CHAPTER XV.

She looked up and fixed her eyes upon him.

"I met Blair, and taxed him with his fiendish villainy, and—"

Margaret caught her breath.

"He confessed it!" he said.

She uttered a low cry, and covered against the back of the chair.

"I think I could have killed him on the spot," he went on. "He has played the part of a heartless scoundrel! Miss Margaret, do you remember how he started when I remarked how easy it would be for a man to commit bigamy at Sefton?"

The incident flashed back upon Margaret's memory, and she groaned.

"If I had only known what that start of his meant!" murmured Austin Ambrose. "Yes, he confessed the crime! He sent you a message by me—"

She looked up and put up her hand.

"Do not tell me! Do not mention his name again!" she cried hoarsely.

"I must tell you," he said, gently; "I promised! He implored your forgiveness! Reparation, he knows, is impossible; not even the remorse, which will haunt him as long as his life lasts, can invent any way of undoing the wrong he has wrought you! He consigned you to my care, Miss Margaret, and I have undertaken, readily—yes, very readily—to see that your future is not further darkened by want."

Margaret rose and clutched the table.

"You—you offer me money; you, too! And his money!" she panted.

Austin Ambrose hung his head and sighed.

"You will let me be your friend?" he pleaded in a soft voice.

Margaret pushed the hair from her white forehead.

"No!" she said; "I have no friend! I am alone in all the world! Tell him—yes, tell him—that I would not touch a penny of his if it were to save my life! Tell him that he has killed my heart and soul, but while there is life still left in my body, I will use it to crawl as far from him as I can! Tell him—" she broke down for a moment—"tell him that I forgive him, but that if he ever again sends me such a message as you have brought, the love through which he wronged and ruined me will turn to hate!"

"You are right!" he murmured.

"He is Always Telling Others About Them"

Brother and Sister Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—News of Cure Too Good to Keep.

In this letter Mrs. Hurley relates how glad she and her brother are to tell how they were cured of indigestion and kidney trouble by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

"That is the kind of enthusiasm Dr. Chase's medicines arouse and that is why they are so generally known and used to-day. People who are cured tell their friends and neighbors, and so the word is passed along."

From the limits of Dr. Chase's practice at Ann Arbor, Mich., the good news of these medicines travelled until they are known the world over and considered indispensable in many thousands of homes.

"This is the kind of letters we are receiving daily and there can be no mistaking the enthusiasm expressed here:

Mrs. J. J. Hurley, Upper Hanwell, York Co., N.B., writes: "I suffered from indigestion for two years and tried a great many kinds of medicine, but got no lasting relief until I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I would take severe vomiting spells and be weakened down so that I could not do my own work. I shall never be able to give the medicine enough praise for the benefit derived from its use, and will strongly recommend it to all my friends."

"My brother has also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and they have entirely cured him of lame back and kidney trouble. He is always telling others about them."

Dr. E. L. Brine writes: "I can certify that this statement of Mrs. J. J. Hurley is correct in all details."

Chronic indigestion is almost invariably associated with sluggish action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and can never be really cured until these organs are awakened to healthful action by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25c. a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

"But what will you do?" he asked, looking at her with anxious intentness.

Margaret moaned.

"Ah! what will I do?" she sobbed hoarsely. "Heaven knows! there is only one thing I can do, to creep away into some place where none may find me, and die!"

If Mr. Austin Ambrose had possessed that extremely awkward organ, a heart, he would—he must—have been touched by the sight of the misery and anguish of this innocent girl, whose happiness he had so carefully and skillfully plotted against; but if there was a heart in Mr. Austin Ambrose's bosom, it existed there simply for physiological reasons, and not for those of sentiment.

"I think you must let me be your friend!" he said in a low voice, and keeping his eyes on the carpet. "I can quite understand what it is you are feeling and suffering, and I think your desire to get away from here, to get beyond the possibility of ever meeting with Blair, a natural one. If you will let me I will help you. You would wish to go at once?"

Margaret did not answer him, she was scarcely conscious of what he said. He waited a moment or two, then said slowly and distinctly:

"I think that the best thing I can do, Miss Margaret, is to leave you for a short time. The blow has been an overwhelming one, in very truth, it has confused and bewildered me; and standing here, a friend of the villain who has wronged you—alas! the friend who did all he could in all innocence to bring about the ceremony—I feel as if I were a sharer in his guilt."

Margaret tried to murmur "No," but the word would not come.

"I think it will be better if I leave you for an hour or two; I will come back in the evening, after having made all arrangements, and if you will be so gracious as to trust yourself to my hands as far as the station, I honestly think you will find the journey made easier for you."

She tried to thank him, but she was not capable of doing more than incline her head, and with hushed steps—as if there were death in the house—Mr. Austin Ambrose went out of the room and down the path.

With a low, heartrending moan she threw herself upon the ground and, grasping her hair in both her white hands, hid her face—crashed with shame and the torture of a broken heart.

She lay thus prostrate in her anguish for some time, then she rose and staggered up stairs. A sudden thought had smitten her.

Blair might come back—it might be that he still loved her! Was it not love that had tempted him to work her ruin? He might still love her passionately enough to come back, and try to force her to remain with him. Or the woman—his wife!—she might hear what he had done, and in a fit of revenge drag her, Margaret, into a court to give evidence against him and convict him!

She must fly! She did not think of Austin Ambrose's offer of assistance, or if she had thought of it, she would not have remained for him to return.

"To get away at once, to fly to some place where no one knew her, or could get to know about it; that was her instinctive desire.

She bathed her face until the feverish aching of the burning eyes was lessened, and tried to pack a small bag with the few articles that were absolutely necessary, taking care that nothing but that which had belonged to her went into the bag.

One by one she stripped off her rings—until she came to the wedding one—and placed them, together with the bracelets, chains and trinkets Blair had given her, on the dressing-table. The plain band of gold, inconsistent as it seemed, she allowed to remain on her finger. Then she changed her dress for the plain travelling costume in which she had been married.

In doing so, she saw the locket—Blair's first gift! With trembling hands she began to untie the ribbon, then she faltered. She had promised him that she would not part with this. Surely she could keep this to remind her of the time when she first tasted happiness, the time when she had thought him all that was true and noble.

The temptation to keep these two things that should seem as links between her and the past—so bitter, and yet so sweet!—proved too strong, and she let the locket fall into its place again over her heart.

The warm glow of evening was over the landscape by the time her simple preparations for flight were made, and drawing her veil on her pale and haggard face, she stole down the stairs.

In the narrow passage stood Mrs. Day.

"Are you going out, ma'am?" she said.

Margaret moistened her lips, and tried to answer carelessly:

Throw Away Your
Eye-Glasses!

A Free Prescription
You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye-weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing, say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful Free Prescription. One man says, "After trying it, I was almost blind, could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me."

A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to spare the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid, bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. Write to Valmas Drug Co., of Toronto, will fill the above prescription by mail, if your druggist cannot."

A prominent City Physician to whom the above article was submitted, says: "Bon-Opto is a very reasonable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. It can be obtained from any good druggist and the very few preparations of this kind that are kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."

After a few minutes the dull roar of the rising tide seemed to exercise a fascination over her; and presently she felt no desire to reach the station, only a great longing to be alone by the side of the vast ocean, whose solemn, measured beat seemed like an awful voice calling to her.

She reached the foot of the rock, toward which the fisherman had pointed when he told her of the accident that had happened to the man and woman two years ago.

The tide had not touched it yet, and painfully she clutched its rugged surface up which a few hours ago she could have sprung easily.

At the top she sunk down exhausted, her face toward the sea, her eyes fixed on the bank of cloud, that like the giant in the Eastern fable, who escaped from the open bottle, had expanded and grown into a huge mass, which had engulfed the sun, and threatened, as it seemed, to swallow the whole sky.

How long she lay there, hidden from the sight of the village, motionless and almost lifeless, she knew not; but suddenly she heard the lap, lap of water below her, and looking down, saw that the tide had crept round the rock, and was gradually but swiftly rising.

She regarded its sudden approach with heavy, listless eyes. All power of thought, much less appreciation of her peril, had deserted her. The sound of the waves, the dull booming of the wind fell upon her ear almost soothingly.

The day seemed to close and night to fall; the storm-clouds were right over her, and enveloped the earth as with a pall.

Suddenly the darkness was broken by a vivid flash of lightning, and the thunder roared and seemed to shake the rock on which she lay. At the same moment she felt her right foot grow cold, and looking down, saw that the tide had reached and covered it.

Then, for the first time, she awoke from her stupor, and realized that death and she were face to face.

With that instinct of self-preservation, that shrinking from the horror of death which comes to even the most miserable, she sprang to her feet and crawled to the highest point of the rock, and looked wildly round.

She could not trust herself to say any more, and turning, walked quickly down the path.

She felt tired, but she reached the bottom by the aid of a handrail, and went toward the station. Then suddenly she remembered that she had forgotten her purse!

She had a few pounds in gold and a little silver in her pocket, but the purse, containing the bank-notes given her by the earl, she had left in a drawer at the cottage.

She stood aghast and trembling. To go back she felt was impossible; and yet, what should she do? How could she accomplish her flight and hope to hide herself without money?

Some four years ago I could not walk up stairs, my feet and ankles were so swollen, but I took three boxes of Gin Pills and the trouble has never returned. My mother, 82 years of age, is taking them and feels fine.

MRS. J. B. SALSBERY,
Camden East."

GIN PILLS are 50c. a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50 at all druggists. Sample sent free if requested.

Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Fashion Plates. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

A SPLENDID STYLE FOR MORNING OR HOME WEAR.

1642—Ladies' House Dress, with Sleeve in either of Two Lengths. As here shown, blue and white checked gingham was used, with white linene for trimming. In gray striped seersucker, figured lawn or plain linen, this style would be equally effective. The hand trimming could be omitted.

The Pattern is also nice for serge, wash silk, taffeta, gabardine or voile, in which materials it will surely make a serviceable business or afternoon dress.

The Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 7 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for a 36 inch size. The skirt measures about 3 3/4 yards at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A Dainty Model.

1634—Child's Dress, with Panel Yoke and Sleeve in either of Two Lengths.

The young artiste is here shown with "Val" insertion and edging for trimming. The style is also nice for lawn, dimly, crepe and cashmere. The front yoke is lengthened over the centre to form a panel. At the back the yoke is square. The fulness of back and front may be gathered, or tucked beneath the yoke edge. The sleeve is nice in bishop or puff style.

The Pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 6 mos., 1 year, 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 will require 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

EXECUTED FOR ESPIONAGE.
LONDON, April 11. (Official.)
A prisoner, charged with espionage and tried by our General Court martial at Westminster Guildhall on 29th March, and the following day had been sentenced to death, had the sentence carried out this morning.

GERMANS MAKE GAINS.
PARIS, April 11.
On the west bank of the Meuse the Germans made an attack last night on Dead Man's Hill, advancing from the bank Wood, obtaining a footing in a few small elements of trenches, the War Office announced this afternoon, but otherwise were repulsed. East of the Meuse the Germans attacked the trenches south of Douaumont Village, but were beaten back with considerable losses. There was a violent bombardment of Douaumont and Vaux.

GERMANS CLAIM BIG CAPTURE.
BERLIN, April 11.
(By Wireless to Sayville.)—Since February 21st the Germans have captured more than 20,000 French in the fighting about Verdun. The Overseas News Agency announced to-day.

PARIS OFFICIAL.
PARIS, April 11. (Official.)
There was cessation of German infantry assaults west of the Meuse to-day, although bombardment of the French lines between Le Mort Homme and Cunieres continued. A powerful attack, however, was delivered against the French trenches between Douaumont and Vaux, east of the Meuse. The Germans at this point succeeded in gaining a footing in some advanced trenches, but were driven out by counter attack.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ON ITALIAN FRONT.
BERLIN, April 11.
An official statement issued at the Austro-Hungarian headquarters to-day, says that on the Italian front artillery fire has been more lively in several sectors. The enemy shelled a village behind our front, bombarded Dalno in the southern part of Gorizia, the hospital of St. Peter and other villages in Gorizia district, St. Katherine and in Carinthia Levicco and Rovereto. In the Tyrol, fighting is in progress near Riva.

DO NOT INTEND TO VIOLATE NEUTRALITY.
NEW YORK, April 11.
An International News Service dispatch from the Hague says that the French Minister has assured Holland that the Entente Allies do not intend to violate the neutrality of the Netherlands. This assurance was given after the Dutch army had made preparations to meet a suspected landing in the vicinity of Flushing, upon the report that at the Paris conference the Allies had outlined such a means of striking at the northwestern frontier of Germany.

A Child Hates Oil. Calomel, Pills For Liver and Bowels

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if cross, sick, feverish, constipated.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dole" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them. See that it is

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless fruit laxative handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

take a census of all Belgian civilians between the ages of 25 and 35 years. Men residing in parts of France not occupied by Germans, in Holland and other neutral countries will be asked to register locally. For the moment there is only the question of calling to the colors bachelors between the ages given.

GERMAN MUNITION CO. DECLARE DIVIDEND.

BERLIN, April 11. The German Arms and Munition Company, one of the leading war babies, declared a dividend of thirty per cent, against twenty per cent. last year, an increase declared despite the new war profits tax legislation. The company manufactures small arms and cartridges.

GERMANY'S SUBMARINE WARFARE.

BERLIN, April 11. The growth of Germany's submarine warfare is shown, according to estimates published here, by the fact that 81,000 tons of merchantmen of countries at war with Germany have been destroyed since April 1st, as compared with 26,000 tons for the month of January, 40,000 tons for February, and 100,000 tons for March.

VENEZUELA'S POPULARITY CAUSING CONCERN.

ATHENS, April 11. The extent to which former Premier Venizelos has obtained popular support since his re-entry into politics, is causing grave concern in government circles. Meetings of adherents of M. Venizelos are being made occasions for extraordinary demonstrations. It is impossible to predict the result of the campaign against the present government.

PREMIER SKOULOUDIS PROTESTS

LONDON, April 11. Respecting the landing at Argostoli, the British and French Ministers informed Premier Skoulooudis that their governments were impelled to close the harbor traffic with the least possible difficulties. The Premier announced in energetic terms that Greece would protest against what he termed this new infringement of Greek sovereignty, and an animated conversation ensued. Sir P. E. H. Elliott, British Minister, was received by King Constantine. The British and French Legations have announced that the establishment of a naval base at Argostoli is a purely defensive measure, and that the actions of the Allies was not in the character of occupation as represented by certain newspapers.

WILL EARLY DEMOBILIZE.

NEW YORK, April 11. According to a News Agency despatch from London to-day, a despatch from Rome says that half the army mobilized by Greece will be temporarily released from service.

REASON FOR REFUSAL.

BERLIN, April 11. A report has been received from Athens to the effect that the Greek Government refused the request of the Entente Powers for permission for passage of troops through Greek territory from Corfu to Salonika, saying that Corfu is infested with cholera, according to the Overseas News Agency.

ORDERED TO LEAVE BAGDAD.

NEW YORK, April 11. An International News Service despatch from London to-day, says that Mohammedan civilians have been ordered by the Turkish war authorities to leave Bagdad, adding that a despatch from Zurich says that Turkish and German army officers have begun to prepare the city to withstand a siege.

TAKEN OFF AMERICAN SCH.

MANILA, April 11. Two German steamship officers, one a resident of Manila and the other a former officer of an interned German vessel, have been taken off the American inter-island schooner Henry S. ten miles west of Zamboanga, by a British auxiliary cruiser. It is said that suspicion attached to the Henry S. on account of her having been previously engaged in trade under German-American charters.

BRITISH STEAMER MISSING.

LONDON, April 11. Lloyds reports the British steamship Eltaston as missing and presumably sunk. All the crew have been picked up. The Eltaston is owned in Glasgow. The last report of her movements was her departure on Feb. 11th from Philadelphia for Queens-town.

TOWED INTO SOUTHAMPTON.

LONDON, April 11. The Dutch steamer Endik, which sailed from Baltimore on March 18th for Rotterdam, has been taken in tow into Southampton, damaged, where she is discharging her cargo. The steamer was reported last Friday off the Isle of Wight. She had been damaged, but the crew was safe.

THREE LEADERS EXECUTED.

EL PASO, Tex., April 11. Three leaders of a Diaz plot to seize Juarez and overthrow the Carranza garrison there last Sunday, were executed by a firing squad at Juarez early to-day. The condemned men confirmed the plot before they were executed. Other Mexicans were implicated.

RATIFICATION OF TREATY.

WASHINGTON, April 11. Ratification by the Nicaragua Congress of a treaty by which the United States acquires for $3,000,000, the Canal route rights, and a coaling station on Fonseca Bay, is announced in

Was Only a Boy But Suffered.

TILL DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HIS KIDNEYS.

Clarence Hipson, 11 for a Year, Tells of the Relief and Cure He Found in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Seal Cove, Gaspe Co., Queb. April 11th. (Special.)—That kidney disease attacks the young as well as the aged is evidenced in the case of Clarence Hipson, of this place. Though only fifteen years of age, he suffered from a complicated form of the disease for a year. He found a quick and permanent cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My trouble started in a cold," Clarence states. "I was depressed and low-spirited, my joints were stiff, I was often dizzy and my perspiration had an unpleasant odor."

"I was often dizzy and always thirsty, my skin had a dry, harsh feeling and I chafed and burned at night. "Soon my muscles started to cramp. Then my back ached and neuralgia and rheumatism were added to my sufferings. My appetite became fitful, and frequent and severe headaches. I was always tired and nervous."

"One box of Dodd's Kidney Pills brought me back to health." "This boy's troubles all came from the kidneys. They were failing in their duty of straining the uric acid out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured the kidneys. With healthy kidneys, the blood was cleansed, and the cure naturally followed."

A despatch received here to-day from Managua by General Chamorro, of Nicaragua Minister. The treaty has already been ratified by the United States Senate.

VILLA REPORTED KILLED.

QUEBETARO, Mex., April 11. "The War Department announced to-day that it had reason to believe that Villa had been killed in action, and that searching parties had been sent out to find his body."

CABINET CRISIS OVER.

STOCKHOLM, April 11. The threatened cabinet crisis is over. The War Trade Bill was published by an agreement, which was accepted by all parties after consultation with the cabinet. The firm attitude of the Liberals and Socialists compelled the Government to considerably modify the bill, which will be read on Thursday.

MORE VESSELS TORPEDOED.

LONDON, April 11. The Italian steamer Unione is reported by Lloyds as torpedoed. The crew of the British steamer Eastern City, the sinking of which was announced yesterday, has landed. The Eastern City was sunk by a submarine.

THE GREAT BOON.

The boon of peace is sick as grease, and we should guard and prize it as we would gold. It is well, for war is hell—no delegate denies it. On Europe's straits, where peace is calmed, and all the kings a r e scrappy, the people know a l i e depths of woe, and not a soul is happy. But here, where peace fulfils its lease, with industry, its neighbour, remote from fear we walk and hear the sounds of honest labor. The mill wheels hum, the plumbers plumb, the farmers go a-seeding and you can walk a city block and see no fellow bleeding. The spinner spins, the dinner tins, the banker banks the boodle—oh, happy land, wherein the band is playing Yankee Doodle! Such peace as this is surely bliss, the timbrel sounds our gladness, the psalter psalms, the walter waits — to whoop for war is madness. By Europe's streams the moonlight beams on pale and ghastly corpses, and heaven frowns on blackened towns and shattered shores and horses. But on this shore no wave of gore against the homesteads washes; the sunlight shines on pumpkin vines, and large and luscious squashes.

Obituary.

A very sad occurrence happened at Ferrisburgh on Thursday, the 6th inst., in the death of Mrs. James O'Neil; she leaves to mourn her a truly devoted husband and nine children (eight boys and one girl). The deceased was 36 years of age; she also leaves to mourn her a mother, one sister and four brothers residing in St. John's.

In Making Grape-Nuts

honest whole wheat flour and malted barley are blended, made into dough, moulded into loaves, and baked. The loaves are then sliced and baked a second time—in all about twenty hours of thorough baking.

Grape-Nuts possesses all the rich, nourishing elements of the grain including the vital mineral salts so necessary for vigorous mental and physical activity. Many foods lack these essential elements—especially is this true of white bread and white flour products, because in making flour white most of the energizing mineral salts of the grain are thrown out in the milling process.

With Grape-Nuts it is different, for all the nutriment of the grain is retained. Then the long baking renders the food easily and quickly digestible.

Always ready to serve direct from its sanitary, tight-sealed carton, Grape-Nuts is in the form of granules of tender crispness that have a delicious, nut-like flavour. Four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with a little cream alongside is a splendid, well-balanced part of any meal and gives a wonderful return in sturdy brain, nerve and muscle.

Yesterdays outgoing express left Port-Blancfort at 7.20 a.m. to-day. The incoming express is due at 9 o'clock to-night. The local from Carbonear reached town at 1.15 p.m. to-day. The train from Trepansey arrived shortly after noon to-day. Girl Shot Father, Held for Murder. Louisville, Ky., April 5.—I shot papa to put him out of his misery, as an act of mercy" hysterically explained Anna Lee Stitzel after she had fired a bullet into the breast of her father, William Stitzel, 75, a federal veteran of the civil war, at their home here last night. Mr. Stitzel died thirty minutes later at a hospital. For several weeks Miss Stitzel is said to have brooded over her father's loneliness and growing infirmities. Physicians who have attended the young woman believe she is suffering from dementia. The aged man was seated at a table when his daughter entered the room revolver in hand and without a word fired one bullet into her parent's body. Miss Stitzel is held in custody at a hospital on a charge of murder.

Here and There. STEERO IS COMING. OFFICIAL.—Via Cape Ray—Viking, Ranger, Diana and Seal report their crew aboard, and all well. FIRST NIGHT SESSION.—The first night session of the House of Assembly for 1916 took place last night, several Bills being up for discussion. At 11 p.m. an adjournment was taken. Stafford's Liniment is sold in over 500 stores. Save the outside Green Wrapper. See advertisement.—mar31,t

RECRUITS EXAMINED.—At the C.L.B. Armoury yesterday, Dr. Hoinex examined 18 recruits of whom only three were rejected. Of the men that are coming forward but a small percentage are rejected. GOES ABROAD.—Among the passengers that went out by yesterday's express were: Miss G. Tessier, and Miss V. Dickinson for Montreal; Mrs. C. E. Ford for New York, and Mr. J. G. Higgins for Antigonish. NURSES LEAVE.—Miss G. Tessier and Miss V. Dickinson left for Montreal by last evening's express, the former to take up private nursing and the latter to be in charge of a ward in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. TO JOIN AMBULANCE UNIT.—Mr. J. G. Higgins left by last evening's express enroute to Antigonish where he will join the St. Francis Xavier Ambulance Unit. At the station were a number of his friends to see him off. CITY RATE OF TAXATION.—In order to set at rest the minds of persons who are imperfectly informed as to the contents of the Municipal Bill, it is well to say that the Bill does not propose any increase in the rate of taxation.—Com.

WELCH'S GRAPE JUICE.—The American National Drink, now on sale at A. A. Delgado's, Wood's (3 stores), McMurdo's (both stores), Royal Stores, T. J. Edens, E. J. Horwood, H. B. Thomson, Bay Roberts. apr10,t,60d

TO VISIT HER MOTHER.—Mrs. C. E. Ford went out on last evening's express enroute to New York where she will be present with her mother, Mrs. Thomas Winter, of this city, who we learn is seriously ill. Mr. Winter left on the last trip of the S. S. Stopano. NEW ARRIVAL.—The schooner Lowell F. Parks, recently purchased by G. C. Fearn & Co., reached port yesterday from Halifax, having on board a shipment of hay and oats, etc., for Geo. Neal. She is about 150 tons net, well found and a fast sailer, and will be used in the fish carrying trade. To Prevent The Grip. When you feel a cold coming on, stop it by taking LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. It destroys germs, acts as a Tonic and Laxative and keeps the system in condition to throw off Colds and Grip. It is sold in "BROMO QUININE" E. W. GROVES' signature on box. 25c. wed. LIVELY TIME AT CAVENTISH SQUARE.—Last evening at 6.30 o'clock two men under the influence of liquor, picked a row with an elderly man of the East End, and caused a crowd of children to gather in Cavendish Square. Just as they were about to make matters worse, a young clergyman and a Postal official happened along, and sent the unruly persons homeward. BURLY-CHINE REACHES PORT.—The S.S. Dury-Chine reached port yesterday afternoon at 5 p.m., and landed into the Farness. Withy promises where she will discharge part of her cargo. It is understood she has on board freight to the value of approximately $350,000. This will greatly increase the revenue of the country, as practically all her cargo is dutiable goods. TO-DAY'S Messages.

10.00 A.M.

OCCUPIED BORDER TOWN.

LISBON, To-day. The Portuguese Military Commander at Porto Amaro, in northern Portugal, has occupied the Kionga on the border of Portuguese and German East Africa, which the Germans seized in 1914.

HAUSTON ALARMED ABOUT SHIP- PING.

LONDON, To-day. Two more ships have been reported sunk during the past twenty-four hours, according to the morning newspapers. This makes 42 British, 10 of Britain's Allies, 20 neutral vessels lost since March 1st, when the new German submarine campaign began. Robert Paterson Houston, Unionist member of Parliament from Liverpool, in an appeal to the nation published to-day, declares the scarcity of shipping is becoming so serious a problem that the present agitation regarding the price of food is likely to yield place to an agitation as to whether sufficient food will be available. He estimates since the beginning of the war, 160 ocean-going British vessels of three million tons have been lost from all causes, between one-third and half of Britain's food supply already coming by neutral ships, says Houston. If Germany, by persistent sinking of every vessel, can frighten neutrals from bringing cargoes, what then? Already we see neutrals fighting shy of bringing cargoes here. This is natural, inasmuch as they can find full employment for their ships at profitable freights elsewhere. Houston urges the compelling of neutrals who have not yet made use of interned German ships to do so. This would be possible by threatening the withdrawal of Allies tonnage unless they comply. Houston also urges the re-assertion by the Entente Allies, of the ancient right of capture of an enemy owned cargo, no matter under what flag it is being carried, and suggests an effort to arrange by diplomacy for the confiscation in neutral waters of German ships for every Entente Allied or neutral ship improperly sunk by Germans.

KAISER SUFFERING FROM SHOCK.

LONDON, To-day. The German Emperor is at Potsdam recovering from a nervous shock as a result of the explosion of a shell at Verdun which destroyed the Imperial motor car and killed several officers, says a Rome despatch to the Daily Telegraph. Meeting reports, Emperor William was unharmed, the despatch adds.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, To-day. Grenade fighting in crevices east of St. Eloi, continued with varying fortune, says a British official statement issued last night. We hold three crevices, but not the other two. Yesterday the enemy exploded mines, north-east of Vermelles, damaging a portion of the old crater, and an important artillery engagement took place near Souchez. East of Ypres during the night, there were air fights. Yesterday our machines drove down one of the enemy without sustaining any loss, but one of our aeroplanes was brought down by gun fire.

BUDGET OF WAR NEWS.

LONDON, To-day. The armies of the German Crown Princes around Verdun are vigorously on the offensive against the French, having delivered an attack along the line from Le Mort Homme to Camiers, which netted them a few small portions of the French trenches. On the east of Le Mort Homme the German Commanders raised their infantry here, but in the region of Douaumont, Vaux, northeast of Verdun, they threw their men in large numbers against the French trenches. Here again they met with success, but only for a short time for a French counter-attack drove the invaders from the advanced trenches they had captured and in the operation they took one hundred German prisoners. While at Douaumont and Vaux the attack was in progress, the Germans had not forgotten the line between Le Mort Homme and Cumieres, and covered the entire region with intense artillery fire, probably preparing for another attack by infantry. Along the remainder of the front of France and Belgium there were only artillery bombardments. In one of these, north of the Aisne, the French guns caused serious losses to a strong German column on the march. In the Russian theatre an attempt by the Germans to take the offensive in the region of Ikskul bridgehead was stopped by the Russian big guns. Both sides have been busy at various points elsewhere along the front. Petrograd reports the Russians continuing to gain ground against the Turks in the region of Erzerum. Unofficial advices are to the effect that the Turks have grouped their forces and are now resisting stubbornly three Russian main lines advancing into their territory. Austrians between Adige, Suga, and Valsugana, have brought into the campaign artillery which is described by Rome as new and very powerful. Italian guns, however, replied effectively by their fire and infantry attacks. Germany and Roumania have entered into a compact for free transportation from one country to another of home products for their own needs. War material are excepted from the agreement.

NOON.

REBELLION IN CHINA.

SHANGHAI, To-day. Three hundred armed revolutionaries of Hong Kong yesterday attacked 200 Government soldiers at the Anglo-Chinese boundary. As 400 men came up to reinforce the latter, the revolutionaries scattered. The casualties on both sides amounted to fifty killed and a large number wounded.

THE TORPEDOING OF THE SPANISH STEAMER.

MADRID, To-day. "We are confronted with such an incomprehensibly absurd act that I am loath to believe, until thorough inquiry has been made," said Count Romanones, the Spanish Premier, last night with regard to torpedoing of the Spanish steamer Santandonyo in the Bay of Biscay, as consequence of which four lives were lost. "I am waiting for full information before taking action," the Premier added. "I may say, however, that preliminary instructions have already been telegraphed to our Ambassador in Berlin."

VIOLENT CANNONADING ALONG GREEK FRONTIER.

PARIS, To-day. Resumption of violent cannonading along the Greek frontier in the vicinity of Gevegili and Dorion, is reported in a despatch from Salonika to the Journal. It is said that French artillery had the advantage. It is also reported that the German Allies captured fortified positions at Deve Tepe, but this has not been confirmed.

GERMAN ASSAULT RENEWED.

PARIS, To-day. The German assault on the Verdun front west of the Meuse, was renewed this morning. Troops advanced on Caurettes Wood south of Cumieres, the War Office announced, using flame projectors, but were repulsed. East of the Meuse in Douaumont Vaux sector, there was only artillery fighting. The War Office says it has been confirmed that German losses yesterday were heavy.

ROMANIAN RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA SUSPENDED.

LONDON, To-day. The Giornale di Italia states that Roumania's commercial relations with Russia have been suspended. Another Rome despatch declares that the freight trains to Hungary is to be resumed and export of 150,000 wagons of Roumanian grain to the Central Empires is able to begin. In exchange Roumania will receive German coal, machinery and other industrial productions. The question of munitions for the Roumanian army is not yet settled. Roumania has an insufficient supply of these and until that is remedied it will not intervene although troops movements continue on all the frontiers.

SIR EDWARD GREY'S STATEMENT

LONDON, To-day. Sir Edward Grey stated in Commons yesterday that the British and French Governments had presented a memorandum to neutrals who protested against seizure of enemy property passing through their ports. He declared that the effectiveness of the economic blockade was being maintained in every way possible. The Premier referred to the general results of the recent Paris conference of the Allies. He said that most important results were the re-affirmation of the entire solidarity of the Allies establishment of identity of their views and assurance of unity of action in prosecution and conduct of the war. He also said that his visit to Italy was signalized by manifestations of traditional friendship between Italy and England which had been accentuated by brotherhood of arms. In the Lords Margaret Crews stated the coming trade conference of the Allies in Paris would discuss prohibited exports from Great Britain and the economic independence of the Allies. He stated that the Australian Premier would attend the Conference as an Imperial representative. He would not bind the Government definitely on any measure. Featherston Billing, who was recently elected to the House, bluntly urged the Premier to stop fooling in connection with the air service and to abolish the air committee. It is the contention of many that the air committee had not sufficient power to handle the air defence of the British Isles and should be replaced by an Air Minister.

Arrives at Gibraltar.

After a trying voyage of 65 days the schr. Lucy House reached Gibraltar. The schooner sailed from St. John's the first week in February with a cargo of fish for the Smith Co. Ltd., and experienced rough weather on the trip across. Relatives of those on board were anxious over the safety of the vessel, as the trip was an exceptionally long one.

Supreme Court.

(Present: Full Bench.) In the appeal of the Imperial Tobacco Co. Ltd., vs. M. A. Dufty. Conroy, K.C. for Plaintiff; Dr. W. F. Lloyd for Defendant. On motion of Conroy, K.C., and by consent of Dr. W. F. Lloyd, this appeal is set for May 6th.

Here and There.

CARGO OF SALT.—The schr. Perle Roy, Capt. Wm. Dawe, has left Santa Polo with a cargo of salt for the Smith Co. Ltd.

LOADING MOLASSES FOR HERE. —Jonroe & Co. received a message today from Capt. Herald of the schr. Freedom saying that he was now at Barbadoes loading molasses.

NEW PURCHASE.—The schooner Ada Mildred, recently purchased by Capt. M. Young, M.H.A., reached port last evening, having on board hay, oats and a large quantity of gasoline.

A LARGE GRUB.—A large green grub measuring 1 1/2 inches was found in a garden at the back of the West End Fire Hall this morning. Quite an unusual happening for this time of the year.

FOGOTA & SYBIL LEAVE HALIFAX.—A message from Hon. J. C. Crooke states that the Lady Sybil left Halifax yesterday and that the Fogota is leaving to-day. Both ships will bring along a large shipment of flour and general cargo.

POLICE COURT.—(Before Mr. Morris, J.) Three drunks were charged. Two assault cases in which several women were concerned occupied the attention of the court for upwards of an hour, after which an adjournment was taken till Friday in order to get more witnesses.

GLENCOE'S PASSENGERS.—The Glencoe arrived at Placentia at 7 a.m. to-day with the following first class passengers: Mrs. F. White, B. J. Jensen, J. J. Pine, Miss B. Pine, A. Hackman, A. C. Hackman, Miss H. Marshall, D. McNah, Miss Mahoney, S. K. Bay, J. F. Murphy, R. E. J. Wilson and 5 second class.

The Drum of Scotland.

Listen, brothers. Do you hear it—beating—beating? The mighty heart of Scotland is beating like a drum! And from every hill and valley, from the castle and the causeway, from towns and lonely shielings the men of Scotland come.

Brave-hearted as their fathers, who, in the distant dream-days, caught from every hill and valley, from the castle and the causeway, from towns and lonely shielings the men of Scotland come.

Upon the field of battle until the fight was over, Then in the long dark silence they laid down and slept.

Listen, brothers! Do you hear it?—Strong and brave and quiet, The great heart of the Mother calling all her sons to wake And leave the hearth and homelands, Highland strath and Lowland Valley.

And hither pack and rifle for their grey old Mother's sake? Do you hear them coming—running like a burn in early Springtime, When the snow melts from the mountains and the waters rush again Down the hillsides, through the valleys, to the ocean waiting—thirsting? Oh, the mighty drum of Scotland never calls her sons in vain.

Cafeteria In School.

Novel Experiment is Being Carried Out in Toronto.

The Faculty of Education of the University of Toronto is to be congratulated on an experiment which is novel in Toronto, and which is being successfully carried out at the University School in Bloor Street, West. The headmaster, progressive and far-sighted, has solved the difficulty of having his pupils provided with a good nourishing hot meal in the middle of the day, and has opened a cafeteria in the basement, where meals can be had at prices ranging upwards from the nimble five-cent piece. He secured the provision of funds for the equipment of the lunch room and placed in charge Miss Frances Elliot, who then faced the problem of how to give attractive home-made food at low rates, and yet such as these days of high cost of living should yield a profit for herself. This result she has achieved and the pioneer example might well be followed by other educational establishments in the city and elsewhere.

Miss Elliot is a Canadian by birth and an enthusiast in women's work, she gained her first experience of such caterias at the Horace Mann school in connection with the Teachers' College at Columbia University, of which she is a graduate in domestic science. Six hundred students were served daily in the lunch room. That the cafeteria which was opened at the Faculty of Education about a month before Christmas is appreciated by the pupils and their parents, and also by the professors, there is ample testimony. A mother is able to go away with an easy mind for two or three weeks, knowing that her boy is getting a good dinner every day at school. A professor is able to secure a substantial meal in the middle of the day and so save the trouble of an evening dinner in the absence of his work from home. It saves all the discomfort of a cold and cheerless pocket lunch, or from a considerable walk in search of a hot one when time is short.

Although, as I have mentioned, the no lack of light and air, and a comfortable warmth prevails. Everything necessary for the equipment of the modern kitchen has been supplied, and the well-kept appearance of everything and the shining crockery and kitchen utensils are a joy to the housewife mind. A homelike feel- ing of the place is the light-hearted Matinee kitten, whose serious business in life is to attend to the mice, which function she is fulfilling very satisfactorily. The arrangement of the room is for convenience in serving. A long serving table stands near the gas range, and at right angles to the table, like the prongs of a fork, are four long tables for the boys, so that it looks rather like a gridiron without the bottom bar. The boys file in singly so that there is no disorder. For the small price of five cents a favorite dish can be obtained, namely, hot baked beans between good slices of bread, and with a rich tomato sauce poured over. Even this fee cents is subject to a modification, for many other tasty dishes are to be had, both savory and sweet, and there is always a large joint, so that for 15 cents one may have a good plateful of meat and potatoes and gravy.

Harbor Grace Health Club.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Could you find space in your valuable columns for some little account of the Health Club of Harbor Grace?

One of the outcomes of the Prohibition Campaign was a Health Club for our town, as well as for other places. We organized during the visit of Dr. Geisel, and since that monthly meetings have been held in the Town Hall, of a more or less interesting character, and we hope beneficial in their way.

But it is to report the visit of Miss Margaret Craig, trained nurse and lecturer of Indiana, U.S.A., but more locally from Botwood, that I write at present. She has been with us this past week, and has tried by public lectures, day-school talks and home-visiting to be of help to us in our town.

The first time the writer had the privilege and pleasure of hearing one of her talks was at the Women's Patriotic Meeting on Wednesday afternoon, March 22. There she came in the most informal way and as some knitted or sewed quietly, delivered a very interesting and inspiring address on "Home-making, its expenditure, work, food, clothing." She treated housekeeping as a profession and stated the great need there of bringing to bear on its problems, the best powers that are given us. For the home is the fountain of national life, and did it not behoove us to look to it that the fountain was pure so that its streams should be refreshing and life-giving. Emphasizing a big word and embracing a deal of meaning in the world of to-day, and that efficiency should be exercised in the problems of home-life as well as in the larger business world, for to make that world go forth our men, boys, girls, etc.

The greatest good for the least cost is something to be thought of. Then the distribution of labor in the home—not the energetic mother doing everything to the disadvantage of her child's after life—but the child sharing in its own little way the work and tasks for the welfare of the family.

The question of clothing was dealt with and an allowance to the child occasionally made for such, was advocated, to give the child some idea of the value of money and to let it exercise its judgment as to its particular needs and the places to make selection of such things as it needs. The ethical side of home-life was treated in this meeting, and many wives and mothers must have been encouraged by the thought that house-keeping was classified as a profession and given its rightful place alongside the other professions. Keeping home sweet and clean and beautiful—and thereby developing the aesthetic faculty—food well-cooked and daintily served, inmates made happy and made partners in the great domestic scheme is no mean ideal for any of our townsmen, and one well worth living up to. This meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the speaker.

Then other meetings were arranged for: The Church of England girls met in the Parish Hall and the Methodist and Presbyterian girls in Coughlin Hall where the following topics were discussed:

"The advance of science to-day and its bearing on medicine. An X-ray experiment was described which demonstrated in an interesting and practical way, the great necessity of food leaving the body within twenty-four hours. This led to the discussion of the great evils of constipation, the danger of auto-intoxication from remains of food, that was no longer nourishment, but poison. The need of drinking plenty of water (8 glasses daily), and exercise (walking) in the open air daily (4 miles at least). A plea was made for sensible footwear, a shoe of the shape of the foot, not the fashionable shoe. The evils resulting on wet feet and remaining in them. The need of absolute cleanliness and daily bathing. The proper way to breathe deeply and effectively, with the collar bands correctly, exercises were given at the end these little talks, both sitting and standing exercises, that if practised will doubtless do away with many of the round shoulders and narrow chests.

A little personal reminiscence to help in case of an attack of the blues was related, and was highly recommended by its being so easy to follow.

The formal meeting of the Health Club was arranged for Thursday night. There our President Mr. (Rev.) Holmer introduced in a few well-chosen words, the already well-known lecturer. Then was her mission explained in more detail, viz., that she had come to help the well, keep well, not to cure the sick, as that was the doctors' work. Sickness, she stated, was the want of sympathy between the different organs of the body, and it was our duty to bring these into harmony as far as in us lay. Several of the common ailments, such as tonsillitis, diphtheria, typhoid, etc., their symptoms and precautionary measures to be adopted, were dealt with in an enlightening and interesting manner. Much and valuable information was given on a number of certain topics and books mentioned that would be placed within our reach on application etc. etc.

During the day the different schools were visited and the way in which some of the hard duties of life were dressed up for the children's inspection and reception was really attractive. Some of the little ones felt quite glad that they could be classed as heroes and heroines if they could only find the necessary health obligations faithfully, such as breathing through the nose (where nature placed her wonderful strainer), rather than through the mouth—washing the teeth carefully daily or even oftener sitting and standing so as to acquire a more military carriage, eating slowly and thoroughly masticating the food, etc.

Then another and last meeting was held in the Town Hall, Saturday night and surely the crowd of interested women must have demonstrated the deep appreciation of her former efforts, and an anxiety to hear still more.

The problem was dealt with pretty thoroughly, and regrets were in order that certain good and cheap vegetables were not procurable in the country. Then the need of organization and co-operation on such questions was strongly advocated. What had not the masses witnessed as one whole been able to do. What one could not do many could. Meat substitutes were dealt with and ought to prove very acceptable in these days of high-priced meats.

The effect of certain foods on our health was looked into. The great increase in our country of that disease known as Beri-beri, which was due in no small measure to mistakes in diet. Brown bread was recommended as one of the helpful articles of diet in such cases.

Towards the end of the lecture many searching questions as to health efficiency were directed towards our club and the inability of many of us to answer these in the affirmative gave us some notion of how backward we are in the science of health, and what need there is for temperance and reformation along many lines hitherto undreamed of. Helpful exercises for rheumatism and heating were again given. At the close the President in a neat little speech voiced the thanks and appreciation of the listeners, followed by Mrs. (Rev.) Haggitt, Vice-President, and others.

The lecturer can have no doubt but that the women of Harbor Grace are under a deep debt of obligation to her for her untiring efforts to help them in this great forward movement of health. We can but hope that the philanthropic plans of Mr. Crowe, of her untiring efforts to help them in fullest extent and that a tangible result may be seen in the increased health and happiness.

Why She Wasn't Loved.

By RUTH CAMERON.

The other day a group of us were discussing a piece of good fortune which had befallen a woman we all used to know in our school days.

She has inherited a sizeable sum of money from a distant relative, and the poverty with which she has always had to struggle is at an end.

We all said what a good girl she has always been and how glad we were for her, and then suddenly one franker than the rest, spoke out, "It's a queer thing—but I'm going to confess it. I never liked Amy. I always felt I ought to, but I didn't."

We looked at her with startled eyes and then we looked at each other, and then from each of us, it came—

"You don't mean it! Why that's just the way I've always felt. Only I never dared say so before."

"My dear, it's simply uncanny! I've been so ashamed of myself because I couldn't like her."

"Isn't it the queerest thing? I admire her for being so good, but she always exasperated me."

Was it Because She was so Good She Shamed Others?

"What do you think the reason is?" said the analytical one of the group.

"Is it because she's so good that she makes us ashamed because we aren't better, and so we don't like her?"

"To live with the saints in Heaven is untold bliss and glory. But to live with the saints on earth is quite another story."

And so, I believe, it is. We often wonder why someone who is very good isn't more generally loved. And we talk about other people's selfishness and ingratitude. May it not be partly due to the quality of the goodness?

Nobody Loves Self-Conscious Goodness.

Pious people, in the invidious sense of the word, are people who are self-consciously good.

"To live with the saints in Heaven is untold bliss and glory. But to live with the saints on earth is quite another story."

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the moths until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X. Lamp and GASTEAEM Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.

Vigorol

A SPRING TONIC

The latest medicine on the market is the Great French Tonic VIGOROL. Every home should have it. VIGOROL tones the whole system. Run-down men and women can be made strong and healthy. It tones you at once. That tired, dragging, sleepy feeling is removed, and you become bright and cheerful. The blood is purified, pimples and blotches are removed and a clear skin is the result, and life becomes worth while. Do you need toning up? Well, then get a bottle of VIGOROL at all drug stores.

AT THE CRESCENT.

One of the best scenic pictures produced this year is "The Women Hater" shown at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day, there is a great scene of a hunting meet and some beautiful racing scenes, all the Essanay stars feature in this great drama. A drama full of soul stirring incidents is "A Tragedy in Panama" produced by the Selig Company. "Cartoons in the Laundry" is a great comedy, one of the grouch chasers. This is a big mid-week show, don't miss seeing it.

CHAIRS for Comfort

Chairs—being the most used articles of furniture—need to be of many designs and qualities to suit all needs. Here in our large Showrooms we have every kind conceivable, and all are the best of their particular make.

We call your attention to our fine English Easy Chairs. They are of many designs, all are heavily padded, with delightfully easy springs and handsomely upholstered in Plush, Rug, Tapestry and Leather.

This large stock of Chairs needs no recommending, their many merits can be instantly seen and form a "sure-winning" combination—sterling quality and reasonable prices.

RUB ON NERVILINE.

Cold has a vicious way of finding out aching muscles or weak joints. How often pain settles in the back, causing inflammation and excruciating soreness. Stiffness and aching all over follows.

An application of Nerviline at the start gives immediate relief and prevents worse trouble.

When the pain is very acute, Nerviline has a chance to show its wonderful penetrating and pain-subduing power. It strikes in deeply, and its strike-in-deep quality proves its superiority to feebler remedies. Then this goodness is magnified by its strength, easily five times greater than most liniments.

Surely so powerful and curative a liniment as Nerviline offers perfect security against pain.

Nerviline is the only guaranteed pain remedy sold in Canada. Forty years of success in many countries warrants its manufacturers saying: If it does not relieve, get your money back.

No curable pain, not even neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism can resist the magic power of Nerviline. Try it to-day. Rub it on your tired back, let it ease your sore muscles, let it take the swelling and stiffness out of your joints. It's a marvel—thousands say so that use Nerviline.

The large 50c. family size bottle of Nerviline is more economical than the 25c. trial size. Buy the larger size to-day. Sold by dealers everywhere.

Should Meet Commissioners.

Editor Evening Telegram.

As a taxpayer I wish to express my appreciation for the splendid work performed by the Commissioners as demonstrated by the new Municipal Bill. I do not think that the citizens will ever be able to realize all that it has meant to the Commissioners in time and study for the past two years, a labor which has been cheerfully performed with one object in view, "the betterment of the city."

I was surprised to note that at the public meeting held last week, the Commissioners were not on the platform or invited to take any part in the meeting. We found men at that meeting ready to condemn the "Act" or certain sections of it after a few hours consideration.

My contention is that the Mayor should have been in a position to reply to all or any criticism so that the meeting would have had the benefit of both sides of the argument. Before any section is condemned the Commissioners should be asked to state their reasons for submitting it, they have spent near two years studying local conditions and comparing same with conditions as found in other cities, accumulating all the evidence possible on the subject both technical and legal, and surely the information which influenced their decisions should be studied before any section is dropped or substituted.

I would suggest that the Citizens' Committee now considering the Bill, be asked to invite the Commissioners to co-operate with them so that they may have the benefit of all the investigations held. I do not think that the question of taxation is pre-eminent, especially when it is estimated that we spend on Nicksels and amusements $50,000 per year, our main concern should be "a healthy city."

We should remember that the Creator did not ordain that the death rate in St. John's should be nearly twice as high as London, the citizens have settled that question by being satisfied with a dirty city, filthy streets and cobble stone roads also unanswered houses with consequent night soil carts, etc. A large majority of the English, Canadian and American towns are clean and decent to live in with a low death rate because the people are paying the necessary taxes to keep them so.

With reference to the rate of taxation on a $20,000 house as compared with a $2,000 house, does the rich man get more water and protection from the city? If so how much more? Supposing we agree that his half inch water service gives him twice as much water, why should we tax him ten times as much?

Let us at least be fair to the rich man as well as the poor man, and encourage all to build better houses. I sincerely trust that this charter amended in all necessary details, will be passed by the Legislature this session, and that a new era will dawn for St. John's.

Yours truly,

At the House.

TUESDAY, April 11th, '16.

Mr. Clapp presented a petition from the people of Salvage Cove and other places in the district of St. Barbe asking that the steamer running the mail service between Bay of Islands and the Labrador coast call at Sandy Cove (now known as Sandy Bay), as at present the people there have to travel from 4 to 15 miles to meet the S. S. Home at Flower's Cove with their mails and freight, suffering great inconvenience thereby. He trusted the Colonial Secretary would give the matter earliest consideration.

Mr. Lloyd drew attention to a complaint, viz. the lack of station accommodation on a section of the railroad in the neighbourhood of the neck of land between Trinity Bay and Placentia Bay. He and his colleagues called attention to this matter at several previous sessions, the situation remained unchanged and nothing was done in the way of providing proper accommodation for freight and passengers. In fact, he said, there was nothing but shacks, sometimes without doors and absolutely useless for sheltering or protection purposes at the different stations in that territory. He then presented a petition from Northern Bight on the same subject. At present there is a shack there, 13 ft. by 10, to accommodate the needs of 1300 people and there was no station agent there. In past sessions the Leader of the Government had undertaken to see the contractors with a view to having conditions remedied, but his labours so far had resulted in nothing. The petitioners are now pressing their claims upon the contractors and the Government and the Leader of the Opposition hoped that something will be done.

Mr. Stone supported what had been said by the Leader of the Opposition and gave a review of the dilapidated railroad station or shack at Northern Bight.

The Colonial Secretary understood that something had been done to put the station in decent order as Engineer last year to take the matter up with the Contractors. He then promised to get a report from the Engineer about the matter.

Mr. Morris and Mr. Devereaux endorsed the remarks of the Opposition members and complained about the unseemly shacks which were used for stations in Placentia District.

Mr. Lloyd replied to the Colonial Secretary's statement that he was under in decent repair, and wished to discharge the mind of the Colonial Secretary that there ever had been anything like a station at Northern Bight.

Mr. Coaker stated that the complaint referred to had been brought before the House the past three sessions and hoped that definite action would be taken this time.

Mr. Whisor, Mr. Higgins and Mr. Abbott then presented petitions re roads.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries moved the House into Committee to consider certain Resolutions in relation to the encouragement of building and the providing of a bounty regarding the same. The provision for a Government guarantee of 7 per cent on a capital not beyond $30,000 and double the bounty now given. The Resolutions gave effect to a Bill entitled "Shipbuilding Act, 1916."

The Leader of the Opposition congratulated the Minister on taking suggestions from the Opposition side of the House and wished them to measure every success in its operation.

The Minister of Marine thanked the Leader of the Opposition.

The Bill was then read a first time. The House then went into Committee to consider certain resolutions in relation to the establishment of a Newfoundland Inspection Board.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries, the introducer, explained the Resolutions, which provide for rigid inspection of herring and the establishment of a Board and empowering the Board to collect all information possible in the interest of that industry.

Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Downey, Mr. Coaker and Mr. Jennings in supporting the Resolutions spoke encouragingly of the possibilities of our herring fishery. Each speaker dealt with the packing of the herring under the Scotch system and emphasized the need of a rigid inspection.

The Resolutions gave effect to a Bill which was read a first time.

The Bill respecting a Volunteer Force in this Colony was read a third time and ordered to be sent to the Legislative Council for concurrence. At this stage Mr. F. J. Morris took exception to an article which appeared in yesterday's Daily News under the signature of "Yorkie," dealing with the work of the Recruiting Committee. The statements contained therein were incorrect and an insult to the Committee. As to the delay in providing distinguishing badges for volunteers, who were not accepted, he submitted two "armlets," which are to be worn, proving conclusively that the Recruiting Committee had not been lacking in their duties, despite the strictures sent broadcast to the country by the Daily News. Continuing, he said that the Committee was composed of busy men who were giving the services rendered willingly and voluntarily, were devoting a great deal of their time and attention to encourage recruiting and now had ready a new campaign which they hoped to carry out vigorously and successfully. In justice to the Committee with which he was associated he said he made these observations.

The House then went into Committee on Supplemental Supply.

Mr. Lloyd asked if any enquiry had been made or if there was any explanation in reference to the frequent changes in the police force and why apparently arose from the amount paid for salaries. The younger members of the Force were inadequately paid and consequently there was a continual depletion in the ranks and a constant demand for recruits. Officers who are really too old for such work are compelled to do street duty because of the want of young men. The Leader of the Opposition emphasized that the present system was unfair and unsatisfactory to the country. He suggested that the younger members of the Force be paid better to enable them to keep in good standing.

The Premier said the matter was receiving the attention of the Government and as regards the small pay that the younger constables were getting, he added that it was only a question of putting in years in the Force when they would find themselves getting a fairly good salary. He did not forget to offer his sympathy.

Mr. Coaker thought that the policemen in St. John's earned their wages harder than anyone else in the Civil Service and the miserable stipend of $365 a year that they got was entirely insufficient for the work they performed. They had to be out in all weather, preserving peace, protecting life and property and still were the smallest paid men in the community. In his opinion that was why young men could not be got to join the Force. He supported the suggestion to give the men a decent living wage.

Mr. Woodford spoke along the lines of the previous speaker and hoped that an increase would be granted.

Mr. Dwyer made an earnest plea on behalf of the policemen. He said it was a well known fact over the country that they were insufficiently paid for their services, and in view of the increased cost of living, not enough to live on and in emphatic terms stated that it was the duty of the House to see that they were better paid, as the policemen of St. John's. He offered his hearty support to any proposed increase wages for the police.

Mr. Higgins was in sympathy with the policemen and endorsed the remarks of the Premier.

Mr. Lloyd asked what had been done at the Penitentiary in regard to the recommendations of the Select Committee of the House last year.

The Colonial Secretary understood that the recommendations had been carried out.

Mr. Coaker retorted that he had been told the day previous by the Col. Secretary that very little had been carried out of the House last year, which was correct. He then asked for a report from the Supt. of the Penitentiary as to what had been done.

Mr. Lloyd said the condition of affairs was unsatisfactory, and moved last year's Select Committee be brought into existence again and find out whether the recommendation had been carried out. The motion was granted.

The House then went into Committee on Bill respecting the Administration of local affairs. Considerable discussion followed by members on both sides of the House in regard to the Bill. The Bill was read a first time. The House then adjourned till this afternoon.

WARMEST WELCOME

"Who'er has travelled through round, Where'er his stages may lead, Will note how often he has heard The warmest welcome at a table — Shenstone."

The welcome that was true for days the above was pronounced and is strated now every day at the table

MANUEL'S HOTEL

"Traveller's Rest"
Lewisport, Nfld.

Here is combined the most of service in its highest efficiency with the homelike that means a "warm welcome." Hot and cold bath, special on each floor, electric bell, rooms; a good table always commended by The Commercial Association of Nfld.
