HEAVY ENROLMENT OF VOLUNTEERS FOR FIRST CONTINGENT

Bulk of Men From Western Canada and Middle and Ontario—Generous Gifts of Montrealers—Preparations to Receive Bank of England's Gold—Warning to Wireless Amateurs.

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, Aug. 12.—The naval department has sent out orders to the holders of all licenses for amateur wireless stations to dismantle completely their stations and take down all aerial wires at once. They are required also to notify the department as soon as they have complied with the order.

Since the recent regulations came into force, no amateur wireless stations have been allowable unless licensed so that the police will now step in wherever they see an amateur wireless station of any kind.

Shield Resists Bullets.

Artillery officers are somewhat perplexed at the result of an interesting experiment that was made here today. It was to test whether the new cartridge now used extensively in Europe, with a bullet, sharp pointed instead of rounded at the end, and more heavily charged, would pierce the shields which are used to protect the field guns. A shot was fired at point blank range at one of the shields, but it was found that the new pointed bullet only made a dent and did not pierce the metal.

Transportation Simple.

The transportation of the gold will be a simple matter. It is always too well guarded for any raid to have the slightest chance of success. Besides, the kegs or boxes in which the gold is carried, the not very large, are exceedingly heavy. It is too soon yet to discuss how long the present arrangement will last in some form or another. Suggestions had been made in the past that the finance department should be a gold repository for the Bank and that the gold should be stored here from New York and vice versa.

Coal Supply Protected.

It being obviously essential to secure during the continuance of the war an uninterrupted supply of coal for domestic use, one of the first matters to receive attention by the Canadian military was to secure the coal supply.

Enough Rifles Available.

There are plenty of Ross rifles of the latest make ready now to equip the first contingent, and by the time a second contingent would be ready there will be enough rifles on hand.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Expectations of big events on both land and sea were keyed up to the highest pitch by tonight's official news. It has led to the hope that the German fleet has taken the offensive, as was expected when the first decisive battle on land was approaching. There is no disposition here to underestimate the courage or fighting power of the German fleet, and it is quite recognized that the extensive employment of submarines and dirigible bombers may play a great part in the sea struggle. But needless to say Englishmen have lost none of their pride and confidence in their own navy, feeling sure when it comes to gunnery and seamanship as well as other redoubtable qualities, the British navy will fully maintain its great tradition.

Some grim amusement was caused here by Germany's conduct in getting Turkey to buy the Goeben and Breslau, for unless Turkey infringes her neutrality they will be hung up for the remainder of the war. It is stated the reason these two German battleships got safely to the Dardanelles was because the British fleet had been ordered elsewhere so there really was no such desperate hurry to conclude this disabling deal with Turkey.

World's Greatest Battle.

In the meantime the great walls of news of progress of the greatest battle ever fought on land and for great stakes. The opposing armies have 750 miles of front and it is estimated that two million combatants are engaged with a greater number and more destructive engines of war than have ever been employed. Military authorities estimate the strength of 17 army corps on the German side at a million men, of whom there are some 700,000 infantry, and 50,000 cavalry, with 4,000 guns and Howitzers, and 1,200 machine guns. These figures do not include reserve armies in the rear of the fighting line. It is impossible at this stage to more than conjecture how these seventeen corps are to be organized in mobile armies or how it is intended they should manoeuvre for the purpose in view. A combined attack of so big a force on so wide a front has never before been attempted in the history of war. The numbers which the Germans can bring to the field for the purpose are approximately double those which Von Moltke had at his disposition in 1870. German corps have been concentrated in three separate armies, the first army at Liege, second in the Duchy of Luxembourg, and the third on the Moselle, east of Verdun, Longwy and Trous. Judging from the fragments of news now coming, it looks to be the Kaiser's intention to take the offensive all along his line by a simultaneous advance of all seventeen corps.

THE FUR OUTLOOK.

About the time each year most every woman in the land begins to study the outlook for furs for the coming season. In the last few years there has been a steady advance in the price of the skins and a gradually decreasing record of the number of skins handled on by the traders. The World approached Mr. Dineen yesterday on the prospects for the coming season.

Mr. Dineen is Toronto's pioneer furrier and therefore knows what's what in the fur.

The situation throughout the fur centres of Europe is very serious on account of the present war and no doubt the prices will again be increased.

The recent stopping of shipping from Germany is another factor in the fur market. In the latter part of the season, Mr. Dineen, and to have money pay ready and place their orders early.

The Need of a New Map of Europe

BY H. G. WELLS

Written Expressly for The Toronto World and The London Daily News.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, August 12.—The war has not lasted ten days, not a tithe of five per cent. of the officers confronting each other have heard a shot fired with intent to kill; the great battle by land and sea alike impends, and yet I find my steadfast theory that Prussianism and Bernhardism as the whole theory and practice of the empire of the Germans is a rotten and condemned thing, has already been strengthened to an absolute conviction. Unforeseen accidents may happen. I say nothing of the sea, but the general and ultimate result seems to me as certain now as the rising of tomorrow's sun. I do not know how much slaughter lies before Europe, before Germany realizes she is fooled and fool-poisoned. I do not know how long the swaggering Prussian officer will be able to drive his crowded men to massacre before they revolt against him. Nor do I know how far the inflated vanity of Berlin has made provision for defeat.

Russia's Strength Overestimated

Germany on the defensive, for all we can tell, may prove a very stubborn thing, and Russia's strength may be, and I think is, over-estimated. All that may delay, but it will not alter the final demonstration that Prussianism, as Mr. Belles foretold so amazingly, took its mortal wound at the first onset before the trenches of Liege. We begin a new period of history. It is not Germany this has been defeated. Germany is still an unconquered country. It is a country glorious in history. It is a country glorious and very sad with a glorious future.

Tore Up the Map of Europe

When the Prussians invaded Luxembourg they tore up the map of Europe. To the redrawing of that map a thousand complex forces will come. There will be much attempted overreaching in the business, and much greed. Few will come to the negotiations with simple intentions, and in a wrangle of the Prussian blue from the life and spirit of mankind. No European power has any real quarrel with Germany. Our quarrel is with the empire of the Germans—not with a people, but with an idea.

Let us in all that follows keep that clearly in mind. It may be that the German repulse at Liege was but the beginning of a Germanic disaster as great as that of France in 1871. It may be that Germany has no second plan if her first plan fails, and that she will go to pieces after her first defeat.

Prepare for Victory

It seems to me that this is so. I risk prophecy, and I would have us prepare ourselves for the temptations of victory.

And so, to begin with, let us of the liberal faith declare our fixed, unalterable conviction that it will be a sin to dismember Germany or to allow any German-speaking and German-feeling territory to fall under a foreign yoke.

Let us English make sure of ourselves in that matter. There may be restoration of alien territory to the French the Polish, the Danish and the Italian, but we have seen enough of racial subjugation now to be sure that we will tolerate no more of it. From the Rhine to East Prussia and from the Baltic to the southern limits of German-speaking Austria, the Germans are one people. Let us begin with a resolution to permit no new bitterness of "conquered territories" to come into existence to disturb the future peace of Europe.

Let us see to it that at the ultimate settlement Germans, however great this overthrow may be, are all left free men.

The Legend Has Failed

The legend of Prussia is explained. Its appeal was to one criterion—success—and it has failed. Never more will the harshness of Berlin overshadow the great and friendly civilization of southern and western Germany.

The work before the world is to clean off the Prussian blue from the life and

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON.—The greatest conflict of the war, and possibly of all history, with a line 300 miles long, is now believed to be going on in a terrific effort of the Germans to push their way to Paris.

Such news as has been permitted to filter thru the censors indicates that the Germans have hurled an army of approximately a half million men against the allied armies somewhere between Namur and Louvain, and that another equally as large or larger is attacking the French along the entire Franco-Luxembourg frontier.

The official press bureau today announced the following disposition of the German forces:

Of the twenty-six German army corps, the bulk has been located, and it is evident that the mass of German troops is concentrated between Liege and Luxembourg.

The number of German troops known to be on the western side of that country proves that in the eastern theatre of war the Russo-German frontier, so far as Germany is concerned, is comparatively lightly guarded by reservists.

FORMIDABLE WAR OPERATIONS.

"Most formidable naval war operations are now proceeding in the North Sea," says an official statement issued by the war office press bureau this evening, "and no guarantee can be given for the safe passage of merchant vessels."

The announcement of the official press bureau states that the Atlantic Ocean may now confidently be used by British merchant ships, and then goes on to say: "In the North Sea, where the Germans have scattered mines indiscriminately, and where the most formidable operations of the naval war are proceeding, the admiralty can give no guarantee."

DENIES LOSS OF 20,000.

An official statement by Gen. Von Stein, concerning the siege at Liege, is given in a despatch from Berlin to Rome. Gen. Von Stein denies the loss of 20,000 men. He gives no substitute estimate, however, of the actual number of German troops were engaged, and they only to mask the movements of the main army.

The German commander said the attacking force of the Belgians was completely annihilated. Altho admitting the forts remained intact, he explained this by saying: "The emperor did not wish to sacrifice life unnecessarily. As soon as the heavy artillery is in position, the fort will be taken without the loss of a man."

GERMANS PUSHING ON.

While the German General Von Emmich closely invests Liege today, another division of the German army crossed the Meuse River near Tongres and pushed on toward Waterloo and Brussels.

It is believed that this army will attempt to push north of Namur and seek to trap the allied armies which have gathered in force there, with the assistance of the German army operating thru Belgian-Luxembourg.

Heavy fighting has been going on all day near Iremont, according to admissions by the French War Office, and the attacking force is composed largely of infantry supported by heavy artillery. The Belgians are putting up a heroic resistance, it is said.

Not a line concerning the movements of the British army or navy is allowed to pass the censors.

Aeroplanes flying at an immense height above Brussels today are believed to have been German craft seeking to locate the positions of the allied armies. They were beyond the reach of the aero guns.

TWO SHOTS SUFFICED TO SINK HOSTILE GERMAN SUBMARINE

Attack on British Squadron From Under Water Foiled by Superb Gunnery—Only Mark Above Water Was Periscope, Which Was Shattered by First Shot—Second Shot Sent Boat Down Like a Stone.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Scotman today prints this story of an eyewitness of the naval battle between British cruisers and German submarines, in which the submarine U15 was lost:
"The cruiser squadron on Sunday," the story runs, "suddenly became aware of the approach of the submarine U15. The enemy was submerged, only the periscope showing above the surface of the water. The attitude of the British in the face of this attack was cool, and the enemy was utterly misled when suddenly the cruiser Birmingham, steaming at full speed, fired the first shot. This shot was carefully aimed, not at the submerged body of a submarine, but at the thin line of a periscope.

"The gunnery was superbly accurate and shattered the periscope. Thereupon the submarine now a blinded thing, rushed along under water in imminent danger of self-destruction from collision with the cruisers about.
"The eightless submarine was then forced to come to the surface, whereupon the Birmingham gunner fired the second shot of the fight. This shot struck at the base of the conning tower, ripping the wheel of the upper conning drum, and the U15 sank like a stone.
"The remainder of the submarine fleet fled."

OSTEND POPULAR SUMMER RESORT

Only Three Hours' Ride From Dover—Visited by Many.

ON BELGIAN COAST

Was Fortified at One Time, But Conditions Have Been Changed.

Leaving Charing Cross Station by the night boat express for Dover the passenger for Belgium step off the train and on to the gangway of the waiting cross channel steamer and in three hours from passing the chalk cliffs of Dover, lands in Ostend.

This is the first view of the little country which is now the scene of a bitter struggle, the end of which no person can foresee.
Ostend lies in the middle of the Belgian coast, and is the largest of the seaside towns and one of the oldest in Belgium. In ancient times it was fortified, and during the wars between the Spaniards and the Dutch, the Spaniards defended it for three years, but today it is quite changed and has no walls but just a long "digue" or sand-dune.
The town is built on a high point, and has a handsome harbor, and churches. The large church of St. Peter and St. Paul being one of the many outside of the City of Brussels.

A holiday resort, for the people of the country English and German are frequent visitors, and a large number of people resort to the town during the summer months for the sea bathing and the amusements for which Ostend is noted.
There are horse races, concerts, dancing and a great deal of gambling at the Kursaal (a handsome building, the dome of which can be seen from the sea). One part of the flat beach in front of the digue is crowded with bathing machines, and it is told by the attendants that one day last summer 6000 persons bathed there.

Live For Gaiety.
It is very noisy and the people seem to live for gaiety, some parading around, and others sitting outside the numerous cafes drinking lager beer and wine, and enjoying the music of the bands and orchestras, of which the town is full during the season.
An enjoyable holiday can be spent for a comparatively small sum in this resort and hundreds of persons, in all parts of England, regularly visit Ostend during the summer months in preference to other seaside or summer places in their own land.
In the next article the journey from Ostend to Bruges, Brussels and Liège on the Meuse and Namur will be described.

U. S. ARMY OFFICERS MAY VIEW FIGHTING

Canadian Press Despatch.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—To date Great Britain is the only country which has responded to the United States Government's inquiries addressed to all of the powers involved in the European war as to whether American army officers would be allowed to be present during their campaigns as military observers. English observers gladly would be permitted to go to the front with the British troops.

TAPPED MESSAGES SENT TO GERMANY

Hiram Maxim Heard Code Signaling From Sayville Wireless Station.

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 11.—Hiram Percy Maxim, Jr., inventor of the noiseless gun, who was among the first to charge the German wireless telegraph company at Sayville, L.I., relaying German war office code orders to German cruisers, on the Atlantic, said tonight he wasn't at all sure that the company was not cleverly deceiving the naval officers who are censoring aerograms. Sitting in his den, last night Mr. Maxim has been listening to the Sayville station sending to Germany from 3 to 4 for several hours all the war news published in New York and New England papers. "It's beyond me," said Mr. Maxim tonight, "to believe this is the only way Germany can get the news, and it is possible a pre-arranged code of signals is incorporated in the apparently straight war news bulletins thus circumventing the federal officers on duty at Sayville. There is something queer in the slow sending of some of the bulletins, especially those involving figures of dead and injured at Liege, and of the French marching thru Alsace-Lorraine. One strange message which I have not seen published in the newspapers referred to Austria sending 30,000 men to the front by way of Lake Constance in Switzerland. Not a word was sent to any ship, everything going direct to Germany."

KAISER DENOUNCED BY BELGIAN PRIEST

Clerical, on Way to War Zone, Speaks With Feeling.

Special to The Toronto World.
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Four Belgian priests and two lay brothers of the Reformed Trappist and of the Norbertine Orders of the Roman Catholic Church arrived in this city yesterday from Dabouze, Es., and Depre, Wis., on their way to the front. Their leader is the Rev. Clement Didier, thirty-two years old, who has been in this country only four years. Before his ordination he had served six years in the army. "I am a priest," said Father Didier to a reporter for The World, "but if my country wants me to draw the sword or use the gun I am glad to do it. Our Belgians know how to fight. Four years ago Cardinal Mercier warned the government to be prepared against the war lord of Germany, who, he prophesied, would violate every Christian rule of order in order to satisfy his greed for power, and in the end, reduce Belgium to the state of a vassal.
"In his greed for military power and ambition to be a monarch, Napoleon the Kaiser knows no laws of neutrality or any sanctuary that is sacred. Four years ago Father Didier's companions are J. S. Carthay, Simon Werner, Xavier P. Martin and Brothers Ambrose and Albert. Father Martin is a native of Armagnac, and as a boy was sent to Belgium to be educated. He became a citizen of that country. They will go to Halifax in the hope of getting a British steamer there."

MANY AMERICANS TO STAY ABROAD

Forty-Five Thousand Estimated to Be in Europe by Washington.

Special to The Toronto World.
WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 11.—Fewer than 45,000 transient Americans are now in Europe, according to figures collected by the war department and made public tonight by Secretary Garrison. The majority of these are in London. There are about 600 in Switzerland and the same number in Italy. Paris and its environs are believed to have about 4000 refugees, while 600 are gathered in Sweden.
"Of course we have not heard from every place," said Secretary Garrison, "and the movement from place to place must be taken into account. It also must be remembered that much of this is estimated and is not actual count."
The condition of the Americans abroad is vastly improved, the report declares, because of the influx of American gold and the restoration of confidence in American exchange.
The Americans who at first were clamoring for transportation back to the United States are said to be preparing to finish out their vacations in England and France.

IDLE GERMAN SHIPS TO BE BOUGHT BY AMERICAN FINANCIAL MEN

Negotiations Now on to Put Many of These Vessels Under Stars and Stripes—German Line Owners Forced to Sell to Maintain Expense of Carrying Ships Not Offered.

Special to The Toronto World.
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—It became known today that New York bankers and financiers are considering the purchase of a number of the German liners now practically interned in New York and adjacent harbors. A very prominent banker, who expressed a desire not to be quoted, as his house was not interested in the movement, said that he had heard that a number of these ships would be for sale and that the matter would take active shape as soon as the new shipping bill became law. German bankers are understood to be chiefly interested, and it is believed that the vessels purchased will be turned into liners flying the American flag.
The object of the sale by the German line owners is to secure funds wherewith to sustain the expense of carrying the ships not offered. These expenses are large and involve the maintenance of steam in the ships, the support of the crews, dockage, payments and other expenditures. The bankers who are chiefly interested in the negotiations admitted today that a number of the vessels have been offered subject to a fair price. The negotiations are closed and the vessels purchased hold the American flag, it is believed they will be utilized at once in the carriage of grain to European ports. Wheat, according to legal authorities, is not absolutely a contraband of war.

FEARS NO INVASION OF BRITISH SHORES

Naval Expert Says No Large Attempt is Possible at Present Time.

SMALL FORCE USELESS

Such Enterprise Would Have to Be Preceded by Naval Victory.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Aug. 12.—Archibald Hurd, a naval expert, writing for The Daily Telegraph, says:
"Whatever change has occurred in the last few days in the naval and military situation certainly does not weaken the arguments as to the impossibility of an invasion of England."
"An invasion across the North Sea must be preceded by a battle in the North Sea and a German victory. Only a sailor appreciates the obstacles in the way of such an advance carried out in the face of a superior naval force. It involves the enemy handicapping his fleet with large numbers of transports crowded with soldiers."
"Difficultly With Transports."
"If small and of light draught, the transports could approach with facility close to the point of embarkation, but such small vessels can carry only a few men. Should large transports be employed large numbers of troops can be carried, but these vessels must keep well off shore during the process of embarkation owing to the depth of water they would draw. "With every port on the English coast guarded by land and sea, it is difficult to perceive what object could be served by landing a few thousand German troops in a country which has over half a million men under arms."
"Panic Would Not Last."
"Such an adventure would not cause more than a temporary panic in the district directly affected, and this speedily would give place to a feeling of confidence that in a very short time the invaders would be shot down or captured."
"Nevertheless it is possible that such raids might be attempted because many Germans believe that if one or more of them were successfully carried out and troops landed on the British coast a feeling of panic would be thereby created in this country which would have an appreciable effect both here and on the continent."

Tripod Maxim being worked by British machine gun detachment.

Above is illustrated the service machine gun, 303 tripod Maxim, which is in general use by the British troops now engaged. It will deliver a stream of bullets at the rate of 620 rounds a minute. It is worked automatically by two forces, the explosion of the charge which forces the recoiling portion of the gun backwards, and a strong spring which carries it forward.

By ingenious mechanism, the shock of recoil is used to load the gun again and again as fast as it can be fired, and such is the heat generated by the rapidity of the fire that to keep the barrel cool it is completely surrounded by a barrel casing of gun-metal holding about seven pints of water. The water in the barrel casing begins to boil when the gun has fired about 600 rounds as quickly as possible.

Maxim fire can perform such execution at any distance from 500 to 2,900 yards that the results are appalling. It will mow down infantry as if a single leaden jet of bullets played into the ranks. Its destructive powers are much greater than any other form of offence, land mines, bursting榴彈, cavalry charges, bayonet charges, shells or rifle fire, always providing it doesn't jam in the feed-block.

GERMAN INVADERS FAR INTO FRANCE

Movement is Considered of Great Significance by British Military Expert.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Wednesday, Aug. 12, 3:05 p.m.—The Daily Chronicle military expert attaches the highest importance to the British Press Bureau's announcement that the German invaders are now entrenched along the line of the River Aisne. He comments as follows:
"This means that the Germans in force have penetrated for a considerable distance into French territory from the Belgian frontier. This invasion is of far greater importance from a military point of view than the French incursion into Alsace. The Germans must have penetrated in the rear of the French lines along the upper reaches of the River Aisne. The mere fact of entrenching suggests the presence of a strong body of infantry."

WESTERN ATLANTIC IS WELL PATROLLED

NEW YORK, August 12.—R. L. Nosworthy, Acting Consul-General of Great Britain, announces on the authority of Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock of the cruiser Suffolk, that the western Atlantic is open for shipping as far south as Trinidad.
Mr. Nosworthy said there were five British cruisers in the western Atlantic. The message was sent in yesterday by the steamer City of New York, spoken off Sandy Hook by the Suffolk. He would not give the message in its entirety because it would reveal the movements of the warship.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11.—Private advices reaching here from Berlin say that the prices of foodstuffs have risen to enormous heights and are daily climbing higher. Paper money, it is said, is reduced in value fully fifty per cent, and gold and silver even disappeared entirely from circulation. Strangers in the city are no longer safe, and all private citizens have been invested with the right to place under arrest any person or persons whose conduct may appear to be suspicious.
The feeling against foreigners is exceedingly bitter and outbreaks are momentarily expected.

This will enhance the reputation of a show which is already known all over the American continent. Entries have been received from prominent horsemen at Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and American points, as well as nearby towns and cities, who are bringing their stables. The entry list is larger than ever.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—Parisians today got a bit of humorous relief from the war situation at a table of sheep which was presented upon the boulevards. Thousands upon thousands of sheep purchased by the government as food for the soldiers at the front, were driven thru the main avenues, starting their journey to Belgium.
The blasé boulevardiers, walking or sitting at a table of outdoor cafes, had to dodge the stragglers of the sheep army. Many of them had never seen sheep alive, or sheep dogs either.

ITALY MAY FIGHT TRIPLE ALLIANCE

Explanation of Antivari Bombardment Said to Have Been Demanded.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
ROME, Aug. 11.—With the pinch of the war pressing daily more heavily upon the Italian people, the possibility that Italy will be drawn into the struggle on the side of the triple entente and against Austria and Germany is steadily increasing. Although no announcement has not yet been made of the fact, it is believed on good authority that the Italian Government has demanded an explanation from Austria of the bombardment of Antivari.
Although Antivari is a Montenegrin town, it is inhabited largely by Italians, and the Austrian shells wrecked the establishment of the Puglia Company there, over which the Italian flag flies, and which is filled with Italian employes.
Must be on Watch.
The Tribune, the recognized government organ, hints at a decided stand, saying that the Adriatic and Mediterranean need watching, and that Italy today must prove themselves neither French, English nor German, but Italians.
The Tribune also publishes a report from Brindisi that Montenegrin troops, invited by Albanians, have occupied Scutari. The Mussulmen Albanians are said to be tired of the attempts of Prince William of Wied to establish a government with an empty treasury. Reports from Durazzo indicate that the prince's situation is precarious. He has also been accused of the miseries of the entire country have increased the popular sentiment against him.

TORONTO MADE GREAT RESPONSE

Offered Enough Men to Make Up Entire Canadian Contingent.

Canadian Press Despatch.
OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—Col. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, announced tonight that the first units of the Canadian contingent for Europe will leave for Valenciennes for the middle of next week. The whole division, it is expected, will be mobilized within two weeks. Recruiting is proceeding apace, and Toronto, the minister stated, has offered enough men for the whole contingent.
Gen. Hughes, son of the minister, is to go with the contingent, as is Hon. Frank Cochrane's son, and Hon. A. E. Kemp's son-in-law, so that the cabinet will be well represented.
Following the offer of 500,000 from an anonymous giver, Col. Hughes tonight received a further offer of $10,000 from another citizen who wishes to remain unknown. Offers of this nature will be utilized to the best advantage by the government.
The total enrolment of the city's corps for the first Canadian contingent has reached 800, and by tomorrow night will probably total 1000. The Second and Third Battalions C.F.E. will retain their identity in the contingent.

THREE KILLED IN NEW YORK STORM

Lightning Bolts Had Deadly Effect—Subway Caved in on Laborers.

Canadian Press Despatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—An electric storm, accompanied by a strong wind and a brief but heavy downpour of rain, swept suddenly over the city and vicinity late today. Three persons were killed and twenty injured, lightning striking in several places, and the shoring of a new subway caving in upon fifteen laborers. Charles Seliger, 30, frightening him that he dropped dead of apoplexy. Lightning struck a motor launch containing William L. Anderson and Freda Flensberg, killing Anderson and severely hitting the woman. In Yonkers a bolt fell among a company of moving picture actors, killing Charles Fisher and stunning four companions.

BACK FROM CRUISE

VANCOUVER, B.C., August 12.—The two Canadian submarines have returned from their cruise along the coast and will be stationed in this port for its defence. The two vessels acted remarkably well on the cruise, which was a rather severe test of their capabilities, and their officers and men express themselves delighted. It is understood that the submarines did not catch a glimpse of the German cruisers, of which they were sent in search.

GREAT BATTLE OF NORTH SEA MAY BE NOW IN PROGRESS

Closing of North Sea to Fisherman and Continued Silence of Admiralty Cause Great Excitement in London—Significant Despatch From Rotterdam.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Aug. 11.—Intense excitement prevails here, as it is believed that a great naval battle is already in progress in the North Sea. Owing to the absolute lack of information coupled with the announcement that the North Sea has been closed to shipping, it is thought highly probable that an engagement between the British and German fleets is being fought.
Various reports have come to London from seacoast towns along the northern part of the English Channel, that firing has been heard distinctly. Some of these reports are classed as pure fiction, and yet the silence maintained at the offices of the British admiralty is taken by the public to mean that something is happening between

Funeral Services Held Over Heaps of Dead Before Cremation.

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Wednesday, Aug. 12, 3:40 a.m.—A despatch to The Standard from Amsterdam describes the wholesale cremation of bodies of German soldiers killed at Liege, as told by fugitives arriving after the fighting at Liege, the Germans collected their dead in heaps of thirty. Funeral services were held and military salutes over each heap, which was then burned.
The officers explained to the men that this was necessary to prevent the bodies from becoming a menace to the living. Many other bodies were thrown into the Meuse to float seaward.

predominance at sea as neither favorable nor unfavorable to Germany and declared that the relations between Germany and England did not affect continental military operations.

Heroes at Home

There is only one difficulty about carrying out the suggestions made by Mr. H. G. Wells in yesterday's World, and that is to get the ideas pressed home to the people who need to be influenced, or when influence is ineffective, compelled to put them into force.

When people belong to the class who live only for themselves, and who resent the existence of everyone else on earth as a personal encroachment upon their own privileges, they usually have hides like a rhinoceros and are impervious to moral reflections or ethical standards.

There is no way to deal with the well-to-do selfish, except as Mr. Wells suggests, and that is to take such steps thru the public authority as may be needed to control the supply of food, and its proper distribution in case of necessity.

The big prices can do a great deal by keeping prices at a normal level, to control the general trade. Many sacrifices must be made in wartime.

Mr. Wells writes feelingly of the little tradesmen who dared to offend important customers in order to serve all alike. Men like this are heroes of the war at home, and those who refrain from taking advantage of times of stress are doing their part, even though it be a passive one, in the gallant fight against a public enemy.

War and the Empire

For years it has been a current belief in Germany that the British Empire was held together by so loose a bond and contained so many disruptive elements that it would not survive the shock of a great war.

The United Kingdom is engaged in a war which will tax its power to the utmost. Now, if ever, will these direful prophecies have their chance of fulfillment. But instead of dividing the empire, the war, waged, as it is, in a just and righteous cause, has demonstrated its solidarity and revealed the strength of the silken cord that binds its peoples together.

Kitchener Is Not Idle

There was something surprisingly comforting about the information given out by the British censors regarding the landing of British troops at Calais and Dunkirk. There were 25,000 and more to follow. But where did they follow? It is by no means certain that they did not go to Antwerp.

One German Misconception

Underlying the course of events that led to the outbreak of the war and controlling the situation that made it inevitable was the rivalry of the German and the Slav for dominance in Southeastern Europe. This was very clearly shown in a statement published in March of last year in Financial America of New York and prepared exclusively for its use.

FOOD BARONS ARE PREYING ON PUBLIC

Prices on Foodstuffs in Pittsburgh Soar Forty Per Cent.

LOOK TO WASHINGTON

"As High as Traffic Will Bear," is Slogan of Unscrupulous Traders.

Special to The Toronto World. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12.—Goaded into action by an avalanche of protests reaching them in letters and through the newspapers, Pittsburgh's City Council today directed the city solicitor to ascertain the steps necessary to appeal for relief from the food barons to the government authorities in Washington.

Prices of meat, vegetables and all foodstuffs have gone up in price 30 to 40 per cent. to consumers within a week. Newspapers denounce the food thieves of the nation who are using the European war situation as an excuse and say they are enraged in a revel of robbery.

One Pittsburgh daily today, in an exposure, showed that prices have been increased because of a scarcity due to the war, on garden truck shipped into the local markets from points within a street car ride of the city. Brokers call for a pound higher daily, for a high and all meats are jumping to 25 cents a pound higher daily. "As high as the traffic will bear" is the slogan of most dealers, investigators for the city declare.

AMERICAN SENTIMENT TOWARD GERMANY

(New York Tribune, Aug. 8.) There is no anti-German sentiment among the people or in the press of this country, as some distinguished German residents writing to the newspapers seem to think. We have too many German citizens, respect them too much, owe too much to their industry and loyalty, even to have anything but the best feeling toward the German.

MEAT AT MONTREAL HAS UPWARD TREND

Canadian Press Despatch. MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—War prices are now going to affect as regards food. A survey of local conditions indicates that in a majority of cases prices have been raised without due cause. Meats formed the feature of the market this morning as far as the upward trend went. At the Bonsecours market practically all kinds of meat jumped three cents per pound, wholesale rates, and this will probably mean an increase to the consumer of five cents per pound.

In many lines of foodstuffs retail prices are steadily soaring, without regard to the prices charged by the wholesalers. Dealers are fixing their prices according to the pockets of their customers.

HAMILTON TO HELP COUNTRY IN WAR

Will Make Grant of Some Kind.

Mayor Announces Controllers

Call for Recruits for Hamilton Gault's Regiment to Have Response.

By a Staff Reporter. HAMILTON, Aug. 12.—Word was received in the city today asking for recruits for Hamilton Gault's regiment of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

An order-in-council signed by the King was published in the Gazette on Aug. 5, limiting the entry of aliens to certain ports, so that they could be subjected to examination. This order was not intended in the least to keep out Americans, it was stated, and had no effect on the landing of Americans here. It was pointed out that in a few instances when cases of Americans had been referred to the authorities, the required permission to enter always had been granted.

Canadian Press Despatch. NEW YORK, August 12.—The western Atlantic Ocean is clear for shipping in the area as far south as Trinidad, according to the announcement made by Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, of the British cruiser Suffolk, thru the British Consulate here today. The Suffolk is now not far from New York City.

The consul went on to say that there were five British warships in the western Atlantic and that their patrol was so effective that all British shipping interests has been assured that there was little danger from German craft.

IMMINENT BATTLE ON BELGIAN SOIL

Sharp Fighting at Many Points—Ten Thousand Germans Operating.

BRUSSELS, August 12.—Large forces of Germans are moving north and south of Liège into the interior of Belgium and a great battle between the invaders and the allied armies defending this country is imminent on Belgian soil.

Military experts believe it will require the remainder of the week for the concentration of opposing forces, and that the prospective battle will take place perhaps on Saturday.

Meanwhile there is sharp fighting at many points between detachments of the German advance and the Franco-Belgian defenders. The engagements thus far have been between cavalry in most of the cases, and the results of serious results.

Ten Thousand Strong. As an indication of how the Germans are moving across Belgium comes a report from the country between Tongres and St. Trond. Ten thousand German cavalry, with galling guns, are operating there, and behind the cavalry there is moving an infantry force, the strength of which is unknown. All the despatches telling of German cavalry operations state that infantry follows the horsemen.

TO LET AMERICANS LAND IN BRITAIN

Only Aliens From Countries at War to Be Excluded by Government.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Aug. 12.—It was officially declared here today the only steps taken by the British Government to prevent the landing of foreigners in the British Isles were those provided for by the sections of the Aliens Restriction Act, the object of which was to safeguard the country against aliens from countries with which Great Britain was at war.

This declaration was made after the report had been received here that Secretary of State Bryan had cabled to the American ambassador at London, asking for the names of all American consular officers on the continent that the British Government had issued strict orders forbidding the landing of foreigners on British shores until further notice during the present war crisis.

An order-in-council signed by the King was published in the Gazette on Aug. 5, limiting the entry of aliens to certain ports, so that they could be subjected to examination. This order was not intended in the least to keep out Americans, it was stated, and had no effect on the landing of Americans here. It was pointed out that in a few instances when cases of Americans had been referred to the authorities, the required permission to enter always had been granted.

Winnipeg People Indignant With Dealers for Increases in Foods.

Canadian Press Despatch. WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.—A protest has been registered with the board of control against an advance in the price of oats, which has taken place here, the protesters declaring that Britain would not take any gift of oats that was to make the price higher for the Canadian consumer. A feed agent who had quoted 42 cents a bushel for 10,000 bushels for the city teams, informed the board of the advance in the price had soared to 60 cents and in fact oats had almost gone off the market.

The mayor expressed the opinion that if this thing spreads the government should take over control of the food supply. Advances have been made in sugar, flour, rice and beans, etc.

In British goods 20 per cent. advance is recorded and in French goods the prices are practically doubled.

PITTSBURG SLAVS TO COLLECT FUNDS

Will Raise Fifty Thousand Dollars to Aid Serbs and Russians.

Special to The Toronto World. PITTSBURG, August 12.—With $50,000 said to be sight already in individual contributions from the wealthy Slavs, the collection of a giant fund among Slav exiles of all countries for the use of the Serbian and Russian arms in the European war, is the goal set for itself by the Slav Society of Western Pennsylvania, according to plans learned today.

"The war in Europe, stripped of all its complications, is after all a battle of the Slavs for self-preservation, no matter what flag the Slav may be under," said Boro Tulich, the president of the society today. He added that contributions to the fund started last Saturday have been received from many Slavs who have emigrated to America from Austria-Hungary.

The feeling against Austria among local Slavs has been so high since hostilities began that rioting has been frequent, and one Austrian has been murdered.

How to Destroy the Dandruff Germ

BY A SPECIALIST. That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is well-known fact; but when we realize that it is also indirect responsible for many other diseases as well, we appreciate the importance of any agent that will destroy its cover. We are, therefore, particularly pleased to give herewith the prescription which an eminent scientist states he has found after the most thorough and completely destroy the dandruff germ in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair, and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of partial baldness. This prescription can be

ST. MATTHEWS BEAT THE GRANITES IN DOMINION LAWN BOWLING FINAL

Ontario Trophy Will Be Finished Today and the Toronto Cup Tomorrow—Scotch Doubles Are Under Way.

The Dominion lawn bowlers had another big day on the five Toronto greens yesterday, and the Walker Trophy, the Orr's Granites were the runners-up, and the final furnished a game that held the gallery watching the play until the final end had been recorded. The score returned was fifteen to one and looked good to land the trophy. Walton's rink played strongly throughout and took the last four ends for a total of six. A feature of the play was the splendid performance put up by J. Dorman, the saint's second man. Dorman never laid down a bowl until last year and his playing yesterday was worthy of any final. Yanvalkenburg's Balmly Beach four went under to Walton in the semi-final 14 to 9, while Orr won his way into the final with a victory over Tom Thaburn's Brampton quartette 21 to 14.

The Ontario Trophy competition has reached an advanced stage and will be wound up today, the final being called for 2.30. A winner in the Toronto Cup will be declared tomorrow. NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

AUTOS NEEDED TO COLLECT FOR FUND

Hospital Ship Committee Plan Street Collection for Tomorrow.

OFFERS OF ASSISTANCE

Stores and Offices Requested to Mark Occasion by Decorations.

A meeting was held yesterday morning at 10.30 in the Clinic Room of the General Hospital to continue arrangements for the campaign for the fund to be contributed by the women of Toronto for the hospital ship.

Mrs. Baker was appointed convenor of a committee to make arrangements for the campaign on Friday. Forty ladies, whose names were received at the meeting or previously were appointed as captains of the collecting parties.

Mrs. Cummings was appointed convenor of a committee to secure the services of a qualified and efficient auditor, as well as to interview Chief Graessit regarding leave for automobiles to stand on street corners.

Miss Mary E. Finley was appointed press convenor. Offers of motors for use on Friday were gratefully accepted and it is earnestly asked that those wishing to lend their automobiles either for the whole or part of the day should send in word at once to the central committee rooms, 35 Sun Life Building.

The cars may be decorated at the will of the owner and will each carry a placard. Cars and collectors must be at their appointed stations by 8 a.m. Friday. Small flags, which have kindly been promised by the T. Eaton Company, will be given to every contributor to the fund by the collector.

It was decided to open an expense fund for campaign purposes so that all moneys contributed might go to the ship. Any balance remaining over to go to the general fund.

Many contributions have been sent on which will be acknowledged by Mrs. Bruce in the daily papers. Most generous offers of candies and other assistance have also been received.

Mr. Goldman has placed Room 35, Sun Life Building, at the disposal of the ladies, to be used as a central committee room.

Mr. H. Y. Dineen has given his offices in the C.P.R. Building as well as his own services and those of his staff for the day. The Graduate Nurses' Club, Sherbourne street; Rosary Hall, John and Grange road; Y.W.C.A.'s, McGill street; Women's Art Club, Jarvis street; Women's Century, 303 Lumsden Building, have also been offered for use on Friday, and the King Edward Hotel will set aside two large parlors to be used as rest rooms.

Mrs. Summerhayes, 651 Broadview avenue, will be glad to provide lunch and afternoon tea for the workers in that district, and Mrs. Potheringham, 49 Spencer avenue, has also kindly offered the use of her house.

It is hoped that many other ladies will open their houses to the workers on that day.

Stores and offices are asked to hang out flags and bunting by way of dramatic attention to the day and campaign, and permission is being asked to place placards in prominent corners.

Give Collectors Boxes. Mr. Joseph Kilgour has given 200 boxes, made especially for the occasion, for the purpose of collecting the funds on Hospital Ship Day. A gentleman who does not wish his name known is supplying the ribbon for decorating.

ADVERTISEMENT HOW TO STOP STOMACH TORMENT

Sound Advice From a Well-Known Physician.

Men and women who suffer from what they call dyspepsia, indigestion or just plain "stomach trouble," usually seek regular relief in the form of some pain pill or tablet, or other artificial digestant. This, experience teaches me, is a serious error. In nine cases out of ten, the distress is caused by the development of acids in the stomach—formed by the fermenting of the food. Instead of a digestant being required, something should be taken to dissolve or neutralize this acidity, when normal digestion will follow as a matter of course. This acid matter is distinctly poisonous and unless it is dissolved, digestion merely converts the mass of fermenting food from the stomach to the intestines, where its poison is absorbed by the blood and carried all over the body.

CAN CHANGE FORM OF GIFT.

The central committee of the Canadian Women's Hospital Ship Fund state that the offer of the ship has been accepted by the British admiralty, but that if the British admiralty should prefer to change the form of the gift, the original resolution provides that if the ship is not required during the present war, the money contributed shall be used for naval and military hospital purposes under the direction of the British admiralty, by trustees appointed by the central committee. The kind offer of the Dominion Bank to accept funds for the hospital ship in all their branches has been accepted by the central committee.

PERCY HASWELL WORKING FOR HOSPITAL SHIP FUND.

At a big matinee yesterday Miss Percy Haswell added to her "benefit" fund for the hospital ship by personally offering for sale the candies and photos left from the day previously, and a birthday cake sent by a friend. The birthday cake had a ring, a piece of money and a button hidden away in its make-up. The fortunate winner of the ring-piece got the prize of two extra seats. The sale amounted to $32.40.

DENTAL CLINICS IN HOSPITALS.

A recommendation to the board of control was passed by the board of health yesterday afternoon, recommending that arrangements be made with the Western and General Hospitals to have dental clinics established in their buildings. The authorities at the General Hospital have offered to supply a room and the service, but the city will have to equip it and maintain it.

ONTARIO CABINET MEETS.

What action, if any, the Province of Ontario should take to evidence her whole-hearted support of the empire in the war crisis is now engaging the attention of the cabinet. It is recognized that the offer of the health department to vaccinate the whole Canadian contingent is not small in itself, and Alberta followed that move by volunteering 500,000 bushels of oats. At a cabinet session yesterday the question of further official action came in for discussion, but no decision was reached.

EMERGENCY MEETING.

A special emergency meeting of the Chateaugay Chapter, I.O.O.F., was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Cawthra, Beverley street.

THE NEW HOUSEKEEPING

BY MRS CHRISTINE FREDERICK

The Summer Food Drink

HOT days are not only times to try women's souls, but their appetites as well. How often is heard the cry: "I don't feel like eating!" or "It's just too hot to touch a single thing today!" These walls are most frequently heard from the business girl and those who are in crowded establishments occupied by confining work to whom the heat has brought headache and perhaps a sense of dizziness with a distaste for all solid food.

At such a time it is the worst mistake to eat any food whatever. The body does not need food, even if it is but a small quantity, on hot days, and the only point is to get the food value in such forms that it will be tempting and palatable.

Of course we don't want meat or pastry or fried potatoes. But have you thought of "The Food Beverage"? Fortunately, our commercial soda manufacturers have seen the light on the subject and are helping the public choose such summer food drinks.

There is first, the malted milk group. This may be plain malted milk, which is very nourishing, or malted milk with egg, still more full of food value. There is the chocolate malted milk or chocolate egg malted milk, which is in itself quite a meal. Taken not too cold and flavored with nutmeg, such a beverage gives, in the most attractive form, a large quantity of food nutriment.

Then there is the buttermilk group, which includes also the many other sour milk drinks being offered under various trade names. It may be a myth that one can live to be a hundred years old on sour milk alone, but it is certainly scientifically proved that sour milk is an excellent stomachic, and that in hot weather it is unexcelled for supplying food qualities without bulk and without heat. A glass of buttermilk contains not only the fat of the milk but the protein or meat substitute, and also lactic acid, which acts as a tonic and refreshment to a stomach which is a little out of the running, so to speak.

The other sour milk drinks have the same qualities and as they are somewhat predigested offer the least possible tax on the digestive system.

Last, there is the fruit juice group, in the front rank of which is but much jockeyed about grape juice, which contains a very large amount of sugar (a complete food in itself) and also a quantity of fruit salts which are very cleansing and cooling. Lemonade alone is not satisfying enough, but lemon milk shake or lemon flavored eggnog combines the tonic of the lemon with the solidity of milk. Any other egg and fruit combination is good, provided it is not taken too cold or swallowed too rapidly—cautions which cannot be emphasized too strongly in regard to all summer beverages.

Any of the above drinks taken with a brown bread sandwich or crackers or a cheese snack will be just enough for the hot day's lunch, and will keep the worker refreshed and at the same time nourished, and be better than unsatisfying and even dangerous meals of other kinds.

THE DARTON NURSERY

A CONDUCTED BY Elvira Darton

How to Treat Darrhoea

In treating diarrhoea the most important thing is to stop giving milk to the baby. Milk makes the bacteria in the intestines to multiply, increasing the fever and simply adding fuel to the fire. Only boiled water or barley water, rice water or wheat-flour gruel should be given for at least twenty-four hours and for several days after the attack is severe.

Some mothers, have continued the use of a little milk or cream in the baby's food, thinking that they were simply supplying the baby's strength by means of this extra nourishment. Don't do it. Stop the milk at once, and by so doing you give the baby a chance to clear his system of the poisonous toxins.

Even if the baby is being nursed it is best to stop milk feedings for a time, substituting water or gruels. In simple cases, the mother can do all this herself, and at the end of twenty-four hours will find her baby safely on the road to recovery. If, however, baby is not better by this time, your doctor should be called. Believe in every mother keeping a chart during baby's illness. Just a jotting down of notes as to baby's food, temperature, movements, sleep and so on, so that when the doctor is called, the worried mother need not trust her memory when giving him this important information.

Sponge baths with a teaspoonful of soda in a basin of slightly warm water will help to make the baby more comfortable and help to reduce the fever. I have already mentioned the necessity for keeping the baby as cool as possible. Put him outdoors early in the morning when it is cool; but for the rest of the day he is better indoors out of the sun. If he is well enough for a car or boat ride on a pleasant day, the fresh air and change will be of great benefit.

When the diarrhoea is checked mutton or chicken broth may be added to the gruels—at first only one ounce to four or five ounces of gruel. Then gradually worked up to equal parts. When the movements become thicker and more normal in character, milk may be added to the gruels. Begin with a tablespoonful to each feeding of gruel and little by little increase the amount until the regular formula is reached.

The breast-fed baby may be given two or three ounces of gruel and then water to nurse for five minutes. The next day give less gruel and more water, and so on until he is gradually worked back to breast feedings.

For Freckled, Tanned, Red or Wrinkled Skin

Just beneath that freckled, tanned or reddened complexion there's an exquisitely beautiful skin, you're just not seeing it. If you could only bring this skin to the surface, discarding the discoloration. You can—in the easiest, simplest, most natural manner imaginable. Just get, at any drug store, an ounce of ordinary cream, removing it nightly like cold cream, removing it mornings with warm water. The wax assists Nature by gradually getting rid of the lingering particles of scorched and half-dead surface skin, causing no discomfort whatever. Cutaneous defects like pimples, blotches, liver spots, patches, freckles, or course disappear with the old skin. Nothing else will accomplish such wonderful results in so short a time. Fine lines and even deeper wrinkles often appear at this season. In such cases nothing is better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxite in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. This is remarkably effective.

DECLARE KAISER CAUSED THE WAR

Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist Editors Deal With Present Struggle.

War editorials in the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist weekly papers deal with the European conflict in a tone of deep thoughtfulness, and with an eye to the future.

Under the heading, "The Hope of Peace," the Presbyterian says: "For the general congregation in which almost the whole of Europe is involved, the chief responsibility is placed, with justice, on the Emperor of Germany." In looking toward the future the Presbyterian says:

"In the free nations like Britain and the United States, and among the plain people, the desire and determination to find a way of escape from war and armaments has grown rapidly. The despotisms built on military force and brotherhood, are strong in military tradition, are hard to move. But even in Germany and Russia the forces of democracy, which stand for peace and brotherhood, are strong in the future. The representatives of labor in every land are united in their opposition to war. It may please God, who often chooses weak things to confound the mighty, by such as these to save the world."

The Christian Guardian says: "To say that the prospect of such a war has shocked and stunned the world is only to put it very mildly. We did not deem it possible. For years we had all been saying that another great war among the leaders of the Christian nations could not possibly occur. The problem of the peace advocates seemed to be narrowing down to the task of finding a way of keeping petty states from flying at each other to their own destruction. But this horrible eventuality has shown us that our thoughts and hopes had moved faster than the facts. And it has proved to be the worst, too, that this method of keeping peace in the world by keeping every nation armed to the teeth does not work out right. Praying for peace while all the time preparing for war is not a good way to help answer our prayers."

The Canadian Baptist says: "We cannot rid ourselves at any time of the fact of the war. The mobilization of forces in our midst; the going forth of young men from our own and our neighbors' homes; the hourly shouting of professedly important news from the front; the practical admission by the imperial authorities that the integrity of empire is threatened and that the struggle is in the

"Courage, Comrades All, The Devil Is Dead!"

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

I've been reading an old book—such a quaint old book—all about knights and ladies and men at arms and honest burghers, and fair maids and lovers true.

And there's a hero in the book—rather a rambly, ramby, lady-like person, to my way of thinking, and a heroine true and least—somewhat put upon by her parents and by her sweetheart, too, for the matter of that. And there's a villain in the book, and the villain's henchmen, all desperate rascals, who would as soon slit a weasand, whatever that may be, as look at you. And there's a dwarf with a booming voice and a great head set upon his short neck. And there are witches and ghosts, and battlement and donjon keeps and moats and palisades—and all manner of interesting things.

But the man I like best in all the book is neither a hero nor a villain—but just a plain, rough, common soldier, with his crossbow strung upon his shoulder, making his way through the world with a good heart and a light step for his only company.

When the fight is the thickest and everything is going the wrong way—enter my soldier—with his one motto on his bearded lips. And all at once the tide turns, the hero rallies, the heroine comes out of her swoon, the villain runs, the sun shines and all is for the moment well again.

Killed by Courage.

"Courage, my good comrade—the devil is dead." How many times did you cry out your battle song, oh, Denis of Burgundy, and where learned you that catch? I would I knew the rest of it—it must have been worth the singing.

I'm going to remember just the little snatch you sang above the tumult and the shouting of the battle: "Courage, my comrade—the devil is dead." And when my heart is sad and all the world has turned to gray, I'm going to say it to my doubting soul.

"Courage, my comrade, the devil is dead." And he will die then and there, the devil of despair and of doubt and discouragement—and who shall sing so gallantly at his burial as you and I, good Denis.

You, little woman with the brood at your skirts—the world is sometimes a hard and puzzling place for you. People are not always kind, they do not always seem to think—that is just because they do not understand. If they did they would be different. But you—you understand. Every one who has suffered deeply comes thus to understand.

Courage, little woman—the devil is dead, and you, with your bright face and your eyes of courage, shall sing at his funeral. Nay, you may even put a wreath upon his grave, if that is your whim and your disposition—but he's dead, never fear, he died when your heart began to sing.

Oh, you there in the crowded street—upon with the anxious face and the searching eyes—listen to what Denis of Burgundy, he who was so many times hungry and footsore and made his bed upon a wisp of straw, has to tell you:

"Courage, my comrade—the devil is dead." To the old pal who asked you to drink with him—when he knew and you knew what that first drink would mean to you and yours.

Well, you had the nerve, didn't you, and you used it—and then and there—for you—the devil died.

Let's Bury Him.

What are you doing in this company, little girl with your soft eyes and those rings of frosty hair—what that Cupid's bow of a mouth of yours? What do you know of death—the devil?

You have fought your battles down there in the busy town—and you fought on the right side, and you think you have lost and you are alone and you would like to dance with the others. To be sure, I hadn't noticed how worn your little shoes are—and that hat you wear—it never came from Paris. Those ribbons that trim it have been washed and ironed more than once—brave ribbons, the livery of a pure and noble soul. Come, Denis—hats off in the presence of the Nobility.

Courage, little comrade—courage; for you the devil is dead. You killed him when you smiled and answered no—at the right time.

Hola, boy, you with the heart so full of hope and the soul aflutter with ambition! What—it worries you—already—the fight?

You don't believe you can ever win it, there are so many, the crowd is so great, nobody knows you are alive—what talk is this? Where have you been learning such a song as that; come, come, lad, go to Denis of Burgundy and learn his stave:

"Courage, my comrade—the devil is dead." Sing it in the market place and your heart will sing with it, for, to you, the devil is dead—dead and gone.

Come, let's bury him with pomp and ceremony—the devil of self-indulgence, the devil of greed, the devil of "easy money," the devil of the "soft snap."

Courage, comrades all, old and young, weary and rested, timid and unafraid—all together now, let's sing with Denis of Burgundy:

"Courage—the devil is dead." And so eyes right, heads up, shoulders back, hearts light—let's help to bury him—together.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a young girl just out of school a year and working. Last year I kept company with a young man who was attending school here. We thought a great deal of each other, but one night I went to the theatre with another young man, and he was frightfully jealous, but we made up, and when he left for his home we traded sorority and fraternity pins. He wrote faithfully for about nine months, then he decided he had been foolish, and I haven't heard from him since, which is about three months ago.

Now I want my pin, and want to return it, and what I want to know is how to write the letter to him? I still think lots of him, and don't want him to think I want the pin for some other young man, as I am keeping company with no one. How shall I word the letter? C. B. D.

WHY do you bother about the pin? You've done without it for almost a year, can't you do without it a while longer? Don't write to him for it, and don't worry.

If you must communicate with the young man and don't want his pin around, send it back to him in a box with your address plainly marked on it. It's the right sort of chap he'll be the decent thing and send your pin back—if he hasn't lost it by this time. "The heavens won't fall if he has."

Forget all about him, little girl, that's the best way. Some time you'll laugh about the whole affair.

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care of this office.

Domestic Harmony. The minister—Do you play any instrument? Sandy (sadly)—Aye, second fiddle, at home!

HERE'S THE "PAVLOVA GAVOTTE"

Anne Herndon and Ainsley Lambert, Protegees of Madame Pavlova, Dancing the Pavlova Gavotte.

Latest Step Refers Dance Craze Back to Olden Days

By HELEN STARR

THE present day gavotte differs greatly from the original. Kissing and merry-making were no small part of the first peasant gavotte as it was danced by that class of French people who lived in the upper hills of Dauphine and were known as the "Gavots." Instead of shuffling the feet, as in older dances, they made the gavotte distinctive by raising the feet clear of the ground.

Courtesans and noble ladies adopted the dance in the 18th century and made it quite as formal as the minuet. And now we have the Pavlova gavotte, performed with a willowy grace, quite in contrast to the tense and fiery steps of the late Spanish dances. Anne Herndon, a protegee of Pavlova, and her partner, Ainsley Lambert, illustrate one of the steps in this newest gavotte.

Pavlova herself says there are six moods revealed by modern dancing. Here they are: first, joy and unconfined gaiety; second, languorous dances of luxurious contentment; third, the formal dances of courtly grace and dignity; fourth, those of amorous passion; fifth, the story telling dances or pantomimes, and sixth, the dances which aim to accomplish acrobatic or gymnastic feats.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with interest.

No. 147.

Mrs. Penfield's Wrinkles. I HAVE spoken considerably of my mother-in-law's attitude toward advancing years. As the days went by Mrs. Penfield's folly in this direction grew more pronounced. I could not help contrasting her attitude with that of my own mother. Mother's hair is snow-white, and if she is wrinkled, she has wrinkled so pleasantly—smile furrows, Dad calls them—that you never, somehow, notice it. Mrs. Penfield's wrinkles are of a different sort. The worst of them come from her indignation in ignoring her need for glasses.

Mother-in-law, whose manner grows more youthful day by day, it was said daily some in upon me with new force what a gift it is to grow old gracefully. For, to grow old gracefully—paradoxical as it may sound—is the best way to hang on to the vanishing remnant of one's youth.

What more conspicuous way of exaggerating one's age is there than by affecting an inconsistent youthfulness? It instantly calls attention to the ravages of time. But cheerfulness and a smile and a wholesome, unaffected manner, somehow, make you forget that Time has been busy with his silvering hair brush, and the cruel needle with which he relentlessly etches his name upon the face of his children.

I remember after dinner that night there was some necessity for telephoning. Now Mrs. Penfield is entirely too proud to ask anybody to look up a number for her since her eyesight began to fail, wherefore she seized the book and began turning over the pages with an airy sprightliness that I fancied sprang from some discomfort of mind. I knew well enough the mental process back of it. If she asked some one to look up the number for her it would instantly reveal the fact that she could not see the numbers herself. On the other hand, if she looked the number up—or tried to—she would be obliged to squint in a tell-tale way or call for assistance. I watched her therefore with a plying interest. For, after all, that tragic struggle of a woman for youth is pathetic in the extreme.

Mrs. Penfield walked away with the telephone book, and I saw her with the book very close to her eyes, studying it intently. She narrowed her eyes in the familiar squint I have come to know, for already it has made its tell-tale mark upon her face in many wrinkles. But try as my foolish mother-in-law would, she could not see the number or read it, and I saw Mr. Penfield watching her. "Let me look up your number, my dear," said he, and frankly drew forth a very businesslike looking pair of spectacles, adjusted them across his nose, and found the number in a second. No shunting age facts there. With masculine directness he had faced his need of glasses months before, and with decent brassiness had recourse to them whenever it was necessary.

"Why, dear me," said Mrs. Penfield, opening her eyes very wide with reproach, "you didn't need to do that, dear. You had to get out your glasses and put them on, and go to all that trouble, and I would have had the number in just a second or so more. The light was a little poor. I've noticed our electric lights are not quite so good as they might be, though, dear me, the bill's high enough. Mrs. Jarvis was telling me just yesterday—"

And with a nervous vivacity Mrs. Penfield rambled away from the dangerous topic of reading print when your eyes are feeling the strain of a half a century. And who was deceived? Neither Mr. Penfield nor Mrs. Penfield, for I know at times her mother's attitude toward glasses worries her a little—and certainly not I.

A witty woman is such salt that, where she has once been tasted, she must be a blunderer to be missed more than she is of the dowering heavens not having yet showered her like very plentifully upon us.—George Meredith.

Against An opinion formed by a woman is inflexible; the fact is not half so stubborn.—George Meredith.

Men should keep their eyes wide open before marriage, and half shut afterward.—Mrs. Scudder.

It is women's way. They always love color better than form, rhetoric better than logic, priestcraft better than philosophy, and flourishes better than figures. It has been said scores of times before I said it.—Ouida.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why Some Children Actually Feed on Dirt

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

WHEN a fond mother asked recently why her 2-year-old prodigy persisted in eating dirt, it recalled the story of Pat Rooney. Pat had been to the fair and was driving home, when a great downpour came over him. He lay down in the cart and fell asleep. The horse with his equine sense soon recognized the situation, kicked over the traces and ran away.

When Pat awoke he found no horse. He pondered the situation and as a stranger approached he asked:

"Am I Pat Rooney or am I not?"

"O'm shure I dunno," answered the stranger.

"Well," said Pat, "if O'm not Pat Rooney O've lost a horse, and if O'm not O've found a cart."

This story is peculiarly applicable to infants who go into the garden to eat dirt and woolly worms. If they eat the dirt, they are short on certain necessary ration; if they wish for dirt, they may have found their needed food.

Children who approach the age of 2, especially as the wicked milk months of July, August and September wane, become veritable cannibals, if not gluttons.

Their epicurean tissues crave minerals, oils, sugars, starches, fats and proteins in variegated mixtures. If, as is often true, the discreet parent has erred not wisely, but too well, and has deprived the child of pretty much everything in the way of vitamins but milk, the appetite of the youngster will catapult it into the backyard, there to devour forbidden pabulum.

This bizarre habit is by no manner of means limited to young children. Older ones, as well as grown-ups, often continue this abominable business throughout a sickly life.

Sad to tell, dirt-eating is not always what it's cracked up to be. That is to say, there often lurk dangers in the soil that are transplanted into the tissues of the infant or child.

The hookworm, that destructive destroyer of the South, often fastens its tentacles upon those victims who eat dirt. The eggs and larvae of the hookworm, as well as of tapeworms, roundworms and other lesser gentry of the parasitic world are ever present in the ground of certain districts. Once these enter the alimentary tube, there they linger to torment and harass the health from the sufferer's body.

The commonly accepted explanation of dirt-eating, as prevalent among the anemic, the sickly and the debilitated, is the starvation. It is the starvation which leads to this filthy habit, which is responsible for it.

In other words, the lack of food and the wormy eggs ingested dirt cause the sickness, and it is not the sickness which causes the cannibalistic trait.

If children are given candies, carrots,

Simple Freckle Remedies and Summer Tan Removers

LUCREZIA BORI

FRECKLES lurk in every beam of sunshine. The warmth of the summer sun stimulates the cells that form the coloring matter of your skin and result in the formation of freckles and tan. Perhaps the particles of coloring matter in your skin distribute themselves evenly over your face. If so you are subject to tan. In the case of your sister this coloring matter may collect in little groups or freckles.

Three Minute Journeys WHERE MEN PRAY WITH WHEELS

By TEMPLE MANNING

THE strangest labor-saving device I have ever seen I beheld for the first time on the busy streets of a city in northern China. Coming out of the bazaar district I turned a corner and brushed against a man leaning against the wall.

He was praying, but his lips were not moving. In his hand he held a prayer wheel, and every once in a while he would give it a turn, which caused it to revolve rapidly to the sound of a small bell that tinkled above the street noises. And while he prayed by proxy he stared at the strange sights about him with open mouth.

Everything was new to him in this crowded city, and he was feasting his eyes on the brightly-colored clothes of the passers-by, the ornamented harnesses of the prancing horses and all the wonderful things his poverty would not permit him to buy. But, while he delighted his eyes he did not forget to pray, and so he stood there and spun his wheel as he saw the sights. From far off Tibet he had brought it, praying his way down the road.

JOHN, N.B., August 12.—The steamer Chignecto, Royal Mail Steam Packet Line, arrived in port today from the West Indies and reports that on Monday about three o'clock thick fog which had enveloped her lifted long enough to show a vessel some distance away. The fog then closed again and shut out all objects. Out of a sudden a cannon shot came from the British cruiser Essex, which was wanted to learn her name and business. She was allowed to proceed at once. The captain of the Chignecto declined to say where his ship was when the Essex stopped her.
