Students, Attention!

Rare Chance to Secure a College Education.

We have made arrangements that enable us to place within the reach of a limited number of deserving students, opportunities for securing, on easy terms, a classical or commercial education. A little work during the vacation season will secure this for the one worthily striving for such a boon, but who may not be in possession of sufficient money to realize his heart's desire. The facilities at our disposal enable us to offer a year's board and tuition at

to any three young men who will fulfill the necessary, easy conditions required. These may be beginners, or former students of the College who have not been able to complete their course. In addition to this we have at our disposal four scholarships at the

of Charlottetown. A full course in this excellent Commercial College may be won by any four young men or women, in town or country, who will fulfill the easy conditions we require. Whenever anyone satisfies the requirements in either of the cases enumerated he or she will be given a certificate entitling the holder to the educational advantages offered. A rare opportunity is here placed within reach of those desirous of acquiring a good education, and no time should be lost in taking advantage thereof. Only a little work is required in order to secure the coveted boon, and all can easily be accomplished during this summer's vacation, so that the winners may enter either college at the opening of the next academic year.

From Now Till Spring

Your Overcoat will be the part of your dress by which the world will estimate what kind of a man you are. No man ever knows real comfort and satisfaction until he has an overcoat.

Made to Measure.

Many who have their suits made to order have an idea that they can get what they want in a Ready-made Overcoat. But they are quite as objectionable as ready-made suits and show at a glance the lack of style and fit. We incorporate the very latest style ideas in our tailoring, and by only the best materials, which is a guarantee in itself. Before you buy a new overcoat give us a chance to show our new overcoatings and talk things over with you.

Of Talk, Work and Amusement.

A serious question of social importance is: How can the rage for amusement be kept within proper bounds? How can it be regulated? How can it be prevented from making the heart and the mind empty and even corrupt? In many ways our country and our time are serious enough. We need, perhaps, a touch of that cheerful lightness which makes the life of the Victorian and of the Parisian agreeable and bright—which enables him to get color and interest into the most commonplace things. But our lightness and cheerfulness are likely to be spasmodic and extravagant. We are not pleased with little things; it takes a great deal to give us delight; our children are men and women too early; we do not understand simplicity—unless it is sold at a high price with an English label on it. Luxuries have become necessities, and even the children demand refinements of enjoyment of which their parents did not dream in the days gone by.

And yet the essence of American social life ought to be simplicity. We have no traditions to support; a merely rich man without a great family name owes nothing to society except to help those poorer than himself, he has not inherited those great establishments which your English or Spanish high lord makes up or tarnish the family name. We have no great families in America whose traditions are not those of simplicity and honesty, and these are the only traditions they are bound to cherish. In this way our aristocracy—if we have such a thing—ought to be the poorest in the world and the most simple. There is no reason why we should pick up all the baubles that the folk of the Old World are throwing away.

Whether we are to achieve simplicity, and consequently cheerfulness, in every-day life depends entirely on the women. It is remarkable how many Catholic women bred in good schools enter society and run a mad race in search of frivolities. In St. Francis de Sales' "Letters to People in the World" there is a record of a lady "who had been reared in such a position as the honors of her husband, that in the very height of her devotion and ardor she was obliged to wear a low dress, and was loaded with vanity outside; and, except at Easter, could never communicate unless secretly and unknown to any one—and yet she rose high in sanctity."

But St. Francis de Sales had other words for those women of the world who rushed into all the complications of luxury, and yet who defended their frivolity by the phrase "duty to society." The woman who serves her children best serves society. And she best serves her children by cultivating her heart and mind to the utmost: and by teaching them that one of the best things in life is simplicity and that it is much easier to be a Christian when one is content with a little than when one is constantly discontented with a great deal. If the old New England love for simplicity in the ordinary way of life could be revived among Catholics, and embodied by the amiable spirit of St. Francis of Assisi, the world would be a better place.—Spiced Heart Review.

The special Roman correspondent of the Times sends us the paper the following dispatch, dated February 25:

The Vatican considers the breaking off of negotiations as final to all intents and purposes. It is believed that the French Government evidently desired this rupture. At the very outset M. Clemenceau declared that he scornfully rejected the proposal of the bishops. The extraordinary contempt for an act of French citizens, which in itself was so reasonable, shows what were the sentiments of the French Government—sentiments it still entertains. The discussions between M. Briand and M. Clemenceau were more apparent than real. Both have the same object in view.

M. Briand unmasked himself at the last moment when he inserted in the proposed plan of church leases, conditions that were absolutely unacceptable.

To make obligatory the defraying of the cost of all the repairs for all the churches was an outrage. The odious character of it was brought out by the words spoken by M. Briand at Tuesday's session, when he declared that these expenses would have to be borne by the owners of the churches, which up to the eleventh day of last December were the absolute property of the clergy. So that the clergy are first despoiled of their property, of which they will hereafter have a precarious use and then they have to bear all the costs that are chargeable to proprietors.

As regards the clause making foreign priests ineligible for the position of parish priests, the Vatican shares the indignation with which this proposition was received in France. It is recalled that during the debate on the Separation Law in May, 1905, M. Briand opposed an identical clause for the associations for religious worship. This exclusion then was not applicable to Jewish rabbis, nor to Protestant ministers. Now M. Clemenceau insists upon its insertion in laws which Catholics alone apply to.

Finally the ban placed upon ex-members of religious congregations having parishes, is unjustifiable under the regime of separation of church and State. The members of the religious congregations which were disbanded by the Government were, mainly secular priests, by the Government itself. The new claim put forward by M. Clemenceau would now deprive them of a secular priest's elementary right, which, for a great many of them, is their only means of gaining a livelihood.

These facts demonstrate that the French Government places the Church and the clergy in a position inferior to that they occupy in non-Christian and even in barbarous lands.

A New Era For the Catholic Church in Japan.

From the Boston Pilot.

By the recent action of the Japanese Government towards the Catholic Church, made public only this week, the success of the Most Reverend Archbishop O'Donnell of Boston, in a few months before his promotion as Papal Legate from Pope Pius X. to the Mikado, may be realized. Archbishop O'Donnell suggested the propriety of erecting a great central mission church and school in Tokio, the Japanese capital, and the property placed at the disposal of the Catholic church by a Japanese friend of his. His mission has now been turned over to the resident missionaries for that purpose. Moreover, a central Catholic university is to be established in Tokio, under the direction of English and American Jesuits. These, without doubt, will be numerously of Irish descent.

Although Archbishop O'Donnell was silent as to the nature of his mission, the reading public were partly swept from Rome that he had made a most favorable impression in Japan, and that from his visit dated a new era in the history of the Church in that country. We quoted in "The Pilot" a short time ago the testimony of a French missionary in Japan on that subject, and gave briefly, the strength of the Japanese hierarchy, an Archbishop, three Bishops, a Perfect Apostolate and a goodly number of priests. The European priests number 130, the native, 40, and a seminary for native priests has lately been opened. Tokio has a population of 4,000 Catholics, with six churches. It has an excellent Catholic Japanese journal, the "Koe." Many distinguished converts have been made. M. Hara Kei, the present Minister of the interior, is a Catholic, and so is Admiral Ito.

Is This Separation?

From the Freeman's Journal.

Some may be disposed to ask why do not the Catholics of France at once loose from the Government altogether and voluntarily tax themselves for the building of churches, as the Catholics of this country did in the past and are still doing? This solution of the question of Church and State in France is not so easy as it would appear at first sight. You ask why? We let the special Paris correspondent of the New York "Evening Post" answer this question:

"Even the churches which Catholics might build in the future," he writes, "would fall under the present interpretation of the separation law, which they refuse to accept; and consequently such churches or other property gathered together by them for religious purposes would, like Catholic property at large existing, go automatically into the hands of Government receivers, and after the legal delay, in the same way become the property of the communes. It might be simpler to say that, in the present state of things, Catholics can never have any religious property of their own in France."

So obviously have the framers of the monstrously mislabeled separation law provided for the ensuement of the Church in France that, no matter what pecuniary sacrifices French Catholics may be willing to make, the Church will be always subject to the State, which is determined that she shall not possess in her own name property of any sort. Already she has been de-pooled of all she possessed. After spoliation she is prevented from accumulating more property under threat of confiscation. And the country that does this mis-queaders as a Republic!

Items of Interest.

Irish exchanges chronicle the deaths of Right Rev. Mgr. Gallagher, parish priest of Leinster, and Rev. William McCourt, P. P. Salfield, E. Inst.

In the Congo Free State there are five missionary steamers—four owned by non-Catholics. Catholics have one, which is called "Our Lady of Perpetual Help."

The will of Lord Grimthorpe has just been filed for probate in London. It proves his lordship to have been a highly developed specimen of a bigot. It proves that no property is to go to a foreigner or to a Catholic, or to any one married to a Catholic.

Rev. Henry Grey Graham, formerly a Church of Scotland minister at Avondale, Strathaven, who some years ago joined the Catholic Church and went to Rome to study for the priesthood, has been ordained at the Scots College, Rome.

The injury to religion that is being wrought by the persecution in France is not confined to that country. Returns for the missions, made during 1906, from the various dioceses in France have not yet been announced, but from individual missionaries in different parts of the world we learn that their work is already handicapped through the discontinuance of special gifts from friends and benefactors in France.

A Buddhist hermit-priest named Ghassakhorama was received into the Catholic Church recently by the Rev. Father V. H. Formando, the parish priest of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes at Halpato, in Galile. It appears that this Buddhist priest is of a highly-connected family. He completed his studies in Rio, Bali and Saurorit under the Buddhist high priests of Alotgan Korie and Adam Peak, after which he proceeded to Japan and Burma to increase his knowledge of Buddhism. On his return to Ceylon he received the higher order of the Buddhist priesthood, the upasampada, at the hands of the high priest of Kandy, in the presence of a large assembly, and went to Galile, where for the last six years he led the life of a hermit-priest. His conversion to Catholicity is therefore a most remarkable one, and it is a great and severe blow to the fast-dying cause of Buddhism in Ceylon.

It is with feelings of the sincerest satisfaction says the London "Catholic Times" that we chronicle the return of the Abbe Daens to his obedience to legitimate authority. For many years he has been head of the Christian Democrats in Belgium but he failed to retain his Parliamentary seat at the last elections. Recently sickness fell upon him, and his conscience warned him of the duty he had so long neglected. Seeking for his friend, the Abbe Van den Abele, he voluntarily professed his sorrow for disobedience to his Bishop's directions, begged to be reconciled and made his confession in preparation for death. He also sent notice of his resignation of the presidency of the Christian Democratic party, and informed his late colleagues of his reconciliation with the Church. They answered by dismissing him from their party—be only punishment in their power. Belgian Catholics everywhere will learn with gladness of the happy return to the fold of one whose acts have caused so much pain and sorrow to the Church, and will rejoice that the Abbe Daens has had the courage to do what he felt to be his duty at the last.

166 Catholic missionaries, 13 bishops, and 153 priests died at their posts in the far-away border lands during the year 1905. Half of the number were French, while nine others were from the former French diocese of Strasbourg. Of the remainder, twenty-five were Italian, sixteen Belgians, eight Spaniards, four Irish, four Austrians, three English, three Germans and two Americans. Surely the French nation cannot be lost, which leads the world in producing such heroes.—Casket.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

Thousands of women suffer untold misery every day with aching backs that really have no business to ache. A woman's back wants to ache so soon. Under ordinary conditions a woman ought to be strong and ready to help her bear the burden of life.

It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Hours of misery at leisure or at work. If women only knew the cause. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause in the world.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it's no use. Backache is simply that cry for help.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

will help you. They're helping sick, over-worked kidneys—all over the world—making them strong, healthy and vigorous. Mrs. F. Ryan, Douglas, Ont., writes: "For over five months I was troubled with lame back and was unable to move without help. I tried all kinds of plasters and liniments but they were no use. At last I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and after I had used three-quarters of the box my back was as strong and well as ever." Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Sessional Notes.

The Legislative Session has entered its sixth week, and the real business for which the Legislature is called from year to year, the voting of supplies, has not yet been touched upon.

The process of killing time went on last week the same as usual. Short sittings in the forenoon and afternoon were the order of the day.

On Tuesday the Government proceeded with bills providing for a new jail site, and also for the sale of the stock farm, in view of the inauguration by the Dominion Government, at some future time, of an experimental farm.

After disposing of the road act, the committee stage of the prohibition act was resumed. The amendment, relating to clubs, proposed by Mr. Kennedy, and already referred to, was immediately taken up for discussion.

The proceedings on Wednesday forenoon, were mostly of a routine character. In consequence of the terrific storm several members of the House were not present.

was just 1 o'clock when Mr. Kennedy finished reading his amendments and the House adjourned for recess, and consideration of the prohibition question was not resumed for the rest of the week.

The road act as amended passed to third reading in the Legislature last evening. It is safe to say that it is now worse than it was before.

That the Province, except the incorporated towns, be divided into Road Districts and the road taxes collected within each district be expanded thereunder the supervision of the Road Overseer or Road Officer of each District and the deficiency, if any, be made up out of the general revenue.

After disposing of the road act, the committee stage of the prohibition act was resumed. The amendment, relating to clubs, proposed by Mr. Kennedy, and already referred to, was immediately taken up for discussion.

The following resolution was unanimously passed in the Legislature yesterday, and the necessary steps were taken to have it duly forwarded to the Federal authorities: Whereas a proposition has been made to the Department of Public Works for the Dominion of Canada by a syndicate of residents of Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia to provide install and lay a cable from Prince Edward Island to the Mainland as to give telephone communication between the Provinces of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, the tariff of rates for such telephonic communication to be approved by the Railway Commission of Canada.

The proceedings on Wednesday forenoon, were mostly of a routine character. In consequence of the terrific storm several members of the House were not present.

Company. It is therefore resolved. That this Legislative Assembly believing that it would be in the best interests of this Province, approve of such proposition for telephonic and telegraphic communication with the Mainland either in addition to or in substitution for the telegraphic service heretofore supplied by the Anglo-American Telegraph Co. and recommends that a suitable subsidy be granted by the Federal Government for such telephonic and telegraphic communication.

Fishing in Hudson Bay.

The Toronto Globe has become convinced that it is the duty of the Dominion Government to thoroughly investigate the resources of Hudson Bay in the way of fisheries. This information, says the Globe, should, when obtained, be not buried in blue books, but published in popular form and put into general circulation.

Probably the most important legislation proposed this Session is the Land Act explained by the Minister of the Interior on Thursday. This measure came as a surprise to most western members and to the House of Commons generally.

Ottawa Weekly Letter.

The Land Bill.

Ottawa, March 13, 1907. On Tuesday, the 12th, Mr. Fielding stated that he had no more tariff changes to propose and the Committee of Ways and Means banded in what is now supposed to be its final report.

A COMBINE REWARDED.

On the last day of discussion a singular circumstance was revealed. Mr. Boyce, of Algoma, called attention to the fact that some eighty boot and shoe manufacturers had asked for additional protection. When they began pressing for these changes the Tanners' Association worked with them, but in the later stages the boot and shoe people were left to fight it out alone.

A MINISTER IN THIS COMBINE.

It is shown that on several occasions while the tanners and the boot and shoe makers were working together for an increase of duty, prominent member of the Tanners' combine referred to the great influence that their Association had with the Government by reason of the fact that one of their members was in Sir Wilfrid's Cabinet. Of the seven firms maintaining the tanner's combine that of C. S. Hyman & Company was one of the largest, and it now appears that this combine not only escaped the law, but that its members have been specially favored in the tariff revisions.

THE NEW LAND BILL.

Probably the most important legislation proposed this Session is the Land Act explained by the Minister of the Interior on Thursday. This measure came as a surprise to most western members and to the House of Commons generally.

A LUCKY LAWYER.

R. T. Macleith, Barrister of Halifax, an active Liberal campaigner, is down in the Auditor General's books as having received for legal services to the Government in the last fiscal year, with taxed costs, $10,314.78 which is high water mark in his profession for the year.

A GREAT CALAMITY.

The Minister had scarcely taken his seat when Mr. Greenway, former Premier of Manitoba and one of the leading Liberals in the House, sprang to his feet to oppose the measure.

EFFECTS OF THE BILL.

In further discussion the Leader of the Opposition with Mr. Foster and Dr. Roche, Mr. Lake, Mr. McCarthy and other western members pointed out some of the serious features of the Bill.

YUKON COM LAINR.

Dr. Thompson Member for the Yukon laid before the House this week some of the grievances of his district. His constituents are impatient over the refusal to them of representative institutions.

DIED.

In Bolton, on March 23rd, Allan J. McDonald, son of John R. McDonald, of Springfield, Lot 67. The remains are expected to arrive home on Wednesday and the funeral will take place on Thursday.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

Premier of the Government will conduct a thousand miles of telephone line this year.

Four men were blown to atoms on Thursday night in a meeting at Helena, Montana. The cause was the result of obstinacy of the part of workmen who were tamping a ball, in which there was a charge of dynamite, with a steel instrument.

The Black state of Pennsylvania has been won by a negro. He is a student of Harvard University. These were five who passed the required examination; but Look, the colored man, was deemed best fitted to receive the award.

His Honor, the Lieutenant Governor, entertained members of the Legislature and several other gentlemen to dinner, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week. These were pleasant social gatherings, and the guests were entertained in the generous hospitable manner proverbial of Government House.

The thirty-fourth annual boat race between crews representing Oxford and Cambridge Universities, took place on Tuesday of last week and was won by Cambridge. The distance is about four miles and a quarter, and the time was about 30 minutes.

A giant icicle dropped from the cliffs of the Niagara gorge on to a trolley car of the Gorge Road on the New York side as it was passing the Whitpool rapids on Monday last week. Conductor Everett Ramsdell was killed. Dr. and Mrs. M. B. New, of St. John's, N. S., who were on their honeymoon, were badly hurt.

The latest despatches received from Morocco city say the assassination there of Dr. Hanchamp who was connected with the French Geodesic mission was followed by general attacks on their homes, and that the British Consul was forced to flee, killing two persons. The Pasha finally sent troops which drove off the mob. The troops are still guarding the houses although a comparative calm has been restored.

On Thursday night last a burglar or burglars, broke in the lower panel in the shop door of Hyman Bros. store in the Cameron block on Victoria Row. The burglar first tried to pry open the lock, but failing in that cut through one side of the panel and then broke it in. Through this opening an entry was made to the store and about a dozen bottles of liquor were stolen. The bold burglar has not yet been captured.

Those who were looking for a settlement of the Coal and Steel difficulties are discouraged by reports received from Halifax, Toronto and elsewhere. It seems plain that the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. are more determined than ever to go ahead with an independent company, the main object of which is to secure a majority holding common stock of the Dominion Coal Co. A rough draft of the new company's prospect was sent by post to respondent. The name will be the Canadian Steel Corporation and the capital is thirty millions.

A snow storm occurred at the logging camp operated by the Butana Copper Syndicate on Howe's Sound, B. C. Saturday of noon, when three white men and a Japanese lost their lives. For the past few days it had been snowing and work had to be stopped. On Saturday morning the men gathered in a donkey engine house but the foreman decided they could not work that day. Most of the men returned to their homes but a few remained in the engine house. Without warning a snow slide occurred, completely burying the eight men. Three died before they could be rescued, also a Japanese. The other four men were in a sorry plight when dug out. It is stated that one of the victims, named McPherson belonged to Antigonish.

Mr. Raymond Gillis, son of the late Dr. Gillis of Spyness, has been chosen Rhodes Scholar for Prince Edward Island for this year. The committee empowered to nominate the candidate for these scholarships, consists of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, His Lordship the Chief Justice, Dr. Anderson, Chief Superintendent of Education, Dr. Robertson, Principal of Prince of Wales College, and the Rev. Rector of St. Dunstan's College. There were four other candidates: Roy Long, Athol Seaman, Norman Gillis. The successful candidate is the youngest of the five, being scarcely twenty years of age. He graduated from the Summerside High School matriculating into the "Ves Principia" room in the Prince of Wales College this doing three years work in one. After attending Prince of Wales for part of a year he received a teacher's license of the first class. He entered St. Dunstan's College in 1904 and graduated this year, receiving the degree of B. A. He has passed first the degree examination and received the degree of B. L. The Rhodes scholarship is worth $1,000 a year for three years, at Oxford. During the winter he passed the necessary examination entitling him to enter the famous University. Congratulations.

Oliver Mason, a well known farmer and horse buyer of Southport lost his life in the dreadful snow storm of Wednesday night. He lived at Southport about half a mile from the end of the Hillsborough bridge. He was in Charlottetown nearly every day, and no man knew every inch of the road between here and his home better than "Ollie" Mason, as he was familiarly called. He drove over to town Wednesday afternoon when the weather was clear, and put up his horse. He remained in the city till about 8 o'clock and then started for home. He crossed the ice all right; but at the landing on the Southport side, the sleigh seems to have struck a snow bank and up set. The unfortunate man evidently found he was unable to extricate the horse and sleigh from the snowbank and started to walk home. He passed Dr. Dewar's and the house of his next neighbor Aubrey Match and was within two or three hundred yards of his own house when he either sank from exhaustion or was stricken with heart failure and collapsed. His horse, body was found next morning close to Aubrey Match's barn. His cap and one of his mitts were off. The horse was found by one of the Seaton men completely covered with snow where the accident had happened. The sleigh was up set and one shaft was broken and sticking over the hump of the snowbank. The horse and sleigh from the snowbank was not much over fifty years of age, and leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter. He was very popular and well liked by all who had any business with him.

—OF THE—

"MENZIE LINE"

—OF—

Has been a signal success, and it is now beyond a doubt that this beautiful paper will prove to be a most popular and a charming wall decoration.

The Menzie Wall Paper Co. are the only manufacturers in Canada not in any combine, and they have taken advantage of this, to place their products on the market at a very small price, and also to sell the bordering by the roll at the same price as the sidewall papers.

They were the first manufacturers in Canada to sell bordering in this way, and the fact that no concern in Charlottetown ever advertised or sold bordering in this way until we entered the market with the "Menzie Line," seems to be pretty conclusive evidence as to who was responsible for the move here.

In soliciting patronage, as we most respectfully do, we ask it on the merits of the Papers alone, and believe that people of town and country will thoroughly appreciate the fact that we have placed this splendid opportunity within their reach of beautifying their homes at a trifling cost.

If the sales of Wall Paper during the past few days is any criterion of what is to follow, then the success of our venture is already assured.

We thank our numerous patrons most heartily for the interest taken, and would say that an abundant supply of sample books is now ready and will be sent to homes and offices in any part of the city, and called for as required.

The following are extracts from the "Menzie Empire," of Toronto, which may prove of interest in regard to the "Menzie line."

"The field covered by the Menzie Line embraces not only the Dominion of Canada, but Australia, South Africa, and other countries. The demand for the line has grown so steadily that not only will the places mentioned consume a large share of next year's output, but as time passes, there is a strong probability that a goodly share of American markets will be supplied by this plant, and other businesses will be secured in the Far East. The Menzie Line equals anything produced in the United States, and in many instances is superior to the product of the American wallpaper mills. It can compete favorably in all open markets, and under the aggressive management of the company, has an assured future. The name of Menzie Line has caught the popular fancy, and once used the merit of the goods accomplish the end sought, winning the heartiest approval from the public."

"The company does not accept any retail orders wholly through the trade, dealing with the largest and most reliable dealers of every country invaded by the Menzie Line. A large force of travellers is on the road, and the product of the immense plant is properly and attractively introduced in many lands."

"Another feature which has been largely responsible for the rapid advance of the firm has been the care devoted to the securing and employment of experienced and talented color men and patterns. Through this policy of employed skilled men it is possible to secure through the Menzie Line grades of wall paper that previously had to be imported from Germany and France. The skilled designer can secure any effect that his taste dictates by using the product of this new, modern and well conducted mill, which in so short a time has accomplished so much in bringing this industry up to the highest possible level."

A little boy made him a wee snowball. And rolled it about in the snow; And it gathered the crystals, and clung to them all. And oh how that snowball did grow!

Brussels Art-Gallery of Snow.

There is a pleasant custom in gay Brussels of turning the snow of winter to use in lessening the sufferings of the poor. Every winter about Christmas time, when the weather is cold and dry, the gates of the royal park are closed to the public for a time.

When the gates are finally thrown open, the public is admitted at a franc or fifty centimes a head. At the entrance are well-known artists sitting at the receipt of customs. And you may be sure these take far heavier toll of the society ladies who drive up to the gate behind a pair of prancing obstinate, or glide noiselessly through the frozen streets in elegant motors.

The "Salon de Neige" is kept open a whole week. The money received is handed over to the mayor for use among the poor.—School Journal.

Father Bernard Vaughan on France and the Poles.

Father Bernard Vaughan says: "What strange things we hear spoken about our Poles, especially by those who know nothing about them. I remember the day when we were told Pius IX. was too anticlerical; when we were informed Leo XIII. was too diplomatic; today we are told that Pius X. is too apostolic. This apostolic Pope knows how to meet these French diplomatic d-

Pains in the Back

Any symptoms of a weak, torpid or sluggish condition of the kidneys of liver, and are a warning that it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs. They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by chronic rheumatism and depression.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures kidney and liver troubles, relieves the bowels, and builds up the whole system. The French Government, in closing the schools of the religious orders, wanted to cut off the supply of Christianity from the laity, and so that Christianity was starved out in their midst. It was an ingenious process of starvation. Waldick-Roussau told his audience (time after time) it was the business of the Government to remodel the mental attitude of the French youth. France doesn't want violence; she wants religion. She doesn't want racial suicide; she wants mothers. She doesn't want men who kiss from the sacraments; she wants men like the brave men of Ireland. She wants to get right with God, and not with Cleanness. The Pope complained, not because the seminaries were taken, but because they were stolen from the people, and because it was the property of the poor and the sacred property of the dead.

Keep the Philippines, Says Archbishop Harty.

Archbishop Harty, of Manila, who recently arrived in this country, is optimistic regarding conditions in the islands. He is emphatic in holding that the United States Government should retain the Philippines. "It would be a burning disgrace for the United States to abandon the Philippines," said the Archbishop. "I want to use that word. It would be a shame. Give me permission to use also as my decided opinion that the brightest page in American history will be that recording the operations of this Government in the Philippines. My belief is that in time the Philippines may turn Japan to Christianity. These Philippines are the pearl of the Orient. Just think, six million Christians in, we may say, the heart of Asia! Yes, and I do not feel I am optimistic. I believe that the Philippines will finally convert the Japanese, and the Japanese will in due time convert Asia."

A Hero of the Hebrides.

Any of our readers who may contemplate spending their summer holiday in the Hebrides will find a very graphic and interesting account of what they may expect in the way of attractions and of discomforts in "The Outer Isles," by A. Goodrich Freer. On the one hand, they may count upon being able to read even small print in the summer glamping up to ten o'clock at night. But on the other, whether they will have during that long summer day, the substantial meal to which southerners attach a certain measure of importance, is far more problematic than most people would care that it should be. In several of the islands there is a Catholic population which has kept the old Faith which their fathers held for more than ten centuries before the Reformation, and their Catholic practices, and traditions are systematically described by the author. Among these, is the ancient custom according to which the fishermen, before starting northwards on the dangerous expedition to the herring fishery, meet together to complete their arrangements, and then "pass into the little grey church, under the shadow of which their plans have been discussed, and then a service is held, praying for a blessing on their undertaking, and concluding with a Gaelic hymn which they and their forefathers have always associated with the occasion, with its burden of— Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, The Three in One, be always with us. On the Sea, when the flood is around us, O Mother Mary I be with us! Of sadder but deeper interest is in the following passage in the description of the terrible fever epidemic in South Uist in 1898: "Only one person was there to help, the young priest, the Rev. George Rigg. He was in every sense of the word a gentleman, and a scholar, educated at St. Sulpice, where he had acquired something of the special subtlety of French thought which fitted him for work very different from that which lay in his path of duty. . . . Not himself of Highland blood, his personal devotion had made him nevertheless perfectly at home with the people, and often have they told me of the eloquence of his preaching in their own Gaelic tongue. I remember that on first seeing him, I turned to his predecessor, himself broken down from over-work and heroic self-

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Pain of Throat, etc. It stops that tickling in the throat, it prevents that hacking and heaving to the lungs. Mr. J. H. Brown, the well-known Galt gunner, writes: "I had a very severe attack of whooping cough and tightness in the chest. Some times when I wanted to cough and could not I would almost choke to death. My wife got me a bottle of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP, and to my surprise I found myself relieved. I would not be without it if it cost $100 a bottle, and I can recommend it to everyone suffering with a cough or cold."

Minard's Liniment cures Burns, etc.

A cockney caddy who had just affixed his horse's nosebag turned to the driver of a broken-down motor bus close by and shouted out: "Now, then, clear off with your old oil box, 'cos the smell of it spoils my 'orse's luncheon." Year In And Year Out.

The end is described in a passage from the letter of a priest from a neighbouring island, who nursed his brother on his death-bed. For three weeks he devoted himself to a fever-stricken family, where his band, wife, and children were all prostrate at once. No one ever called to see them but Father Rigg and the doctor, who called and prepared food for them several times. Not even the mother of the man or the sister of the wife ever entered the door. Father Rigg came daily and nursed and fed them, and spent the day with them to cheer them. He had the most mental and loathsome work to do, and did it heroically. He was struck down himself a week last Thursday, and died on the following Friday in the height of a violent typhoid fever, after receiving the last Sacraments. The authorities add: "He lies among the scattered and unmarked graves of his flock in the 'Macbar,' the far-grown-up expansion above the shore. There is a strange pathos in the thought of the long years of ecclesiastic training and formation, and of priestly aspiration, in the famous seminary at Paris leading up, not to a long life of publicly-liked work so devotedly done in those last three weeks in the fever-stricken but by the lonely shore in the Hebrides. And yet, in the designs of God, it could hardly have ended more nobly. We can well believe the words in what the authoress concludes the chapter: "He still lives in the hearts of the people and his deeds are told in their stories, and his name, like those of their heroes of the past, is preserved in song."—The Tablet.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Pain of Throat, etc. It stops that tickling in the throat, it prevents that hacking and heaving to the lungs. Mr. J. H. Brown, the well-known Galt gunner, writes: "I had a very severe attack of whooping cough and tightness in the chest. Some times when I wanted to cough and could not I would almost choke to death. My wife got me a bottle of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP, and to my surprise I found myself relieved. I would not be without it if it cost $100 a bottle, and I can recommend it to everyone suffering with a cough or cold."

Minard's Liniment cures everything.

Mrs. Fred Laine, St. George Ont., writes:—"My little girl would cough, so at night that neither she nor I could get any rest. I gave her Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and am thankful to say it cured her cough quickly."
