

GREAT HAMILTON'S MOST RELIABLE NEWSPAPER

J. S. SHERMAN VICE-PRESIDENT

Republican Convention Nominates N.Y. Congressman.

Sherman May be a Weakness to Taft in the Election.

Japan and the Vatican Pleased With Taft's Nomination.

Convention Hall, Chicago, June 19.—Congressman James S. Sherman, of New York, was nominated for Vice-President of the United States by the Republican National Convention on the first ballot.

Congratulates Sherman. Washington, June 19.—President Roosevelt to-day sent a telegram to Representative Sherman, congratulating him upon his nomination.

"Accept my hearty congratulation and my earnest good wishes for the success of the ticket of Taft and Sherman." Secretary Taft also sent a telegram to Representative Sherman upon hearing of his nomination, as follows: "I sincerely and cordially congratulate you upon your nomination as Vice President."

BEFORE THE NOMINATION.

Chicago, June 19.—The vice-presidential programme had not been solved an hour before the assembling of the convention this morning. The surface view still placed Congressman James S. Sherman in the front rank of candidates, but he was in serious danger of being ousted by the undertow of expediency from Washington and of being swamped.

The representations from portions of the west have been strong against the New York candidate, and the Taft leaders on the ground, but Secretary Taft himself has been appealed to prevent his nomination. There is no doubt that the Presidential nominee has become interested, and that while there is no fight on Mr. Sherman, for personal reasons, there is a very strong feeling that to put him on the ticket would have the effect of weakening the ticket where it should be strengthened.

Suitable Man. Berlin, June 19.—The nomination of Secretary of War Wm. H. Taft for the presidency is published in brief form in the Berlin papers this morning. The news came too late, however, for comment.

A Bad Symptom. Paris, June 19.—The nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency has been regarded by the French press as a foregone conclusion. The Parisian Republic considers Mr. Taft's nomination a victory for the spirit of imperialism.

The Temps says the services rendered by Mr. Taft to his country fully justify his nomination, and after reviewing his varied activity and leaving stress upon his successful conduct of delicate negotiations with the Vatican and the Japanese Government, this journal attributes his success to his frankness and his quiet tenacity.

Rome, June 19.—Although it was fully expected here, the nomination of Secretary Taft at Chicago has produced a good impression. This is especially true of the Vatican, where Mr. Taft is considered favorably, and the Catholic influence in the Philippines.

Japan Pleased. Tokio, June 19.—The nomination of Secretary of War Wm. H. Taft for the presidency of the United States has been received officially here in Tokio with expressions of gratitude because of the personal popularity of Mr. Taft.

INSTALLING NEW CARS.

The Hamilton and Barton Incline Railway Company, head of James Street, will be closed from Monday morning next until Friday evening, when the new cars to accommodate their increasing traffic will be installed.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES

S. S. TURBINA.

On account of the steamship Turbina going to Charlotte and the Rochester excursion Saturday, 20th, at 5.30 p. m., there will be no 8 p. m. trip from Toronto.

TAFT THE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE

Some one in a happy vein carrying conviction recently spoke of William H. Taft, the man, as he appears to those who have opportunity to observe him in public relations with men. "And Taft," he asked, as if the situation in particular were under discussion at second hand, "Taft? O, Taft just laughed."

FOUR VACANCIES. EXCITING TRIP IN A LAUNCH.

The deaths of Mr. Harry Gayfer and Mr. John Capes, and two supernumeraries shortly to be arranged, make a number of vacancies in the Custom House which will have to be filled in the near future.

Cannot Do Without the Times, the Favorite Paper.

Mr. James Wilson, sen., of Binbrook, called at the Times office to-day to renew his subscription. He has been a constant reader of the Times for thirty-five years, and said as he paid his renewal, "I can't get along without the Times. It suits me and I read everything in its columns with a great deal of interest."

FIRE IN LAUNDRY.

Considerable Damage Done by Incendiary Blaze.

About 9.30 last evening a fire of supposed incendiary origin broke out in a Chinese laundry at Barton and John streets, and spread to two adjoining buildings, doing damage to the extent of several hundred dollars.

Saturday at Raphael & Co's.

The great sale at Raphael & Co's, 38 King street west, is still on, and special values are offered for Saturday.

Fire Tornado

Sioux City, Ia., June 19.—Several persons were injured, one perhaps fatally; two houses and a half dozen barns destroyed by a tornado, which struck the eastern outskirts of Sioux City late yesterday afternoon.

BUSINESS IN THE COMMONS.

Judge Cassels the Master of His Own Court.

Amendment of Bank Act to Help More Crops.

No Extravagance in Mr. Tache's Department.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Ont., June 19.—In the Commons this morning, in answer to a question by Mr. Blain as to whether Judge Cassels had adjourned with the Government's consent the Marine Department investigation until Sept. 2, Hon. Mr. Fielding said His Lordship was master of his own court, and could himself decide how and when to proceed with the investigation.

Hon. Mr. Graham informed the House that the bill chartering the Dominion Power Development Company, of Fort William, would come before the Private Bills Committee on Wednesday next. The bill is opposed by the Association of Municipalities and by the Ontario Government as being an infringement of Provincial rights.

On the second reading of the Government measure amending the Bank Act by providing for the issue of additional circulation in order to meet the demands of the crop movement, Mr. Fielding explained that the experience of last fall showed the imperative need of providing for the temporary expansion of the circulation from October until the end of the year.

The members of the Opposition held a caucus this morning to discuss the situation in respect to the Election Bill and other matters now before Parliament. While desirous of getting away from Ottawa as soon as possible and of avoiding any further onus for the waste of time in obstruction, the Conservative members generally expressed the idea that they were being outmanoeuvred by the Government which had gradually got a good portion of its legislative programme and supply for this year, although without at the same time meeting the demands of the Opposition on the Election Bill.

CAMP AS SEEN BY TIMES MAN.

Some Wonders of the Modern Soldier's Camp Life.

Annual Military Ball to be Held Next Week.

Progressive Spirit of the Department at Ottawa.

Niagara Camp, June 19.—A much-loved poet has written words about fame's eternal camping grounds, and the silent tents guarding the bivouac of the dead. But the camping grounds by this historic old Niagara are to-day very much alive, and there is something new under the sun every little while.

At last the prospect of having a decent street railway system and the needed extensions is now bright. For what we are to receive may we be thankful.

Times advertisers have many things to tell our readers to-night—things that it will be to their advantage to learn.

If you are leaving for your holidays, don't leave your cat to the tender mercies of an unfeeling world.

If it's a fine morning to-morrow get up a little earlier and take a walk round the market. The sight will do you good.

Do you still sleep with your window open?

One good big shower and the strawberry crop would break the record.

The time is coming, I think, when we will have overhead bridges at the principal street corners.

Why is Mr. Foster so afraid of the truth?

Well, the Hamilton school nurse has a big family to attend to.

If the Government would call on Dan Reed, he would soon straighten out the Beach tangle for it.

It's a little too early, isn't it, to start in with the majority campaign?

This effort to turn the morals of the Yukon into a political question and to endow Dr. Shearer with all kinds of political craft is rather tawdry.

There will be lots of work when the new Welland Canal is under way.

I'm afraid W. A. H. Duff is getting some of his legal logic from Ald. Farrar.

CUT IN TWO.

Horrible Fate of a Farmer While Cutting Wood.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) London, Ont., June 18.—While cutting wood for a neighbor last evening, William Teller, aged 60, one of the best known farmers in Middlesex, fell upon a circular saw and was cut in two. He is survived by a wife and six children.

Mississippi Flood

St. Louis, Mo., June 19.—One drowned, the breaking of the levees near here and the flooding of thousands of acres of land and frenzied efforts by railroads and towns to save property marked yesterday's rise in the waters of the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers.

The drowning was that of Max Richter, 17 years old, who was seized with cramps while trying to repair a boat in which he had gone to view the flood.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

As the St. Catharines Judge truly said, parents who allow their daughters to roam the streets at all hours need not be surprised if the worst happens.

Ald. Farrar's legal opinions come high, when the costs of the court are added.

Twenty per cent. added to the cost of the goods sold after 9.30 is one way to encourage early closing.

CAUGHT WITH STOLEN STUFF.

P. C. Cameron Did a Piece of Good Work.

Quartette Rounded Up For Alleged Aggravated Assault.

Young Italian Badly Used by Some Drunken Youths.

Constable Cameron did a good stroke of work again last evening, when he caught a man accused of house breaking and theft, with the goods on him, while the alleged burglar was trying to sell the goods. The constable goes on duty at 10.45, and had just started his round when he made a discovery.

While walking down James street he looked into a restaurant and saw a man in there trying to sell some tins of fish and some butter, and he walked in and arrested him for stealing the goods from McQuarrie's. The man gave the name of Charles Alfier, Park and Vine streets, and he put up several fair stories as to where he got the butter and fish. The police got in touch with the owner of the store, who, after looking over his stock, told what was missing.

A very brutal assault was committed yesterday afternoon at James and Ferris streets by five local boys on one poor lone Italian, who had only a few dollars to his name. The boys were to tell them to stop calling him names and desist from bothering him. The fight took place early in the afternoon while the Italian was walking down James street.

They had only a meagre description, but Detectives Bleasley, Coulter and Stevens were not long at all in practically admitted having a hand in the affair. They gave their names as Leo Barry, 419 Catharine north, and John Ferguson, 433 Mack street. A little later Constables Tuck, Alkin, Duffy, H. Smith and Brown, managed to round up Henry Almsborough, 387 John street north. The three men were locked up, in the cells over night and since was kept at the City Hospital. This morning he was a great deal better, but it will be some days before he is out of the hospital.

Early this morning Constables Latta and W. McLean, with William Savage, Hughson and Macaulay streets, because he had "black curly hair" and this was the way since described one of his assailants. Not knowing how slight the chain of evidence was that held him, Savage confided to the police that he was "going to give himself" up this morning. He said he had had four of the suspected men under lock and key and they were remanded till Monday when they came up this morning. The fifth man wanted is a brother of William Savage, and the police expect to land him. The charge against the men is aggravated assault.

Elly Lynch, whose address was given as "U. S. A." is persistent, for as fast as he is put off the race track he manages to get in again. Secretary Loudon could not find the particular hole Lynch uses to get through, and they took the next best course and had him arrested for trespass. He was sent to jail till Monday, the regular course pursued with race followers who are not wanted at the track.

Thomas Smith, 235 Picton street east, got drunk last night and went home to start smoking. He is alleged to have assaulted his wife, but was locked up by the police before he could do more. This morning wife begged him off on the assault charge and he was fined $2 for being drunk.

Elizabeth Wynn, 207 Macaulay street east, was summoned on a charge of being disorderly, Sarah Jamieson being the complainant. As Lizzie did not appear the case was laid over till to-morrow.

Ed. Neville, 149 York street, was fined $2 for not having a card with the cab tariff printed on it, plainly displayed in the cab he was driving. Max Raphael, 143 James street north, was sued by The Alkin for $4.50 wages. The case was laid over till to-morrow, as Ald. Gearr did not have jurisdiction over it.

MARGUERITE'S SECRET

The boat rowed rapidly toward the very spot upon which the lady stood watching. In five minutes it touched the sands, and the passenger, a gentleman of about fifty years of age, stepped ashore, and, walking up to Marguerite, bowed respectfully and inquired:

"Will you be so good as to inform me, madam, whether Mrs. Helmsstedt is at present at home?"

But as the stranger approached, Marguerite had grown pale, and now, leaning against a pine tree for support, exclaimed in a faint tone:

"My God, has it come at last?"

"I fear, madam, that I have alarmed you by my sudden approach; reassure yourself, dear lady," said the visitor, politely.

But Marguerite, dropping her hands from before her agonized countenance, exclaimed:

"Braunton! am I so changed, then, that you do not know me? I am Marguerite Helmsstedt, whom you seek. But, in the name of Heaven, then, what fatality has brought you here?"

"A fatality indeed, madam," answered the stranger, in a sad tone.

"Come up to the house," said the merciful chance I am alone this evening," said the lady, struggling to sustain herself against the agony of mind that was written in characters of iron on her corrugated brow. The stranger gave her his arm as an indispensable support, and the two proceeded toward the mansion.

CHAPTER VIII.

None ever knew what passed between Mrs. Helmsstedt and the gray-haired stranger who was closeted with her, in her favorite parlor, for several hours, that evening. No one was in the house, in fact, at the time, except the lady, her venerable guest, and her two confidential servants, Hildreth and Forrest, who had, of late years, grown into the habit of silence in regard to everything concerning their unhappy mistress. Once in the wane of that evening, Forrest rapped at the door for orders, and had caught a glimpse of his mistress's blanched and unguarded face, as she directed him to retire and wait until he should hear the bell. And after waiting in the dining-room opposite, for some hours, Forrest heard the departure of the visitor, but listened in vain for Mrs. Helmsstedt's bell.

Meanwhile, the Pearl Shell contained Marguerite and Franky, gilded with the moonlit waters. As they neared the island, they saw another boat, containing a pair of oarsmen and a single passenger, push off from the beach and row rapidly toward a schooner anchored some quarter of a mile off. But as it was not an unusual occurrence for passing vessels to send out boats to the isle for water, wood or provisions, purchased from the negroes, the sight of this one leaving its shores occasioned no remark.

"Now row swiftly home, dear Franky, or they will wonder what has become of us," said Marguerite, as soon as she had sprung upon the shore. But Franky refused to leave her until at least he had seen her safely housed. So he took her hand, and they ran on up the sandy barren, through the long timothy field, through the orchard, and through the garden, until they reached the front piazza, where Marguerite insisted upon dismissing her boy lover, who reluctantly left her.

And Marguerite ran into the hall door, and thence into her mother's favorite parlor, on the threshold of which she stood appalled!

The two wax-candles upon the mantel-piece were burning dimly, and their pale light fell ominously upon the figure of Mrs. Helmsstedt, sitting on the short sofa, with her hands clasped rigidly together on her lap, her eyes fixed and strained outward, and her face blanched and frozen as if the hand of death had just passed over it.

One instant Marguerite stood panic-stricken, and the next she was at her mother's side, speaking to her, kissing her, stroking her forehead, and trying to unclasp and rub her rigidly-locked hands. For some minutes these efforts were all in vain; and then a deep, shuddering sigh, that shook her whole form like the passage of an inward storm, dissolved the spell that had bound her, and she grew conscious of the presence of her child.

"Mamma, what shall I bring you? I had better call Hildreth," said Marguerite, stealing softly away. But the hand that she had been rubbing now closed on hers with a tight, restraining clasp, and a deep, hollow, cavernous voice, that she scarcely recognized as her mother's, answered:

"No—no—call no one, my child—stay with me."

Marguerite dropped upon the sofa, beside her mother, with a look of wonder and devoted love, and seemed to await her further commands.

"My child," spoke the same hollow, cavernous, awful voice, "speak to no living soul of what you have seen to-night."

"I will not, dear mamma; but tell me what I can do for you?"

"Nothing, nothing, Marguerite."

"Can I not help you somehow?"

"I am beyond help, Marguerite."

"Mother, mother, trust in your loving child, the child of your heart, who would give you back her life if she could give you happiness with it, mother," murmured Marguerite, most tenderly, as she caressed and fondled the rigid form of that dark, sorrowful woman—"trust in your loving child, mother, your child that heard your heart calling her to-night over the moonlit waters, and through all the music and laughter came hurrying to your side."

"Ah! so you did, my love, so you did; and I, so absorbed in my own thoughts, did not even ask you whence you came, or how, or why?"

"Franky brought me at my earnest request. Next morning, dear mother, trust in your faithful child."

"If ever I be driven to lay the burden of my grief upon any human heart, Marguerite, it must be on yours—only on yours! for little Marguerite, in my life, I have loved many and worshipped one, but I fidly trust only you."

"Trust me ever, mother; trust me fully, trust me even unto death; for I would be faithful unto death," said the maiden, earnestly, fervently, solemnly.

"I know it, and I do trust you perfectly. Yet not now, not just now, need I shift this weight from my heart to yours—'tis enough that one living heart should bear that burden at a time. I may leave it to you as a legacy, my Marguerite."

"A legacy—a legacy—oh, mother! what mean you?" inquired the maiden, as the stedt still looked for a reply, she said:

"Dear Philip, as you remarked, we are just about to part, and heaven only knows if ever we shall meet again on earth. Let us not have hard feelings toward each other."

"Good-bye, Marguerite," he said, suddenly rising and taking his hat and gloves.

"Good-bye—not yet. Philip turn: let me look at you!" She clung tightly to the hand he had given her, and held him fast while she fixed a long, deep gaze upon his face—a gaze so strange, so wistful, so embarrassing, that Mr. Helmsstedt cut it short by saying, gently:

"Farewell, dearest! let me be gone."

"Not yet! oh, not yet! a moment more!" her bosom swelled and heaved, her lips quivered, but no tear dimmed her brilliant, feverish eyes, that were still fixed in a riveting gaze upon his face.

Mr. Helmsstedt felt himself strongly moved.

"Marguerite, why Marguerite, dearest, this is not like you! You are in soul a Spartan woman! You will receive my parting kiss now and bid me go," he said, and opened his arms and pressed her to his heart a moment and then with another whispered, "Farewell," released her.

"God bless you, Philip Helmsstedt," she said.

The next instant he was gone. She watched him from the door, where he was joined by his groom and valet, down to the beach and into the boat; and then she went upstairs to the balcony over the bay window and watched the boat out of sight.

SIR ROBERT REID'S WILL.

The Western Hospital of Toronto Receives $2,500.

Bulk of Large Estate Goes to the Widow.

Montreal, June 18.—The last will and testament of the late Sir Robert G. Reid, President of the Reid Newfoundland Co., and one of the wealthiest men in the Dominion, has been probated.

The document disposing of Sir Robert Reid's estate was prepared during the month of October, 1907, by Justice MacLaren, of Toronto, who was a personal friend. The will stipulates that the testator's controlling interest in the Reid Newfoundland Company is to be sold for the benefit of the estate. It will prove of immense value. Lady Reid becomes the recipient of the revenues of the estate up to the time of her death, when the estate will then be equally divided between the children, W. D. Reid, H. D. Reid, R. G. Reid and Miss Nellie Reid. In the interregnum Miss Reid will receive an annual income of $10,000. The executors are: Lady Reid, W. D. Reid, H. D. Reid, R. G. Reid and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy.

The outside bequests are: Queen's University, Kingston, $5,000; the Protestant Hospital for the Insane at Verdun, $5,000; the Alexandra Hospital, $5,000; the Western Hospital, $2,500; the Victoria Order of Nurses, $2,500; Sir Robert Reid's mother and sister, who occupy the estate at Comar Angus, Scotland, are given the use of this property during their lifetime, with an annual income of $2,500. A large farm at St. Vincent, in the State of Minnesota, is left to the testator's nephew, John Duff, while another property in the same locality is bequeathed to Mrs. David Duff, a sister-in-law of Lady Reid.

Sir R. G. Reid, who was a director of the Bank of Montreal, held 1,500 shares of that institution, besides about three thousand shares of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. He was also a large holder in the Dominion Iron and Steel, the Royal Trust Co., the Lake of the Woods Milling Co., and in other flourishing corporations.

LOST IN THE FOREST.

Little Girl Strayed From the Train at Gilbert.

Fort William, June 18.—Little Olive Dupray, while en route from Winnipeg, where she and an elder sister had been attending a convent, to her home here left the express to pick flowers while it was standing in a sink hole at Gilbert yesterday, awaiting repairs to the track. It was delayed there two hours. Her sister accompanied her and boarded the train again without noticing that Olive had failed to do so. The absence of the child was not noticed until the train pulled out for the east. As soon as it was known that the child was missing the train was stopped and for two hours passengers and crew joined in the search, but without avail.

The section crew were notified and remained out on the hunt all night. The little one evidently strayed into the bush, which is very dense at that point, and grave fears for her safety are entertained. Her parents left to-day for Gilbert to continue the search, however.

SCOTTISH INCOME TAX.

Thomas Ogilvie Assessed on Estimated Profits of Toronto Firm.

London, June 18.—In the Scottish courts, Thomas Ogilvie, of Aberdeen, sole partner in the firm of Thomas Ogilvie & Sons, Toronto, appealed against the payment of the income tax on £10,000, estimated by the assessors in default of returns as to profits of the firm. The court dismissed Ogilvie's contention that the business was entirely controlled in Toronto, and ordered the payment of the tax.

KICKED IN THE HEAD.

Mr. Berringham Seriously Injured While Visiting the O. A. C.

Guelph, June 18.—Theodore Berringham, an Englishman, of Palgrave, Ontario, who was at the O. A. C. College as an excursionist to-day, was kicked on the head by a horse in the farm stables. One of the horse's heels caught the visitor square in the forehead, crushing the frontal bone. He was taken to the hospital in an unconscious state. He may pull through, but his condition is very serious to-night.

Sham Fight and Tattoo For Thursday of Next Week.

Table listing military units and their counts: Headquarters staff 30, B Squadron R. C. D. 97, 1st Cavalry Brigade 1,245, 2nd Artillery Brigade 318, No. 2 Section R. C. D. 16, No. 2 Field Company, C. E. 111, No. 2 R. C. R. 73, 3rd Infantry Brigade 1,068, 4th Infantry Brigade 1,273, 5th Infantry Brigade 1,329, No. 2 Section Signal Corps 3, No. 2 Co., C. A. S. C. 70, No. 9 Co., C. A. S. C. 60, No. 12 Co., C. A. S. C. 85, No. 2 Section C. O. Co. 8, No. 10 Field Ambulance 78, No. 11 Field Ambulance 78, No. 12 Field Ambulance 78, No. 13 Field Ambulance 78.

Yesterday's operations consisted of routine drill for the infantry and cavalry, while regiments took their turns on the ranges all day long. The field ambulances were quite busy with minor accidents during the day and there 14 of 15 men under care in the hospital tents.

Gen. Cotton, camp commandant, Col. Clarence Denison and Major Elmaley, of the cavalry brigade, rode down through the newly-acquired camp site on the lake shore to the north and decided to use 50 acres to the west for cavalry manoeuvring. This will be the first time the new grounds have been used, as the department took possession on June 1st last.

An incident of the day was a visit of inspection paid by the council of Ontario County to the 24th Regiment. The majority of the men in the regiment have had two or three camps' training and they are able to execute movements somewhat advanced from the elementary stages.

Lieut. Col. Hall inspected the cavalry horses yesterday, and rejected 28 out of the entire number, 1,068. Seven were found unfit in the Governor-General's Body Guard, ten in the 2nd Dragoons, five in the 1st Hussars and six in the 9th Mississippi Horse.

Baseball and football leagues have been organized among the different regiments, and schedules have been drawn up for a series of games to be played in the evenings. The games will begin next week.

CHANGES IN C.P.R.

Mr. C. Murphy to be Superintendent of Eastern Division.

Montreal, June 19.—Important changes are being made in C. P. R. circles. Mr. H. P. Timmerman, General Superintendent of the Eastern Division, is about to be replaced in that office by Mr. Charles Murphy.

Mr. Charles Murphy, the new General Superintendent of the Eastern Division, is looked upon as one of the most capable and popular men among the C. P. R. officials. He has been connected with the company for many years. He was formerly Superintendent in charge of the Ontario Division, with headquarters at London, Ont., but for the last six months or so he has been relieving other Superintendents in various parts of the system.

SOMETHING NEW.

Always enterprising, and accustomed to give Hamilton people something new as well as good, Hazleton Camp, Woodmen of the World, has arranged for an over-summer outing which is sure to be met with favor. It is a boat trip to the beautiful Charlotte Bay, Rochester, by the fast steamer Turbina.

DECLINES THE TERMS PROPOSED.

DUNDAS AGAIN LOOKING FOR A HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER.

Principal Saunders to Marry the Former First Assistant--Other Valley City News.

Dundas, June 19.—The prize of ten dollars in cash, donated by Rev. E. A. Irving for the best essay on "The Clergy of Canada," by pupils of the Public Schools, will be competed for on Monday morning, the 29th inst. Competitors for the prize will meet at the school and will be given two hours in which to write. The full amount will be given in one prize, a suggestion that the amount be divided into two or more prizes not meeting with the approval of the donor. It is expected that there will be twenty or more competitors.

At a meeting of the Internal Management Committee of the School Board on Wednesday evening, it was found that according to the new salary schedule, four teachers of the Public School, Miss Hendry, Miss Swanson, Miss Kent and Miss Moore, are entitled to the maximum salary of $450, beginning on the re-opening of the schools after the summer holidays. At the same time, the salary of Miss Ferguson will be increased from $350 to $440. Another year's service will entitle her to the maximum salary.

The first assistant High School teacher still declines to sign the usual agreement with the Board, owing to its requiring two months' notice in case of a resignation. Another teacher will be advertised for, at once. The present teacher states that had he known there was such a clause in the agreement he would not have accepted the position.

D. W. Nelson has been elected chairman of the Internal Management Committee of the Board of Education, in place of N. McPherson, resigned from the Board.

Principal Moore, of the Public School, will spend a part of his vacation in New Brunswick, indulging in his favorite pastime of fishing.

The announcement is made of the marriage, next month, of Principal Saunders, of the High School, and Miss Armstrong, formerly first assistant High School teacher.

Miss Scott, Kindergarten teacher, takes a journey through the Canadian West during vacation.

A garden party was held at the residence of Rev. T. J. Mansell, the Methodist parsonage, here, as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Mansell. The attendance was large. Mr. Wm. E. Lyons was in the chair, and the programme included music by the choir, solos by Miss Fraser, Mrs. Fisher, Miss Quackenbush and Mr. Jacques; duet by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Crow; piano solo, Mrs. J. J. Grafton; piano duet, Misses Annie Pennington and Margaret Newitt. Mayor Moss and the chairman gave short addresses. Refreshments were served at the close.

The June meeting of the Public Library Board was held last night. A recent purchase of books was ordered to be paid for. The resignations of Miss Watson and N. McPherson from the Board were received and accepted. Mr.

McPherson has gone to Brantford, and Miss Watson's increased duties on the High School staff makes it impossible for her to attend the Board. Miss Wright, the Librarian, was granted her usual holidays. Application has been made to Mr. Carnegie for the $10,000 grant for the new library building. The Board adjourned until September.

CLOSE BARS IN MORNING.

Mr. J. A. Murray writes The Toronto News submitting suggestions for temperance workers. In part he says: "Why do not the temperance people call on the Government and ask to have the sale of intoxicating liquors prohibited every day in the year until eleven o'clock in the morning? If they would get the Government to accede to this request, I am sure they would do more for the cause of temperance than they have done during all the past years."

"I would also suggest that the churches take the temperance question in hand. How is it that you seldom hear a sermon on the evils of drink?"

Laza-Food.

The great stomach and bowel regulator, will, as soon as ovens and machinery can be placed, be put on the market in a cooked form, and will be a delicious food. Ready to serve.—A. W. Maguire & Co.

Boys' Suits to Clear

Boys' tweed, merino and serge suits, in larger and medium sizes, at $4.95, and washable suits for little fellows at 50c and 75c, are three of the special bargains advertised by Oak Hall for to-morrow.

TAFT THE CANDIDATE.

Chosen by Republicans by an Overwhelming Vote.

The Allies Nowhere When the Vote Was Called.

Selection Made Unanimous Amid Great Cheering.

Chicago, June 18.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon Secretary of War William H. Taft was nominated by the Republican convention for President of the United States by the following vote:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Votes. Includes Taft (702), Fairbanks (40), Cannon (38), Foraker (36), Lafollette (25), Hughes (67), Roosevelt (3), Knox (68).

General Woodford, of New York, as quickly as Senator Lodge, permanent chairman of the convention, announced the ballot, and as quickly as the cheering which greeted Taft's nomination ended, hopped upon his chair and said:

"At the request of Governor Hughes, and under the instructions of the united New York delegation, I move that the nomination of William H. Taft for the Presidency now be made unanimous."

Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, and William O. Emery, of Georgia, the colored delegate who seconded the nomination of Foraker, also seconded the nomination of Secretary Taft.

The nomination was made unanimous. The convention adjourned to 10 a. m. to-morrow, when a candidate for Vice-President will be nominated.

As tired and fretful as most of the delegates were, they wanted to go on and nominate the candidate for Vice-President, so they could start for their homes to-night. But the managers of the convention decreed otherwise.

The distinctive features of the session to-day were two uproarious efforts to stampede the convention for Roosevelt, and the oversight by which Governor Hughes' name was not formally presented in nomination.

The storm to stampede the convention for Roosevelt came from the galleries. The 980 delegates sat as if nailed.

Great is Uncle Joe. Probably no convention hall in the world was hotter than this one when, at 12:45 p. m., Henry Sherman Boutell, of the Ninth District of Illinois, clambered aboard the platform to nominate Uncle Joe, otherwise the Hon. Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House of Representatives, for President.

The great audience numbering to-day nearly 20,000 persons, was in a grand swelter. The lean people enjoyed it, and the fat folks swore under their breath. The average delegate and the average visitor, man or woman, used up handkerchiefs by the score.

Mr. Boutell, Uncle Joe's glorifier, is small enough to put in your pocket. He is of the lean kind. In speaking of the capabilities and availabilities of Uncle Joe, Mr. Boutell did not turn a hair. His collar and linen were as matchless as the virtues which he declared Uncle Joe possessed.

In Mr. Boutell's glowing words Uncle Joe was almost too good for earth, and yet not quite good enough for heaven.

Boutell mentioned all the renowned Republicans of that party, ending with President Roosevelt. At the mention of the President's name there were wild howls from the gallery, which turned into applause from nearly all parts of the convention.

It made the Taft people nervous, so much so that ex-Governor Myron Herrick, of Ohio, sitting at the head of the delegation, ten feet away from Boutell, cried: "Go on, Boutell, go on." And Mr. Boutell resumed his speech, which had been interrupted by the Roosevelt demonstration.

The Nomination of Taft. Fairbanks and Hughes were successively nominated. Then followed Ohio, the Buckeye State's turn to bring forward Secretary Taft, and when Molloy called the name of the State there was a burst of cheers that could have been heard a block away.

When Theodore Burton came forward, he had to stand on the platform three and a half minutes before he could begin his speech for Taft. The delegates created the tremendous scene for the War Secretary. The galleries were quiet. The delegates, in their howls and yells, and cries of all kinds, gave the first enthusiastic demonstration for Taft that has been witnessed here.

and so big was it that Senator Lodge ordered it to be taken out again. It encumbered the scene. It was grotesque to a certain extent in a scene which, while volcanic, was still brilliant in color.

There were cries of "Sit down, sit down," but it was impossible to end the scene. The band switched to "Marching Through Georgia," and other patriotic airs, and the tumult was even louder. All this went on for 24 minutes.

The tumult dying away from exhaustion, and because of the gavel strokes of Chairman Lodge, George A. Knight, of California, big voiced, big framed, in one of his spread eagle speeches which have been heard from California to Maine, seconded the nomination of Taft.

Attempted Roosevelt Stampede. The call of States for nominations over, there was a real effort to stampede for Roosevelt. It was started by John A. Seibert, of Springfield, Ill. Fastened to the handle of an umbrella was a picture of Roosevelt, which Seibert raised aloft. He was immediately behind Senator Lodge on the platform. He was in a splendid position to face that great assemblage.

When he saw the picture of Roosevelt slowly up and down, just as Mrs. Carson Lake waved her sunshade in the effort to stampede for Blaine in the Minneapolis convention in 1892, there were cries all over the convention for Roosevelt. The refrain, "Four, four, four years more was taken up and swelled and resounded until a great American flag bearing the picture of Roosevelt was brought in the gallery just behind Senator Lodge. This awakened more shouts, more yells, more cries for Roosevelt. It was pandemonium let loose.

But the delegates sat there as if on a rock, just as the only exception, Senator Crane and ex-Governor Herrick, as the din rose in volume, climbed upon the platform and begged Senator Lodge to stop the demonstration, if possible. John Molloy, the bassoon-voiced secretary of the convention, attempted to start the roll call. He could not be heard ten feet from the platform. The volume of sound was tremendous. The President, through the audiphones, could hear it away off in Washington. At times the demonstration sounded like the boom of crashing shells and the rattle of machine guns.

It was lasting too long for the comfort of many in the convention. Senator Lodge, grasping his gavel firmly and pounding it with all his might, declared "The call of States for nominations has been ended. The States will now vote on the various candidates." He was not heard five feet from where he spoke. Molloy, grabbing a megaphone, rushed out to the edge of the platform and roared through it: "Alabama." You could not hear what Alabama said; you could not hear what anybody said. Senator Lodge rushed out to where Molloy was and cried: "Keep it up; keep it up. This has got to stop."

So Molloy roared through the megaphone again for Alabama to answer. But Alabama could not be heard, and the chairman of the delegation had to go to the platform and announce the vote of the State for Taft. At this Molloy announced through the megaphone Alabama's vote, and the Ohio delegates began to shout. They howled for "Taft, Taft, Taft," and Herrick cried: "Give it to 'em. Give them some of their own medicine."

Powell Clayton, for Arkansas, had to go to the platform and announce the vote of the State for Taft and Molloy roared the vote through his megaphone. The Ohioans repeated the tactics and as the megaphone business was repeated for California and Delaware and down to Georgia, the chairman of the delegations being compelled to go to the platform to announce the votes of those States, the delegates had got into swinging cheers and these rolling plaudits had a quieting effect on the Roosevelt stampede in the gallery. By the time Idaho was reached the Ohio tactics in sending volley against volley had practically quelled the Roosevelt tumult. But it broke out again instantly and all told lasted 24 minutes.

SELL MILK ON ITS MERITS. Whenever the subject of a "state standard" for sale of milk is seriously and intelligently considered, the decision is that there should be no state standard of butter fat or non-fat solids, and that milk should be sold on test. No other decision seems possible.

TATTOOING ON WOMAN'S ARM. This represents a remarkably fine example of the tattooists' art which a well-known English actress is very proud to bear on her arms.

Did He Confess? BAILIFF'S STARTLING EVIDENCE AT TILLSONBURG INQUIRY.

Testified That, While He Was Watching the Fire, Buckborough Told Him He Had Started the Fire to Get Even With Mero, the Proprietor.

Tillsonburg, Jun 18.—"I done it. I told him I would get even with him. This is the statement which convict Chester Buckborough of setting fire to the Queen's Hotel on May 20th, causing the death of three persons and injuring many more. The confession was repeated by the last witness called for the Crown at the preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Hare this afternoon, and it was sprung upon a crowded court room with dramatic suddenness. Up to that point the hearing had proceeded without anything more definite being adduced against the accused than that he had been heard to say on more than one occasion that he would get even with John Mero, the proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, and that Mero stated he saw the accused in the hall of the hotel after the alarm of fire had been given. That evidence was probably enough to necessitate the commitment of the prisoner for trial, but when Chas. Crossitt, bailiff of the district Division Court, made his dramatic statement there could be no doubt as to what action the Magistrate would be compelled to take.

Crossitt in his evidence told how he happened to pass along the street while the hotel was still burning. Naturally he was interested and stopped to watch what was doing. Chance placed him next to Buckborough, now a prisoner, charged with a crime, which, if he committed it, is one of the most dastardly in the dark history of crime. Crossitt related his brief conversation with Buckborough. He said: "I said to Buckborough, 'It's a pretty sad thing, and he said 'I done it. I told him (this with an oath), that I'd get even with him.'"

Under a winding-up order the court has ordered the sale of the steamer Argyle.

Good News to the Suffering From Prominent Physician

A well-known physician famous for his success in treating diseases of the kidneys and bladder offers the following advice to anyone suffering from rheumatism, sciatica, lame back, sallow skin, etc.: Get from any good druggist the following: One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, One ounce Compound Salatan, Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. OLD-AGE ANNUITIES.

Second Reading of Mr. Fielding's Measure Passed.

Fielding's Plan to Move the Western Crops Endorsed.

Votes for Armories at Strathroy and Elsewhere.

Ottawa, June 18.—The Opposition placed themselves on record to-day as opposed to the steps which the Government took in the fall of last year to aid the movement of grain from the west during the financial stringency.

When Hon. Mr. Fielding asked the House to endorse the loans made to the banks Mr. Foster took the ground that the Government were not warranted in taking the action they did, and charged them with having violated the law. Hon. Mr. Fielding admitted that there had been a technical departure from the strict letter of the law, but that the gravity of the crisis justified the action of the Government.

Hon. Mr. Fielding then moved the second reading of the bill to authorize the issue of Government annuities for old age. He stated that the Minister of Trade and Commerce, by whom it was proposed the new system might be administered at first, had prepared an estimate of the expenses of administration. These, it was estimated, would not exceed $50,000 a year in the early days of the system.

Hon. Mr. Fielding said the Postoffice machinery would be employed. Mr. Foster deprecated entering into competition with insurance companies and fraternal societies. Hon. Mr. Fielding pointed out that insurance companies and fraternal societies did not carry on an annuity business. The bill was reported.

Votes for Armories. The House then went into Committee of Supply on the public works estimates in British Columbia, which were passed. On an item of $50,000 for armories Hon. Mr. Pugsley stated that part of this would be used for the construction of a $20,000 armory at Strathroy. It was for the headquarters and two companies of the 26th Regiment.

Sir Frederick Borden, in the course of a discussion raised by several members who suggested armories at various points, said the idea was to have small armories at as many points as possible for one, two or three companies or a squadron. The department had tried to make the selection of points for the armories according to the qualification of the militia there.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Signature of J. C. Watson. GIROUARD LIBEL SUIT. Evidence in Case Against Rev. Dr. John Pringle.

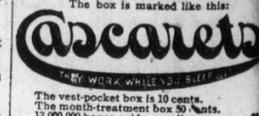

Ottawa, June 18.—In connection with the libel suit of Mr. J. E. Girouard of Dawson City, against Rev. Dr. John Pringle on account of the latter's statements reflecting on the moral conduct of Mr. Girouard in the Yukon, important evidence has just been taken in Ottawa before Donald Hector MacLean, appointed by the Yukon court a commissioner for the hearing of evidence in Ottawa. The witnesses examined before Mr. MacLean were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Frank Oliver and Hon. George E. Foster. Mr. Alex. Smith appeared for the plaintiff's solicitor, and Mr. Travers Lewis for the defendant.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was examined yesterday morning, and produced and identified several documents as having been received by him from Dr. Pringle. These documents contain the words complained of by the plaintiff Girouard. Mr. Oliver and Mr. Foster were examined to-day, and similar documents were produced and identified by them.

Mother's Milk Carries the Laxative With It

No need to give Cascarets direct to the baby. If the mother takes them, baby gets the benefit. This vegetable laxative conveys its full effect to the mother's milk. So one candy tablet, taken when needed, keeps both mother and baby well.

No other laxative is gentle enough for a baby. No other acts so naturally. Use Cascarets alone. Any person living largely on milk must have the help of a laxative. Milk fails to supply the laxative effects that other foods supply. So nursing mothers all need Cascarets

PERJURY TOO PREVALENT.

Toronto Informer Denied He Had Acted for the Crown. Toronto, June 19.—David McGillivray, a teamster, living at 694 Dundas street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of perjury, arising out of the prosecution of Richard M. Tutbill, druggist, at Queen street and Cowan avenue, for a breach of the Lord's Day act, in that he was charged with selling a cigar to McGillivray on Sunday, May 24. The defendant conducted his own case, which was dismissed after the court had heard the evidence of McGillivray and Police Constable McDermott.

The latter admitted having used McGillivray as a "stool pigeon" to secure evidence against the druggist, but McGillivray repeatedly contradicted the statement, and declared that he had not been sent in to try and buy a cigar. Acting upon this statement, the Morality Department instituted proceedings against McGillivray, with a view to stamping out perjury in the Police Court.

A few days ago McGillivray was a witness in the case of Mrs. Mary Wells, when he swore that he had purchased liquor on her premises.

The Toronto Board of Control decided to appoint Mr. Walter Sterling chief city auditor at a salary of $5,000. The rail mill and furnaces of the Lake Superior Corporation at Sault Ste. Marie will reopen on Monday next.

GRADUATION OF NURSES.

Thirteen Go Out From City Hospital Training School

And One Becomes Superintendent at Once.

Presentation of Medals and Addresses Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual commencement exercises of the training school for nurses, in connection with the City Hospital, were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The proceedings opened with a short prayer by Rev. E. J. Etherington followed by an address by Chairman Billings, of the Board of Governors, who presided.

The presentation of the diplomas was made by Dr. Lyle, who in a short address exhorted the young ladies to strive to do their work in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

Rev. Father Coty presented the badges to the young ladies, and spoke in a similar strain.

Those who graduated were Misses Nellie Wright, city; Martha C. Milne, Delaware; Laurel P. Cummings, Walkerton; Ella Neelands, Strathroy; Mina Rodgers, city; Eva M. Murphy, city; Viola Lattimer, Woodstock; Edith Giese, city; Catharine Dalglish, Binbrook; Margaret A. Stanger, city; Alice E. Hindley, Oustie; Ethel B. Binley, city, and Elizabeth Sadler, city.

The presentations were followed by the address to the graduates by Dr. Frank Coleman in a splendid speech. Dr. Coleman congratulated the young ladies on their graduation. He believed that all were entering upon their work individually with a proper spirit and understanding.

This was followed by short and interesting addresses by Canon Abbott, Rev. Colin Fletcher, and others. Dr. Langrill presented the report of Mrs. House, Superintendent of the Nurses' Home. It stated that there are at present 50 nurses in the Home, and 7 probationers.

Dr. Langrill congratulated the young ladies, and hoped as they went out into the world they would serve their different employers in the same satisfactory manner as they had served him.

RIGHT OF DIVORCE.

Justice Martin is Exhaustive in Proving Provincial Jurisdiction.

Vancouver, June 18.—"To disturb the jurisdiction of the courts of this province in divorce and matrimonial matters, which has been exercised for the past thirty-one years, would be to create a social and domestic calamity."

This is but one view expressed by Justice Martin after a judicial review covering that entire period, in a fifty-page judgment supporting the jurisdiction of the provincial courts. It is the most exhaustive judgment ever handed down upon any question before the local courts, and will be used by the Attorney-General upon the appeal before the judicial committee of the Privy Council next month, an appeal necessitated by adverse decision of Justice Clement, the only provincial supreme court judge holding an opposite view.

Jurisdiction is supported by Justice Martin from three view points: First, by past judicial decisions upholding practice and authority for it, back to the days of Sir James Douglas and Chief Justice Begbie; secondly, by frequently revised supreme court rulings which have ever received the sanction of the legislature before becoming operative; thirdly, by the attitude of the provincial legislature, with its various enactments regarding divorce and matrimony, as well as the attitude of the Federal Parliament, which has never repealed any of these provincial acts.

Good Fortune.

The very best values in men's hats, shirts and underwear than any store has had the good fortune to offer in the good news of Treble's, advertised on the back page of this issue. You cannot possibly go wrong in buying at Treble's two stores.

PUPILS' RECITALS.

Miss Peene's in Conservatory, Mr. Allen's at Knox.

An appreciative audience gathered in the Conservatory of Music Recital Hall last evening for the recital given by a number of the pupils of Miss Lillie M. Peene, A. T. C. M. The programme was varied by vocal solos by Miss Rhoda Evans and a violin solo by Miss Florence Clark. Miss Evans, who has become quite a favorite, sang both her numbers very sweetly, and Miss Clark made a decidedly good impression.

Miss Peene's piano pupils showed careful and correct training, and afforded their friends much pleasure. The programme was: March Militaire... Schubert; Walter Logan and Walter Daw; The Little Bugler... Krogman; Blanch Wilkinson;

Joy Days in May... Behr, No. 2; Willard Lora... Wilbey; (b) At Sunrise... Streafeld; Miss Rhoda Evans;

The Pixies Riding Horses... A. Brown; Doris Irving; Doll's Dance... Krogman; Gladys Landman... Krogman; Valetta... Vida Peene;

GOOD TEMPLARS.

Officers Elected—The Three-Fifths Clause Condemned.

Toronto, June 18.—The convention of the Independent Order of Good Templars was concluded yesterday. In the morning Mayor Oliver addressed the convention.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand Chief Templar, John Eagleston, Ottawa; Grand Councilor, Joseph H. Day, Toronto; Grand Superintendent, Juvenile Work, May L. Powers, Ottawa; Grand Vice-Templar, Mrs. Shields, Mount Pleasant; Grand Secretary, G. Locke McCrae, Toronto; Grand Treasurer, A. H. Lyle, Hamilton; Deputy International Templar, Robert Balmer, Ottawa.

NEXT MEETING IN HAMILTON.

Canadian Oddfellows Will Come Here in June, 1909.

Rates on Old Members Have Not Been Raised.

Most of the Leading Officers Were Re-elected.

London, June 18.—Grand Lodge of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows, concluded its labors yesterday. The good spirit which has characterized all the proceedings of the body throughout was maintained until the end, the convention closing by the members joining in the singing of the National Anthem and "Auld Lang Syne."

By a considerable majority the meeting decided not to increase the rates to old members.

Yesterday some amendments to the new constitution were made, the most important one affecting the representation of subordinate lodges at the meeting of the grand lodge.

Under the old regulations any lodge having 50 members was entitled to send two representatives to grand lodge, and one for each additional 50 or fraction thereof, and more in the same proportion. The amendment necessitates the enrollment of 75 members before two representatives can be sent, and one for each additional 75.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand Master—W. T. Junkin, Femeion Falls, (acclamation); Deputy Grand Master—Wm. Irwin, St. Thomas, (acclamation); Grand Secretary—Robert Fleming, Toronto, (acclamation); Grand Treasurer—P. G. M. W. H. Shaw, Toronto, (acclamation); Grand Medical Referee—Dr. H. S. Bingham, Toronto, (acclamation); Grand Chaplain—Rev. J. Lindsay, Presbyterian minister, Evelyn, Ont.; Grand Lodge Representatives—D. J. A. White, Lindsay, and Dr. A. Thompson, Galt;

Grand Auditors—W. L. Young, Markdale, and Charles Musson, Toronto; Committee on Laws—C. Bradford, Hamilton, and J. W. Boyd and R. Wray, Committee on Finance—J. S. Tice, Stirling, Ont., and C. H. Denton, Tillsonburg, Ont.

The election of twelve district deputy grand masters was then held, the results as reported to the grand lodge showing the following appointments: Brighton district—Jas. Harris, Bannockburn; Lindsay district—C. W. Hughan, Lindsay; Montreal district—Dr. Wm. Opzoomer, Montreal; Owen Sound district—E. W. Geddes, Owen Sound; Highgate district—Solomon Manning, Highgate; Windsor district—George Hicks, Windsor; Galt district—Robt. Hammond, Galt; Toronto district—H. C. Cardinal, Toronto; Belleville district—A. Van Laven, Kingston; Hamilton district—Willot Hall, Dundas; St. Thomas district—G. A. Mason, Woodstock; Winnipeg district was left without a district master for the time being.

The superintendent of organization, Bro. R. T. McNichol, addressed the general lodge at some length, outlining the plans which it is intended to pursue this year for the advancement of the work of the order.

It was decided to hold the next convention at Hamilton the third Tuesday in June, 1909.

Red Mill Theatre.

The management of the Red Mill have secured the only genuine picture of "Lion Hunting in Africa," which film attracted considerable attention some few months ago when the authorities prohibited the manufacturers from making any more such pictures as the risk to human life was too great. Consequently there was only one film manufactured, and it is now being shown at the Red Mill this week, and is arousing great interest. The rest of the programme is good, as usual. Admission remains the same, 5c.

Easy street is not a thoroughfare to heaven.

RETAIL MERCHANTS.

Adam Ballentine Elected Vice President of Association.

Galt, June 19.—At the Retail Merchants' Association the financial report was passed. A long list of resolutions had been presented, and the following recommendations were made: That we endorse the Railway Committee's recommendation on coal dealers' redress on short weight; opposition to co-operative societies; to make it a criminal offence to falsely advertise; to form a commission of commercial, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, against the parcel post system, which discriminates in favor of the departmental stores and that the parcel post system be made self-sustaining; opposing the tax on patent and proprietary medicines; to have bread examined at the bakery and not from rigs; that no municipality compel bakers to furnish municipalities with bread granted power to regulate picture galleries and bowling alleys; regulate the sale of cocaine and other harmful drugs.

The special Finance Committee at the morning's session recommended that a committee be appointed, composed of Messrs. Higgins and Decker, Toronto; Kelly, Guelph; Rutherford, Galt; Hallock, Toronto; Ballentine and Farrar, Hamilton; Ellis, Ottawa and Ziemann, Preston, to thoroughly investigate the financial condition of the association and to take any steps to place the same upon a soundly financial basis.

The following officers were elected: President, B. W. Ziemann, Preston; Vice-Presidents, Adam Ballentine, Hamilton; C. W. Kelly, Guelph; Secretary, E. M. Trower, Toronto; Treasurer, M. Moyer, Toronto. The meeting of the Provincial Association for 1909 was arranged to be held at Brockville. This afternoon the members were the guests of the local retail merchants and attended the Horae Show.

BALLOON RACE

Under War Conditions Great Success in Germany.

Bochum, Prussia, June 19.—The long distance balloon race, under conditions of war, has resulted very successfully. There were four starters, the participants being aeronauts who had not previously competed in a race in the air. Two of the balloons reached Jaroschin, near the Russian frontier, a distance of 150 miles, in fifteen hours, another descended at Goerlitz, a distance of 350 miles. The fourth balloon failed to comply with the conditions, which exacted that three persons occupy the basket of each balloon. One of them should be landed during the flight, the distance being without re-filling and proceeding on its journey, which must end within Germany.

A terrific wind rendered the start most difficult, while a severe rain increased the weight of the balloons; yet all landed in the best of condition, with sufficient ballast remaining to continue in the air for a longer period.

OBITUARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker Lose Little Child—Two Funerals.

Much sympathy will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Baker, 16 Locomotive street, in the loss of their infant daughter, Pauline, who died yesterday, aged 10 months. The funeral will take place on Sunday at 3 o'clock, and the interment will be made at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

The funeral of John Wesman took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from his late residence, 74 Chestnut avenue, to Hamilton cemetery. Rev. R. J. Treleven officiated at the house and grave. The pallbearers were: C. Locken, H. Dodson, C. Peterson, M. Axen and two sons, Sigurd and Reginald West. Many beautiful flowers were laid on the casket.

The funeral of Herbert Hancock took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, 14 Ferguson avenue north, to Hamilton cemetery. Rev. R. J. Treleven conducted the services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were: William Chew, Thomas Collin, V. Lighthouse, James Dampier, James Tully and S. Tinsley. There were many floral tributes including a beautiful wreath from the employees of the Fearman Packing Co.

FOUR MINUTE FLIGHT

French Aeroplanist Not Very Successful in First Attempt.

Milan, June 19.—Leon Delagrangé, the French aeroplanist, made his first experiment yesterday before thousands of spectators, who included the prefect and the Mayor, but the tests were not very successful, owing to several accidents to the motor of his aeroplane. He made four ascensions, on one occasion remaining in the air for four minutes and thirty-five seconds. In this experiment his machine was about eight feet from the ground. The spectators warmly applauded his efforts.

THE FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION. Canada's Superb Exhibit--The Canadian Palace--A Credit to Canada.

If any lingering doubts remain in the public mind as to the success of the Franco-British Exhibition, they should be dispelled forthwith. The rapid progress towards completion made during the last ten days, the brilliant summer weather, which has converted London to a city of Oriental warmth and sunshine, and the growing crowds of visitors to Shepherd's Bush have definitely settled the seal of prosperity on the great undertaking. Now that Londoners are in a position to appreciate the real magnitude of the exhibition, there is every reason to believe that the public will place their enthusiasm, and that their enthusiasm will mount as the season advances to fever. By this time next month visiting the City of the Entente will have developed into a habit.

August 11 will become a fever. Despite all the descriptive notices of an exhibition which have appeared through the half, has not been said, and it is impossible to do justice to this triumph of energy and art without using superlatives. Two main impressions are pressed on the visitor at the moment of entering the grounds with quickened senses. The first is the grandeur of the place, and the second is the grandeur of the place, and the Englishman is stirred to pride at the knowledge that this magnificent venture has been undertaken on British soil. The City of Entente irresistibly recalls the vast gliding schemes of the Roman Emperor, who caused populous cities to spring from the ground at their imperial command. It is like a town of 300,000 people, erected in the space of a few days. The Colosseum at Rome, the building which occupied two reigns, could be placed easily inside the Stadium. The Court of Honor is the counterpart of the Roman Forum. The Elites, although not happily named, are as beautiful as the gardens of the Palatine Mount. The mere machinery halls are as huge as the Palace of Caligula.

Revised Impressions. The disappointed visitors who tramp through rain and mud on the unfortunate opening day will revise their impressions when they see the exhibition in its present condition. For it is only the stupendousness of the enterprise which strikes the mind--its brilliant beauty is even more powerful its effect on the imagination. The one in the open avenues, flanked by white buildings--all of them gleaming with the gleaming of the Taj Mahal--is as glowing with light and color as Kipling's vivid word picture of life on the Great trunk road of India in "Kim." The dress and courteous throng of English and French people, flocked here and there with early arrivals, the gleaming pearl palaces with their gleaming richness of the Taj Mahal--is as glowing with light and color as Kipling's vivid word picture of life on the Great trunk road of India in "Kim."

The final effect produced by the Canadian exhibit is one of boundless optimism and unrivaled energy. Every one who visits the Dominion Quebec shows that Canada's future as a manufacturing country must keep pace with its agricultural development. With all the climatic advantages of California, with vast deposits of mineral wealth which have yet been hardly tapped, Canada is a country of boundless possibilities. The world's second United States under the Empire's flag. The manufacturing shown combine the solidity of English productions with the ingenuity of the American. The rows on rows of exhibits, whether tools, machinery, furniture, or clothing materials, all bear evidence of highly intelligent design and soundness of manufacture. It goes without saying that the display of polished and natural woods is second to none that the fruits and cereals are rich in quality as they are wonderful in their variety, and that the dairy produce is excellent.

In another sense the Canadian Palace is the psychological centre of the exhibition. Within its walls the people of the two great world-empires can meet on common ground, for it enshrines the combined national genius of the Anglo-Saxon and French races.

Canada's Palace stands out amid all this magnificence with a consciousness and character of its own. One of the largest separate buildings in the city of great erections, it is also the most in architecture. Some of the palaces in the City of the Entente are of a later renaissance which is not of the history of the regiment--is playing the hollowed-out amphitheatre at the centre of the gardens, is one of almost overpowering beauty, recalling the team-city pictured by the brilliant American artist, Mr. Maxfield Parrish. The exhibition is always a gorgeous spectacle, worthy of a journey for itself alone, and visitors from all quarters may be assured that they will see at Shepherd's Bush a display surpassing anything of its kind ever attempted since a beginning of history.

filled with portraits of the King, the Queen, the Prince and the Princess of Wales. "One of our special attractions will be a group of nature's earliest tree-fellers and engineers--beavers. Here they are."

The Beaver-Dam. The Canadian beavers will certainly be visited by all the children at the Exhibition. They are five of them, all alive, and they have made their home in front of a cleverly contrived model of a beaver-dam, from which a cascade of water falls into a miniature pool below. They were all eating with great appetite during our representative's inspection, and with a painted stage setting of a Canadian stream and forest scene behind them, they formed a remarkably natural and attractive picture. There is a supply of birch logs for the beavers to sharpen their teeth on.

"These trophies on either side of the dam are being covered with specimens of Canadian woods," continued Colonel Hutchison. "There are other specimens in panels on the walls." The series of oil pictures running all round the palace are of typical Canadian scenes and homesteads. They are all transparencies, and will be lighted up at night by electricity. The big picture yonder is a built up horticultural scene. It is a composite picture, taken from several landscapes.

Passing a good display of agricultural machinery, Colonel Hutchison stopped at a large glass case, and tore away a corner of the sheeting with which it was carefully covered.

"Look at this stately group, and tell me what it is sculptured in," he said. The group was a very fine one, representing Jacques Cartier, the explorer, and a boatman in a boat, while on the shore close at hand stood an erect and dignified Indian. The chiselling of this group throughout is very clean, and the commanding figure of the nude Indian is superbly well rendered. To all appearance, the sculptor's material was a very fine quality of creamy marble.

Wonderful Statuary. "Carved in butter--frozen butter--every one of them," was the colonel's startling remark. "There came in another of our difficulties, by the way. We could not get sufficient electric power for refrigerating purposes, and had to lay down our own cold-storage plant, which will contain frozen butter portrait statues of the King and Queen."

A tour of the palace, which contains 120,000 square feet of floor space, showed that the arrangement and display of the exhibits from the different provinces of the Dominion were nearly complete. Ontario is making a capital show of machinery, woods, and woolsens. There are fish and garden produce from Nova Scotia; while New Brunswick shows mineral specimens, and Manitoba and the Northwest have a great display of magnificent furs. Quebec shows wood and woolen goods, paper-making, and British Columbia has a rich display of fruits and colonial produce of many kinds.

ROBBED ITALIANS.

Fatally Stabbed One of the Men Who Resisted.

Fort Plain, N. Y., June 18.--Ten Italian laborers, who lived in a car on a siding of the West Shore Railroad, here, were held up by armed robbers at midnight and forced to hand over more than $500 which they had received in wages yesterday. One of the Italians who resisted the desperadoes was probably fatally wounded, and an outsider who had heard the tumult in the car and sought to frighten the robbers away was overpowered, bound, gagged and his pockets rifled. The robbers escaped with their booty, leaving no clue. The bandits forced an entrance at midnight, and when the Italians awoke they found themselves covered with four revolvers in the hands of two men, while a fourth man, armed with a knife, ordered them to come forward one by one and turn over to him their money to him.

One of the Italians, labeled, and in a few moments lay dying with a knife wound half way through his body. From that time to the end the task of the robbers was easy. Dr. Eduard Glaser, the well known explorer of Arabia, and Oriental scholar, died in Munich, Germany, recently. Dr. Glaser was born in 1833 and was known widely as an Oriental linguist. He travelled far and wide in the interests of archaeological and topographical research and discovered hundreds of inscriptions that were deciphered by him, and are now looked upon as priceless possessions in the hands of antiquaries. He was the author of many scientific works.

At the seventh district convention of the B'nai B'rith, held at Dallas, Texas, committees were appointed to consider the immigration problem, especially with regard to the distribution of Jewish immigrants to some of the arid lands, and with a view to colonizing them on cheap farms, wherever such colonization is practicable. Memorial services that were very impressive were held in St. Petersburg, Baron Ginzburg presiding, in honor of the late editor of the Reteh, Herr Back, who died in London recently. After ten years of persistent effort and much self-sacrifice on the part of the members of the Hebrew Ladies' Aid Association, the new Montefiore hospital, Pittsburgh, was opened last week.

The new Jewish free school was inaugurated at Alexandria, Egypt, with imposing ceremonies. The structure is a fine building, containing forty-five rooms, accommodating twelve hundred children, who receive their free education and a midday meal. Prince Aziz Hasan, brother of the Khedive, and many notabilities of the country were present. The report of the British Consul at Palestine as to the industrial and educational life in the Holy Land is an interesting and important document. The long report goes to show the awakening of modern Palestine. Its progress is truly marvelous. The report proves that the country is now manufacturing its own products, is selling thousands of articles to foreign countries, amounting to a large sum of money. It is more populated, more capital and more enterprising. It offers an excellent place for commercial investments on a large scale.

The little Jewish colony of New Zealand is quite proud of the fact that one of its members, Mr. S. N. Ziman, a graduate of the local university, was chosen Rhodes scholar from New Zealand. He was quite popular in student circles and had taken a special course in mining engineering, and expects to enter the civil service in India. Just over half a million--of which $430,000 is net personally--has been left by the late Mr. Harsh Lebus of Southampton, Mr. Lebus, who was a cabinet maker and a director of various limited companies, began business life in his father's little cabinet-making shop at Wellclose square, in the East end of London. Here he was accustomed to take out his own furniture, and at the time of his death Mr. Lebus was the largest wholesale furniture maker in the kingdom, his Tottenham works employing more than 3,000 hands. There are also large showrooms and offices in Tabernacle street. Mr. Lebus was mainly responsible for the vogue which "fumed oak" obtained some years ago. He was born in Hull, and was fond of saying that he was "proud to be an English Jew." He was fifty-five years of age.

Jacob M. Moses has been appointed Judge of the Juvenile Court in Baltimore. The elections for the Prussian Parliament will be held this month. The National Liberals have nominated among their candidates the Jews. In addition to the seven other Jews, who already sit in the parliament, the Freisinger have adopted three other Jews, one of them for a Berlin constituency. The people of Kismet are laboring rapidly and passionately at the construction of the Hedja railways. A wonderful event, significant and instructive. Both this line and the Bagdad railway, which is to be linked up with it, and the construction of the harbor at Haifa, which will soon be commenced, betoken for Palestine and neighboring lands the dawn of a new era of agricultural development. Dr. Henri de Rothschild, a member of the famous family of that name, and an eminent physician of Paris, announces his intention of constructing at his own expense a home for aged dramatic authors on the edge of the Bois de Boulogne. The building will include a small theatre where productions by the inmates can be given. The greatest Jewish philanthropic trust, other than that of Baron de Hirsch, is undoubtedly that of the Baroness von Cohn-Oppenheim Stiftung (founded by an uncle of that name), which has its headquarters at Dessau. The trust assists Jewish communities, benevolent institutions and schools, and the poor, but it also helps needy persons of other faiths. The income of the fund in 1907 was 232,705 marks, and the expenditure 231,288 marks. A new Jewish hospital was opened in London in the presence of a large gathering at the beginning of this month. The hospital is named after the late Baroness de Hirsch, who had given 200,000 francs towards its erection. The necessary funds were collected from other Jewish philanthropists, notably the presence of Dr. Rothschild, through the efforts of Dr. Mirra. The hospital accommodates twenty-five beds, seventeen of which have already been endowed. The General Governor of Salonica opened the new hospital with imposing ceremonies, and among those present were nearly all the foreign Consuls, as well as the most prominent people of the city. AMONG THE JEWS

NEWS NOTES ABOUT THEM FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

A conflagration that threatened to destroy half of the city raged in Jerusalem last week. It was started from the Greek Theatre. The wooden structure was soon surrounded by flames, and the fire spread to neighboring buildings. The fire department, if it may be so called, is very inadequate in Jerusalem. Many houses were destroyed. A number of Jewish women in New Britain, Conn., most of them poor, are working to raise a fund of five thousand dollars to found a scholarship for poor and deserving Jewish girls. The aim is raising the fund hereafter--to awaken the Jewish community to the need of higher education for its women; to hold up the highest ideals of those who need it, and to help those who crave it. Dr. Eduard Glaser, the well known explorer of Arabia, and Oriental scholar, died in Munich, Germany, recently. Dr. Glaser was born in 1833 and was known widely as an Oriental linguist. He travelled far and wide in the interests of archaeological and topographical research and discovered hundreds of inscriptions that were deciphered by him, and are now looked upon as priceless possessions in the hands of antiquaries. He was the author of many scientific works.

At the seventh district convention of the B'nai B'rith, held at Dallas, Texas, committees were appointed to consider the immigration problem, especially with regard to the distribution of Jewish immigrants to some of the arid lands, and with a view to colonizing them on cheap farms, wherever such colonization is practicable. Memorial services that were very impressive were held in St. Petersburg, Baron Ginzburg presiding, in honor of the late editor of the Reteh, Herr Back, who died in London recently. After ten years of persistent effort and much self-sacrifice on the part of the members of the Hebrew Ladies' Aid Association, the new Montefiore hospital, Pittsburgh, was opened last week.

The new Jewish free school was inaugurated at Alexandria, Egypt, with imposing ceremonies. The structure is a fine building, containing forty-five rooms, accommodating twelve hundred children, who receive their free education and a midday meal. Prince Aziz Hasan, brother of the Khedive, and many notabilities of the country were present. The report of the British Consul at Palestine as to the industrial and educational life in the Holy Land is an interesting and important document. The long report goes to show the awakening of modern Palestine. Its progress is truly marvelous. The report proves that the country is now manufacturing its own products, is selling thousands of articles to foreign countries, amounting to a large sum of money. It is more populated, more capital and more enterprising. It offers an excellent place for commercial investments on a large scale.

The little Jewish colony of New Zealand is quite proud of the fact that one of its members, Mr. S. N. Ziman, a graduate of the local university, was chosen Rhodes scholar from New Zealand. He was quite popular in student circles and had taken a special course in mining engineering, and expects to enter the civil service in India. Just over half a million--of which $430,000 is net personally--has been left by the late Mr. Harsh Lebus of Southampton, Mr. Lebus, who was a cabinet maker and a director of various limited companies, began business life in his father's little cabinet-making shop at Wellclose square, in the East end of London. Here he was accustomed to take out his own furniture, and at the time of his death Mr. Lebus was the largest wholesale furniture maker in the kingdom, his Tottenham works employing more than 3,000 hands. There are also large showrooms and offices in Tabernacle street. Mr. Lebus was mainly responsible for the vogue which "fumed oak" obtained some years ago. He was born in Hull, and was fond of saying that he was "proud to be an English Jew." He was fifty-five years of age.

Jacob M. Moses has been appointed Judge of the Juvenile Court in Baltimore. The elections for the Prussian Parliament will be held this month. The National Liberals have nominated among their candidates the Jews. In addition to the seven other Jews, who already sit in the parliament, the Freisinger have adopted three other Jews, one of them for a Berlin constituency. The people of Kismet are laboring rapidly and passionately at the construction of the Hedja railways. A wonderful event, significant and instructive. Both this line and the Bagdad railway, which is to be linked up with it, and the construction of the harbor at Haifa, which will soon be commenced, betoken for Palestine and neighboring lands the dawn of a new era of agricultural development. Dr. Henri de Rothschild, a member of the famous family of that name, and an eminent physician of Paris, announces his intention of constructing at his own expense a home for aged dramatic authors on the edge of the Bois de Boulogne. The building will include a small theatre where productions by the inmates can be given. Jewish organizations of the world. The American Jewish Committee, as it seems, has taken the initiative in this matter, and Dr. Nathan, of the Hilfsverein, is very enthusiastic about it. It is expected that a preliminary conference of all representative Jewish organizations will soon be held for that purpose. The recent visit of Dr. Jacob Matzkin, an agent of the Hilfsverein, to New York appears to have given rise to this movement. In Odessa alone upwards of 10,000 Jewish families applied for help before the Passover holidays.

White Horse, Yukon, June 18.--Major Snyder, of the Mounted Police, has received news of a murder on the river, a short distance below Selkirk. The telephone line from Dawson to White Horse is out of order, and the news came via Valdez and the United States cable. The message is as follows: "New Elbow, British Columbia, June 18, 1908. He had been seen on the river with two others on the way down. The sound of shooting was heard by other small boat passengers on the river bank below Selkirk." Inquiry by Major Wood as to who left here in boat No. 113 showed that Ned Elifolst, Emil Anderson and David Bergman left in the boat on May 16. The murder probably occurred five or six days later, as that time would be required to run from here to Selkirk. Whether the murder was for the purpose of robbery or for the result of a quarrel is not known. The names indicated that all were Scandinavians, either Norwegians or Swedes, people not given to quietly obeying orders. The supposition is that the close intimacy of travelling for several days in a small ill-ventilated strait and bad blood, which culminated in murder.

Robinson Leach Will Leap From Steel Arch Bridge. Niagara Falls, June 18.--Robinson Leach, of Chippewa, who is already famous for having braved the dangers of Niagara River, again announces that he will jump from the upper steel arch bridge on Dominion Day. His only safeguard will be a parachute. Up to yesterday his assertion was not regarded seriously in this city, but the parachute and other apparatus to be used in the descent arrived yesterday, and Leach declared today that he will make the jump and will reach the water safely by using the canopy above his head. A boat will also be kept in readiness near the bridge. Leach originally intended to make the jump on July 4, but the International Railway Company, owners of the upper steel arch bridge, would not allow him to do so on account of the large crowds which will gather on that day.

Eloping Couple Left St. Stephen, N. B., for Montreal on Wednesday. St. John, N. B., June 18.--All the effort to locate David McEwan and his bride, who left St. Stephen yesterday, en route to Montreal, have failed. Before leaving St. Stephen Mrs. McEwan left word with her hostess that if her parents, Governor and Mrs. Tweedie, enquired of her future plans she would be in Montreal for a few days, and would be sent to Scotland, where she and her husband would make their future home. McEwan came out from Scotland last summer in charge of the local Government's importation of horses. He is a son of a Scottish farmer and is an expert with the bagpipes. Governor and Mrs. Tweedie left for their home in Chatham to-day.

Alfred Lomas Crushed by Elevator at the Toronto News Office. Toronto, June 19.--Alfred Lomas, the eight-year-old son of James A. Lomas, 112 Yonge street, met with a painful accident at the News office about six o'clock last evening. The boy was playing near the elevator and did not notice it descending, and was caught beneath it. His head was crushed against a box, and the entire back portion of the body torn off. His face was also bruised. He was removed in the police ambulance to the Sick Children's Hospital, where 30 stitches were put in his wounds. He is in a precarious condition.

George Wilson Acquitted of Shooting Wenceslas Fortin. Montreal, June 18.--George Wilson, the Chamby farmer, who shot Wenceslas Fortin on the 27th of April last, appeared before Judge Choquette in the Court of Sessions this morning. His plea of self defence was substantiated by several witnesses, and the Judge acquitted him accordingly.

The Intelligent Housekeeper. Will note these facts: Gerrie's Perfection baking powder is the strongest, purest and highest grade baking powder sold in Canada. It is prepared from chemically pure cream tartar and soda. Over 3,000 Hamilton housekeepers can testify that the highest, finest flavored, sweetest and most wholesome food is made with its use. Price 50c per lb., at Gerrie's drug store, 32 James Street north.

Urged Church Union. London, June 18.--Canon Davidson, of Peterboro, Canada, addressing the Pan-Anglican Congress to-day, urged a union of the various Protestant denominations. The door of access to Roman Catholicism was closed and locked by them, but not so with Anglicans' other separated brethren.

Ontario Christian Conference. Stouffville, June 17.--The Ontario Christian Conference convened in the Memorial Christian Church at 2:30 p. m. The following officers were elected: President, Rev. W. P. Fletcher, B. A.; Vice-President, Rev. W. H. Chidley; Secretary, Rev. W. G. Sargent, B. A.; Treasurer, H. B. Samuels. After the election of officers the retiring President delivered the Conference sermon.

The Canadian shipping on the lake great lakes is growing. During the last season of 1907 there were nearly 150 British built vessels of one class and another in the transport business between Canadian lake ports.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

ANY EVEN-NUMBERED SECTION OF A Dominion Land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 36, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less. Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader. (2) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(3) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than 800 acres in extent in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership of land will not meet with the requirement. (4) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with (3) above while living with parents or on farming land owned by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader, must file with the agent for the district of such intention.

LONG SHOTS IN FRONT YESTERDAY.

Greendale Sent Over at 50 to 1 at H. J. C. Track.

Capt. Mosby's Balbeck Won the Spring Brewery Stakes—Irene A and Punky Among "Also Rans."

Four of the seven races at the Hamilton Jockey Club track yesterday were won by Canadian stables and two of these were long shots. Mr. Dymen's Tremaine and Mr. Hutchinson's Greendale took the first two races, Mr. Rawlinson's Butter Ladle the steeplechase, and Mr. Meagher's Loretta Mack the sixth race. Capt. Wm. Mosby, formerly trainer for Mr. Hendrie, won the Grant's Spring Brewery stakes, $1,000, with Balbeck, Greendale was the longest shot to finish in front at this meeting so far—it was closed at 50 to 1. Loretta Mack was 20 and 25 to 1.

opened a lead of eight or nine lengths rounding the far turn, but died away coming into the stretch. She finished tenth in a field of eleven. Mr. Isbister's Punky, well ridden by Alex. Murray, the former bicycle rider, came strong in the stretch and got fourth position, being beaten out of third money by an eyelash.

The Hendrie horse, Osteka, made the early running in the Spring Brewery stakes, but the Mosby colt soon made the pace and won by three lengths. Osteka quit badly on the run home. Mr. Orphen's Lawyer Millar, at juicy odds, beat out Tapoca for the place.

Half of the field in the mile race on the turf track broke into the barrier before it got clear when Starter Murray gave the word, and Enridies, second choice, was the worst sufferer, getting away in the rear position. Gold Note, who broke first, carried part of the barrier webbing on his legs for 30 yards, made the early pace, while Trackless cut off a couple of the contenders and was hauled out in turn.

The only Hamilton horse to finish in the money was J. A. Sykes' Conde, who ran second at 60 to 1. A few had place tickets on him at 20 and show tickets at 7. Conde showed a great burst of speed in the stretch, coming from sixth to second position. True Boy, who was purchased yesterday from Amos Turney by James McKee, won the race and The Globe, a long shot, got third. A killing was attempted in this race with Mr. Peabody.

Butter Ladle won all the way in the race over the sticks, the favorite, Gault, being beaten for the place money in the stretch by Sam Farmer. Charlie Murray's Alorahatchee went lame and was pulled up to a walk at the finish.

The order was issued yesterday that horses which have run without blinkers will not be allowed to add blinkers to their equipment unless they have been schooled at the starting barrier with them on.

Jockey Nichol was not in sight at the track yesterday. Some disappointed betters were looking for him, to make trouble.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Hamilton is again in the lead in the international race.

If Promoter "Big" wants to see the tail enders make a showing, he should get Jockey Nichol to pilot the leaders for a few days.

No records at the H. J. C. yesterday. If the timers had known the weather was going to be so fine during the Hamilton race meeting they might have procured sun dials. The sun has shone every day.

One more day of horse racing. Then back to the ball yard.

Some of the talent had suggested that Punky's name be shortened to Punk.

Yesterday was another good day for those persons who played horse No. 5 on a hunch. No. 5 won four times and was second once and third once. Green Dale, the 60 to 1 shot, won No. 5.

Saratoga is an appropriate place for the World's "Temperance" Congress. Water was always the favorite drink up at the Spa—for a chaser.

For some unexplained reason there was a disposition shown to keep away from Manzano, Grantland up, in the steeplechase Wednesday at Montreal, and the latter was a record favorite. The stewards had a session with the jockey before the horses went to post and the latter put up a stirring ride. Manzano led for most of the trip and at the finish beat out the heavily backed Red Sox underdog by three lengths, and the sharpshooters were stung.

From St. Louis Dispatch: In the game that the Boston-Americans won at St. Louis the other day, 9 to 1 on six hits, the Browns had nine errors. Boston could never hit Waddell hard, but the Red Sox underdog, by taking advantage of the many openings given them by his unsteadiness and the bad fielding also came at the right time to cause a lot of trouble, and the triple by Thoney in the seventh inning was especially damaging. There was not a whole lot of feature news on either side, but some good base-running by Thoney was what stood out the most. This youngster brought cheers from the St. Louis fans several times by his clever work on the sacks. He is one of the fastest men ever seen in St. Louis.

Niagara Falls Gazette's "Empire Smith," it seems, he worked well here yesterday, dispensing decisions with a great deal of accuracy for one in the position. His barrier for the eventful struggle over the mile and a quarter for the $25,000 purse and the honor of winning the Suburban of 1908.

Fifteen horses will sport silk for the race at their head habit, a gallant son of Votey-Cerrito, which, by reason of his prowess, will be asked to carry top weight, 127 pounds. Ballot's stable mate, Celt, a fleet three-year-old Commando colt, which as yet has taken the dust only from the heels of the mighty Celt, is eligible, and if he goes will carry 106 pounds, and with either Ballot or Celt, J. R. Keene hopes to win his first Suburban. To be reckoned with before the race is won is August Belmont's three-year-old Hastings colt Fairplay, which with 111 pounds, on horsesmen generally believe will take a lot of beating. Master Robert, Durante and King James, all high-class animals, round up the three-year-old division. In the older division come the old favorites, Montgomery, Frank Gill, Dandelion and Running Water, and the others, less famous for past achievements, but all in fine form for a grueling contest.

Following are the probable riders in the Suburban Handicap: Ballot (Garter), Montgomery (Miller), Frank Gill (Lee), Dandelion (Shaw), Running Water (Musgrave), Tourenne (McCahey), Fairplay (Dugan), Bluebook (Garner), Bedouin (McDaniel), Gold Lady (Shaw), Elbow (Brussell), Don Enry (Gilbert), King James (McCarthy), Durante (G. Burns), Master Robert (Walsh).

Some men never borrow trouble, but lending money is a pretty good imitation of it.

THE SUBURBAN TO-DAY. New York, June 19.—All roads to-day lead to the Sheepshead Bay track for the twenty-fifth running of the historic Suburban Handicap, a battle of thoroughbreds that commands universal attention. The course of the Coney Island Jockey Club always has been a magnet that daily has drawn thousands of spectators, and this afternoon it is expected that, despite the ban on betting, the great stands will hold the usual crowds of magnificently gowned women and well-kempt men to witness one of the best fields that ever faced the "strike-tuh" and "ball-tuh" was a source of much merriment with the crowd.

Larry Lajoie has doped out the great weakness in Harry Niles' base running. "He is the sharpest starter and fastest runner in the league," says Larry, "but he has never learned to hit the dirt properly. That is where they get him. If he is taught to slide he will break all records."

Cincinnati will have a new college pitcher on the payroll on Sunday next. He hails from the University of Michigan, and his name is Herbert Sylvester Simeck. It is a pipe that the entire name will not get into print very many times and that is the only reason for giving it in full here.

From the Canadian Sportsman: Three private citizens conversing together on the lawn of a race course, are rudely jostled by a policeman and ordered to move on. Two private citizens standing together on the lawn of a race course, disputed in a friendly manner the quality of two horses then parading before the start of the race. One wagged the other 85 on his choice. Straightway a policeman arrested the pair and marched them to the nearest lock-up, six other officers taking a hand in the game to prevent a rescue being attempted. This outrage upon personal liberty did not take place in Russia and neither did it happen in Siberia and under no monarchical government has such an infringement upon men's rights been recorded. In England it would take a regiment of constabulary to attempt to carry out such an oppressive edict and in no part of Europe has a law so tyrannical ever been executed against those gathered together for the enjoyment of what may be termed a national sport.

No. Effete Europe provides no such swart, brutal interference with the liberty of its people. The outrages alluded to here occurred in the boasted land of liberty, the United States of America in the year of our Lord, 1908. The patriotic orator on the 4th of July, under the shadow of the star spangled banner, floating from the summits of the thousands of liberty poles that dot their land, should warn their countrymen against the influence of that cant, humbug, and hypocrisy which is assuming the form of a national danger. There is a despot so bloodthirsty as a religious despot, he is no less unjust as those gathered in the name of morality are outraged upon the Statute Book. A son of New York State is no longer a free American citizen. If he wishes to enjoy an afternoon's outing to witness a battle of the thoroughbreds he must walk in a straight line, he must wear a hat, and out by that modern tyrant, the G. Hughes, I pray thee, O Governor, may I be allowed to sneeze in public without offending the majesty of a New York State law.

Broken Lots

The horse-racers and their followers have played havoc with our stock during the past two weeks. Some lines gone entirely, and a great many odd suits—one or two of a pattern are left on our hands. To-morrow we start a general clearing out of all these broken lines, and have divided them into two big lots and priced the better qualities at $11.75 and the balance at $8.75.

Odd Suits $11.75 Reduced To Nearly 100 suits in this lot. English tweeds and worsteds, English serges, domestic and imported chevots in new seal brown and light brown shades, silver and elephant grey, navy blue and black, fancy mixtures in overplads and checks, stripes and diagonals. Sizes 34 to 44 chests. Regular prices $13.50, $14, $15, $16 and $18. Your choice for $11.75.

Lot No. 2, $8.75. This lot contains two and three-piece suits, in men's and youths' sizes, 33 to 44. The materials are homespun, serges, tweeds and chevots, in plain navy blue and black, light grey and mid grey and dark brown mixtures. Regular $10, $11, $12, $13.50 and a few $15 fines. Your choice for $8.75.

"Overmakes" in Trousers. This week we received from our wholesale manufactory 350 pairs of men's trousers, which represents part of their "overmakes" for the season. We have divided them into three lots, as follows:

Trousers at $1.00. Dark Canadian tweeds in stripes and plain twills, mostly dark grey mixtures, all sizes from 30 to 44 waist. Retail prices $1.25 to $1.50, to clear at $1.00.

Trousers at $1.95. Worsteds in dark colors and a few light colors; tweeds in great variety, brown and grey and black mixtures; quiet and bold striped patterns and plain black worsted satin stripes; sizes 30 to 44 waists and lots of extra long legs. Regular retail values $2.50 to $3.25, to be cleared at $1.95.

Trousers at $3.50. This lot contains some of the nicest lines we have ever had in our stock. Fine English worsteds in the newest effects, fine stock, and every pair splendidly tailored. Regular values $4 to $5, to clear at $3.50.

AFTER BIG GAME. SHORT ENDS.

Hamilton Lacrosse Team to Play Montreal Nationals.

The management of the Hamilton Lacrosse Club is arranging exhibition games with some of the N. L. U. teams, so that Hamiltonians will see plenty of good lacrosse, despite the fact that the C. L. A. schedule does not call for many home games. Yesterday's arrangements were made with the Nationals of Montreal, for a series of two games, the first to be played in Montreal on July 1st, and the second to be played here on Saturday, July 4th. The Nationals are one of the fastest teams in the big league, and are harder to beat on their home grounds than any other team of the same class in the big league. The Shamrocks will not likely be seen here, as they want too much money for a game. The management is trying to arrange with the Capitals, of Ottawa, Cornwall and the Toronto teams, and it is practically assured that they will all be here before the season ends.

Little Paragraphs of Sport From Far and Near.

Frederickton, N. B., June 18.—George Wagner, Perth, Ont., lance corporal in H. Co., R. C. R., here, lasted only two minutes and 23 seconds with Don Littlejohn, of St. John, in final bout of military tournament in Armory to-night. Before Power stopped the boxing, as it was too tuggy to continue.

THE LESSONS OF THE RING.

London Express.—Father Bernard Vaughan intends to be present at the boxing match in Our Lady's Hall, Commercial road, E. The match, as stated in yesterday's Express, is between Burns, the champion, and Pat O'Keefe, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the Young Men's Catholic Association.

BUILDING FOR BOWMANVILLE.

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Jas. H. McGill, the prominent architect who died recently, left his wife a life interest in valuable property which will go to his home town of Bowmanville, Ont., on her death. The McGill office building, worth at least $50,000, on a prominent business street where the values are constantly increasing, is part of the estate. The building is of six stories, brick, and

HAMILTON WON A CLOSE GAME.

St. Thomas Team Defeated Here by Score of 7-6.

Niagara Falls Defeated London Yesterday—Scores in the Big Leagues.

The Hamilton Baseball Company's performing Tigers commenced a series of home games at the Barton street ball yard last evening. The game was advertised for 6.15, in the hope that fans would drop in on their way home from the race track, but the experiment was not a success. The talent failed to connect with the box office; some because they loomed all their ready cash to the bookmakers till this afternoon, others because they were in a hurry to get home to satisfy the demands of the inner man. Twilight games will not do in this city. When Mister Ostermoor Smith stepped out in the open, with the indicator in his hand, to announce the batteries, there were about a score of fans in the bleachers and the grand stand was full of empty seats. Before the game had gone very far, however, about half a hundred persons, including a few ladies, filed into the stand. These, evidently, had partaken of their evening meal before striking the blazed trail for the ball park. There was a jolly party in the vest stand, three or four ardent supporters of the Railroad Nine, and they had all kinds of money to bet on the St. Thomas'. A few plungers, who had not been able to give battle to the books further east on the car line, accommodated them in part. The aforesaid jolly party, once they had their money down, started a running fire of comment, caustic and comical, at the Hamilton team, particularly Blomie Long.

With these humorous spectators in the stand and the trick Tigers on the diamond always keeping a little lead on their opponents, the small but select gathering of fans spent a pleasant evening. Anyway, no man asked for his money back.

The game was played in pretty fast time, less than two hours, considering that the light was none too good toward the end. The two new players signed by Manager Curtis were in uniform. Patrick O'Mara, from the Nutmeg State, was greater than Finnemore at first. He made no mistakes covering the initial bag, but did not show up very well with the willow. On his first appearance at bat he made a nice sacrifice. In the next three times up he struck out, struck a grounder to short and fled to second. Coyle, the new shortstop, struck out once, fled to center, hit an infield grounder and got first on an error. He did all there was for him to do in the infield in a satisfactory manner.

The Hams started the run-getting in the second, when Coyle reached on an error of short, and made the circuit on a sacrifice, a steal and Long's two-lagger. DeRohn and Long also came home, the former on Long's drive, and Long on a hit by Maxey. The total tally was three.

The Tigers got two more in the fifth and two in the seventh. Long scored in both innings. His batting average was 1.000, as was also the other Hamilton player—Maxey. Why the new captain should put him first in the batting order and a slugger like Long at the tail end is a question that the Fans' Contrary Club should discuss at its next meeting.

St. Thomas scored three in the fifth and three in the sixth, during Long's temporary weakness. In these two innings the Railreaders made seven hits. After Long had tired out several new hitters he invented while watching the winding course of Niagara Falls, he fell back on his old spit balls and his dip-the-dips and in the next two innings not one man reached first. A single was made off him in the last, but the runner died at second.

Following is the score:

Earned runs—St. Thomas 3, Hamilton 1.

Three-base hits—McGuire, Staub.
Two-base hits—Gragon, Sterling, Bradford.
Sacrifice hits—Staub, Maxey 2, O'Mara.

Base on balls—Off Sterling 2, off Long 1.
Struck out—By Sterling 8, by Long 3.
Double plays—Brennen to O'Mara; Bradford to O'Mara.
Umpire—Smith.
Time—1:40.
Attendance—100.

Today's game will be called at 6.15, but this is likely to be the last of the twilight exhibitions. Ladies will be admitted free to the evening's performance.

To-morrow the same teams will clash, the game being carded for 3 o'clock. As St. Thomas is playing good ball now, the game should be a good drawing card.

Maxey made two sacrifice hits and a single in three times at bat.

Incidentally this swiftest of the Yankees, for it was all by clean hitting that they turned the trick, witnessed the horrible downfall of the great and only Louie Kerr, the "Rube," owing to the fact that Liebensperger got another attack of the bugs and asked for his release on the plea that his arm was all bad for a month to come, and jumped the job, was trotted out to pitch, as Payne and Parkins were in no shape to work.

"AIN'T THIS AWFUL, MABEL?"

The Niagara Falls Gazette says: The Yankee team of the International League, as the Gazette announced yesterday, has been sold to Bill Austin, Hamilton mining king. Mr. Austin arrived here yesterday and the formal transfer took place. With him came R. J. McGill, who will act as Mr. Austin's personal representative.

Mr. Austin is a 33 degree fan; he naturally loves the game; that is why he has interested himself in the International League. He is moved by no spirit of altruism. He intends to form a stock company with local men interested. He believed that only in that way will fandom become sufficiently interested to make organized baseball a fixture in Niagara Falls.

As to the team, he said that he intended to give the Falls a winner, a team which will be able to hold its own with any other in the league, and which will be fighting for the banner every minute. Fred Paige who last week was reported to have bought the Yankees to have gone cold in the feet, and to have left the circuit. He cleaned up a tidy little pile in Hamilton.

In addition to his interest in the Niagara Falls team Mr. Austin has also interested himself in the Saint Thomas Club. He went there to-day to consummate the purchase of the club, and to look to the forming of a stock company to carry on its affairs properly. In short, he has taken hold of the International where Fred Paige let go.

EASTERN LEAGUE SCORES.

At Providence—Toronto drew first blood with the Grays here to-day, winning the opening game of the series by a score of 5 to 2. Cronin was the chief culprit and during the two innings he was in the box, behaved badly. He got away easy in the first, but gave an inkling of what was to come when he was unable to locate the plate for Cushman. In the second he went to pieces entirely with any other in the league, and which will be fighting for the banner every minute. Fred Paige who last week was reported to have bought the Yankees to have gone cold in the feet, and to have left the circuit. He cleaned up a tidy little pile in Hamilton.

FOUL TIPS.

Socks Seybold, outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, has been forced to retire from the game this season owing to the injury sustained to his leg while sliding home in an exhibition game in New Orleans while on the training trip of the Athletics last March.

Boston, June 19.—Arthur Cassell, captain and right fielder of the Metrose, Mass., High School baseball team, and one of the stars of the season in amateur baseball, is to be given a try-out by the Toronto club. Cassell will probably report next Monday to the Toronto manager. His consistent batting and fielding have brought him into the limelight.

Off to a Good Start

OUR REMODELLING OPERATIONS HAVE COMMENCED in earnest. The front of the building has been fenced in for the protection of passers by, and the outside of the building begins to have a very dilapidated appearance, and will be more so as the contractors progress in the work of tearing out the old front. But don't forget that everything is all right inside. We are still here for business and are looking for greater business all the time. A safe passage way has been erected from King street to the door of the corner store. We hope soon to open out a store that will be a credit to the city of Hamilton, and in the meantime invite everybody in need of

to come and see us, and while it may not look inviting from the outside it's all right when you get past the door, inside.

We have carried on for the past few weeks a most successful Remodelling Sale, and we must continue it for some time as we find ourselves altogether too crowded, contractors requiring more space for their work than we planned for. We therefore continue this Remodelling Sale until we have sufficient room for the proper display of our goods.

Carpets and Rugs

marked at special prices, and in addition to these reductions we will for the balance of the month of June Make, Lay and Line All Carpets Free which in itself will be a saving to you of 12 to 14c on every yard of Carpet you need. The Furniture lines on which we are overcrowded are

Dressers, Cheffonieres, Dining Room Suites Parlor Suites, Center Tables, Den Furniture White Enamel and Brass Beds

We continue to thin out these with Remodelling Sale prices, and this is certainly a great opportunity for home outfitters to get high class Furniture and Carpets cheap.

Pay a visit to the reliable corner. Come and see us anyway whether you want to buy or not, and until we blossom out in the fall into the finest Carpet and Furniture store in Western Ontario.

FIVE MEN KILLED.

Scranon, Pa., June 19.—Five unidentified Italians employed by Burke Bros., contractors, on the Lackawanna railroad, were killed to-day by a premature blast. The blast had failed to explode and the foreman, a resident of Dunmore, near here, instead of using a stick, used an iron rod to see what was wrong. His tampering set the blast off, killing him and four others. The men were known only by their numbers. No one was injured.

THAW'S CASE.

New York, June 19.—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw applied to Justice Dowling in the Supreme Court to-day to modify the Justice's order by which Thaw was committed to the State Asylum for the Criminal Insane at Matteawan, at the conclusion of his trial for the murder of Stanford White. He now seeks to be transferred to some other asylum than Matteawan. Decision was reserved.
