INCREASED ENTRIES SHOWN IN ALL THE DEPARTMENTS

All Ready for Opening of Guelph Winter Fair Tomorrow—Many Improvements This Year, But Accommodation is Proving Inadequate—Houses a Feature.

(Special to The Toronto World.) GUELPH, Dec. 7.—When the thirtieth annual Provincial Winter Fair opens here on Tuesday morning it will be found that before the history of the show has there been such a splendid exhibition of live stock under one roof. Not only are there more animals this year, but they are the finest to be secured in the land and a credit to the stock breeders of Ontario. In every department there has been a decided increase in the entries, but it is more noticeable among the horses than elsewhere. Ever since the equine were added to the show, the department has continued to increase. Additional stables were built, with a view to accommodating the increase, but this is still inadequate, and it is now a certainty that the building will have to be enlarged again next year. There are a hundred more horses here this year than last, and the number of owners has been compelled to quarter them in hotel stables. Seed and Power Exhibits. The cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and seed departments have all shown a tendency to increase this year, and for the first time the city hall has had to be requisitioned for show purposes.

BIG SISTERHOOD ENJOYS SUCCESS

Five Hundred Girls Took Part in First Annual Rally.

DOING USEFUL ACTS

Always on the Alert for Opportunities to Do Some Good.

Five hundred girls took part yesterday afternoon in the first annual rally of the Big Sister Movement. The meeting was held in the Y.W.C.A. at present quarters on Elm street. A number of the industrial centres of Toronto were represented, as well as the training schools, the university and the Y.W.C.A. After a rally service, tea was served.

Miss Una Saunders, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., told of the success which "big sisterhood" was achieving wherever it was introduced, and emphasized the need for all girls, of every class, to stand together for each other's betterment.

The Big Sister Movement was inaugurated at the Toronto Y.W.C.A. by Miss Agnes Drummond at the St. Valentine social, Feb. 14, 1912. At present there are 600 girls on the roll. The first Sunday in every month is designated as "Big Sister Sunday" at the Y.W.C.A. residences, when the girls in residences are reminded of the ideals of the movement.

Every girl who enrolls as a big sister is given a pamphlet which is printed a series of suggestions for daily conduct. She is asked to be on the alert for opportunities of doing useful acts for other girls, and to be especially on the look-out for lonely and disconsolate girls. "Be gentle, cheerful and honest in your work" is part of the advice which she receives. And finally she is asked to remember that when she is asked to single out some other girl who will be her "little sister," and look to her for counsel and help.

Miss Saunders explained that the organization of the Big Sisters was of the most simple type, possible, and it was made a part of each department of the Y.W.C.A. in the form of a "Big Sister Club." Each Y.W.C.A. house in Toronto also had a Big Sister Club. The only officers of the club are a president and secretary. No treasurer is required. The members have worked Toronto by introducing young girls on their arrival in the city to the club. The next introduction is to the secretary of the Y.W.C.A. and in most cases this results in the stranger soon acquiring all the advantages of the Y.W.C.A. with its local, Dominion and world-wide organization.

Miss McGuffin, convener of the evangelistic committee, made a plea for consecrated service on behalf of the friendless.

Mrs. R. C. Donald, president of the Toronto Y.W.C.A., expressed gratification at the large attendance and the success of the new movement.

Among other Y.W.C.A. leaders present were Mrs. N. W. Rowell, president of the Dominion Council; Mrs. Gendler and Miss Jones, the newly-appointed secretary of religious work.

HEALTH TRAINING HAS PLACE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS PROGRAM

Canada Has Only Lately Realized That Cultural and Vocational Training Should Be Supplemented by Hygiene—Dr. Struthers at Faculty of Education.

Clear and practical was Dr. W. E. Struthers' lecture on Friday night on "The State's Duty to the Child." The address was given under the auspices of the Faculty of Education at the University of Toronto, Spadina avenue. Principal Pakenham presided.

In defining the state's duty to the child Dr. Struthers said that two of the duties of the state had already been generally recognized. First was the culture of the literary training imparted and subsequently vocational education with a view to what the child's future calling might be.

In Canada the girls were taught domestic science. The boys received manual training. At the open air school the manual training went forward to the extent of the boys being encouraged to make simple articles for use there such as simple store cabinets.

A DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

The Frogs' Swimming Match

Once upon a time there was a big pond, and in it lived a great many families of bullfrogs. They were very happy together, and the little frogs were full of fun and played together all day long.

One day they were sunning themselves on a big rock when one of them said, "I bet I can swim farther than any of you." The rest didn't like this, for they thought they were just as smart as any one, so they agreed to have a swimming match the next day.

When the fathers heard about it they were all very angry, for they thought it was a disgrace for their children to be so foolish. They decided to make a bet with the frogs.

The day was bright and cool, and the frogs all lined up near the big rock which was their favorite playing place and was to be the start. They went to swim a few yards to where a red flag was flying, turn and swim back, and the one that reached the rock first was the winner. They were not told what the prize was to be, but they were sure it would be something nice, and, having worked Toronto by introducing young girls on their arrival in the city to the club. The next introduction is to the secretary of the Y.W.C.A. and in most cases this results in the stranger soon acquiring all the advantages of the Y.W.C.A. with its local, Dominion and world-wide organization.

Gifts for the Baby

Give the little baby useful presents, presents his mother will appreciate. Silver-mounted rattles, heavily embroidered or lace adorned clothes are neither useful nor sensible.

Little coats, either the crocheted or sweater kind, are always attractive, and something that every little baby needs every day—you know what they look like after repeated washings—so duplicates of this gift are never unwelcome. The same may be said of soft wool stockings and long booties.

A baby can hardly have too many pairs. Woolen overalls have become a necessary part of baby's toilet. The kind without feet are best for the little baby, and for the creeping baby, since they may be worn in the house, but for outdoor wear for the walking or go-cart baby, the overalls with feet are best. White or brown rubber boots, whichever most suitable for your particular baby, are often considered a luxury by mothers; so that a pair of these would give both mother and baby real pleasure. The knitted Afghan or carriage cover is always acceptable, and makes a gift useful from the time baby is a week old until the wool is worn out. A blanket made of elderdown, and bound with ribbon makes a present less expensive than the Afghan, and much quicker to make.

A piece of fine white French flannel is always of use in the house where there are babies. It makes the prettiest trousseau for the young baby, and it makes short petticoats for the little girls who dislike to be called babies now. I do not like the flannel, already embroidered when bought, that never looks babylike to me; but a fine piece of flannel, scalloped and buttonholed, makes a dainty garment as any baby could want.

So there's an idea for you if you haven't a minute for making; give the little mother some of this beautiful baby goods, and she will be perfectly happy making the pretty garments to suit herself and her baby. To make a gertrude petticoat requires one and a half yards of the flannel. Then there are bonnets and feeding bibs, knitted bags to hold feeding bottles, hot water bottles, safety pins cushions, towels, pillows, tiny covered coat-hangers, and the ever useful shirt or stocking drier.

In the line of toys you have a choice of balls, wooden toys that have no paint to be sucked off, rubber animals and dolls that may be washed, blocks, washable rag dolls and pretty linen picture books. Elaborate and expensive toys are entirely out of place.

Helpful Education for Our Boys

SOME mothers seem to think that a boy working in a kitchen is equivalent to an elephant ambulating thru a china shop, but according to Ohio's state superintendent of instruction, Mr. Frank W. Miller, this is all wrong.

Mr. Miller is insisting that some time shall be devoted in every Ohio school to teaching boys to cook. He does not expect the lads to learn the larger phases of housework, like planning meals, dividing the income or managing the house, but thinks that if they are taught simple elements of cooking, scientific facts about eating and the whys and wherefores of home duties they will have a deeper love for home and a greater respect for women's work.

He says: "After all, education is to help us in working out our daily problems of living. Why it should make a Miss Nancy of a boy to blacken a stove or straighten a disordered room, I never could see. Sensible mothers let their inquisitive children experiment and construct to some useful end. The electricity they study in physics will never be more helpful than when its principles are applied to mending the bell, regulating the lights, extending the telephone, or attaching the electric irons.

"The theory of transmission of heat can be learned at the kitchen range while the burner that gives a useless yellow flame, instead of a clear blue blaze, is being adjusted.

"Of what use is the study of chemistry to anyone if it does not lead to some good use daily, and how better can it be used than when applied to household tasks?"

CHRISTMAS STAMPS.

The Christmas seal issued by the National Sanitarium Association for the benefit of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives promises to displace the usual sticker with the great majority of people that send out Christmas gifts. There have been four million seals ordered, and it is hoped that there will be at least $25,000 added to the fund this year, that amount being urgently needed, as there is now accommodation for almost 200 patients at the free hospital and from $75,000 to $80,000 is required annually.

THE WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"Everytime I try to make custard it dries up so much it is hardly fit to eat," complained Mrs. Newlywed.

"Why don't you add a little salt?" said Mr. Neighbor. "It will keep the custard from drying and caking and adds very much to the delicious taste."

A Pot of Musk.

A pot of old-fashioned musk makes a very pretty ornament for the winter dining-room. Only those who have seen a full, healthy pot of this fragrant plant in perfect bloom can appreciate the delicate beauty of it.

The musk plant or mimulus, belongs to the great family of tender annuals. That is to say, the musk is more or less a greenhouse plant. But, nevertheless, it can be grown as a house or shade garden plant. If care is taken to supply the proper atmosphere.

A rapid grower of decidely trailing habit, its tender, vivid, light-green leaves are borne on fleshy stems, not strong enough to stand upright. Looking closely one will notice how similar in composition are leaves and stems.

These leaves of the musk plant are half-an-inch or so wide, perhaps two inches long, with rather deeply indented edges, bases wider and often a wee bit heart-shaped, the lines tapering to a graceful point. A healthy plant send up many stems fairly thickly covered with leaves, and in a few weeks these stems fall over the sides of the pot, trailing a foot or more at least.

Some varieties of musk have the leaves and stems covered with a fine downy growth, almost invisible. This downy covering serves to hold the drops of moisture, unabsorbed on the stem, to the plant, a particularly lovely appearance, as if factory-sprinkled with early dew-drops.

The whole plant is fragrant with a sweet pungent and very penetrating fragrance, to a great extent, in bloom. Indeed, one good-stood pot in bloom sends out such an overpowering fragrance, that it is sufficient to permeate the whole atmosphere of any ordinary room to the furthest corner.

The musk is a profuse bloomer. The flowers are a bright clear yellow, an inch or more long, rather trumpet-shaped, with a wide open mouth, the upper lip turned back and disclosing the slightly furry interior, which is often blotched with brown, orange or deep yellow patches. This flower, as every botanist knows, is characteristic of the order to which the musk belongs, namely, the scrophulariaceae. Those who do not know, however, will remember the well-known snapdragon, the wonderful foxglove, and the old old veronica all of which bear flowers very similar in build to the musk.

Upon our first approaching the publishers with a proposition to all low us in effect to make a gift of it to our readers, we met with a cold reception. But subsequently a plan was developed whereby a syndicate of the largest and most influential newspapers in the country entered into an arrangement with the makers of the book, so that several hundred thousand copies might be allotted to the readers of the respective papers for practically the bare cost of distribution.

There is no doubt that the ultimate market for this wonderful book of songs will comprise millions of homes. And the few hundred thousand copies presented by the leading newspapers of the United States and Canada to their readers will serve as the best advertisement that could be devised.

We do not go into detail as to the merits of "Heart Songs" in this brief notice since they are mentioned in another place, so clearly and conspicuously that they can hardly escape attention.

From day to day, beginning with this issue, The World will publish new features connected with "Heart Songs," until its marvelous attractions are set forth to our readers.

It is no member of the family that will find something of fascination and genuine interest between its covers. The work has five hundred large pages, and comprises four hundred selections, words and music. It is to be had by The World readers on presentation of six coupons, one for each page, and comprises four hundred selections, words and music. Letters of congratulations were read from several sister churches of Canada.

The new church has been under construction for several months, and it will be completed next year. It is a stantial brick structure, and about twice the size for the needs of the parish for several years.

Rev. E. Hoffman, the president of the Canada Synod, was present, and in the course of an address, drew attention to the conservative tendency shown by Lutherans the world over. During the last decade the church has increased its membership 142 per cent in Canada. The St. Paul's Church was organized in 1868 at the corner of Markham and College streets. This Simple Recipe Quickly Banishes Hairs

(Beauty Topics)

Here is a simple and inexpensive recipe or formula which is used with excellent results by many beauty specialists for removing hairy growths on the face, neck or arms. Mix a stiff paste with a little detanone and water and spread on hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hair or blemish. Care should be exercised to get the detanone in an original package, otherwise it may not be pure.

Hints About Beauty

Use of Rouge Adds Years to Women's Looks

By Maggie Teyte.

SEVERAL letters have been written me asking for my opinion on the subject of make-up. Two young girls begged me to tell them the secret of "stage make-up," and one man urged me to protest against the use of all aids to beauty, even to denying women the use of powder to take the shine off their noses.

So listen to what I honestly and truly think of make-up! I believe in all women being just as attractive and alluring and lovely as they can be. That is my chief reason for taking the time to write these letters. And I think that they have a perfect right to add to nature's charms by art when it is an absolute addition.

But—as for the prodigality of assistance which is so palpable on the faces of some women—why, I wouldn't dare say what I really feel about it! All I can say is that it is such an artistic blunder for one who would be beautiful, or even passably good looking, if it were not.

If a woman is naturally pale, and a bit of color would improve her, then I say to her: Go to the rouge pot for help—but go in fear and trembling. Also, if you have thin lashes and no eyebrows worthy the name, I say resort to the pencil which comes for the purpose of remedying such defects.

And always, unless you have one of the thousand complexions, you will need always a dusting of pure powder to soften and protect the face and neck.

But please, dear girls, get the idea out of your foolish heads that whitewashing your faces and putting violet shadows in odd corners is anything but grotesque. And not even grotesque enough to be interesting; nor funny enough to amuse.

Dead white washes are seldom needed. I have no objection to liquid powders, if you learn how to apply them evenly and so they are obvious. If you use the liquid, apply it before the rouge and finish with a dusting of dry powder.

Rouge, improperly applied, can add years to one's appearance and make one very ugly. First apply a cold cream, removing all surplus. Then put a bit of rouge—dry or paste, as you choose—high on the cheek bones. Blend it most carefully with the tips of the fingers, making the color fainter as you work down the cheek.

Touch the point of the chin and the lobes of the ears. Leaving the chin without a bit of color and using it on the cheeks give the appearance of a receding chin.

After the rouge is applied powder generously with a puff, and rub it in evenly, and finally, under a strong light, remove all that is not necessary. Powder the neck as carefully as the face.

When you come to the color of the lips, be most careful. Get the color in the centre, unless you want to increase the size of the mouth, and follow the outline of the lips. Unless one can use the lip stick with extreme skill I advise a camel's hair brush to define the curves of the mouth.

For darkening the lashes there are brown and blue and other colors. The former is better, as the effect is less harsh. Keep the brow a fine, thin line. Just touch the lashes. It is marvelous how the least darkening changes one's expression.

Remember, dear girls, you are not painting a picture. You are trying to copy the natural beauty which is already there in the world into your confidence.

FARTHEST NORTH

By Michelson

YOU can breathe on a thermometer and send the mercury up. You can say certain words to a young man and send the temperature down with a thud. You can chill him to the marrow. You can make HIS side of the luxurious room seem suddenly as bitterly cold as the deepest recesses of an ice plant. Good heavens!—a COOLNESS between them? Call it rather an ice storm, an Arctic blizzard, a Polar coldest on record. And poor Cupid! What a shivering time HE is having! HE knows. He has seen this thing happen before. He knows that she feels the breeze off that ice pack she has created. HE KNOWS THE POWER OF WORDS! If Cupid can hold out, that snow will melt, those icicles will drop away. One word could do it—Cupid's own word—if he could only get it said—if he could only wade through the storm to whisper it. That word has power to melt the most thoroughly frozen situation that ever happened. It is the word LOVE.

Health and Happiness

Ear Strain Is Common and Often Harmful

By Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins)

HAVE you any ear for music? Can you distinguish between the sharpest whistle and the deepest, booming notes of a cathedral organ? Have you ever been in the country and oppressed by the absence of city noises? Very likely you've never thought of ear strain, but you do not even know how to wiggle or flap your ears like animals do. You may not know that a conch shell and your outer ears are made much upon the same pattern. Yet it is so.

When you lie abed at night you note all the squeaks, cracks and sounds that pass into your ear unnoticed by day. The aural apparatus is always more sensitive just before sleep or anesthesia, than at other times.

It is not, however, only at night, in the dark or under the excitement of anesthesia that ear straining is most marked. Much as you read and hear about eye strain, it is far less common than the much ignored ear strain. This can be verified in any church, lecture hall or theatre. There you will see even very young men, accompanied by pretty girls, leaning a bit forward, with their hands behind the shell of their ears to catch the drift of the words.

Assistance for the Ears. There is no sign of deafness. It is not even proof that there is an accumulation of wax in the ears. It is merely striking evidence of the natural tendency to strain your hearing. Perhaps in the near future, just as many persons wear spectacles and lenses for strained eyes, there will be a sort of Fournier D'Albe ear glass or invisible sound receiver to insert within the depths of the conch-like ear depths.

The fact Diana so accompanies you to the theatre or to church hates to remove her pretty bit of millinery or headpiece for two reasons. The one is her wish to dazzle the man and her rivals, the other is the knowledge, gained by long experience, that she can hear better with her hat on.

A woman's hat acts as an auxiliary flap or ear lid. Babushka's ass was able to hear more and from further off than his small-eared rider simply because nature has endowed mules, asses and most quadrupeds with immense, gargantuan sounding boards in the way of ear skins.

Animals Hear Better Than Men. Animals, such as elk, deer, foxes, dogs and horses, "pick up their ears" in order to catch more accurately any sound and at the same time to locate its direction. Mankind, unfortunately, is compelled to both the head around completely, and then is often at sea as to the calibre, direction and nature of a sound.

It is wrong to out the ears of dogs, driving animals or any other creature. You may as well blind them partially. Cutting dogs' and horses' ears is a surviving superstition from the days when every dog encountered rats. The rat seized the dog by the ears and bit the injured the canine and escaped. Those times are past, and not one dog in a thousand knows what a rat looks like.

How Nature Protects Ears. It is common training usually improves the power of the ear to hear, but there is always a modicum of some sort of deafness left. Patients all ask why wax accumulates in the auditory canal. Most persons think this is due to neglect or to dirt. As a matter of fact you should understand that wax is the lubricant which nature provides for removing dirt, germs and other ear-drum injuring matters from the channel within. Just as sweepers sprinkle oil or greasy sawdust upon the roads or floor to cling to the dust and bacilli which would otherwise escape the cleaner, so Providence has provided the ear with a factory for supplying oils and waxes to the ear to protect it from microbes and dirt.

Never insert picks, probes, rounded ends of handkerchiefs, towels or other things into the ear. The ear should be rinsed out with a little glycerine and water in a soft rubber syringe. Ear aches are usually exaggerated and hurt by the ancient delusion which sternly survives of putting sweet oil in the ear. There are more deaf persons in the world from this sweet oil fallacy than there are graves in Bulgaria.

Neither Sex is "Superior"

By WINIFRED BLACK

Winifred Black

THE Rev. Rowena Mann got up in the meeting of the Business Woman's Association in Chicago the other day and said that women are intellectually inferior to men—and when she said it the whole meeting rose in a storm of indignation protest.

How times have changed. Ten years ago the indignation and the protest would have been caused by the Rev. Rowena Mann, or anybody else, had risen in any sort of public meeting anywhere on earth and said that men were inferior to women.

What a lot of nonsense all this discussion about the attributes of men and women is anyhow.

There are just as many different kinds of men as there are different kinds of apples, and who cares whether an apple is a better fruit than a peach? They both belong on pretty good trees of their own, and what is the use of this eternal fight about which one is superior?

John Smith knows more than his wife—there is no doubt of that—and he is a better fellow than his wife, too. He works hard all day to give Mrs. John Smith and the little Smiths everything on earth they really need, and a good many things they don't need at all.

Mrs. John Smith is a whiner—she's cross because she has no automobile, and she's always telling John what perfectly lovely chances she had to marry before she met him.

Rather a silly, vain, selfish little person—Mrs. John Smith—but just look at George Johnson and his wife. George Johnson never can hold any sort of a job for six months at a time—he is always looking at the clock to see if it isn't time to go and take a drink, and somehow very often he doesn't seem to get straight enough to tell time at all.

Every time George Johnson gets out of a job Mrs. George Johnson goes to work and finds one for him—and then when she has fairly driven him out of the house to go and do the work he is paid for doing she smiles and tells her friends what a comfort it is to be married to a perfectly good man like George Johnson.

If it wasn't for Mrs. George Johnson the little Johnsons wouldn't have either shoes, hats or coats. But for all that, is his any proof that men as a class are inferior to women as a class?

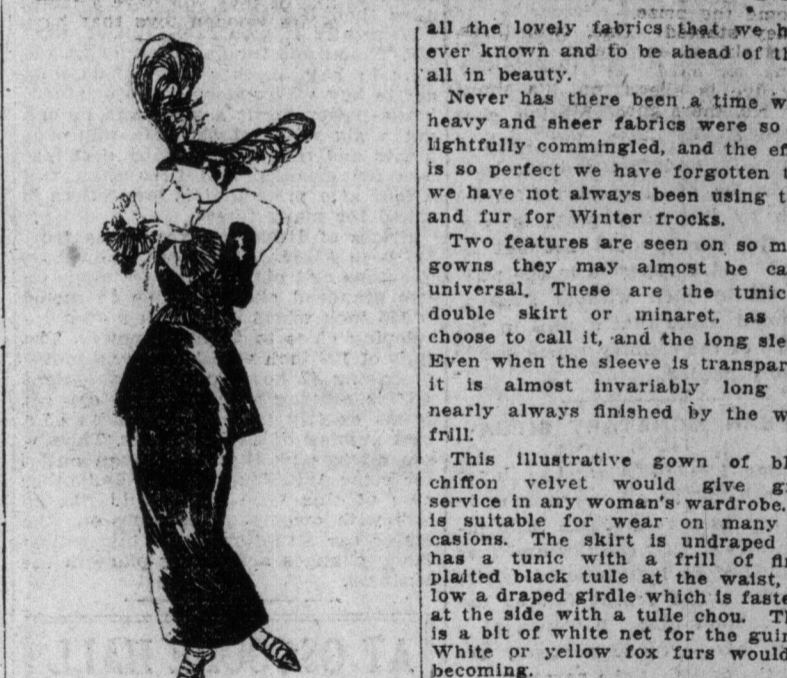

A man is what he is, and the way you can tell what he is by looking at what he does. The mere fact that he happens to be a man has nothing whatever to do with the case.

I suppose there were at least twenty women in that meeting which was addressed by the Rev. Rowena Mann who were supporting, either directly or indirectly, some man—either a brother, father or husband. You really couldn't expect them to sit still and say "Hear, hear," to such sentiments, could you, Rev. Rowena Mann? But, on the other hand, what would have happened to you if you had stood up at a meeting of sensible men and said any of those ridiculous, old-fashioned things?

Tut, tut, Rev. Rowena, the time has gone by for that sort of nonsense. Neltier men of brains nor women of intelligence have time nowadays to bother their heads about which is "superior" and which is "inferior."

They are too busy doing things to theorize. Suppose you stop theorizing and get busy, too.

Black Is in Fashion's Favor

BLACK has returned to favor. At the recent Horse Show in New York some of the handsomest costumes were black. Velvet was particularly in evidence, but there were also many broadcloths, satin brocades and the various wonderful silken stuffs that seem to partake of all the lovely fabrics that we have ever known and to be ahead of them all in beauty.

Never has there been a time when heavy and sheer fabrics were so delightfully commingled, and the effect is so perfect we have forgotten that we have not always been using tulle and fur for winter frocks.

Two features are seen on so many gowns they may almost be called universal. These are the tunic or double skirt or minaret, as you choose to call it, and the long sleeve. Even when the sleeve is transparent, it is almost invariably long and nearly always finished by the wrist frill.

This illustrative gown of black chiffon velvet would give great service in any woman's wardrobe. It is suitable for wear on many occasions. The skirt is undraped and has a tunic with a frill of finely plaited black tulle at the waist, below a draped girdle which is fastened at the side with a tulle chou. There is a bit of white net for the guimpes. White or yellow fox fur would be becoming.

TOO LATE.
"He fell in love with his wife."
"How fortunate!"
"Well hardly. It was after she got a divorce and married another man."
NOT TO BE EXPECTED.
"He's a wiry looking chap."
"Yes, and it's strange, too, because he is a wireless operator."

Points on Palmistry

Smooth, conical fingers are a sign of talkativeness and levity. Strong, knotted fingers show prudence and capacity. A palm too slim, narrow and feeble indicates instinct without capacity. If the palm is too large the person is coarse and animal-like. If the outer joint of the fingers forms a knot, the person has well-arranged ideas. The individual who has knots at the middle joints of the fingers always has a place for everything and everything in its place. Intellect belongs to knotted fingers, grace to smooth ones. The person whose fingers are smooth and pointed is guided wholly by inspiration and never has a reason for what he does. The hard, wrinkled hand, which is opened to its full extent with difficulty, shows intractability, a mind without pliancy. Large hands mean a close attention to minute details. Broad nails show the owner to be bashful and gentle.

Across the Court.

By Bob Neal.
CROSS the court I see her there;
A She's making up the bed;
The intruding sunlight strikes her hair—
Is't gold, or golden red?
Rounded of form, a perfect maid,
Ah, me, that she were mine!
Seductively beauty all betrayed
By every curve and line.
What deftness, neatness, grace, despatch!
O, that for me 'twere done!
That through my casement she should catch Caresses from the sun.
I'm jealous. Else I were to blame!
Those eyes, that smile, that curl

Chips With the Bark On

There is this difference between men and chickens—men are tough while they are alive.

The man who steals his own time is an incorrigible thief. He will not return the plunder even when he catches himself in the theft.

The under dog has an advantage when scalding water is used to separate the combatants.

Death may love a shining mark, but the shaft is fully as effective when it hits the innocent bystander.

Drinking cocktails will never give a man a "tail-hold" on the situation. It is easier to be generous with another's money than it is with one's own opinions.

It is not necessary to learn to play a harp in this world. If you win one in the next you will have long years for practice.

DAILY HEALTH HINT

Wrinkles are more likely to be caused by frowning, by worry, and by loss of flesh than by the sun. Laugh and grow a fat brow and wabbling cheeks. This is no theoretical treatment. It has proved out more furrowed faces than cocoa butter and massage creams. These latter are usually helpful as well as harmless.

Twenty Thousand in Bars Nightly

Ontario Young Manhood League Presents Startling Series of Statistics.

TORONTO FIELD DAY

Involved Addresses Given in Forty Churches—Branch Organized in Brampton.

Forty meetings in Toronto, attended by a total of three thousand men, were visited yesterday by representatives of the Ontario Young Manhood League, who delivered the league's appeal for temperance.

It was pointed out that according to statistics furnished the league by a business man who claims to have made a study of Toronto conditions, an average of 20,000 young men drink over the bars of Toronto hotels nightly, Saturdays and Sundays excepted.

These are men between twenty-one and thirty-five years of age. The average time spent at the bar, according to this estimate, is half an hour.

Campaigns in Welland county and Scarborough township have been in progress during the past week. About two thousand young men were enrolled in Welland, where the Canada Temperance Act will be voted on.

At Scarborough township, which will hold a local option contest in January, a series of meetings were held under the direction of J. B. Lawson, in Brampton on Friday evening, J. R. Hewitson, H. W. Osmer and Thomas Howell of Toronto, addressed three hundred men and a branch of the league was organized.

Paris Next Sunday.

Next Sunday H. A. McKim, president of the league, with Mr. Osmer, will hold a field day in Paris.

W. M. Murdock has been appointed to replace Newton Wylie as general secretary of the league. Mr. Wylie, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident some weeks ago, is making satisfactory progress, but it will be some time before he will leave the hospital.

TORONTO AS SEEN BY ENGLISH CRITIC

"Healthy, Clean-Shaven, Pink-Faced" Are Some of the Qualifications.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—(C.A.P.)—"The whole isn't much more beautiful than Golden Green (a well-known suburb of London, Eng.)."

"Toronto has an individuality, but an elusive one. It is a healthy, cheerful city (by modern standards); a clean-shaven, pink-faced, respectably-dressed, fairly energetic, unintellectual, passably sociable, well-to-do, public-school-and-variety sort of city."

"A Toronto man, like most Canadians, dislikes an Englishman; but, unlike some Canadians, he detests an American. And he has some inkling of the conditions and responsibilities of the British Empire."

"Toronto, soul of Canada, is wealthy, busy, commercial, Scotch, absorbent of whiskey; but she is duly aware of other things. She has a most modern and efficient interest in education; and here are gathered what faint, faint beginnings or premonitions of such things as art Canada can boast."

"Toronto is not squalid like Birmingham, or cramped like Canton, or scattered like Edmonton, or sham like Berlin, or hellish like New York, or tiresome like Nice. It is all right. The inches to hundreds of yards in diameter. Each, it is big enough, has been bought by a rich man—generally an American who has built a castle on it. So the Activity of White Slave Agents Takes New and Dangerous Form.

ONE MAN ARRESTED

Woman Became Drowsy After Being Jabbed with a Hypodermic Needle.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 6.—(Can. Press.)—Federal as well as state authorities are likely to take a hand in the investigation of the poison needle mystery growing out of the experience of Mrs. Marjorie Craft in a moving picture theatre two days ago. So far the only arrest is that of the young South American, Armand Megaro, who is held in $20,000 bail on an assault charge made by Mrs. Craft, after a man seated near her in a box jabbed a needle into her arm, and she was seized with drowsiness. The cases of five young women reported to have been victims of experiences similar to those of Mrs. Craft are being investigated by the police of this city, however, and the attention of the federal authorities here has been brought to the Craft case in connection with the enquiry into several white slave cases.

Need of Vigilance.

United States Assistant District Attorney Charles F. Lynch said today that the government authorities would act if it was shown that a "needle gang" was operating between this state and New York. Sociological workers here and in New York City have laid emphasis on the Craft case in their public warnings regarding methods of white slave raiding in procuring girls. They pointed out that hypodermic needles may be bought for 50 cents each and that degenerate have no trouble in purchasing drugs also.

The police here are at present withholding the names of all the reported victims, except Miss Jeanette Clark, 19 years old, who said today she had been attacked in the way Mrs. Craft was in the same theatre on Thanksgiving night. Miss Clark could not identify Megaro as her assailant.

Farquharson, Second Vice-President Kenneth Casselman, Secretary W. A. Hewitt and the following members of the executive: A. E. Copeland, E. M. Glover, Jas. T. Sutherland, Dwight J. Turner and Sheriff J. F. Paxton, were in attendance.

The following delegates were present:

The president, E. H. Wettlaufer of Berlin, delivered his annual address, and he spoke many words of wisdom regarding the game of hockey and its environment.

Secretary W. A. Hewitt reported that the league had 108 teams last year in three series, 12 in the senior, 56 in the intermediate and 43 in the junior. The three winners of the John Ross Robertson Cup, representative of the senior, intermediate and junior championships, were returned as follows: Senior, Toronto Rowing and A.A.; Intermediate, Collingwood Hockey Club, and Junior, Orillia Hockey Club.

Treasurer W. G. Wood reported that he had a balance on hand of $6,042.12, or an increased surplus over last year of $1174.

The following amendment was made to the rules of competition, which Jas. T. Sutherland had submitted, the last two clauses being added to clause ten, so that it will read as follows:

All clubs must register with the secretary of the association on or before Dec. 15 in each year their club colors and a description of the style and color of the playing uniform of such club, and no two competing clubs shall be permitted to have uniforms or colors alike.

All clubs must have an auxiliary jump-regular club sweaters. The home club to wear same when referee finds regular sweaters conflicting.

Four changes were made as to the rules of the game. Jas. T. Sutherland again making the amendment to the first one. Mr. Sutherland stated that such a large organization as the O.H.A. had forgotten one item that should have been looked after long ago. He stated that the players had never been designated, except the goalkeeper, and he thought that they should be. He finally convinced his listeners that it was a deserving clause, but some of them took objection to the words right and left defence instead of point and coverpoint, also the former describes the play as it is really played now. Rule one will read as follows now:

The game is played on ice by teams of seven on each side, with a puck made of vulcanized rubber, one inch thick all thru and three inches in diameter. The players to be designated as follows: Goal-keeper, right defence, left defence, rover, centre, right wing, left wing.

Secretary W. A. Hewitt put forth an amendment and it was carried to the effect that when a team finishes the game and the score is tied they shall take ten minutes rest and then play ten minutes with five minutes halves. There will be no rest between these halves. If at the conclusion of these ten minutes halves neither team has scored a majority of goals the players shall rest for five minutes and then play twenty minutes in ten minute halves with a five minute rest at half time.

Jas. T. Sutherland amended the timekeeper's rule by having his motion carried so that in future all timekeepers will notify the referee that time has expired by ringing the gong in the penalty box. It was suggested that the referee be instructed to agree with the timekeepers regarding the ringing of the bell so as not to confuse him regarding the end of a period or a difference over time.

W. A. Hewitt put forward the amendment to the effect that the outside rule be changed so that a puck bounding off a goalkeeper's pads or body but not handled by his stick would put his teammates inside within ten feet of the net. The original rule read three feet, but it was suggested that the teams draw a line across the ice ten feet out.

H. E. Baxter of Drumbo moved that players residing in police villages be allowed to come in under the residence clause with rural districts, as he claimed that it was not fair to the men themselves as they were otherwise barred from playing. After a very thorough explanation of the question it was carried.

Dwight J. Turner moved that the honorarium of the secretary for the season of 1913-13 be $750, and that of the treasurer $500. It was carried.

It was moved by Francis Nelson that the incoming executive be instructed to consider the question of the organization of a Dominion Association for the government of amateur hockey through Canada, and to forward the movement in every way consistent with the principles and policy of the Ontario Hockey Association. Carried unanimously.

The New Officers.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Past president, H. E. Wettlaufer, Berlin; president, Chas. Farquharson, Stratford; first vice-president, Kenneth Casselman, London; second vice-president, James T. Sutherland, Kingston; A.A.U. of C. governor, Francis Nelson, Toronto; secretary, W. A. Hewitt, Toronto; treasurer, Dwight J. Turner, Toronto; executive committee, A. E. Copeland, Midland; R. M. Glover, Peterboro; Frank Hyde, Woodstock; Sheriff Paxton, Whitby, and two to be appointed.

An executive meeting will be held in The Telegram office on Wednesday evening, Dec. 10.

PITCHING AVERAGES MAKE MATTY PREMIER

Records as Shown by Official Figures of National League.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Christy Mathewson, premier pitcher of the Giants, and for years one of the shining lights of baseball, heads the list of National League pitchers in the official averages for the 1913 season, made public tonight. The New York twirler pitched in forty games, and his record of victories is 25 as against 11 games lost. The leader's record is not calculated upon his percentage of victories, however, the system adopted being essentially the same as that used in compiling the American League averages this year, based upon the average of runs earned per game of nine innings. The list shows that 70 earned runs were scored off Mathewson, an average of 2.06 the game. Babe Adams of Pittsburgh made the nearest approach to this record, throwing 21 and lost 10 games, and 175 runs earned off his delivery averaged 2.15 to the game. Torreau and Demaree of New York are close up, standing third and fourth with averages of 2.17 and 2.21 respectively.

The club records show that the Chicago Cubs were handed the greatest number of passes by opposing pitchers, a total of 284, or an average of 3.27 to a game. The New Yorks led with the least number of strikeouts charged against them, only 601 of the Giants having fanned, a game average of 3.21. Of individuals, Beacher of Cincinnati received the greatest number of bases on balls, 94 in 141 games, while Huggins of St. Louis got 92 in 121 games. Johnny Evers, the Chicago manager, struck out but fourteen times in 125 games, his percentage of strikeouts not being the smallest in the league.

John Drew will be seen at the Princess tonight in his latest success. All well-known theatregoers know that John Drew is the most accomplished actor of high comedy on the American stage. His knowledge of his craft is consummate, his range is remarkable, and his success has been practically unbroken.
Nobody has ever portrayed so well the domestic, volatile, very human man of the world. Playgoers will remember him in "The Lark," setting the matrimonial trouble of his man and his wife, and in "The Girl in the House in Order"; in a fourth as the "Perplexed Husband," and in a skitfully curbing the ardor of his suitor. Always a favorite, particularly owing to the dramatist, but very largely owing to the actor himself, he is interesting and convincing, and one feels that when Drew has ceased to act, these characters he has made so much his own can tread the boards no longer.

George Arliss Next Week.
Mr. George Arliss has the relatives of two distinguished stars in his company, presenting Louis N. Parker's "Distract," at the Princess next week—Miss Lilla Campbell, niece of Mrs. Patrick Campbell, and Noel Leslie, son of Edmund Tearle. It is a peculiar coincidence that it was Miss Campbell's distinguished uncle that Mr. Arliss made his first appearance in this country.

JOHN DREW
AT THE PRINCESS

"The Honeymoon Express."
Al Jolson, the leading comedian of "The Honeymoon Express," which opens tonight at the Alexandra Theatre, is very much interested in honeymooners. In fact, Mr. Jolson is still on his honeymoon, altho in his case it has stretched over a longer period of time than honey-moons usually do. On account of the title of his play, and also from the fact of his felicitous condition, he wants to feel in touch with other honeymooners, and to this end he announces that he will be glad to entertain at the Royal Alexandra during the run of "The Honeymoon Express" there, any happy couples who have come to this city for the most momentous period of their lives.

"The Glad Eye."
Toronto playgoers will have the greatest laugh of their lives next week, when Louis Meyer's all-English comedy, "The Glad Eye," is presented at the Princess.
The piece is replete with witty sayings, and the many complications and excitingly funny situations that the author has woven around the two flirta-tious husbands, who whom the story deals, serve to keep the audience in one continuous roar of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Foy and the Seven Little Foyes in a merry musical mix-up prepared by Wil-

Foy has decided to give himself, as well as the seven boys and girls, a real party to let a few choice audiences like Shea-goers also enjoy the fun.

MISS HELEN DELANEY
AT THE GAYETY

"The Confession" at the Grand.
The "Confession," a play that has received the endorsement of the leading clergy of the United States and Canada, will be the offering at the Grand Opera House all this week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. While the subject of the play centres in the sacredness of the sacrament of penance it is told in such a manner that it appeals strongly to non-Catholics, and always receives a reverent hearing. Mr.
Trowley, archbishop of St. John's, Newfoundland, after witnessing this play in Montreal, wrote James Hanks Field, the author, as follows: "The play is one of those rare artists and has the faculty of bringing himself into intimate understanding with his audience from the moment he appears, and his famous "Song Chant," which comprises one section of the program, is described as a very novel and charming variation on the conventional method of presenting a concert operatic. He will introduce in his own inimitable way a number of the famous English songs of sentiment and patriotism, together with oratorio excerpts, and the probability is that he will register an impression similar to that which has made him such a favorite vocalist in the old country.

At the Gayety.
At the Gayety Theatre, with matinees daily, Ben Welch and his courtesans will make their annual and welcome visit to the city. The musical farce, "Cupid's Love Dilemma," the military burlesque, "Girls of the U.S.A.," is a succession of superbly artistic panoramas, quivering with the life of light, enlivened by vibrations of the most poetic sound, and swinging in the rhythm of graceful bolshie tunes to a single striking high pitch of excellence.

Pavlova at Massey Hall.
Pavlova and her big organization will appear at Massey Hall the evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 9 and 11.
There will be different programs for each performance, and all the numbers will be new. The ballets or dance dramas and the diversissements or shorter dances to be given here were the big sensations of the recent Pavlova engagement in New York, when critics declared that Pavlova and her associates "recaptured the magic of the past." Some details of the approaching engagement here of the "divinity of the dance," and her troupe and orchestra, were announced last night by a representative of Max Rabinooff, managing director of the National Opera Company of Canada, and also managing director of the Pavlova tour. The Pavlova engagement here is under the local management of Lawrence Solman.

Four ballets will be danced here—two each evening. They are "The Magic Globe," "L'Orfèvre," "The Oriental Fantasy" and "L'Orientale," a dance drama full of the color and passion of the east, and two shorter pieces, "The Invitation to the Dance" and "Une Soiree de Danse." Seven and eight diversis-siments will also be danced each evening, different for the two performances, except that the famous "Autumn Sacchanane" will be danced both evenings, as will also the new society dance, "The Gayety Pavlova."

"The Inner Shrine."
"The Inner Shrine," a drama founded on Basil King's popular novel, will be presented for the first time in this city at the Grand Opera House next week.

The Saunders Concert.
When Charles Saunders, the favorite at Massey Hall tomorrow night, those who enjoy popular concerts will be treated to an innovation in the way of musical entertainment. Mr. Saunders is one of those rare artists and has the faculty of bringing himself into intimate understanding with his audience from the moment he appears, and his famous "Song

the program, is described as a very novel viously presented at the Star Theatre, is promised for this week. The offering will be Morris Vainstock's "Reactor Girls," a theory original and up-to-date musical comedy.

JUDGES FACED BIG TASK AT FOURTH FAT STOCK SHOW

Easily the Largest and Most Successful Held—Work of Allotting Prizes Expedited by Clever Arrangements—Results in Various Classes.

The fourth annual Toronto Fat Stock Show at the Union Stock Yards Saturday afternoon was easily the most successful since the show was incorporated four seasons ago. Cattle of all breeds and ages were exhibited, entries being made from all parts of Ontario. Over eleven hundred cattle were shown, which included two hundred and thirty-four single entries and over sixty carload lots.

The cattle shown were specially prepared for this show, and after the judging is completed the cattle which have not been already sold will be auctioned on Monday. Many of the best-known breeders in Eastern Ontario entered in the various classes, with the result that the competition was keen, which made it hard for the judges to make their decisions. The large cattle sheds were well filled with steers and heifers of different breeds, ages and weight, but despite the large number of entries, the judging was carried on in a most admirable manner. No time was lost. While one class was being judged another would be waiting to enter the judges' ring, and as soon as the judging was finished, one lot would be going out one door as the others were coming in the other.

A large crowd of interested spectators were seated on either side of the judging ring and crowded the long aisles at either side. Besides the cattle there was also a large entry of sheep and swine, over 1200 of each being exhibited in single entries and carload lots. It is doubtful if a better class of fat stock has ever been exhibited at any show of this kind, and from all appearances as each year goes on, the quality of the stock will become better. The winners in the various classes were:

Cattle.
Pure bred steers, one year and under—A. Barber, Guelph; J. Black, Fergus; Adam Armstrong, Fergus; W. O. Coon, Penville.
Pure bred steers, one year and under—A. Barber, Guelph; A. Barker, Guelph; J. Stone, Saintfield; William Marquis & Son, Uxbridge.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—(Can. Press).—Six detectives tonight guarded Ignace Jan Paderewski the Polish pianist, who received letters threatening his life if he kept his Chicago engagements.
