Swat the Fly!

FLIES Breed in garbage and filth and carry disease wherever they go, depositing it on everything they touch. The more flies, the greater the menace and danger to human life. Flies lay eggs by the hundreds. One female fly lays 120 eggs. Suppose these all become flies, and half are females, which in turn breed at the rate of about every twenty days, we would, according to scientific figuring have 25,920,000 flies at the end of five months. Think of the huge breeding increase you prevent every time you swat a fly. They'll soon be here in multitudes, so it behooves everyone to get in a stock of swatters. A very cleverly devised swatter is the one illustrated, for it kills without crushing. It has felt bound edges, and does not break glass or scratch or soil furniture or the most delicate fabric. Price, each .10. ---At the 10c Counter, Basement.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

In a naval engagement fought off the coast of Jutland in hazy weather on Wednesday afternoon, the British fleet suffered serious losses. The British vessels destroyed included the following: Three battle cruisers, Queen Mary, Indefatigable and Invincible, the salmies of the latest fighting design; two armored cruisers (old type), the Defence and Black Prince, sister ships of the Hague, Aboukir and Cressy, sunk by a German submarine early in the war, and eight torpedo-boat destroyers. The armored cruiser Warrior was disabled and had to be abandoned by her crew. The German losses, the British admiralty claims, were also serious. It is claimed that one German dreadnought battleship of the Kaiser class was blown up in an attack by British destroyers; that another dreadnought battleship of the Kaiser class is believed sunk by gunfire; of three German battle cruisers, two believed to be the Derfflinger and the Lutzow, one was blown up, another was seen to be disabled and a third was seriously disabled; one German light cruiser was sunk and six German destroyers shared the same fate. Two more light German cruisers were disabled. A German submarine was sunk. Three other German battleships were repeatedly hit. The Germans admit the destruction of the second-class battleship Pommern, the scout cruiser Wiesbaden, and some destroyers are reported missing, as well as the small cruiser Frauenlob.

The British lost 14 war vessels in all, and they claim that the Germans lost at least 10 and probably 13. In all the Germans may have lost as many units as the British. The most serious losses on the British part were the three battle cruisers. Against these may be set the serious losses of the enemy in one and probably two dreadnoughts and one and probably two battle cruisers. The Germans recently claimed that the main British fleet was twice as strong as their own in capital ships, so one capital ship is worth to Germany as much as two capital ships to Britain. Germany can lose ships for ships, and in the end Britain will have a fleet and Britain can lose ships for ships, and in the end Britain will have a fleet and Britain can lose ships for ships, and in the end Britain will have a fleet.

It was the main German battle fleet, called the high sea fleet, that was engaged for the German Admiralty says: "The high sea fleet returned today (Thursday) into port." In that case the battle probably developed from an attempt of the German navy to break the blockade. The enemy chose the coast of Jutland as the point for attempting to break the British naval line. Jutland is the farthest point from the British naval base, somewhere in the north of Scotland, it would, therefore, take several hours, perhaps eight or ten, for the grand fleet to get to the scene of fighting, and if the German fleet could hope to break the cordon before the British main fleet came up, it might take a run over to the coast to encourage elements. The enemy would first be engaged by scout cruisers and destroyers, then would come up the fleet battle cruisers together with the battleship cruisers of the Queen Elizabeth class. The British Admiralty reports that the British ships on which the brunt of the fighting fell were the battle cruiser fleet, some cruisers and light cruisers, supported by four fast battleships. The fast battleships are the vessels of the Queen Elizabeth class which do 23 knots an hour.

The loss of the Queen Mary, Indefatigable and Invincible is a serious loss, but it does not deprive Britain of the command of the sea. That command depends upon the grand fleet, which numbers up to 40 or 45 ships of the dreadnought class. The Germans have, or had, if all their naval units under construction when the war began are completed, about twenty dreadnoughts, from which must be subtracted certain losses which the Germans have refused to admit, but which have since been substantiated. In battleship cruisers, corresponding to the Queen Mary class, the Germans had seven built or building. Of these the Goeben is imputed to the Sea of Marmora, off Constantinople, the Von der Tann was probably sunk a year ago, leaving five known units remaining before the present battle.

French and Germans fought each other with violence on the front between Yaux Pond and Damour Village north of Verdun yesterday. This fighting was an extension of the engagement which prevailed all day Thursday, all Thursday night and yesterday morning on the front between the Thiamont Farm and Yaux. The chief efforts of the enemy were directed to the capture of Yaux Pond, and here the French prevented him from advancing by violent counter-attacks. The losses on both sides were heavy.

LEACOCK DEALS WITH ECONOMICS

Noted Canadian Author Addresses Ontario Medical Association.

AT CLOSING MEETING

Declares the End of the War Will See Great Poverty.

Last night the Ontario Medical Association closed its thirty-sixth annual meeting with an address on the economic problem presented by the treatment and disposition of returned soldiers, by Stephen Leacock, the noted Canadian author and professor of economics at McGill University. Just as the gathering together of the huge armies was a task almost beyond belief, so would the strain upon our economic machinery and of many of these armies at the declaration of peace be stupendous. The government had, he thought, done marvelously well in the problems now before it. Public opinion, however, should stand and direct the government, and a sound, wholesome public opinion on the matter should be created. No thought had been given the economic organization for war, not even by the Germans. Nine-tenths of the production of Canada at present was neither here nor there, as far as war was concerned. "What are and must be the economics after war?" he asked, and then said that war set men to regard wealth that had been gathered together with great pains. The statement and belief of many that war brought prosperity was absolute fallacy, the feeling that England would be faced with dire poverty shortly after the declaration of war had not been borne out in fact, as war was properly greater and employment more easily obtainable.

Great Poverty to Come. However apprehensive of the future, good times were here at present. War would leave no educated prosperity, and just as the war was colossal, so too must be the poverty that would come after it. The future of Europe would be worse than that of Canada. Canada would be an influx of people would be followed by a mass of the States for the development of our vast and almost untouched natural resources. The problem of the partially disabled was one that would have to be fought and wrangled about. The most serious problem, however, was that of the return of the disabled armies. Many of them would be unable to return to the dull narrow life of the lower middle class, but after the taste of the open air and sunshine would demand, and almost demand, their just heritage. In Canada at least the opportunity would be given to the disabled soldier, but other soldiers also that would have to be looked after, and this was a matter that would require the co-ordination of the whole empire. The fact that the disabled must look after everyone else. After the war the fact that the disabled must look after everyone else. After the war the fact that the disabled must look after everyone else.

The following officers were elected: President, Dr. A. Dalton Smith; Vice-President, Dr. C. L. Starr; Secretary, Dr. F. A. Clarkson; Treasurer, Dr. H. J. Hamilton; and Dr. G. S. Cameron, Peterborough; Dr. F. C. Neal, Peterboro.

During the progress of the terrific thunderstorm which passed over the city and county last night a house near Milliken's was struck by lightning and one of the occupants was badly shocked by the electric current. In several parts of the county barns were reported as struck, but not ignited. The rainfall was the heaviest of the season for the time it lasted, and all the rivers and streams in the county were again running high.

World yesterday that between that town and Sutton great stretches of land have never been sowed and were in many places covered with water. Mr. Gould, one of the assessors for York Township, said a very large acreage was yet unsowed, he himself having two acres which could not be sown. The land is reported as growing up with weeds and brush, and in many places, and on the industrial Jail Farm at Lakeshore, up Yonge street, so was the land that one of the cows was mired, requiring

The Catholics of Toronto Are Asked to Raise $250,000 in 3 Days for St. Augustine's Seminary

An urgent call for real sacrifice is being made to every Catholic in Toronto. A fund of a quarter of a million dollars must be raised within three days—June 6, 7, 8—for the development and completion of St. Augustine's Seminary. There is not a Catholic in Toronto who fails to recognize the supreme importance to the Church of the work that this institution is carrying on. Real sacrifice is required. Knowing the vital and urgent nature of the need, the Committee of Laymen who have undertaken the collection of this fund feel assured that every Catholic will show more than usual generosity and carry the amount well beyond the sum aimed at.

The Work of the Seminary A Laymen's Movement Made on the Laymen's Initiative

There is one big outstanding need of the Church to-day. The welfare of the Church and Catholics is meeting a severe handicap in the lack of priests. Even in old settled districts such as the Diocese of Toronto it has been necessary hitherto to have educated elsewhere the priests who are to minister to our spiritual needs. St. Augustine's Seminary is an institution for the training of young men for the priesthood. Under the presidency of Mgr. Kidd, and with a staff of the ablest educationists and teachers obtainable, it gives, in its six years' course, a training that promises to the Catholic Church a regular supply of zealous and cultured priests. Above all, St. Augustine's provides priests who have a definitely Canadian outlook, who can understand the problems that face the Canadian West, who can keep within the fold of the Church the thousands of European immigrants that yearly come to this country.

The Urgency of the Present Need

Through the splendid generosity of the late Mr. Eugene O'Keefe, land was acquired on the Kingston Road and buildings erected at the cost of half a million dollars. The equipment of lecture rooms, chapel, dining room, kitchen, etc., was large enough for 300 students. However, residence for only 90 was provided in the main building, so that it becomes immediately necessary to erect a new wing for additional residence. The fund now being raised will be devoted entirely to the erection of this new residence wing, to the purchase of additional land, rounding off the grounds to the waterfront, and to cover floating indebtedness.

Those Tending False Birth and Marriage Notices Should Be Punished.

The Canadian Press Association resumed its session at the Central Technical School yesterday. It was unanimously decided by the daily paper section that this association seek legislation that would make it a criminal offence to tender for publication false birth, marriage, engagement notices, or other similar advertisements.

It was suggested by Wm Findlay of The Ottawa Free Press that the new advertising committee should consider the forming of a bureau where all medical notices could be sent, so that the columns of the paper should be clean.

Weekly Subscriptions. The Cornwall Freeholder addressed the weekly section on the best way of increasing circulation. The subscription price for weeklies was a subject for much discussion, practically all members taking part.

Mr. Rowe of Montreal, Man., who is in charge of the "Canadian" paper, "Canadian Canada," while he is at the front, gave the members of the weekly section some progressive ideas regarding circulation and subscriptions. Before business was begun in the afternoon the members were shown through the technical school, under the guidance of the principal, Dr. C. McKay, who explained the work undertaken by the various departments. He also delivered a short address on "Technical Education when all were met again in the assembly hall."

The retiring president, W. E. Smallfield, introduced to the gathering the newly-elected president, J. G. Elliott of the Kingston Whig, who spoke briefly and closed the meeting.

Today, at two o'clock, about 175 members and their wives leave Toronto by special C.P.R. train for a five-day trip to Fort Arthur and Fort William. They embark on a C.P.R. boat at Fort McMurray, and will spend a day and a half in the Twin Cities, and five hours at Fort St. James, and five hours at Fort Chipewyan, and five hours at Fort Resolution.

The following resolutions were adopted: "That the Dominion Government be memorialized to place on the free list of the customs tariff parts of presses, whenever the presses are exempt."

"That the association, on the eve of the anniversary of the birth of His Most Gracious Majesty King George V, desires to reaffirm its devotion and loyalty to the crown, and to assure him of our unwavering adherence to the righteousness of the cause for which the British Empire and its allies are fighting. The conflict must go on with spirit and determination, in the belief that right must finally triumph."

"The association applauds the gallant action of some thirty members in rendering their services with the Canadian expeditionary forces."

"The introduction of 'editorial night' on the program of the annual meeting is thoroughly endorsed, and a continuance of it is recommended."

"It is recommended that thanks be tendered to the speakers of Thursday night who reflected in an admirable way the worthy features of the editorial side of the newspaper."

STINGING NEURALGIA

The Trouble Due to Nerves Starved for Lack of Good Blood.

An eminent medical writer has said that "neuralgia is the cry of starved nerves for better blood." The one great symptom of this trouble is pain, sharp, stabbing pain, that almost drives the sufferer frantic. The one cause is poor blood; the only cure is to enrich the blood through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

STREET RAILWAY WILL MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Doctor Hastings Assured of This by General Manager Fleming.

General Manager Fleming of the Toronto Street Railway Company, and Dr. Hastings, medical officer of health, have had a consultation which has resulted in the former making assurance that any improvement necessary to the street cars will be made. In view of this the doctor is of the opinion that there is no need of laying a bill of indictment against the company.

An inspection of the cars will be made probably today, when Dr. Hastings will issue a list of regulations regarding the condition in which the cars must be kept. When asked whether he had received Mayor Church's letter asking him to summons the Street Railway to the police court, Hastings said: "I am acting under the provisions of the Public Health Act, and if Mr. Fleming does what is required of him there will be no need to take action."

CITY HALL NOTES

The assessment commissioner has received three hundred and twenty-four appeals against the assessment in Ward One. This is an increase of twenty-seven over the number received last year.

The street railway earnings for last month totalled $500,815, or $31,862 in excess of the corresponding month last year. The city's share of this sum is $100,103, or $6,818 more than May, 1915, 1914, $54,468 was earned, of which $106,892 went to the city, and in the same month of 1913 the returns showed $510,769, and the percentage was 102.15.

A number of changes have been made in the Humber boulevard drive plan, which will be submitted to the city council by Parks Commissioner Chambers. Instead of crossing the Humber River the roadway will be constructed along the east side of the river, and Jane street will be widened to 76 feet from the Lake Shore road and if Mr. Fleming does what is required of him there will be no need to take action."

Body Believed to Be That of Mrs. Fleming Found Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday the Don River revealed a tragedy when it gave up the body of a woman, believed to be that of Mrs. Fleming, who lived in the neighborhood some time ago. The body was found floating in the river south of the Front street bridge, opposite the Sunlight Soap Works, by a pedestrian. There was nothing on it by which it might be identified. From all appearances the body had been in the water a long time.

EPIDEMIC OF MEASLES DURING MONTH OF MAY

Cases and Deaths From Communicable Diseases Reported to Provincial Board.

Cases and deaths from communicable diseases reported to the provincial board of health by the local boards of health for the month of May, 1916, are:

Table showing epidemic of measles during month of May 1916. Columns: Disease, Cases, Deaths. Rows: Smallpox, Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, Measles, Whooping Cough, Typhoid Fever, Tuberculosis, Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis.

The epidemic of measles shows but slight abatement as compared with April last, but the total number of cases and deaths from all the communicable diseases shows a decided reduction, as may be seen by the above table.

Physician Says Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate Folk 500 Per Cent. in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

NEW YORK, N.Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a well-known specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue, and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like iron through a mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down, and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are sleepy and tired all day; some are fussy and irritable; some skinny and some stout; some are nervous and some are not. In such cases it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your feeble vitality for the moment, may be at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk

Astonishing Power of Iron To Give Strength to Broken Down Nervous People

Without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the time doubt, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good, sound, healthy iron on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of iron, iron like dextrose of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated, and for that reason were not so good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE.—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength in any case, or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in one month. It is dispensed in this city by Dr. Timbony, Limited, and all other druggists.

A VOLUNTEER CHEF

An inexhaustible supply of ammunition and other supplies. It would be an act of stupendous criminality, he declared, to leave the fighting men with any possible shortage.

A curious confirmation comes at the same time from Paris of Mr. Henderson's statement. Premier Briand has been attacked, and he has accepted the challenge of some of the critics to have a secret session of the chamber of deputies.

The whole world is astonished now, and the effect of this naval defeat on neutrals and others will be bad. All the more reason for the army to make the preparations which are going on for the crucial struggle which is evidently anticipated.

The war is likely to be followed by great industrial activity in all the manufacturing nations of Europe, and our manufacturers will be up against the most severe competition in their history.

END OF FUSE INQUIRY BELIEVED TO BE NEAR

Member of So-Called Bennett "Ring" Will Testify Next Tuesday. MISS EDWARDS' STORY. Col. Allison's Secretary Explains Why Money Was Paid Her.

OTTAWA, June 2.—The Meredith-Duff Commission ran out of the witnesses this morning and adjourned until Monday morning. Sir William Meredith announced that the commission would finish its work next week even if it had to hold night sessions.

A new and unexpected witness will be heard Tuesday. Sir William Meredith has been connected with the Bennett case, and he is expected to testify against the shell company's operations.

Miss Edwards explained she had been Col. Allison's secretary since she reached the age of 18. She is now 28. Miss Edwards said that the order for $105,000 was paid her for past services and to provide for her as a member of the family.

As for Col. Allison, he said that $20,000 was paid him for services rendered Col. Allison in Europe. They were engaged with his firm were not together. He thought he was entitled to $40,000, but they compromised on $30,000. He had no interest in the shell company, and never heard of it until months after it was consummated.

Censure do not always discriminate. An incident recalled by The Varvarets recently would seem to indicate that one aims occasionally at the humorous, as well as the dramatic effect. The occasion was the retirement of Count Berchtold, the Austro-Hungarian minister for foreign affairs, an event that prompted an Austrian contemporary to reflect on what the thoughts of a minister must be at such a juncture.

"What," it wrote, "must have been passing in his head? We will show." And then there followed a large blank space.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 2.—H. N. Saxton, an exporter of this city, who read a short time ago an account of the sinking of the Erin, Sir Thomas Lipson's yacht, and who is a personal friend of Sir Thomas, called his sympathy to him.

My dear Saxton.—Very many thanks for your kind cable expressing sympathy in the loss of my dear old ship, the Erin, and who is a personal friend of Sir Thomas, called his sympathy to him.

According to the report, "the British armed yacht, Agnes (Erin) surprised an enemy submarine and with three shots captured and sank her." It also noticed there was an account of the loss of the Erin in Saturday's London Daily Telegraph, showing from the special correspondent at Malta, stating: "It appears the Naturium was first struck at about 10 p.m. and was slowly sinking when the Agnes (Erin) came to her rescue."

You might kindly let some of my friends know how the Erin spent her last days, as I am sure it will interest them. I hope this will find you in the very best of health and with best wishes for your kind message, and with best wishes.

Yours sincerely, Thomas Lipton.

NATIONAL COMMISSION RULES ON FORT WAYNE

Club Cannot Be Deprived of Rights Without Chance to Submit Defence.

CINCINNATI, O., June 1.—The national baseball commission today reversed a ruling of the national board on the latter's declaration that the Fort Wayne Club of the Central League had automatically forfeited its franchise.

In accordance with this ruling the commission held that the purchase agreements under which the Ft. Wayne Club released players Crane and McCloskey to Terre Haute for $100 and $100, respectively, players Brubaker and Hart to Springfield, O., for $100 each, and player Bevers to Marshalltown for $100 are all legal and enforceable, provided that all the conditions have been complied with.

In deciding this case the commission held that a club cannot be deprived of its national agreement rights and privileges until it has had full opportunity to submit a defence in proper proceedings.

The commission also promulgated a finding awarding player Dickson, formerly of the Pittsburgh Federal League Club, to the Rochester Club, Dickson was playing with the Houston, Tex., club, and his testimony showed that he had been sold to the Minneapolis club.

In another finding awards of $80.65 against the Federal League Club, the commission held that the club had been sold to the Kansas City Club, and that the club had been sold to the Boston National League Club.

CRESCUS IS HAULING HEAVY CANNON IN RUSSIA

Former World's Champion Trotter is Now Working With the Czar's Forces.

On the snow-covered steppes of those Baltic provinces of Russia, where the Czar's mighty horses are in a death grip with von Hindenburg's Crescus, who for years held the world's trotting record, is dragging heavy ordnance and supplies about the battlefields. Crescus was owned by George M. Ketcham of Toledo. Then he was purchased and groomed as any horse of his ability deserved to be. Crescus won hundreds of thousands of dollars for Mr. Ketcham. He began to earn his dividends on the money. Mr. Ketcham had invested in him when in 1901 he defeated The Abbot, who had held the world's trotting record for years at 2.05 1/2. Crescus, a superb stallion, of Arabian strain, clipped one whole second off The Abbot's record, and thereafter within the next two years cut his own record down hill at last he was able to make a mile in 1.58. The feat of cutting the record below two minutes astonished horsemen the world over.

The government of Sir Lomer Gouin does not appear to be in the same need of money as we do in Ontario, and there is no provincial war tax on amusement admissions. Neither is there a daily license fee charged to the jockey clubs in Quebec, the those in this province pay $250 a day. In having their track in the province of Quebec the Communist Park Jockey Club will just save $17,500 this season.

Who wouldn't go to war to win a bride? Only the brave deserve the fair, they have been saying for a great many years, and George E. Witherbotham of Portland, Ore., is now engaged in the job of qualifying for the position of a deserving young man.

Until a few weeks ago Geo. Witherbotham was an expert cigar salesman in the Rosebud City. Today he is a private in the American Legion of Vancouver, B.C., with an ordinal ahead of him such as St. George never dreamed of and few young men have had to face in order to win the girl of their choice. In short, he has to go thru the war to prove his merit, and when he comes back he will find waiting for him a reward well worth fighting for. It is not the hard heart of the young lady which is responsible for the conditions, for she is quite willing to accept him as he is without any military record. It is the prospective father-in-law who demanded that George do some fighting before he secured the prize. In addition to the hand of the young lady, her war-like father has also promised to endow the young couple with the modest sum of $50,000 when that day arrives. Witherbotham is a well-known sportsman and has a professional baseball record, having pitched in the Pacific Coast League.

Johnny Evers furnished the best comedy bit of a ball game at Cincinnati recently. He began to rove in the fifth inning, alleging these things, in order: (a) That the Reds were using an emerald or emerald ball; (b) that Mr. Klem had mislabeled a strike on the Boston captain; and (c) that Mr. Klem, the fundamentally honest, lacked the pellucid mentality of a walrus. To these specifications, Mr. Klem made answers: (a) That the ball was roughened only by bouncing off the concrete wall; (b) that it was a good strike; and (c) that Mr. Evers could get out of the park and close the gates from the street side. Mr. Evers, maintaining a steady, not unmelodious, roaring, like the beating of the sea waves on a sand and distant shore, made his way to President Herrmann's field box and delivered an oration to the chairman of the National Commission, explaining that he had outraged man's hand that it must have been evident to Mr. Herrmann that (a) the ball was an awful thing; (b) that the ball was a good strike from a fried egg; and (c) that Mr. Klem had no business bawling him, Evers, like a rubber ball. Mr. Herrmann, gravely pondering behind his hand, (which he responded: (a) That the ball cost $1.25; (b) that Mr. Klem really ought to know, seeing that he'd been in the business so many seasons; and (c) that Mr. Evers really ought to go away, because there was a cop advancing. Whereupon Mr. Evers went away, and the game went on.

BELMONT ENTRIES FEW HORSES HAVE THE COUGH

NEW YORK, June 2.—A. McL. Carlock, secretary of the Westchester Race Association, is in despair. He personally made the rounds of the stables at Belmont Park yesterday and managed to see 25 horses of the hundreds stabled at the track for his program this afternoon. The epidemic of coughing and the number suffering with bucked shins has created almost a horse famine, and conditions are not likely to improve for a week or ten days. To the satisfaction of Mr. Carlock, horsemen admitted that the conditions suited, but that they simply could not enter horses which are ailing. Fortunately the cough, while troublesome, does not carry a fever which in rare cases, but it has spread thru the stables in a most contagious manner, and practically all are affected. The H. F. Whitney horses, which arrived from Brookdale Farm within the week, are about the only ones which have escaped. Mr. Carlock reported that twenty-eight of thirty horses in the Belmont barn were suffering from one ailment or another, and Willie Midgley said that not a single one of Gifford A. Cochran's string had missed the cough. Every trainer had much the same thing to say.

HONORED RIDGEWAY VETERANS IN RAIN

Scenes of Battle En Fete, But the Storm Spoiled Celebration.

ERECT MONUMENT

The Foundation Stone Was Laid by Sir John Hendrie.

By a Staff Reporter. RIDGEWAY, June 2.—Men of 1866, unfortunate in the battle of Ridgeway, were equally unfortunate in their semi-centennial celebration of it yesterday. Thunderstorms spoiled everything. The veterans marched with 1475 troops in khaki in drizzling rain. A downfall greeted them at the grounds. They waited, huddled until every scrap of shelter until it ceased. Then they began the celebration. Rain poured upon the lieutenant-governor while he made his speech. The whole program had to be mutilated on account of the rain. The roads were treacherous quagmires. Automobiles carrying veterans and distinguished guests slipped about alarmingly. One lost a wheel; another stalled deep in a ditch. That carrying Sir John Hendrie, who is a hero of the diarmid, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Alexander Fraser came within an ace of overturning. Two wheels skidded off the road. The car tipped to an angle of almost 45 degrees. The occupants scrambled out and stood under the overhanging car and held it up. They pushed to help it on to the road again. Meanwhile it rained. They failed, and took another car for Ridgeway. However, the ceremony and mostly the presentation of the park was made and speeches were delivered. The foundation for the monument to the heroes of the fight was started, and the flag was raised, even tho it did stick on the way up. And the most speeches were delivered; to Sir John Hendrie by the veterans, by the people of Ridgeway and the Township of Bertie, and by the donors of the park; by Sir John Hendrie in reply to all these. Sir John congratulated the veterans on their prompt response to the call of duty. Had they hesitated, international completion might have arisen and resulted in war. He praised the townsfolk and the donors for their patriotism as displayed that day, laying emphasis upon the importance of preserving historic memories. In the name of the province he thanked them for the gift of the park. Lt.-Col. Fraser and Lieut. Cochran, of the 123rd battalion, acted as aides de camp to his honor, Brigadier-General Sir John M. Gibson raised the standard, and excellent personal memories of the fight. Col. Labatt, over at Niagara, represented the headquarters staff. Lt.-Col. R. H. Robertson, Hamilton, commanded the battalion composed of drafts from the Q. O. R., the Royal Grenadiers, the 12th York Rangers and the 12th and 124th battalions from Niagara—671 men in all. Col. J. Sharp, Niagara Rangers, commanded 800 men of the 176th Battalion. Col. A. J. Nicol and Major Buchanan acted as majors. These Present. The veterans present were: Capt. J. A. MacDonald, president of the veterans of 1866 association, Major R. J. MacDonell, president of the 12th York Rangers, Col. J. E. Fawcett, Col. Belcher, Henry Swan, Alex. Wheeler, William Gibson, David Christian, Chancellor Burwash, Canon Jarvis, Archdeacon Ker, Col. J. Knox, Leslie, Capt. J. H. Hovene, Capt. Marshall, William Thompson, Major W. H. Mayor Church with representative of the board of control and city council were present. Rev. A. J. Wilson, of Bertie Township and

WITH BILLIE BURKE IN 'GLORIA'S ROMANCE'

Manager Not Worrying About Business During Summer Months.

Topheavy business for the summer months is almost unheard of in the motion picture industry, and yet there are a vast host of exhibitors in the United States this year who are not worrying over the takings during the hot months. Klings motion picture novel, 'Gloria's Romance,' from the pens of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes, at their theatres.
