried to steer.

I will stand before machine guns;
I will go through fire and mud;
I'll expose uncharted islands,
I will risk last drops of blood;
I will chase a snake that rattles,
I will eat the tiger's meat,
But I won't ride when a woman
Occupies the driver's seat.

People living in our apartment houses complain that their neighbors don't know apartment etiquette. For their benefit the following rules are offered gratis:

If your neighbor's ice cream is delivered to your door, you should tip the boy who brings it.

When you happen to flood the bath-room send the neighbor below a large blotter.

If your clothesline crosses your neighbor's drawing-room always wait until her reception day before hanging out the washing.

If a letter that doesn't belong to you gets in your box, do not keep it more than a week, even if it is a very entertaining letter.

If your best flower pot falls from your ninth floor window and breaks the second floor tenant's head, do not send the bill for damages until after the funeral.

Having sent flowers in advance, so to speak, it is unnecessary to repeat the rite.

When you speak the bay, always turn on the photograph.

HINTS TO REPORTERS.

A reporter of long experience on the Hickville Hypocrite gives the following advice to beginners:

Never call the sun the sun. Call it "Ole Sol."

Do not call rain rain. Jupiter Pluvius is the right expression.

Refer to all policemen as "ministers of the law."

Youngsters or kids should always be called "kiddies."

Never say "poor weather." Say "the inclemency of the elements."

Call a man a man, but always refer to woman as "lady."

Silence may often be golden, and yet sometimes it spells quit.

France should realize that it cannot make Germany cough up by choking it.

Reformers seem to think they cannot play the game without raising the anti.

The years are kind to the reaching hills
That strive to touch the sky.
The years are kind to the mountain rills
Where mirrored clouds drift by.

The years are kind to the lonely trees
That lift their arms to God.
The years are kind to the winds that tease
The swaying golden rod.

The years are kind that mark your ways
Of beauty and of truth,
But kindest to your eager gaze
Where flames unconquered youth!

The Guide Post—By Henry van Dyke

A SHEPHERD IN PALESTINE.

I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep.—St. John x, 11.

This saying of Jesus and the Twenty-Third Psalm go together. In order to understand them fully we need, first of all, to remember how different is the life of a shepherd in Syria from that of his brother in England or America; and how much closer is the tie which binds him to his helpless charge in a wild, unsettled country, where robbers and fierce beasts abound, than it can possibly be among the peaceful hill-pastures of Vermont, or in the smooth meadows of a city park.

Here you shall see the sheep left to take care of themselves, or driven about from one feeding ground to another by a man who seems to be little more than a policeman to them.

But in Palestine I have seen many a shepherd acting as the "guide, philosopher, and friend" of his flock.

He must think where he can find, amid the drought of burning summer, the narrow strip of herbage on which they can feed, and the unfailing springs where they can drink.

He must be ready to rescue them from the fury of mountain torrents when they rise in flood.

He must guard them against the attacks of wild animals, as he leads them through the black cliffs of the hills, where the shadows of rocks and bushes hide the crouching forms of death.

He does not drive them; he leads them, and calls them to follow him. He must be prepared to evade or repel the crafty assaults of brigands who will not hesitate to kill him in order to carry away his sheep.

I have read lately of a faithful man, between Tiberias and Tabar, who "actually fought three Bedouin robbers until he was cut to pieces by their knives, and laid down his life among the sheep he was defending."

TO THE EDITOR.

Every Man Must Answer.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—Will you please allow me space in your paper to say a word in regard to what is termed the Lord's Day and the ministers' union?

When Almighty God created the world, the sea, and all that therein is, he rested from his labors.

Through his beloved rest, he handed it down to all creation, and named that Great Day the Sabbath—

not man's day—termed Sunday. It would seem that those we look to to know most know least, or else we are kept in darkness by those who claim to know the whole Bible and its contents. Why should a man call himself a minister if he can't shed

the true light on his flock, after passing through a college for three or four years, and scanning over every book of the ages which relate to the creation and all its principles? Did he not learn that he was following in the tenets of the old Roman doctrine portrayed by Pope Gregory the Great, our calendar maker, with what aid he could get from the Jews of his day, thereby terming it the Gregorian Julian Calendar? Therefore,

why does it behoove these ministers' union to get up in a pulpit and make themselves hideous denouncing somebody or something they seem to know nothing about. I am not a minister, or a Bible student,

but one who believes that water cleanses seven days as well as six, let it be in the bath tub, river, or lake. How does it come we have to depend on man for everything and God for nothing? What is man, that thou art mindful of him? Why cannot every day be the Sabbath?

That was God's purpose, but man changed all, and a few denounce all, even to making bathing a criminal offence; but every one of us will give an account of himself.

CIVIC HOLIDAY TRAVEL.

Civic Holiday always affords an excellent opportunity for those wishing to make a week-end trip.

Anticipating heavy travel, the Canadian Pacific Railway is placing extra equipment on its trains over the week-end, thus insuring its patrons the same comfort that is always to be had on its trains.

Your Health: Here Are More Facts About Your Emergency Kit.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

Yesterday I told you about the drugs which should be found in every home and industrial plant. Today I will speak of other things which should be included in the emergency kit.

There should be a jar or tube of "burn ointment." This is a 3 per cent mixture of bicarbonate of soda in vaseline. After any burn from heat, from acid or from electricity, the parts having been cleansed, should be smeared with this ointment. Then squares of gauze should be placed over the burned place and held in position by a bandage.

A teaspoon and several paper cups should be found in the outfit. The spoon is used to give the medicine and cups may be employed as little basins to hold the fluids needed in dressing a wound.

A medicine glass, marked with the liquid measurements, will be useful at times. Two or three medicine droppers are needed, one, one, one, will be useful on many occasions. In closing wounds or keeping dressings in place the plaster will be found invaluable.

Absorbent cotton, a two-ounce package, should be in the kit. There should be at least half a dozen rolls of bandages, one, two or three-inch widths. If these are five or ten-yard lengths, you will always have plenty of bandage material for any emergency.

Several packages of gauze, six inches wide and several yards long, should be included. This material is an important part of any surgical dressing.

A piece of flannel, two or three feet square, will be very useful if hot applications are demanded. It can be used, too, as a sling if necessary. It will be well, also, to have a triangular piece of cloth, the size of a large napkin, for use as a sling in case of a broken arm.

A dozen safety pins of varying size will be useful to fasten the bandages. A tourniquet is required to control bleeding. For this purpose, a piece of small rope, twin or a specially-made rubber binder may be used. There are several very simple devices of this sort to be had at drug stores and surgical supply houses. Of course the rope or twine tied about the limb, above the bleeding vessel, and twisted tight by a piece of wood inserted under the string, will do the work, but the specially-made tourniquet has a fastener to hold it when once applied.

A pair of scissors to cut the bandages and gauze, and a pair of simple forceps will complete the equipment. All these things should be kept in one place. If they are in a box or basket or curiously tucked away in the place where they are needed.

Your Home Town

What causes the Scotsmen's eye to kindle when he hears the accent of a brither exile?

It's the home-town feeling.

The voice tells its own story. It carries him back home. All the longings, be they for the purple hills, the green fields or the murky streets of a city, are quickened. The sympathy between speaker and listener becomes complete.

Remember, when your thoughts drift back to your home town and its people, that many old friends who would like to hear your voice are listed in the telephone directories.

Long Distance will take you back. Station-to-Station evening and night rates make it inexpensive.

CONVICTS NEWSBOY IN RACING FORM CASE

FINDS NEWSBOY GUILTY, DEFERS IMPOSING A FINE

SOLD "RACING FORM"

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, July 31.—The test case regarding the sale of racing forms on the streets of Hamilton in alleged contravention of the amended act covering the publication of the information in Ontario was tried this morning before Magistrate Jelfs. Phil Strausman, one of the newsboys handing the publication known as the Racing Form, which is published in Buffalo, was the defendant. T. J. Agar, K.C., of Toronto, was counsel for defence.

His worship found Strausman guilty and was about to impose a fine of $500 when asked by Mr. Agar to reserve judgment on several points and to give him a stated case when finally handing down his judgment. The magistrate is considering this request.

Says Act Unconstitutional.
Oscar J. Drimally said that he was the editor and publisher of the Racing Form in Buffalo and sent his publication to Hamilton for sale on the streets. He said that he had issued the forms in their altered condition so as to conform with the regulations recently imposed by the attorney-general's department, and that he had followed the advice and instructions of his attorney in doing so, and that it was on the publication of his knowledge that he had offered the forms for sale on the streets. It was so arranged this morning that one of the new forms was sold to Detective Crocker so that the case might go on and be disposed of.

Mr. Agar explained at some length the objections of the Dominion authorities as well as the provincial authorities to the publication of racing forms in the Dominion and that while it was not the wish of his client to break the law, it was his wish to have clearly established just what was considered "betting information" enabling the individual to select and place money as bets on race horses at the tracks.

Claims Intent the Same.
Mr. Agar considered the advised statutes ultra vires and unconstitutional. Those were two points that the attorney desired the magistrate to consider. The third was whether he merited description of the performance of a horse at any race course should be considered "betting information" any more than the description and history of any human being as an athlete could be said to be information for the purpose of placing a bet on the outcome of a future contest.

As to whether the act was ultra vires or not, the magistrate refused to deal with that point. He scored the whole system of betting on races and the incentive to those who were prone to bet as one of the greatest curses of the age.

"This sheet, known as the Racing Form, is solely and clearly for the single purpose of disseminating racing information," was the opinion of Magistrate Jelfs. "It does not contain the slightest news of any other happening, and that is sufficient to me that it is for the one purpose only and that the descriptions of the horses that appear on the racing form in other races is proof to me that it still serves the purpose of giving desired information to those who want to bet on the races, although the information is not such a complete form as formerly."

BOYS WHO STOLE AUTO GIVEN A YEAR IN JAIL

Fred Taylor and Kenneth Wilmoth Had Admitted Recent Theft of Motor Car.

One year in the common jail was the sentence imposed on Fred Taylor, 17, and Kenneth Wilmoth, 16, for the theft of a motor car, when they appeared in police court today. Last week they admitted they had taken an auto, parked in front of Patricia Theatre, and had gone to Chatham for a joy ride. They returned to London and abandoned the car on Campbell street.

Magistrate Graydon remarked that it was with a great deal of reluctance and pain that he imposed sentence, but pointed out that the law was strict so far as the theft of motor cars was concerned. The minimum penalty is one year in the common jail, with no provision for suspending sentence, he explained.

LET'S IMAGINATION GO WILD OVER MURRELL

Story of Perfumed Letter and Hunger Strike Without Foundation.

There is still one newspaper which persists in "faking" sob-sister stories on a man held as a bandit, slayer and jail-breaker.

Yesterday the paper carried a story to the effect that Sidney Murrell, held on a murder charge in the Middlesex county jail, had received a "dainty" perfumed letter from his sweet-heart in California. The prisoner is reported to have riveted his gaze on the delightful missive during the better part of an hour.

According to the story, the letter is purported to have borne the cancellation mark of a California postoffice. As a matter of fact, the letter in question came from Toronto, from friends of the Murrell family. Murrell has received no mail from California.

And despite the fact that the "sob" story says so, Murrell has not gone without food two days. Governor Byron Dawson does not allow hunger strikes in his institution.

WILL PRESENT CLAIMS TO U. S.

representatives put forward for reparations. A conference on the terms of payment will be held in the near future, after the German officials have studied the claims.

London, July 31.—The prospect of another winter with a million and a quarter men unemployed is alarming the government. Another winter like the last one would destroy the Conservative party and let the Socialists in. Constructive policy is needed. Re- lief schemes merely drain the country of its capital without bringing a permanent solution into sight. Cabinet ministers and leaders of big business, vie with each other in uttering dire warnings of the difficulties of the coming winter.

Pessimism Displayed.
It is unusual for such pessimism to be displayed in public, but the explanation is that there is an aim to create an atmosphere for very unorthodox remedies. These two remedies are in plain words, protection and inflation. Protection will take the form of an imperial preference if the dominions indicate their willingness to reciprocate adequately at the forthcoming conference.

Inflation will take the form of subsidized loans for capital developments. Local authorities are being encouraged to borrow money for re- venue producing public utilities like electricity and transportation works by the offer of the government to pay half interest charges. The same offer is being made to private companies with franchises for public utilities.

Will Submit Report.
It is likely that British capital will be offered for great development works in the dominions. Negotiations on this point are now taking place between the British and dominion governments. It may be remembered that Bonar Law expressed willingness to expend a hundred million pounds on the empire development. The premier offers of financial help to dominions take various forms. One is a government guarantee to be responsible for payment interest on loans raised in the London market, with condition that the main portion of proceeds be spent on the purchase of British products. The other is a government guarantee to be responsible for payment interest on loans raised in the London market, with condition that the main portion of proceeds be spent on the purchase of British products.

The Hall girl returned alone to Sarnia Saturday morning, and when questioned by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor she disclosed no knowledge of Roslean's whereabouts.

CLAIM CORDITE USED TO DESTROY SYDNEY PIPE LINE

Police Declare Only Expert Could Have Blown Up Water Mains.

BLAME STRIKERS

Special to The Advertiser.

Sydney, N. S., July 31.—Coinciding with the despatch of the first unit of troops from Sydney successful attempts were made to blow up the water mains which supply the British Empire Steel plant. So well did the criminals accomplish their work that every one of the giant conduits which carry water to the works was partially destroyed.

Engineered by Strikers.
Police and officials are confident that the plot was engineered by striking steel workers although efforts to trace the miscreants had not been successful up to a late hour last night.

Late Monday afternoon an official of B. E. S. Co. reported that the Grand Lake pipe line had been repaired, and was again in operation and it is expected that early today the Sydney River plant would be getting water into the works.

Throughout the day and early morning the company office staff, assisted by the night and day shifts of workmen, strained at the task of getting enough water to the furnaces to keep them from destruction. The coke ovens cooled off materially and at one period it was feared they might cave in, so rapid was the decrease in temperature.

What small operations had been under way have been stopped altogether for the time being, and it will be several days before the mills will be going at anything like capacity.

The wreck of the water mains was caused by the dropping of heavy charges of cordite into manholes at points where the explosions were most damage. It is held that only an expert could have done the work so thoroughly. One perhaps who has been service in France in the great war.

During the day all sorts of weird stories were in circulation concerning the explosion and its causes. Last night both company officials and police are satisfied that the strikers' sabotage of the plant was the cause of the explosion. The explosion was caused by the strikers' sabotage of the plant. ### Hartley Phillips Puts a Proposition Before Juliet Divine Concerning Miles Sheridan and the Plot Thickens

WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY:

Who's Who in the Story.
Terence Desmond, (Terry)—Exquisite and convent-reared, unbelievably innocent, is forced to work as a cashier in his father's roadhouse while Juliet Divine, the stage name of her beautiful half-sister, whom Terry has not seen for years, lives like a princess and talks vaguely of a millionaire.
Juliet Divine, the stage name of her beautiful half-sister, whom Terry has not seen for years, lives like a princess and talks vaguely of a millionaire.
Terence Desmond, (Terry)—Exquisite and convent-reared, unbelievably innocent, is forced to work as a cashier in his father's roadhouse while Juliet Divine, the stage name of her beautiful half-sister, whom Terry has not seen for years, lives like a princess and talks vaguely of a millionaire.
Mrs. MacNichols owns Silverwood, the estate of which Desmond was caretaker.
Betty Sheridan, her granddaughter, whose rudeness, to Terry the latter will never forget, is the wife of Miles Sheridan, handsome and likable, who when Terry was a child furnished the money to send her to the convent, partly to atone for his wife's rudeness. To Terry he is always "the prince."
Eustace Nazio, a wealthy Greek unscrupulous with women, is impressed by Terry's beauty and her resemblance to Juliet Divine, the famous stage beauty. He invites her to go for an auto ride and on the way to New York he kisses her.
While Nazio is arranging for a private dining-room at the hotel, Terry slips away. Nazio is furious.
Terry takes a taxi to her sister's apartment, and begs the maid to let her see Juliet.
Hartley Phillips, a member of New York's four hundred, is calling on Julia and Terry has to wait. Phillips announces that he wants Julia to do a favor for Miles Sheridan.

CHAPTER XVI.

A Doubtful Compliment.
"Oh!" breathed Julia. She sat up straighter among her cushions. But she had spent enough time on the stage to call herself an actress, and she didn't show her slightest emotions unless she chose.
Her thought traveled back, upon a road seven years long. She had heard all about the adventure of the broken-down motor car, and the "Prince's" generosity to "Cinderella," his name for Terry. Also she had often seen Mrs. Miles Sheridan's name in the society columns since the wedding before the war.
She had been interested because of the link with old Mrs. Parmalee and Silverwood. But "Oh!" was the only word she spoke.
"Sheridan and his wife haven't hit it off very well together," Phillips continued. "I'd like to tell you a few things about that connection. Miss Divine, if I can do so in strict confidence, I must say I've always heard you spoken of as a thoroughly good sport, a person with whom one could be—safe."
"By giving up a few weeks of your valuable time to—scheme I want to propose to my friend, you would earn—become possessed of—a large sum of money."
Julia smiled faintly. She had the secret pleasure of knowing that she would very soon "become possessed" (as this man put it, in his floundering attempt to save her feelings) of so very large a sum that never need trouble about earning another dollar.
She meant to spring this fact upon Hartley Phillips by and by, but—even though poor little Terry awaited her—she was enjoying the situation too much to end it quite yet. "How large a sum?" she asked lazily.
"What do you call large?" Phillips hedged.
"A hundred thousand dollars isn't—to be sneezed at."
"Good heavens! I should think not!" The man stiffened. "I'm not talking in any such figures as that, my dear pretty lady. Ten thousand dollars, or—(seeing the beautiful face harden)—possibly twice that sum—would be the limit."
"And what am I to do for you, or your friend, for twenty thousand dollars?" Julia coolly wanted to know.
Phillips hesitated. "The money's absolutely yours for the taking," he prefaced. Then added sharply, "Will you treat what I said as strictly confidential?"
"I will," promised Julia, her intense curiosity triumphing over the temptation to snub the "grand gentleman."
"Very well, then, I'll trust you. My great friend, Miles Sheridan—whom I've known since I was a big boy and he was a little one—is in heavy trouble. He's the best fellow in the world, and his wife ought to be devoted to him."
"But she's been spoiled—had too much of her own way all her life, and since her marriage she's lost her head."
"Deceived her hubby?" Julia drawled. It pleased her to hear of women in a world apart from hers, who "went wrong," "kicked over the traces."
"Well, yes, I'm afraid she did."
"Was it that Italian, Prince di Silvano, who came over on some military mission after he got wounded in the war, and liked America so much he's been playing around ever since?" Julia coolly wanted to know.
Hartley Phillips dared not order the impertinent mix to mind her own business. "I dare say you've heard some gossip," he admitted. "But Mrs. Sheridan's conduct is neither here nor there—between us. It's Sheridan I came to talk about. He—"
"I've happened to meet the prince,"

that's all." Julia broke in, looking reminiscent. "Awfully handsome fellow. Rather fascinating. I don't much blame Mrs. Sheridan."

"Sheridan is handsome and fascinating, too. In his different way," Phillips hurried on.
"Ah, but a husband!"
"Yes," drily. "That was against him. Anyhow, he doesn't want his wife talked about more than she has been, if he can help it."

"Her grandmother, Mrs. Parmalee, who brought her up, was good to him when he was a boy and he promised the old lady on her deathbed, I believe, that he'd always stand between the girl and trouble. What he wants is to give Mrs. Sheridan cause to get a divorce from him."

"I begin to see light!" said Julia. "The big idea is for me to flirt with him. Well, that might have appealed to me once, but it doesn't now. I have my own reasons. I'm not taking any thanks!"

"You don't understand what I mean yet," Phillips argued with flattering eagerness. "I'll tell you exactly what I do mean, without beating round the bush. Sheridan has a steam yacht. She's named after the old place where he used to stay as a boy—Mrs. Parmalee's place—'Silverwood.' He bought her to please his wife who thought she'd fancy yachting, but she hates it like poison."

"All the same, Silverwood's a fine craft, warranted not to make the worst sailor seasick. If you'll take a trip with Miles Sheridan, stopping at several well-known ports en route, where there'll be plenty of people who know you both by sight, not only will you be paid twenty thousand dollars, half in advance if you like, but you'll be safe from—from what you called 'flirtation.'"

"Mr. Sheridan wants to have everyone talk about the trip, and he wants to be seen about with you. But apart from appearances, he won't have anything to do with you, Miss Divine. Frankly, the less he sees of you the better."

"Oh, indeed!" Julia said. She had enhanced her complexion a little—a very little—with powder and rouge for the last four or five years, but she flushed so hotly at Mr. Phillips' "frankness" that her natural color burned through the false roses.
"Oh, indeed!" Mr. Miles Sheridan paid me a beautiful compliment! I wonder you had the cheek to come and make such a proposition! And I don't wonder he didn't care to come himself!"

On Lying

The way SOME WOMEN LIE
Would make ANY man
Sit up.
The modern woman
Lies very GRACEFULLY
And without compunction.
In cases of DIRE necessity,
Men also have been known
To lie.
But, on the whole,
They DON'T do it very well.
Because, at heart,
They don't ENJOY it
As much as women,
And SOMETIMES they stumble, Especially if it is A MARRIED lie.
For what sounded STRONG
On the doorstep,
Sounds WEAK in the bedroom;
Because the face of "THE WIFE"
Is STERNER than
The face of the door-knocker.
Also it seems harder
And makes more noise,
And the poor man thinks:
So this is HOME,
And wonders why
His ONLY thought
Had been to get there.

Danny Races for Safety When He Chances To See Black Pussy, Farmer Brown's Cat

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.
There is such a thing as being too safe. Yes, sir, there is such a thing as being too safe. It is a good thing to have to look out for danger at least once in a while. Those who don't have to are apt to forget that there is such a thing as danger.

This is the way it was with Danny Meadow Mouse. Since he and Nanny had made their home in the old scarecrow in Farmer Brown's cornfield, they hadn't been in danger once. Of course none of their enemies ever thought to look for them in such a place as that old scarecrow. So day after day, and night after night, they played about and went and came as they pleased. At first, Danny had kept a sharp watch for possible danger as he had been obliged to do all his life. But as the days went by he thought of danger less and less often, and finally not at all.

Early one morning he ran over to the Green Meadows which began just beyond the fence that bounded Farmer Brown's cornfield. Danny had gone to get his breakfast. He was busy eating a blade of grass when he happened to look behind him he saw the grass moving as if someone were creeping through it very softly. It was just pure good luck that Danny had looked back when he did. Through the grass stems he saw something black. It was Black Pussy the Cat from Farmer Brown's house.

Danny dropped his piece of grass and started to run. Black Pussy's ears just now caught the faint sound of Danny's footsteps, for instantly she sprang. She all but landed on Danny's short tail. Danny squeaked with fright, and my, my, my, how he did run! It didn't seem as if those short legs of his could move so fast.

Now it is probable that if the grass had been short I would have no more stories to write about Danny Meadow Mouse. But the grass was tall, and

"I've got to get there. I've got to get there," he kept saying over and over to himself as he ran.

He was so frightened to do anything but run. But he knew he must get to a safe hiding place soon. Then into his head popped the memory of that old tin can at the foot of a fence post on the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield. If he could reach that he would be safe.

Their Own Photograph Concert.

One Mother Says:
During the summer we keep our photograph on our shaded porch, where the children play it has their own photograph concert. It was a good deal of bother, however, to have them running to me to find records for them, as they were too young to read. They could not remember the names of the pieces, but designated them by "the one with the bells," or the "tunny one." I cut pictures from magazines (usually colored ones) that suggested the name of the record and pasted them in the center. For the "Spring Song," there was a cherry tree in blossom; for "The Soldier Chorus," a row of tiny soldiers. Now they select their own records without any trouble.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

THE BACK NUMBER.

By CORONA REMINGTON.

"Why, grandpa, you here!" exclaimed 18-year-old Elizabeth Wheeler, as her grandfather walked into the dining-room. "Thought this was your morning out," she went on to explain.
Old man MacNichols sat down at the breakfast table and tried to act naturally, but Elizabeth's keen, sympathetic eyes did not fail to notice that his hand shook as he raised the coffee cup to his lips.
Elizabeth's mother, hearing her father's voice, put a flushed face in the doorway leading from the kitchen and stared at the two.
Mr. MacNichols laughed nervously. "Fact is, children," he tried to speak lightly—"I'm a back number. Had to give up my job, breakfast the other day. 'Oh, grandpa!' came from both in a chorus."

"Why, why, you're the youngest man I know," said Elizabeth, springing up and putting her arms around her grandfather's shoulders. "I know, child. That's the way I feel, too; but the railroad says I'm old, and that settles it."
"Oh, oh, it's cruel!" Mrs. Wheeler cried out. "And you've been such a wonderful conductor. How could they do it?"

"It's life, Mary. We've got to face it." He tried to be philosophical and treat the matter lightly, but it was always a heavy little drag around her grandfather's shoulders.
"I'm not," said Mrs. Wheeler, looking at the matter and longed for her husband. "If only he were home, I'd know just what to say and do—he always did."

After breakfast Jim MacNichols, or Cap'n Jimmy, as he was affectionately called by his friends, went up to his room and stared at himself in the mirror. Was he old? Did he look old? There was a weary little drag about his mouth that he had never seen there before and a thousand wrinkles seemed to have appeared overnight.
Strange, he had never noticed all that before; those marks of age simply weren't there before. That was it, they were not lines of age, they were lines of discouragement. The railroad had practically told him that he was a back number—no good any more. Of course, that wasn't the way they had said it, far from it.

He had earned his rest, he had been a faithful servant and they were going to retire him on a pension. Those were the things they had written. But what was the difference? Words didn't always conceal thought.

As the days dragged by MacNichols grew more and more depressed. He wandered about the house hunting for something to do. He went hunting around Mrs. Wheeler in the kitchen and dry the dishes and try to pass the potatoes, but inwardly realized with disgust that she could do it all so much better than he.

Several times he slipped off uptown and tried to get a job, but nobody wanted him. He was too old. And he didn't know how to do anything except punch tickets and sign train orders.

He never told his family of his business pilgrimages nor of his gnawing unhappiness and discontent. It could only worry them and they couldn't remedy it. Besides, they would pity him the more. After all, it was a life cut with the old and on with the new.

ASK ARCHITECTS SEND PLANS FOR CITY HALL
Mayor Wenige Declares Every Movement Has Been Forward.

Preparations for a new city hall on the McCormick property continue despite threats of injunction proceedings. "Every move has been forward and not backward," Mayor Wenige declares.
At a special session of the city hall committee yesterday afternoon his worship moved, and it was seconded, that all local architects be invited to meet the members at another gathering set for Thursday, when rules for the competition of plans will be agreed to by all who propose to enter.
It will then be decided whether the city shall offer prizes, as is customary. Ald. Burdick, chairman, voiced objection to this scheme, maintaining that there should be but one prize only, and that prize would be the contract.
The city council has ruled that competitive plans must be sought, and Building Inspector Piper has been directed to notify all local firms that if they desire to compete their representatives must be in attendance on Thursday afternoon next.

THINK LABOR OFFICIALS WILL LOSE POSITIONS
Grievance Committee Believed To Have Reached Decision On Question.

The grievance committee of the trades and labor council met last night to conclude their deliberation on the matter of asking for the resignations of Secretary Fred Burke and Treasurer Young of the trades and labor council.
Just prior to the recent provincial election these officers gave an opinion in the press stating that they as members of the trades and labor council could not see their way clear to supporting Dr. H. Stevenson, London labor member in the Drury government.
At the first council meeting after the election the carpenters' and the stove mounters' unions gave notice that they were opposed to the action during the election by these officials, and stated that they would withdraw their delegates from the council if the resignations of these officers were not forthcoming.
The matter was discussed at the council meeting and was turned over to the grievance committee for a decision. Last night's meeting was the second discussion on this topic, and although nothing has as yet been given out for publication, a decision has been come to and will be delivered to the trades and labor council on Wednesday for that body to deal with.
Meanwhile the machinists' and the blacksmiths' and the boiler makers' unions have endorsed the stand taken by the carpenters and stove mounters, and in the face of this it is expected that nothing short of the removal of the officers in question can save the trades council from disruption if not disintegration.

URGES BETTERMENT OF CANADIAN TRADE
W. J. Boulton of Department of Interior Pays Visit To London.

A general internal betterment of the trade of Canadian manufacturers is the mission of W. J. Boulton of the natural resources intelligence bureau, a branch of the department of the interior, who is in London for the purpose of securing first-hand information as to the trade possibilities of London and the surrounding district.
The department which Mr. Boulton represents is a clearing-house for the disposal of information to manufacturers intending to locate in some new field in Canada. Heretofore it has secured its statistics from general sources, but of late has instituted a new policy, that of sending engineers out to cover certain areas and to work with the chambers of commerce in these districts in gathering information regarding individual communities.
The aim of the natural resources intelligence service is to relieve the prospective investor or manufacturer of delay and difficulty in obtaining all available data respecting natural resources.
"The trade of Canada must be bettered if we as a nation are to progress further," stated Mr. Boulton to the Advertiser last night. "Our export and import trade are in a highly promising condition, but the inter-provincial exchange of commodities can be greatly increased, and the consumption of this latter fact is the goal to which our department is striking."
Mr. Boulton will remain in London for two or three days before leaving to cover the district as far west as Sarnia and south to Windsor. It is his intention to visit each center of trade in the counties of Middlesex, Elgin, Kent, Lambton and Essex before autumn.

OFFICERS BEFRIEND BOY LOST FROM HOME

Lad With Pendant For Cake Finds Real Companions At Station.

After being lost from his home at 84 Empress avenue from eight o'clock yesterday morning until nine last night, during which time he conducted a pedestrian tour of a large part of the city and was finally returned to his home, a young boy, the officers, Howard Steels, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Steels, appeared none the worse for his adventure, and will always keep a warm place in his heart for the officers who befriended him in his plight.
About ten o'clock in the morning employees of a factory on Market street reported the youngster's presence in their plant. The police brought him to the station, and when dinner time came and no call had been received for him, the officers opened their various lunch boxes and laid out a meal for the lad, who set to with relish.
"You should be a policeman, go for the jelly roll I gave him," was the comment of one of the officers.

August Begins With Half-Holiday Sale Tomorrow

The sale of remnants throughout the store today is the climax for the month of July. Tomorrow we begin the month of August with a sale list for Wednesday morning. Last week we offered 250 dozen pieces of Dinnerware in open stock at about half price, and all were taken the first hour of the sale. We have made another purchase for tomorrow of about 1,800 pieces of similar pattern at about the same price—the patterns will almost match. These will be sold by the piece—not in sets. Buy just what you need in this sale. The sale of China and Towels will be the outstanding features tomorrow, and will be worth a special early effort.

1,841 Pieces Dinnerware At About Half Price

Another clearance from an importer of China; 1,841 pieces as listed below, giving the quantities in detail. A rose pattern embodied in very pretty design, almost the fac-simile of the line sold last week. You can pick out just the pieces you need and make up your cottage, breakfast or dinner sets. To avoid disappointment tomorrow no phone orders will be taken for the sale China as the quantities are limited in some lines. See these in the window today.

LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JULY 31, 1923.

PEOPLE TO VOTE AGAIN ON CITY HALL QUESTION

NEW CITY HALL LIKELY TO AGAIN GO TO PEOPLE AT DECEMBER ELECTION

Impossible Now To Start This Year, So Plebiscite Will Probably Be Taken Again To Remove Any Existing Misunderstandings as to Site.

MAYOR STILL SAYS WORK TO START SOON

The ratepayers of London may be asked again next December to elect a new city hall, according to Ald. Gordon Drake, who has been one of the mayor's strongest supporters in the fight to have the work commenced this summer. He voices the belief today that "but little else can be accomplished now, as time is passing, and it is too late to start construction."

"It will never be started this year," Ald. Drake says. "The work has been delayed around so long that they have killed all hope for construction in 1923. Now they are calling for a plebiscite, which will require at least two or three months, and that finishes it for this year."

"Had they allowed Building Inspector Piper to go ahead with the plans, as I urged, we would have made a start this summer. But that is all off now. We would have had the foundation in at least. But we can't even do that now. It is not unlikely that they will have to send the question to the people again in December and clear up for all time to come, the disputes as to where and when they want the hall and what money they choose to expend."

An Old Scrap.
The city hall scrap has featured every city administration since 1912, and this year has certainly been no exception. At the present moment Mayor Wenige has behind him a majority of the council who favor a start in 1923, while Ald. Drake, who now fears, however, that nothing can be done other than a preparation of plans for a start in 1924. But another vote of the people in December might upset all calculations.

In the meanwhile those who oppose the mayor's move present their solid front, and refuse to budge from their stand that no hall should even be commenced this year for many reasons: one of them being that the time is not opportune; a second being that there are not sufficient funds available, and a third is that the people have not stated definitely that they want the new building on the McCormick property. And they threaten injunction proceedings the very moment the Mayor or Wenige and his supporters direct actual construction work.

Mayor Still Hopes.

But Mayor Wenige refuses absolutely to be disheartened and insists today, in a more emphatic manner than before, that actual construction will be commenced, probably in September.

"The hall is going to be started," he declared, "and there is still plenty of time. The preliminary plans should be submitted to us by the competing architects by Sept. 1. I understand that this is possible, and the council has asked that this be observed, as a matter of fact, Ald. Leonard Douglass, who has been opposing us, moved to that effect at the last council session, and the council went on record supporting him."

"We start in 1923," concluded the mayor with his air of finality.

MEANS MORE BUSINESS FOR CANADIAN PORTS

Canadian Grain Shipments Are Diverted From American Channels.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, July 31.—A special despatch to the Wall Street Journal from Buffalo says: "Practically all shipments of Canadian grain from American ports have been diverted, at least temporarily, through the operation of Canada's new freight rate regulations on the great lakes. Grain men expect the belief that they will receive only the 'stop-over' of the Canadian grain harvest unless the Canadian parliament makes some adjustment of United States tariff. The opinion was supported strongly by vessel brokers and grain men of Duluth. There is every indication that shipments abroad through New York and Philadelphia will suffer and that Montreal will benefit."

The reason for this, the despatch adds, is that United States vessel owners decline to publish the terms of their charters as required by the new regulations and are refraining from seeking cargoes at Port William and Port Arthur.

ASSERTS FREE STATE WILL FULFILL PLEDGE

Michael MacWhite Advises League of Nations Ireland Will Back Up Promises.

Associated Press Despatch.
Geneva, July 31.—Michael MacWhite, Irish Free State representative at League of Nations headquarters, has notified the league that the Dail Eireann undoubtedly will pass the bill by which the Free State pledges herself to fulfill all her obligations in the league if she is elected to membership. The Free State also is preparing documents setting forth her position and responsibilities in the world as an independent state, Mr. MacWhite added.

The annual dues of Ireland as a member of the league would probably be about $50,000.

U.S. SECRETARY ENTERTAINS EX-PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE

Associated Press Despatch.
London, July 31.—Former Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain was entertained by James J. Davis, United States secretary of labor, and the members of the secretary's party this morning. Secretary Davis extended to Mr. Lloyd George an invitation to attend a meeting of the Welsh organization "Gorseu" in the United States this fall. The former premier said he wanted to go to America as soon as possible, but did not know when he would be able to leave England.

CAPT. MCCARTHY DENIES THREATENING U. S. CUTTER

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N. S., July 31.—Captain McCarthy of the Canadian schooner Thorndyke, which entered here yesterday as from St. Pierre, denies that the Thorndyke threatened the U. S. cutter Seminole with "lead" off the Jersey coast recently. He said the Seminole seized a motor launch which was alongside the Thorndyke and as the cutter was leaving the crew shouted some good-natured taunts.

FIRE IN TORONTO FOUNDRY CAUSES LOSS OF $10,000

Spectacular Blaze Is Confined to Plant After Hard Fight by Firemen.

MACHINERY LOST

Flames Seen at Early Hour This Morning Brought Hundreds to the Scene.

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, July 31.—A spectacular fire breaking out in the cupola of the Toronto Foundry Company at 1841 Davenport road, about 4:25 this morning, gutted the building, causing damage estimated by District Chief Bell of No. 7 West Toronto fire station, at $8,000 to the building and $4,000 to contents.

The flames, which broke skyward from the old one-story iron-clad building, could be seen for a long way from the scene of the fire, and it was at first thought that the fire was one which was spreading rapidly. The alarm was quickly answered by Chief Russell and District Chief Bell of No. 7 West Toronto fire station, and inside of half an hour the blaze was under control. The fire got under headway rapidly, and sweeping through the foundry, destroyed the roof and gutted the larger portion of the machinery and building, the large crane being completely wrecked.

The Toronto Foundry was one of the older foundries in West Toronto.

SASKATCHEWAN CROPS SUFFERING REVERSES

Hail, Rust and Many "Var-mints" Combine To Reduce Expected Output.

Regina, July 31.—The ninth crop report of the statistical bureau, department of agriculture, issued yesterday, shows that the hail, saw-fly, grasshoppers and rust have all taken their toll of the grain in the province, and consequently in many districts the rosier outlook of a few weeks ago has been somewhat dimmed.

Danger of rust is remarked upon by many of the reporting correspondents, but in no instance is it reported as very serious.

Rain is wanted in the central district, the Tugaska correspondent reporting it to be "badly needed."

Cutting will be general in the province from two to three weeks. After a few meetings, all the councillors saw the necessity of Iderton having a more elaborate station, and it was without opposition that the decision to procure two new engines was reached. Iderton has an engine at present, but it is an old model.

The equipment to be added, while small in size, is nevertheless modern in every detail and is efficient enough to fight a small fire and prevent its spreading. The engines will probably be ready for use within the next few weeks, it is stated.

London Old Boys Attend British Columbia Picnic

Third Annual Outing Results in Formation of the London and Middlesex "Old Boys' Association."

Duncan, British Columbia, may be represented here Old Boys' Week by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fleming. Former Londoners now in that district are keenly interested in the old home and each year they stage a reunion of former residents of London and district.

The following extract from the Duncan paper was received from Miss Alice Fleming, secretary of the association in Duncan and tells of their third annual outing, recently held.

The third annual re-union, in Cowichan of former residents of London, Ontario, took the form of a most enjoyable picnic at the Kokshah river on Wednesday of last week.

In addition to the usual picnic lunch and supper, a program of sports was run off which added to the fun of the outing. The winners of the events were:

Flat race, Miss Willa Robson and Ralph Lansdell, tied. Married men's race, Rev. Bryce Wallace. Three-legged race, Misses Hazel Henderson and Willa Robson. Three-legged race, ladies, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Hightest. Paper race, 1 R. Lansdell, 2 Rev. J. R. Hewitt. Children's paper race, 1 Hazel Henderson, 2 Mabel Lansdell. Clothespin race, Miss Olive Fleming. Feather race, 1 Mrs. Robson, 2 Mrs. Baker, 3 Mrs. Ash. Yard race, Miss Willa Robson. Animal race, 1 Della Fleming and Mabel Lansdell, 2 Hope Robson and Olive Fleming. Ball throwing, 1 Della Fleming, 2 Willa Robson. Ball throwing, men, Ralph Lansdell. Throwing horseshoe, 1 Miss Willa Robson and Rev. J. R. Hewitt. Defeated Miss D. Fleming and Rev. Bryce Wallace, 2 Mrs. Baker and Rev. Bryce Wallace, 3 Mrs. Baker and Rev. Bryce Wallace.

NEW FIRE ENGINES FOR VILLAGE OF ILDETON

Two Chemical Engines To Be Purchased and Delivered at Once.

Feeling, after the realistic lesson set by the Alisa Craig fire a few months ago, that the Iderton police village is without adequate protection should a blaze of any dimensions break out in the district, the village authorities have decided to purchase two additional chemical fire engines to add to the present equipment. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $1,000.

Shortly after the Alisa Craig conflagration certain of the councillors pointed out that in the event of a fire breaking out in Iderton the chances were decidedly against the blaze being checked by the old-fashioned apparatus owned at that time. The view was also held that if Alisa Craig had possessed a piece of up-to-date, though not necessarily costly, fire-fighting equipment the fire might have been checked.

After a few meetings, all the councillors saw the necessity of Iderton having a more elaborate station, and it was without opposition that the decision to procure two new engines was reached. Iderton has an engine at present, but it is an old model. The equipment to be added, while small in size, is nevertheless modern in every detail and is efficient enough to fight a small fire and prevent its spreading. The engines will probably be ready for use within the next few weeks, it is stated.

ENGLISH MURDERER LOSES PLEA FOR LIFE

Alex. Mason To Pay Penalty For Slaying Taxi Driver in Brixton.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, July 31.—The appeal of Alexander Campbell Mason, who on July 29 was found guilty of the murder of Jacob Dickey, and was sentenced to death, was dismissed today, and Mason will be executed.

Mason is 22 years old. Dickey was a taxi driver, and was shot down by Mason after an altercation as to the fare the latter should pay him. The case being generally known as the Brixton taxi murder, Mason, in the witness box at his trial admitted that he had been convicted in Ontario for housebreaking and sentenced to a three-year term in prison. He also admitted that he had been arrested by the Canadian navy during the war.

LAST DAY FOR TENDERS.
Secretary W. A. Tanner of the board of education says that this is the last day on which tenders will be received for the purchase of the cottages on the Trafalgar street property which was purchased by the board of education. There are still several cottages which are not covered by tender, only six tenders having reached the secretary's office up to noon today.

MARYLAND FLOOD PASSES ITS PEAK, WATERS RECEDE

Exceedingly Heavy Damage to Property West and Northwest of Baltimore.

HUNDREDS HOMELESS

Plants Flooded, Machinery Is Wrecked and Miles of Railway Tracks Torn Up.

Associated Press Despatch.
Baltimore, Md., July 31.—After causing exceedingly heavy damage to property, the flood which swept the counties west and northwest of Baltimore reached its crest early this morning and slowly started to recede. The flood was caused by cloudbursts and a series of thunderstorms, causing the Patuxent River to overflow its banks and slowly started to recede. The flood was caused by cloudbursts and a series of thunderstorms, causing the Patuxent River to overflow its banks and slowly started to recede. The flood was caused by cloudbursts and a series of thunderstorms, causing the Patuxent River to overflow its banks and slowly started to recede.

In addition to those forced to abandon their homes, others who sought refuge on upper floors had to be rescued by neighbors.

Barns and live stock were swept away in the swiftly flowing current. Mills and power plants were flooded and their machinery wrecked. Whole sections of railroad tracks were torn up and whirled away.

REUNION BOOK JUST OUT IS REAL WORK OF ART

Brand New Edition From Hayden Press Tells of City's History and Advantages.

A new and pretentious book that should find every favor with Londoners and former Londoners has just come off the press for circulation throughout the city. It is the London Old Boys' Reunion edition produced by the Hayden Press.

Never in past history has such a complete, finely bound and informative volume dealing with this city been published. Including the advertising, the book has 200 pages, and each is artistically printed on coated paper. Illustrations of London's beauty spots, manufacturing buildings, together with sections of the city of particular interest to boys and citizens alike, adorn its pages. An outline of London's history from its foundation by Peter McGregor, well written and full of information, is contained in the edition. Special articles by civic officials intimately acquainted with the various departments of London combine to make the book one of the most interesting and readable ever produced by any city, regardless of size.

In presenting the London Old Boys' Association with the book, Ed. Hayden, proprietor of the Hayden Press, has made a permanent contribution to the pleasure of Londoners for all time. No expense was spared in making it complete and extraordinarily artistic. More than 200 illustrations and numerous articles which tell the tale of the city's progress are to be found in the volume.

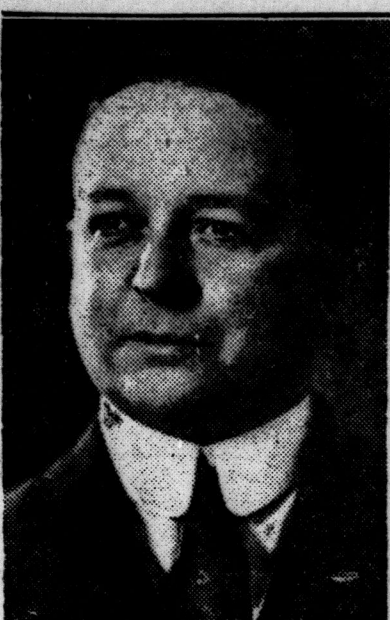

About 5,000 copies of the edition will be distributed during old boys' week. The cover is of Spanish leather and gives an appearance of luxury that would make it a distinct acquisition to any library.

A delightful touch is to be seen on opening the book at the frontispiece. It shows the well-known done in three colors, depicting a gentleman of the old days being greeted by his wife and family.

URGES SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS BE CALLED

Associated Press Despatch.
Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—President Harding was urged to call an extra session of Congress without delay to deal with agricultural problems affecting the nation at a conference of four northwestern senators here yesterday.

The senators agreed that an extra session should be called at once, but declined to put forward no plan for fixing the price of wheat or taking the surplus. It set forth that the condition of agriculture and the national calamity, and that only an extraordinary session of congress can avert the calamity.

BUSY MAN THESE DAYS.

Upon the shoulders of Ed. Smith, general secretary of the London Old Boys' Association, has fallen much of the work in connection with next week's celebration. Mr. Smith is of the opinion that next week's reunion and carnival will eclipse anything of the sort previously attempted here.

FINDS POLICE DILIGENT IN SEARCH FOR BANDITS

Londoner Holidaying in Toronto Is Subjected to Rigid Examination.

Police of Toronto were thorough in their search for the bank bandits, Russell Stelt of London will testify.

On the day of the hold-up and shooting, young Stelt was holidaying in Toronto with another Londoner youth. While sitting in an auto parked on one of the main streets Stelt was accosted by a motorcycle officer.

The officer questioned the boy closely as to certain marks on the car, one of which the policeman thought was a bullet mark.

However, after rigidly examining the occupant of the car, the officer left.

"Was I going too fast?" the Londoner asked.

"Fast enough," the policeman answered.

It was not until an hour later that the boy learned of the robbery, and the reason for the officer's diligence.

WILL STAGE CONFAB ON CIVIC GOVERNMENT

Mayor Wenige Determined on Convention To Consider Commission Plan.

While two municipalities only, Stratford and Kitchener, have agreed to send delegates, Mayor Wenige is more determined than ever that he will hold a convention in this city in August to launch his "commission form of government" project.

"There are many other communities to hear from," his worship stated. "We have heard from about ten of them only. The convention will be held, and it will be successful."

It is nearly five years since the people of this city voted to try the commission form of civic administration, but the proposal was left in abeyance until this year, when the provincial government sent the delegates from different towns and cities back to agree among themselves as to which of the several types of commission government they desired to adopt.

GOVERNMENT BUYS LAND FOR NEW BUILDING SITE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, July 31.—The Ontario government has purchased 19 Queen's Park crescent, the old Charles Riddell home, for $57,500. The purchase price does not include the house that stands upon the lot. This is the third land property purchased by the legislature, the other two properties being immediately south of it. It is understood that a new administration building will be erected on the sites.

MAYOR INSISTS HE HAS BROUGHT RAILWAY TO TIME

Says He Has Not "Switched Back" in Any Item of His Pre-Election Program.

BETTER SERVICE

Street Railway Has Improved. Is Opinion Expressed by His Worship.

Mayor George Wenige insists today that the city council of 1923 has had its satisfactory "showdown" with the London Street Railway, and adds that he has not "switched back" in his attitude toward the proposed purchase, as charged by two or three of the aldermen.

"In section 7 of my pre-election pledges will be found the words 'a showdown with the street railway,' and 'no purchase of the road at this time,'" stated the mayor.

"Have I switched back yet in that?" he questioned. "I say I have not. I maintain we have had a real 'showdown' with the company. We are receiving better service now than ever before. And the improvement is, and will be continued, I am confident. You can't expect the company to do everything in a minute. They had been neglecting the road for years. And part of the blame for this can be laid at the door of city councils in the past, who never insisted that the provisions of bylaw 916 be adhered to."

"I did say before the election, 'No purchase from the company at the present time. We will wait.' I am still of the same mind, unless we receive an offer that is satisfactory and reasonable. I insisted before the election that the company should be made to live up to its agreement, and this is being carried out. We've had our 'showdown'."

Paved Intersections.
"I also said that every street intersection where the company has held up work shall be paved." And this has been done. I also said that if the company fails to pave this portion voluntarily, that we would do it and charge it back to the company. This is actually being accomplished at the moment."

Mayor Wenige declares that he is not "switching back" on any item of his platform, and states that the record since January last speaks for itself. He promises that before the year is over he will also have a "showdown" with the City Gas Company.

"If I can find sufficient members of the council with the necessary backbone to make an effort to collect $55,000 from that corporation," he announced as well today. "And I have every confidence that we will be able to secure a judgment in the courts and get back for the citizens this money that rightfully belongs to them. Since the first of the year we have never caused the gas company to lower their rates."

What Mayor Claims.
The mayor cites briefly the "outstanding achievements" of the 1923 standing and council.

"The tax rate was lowered," he reminds. "The juvenile court was established. The registry office was started. We will start the city hall before many years. The north end fire hall was opened, and the entire department will be completely motorized. We have established co-operation with the provincial government, the industrial and the council, and the new City of London loans from 6 per cent to 4½ per cent."

"The city hospital has been re-organized, and recommendations are being carried out, meaning a big saving. We have re-organized the assessment department, another big saving in expenditure, and increased efficiency: $400,000 additional income assessment will be forthcoming. And we have re-organized the engineering department on the same basis. And another immense saving will be noted in this respect."

ENTERS SUIT AS RESULT OF DEATH OF HUSBAND

Mrs. Emma Brownlee Takes Action in Supreme Court Against Oxford County Residents.

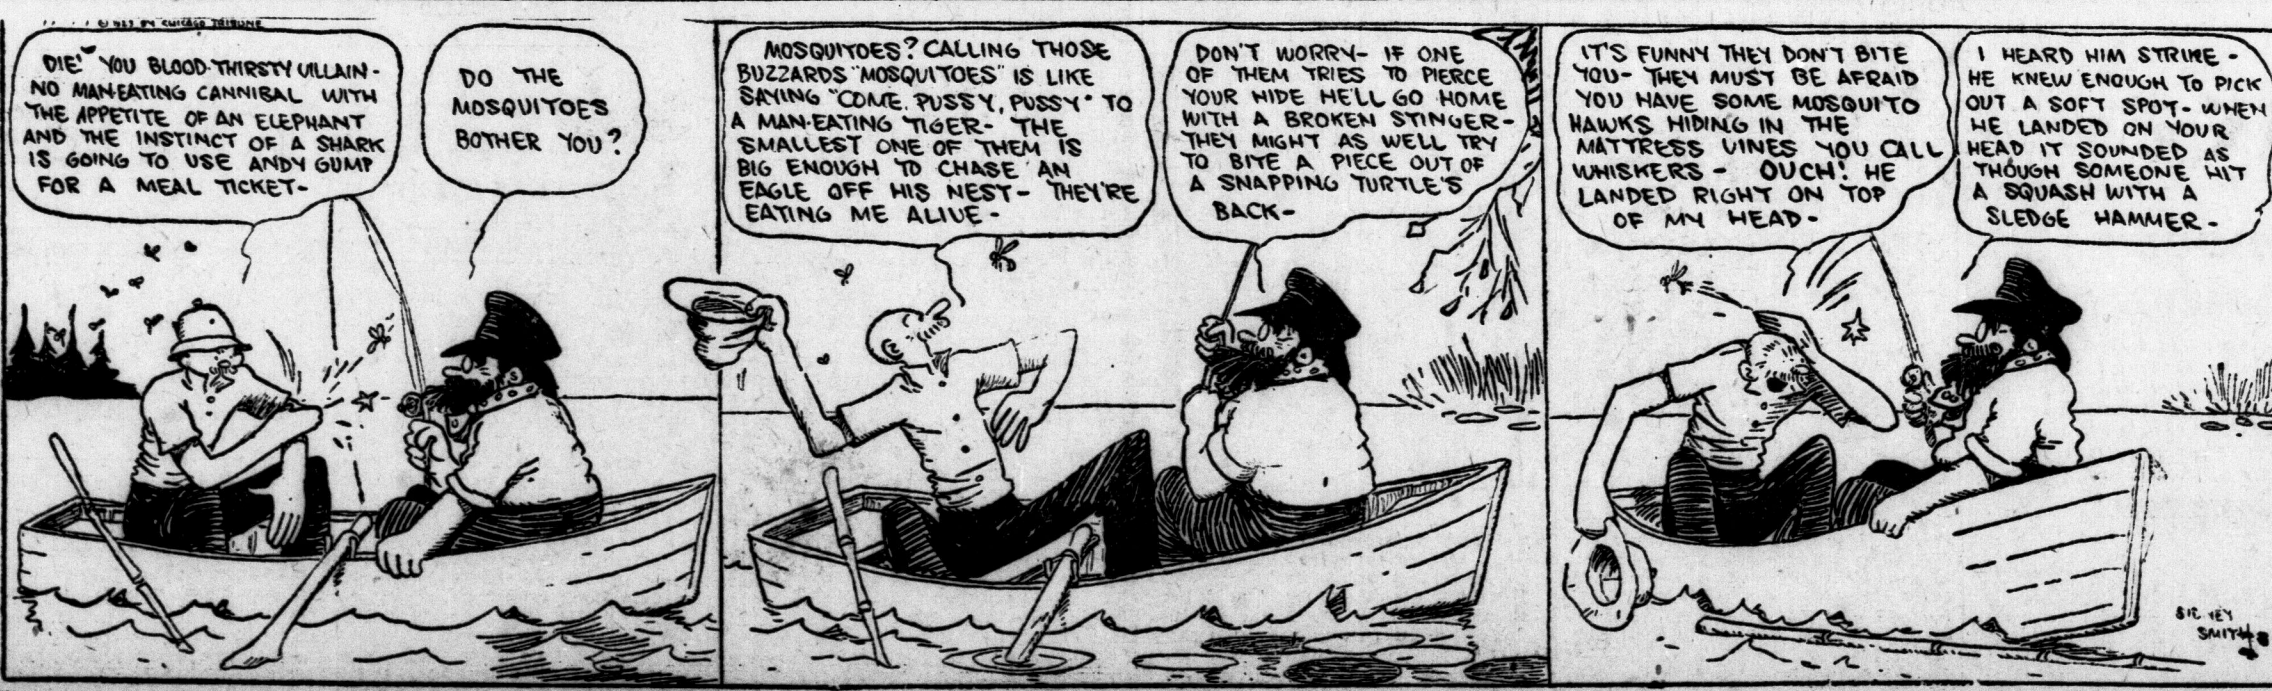

Emma Humphries Brownlee, through her solicitors, Jeffrey & V. has issued a writ in supreme court against John Zinn and Henry Zinn of the Township of Blandford, Oxford County, for damages for the death of her husband, Cecil Roy Brownlee, which she attributes to the negligent driving of the defendants, or their servants, on Dec. 23, 1922.

Mrs. Brownlee also claims damages for personal injuries and for harm done the motor of the car owned by her husband.

OLD-TIME WOODSMAN KILLED BY FALLING TREE

It is believed that he had been in this predicament since Friday. Miss Grace Patterson, home on furlough from India, received a warm welcome from the Thamesford Presbyterian W.M.S., at the regular meeting last week. The welcome was extended by Mrs. J. M. McEvoy of this city, president of the London Presbyterian, who also made the presentation of the life membership pin. All four presentations were made by Mrs. McEvoy who gave a very inspiring talk. Miss Patterson also spoke briefly and practically on the evangelistic work being carried on in India. A large number of women were present at the meeting. At the close refreshments were served.

Fashions By Wire

Special to The Advertiser.
Paris, July 30.—The French woman in sports costume, which, with a French woman by no means implies participation in any sport but that of looking chic, has a clever way of dropping a watch chain into the hip pocket of her short coat. One woman was seen today evidencing that cleverness by hanging the smart box to hang outside half way to the coat hem.

Veils Are Long.
Paris, July 30.—Hat veils today are exceedingly long and rather narrow affairs. They droop over the face to the tip of the nose, the ends falling down the back to the waistline.

Trimmed With Leaves.
London, July 30.—A blithe some cape for warm summer evenings was seen today. An affair of dark-colored crepe de chine, it is overlaid with a babble-in-the-wood sort of covering of leaves, very large and glossy, cut from navy chambray.

Very Many Colors.
London, July 30.—Although many of the organdy afternoon gowns today have very little embroidery upon them, they use as many colors as possible in the space given up to decoration. A gown of mauve organdy has flowers in red, violet, purple, yellow and green.

Carved Lava Bracelets.
New York, July 30.—Whether or not the recent volcanic outbreaks in Italy have had anything to do with it, the fact remains that bracelets and necklaces of carved lava are again in some of the avenue shops today. The lava, carved in quaint patterns, is in shades ranging from putty to terra cotta.

Mantilla-Like Wrap.
New York, July 30.—A black lace scarf, faithfully copying the mantilla of Spain is worn in the city of the theatre or on the ride from house to country club today. Often to heighten the Castilian effect, the scarf is draped over a tall Spanish comb.

Chiffon Velvet and Crepe.
New York, July 30.—Chiffon velvet and georgette crepe are combined in an afternoon costume seen here today. The gown was chiefly of cream georgette crepe, the giraffe, skirt panels and dress train having been of soft chiffon velvet.

Chinese Embroidery.
New York, July 30.—The embroidery on a remarkable set of lingerie seen in a shop here today was copied from that on Chinese tapestry. The lingerie was black georgette, the embroidery—showing tiny landscapes, clouds and ocean waves—being in white and a heavenly blue.

Tan, Red or Freckled Skin Is Easily Shad

To free your summer-soiled skin of its mudiness, freckles, blemishes or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercurochrome, which, of course, can be had at any drug store. Use it at night as you use cream, washing it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in fine powder-like particles. Gradually the entire outer skin is absorbed, without the least harm or inconvenience. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a smooth, supple and sparkling beauty obtainable in no other way. One ounce of mercurochrome was usually sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion.—Advt.

Londoners and Their Hobbies

Stanley Meredith's Hobby Is Amateur Theatricals

Plans To Produce English Society Comedy Early in January—Began Acting At 6 Years of Age.

Amateur dramatics is one of the most fascinating hobbies. And for this reason perhaps no hobby has more followers and fewer successes; for talent as well as interest is necessary in the successful pursuit of the drama, whether it be along professional or amateur lines.

And in connection with the production of theatrical performances in the city, the name which stands out most prominently is that of J. Stanley Meredith. Making his first big public appearance at the time of the presentation of "Jack Straw" in 1910, Mr. Meredith has had a continuous chain of successes. Throughout the war period his one-act musicals presented at the Majestic Theatre were received with great enthusiasm by the public, who through the medium of a whole week as each production made its appearance. Mr. Meredith worked strenuously at his hobby during these years, producing sometimes two and sometimes three productions a year.

At the organization of the London Drama League over three years ago Mr. Meredith was made convenor of the producing committee, and retained that office for three years of exceptional activity on the part of the club.

Plans New Production. The public will be delighted to know that Mr. Meredith, in conjunction with Miss Grace Blackburn, is planning another play for January of next year. Although the name of the play has not yet been divulged it is known that it will be an English society comedy.

"With one of those fool parts I can play," says Mr. Meredith in referring to it.

One of "those fool parts" is a very difficult part to play, as everyone knows. And Mr. Meredith has achieved a brilliant success in this type of role on more occasions than one. His modesty in describing such a role in these words will but whet the interest of the public in the forthcoming production.

This production, by the way, will be the initial move in a big drive for funds for the Soldiers' Memorial Tower, which the Women's Canadian Club is planning to erect at Springbank.

His First Role. Mr. Meredith has taken part in amateur theatricals as far back as he can remember. His first public appearance in a play was at the age of six when he appeared in "The White Cat," produced at St. John the Evangelist Church.

"What part did you play?" he was asked.

"Oh, it's so long ago, I really don't remember," was the reply. "I think I was a page and carried around somebody's train."

From that early beginning Mr. Meredith has continued his interest in the stage.

His success in "Jack Straw" brought him a prominent position before the public. And when the play, produced by Charles E. Carruthers, was entered into the Earl Grey competition for all Canada, Mr. Meredith went to Toronto with the company to compete with other dramatic clubs from all over the Dominion in the Royal Alexandra Theatre. Although the play did not win the prize it had been put on there that season. It received the personal compliments of Earl Grey and the Countess Grey, who came behind the scenes to congratulate the cast.

It further received this tribute. Although it was a three-act play and the judges had adopted the custom of sitting through but two acts of a three-act play, they found "Jack Straw" so entertaining that they sat through the whole three acts. And London was honored when the leading lady, Miss Patti McLaren, was awarded the Margaret Anglin bracelet for the best acting in the whole of the Dominion.

War Skits Began 1916.

The war skits presented at the Majestic Theatre began in January of 1916 and continued until 1920, and during that period $5,000 was raised for war relief purposes of all kinds. The last of this series, "Sublet for Summer," was the means of raising an additional $1,000, which is being held in reserve for the Canadian Club memorial tower at Springbank.

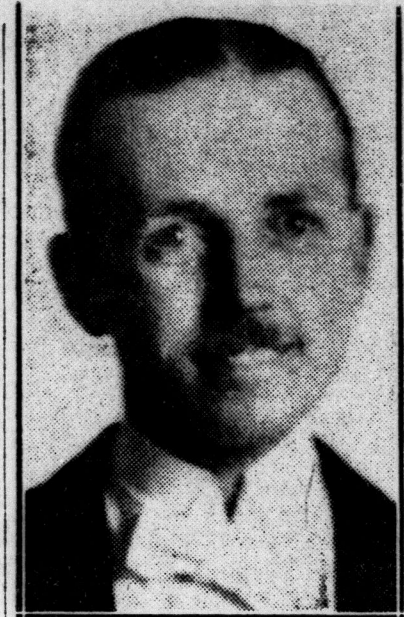

The first of the series was a little musical review, which was presented under no particular name, in January of 1916, at the request of and under the auspices of the Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. D. E. The success with which this was met led to the second, a little one-act play, written by Mr. Meredith, and called "All of a Summer's Day." This was quickly followed in the autumn by another musical one-act skit, "Between the Acts."

Success followed success. In February of 1917 Mr. Meredith again wrote a one-act sketch for the men in training at camp, called "Behind the Scenes." And in May of the same year appeared "The Breath of Scandal," also written by Mr. Meredith. October saw the production of "Keep It Dark," presented in aid of No. 10 Stationary Hospital, and in February of 1918 appeared "The Cabaret Artist." Almost a year later, in January, came "Owing to the War," and in January, 1920, "Sublet for Summer."

Written by Mr. Meredith. All of these sketches were put together by Mr. Meredith, who wrote the speaking lines himself. Mr. Meredith points out that in "The Breath of Scandal" and "Owing to the War" the music was composed by Keith Handyside of Montreal.

In his office in the Dominion Savings Building Mr. Meredith has a large picture frame filled with cards from boys overseas thanking him and the cast of "Owing to the War" for their efforts to raise the cigarette money for them.

While Mr. Meredith was convenor of the producing committee of the Drama League that organization produced publicly "The Second Lady Banstock," "The Duke of Killarney," and last year three one-act plays. Every month a one-act play has been

It was due to the efforts of Mr. Meredith and Miss Grace Blackburn that the league began to make its own stage settings and design its own costumes. Mr. Meredith and Miss Blackburn visited Hart House in 1921, and it was there, during an interview with Roy Mitchell, that they received their inspiration to begin work on stage settings and costumes.

At the Movies Last Night

"The Girl Who Came Back"

Another shopgirl goes to prison and emerges to promptly spread herself with evening gowns and feather fans in "The Girl Who Came Back." The picture at the Allen reminds one strongly of "Within the Law," in which Norma Talmage last appeared here, although it isn't nearly so good a picture. There is a great deal less of prison and a great deal less of "crook" atmosphere.

Gaston Glass does the best work of all the numerous stars. As Ray Underhill, the auto thief, he plays a likeable sort of role with the same contrast between fine and unworthy instincts which marked his role of the ex-soldier in "The Hero."

One is also reminded of "The Hero" by the appearance of Ethel Shannon, who made a brief appearance as the doughboy's sweetheart in the former picture. Her role in "The Girl Who Came Back" is equally brief, but she also just as forcibly calls one's attention to the fact that she's there. Ethel Shannon appears to be a comedienne of more than passing talent.

Miriam Cooper has the leading role as the former shopgirl, with Kenneth Harlan in the role of "No. 648."

The story gives plenty of material for extravagant settings, with the pageant scene toward the conclusion very beautifully done.

"The Fog"

"The Fog," a Metro picture, in which Cullen Landis appears as the hero, is of rather an unusual type, with a few weak features, all of which are counterbalanced by the splendid acting of Cullen Landis. The general theme of the picture is allowed to ride on a vague cloud of "the meeting of twin souls," and so on, but fortunately this isn't allowed to disturb any extent a series of acutely human situations which make the entire picture one of keen interest. From a New England village to Bolshevik Siberia is a far cry, but the fortunes of Nathaniel Forge take this spectacular leap and the interest of the beholder leaps with them. Mildred Harris and Louise Fazenda are other well-known stars who appear in "The Fog." Mildred Harris is pretty in a negative sort of way, contributing most by way of effectively taken close-ups. Louise Fazenda, of course, adds something interesting in her own inimitable manner. There are one or two character roles which are well done, and which all lend to the general effectiveness of the film.

The vaudeville bill commences with a Wild West act, in which the gentleman member of "Wyoming Duo" announces the presentation of an exclusive stunt. The spinning of five ropes at once does look as though one needed a certain amount of hard-hood to even attempt it.

The second act is comedy, seemingly "black face." It would have gone over just as well with any other man with its gentle rub at present-day institutions was rather good.

Comedians with a brief interlude of dancing completed the bill.

"Man's Size"

Beautiful camera effects of outdoor scenes set in the Canadian Rockies is the main feature of the picture, "Man's Size," showing at the Patricia the first three days of this week. The photography is excellent, but the plot of the film is the ordinary wild west type.

William Russell is the hero of the story, and in rescuing his bride-to-be from the clutches of the villain, who has run off with her, has a fight that would do justice to either Dempsey or the dashing Mr. Firpo.

This Fox production offers some of the finest examples of photography that can be recalled to mind. The camera man, George Schneiderman, has been mentioned very favorably before for his work in "The Village Blacksmith."

The Century comedy, "Speed Buggy," brought from the audience an occasional laugh, any was followed on the program by Roy Stewart in "Tales of the Old West."

In these days the finest bridges are being built by the country's railroads.

LOCH LOMOND CHAPTER.

A meeting of the Loch Lomond Chapter, I. O. D. E., to make final arrangements for a booth to be conducted in Queen's Park during Old Boys' Week, was held recently at the home of Mrs. Jack Rogers, Quebec street. Mrs. Jack Rogers is convener of the booth, at which will be sold refreshments and soft drinks. Arrangements are being made to make the booth as attractive as possible with flags and bunting, the Scotch flag taking prominence, of course. The attendants at the booth will wear nursing sister caps and aprons. The chapter hopes to raise enough money during Old Boys' Week to pay off the final installment of the $500 promised towards Memorial Children's Hospital. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. George Eddie.

Embroid, July 30.—The Proctor Mission Band held a quilting bee at the home of Miss Graeme McDonald. Another quilting bee was held at the home of Mrs. Edward Chenoweth, who donated the quilt for the missions.

Mrs. Lane and the Mission Herald Class met at the home of Miss Jean Holmes, when they quilted their own quilt. At each quilting the hostesses served refreshments, and a social half-hour was spent. The three quilts are to be sent in the near future in the bales for the Northwest missions.

If Hair Is Dull

Use Shampoo of Olive Oil

Dull, lustreless hair detracts from beauty. But hair that gleams and is soft gives beauty to the plainest of features. To get that lovely life and lustre for your hair use the olive oil shampoo that is giving beautiful hair to thousands of women. Hair specialists charge big prices for it. You can have it at home for a few cents. Just get a bottle of PALM-OLIVE SHAMPOO at any drug or department store. It cleanses hair gently. Leaves it gleaming and pliant and lovely. One shampooing will show you what beauty there really is, in your hair.

TALKS ABOUT WEST CHINA.

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, July 30.—Miss Sparling of West China gave a most interesting address on the conditions in China and of her experiences at the missionary service at Wesley Methodist Church, Raleigh, yesterday. Mrs. Bennett, president, and Miss L. Noack assisted, and a choir of ladies rendered appropriate music. The audience expressed its appreciation of the splendid service by a most generous offering. Miss Sparling made an appeal to all to consecrate themselves to the service of the Master in soul-winning. The members are looking forward to another treat in August, when Miss Susie Smyth, a missionary in the Italian in Hamilton, will be the speaker. Next Sunday the quarterly service will be held, with the pastor, Rev. Bentley, in charge.

A RESTFUL NEGLIGEE.

Women are confirmed bargain hunters, so say the men, and it is doubtless true, but even the rest confirmed bargain hunter will tell you that the pastime is fatiguing. There is a great deal of shopping to do in the spring and early summer. Gifts for graduates and brides; clothes for the whole family for vacation days to come, etc., make many rounds of the shops necessary for the housewife.

After such a tour wouldn't it be restful to slip into this exquisite negligee and sip a cup of one's favorite tea? Apricot georgette edged with silk moss trimming and panelled with an ecru silk lace are the materials used.

Incidentally, such a costume would make a lovely addition to a bride's trousseau.

HAVILAN FAMILY HOLD BIG REUNION

Many Loyalist Descendants Participate In Brantford Gathering.

PIONEER ANCESTORS

Special to The Advertiser.

Brantford, July 30.—The twentieth annual reunion of the Haviland family in Mohawk Park today was the usual pronounced success, with many Loyalist descendants participating.
The ancestors were of English origin, and some years before the American revolution John Haviland emigrated to America, and settled in a small valley which has since been called Haviland's Hollow, near the Hudson River, between Manhattan Island and Albany.

When the revolution took place the Havilands were on the side of the Loyalists, and in 1803, John Hav-iland, a son of the original John, came to Long Point country with his family of three sons, John, Benjamin and Daniel; and five daughters, Elizabeth, Mary, Eleanor, Fanny and Leahy, and purchased 600 acres in Townsend, near Boston.

The reunion this year was a grand success, there being nearly 200 present. Some 18 came from Detroit, St.
Clair and Onawa and different points in the States. Speeches, games and other amusements held the family together until lunch, after which they left for their homes.
Miss Lavina Huff, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. G. N. Huff, 178 Sheridan street, leaves this week for England, where she will teach during the coming year under the exchange system of teachers now in vogue between the old land and Canada. She has taught at the Major Ballachey School since the opening of that institution in 1921. She will teach in Kent, England.

PORT PREPARING FINE PROGRAMS FOR NEXT WEEK

Old Boys Promised Splendid Entertainment During Coming Celebration.

BRING SEAPLANES

There is going to be an Old Boys' celebration at Port Stanley next week that will open the eyes of the visitors and draw thousands of people to the old-time favorite resort. The London & Port Stanley Railway has arranged for one of the finest programs ever carried out at the Port, and it bristles with special Old Boy and Old Girl features that will appeal to everybody.

One of the chief attractions will be a gigantic seaplane, which will fly from Detroit or Cleveland to Port Stanley on Monday, which is London's civic holiday, and a number of the members of Old Boy organizations have been invited to ride across the lake as guests of the London & Port Stanley Railway in the plane.

The seaplane is to carry passengers during the reunion, and it will give real thrill to all who are daring enough to take passage in this amphibious craft.

Special Music.

The L. & P. S. R. has also arranged with the famous Grotto band of Detroit to play two concerts at Port Stanley on Sunday next, afternoon and night, on Invererie Heights. The band has Fred Dunn, a former Londoner, for leader, and it numbers 40 musicians. It is a splendid organization, and is credit to the Masons of Detroit and to the Old Boys, who are bringing it to London for great expense.

The civic holiday program, in addition to the seaplane, will include continuous free attractions, afternoon and night. There will be land and water sports for all, and especially fine prizes for the Old Boy events.

A baby show will be a big feature of the day, and it will be open, as will most all other events, to the world.
There will be plenty of music, with band concerts afternoon and night.

Daylight fireworks will entertain the crowds in the afternoon, and at night there will be a dazzling display of pyrotechnics.

Special programs have been prepared for the L. & P. S. R. from show on the beach, and some of the best films obtainable will be shown.
Songs that are dear to the heart of the Old Boys and Girls at home and abroad will be sung at the sing-song.

Geddes Will Sing.

Cameron Geddes, the popular Canadian baritone, will render a number of artistic numbers, and will lead the community singing.

On Thursday, August 9, there will be another day of continuous enjoyment at the lakeside. Monday's program will be repeated with many new features, and as usual there will be a plentiful supply of music, fireworks, games, etc., and a baby show, with wonderful prizes.

General Manager J. E. Richards of the L. & P. S. R. has made arrangements for an especially satisfactory and rapid train service, and in addition to the hourly schedule, there will be special trains when the crowds justify them.

At this week super features will continue to be shown at the free movies, and there will be a sing-song every night. The pictures change three weekly, and new songs are constantly being added for the community singing by Mr. Geddes.
