

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Social, Personal and General Occurrences of the Week.

The Late Solomon Denton. A brief notice in the obituary column of the newspapers, announces the death of Solomon Denton, who many years ago was well known and highly respected citizen of Fredericton. Mr. Denton was a native of Scotchtown, Queens County, where he died at the ripe age of eighty-two years, and for a long time was a successful and popular school teacher. Many of the leading business and professional men of Fredericton today were pupils of his in the little school room to the rear of Albert W. Edgcombe's present residence on King street, and every one of them with whom THE HERALD talked regarding their old schoolmaster, spoke in the most respectful terms of his great industry and success in his profession. Frank I. Morrison, who was one of Mr. Denton's last pupils in this city, is the possessor of the desk the teacher used and prizes it highly as a memento of the past. When Mr. Denton retired after a long and successful career in his profession, he was succeeded by C. S. Ingraham, who conducted the school for some years, and continued the good work inaugurated by Mr. Denton. The deceased gentleman was married to a sister of Robert Mitchell of this city, and an aunt of Hon. Mr. Mitchell, Provincial Secretary; they had no issue. Mrs. Denton is still living in the enjoyment of a peaceful old age at Scotchtown, and was visited the other day by her kinsman, the Provincial Secretary. THE HERALD offers its sympathy to her in the loneliness of the death of her late honored husband who had imposed on her. It will be a comfort and a blessing to her to know of the high esteem in which her late husband was held by his old friends in Fredericton, and to remember that his efforts in the cause of education have borne excellent fruit, such as Mr. Denton hoped for when in the active discharge of his public duties.

The Firm's Picnic. The moonlight picnic and dance given by the firm of Scully's grove last night was a great success in every way, the attendance being much larger than any previous occasion of the kind. The grounds were well lighted, and excellent order was maintained during the evening. The firm headed by the gentlemen's hand parade from the central bus station at 7:30 o'clock, down Queen street and made a good appearance. At the grounds the games were well contested, and the dancing platform was fully occupied. The prize winners were as follows: Ladies 1st prize, gold watch, No. 723, goes to Miss May Welch. 2nd prize, silver crest stand, No. drawn 701. Not called for yet. 3rd prize, easy chair, No. drawn 569. Not called for. 4th prize, water set, No. drawn 31. Not called for yet. McGinity family, silk hat, Geo. Finnimore. Jack-in-the-Box, silver plush shaving set, Harry Atherton. Excelsior razor and strop, Richard Gregory. Bean toss, ink stand, Ham Kitchen. Brace and bit, John Brady. Guessing prices, bottle beans containing 2346, Mr. Robinson of the Keely Care, guessing 2350, received a silk umbrella. The proceeds of the picnic, which have been set aside for a handsome amount, will go towards new uniforms for the members of the department.

A Successful Pastorate. Rev. R. W. Weddell who preached his farewell sermon at the Methodist church Sunday evening, leaves Fredericton next week for his new pastorate at Summerside, P. E. I., leaving the respect and good wishes of all classes of citizens. In his sermon Sunday evening he reviewed his three years' work here, and the facts and figures showing that the church enjoyed much success during his ministry. There has been raised by the congregation in the past three years for all purposes, $14,093.81. Of this $14,043.31 was given to carry the gospel into foreign lands, $225 was in aid of the educational work of the church, and $3,900 had been used to pay off the debt incurred when the church was enlarged and improved some six years ago. He made 2,400 pastoral visits and had attended sixty-four funerals and officiated at forty-three marriages. He baptized ninety-seven persons, thirty-one adults and had added sixty-seven names to the roll of membership. There are now on the roll of the church 324 names. THE HERALD wishes Mr. Weddell and his family a happy and prosperous future, and can assure them that they leave many warm friends in Fredericton outside the doors of the scriptures. He had a conversation with the deceased just before the latter left for Ottawa last winter, and he was much inclined to speak of religion. He had declared his faith and was in Christ as a trusting Saviour. Since then he (the preacher) had received a pamphlet from the late Senator and it breathed of the love of the scriptures. MARRIED. A large number of friends met in St. John's church, Nashwaakias, on Wednesday morning, to witness the marriage of Dr. A. H. Hanington of Philadelphia and Miss Susan Evans of Nashwaakias. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers by friends of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. P. Hanington, brother of the bridegroom, assisted by the Rev. E. F. H. Whalley, rector of the parish. Mrs. Clement presented at the organ. The bride looked charming in a dress of white cashmere and lace. She was the recipient of many valuable presents. After the ceremony a lunch was partaken of at the house of J. Johnston, brother-in-law of the bride. Rev. Mr. Whalley, in proposing the bride's health, spoke of the great loss she would sustain in her removal from the parish, but he had ever been diligent in all church work. Speeches were also made by His Honor Judge Hanington, A. H. Hanington of St. John and Rev. C. P. Hanington. The bridegroom fittingly replied. The happy pair will spend a few days in Shelburne and in Johnston before leaving for their home in Philadelphia.

Unmarked Logs Sold. The annual sale of unmarked and mixed marked logs that have come and are yet to come through the boom this summer took place at the office of A. P. Randolph & Sons Thursday forenoon. The marked logs were sold as follows: Cedar, 81,850 feet, to E. Babbitt & Sons at $325; pine, 21,900 feet, to Hale & Murche at $200; spruce, 373, 383, merchantable, 151,440 battans, 65,450 condemned, or a total of 589,913 feet, to E. L. Jewett at $700.67. The mixed marked logs were sold as follows: Hemlock, 8,270 feet, to Hale & Murche at $800; cedar, 18, 280 feet, to E. A. Babbitt & Sons, $2; pine, 1,130 feet, to Hale & Murche, $5; spruce, 13,111 merchantable, 12,265 battans, 6,702 condemned, or a total of 32,078 feet, to Geo. E. Barnhill, at $700.67.

Drowned at Canterbury. A very sad drowning accident happened at Canterbury on Friday last week. Mrs. Angus McMullen and Mrs. Scott were in a canoe fishing in Moore's mill pond. They allowed the craft to get too close to the mill dam, and in spite of their efforts it went over. Mrs. McMullen and her companion were thrown out, the former striking her head against a rock. Mrs. Scott was caught between two rocks and the force of the current kept her head above water. She was just rescued in time, but Mrs. McMullen was drowned. Mrs. McMullen was a young woman between thirty and forty years old, and leaves six children. Her husband is a shoemaker.

The sale of the Dr. Brown estate was concluded Saturday afternoon after THE HERALD went to press. The Hanford Brown farm was put up again the necessary deposit of ten per cent not having been made by Mr. Brown, who bid it in the morning, and was knocked down to John T. Miles for $2,800. The Dr. Brown homestead in this city sold to Robt. S. Barker for $800. Two lots on Ormound island were sold to P. McLaughlin and Geo. Kimball for $550 and $675, respectively.

HON. JOHN GLASIER.

Dies Suddenly at Ottawa of Cholera.

The Funeral Services and Sketch of His Life. Just after THE HERALD had gone to press last Saturday, the news reached Fredericton that Hon. John Glasier, Senator for Sunbury had died suddenly at Ottawa. The particulars of his unexpected demise, and a brief sketch of his long and active life, will be read with interest. Senator Glasier had been at the Capital all the session attending to his parliamentary duties and enjoyed exceptionally good health for a man of his advanced years. On Sunday, July 1st, he was up and around, active and in good spirits. After breakfast at his hotel the Grand Union, he walked to the parliament buildings, wrote some letters home, and generally felt as well as usual. The same night he was taken ill with cholera, and although the physicians said if he failed to rally after the second day a man of his great years could scarcely stand so violent an attack. Dr. McMillan a fellow senator and close friend of Senator Glasier's, Dr. Roome, M. P. and others were Constant in Their Attendance on the suffering man, but all to no purpose. His son Arthur was telegraphed for on Monday, but owing to the P. E. express he did not get away until Tuesday, going by the Intercolonial route. He reached his father's side Thursday, and even then the Senator thought he would pull through. He suffered very little pain, was perfectly conscious and rational up to 3 p.m. Friday, but the aged frame could not stand against the insidious enemy, and death claimed his victim at 2:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The body was immediately placed in the hands of an embalmer, the Government very kindly undertaking to bear all the expenses at Ottawa, and Arthur Glasier with the remains left Ottawa for home, many members of the Senate and House of Commons, accompanying the sad procession from the hotel to the depot. Mr. Glasier with his charge arrived at Windsor Monday at noon, and was met by undertaker John G. Adams, and the remains of the deceased Senator were borne to his late home at Lincoln.

The Last Sad Rites. The funeral took place at 4 p.m. Tuesday, and there was a very large gathering of Sunbury people, men and women, to pay their last tribute of respect to their late representative, their old friend and neighbor. The grounds of the Glasier home, beautiful in their wealth of trees in full foliage, were filled with a throng of almost every part of Sunbury, and the family residence was crowded with sympathizing friends. Among those noticed by THE HERALD were the Hon. H. H. Hallifax, W. E. Perley, of Ormound; Philip Cox and G. A. Treadwell, of Maguerville; G. H. Miles, of St. John, and from Fredericton: Hon. A. F. Randolph Mayor Beckwith, J. J. Weddell, F. D. Edgcombe, A. H. F. Randolph, C. W. Beckwith, Sheriff Sterling, Nelson Campbell, John A. Morrison, F. E. Coleman, J. H. Hawthorn, Geo. L. Wilson, W. K. Allen, M.P.P., C. W. Beckwith, Aid. Moore, R. W. L. Tibbits, City Crockbank, R. Boone, Dr. Fisher, David Hatt, R. T. Mack, A. E. Massie, W. S. Fisher, A. D. Thomas, M. McGowan, Jas. Roberts.

The remains of the late Senator were enclosed in a chaste casket and looked remarkably like the late Senator. The coffin almost hid the lid. The breast plate bore the simple inscription: JOHN GLASIER, DIED JULY 17th, 1894, AGED 84 YEARS. The services were conducted, by Rev. Mr. Payson, who after reading a passage of scripture took the following words: "He had entered the late Senator very highly indeed, had always found him an honorable and conscientious man, in some respects a wonderful man, wonderful in his knowledge of the scriptures. He had a conversation with the deceased just before the latter left for Ottawa last winter, and he was much inclined to speak of religion. He had declared his faith and was in Christ as a trusting Saviour. Since then he (the preacher) had received a pamphlet from the late Senator and it breathed of the love of the scriptures. He had a conversation with the deceased just before the latter left for Ottawa last winter, and he was much inclined to speak of religion. He had declared his faith and was in Christ as a trusting Saviour. Since then he (the preacher) had received a pamphlet from the late Senator and it breathed of the love of the scriptures.

Outside of the Churches. Many religious God-fearing men, and such was our late brother. It is told of a young man who was sick in a hospital, that a visitor who was talking to him of Heavenly things said to him: "When church do you belong to?" "Church," was the reply, "I belong to the church of Christ." "But what persuasion are you?" "Persuasion," said the young man, "I am a Christian, that neither life nor death can separate me from the love of Christ. I am resting on the Rock of Ages, the blessed Saviour who died for our sins." "When church do you belong to?" "Church," was the reply, "I belong to the church of Christ." "But what persuasion are you?" "Persuasion," said the young man, "I am a Christian, that neither life nor death can separate me from the love of Christ. I am resting on the Rock of Ages, the blessed Saviour who died for our sins."

Formed for the Churchyard. But a quarter of a mile distant, down the shaded lane to the front road, over the bridge and through the fields to the quiet resting place of the Glasier dead. It was a long cortege of persons afoot and in carriages. Immediately following the hearse were the chief mourners: Arthur Glasier, Stephen Glasier, Parker Glasier, Duncan Glasier, Geo. H. Miles, W. K. Allen, M.P.P., C. W. Beckwith, J. C. Allen, Stephen Payne.

Sketch of the Deceased. The late John Glasier was born at Lincoln, in the house from which his remains were interred Tuesday, on Sept. 3rd, 1809, and was thus past his eighty-fourth year. His grandfather, Benjamin Glasier, arrived in New Brunswick from Massachusetts in 1779, and after remaining in St. John for six months, came up river and took up a large tract of land in Lincoln, except while the Glasier's, Benjamin Glasier held a lieutenant's commission in a Massachusetts infantry corps, and the document appointing him to that position is still preserved.

As a Family Heirloom. It bears the signature of Thomas Hutchinson, the last English Governor and Captain General of Massachusetts. Lieut. Glasier saw active service in the French and Indian war, was taken prisoner at the siege of Fort William Henry and held at Montserrat Island for two years. His brother Col. Beasley Glasier, commanded the 60th regiment of foot, and his last station was at Halifax. For a time he was Military Governor of Pensacola, Florida. He died on his way to England. Col. Glasier was granted large tracts of land in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick for distinguished military service to the British Crown, the grants including the Glasier manor at Nerepis, and a large block of land in York, including the present town site of Marysville. Benjamin Glasier, the father of Senator Glasier, was born in 1773, six years before his father settled at Lincoln, and lived until 1849. His sons were Benjamin, John, the subject of this sketch, Stephen, still living at the age of eighty-two, Duncan, who died ten years ago, and Benjamin, who died March 13, 1862. The last named was the father of Duncan Glasier, of this city. There were also four sisters, only one of whom, Mrs. Garraty, of Woodstock, is now living. John Glasier was married Sept. 24, 1842, to Emily, the daughter of John and Mary, who survives him. They had seven children, but only two, Arthur and Miss Blanche, are living. They occupy the whole home-stead which was erected by their grandfather eighty-five years ago. John Glasier went into the lumbering and farming business when twenty-one years old, and carried both on successfully for many years. He was

THE EMBROIDER.

"But Bruce—dear Bruce," she began hesitatingly, fearful in her great love, of wounding or displeasing him by seeming mistrust, "you don't mean—you surely don't mean that I should have to go away without telling, at any rate, my uncle and Val?"
